General Feeling That U. S. Will Soon Declare War Against Germany

GERMAN RETREAT BEFORE BRITISH FORCES CONTINUES

Huns are However Fighting on Defensive—Abandon Many Heavy Guns in Their Flight

By Courier Leased Wire.
Paris, Wednesday, Feb. 28.—The La Liberté correspondent in North France, concludes his despatch as follows: "Examination of the German positions showed that the enemy's retreat was fairly precipitate. He put out of action several heavy guns which he had not time to remove by nightfall. His front has not yet become fixed. When the British communiques display less reserve the British effort will astound everybody."
Andre Tulesco, the Journal's correspondent at the British front, writes: "The final defences of Bapaume have fallen. Without fighting the Germans fell back rather than run the risk of disastrous casualties. The mystery of this simple victory is especially due to the surprising efficiency of the new gas shells which were tried at Beaumont-Hamel in December and Grandcourt in February. The art of long-distance killing has been carried to a wonderful pitch."

London, Feb. 28.—Additional progress has been made by the British forces north and south of the Ancre region in France. In the Ancre district the village of Ligny, south-west of Bapaume, has been occupied, and north of the stream the western and northern defences of Puisieux have been taken from the Germans, according to the British official communication issued last night.

On Defensive.—The German retreat has not yet come to a standstill. To-day, however, the rear guards stiffened their resistance in places. There was an example of hard fighting between Gonnecourt and Puisieux. In every case, the enemy was forced to continue his retreat. Nightingale Wood, south-east of Gonne-

Deliberate Action Even in Face of Laconia Case

Overt Act is Clearly Established in Sinking of the Cunard Liner, But U. S. Will Wait; Break With Austria is Regarded as Inevitable

By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Feb. 28.—Senators and representatives to-day pondered over bills which will determine largely the future course of the United States in its relations toward Germany, daily becoming more serious. Every indication was that their action would be deliberate, even in the face of the latest clear-cut violation of American rights in the sinking of the Cunard liner Laconia with the loss of two or more American lives. No doubt now remains in the minds of state department officials that the sudden night attack on the Laconia embodies an open defiance of the principles for which the United States Government has contended, but it was stated no additional step would be taken pending action by Congress to grant President Wilson the authority he asks.

Reports that the German Government is now detaining the Yarrowdale prisoners on the excuse that an infectious disease has been discovered at the place, where they are living, were received here with a feeling of approaching exasperation. In addition to this irritating incident, it was disclosed that the state department feels that a break in relations with Austria-Hungary is so inevitable that Ambassador Penfield at

LIEUT. HARVEY COCKSHUTT MET A HERO'S DEATH

Went to the Front Because He Deemed it a Plain Duty—Universally Liked and Deeply Mourned

The Courier of last evening contained a brief intimation of the fact that the family of the late Lieut. Harvey Cockshutt had been officially notified that he was among the dead.
Lieut. Harvey Cockshutt enlisted in the early stages of the war, leaving Brantford on November 21, 1914, with a detachment of volunteers from the 25th Brant Dragoons under the command of Capt. W. R. Patterson of Paris, the squad becoming athis his answer, recently received:—

The deceased was the only son of Mrs. J. G. Cockshutt, of 40 Lorne Ave., and his late father was the founder of the Cockshutt Plow Company. He had large interests in the concern, and was one of the directors, showing great business ability in that capacity. In early life he took an interest in military matters and joined the Brant Dragoons. Very soon after hostilities broke out he felt it to be his duty to obey the Empire call, and he was very popular with both officers and men by whom, owing to his open hearted characteristics, he was popularly known as "The Prince." Wherever he went, by his genial manners, he endeared himself to everyone. It is worthy of note that all of the men eligible for service in the Cockshutt family are in uniform, and he has proved the first to meet the supreme call.

THE LATE LIEUT. HARVEY COCKSHUTT.

In addition to the bereaved mother he leaves two sisters to mourn his great loss. Mrs. Gibbons and Mrs. Baker, who both reside in Toronto. To them the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community will be extended. Lieut. Cockshutt, M.P. Hoar, orary Colonel of the 125th, Lt. Col. Harry Cockshutt, of the 215th Battalion, Mr. Frank Cockshutt and Mr. Ed. Cockshutt are uncles.

Lieut. Cockshutt was 33 years of age and unmarried. The family, however, did not abandon hope, and felt that subsequent events might disclose that he was a prisoner in Germany, as has proved the case in other instances. The official word, however, has set the seal to the fate of this young hero.

Enquiries were made in all directions to get details of his fate, including one addressed by Mr. R. Scarfe to a friend in Boston, who has a brother in Berlin. Following

Deeply Interested on Behalf of Canada in British Prohibition of Food Imports—First Despatch From Canadian Special Press Representative

London, Feb. 28.—(By Stewart Lyon, representative of the Canadian Press.) Sir Robert Borden and Sir George Perley are deeply interested in the new list of prohibitions of food imports. Representations are being made regarding apples especially, which form an important article of Canadian export; canned salmon also, in which the Pacific coast is specially interested. If prohibition of importations is sustained in the face of these representations, it will be because British shipping must devote the available tonnage to the carriage of products vital to the sustenance of the people.

Apples are a good food, but a ship can carry in the same space as a barrel of apples, concentrated foods such as butter, cheese and bacon twenty times their value. It is well therefore that Canadian food producers devote this season to all possible energies for the production of cereals.
Edgar Crammond, before the Liverpool bankers, points out that Great

SERB OFFICERS LOST LIVES

Italian Transport Torpedoed Two Weeks Ago; A Thousand Lost

Nice, Feb. 28.—The family of the Serbian General, the Glikovitch, who are living here, were officially informed yesterday that the general lost his life when the Italian transport, the Minas, was torpedoed on February 15. The Serbian colonels, Dragutin, Doulich and Milan Ristic, perished at the same time and their families, who are also resident here, have been so notified by the Italian Government.

An official statement issued by the German admiralty, on February 23, announced the sinking of the Minas by a German submarine. It was stated that the transport was carrying 1,000 soldiers to Saloniki and that all on board with the exception of two men, perished.

AMERICAN LINE SHIPS TIED UP IN NEW YORK

Six Vessels Now Held in Harbor by German Submarine Menace

THE ARMING OF SHIPS Is Approved by Majority of the Owners

New York, Feb. 28.—The Associated Press to-day carries the following:

"The arrival of the Steamship Finland from Liverpool to-day added the sixth to the American Line's fleet held here by the German submarine menace. The Finland is the third American liner to leave Liverpool since the beginning of the German blockade. The New York and the Philadelphia preceded her.
All the ships of the American Line are tied up here for the first time since the Spanish American War. American ship owners to-day in general approval the step taken by Congress looking to the arming of their vessels, but were not all of the same opinion in regard to what they should do if the government should grant them arms and ammunition. A few said they were satisfied to send out their vessels unarmed.
P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine Company, which controls the American Line, said that he hoped the government intended to provide properly trained gunners from the navy to handle the guns, provided for American merchant vessels. The ships of his line, he said, could be fitted with guns at their piers with little delay, as the countings and plates were already in place.
The last of the 3,200 tons of cargo with which the St. Louis was loaded when the German blockade decree prevented her sailing, will be discharged to-day.

