might be perfect, yet helpless in the face of certain circumstances. It does not pay to depend upon a fire department when insurance costs so little.

Many persons economize by carrying their property but about half insured. Why run such risk? If a property is worth insuring at all, it is worth protecting to a conservative limit of its value.

In our insurance department we represent a line of strong, old companies. We write our own policies.

HON. J. H. LAMONT GOES ON THE BENCH

The Attorney-General a Supreme Court Judge-- Prince Albert Seat Will be Vacant Soon

Hon. J. H. Lamont has been promoted to the bench as a judge of the Supreme Court, the appointment being made yesterday at a meeting of the cabinet. There is no doubt that Mr. Lamont will take his place on the bench at once, and the Prince Albert seat will be opened. The indications are that A. Ferguson will be the government candidate and if he wins will succeed to Mr. Lamont's portfolio.

Hon. J. H. Lamont Who is exalted above his colleagues.

It is difficult to see how the government can get through the session without Mr. Lamont for he is the only minister who has his hands on the departmental work, he having stayed at home this summer and attended to business.

Mr. Motherwell has been out in North Qu'Appelle nursing his constituency. Mr. Calder has been away considerably, while Premier Scott spent the winter and early summer away for his health.

Mr. Lamont was persona grata with both sides of the house and got along well as acting Premier during Mr. Scott's illness. His many friends will be pleased to offer congratulations.

N. D. Beck, K.C., has been promoted to the Supreme Court bench for Alberta.

SENSATIONAL DISCLOSURES

Will Attend Prosecution of Arthur Nield for Robbing North Line Mails--$65,000 in One Letter

Prince Albert, Sept. 17.

When at the fall assizes the government proceeds with the prosecution of Arthur Nield for robbing mails on the north line, there will be something doing, for the disclosures promise to be somewhat startling. The government is in possession of information that money has been taken from mails which Arthur Nield is not supposed to have had access to. One case in particular happened between Aylesbury and Regina, an agent of a wholesale company in that city having enclosed $65 in an envelope, as he alleges, and dropped it into the mail on a certain date. The money never reached the firm there and the matter was reported to the Department. It is said that the date on which the money was sent was not one of Mr. Nield's trips. The public, however, are not likely to get any further information on this point until the case comes before the court.

HOW NIELD WAS CAUGHT
Since about last March the Department has been keeping an eye on the mail clerks on the north line as frequent reports were reaching the government that the mails were being tampered with. It was only on Saturday the 7th, however, that they managed to catch one of the railway mail staff with stolen letters on him. On that date Arthur Nield took his regular run from Regina to Prince Albert. The department had sent two inspectors out, one to the capital and the other up the main line of the C.N.R., he proceeding as far as McDowall, where he put one or two letters on the train, which he marked. The inspector at the other end got off a short piece up the line after dropping into the mail marked letters containing bills. After the train arrived here the inspector who got on at McDowall went to the mail car and asked the staff to go over to the post office with him which they did. He looked among the city mail for the letters which he and the other inspector had posted and he could find only one. He searched Mr. Nield and did not find any money in his pockets. He discovered some of the marked bills, however, inside his clothes. The official then went through the clerk's grip and found not only one of his letters but a bundle, some of which were as much as two months old. Among these there were letters which had not been opened and others contained cheques and money orders. Some were directed to the Eaton Co. and several to the Robert Simpson Co.

There is no doubt that Mr. Nield's work was bold and course for had he taken the proper precaution to destroy everything except the money it would have been difficult to catch him, and after making arrangements to be moved to Winnipeg if he had quit tampering with the mails he would not have been found out. Official opinion is that he must surely have been under the influence of liquor when he took the letters for no man in his sober senses would have played such an open game.

His trial will be held here under the new courts in October.

REGINA HONORS PARTING CITIZENS

Large Gathering in City Hall makes Presentation Through Mayor Smith to Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson---A Pleasant Evening

Those who gathered together in the City Hall on Saturday evening to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stevenson, and make them a presentation on behalf of the citizens of Regina, were sincerely emotional with feelings of deep regret that Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson were to take their departure. For nearly three years "George" as he was familiarly called, has not only been a favorite in musical circles where he has been a strong feature, but he was generous in the use of his vocal talents on so many public occasions that the whole city has had frequent opportunities to hear and applaud him. Mrs. Stevenson, who before her marriage was Mrs. Laubach, has held a position in public esteem second only to her husband and has been a star for some time among the musical fraternity. Her sweet voice has often been heard at public functions and those who attended the presentation and farewell on Saturday evening will not soon forget her beautiful rendition of Anid Lang Syne, the

GENERAL WOLFE'S PISTOLS

When Wolfe lay fatally wounded on the Plains of Abraham, and the battle light in the eyes that looked upon victory through the mists of death was fast fading away, there stood by his side, supporting him, an officer, whom the dying general esteemed as a brother. Bravely had he fought on that eventful day, when the French lost Quebec and Canada, and the golden lines were trampled beneath the feet of the British troops, triumphant. This officer was Major Samuel Holland, a gallant soldier, a gentleman of liberal education and courtly manners, an ancestor of the Holland family represented so worthily in Prince Edward Island today.

