

B.C. SALMON CANNERIES IN SPLENDID CONDITION

Report of Commission, Which Made Thorough Inspection, Received at Ottawa -- Canada's Gift to San Francisco's Relief Fund--New Deputy Minister and His Assistant.

OTTAWA, July 28.—The government takes possession on August 1 of property extending along Sussex and McKenzie Avenue for the new departmental block for which half a million was voted.

When the announcement of the Chicago canned meat revelations came the minister of marine and fisheries ordered the British Columbia fishery commission, which was then sitting, to inspect and investigate the salmon canning operations and salmon canneries from hygiene and sanitary standpoint.

The commission has made a thorough inspection of the canneries operating in the Fraser River district. We were accompanied by Dr. Fagan, of the provincial board of health. Without exception we found the sanitary conditions satisfactory.

CANADA'S GRANT TO SAN FRANCISCO FUND

With reference to the Canadian grant of $100,000 towards the San Francisco relief fund, of which $50,000 has already been sent to the Red Cross and Relief Association of San Francisco, Mr. Fielding, minister of finance, stated today that the government will send the balance of $50,000 to the same authority.

Some individual applications were made to the government for assistance and some complaint made as to the administration of the fund by the San Francisco authorities. The government, Mr. Fielding said, held that, as the $100,000 was granted for the general relief of sufferers without respect to any class they did not feel at liberty to deal with any individual case or with any particular class of sufferers, but felt that the whole amount should go into the general relief fund.

Respondent in Hartje Divorce Case Attacked in Street by Unknown Man.

Augustus Hartje, and his negro groom, Hoel.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 28.—Just after leaving the court house today following the adjournment of the hearing in the Hartje divorce case, Mary Scott-Hartje, the respondent in the case, was attacked by an unknown man on the street. Despite the crowd about the court house at the time, the man made good his escape through an alley in the vicinity of the court house.

Mrs. Hartje left the building accompanied by Mrs. Alexander W. Blouin, who has been Mrs. Hartje's constant companion through the hearing. The women were on their way to the office of John Freeman, Mrs. Hartje's counsel. They had gone but a few steps from the court house, when a man having the appearance of a mill worker, thrust out his arms and grabbing Mrs. Hartje dragged her across the pavement saying, "Mary, come with me."

Scrambling with fright Mrs. Hartje managed to escape from the man and found refuge in Mr. Freeman's office. In the meantime the crowd stood about apparently paralyzed at the incident. The man started to run and was lost to those who took up the chase. Some few minutes later Mrs. Blouin pointed out a man as the assailant and he was arrested, but released when Mrs. Hartje said he was not the man.

Rodolphe Lemieux, postmaster general, today met the representatives of the Montreal Produce Merchants' Association in reference to granting to the Dominion line the contract whereby this line might carry the mails from the port of Montreal on Saturdays, allowing Montreal merchants to send their documents immediately after large shipments, which are generally put on board Friday.

BUSINESS OF NEW PROVINCES

Premier Scott Looking for Railway Subsidies Looks Upon the Acquisition of Old Prince Albert Road by Canadian Northern as Important Event

OTTAWA, Ont., July 28.—Premier Scott of Saskatchewan completed his business here today and left for Montreal. He goes by way of Owen Sound. Attorney General Lamont proceeded west a week ago, while in Ottawa Messrs. Scott and Lamont obtained agreements for transfer to the province of land titles system and offices and of a list of public institutions and buildings, including jails at Prince Albert and Regina, Government House at Regina, and all court houses in the province. These have been assessed as a whole at $2,000,000, which sum the province will pay in five equal annual instalments. The necessary order-in-council repealing the old Dominion Lands Titles Act and transferring the land registration system has been passed, but the necessary advertisement of the order in four issues of the Canada Gazette will delay the actual transfer to September 1st.