SEVEN LIVES SAVED BY DOG

His Barking Roused Family When House was in Flames

By Courier Leased Wire.
Toronto, Feb. 28.—The barking of a dog, half suffocated by smoke, probably saved the lives of Charles Hernden, his wife and four children, and a boarder, Joseph Drury, 55 Florence street, whose home was badly damaged by fire shortly before 4 o'clock this morning. Herbert Hernden jumped from the second storey of the building, his escape by

NARROW ESCAPE FOR STEAMSHIP

"Portuguese Prince" Was Shelled by a Submarine, But Got Away

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Feb. 27.—The British steamship Portuguese Prince, which left New York, January 30, for Brest with a cargo of horses was shelled by a German submarine, on February 11, when about 70 miles from her destination and escaped without serious damage through her superior speed. Officers of the ship, who told of the incident on her return here, said ten shells were fired, which exploded in the vessel like shrapnel. Pieces of steel hailed down on the bridge and upper deck work, but no one was injured.

GERMANY IS PREPARED FOR WAR WITH U.S.

No Feeling of a Crisis; Tensions By Now Are Past Fear

NATION PINS FAITH To Success of U. Boat Campaign in Underseas

Berlin, Feb. 27.—via London.—The prominence which Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg gave in his discussion of relations with the United States is regarded here as indicating his purpose to prepare the German public for the eventuality which is looked forward to in many quarters. There was much confusion of opinions and prophesies on this point to-day, on account of the continued absence of authenticated news from Washington, as well as the reports which are being received in regard to the state of public opinion in America. The German press continues to serve up fragmentary, but sensational bulletins indicating feverish war preparations in the United States.
At this hour, it may be said that a declaration of war from Washington would be likely to meet with stoical indifference so far as the public at large is concerned. There is no feeling that a crisis is at hand, but merely an ominous tension, which has been gathering intensity. The nation is now pinning its faith to its U-boats.

EXEMPT SOLDIERS' TAXES.

AUSTRIA WILL NOT TURN BACK

Reply to Note of U. S. Will Give No Satisfaction on Sub. Issue

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Feb. 28.—The Austrian reply to the American note in regard to the submarine issue will be handed shortly to the United States ambassador in Vienna and will probably endorse the position of Germany, according to Reuter's Amsterdam despatch quoting a Berlin telegram to The Weser Zeitung of Bremen. The telegram says that the Vienna Government will clearly express the view that there is no turning back for the Central Powers.
The submarine showed no marks of identification and it now is assumed that she must have been German or possibly Turkish. United States Ambassador Penfield at Vienna, cabled a report to-day. The Law was sunk, according to official despatches by a bomb after its crew had been under shell fire.

TIME TO DECLARE WAR SAYS THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE

There Can be No Other Course Compatible With Honor—Comments of French Press on Wilson's Latest Course

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Feb. 28.—Under the caption, "Time to declare war," The Tribune in its leading editorial this morning says:
"At last the administration faces an overt act on Germany's part, which it can hardly explain away. American citizens travelling on the Lusitania, have been murdered under exactly the same conditions as those under which American citizens were murdered nearly two years ago on the Lusitania and the Arabic."
"Mr. Wilson has said many times that he could not tolerate any more such murders. He has pledged himself again and again to 'protect our people in their legitimate and peaceful pursuits on the seas.' The implication of all his promises has been that if one more American life should be sacrificed he would meet force with force."
"Now the occasion has come which compels him to make his words good. If those words are not kept, the administration is bound in honor to ask Congress to declare war."
"Nothing short of a declaration of war will suffice. It is folly to suppose that we can accomplish anything for the defense of American rights, anything for the restoration of former standards of international good faith and justice, anything for playing at war with Germany, Germany and Austria-Hungary have, for all practical purposes, already declared war on us. They have committed acts which leave no possible doubts as to their hostile purposes. The present situation is intolerable—a state of war on their side and a state of peace or near peace on ours. The only honorable and sensible way to end this is for the President to ask Congress to declare war, or for Congress to declare it without waiting for prompting from him."
"The French Press.
Paris, Feb. 28.—The morning papers, while without exception, commending President Wilson's prudence and his determination to have the whole body of American citizens behind him, agree in recognizing his message to Congress as distinctly a further step in the direction of war. Georges Clemenceau, in his paper L'Homme Enchaîné, reflects the sentiment generally expressed when he says:
"A pacifist and not a President Wilson does not stand for peace at any price. On the day when the dignity and sovereignty of the United States are menaced or attacked, he will enter on another course. His first step was to exercise moral pressure on Germany. Such was the meaning of the rupture of diplomatic relations. As that failed he has proclaimed armed neutrality and has thus begun to exercise material pressure. This pressure will be transformed into material action and that means war."
"The Figaro thinks that President Wilson knows well that war is inevitable, but that he will not have it said that it was let loose by the United States."
"The Petit Journal, referring to the torpedoing of the Laconia, believes that events are likely to force the president's hand."
"The second stage towards war," is the heading of La Liberté's editorial:
"The position taken by Mr. Wilson," it says, "is entirely in conformity with what one knows of his opinion and of his character. The tone of his address demonstrates clearly that in his eyes the latest situation is only another step in the way of resisting the aggressive imperialism of Germany and that war hangs by a thread."
"President Wilson executes without haste resolutions which his conscience indicates to him, but with an imperturbable firmness," says The Temps, after summarizing the various steps taken by Mr. Wilson in the European war. "President Wilson is not suspected of wishing war. He has made sacrifices for peace which prove his forebearance. He testifies again in his new message to Congress his strong desire to avoid war as long as possible, but he will not abandon the very essential rights of American citizens, whose defense is incumbent upon him, even if other neutrals show themselves less resolute than he had hoped."

"The president, after the rupture with Germany, addressed himself to Austria, asking that country to say precisely whether it also withdrew the promises made after the torpedoing of the Ancona and Persia. The president follows his course methodically. If the government at Vienna, as indicated by semi-official communication from Berlin, definitely associates itself with its ally, it will undergo the same fate as Germany."
"Probably the president will take the same attitude towards Turkey, notwithstanding the moral and material interests of Americans in the Turkish Empire, where they remain the sole guardians of civilization, amidst Ottoman barbarism."
"The measures of protection asked of Congress constitute a new step which brings the United States to the verge of war."
"After calling attention to the fact that the Imperial German chancellor was to make a statement on the submarine war and pointing out that the president was probably not unacquainted with this, when he chose the time for presenting his message to Congress, the paper says:
"The president wishes by this last warning to demonstrate to Jerusalem that the propagandist manoeuvres have not left the United States indifferent in its resolves and that it is Germany alone on whom depends the chances of peace or war."

