CANNING PLANT
NOW READY TO COMMENCE WORK

Western Packing Corp. Expects to be Busy for Months

"We are all ready to go," remarked Harry Beach, eastern manager of the Western Packing Corporation, manufacturer of jams, jellies, marmalades, fruit and vegetable, when asked yesterday when he thought the company's new plant would get underway at Colbrook.

"Pipes fitters have been on the job for the last six weeks getting everything into shape and, except for a machine or two being completed by local concerns, which will be ready in a couple of days, the factory is ready to turn on a full head of steam and will keep running continuously for the next few months at full capacity."

An interesting statement made by Mr. Beach was that the plant would be in operation during the slack season as well as during the busy months of making marmalades and compound jams which would be undertaken during the slack times, he said.

"At present," Mr. Beach said, "about 200 men and girls have their names down to start work and more may be required to take care of the heavy supply of strawberries, which we expect to come in. More than 100,000 cases are on the way to the factory and delivery is expected in plenty of time while there are other supplies in the factory at present, and are all ready."

MUCH WORK DONE HERE.
Mr. Beach stressed the point that he had done his best to have as much work on the plant done locally as was possible.

"Under an arrangement entered into with the Farmers' Marketing and Canning Company, the Western Packing Corporation will receive upwards of 30 per cent. of the total berries handled by the organization," Mr. Beach said. "I have already received a number of letters from fruit growers wishing us success. This certainly is an encouragement," he added.

Mr. Beach stated that a large quantity of berries would come from Sackville and also from points throughout Nova Scotia.

Speaking of competition, Mr. Beach stated that he expected there would be considerable competition from Quebec and Ontario factories. This, he said, was quite natural, but he intimated that the farmer who when developed would mean a beneficial business to the farmer himself as well as to the city and the Maritimes.

"I would not wonder that within a few years Saint John will be a great city for the small fruit growing industry. You have the soil and the climate to grow almost anything. All we need is a market—the farmer to market his product after growing and the canner to market the finished goods. Now we have got together, so as I said before, 'let's go,'" was Mr. Beach's parting statement.

Secretary Says School Board Staff Greatly Overworked

Com. Wigmore as Warden Informs Board That Overdraft of $13,455 Cannot Be Paid Now—New Bond Issue For La Tour School Authorized

"That the present staff of the board of school trustees office was greatly overworked and that something would have to be done to relieve the situation, were among several statements made at the School Board's regular monthly meeting last evening by A. Gordon Leavitt, the secretary. A communication was received from Commissioner R. W. Wigmore, as warden of the municipality, in which he referred to the present school overdraft of $13,455. The letter set out that the overdraft could not be paid until the present year's taxes were in, which would be some time in September.

The warden also stated that the only way out of the present situation between the county and school board was to seek legislation whereby the county could borrow money in advance for school purposes or else make an increase, at present allowed for shortages in tax collections.

Authority was also granted the secretary to renew $25,000 worth of bonds for La Tour school, which expire on August 1.

Dr. L. M. Curren, chairman, president, others present were H. Colby Smith, T. H. Carter, Dr. J. Kerr Higgins, E. H. W. Ingraham, S. W. Palmer, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm and Dr. E. A. Worsell, superintendent, and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary.

TEACHERS APPLICATIONS.
Applications for positions on the teaching staff were received from Miss M. McKelvie and Miss E. B. Sewell, both of Fairville, Miss Florence Raymond and Miss Margaret E. McMurray, of Fredericton. They were ordered placed on file.

Applications for carpenter were received from Charles Carlson, British street, and D. B. Webster, of Adelaide street, city. Both were filed.

In reference to a recent letter, which it was thought should have gone to the provincial superintendent of education, but which had arrived at the address of one of the members of the board, the secretary made known that the communication from the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of Interior, Ottawa, was meant for a board. The communication offered one mounted map of the Dominion for each school. The secretary stated that he had written the department, giving them the necessary information about the local schools.

H. H. McLean wrote the board in regard to a renewal of a lease for a piece of property on Horsfield street from town.

LA TOUR SCHOOL BONDS.
The secretary drew attention to the fact that the present issue of $25,000 in bonds of La Tour school would expire on Aug. 1. He asked that a new issue of $25,000, five-year bonds, 5 per cent, be issued and that a sinking fund be provided to redeem the bonds, as they came due. This the board ordered to be done.

The trust officer's report showed that 62 homes had been visited, 14 schools attended, as well as three court cases.

Habitual truants were placed at four and irregulars at 19. The visitors to Winter street school were granted authority to make necessary repairs to the boilers in the building. Similar authority was granted visitors to Dufferin school for repairs to the boiler. It was announced that tenders would be called for this work.

In the matter of a new smoke box in the High School building Mr. Carter, one of the visitors, stated that it was in a very bad condition. The trustees suggested calling for tenders for the necessary repairs. This was agreed to.

J. J. Hennessy was re-elected trustee for a third term and took the usual declaration in assuming office.

After the business had been disposed of a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the trustees for the excellent administration of affairs, which is reflected in the good physical condition of the buildings, the comfortable arrangements and the upkeep of the school during the trying periods of the past winter. This expression of appreciation was replied to on behalf of the trustees by H. M. Stout.

Willis F. Russell Will Be Fairville School Principal

Has Been Teacher at Rotherham Consolidated—Lancaster No. 2 Meeting

At the annual meeting of School District No. 2 of Lancaster held in the Fairville Superior School last night it was announced that the new principal will be Willis F. Russell, who for the past six years has been a teacher in the Rotherham Consolidated School. Lately he has been in charge of grades VII and VIII there. Mr. Russell is now taking a summer course in arts at Queen's University, Toronto. There will be no change in the school staff, it was further announced.

Frank V. Hamm was elected chairman of the meeting. The report of the trustees, read by Secretary H. M. Stout, dealt with the work of the past year. The financial report showed that $8,600 had been paid out of the sinking fund, as sufficient money was on hand for that particular purpose, and it will not be necessary to include the amount in the assessment.

The trustees asked that the district value for school purposes the same amount as that of last year, namely $18,200, and this request was unanimously acceded to.

After the business had been disposed of a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the trustees for the excellent administration of affairs, which is reflected in the good physical condition of the buildings, the comfortable arrangements and the upkeep of the school during the trying periods of the past winter. This expression of appreciation was replied to on behalf of the trustees by H. M. Stout.

ALBERT FIRES SERIOUS.
EDMONTON, July 13.—With nine forest fires raging northwest and northeast of Edmonton, the forest fire situation in this district is serious.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "He is an alien and makes more money than I can," said the man, "but I am not prejudiced against him."

AN OVERWORKED STAFF.
The secretary said that the present staff was greatly overworked. He said that he was certain that no city with the number of schools and of the size of Saint John was getting along with so small a staff as the local office was doing. He said that everybody was tremendously overworked. The work itself had increased by leaps and bounds. There was a lot of detail matter to be dealt with and this took a lot of time. He personally had to work Sundays and holidays, while other members of the staff were forced to take work home with them in order to keep up to date.

He said that there was no such thing as "office hours" and "one has to work all the time," he stated. The motion passed to appoint another trustee to the purchase of another typewriter to take the place of one in the office, which was actually used. Several bills were ordered paid. The board adjourned and went into executive committee, the press being excluded.

Much Interest Over Local Soccer Game
Much interest is being taken in the soccer game to be played on tomorrow evening on the Allison grounds between teams representing England and Scotland. The game is expected to attract an eleven from the players comprising these two teams will be chosen to meet the other players from the warships which will visit Saint John in the near future.

