A RAILWAY LINE TO HUDSON'S BAY

Ottawa, May 28 (Special).--It is expected that an announcement will very shortly be made of the plans which the Dominion government has made for the construction of a railway line to Hudson's Bay, and the expectation among the western members seems to be that the line will be built as a government work and the outlay provided for out of the sale of some of the crown lands in the western provinces.

The government is at the present time having plans and drawings prepared for Fort Churchill harbor, and one of the members of the surveying party, which is expected to leave in a few days to undertake the work of surveying the town site of Fort Churchill, which is situated on the eastern side of the river opposite the ruins of old Fort Prince of Wales and across the river from the Hudson's Bay company's trading post. The present population of Fort Churchill is made up of four half-breed families, a mounted policeman and a settler named William Berth, but the latter is the only man whose home is pitched on the future town site. Mr. Berth went to the town in question with a view to settling and is entitled, therefore, to claim a free quarter section of the future town site of the Hudson's Bay railway.

MONCTON STREET RAILWAY BILL DECLINED COMMITTEE

The Municipalities and Corporations Committee Declined to Recommend Its Passage--The Loch Lomond Bill Taken Up.

Fredericton, N. B., May 28 (Special).--At a joint meeting of the municipalities and corporations committees this morning the bill to authorize the city of Moncton to operate a street railway was further discussed and the committee declined to recommend the bill to the favorable consideration of the house.

Subsequently the municipalities committee took up the consideration of the bill promoted by the owners of the land adjoining Loch Lomond to prevent the city of St. John permitting an overflow on such land. C. N. Skinner thought the question should stand over till next session of the legislature as there would not be time to thoroughly discuss the matter during the present session. The committee, however, decided to hear the matter.

R. G. Murray, of St. John, appeared on behalf of the voters and in a somewhat lengthy address explained to the committee the grievances to which the riparian owners were subjected in consequence of the city council having raised the level of the water in the lake which destroyed practically the whole of the intervale lands.

In response to his complaints the only answer he could get was that the city had a perfect legal right to act as they have done. He suggested the erection of dykes and windmills for the purpose of keeping the land clear of the water.

After some further discussion Ald. Baxter asked if Mr. Murray would be satisfied if the city were to put up $3,000, the estimated cost of the dykes and windmills; if so, he would recommend that course to the council, but it should not be forgotten that it was the contention of the city that the damage was caused by the bad seasons.

J. E. Wilson thought that while they were at it the council might as well appropriate the land at once and do with it.

Ald. Prink was opposed to this on the ground that the lands affected extended for miles.

At this stage the committee adjourned till the afternoon.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

JAMESEY IS INDIGNANT. Our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. Jamesey Jones, after reading the Sun this morning, set out to get a delegation to go to Fredericton and re-learn the good name of the province. Here is New Brunswick, not only owing Dr. Pugsley $4,000 but owing him a large amount for interest. These bills were accumulated while Dr. Pugsley was in the house, and with fine generosity Dr. Pugsley never presented them to Premier Hiram for payment. Now Premier Hazen looks cross-eyed at the account and refuses to settle. Jamesey says this is a scandalous state of affairs. He points out that Dr. Pugsley made the Central Railway a great paying institution, built the Valley Railway, completed the International Railway, invented the Gagetown convention, discovered Col. McLean, rediscovered St. John and gave it a harbor, started the borings at Courtenay Bay, made the famous Fairville speech, and is now engaged in the great work of preparing an air line to Hudson Bay. In view of all this, Jamesey asserts with indignation, the province of New Brunswick should not only pay that little bill with interest but should present Dr. Pugsley with a testimonial. And the thing should be done at once.

The Midnight Guest

By FRED M. WHITE

Author of "The Crimson Blind," "The Corner House," etc.

(Continued.) With these words Walter took from his pocket the dingy yellow handbill, and laid it open on the table so that Raven- spur might read it. The latter glanced at the printed words, and then turned to Walter with a questioning eye. "What does it mean?" he asked. "It conveys nothing whatever to me, and, even if it did, I am the last man in the world to patronize entertainments of that kind."

"You never heard of Valdo before, then?" Walker asked. "Not I, my dear boy. Who is the fellow?" "He is a kind of flying man. He is an individual with extraordinarily good arms and muscles. He can move those arms almost as quickly as a fly does in its flight; with the aid of specially prepared wings he can flutter about a stage like a bird. I dare say there is some secret behind it all, but still the performer is very graceful and attractive, though, as yet, the man tells me his flight is limited to some thirty feet."

