The Italians have steadily maintained a forward movement.

At Cortina Dampezzo, one of the most northerly points in the Trentino sector, our allies have repulsed the Austrians, who opposed their passage into the heart of the country. CLEVEREST OF GERMAN SPIES W HAS BEEN CAUGHT IN TORONTO AFTER SENDING INFORMATION

Louisa Marksfeldt Admits That She is One of Several Spies Working in Canada and the United States Who Have Watched Every Movement of Canadian Troops.

Nineteen-year-old Louise Marksfeldt, as she calls herself, who appeared in the women's court yesterday on a vagrancy charge, turns out to be the leverest of German spies on the continent. Her arrest was accomplished two weeks ago Wednesday night by Detective Maurer, just as she was about to board a train at the Union

Two months ago the British Govrnment advised the Canadian miliernment advised the Canadian military authorities that valuable information concerning Canadian troop transports was leaking to the German Government, and requested immediate investigation. At first she feigned indignation at her sarest, then suddenly when she saw the game was up so far as she was concerned, laughingly admitted that she was a spy and that she had sent a host of information to her government in Germany. She boasted of having assisted dozens of Germans to get over to the States, and from there having assisted dozens of Germans to get over to the States, and from there return to the German army. She speaks English as well as she does German; from her conversation one would never guess she was a Teuton. In addition she admits speaking fluently French, Italian. Russian, Macedonian and a couple of other languages—eight altogether. She was born in Alsace, Germany, educated in Dusseldorf, and calmly admits she has received special training from German military authorities for her life work—spying.

When the work of laying the con-When the work of laying the concrete is commenced, the commission hopes to be able to lay half a mile of the road-bed each day. With the five large concrete mixers belonging to the commission, and at least one which they will get from the government, the 18-foot concrete road which will link Toronto and Hamilton will be put down with all possible rapidity. The matter of drainage, which is one of the most important parts of road-building, has been well looked after, and this part of the work is practically completed. Operations have been ly completed. Operations have been held up in some parts thru difficulty in getting the right of way, but with several settlements made within the last week, much of this difficulty has een removed. In the matter of expenditure the commission has spent in the neigh-borhood of $125,000, and the entire cost will be a little less than five times that amount. The money spent thus far has been mostly for labor, but from this point onwards the outlay for material will figure more prominently.

Employ 500 Men.

The men employed in the work numbered 375 during the winter, and this is now increased to 500. When the laying of the concrete is started this number will be augmented. The roadway is 66 feet wide and will have a concrete paving 18 feet wide. The concrete will have a depth of six inches at the sides and eight and a half inches at the centre of the road. A macadamized shoulder of three feet in width will be on each side of the concrete. The grading is limited to maximum of four per cent.

Debentures have been issued to the extent of $600,000. Of this amount Toronto contributes $150,000, Hamilton $30,000, the provincial government $4000 a mile and the municipalities thru which the road passes $4000. The balance of the cost will be met on a frontage basis.

The members of the commission are

George H. Gooderham, chairman; H. S. Van Scoyce, chief engineer; Charles Johnston, division engineer; R. T. Bell, superintendent of construction;

Seil, superintendent of construction; Westropp Armstrong, engineer of bridges; G. Frank Beer, Reuben Lush, W. S. Davis, M. C. Smith, Hugh Bertram, T. W. Jutten.

The members of the inspection party included: Mayor Church, Controller Joseph Thompson, Ald. Ryding, A. MacLean, provincial engineer of highways; Aldermen Weir, Robbins Gibbons, Spence, Warren Meredith. Gibbons, Spence, Warren, Meredith, Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M.L.A., Jas. Follis. M.L.A., Brampton, R. H. MINISTERS FROWN UPON SUNDAY BALL

Against Sabbath Baseball in Quebec.

Dainty Organdie With Hem- Called to Platform to Receive Bible—Small Salaries a Scandal

Collars and veils are almost bewildering in diversity and the importance of their place in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman increases daily.

Collar vagaries are especially hoticeable, and it is quite an interesting sight to behold the various favorites so different in design worn by fashion leaders at the same functions.

Great enthusiasm was manifested at the Toronto Methodist conference yesterday when one of the ministerial members, who is going to the front as a chaplain, was called to the platform to receive a khaki testament.