STRIKE IS STILL HANGING FIRE

No Word Received from the Revolutionary Leaders M. Stolpin Confident That Strong Hand Measured Will Tide Country Over till Next Parliament

ST. PETERSBURG, July 28.—"Strong handed reform" is laid down by M. Stolpin as the keynote of his administration in an interview today, in which the new premier expressed his confidence that this policy, with the aid of the "patriotism of the masses" and military which in spite of all reports is still loyal and reliable" will tide the country over until the convocation of the next parliament. He emphasized, as did Controller of the Empire Schwanebach on Sunday, the belief that the outlawed parliament was neither representative nor capable of constructive work. He spoke with special scorn of the leaders of the constitutional democrats, not attempting to conceal his impression that the great respectability of the party was but a cover for insincerity and trucking with the worst elements of the revolution.

NOT A DOLLAR OF SAGE'S MILLIONS FOR CHARITY

With the Exception of a Small Bequest to Sister, the Entire Fortune Goes to Dead Financier's Wife -- Relatives Stunned by the Will and will Contest It -- Counsel Already Engaged.

(Special to the Sun.) NEW YORK, N. Y., July 28.—Not one dollar of the sixty millions, more or less, left by Russell Sage, is willed to charity. The whole of his fortune, with the exception of a small bequest to his only sister, Mrs. Chapin, who died two years ago, is left to his wife unreservedly. The numerous relatives of the dead financier are dazed at the will, and are preparing to contest it on the ground that he was dominated entirely by his wife during the last ten years of his life, and lacked the mental capacity of making a valid will. Already arrangements are being forwarded for the retaining of Charles E. Hughes, the noted insurance lawyer, to contest the will on behalf of the relatives. The will is to be read tomorrow at the residence of the given out by a near relative of the aged millionaire and is authentic. There are less than sixty blood heirs of Russell Sage living, some of whom are in poor circumstances, and all of whom until today did not doubt that they would share in the millions for which they have been for many years anxious.

SAD REVELATION TO NEWBURGH MYSTERY

Mother Thought Boy Kidnapped; His Body Found in Gas Tank

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 28.—After mounding for over three years for her son Charles, whom she thought had been kidnapped, Mrs. James Flanagan of Fishkill Landing identified today parts of the clothing of the skeleton of a three and a half year old boy found at the bottom of a gas tank well last night. Employee of the local gas plant were working at one of the three retorts when an iron fitting dropped from the top of the tank to the bottom of the well. While grappling for the fitting they pulled up a child's overcoat. Further investigation revealed the remnants of the body of the Flanagan boy. The child had evidently fallen from the top of the brick wall when the tank was high and the body was crushed by the heavy weight when the tank was lowered.

Tonight the bodies of the young couple, clasped in each other's arms, came to the surface.

GETS $1000 A DAY.

Elijah Sanford Says That Amount Is Coming In

In Answer to People's Prayers—Farming Operations at Shiloh Not Yielding Results.

LISBON FALLS, July 22.—Elijah Frank Sanford says he is receiving $1,000 a day in answers to prayers. It was about two weeks ago that Sanford ordered a period of 40 days of continuous prayer. A certain number of the disciples are detained to go into the heart of the big building and they pray for a certain number of hours and then they are relieved.

At present there are about 225 of Sanford's followers on the sand hill, and they are not doing much of anything except to pray. Sanford ordered this season of prayer because the crops here are generally in need of $40,000 with which to purchase new machinery and to prepare for his contemplated trip to the Holy Land. Sanford's followers are receiving $1,000 a day in receiving each day $1,000 and that this will continue without any interruption until the 40 days of prayer are completed. While the people of Shiloh put implicit faith in the second "Elijah," tells them, the people here are skeptical. It is true he receives some donations of money and valuables and that these are continuous and from all parts of the country.