Hon. Mr. Morrisey moved that Rule 79 of the House be suspended to permit the introduction of a bill to incorporate the Electric Light and Power Co. of St. John, N. B.

Mr. Currie gave notice of motion for the production of copies of all correspondence between any person or persons in the town of Campbellton and the government in connection with the granting of liquor licenses in such town.

Mr. Tweeddale gave notice of inquiry whether T. J. Carter had submitted a claim to the government for expenses in connection with the prosecution of liquor houses in Victoria county.

Mr. LaBillico gave notice of inquiry whether the government had purchased or leased land from John I. Cambridge in connection with the wharf at Burton, Sumner.

Mr. Orr introduced a bill to incorporate the St. John and Van Buren Bridge Co., and on the ground of urgency it was read a second time.

Mr. Goggin introduced a bill to incorporate the Federal Directors Association of New Brunswick which, on the ground of urgency, was also read a second time. Mr. Fleming introduced a bill with reference to the New Brunswick Coal & Railway which was explained as intended to authorize the government to issue debentures for $250,000. The act of 1906 provides that the commissioners should have power to issue these debentures, which should be guaranteed by the government. The government thought the better course would be to issue the debentures themselves.

Hon. Mr. Morrisey introduced a bill to incorporate the sisters of Hotel Dieu St. Basil Madawaska, which on the ground of urgency, was read a second time. On the order of the day (Supply) being called the Hon. Mr. Fleming announced that it stood over till tomorrow.

The house went into committee, Mr. Sproul in the chair, for the reconsideration of the bill to amend the school act. Hon. Mr. Hazen said that he had had the bill recommitted to provide for vacation in certain cases. Under the consolidated statutes vacation was compulsory but the schools act repealed that provision in many districts there was considerable friction between the trustees and parents and there had been a special difficulty recently in the districts of Moncton and Sackville.

No extraneous fees would be paid. The chairman would receive no remuneration for his services as a commissioner of agriculture, except for his ordinary expenses. The other commissioners would be paid as well as the chairman.

There would be some preliminary expense as it was the intention to arrange all the details of the act before the act was passed. Mr. Hazen said that he had already shown that they were working for particular amendments to the act.

SAVE THE CHILDREN Insure Them--Good Health

Ministry per cent of children, under twelve years of age, are being poisoned and parents don't realize it.

Regular bowels are the chief cause. You parents know that your bowels move every day. You know you must be as regular as clock-work, or the blood will become tainted.

Don't you realize that the children must be as orderly in getting rid of the waste matter of their system? Then, if you find that any of the little ones go two or three days without action of the bowels, don't run to doctor, sell, or buy any of those "fruit-tives" pills. These simply purge the children.

"Fruit-tives" are the ideal medicine for children. They are fruit juice, with a touch of the most powerful laxative in the world. "Fruit-tives" stimulate the liver, causing more bile to flow. It is the bile, given by the liver, which moves the bowels. "Fruit-tives" regulate the liver and bowels, and thus completely cure constipation.

As in late years but the meetings of the commission which would be held at various places in the province and would take the place of the institutes. Of the $200,000 appropriated there was about $2,300 on hand. It was hoped that this would pay the expense of the commission, if not a supplementary bill would be introduced at the next session.

Mr. Hazen said that he had already shown that they were working for particular amendments to the act. He had no doubt that the government could not expect to be retained in the confidence of that government.

through sparsely settled districts was discussed at some length. Hon. Mr. Hazen explained that on account of there being roads such as those from Bathurst to Douglastown, from Chipman to Harcourt, from Kouchibouguac to Chatham, from Minto to Fredericton, along which there were practically no settlers and which connected important districts that it was desirable there should be some way of having them maintained.

AN EATING ULCER.

Ulcers are a skin disease, and are more or less directly occasioned by a bad state of the blood, which produces acid humors and corrupts the secretions.

No one can expect to have a skin free from disease when the blood is in a disordered condition and the stomach and bowels acting feebly in consequence.

Through its wonderful cleansing, purifying powers on the blood, and its renovating action on the entire system, Burdock Blood Bitters has made thousands of cures of different skin diseases during the past thirty years it has been on the market.