Rev. A. L. Hazzard of the British and Foreign Bible Society stated that 10,000,000 Bibles were distributed during the past year, and that it was being printed in 470 different languages. The work of distributing the word of God among the soldiers had been carried on since the outbreak of war, 80,ried on since the outbreak of war, 30,-000 khaki-covered testaments having been distributed among the Canadian

A resolution was passed expressing appreciation of his past endeavors and sympathy for the present condition of Dr. Carman, who was injured at Ottawa last September, thru a fall from a street car.
The report on deaconess work stated that while appeals were being made for missionaries it was to be remembered that the work of the deaconesses was of equal importance, and young women of the church could consecrate their lives to a more noble cause.

Scandal in the Church-The report of the ministerial sal aries committee showed the aggregate was $246.937, an increase of $4493. Contributions, however, were far from satisfactory in the small charges.

ference scale for the year, aggregated An aged lady seated at the rear of the church startled the conference by an emphatic declaration that she had done her share. The appointment of special committees to canvass for weekly offerings for ministers' salaries was author-ized in all congregations where the pastors were not getting their salaries paid regularly each month.

In Ireland, Le Bas said, Michael O'Leary, who won the Victoria Cross, is a national hero, greater even than John Redmond. The recruiting poster with O'Leary's picture and the caption, "One Irishman can kill ten Germas," is most popular. Le Bas told of a re-cruiting meeting in a small village near O'Leary's home. WASHINGTON, June 11 .- Former Secretary Bryan today issued a statement expressing his gratification over what he termed a change in the tone of the press regarding the American note to Germany. The statement fol-

"I am glad to note the change in the tone of the press in regard to the note to Germany. From the time the papers began to publish forecasts down to yesterday the jingo editors have been predicting that the matter would be dealt with with 'great firmness'; that Germany would be told that there must be no more delay in the acceptance of this country's demands, etc.

"Instead of waiting until the note was issued they put their own sonstruction upon it in advance and colored it to suit their own purposes. It is a relief to find the papers now emphasizing the friendly tone of the note and pointing out that it does not

Police Unable to Find Parents of Little Chap-Favorite With Men.

Canadian Associated Press Cable LONDON, June 11.—Describing his visit to one of the Canadian hospital rates the following interesting discov in their endeavors to retake the cry. Seated at the head of the table was a child of five dressed from head talians the Austrians flung avalanche of men against the form. While his brother orderlies had abundaned their headgear during the meal, this little soldier had proudly kept on his miniature forage cap. It was not difficult to see that he was a pet. The officer with me soon enlightened me on the subject. That officer said that he was a person. Should he leave them nothing but bad luck would arrive.

They had taken him in and cared for him. The little fellow did not know what happened to his parents. They had been swept along with thousands of others in front of the Germans. The French police have tried in vain to find the boy's parents.

SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 11

The Language of Diplomacy

President Wilson's note to German is being regarded by many people in the United States and elsewhere as rather mild in its tone. Perhaps they are unaccustomed to the language of diplomacy. Perhaps they are too familiar with the language of the "scare head" and the red ink evening paper. Possibly they have grown so used to slang that ordinary English has lost its force to them. At any rate a carethem to perceive good grounds for all that Mr. Bryan feared from its delivery, and they cannot fail to see that Mr. Wilson does not take back anything he said in his first note.

The language of the note is in the dignified and exalted style customary between two great nations. It is perfectly firm in its representations, but exceedingly polite. There is a good deal of the British strain in the United States, and Rudyard Kipling wrote the warning "Beware my country when my country grows polite." Mr. Wilson is studiously polite. Germany will no doubt take note of this fact. Those who still fear that there is not force enough in the language should try and minds and imagine how the American press would take it should Germany address a similar note to the United States. Suppose the kaiser's government called the attention of the United States Government "with solemn emphasis" to a violation of the international law, "and very earnestly and very solemnly renewed' the representations previously made with the assurance that no word or act necessary to secure observance of the law would be omitted, is it likely that the United States Government would regard the communication as a mere formal protest? And if there be any who still doubt about the spinal rigidity of Mr. Wilson's note, let it be supposed that a similar note had been addressed to the United States by Great Britain. and think how would the tail-twisters have regarded it? The note recants nothing previously advanced. It sweeps away the German contentions about the war footing on which the "Lusttania" was alleged to have been placed. It bases its protest on the broad principles of international law, long and universally recognized. and on "principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail." The facts have laid upon the government of the United States "a grave responsibility" which is summed up in the closing sentences of the note, a responsibility which forces the United States to call on the kaiser's government to adopt the measures necessary to put these principles into practice, and to ask they had the will to organize for de-"for assurances that this will be done." It is difficult to see what stronger terms could be used if the language of diplomacy was to be adhered to. It is true that the note was not offensively phrased. There is the suggestion that whatever man "have been the provocation or the circumstantial justification for the past acts," in future the United States expects Germany to change her methods. This affords Germany an opportunity to climb down. But it is doubtful that Germany will climb down. Mr. Bryan is testifying by his resignation that he is assured that Germany will not climb flown, or yield to earnest and solemn representations.