Following is the lineup for tomorrow night's game: Scots—Goal, Gillies; backs, Kell and McIntyre; halves, Montgomery, William Smith and Rankine; forwards, Bain, Nell, J. Hughes, Laidlaw and P. Murray.

English—Goal, A. Mantle; backs, Curtis and Stag; forwards, G. James and G. Walker; halfbacks, G. James, G. Walker, Thompson and S. James. Reserves—McKelvie and Logan. Referee, W. King.

Says Daylight Saving Injurious to Pupils
MONTREAL, July 13.—Daylight saving is a deleterious effect on school children, in the opinion of Miss Carolyn E. Wayland, teacher in the public schools of Springfield, Mass., who is in Montreal.

In the course of a conversation last night, Miss Wayland remarked that after daylight saving, she had to effect in Springfield at the end of April, the extra hour of daylight for play at night had a noticeable effect on the pupils, making them less alert and many of them listless, evidently due to one hour less of sleep.

MET HERO'S DEATH

Chicago Man Drowned While Trying to Save Winnipeg Girl

VANCOUVER, July 13.—As a consequence of his heroic efforts to save Miss Jean Hamilton, a visitor in the city from Winnipeg, A. B. McDermott, who arrived here from Chicago on a holiday, was drowned in English Bay. Two police guards succeeded in saving the girl and in bringing McDermott's body to shore.

Miss Hamilton, who is a strong swimmer, found herself exhausted by the heavy sea, and was forced to call for help. Hearing her call, McDermott, who was returning to shore, although only a fair swimmer, and fired from his swim, went to her assistance. When he reached her his strength gave out.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 13, 1926.

WE WANT TO KNOW.

There seems to be a tendency all round to withhold from the general public reports prepared by officials who are public servants on matters directly concerning the various branches of government.

There is to start with, the report on the customs, with hints of which Mr. Lucas has been tickling our curiosity. Then we hear that while the United States engineers are ready to report on the St. Lawrence Waterway project, the Canadian Government is not prepared to make the report public until after the election.

Here in Saint John, after groaning over the proportion of our taxes eaten up by the School Trustees, we learn that it is necessary to go to further expense with reference to the office of that body and that there are matters in connection with the school over which which I previously alluded, have not received the prominence they deserve having regard to the whole question of school administration.

Nobody wishes public servants to be overworked and any reasonable financial accommodation for the continuance of services will be endorsed by all. But we want to know.

The question of withholding the Waters report until after the election arouses immediate suspicion that its publication might influence the election in the dark insofar as that matter—a very important matter—is concerned. Again none will demand that anything which would prejudice the interests of the Dominion—not of one party or the other—be disclosed prematurely. On the other hand, unnecessary concealment is to be deprecated and we want to know.

The full text of the Customs Commission is clearly the public's right, since both Conservatives and half the Progressives agree that that issue is the main question before the country. So we want to know.

Public officials of all grades are supposed to be men of intelligence and integrity and therefore they are rightly vested with the power to decide when the publication of any circumstance or set of circumstances is contrary to the country's interests. That all will concede, but at the same time, the people must have confidence in their servants and nothing is more likely to shake that confidence than the suspicion that there is anything approaching concealment and especially so when that concealment might, by any stretch of imagination, serve individual or party ends. We have a right to know and we want to know—all.

FARMERS IN POLITICS.

Mr. H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers, and chairman of the wheat pool of Alberta, naturally see the farmer movement in Government greatly strengthened by the result of the provincial elections, the Farmer Government having come back stronger than ever. This result he attributes to the fact that the Farmers' party in Alberta is not a political party in the same sense as the Liberal and Conservative. The distinction he makes is that the old political parties are not constructive, but divide the citizenship against itself, while the Farmers' party seeks to co-operate with the whole citizenship in constructive effort. Of the result in Alberta he says:

"After five years of experience and study, we see more clearly than ever before that we are on a constructive basis, while the political party is not. This represents five years of citizenship development. We see more clearly today than ever before that we must make proper adjustments with all legitimate industrial interests; and we see more clearly than ever before that we have no adjustments to make with a political party. Our system is a system of getting together and constructing; the political party system is one of division and obstruction. We want to co-operate with all social constructive forces; we can co-operate with no divisionists or obstructionists." To put it plainly, Mr. Wood claims that the members of the U. F. A. are not political partisans, but willing to co-operate with all who offer anything of a constructive nature. He says the disintegration of farmers' political movements in the past resulted from failure to adhere to constructive principles, and to seek to get the different elements of citizenship into co-operation in constructive work. We quote again:

"There would be no logic in having a political party composed of farmers engaged in a warfare with other parties. A political party, besides being inherently a fighting force, is not democratically organized or democratically controlled. Consequently, it is not constructed in the interests of citizenship, and does not develop the spirit of true citizenship, and can never hope to get the different elements of citizenship together in constructive effort."

It will be observed that Mr. Wood has no use for the traditional political party, fighting for power. No doubt the old parties will disagree with him and dispute his claim of superiority, and we really have too much partisanship, and if the Alberta farmers have developed something better they have made a notable contribution to the cause of better government. It matters not whether it be the farmers or some other organization which sets constructive effort above party gain, so long as the thing is accomplished. The rest of the country will keep its eye on Manitoba and Alberta, where they are at present getting along very well without either a Liberal or a Conservative government. The Manitoba Free Press remarks that "the idea that a province must have a government called Liberal or called Conservative and affiliated more or less closely with one or other of the old Dominion parties is being shot pretty full of holes in Western Canada," and it adds: "There might be a moral from the Alberta result for the people of Manitoba. When the present government in Manitoba goes to the polls the public might give some thought to the point whether the other parties offer any prospect of an improved administration merely because they wear certain party labels."

That is quite a Western point of view. We more conservative—the word is used in its broad, not political, sense—are inclined to adhere to straight two-party politics and there will be many to contest the claim that this is undemocratic. After all, democracy has made great strides under party politics and no better system has yet proved itself.

THE ART OF INSULT.

The art of insult appears to be in danger of declining to the level of the seaman's boarding house. Time was when Parliament was a place where vituperation was used with eagerness in the British Parliament some of the members—particularly members of the Labor Party—have substituted bludgeons.

A few days ago Mr. Jack Jones, described as "a fiery Laborite," called Lady Astor a liar. Seemingly fearing that the lady might be deaf he belittled a second time that grating and blunt assertion. His withdrawal of the phrase on the order of the speaker and substitution of "terminological inexactitude" lacked the saving grace of originality, however. He borrowed it from that famous remark of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, which has stood for many years as a parliamentary classic. But even Chamberlain's subtlety of insult must give first place to that recent remark of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald who referred to Lloyd George as a politician "who requires a certain amount of freedom in the handling of moral issues."

Canada is not without her rapetuous parliamentarians. Referring in Parliament recently to an adverse ruling by Deputy Speaker Duff, Mr. Donald Sutherland remarked that he was not surprised at it. Upon the deputy speaker's objection that the remark reflected upon his general discretion in the performance of his duties, Mr. Sutherland withdrew his remark and substituted "I am indeed surprised at the ruling." Mr. Duff was thereby reduced to the paradoxical position of insisting that his critic had no right to be either surprised or not surprised at anything Mr. Duff might do as deputy speaker.