Major Holland received his military education in England, where he was born, and at an early age entered the army as lieutenant in the artillery, serving some time on the continent. In 1756 he was promoted to a captaincy, and in the following year was appointed and entrusted with the attack on the western gate when it surrendered. He was also at the battle of Beauport, as well as the subsequent battle of Quebec. On the day of the latter contest he was presented with a pair of pistols by General Wolfe on the barrels of which are engraved the words: "The gift of Major General Wolfe to Captain Samuel Holland, 1759."

These pistols remained in the Holland family for a number of years, but through marriage they passed into other hands and are now in the possession of Mrs. James F. Welsh, of Charlottetown.

The barrels of the pistols are nearly ten inches in length, the butts are heavily mounted, so after being discharged they could be effective as clubs when held by the barrel end. They are of the flint lock pattern of that time; the locks are still in good working order, and the weapons, on the whole, are in an excellent state of preservation considering their antiquity. Each pistol has its ramrod with screw attached for withdrawing the load, and the case containing apartments for holding the flints.

"Barber," presumably the name of the manufacturer is marked on the pistols. The case containing them has the name "Josias Whitney, late foreman to the late Mr. John Richards, 85 Strand, gunmaker, No. 3, Craven St., Strand."

No elaborate carvings adorn the pistols, which are evidently built for business—not as souvenirs.

After coming into Holland's possession they were used in a duel between his son, Ensign Samuel Holland of the 60th regiment, and a Captain Shoedde. As usual there was a woman in the case. The captain charged the ensign with undue familiarity with Mrs. Shoedde, and young Holland, smarting under the odium of the charge which was utterly unfounded, wrote his father asking him if he were in honor bound to take notice of the matter. The father replied by forwarding the pistols. On bidding his son adieu, just before he went to meet his adversary old Major Holland said: "Samuel, my boy, here are the weapons upon which my beloved friend General Wolfe presented to me on the day of his death.

QUARTER-CENTENARY

Regina Presbyterians are Celebrating the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

The first quarter centenary of the Presbyterian church in Regina is being celebrated this week, when functions are being held each evening in Knox church.

The celebration commenced on Sunday last when Rev. Dr. Urquhart, first pastor of the church occupied the pulpit supported by Rev. E. A. Henry and Rev. D. N. McLachlan. Next Sunday Dr. Carimichael will preach.

One of the distinguished features of the Monday evening meeting in Knox church was the presence on the platform of his Honor, Lieut.-Governor Forget, who said that it was the first occasion on which he had preached from a Presbyterian pulpit. Others on the platform were the Mayor, the Rev. G. W. Brown, Methodist; the Rev. G. C. Hill, church of England; besides the representatives of Presbyterianism, the Rev. E. A. Henry, Pattison, Dr. Urquhart and Mr. F. C. Tait, of Lumsden.

Additional Locals

R. M. Ross has returned from Banff where he had been treating for rheumatism. He is much improved.

The death occurred at Kronau on Monday of Clarence Cressman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cressman, aged 5 months and 16 days.

James Benson and bride were in the city Monday. Mr. Benson is manager of the Imperial Bank at Wetaskiwin, Alta. Mrs. Benson was formerly of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Tinning were in the city Sunday from Saskatoon. They came down with the Union Bank party to spend a day with Mr. Tinning's mother and sisters.

The death of James A. Gleadow, an employee of the Wascana hotel, occurred last Thursday. The funeral was held on Friday at Regina cemetery from the undertaking parlors of Speers, Marshall and Boyd, the service being conducted by Rev. G. C. Hill.

Senator Berley, of Wolsley, came as far as Regina this morning with Mr. Borden returning on the evening train. The senator says that the frost has done a great deal of damage north of the Qu'Appelle Valley in the Wolsley district. Many farmers will not have a bushel of crop.

"We, the jurors at the coroner's inquest are of the opinion that Muller met with his death by an accident caused by the caving in of an excavation; we think that the caving in might have been avoided by more care on the part of the foreman and persons in charge, in keeping the men at work, better protected by bracing or seeing that they are not allowed to work except in positions where the drain was properly protected or braced."

The above was the verdict brought in Monday by the coroner's jury after the investigation into the cause of the death of Henry Muller, the young German who was killed in the sewer ditch on Saturday through a cave in on Broadway street where a contractor Shannon is working his big ditching machine. It appears that deceased however, went into the excavation of his own accord as he was not on the pipe gang but worked on the surface. The other two men caught in the hole escaped much injury. Deceased has a sister, Rosie Muller working at Von's hotel and a brother who is home-staying. The man who met his death Saturday had been saving his money to bring out his aged parents from Germany shortly.

Regina citizens received a sad shock on Monday when the news spread around that Alex. Cohen, the popular manager of the Lansdowne hotel had lost his life through the accidental discharge of a gun in his own hands while out a few miles east of here with a shooting party consisting of his brother, Albert, his partner, Alex. Bell and L. G. Dales. The accident occurred while deceased was sitting in the buggy and it is thought it was caused by his foot striking the trigger or through the jolting of the rig. Mr. Bell came back to the city for medical assistance and when Dr. Thomson reached there with the undertaker, Mr. Speers, life was extinct. The funeral took place that evening to the train and the body was sent to Winnipeg accompanied by Mr. Bell and Albert Cohen. There are several brothers residing at the Manitoba capital. The Oddfellows had charge of the funeral and a short service was held according to the Jewish rites. Mrs. Cohen has not yet returned from Moscow where she went early in the summer to visit her father. The two little sons were left here with their father and they have gone to Winnipeg.

