THE REAL REASON

Why some advertisers do not advertise in the STAR is because they are not familiar with it. It is a comparatively new paper. They do not know what they can accomplish by its use. They never tried.

Experience has taught those advertisers who do use the STAR that it is to their best interests to do so.

Their patronage verifies this statement. They get results.

That's what makes advertising profitable.

You can duplicate their success, and there's no time like the present.

STEAMER HALIFAX ASHORE.

Plant Liner from Charlottetown for Boston Beached Near Minor's Rock.

BOSTON, August 12.—The Plant Liner steamer Halifax, Captain Pyle, from Charlottetown, Port Hawkesbury and Halifax, N. S., struck a ledge of Minor's light while coming into port in a thick fog early today. She freed herself, however, and was beached in a sinking condition. Tugs and lighters have gone from here for passengers and baggage.

THE STEEL STRIKE.

The Union and Some Other Mills Opened Up This Morning.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 11.—The amalgamated men at South Chicago, Joliet and Bay View refused to obey the general strike order. Both the strike leaders and the steel trust officials are claiming victory in the developments thus far.

PITTSBURG, Pa., August 12.—The Amalgamated Association failed to make good its threat to stop the Upper and Lower Union mills this morning. At 9 o'clock this morning the mills seemed to be working full, and the management were satisfied smiles. The strikers had claimed that they had sixty men in line in the Twenty-ninth street, or Lower Union mills, who, by staying out would block the entire plant. At the upper mill in Thirty-third street, there was no opposition to the men going back to work, and by 5:30 the plant was running full. The National Tin Plate mill at Monaca, Pa., started up this morning at 4 o'clock on the full quota of the full quota of non-union men. The Republic, Lindsay and McCutcheon, and the Franktown pudding and rolling mill of the Continental department of the National Tube Co. were closed this morning, but the Republic and McCutcheon plant started up later with a small force of men.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 12.—The mills of the American Sheet Steel Co. at Vandergrift, Apollo, Leechburg, Elyse Park and Allegheny are full operation, having started at midnight. None of the old men failed to report for work. The management is confident that the plants will continue to be operated in full.

GREAT FOREST FIRES.

TACOMA, Washington, Aug. 12.—The most severe forest fires known in the Pacific region in several years are still raging in several parts of the Cascade mountains. They are especially fierce between Lake Sammamish and Snoqualmie river, and the lumber camps there are in great danger. Hillyer's camp on the Snoqualmie river was saved yesterday by the strenuous efforts of fifty men. Thousands of dollars worth of timber have already been destroyed, and immense damage is inevitable. Another tremendous fire is raging between Woodville and Grace. Several farm dwellings in that vicinity have been burnt, and the lumber camps being caused by Mason County. Passengers on the Great Northern overland train, which arrived last night several hours late, report that terrible forest fires are raging on both sides of the line in the Cascade mountains, west of Wellington. Four bridges caught fire yesterday, but were kept from burning by the fire apparatus.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

CHICAGO, August 12.—A dynamite bomb or a bottle of nitro-glycerine, presumably the latter, was exploded in the rear of George Little's saloon on Clark street last night, killing Vincent Amato, aged 30 and injuring five other persons, who were in the place at the time. The rear part of the saloon was wrecked. While mystery surrounds the affair, the police are inclined to believe that the man who was killed caused the explosion.

THE PHILLIPS FAILURE.

CHICAGO, August 12.—The Record Herald says:—"The George H. Phillips Company has found itself better off by $24,000 than it thought, by the discovery of two errors in the books, found since the firm suspended business. A statement will be made today by Mr. Phillips of the affairs of the firm, and it is probable that the firm, re-organized, will resume business today."

FRANCE WINS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 12.—As a result of the firm attitude adopted by the French ambassador, M. Combarot, in an audience of the Sultan Friday, the situation in regard to the French claims is clearing, and it is understood that the Quay Company shall enjoy the rights under the concessions as demanded by France.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, August 12.—Lord Kitchener has cabled a confirmation of the report of the release of the peace envoy Andrew Wessels, who was said to have been shot. Wessels was a prisoner in General Cillier's laager, near Kalsfontein, which the British recently surprised and captured.