Mrs. Joseph Robinson, Hallerton, Que., writes: "I had an eating ulcer on my ankle. I took two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and it worked like a charm, cleansing out all the impurities from my system and improving my appetite. While taking the B.B.B. internally I used it externally to cleanse the sore, and it helped a lot."

DR. PRATT IS HEAD OF MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Charles M. Pratt was last evening elected president of the St. John Medical Society, succeeding Dr. T. H. Lemmey. The other officers for the year are Dr. J. Bentley, vice president; Dr. T. D. Walker, secretary; Dr. James Christie, treasurer; Dr. G. G. Corbett, financial secretary; Dr. W. M. Douglas, librarian; Dr. W. Warren, pathologist; Dr. G. J. Crawford, Dr. S. Stinson and Dr. Corbett, committee.

After the meeting, dinner was enjoyed at White's restaurant with the past president, Dr. Lemmey, in the chair. There was a round of speeches and a couple of hours were pleasantly spent. During the evening expression was given by several of the physicians to the opinion that the general practitioners should be permitted to attend their own private patients in the General Public Hospital. If a doctor now sends a patient of his to the institution, he can not continue to attend him there, but must leave him under treatment of the hospital staff. Speakers last evening strongly claimed that this restriction should be removed.

Dr. Murray MacLaren reported for the medical council that effort was being made to secure legislation which would permit a doctor registered in New Brunswick to practice in Great Britain.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known as druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, then circulation often slows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker.

How He Got the Answer

A little boy ran into a grocery store one day with a memorandum in his hand. "Hello, Mr. Smith," he called out to the grocer. "I want 13 pounds of coffee, at 32 cents a pound."

WHEN A GIANT CAME TO ANT-TOWN BY MAUD WALKER

The ants of Ant-Town were a very busy little people indeed. Never an idle hour did they spend, but worked from dawn of day till long after the sun had set. And they were a happy little people, too, although it would seem as if they had few pleasures, and that the time is rather a hardyship with their kind and girly-kind, and is not quite natural. And the old saying that "work and play make back a doll boy" is true in the case of humankind. But so with ant-kind. Those industrious little fellows love nothing so much as work. Indeed, it is doubtful if they could live in idleness.

And so it was that the ants of Ant-Town were the busiest ants in the world--or so every one who knew them said. There were real families among them, just like the families of our own kind; there were the papa ant, the mamma ant, the little sons and the little daughters ant. And each family had their own home, a section of a hill, a hill belonging to the whole community of ants. And the hill was for all the world like a great apartment-house in a city. As you know, the apartment house is filled with corridors, halls and suites or rooms. And many families live under one great roof, each family having one of the suites with its own private hall.

And so it was with the Ant-hill. It was nothing more or less than a big apartment-house, where dwell hundreds of ants, each family having its own cell, or little flat, so to speak. Now, in this great apartment hill there was one family that attracted the attention of a dear little girl, who lives in the hill, just above the place where the ant apartment-house stood. This little girl's name was Polly Dear, or that is what her mamma called her. It was always "Polly Dear!" here, and "Polly Dear!" there, and "Polly Dear!" everywhere. The ants had heard the name so many times that they had grown quite used to it, and in their own way loved it well.

"Hal! hal!" roared the boy, raising his spade and making a dart for the ant hill. "How'd you get so bold of this place? I'd like to know! I reckon it's as much mine as it's yours. Mebby I'll show you what I'll do with it!" And the boy took a strong hold of the spade and set the edge of it's blade on the ant hill.

In another minute spade and boy were rolling over in the sand down the hillside. Little Pete, her whole body shaking with excitement, stood the victor, for she had with one mighty thrust, pushed the boy from the edge of the ant hill, and then thrown his spade after him.

"Now, don't you come back here, boy!" she called to him, shaking her fist. "If you do, I'll..." But Polly Dear didn't say just what she would do, but she gleamed in her blue eyes and the throat in her voice made the boy understand what she meant. Gathering himself and his spade from among the bushes and weeds, the naughty fellow betook himself off in a hurry, glancing back occasionally to make a wry face at the defiant little girl.

