RESISTANCE IN RUHR COLLAPSING

French Premier Says Germany Controls Own Cure of Financial Conditions.

Danville, France, Sept. 10.—Speaking at the inauguration of a monument to the war dead yesterday, Premier Poincaré said that the resistance in the Ruhr which the Germans had counted on to discourage the French had been overcome little by little and now was beginning to collapse altogether. The speeches of the Premier after having covered the special object of the day's assemblage, dealt with recent declarations by Dr. Stresemann, Hans Von Baumbach, German minister of economics and Dr. Rudolph Hilferding, German minister of finance. M. Poincaré quoted Hilferding and Von Baumbach as saying that German financial recovery was possible only when the struggle in the Ruhr had ended. "If so," he said, "they control the Ruhr." They have only to cease throwing billions of marks into the Ruhr to encourage unemployment and let the free population follow their own inclinations as they only wish to reach and reach an understanding with deliveries due.

Osaka, Sept. 10.—After a week of supreme effort conditions in the earthquake region show remarkable improvement. The food supply in Tokio has been virtually assured, but clothing is wanted, especially in view of the approaching autumn season. PLAYS PORTER AND STEALS TWO GRIPS

Boston Thief's Clever Trick in Station Nets Him $500 Worth.

Boston, Sept. 10.—Impersonating the only white porter at the South Station, a clever thief walked away with two large travelling bags containing the personal property of Mrs. Leonard Lucas of Evanston, Ill. The contents are valued at about $500. Mrs. Lucas was returning from the North Shore. She went from the North Station to the South Station by taxicab, and was met at the South Station by a porter who took her bags into the waiting-room. These bags were similar to the ones used by Mrs. Lucas. About fifteen minutes later a man who announced himself as a porter entered the waiting-room, walked directly up to Mrs. Lucas and picked up the travelling bags. "Your train is ready," he said, and walked away with her out of the door of the waiting room. She was in a hurry and did not notice particularly the color of the uniform or cap that he wore, but was under the impression that they were similar to those usually worn by the South Station porters. The bogus porter took a sharp turn to the left while crossing the open space in front of the train shed and disappeared.

SEVEN U. S. DESTROYERS WRECKED

Part of Battle Fleet on the Rocks on the Coast of California.

TIDAL WAVE CAUSE?

Vessels Being Pounded by Seas and May be Total Wrecks.

(Canadian Press.)

Santa Barbara, Calif., Sept. 10.—Twenty-five sailors dead and fifteen injured, seven destroyers of the Pacific squadron of the U. S. battle fleet held fast against the rocks off Point Arguello Light, in the Pacific ocean between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

These are the outstanding consequences of the U. S. navy's major marine disaster in Pacific waters. The injured are being nursed at hospitals here; a train load of survivors is headed for San Diego, the naval base, while the seven ships are fast approaching total wrecks by the incessant pounding of the surf.

The fatalities were divided between two destroyers. Seven were on the Delphy and the others died on the destroyer Young, which turned overboard in one minute and 37 seconds after she struck.

The other destroyers, the S. P. Lee, Nicholas, Fuller, Chauncey and Woodbury, went aground in position which gave their officers and crews a better chance for their lives than was afforded the crews of the other craft.

Cuba's Passengers Saved.

The naval wrecks came while the destroyer Reno, a member of the cruising squadron, had left the cruising line, attracted by open boat loads of survivors from the wrecked steamship Cuba, a passenger vessel. The Cuba went ashore off San Miguel Island, off Santa Barbara county, 12 hours before, and its survivors were picked up by the Reno, with the exception of one boat load, which was picked up by the Standard Oil tanker W. H. Miller in the Santa Barbara channel, while its occupants were rowing out to sea in a dense fog, under the impression they were headed for shore.

Mistook Position.

The warships went ashore while cruising from San Francisco to San Diego Saturday night shortly after nine p.m. in a dense fog. Mistaken position in relation to the coast line is believed to have caused the crash. The destroyers were speeding through the fog, hugging the shore in single file formation when they piled up on the rocks from 200 to 500 yards apart about 800 yards off shore.

Result of Earthquake?

Washington, Sept. 10.—The theory that a tidal wave or other seismic disturbance, reacting from the Japanese earthquake, caused the disaster to destroyer division eleven of the California coast yesterday.

A message received at the naval department early today from Admiral Robison, commanding the U. S. Pacific fleet, said no movable material could be salvaged from the seven U. S. destroyers stranded on the California coast at Point Honda, until the heavy surf abated. The message did not refer to the number of lives lost. It read as follows:

"All survivors of stranded destroyers have been sent to San Diego by train and remaining by destroyers of movable material can be salvaged until heavy surf abated. Then will require protracted efforts. Commander destroyer squadron of battle fleet has been directed to remain in charge until further orders. Officers and men of Woodbury and Fuller reported saved. No further news."

J. A. GRANT, LTD. GET BRIDGE CONTRACT

Their Tender for Pokok Work Accepted—Tear Down Warehouse.

In committee this morning the common council decided to accept the tender of J. A. Grant Ltd. for the Pokok bridge, to authorize the expenditure of $18,697.89 by the Civic Power Commission for line material, to call for tenders for the tearing down of the McLeod warehouse and to refer back to the Civic Power Commission the matter of payment of extra cost on the steel structure at the sub-station.

Commissioner Frink recommended that a concrete retaining wall be built on the property of Andrew Shepherd, 110 St. James street, West Side, at a cost of $872, to be paid for from appropriation. Carried.

Commissioner Frink reported that the tender of J. A. Grant, Ltd., of $12,241.45, for the Pokok bridge, was the lowest, and he moved this tender be accepted. Carried. He also reported that this was $975.45 less than the estimate of the engineer for the work. The balance of the work to be done by the public works department, amounted to $2,440, and this brought the total cost to $14,681.45. All the other tenders exceeded the estimated cost. The estimate of cost was approved and payment by bond issue ordered. The expenditure of $18,697.89 by the Civic Power Commission for line material was authorized, provided the various contractors were required to make a deposit of 5 per cent. to ensure delivery on time.

The request of the Civic Power Commission for an increase of $241,024.68 in the bond issue to pay for the steel structure at the sub-station, was referred back for more information as to the item for increase in the price of steel between the call for tenders and the award of the contract.

Commissioner Ballew reported that it would cost not less than $6,000 to repair the McLeod warehouse and he moved that tenders for the removal of the building be advertised. He said he did not think the expenditure to repair it would be warranted. Carried.

Animal Rescue. The petition of Charles McFadden, protesting against the location of the Animal Rescue League in St. David street was taken up and action deferred. Commissioner Frink said that next year it might be possible to provide a shelter on the lot purchased by the public works department on the Marsh Road.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

Boston Symphony Sale Tomorrow

The personal selection of seats for the concert of the Boston Symphony Ensemble in the Imperial theatre Friday evening at 8:30 will begin at the box office tomorrow (Tuesday) morning at 10 o'clock. Many people prefer to make particular choices of their seats for an entertainment and for this reason the box office sale period has been lengthened to four days instead of two as usual with other kinds of attractions. Now that the exhibition activities are over and families are getting settled back into the city, also that the daylight time is set aside for another year, the wonderful concert programme provided by Signor Vanini and his Symphony soloists this week-end has a clean path in the thoughts of the people. The afternoon programme this year (8:45) is an opportunity for school children, collegiate students and the suburban public to enjoy the treat.

Imperial Theatre's Latest News Items

"Bella Donna," being shown at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow, has been a storm-centre for censors and producers. It was finally submitted to the Supreme Court of New Brunswick on appeal. This validated all contracts. It is one of Paramount's big pictures of the year, hence the determined fight to have the public judge it. Imperial Theatre is celebrating its tenth year as a new building this night and all attractions were selected with that point in view. The Boston Symphony engagement this Friday is the special treat, as it were. On Wednesday four acts of the great English comedy "Me and My Gal" begins. This is the much-talked-about British knockout as a fun picture. It has run for weeks at a stretch in the bigger Canadian cities.