Dr. Samuel Johnson was an outstanding genius in the art of insult. "What provokes your ribaldry, Sir?" he asked of one who dared disagree with him. "Have I said anything that you understand? Then I ask pardon of the rest of the company." Byron once said of a certain critic that he had agreed to a short armistice with truth. If a member of Parliament must question the veracity of a fellow member, how much more refined and even effective it is to do it with the rapier than with the club! To do it brilliantly, rather than brutally as Mr. Jack Jones did, would have caused amusement rather than the stony silence which actually followed his remark, and the lady would have felt the rapier thrust keenly.

A SAINT JOHN man answered an advertisement, and sent a dollar for four pairs of socks. When they arrived, he looked them over, and then wrote to the advertiser: "Socks received. The patterns are vile. I wouldn't wear them out."

Back came the answer: "What are you objecting to? Didn't I guarantee you wouldn't wear them out?"

DECLINE OF CONVERSATION. (Wichita Eagle.) There just doesn't seem to be any time for conversation now. It is used to be Wichita's most popular recreation. It is now run over by the automobile; overshadowed by the movie; drowned by the radio; crippled by the card game, and just generally relegated to a rear seat along with everything else which demanded a certain amount of leisure to live.

INDIA TO STOP OPIUM EXPORTS. (New York World.) The announcement that the Indian government has fixed a ten-year period within which the export of opium from India shall be progressively extinguished marks an appreciable advance toward the solution of a great world problem. At Geneva last year the British representatives did not go nearly so far. They agreed only to stop the export of opium from India to other parts of the Far East within fifteen years. China had effectively ended her overproduction and smuggling of opium. Since China is virtually without opium, it is of limited use when it only stimulates the production and smuggling of Chinese opium. But it is also true that Indian shipments to Hong Kong have in one year reached almost a billion grains. Now India consents to seal her ports tightly against opium exports by 1938. Opium production in India for home consumption is left untouched by this step and, in spite of British efforts to discourage it, will long remain high. But much of it is not a "drug problem" in the usual sense. The paramount object has been to end the pernicious drugging of China, Malaysia, the Dutch East Indies, and other Far Eastern territories, and to this object the Indian government makes a gratifying contribution.

POEMS I LOVE

"Summum Bonum," by Robert Browning

ONE could name innumerable poems of Browning as particular favorites. His art knew no limitations, and after Shakespeare and Keats, he is the English poet I like best. It is strange to realize that only a few years ago he was considered "advanced" and "difficult" and something of a fad. He always liked an anecdote told of him. A young lady met him once at a tea in London and said, "Now that I've got you, Mr. Browning, I want you to feed a certain passage in 'Pippa Passes' to me." "Oh, don't ask me—ask the Browning Society," the poet replied, smiling.

All the breath and the bloom of the year in the bag of one bee; All the wonder and wealth of the mine in the heart of one gem; In the core of one pearl all the shade and the shine of the sea; Breath and bloom, shade and shine, —wonder, wealth, and—how far above them— Truth, that's brighter than gem. Trust, that's purer than gem. Brightest truth, purest trust in the universe—all were for me In the kiss of one girl.

THESE ENTERTAINERS ALSO MUST EAT.

ALL, through the summer we enjoy the songs and companionship of our familiar birds. Some of these go to milder climates when winter comes, but others prefer to remain with us, and these often find it hard to get enough food.

So if we establish and keep stocked for them a feeding table, we shall not only help them to survive, but furnish entertainment for ourselves.

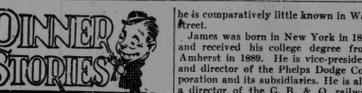

Suet is one of the foods most appreciated. It may be tied to a limb protected by a loose meshed bag, or merely cut finely and placed in a shallow dish.

Other acceptable foods are peanut butter, rolled oats, and any table scraps. For chickadees and nut-hatches, a coconut with a hole cut in it, cold weather, keeps the water just above the freezing point.

Waste should also be furnished, and the summer or winter, forms one of the surest lures. We know of one enthusiastic bird lover who has greatly added to the popularity of his lunch counter by furnishing a shallow fountain with tiny jets of gas, which, kept burning in cold weather, keeps the water just above the freezing point.

By its aid about half a hundred different species of birds have been attracted to come to lunch, in fact have become more or less regular visitors.

Establish a feeding station for your birds and you will soon have species in your yard that, perchance, you will never see otherwise.

The Very Idea!

By Bill Cochrane

WANDERLUST A WEE little scamp, with the heart of a tramp, was scolded one day by his mother. He wasn't jes bad, but but the troublesome lad was constantly teasin' his brother.

"When his maw threw a fit—well, it rubbed him a bit, and he pouted 'an' fretted all day. 'Twas just the same story. Said he, 'They'll be sorry, 'cause now I'm fer runnin' away.'"

The thought of it thrilled him. The wanderlust filled him with craving to be on the road. He packed up a lunch that—while bising he'd munch, and a broomstick completed his load.

"Ge, maw's gonna miss me," thought he, "She can't kiss me tonight when I crawl into bed."

A thinkin' 'an' thinkin', with eye-kinda blinkin', he jumped at the first supper call. The runaway threat was the kind all kids get—and his folks never knew it at all.

ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE DAY IN 2 COLONIES

Local Members Attend Pleasing Functions at Lorneville, Fairfield, Sussex

PARADES, PICNICS AND DANCES GIVEN

Excellent Weather Conditions Add Greatly to Success of Events

Ideal weather which prevailed all day yesterday contributed greatly to the success and enjoyment of the several celebrations held in the southern part of the province in connection with the observance of the Glorious Twelfth. While there was no event in the city, members of the local lodges joined with their brothers at Lorneville and Fairfield, near St. Martins in carrying out interesting July 12 programs, while several journeyed to Sussex to take part in the celebrations there.

The Orangemen of Lorneville celebrated the 12th of July by holding a parade, picnic and ball. At 11:30 a. m. they met in the Orange Hall, and paraded to the residence of William Downey, a distance of two and a half miles. John Ferguson, the Worshipful Master of Mount Purple Lodge, representing King William, seated on a white horse, led the procession. Following him were the Royal Black Knights of Ireland, Clyde Ferguson and Robert Ross. The standard was borne by Everett Wilson, Roy Wilson, George Ferguson, Cleveland Matheson, Wallace Stevens and Arnold Baird. The flag was carried by Stuart Galbraith and O. Titus; and the charter by William Downey and George O'Dell. They were accompanied in the parade by the Lorneville fire and drum bands.

On their return to the hall dinner was served at 1:30 p. m. The tables were decorated with orange lilies. After dinner all attended the picnic, which was held near by on the beautiful grounds of Mrs. George Ferguson. Addresses were given on the grounds by David Hipwell, who stated that the Grand Lodge, I. O. B. A., was organized in 1822, and organized in Lorneville more than 80 years ago. He paid a tribute to the past and urged that the growth of the organization be worthy of their ancestors. He told of the growth of the organization and in closing urged all to fear God and honor the King.

MRS. TAYLOR SPEAKS Mrs. Joseph Taylor, Provincial Grand Mistress of the I. O. B. A., gave an address in which she stated that the I. O. B. A. in Canada had a membership of over 22,000 and that their aims and objects were in accordance with the I. O. B. A. and in concluding her address urged all to stand by the principles of loyalty and justice.

R. J. Anderson, W. H. Allingham and Rev. Peter Jackson gave addresses telling of the history, aspirations and heritage of the organization. Rev. C. W. Follette of Loch Lomond and Rev. William Galbraith of California were present as visitors. About 800 people were present, many motoring from the city and outlying districts. The fire and drum bands gave selections during the afternoon.

