EMERGENCY TARIFF WILL BE PRESENTED FIRST OF THE WEEK Report in Favor by Republicans on U. S. House Committee.

MUST PROTECT FARMER Washington, April 8.—Republican members of the house ways and means committee tonight adopted the sub-committee report to accompany the reintroduction in congress Monday of the emergency tariff bill, voted in the last session by President Wilson.

The report was written by Representative Young of North Dakota, chairman of the committee's sub-committee on agriculture, who announced that the bill would be asked to take the bill up for consideration Wednesday.

The "paralysis" of agriculture has not forced a reduction in prices of commodities which the farmers must buy, the report says, adding that conditions have not changed with respect to the inability of the agricultural interests to dispose of their products at reasonable prices.

MARANGO STATEMENT READ AT MURDER TRIAL

Man Charged With Killing of Angelo Fuca Gave the Detectives a Statement, Declaring He Saw Man Who Had Been Shot Running Along Street, Ran After Him, But Was Held by Firemen and Handed Over to the Police.

Hamilton, April 8.—The case of the crown in the John Marango murder trial was completed before Chief Justice Rose in the assize court this afternoon, and the defence started the same story of the shooting which was given at preliminary hearings was repeated by the crown this afternoon, and nothing of a new or sensational nature was sprung. Daniel O'Connell acted as crown prosecutor and the prisoner was represented by C. W. Bell and H. M. Yeates.

While Marango was being tried in the prisoner's box in the large court room upstairs in the court house, his three children were playing in the corridor below. His mother sat with them, awaiting the end of the trial. At times she broke down, and cried, but there was not a soul near to comfort her, and no one to sympathize with her.

Prisoner Cries Innocence.

The prisoner seemed to realize his position, and was quite nervous. He leaned forward in the dock and took an every word of evidence. This morning he cried in the dock and said: "I am innocent," but this afternoon he was quieter, although he showed signs of still being nervous.

The first witness this afternoon was Detective Harry Sayer and his evidence was probably the most important. He is one of Hamilton's most efficient police officers and worked hard on the case, with the result that he had some strong evidence to offer when the crown placed him on the stand.

Detective Sayer Testifies.

Detective Harry Sayer said he took the prisoner to the hospital, where Angelo Fuca was dying, but could not get any information. Searching Marango's yard, he found two .38 calibre revolvers, with some shots discharged. They were partly covered with rubbish. Fuca's clothing was produced by the detective. There was a small hole caused by a bullet thru his silk shirt and one in the trousers also. There was very little blood on the shirt, and the lead from the bullet which killed Fuca was handed to the jury.

Interviews Prisoner.

"I have a statement from the prisoner at police headquarters," said Detective Sayer. "Inspector Taylor and other detectives were at the station when I interviewed him. I told him, thru Taylor, that he was not obliged to say anything, but if he did it would be used against him."

Before the statement was read, Interpreter Taylor was called to swear that he interpreted correctly the statements made by the prisoner. The statement made by the prisoner in the cell was correct. Taylor was given the statement to read, and swore as to its accuracy.

Prisoner's Statement.

The statement from the prisoner was that he was going west on Stuart street when he heard shooting. He turned and saw a man running away, and started to run, but was caught by members of the fire department near the John street station. He said he passed Fuca when he ran along Marango street, but was caught by a man at his home the night before. Taylor said his wife came to see him, and then Marango said he had come more to see him.

C. W. Bell Objected to This Later Statement Being Filed, as the Crown Had Not Given any Intimation of Being in Possession of such a Document.

The statement was made through questioning from the detectives, Mr. Bell thought it unfair to read it to the jury, as it was not volunteered by the prisoner.

His Wife Said "Tell Truth."

His wife told him to tell the truth as it would be better for him, Taylor said. Chief Justice Rose looked upon this statement from the prisoner's wife as an official piece of evidence, containing a promise or suggestion that it might be better for him to make a further statement, and for this reason his lordship said that the jury should not hear the statement.

Detective Sayer was recalled after this ruling, and Mr. Bell cross-examined him.

Allow Statement From Fuca.

Asked regarding a statement from Fuca, after he had been told at the hospital that he had only a short time to live, Detective Sayer said a statement was made. Objections were taken by the crown to the presentation of this, but his lordship said the tendency was to allow the prisoner's side in the court, and he allowed it. The statement told of the shooting, but Fuca said he did not know who shot him.

Said Marango Fled City.

Mr. Bell asked if a man named Luigi Campanelli fled from Hamilton after Fuca was shot.

"I am told so."

"Have you been trying to find him?"

"Yes."

"On a charge of killing Fuca?"

Here objection was taken, and the question was ruled out. The copy "is he still being found?"

"And you cannot find him?"

"No."

Detective Ernest Goodman told of finding two revolvers in one there was two empty chambers, while the other had one.