NO LOSS TO MR. PARENT

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—When the Hon. S. N. Parent, former premier of Quebec, was retired from that position because his colleagues were tired of him, and his party concluded that he was getting too much for himself out of it, Sir Wilfrid Laurier went to the rescue and made him chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Construction Commission, which is to spend one hundred million dollars of Canadian money. Even then Mr. Parent did not give up his other half political and half financial operations. He remained president of the Quebec Bridge Co., a concern which was building and managing an enterprise for which the Dominion treasury pays This great bridge under construction fell down last week causing the loss of four score lives and the destruction of a million dollars worth of property. No one knows yet where the loss will fall or what it will amount to. But the first thing that Mr. Parent's company did after the disaster was to hold a meeting and vote $8,000 indemnity to Mr. Parent who had received the same amount in other years in addition to his $8,000 a year as G.T.P. commissioner. It is kind of Mr. Parent's company to vote this allowance to Mr. Parent out of Canadian public money nor is it had to be in loco Parentis. This graceful act at the particular moment shows a sympathy for at least one of the sufferers.

STOCK YARDS UP AGAIN

Board of Trade Comes to City Council with Request for Further Consideration

The question of city stock yards came up again for Regina at the meeting of the city council last evening when a delegation from the Board of Trade consisting of Messrs. Laird, McAra, and McCausland appeared before the board and asked the city fathers to again consider the stock yard project as there is so much money invested at the exhibition grounds that the city should get some income and the stock yard scheme is feasible and its establishment would result in making Regina the big stock centre of the province. People in the east would ship stock here for sale and buyers would not have to go east for a car load as they have to do at present. The council will likely do something at an early date. If the scheme goes through it will be necessary to appoint a caretaker who will have his residence on the grounds.

The question of water rates with the C.P.R. has not been settled. Superintendent Brownlee appeared before the council last evening and asked that the matter be decided as soon as possible. The city water main runs through the C.P.R. property and the company can order the pipes up at any time. This may be made a lever to bring the city to compromise with regards to rates.

The new city hall will be decorated with portraits of their Majesties, the King and Queen and also portraits of the three mayors of the City since incorporation, H. W. Laird, P. McAra, and Mayor Smith.

NORMAL LITERARY SOCIETY

The Normal Literary Society held a very successful meeting on Friday September 13th. The meeting was opened by the chairman, Mr. Huff, and the business of the day was soon completed after which a splendid programme was given by the members of the club.

The program opened with a chorus by the ladies of the Glee Club, after which Miss Speers delighted the club with a humorous reading. Next was an instrumental by the pianist of the society, Miss Pope. The gentlemen of the Glee Club then distinguished themselves as singers. Miss Lewis then treated the society to a selection on the violin after which Miss Lewis and Miss Licking sang with effect the beautiful song, "Sweet and low winds of the Western sea." Last on the programme was the speech by Mr. Peret, the critic of the society. It was both interesting and instructive. The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

(Ottawa Free Press)
Fort Smith, Great Mackenzie River district basca Landing.— Does Canada possess buffalo in its far north? Are these herds being by four-legged or twelve? Is it not the duty of government to take such action as to Canada for all the buffalo who are known north? These questions are before the people of Canada in consequence of the result of an expedition official orders, by Ins. Jarvis, of the Royal Mounted Police, who had been here.

Major Jarvis, who had been by the commissioner W.M.P. to report on the in the far north, left Regina May 14th for Athabasca company with Mr. Ernest Seton, the well known naturalist after a journey full of usual to travel in this area, reached Smith Lake 7th.

As the party proceeded were told repeatedly were destroying the northern country. The mission was known, the in a case of this kind, his coming had been his arrival, and that all in telling of the work the inspector's suspicion after his arrival here chief and hunters who had been sent by the government to investigate the question of take steps to destroy the buffalo country.

At once countless objections were made. The country was under foot of water, that the not get a dry spot to where they would be devoured they would die of rheumatism that after all the hundreds of miles away these objections Inspector Jarvis, told them that he had his instructions going to carry them out duty no matter what difficulties.

He wanted a guide of equally again met with excuses. Like the people the marriage feast in the scriptures, they all got to make excuses. Were all lost; wives and sick and could not be taken and promises long since the limbo of forgotten things and finally five days of good reputation. To guide, provided that the take more than a week substitute was provided his wife during his absence.

That it came about Jarvis, Mr. Thompson Beaulieu set out from 13 for the buffalo ground day's journey was the country covered with and spruce; then some swamps, but these were expected, in one place bog was met with. The for the night on Smith Lake.

The following day foot of country raising the known as Salt Mountain. The element is good land, is chiefly black and tamarack, aspen poplar, Gilead, white birch and plentiful. As the ground grows lighter a ground cedar and group pear. The pasture is fit plants, vegetation general advancement of the season the soil and the climate seemed about the same. The only thing in the hills were not observed. The French priest in the mission told the inspector that oats, barley and garden truck are successfully grown and that also successfully raised farming was carried out it may be recalled, just said of Manitoba that There seems to be no doubt that here is a larger Manitoba lying in transport are provided, rose to the ascent of the country became open glades and small