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the over-work; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach, rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

NEGRO KILLED IN ATTEMPTED ESCAPE

Received Several Bayonet Thrusts Before Overpowered

By Courier Leased Wire.
Pembroke, Ont., Feb. 28.—Crazed through drugs, and determined to gain his liberty, Joseph Jordan, an American negro, who was a member of the Pembroke company of the 240th Battalion, met his death in the armory here last night when he made an attack with a knife on the guard in charge of the detention room.

Jordan since enlisting in Montreal some months ago had acquired a bad reputation as being addicted to drugs and since coming to Pembroke spent most of his time in the guard room. He had been there for a week and had several times threatened that he would break out. He tried last night, but the guard called for help and Jordan was quickly surrounded with bayonets, to which he seemed to pay little heed. He continued slashing right and left with a knife without effect, but received a number of bad bayonet thrusts about the hips and legs, which bled profusely until he finally fell exhausted to the floor.

The wounds were treated by a surgeon, but did not appear to be of a fatal character.

The man was a physical wreck, however, and he expired about an hour later.

Battalion officers reached here to-day and a military enquiry is to be held.

Jordan is said to have a wife and family in England, but little is known about him.

M. Gobeault, a farmer residing north of Albertville, was badly frozen recently when he wandered all night in the bush, having lost his way.

CARD-NALS ARE FOR SALE

St. Louis National Club Grounds and Franchise To Go

By Courier Leased Wire.
St. Louis, Feb. 28.—Details of a plan to sell the franchise, players and grounds of the St. Louis National League club, were discussed last night by James C. Jones, attorney for the club. Jones said he had obtained the consent of the owner, Mrs. Helene Hathaway Britton, to dispose of the property for $350,000.

Jones' idea is to sell stock to the general public. With each share of stock sold a season ticket will be issued, the ticket to become the property of some one under 16 years old.

The plan also embraces a sort of boy scouts annex. The boys who received "stock" tickets are to be formed into a cadet corps, consisting of infantry, cavalry, artillery and machine gun troops, a bugle and a life and drum corps. A club house for the boys would be built and an effort made to give them military training under the provision of the United States Government.

THE SITUATION.
The Germans still continue to give ground in the Anser region, although it is announced that they are giving more stubborn rear guard resistance. Additional villages have been occupied by Haig's forces on both sides of the river and they are now heading for a crest overlooking the ground between Achiet-le-Petit and Bapaume. All evidences point to the Hun withdrawal as carefully calculated and there can be no doubt that the move is part of some well defined plan, whose purpose does not yet appear. It would seem to be apparent, however, that a concentration is taking place for some big move.

Further details demonstrate that the British victory at Kut-el-Amara was of the very first importance. Turks have been pursued to fifteen miles west of Kut, have been taken prisoners by the thousands and the British have seized large stores of ammunition and provisions. The victorious troops are now pushing still further up the Tigris.

German submarines accounted for five vessels yesterday—four British and one French. Total tonnage 13,592.
Our neighbors have become thoroughly aroused over the sinking of the Laconia, and it appears to be quite certain that Wilson will be forced into an open declaration of war no matter what his private feelings may happen to be.

THE LATE LIEUT. COCKSHUTT
Hoping against hope the relatives and friends of the late Lieut. Harvey Cockshutt have at last received official word that he is numbered among the hero dead.

There was a young man, who, humanly speaking had everything that the heart could wish for, with wealth and position at his command, yet he did not hesitate to place all on the altar of Empire sacrifice.

He was among the first to volunteer when the call came and it is the common testimony of his comrades that his cheery good humor was at all times an inspiration to those around him.

Like so many other Canadian boys of all ranks he has died that human liberty shall continue and to those who sorrow over the passing of all such, there is the blessed consolation of the call of patriotic service ungrudgingly met and duty nobly done.

ONTARIO WOMEN GET THE VOTE.
The franchise is to be extended to the women of Ontario, and just about everyone will agree that they have earned this recognition. Matters have been steadily heading that way for some time past, but it has taken the war to give the final impetus to success.

Wherever the Union Jack flies, the members of the fair sex have nobly borne their part of the burden in connection with these strenuous times and the feeling has become more and more strengthened that those capable of sharing so effectively in Empire demands, should also have the opportunity to exercise their voices in the selection of administrators and governments.

Premier Hearst heartily endorsed the proposal and has thus added one more to his many forward achievements. Mr. Rowell, the Opposition leader, sought by a petty political device to forestall the Government intention by moving the franchise as an amendment to the Speech from the Throne. He saw what was coming and attempted to offset the administration. Sir William quietly explained that the matter would be dealt with in due course and he has proved as good as his word. The central fact remains that Rowell, without the responsibilities of office, talks a lot of things, while Hearst performs them. When the Liberals held office in this Province they were long on Temperance Reform, but all that resulted was a referendum, which was loaded against the movement right from the start. It took Hearst to abolish the bars when the time was ripe. In like manner it has been this self same Hearst, who has made the enfranchisement of women an actual fact. He and his associates are demonstrating that they are fully abreast of the times in making radical forward steps in due and proper order.

THE MATTER OF TITLES
In the matter of titles for Canadians the London Free Press contends that if they are given the better course would be upon the recommendations of a commission. That is not the British way. Under the constitution such selections are made by the Ministry of the day upon recommendation to the King, and the method is probably the best that could be devised. Mistakes in such preferences no doubt do occur in the popular judgment, but not often. In ninety nine cases out of a hundred the appointments bestowed are recognized as having been for services rendered.

The giving of rewards in this way is part of a recognized Empire system and there is no earthly reason why any man should not value such a bestowal, or be subjected to the sneers of others upon acceptance. The Brantford Expositor seeks to poke its nose into the discussion. That self-same sheet, by the way, is all the time showering absurd titles on itself. It was The Expositor which alone of all Ontario papers objected to the selection of the Duke of Connaught, Queen Victoria's youngest son, as Governor General of Canada.

WHAT THE BORDEN GOVERNMENT HAS DONE.
The Toronto Star (Liberal) recently concluded an article in a disparagement of Canada's war efforts, by asking "What has Sir Robert Done?"