Problems of the Wife in Love With an Old Sweetheart and Married to a Man She Does Not Love—Should a Girl Be Educated in Her Home Town or Sent Away to School?—The Man Who Left His Wife Because She Bobbed Her Beautiful Hair.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a Christian, a wife and a mother, and I am fighting the greatest battle in life that any poor soul can fight. I am married to a man I do not love, and I love a man to whom I was once engaged but with whom I had a quarrel. He has never married and says that he never will, for he will never cease to love me. We have permitted ourselves to meet but twice since my marriage, but his sister, who is my close friend, has invited me to pay her a visit. I long to go, yet I fear to go, as I will be thrown daily in the company of the man whom I love better than my own life. I have prayed so earnestly for strength to do the right thing. What advice would you give me? A WORRIED WIFE.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: It is a mockery to pray to be delivered from temptation and then to run deliberately into it. If you are sincere in your desire to do right you will never in your worst days be tempted to do wrong.

What benefit, anyway, would it be to you, or to the man who loves you, to spend a week revising old memories, relighting the fires of an old passion and indulging in an orgy of vain regrets? Do you think it would make it any easier for you to forget? Would it make either one of you any happier? Would it not certainly make things harder for you than they already are?

There are those who contend that it is an immoral thing for a woman to live with one man when she loves another man, but it seems to me that society would be in a pretty bad way if every woman who isn't romantically enamored of her husband got up and left him and followed her fancy. Civilization hasn't been built on that plan. It has been founded on the grit and endurance of those who put duty before inclination.

A woman does a very foolish thing when she marries a man without being absolutely certain in her own mind that she loves him, but she does a dastardly thing when she marries a man just to spite some other man with whom she has quarreled, for she is sacrificing a perfectly innocent victim to her own desire for revenge.

That is what you seem to have done, and if you have any sporting blood in you you will play the game and try to show to the husband you have so deeply injured by playing the game fairly and squarely. You won't go off and have secret meetings with your old lover.

Inasmuch as the man whom you married has been a good husband to you and you have no fault to find with him I do not see what right you have to divorce him. True, in losing an unloving wife he would not lose much, but it would be a cruel thing to take his child away from him.

So, my advice to you is not to see your lover any more and to make an honest effort to forget him. You can if you will try hard enough, and peace always comes with doing one's duty. DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—We are neither rich nor poor, but able, within reason, to give our daughter good educational advantages. She wishes to be a teacher. Do you think we should send her far from home for a college education or keep her near us? There are excellent institutions of learning in our city. ANXIOUS PARENT.

ANSWER: There is so much to be said on both sides of this question that your final decision must be determined by the girl's personality.

If she is a very timid and dependent sort of girl, one who still clings to mother's hand when she walks, so to speak, send her away from home, where she will be among strangers and will have to learn to be self-reliant.

If she is a girl who is too popular with the boys and has too many dates and runs around too much it is also well to send her away from home to some school where her mind will not be so much distracted from her books.

If she is a plain girl, lacking in personal attraction, the sort of girl that men pass by and who will not be likely to marry and who will probably have to support herself as long as she lives, then, by all means, send her to some famous school, where her degree will carry a distinction with it that will enable her to command a high salary as a teacher.

The school at home may be able to teach her just as much and fit her just as well for her profession, but a certain glory is diffused from the well-known institutions of learning that is reflected in their graduate's pay envelope.

Once upon a time I came home from Europe on a steamship with a young woman who told me a most pathetic tale of how she had nearly starved in Paris studying art, and I asked her if she could not have gotten just as good instruction in this country as abroad and at less sacrifice.

"Certainly I could," she replied, "but the fact that a school can advertise that its art teacher is a pupil of Julian's and studied in such and such a studio in Munich doubles my salary."

On the other hand, the advantage of keeping a girl at home is that you form her character yourself, instead of intrusting the job to strangers, and you bind her to you with the ties of daily association. Children who are sent away from home to school when they are young never have the close intimacy with their parents that those do who have always lived in continual contact with mother and father.

Then, too, the girl who is educated at home keeps up her ties with the boys and girls with whom she is reared, and she has a much better time socially when she is grown than the girl does who has been educated away from home and who has to break into the right set when she comes back.

DEAR MISS DIX—The girl I married had the most beautiful hair I ever saw in my life. But a few days ago she had the boyish bob. It certainly spoils her looks, and I have left her. Please tell me whether you think I should go back to her or not? X. Y. Z.

ANSWER: I am with you, X. Y. Z., in thinking that a woman's glory is in her hair, and I don't blame you for being furious with your wife for having her lovely tresses cut off. But don't let a little thing like that break up your home.

Doesn't split hairs, so to speak, with happiness. After all, it isn't what is outside of a woman's head that counts so much as what is inside, and there are lots more important things about her than her hair. So go back and make up your quarrel, and doubtless when your wife sees how much it hurts you for her to have her hair bobbed she will let it grow. Anyway, the hairdressers say that bobbed hair is going out of fashion. DOROTHY DIX.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is as more pleasant to take than soda.

Picturing Three of Dame Fashion's Whimsies

By MME. LISBETH

ALTHOUGH the business of designing clothes for women is serious enough, Dame Fashion has her whimsical moments when she turns our fanciful things—usually very lovely and colorful but exotic.

In the picture above three charming whimsies are shown. At the left a chiffon voile chemise in soft floral shades with top and banding of rose satin. Very lacy types of lingerie are popular this season in lovely hand-made things. The laces used are marquisse, valenciennes, Alencon, grospoint and others.

Flash shades of lingerie seem the most popular, according to shop buyers, with reach second. Tailored varieties are all ways well liked and very good, and there is a line of batiste tailored things which is very attractive trimmed with embroidered motifs and edgings of net.

Mildly has escaped from the tyranny of the skirt not only in her sports clothes but in the boudoir. She sits herself in trousers of lovely fabrics which remind one of Arabian Nights tales. A negligee that surely got its inspiration from the East (center) is fashioned of salmon chiffon and silver tulle. The underlip with the trousers fits the body snugly. From the V-neckline silver lace extends, tapering into the inner lace of the trousers. A coat bound with lace, with flowing sleeves and a graceful train, completes the costume. It is worn by Marie Belmont.

A bathing suit, which would meet the approval of any beach comber, but would not be the choice of the active swimmer, is pictured at the right. Cream colored printed satin is the material used, with striped printed decorations. It has a string belt tied with long ends at both sides and beige stockings, maroon hat and cardinal shoes complete the colorful ensemble.

Printed linen and printed silk share the honors this summer in the gay bathing suits. A natural colored linen with a hand-painted design in brick colors introduced a novel effect in a wash panel of Nile green at the left side. A narrow shawl collar terminating in front buttoning and made of scarlet tulle to match a pocket trim provided a bright color note in a black and white printed silk suit. Matching sand clogs complemented both suits.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

THE slice of Spain that has been dropped into the very lap of Manhattan is a narrow rectangular strip, stretching from Hudson to 23rd street, between 6th and 7th avenues. The hubs are 14th and 23rd streets. It can be reached by a few minutes' walk or a short car ride.

Now, he who would see Manhattan's Spain must keep his eyes alert, for its glances are as furtive and concealed as those of a black-eyed senorita at her window.