If all reports are true, there is at times need of food at Shiloh, and if Sanford has much money it would be well for him to expend some of it in provisions. Sanford now owns nearly all of the land in Dorham, and it is given out to the public that he is using farming conducted on a large scale and after modern methods, but those who are conversant with the real condition of things do not believe that on the farms owned by Sanford enough is raised to support the colony. Everything that is done is in slip shod fashion, which really accomplishes nothing. Crops are planted, but when they grow are never hoed and so the weeds are raised to support the colony. Everything that is done is in slip shod fashion, which really accomplishes nothing. Crops are planted, but when they grow are never hoed and so the weeds are raised to support the colony.

This week a pitiful letter written by a heartbroken mother in Tacoma, Wash., was received here. She writes that her daughter had been taken to Shiloh and that all her efforts to reach her daughter or get word from her was unavailing. The mother wishes the authorities to ascertain if the Shiloh gang, which she believes have taken her girl away to Jerusalem. If they have not already done so she fears she will be taken across the seas and that she will never hear of her again. The mother writes that she has been crying herself almost blind and that she has been crying herself almost blind and that she has been crying herself almost blind.

SIX KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

SPOKANE, Wash., July 24.—Six persons were killed last night when a passenger train fell into Diamond Lake, near Camden, Wash. It is reported that a half-dozen other persons are missing and the bodies may be found under the wreckage at the bottom of the lake. No bodies have been recovered.

DEAD BOY'S FATHER DETAINED AS WITNESS

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., July 24.—When the inquest to determine the cause of the death of young John Strub, the twelve-year-old boy whose body was found concealed in the woods near Housatonic, was adjourned this evening until tomorrow, Emil Strub, the boy's father, was detained as a witness. The authorities refused to allow why this step was taken, but although the proceedings of the inquest were private, it was understood that the examination of the witness elicited some evidence of a sensational nature. Strub took the announcement that he would be detained, calmly. Nineteen witnesses were summoned today and their testimony for the most part concerned the movements of the father of the dead boy.

NEEDS REORGANIZING

(Toronto World).

The business for the railway commission of Canada to do is growing. Experts, companies and telephone companies come under its control to a greater or less degree. When it was organized this widening of its powers was not foreseen.

It is time for the commission to organize in the presence of its added duties. Jurisdiction in minor cases might be given a single commissioner. In other cases, property classified, two commissioners might be enough to decide. The weightiest matters should be viewed by a full commission of three. The commission should be organized all the time, and no project should be held up for an appreciable length of time awaiting the convenience of a full board.

The railway commission is the most useful tribunal to which the people may appeal, if it does its work. And instead of devouring it with general office it is necessary for it to organize to meet changing conditions and a widening sphere of activity.

STILL SEARCHING FOR THE BODIES

Eleven Known to be Dead in Framingham Disaster

All the Injured Doing Well With the Exception of One Man Whose Back Is Broken

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., July 24.—Although the search for the bodies of workmen and other persons thought to be buried in the ruins of the collapsed business block on Commercial street continued all last night and throughout today, the coming of night fall found the task of the searchers still far from completion, and it was evident that considerable time must elapse before it could be said with certainty that all the bodies have been recovered.

The finding of the body of Henry L. Sawyer, a prominent hardware dealer, who went to the building to inspect the plumbing plans, brought the number of bodies up to 11. It was believed that three and possibly four more would be found later. The gang of 100 shovellers who dug in the ruins of the building during the day was replaced tonight by another gang of equal number, and the work of searching went on uninterruptedly powerful electric lights assisting the workers.

With the exception of Chester Nicholson, whose back was broken, all the injured were reported as comfortable tonight. Nicholson's condition is very serious. Late this afternoon the selectman extended an invitation to the state police to investigate the cause of the collapse of the building and the inquiry began tonight.

Three inspectors, representing the Massachusetts district police, including Deputy Inspector Moore, were here today in connection with an investigation of the accident. It is the intention of the inspectors to determine exactly, if it be possible, what the conditions were which led to the collapse of the building. Deputy Chief Nell of the state police, stated this afternoon that so far as he was aware the investigation was not being pursued particularly from the point of view of criminal responsibility, but merely to find out from the standpoint of a builder just what caused the disaster.