Well, here are some of the things which have been accomplished under the auspices of the Borden Administration:

- (1) Raised, trained, equipped and contributed to the Allied cause 455,000 men.
  - (2) Voted $900,000,000 for war purposes.
  - (3) Established a munitions industry that employs 3,000,000 persons, engages 150 factories, has sent 500,000,000 worth of munitions to Britain and has contracted for $700,000,000 more.
  - (4) Loaned the British Government $250,000,000 to finance munition purchases.
  - (5) Supplied Australia, New Zealand and Allied Governments with war orders totalling more than $150,000,000.
  - (6) Supplied Great Britain's armies with $60,000,000 of hay, oats and flour.
  - (7) Successfully raised three loans, and is preparing to raise a fourth, in Canada, thus relieving the financial strain upon the Motherland, and in addition, placing $75,000,000 of the money so obtained at Britain's disposal.
  - (8) Transformed herself from a country that was borrowing abroad before the war at the rate of $1,000,000 a day, to a country that is financing her own war expenditure to the extent of $1,000,000 a day, and extending enormous credits to Britain besides.
  - (9) Increased a total trade of $1,000,000,000 in 1914, to a total trade of $2,000,000,000 in 1917.
  - (10) Changed a balance of trade against us in 1914, of $14,000,000, to a balance of trade in our favor in 1917 of nearly $400,000,000.
  - (11) Adopted war taxation measures which, in addition to defraying the running expenses of the country, contribute a considerable sum toward the expenditure on war.
  - (12) Created a War Purchasing Commission which has taken the purchase of all army supplies out of politics, and has bought, by tender, the supplies to the value of $100,000,000.
  - (13) Created an independent national Pensions Commission, and adopted a scale of pensions more generous than that fixed by any of the other belligerent countries.
  - (14) Created a Military Hospitals Commission which is doing splendid work looking after returned convalescent soldiers, and which is now being copied by Australia.
  - (15) Created a Scientific and Research Council, composed of the country's leading scientists and engineers, to study new processes for developing Canadian resources and industry.
  - (16) Took effective steps to prevent Canadian nickel reaching the enemy, at the same time seeing that a plentiful supply reached Great Britain and her Allies. Meanwhile, has begun the erection of a refining plant that will refine Canadian ores on Canadian soil.
  - (17) Secured adequate transportation for Canadian exports at a time when marine tonnage was at a premium.
  - (18) Obtained a preference for Canada in the matter of British and Allied purchases.
  - (19) Rendered effective aid to Western farmers at a critical period, thus ensuring an expansion of production at a time when increased production was an essential in the conduct of the war.
  - (20) Is entering upon a most generous scheme of land settlement and vocational training for returned soldiers at the conclusion of the war.
- Other things might be enumerated, but the above will do as a sample.
- And yet, in face of such things, the Toronto Star has the consummate gall to ask what has been done. The organ ought to be ashamed of itself.
- Rev. John Martin of Hamilton has been inducted to the pastorate of the Wallace town parish church, Ayr.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL EXECUTIVE MEETS

Preparations for Celebration on July 1 Next Proceeded With

The executive committee of the Semi-centennial organization met last evening in the library, with Mr. S. P. Pitcher, first vice-chairman, presiding. Mr. F. S. Blain, secretary read a report of the committee appointed at the last meeting to work in conjunction with the Patriotic Fund in sending letters to former Brantfordites now resident in the United States. Some 1686 letters of this nature had been sent, and as a result a total of $518.00 had been received, which had been turned over to the Patriotic Fund.

The chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Mr. J. G. Liddell, read a letter from a firm in East Liverpool, Ohio, re proposing to secure a souvenier, it was stated that it would be practically impossible to deliver these in time for the celebration. The committee, however, will make arrangements to secure a souvenier suitable for the occasion. Progress was reported in the matter of the big pageant being arranged for, and a meeting of the Entertainment and Patriotic Fund committees will be held on Friday afternoon of this week to discuss a further program, a report of which will be presented to the full executive at a special meeting on Tuesday evening.

The secretary was instructed to write to the Mayor and Council, thanking them for their interest and assistance. The members of the Patriotic Fund are at present engaged in preparing his report of the fire loss, to be submitted to the provincial fire marshal.

Fisher, member of parliament for North Brant, has assured the city of his assistance in laying the matter before the Dominion government.

MANY ALARMS.
During the present two months of the year 1917, no less than 23 fire alarms have been answered by the fire department of the city, which is an exceptionally high total for so short a time. This figure includes several false and a number of very small fires, so that the total of damage done is not high, the recent fire at the Verity Plow Works was the most disastrous of the period. Chief Lewis is at present engaged in preparing his report of the fire loss, to be submitted to the provincial fire marshal.

KICKED IN FACE.
Word of an injury received by Driver John Emmitt of the 54th battery, has been received in the city. While dismounting from horseback, he was kicked in the face by his steed and badly injured. He is a brother of Sergt. James Emmitt of the 4th Battalion, at present confined in Ramsgate Hospital.

A DEBATE.
Resolved that Canada has done all that could be expected of her, up to the present, was the subject of a very interesting debate between the G. R. O. W. class and the Colborne Street Epworth League, on Monday evening. The affirmative was taken by Mr. Hugh Farrel and Mr. Wilson Babeock, while the negative was upheld by Mr. Fred Cox and Mr. Lennox Baker. Lieut. Flowerdew acted as critic, and Dr. Amos brought in the judges' decision, which was given in favor of the affirmative. The speakers showed exceptional ability as debaters and the subject proved very instructive to all present.

STRUGGLE IN JAPAN

For a More Representative Form of Government

By Courier Leased Wire. Tokyo, Feb. 28.—(Correspondence)—Undismayed by the recent attempt upon his life, Yukio Ozaki, Japan's foremost progressive, will lend the forces of constitutionalism in the pending struggle for a more representative form of government.

"Japanese politics are complicated even for us Japanese," he said. "To make the situation as clear as possible let me say simply that our aim is that the ministers of state who direct the affairs of this empire shall be chosen with some regard for the make-up of the House of representatives which is elected by the people. That is, after all, the essential meaning of our constitution. For years we have had a series of political groups, personal in nature, vaguely formed, quickly disappearing. Now, the majority groups led by the Doshikai party, which was founded by Prince Katsura have amalgamated into the constitutional party in opposition to the other great party, the Seiyukai, or political friends association. There are subsidiary groups, but the essential is that we have formed two main units.

"Even now these two parties have no distinctive principles or platforms, as they are understood in England or America. But that will come later. The important thing is that they have been formed and the essential is that the members of the government who belong to them shall be elected. The majority party must have a voice in the formation of a cabinet and the party form of government must be the basis of naming a ministry.

"Let me emphasize," declared Mr. Ozaki, "that it is the principle of the thing we are after. Now the great stumbling block to constitutional progress in Japan is the German emperor and they have been advising ever since. They come to the cabinet meetings. Yet they are responsible to nobody—not to the diet—not even to the Emperor. We want to fix the responsibility of these men. We are not opposed to them as individuals, but as an institution. They are an anachronism in modern Japan.

"One steady aim at the late Okuma cabinet," he continued, "was the promotion of friendship with the United States. That I believe," will always be the keynote of Japanese diplomacy. We wish not only to maintain good relations with our friends across the Pacific, but to cooperate with them whether possible. This struggle we are engaged in is purely a domestic affair and cannot affect our foreign attitude. But I believe party cabinets could be trusted to conduct the state prudently and wisely.

DUTCH VESSELS BELIEVED LOST

No Truth in Report That Three Steamers Are Still Afloat

London, Feb. 28.—At the Dutch legation it was said to-day there was no confirmation of the report published earlier in the week that the Dutch Steamships Bandoeng, Eemland and Zaanwijk were still afloat. On the contrary the latest information received by the Dutch officials led to the belief that the vessels had been lost. A search for the steamships proved unavailing.