BIG SHIPMENTS OF POTATOES HERE

Additional Facilities Needed — J. C. Chesley Takes Up Matter.

That larger facilities will be necessary to handle the potato shipments from this port during the coming season was announced this morning by J. C. Chesley, local agent of the Marine & Fisheries Department, on his return from Ottawa. From present indications potato shipments from New Brunswick will be larger than last year and representation has also been made to have large shipments from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island sent through this port. As the working capacity of the potato shed in West St. John was taxed last season, Mr. Chesley said additional room would have to be acquired immediately. With this end in view he is taking the matter up with the Public Works Department and has every hope of securing extensions.

With reference to the shipment of cattle, Mr. Chesley said he had given the matter consideration while on his trip to Ottawa. In Montreal he learned that the shipments had fallen off during the last two months and there was no way of telling how heavy shipments might be from this port during the winter. He explained, however, that St. John was well fitted for the handling of cattle and was in a position to take care of at least 4,000 head a month.

The Halifax Echo says—Work will start next week on the cattle sheds which are to be erected on the Government pier at Richmond. The sum to be expended on this construction work is $40,000, and as the work is to be pushed ahead vigorously it is expected that the sheds will be ready for shipping cattle during the coming winter. The decision to start the work immediately is an indication that the C. N. R. expects to do a big share of the cattle export business from this port during the winter. Vice-President Dalrymple intimated during his visit to Halifax that it was the policy of the railway to utilize this port for that purpose.

Child Is Drowned At Pictou Landing New Glasgow, N. S., Sept. 10.—Dora Shaw, three years old, was drowned today at Rustico Beach, Pictou Landing, about eight miles from New Glasgow. With her seven year old brother she had been playing on Townsend's wharf, and turning around to look at a scow coming up river, toppled into the water. Her brother secured a canoe, going to his sister's assistance. Noting her condition he ran to his home summoning help. The body was found in a few feet of water. Dr. Love of New Glasgow worked over the body but life was extinct. The child is the youngest of a large family who live at Pictou Landing, her father being a fisherman.

There was a discussion of "shoe week," to be held in St. John September 17 to 22. A strong committee on publicity was appointed. The week will bring the shoe lines prominently before the public for opening of the fall business. The meeting was fairly representative of the city dealers and those who did not attend are to be communicated with.

It was decided that at a later date there would be a further meeting of the boot and shoe dealers of the city, and still later the matter of a provincial association will be taken up. Manager Porter Unable to Speak of Exhibition Results Yet.

Utter desolation and the mass of refuse left behind by the departing exhibitors was all that was left this morning of St. John's 1923 Exhibition. H. A. Porter, general manager and staff were at the grounds today attending to some final wind-up arrangements. Mr. Porter said he would be unable to say how the show planned out financially until all reports had been presented.

Among the exhibits in the art section taking prizes, was that of Miss Helen M. Ryan, 60 Sydney street. Miss Ryan was awarded a first, for an original landscape, done in water colors. She has been doing considerable work for the C. N. R., for the illustrated booklets. Her sister, Miss Frances Ryan, took several prizes for needle work exhibits.

CAUSE & CURE A CAUSE MUST BE ADJUSTED. MADE RIGHT. CHIROPRACTIC

CHIROPRACTIC is based on fundamental, natural laws. The organs of the body are the motors, the nerves are power lines which carry vital energy or life to all parts of the body. Impingement or pinching of the nerves interferes with their life-carrying power and disease is the result. The Chiropractor adjusts with his hands the misaligned vertebrae and the impinged nerves are free. The flow of life enters the part diseased, normal functions are resumed and health restored. The Chiropractic way is Nature's way.

THE DAY'S NEWS.

The day's news contains three items of notable interest. That which directly and deeply interests readers of this paper is the announcement that the anthracite operators and miners have come to terms and the strike is virtually ended. The miners have gained substantial concessions, and the cost will be passed on to the consumers. The new contract will be in force for two years. In the meantime many consumers will no doubt look about for a substitute for anthracite which will be less likely to be cut off or boosted in price. If they fail to do so they will doubtless regret it two years hence.

The second important item announces the settlement of the Greco-Italian trouble. The Council of Ambassadors practically endorsed Italy's demands, and Greece has submitted, and has sent an ultimatum to Albania demanding that the murderers of the Italian members of the boundary commission be arrested and given up. The amount of reparations to Italy will be fixed by The Hague Court. Thus what threatened to be a very serious matter has been peacefully adjusted. The League of Nations will not be called upon to intervene.

The third interesting item in the news is the unanimous election of the Irish Free State as a member of the League of Nations. The recent elections have ensured the permanency of the Free State as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, and it now enters the League on the same footing as Canada, Australia and other autonomous states of the Empire, whose representatives will welcome the Irish delegates.

The Ruhr situation remains the chief obstacle to the recovery of Europe. France is determined to pursue her policy, and while rumors of collapse come from Germany her policy of passive resistance is steadily maintained. Other Powers would be glad to assist in an adjustment of the dispute, but are given no encouragement. While this condition exists it can only be said that matters are growing worse for the economic welfare of Europe.

A SPLENDID RECORD. The remarkable financial achievements of Great Britain in the last few years were very clearly set forth by Premier Baldwin, in a recent speech at the Mansion House, where he was the chief guest of the Lord Mayor and Lady May.

Special features of interest in New Brunswick this week will be the exhibitions in Woodstock and St. Stephen. Both towns have a high reputation in this regard, and doubtless quite a number of St. John people will take advantage of the opportunity to see one or the other under such favorable conditions. Next week the Fredericton exhibition will be a centre of great interest, as that city is greatly reduced from a large section of the province.

Though the summer is past, the city people who spend the summer months along the St. John river are reluctant to say good-bye to the pleasures of the season. Many were at suburban resorts yesterday, and many motor boats were on the river. The valley and hillsides were very alluring. As yet the tints of autumn are not seen in their full glory. Indeed there are as yet only hints of the glory to come. It was hard to believe yesterday that summer had really departed.

restoration of Austrian finance, and in that respect set a notable example to other nations. The Lord Mayor, in introducing Premier Baldwin, was able to say that the trade of the country had made some progress towards recovery in the last year, and taxation had been slightly reduced. The burden of taxation had been heavy, but without it could not have met their obligations in the way they had done and thus retained their position as the financial centre of the world. With the finances of some of the European countries in their present condition it would be unreasonable to expect international trade to expand on a very large scale. On this point the Premier said: "Credit alone cannot restore the trade of the world, cannot alone give us that export trade we need. For export trade, no less than for the home trade, whatever financial devices may be arranged and secured, all trade comes down in the end to there being a man in some country in the world who will buy what we make and, having bought it, can pay for it."

The first essential to an improvement in international trade is the settlement of the reparations question, and the longer it is postponed the worse will be the effect on that trade; but, while he recognized the truth of this, the Prime Minister asserted that British credit must be maintained. Speaking for the Government or not, our path as guardians of the public purse lies straight before us, and straight it must be for our successors. There is only one road to tread—the road of economy, of debt reduction, of sound, prudent, and careful finance, remembering that above and beyond all things for this country industrially, commercially, and financially, lies the maintenance of that credit of ours which carried us through the French wars of one hundred years ago, which carried us through the war from which we have just emerged, which is carrying us to-day, which will and must always carry our place in the front of the nations of the world, industrially and commercially and financially.

A nation cannot go far wrong when its leaders enunciate these principles and are supported by a people ready to make sacrifices that the traditions of their country may be maintained and every obligation squarely met.