PRESERVING CANADA'S WILD BUFFALO

(Ottawa Free Press) The story of the discovery of the first herd of buffalo is thus told by Inspector Jarvis: "The trails, wallows and chips of the buffalo became noticeable, but as they were old we gave them only passing notice, but when two perfectly fresh ones appeared we dismounted to follow them on foot. Beaulieu stalked the animals just as he would a moose or deer and in about an hour led Mr. Seton (who was armed with his rifle) to an open glade, where in plain view were a herd of thirteen buffaloes, two big bulls, one calf of this year, and the rest calves and yearlings. Their photograph was taken three times at sixty yards before they became alarmed and ran off. Bear tracks abound everywhere, and that night Beaulieu shot an old bear and two cubs within fifty yards of our camp. "In the morning Mr. Seton remained in camp for the purpose of photography, and Beaulieu and myself travelled all day until 10 p.m., when we came on fresh tracks of what appeared to be fresh tracks of a large herd. We tied our horses in the woods and followed along for about a mile over wet swampy ground until we came in sight of a bunch, all of which were lying down except three big bulls. They were on a large salt lick. We crawled up to within (what we afterwards found to be by measurement) fifty yards of them. I took out my glasses but owing to our awkward position could not get a correct count of them. After resting for a little while we both walked down into the open. I took out my pocket book and wrote down as follows: 'Four big bulls, one yearling, four little calves three two year olds and eight cows.' They then saw us and got up one by one and stared at us, showing how easily they can be approached and killed. Beaulieu then shouted and they galloped into the woods behind them. The bulls were magnificent looking animals. They had not yet shed all their winter coat, but the cows were sleek and fine-looking. "Then the half-breed guide gave an illustration of the methods of his race. Mr. Jarvis proceeded: "Before going into the open Beaulieu, who had his rifle along said: 'Mon Dieu, Major et me kill him one cow!' I explained to him that I would lose my fine $500 and that I would lose my position. He then said, 'Let me kill him one for the government!' but I would not permit it. "The inference is that if the inspector had not been along Beaulieu would have committed slaughter among the herd and thought it no crime. "The conclusion that Inspector Jarvis comes to as a result of his investigations is that as they had seen thirty-three buffalo and the fresh tracks of ten or twelve more, in the woods, they had seen all the buffalo in that particular district. But he also reports that a careful investigation found very few traces of wolves and that he arrived at the conclusion that wolves are very scarce there. In fact he is of the opinion that the chief attention from the two-legged depredaters who are really doing the slaughter of the buffalo is that of the moose. He plentifully gives the hunters an excuse to claim this region as their hunting and trapping ground. They go in ostensibly to kill moose and come out ostensibly supplied with pemican but with very few moose skins. This is very suspicious to say the least. These men did all the could to prevent me going in and I consider it no loss, doubtful who is killing the buffalo. "Before proceeding on his journey, Inspector Jarvis told the Free Press representative that he thought the government should be urged at any cost to preserve these animals. His idea would be that the country between the Peace, Slave and Hay rivers as far down as Fort Resolution should be set apart for a government park. It would be far wiser to do now than later, when settlement begins, and if at any future time the government should decide to throw it open for settlement they could do so, but in the meantime the buffalo would have been preserved. There are spots of country which, if seen by cowmen from the American side would send them crazy; thousands of tons of hay can be got by just putting in the machinery and horses. There is also splendid shelter for cattle and loads of timber for sheds and buildings. "Inspector Jarvis has proceeded to the Cariboo Mountains in search of other buffalo and will eventually proceed to Fort Herschel. "GETS A MOVE ON "The C.N.R. can get a real move on in the way of building a new line whenever the circumstances demand that a line should be built. The line from Brandon to Regina has been graded to Moosomin and the lines of steel are laid as far west as Kennedy. The construction trains run back and forth every day. A new station is built a little east of Moffat's, and this fall the road can take all the wheat offered by the farmers along the line—Moosomin Spectator.

Russian makes Translation for Earl Grey on Alaska Boundary—Comes Too Late

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—Leo Nabokoff, a friend of the Count Leo Tolstoy, is in Winnipeg, in an effort to quiet the wandering Doukhobors, and prevail upon them to return to their homes. Nabokoff tells an interesting story of the finding of an important document dealing with the Canadian Alaska boundary during a long stay at Sitka, Alaska, which he has translated into English and sent to Earl Grey, at Ottawa. This document according to Nabokoff if discovered previous to the Alaskan boundary commission, would have had an important effect on the findings of that body. "The document is dated 1836. The purport of the document is that Russia stole the whole of the Pacific