"Say, Papa Ant, I just had a battle with a dreadful giant, who had come here to destroy you and all your family and friends. Well, he got the worst of it, I reckon and isn't hardly likely to return. But if he should do so--well, won't I just give him the hardest pounding he ever had in all his naughty life? I'll time to quit work for today?" And Polly Dear, kissing her chubby hand toward the ant apartment-house, ran up the hill to her own big, comfortable home, where a fond mother and father were awaiting her. And the ants stopped long enough in their work to look after the strange and powerful giant, whose tall head their eyes had not yet had the power to reach. "A very good giant," said one ant to another, in their own queer language, of course. "Yes, indeed," replied the second ant, laying down his load for a moment. "And something tells me that we were saved from a terrible fate today by that same giant. I don't know what it is, but seem to feel it in my bones." And then all fell to work again.

PLAYTIME

In the garden during summer Kitten went to play with her little comrades, Junie, and they stayed all day. 'Neath the green tree, tall and spreading, where their playhouse stood, with its play walls all about it, Of big sticks of wood. A flat stone did form a table, where they drank their tea;

And they oft invited guests In-Nell and Annie Lee. Kitten played she was Miss Pickles-- She liked the name you know; For, although she was, was sour, 'Twas very good, also. Junie played she was Miss Candy (To offset Kitten's sour). And Miss Pickles with Miss Candy Played there by the hour. --Mary Graham.

PROVINCIAL POLITICS

Mr. Lablouis and Mr. McKeown wasted some valuable time in the legislature yesterday in an effort to create the impression that the government was dismissing Liberals in order to provide offices for Conservatives. The incident gave Premier Hazen an opportunity, of which he very properly availed himself, to state the position of the government on this question.

SIR FREDERICK BORDEN

The more the cold storage question is discussed the less likelihood there is that the solemn protestations of Sir Frederick Borden will impress the public mind in the manner which he desires. He may call Mr. F. E. Williams "an unworthy man," and charge that citizen with unworthy designs upon the public treasury, but what evidence is there that the motives of the minister were any higher than those of Mr. Williams?

A Washington despatch indicates that the present congress is getting ready for the elections. It says: "Although the figures on the total appropriations for the present session of congress are incomplete, from careful estimates the indications are that they will exceed $1,020,000,000. This is $100,000,000 in excess of any previous session."

QUEBEC ELECTIONS

The Montreal Gazette says that there are few unopposed returns in the Quebec provincial elections. This indicates a great change from the state of only a few years ago, when the election decided to nominate no candidates.

"The messages of Mr. Leblanc at Montreal and Mr. Pelletier at Ste. Hensine drew attention to certain needs of the province and suggested what should be done towards supplying them in a way that created interest. The opposition has given the people something to vote for. It has presented provincial seats for a provincial contest. It does not seek to shine by the reflected light of a lunatic at Ottawa, somewhat dim itself, but stands out with its own programme, on which it seeks to be judged."

As was pointed out a few days ago, the position of the government is further weakened by the vigorous opposition of Mr. Bourassa, who will have a number of candidates forming a third party. Today's despatches state that Mr. Bourassa will oppose Prem. Gouin in the St. James division of Montreal, and will also run in St. Hyacinthe. Mr. Armand Levesque, his close friend, has resigned his seat in parliament, and will accept a nomination for the legislature in support of Mr. Bourassa's platform.

The good people of Victoria, B. C., as becomes those who live beside the Peaceful Ocean, are averse to strife, unless their shores are invaded and the yellow peril comes their way. Hence, looking eastward and noting the state of affairs in Halifax, the Victoria Colonist is moved to remark: "The people of Halifax, if we may judge from the two leading papers, are engaged in a perennial election campaign. During a week or two before voting we people out here in British Columbia grow a little warm and say and print things that are somewhat vigorous; but down in Halifax they leave us in that respect so far in the rear that we can never hope to catch up. If we may believe the Herald and the Chronicle, there never existed such a set of cut-throat rascals as the members of the government of Canada (the Herald being the judge) except the leaders of the opposition (the Chronicle being the authority)."

Of the changing relations of east and west in Canada the Winnipeg Telegram, taking a broad view, rightly observes: "It is a noteworthy thing as the history of this continent unfolds from day to day, to observe how the West is displacing the East from the centre of the stage. Great changes must take place in the centre of gravity of commerce and politics, and it will be a matter for congratulation if sympathetic understanding builds up, and maintains, a sound common citizenship. Anything favoring of indifference, persecution, or injustice in the attitude of one section to another is fraught with grave danger, all the graver because not immediately imminent and therefore more likely to be overlooked."