Inquired on Christmas.

Sergeant Tom Brown of the police department, with Sergeant Stewart, worked on the case. They were called to respond to the call, and when they went with the patrol, Marango was held by two firemen. The prisoner was interviewed. He found an automatic pistol, fully loaded, which he produced. No shots had been fired. Brown took Marango to the hospital and saw Fuca, but did not talk to him.

Detective Thompson corroborated some of the police evidence.

Jerome See, a Croat, an Italian, said on Christmas Eve he was on Shornum avenue in a barber shop, when he saw a party at a house owned by a man named Sebastian. He said Sebastian was the next witness. Fuca left his home at 2:30 or 3 a.m. to go to his home on Shornum street.

Doctor Testifies.

Dr. Oscar Kemp told of two wounds in Fuca's body. He dressed the injuries

NO TENDERS CALLED FOR MOTOR TRUCKS

Department Had Price Lists, Deputy-Minister Tells Committee.

MARKET ABNORMAL Was Necessary to Get the Order in as Quickly as Possible.

At the public accounts committee yesterday Roy Reynolds was again examined regarding the purchase of $117,000 worth of motor trucks by R. L. Brackin. The latter read from Reynolds' evidence given at the Hamilton trial. In this evidence Reynolds stated that he had decided to get trucks that they must do something for Biggs' but that they did not discuss the amount of form which the "something" should take. Reynolds admitted having given this testimony, and declared it to be true.

Mr. Brackin next read Reynolds' evidence before the committee last week to the effect that in the same discussion referred to, Parkin had suggested giving Mr. Biggs a motor car and that Reynolds had favored giving him a sum of money, suggesting $3,000.

Mr. McCrea protested against Mr. Brackin's method of questioning and Reynolds was asked to retire from the room while the point was argued. Recalled to the room, Reynolds was further cross-examined on his Hamilton evidence.

Refreshes Memory.

Reynolds was asked if he could fix Saturday, March 6, as the day upon which Parkin and he first decided to present Hon. Mr. Biggs with either a motor car or $3,000 in cash. This he declined to do. "We were talking about it every day," he consistently refused to fix any definite time or place when he and Parkin decided on "doing something" for the minister.

Another flare-up occurred when Dr. Godfrey sought to stop Mr. Brackin's questioning. "He thinks this is a court of law," Dr. Godfrey protested. "It is not a court of law," retorted Mr. Brackin. "You can't get up and put an answer into the witness' mouth," he declared.

Mr. McCrea protested. "Did you deliberately keep back the information about the car or the $3,000?" Mr. Brackin demanded. "I didn't," Mr. Brackin retorted. "I kept it back deliberately. Mr. Washington (the examining lawyer) didn't ask me that question. It was none of his business."

Reynolds flatly denied having stated that he would be willing to perjure himself or that he had perjured himself against Parkin. "I never did," he declared. "The committee will resume its inquiry at 9 a.m. next Wednesday."

W. A. McLean, deputy minister of highways, was also examined. "Questions of buying heavy trucks had been talked about" before Mr. Biggs became minister, said witness. "I was an engineer, and I had Mr. Hogarth, chief of trucks, before me recommended Sterling trucks before the Parkin tender was in. The minister never directly or indirectly urged the purchase of the trucks."

To Mr. McCrea the witness could not recall any conference with Mr. Hogarth and the minister when it was decided to buy Sterling trucks. Up to the time the tender came there had been nothing in writing, the matter having been so thoroughly discussed. "I don't think there were any instructions to call for tenders," said witness. "We had the list prices."

Witness was not aware that Parkin was a garage owner, but knew that he was an agent for trucks. "As I recollect it, Mr. Biggs asked if trucks could be bought as well outside as inside city, and I said I thought they could. I am not sure, to whether Parkin's name was used," said Mr. McLean.

To Chairman Curry, witness said the minister was in no way responsible for instructions having been written for acquiring the trucks. "Mr. McCrea: 'Do you consider it the proper way to carry out that class of business in the interest of the public?'" Mr. Curry ruled the question out and was overruled 10 to 9.

I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives'.

'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

The minister never directly or indirectly urged the purchase of the trucks."

Up to the time the tender came there had been nothing in writing, the matter having been so thoroughly discussed. "I don't think there were any instructions to call for tenders," said witness. "We had the list prices."

Witness was not aware that Parkin was a garage owner, but knew that he was an agent for trucks. "As I recollect it, Mr. Biggs asked if trucks could be bought as well outside as inside city, and I said I thought they could. I am not sure, to whether Parkin's name was used," said Mr. McLean.

To Chairman Curry, witness said the minister was in no way responsible for instructions having been written for acquiring the trucks. "Mr. McCrea: 'Do you consider it the proper way to carry out that class of business in the interest of the public?'" Mr. Curry ruled the question out and was overruled 10 to 9.