President Beatty of the C. P. R. says that Canada's economic condition is slightly better than a year ago, but the public mind is apparently in a state of doubt, and that the turning of the crops into cash at fair prices is needed to bring distinct improvement before the end of the year. Mr. Beatty again lays stress upon the importance of getting more settlers in the country, and hopes for such action as will ensure a larger influx next year.

Hon. Mr. Meighen is campaigning in the west. Hon. Robert Rogers, in Toronto, has been urging an immediate Conservative convention. The results in recent provincial elections appear to have given new courage to Conservative leaders in the west.

The Social Service Council of New Brunswick has not hitherto been able to arouse as much interest in its work as is manifested in other provinces. Today's annual convention may prove the beginning of a more active campaign.

The gratifying announcement is made that the St. John exhibition will probably show a balance on the right side. Such a result would greatly encourage those who favor an annual exhibition.

The Royal Commission to consider the question of an embargo on pulpwood will hold its initial meeting in Ottawa today. Its investigation will doubtless occupy considerable time.

PASSING POMP.

(Cyril Fletcher.) Grieve not for the dying summer, Purple hills and scarlet pomp Decks the woodland for the passing; By the marsh and alder swamp.

Listen to the brook intoning! As the autumn swings along, Some the short chant will be ended With the reedings' joyous song.

See the nervous aspen shiver, In the cool wind from the North; Watch the squirrel and the chipmunk Carry beechnuts back and forth.

Now the loon is loudly calling; And the wild duck scents the Fall Over inland stream and mountain, Comes the swift and silent call.

Lovely are the ghosts of Summer, Clad in russet, scarlet, gold, Like the gowns of noble ladies, Passing through the courts of old.

Over field and dreary marshland, From the South there comes at last That strange wind of many voices, Telling all that Autumn's past.

LIGHTER VEIN. Just Drop In. Madge—I notice your aviator friend never stays long when he calls. Marie—No, naturally he only makes flying visits.

Beware The Hissus. The gap in the conversation is in danger of turning into a series of gasps. This Must Be the Summer Kind. Edith—I like an engagement with some snap in it. Maud—One that breaks easily, eh?

Object Attained. "What did you marry him for?" "His money." "And why do you want to divorce him?" "I've got it."

Welcome Visitor. Collector—I shall call again tomorrow and I trust you will be prepared to pay the bill. Everbroke—Yes, do drop in. It's a real pleasure to entertain an optimist like you.

One Thing Saved. "The burglar took my watch, my diamond pin, my pocketbook—in short, everything." "But I thought you kept a loaded revolver under your pillow." "I do—but he didn't find that."

SOME C. N. R. TRAIN SERVICE CHANGES. Canadian National Railways announce that after Saturday, Sept. 8, suburban trains 137 and 138 between Hampton and St. John will be discontinued.

Trains Nos. 39 and 40, between Moncton and Sackville will be cancelled after Saturday, Sept. 8, and will run only between Sackville and Charlottetown. This means that P. E. I. connections will be made at Sackville after that date instead of at Charlottetown. The Cafe Parlor Car will run to Moncton as usual on No. 14 train, but will return on No. 17, running evening meal for passengers between Moncton and St. John.

Sunday trains Nos. 49 and 50, between Moncton and St. John, will be continued until Sept. 23. After Sept. 23 the extra-first-class car on No. 51 train for suburbanites on the Valley Railway will be discontinued, and after Monday, Sept. 10, No. 242 train between Fredericton and St. John will operate on regular schedule on Mondays.

WRANGEL ISLAND. (From the Montreal Gazette.) The agitation for the annexation of Canada of Wrangel Island will be discouraged by the announcement that the Government has decided to effect that Allan Crawford, who was in charge of the party led by Stefanson in 1921, is dead with all his comrades, and that of the members only an Eskimo woman is left alive. The instructions given to Stefanson by the Government of Canada when he was sent north are not known. Whatever they were they should not have included authority to annex territory which another Government claims, which belongs to another continent, and which is of such inhospitable climate that it cannot sustain even the handful of men left to hold it. Four courageous young men have lost their lives in a venture that should not have been undertaken under the circumstances. Stefanson claims that Wrangel Island will be valuable as an air route station when the development of flying reaches a stage that will make it possible for passengers from northern Europe to travel to China, Japan and Asia more rapidly by going north over the Arctic waste and the pole than by taking the east or west course, and sticking to the temperate zone. The thing may be possible, but it will not likely come soon, and no more Canadian lives should be put in peril for the sake of the expectation.

SAYS "OLD SKULL" IS FREAK STONE

Expert Declares Find in Patagonia is but Nature's Freak.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 10.—The opinion of Argentine scientists that the alleged tertiary human skull discovered by Dr. J. G. Wolfe in Patagonia some months ago is not a fossil, has been confirmed here by Professor Elmer S. Riggs, paleontological explorer for the Field Museum, Chicago.

"That," said Professor Riggs, turning over in his hands the oblong stone object curiously impressed with human-like features, and which for the last two months has served as a paper weight on the desk of Professor de Benedetti, an archeologist, "that, as a fossil, is certainly a piece of bone. As a geological specimen it is a piece of solid sandstone, a natural concretion, queerly shaped, but not so queer as that. I've seen others like it. It's one of nature's little jokes."

Professor Riggs' examination ended two months' pursuit of the "skull" which began during his fossil hunting explorations in Patagonia when he received instructions from the Field Museum to investigate Wolfe's reported discovery, following the receipt by the museum of a letter from Wolfe asking employment in Patagonia as an anthropological researcher. For this, says Professor Riggs, he gave the scientific credentials which first won credence for his claim, which included letters from American, Canadian and German authorities.

INTENSIFYING THE PROPAGANDA. (From the Hamilton Herald.) An editorial in The Montreal Star, contributed by Sir John Willison, is a sort of sequel to the "Whisper of Death" articles. Sir John scrutinizes the men of letters of national affairs and those in opposition, and he finds among them none—no, not one—who is capable of real leadership—no strong credentials, no trust to save Canada from the slough into which it is descending. All will be well, it seems, if some strong man would come from the front and demand that the National Railway lines be smashed and the railway system put back into private hands. That sort of propaganda waxeth.

LAW'S FAILURE IN OKLAHOMA

(Springfield Republican) The declaration of martial law throughout Tulsa county, Oklahoma, calls public attention forcibly to an extraordinary situation which, according to Gov. Walton, has existed in the state with varying degrees of intensity for two years. The governor's explanation of the necessity for the heroic measures which he has taken is somewhat confusing. Most of the acts of mob violence, as well as his proclamations of martial law, says, have been due to the widespread feeling that the local law enforcement agencies have no desire to enforce the law. The governor explains his failure to get results through the regular civil agencies. "Local officials are too often allied with these secret, lawless organizations," he says. "The impression seems to be that a majority of the officials are indifferent to law enforcement and that a minority, legally helpless on that account, help to promote lynch law to supply the deficiency. If this is the case the explanation still needs explaining."

Twenty-five hundred whippings, it is estimated, took place in Oklahoma during the past year. Many were never reported, partly from fear of disgrace attaching to disclosure and partly from fear of the vengeance of the mob. The governor and his secretary are careful to explain that no organization is guilty of the whippings, though the secretary believes that most of them "could be traced indirectly" to one, and there seems to be no doubt that the epidemic is general.

Why so much energy as is displayed by the infatuated devotees of lynch law cannot be directed to an orderly maintenance of the law that stands on the statute books remains a mystery. Repeated attempts at investigation, the governor explains, have been made impossible "because of the obstacles thrown in the way by all the local agencies." It would seem to an outsider that an overt act of this sort could be definitely located and the guilty head expeditiously removed. If the governor does not possess the power of removal, his obvious course is to go to the Legislature for that power. If the Legislature itself is so controlled by the lawless that it would refuse the grant of the power, Oklahoma is more serious than will easily be believed.