The federal opposition is charged with keeping back the pay of civil servants. The charge should rather be made against the government, which refuses to withdraw a grossly partisan and unrighteous attack upon the rights of the people of Manitoba. The opposition are using the weapon which is ready to their hand in defence of a principle for which the present government party when in opposition was prepared to go to the same length. The heroes of the partisan press will not obscure the real issue. It is not a question of the pay of civil servants, but of an honest ballot in Manitoba.

The internal revenue receipts from the liquor traffic in Canada since October last show a decrease of over ten per cent., and in April alone of twenty per cent compared with the like period in the previous year. The decreased consumption may be partly due to dull times, but also in part to dry times.

In a Montana town the other day three persons were fined $25 each for distributing circulars and advertising matter in such a manner that it blew about the streets and created a nuisance. Clean streets are not only desirable but should be insisted upon by the authorities of every city.

The reduction of the Bank of England rate to two and a half per cent is a notable indication of easier monetary conditions, and should have a good effect upon the general financial situation.

WHISTLING OF THE FROGS

(By Persina White.) When the twilight has descended, And all nature's hushed and still, Save the lonely dog that's barking, And the song of the wail-pipe-will; When the mist is on the meadow, And the herds in on the hill; Then the voices of the frogs are heard From every pool and rill.

When the swallows search the heavens For the insects of the air; When the plovers is returning From his daily toil and care; Then the frogs their notes render In that instancably strain, Full of pathos, sad and tender, With a sorrowful refrain.

What more lonely and depressing Than the voices of the frogs. When the shades of evening hover O'er the landscape in the fogs Of the rainy season of twilight. The sickle months of spring. And a sated, barren aspect. Basks on every living thing!

O! the whistling of the frogs! The multitudinous whistling of the frogs! In the rainy days of spring. When the damp's on every thing. Then listen to the whistling of the frogs. O the cheerless, lonesome whistling of the frogs! The multitudinous whistling of the frogs! Of the frogs, frogs, frogs, frogs, frogs; O! listen to the whistling of the frogs!

THIS STORY IS VOUCHERED FOR. Green Wooden, of Winfield looked for the following story: While picking strawberries in Charles F. Martin's strawberry patch the other day he took advantage of the owner's absence and surreptitiously pilfered a large berry. He opened wide his mouth and got the berry about half way into his mouth when it lodged there and he could neither force the berry out or get it on the inside. He therefore called for help and a workman gouged the berry out with a big stick.—Topeka State Journal.

DIDN'T PAY. (Winnipeg Tribune.) Andy McCarth was "no doubt" just well, so he went to the doctor and stated his complaint. "What do you drink?" demanded the medical man. "Whiskey." "How much?" "Maybe a bottle a day." "Do you smoke?" "Yes." "Well, you must give up whiskey and tobacco altogether." "Andy took up his cap, and, in three steps, reached the door. "Andy," called the doctor, "you have not paid for my services." "Ah my 'kin'!" snapped Andy, as he shut the door behind him.

THE POLICE WORK ON THE G. T. P. IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Commissioner Ferris Here—The Robbery at Chipman. Hon. L. P. Ferris, of White's Cove, commissioner of the G. T. P. police in this province, was in the city yesterday. Sheriff Foster, of Woodstock, has been appointed chief of police under Commissioner Ferris, but the latter was unable to savor yesterday how large a force of men would be employed. The chief duty of the police will be to prevent the sale of liquor in the construction camps. In connection with the prevention of forest fires along the route, Mr. Ferris explained that the G. T. P. will appoint fire wardens in each camp, and their duty will be to guard against such conflagrations. Mr. Ferris, whose home is in Chipman, was asked about the burglary of the store of the King Lumber Company. He understood that the total value of the articles stolen was about $100 and that the burglars effected an entrance by the back door. The suspect who was arrested on Monday at Cody's had, he said, purchased a ticket at Young's from Station Master Ferris. That official thought from the description furnished him that he was probably one of the men implicated in the robbery. He telephoned Chipman and was told to arrest him. As Mr. Ferris is only a constable, however, he replied that he could not do it without a warrant. The King Lumber Company then called up Stipendiary Magistrate Roberts at Cody's station to have a warrant prepared and instructed Mr. Ferris to follow his man. He did so and as soon as the Italian got out on the platform he was arrested.