Most of New York's "foreign colonies" have certain glaring characteristics that immediately hit the eye of the stranger. The Spanish district has them, but they are more subtle and restrained. That dignity that has been handed down to the Spaniard marks his Manhattan headquarters.

Again, most districts of New York have at least one eating place or coffee house, commercialized for the tourist and known to the veriest taxi driver.

The marks of "little Spain" are architectural and the exterior are cold and aloof. This is, perhaps, the outstanding characteristic.

But if one is accepted as a guest, there is hospitality there that is found in few places.

CURTAINS hide the cafes, coffee houses, and even many of the stores.

At night the windows do not blaze with light. Many have refused to accept electricity, and kerosene lamps may be found in innumerable residences.

FEATHER FRILLS FOR THE DRESS-UP PROCK

By Marie Belmont

Have you ever heard a girl lament not being able to go to a dance because she had no good-looking frock? And no money with which to purchase one?

Here is the answer to that problem. Two straight pieces of orchid crepe de chine are stitched together down the sides. Both ends are left open. The upper end is bound with pink ribbon, also the circles which are cut for armholes. Two narrow bands of ribbon hold the front and back of the necklines together.

A square of the orchid crepe de chine is bound with the pink ribbon. Then it is stitched at the front of the frock, allowing the ends to fall loose. This panel is repeated at the back.

The dress-up appearance is given by the creases of curled ostrich in a delicate shade of pink.

Eyes Injured by Heat and Glare of Sun, Says Doctors

Recommend Simple Home Treatment, and Often Strengthens Eyes 50% in One Week

Eye weakness, strain, squinting and irritation caused by exposure to heat, sun-rays, smoke, dust or wind—all can now be easily prevented or overcome. For eye specialists have perfected a simple but amazingly effective treatment, which instantly relieves all discomfort, sharpens vision and often makes glasses unnecessary.

This treatment is known as the Bon-Opto system and is now being prescribed by physicians and eye specialists everywhere. It is based on the latest scientific discoveries. Scientists have recently found that 90% of all eye troubles are due to weakness in certain little muscles which adjust the eye.

Eye-diseases alone will not strengthen these muscles, but the Bon-Opto treatment goes direct to them, heals and tones them, and soon restores them—and therefore, the eye—to their old-time strength and vigor.

Don't neglect your eyes. The burning and aching felt after an auto trip, a movie, close work, are important danger signals. Yet every irritation and discomfort can usually be instantly banished by a Bon-Opto eyebath, and more serious trouble prevented.

Bon-Opto should be in every home. You would not think of neglecting your brushing your teeth. Yet your eyes, too, need constant attention.

Get a package of Bon-Opto today. Your eyes are guaranteed. Return money back without question if you are not delighted and amazed with the improvement in your eyes and sight. Bon-Opto is sold by good druggists everywhere.

BIRTHPLACE OF BURNS VISITED BY TEACHERS FROM NEW BRUNSWICK

Reception Given Party by Edinburgh University; Drs. Gaston and Cox Meet Mother of Lord Beaverbrook at Hotel

EDINBURGH, Scotland, July 12.—The forty New Brunswick High School teachers touring Great Britain as the guests of Lord and Lady Beaverbrook, reached Scotland's capital today after a motor trip of 200 miles along the shores of Loch Lomond, Loch Katrine and the rough enchanting Trossachs Hills.

Favored by beautiful weather the tourists have taken in every point of historical importance in the country. Before leaving Glasgow they made a journey through the country which Robert Burns made famous and they were also privileged to enter the little single storied plaster cottage where the Scottish bard was born.

Last night was spent by the Canadian visitors in one of the hotels at Glen Eagles and today the remainder of the day at a garden party for an hour in the famous Stirling Castle towering above the battlefield of Bannockburn, they came on to Edinburgh, the birthplace of Mary Stuart.

On arrival here they were honored with an official reception at Edinburgh University, where they were met by Sir Alfred Ewing, vice-chancellor, the principal of the university and other professors. They were entertained for the remainder of the day at a garden party and official dinner.

A moving incident this evening was the unexpected meeting in the lobby of the Caldonian Hotel of Mrs. Alkin, the aged mother of Lord Beaverbrook, and two veteran members of the party, Dr. F. P. Yorston, of Montreal, and Dr. Phillip Cox, of Fredericton. These two tourists were the last school teachers of Lord Beaverbrook before he, as a boy of 15 years, left the little high school of Newcastle to make his way in the world. Almost overcome with emotion they embraced Mrs. Alkin who, despite her advanced years, had motored the long distance from Peebles Shire to see her old acquaintances.

Enjoyable Fourteen Days Outing at Beasley's Point Comes to End

The Girl Guides' camp at Beasley's Point, at which the third and fifth Saint John troops and the first Rothersey company have been enjoying camp life for the past 14 days, came to a close yesterday. The campers were brought to the city yesterday afternoon on the river steamer Majestic.

Miss Irene Barber of the fifth troop, Miss Margaret Anderson of the third company, and Miss Ruth Starr of the Rothersey Guides, were in charge of the camp, and the weather experienced was fairly good.

R. Crookshank and F. J. Punter, officials in charge of the St. David's church camp at Holder's Point, visited Beasley's Point and examined the Guides for their boatman's badges. John Kimball held the examinations in woodcraft. Mrs. Van Dusec officiated at the camp. All these were 51 Guides at the camp.

MOTION FOR NEW SCHOOL DEFEATED

Kane's Corner Project is Given Hoist at Silver Falls Meeting

At a largely attended meeting of the board of trustees and ratepayers of the Silver Falls district, held last night in the Silver Falls school, the advisability of building a one-room school at Kane's Corner for young children was discussed at length. The motion that such a school be constructed was voted down 11 to 8. A committee consisting of William Mackin, chairman, Fenwick Foley and Mr. Ingraham were appointed to go further into the cost and advisability of such a structure and report back to the ratepayers and the board.

Henry Shillington, who has served a three-year term on the board of trustees, retired and William Jackson was elected to succeed him. An appropriation of $800 for the maintenance of the Silver Falls school for the ensuing year was approved.

As $200 is owed the board of trustees by taxpayers of Silver Falls the meeting decided to take action against them if payments are not made after 30 days' notice has been given.

Mr. Shillington presided at the meeting. The board of trustees is now composed of William Mackin, Thomas Alexander and A. E. Josselyn.

LIBRARY IS PRAISED BY DR. J. C. WEBSTER

Terms it One of Greatest Assets of Saint John; Staff Lauded

Richard O'Brien, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the Saint John Public Library, has received the following letter from Dr. J. Clarence Webster, of Shelburne, who has presented a portrait of Governor Thomas Carleton to the institution:

"A few weeks ago it was my privilege to present to the provincial building at Fredericton a portrait of Thomas Carleton, first Governor of the province.

"When it was painted a smaller replica was made for me. As the Governor began his career in New Brunswick in the employ of the city of Saint John, I have thought it might be interesting to a number of our citizens to possess this replica. I therefore beg to offer it to the Free Public Library, to be hung in one of the public rooms.

"I do this as a mark of my appreciation of the splendid service which is rendered to the community by the library, and because of the many courtesies which I have received at the hands of Miss Vaughan and her very competent and obliging staff.

"Your institution is one of the greatest assets of Saint John. Its work is capable of great expansion. It is worthy of the city's strongest support."