Meanwhile the governor's establishment of a regime of martial law is being challenged on legal grounds. Test of the situation in the courts may serve to get to the bottom of the trouble. Judged by ordinary statistical tests the state stands well in many departments concerned with efficient and enlightened government. Its ill-terrace rate is low; its educational system and institutions are well regarded; its churches are numerous. It seems to have a well-meaning and courageous governor. As matters stand he is undergoing a severe test as to his resourcefulness and judgment.

CANDY FOR MEN. (Los Angeles Times.) Nowadays the men are using almost as much candy as our fair ones. Confectionery sales in the Los Angeles district for the month of July amounted to more than $400,000 in real money. Of this a heavy proportion was bought by and for men. A woman who has grown rich making candy for men says that they like the buttery, salty and chewy kinds or those having strong flavors. They like their peppermint and wintergreen of full strength and they like caramels, butter-scotch and taffy. Even during their business hours they like to sink their physical teeth into some firm but conquerable confection while at the same time biting into some mental business problem of the day. Edison is a free consumer of candies and the late President Harding ate unashamedly of his favorite nut caramels. It may not be wise for men to eat liberal quantities of candy, but they are doing it.

A. M. Narraway, of the federal department of interior, and J. E. Browne, of the topographical branch of the department of national defence, arrived in the city yesterday on a joint inspection trip to various places in the Maritime Provinces. The field work of these two departments is carried on in conjunction in most cases and two such parties are now at work in the Maritime Provinces, one being located near Hampton and the other at New Glasgow, N. S. Royal Arcanum meeting tonight, Market Building.

ORIGIN OF TWO BITS.

(New York Tribune) "That'll be two bits," said the erudite barber as Cheevers climbed out of the chair and speculatively rubbed his palm over his chin. "But I'll blow you to a shave if you can tell me what two bits means and where the expression comes from."

The shop was empty except for Cheevers, and the barber hated to let a conversational opportunity slip by. "Thanks," Cheevers beamed. "Two bits is the common designation of 25 cents, which I save through your kind offer. It is used extensively in the South, where it originated, and still flourishes. I'll take a couple of cigars."

"Don't be hasty," chirped the barber. "You're only about a mile away from the right answer. It's true two bits is a quarter, but beyond that you're all wrong. As a matter of fact a bit is the American equivalent of the old Spanish real, which was used in California back in '49. When it disappeared finally it had become part of the language. When American silver replaced the real it was reckoned in terms of bits, which were worth 12 1/2 cents. Two of them made two bits, which equalled the American quarter."

"Difficultly arose when anything smaller than a quarter was produced in payment. The bit was the universal standard. Hence a dime was known as a short bit, and 15 cents as a long bit. Copper was taboo. If a customer bought a bit's worth of tobacco and gave the storekeeper a quarter he'd get a dime change. If he had a dime it would be accepted, but if he didn't he was penalized 2 1/2 cents. If you'll read the right book you'll find that Robert Louis Stevenson beat the bit game when he went to the Pacific coast. He solved the problem by taking his quarters to the post office where he bought 5 cents worth of stamps and got two short bits in change, which were every bit as good as one long and one short. And he made a nickel on the transaction."

"All right, you big stiff," Cheevers muttered, "I think you're lying, but I can't prove it. Here's your two bits." As he walked out of the shop he laid two dimes on the cash register.

It would be hard to see what use the budding Kluxer would have for logK.

ACCUSES MAID OF STRANGLING HER GRANDSON

Mrs. Rothenberg's Mother Attacks Her Following Conference.

Windham, N. Y., Sept. 10.—District Attorney Charles G. Coffin is confined to his home, having collapsed after the strain of a week, but investigation into the murder of seven-year-old Howard Rothenberg was taken up by William E. Thorpe, former Deputy Attorney-General and now a candidate for county judge of Greene county. Mr.

Coffin named his special assistant in the case when the doctor ordered him to bed.

It is probable that Mr. Thorpe will hold a public hearing where those who know anything about the slaying of the young son of the wealthy Newark, N. J., hat manufacturer, may give their testimony.

Mr. Thorpe entered the case to find a maze of conflicting stories, with recriminations and accusations flying between the central figures in the case. Anna Sobin, the 16 year old maid in the Rothenberg home, is the object of the wrath of the boy's mother, of his aunt and his grandmother. The three women, on the other hand, are reported to be on the defensive of accusations made by Charles Rothenberg, the boy's father, that they are not telling all they know.

The accusation was made yesterday in a long session between members of the two families. The conference became so heated that it was necessary for officers in the District Attorney's office to pull down the windows to prevent the conversation from drifting out to the ears of idlers about the court house. As it was, they heard enough to know that the Rothenberg household is not serenely united in the hunt for the murderer of the boy.

Feeling on the part of the Rothenbergs against Anna Sobin has become so intense that Sheriff Pierce, who believes her guiltless, had her moved last night from the Branaugh Hotel, where she has been staying, to his own home at Catakill. There the women of his family will care for her during the investigation.

After the court house conference yesterday Mrs. Anna Vogel, mother of Mrs. Rothenberg and Mrs. Litt, walked up to the maid, who was standing on the lawn of the hotel yard and, pointing a finger at her, cried out hysterically:

"You killed my angel. You twisted his neck. I wish my angel would come back tonight and strangle you."

A constable intervened as the elder woman attempted violence, and Sheriff Pierce locked the maid in her room at the hotel. Later in the evening he removed her.

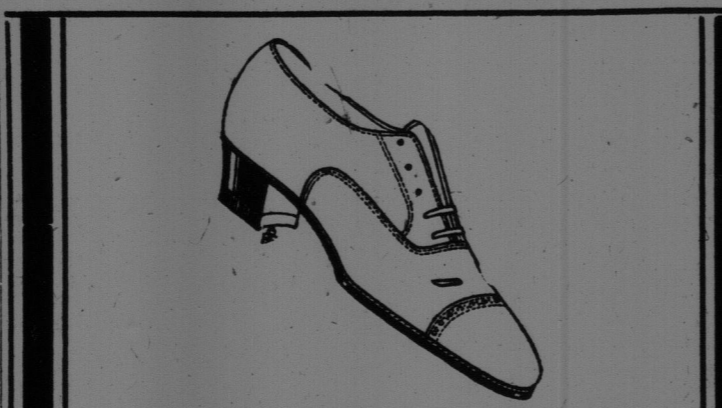

Mrs. Anna Seraphim, the foster mother of Anna, arrived in Windham yesterday, in company with Joseph Weinberger, also of Newark. He came as a friend to the young girl, he said.

"I have five daughters who play with Anna," he told the sheriff. "If she were not a good girl they would know about it."

STIRRING STORY OF SEA IN LOSS OF TREVASSA, KNOWN AT THIS PORT

Survivors Many Days in Small Boats; Here Last January.

Few stories of the sea, says a Liverpool, England, paper of recent date, tell of such patient and enduring courage in the face of dire misfortune and adversity as the Trevesa disaster, which was recalled by the arrival of the survivors in London. It was a fitting welcome which they received, and one which must have gone home to the hearts of the men, who have so wondrously added to the lustre of the annals of the British merchant service.

On June 11, during a heavy gale, the Trevesa sank, after battering in a typhoon off the coast of India. For some time it was thought all on board had perished, but it transpired that they escaped in the centre of the boat and reached shore. With death and disease ever stalking them, these gallant seamen braved the trials and agonies of twenty-three and twenty-five days respectively on the open sea.

"Splendid discipline prevailed throughout," said Captain Foster, and these few but pregnant words epitomize this stirring nautical achievement. The Trevesa, with her commander, Captain Foster, will be well remembered in St. John. Consigned to J. T. Knight & Co., she loaded here in January, 1923, for ports in New Zealand, and Australia. The Liverpool paper's story follows, under London date:—

The Story in Detail.