BAR LIQUOR IN HOUSE. By Courier Leased Wire. BRITISH CASUALTIES

Totalled in February Less Than January—Officers, However, Suffered Heavily.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Feb. 28.—British casualties during February reached a total of 1,243 officers and 17,185 men. The February figures for British casualties show a total of but little more than half that for January, despite the fact that there has been considerable fighting on the Somme front during the month. The February total of 18,428 compares with a total of 32,354 officers and men for January. Officer casualties for February, however, were considerably greater than for the month preceding, when they were 960, as compared with the past month's 1,243.

American Schooner Lyman Law Not Sunk by Sub. of That Nationality

Washington, Feb. 28.—It has been officially established that the American sailing schooner Lyman M. Law was not sunk by an Austro-Hungarian submarine. It had been presumed that the Law was destroyed by an Austrian submarine because she was halted on her way to Palermo, Italy, in a region where it was thought there were no German U-boats.

Music and Drama

THE GRAND. A good sized house greeted the "Girl Who Smiles" at the Opera House last night. The musical features were very attractive and the leading lady showed the possession of a voice of exceptional quality. The role of Paul Fabre an impatient old gentleman, was also well taken. The "Temptation Value" was well done and other numbers were quite notable. Some of the "business" in the last act could be cut out to good advantage. A violin solo by Maud Beers between the first and second acts showed her to be an artiste of exceptional merit.

HOW AMERICAN WOMEN PERISHED AT DECREE OF TEUTON KULTUR. Story of the Death of Mrs. May Hoy and Her Daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hoy, of Chicago, Passengers Aboard the Torpedoed Laconia, Told by a Survivor of Disaster. BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT. Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons. If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach. To feel like young folks; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles become loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and refreshing, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly. Mail Contract. # WOMEN OF ONTARIO TO VOTE AT THE NEXT GENERAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION

Premier Hearst in Provincial Legislature Accepts Responsibility For Act of Mr. Johnson—To Become a Government Measure

The Government measure embodying the principles of the Johnson bill will put Ontario women on a parity with men in municipal elections. It grants to the women of Ontario the franchise corresponding to the present Manitoba franchise, all women of the full age of 21 years who are British subjects and who have resided in the province for the requisite period being entitled to vote. Machinery will be devised so that the names of women will be placed on the voters' list in time to permit of their exercising their franchise at the next provincial elections.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the Government endorses the principle of the bill now before the House and assumes full responsibility for it, and I call upon my supporters to vote in its favor, and I take the full responsibility as leader of the House for what that bill will entail."

In these words Sir William Hearst yesterday announced the determination of the Ontario Government to make woman suffrage an accomplished fact in the province—to give to women a voice in the management and control not only of municipal affairs, but the larger questions of Provincial Government. The Prime Minister was speaking upon the second reading of the bill introduced by J. W. Johnson, Conservative member for West Hastings, and his endorsement of the principle of the measure was greeted by vigorous applause from both sides of the House. There were a few scattered hand-claps from the crowded galleries, but the ladies there were very careful of House decorum and vented their enthusiasm in broad smiles and whispered congratulations.

The legislation that will reward the women of the province for thirty or forty years of constant striving for suffrage extension, and incidentally double the electorate of Ontario, is to go upon the statute books as a Government measure. The Prime Minister in giving the House the decision of the Government intimated that later on, when the details in connection with the matter had been worked out, the principle of the West Hastings measure would be incorporated in a Government measure with the necessary machinery for putting it into effect. This machinery will have to provide for extension of the time for completing the voters' lists.

The Prime Minister's address covered the whole question, dealing with the progress of suffrage propaganda in other countries and the results that has attended it in countries where it had been adopted. The splendid effects of the extension of the franchise, supported by the tremendous advance in public opinion since the war started, and particularly during the past year, were equatedly justified the action being taken. Sir William paid a tribute to the war work of the women of Ontario, and in offering them the franchise made it a call to them to assume even greater responsibilities and duties than the war had thrust upon them.

GIANTS DEPEND ON THEIR PITCHERS

Despite Fielding Strength of the Team, Twirlers Must do Their Share

NEED CO-OPERATION Batters Have Been Known to Hit 'Em a Mile, You Know

There is no question about the caliber of the infield and outfield of the Giants for the coming campaign nor is there any doubt that the catchers on John McGraw's staff rank on a par with any in the league; therefore it would seem that the success or the failure of the team depends largely on the work of the hurling corps. It is true that the Giants' pitchers shape up well, and it is equally true that they looked mighty well on paper last spring, but there were times during the past season that they didn't look quite so well out there on the mound. However, since last spring the staff has been strengthened immeasurably by the "arrival" of Ferdie Schupp, and if the Louisville kid pitcher holds to the pace he set in the last month of the 1916 struggle he won't need very much assistance.

A glance over Schuppe's 1916 record shows that he pitched in 30 games, of which he completed 8; that out of the 8 complete games 7 were shutouts, and the average of earned runs allowed by him in all of the 110 innings pitched during the season was 0.70 per nine innings. That he completed only 8 games of a total of 29 in which he took part is explained by the fact that for the greater part of the season he was reserve pitcher getting a chance to perform only when a game had been hopelessly lost by another hurler. At the close of the season Schupp was acknowledged to be the premier southpaw of the league, and he may develop into the greatest in either league in 1917.

Sallee the Real Veteran

With Christy Mathewson gone from the team, Harry Sallee is the dean of the staff, though he has been with the Giants only a fraction of one season. The slim Higginsville sheriff will enter upon the tenth year of his National league career when the team gets under way in April, but he is still "green." The years which have detracted somewhat from his speed and strength have added to his knowledge of the art of hurling, and "Sally" is indeed a crafty workman. Sallee, tired of his berth in St. Louis last season and finally revolted, declaring that if he were not traded to the Giants he would retire from the game. With his desire fulfilled Harry is now content and looks forward to a good year.

Poll Perritt, Sallee's bosom pal and who, with the sheriff, shares the distinction of being the most unpopular man in St. Louis since severing his connection with the Mound City team, was something of an in-and-outer last season, but rounded in to good shape toward the close of the year, and as will be remembered distinguished himself by taking both ends of a double header from the Phillies one Saturday afternoon in September. Perritt has a fast ball that compares with that of any pitcher in the league and when he is "right" has little trouble getting by. It is a bit hard to figure him for the coming season. Rube Benton experienced the same difficulty that Poll did in performing consistently last year, but with a team like the present Giants behind him this season he should do well.

Tesreau Figured to Do Well
The record of Jeff Tesreau, the huge "bear strangler," for 1916 was not an imposing one, but it must be said for Tesreau that not a few of his defeats were undeserved. He was the hero, or rather the victim, of a number of hard luck games last year, one in particular being a two hit game which he hurled during the team's last visit of the season to Philadelphia, which was booted away behind him despite his excellent work. Jeff figured conspicuously in the great run of victories compiled by the Giants in September

The Laconia, sister ship of the Franconia, had a length over all of 625 feet, and a gross tonnage of nearly nineteen thousand. She had submarine signalling apparatus and all the latest improvements.

ber and is figured to do some fine work this year.