ARMSTRONG WOMAN WILL STAY IN JAIL

Well Known Moncton Citizen Dead—Mr. Emerson Coming Down Friday or Saturday

MONCTON, July 24.—In Judge's chambers at Dorchester today, Judge Hanington rendered his decision in the Habeas Corpus application, ex parte "Min" Armstrong, dismissing the application. The decision means that the Armstrong woman, who is notorious in Moncton police circles as the keeper of a resort of highly questionable character, will remain in jail. She was prosecuted by Provincial Constable Belyea, of Shediac, who now announces his intention, Judge Hanington having returned a verdict allowing Moncton cases to be taken before the police magistrate at Shediac, of closing all the bars-rooms in Moncton.

John S. Squibbe, a well known resident, died here at an early hour this morning, after a severe illness of heart trouble and dropsy. Deceased was born in Devonshire, Dorsetshire, England, in 1830, and joined the British army at an early age, serving in the second battalion of the Ninth Regiment. He was at the blowing up of the forts of Gibraltar, and served in China for two years.

The Moncton and Buctouche train from the latter place this morning was two hours late, the locomotive slipping an eccentric at McKik's Mills.

C. B. Triggs, secretary of the M. A. A., was today presented by the clerks of the mechanical accountants' office of the I. C. R. with a set of dining-room chairs and hall table. Mr. Triggs is to be married tomorrow to Hon. H. Emerson, minister of railways, and Deputy Minister Butler, are expected in the city Friday or Saturday, and will spend some days on an inspection tour.

UPPER SACKVILLE MAN DROWNED

Clarence Wheaton Fell From Bridge Into Goose Lake Canal—Companion Had Narrow Escape

SACKVILLE, N. B., July 24.—Clarence Wheaton, aged about thirty, of Upper Sackville, was drowned while in a canoe with a companion on Goose Lake canal, about eight miles from here, this afternoon. Wheaton and a number of others were engaged in making repairs in a bridge which spans the canal. He was lifting a piece of timber into position, when he lost his balance and fell backward into the canal, which at that time was deep, the time being about full. In an effort to rescue the unfortunate man, Wesley White, son of James White, who is a boatman, plunged into the water, but he was unable to reach the victim, who was rescued shortly afterwards. He was a son of Wm. Wheaton of Sackville, and leaves a wife and three small children. Much regret is expressed over the sad occurrence.

HOW GERMANY MANAGES.

The State Carries on Many Important Services.

(Toronto Globe).

G. J. N. Rogers, of the Local Government Bureau in London, has issued a special article on local government in Germany, compiled with exhaustive fulness and accuracy, showing the attitude of Germany toward the much vexed problem of municipal trading.

In most of the large towns the gas, water, markets and electricity undertakings are owned and managed by the local authorities. As regards tramways, German towns are not quite so advanced as towns in England, but it is the intention of the communal bodies generally to obtain possession of important means of communication whenever the opportunity offers. In addition to the undertakings mentioned, all towns of any size have their own savings bank, and most of them carry on the business of pawnbrokers. A large majority, too, possess municipal theatres and concert halls. A few own quarries; one (Goritz) engages in the manufacture of bricks and tiles, owns a coal mine, and manufactures artificial stone. In connection with the ownership of communal forests, several towns deal in timber, building and fuel. A supply of fuel, harbors, docks, quays and wharves are also owned by various towns.

In the opinion of many of its opponents municipal trading should not be conducted with a view to profits. In Prussia this question is settled by the law. Section 8 of the Communal Taxation law provides that "commercial undertakings of the communes shall be administered upon the principle that the income raised shall suffice at least to meet the whole of the expenditure arising from the communal undertaking, inclusive of interest and reduction of the invested capital. An exception is admissible so far as the undertakings serve at the same time a public need which is not otherwise met." The latter part of the provision refers to waterworks, markets and similar undertakings. As regards the others, as a general rule, they are managed so that no loss shall fall on the local taxes.