Here is the Liverpool paper's story under London date:— The Goorkha, with the survivors of the Trevesa on board, arrived in the Thames early this morning on her way up to Tilbury. Captain Foster and his gallant colleagues met with a great reception as the vessel slowly steamed up the river. Sirens were blown by ships anchored in the river, and the people assembled on the banks gave a rousing welcome to the men. When the ship got to Gravesend it was met by officials of the Board of Trade and the Union Castle Line and leading representatives of the Seamen's Union. All gave the survivors a hearty greeting. Learning on the side of the high ship the men seemed to be the least concerned of anybody.

When the Goorkha was finding her moorings in the centre of the river, dozens of anchored vessels screamed out their recognition of the gallant seamen. Apart from the official reception given by representatives of the Union Castle Line and officers of the Board of Trade, there had assembled on a launch, belonging to the Seafarers' Joint Council, a numerous gathering of members of the council and of relatives of the survivors. On board this small vessel were Mr. J. W. Moore (Vice-Chairman of the Seafarers' Joint Council), Mr. Sydney G. LeTouzel (Secretary of the Council), and other officials.

It was a touching sight as the relatives of the survivors, old and young, watched with anxious look the big vessel, as she came to anchor. "There's Charlie," shouted one woman in a state of excitement. Another cried, "Look at Joe; he don't seem a bit the worse for what he has gone through." There was a waving of hats and handkerchiefs as the little launch received the responsive shouts from the men leaning over the rails of the big ship. The watchers literally wept for joy, and when after a time the survivors came aboard the launch there was a hugging and kissing, and it appeared as though some of the women would never let go hold of their menfolk.

Master's Story and Tribute to Men.

In the course of his story of the suffering caused by the rigors of the journey on arrival at Rodrigues, Captain Foster paid a magnificent tribute to the discipline prevailed throughout," he said, "although the crew suffered considerably owing to the shortage of water, a third of a cigarette tin of which was taken daily. We ette tin of which was taken daily. We collected water whenever rain fell.

"I cannot add anything really to the story that you have already received given by representatives of the Board of Trade to let the public know what happened at the earliest possible moment. Everything really has been stated that can be stated as to our journey and our experiences aboard the boats. "I would like once again, however, to pay a tribute to the splendid conduct of the officers and the men. There was a wonderful feeling of comradeship amongst us. That feeling kept us up and kept us from giving up the hope that in the end we should all be saved. "I don't think any of us really last hope. A finer crew no skipper ever had."

Captain Foster, upon arrival, was interviewed by Captain Uren, the marine superintendent of Foster Hain & Co., who owned the Trevesa. Captain Foster's wife was unable to make the journey from Barry to meet her husband. The skipper, however, was delighted with the news conveyed to him that Mrs. Foster will be able to meet him at Cardiff. A wonderful tribute to the part played by Captain Foster and the way he kept up the spirits of the men was paid by the Trevesa's steward, Frank James of Penarth.

Questioned as to his experiences, he said: "Well, we have had a delightful passage home, and we are all quite well after our trying experiences." "Of a Press representative, he said: "Of course we had a terribly trying time, but we managed to cheer one another, and to lead quite a happy life. The way in which Captain Foster navigated through all the time. Three men died. Weather still bad." On June 24 Burke records the fact that the second engineer (Mr. Mordecai) fell overboard. "Getting pessimistic. It appears the milk is finished," adds the writer. He also states under June 25, "Poor old Starkey gone. God help us. We generally feel strong enough for another week or so."

The sickness of Joe Baptist is mentioned on June 27, and reference is made to the boat being swamped, and to all the crew being wet through. While rations are running low, a following day is struck on the following day. "Weather favorable," the entry commences, and later the good news is added, "Mr. Edwards rights land at 4:30 p.m. Thank God. Heading for the island. Breakers ahead."

The breakers were safely negotiated, however, thanks to the assistance of the fishermen encountered by the shipwrecked crew, and on the 30th the men were in hospital. The Second Boat. Mr. Bell, of Glasgow, who was in the second boat, told a Press Association representative that the crew in the second boat numbered 24 at the start, but 8 died during the long journey in the open boat and the cook (Alchin) died immediately after the shore was reached.

In some cases death was due to the drinking of sea-water and exposure. For the first day the rations remained untouched, but after that half a biscuit was served out morning and afternoon, together with a third of a cigarette-tin of water. "We had two small kegs of water at the start," said Mr. Bell, "but these were practically exhausted by the time we reached Mauritius. The biscuits lasted for only a few days longer. Officers and men shared equally in the rations, and all did their best to keep up the spirits of those in the boat during the journey, but we had latitude by means of a sextant.

"One idea was to get parallel with Mauritius and to continue along until we struck land." "How did you pass away the hours of waiting for land?" asked the Press representative. "Oh," was the reply given in an unassuming almost shy manner, "we chatted of what we should do when we got ashore. One night when we were pretty well soaked we sang 'Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag.' We were, however, unfortunate in regard to the weather, meeting big seas practically all the time."

"The first day or two most of the men were laid up with sickness, but

PRINCESS PREFERS TAXICAB TO ROYAL EQUIPAGE

(By Milton Bronner)

London. Late there has been stopping in London a pretty, bobbed-haired girl whose chief delights are to be a guest in a big hotel and then go sightseeing around town in an ordinary street-humping taxi.

When she's at home, she lives in a palace. And when she goes out, it is to ride in a state coach, in the fact she calls one of them "mamma" and the other two "Bessie" and "Marie."

For this favored kid is Ileana, Princess of Rumania, daughter of the royal rulers of that country and sister of the queens of Greece and Yugo-Slavia. Only 35 and big for her age, she is already known as the best-looking of all the royal girls of Europe. And the gossip mongers have been busy rumormongering her engagement to various sons of royalties, including the Prince of Wales.

But the "nothing doing" sign has been hung up not only by her royal parents, but also by Ileana herself. She says she is too young and besides there are a lot of things she wants to see before she settles down to the dull routine of some royal court. Amusement can give her life to let her come to London practically on her own. In fact, her only companion is her governess, Miss Marr, a staid, middle-aged English woman.

Because of this freedom and her own taste in travel, Princess Ileana sees more of real life in a big foreign capital than is usually vouchsafed to a princess anywhere in the world.

The boat was splendid, and it was he who enabled us after our terrible experience eventually to reach the land at Plymouth, was welcomed by two of his brothers, who had made the journey to Gravesend specially for that purpose. Asked to describe his experience he shyly replied, "I would rather not."

R. James of Liverpool also at first declined to say anything to the representatives of the Press. Subsequently he said that he was in the first boat with Captain Foster, and that one of the men in the boat was a pilot-fish and ham." James said that his motto was "Never say die," and added that he would be away at sea again in a few weeks; despite the fact that he had been in the water 15 times, having been torpedoed nine times, his love for the sea would never die.

Seaman's Story in Diary Form.

A graphic story of the experiences of the shipwrecked crew was contained in a diary kept by seaman named Burke, of Waterloo, Liverpool. Commencing on June 3rd he had written in this little book Mr. Bell covers something wrong. Loud noises heard. Very heavy seas. In communication with the Captain's boat. Waiting for the pilot-fish to be picked up. Heavy seas still running. Heavy swells.

Rations: Capstan tin of water and half a biscuit. Under the date of June 9 he records: "Captain decides to separate. Three good chemists. Good luck at sea again." Subsequently for three days calm weather is reported by the diarist, who adds, "Everyone very cheery; bathing and so on."

Then comes a distressing entry: "Fraser took ill. We noticed a pilot-fish in front of boat and a shark following. Still calm. Praying for relief." Later, Burke records the death of Fraser, and states that the pilot-fish and a shark have disappeared. In conversation with a Press representative, Burke explained that the crew stuck knives into the mast in accordance with an old superstition. The pilot-fish and the shark, he said, were supposed to appear when there was to be a death, and this was borne out by the death of Fraser.