Anderson to try "Comeback."
Fred Anderson, who went with his famous spittball to the Giants with the collapse of the Federal league, of which he was the star pitcher, was a sad disappointment last year and it remains to be seen how he will do in his second year in the league. Anderson's attempt to come back will be watched closely.

In addition to his regular boxmen McGraw will take south with him a number of recruit pitchers, the most promising of the lot being Jim Middleton, from Louisville, for whom six players were sent to the Colonels. Middleton established an excellent record last year and contributed largely to the success of the team, which captured the American association pennant. He is believed to be ripe for big league picking, and may prove to be a valuable man.

Incidentally this will be the first spring in several years that the eyes of New York fans will not be on the good right arm of Matty as he hies himself away to the southland.

It has been said that a great pitching staff will not be necessary to the Giants' success, in view of the fact that the man in the box, which may or may not be true. Given an opportunity, batters have been known to hit 'em so far they couldn't be caught by anybody. Also great as they are the Giant infielders and outfielders don't guarantee to stop cannon balls, so that it will be strictly to do to the New York pitchers to do their share if the pennant is to be won by McGraw.

HAMILTON UNITS MERGED WITH 125TH

120th and 173rd Join Local Battalion in England

According to letters received today the re-organization of the 125th Battalion of Brantford, and the 120th and 173rd Battalions of Hamilton in England has been completed. These three battalions have been amalgamated under the command of Lieut.-Col. Bruce of the 173rd and are to be a training school for all other Ontario units, furnishing drafts for France as required. On Lieut.-Col. Bruce's staff are Major Linton, Major Seymour, Major Manson and other 173rd officers. Lieut.-Col. Fearman, Major Huggins, Capt. Burbridge and other senior officers of the 120th are, it is reported, to return to Canada about March 1.

A previous report stated that the Hamilton battalions were to be absorbed by the 125th of Brantford, but according to the latest report it is the 173rd that is absorbing its sister battalions.

THE SALVATION ARMY AND THE BRITISH ARMY

War Service is Accepted by Many Salvationists; Chaplains Are Popular with Rank and File of the Men

"I know of no organization in the world," recently declared General Sir Francis Lloyd, commanding the London (England) district, "that has been more unselfish than the Salvation Army in this war."

That is true of the Salvation Army not only in England but everywhere else, says the Toronto Star Weekly. It has freely spent and been spent in the service of the Empire and of humanity in this war—in Canada, elsewhere. Last year a very generous and noble gift was made by Salvationists in Canada in the form of five motor ambulance cars, which they donated for service at the Russian front.

The presentation was made at the London Guildhall. The then Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff, who has since died, was too ill to attend to receive the cars on behalf of the Czar of Russia, but he sent a very grateful letter, and one of his staff acknowledged the gift in a very impressive speech.

The number of Salvationists that have joined the army from Ontario that year was 2,000 and 3,000. From Toronto they have contributed about 1,000 enlisted men, including twenty-six Salvation Army officers, who enlisted in the ranks.

There are a number of Salvation Army chaplains with the Canadian forces overseas. The senior of these is Chaplain-Captain Pentoff, of Toronto, who left for overseas in November, 1914, and who has shown exemplary energy and zeal, and has met with great success in his special work, both in England and in France. He is now attached to the 2nd and 3rd trenching battalions, and has established a Soldiers' Rest Hut for the benefit of the soldiers right up to the trenches. His is the only Salvation Army institution close to the firing lines, most of them being at the various bases. It is heartening to learn that he pays a high tribute to the fidelity and zeal of the Salvationists with the Canadian forces, both in France and in England.

Toronto Chaplains Overseas

Another Toronto Salvation Army officer who is an overseas chaplain is Chaplain-Captain C. B. Robinson, whose activities lie in the Shorncliffe area. In that area, about ten miles in extent, there are about twelve camps, and nearly all of these camps are visited by him every week. He writes very gratefully of the excellent impression for God and the Salvation Army which the Salvationists have made on the authorities and on their comrades-in-arms.

Chaplain-Captain Alfred Steele is another Toronto Salvationist. After doing duty for three months at the Exhibition Camp, Toronto, he was attached to the 19th Battalion, and went to the West Sandling Camp, England, in May, 1915. His work in connection with this battalion has been spoken of in highest terms by the colonel.

Chaplain-Captain Kimmins was in charge of the Salvation Army work at Camp Borden, as assistant camp chaplain, having previously been stationed at the camps at Niagara-on-the-Lake and at Exhibition Park, Toronto. It was estimated that at Camp Borden, the Salvationists and adherents together numbered something like 1,500.

An officer killed in action recently was Charles Milton, who was formerly chaplain at Barrifield Camp. He was a chaplain in the Salvation Army, and a member of Col. Hemming's staff. He went to Barrifield, where, by the way, he was presented to the Duke of Connaught from Ingersoll, where his last appointment with the Salvation Army lay, and qualified there as a lieutenant. He was an old soldier, however, and wanted to be with the men, and consequently enlisted. He went to the trenches and was killed in action almost immediately. The veterans of Kingston are erecting a marble memorial tablet to his memory.

Sergeant Barsby of Toronto was chief of the men's wing of the Salvation Army Training College. Now he is employed as drill sergeant on special service, visiting different centres.

The Home League—of the good work that the Salvation Army does among Canadian soldiers is never heard of by the general public. But it has ever at heart the soldiers' truest welfare is daily evidenced in countless ways. Soldiers are visited and talked with, freely and with the kindest and most genuine interest. The families of those who have left are the recipients of much practical help and interest.

Salvationists and adherents at the front are regularly corresponded with, and to these, we may be sure, a "War Cry" is not the least welcome item in their mail. And many a touching story could be told of self-denial in Salvation Army circles for the benefit of the lads in khaki.

There has recently been started in Canada an organization under the auspices of the Salvation Army which, while not specially for wartime purposes, yet finds in this time of war a wide scope for its activities. This is the "Home Lea-

YOU NEED A TONIC

Hood's Sarsaparilla, as a Spring Medicine, is the Best.

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devalitized blood. It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption.

The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Ask your druggist for this old reliable family medicine. It purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood. It is an all-the-year-round alterative and tonic, and is absolutely the best Spring medicine.

Get your blood in good condition at once—now. Delay may be dangerous. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, nothing else can take its place.

the object of which is to show how the humblest of homes may be turned into a "home beautiful," the centre of love and happiness. It aims at helping the mother to end that she may train her young ones to be good and capable citizens and (more than that), God-fearing men and women.