STRIKE IN KING'S KITCHEN.

MADRID, August 12.—The general feeling of discontent prevailing here has reached the royal kitchen, and the principal chef and five cooks at the king's palace have gone out on strike.

MARK TWAIN.

Some of His Peculiarities—How to Give Him a Good Time.

There are a great many people in the city who heard of Mr. Clemens for the first time when they saw his name in the arrivals, and as a mild type of curiosity may have broken out as to his object in visiting St. John, and the question has likely been asked many times: "Who is he, anyway?" It is the duty of some one to enlighten the public.

Mr. Clemens, or "Mark Twain" for short, is not an agent for any fancy soap or religion. He is not a faddist, but is one of the best misunderstood and most popular of the present day. He is a humorist, not from choice, but necessity. Humor was thrust upon him just the same as the measles and whooping-cough came to him. He never sought the one more than the other. Normally one of the most mild mannered of men, if any one suggests, or hints that he is a humorist, he is mortally offended. He has fought against humor, as other men fight against drink, and has tried the gold cure for it. Sometimes he has been almost cured. He went all right at one time for nearly a year, and everybody thought he was cured, for he wrote a book and there was no more humor in it than in a comic paper. Then he had a relapse, and he has been humorously ever since. This is his real peculiarity. He fancies that he is a heavy, ponderous writer, and that he writes on the most serious of subjects. He never reads fiction, and rarely laughs, when he does it is at something that would make another man cry, and when he cries it is at something that would make another man laugh.

Mr. Clemens sought to get acquainted with our reversible falls. They would recognize each other. They would recognize each other.

Mr. Clemens is fond of melancholy things. He likes to visit graveyards and morgues, and enjoys Punch. Not that the doctor that goes by that name, that suggests making a hilarious night of it.

When a boy he would follow a funeral through the streets as other boys followed the hand-organ and monkey. When he got old enough he studied for an undertaker, and practiced his profession for awhile; but he was over-sensuous, and the public asked him to resign. He would follow a consumptive to his home and press his card upon him, and solicit his patronage when needed. He would follow doctors, and when he saw one go into a house he would drop his card (emblazoned with basket and cross-bones) into the letter box. The doctors would assume that they made it too hot for him in the town, and he had to go away.

And then, looking about for some other trade that would keep him poor and melancholy, he studied for the ministry. He wanted to study at Wesley of Vassar, but was not admitted. Not that there was anything against his moral character, Mark said, but on account of his sex. Mark told them that if they would not let him in for a little thing like that, which was no fault of his, they were narrow and bigoted, and could not give him the training that he was looking for. He was not thinking so much of himself as of them. Wotton always needed the refining influence of a man, he said.

When the civil war came on, (Mark always called it the "uncivil war") he offered his services as chaplain to the 14th Hartford regiment, and after some hesitation he was accepted. He studied Bunyan's "Holy War" and wanted the colonel to adopt the same tactics in carrying on the campaign, and wrote repeatedly to Grant and Sheridan and other generals of the army. He sent copies of the Holy War to the colonel, and told him that he would let him preach to the rebels and hold meetings; he would stop the war in a month. When the order came to go to the front, the chaplain told the colonel that he had announced special services for two weeks, and the colonel was a very unreasonable man and was liable to prosecution for distributing the messages. The colonel asked the chaplain to resign and he came home.

Since that his descent has been rapid. He went into journalism, and here his reversibility shows how different is from other journalists. He made money, and he hated it, and other men love it. He seeks poverty as other men seek wealth, and cannot find it. He threw away many thousands of dollars paying a debt another man owed. Mr. Clemens had the impression that he should pay the money because he was morally, if not legally, responsible, which shows what an expensive set of morals he has. Such extravagance in morals, and such an example for our young men, is something to be deplored.