Turning to his diary again, Burke reads: "Sixteenth. All in good spirits. Joe Abraham sick. Weather holding very pleasant. Joe Abraham died. Nineteenth. Burial service. God help us. Twentieth. Weather keeps us all wet

Regina Resident Praises Tanlac for Her Recovery

MRS. T. J. INCH

"Tanlac soon had me eating with a relish and my food gave me the proper nourishment," said Mrs. T. J. Inch, 187 Pasqua St., Regina, Sask., recently. "I had serious operation which left me with such a poor appetite I could scarcely eat anything and even the little I did eat seemed to give me no nourishment. My sleep wasn't at all restful and I couldn't gain back enough strength to do my housework."

"I've gained nearly ten pounds by taking Tanlac and am so well and strong I can do my housework with ease. Tanlac also helped my little three-year-old girl, and I've often thought of writing the company about my experience."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

and held our clothes for it. Apart from the water I think I may say that Mr. Smith, was the man who got us through alive. When we were a little bit distressed he started singing 'Now we are rolling home,' and all of us joined in the chorus. If anyone ventured to say he not so sure about it, Mr. Smith would reply: 'My dear lad, about a month from now you will find us telling the people what we have been up to.'

It was sad to see eight bodies thrown overboard one after another. Three of the men we lost were natives; they simply fell into a state of coma and were rolled overboard. Another day and I am afraid they would have seen the last of me. When our mast went we rolled the boat, and sometimes travelled about eighty miles in the day. It was a pretty stiff job. When only three miles from land we were about with the exception of those who died, fortunately all recovered, although everyone was weak on landing. "Our clothes by that time were in rags. On arrival we were treated very kindly, and were given excellent food. We were taken to camp at Vacocas, and there we met the others."

Mr. Smith, first officer of the Trevesa, when requested by a Press representative to relate his experiences, declined to do so, but remarked, "You can say that we have had a jolly good time coming home on the Goorkha. Every one has been very kind. Beyond that I cannot go."

A Survivor's Vivid Story.

A cheery young fellow named Seabourne, of Rochester, was met by his mother, she espied him from the deck of the little launch and exclaimed to another son who was with her, "Why he looks better than he has ever looked before when returning from a voyage. I have never seen him look better."

Somewhat shy at first, he told the following story: "I was rather ill, and they tell me that if we had not reached land when we did they would have had to throw my dead body overboard. But I got round all right when I got ashore. You see I was in the second boat with Chief Officer Smith, and we were the longest out by a mile. We were very short on rations, living on one biscuit a day; but our chief difficulty was to get water. We had some milk, but although milk makes one thirsty, still I think it saved some of our lives. The time seemed terribly long, and the weather was very bad. Of course, in one way that was to our benefit, as we were able to get rain water.

GREECE AND ITALY SETTLE TROUBLES

Both Agree to Accept Terms of Council of Ambassadors.

Premier Mussolini of Italy has made the announcement that Italy accepted the terms of the Council of Ambassadors and agreed to evacuate Corfu and adjacent islands when Greece satisfied all of Italy's demands for reparations. Greece has announced her readiness to conform to the decisions of the Council with reference to Italy's demands. The Athens Chamber of Commerce has rescinded a resolution to boycott Italian goods. It looks as if a complete settlement would be agreed upon and further provocative acts avoided.

The demands set forth in the Ambassadors note are:
First, formal regrets will be presented by the highest Greek military authorities to the representatives of the three Allied powers in Athens.

Second, a funeral service will be celebrated in honor of the slain Italian commissioners in the Catholic cathedral in Athens, with the members of the Greek Government in attendance.

Third, warships of the three Allied nations, led by an Italian naval division, will steam into Piraeus Roads the morning of the funeral service, and the Greek fleet shall salute the Italian, British and French flags with twenty-one guns, which salute shall be returned by the Allied warships immediately after the conclusion of the funeral service. The flags of the Greek fleet and the Allied warships will fly at half-mast throughout the ceremonies.

Fourth, military honors will be rendered by a Greek military unit with a flag at Brevens while the bodies of the victims are embarked.

Fifth, the Greek Government will undertake to insure all possible speed in the arrest and exemplary punishment of the guilty parties.

Sixth, a special commission composed of British, French, Italian and Japanese delegates, presided over by the latter, will control the inquiry or investigation instituted for that purpose by the Greek Government, which inquiry must be concluded not later than Sept. 27.

Seventh, the Greek Government undertakes to pay the Italian Government an indemnity, the amount of which will be fixed in summary proceedings by the Permanent International Court of Justice at The Hague. Greece meanwhile is depositing $5,000,000 lire with the Swiss National Bank as security.

R. K. Y. C. SERVICE AT MILLIDGEVILLE

For the first time in fifteen years, the annual service of the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club was held yesterday afternoon in the grounds of the club house at Millidgeville. The day, although not bright, was fair and still and was ideal for the outdoor service. A fleet of about eighty boats had assembled along the shore and every boat was dressed for the occasion, the gay pennants and flags making a very bright picture. Several of the Power Boat Club boats were with the yachts, a large number of people went out from the city to attend and the club house grounds were thronged with a devout congregation. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison, the chaplain of the fleet, who gave a memorable and inspirational address. The Imperial orchestra provided the accompaniment for the hymns which were sung with heartiness, and also gave special selections.

The service was to have been held at Sand Point at the close of the annual cruise on July 29, but rainy weather made it necessary to postpone it and following the precedent of about fifteen years ago when a similar fate was met with on the day when the cruise closed, the service was held at the club house at a later date. A very fine souvenir booklet containing the order of service had been prepared. During his sermon, Morrison referred regretfully to the absence of Morton L. Harrison who had been a faithful attendant at the club services and as a member of the orchestra had given splendid assistance. Mr. Harrison was unable to attend yesterday because of the illness of his wife and at the request of Dr. Morrison the congregation offered silent prayer on her behalf.

BOYS SENT HOME;

SMALL CHILDREN
NIGHT IN WOODS

Told That the Youth Need a Little Recreation in Life.

Springfield, Mass. Sept. 10.—Touring the world while a boy is still in short trousers is a difficult thing, according to Stanley Chrostowski, 16, and Peter Asapovich, whose journey from Claremont, N. H., was interrupted when they were arrested at the Union station as suspects.

Stanley's father came for him, and also took home Peter who, the father said, was the instigator of the trip of the boys. At first he refused custody of Peter, but, at the request of House Officer Horace Clark, he consented if the boy would turn all of his money over to him. He was afraid that he would run away again.

According to the boys, they have been made to work hard and have had little time to have a good time. Peter works in a bakery and had $50 when picked up. The younger boy had but $5. Before the father left, Officer Clark gave him some advice on the bringing up of boys. Said he, "Take Stanley on a trip once in a while. Let him go fishing. Remember that he hasn't grown up yet and needs a little recreation."

DECORATION DAY OF ODDFELLOWS

Remembrance of Brethren
Who Have Died—Graves
are Decorated.

The Oddfellows of St. John and Moncton yesterday observed decoration day and with simple but impressive ceremony placed floral offerings on the graves of those who had gone before. In this city the ceremony was carried out under the direction of Peerless Lodge No. 19, L. O. O. F. and in Moncton by Prince Albert Lodge. At the "Bend" the parade was led by St. Mary's band of this city, who also gave a concert on Victoria Square in the evening.