THE FRONTIERSMAN Hudson Bay Factor

"Give me a cayuse everytime. Those things are no good," was the terse manner in which Daniel McLean Hudson's Bay factor, fur trapper and timber cruiser, and a man who recently got his first experience of modern city life, expressed himself in regard to street car locomotion, says the Victoria Colonist. McLean arrived from River's Inlet having come down on the venture. For the first time since 1871, he experienced all the conveniences, or to him, inconveniences of life in the city. Tall, brawny, of a splendid physique, telling of the hardy life of a frontiersman and pioneer, McLean possessed a good deal of the quaint humor of his Scotch ancestors, and his comments upon civilization as exemplified in the modern city were amusing and entertaining in this twentieth century. "I suppose street cars are all right. But why can't people walk? They don't have far to go. Get them up north with a hundred mile stretch before them. Then the cayuse is the proper thing." He admitted that he was not altogether sure just what the street car might do while he was aboard and he stood near the door ready to jump if "the danged thing busted." McLean, whose father is Donald McLean, Hudson Bay factor in the territory stretching through the great lone land in the north west from Slave Lake to the Arctic sea, speaks with a decided Scotch accent telling of the nationality of his forefathers, and displays an intelligent interest in everything going on about him. But city life he declares is no life for a man. "For him, the free life of the north, moose and all the rest of the trappers' paraphernalia is the whole sum of existence and he has no hesitation in declaring his views. The fact of being interviewed by a newspaper man rather amused him. "I've heard of you fellows was his terse comment. "Born in the west, McLean, while quite a boy, moved to Fort Garry, now Winnipeg with his parents and entered the services of the great company. He was at Fort Garry in '71 when Louis Riel, the rebel, imprisoned many of the whites, among them the late Sir John Christian Schmitz, afterwards lieutenant-governor of the province. He with others went to Fort Pembina on the international boundary to wait the arrival of the party under the command of the late Hon. William Macdonald, but later was refused admittance by the rebels under Lepine, Riel's lieutenant, and was forced to return east. McLean after knocking about Fort Garry, started west spending several years at Fort Qu'Appelle, Fort Battleford, and then on to Edmonton, which was then just a Hudson-Bay post with a few shacks and tents surrounded by a stockade. Later he wandered farther north to Fort Resolution and up into the Arctic circle where he ran a dog train for several years and travelled over the entire country as far north as Herschel Island. Nine years ago he journeyed through Yellow Head pass to the Pacific coast and since that time has been on the coast trapping and timbering, though most of the time in the employ of the Hudson Bay Co. He describes the country through the Yellow Head pass as a good sheep country and the Peace river country as possibly a good crop section in some places. Guiding gold seekers via the Edmonton route, trading with the Eskimos on the shores of the Arctic, etc. McLean has had a varied experience in the north. "They were only babies," he remarked in speaking of the men who endeavored to get into the Yukon by the overland route. Of the hardships these deluded seekers after fortune experienced McLean has a wealth of stories. In nearly every instance the adventurers had to seek the aid of the Hudson Bay officials and frost bitten and starved, they were forced to remain at one of the company's posts until able to return on the long and trying journey to civilization, completely disabused as to the hidden wealth of the Arctic.

Conservative Leader gets after Aylesworth—Reminds him of Gamey Episode

Peterboro, Sept. 11.—R. L. Borden in his speech tonight said: "Hon. Aylesworth is reported to have divulged in certain characteristic mis-statements respecting himself at Dundas yesterday. "He told the people that someone had told him that someone else could give evidence which would disqualify me from holding a seat in parliament for eight years. "It is a discredit to Canada that we should have a minister of justice so reckless and irresponsible. "We indict him and his friends, not upon gossip or rumor, but upon public records and sworn testimony. Let him bring on his pretended evidence, and he will find me ready to meet it, and to meet him any time he sees fit, and at any place. "During the campaign of 1904, I was in Halifax only three days, and Aylesworth's wild and irresponsible insinuations are absolutely devoid of the slightest foundation. "Before repeating them, let him devote his time to explaining his own disputable connection with the Gamey case."

It cannot be too clearly stated, for the statement is beyond any qualification or contradiction, that never since the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened in 1902, has a single applicant been refused admission, because of his or her poverty.

More, perhaps, than any other charity in Canada the MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES is dependent upon the contributions of the Canadian public for its maintenance.

Private philanthropy has erected the buildings, providing accommodation to-day for 75 patients, and which the trustees are prepared to extend, if circumstances warrant it, to 100 beds.

These beds are for those in any part of Canada, without means, who are suffering from this terrible disease in the incipient stage.

There is no large endowment, as in some public institutions, the interest of which will go a long way to pay the running expenses.

The monthly bills, covering cost of administration, salaries of medical men, nursing, clerical and domestic staff, besides the heavy expenditure for maintenance of each patient, are dependent for payment almost entirely on the contributions that come to the treasurer from kind friends throughout the Dominion.

Could Not Pay—Has Young Wife and Child. Destitute. J. AUSTIN, KINMOUNT, ONT.—I have a patient, 26 years of age, with tuberculosis. His circumstances are not such that he could pay, as he has a young wife and child to support. Could you make room for him at the Sanatorium? I think he might improve. THE WEST WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1907

Forced to Retract

When the Provincial Rights party threw down the gauntlet to two governments on the lands question of this province they had in view the timber and coal and other mineral lands as well as those suitable for agriculture.

When Mr. Borden announced to the people of Canada on the 20th of August at Halifax that the Conservative party stood pledged to restore to the new provinces their public domain, he meant the coal and timber lands as well as the other public lands in the provinces.

When the government's Regina organ stated on August 26 that the province does not want the lands, and when the government's Saskatoon organ said on August 29th:

"The very word restoration is a misnomer. The public lands in the west never did belong to the provinces so how could they be restored. It is not possible to restore anything to anyone which he never had possession of."

they meant the coal lands as much as any other lands. Yet, however, on August 13th the local organ of the government was forced to retract in part what they previously said by stating:

"For the benefit of the increasingly large number of homesteaders who are settling west of Saskatoon, between the Bear Hills and the border, the Government have instituted inquiries as to the prospects of cheap fuel provision in this and future winters. They reserve as provincial property certain areas in Eagle Lake district, where surface coal had been found. Development of these stores will proceed as quickly as possible, the Government having determined to obtain possession of them. The needs of the district are too urgent to permit exclusive private ownership, with the temptation to hold for a rise."