FIGURES 22,4 IN GIRL'S EYE.

PARIS, July 24.—The Petit Parisien publishes soberly the details of a remarkable story of a child one of whose eyes is distinctly marked with three numerals and a punctuation point. The strange tale comes from Poitiers in France, where is the half forgotten village of Les Fontaines, where a fisherman of the name of Le Guen, consisting of the rugged father and mother and a daughter, Marie, four years old. The parents have had much sorrow through the loss of two older children and have exercised much care in raising Marie. She has a transparent skin and eyes as blue as the sky where, far off, it seems confluent with the sea. Marie has been celebrated for some time for a distance of ten leagues around her home, visitors all going to the fisherman's hut, but an elderly woman, who has a veritable phenomenon.

Graven on the corner of her left eye below the pupil in a horizontal line are the figures 2, 2, 4. They are clearly visible, as is also the well formed comma. The other eye is unmarked. Doctors and oculists have examined the child. The Petit Parisien asked Dr. Gueval of Pont l'Abbe to examine her to determine the cause of the abnormality. He suggested three explanations, that it was hereditary through nerve disease; that it is the stigmata of a disease, or that it is due to medical tattooing with nitrate of silver, necessitated by an affection of the eye in early infancy. The parents declare that the girl never underwent an operation.

Druggist de Elize, who has closely studied the case, believes that the figures are formed by striations of the eye itself. He cites in support of this that the figures are not visible when looking at the eye straight in front, but only when looking at a certain angle. The child is coming to Paris for examination. Her right eye does not suffer from any abnormality.

The Petit Parisien records as a coincidence which it declares is worthy noting that a fishing boat at the neighboring port of Douarnenez carries the number 22,4.

Pale Face Weak Blood

Why are some people strong and able to defy disease, while others are weak and subject to all the ills of human kind?

The difference is in the blood. Pale face, the eyelids, gums and lips tell of blood that is lacking in quality and richness.

The person who has poor blood is subject to headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, the action of the heart is weak and there is sometimes palpitation; the breath is short, and there is lack of energy and strength.

This weak, anaemic condition is entirely overcome by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which is above all else a builder and enricher of the blood.

New, rich flesh and tissue are added, new strength and vigor take the place of weakness and suffering, and instead of taking cold or contracting disease at every gust of wind that blows you will find yourself getting strong and robust.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The son of a wealthy city merchant was sent to Edinburgh to study medicine. After an absence of some time he returned to the Scottish capital to see his son. While out "doing the sights" the father, pointing to a large colonial building, asked the son what it was. "He replied, 'What a pity, I really do not know.' On meeting a policeman and asking the same question, they were told, 'That building, sir, is the School of Medicine.' Needless to describe the father's feelings and expressions.

Continuous advertising is necessary, because in continuity is strength, and because if it pays to advertise a part of the time it ought to pay better to advertise all of the time.—NATH'L C. FOWLER, JR., Boston.

WHITE'S COVE.

WHITE'S COVE, Queens Co., July 23.—People about here are well satisfied with their hay and crop operations. The crop in general is not up to last year's. Other crops promise a fair yield.

Quite extensive building operations are going on this summer. The work on J. D. McLaughlin's new residence at present is not progressing as rapidly as Contractor Nelson had expected, owing to the scarcity of carpenters.

George T. Parry of Waterbury has built an extension to his residence. Joseph Kennedy of Young's Cove has built an addition to his barn and Isaac Snodgrass of the same place is erecting a new building. Charles W. White is building a wide road in connection with his general store. Mr. White has found more room necessary owing to the gradual increase in his business.

Deer are getting more numerous about here every year and one is passing along the highway is able to see them mostly any time.