The graves decorated in the morning were as follows: at Fernhill cemetery: Henry Hilyard, Howard McMackin, H. A. Austin, Alexander Duff, R. E. Coupe, J. Court, H. Court, C. D. Wasson, William Campbell, J. H. Gray, J. Cummin, Alonso Chesley, William Christie, N. W. Brennan, R. McConnell, W. A. Moore, James Roster, Thomas Coram, P. C. Dunham, William Dunham, L. W. Lingley, C. F. Brown, James Napier, also Mrs. C. W. Seger, of Sapphire Rebekah Lodge, and the naval and military plots; William Searle, in the Methodist burial ground; R. In the afternoon at Cedar Hill cemetery the following graves were decorated: Harry Baker, Joseph Dryden, S. Morrell, S. P. Jones, W. D. McIntyre, G. M. Larkin, J. N. Parlee, Patterson Seely, R. There was a large attendance of members for the decoration and the ceremony was symbolic of the spirit of friendship, of love and of truth which constitute the three links of the chain of the order. The committee in charge of the service consisted of G. Ledford, W. A. Seger, E. C. Tremaine, A. H. Washburn, George A. Chase, W. J. Seely, M. D. Morrell, J. A. MORNING NEWS
OVER THE WIRES

Mon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, last evening disclosed any knowledge of a proposed merger between Molson's Bank and the Royal Bank of Canada.

A barn belonging to W. and R. Walsh, Chatham and situated near the town limits caught fire in some unknown way yesterday afternoon and burned to the ground. The loss is about $2,000.

In the office of the Minister of Finance this afternoon the first meeting of the Royal Commission to inquire into the pulpwood resources of Canada and to consider the advisability of prohibiting or restricting the export of saw pulpwood was scheduled to be held. R. W. McLellan of Fredericton and Joseph Sutherland of Clyde River, N. S., are members of the commission. A treatment known as the Spahlinger method has been hailed by some reputable medical men as showing great possibilities in the campaign against tuberculosis. It is a serum which has never been used in Canada. Dr. H. A. Farris, superintendent of the Sanatorium at East St. John, said yesterday that the method had never been looked upon very favorably by those engaged in the treatment of the disease.

Word has been received in Moncton of the death of Wm. C. Paver in Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Paver was formerly secretary of the C. N. R. Provision Fund Board and retired from the service in 1917. He spent his early boyhood in Halifax but lived in Moncton nearly 50 years.

FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN
BIG CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Peterboro Ont., Sept. 10.—A comprehensive survey of a campaign to be carried on by the Peterboro Rotary Club on behalf of the crippled children of the city, as planned by himself and Rotarians Dr. M. A. Morrison and Andrew Brown, was given at the weekly luncheon by Rotarian Dr. A. W. McPherson, Chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee. An effort will be made not only to correct the physical defects that would yield to treatment, but also to see that the children receive an education and are placed in occupations where they can earn their own livelihood.

Rev. J. S. Bonnell, the new minister of St. Andrew's church occupied the pulpit for the first time yesterday and delivered two highly instructive and edifying addresses. He referred in feeling terms to the very cordial welcome accorded him and Mrs. Bonnell and made a plea for co-operation in carrying on the work of the church.

BURGLARS SCARED AWAY BY GIRL

Boston, Sept. 10.—Burglars who entered the residence of Mrs. Catherine Foley, 61 Vershire street, in the Montclair section of Quincy, were frightened away when Mrs. Foley's daughter, Alice, investigated sounds in the lower part of the house. The thieves secured a platinum ring set with three diamonds, a woman's watch in green gold, and a gold pin set with a sapphire and two pearls. An attempt to enter the residence of A. J. Sangster, nearby, was frustrated when the owner turned on the lights in his house. It is also believed that the burglars were frightened away from the residence of Frederick B. King on the same street. The entrance at the Foley house was effected by means of a ladder through a kitchen window at about two o'clock. When Miss Foley went downstairs a flashlight was turned upon her, but she was unable to see the burglar as he was standing bound a portiere. She retained her presence of mind and returned upstairs unharmed to awaken other members of her family, and to notify neighbors. When help came, the burglars had gone.

The Family Milk Supply

CARNATION Milk is the only milk supply your family needs. It is really more, because it serves as both cream and milk.

Fresh from the can it has creamy consistency because about 60% of the natural water content has been taken away from it by evaporation, then sealed in the container and sterilized. Use it for tea, coffee, fruits, cereals and desserts.

By adding a little more than an equal part of water to Carnation Milk you have milk of natural consistency. You get "whole" milk—rich, wholesome and pure—for cooking, drinking—for every milk use.

There is no waste to Carnation Milk—it stays sweet in the can indefinitely—and for several days when opened. Order several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans from your grocer—the Carnation Milkman.

EYE CLINICS SAVE SIGHT OF CHILDREN

Health Department Reports Excellent Results of Conservation Work.

New York, Sept. 10.—The Bureau of Child Hygiene operates ten eye clinics which have 85,000 treatments to 25,000 school children last year, the Health Department reports. This included 10,000 examinations and treatments at eight special clinics to include for sight conservation classes. The clinics detect and treat contagious eye diseases of children, correct refractive errors, examine all candidates for sight conservation and blind classes of public schools and supervise the children's vision treatment and care if necessary. Children found by school medical inspectors or nurses to have diseased eyes or defective vision are sent to the bureau's nearest eye clinic, unless there already is proper medical care. "Close co-operation of the clinics with the school medical inspection staff, the Department of Education and various organizations interested in child welfare is a most important reason for the excellent results obtained, serving as a chain, some of which is always in touch with the child," says the report, which adds: "The treatments are most likely the main cause for the very great reduction in contagious eye diseases in our public schools. A true case of trachoma is rarely found in our schools today, and practically all cases found are cured in a few months. If not com-

Classes for partially sighted children in the public schools are called "sight conservation classes." Specially trained teachers and special equipment help the children to do the work of each individual child. The sight conservation class assumes charge of the treatment and care of these children's eyes, if that is not already provided by private physicians or institutions.

"The sight conservation clinic has wrought surprising improvement in the vision conditions of these visually crippled children, who, but for this clinic, would be uncared for in the great majority of cases," says the report.

"Correct refraction of these cases requires great skill. Many prescriptions must be made on microscopic test alone and many have been made with astonishing results, both in improvement and in development of vision as well as in restoring their normal sight."

"The children handicapped by crippled vision have been enabled to do the regular work of the normal child of the same age, and, furthermore, due to the superior mental concentration of the blind and partially blind, many are outstripping their normally sighted schoolmates. In the blind classes the Braille and other usual systems are taught. SWAT THE WHISPERER. (Toronto Globe). Beware the whisper and the whisperer. People in low voices are spreading their pessimism and poison throughout the land. Their efforts are being directed against the banks. Holders of hard-earned savings deposits are told secretly and confidently that their dollars are in danger, perhaps that a certain bank or banks are sure to suspend payment. Not a iota of proof is produced. The whisperer neither possesses nor needs proof to spread his propaganda and cause it to manifest itself where least expected. The men who have absolute and certain knowledge concerning the banks and their securities are the leading bankers themselves. They have issued reassuring statements based on their intimate acquaintance with present conditions. Where they have met the whisperers and the whisperers work in secret places, to which the statements from men who know penetrate but slowly. Unfounded and unmerited whispers of financial instability are "whispers of death," as unparliamentary and cruel as the worst of wartime Prussian infections.

VICTORIES MARK RING CAREER OF FIRPO, SEEKING CHAMPIONSHIP

Remarkable Career of Argentine Pugilist - Meets Dempsey Friday.

New York, Sept. 10.—(A. P.)—In the Argentine world heavyweight title at the Polo Grounds, September 14, came to Luis Angel Firpo, one of the strongest and most courageous, if crudest fighters, that ever walked on a resin sprinkled ring.

Luis Angel could talk American, except when money was mentioned, and it was several weeks before he gathered some of his friends about him and arranged a match in which he was to prove to some of the doubters that he could punch.