The league, which originated in a suggestion of Mrs. Booth, by means of social meetings, practical talks, demonstrations of sick nursing, thrift clubs, working parties, and so forth, endeavors to point the way to making the home an abode of order, love and peace. It is doing a great work, and the comfort in its practical and kindly interest is proving to many soldiers' homes beyond question. Moreover it has been responsible for making a very large number of children's clothes and other useful garments and articles for the soldiers' near and dear ones. To numerous soldiers' homes it is carrying the message of solace and consolation in trouble.

Mrs. Commissioner Richards has the oversight of the League for the whole Dominion. There are over fifty branches, and these are increasing at the rate of five or six a week. The members belonging to each branch number anything between twenty and fifty or sixty. There are some fifteen branches at present in Toronto, and the good work that is being done at these is worthy of high commendation.

Service sacrifice and self-denial—such things are familiar enough with the Salvation Army. And in this war it is finding and proving adequate to abundant opportunities for the exercise of these virtues. It should be mentioned that in France and in England the Salvation Army maintains over 600 "huts" for the soldiers.

High Cost of Living vs. Low Cost of Insurance

Midst all the increasing cost of living there's one thing that hasn't advanced,—that's the cost of Imperial Life policies. In fact, an Imperial policy today requires no greater annual investment than a similar policy taken at a corresponding age a dozen years ago.

And the fact that the dividends to policyholders in The Imperial Life have shown a gradual increase every year since the Company's inception makes this investment more attractive now than ever before.

Would you care to know the profit returns being made this year to holders of Imperial profit-sharing policies? Our booklet "The Voice of Experience" gives the information.

A copy will be sent to you post free if you ask for it.

Boquets From Tener For Old Pop Anson

Head of National League Praises Former Chicago Manager, One of the Greatest Men the Game Has Produced

By John K. Tener, President of National League.
When Pop Anson was in the height of his glory as batting king, he hired a tall, muscular youth as a pitcher. This youth accompanied him around the world, later entered politics, was elected to congress, became governor of his state and is now president of the National League. John K. Tener was the name still thinks his old manager was the greatest batter in the world.

about where he wanted to drive it. And he rarely struck out. The statistics for the years when he was in his prime are not so complete as they might be. But I am confident there were seasons when he struck out not more than two or three times and I believe I am safe in saying that he struck out less frequently than any other major league player.

The following bit of praise is taken from an article by President Tener, appearing in the current issue of the Baseball Magazine—a special Tris Speaker number.
Pop Anson was the greatest batter who ever lived. You may look up his record, compare it with others and draw your own conclusions. When I say this I am well aware of the claims of Ed. Delehaney, Hans Wagner and many other great hitters. I give them all due credit, but in my opinion Anson was the greatest of them all.

It was my good fortune to serve as a player under Anson. I found him a bluff, hale, honest and likeable man. He was exacting with men who knew the game from A. to Z. He expected the best of service from them. But toward the beginner he was extremely lenient. As a manager he was optimistic itself. The defeat of to-day never clouded the horizon of to-morrow. We lost the game he would appear in the club house with the well known cheery remark: "Well, boys, we lost this one, but it's the last one. When the war of the brotherhood convulsed the baseball world, Pop Anson remained firmly loyal to the National League. For this reason he has long been endeared, and properly so. But I do not think there is the same basis in fact for the statement which is frequently made that the National league was ungrateful to him for his loyal stand. He is sturdy independent, and wishes to be so. I know that the National League will never see Anson suffer."

He was, first of all, a free hitter. He loved batting. Even when he grew old he would take his place on the field and get the boys who hung around the lots of Chicago to pitch to him. He loved batting for its own sake. He had that true eye which enabled him to hit the ball squarely on the nose. His hits were line drives. They were solid smashes with the full force of his muscular shoulders behind them. Usually, as I remember him, he would drive the ball between right and center field, well over the infielder's reach. He never pulled the ball, he never hit too quickly. He was an excellent judge of the precise fraction of a second that he needed to swing that heavy club over his head. He didn't exactly place his hits, but he contrived to drive the ball behind the base runner.

At present Pop, assisted by his two daughters, does a turn on the stage which is deservedly popular. I

LADY'S FOUR GORE SKIRT.

For style and sturdy service a better model than this in a separate skirt would be hard to find. It is cut in four gores and has the front and back gores and the yokes all in one.

The popular straight-line idea is carried out with the panel effect front and back; the side gores are gathered where they join the yokes to give a little fullness, and a pleat is introduced where each side gore meets the front. The closing is at the left front side and a few buttons and loops provide a little trimming if one favors it.

This is an excellent design for wear with a practical style blouse. It shows that skirts are a bit longer and a bit more conservative in width also—the lower edge of size 24 being 3 yards. Black and white striped worsted is a great favorite for sports skirts, and mannish serge, diagonal cheviot and the novelty mixtures are largely used also.

With the front and back gores and yokes all in one the making of this garment is greatly simplified, and no one size will deny the saying that a pattern worth 10 cents in this day of high prices.

THE FIRST HAIL STORM.
The Sun as you know draws up water to the sky. But did you know that he puts it in a huge tank of gold? Of course you didn't. The Wind told me. And did you know that when it's time to rain again sunbeam elves sprinkle the rain from golden water-pots? Well, you know it now and I tell you the rest—how Jack Frost and his frost elves called upon the Sun King and what happened.

Jack, you see, could only call upon his friend the Sun when the air was pretty chill, for Sunland isn't much of a place for any member of the Frost family. And so when Jack Frost finds a day to his liking, up he goes with his frost elves at his heels, to call upon the Sun King.

Now, I know and you know that they shouldn't have followed, but nobody up there dreamed what would happen.

Jack, you see, could only call upon his friend the Sun when the air was pretty chill, for Sunland isn't much of a place for any member of the Frost family. And so when Jack Frost finds a day to his liking, up he goes with his frost elves at his heels, to call upon the Sun King.

And that's how matters stood when one day Jack was ushered into the cloud palace of His Majesty King Sol.

trust his business proves prosperous. For the same sterling independence and fearless honesty which characterized him in his prime as a ball player are still his leading and most conspicuous traits.

WATERLOO FIELD IS NOW SCENE OF SLAVE RAIDS

Historic Battleplace of a Century Ago Now Devastated by the Huns

"Oh cruel and heart-rending morning. Thus the Antwerp correspondent of a Belgian paper published in Holland begins a description of Germany's latest slave raids in Antwerp and the historic Waterloo.

The same scenes, alas, were repeated the next day, and up to date 5,000 Antwerps have taken the road to Germany.

To this account is added the description given by a Brussels gentleman of exactly similar scenes which occurred in Waterloo. Slave raids in Waterloo, whose very name is consecrated in history as synonymous with the freedom of Europe.

What wonderful things words are. Is it not marvellous, when you stop to think of it, that you can read that sentence and know what I am thinking.

"Talk about the wireless telegraph. Here I am sending my thoughts to you without even knowing who you are or where you live.

The wonder of this medium, its flexibility, its strange contradictions came over me the other day after two little misunderstandings about words.