"One has to consider the circumstances under which you purchase," said Mr. McLean. "The market was abnormal, and in order that we should ensure delivery, it was necessary to get an order in as soon as possible, and under these circumstances I considered it proper in the public interest to do that at that time."

WANTS TEN MINUTES TO ANSWER PUSSYFOOT Rev. Ben Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, had amongst his numerous visitors yesterday a gentleman named C. A. Morris, 58 1-2 East King street, who, after some beating about the bush, asked Mr. Spence if "Pussyfoot" Johnson was to speak in Toronto on Sunday.

"Yes," replied the Dominion Alliance secretary, "but what has that got to do with you?" "A lot," returned Mr. Morris. "I want a seat for the stage and I demand to be allowed ten minutes in which to address the meeting in reply to 'Pussyfoot.'"

"You won't get either," replied Mr. Spence pointing to the office exit. "There is the door, and now, get out." And Mr. Morris "got."

DISMISS MOTION IN HENEY-SIMPSON CASE Justice Sutherland yesterday dismissed the motion appealing from the order of J. A. Cameron, master-in-chambers, by which he decided that W. J. Hevey's claim against the Labor Temple Corporation for $600 voted by them to Mrs. James Simpson, should go to trial.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR ASSENTS TO BILLS

Members of the Legislature Silently Honor Anniversary of Vimy Ridge.

STATUTE LABOR ACT Bill to Amend Municipal Tax Exemption Law Given Second Reading.

The lieutenant-governor, accompanied by his official secretary, attended the legislature yesterday and gave the royal assent to a number of bills which have been passed so far this session. His honor was escorted to the Speaker's dias by the prime minister, and the assistant clerk read the list of bills to which assent was given. The proceedings only lasted a few minutes.

The premier, answering a question by Liberal Leader Dewar, as to what settlement had been arrived at, as between either the government or the Hydro-Electric Power Commission with the different parties who claim to have rights regarding the purchase of properties in the township of Brantford, in the provincial county of Hamilton, in an agreement between the Hydro-Electric Power Commission and A. J. McComber, bearing date February 15, 1920, replied the settlement was $10,000.

With regard to the other question as to whether there had been any change in the proprietorship of the improvements, (A) in the township of Brantford, (B) in the sawmill, river improvements, and other lands and premises said to have been purchased by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission from the Rathbun Company in 1918, (C) the logging camps, buildings and equipments in the township of Brantford said to be owned by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission (D) in the village of Campbellford, said to be owned by the lands appertaining thereto, Premier Drury replied in the negative.

Honored Father (South Lanark). W. J. Johnston returned men, drew and attention to the fact that today is the anniversary of Vimy Ridge, and as the house would not be in session he asked that the house show its respect for the fallen.

The members stood with bowed heads for several moments. Hon. Ben Spence moved a bill to amend the statute labor act so that it will apply to unorganized districts was given a second reading.

Tax Exemptions. The premier's bill to amend the municipal tax exemption act of 1920 was given a second reading after a somewhat lengthy debate. The measure, which met with considerable opposition, provides:

"Where a petition signed by a sufficient number of municipal electors to equal at least ten per cent of those who are fixed for the day of election for mayor or reeve in which a poll was held is presented to the council on or before the first day of November in any year, by-law under the act and setting out the duty desired each year, it shall be the duty of the council to submit a by-law in conformity with the petition to the electors qualified to vote on municipal by-laws on the day fixed for the poll at the next annual municipal election, and if the voting is in favor of the by-law it shall be the duty of the council to forthwith pass the by-law, and such by-law shall not be repealed except as provided in section 11."

"If a petition asking for the repeal of a by-law passed under authority of this act and signed as required by section 10 is presented to the council, on or before the first day of November in any year, it shall be the duty of the council to submit the question of the repeal of the by-law to the electors qualified to vote on municipal election, and if the voting is in favor of the repeal of the by-law, it shall be the duty of the council to pass a by-law decreasing for the following year, and from year to year thereafter, the percentages of exemption in the same proportion as which they were decreased from year to year under the original by-law until the exemptions provided by the original by-law have been wholly removed."

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy-tea with sulphur added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur soap at home is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen the sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray and faded hair has disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Denies Report That Varsity Commission Has Been Hoisted Varsity has not yet lost that Rockefeller million, Premier Drury said yesterday. "We do not want to lose that $1,000,000 if it's possible to get in under conditions that the province can fulfill," said the premier in an interview yesterday afternoon.

Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, is in touch with President Falconer, who is in New York today, in regard to it, and the situation is being met so far as we know now," assured the premier.

"The university commission report has not been hoisted. That is an unfair statement," went on Mr. Drury. "The fact is that the report is still under advisement, still before the cabinet, and definite announcement will be made later."

