

MANUFACTURES

MISPECK MILLS, - - St. John, N. B.

ALL WOOL GOODS, viz:
BRAVY and LIGHT GREY CLOTH; HEAVY GREY and SCARLET FANNEL;
MISPECK TWEED.
Heavy Grey Blankets.

FIRST CLASS COTTON WARPS.
The above named Seasonable Goods are all of SUPERIOR QUALITY, manufactured from the very best material and with the most improved machinery.
Orders from the TRADE RESPECTFULLY SOLICITED.
J. L. WOODWORTH, Agent.
TO WHOLESALE BUYERS.

EVERITT & BUTLER.

REG TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF City and Country Merchants, Ship-brokers, Lumbermen, Railway Contractors, &c. to their

UNRIVALLED STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

Just received by direct from E. M. Sturges, comprising a complete assortment in all departments.
CLOTHING OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS, HATS, CAPS, SHIRTS, TWEEDS, COTTONS, PAINTS, SHAWLS, MANTLES, DRESS GOODS, &c.
WINGINGS, TABLE LINENS, CLOTHS, KNITTED WOOLLEN GOODS, HOSIERY, FLOWERS, GLOVES, HATS, DRESSERY, &c.
Also a large quantity of SHIRTS, HOSIERY, HATS, JUMPERS, NEW BRANDED SOCKS, MITTS, LARIBANS, and MOCASSINS.
All of which we offer at unusual low prices and on liberal terms.
EVERITT & BUTLER.

BUY YOUR Sewing Machines

FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, AND Save Twenty Per Cent!

BUY YOUR Sewing Machines

Where you can get them repaired!

MACHINES SOLD

Weekly Investments!

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded.

J. D. LAWLOR, MANUFACTURER OF THE Singer Family, Singer Manufacturing, J. P. Howe and Lawlor.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES!

ALL KINDS OF Sewing Machines Repaired and Improved.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE

No. 51 Prince William Street.

Subscription Price $5 per annum in advance. Single Copies two cents.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

Advertisements in this paper are inserted at the rate of $1.00 per line for the first week, and 50 cents for each subsequent week.

found to embarrass rather than relieve him in times of monetary pressure.

When money is plenty no laws are required for securing a low rate of interest. When money is scarce it cannot be borrowed except by paying a high rate. If it were possible to make laws so stringent as to prevent the loaning of money at a greater rate than six per cent there are times when bankers would rather keep it locked up than loan it. Whatever theories or scruples, religious or otherwise, that may be entertained against usurious interest, must give way before the unqualified declaration of the Commercial Congress of America in favor of free trade in money in other articles of commerce. We may fiercely denounce the Bank of Montreal for exacting ten per cent, but at the same time we must acknowledge that a refusal to lend at any rate would be decidedly more inconvenient.

The question of tariff was discussed without any admixture of political trade or about protection, for or against, and was

Resolved, That this Board regards with great satisfaction the recent action of Congress for the partial relief and protection of the American industry, by a moderate reduction of duties on imports, and believes both producers and consumers are thereby benefited, by stimulating industry, by checking waste and extravagance, and thus promoting economy of production, and by increasing the amount of living almost unqualified in any other country.

Here is a lesson that may be of use to some of our readers who are agitated on the subject of protection for home industry.

Whether they are for or against the protection of home industry, they were disappointed during the late election campaign, it may be worth their while to consider the utterances of the commercial men of the United States on the subject.

Their verdict is that industry will be stimulated, waste and extravagance checked, economy of production promoted, and the cost of living diminished, by lowering the tariff.

Resolved, That in view of the increasing danger, to the country, of the combination and the tyranny of party organizations, this Board would urge the Legislatures of the several States, the adoption of some improved system of voting, such as the so-called Hare system, by which the intelligent sense of the people may be ascertained and expressed, the tyranny of majorities overruled, and the rights of minorities protected, and the rights of unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues brought to an end.

The fact of such a subject having been introduced into an assemblage like that at New York shows that the political evils so prevalent are seriously affecting the trade of the country.

Those evils have been felt with more than ordinary force of late, and the clear-headed men of business see that the only possible reform to be effected must begin at the ballot box. "Unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues" control the ballot boxes, and get into office, and rob the people and injure the commercial and manufacturing interests of the places under their rule. The evil must be seriously felt, indeed, when the subject of its abatement has become one for Boards of Trade to discuss. The following extract from the report of the proceedings shows how vague are the ideas entertained on the manner of overcoming the existing evils.

Mr. Rogers, of Boston, considered this a proper subject for the action of the Board, and proceeded to show the great importance of this subject in relation to the present system of elections, whether in mass or by districts, parties are elected contrary to the wishes of the people. Another evil was the operation of various characters, who pulled and pulled who controlled the elections. A reform was demanded, and four different methods have been suggested. For instance, substitution and proxy and the limited system, both of which are considered objectionable. Then there is the cumulative vote, which is a dangerous system. The systems most worthy of recommendation, he said, are the list method of voting and the Hare system. By this method every voter is allowed to give his own ballot, and he may add to the candidate nominated as many as he pleases, numbering them 1, 2, 3, &c., according to his preference; so if there are 100,000 voters and ten candidates it requires 10,000 votes to be elected.

Mr. Hoffman of Philadelphia, thought this a subject they had nothing to do with; he was in favor of the majority rule, and moved to lay the subject on the table. An amendment to refer it to the Executive Council was adopted.

A remedy for the evils attending the elective system may not be discovered by the Board of Trade, but the discussion of the matter by that body will arouse the commercial classes to a sense of the extent of the danger and their own interests in securing reform.

Another subject discussed was that of free trade in money, and there was a unanimous expression of opinion against the usury laws existing in some States.