What Does "Bulbs" Mean to You. The first was this: I said I was going to give my nephew some bulbs as one of his Christmas presents.

"For the tree?" I asked someone. "For the tree?" I echoed, completely puzzled.

"Why, yes," she said, "you mean those little colored electric bulbs for the tree, don't you?"

Indian Economy

MANY careful people have found that Red Rose Tea is very economical—that it yields more cups to the pound. That is because it consists largely of Assam-Indian teas, which are famous for their full-bodied richness and strength. They make Red Rose Tea go farther.

Rippling Rhymes

The night is fierce and windy, all frozen is the world; the storm kicks up a shindy that makes my blood run cold. My chair is lined with leather, my fire is burning bright, and I enjoy the weather, the long, cold winter night. I live in peace and plenty, no famine have I felt, and I have eight or twenty mince pies beneath my belt. My wife is always saying, "How can you sit at ease, while hungry folk are praying for veneral wurst and cheese? How can you smoke your cutty, and read your magazines, while men are driven nutty by lack of bread and greens?"

SIDE TALKS

THESE WONDERFUL WORDS.

What wonderful things words are. Is it not marvellous, when you stop to think of it, that you can read that sentence and know what I am thinking.

"Talk about the wireless telegraph. Here I am sending my thoughts to you without even knowing who you are or where you live.

The wonder of this medium, its flexibility, its strange contradictions came over me the other day after two little misunderstandings about words.

What Does "Bulbs" Mean to You. The first was this: I said I was going to give my nephew some bulbs as one of his Christmas presents.

"For the tree?" I asked someone. "For the tree?" I echoed, completely puzzled.

"Why, yes," she said, "you mean those little colored electric bulbs for the tree, don't you?"

And what I had really meant was some narcissus bulbs. It had never happened to occur to me before that the word had two meanings.

The second misunderstanding happened a day or two later. I have an Armenian friend who, with the wonderful ambition of his race, is trying to put himself through college while at the same time working in a butcher's shop. He brings his compositions to me for help in English. One day he was describing an old man and he said, "His white buckles hung down over his shoulders."

I was puzzled for a moment and then he made descriptive gestures. "Oh, you mean curls," I said. "Yes," said he, happily. "But buckles doesn't mean curls," I corrected. "Oh yes," he persisted. We turned to the dictionary and I actually found that "curls" was one of the meanings given for buckles.

A queer confusion, wasn't it? But when I fell to musing about this misunderstanding I began to think how marvellous it was, not that we should have such confusions, but that we should have so few of them. Why Don't we have more confusion.

Here we are with just twenty-six letters out of which we make? If you turn to the dictionary you will find that most of these words have two meanings, some as many as seven or eight.

And yet how seldom we misunderstand each other because we don't take the word in the way it is meant!

Of all the miracles of civilization, is there, after all, anything more wonderful than this concerted action by which million of people agree to use these symbols in approximately the same way?

"IN THE WAKE OF THE WAR"

Instructive Lecture Delivered Last Evening in Colborne Street Church

BY DR. LINCOLN WIRT

Fifty Per Cent. of American People are For the Allies

One of the most masterful and instructive addresses ever heard in this city was that of Dr. Lincoln Wirt, delivered before a breathless audience last evening in Colborne street Methodist church, as a first of a series of lectures. Dr. Wirt, a speaker of the power and dominating personality in the course of his words, made a strong plea for the sympathy of the people of Canada with President Wilson of the United States. Patriotism in this country ran high, and the speaker deplored the fact that it was not burning so strongly in his own land. There, at least fifty per cent. of the population were straining at the leash, anxious to do more to show their sympathy with the Allies. But Wilson's position was a difficult one. In the first place, the party in power was not the genuine Yankee party as we conceived of it, but the Southern faction. The Irish element, the speaker claimed, was even more bitterly opposed to war than the German faction, which nevertheless mustered 20 per cent. of the population. In this country, the speaker declared, the Irish element was in the right direction always, and the speaker ventured the opinion that the torpedoing of the Laconia would prove the overt act awaited by the United States.

The chair was occupied during the evening by Major E. Sweet of the 215th battalion, while appropriate music was rendered by Mr. G. C. Wirt and the choir. W. E. Baker, briefly introduced the speaker of the evening, following which Major Sweet explained to him that he was speaking in a loyal and patriotic section of the Dominion, where no less than ten per cent. of the population had enlisted. He emphasized the fact that Britain was in the war for a great world principle, and that there was too much at stake for any consideration of a peace without victory.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt, in the opening remarks of his address, cited an instance of what might have been divine intercession in the affairs of the war. He had been about to book his passage to Europe upon the Lusitania as the ill-fated vessel sailed upon its last trip, but at the behest of a missionary friend in New York, who warned him against such an action, he transferred his sailing to another vessel journeying to the Mediterranean. While still at sea, word was flashed to them of the sinking of the Lusitania, and so great was the impression created, that one man died of sheer fright, according to the verdict of the doctor. At that time, there were two German submarines active in the Mediterranean, and Dr. Wirt during the voyage saw the wreckage of two torpedoed British battleships. He expressed himself as having never been so glad to touch land once more as when he set foot on the shores of Italy.

While in Italy, the speaker witnessed an event which he considered typical of the spirit of the Allies in the war. Before the royal palace a crowd had gathered clamoring for war against the king and queen. They were on the balcony, the struggle between king and people was made plain, ending when after a consultation, the Queen kissed the flag and threw it down to the people, signifying the entry of the nation into the war.

A much limited monarchy, if not a republican form of government was predicted by the speaker for Italy within ten years, for Spain within five and for Greece within three. He considered that the world to-day was standing upon the brink of a renaissance of civilization tending toward democracy, and quoted the words of H. G. Wells, commencing, "No more over-lords or supermen." The case of France he cited as an instance of the religious renaissance sweeping over the world, contrasting the atheism in vogue there before the war with the fervor of devotion to be encountered everywhere to-day.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was tendered in closing the evening by Messrs. A. M. Harley and Sidney Weir, who assured him that Canada bore no animus to the United States.

Last evening's lecture was the first of a series to be delivered by the most prominent speakers of the day, who are being brought here through the enterprise of the church league.

WOOL SOLD. By Courier Leased Wire. London, Feb. 27.—There were 4,000 bales of government wool sold at auction here today.

TWO DEAD. By Courier Leased Wire. Toronto, Feb. 28.—Two French-Canadian workmen on the Bloor viaduct, were found dead in their room at 33 Cambridge avenue, early today, from gas poisoning. They are Joseph Lebarge, 30, and Frank Brough, 35. They arrived in Toronto from Montreal last Thursday. Attracted to their room at three o'clock this morning by the odor of gas, the landlord found both men dead in bed, while the room was filled with gas, which was escaping from a half open gas jet.

The police are of the opinion that the men left a light burning when they went to sleep and it was accidentally extinguished.

WOUNDED RUSSIANS KILLED. By Courier Leased Wire. The train was derailed and four cars wrecked.