We believe that we voice the public sentiment of this province when we say that the people do want the lands restored, and we are glad that Mr. Borden has pledged the Conservative party to rectify the wrong perpetrated by the Laurier government assisted by the local administration and defended by a hireling press.

Time for a Change

There is every indication that the people of Canada have made up their minds that the time has come for a change of government. There is a similar atmosphere prevailing to-day as was felt in 1896 when the Liberals appealed to the country to support well-defined reforms which their party convention had subscribed to.

SEED FAIR

The success that attended the twenty-one seed fairs that Saskatchewan tried last winter warrants their being held again, their number and prizes at them increased, and if possible, their program enlarged.

But it was in dismissing the Aylesworth charges that he delivered the most damaging blow. Before repeating them, said Mr. Borden, let him (Mr. Aylesworth) devote his time to explaining his own disreputable connection with the Gamey case, and let him lose his well-known dread of meeting R. B. Gamey upon the public platform.

A Pledge

"The Conservative party believes in the nationalization of telegraphs and telephones. If it comes into power it stands pledged to bring this about.

"There is no reason for a government monopoly in transmitting messages by letter unless it is extended to include the transmission of messages by wire, by telegraph and telephone."

PRESS COMMENTS

(Montreal Witness.) A candidate for parliament in an English constituency some time ago was highly disappointed at the result of the elections.

Other strong evidence that the government will have a close call, if not absolutely wiped out of existence, is that fact that Mr. Sifton "stood from under" when such strenuous representations were made to him to re-enter the cabinet. It is safe to assume that Mr. Sifton sized up the whole situation before he gave Sir Wilfred his decision.

The Right Man

In western experience, in breadth of view, in dignity and educational acquirement, Hon. Justice Wetmore is undoubtedly the best man among the residents of this province for the Chancellorship of the University of Saskatchewan.

Firmly Rising

A dispatch from Edmonton says: "J. W. Greenway, inspector of Dominion lands, was in the city to-day, and discussing the land values in the west he stated that the values were steadily and firmly rising throughout the west.

Bring Blood

Referring to Mr. Borden's

Discussing the present position of the Dominion government, the Toronto News says: "But the Laurier government's chief crime against provincial rights was the measures constituting the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Here the traditions and principles of the Liberal party were repudiated and dishonored, and the plain meaning of the British North America act contemptuously ignored in order that a separate school system might be imposed upon the new provinces."

While the same prize list would not be suitable to all societies, as the crops that require encouragement vary in different districts, the following is submitted as a basis on which to work. Many societies will no doubt increase each of these prizes.

SEED FAIR

Among the changes for the better that might be made, the following are, it is believed, well worthy of consideration. While the prizes on the whole have been good, the total amount offered by the average fair last year being in the neighborhood of $50, there is room for improvement, especially when this amount is compared with what is commonly given at the summer fair for much less important exhibits.

A seed judging competition would also add to the interest and increase the instructiveness of the fair. One of these was conducted last year and was an unqualified success. A small entrance fee was charged competitors who were allowed five minutes to examine the samples of grain submitted and who were then required to go to another room where they gave their placing and their reasons for so doing, fifty per cent. being allowed for "placing," and fifty for "reasons."

At the Winter Fair to be held in Regina during the latter part of March, by which time the seed fairs will be over, there will be a seed grain department with substantial prizes and, if it can be arranged, a seed judging competition for the provincial championship. The prizes will be good and well worth competing for, Harris McFayden will give a good gold medal to the winner of first place in this competition.

It would also add to the interest if a weed seed identification contest was conducted in a manner similar to that outlined for the seed judging competition. The Seed Branch will supply the samples of grain for both these contests.

PRIZE LIST

Table with 2 columns: Item and Prize Amount. Includes items like Spring Wheat Red, Spring Wheat, Oats, Barley, Peas, etc.

In view of the fact that a considerable proportion of next year's seed may be frozen and that the most satisfactory way of determining its fitness for seed is by actually testing its germinating qualities, the Seed Branch is willing to test samples.

considerable proportion of next year's seed may be frozen and that the most satisfactory way of determining its fitness for seed is by actually testing its germinating qualities, the Seed Branch is willing to test samples. If agricultural societies wish to have the per cent. germination taken into consideration in making the awards it will be necessary to secure from prospective exhibitors representative samples of the grains they intend showing all of two weeks before the date of the fair so that there will be time to send in the samples to have them tested and to get the returns.

The prizes need not be paid out until the results of the test reach the Secretary, and if they differ widely from the first test the prize may be given to the exhibit tested well with a high score, as indicated by the score card, which will be left with each sample at the fair. This is the idea in the rough. The details will be worked out later for societies that wish per cent. germination taken into account when placing the awards.

Among the changes for the better that might be made, the following are, it is believed, well worthy of consideration. While the prizes on the whole have been good, the total amount offered by the average fair last year being in the neighborhood of $50, there is room for improvement, especially when this amount is compared with what is commonly given at the summer fair for much less important exhibits.

out the shadow of a doubt. The American executive is elected in the autumn of every fourth year, and is absolutely beyond the reach of the people for four and a half years to come.

What Canada really needs is not magazine exploitation, but a modern form of government. In this stage of the world's progress people do not migrate from one monarchy to another.