Mr. Bryan depends on persuasion argument, investigation and negotiation. Germany refused all these means of peace in her dealings with the great European powers last July and Aug-Mr. Bryan might argue the leg off a chair, but he never could have persuaded the kaiser not to go to war once the Kiel Canal was completed. Mr. Wilson knows the sort of beast he has to deal with. Mr. Bryan would walk into the tiger's den and tame him with the steady gaze that holds a Chautauqua audience under a spell.

Stopping the Talk The rumor that President Wilson will call an extra session of the Upited States Senate to enable that body to pass a closure rule before the two houses assemble for the regular session of congress has already pro losure two years ago the Unite States Senate is probably the only legislative body of any importance which places no limit on debate-

Years ago the British House of Commons and the United States House of Representatives found it necessary to check obstruction by rather drastic rules of closure, and these rules have year by year been more frequently invoked and more rigidly applied. At Washington they undoubtedly caused the house to lose prestige beca great measures could only be fully debated in the senate, and public attention was not focused on them until they came up for discussion in the

Mr. Wilson no doubt believes that the ship purchase bill was unfairly stranded and strangled in the senate last session by fillbustering methods Hereafter Democratic senators who knife administration measures must face a roll call if the president has his Familiar arguments are being advanced for and against the innova-Those favoring closure can refer to many cases where great public measures were smothered by endless debate. The fact that congress dies at a certain day and hour enables a combination of senators to the short session. Thus the Canadian in 1911, causing President Taft to call the new congress in extra session. In Canada the absence of the closure rule enabled the Conservatives to hang up the reciprocity resolutions month after month until Sir Wilfrid Laurier was compelled to go to the country.

The Liberals who complained bitterly of the obstruction against reciprocity carried obstruction much further against the naval aid bill. Then the Borden government quite properly adopted the closure rules. Those rules have not been invoked at any subsequent session, but then it must

But the closure may yet prove powerful weapon for the Conservatives in power, and the day may come when they will complain against its use by a Liberal government.

The strongest argument for the closure is that the majority should rule. Yet in the United States a bill passed by a majority of both house may be vetned by the president. Even sure insofar as it takes an absolute commended; insofar as it tends to unduly restrict debate and reduce the legislature to a mere registering machine it is to be deprecated.

A happy medium could be found if everyone wanted to do what is fair and just, but if everyone wanted to be fair and just no rules of any kind would be necessary.

Paternalism and Liberty

Modern Germany is wholly the pro duct of an empire where Prussia was predominant . The Germans of today have been accustomed from infancy to the rule of a paternal government and to the regulation of their lives from the moment they became of value to the state to the end. Not only the military power, but the industrial forces of the country were subordinated to the plans of the governing caste and it would be futile to deny the extraordinary foresight with which all were co-ordinated for the purpose of establishing European and ultimate ly world domination. The result is seen in the way Germany is sustaining not only her own share in the war, but the burden of allies who alone would be of comparatively little account, No other of the continental nations so labored to prepare themselves for Detention of Passengers and war, and none contemplated aggressive action. They naturally were more or less apprehensive of the German menace, but those under democratic government had not the power, even had fence as Germany did for offence. Britain particularly with its long tradition of individualism and personal liberty would have fiercely resented even an approximation to Prussian methods.

It has taken ten months of war to bring home to the British people the fact that the whole resources of the nation in men and industry must be subordinated to the higher demands of the state. If that need is new learn ed, instructed patriotism will do the Many valuable statistics be remembered that in none of the subsequent sessions were any contentious measures brought down by the subsequent sessions were any contentious measures brought down by the separately and in detail. Even a current sory perusal reveals the great future of the Canadian lumber and wood in dustry, which seems to have been crippled to a considerable extent thru the lack of adequate shipping facilities. procuring a cessation of hostilities so ar as Turkey is concerned on any other condition. It is worthy of note that Turkey has not declared war state that Turkey has indirectly conveyed to Italy her intention not to declare war against our new ally.