If Mr. Clemens is to be entertained by the city on his return, and we want to give him a real good time, he must be treated differently from any other visitors. Don't give him a banquet. Give him the freedom of the old graveyard, and he will enjoy himself for a day deciphering the inscriptions on the tomb stones. Don't take him to the park. You must drive him over the cobble stones and railway tracks to Gilbert's lane and back; he would enjoy that. And to fill his cup of enjoyment to the brim, let him drive an afternoon with the Douglas avenue line of buses. And then read him addresses long enough and tedious enough to drive a governor general into nervous prostration, and he will enjoy them. And don't forget to take him to see the I. C. R. elevator if you want to see this Mark Twain come out strong and jolly.

MONCTON.

Sudden Death of Geo. Peebles—Mrs. Dr. Murray and Mrs. Rev. A. F. Burt Injured.

MONCTON, Aug. 12.—George Peebles, the well-known tailor, died last night rather unexpectedly, aged 57. Deceased had an attack of la grippe last winter, from which he never fully recovered, though able to be about recently. He was a native of Scotland, settled in St. John about forty years ago, and removed to Moncton thirteen years ago. He leaves a wife and five children. Of the latter, Mrs. Thomas Stackhouse and Miss Emma Peebles live in St. John. One son and two daughters live in Moncton. The remains will be taken to St. John on the Maritime Express.

As a result of a driving accident at Shediac on Saturday Mrs. C. A. (Dr.) Murray, of Moncton, and the wife of Rev. A. F. Burt, Shediac, were thrown from a carriage into the ditch. Both were badly bruised and Mrs. Murray received injuries to her hip, the extent of which can hardly be determined as yet.

SIGNOR CRISPI DEAD.

The French Press Describes Him as an Enemy of France.

NAPLES, Aug. 11.—Signor Crispi died at 7.45 this evening. His family were at his bedside. The news was at once telegraphed to the king and queen.

Signor Crispi played a very important part in the history of Italy. He was born at Ribera, in Sicily, on Oct. 4, 1819. He studied law at the University of Palermo, and in 1844 settled in Catania. He served as a major under Garibaldi at Calatafimi in 1848, was re-elected by Palermo to the first parliament of united Italy in 1861; became president of the chamber of deputies in 1876; was minister of the Interior in 1877-78, and was prime minister in 1887-91, and again in 1893.

It is rumored that the affairs of the deceased are in the greatest confusion, and that Signora Crispi will have to depend solely on the proceeds of the sale of his memoirs. The body will lie in state for three days in the drawing-room at the Villa Lina in Naples. A great state funeral will be held in Naples before the body is removed to Palermo.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Almost the whole Parisian press, referring to the death of Signor Crispi, judge severely the political work and private life of the dead statesman, and all deplore his dislike of France. The Soleil, the "Republique" and the Figaro recognize the fact that his gallophobia was a consequence of his ardent patriotism. The Matin calls him a political adventurer, and all the papers agree that an enemy of France has disappeared, and that Crispi's death will not cause a single regret in France.

THE WEATHER.

A BIT OF REALISM.

"Back again to the old home," cried the great emotional actress as she stepped through the wings and stood for a moment until the calcium man got the right focus.

"Back to the scenes of my childhood, after all these long, long years!"

He it known that when an actor lady says "years" she shows that she loves her art.

With trembling hand she searched the room, saying:

"It must be here; it must be here! I left it here long, long years ago."

The audience held its breath and swallowed clothes and allspice in its intense excitement.

"Yes, yes," she exclaimed. "I have found it! I know it was here. Ah, those happy childhood days!"

And she brought to view the piece of chewing gum she had concealed under the chair that happy day long, long "years" ago, when Gerald Mortimer had asked her to be his'n.

THE INTERRUPTED STORY.

"When I was a young man," said the stranger from Georgia, "I—"

"You've been bragging about what you did as a young man for the last hour," interrupted the tall man.

"As I was a—" said the stranger, "when I was a young man, I could—"

"Oh, ho!" exclaimed the tall man. "Up!"

"Take a feller like this, first him up like this an pitch him head over heels outen the winder like that," concluded the stranger.

And when the tall man quit foundering in the roadside dust he scrambled to his feet and meekly asked the station agent when the next train would be along.—Atlanta Constitution.