John E. Wright, son of E. J. Wright of this place, passed to his rest June 30th after an illness of about two weeks. Death was due to a complication of diseases which seems to have baffled medical skill. A sorrowing wife and a son twelve years of age are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. Deceased was fifty-five years of age and well known to all known, having from his youth been engaged in the coasting trade, sailing out of St. John. We were the first that ever burst upon the world with this great and glorious idea; for governor of Massachusetts, a successful attorney; for lieutenant governor, the Hon. Thomas Wyandott Lawson. The Hon. Simon Swift, a noble Roman than either of them, had declined to run. The probability was that the Hon. J. B. Moran, because he is not a prohibitionist. He has nominated himself and will make the democrats nominate him because he is "Me." From his palace of thought Mr. Lawson sent this inquiry to the Boston Daily.

DREAMWORLD, Mass., July 20.

"My dear John—What do lieutenant-governors do? Answer quick."

"THOMAS W. LAWSON."

According to the Boston Advertiser, the report of Lawson's possible candidacy is very well founded, and it is believed that the Hon. Thomas Wyandott Lawson, a noble Roman than either of them, had declined to run. The probability was that the Hon. J. B. Moran, because he is not a prohibitionist. He has nominated himself and will make the democrats nominate him because he is "Me." From his palace of thought Mr. Lawson sent this inquiry to the Boston Daily.

AFTER ALL

I shall go back to the old, old place. To the moss grown spring that bubbles clear in the meadow. To the slender paths in the fields, the trace of forgotten footsteps. Back to the little house where the sweetbrier clung to the window. To the garden where snowdrops and iris and hollyhocks bloomed together. In my dreams they are blooming together. And beyond them, these nests to the hum of the bees June made. The sunrise and gleaming mingled. Days and nights in sweet confusion. When the world is made for a child's wild heart, and the winds to be its rhythm. And the winds to be its rhythm.

How Hogs Become Pork in a Very Short Time--Conditions Very Different From Those Alleged to Have Existed in Chicago--A Visit to the Packing Plants.

Chicago has received by far the larger share of attention in the recent packing house investigations, and perhaps it was there that the most important improvements were necessary.

In the North plant only hogs are killed, and the products are pork in all forms, sausages and lard.

cleaning the outside of the carcasses. If this were not done, inspectors are placed at frequent intervals to draw attention to any imperfect work.

DIFFERENT BRANCHES OF THE WORK. From one part of the building to another the hogs move, past gangs after gangs of men, and every hand that touches the carcass performs some small but necessary part in the production of pork.

ST. JOHN MAN HEARS FROM RICH RELATIVES

O. S. Trentowsky and His Brother Anxiously Awaiting News—Information Received in Curious Way

O. S. Trentowsky, clerk with T. McAvity & Sons, a short time ago met an English traveller who was visiting in St. John, N. B., and hearing Mr. Trentowsky's name mentioned, became very much interested and introduced himself to him.

"This gentleman said that the name of Trentowsky was very familiar to him," said O. S. Trentowsky. "I had been visiting him during the past winter in Russia. This gentleman who is travelling for an English firm in Canada, was formerly engaged on the eastern route for his firm and through Mr. Trentowsky, he said, was a wealthy chocolate manufacturer in Riga, and had a large factory employing 2000 hands."

When informed that Mr. Trentowsky's family came from Prussia near the border of Poland, he offered to communicate with his Russian friend and open a correspondence.

Mr. Trentowsky's brother, A. Trentowsky, a doctor in Riga, has lately received an answer from friends of Alex. Trentowsky in Russia, saying that riots had just taken place there and that the large factory had been destroyed. That Mr. Trentowsky's family had been taken across the border and that Mr. Trentowsky himself was not in Riga, but that he would communicate later. Messrs. Trentowsky are therefore watching the trend of events in Russia with renewed interest.