ADMITS BEING ON TRIP WITH
MRS. MOULTON

Former Bear River Doctor Tries to Have Investigation Stopped

Dr. Lorne Wilborne Harris, of Cliftondale, Mass., formerly of Bear River, N.S., admits that he was the companion of Mrs. Gertrude Berry Moulton, sister of Clifford, on the motor trip which ended in a crash at East Machias, Me., that caused the death of the comely young matron three days later at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

The statement was made in the presence of the doctor's wife, to whom he declared he had "made a clean breast of everything" and who, he said, "is sticking to me loyally."

INSISTS ON JUSTICE

Declaring that Dr. Harris had come to him after the fatal crash with a confession that he, the family physician, and Mrs. Moulton, his attractive patient, had been infatuated with each other, and that their love was so great they could not resist it, Mr.
Moulton, the bereaved husband, asserted that he is "going the limit" to bring to justice this man who has broken up my home."

Obviously torn by bitter resentment and grief, Mr. Moulton declared Dr.
Harris had attempted to persuade him to drop any investigation and legal action, on the plea that publicity would "injure the memory of Mrs.
Moulton."

WERE IN SAINT JOHN

Dr. Harris' own admission and the several investigations of Mrs. Moulton's death, now under way, revealed that the middle-aged Cliftondale physician and his young woman patient had left Boston, June 22, as passengers on the steamer Prince George for Yarmouth, N.S. Dr. Harris had engaged state room 22, and had arranged for his automobile to be shipped on the same boat.

After arriving in Yarmouth, Dr.
Harris and Mrs. Moulton visited Digby, Saint John and St. Stephen, where they crossed the Canadian line into Maine, and they were on the way to Bangor in Dr. Harris' car when the collision with another car occurred in East Machias on June 28.

Before leaving Cliftondale, Dr. Harris went to the town clerk and secured the usual certificate of American citizenship, for use with the immigration authorities when he returned from Can-classmates as the most intelligent girl at the Sargent school for Physical wise crack that beauty and brains don't mix.

The certificate was made out by the town clerk at Dr. Harris' request for Dr. L. W. Harris and "Bessie Allen Harris, his wife."

Dr. Harris' wife's name is Bessie Allen. She did not accompany him on the trip, however, and during the entire time that he was away with Mrs. Moulton, Mrs. Harris was at their home in Cliftondale with their adopted child, Eva Harris.

MRS. H. BROWN
INJURED IN A MOTOR SMASH

Was Crossing a Street in Sussex When Struck
By Car

SUSSEX, July 12—The festivity of the Orangemen's celebration here today was marred when Mrs. Howard Brown, of Snider Mountain, about 12 miles from here, had a shoulder and two ribs broken and suffered contusions when she was struck down while crossing the street at noon today by an automobile belonging to a stranger whose name could not be ascertained.

The injured woman was taken to the residence of Harold Shields and Dr. E. T. Kennedy was summoned.
Dr. Kennedy ordered her removal to the Francis Sprule Hospital.
The night superintendent at the hospital reported tonight that Mrs.
Brown was resting as comfortably as could be expected and her injuries are such as not likely to prove a fatal narrow.

Mrs. Brown is about 35 years of age and has several children. A daughter, Pearl, was in town attending the celebration with her mother. It is expected that Mrs. Brown will be able to leave the hospital within a week.

Daughter of W.
Hawthorne Dead

Member of Order of St.
Dominic Active in Charitable Work

BOSTON, July 12—Mether M.
Alphonsa Lathrop (order of St. Dominic), youngest child of Nathaniel Hawthorne, died suddenly of heart disease in New York on Friday, missing by a few hours word of a legacy of $28-000 to her mother, Mrs. H. Lathrop, a victim of incurable cancer, the Associated Press reports. When the will of Mrs. Lathrop was opened, it was found to contain such a bequest to the daughter of her mother, who died in 1897. Mrs. Lathrop will be all-edly immediately called Rosary Hills and asked for Mother Alphonsa. "She died this morning," Mrs. Lathrop said.
Mother Alphonsa was Rose Hawthorne, sister to Julian Hawthorne and wife of George Parsons Lathrop. Her work in behalf of cancer sufferers earned the praise and support of men and women of all creeds. Last spring, soon after her seventy-fifth birthday, she received the gold medal annually awarded by the New York Rotary Club for outstanding service to humanity.

She married Mr. Lathrop in London as a girl of twenty. Literary endeavor filled their lives for many years.
They had three children, a boy, died in childhood. In 1897 they both renounced their Unitarian faith and became Catholics.
In 1897 Mrs. Lathrop left her husband to devote her life to the care of those afflicted with cancer. Her relations with her husband remained friendly.
He died suddenly in April, 1898.

LOOKS LIKE VICTORY FOR AUSTRALIANS

Visitors Have Scored 494 in First Innings to England's 203 For 8 Wickets

LEEDS, Eng., July 12—The barometer of England's cricket hopes sank with astounding rapidity today.
From the buoyant expectations of a comforting match in which it was anticipated that England would again exhibit perfect form against the visiting Australians, the feeling among the followers of the game has degenerated to a point where they figure that England will be fortunate indeed, if she emerges from the third test match with a draw. The question tonight is: Will England save the follow-on?
Australia's score stands at 494 in the first innings and England's total is 203 for eight wickets. With the eternal of only two batsmen to fall, England is faced with the task of getting 142 runs in order to stave off the order to continue for a second innings.
What this might mean for the home country is too serious for the cricketing public to contemplate. At the best it means an inglorious draw; at the worst, an overwhelming defeat.
For England's Greasy Mackay are at bat with Strudwick to go. The Australians are 291 runs to the good.

SALMON COME BACK TO POOL AT BANGOR

BANGOR, Me., July 12—After the phenomenal run of salmon at the Bangor pool diminished from 85 to 30 fish caught on the 11th day, to one for all for the past ten days, the salmon has appeared again and the fishermen are back on the pool. Although the catch is now four or five a day, that is considered good sport in normal years. The season ends July 15.

ROBBIE READS
THE "RIOT ACT"

Brooklyn Players Jacked Up
By Manager—Other Results Yesterday

NEW YORK, July 13—Players on the Brooklyn team of the National League are not wanted by other clubs of the circuit and will not be wanted by Brooklyn unless their playing improves immediately.
This announcement was made recently by Manager Robinson, and the reading of the "Riot Act" remained a secret for a couple of days. Yesterday it became the property of the public prints, and there was a noticeable change in the Brooklyn brand of ball, for they defeated the Cubs 5 to 0.
Four teams are below Brooklyn in the National league standing, and the leading Reds are only four games ahead, so it would seem that Robbie reads that his club is of championship calibre despite ten waivers which he claims to have in his pocket. And the team is in its high position despite infidelities at the start of the season and the recent illness of Vance.
Dasey started the game against the Pirates, 9 to 8, after they had taken four straight games from Cincinnati.
Heavy hitting in the early frames gave Cincinnati a 7 to 6 margin over Philadelphia, although Risley was compelled to retire in the eighth when Grimes and Nixon and Helme doubled in succession.
The Braves beat the Cards 8 to 6.
Jim Bottomley registered a circuit drive, placing him in the lead with Chicago for the league leadership.

WHEAT TRIES YANKS

Uble, big Cleveland right-hander, pulled the Yanks for the second time in the series and won the odd game for Cleveland, 6 to 2.
Washington and St. Louis went 10 innings, with the Senators on the winning end, 7 to 0.
The final of the White Sox-Mackmen series went to the former, 5 to 6, Collis helping with a homer, while Mostil fielded sensationally.
Collins and Daus, of Detroit, aided by terrific hitting from Maunah and Fothergill, stopped the Red Sox 5 to 2.