Sailor Masted, a rough heavyweight of the slugger type, agreed to meet the South American and they squared off in the ring of the Grand Athletic Club in Newark.

A little more than a month later, Firpo entered the ring in Ebbets field, Brooklyn, against Jack Herman, a Brooklyn light heavyweight.

Then Firpo, feeling that he had won his glory, returned to his native republic to receive the plaudits of his admiring countrymen.

Jack McAlliff, 2nd, of Detroit, fought and finally in his gymnasium work, was Firpo's next victim.

Firpo followed this triumph by an exhibition tour of the Middle West and East, meeting a variety of opponents, two of whom managed to stay the limit with him.

On Saturday afternoon a shoot was held on the local ranges by the St. John Fusiliers Rifle Club.

New York, Sept. 10.—The Cincinnati Reds pushed the Pittsburgh Pirates back into third place in the National League yesterday by trouncing them 8 to 3.

The Yankees took two easy games from Boston, 6 to 2 and 4 to 3. Babe Ruth cracked out number 34, while Witt circled twice and Scott once.

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY OBSERVED

Celebration in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gurney.

Hearty and well, and in the enjoyment of the company of a group of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gurney of Elliot Row, yesterday celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding. The observance of the notable event in the lives of the popular bride and groom of 1878 was carried out at the Log Cabin Club quarters at Loch Lomond, where the hours passed speedily and pleasantly.

A feature of the day was the presentation of a purse and many other valued gifts to the principals in the happy gathering. Among those present were: Mr. Gurney's brother, Willard A. Gurney of Abington, Mass., who came here for the celebration; Miss Forsyth, who was the bridesmaid (60 years ago); Miss F. Melaney, Mr. and Mrs. Gurney's daughter, Miss Genevieve Marry, Mrs. J. Jenkins, T. E. G. Armstrong, Miss Mary J. Armstrong, Miss Rachel Armstrong, Fenwick Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Potts, Miss Gladys Potts, Mrs. E. J. Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ritchie, Mrs. Winifred Ritchie, Robert J. Armstrong, Mrs. A. McGuire. On the evening of September 9, 1878 Mr. Gurney and Miss Mary J. Forsyth were married by Rev. Dr. James Bennett of St. John Presbyterian Church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Forsyth, 10 Pitt street. The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth C. Forsyth, sister of the bride, and the groomsmen were Samuel Wilson, tailor. Some forty relatives were in the wedding party but time has removed all from this world's activities, except the bridesmaid who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Gurney.

Mr. Gurney will be seventy-four years old in next January but, so light-hearted, he would readily pass for a much younger man. Born in Boston, he came here in 1869 from Cambridge and was engaged with Henry Conroy, barber, in Canterbury street. A year later he went with Richard Heffer in Germain street and a little after that bought out his employer. Mr. Heffer removed to Newfoundland. Mr. Gurney continued in business in Germain street, in the James Reynolds building near the corner of King street and was 34 years, at that stand. He moved in 1904 to his present location in Charlotte street next to Breeze's corner and there he has continued ever since. It is a notable record of sixty years or more steady application to his chosen work and 63 years proprietorship.

Mr. Gurney was for a long time a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and is yet a member of the Oddfellows' organization. He has always taken interest in the affairs of the day and has been a keen follower of sporting events. His good fellowship has won him staunch friends and they number many who will read with pleasure of his golden wedding and wish many more happy years for himself and his companion of fifty years.

JEWISH NEW YEAR

Sundown this evening will usher in the 5684th year since creation, according to the Jewish calendar and will mark one of the most important occasions in Jewish religious life. The ceremonies, connected with the new year celebration will commence at sunset and continue for two days, although the period of prayer and church services ends with the Day of Atonement, 10 days afterwards.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "those crows in the spruce trees were rather garrulous early this morning. I could have wished for a little more lumber, but they had other intentions. I thought at first they were quarreling, but really believe they were aware of my visit and wanted me to see the beauty of the landscape and the river in the early morning."

"Yes, sir," said Hiram, "they ain't a crow in The Settlement that ain't proud to show it off. We're all boosters out here. Hev another pancake—we riz that buckwheat ourselves. Ever taste anything better fer breakfast?"

"Not for breakfast," said the reporter, "but that blueberry dumpling yesterday—well—I hope Mrs. Hornbeam will not tell any of my friends how many helpings I had."

Mrs. Hornbeam smiled and passed the butter.

"Hiram," said Hiram, "hes a special receipt fer that. Hev some more o' that maple honey from our own trees." "I believe I will," said the reporter. "Do you know—I would like to tell the public about you. A man proud of his Settlement, proud of his farm, proud of his wife—really it is quite extraordinary in this age of grumblers and pessimists and quitters. You do me good."

"You needn't mention me at all," said Hiram. "Just say you didn't hear nobody in The Settlement wishin' they was somewheres else, but they was all thankful the Lord hed cast their lives in pleasant places—where they could git a good livin' without stealin' it from one another or workin' themselves to death. Am that the truth?" "It is indeed," said Mrs. Hornbeam. "do have another doughnut."

GERMAIN STREET WORK GOES ALONG

Petition Relative to Lighting Discussed at City Hall Meeting.

The carrying of the primary line of the civic distribution down Germain street and the matter of ornamental lighting for that street were before the City Council this morning. In connection with the primary line it was decided to notify the Germain street residents that no change would be made. In connection with the ornamental lighting it was decided to point out that the Civic Power Commission was the proper body to approach on the matter.

The Germain Street Improvement Association presented a petition pointing that since 1911 they had spent $4,784 towards the beautifying of the street and asked that as the wires had not yet been placed the poles be removed, the grass plots repaired and the beauty of the street restored. They suggested that if it were not possible to carry the pole line along Canterbury street, a conduit be used to carry the wires on Germain street, and that ornamental lighting be given the street, either from wooden or iron poles.

The Mayor said the wires had been strung and he suggested that a resolution be sent to the association pointing out that their request would not be in the public interest.

Commissioner Bullock said the Germain street people wanted the poles removed even if it meant the loss of the hydro altogether. They also took exception to the placing of the poles without action by the Council.

Commissioner Wigmore said in his opinion the new poles were all right and so high that no danger was created. If the New Brunswick Telephone Co. would use city poles it would be possible to get rid of a number of old poles which at present were in very bad condition.

CIVIC COMMISSION.
Commissioner Thornton said it was his understanding that when it was decided to build a distribution system the matter was handed over to the Civic Power Commission, and the Council was supposed to keep hands off. He was consistent in his opinion that they should interfere for Germain street any more than any other street.

Commissioner Frink said the people had expressed themselves as in favor of having a commission to "construct, maintain and operate a distribution system," and it was not now the duty of the Council to interfere. If Commissioner Bullock wanted to cancel the order and defy the wishes of the people, that was his privilege, but he (Frink) did not propose to put himself in that position.

Commissioner Bullock said the Civic Commission had not the right to act independently of the City Council in the matter of locating the distribution system.

Mayor Fisher moved that in the opinion of the City Council it would not be in the interests of the citizens or the Germain Street Improvement Association to make any change in the system.

Mayor Fisher, Commissioners Wigmore and Thornton voted in favor of Commissioner Bullock and Frink against.

Commissioner Thornton said he could hardly understand the attitude of Commissioner Frink, who had spoken against any change and yet voted against the resolution of the Mayor. This, he thought, was hardly consistent. In his opinion the whole matter should go to the Power Commission instead of coming to the Council.

In connection with the request for lights, Mayor Fisher moved that it was the opinion of the Council that no addition to the ornamental system should be made at the present time.

Commissioner Bullock moved in amendment that the Association be referred to the Civic Power Commission in the matter of ornamental lighting. Commissioner Frink said he would support this, as he thought any more to extend the ornamental system should come from the commission.

Barry Wilson said it was proposed to place a light on each pole in Germain street. The amendment carried.