The father of the St. John gentleman was also, curiously, named Alex. Trentowsky. He came to this country many years ago when only thirteen years of age and died about the year of the great fire. The late Mr. Trentowsky was Prussian consul in this city. His uncle was at that time in Russia as an ambassador for his country. Messrs. Trentowsky are naturally inclined to think that the Russian family are related and are now awaiting further communication.

PARRSBORO COUNCIL TAKES NO ACTION

PARRSBORO, N. S., July 24.—A special meeting of the town council was held last evening for the purpose of considering a bill against the town rendered by ex-Town Clerk Day and the shortage in his accounts, as reported by the auditors; also to appoint assessors for the current year. A motion to pay the bill rendered was defeated by the casting vote of the mayor.

John H. Cameron and John Pickard were appointed assessors, W. W. Cameron retaining the first position as town assessor.

The alleged shortage in the accounts was discussed at some length, but no decision was reached and as the mayor was away, the matter was left over until the next meeting of the council.

LEGACY DEPENDS ON DATE OF THEFT

PARIS, July 24.—A curious lawsuit is now occupying the attention of the Paris courts. Some years ago a wealthy landed proprietor in the Pas de Calais department died, and left a substantial legacy to his servant. Three years after his death a Frenchman bank shares which had belonged to the deceased were sold in England. These were traced to the servant-legatee, who appears to have purloined them from her master's safe. The woman was prosecuted and condemned for theft.

Now the dead man's heirs, who suffered financially from the theft, are asking that the legacy to the dishonest servant should be declared void on the ground of the ingratitude evinced in robbing the testator. The legal problem is whether the robbery took place before or after the death of the testator. The defense says that it took place after the death, and that, therefore, there was no ingratitude toward the deceased, as immediately his property passed to his heirs. Judgment has yet to be given.

25,000 HARVESTERS WILL BE REQUIRED

WINNIPEG, Man., July 24.—Manitoba and the west will require from twenty to twenty-five thousand imported harvesters to handle the crop this year," said W. J. Black, deputy minister of agriculture.

Official reports from all parts of the province indicate that the crop will be the heaviest yet harvested.

Last year Manitoba placed 12,000 men from the east in the harvest fields while Saskatchewan used about 3,000 but for this year Manitoba alone will require close to 20,000.

It would appear at present that harvesting will be general throughout the province about August 10th, but should

A PITEFUL SIGHT

Thursday night about 11.30 a disgusting spectacle was witnessed at the corner of Charlotte and Dorchester streets. A young girl, scarcely more than 18 years old, could be seen staggering along the sidewalk as drunk as she could possibly be, and still standing up. She was apparently looking for some one, as she kept looking about the square in front of the post office. Finally two full-grown and middle-aged men came along in a cab, they picked up the girl and carried her toward the vehicle and was taken aboard. The men in the back were strangers, and there is not the slightest doubt but that they were accountable for the girl's degraded condition. — Sydney Post.

The King's Cup

NEW YORK, July 23.—King Edward's gift to the New York Yacht Club, designated by His Majesty as a perpetual trophy to be sailed for annually by American yachts off Newport during the annual cruise of the N. Y. Y. C. and under its direction, arrived by the steamer Teutonic and is in possession of the club.

The cup is a magnificent specimen of the goldsmith's art. It is large and massive. It stands 21 inches from the base to the apex of the highly polished cover. The block of highly polished hardwood upon which it rests is eight inches high. The circumference of the base of the cup is 41 inches and the diameter of the upper body around the handles is 12 inches. Its capacity is several gallons. On the front, which is highly polished, is the insignia of royalty, and under it "R. VII." in monogram and the following inscription: "This cup is presented to the New York Yacht Club by His Majesty King Edward VII., honorary member of the club, 1904."

On the face of the block on which the cup rests is a gold plate, upon which will be inscribed the name of each yacht and the names of the owners that succeed in winning the races. Each winning yacht will also receive from the N. Y. Y. C. a suitable trophy to commemorate the victory.