WOULD RANK HOFF
AS A PROFESSIONAL

Coast Official Says Appearance
on Stage Should Bar Him World Over

LOS ANGELES, July 12—Charles Hoff of Norway, world's champion pole vaulter, should rank as a professional, as a result of a stage contract, in the opinion of Robert S. Weaver, president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union. This rating, Weaver said, would bar Hoff from further amateur competition in any part of the world.
Hoff has been appearing in a dance-ing bill for some time, but yesterday he added vaunting to his act. On being informed of this Weaver said: "If Hoff appeared on the stage and actually vaunted he has broken not only an amateur rule, but an international code as well, and will be barred from the next Olympic games."
When informed of Weaver's statement, Hoff said he had come to the point where said to have money and he does not care whether the A. A. U. rules him a professional or not.
The A. U. barred Hoff from further competition in America last spring following his failure to compete in a San Francisco meet. He said he was ill and out of condition and could not enter.

A. A. U. WILL NOT ACT.

NEW YORK, July 12—Regardless of whether Charles Hoff has added pole vaunting to his stage work, the Amateur Athletic Union will not undertake officially to declare him a professional, according to Secretary Fredrick W. Rubien.
"Hoff's status with the A. A. U. is a thing of the past so far as the Union is concerned," said Rubien. "We have barred him from competition in Norway. He has received a complete, detailed record of his case."
"The A. A. U. will not declare Hoff a professional. That action will be intrusted to the Norwegian governing body in tract and field sport. We feel that the decision as to whether or not Hoff is a professional must come from the authority having direct jurisdiction over the athlete. But, in the meantime, Hoff, while in this country, will not be permitted to engage in amateur competition."

GIANT BONE THROWS VILLAGE OUT OF JOINT

Bavarian Town Hugely Excited Over "Pre-historic Find."

By LUDWIG POPPER United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, July 12.—This is the tale of a marvelous bone that threw a whole Bavarian district out of joint. The little medieval German town of Neustadt in Bavaria decided to modernize itself and to acquire a sewer system as a first step toward this end. A gang of workmen at once started to dig, and during the excavations a worker discovered an object, which, after long discussions, was pronounced by the foreman to be "a bone!"

The head foreman was called, the assistant engineer was aroused from his afternoon nap, and the entire congregation decided to bring the bone to the town hall and lay the whole matter before the burgo-master and the municipal council. This they did; a special session was called, and the burgo-master, who was known to possess the acutest brain of the town, carefully inspected the bone, did some hurried but deep thinking and passed along the relic to be the thigh bone of a prehistoric human being of gigantic dimensions.

THE FEAST. The news of the wonderful find spread over the town. Crowds besieged the town hall, demanding a peek at the venerable relic. The general excitement grew until the burgo-master, in order to calm his flock somewhat, decided to celebrate the historic event by the customary beer feast dear to all German hearts, to be held the same evening.

At sundown, the assembly room of the town hall was thronged with the elite of Neustadt. Countless tables of beer decorated the tables, and the town constable was kept running with new batteries to quench the thirst of the enthusiastic burghers. At the height of the celebration, the burgo-master got up and delivered a stirring address, carrying the audience to ecstatic heights.

"This bone," he said, "will carry the glory of our town through the whole world. New York, London and Paris will envy us our possession. Scientists will throng before our gates. Gentlemen, our bone, the pride of our town—Hoch, Hoch, Hoch!"

The frantic applause had scarcely died away, when a sinister stranger entered the hall and approached the high seat of the burgo-master with determined steps.

"I," he said, with an ominous frown, "am the representative of the country railway. This bone has been discovered upon the premises of the railway, and is therefore its property. Hand it over!"

The assembly was speechless. But only for a moment; then, thrusting forward, a burgo-master's hand took a good grip on the speaker's arm, and the burgo-master, with a look of triumph, declared the familiar noise of chair legs being wrenched off was distinctly heard.

But the burgo-master had the spirit of Locarno. He did not want war; he was past that age. Therefore he decided to let the infuriated defender of the bone with a battery of fresh beer kegs and persuade the speaker to be wrenched off on his side, to leave the decision to the courts.

TRANSFERRED TO VAULT. Finally, this was agreed, and the bone, which had become a real bone of contention, was transferred with due honors to the vault of the town bank, there to await its fate properly guarded by the Schutzens Verein.

Now it was up to the courts. In consideration of the importance of the case, the courts started to work and after a year or so it became known that the first hearing of the case might be expected in a few months, thanks to the courts' special efforts to rush the matter through.

But just at that time, the fame of the bone had been spreading far and wide—a scientist happened to visit Neustadt, and the burgo-master was glad of the chance to display the town's treasure to somebody able to appreciate it to its fullest extent.

The scientist looked at the bone, then he looked again, and smiled. "What's the matter?" the burgo-master asked him anxiously. "Don't you think that this bone might have belonged to one of my prehistoric ancestors?"

"It might, at that," replied the scientist. "It is the leg bone of an ox."

The "Charleston leg" has hit London.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Like Two Peas in a Pod

For 65 years Otto and Alfred Erickson, twin brothers, have lived and worked together—and they never had a quarrel. Their lives have been remarkably similar. Born in Sweden, each married a Norwegian girl in the same year; each has seven children; each follows the trade of painting and paper hanging; they live on the same street in St. Paul, Minn.; neither has ever seen an omv or been to a dance. And both read their Bibles religiously every night.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, July 12.—Monday, particularly after a storm opening, is usually a day of reaction or irregularity. Yesterday was no exception, although both rail and industrial averages showed good gains for the day. The chief reason for this seemed to be the chief reason for the irregularity. No news accompanied this selling, except development of two new oil fields which will tend to increase production. It is doubtful if these two new discoveries have much to do with the selling of oil securities. What seem most likely is an over-bullied condition in the oil which rendered them susceptible to bearish attack. We believe the good oil is better purchases than sales. General Motor continued its sensational advance and we expect it to sell at higher prices. Steel is slightly backward and may be backward until after the meeting this month. We think it is a purchase at this price and believe it will sell higher this year. Southern Pacific continued its advance and we still think it will sell at 115. We think 20, N. Y. C., Atchafon, Pictou, New Haven, U. P. and Nor. Pacific will sell higher.

Exhibition Board Hears Good Reports

Splendid reports on the prospects for the 1926 fair were presented by the various committees at the regular monthly meeting of the Saint John Exhibition Association directors this morning. The meeting was held at the grounds, and those present made an inspection of the work done to date. They expressed themselves much pleased with what had been accomplished in the way of improvements to the grounds and buildings and the outlook for a bumper show.

All letters going through the Saint John post office from now until the annual show will carry a reminder that it is coming. Yesterday there was a new cancellation stamp placed in use, and this carries the date of Exhibition opening and closing.

Composed at a Bad Corner. (T. R. in Boston Transcript.)
I gaze across the street so wide,
I start, I dart, I squirm, I glide,
I trust to eye and nerve and limb;
I scout to right, I gallop through,
I'm here and there, I'm lost to view,
My life, I know hangs in the toss—
Another plunge, I am across!
Oh, give me pity, if you can
I'm just a poor pe-des-trian.

GIRLS HELP ORPHANS

Two little girls, Eleanor Larsen and Doris Kunitzky, held a bazaar on Saturday afternoon at 311 Princess street, and realized the sum of $6.50, which they handed over to H. Usher Miller for the benefit of the destitute little ones in the care of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphan's Home.