Apparently the New York American has in mind the monarchical features of our present government. It imagines that a monarch is a tyrant, that at all events is not a "modern" thought.

As for the possibility of a democracy in a monarchy, we would respectfully call the attention of the American to the democracy which lives in Great Britain and Ireland.

The World man became interested as he had heard various predictions of the dire calamity that was about to happen in business and other circles because of the inadequacy of the volume of the present money to do all that is required of it.

In Canada the democracy is absolutely unchecked. It names the executive, which in turn names the senate. We have no executive entrenched in power which we cannot overthrow no matter how badly it may go astray.

The stringency in money circles has been no respecter of persons, and provincial governments have had difficulty in getting enough money to get along with, and the situation in relation to municipalities has been keener.

HUNTING SEA OTTER

With about twenty-one sea otter skins, valued at about a thousand dollars each, and 228 seal skins, the sealing schooner Vera, of the Victoria Sealing Co., returned this season to port from a sealing and sea otter hunting trip in the North Pacific.

The method is to hunt in a triangle, the scheme being to tire the valuable fur-bearing until exhausted before firing to kill. When the middle boat has sighted an otter, the second comes up behind and the third is rowed ahead the three forming a triangle.

The success of the schooner Casca in otter hunting last season induced the local sealers to send two schooners out this year prepared for this branch of hunting. They cleared in January last, engaging in pelagic sealing off the coast of California and northern coasts until the coast sealing ended on April 30, and then went to the vicinity of Copper Islands beyond the 180th parallel to hunt sea otters only.

"Well, all this, as any business individual will admit, is bad for development, and herein comes the first reason why a betterment is in prospect. The financial institutions have begun holding funds, because of the dangerous outlook, and the enforced curtailment of development in all directions is admitting of a period of recuperation.

It is only in the finest of weather that otter hunters can work. The least ripple on the face of the water prevents hunting. The sighting of an otter on the surface to breathe is the signal for the lowering of three boats. The method is to hunt in a triangle, the scheme being to tire the valuable fur-bearing until exhausted before firing to kill. When the middle boat has sighted an otter, the second comes up behind and the third is rowed ahead the three forming a triangle.

Vera that the Japanese sealing fleet in Bering sea this season will be the largest on record. There were five Japanese sealing schooners sent to this coast, and three were spoken by the Vera. These schooners had each taken from three hundred to 850 skins of this coast. They reported that it was the intention of the Japanese to have 35 sealing schooners in this sea this season and it was expected at least a score of Japanese vessels would be sent to the American coast.

News of the seizure of the Charlotte G. Cox in May by the United States ship Rush was given by the hunters of the Japanese sealers which had been hunting in the vicinity of the Victoria schooner when she was taken.

MONEY WILL BE EASIER

Toronto Financiers Say That Stringency is Relaxing--All Money Centres Except Berlin Show Change

Toronto, Sept. 12.—"Unless my premises are altogether wrong the crisis in the tight money period has been passed and from now on terms to borrowers will gradually be lowered."

This was the statement made yesterday to a World man by one who has been a close student of money and its affairs, and whose opinion in such matters is acceptable as somewhat authoritative.

The stringency in money circles has been no respecter of persons, and provincial governments have had difficulty in getting enough money to get along with, and the situation in relation to municipalities has been keener.

"The last to feel the pinch is real estate. Here in Toronto first-class loans are in instances almost unobtainable. The principle loan companies are asking as high as 7 per cent. interest, and even at this have held back until funds have accumulated.

"A ban has practically been placed on the increase of securities. There have been practically no new flotations in Canada for months, and the only demand for funds in the way of securities coming from municipal or government debentures.

"I note also outside of Canada that money is getting less tight. At London, England, the official rate of bank interest is 4 1/2 per cent. A year ago the rate reached the almost unheard figure of 6 per cent. At New York time money is procurable at easier rates, and at Paris most of the evidence of stringency have passed.

A Cream of Tartar Powder Made from Grapes NO ALUM

The funds are necessarily attracted to the big centres before distribution. When this does take place there will be an outpouring of money into Canada from Europe as Canadian investments are being sought as they never have been by investors in Britain and on the continent.

There are other minor reasons why I expect cheaper money, but these are subservient to those I have mentioned, and which I think form a good basis for the belief that the change for the better has arrived.

The substance of the above remarks was put before several managers of Toronto financial institutions, but in some instances those interrogated preferred to await developments before making any prognostications.

Not Enough Money "It is certain," he remarked, "that the world's business had outgrown the volume of money Canadian and in fact the banks of all countries have found it necessary to restrict business."

"What Ails You? Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, heartburn, belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gas or burn, flat breath, dizziness, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?"

NEW BOAT FOR C.P.R.

Lake Steamship of New Class Being Cut in Two to get Through Locks

Quebec, Sept. 11.—The arrival of the C.P.R. steamship "Assiniboia" today, where she will be cut in two in order to pass the canals, marks the commencement of a new era in the traffic of the upper lakes.

The "Assiniboia" is the first of what the C.P.R. intends ultimately to be acknowledged the finest fleet in Canada owned inland steamships that this continent has ever seen.

The whole policy of the C.P.R. has been tending towards this end for some considerable time. Ever since the Grand Trunk obtained powers to cut into the C.P.R. territory by means of the G.T.P., the C.P.R. has been relentlessly pushing its way into every part of what has hitherto been exclusively Grand Trunk territory. It is expected that the C.P.R. will soon be able to take care every bushel of wheat placed in its cars in the west right to the seaboard, by having a big fleet of lake vessels plying between Fort William and the Georgian Bay ports.