WELL-KNOWN TORONTO FINANCIAL MAN DEAD

Frank I. Somers, well-known financial broker, died in the private patients' pavilion at the General Hospital yesterday morning at three o'clock following an operation performed a week ago for appendicitis. Mr. Somers was in his 47th year and was born in Barrie, Ont. For some years he lived in Beeton, where he was proprietor of The Beeton World. He is survived by his wife and daughter and son, and by eight brothers, including George O. Somers, of Montreal, G. T. Somers, and B. W. Somers of Toronto, and Fred H. Somers of Winnipeg, the other four brothers being in the United States, also by one sister, Mrs. A. M. Burgess of Pasadena, California.

DEFERRED CABLE SERVICE WILL BE REINSTATE

The Canadian National Telegraphs announces that, commencing Saturday, April 9, deferred cable service with Europe is reinstated. This service is on the basis of plain language and defers in favor of full rate messages. The rate in all cases is exactly one-half of the regular full rate. This valuable service has not been available since September, 1918, when it was necessarily suspended because of the congested condition of the Canadian National Telegraphs and their connections have taken advantage of the first opportunity since the war to reinstate this service.

MANY FARMERS NOW REQUIRING HELP

Positions Can Be Found for Men With or Without Experience.

Today will mark the close of the Krausmann Hotel, which since last December has been the place where thousands of unemployed citizens have registered for relief. Although the relief to single men is not due to be cut off until Tuesday, this will be provided for by handing out today sufficient meal tickets to tide them over until that day. After today all applications for married relief, which is still to be continued, will be received at the medical health department offices at the city hall. It is understood that any very acute cases of distress among single men will be taken care of by the Salvation Army.

There were 1,770 men given meal ticket relief at the Krausmann Hotel yesterday, of which 20 were new applications, of which 20 were new applications. At the government employment bureau yesterday there were 150 new applicants for work and 442 repeats. As the men only register once a week the daily registration does not give any idea of the number searching for work. Several thousand men come there looking for employment every day.

More than 1,500 men have been sent from the bureau out to farms during the past few months, as compared with about 600 for the same period last year, or nearly three times the number. Supt. Miller stated to The World yesterday that there was more than 200 applications from farmers for help which are now waiting to be filled, and he again advised all unemployed men who have farm experience to get back to the land.

BRANCH LIBRARY FOR RODEN DISTRICT

Strong Deputation of Rate-payers Leads the Board to Take Action.

Plans for a branch library for Roden district to be situated in the vicinity of Gerrard street and Ashdale avenue, will be submitted to the Toronto Public Library Board by the chief librarian, Dr. George F. Locke, in view of the necessity for immediate relief in that vicinity as evidenced by the strong deputation of Roden ratepayers, has led the board to seriously consider the erection of a portable library until the permanent structure is erected.

Demolition of the three cottages on the eastern branch library site, is taking place, according to Mr. W. H. Lee, chairman of the board, at the regular monthly meeting held yesterday. The plans for the new library are almost completed, and tenders will be asked for by J. P. Hyne, the architect.

Past President Banton was presented with a splendid enlargement of himself, by the chairman, and a duplicate will be hung in the East-courthouse library. An increase in books of 110,000 was reported by Dr. Locke, for the first three months of the year.

NEW O. A. C. HEAD? It was rumored yesterday that W. G. Johnston, the U.F.O. member for South Lanark, is an applicant for the position of head of the O. A. C. at Guelph.

TO CONSIDER ESTIMATES AT SPECIAL MEETING

The estimates will not come before council on Monday but will be taken up at a special meeting on Friday next.

Some of the recommendations of the board of control which council will deal with on Monday are an additional grant for relief of $50,000; that the buildings owned by the city adjoining the art museum site be demolished; that the lieutenant-governor-in-council be asked to appoint Judge Ward to investigate the Singer charges; and that the legislature be asked to authorize expenditures totaling $2,000,000 without a vote of the people.

DEBT'S EXCEED ESTATE. Martin Leopold Cuby, furrier, died on February 25, 1921, leaving an estate valued at $3,150, of which $5,000 was insurance and $3,000 an interest in lot 854 - Leonard's avenue. As there are no known heirs, the public trustee has applied to the surrogate office at the city hall for letters of administration. Debts claimed against the estate total $13,317.

Ontario Beware! Prohibition Victories Are Short Lived Look at Manitoba

IN considering the issue at stake in the coming Referendum, the deep-thinking men and women of Ontario should beware of being stampeded into voting for a condition which will be intolerable, unsafe and merely temporary. Not only are so-called Prohibition arguments based on merely superficial conclusions, but they pay no heed to the fact that absolute prohibition of liquor encourages greater and more threatening evils. A NATIONAL HABIT, no matter what its origin, cannot be eradicated by law—hence the short-lived triumphs (!) gained by the Prohibitionists.