REQUIEM SERVICE

King Edward and Queen Alexandra Laid a Wreath Upon the Coffin

CRONBERG, Aug. 11.—Requiem service was held this afternoon over the remains of the late Dowager Empress Frederick.

The congregation included the Duke of Connaught, the Duke of Cambridge and several members of the British royal household, Count Von Bulow, Count Von Walders, Dr. Spielhagen and Gen. Von Lindquist.

At 4 o'clock the roll of muffled drums announced the arrival of Emperor William and King Edward, who had driven together from Homburg. The Emperor, wearing the black uniform of the Emperor's Own Poen Hussars, led Queen Alexandra into the church, while King Edward, in the blue uniform of the King Edward Prussian Dragoon, conducted Empress Augusta Victoria, Princess Victoria, with Crown Prince Frederick William and a numerous suite followed.

Their majesties occupied a pew to the left of the chancel, the one in which the deceased used to sit, while grouped around the chancel stood the other imperial and royal personages mentioned, together with the Duke of Prussia, Prince and Princess Schaumburg-Lippe, the hereditary Prince of Saxe-Meinigen, Prince and Princess Charles of Hesse, the Grand Duke of Baden, the Crown Prince and Princess of Greece, with their children, and the Prince of Reuss, together with the suites of all.

Baron Von Reischach stood at the right and Count Von Slenckenoff at the left of the coffin. As the organ played the funeral march Dr. Dryander advanced to the head of the coffin. The choir from Berlin cathedral sang a Requiem Mass. My Redeemer Liveth, and Dr. Dryander read a specially written prayer, after which Emperor William's four eldest sons stepped forward with drawn swords and stood close to the coffin. Dr. Dryander then turned and extolling the virtues of the Dowager Empress and dwelling upon her trials and sorrows. This was followed by the words of the burial service, "Dust to dust, ashes to ashes."

The choir then sang the anthem, The Spirit Suffereth They May Rest from Their Labors. Then followed the magnificent hymn, Wenn Ich Einmal Soll Scheiden, and a beautiful rendering of Be Thou Thro' Death into Death. As the last strains died away King Edward and Queen Alexandra advanced and laid a wreath upon the coffin. The King remained standing for a few moments alone beside the coffin, as they turned and left the church, which slowly emptied.

The service owed much of its impressiveness to the historical associations recalled by the medieval edifice in which it was held. At its conclusion Empress Augusta Victoria and Queen Alexandra drove in a victoria to Homburg, the Emperor and King following in a second carriage. The streets were congested with sightseers, and the imperial and royal personages departed.

BREITENBURG, Aug. 11.—At the British church in Homburg Canon Teignmouth-Shore delivered an eloquent discourse upon the virtues and sufferings of the deceased dowager empress. At the conclusion of the sermon he narrated a curious incident. It seems that while the dowager empress was breathing her last a white butterfly fluttered through the window into the room, settled lightly on the bed and then flew out heavenward, as though it might have been the soul of the dowager empress.

Emperor William has commanded a sculptor to begin to construct a sarcophagus similar to that made for Emperor Frederick. It will be of white Carrara marble, the figure of the deceased lying prone and surrounded by the insignia of her imperial rank.

OTTAWA, August 12.—Emperor William and the other members of the imperial party have arrived at the new palace, King Edward and Queen Alexandra left Homburg this morning for this place.

HERE'S A BEAR STORY.

Indian Ties His Son to a Tree to Keep Bruin Up There While He Gets a Gun.

CARSON, B. C., Aug. 11.—An old Indian named Phillip Adolph was going on foot across the mountains to visit relatives and was accompanied by his son and a cur dog. The latter treed a silver tip bear of unusual size, and the Indian wanted his big and dog keep watch. But the boy was afraid. Neither would he remain alone to guard while his senior Siwash went for his gun. Finally the old Indian lost all patience, and, seeing the boy, bound him to the base of the tree with both arms clamping it and left him there.

When the bear attempted to descend the boy's screams drove him back up the tree, and there he remained for two hours until the Indian returned with a supply of bear meat.