GOVERNMENT ACTION AND THE WALL STREET OUTLOOK

The Financiers Did Not Expect The Administration to Pursue an Aggressive Policy, and The Result is Not Satisfactory.

New York, May 28.—The ill effects of the government's suit against the New Haven railroad are still in evidence, and sentiment is far from settled. The fresh stirring up of matters calculated to disturb confidence is deeply resented by those financiers who had expected to be left alone for the present, and the government look extraordinary paths to protect, may not now be regarded as a mere bluff. The steel trust may have something from the very significant intimation that a reduction of practically 18 per cent. in the wages of New England operatives is to be followed immediately by a resumption of operations on full time in the principal group of mills at Fall River.

MIKE TWIN AND HARRY LEWIS

Are Billed for Boston June 16

---Brother Jack Down for "Mil" With Battling Johnson July 4 at Bakerfield, Cal.

Boston, May 28.—Mike Twin Sullivan will be seen in action soon at the Army A. A. He has been offered a match here presumably with Harry Lewis and was asked to meet the Quaker on June 9. Mike replied that the time was too short. This destination will make the A. A. A. Director change the plans for June 16, and if the bout can be made it will be Sullivan and Lewis on that date. There was some talk of a bout between Mike Baldwin and Dick Hyland the night before Charleston's big fete day. That bout will be held later.

Jack Twin Sullivan and Battling Nelson will meet at Bakerfield, Cal., on July 4.

FAST ONES AT HALIFAX

Two Good Strings Now Quartered at the Exhibition Track.

(Halifax Recorder.)

This exhibition track is in a better shape than ever this spring, and already there are about a score of horses at the track in training in the stables of Frank Boutlier and Peter Carroll.

Mr. Boutlier has at the head of his stable "sweet little" Simmasse, 2:08 1/2, which was never in better form; Major Wilkes, 2:18 3/4, by Nelson, the great pacer developed by Mr. Boutlier last season; Frank Power, 2:04 1/4, by Rampart, who will race as a 4-year-old; Donna, the richly bred son of Todd, who has an abundance of speed; Andy; by Tommie, a green trotter of great promise; Buchanan, 2:23, the grey son of Taunton, who is a sure candidate for the 2:30 list; Barling, the richly bred 5-year-old stallion, by Bingen, green trotter by Warren Guy and Border, a 3-year-old pacer by Krennle, and Jessie Rampart by Rampart.

Peter Carroll has at the head his string Peacheria, 2:18 1/4, by Betterson, the winner last season of so many good races, and as the late winter epidemics have not been expected to repeat her success; Little Don, by Brazilian, which has been showing such speed in the ice races; Warlock, Jr., 2:30 1/4, the big trotter by Warren Guy, who won the 4-year-old stakes at the Halifax exhibition last year, and as the late winter epidemics have not been expected to repeat her success; and down in the twenties this season, and a green trotter by Charlie Ray. Mr. Carroll expects to obtain couple of additions to his stable, and with the horses in their charge, the Halifax reinsemen should be prominent in this season's racing.

THE RING

TOMMY RAWSON AND JIMMY HANLON DRAW.

Salem, May 27.—Jimmy Hanlon of Chelsea and Tommy Rawson of East Boston at the Young Men's Club Monday night engaged in an eight-round draw. The crowd was with Rawson. Hanlon was continually fouling and was repeatedly hissed. In the semi-final Young Connolly of Lynn and Young Lebrun of Lynn fought a six-round draw, with O'Brien of Boston and Tommy Murray of Lynn met in the preliminary of four rounds.

THE TURF

MARTINE RACING.

(Halifax Recorder.)

There promises to be great racing on the maritime provinces this season, as the racing season opens on Monday night with meetings without any closing of dates. Commencing the week of June 20, to the week of September 21, there are two open weeks, August 3 and 24; Fredericton, St. John exhibition, Chatham and New Glasgow have yet to be heard from. Fredericton may have the week of August 3 (previous to Woodstock).

The following is the list of trucks, which are to be run on the 21st and 22nd of the others with the week in June, with date of races, July 1st and 2d; entries close June 25th.