The Citizen's Liberty League is anxious for a true Christian, British Temperance—i.e. moderation in all things—and it reminds the people of Ontario that throughout the world, without exception, wherever Prohibition has been foisted on the public, it has been a total failure, and has accomplished none of its promises. It merely makes liquor more difficult to get and more expensive; it results in fortunes for the illicit manufacturer, the bootlegger and the drug peddler, and turns the doctors and druggists into bartenders. These statements are not made lightly—they are true of conditions existing in "Prohibition" countries and provinces.

Doctors object to being bartenders

Lock with deliberation at the following fact concerning our next door neighbor, Manitoba, a typical prohibitionist Utopia. Of 218,908 voters, 95,021 did not vote, and prohibition "won" by 68,031 to 55,056. Here is the result. Already a movement is on foot for the Government to assume control of sale and distribution and to legalize purchase by the responsible individual. Since prohibition came into force the soft drink business has seriously decreased, according to manufacturers' statements at their recent convention in Winnipeg. This was due to illegal trade in whiskey, it was claimed. The 12,000 residents of St. Boniface (opposite Winnipeg, on the Red River) have been for a time without medical aid, due to practically all the doctors in that city being under suspension for issuing too many liquor prescriptions. One Manitoba doctor, recently suspended, is reported to have given 10,000 liquor prescriptions during a one-month period. Through a resolution to be moved in the Legislature by Dr. R. J. Waugh, Norfolk (Manitoba), the medical profession of Manitoba will ask to be relieved of the responsibility of administering the Manitoba Temperance Act. According to Dr. Waugh, the present Act places the medical profession in the position of bartenders for the Province. "The present status of the Act practically makes the medical profession responsible for seeing that the law is observed," Dr. Waugh said. "We want to be relieved of the responsibility of saying who shall have liquor and who shall not. As a matter of fact, the profession is tired of being placed in the position of official bartenders for the Province of Manitoba. We want the Legislature to adopt some other means of handling the liquor business, for a vast percentage of the liquor used in the Province is not used for medicinal purposes at all," he said.

Are the doctors of Ontario to become provincial bartenders like those of Manitoba, or shall we have sane, practicable legislation governing the distribution of liquor, legislation conducive to true temperance?

Vote "NO" in the coming Referendum and sign the League's Memorial for Government Control.

TURF DERBY WORKS

HORSES TRAINING AT HAVRE DE GRACE

Thirty-Odd Derby Colts and Fillies, Including the Ross Candidates.

Baltimore, April 8.—The Havre de Grace race course, over which Sir Barton and Paul Jones trained for their Kentucky derby triumphs of 1919 and 1920, is the training place this spring of more potential starters in the derby renewal of 1921 than any other track of the entire country...

Oh, boy, have you given this card the once-over yet?

The Ross candidates at Havre de Grace are Adam, Baby Grand, Sailing B., Sun Turret, Tampa, Star Votter, Harmonique, Oriole and Bastille. Among the others are Larry Waterbury's Jigger, Alford and Ida Dell, George W. Loftus' Halu, Walter J. Salmon's Careful, Steplights and Ruben; Max Hirsch's Flying Cloud, Willis Sturge Klimer's Our Best, Magic Silence and Ultimidge; J. Edwin Griffith's Jig, J. S. Coston's Faunus, and Richard J. Carman's Equine. Probably none of the fillies at Havre de Grace will go west to start in the Kentucky Derby. It seems to be the intention of their several owners to reserve them for races exclusively for fillies. The fillies, without exception, are galloping famously. The mildness of the past winter, which permitted outdoor galloping everywhere, from the first of the year on, enabled northern and eastern trainers to establish near-by, if not quite, as many with their charges as trainers at Hot Springs and New Orleans accomplished.

Much has been written already of the prospects of the derby candidates of the Whitney and Ross stables. It is sufficient to say here that it is highly probable that each of these racing establishments will have two or three starters in the derby.

Rubin, probably, is the biggest of all Kentucky Derby colts. He is a handsome chestnut stands 17 hands on his plates. He weighs close to 1300 pounds. But there is no lumber about him. Also he can run. Rubin is as one of the sprinter Peter Quince and Belle of Ashland, she a half sister of The Major.

Champion Stakes. The annual Champion Stakes of 1900 and Chester Cup winner of 1901, David Garrick, belongs to Rubin's family. He looks like a Peter Quince that might go on. Brigadier-General, a Kentucky bred son of Light Brigade, which Samuel D. Riddle paid $50,000 at New York last summer, is very nearly as big as Rubin. Brigadier-General was foaled at Glenridge Farm on Maryland's seaboard eastern shore, and galloped over the private course on which Man o' War was training a year back. He has finished handsomely.