In every respect it will rank in quality and finish with any yachting trophy ever seen in America. It is handsomely and profusely chased. In size, appearance and beauty it looks indeed, a princely gift, and will be cherished with pride by the New York Yacht Club and yachtsmen generally.

While They Waited

(By VIRGINIA LELLA WENTZ.)

He jumped out of the little country rig, leaving it in the hands of a freckled boy and rushed up to the ticket office just as his train was pulling out from the station.

Oliver dashed the platform steps at the other end of the walk with his hands outstretched, and the woman sat down on the platform, her delicate profile lined against the clear blue of the sky like some exquisite cameo. She had always been beautiful, though; it wasn't that which made the man exclaim so impressively.

"You've changed so, Eleanor," it was true. It was no mere fancy of his imaginative writer's eye that discovered new meanings in the face before him; it was the pattern of a vague but very gracious transformation.

"Changed?" repeated she, with a curious tenderness. "I've tried to change. Tried—do you understand? Since last winter, when we parted, I've been trying—oh, hard, Mavereck—I've taken control of my own twisted nature, turn it where I will."

"Dear," broke in Oliver with a bitter humility, "we were both to blame—both, do you hear? And I'm afraid you've been cleverer than I if you've unlearned things where they failed to fit the pattern. I've not changed much I'm afraid."

Under her black lashes the woman smiled at him with a reverence he might have translated had he been high-minded, as some loyal acquaintances to his former state. What Oliver felt now, however, was curiosity in his young wife, not in himself.

"Tell me," he burst forth, "what has changed you?"

She rolled up her absurd little handkerchief into a string, and throwing it over her knee, pulled it unconsciously by both ends, gazing steadily into the blue distance above Oliver's head.

"I don't know whether I ought to tell you," she began.

Oliver recalled that delicious little habit she used to have of tempting the Fates slyly; of hesitating when she meant to be right-down courageous, of "Of course, you ought," he urged. "You always do in the end, you know, and it will save time." Under her handkerchief she had allowed himself to whisper a matured reply that became her like the armor of her sex:

"Our little boy, Mavereck. Our little boy has changed me."

"Ah! Our boy—Oliver broke off abruptly, for something had suddenly eluded him by the throat.

The woman hastily brushed her tears away, and went on practically:

"You'd be proud of him, Mavereck—such a strong, agile little fellow and he has the will of a little savage."

"Let me see," Oliver said brusquely, stooping over the platform's edge and plucking up a buttercup stalk that had doubtfully grown up from the gravel. "You'd be eleven months now."

"Yes, he was five when—when you

BIG RATTLER HAS APPENDICITIS

NEW YORK, July 23.—Pete, the eight-foot diamond-back rattlesnake at the Bronx Zoological park, was always hungry. Whenever any one came near his cage, Pete would open his awful jaws and beg something to eat.

"Some day that critter will die of scurvy," declared Curator Raymond Ditmar recently, as he watched the snake quickly devour eighteen rabbits at a meal. Pete never chewed his food, which Mr. Ditmar said was a bad habit. He tried to coax the snake to learn to eat slower and to get along on less food, but Pete only swallowed faster.

On Monday, Mr. Ditmar noticed Pete's face screwed up in a knot, as if he had pains. "Sick?" asked Ditmar. Oliver and his wife were the last of the crowd.

He helped her aboard, found her chair for her in the parlor car, then turned miserably to meet her. "All aboard!" came the strident voice of the conductor. The train began to move almost imperceptibly. "Good-by!" cried Oliver, battling with strong emotion; but conscious of the increasing movement of the train. Then, as he bent over her seat, the woman laid a trembling hand on his arm, and her eyes were brimming with slow tears.

"Good-by, Mavereck! Don't you want to go with me to our baby?" "Good heavens, Eleanor, do I want to?"

Some lonely passengers at the other end of the car wondered what had suddenly illumined the man's handsome face with that electric thrill of joy. Then the telegraph poles began to whiz by. Oliver had forgotten New York.