This is not so much an ardent sign of friendship as it is of her, early intention of delivering herself from the unhappy alliance which has brought her to the verge of destruc-tion, and which menaces her integrity even as a nation.

In view of the changed attitude of the Islamic partner of the kaiser, it is significant that Naby Bey, the Turkish ambassador in Rome, and his whole staff, are still in the Italian capital. According to information fur-nished me, Naby and a member of the embassy will remain as heretofore. embassy will remain as heretofore view of the instructions received rom Constantinople, and which Naby The latter, while taking cognizance, have tacitly approved the in-struction. Naby, I may remark, has lready acquired some fame as a peace sary, for he was a member of the conference in Switzerland which help-ed to put an end to the war between Turkey and Italy. As I was told today by one eminently qualified to express an opinion, Turkey is now casting about for a suitable modus operandi for treating with the quadruple en-tente. Whether any Turkish proposals informally submitted and having for their basis the conclusion of a separate peace by the Ismalic ally of the central powers would be enter-tained by members of the quadruple entente is a question upon which I venture at this stage to express no opinion whatever.

Interest in Copper Stocks Has Diand Gold Issues.

The local mining market was simply quiet yesterday. After the recent experience in McIntyre traders are exercising caution in putting out stock to be taken back at a lower price, and this accounted for a scarcity of offerings. Without much selling pressure and an apathetic buying sentiment on the part of the public there was little room for any change in prices. The and this no doubt is withdrawing much interest from the shares of companies producing the more expensive metals.

McIntyre and Timiskaming held their advances in yesterday's market. Numerous issues were dealt in in the main at practically unchanged prices.

VIEWS ON SOME MINES BY TORONTO BROKER

R. E. Kemerer Makes Remarks on Silver Leaf, Dome and McIntyre,

R. E. Kemerer, 108 Bay street, has the following in his weekly letter:
Silver Leaf.—For the first time in some four years, the Silver Leaf Company made a shipment of buillion, sending 5 bars, having a net value of $3250, to London with the Crown Reserve bullion. The ore from which the new find and may perhaps presage the entrance of Silver Leaf into the ranks of the regular shippers. Stranger things have happened in mining camps, and it may be that the Silver Leaf Company will be re-established on a shipping basis. Dome Mines.-The progress of the company's development is a matter of satisfaction to shareholders. The locating of the high grade ore body (which was first discovered on the 600-foot level) on the 500-foot level puts a vast amount of additional highgrade ore in sight, and is likewise an indication that this ore body may extend both higher and lower, to the benefit of the company.

Mointyre Conditions at the mine itself are all that could be desired. The May production of the mine will undoubtedly be considerably less than for the month of April, but this is due to the fact that the north shaft is being sunk from the 450-foot level to the 500-foot level, thus interfering with SAVAGE MINES OF COBALT the mining on the upper levels at this section of the mine, where a large section of the mine, where a large proportion of the high-grade ore is mined and forcing the company to treat more of the low grade which comes from the south shaft. Once the additional depth of the north shaft has been obtained and a working station cut, the company will be able to progress more rapidly with the deprecation of the mine, where a large of Directors of this Company at a meeting held on Friday, May 14, 1915, declared a quarterly dividend of three (3 p.c.) per content payable on the first day of July, 1915, to stockholders of record at the close of business on the 15th day of June, 1915.

The transfer books of the company will not be closed. Erickson Perkins & Co. (J. G. Beaty), has been obtained and a working station cut, the company will be able to progress more rapidly with the development of the high-grade ore body which will run to something over $10

MONTREAL, June 11.—There was no improvement in the export trade in wheat today, but there continues to be a steady enquiry from foreign buyers for oats and odd loads are being worked to ports where space is obtainable. The local market is steady, with a fair business passing in carlots. Flour continues quiet, with no further change in prices to note. Millfeed is firm under a fair demand and small offerings.

Demand for butter is fair and the market is steady, finest creamery at the auction today selling at 27½c.

Cheese is still weak and prices are steadily declining, finest white and colored at auction today selling at 15c.

Eggs firmer under a good demand for export account.

"Evening of a German Defeat"

There is something prophetic about this title of the Great War picture now being shown on the Fourth Floor. It points us forward to the time when the man who tried to wade through slaughter to the throne of all Europe will come to the evening of his final defeat. This picture is an inspiration for the future. Come and see it.