Another Havre de Grace derby candidate of imposing bulk, but fetching physique, withal, is Jigger, a New York bred son of the Curraeh and Trancee. Jigger did not start last season, but he is training satisfactorily this spring and the veteran Scott Harlan, a man of few illusions, thinks highly of him. If Jigger makes good at Louisville he will try his luck later on in the Latorre derby. He is a near relative of Upset, Latonia and a huskier type than Curraeh and Trancee. Jigger traces to Fair Vision thru France, Upset thru Fankhurst and Runaway Girl.

Interesting Breeding. Flying Cloud is an untired colt by Wreck, sire of Blues and Careful, out of Robinetta, she a daughter of Fair Play and Retained II, and a half sister of the brilliant Eternal's dam, J. Temple Gwathmey bred Flying Cloud at his Canawatch and in Fauquier County, Virginia. Flying Cloud is a son of the late Watch, maintains that Flying Cloud is a better 3-year-old prospect than Grey Leg, a colt he sold last fall to Harry F. Sinclair for $25,000. Halu, which Hirsch is training for George W. Loft, is a big Virginia bred son of King James and Adilmette, a product of Henry T. Oxenrd's Blue Ridge stud, that discovered race form in muddy going last summer at Yonkers. Our Flag is a compactly built colt, bred to the late Mr. J. W. Saratoga last summer. Equine is a son of 1911, and Daruna. He is Maryland bred.

CABINET CRISIS DUE TO CHARLES

Anti-Carlists Accuse Government of "Blameable Lack of Energy."

Budapest, April 8.—Investigation of the circumstances surrounding the attempted return of former Emperor Charles to the Hungarian throne has been demanded at a meeting of agrarian members of the national assembly. A resolution was introduced recommending that the incident should be considered as closed, but it was defeated, and there appeared little disposition to drop the question of responsibility for the incident. The visit of former Emperor Charles has resulted in a ministerial crisis.

It appears that the anti-Carlists had confidential agents in the immediate vicinity of the former emperor while he was in this country, and it is declared that they have a list of men associated with Charles in his attempt to re-establish himself on the throne. The agrarian deputies have urged their punishment on a charge of treason.

In addition, the government of a "blameable lack of energy respecting the king." They declare the government permitted him to hold a regular court at Steinamanger, appointing of officers and court dignitaries, creating barons and administering to them the oath of office.

Predicted Charles' Resurrection. Opponents of the restoration of the Hapsburgs appear to be most concerned with the role played by Bishop Mikeas of Steinamanger, who in a sermon delivered last Christmas, forecasted the king's resurrection. At Easter time. The attitude of Gen. Lohar, governor of West Hungary, is also strongly criticized.

The assembly has adjourned until after Regent Horthy and Premier Teleky have conferred relative to the ministerial crisis. During yesterday's session an official note from the premier was read. It stated the premier "considered the stability of the government endangered, owing to the situation of certain matters in connection with recent events."

Newspapers of this city have published the manifesto of former Emperor Charles issued, with the government's permission, before his departure from Steinamanger for Switzerland.

"I returned to Hungary's sacred soil," the manifesto declared, "because I was unable to live away from my beloved country, and because I was convinced that only the crowned king can restore tranquility and order which is necessary for prosperity."

To Strengthen Independence. "The union of Austria and Hungary ended with Hungary becoming independent. My desire is to strengthen that independence. My heart aches at being prevented from working hand in hand with the nation for reconstruction."

"Realizing, however, that my return would involve the nation in insupportable trials, I depart, but, in my exile, I will devote all my energies, and if necessary, sacrifice my life for the interests of Hungary."

"I have faith in Providence, and the time will come when I can remain in my beloved fatherland. In the meantime, I ask the nation to support the regent, who is fulfilling the heavy duties of the head of the state, and to protect the nation and the king's common interests."

The manifesto was signed at Steinamanger, April 2.

ROOSEVELT'S SISTER SCORES SIN FEIN

Tells United States Sympathizers at Meeting They Are Not American.

Philadelphia, April 8.—A warning that foreign influences, dangerous to their tendencies, are again at work "to weaken the close ties of friendship that bind the United States to those peoples beside whom we fought in the war," was sounded here tonight by General John J. Pershing, who addressed two mass meetings in the concluding exercises of "All American Day."

An address by Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt, provided a dramatic scene in the Metropolitan Opera House, where she spoke in connection with the patriotic exercises. When Mrs. Robinson attempted to quote one of her distinguished brother's speeches on Sinn Fein, a man who gave his delphic, called out from the balcony, "Sinn Fein stands for Americanism."

The assembly has adjourned until after Regent Horthy and Premier Teleky have conferred relative to the ministerial crisis. During yesterday's session an official note from the premier was read. It stated the premier "considered the stability of the government endangered, owing to the situation of certain matters in connection with recent events."