Sackville—Week commencing July 8; date of races, July 6 and 7; entries close June 30.

Moncton—Week commencing July 13; date of races, July 17 and 18; entries close June 30.

St. John—Week commencing July 20; date of races, July 22 and 23; entries close June 30.

Port Ligon—Week commencing July 27; date of races, July 28 and 29; entries close June 30.

Open week, August 3.

Woodstock, August 17.

Open week, August 24.

Halifax, Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Halifax, Sept. 7, 8, 9, Aug. 18.

Sussex, Sept. 14.

Charlottetown, Sept. 21; Sept. 28, 29; Sept. 1.

The classes proposed are 2:15, 2:17, 2:20, 2:25 and 2:30 classes, trot and pace and 2:30 trot, and if there are sufficient horses for a free-for-all this will be added. Each track will select its classes from those proposed in the best suits them. Races in most cases will be 8:30 o'clock.

Such a circuit is bound to give a boon to racing, and with the season pressure to secure notes, owners will not only have an opportunity to race, but the public will be provided with good sport.

TROTTER HORSES SOLD

Readville, Mass., May 28.—W. J. Lewis, 2:06 1/4, holder of the world's trotting race record for three consecutive heats, was sold yesterday at the Pacific-Tipton horse auction for $1,200, to Paul Connolly, of Philadelphia.

While this noted gelding accomplished his remarkable feat at Columbus only three years ago, and is a candidate for the $50,000 American trotting derby next August, yet buyers were afraid of taking chances of bidding, as last season he was not needed on account of an ailing ankle. He showed in the sale ring today, apparently sound.

Rebecca G., a green trotting mare by In fact, 2:28 3/4, was another of the offerings to sell for only $1,200 going to N. B. Starkweather of Winthrop.

Jay Kay, 2:10 1/4 (trotter), owned by Vance Nichols of Cleveland, went for $775 to C. B. Osborne, Providence.

Marjorie, 2:13 3/4, that last year in the grand circuit was timed in 2:12 1/2, brought only $750, the bid of J. A. Jackson, Boston.

Ralph Wick, 2:13 1/4, one of the most consistent trotters campaigned, was knocked down to N. B. Starkweather of Winthrop, for $725.

IN THE TREASURE HOVEL

BY HELENA DAVIS.

For two months Fred and Laura Jones' mother had been ill with rheumatism and the doctor had said that she could not get well unless she moved into a more beautiful place. Her present home was in a basement room in a great city. Mrs. Jones had been employed in a laundry as starcher before her very serious illness, and had managed to lay away enough to keep her during the two months' illness of which you have been told. But at the expiration of that time the last cent had been spent for rent, fuel and food, and now eviction, and possibly starvation, stared the poor sick woman and her two children in the face. The week's rent was past due and the agent was expected to have eviction papers served on the suffering woman who lay helpless in her bed.

Repeatedly the poor neighbors had begged Mrs. Jones to go to the city hospital, where the poor were doctorless, but she would not leave her mother who had said, "I can't leave my little girl."

So we've got to hustle to-night, Sia."

And Laura and Fred did "hustle" that night, and when 4 o'clock arrived their worldly goods were ready. The Dutchman was on time to the minute, and soon, with Fred's assistance, had the wagon loaded to its capacity.

"Well, we'll not have to be on the sidewalk today by the officers," said Mrs. Jones, climbing up to a seat on the wagon beside the old driver. Fred and Laura managed to find a "place to hang on to," to quote Fred, at the rear end of the wagon. Then, with a click from the old Dutchman the one horse started with his load.

After two hours of riding—the first hour rambling over the city paving stones—Fred directed the driver to turn to his left and round a ledge of rocky cliff that pointed into the sandy beach. There a rule but comfortably large stone hut came into view in the centre of a tillable patch of garden. A few trees shaded

Fred Sprang to his feet and carried the box to the bed.

Fred and Laura. I am all that they have in the world. I must stay with them and let my friends—though as poor as myself—and my children do what they can for me. I've always been a strong woman and I'll pull through this all right, without having to leave my children alone.

And so the weeks had dragged by, Mrs. Jones not improving, but growing gradually worse. And then the money gave out, and with sickness came to torment the poor mother and her little ones. The agent had called four times for the rent, the last time saying: "I'm still sorry, Miss Jones, but I wouldn't pester you 'bout the money of the darn old rat-trap belonged to me; but you know how I get me walkin' papers served on me if I don't get it the rent. An' me leavin' me own job wouldn't help youse a bit; for the next chap as get me place would begin by turnin' us out into the street. So it's pay or else."