It is thought this work will occupy a couple of months, and tenders will be invited as soon as it is completed for the construction of the work.

A. E. Williams and family of 25 Bellevue street left yesterday for St. John, N. B., where they will make their home. GENERAL.

Experiments will be made today to communicate by wireless telegraphy between Nantucket and the lightship porters on the light ship reporting the passage of ocean liners.

Chaplain H. W. Jones, U. S. N., speaking in New York last night, said that when in Barbados last winter a British naval officer of high rank, who dined on that vessel, told them that when the Spanish-American war broke out England had at two points sixty-three ships waiting to be ordered out to sea and other power made a naval demonstration against the United States.

Winters says he did the job alone, making fourteen trips from the vault to the wharf, where the gold was dropped in the water.

GREAT DEMAND FOR HOGS.

A pork buyer representing an upper province packing house has been through York county recently buying all the hogs offered for sale. He bought those weighing from 150 to 225 pounds and paid 5 cents a pound live weight for all he could obtain. Hogs suitable for the packing houses are in great demand all over the country and are being bought up as fast as they are offered for sale. The local supply of pork will be limited next fall, according to present indications, and the prices will be pretty well up.

SATURDAY'S RACE AT MILLIDGE-VILLE.
The race for yachts in class C of the R. K. Y. C. fleet took place Saturday afternoon and proved an interesting event. There was a strong wind blowing on the course, which was off the club house at Millidgeville. Four yachts started: Robin Hood, Kathleen, Edith and Zephra. The Robin Hood, which has been termed a light weather boat, surprised many and showed that she was still in a good strong breeze and won her race hand-
sly. The Edith captured second money.
The Kathleen which crossed the line
third, was disabled at the outer buoy by her tiller breaking. The Zephra did not finish. The officials for the event were Robert Jardine and Joseph Likely.

POLICE COURT.

General Drunks Disposed Of—Mr.
Craig's Gun—Barret and Murray Remanded.

Although a large number of arrests
were made by the police on Saturday night, the time occupied in disposing of the prisoners this morning was very short. One pleasant feature of the proceedings was the lack of aggressive surprises on the face of such "common drunks" when he was only fined four dollars instead of the expected Monday morning eight.

William Bradley, drunk on St. John street; James Kinnaird, of West-worth; Joseph Sullivan, on Carman street; and Charles Carlson, on Market square, were all able to furnish eight dollars as a deposit for their appearance, and secured their freedom shortly after being arrested. This morning Bradley was the only one of the four who appeared, and by so doing gained four dollars, as he was let off at the court rate, while the full amount in the other cases was declared forfeited.

William Griot was found drunk on Prince William street by Sergt. Caples.
Frank O'Neill was gathered in from the old grave yard by Sergt. Campbell, and Frank Nolan on Simonds street by Officer Smith. All of these were fined four dollars or ten days.

Joseph Craig, well known in the north end, who lives alone in a little house on the Adelaide road, was arrested on Saturday night by Officer Merrick for discharging a gun on the street. This morning he explained to the court that the boys around town are in the habit of teasing him and he can never go out without being annoyed. He knows that he is not allowed to shoot them for doing this, but by firing off the gun wishes to let them know that he was armed and ready for all emergencies. He pleaded guilty this morning to the charge of firing a gun within two hundred feet of the street, and was fined four dollars. The gun was discharged.

Thomas Barret and Thomas Murray,
arrested for fighting on Main street,
Murray, charged with cutting Barret
in the neck with a knife, were remanded. The examination against Murray will be a preliminary one and will probably be taken up this afternoon.

mond church, St. John, has been engaged cton.

land, and will return on the 21st week.

ant View Hotel, Hampton, yesterday

eson, of Sydney, were among those who dian for Montreal were Hon. A. G.

Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, J. N.
Greenhalgh, Hon. W. S. Fielding,

combe, and Dr. Montisambert.

TO ADVERTISE.

Advertisements in the STAR are requested to send in copy not later than TEN O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON, in order that the matter may be set up in time for the day's issue.