TO LIVE IN CAVES AND SAVE THE RENT

Swiss Homeless Find Cheap Accommodation on the Hillsides.

Berne, April 8.—The extreme scarcity of housing accommodation in Europe is causing the people to become cave dwellers again. In the Italian lakes district along Lakes Maggiore and Como, any number of people have dug themselves out dwellings in the romantic country and live with the utmost simplicity in them. Among them are people of various different social conditions and not artisans only. Some of them call themselves children of nature, and go about wearing sandals and sometimes as few clothes as the local police will permit. Some live on herbs, vegetables and fruits, which are abundant and cheap in this district. They have no tax and, of course, no rent. For amusement they have a joint reading room.

But it isn't only in this warm climate that the cave dwellers are now found, for even in northern Switzerland they occur. Thus, in Canton Aarau, workmen, despairing of finding a house or flat, have also taken to cave dwelling. The police have just discovered one such home which has been inhabited by two workmen for over six months. They have been fitted with sleeping accommodations, cooking apparatus and washing arrangements. Here again no rent is levied on the cave dwellers, but during the day the cave dwellers go to their work in the field or factory as the case may be.

RADIALS WOULD AID OAKVILLE GROWTH

Hundreds of Toronto People Would Live There, Mayor Tells Commission.

BAD TRAIN SERVICE

Would Not Hesitate to Take Thousands of Dollars of Hydro Stock.

"I believe Oakville would reach a population of 20,000 in a very few years after the radial service was started," declared Mayor W. S. Davis of Oakville before the Sutherland radial commission at Osgoode Hall yesterday.

"Hundreds of people in Toronto have told me they would come out to Oakville to live if we had a frequent, reliable radial service," said the witness. "The present steam railway service is not satisfactory, and is not frequent enough, involving considerable cost and a loss of time to the people living in Oakville. The G.T.R. is often half an hour late."

"A radial would greatly increase passenger traffic between Toronto and Oakville, because there are many people like myself who would not think of motoring if there was a handy frequent service."

Radials Anticipated. "On the expectation of the building of the radial, Oakville has built 2 1/2 miles of sidewalks, sewers, etc. a service in that respect sufficient for 10,000 people, but our 1,000 people are today bearing this burden."

"Frequency of service, for our purpose," continued Mr. Davis, "is of more immediate need than speed. Our citizens are not worrying about the cost and are willing to bear their share of the loss on a radial, if there is a loss."

"Good roads are very important, but will never provide the service the people desire, a service that can be given by nothing but an electric road. The vastly increased truck traffic on the Hamilton highway is due to the fact that there is no radial service. Truck service is fast and convenient, but it costs three times as much as it should."

Would Take Stock. "If the proposed radial were a private line I would not hesitate to take a good many thousand dollars worth of stock in it, being sure of good dividends and satisfactory service."

"Is it possible for a skilled mechanic living in Oakville, or between Mimico and Oakville to get into Toronto on time for work?" asked Commissioner Bancroft, the labor member of the commission.

"No, the train conditions will not permit it," was the reply. "Some men with horses in Oakville must live in Toronto during the week."

W. D. Gregory, Toronto barrister, who is resident at Oakville, pointed out that Oakville filled a train every morning now with passengers for Toronto, and that, with the growth resulting from the radials, they would be able to fill several trains.

"It has been said that the radial would take business from the G.T.R.," said Mr. Gregory. "It would certainly take passenger business, but, on the other hand, it would give the G.T.R. increased freight business in proportion to the increased growth of Oakville."

SAY PARKS ESTIMATES ARE TOO CLOSELY PARED

Addressing the parks committee yesterday, Commissioner Chambers said that his estimates had been pared to the point where he could not plan intelligently for the future. He had been allowed $40,000 more than last year, but the park area had been greatly increased.

A Romance of the Orient By Oscar Asche

(Continued From Yesterday's World.) "Then hear me," continued Shazrad as he drew closer to her brother, the evil Prince Nur al-Din in the house of the Chinese gambler. "Tomorrow the sultan takes to wife a milk-white maid the daughter of the man who sought his life at thy command. She is his one delight, his life, his being. Steal thou this maid and hold her captive in the mountain fastness. The throne her ransom."

"By Allah, my sister, thou hast sense. But how?" "Thou hast thy wife, and thy servants," replied Shazrad, pointing to San Wei. "This wretched parchment here is full of wisdom. See how he has done. The Chinaman grinned. "Princess very clever," he smiled. "She give prince good advice. I things."

"So fare thee well, my brother," Shazrad moved toward the door. "Whither goest thou?" "Back to my native land. We travel with the Mecca pilgrims," repeated Prince Nur al-Din. "Then I may chance to see thee tomorrow night. They camp beside the Nile and I have heard there are many wealthy merchants to make their journey. I and my fellows must live."