Condition Jells

SUMMER is crowded with fascinating possibilities for fun in the great outdoors—if you are fit. So get in condition—and keep in condition! Nature meant you to be keen for work and play—full of the joy of life.

Fitness and vigour are largely dependent on inner cleanliness. In other words, you must avoid internal sluggishness. And the way of all ways to do this is through the gentle aid of Eno's "Fruit Salt"—just a 'dash' in your morning glass of water. Try Eno for a couple of weeks and you will know what it means to be in real condition—ready for the toughest game or most strenuous job.

Just one warning—do not expect ENO results from anything except Something Worth Remembering!

A LITTLE rubbing of grease spots with solution of ammonia, and a smoothing over with a hot iron isn't going to renew clothes that get strenuous wear!

Dry cleansing that is worthy of the name is backed by a knowledge of fabrics and a thorough understanding of chemicals.

At this plant we are busy constantly renewing men's and women's things—making those small repairs that save buying new clothes—

DELANEY'S BEST CHANCE RESTS ON MAKING AN EARLY ATTACK

BOXER AGAINST FIGHTER, SAYS GOTHAM WRITER

Canadian Should Get Jump on Opponent Early in Bout—Both Ready

NEW YORK, July 13.—Appropos of the Berenbach-Delaney uprising at the Herald-Examiner night, Harry Cross in the Herald-Examiner says that the situation slimes down to Berenbach's left on the one hand, and Delaney's right on the other.

There will be numerous other blows, obviously, aside from these two particular weapons, but it will undoubtedly be Paul's left or Jack's right which will distribute the sleep poison, if any are distributed.

BOXER VERSUS FIGHTER If each were permitted to go ahead and fight his own particular light unadvised the outcome would be a real puzzle. But that will not happen. Defense is going to upset the best laid plan of attack on the one hand, the contestant who is going to prevent the other fellow from using his favorite method is going to have the advantage. The one who can "take the play" away from the other will be on top.

It will be the boxer against the fighter. And in the case of a boxer who can also hit hard, as Delaney can, there should be a point in his favor. With his advantage in speed, Delaney should be able to get a decided jump on the champion early in the bout.

Over a long series of the style of Berenbach would be a decided advantage. But in this era of bouts of limited duration, concentrated action is essential. Delaney is the best example of synthesizing tremendous action in the first few rounds.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Paul Berenbach and Jack Delaney are ready for their fifteen round combat Thursday night. From now until the time Berenbach parts the ropes to risk his crown both men will work only enough to retain the perfect condition they have gained by weeks of effort.

Delaney supporters predict that the French-Canadian will win the bout and his opponent's vulnerable spot and early in the fight. The fourth round is widely regarded as the decisive one, for once he stopped Berenbach in that frame and the second battle he knocked him down, Berenbach is following asserts that the champion's improved style will forestall any such attacks as he has experienced before and that his aggressiveness and ability to stand punishment will give him the decision he is said to knock out his opponent.

FOSTER REPLIES TO CRITICISM ON TRAIN SHED

Says Discussion in Council Not Justified by Facts of Case

THE CORRESPONDENCE WITH APPLETON GIVEN

C. N. R. General Manager Says Plans Being Hurried for New Construction

Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster said this morning that he felt the discussion yesterday morning at the committee meeting of the council in regard to the non-fulfillment of the promises made by Sir Henry Thornton to determine at this point was hardly justified by the facts of the case. He pointed out that work had already been done on the removal of the rock at the Pettigall wharf and plans were now being prepared for the new train shed.

REPLY RECEIVED

Yesterday, when he arrived home from a holiday trip, he found the following letter awaiting him: MONCTON, N. B., 29th June, 1926.

Dear Mr. Foster,—Replying to your letter of the 22nd instant, inquiring how near we are towards active work being commenced in connection with the foundations for the new train shed at Saint John.

The work of boring to determine what foundations would be necessary has been completed and the information forwarded to Moncton, where the foundation plans are now being prepared. In some cases the boring extended to a depth of 80 feet and the character of the foundations required is so difficult that it will require a great deal of study. I understand, however, that everything possible is being done to hurry the plans and that when they are completed tenders will be invited for the work.

Yours very truly, W. U. APPLETON, General Manager.

CHAS. F. KNIGHT DIES SUDDENLY ON WEST SIDE

Was Prominent Boat Builder in Old Wooden Ship Days

SUCCUMBED AT WORK IN SAND POINT SHED

Was Life Long Resident of North End; Member of Fire Dept.

Another link with the old ship-building days in Saint John was broken this morning when Charles F. Knight, of 65 Portland street, one of the oldest residents of the North End, passed away suddenly while at work in No. 15 shed, West Saint John. Mr. Knight was born on December 20, 1854, and was a son of the late Benjamin T. Knight. In his younger days he was prominent as a ship builder, and he also spent a great part of his time at sea. He was then engaged with Miller, Rogers & Co., which was one of the outstanding firms in the shipping and boat-building life along the Atlantic coast. Recently he has been engaged with the government in looking after the repairs and upkeep of the terminal sheds at West Saint John, and it was while he was busy at this occupation that death came suddenly this morning.

WAS FIRE CO. MEMBER Being a life long resident of the North End, Mr. Knight was well known and enjoyed the esteem of a large number of friends. He also was prominent in Masonic circles, being years a member of Hibernia Lodge, No. 8. He also was a member of No. 3 Hook and Ladder Company in the North End for a long time.

Mr. Knight leaves to mourn three sons, Mr. Joseph T. Knight, of St. Charles, N. B.; Mr. C. Stachhouse, of New York, and Mrs. Harry Miller, of this city. Joseph T. Knight, of the shipping firm of J. T. Knight & Co., of Saint John, is a cousin.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but it is expected that it will be held on Thursday from Mrs. Miller's residence, 188 Douglas avenue.

WOOD LAKE CASE UP IN CHANCERY COURT

T. E. Nugent Brings Action For Trespass Against Fishing Club Members

The entire morning's proceedings in the Chancery Court, which opened today with Mr. Justice White presiding, dealt with argument of counsel in connection with the case of Thomas E. Nugent vs. H. H. McLellan et al., Wood Lake and the matter is being continued this afternoon.

Mr. Justice White, in a judgment rendered in reference to an application to have joined as defendants, H. M. Hopper, H. J. Sheehan, D. J. Corr, Henry Dolan and G. Murdoch, administrator of the estate of Martin R. Dolan, Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C. argued against the granting of the order.

ASKS INJUNCTION

Mr. Nugent is bringing the action on the ground of trespass, asking for an injunction to restrain the defendants from going on the property maintaining that they have damaged the property by breaking down fences and forcing other parts of the premises. The property involved in the suit is one on which the Wood Lake Fishing Club is situated and the defendants are members of this organization. The plaintiff claims to be the absolute owner of the property.

The defendants set up as to their right to enter on the land a claim that the late Martin R. Dolan, as a trustee of the fishing club, had secured a lease from Mr. Nugent, which, although expired, had a renewable clause in it. They accordingly took out limited administration of Mr. Dolan's estate to enable them to establish that he was a trustee in this matter for the club.

A special dispatch from Fredericton says that Stanley B. Ebbett, superintendent of traffic of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, with Harold Gay, of Providence, R. Mr. MacKeigan said this morning that conditions in the west are steadily improving and all indications were that bumper crop would be harvested this year.