The "Assiniboia" is a vessel of 45,000 tons gross, and will also have accommodation for passengers. The "Keewatin" is a sister ship to the former, and was launched today at Glasgow.

"Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles and its action is positive and certain: itching, pain, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by the Regina Pharmacy Stores.

Miss Leona Morris, who has been assistant to Mr. Hill in the drug store for the past year, left on Monday night's train for Regina, where she has secured a situation with a music firm and where her musical talent will be useful and she will have a bright future ahead of her as a musician. Miss Morris was a general favorite and will be missed by all, but while we regret to lose such a good citizen, we are pleased that it is for her welfare the change was made.—Stoughton Times.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized in the First Baptist church at 9 o'clock on Wednesday by the Rev. P. W. Patterson, when Harcourt D. MacPherson, of Regina, was united in marriage to Mabel A. Evert, recently of Mount Forest, daughter of the late William Evert of Brampton, Ont. They were shown round the city and district by the manager for Saskatchewan, Col. Baker. Both the visitors are favorably impressed with Regina's growth and they have confidence in the future of the country. This company has a great deal of money loaned on farm and city property, and they are now sizing up the whole western situation. The visits of representatives of the largest financial concerns in Canada during the last few weeks is very significant, as it proves that the eyes of the east are looking anxiously towards the west and are awaiting encouraging news respecting the harvest, which in any case now will only be a fair one.

A pleasant little function took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Duncan on Wednesday evening last when her sister, Miss Margaret Beatrice Grassick, was married to William Howard Hargrave, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hargrave, of Medicine Hat. Hargrave, Misses Lissa and Melrose Hargrave and Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Moore, of Rouleau, were also present, besides a large number of guests from Regina and other points. Commenting on the wedding the Medicine Hat News of Thursday last says: "The newly married couple arrived in the city this morning and will reside with the groom's parents for a time before taking up residence in one of the cities of the west. Mr. Hargrave graduated this spring in the department of electrical engineering at McGill University. A large circle of friends will extend very hearty congratulations.

Police barracks, she having killed her three children at her home on Sunday while suffering from religious mania. She thought she was called upon to make a sacrifice of blood to the Lord. The demented woman struck each of the children on the head with a hammer and cut their throats with a drawknife. The awful tragedy occurred while her husband was away from the house. re-echo of which still lingers with her auditors.

On the occasion referred to the chair was taken by H. W. Laird, and he invited His Worship the Mayor and Mr. Stevenson to the platform, where they were joined by Mrs. Stevenson who had been sent for. Mr. Laird, in a few brief remarks, touched upon the departure of the guests of the evening, and referred to the vacancy which will be left in the social and business circles of the city. He truly remarked that in business, in sports, and in musical entertainment, Mr. Stevenson held a prominent place, while Mrs. Stevenson has held a high position in the social life of the city and her musical talents have made her a general favorite. It was with a great deal of pleasure that the chairman called upon Mayor Smith to make a presentation to the guests on behalf of the citizens of Regina.

His worship, after expressing in a felicitous manner the sentiments of the citizens toward Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, presented George with a beautiful gold watch "from the citizens of Regina." To Mrs. Stevenson he gave a silver knife and fork also engraved, and a third present bore the inscription "To Baby Stevenson from the citizens of Regina."

Mr. Stevenson, on behalf of himself and his wife and child thanked the citizens for their tokens of appreciation. He could not express his own feelings, but he would simply say that he could not hope for a better city or a better people than the citizens of Regina.

Senator Geo. A. Cox, President of the Canada Life, accompanied by the treasurer of the company, H. L. Watt, of Toronto, and W. G. Morrow, of Peterboro, were in the city on Friday inspecting their provincial agency here under the management of J. H. H. Young. The visitors were highly pleased with the improvements and the industrial growth of Regina.

It has come out that an Arcola young lady has entered suit against a Forget farmer for breach of promise and claims damages to the amount of $5,000. Biggest Values in OVERALLS at $1

One dollar has here-to-fore been looked upon as a reasonable figure to pay for an overall, and, as a result, our "Dollar Overall" has become a very popular number. But this year the price of cotton is up sky-high. If this had been an ordinary store, with only ordinary buying facilities, we would have had to either discontinue selling an overall at a dollar or have sold a very inferior article to what we sold in former years.

But what we have to tell you here proves this to be a most extraordinary store. We made our purchases of overalls months ago, in advance of the rise in the cotton market. We bought even a better quality than last year, and got it at the same price.

To-day we find ourselves in the unique position of having our full quota of overalls in stock and selling at last year's price. This is the fact that interests you most, and we are very glad that it is true.

Our Dollar Overalls, in same, or even better duck than former years, made in pant and bib styles, in plain and striped grey. Biggest value in town at the price.

Sweaters for Men and Boys

We cannot emphasize our values in sweaters too much. The great diversity of styles and color combinations and the supremacy in all round good values are worth any commendation we might offer.

MEN'S SPECIAL $1.25 SWEATERS—One dollar and a quarter is the price we quote on this line for men's wear, but it does not represent the extraordinary good value here offered. Such sweaters as these generally sell for a quarter to half a dollar more.