And Fred, whose "job" depended upon the promptness of his collection, pointed his thumb toward the street door. "As I was sayin', I'm blamin' sorry for all youse, I am. But why don't you rent me put grub into the month, does a few days later the eviction notice was served by Mrs. Jones, sick in bed and without food or fuel in the little heart and hunger.

"What are we to do, I wonder?"

"The neighbors can't help us," said Fred, "for several of 'em are about to be evicted themselves. We're all poor alike in this house."

"As I was sayin' over this part of the town," declared Laura, a child old for her years. She had suffered poverty, and seen others suffer so much in her few years that a little heart and mind. The thought of food, clothes, rent, employment for her mother, and the long ride to the little heart and mind.

"Fred, I've been thinkin' over this part of the town," declared Laura, a child old for her years. She had suffered poverty, and seen others suffer so much in her few years that a little heart and mind. The thought of food, clothes, rent, employment for her mother, and the long ride to the little heart and mind.

about many coins of large denomination. After those were laid on the table and counted there proved to be five hundred dollars in gold pieces and a deed to the "house and grounds," together with many tax receipts. Mrs. Jones looked over the dates of the latter, and seeing that the taxes had fallen due several months before, said to her son: "Fred, if you want to keep this place you must hurry to the city tomorrow and pay up the last year's taxes. Then I reckon the deed will be ours. But, to make sure of it, you'd better see old Mr. Seider; he'll advise us what to do. Now, isn't this the luckiest day of our lives, children? Why, I'm almost well already." And Mrs. Jones smiled contentedly.

"I call this place the treasure hovel, instead of the haunted hovel," laughed Fred. "And not a word to anyone till we've fixed it about the deed. Plenty of folks would rob us of what we've got by right. Why, the owner says the one who lives here is to own the place and the treasure. And I reckon we're going to live for awhile, anyway."

"Indeed we are," cried Laura. "Why, we're all so happy in the country."

PROTEST AGAINST PROFANE LANGUAGE

(Detroit Journal.)

George Wright of Halifax, N. S., is conducting a crusade single handed against the habit of using profane language and has the Journal to help him. There is nothing in the nature of a law against the use of profane language in this country, but the habit brings neither profit nor gratification of any kind. It is simply serving the devil without pay. It will suffice to mention some of the steps that have been taken to repress the habit, largely at the solicitation of Mr. Wright.

Canada has always had a law against profanity, and it is not only the right, but the duty of every citizen in whose hearing profanity is used to have the offender arrested. The St. Louis manufacturers have forbidden it in their factories on the recommendation of the state factory inspector. In 50 different cities and towns throughout America the police have been given orders to suppress the habit.

Nothing has yet been done in Detroit.

A Funny Mistake

A dainty little maiden, in the long ago, went into the meadow where the blossoms were flying. Round the flowers rare, and it thought the maiden Was growing there.

On her cheek it lighted in its little nip, "Ah," it said, "this blossom Is mighty sweet to sip."

There a neighbor came in to bring a bit of food for the needy woman who had fallen asleep in the one rocking chair beside her mother's bed. Come, Sia," he said in a voice of good cheer, "there ain't no time to be sleepin' nor dreamin'. This time tomorrow we'll be set in the street 'less we make some arrangements about a hotel. You see, tomorrow the officers will set us and our furniture out of here. If ma was well 'twouldn't matter so much; but her being sick makes it look a different color. So, let's be packin' tonight."

"But, child, where are we to go?" asked the sick mother, who had not yet been asleep. Her anxiety over their distress and her own physical suffering had kept sleep from her eyes. "We can't go anywhere without rent money," said the young man, who had been sitting on the floor for some time, "and we haven't no rent, 'less we get it 'fore we're evicted. Folks are afraid of it 'cause they say it's haunted. But I know there ain't no nothin' there as spooks. Anyway, even a haunted house is better in a storm than no house at all. I say, Well, I've already seen the little old Dutchman who has the ex-prose wagon, and he has promised to carry us and our goods to the new place if we're ready to start by 1 o'clock. He says he must be back in time to get