"So thou and thy hyenas will come to raid the Mecca pilgrims near a fountain, scornfully. Then may I see thee and learn how thou hast prospered. Allah's blessing on thy plotting. She swept from the room as Nur al-Din raised his hand in parting salute. The Chinese gambler spoke a few words to his wife in Chinese. She rose. Prince Nur al-Din looked at him inquiringly.

"I will send my most miserable wretched, dishonoured slave to greet the house," explained San Wei. "She very clever, still very quiet. I think out some plan Me see you here in five or six hours and tell thee Ta Woo."

"You were wrong, my brother," said the Chinese gambler. "I am in agreement and departed. Abdullah moved to follow him, but San Wei beckoned him. CHAPTER X. In a secluded corner of the gardens of the Mecca pilgrims, near a fountain with water lilies in bloom, there was a small gate in the high wall which excluded the common crowd from the sultan's domain.

Abdullah, entering the corner cautiously, kneeling behind him to make sure he had not been followed, tiptoed toward the gate. A strange figure, who he heard the singing of a quaint Chinese song from the other side of the wall. Abdullah smiled with satisfaction when he heard the song, took out the big key with which to unlock the gate, and then paused, terrified, to listen to the sound of the gate. For there, before his very eyes, without a key, without his permission, it seemed, the butt of the lock shot back, the door opened and in stepped Wei San Wei and his Chinese wife, Wei Wa Shi.

They both smiled. "Ta woo," they said in unison. "Allah, Allah," quaked Abdullah. "Allah got ye a key to open that secret door?"

"Ah," smiled Wei San Wei. "My miserable wife, she welly clever. Open any lock. No use key. She welly clever. Chinese wife nodded grimly. "O koo," she said simply. "Quick, give me thy news," said the steward. "No one listen."

"No, none," continued Abdullah, quickly. "The wedding is as usual. The sultan and his bride come hither to pass the time until the hour of this divan, now close, hand thy news and quickly."

"Wei San Wei with satisfaction when he heard the song, took out the big key with which to unlock the gate, and then paused, terrified, to listen to the sound of the gate. CHAPTER XI. In the shadow of the Sphinx, with the pyramids of the ancient Pharaohs in the distance reflected against the setting sun, the Nile flowing to the sea, the pilgrims who followed in the footsteps of the great Mahomet knelt at prayer to the sacred mosque of Mahomet they could purge themselves of their sins and become fit servants. At the conclusion of the evening prayer, conducted by an elderly patriarch with snow-white beard, the pilgrims began preparing the evening meal, and many a tiny campfire sprang into being with shimmering pots and pans and savory food cooked thereon. In the midst of these preparations none of the pilgrims—a motley lot from all quarters and stations in life in Cairo—noticed the advent of a tall, dark, robed figure, accompanied by a man who seemed to be a cross between a clown and a servant.

All Shar and his little troupe forced their way into the centre of the encampment and looked around them, as if expecting a greeting and a welcome, but none paid them heed. All were too busy with their preparations for the evening meal, and many a tiny campfire sprang into being with shimmering pots and pans and savory food cooked thereon. All were too busy with their preparations for the evening meal, and many a tiny campfire sprang into being with shimmering pots and pans and savory food cooked thereon. In the midst of these preparations none of the pilgrims—a motley lot from all quarters and stations in life in Cairo—noticed the advent of a tall, dark, robed figure, accompanied by a man who seemed to be a cross between a clown and a servant.

CHAPTER XII. In the shadow of the Sphinx, with the pyramids of the ancient Pharaohs in the distance reflected against the setting sun, the Nile flowing to the sea, the pilgrims who followed in the footsteps of the great Mahomet knelt at prayer to the sacred mosque of Mahomet they could purge themselves of their sins and become fit servants. At the conclusion of the evening prayer, conducted by an elderly patriarch with snow-white beard, the pilgrims began preparing the evening meal, and many a tiny campfire sprang into being with shimmering pots and pans and savory food cooked thereon. In the midst of these preparations none of the pilgrims—a motley lot from all quarters and stations in life in Cairo—noticed the advent of a tall, dark, robed figure, accompanied by a man who seemed to be a cross between a clown and a servant.

REV. DR. MILARR TO LEAVE BOND STREET

Rev. Dr. W. G. Milarr, minister of Bond Street Congregational Church, has written his resignation and handed it to the board of managers, but it has been laid on the table. The board have asked him to withdraw his resignation, but he has not yet made up his mind. Although he has not definitely decided to become a minister, he has accepted a motion picture actor, Dr. Milarr said he has received a very flattering offer from a film producing concern in Los Angeles, and is now considering this offer. He has also been given an opportunity to go on the legitimate stage in Shakespearean roles, he declared.

Four years ago Dr. Milarr succeeded Byron Stauffer. For some time he has contemplated making his home in California, where he has a daughter, who is a motion picture actress.