THERE WAS A CROWD.
There was a very animated scene at the wharves at Head's Point on Saturday evening about 9 o'clock. The Prince Rupert came in and landed over 300 people. Scarcely had these got ashore when the Cumberland from Boston arrived with 100 more. The St.
Croix was all ready to leave for Boston with a large passenger list. Besides those coming ashore going there was a very large crowd of citizens to meet friends or say good-bye, or merely to witness the arrival and departure of the steamers. Not on any ordinary occasion for a very long time has there been such crowding ashore, bustle
and animation around the wharves.
The Prince Rupert had over 200 passengers for Manitoba, and they included all sorts and conditions of men.
There were youths in short caps, straw hats, yachting caps, golf caps, straw hats—they were all there. One man wore a short but heavy ulster. The variety of receptacles for clothing was exhausted in the array of valises,
boxes, bags, etc. which these men carried down the gangway. They had no use for the cabbies, and sturdily marched off to the depot.

There was of course a large sprinkling of tourists on the Rupert, and the passenger list of the Cumberland was almost wholly made up of the same class. The latter must have found the St. John atmosphere on Saturday evening a welcome relief after the heat of the American cities.

MORE MONEY MISSING.
The young man from Mispac who gave his money to a bartender for safe keeping is not the only person who now mourns, George Hektor, who is employed in Stetson, Cutler & Co.'s mill at Indian town, is minus thirty dollars and a wife—both gone together.
George, it is needless to say, is looking for his money. He is a saving man and usually has a fair amount of the "long green" about his person. On Thursday night he went to bed as usual, having carefully put the roll of bills
in his vest pocket and the vest under his head. In the morning he got up, put on the vest, took the roll and came home to dinner as usual, only to find no dinner and no wife. A search in his pockets revealed the fact that thirty dollars was missing. The whole amount had not been taken, which shows that whoever appropriated the funds had some feeling. George knocked off work for two days in order to find his money and incidentally his wife, but neither has as yet turned up.

THE LATE REV. DR. KETCHUM.
Rev. Dr. Ketchum of St. Andrews, whose death was announced in Saturday's Star, leaves a family of three sons and two daughters. His sons are Rev. Charles Ketchum, who is stationed in New York state; William Ketchum of the postal department, Ottawa, who is now here, and T. C. L. Ketchum, editor of the Woodstock Press.

His daughters are Mrs. Sills, wife of Rev. Dean Sills of Portland, Me., who is now here, and Mrs. W. D. Forster of St. Andrews. Canon Ketchum was for a number of years secretary of the Diocesan Church society of this province. In Fredericton last evening Rev.
Canon Roberts made a touching allusion to the deceased clergyman, who was minister there for a period of fourteen years.

ALD. MACRAE IN CHARLOTTE-TOWN.
At the high court, I. O. F. of P. E.
Island, on Friday, A. W. Macrae of St. John was one of the speakers at the monster meeting held in Victoria Park, Charlottetown, Saturday, to elect Premier Farquharson a Forester at sight. Both the premier and Lieut. Gov. McIntyre spoke at this meeting. Mr. Macrae in his address

FOR MANITOBA.
Saturday's excursion to Manitoba
took away from the St. John depot 224 men. Only about a thousand had been expected, and there was great difficulty to secure enough cars. The depot was crowded with laborers all day long. Crowds had come in by various trains from Nova Scotia and a large number came over in the Prince Rupert. In addition to those passing through St. John, about 150 were from Fredericton and 200 more from points north of Meadham. Another excursion will go forward next Saturday, when about 400 more are expected. It costs $10 to go out and $18 to return.

Dull
Days
in Piano
Selling!

There is a time in every year known as the dull season. A time when buyers are lacking in interest. Dry goods men have it, and to stimulate their customers they institute what is known as bargain sales.
July and August are usually the quietest months in the piano business, but we are doing our best to keep up the average by reducing prices, on all lines of stock. We are offering lower prices today than we will be willing to accept a month from now, and if you are thinking of buying a piano or an organ, you should call to see us.