Resolved, That the several Legislatures in the States where usury laws exist should be memorialized to pass such laws as will leave all persons free to trade in money, by borrowing, loaning or otherwise, at such rates of interest as may be agreed upon.

This resolution, it must be remembered, was not passed by a convention of bankers but of borrowers, and it can be accepted as proof that the usury laws made for the protection of the trader are found to embarrass rather than relieve him in times of monetary pressure.

When money is plenty no laws are required for securing a low rate of interest. When money is scarce it cannot be borrowed except by paying a high rate. If it were possible to make laws so stringent as to prevent the loaning of money at a greater rate than six per cent there are times when bankers would rather keep it locked up than loan it. Whatever theories or scruples, religious or otherwise, that may be entertained against usurious interest, must give way before the unqualified declaration of the Commercial Congress of America in favor of free trade in money in other articles of commerce. We may fiercely denounce the Bank of Montreal for exacting ten per cent, but at the same time we must acknowledge that a refusal to lend at any rate would be decidedly more inconvenient.

The question of tariff was discussed without any admixture of political trade or about protection, for or against, and was

Resolved, That this Board regards with great satisfaction the recent action of Congress for the partial relief and protection of the American industry, by a moderate reduction of duties on imports, and believes both producers and consumers are thereby benefited, by stimulating industry, by checking waste and extravagance, and thus promoting economy of production, and by increasing the amount of living almost unqualified in any other country.

Here is a lesson that may be of use to some of our readers who are agitated on the subject of protection for home industry.

Whether they are for or against the protection of home industry, they were disappointed during the late election campaign, it may be worth their while to consider the utterances of the commercial men of the United States on the subject.

Their verdict is that industry will be stimulated, waste and extravagance checked, economy of production promoted, and the cost of living diminished, by lowering the tariff.

Resolved, That in view of the increasing danger, to the country, of the combination and the tyranny of party organizations, this Board would urge the Legislatures of the several States, the adoption of some improved system of voting, such as the so-called Hare system, by which the intelligent sense of the people may be ascertained and expressed, the tyranny of majorities overruled, and the rights of minorities protected, and the rights of unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues brought to an end.

The fact of such a subject having been introduced into an assemblage like that at New York shows that the political evils so prevalent are seriously affecting the trade of the country.

Those evils have been felt with more than ordinary force of late, and the clear-headed men of business see that the only possible reform to be effected must begin at the ballot box. "Unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues" control the ballot boxes, and get into office, and rob the people and injure the commercial and manufacturing interests of the places under their rule. The evil must be seriously felt, indeed, when the subject of its abatement has become one for Boards of Trade to discuss. The following extract from the report of the proceedings shows how vague are the ideas entertained on the manner of overcoming the existing evils.

Mr. Rogers, of Boston, considered this a proper subject for the action of the Board, and proceeded to show the great importance of this subject in relation to the present system of elections, whether in mass or by districts, parties are elected contrary to the wishes of the people. Another evil was the operation of various characters, who pulled and pulled who controlled the elections. A reform was demanded, and four different methods have been suggested. For instance, substitution and proxy and the limited system, both of which are considered objectionable. Then there is the cumulative vote, which is a dangerous system. The systems most worthy of recommendation, he said, are the list method of voting and the Hare system. By this method every voter is allowed to give his own ballot, and he may add to the candidate nominated as many as he pleases, numbering them 1, 2, 3, &c., according to his preference; so if there are 100,000 voters and ten candidates it requires 10,000 votes to be elected.

Mr. Hoffman of Philadelphia, thought this a subject they had nothing to do with; he was in favor of the majority rule, and moved to lay the subject on the table. An amendment to refer it to the Executive Council was adopted.

A remedy for the evils attending the elective system may not be discovered by the Board of Trade, but the discussion of the matter by that body will arouse the commercial classes to a sense of the extent of the danger and their own interests in securing reform.

Another subject discussed was that of free trade in money, and there was a unanimous expression of opinion against the usury laws existing in some States.

Resolved, That the several Legislatures in the States where usury laws exist should be memorialized to pass such laws as will leave all persons free to trade in money, by borrowing, loaning or otherwise, at such rates of interest as may be agreed upon.

This resolution, it must be remembered, was not passed by a convention of bankers but of borrowers, and it can be accepted as proof that the usury laws made for the protection of the trader are found to embarrass rather than relieve him in times of monetary pressure.

When money is plenty no laws are required for securing a low rate of interest. When money is scarce it cannot be borrowed except by paying a high rate. If it were possible to make laws so stringent as to prevent the loaning of money at a greater rate than six per cent there are times when bankers would rather keep it locked up than loan it. Whatever theories or scruples, religious or otherwise, that may be entertained against usurious interest, must give way before the unqualified declaration of the Commercial Congress of America in favor of free trade in money in other articles of commerce. We may fiercely denounce the Bank of Montreal for exacting ten per cent, but at the same time we must acknowledge that a refusal to lend at any rate would be decidedly more inconvenient.

The question of tariff was discussed without any admixture of political trade or about protection, for or against, and was

Resolved, That this Board regards with great satisfaction the recent action of Congress for the partial relief and protection of the American industry, by a moderate reduction of duties on imports, and believes both producers and consumers are thereby benefited, by stimulating industry, by checking waste and extravagance, and thus promoting economy of production, and by increasing the amount of living almost unqualified in any other country.

Here is a lesson that may be of use to some of our readers who are agitated on the subject of protection for home industry.

Whether they are for or against the protection of home industry, they were disappointed during the late election campaign, it may be worth their while to consider the utterances of the commercial men of the United States on the subject.

Their verdict is that industry will be stimulated, waste and extravagance checked, economy of production promoted, and the cost of living diminished, by lowering the tariff.

Resolved, That in view of the increasing danger, to the country, of the combination and the tyranny of party organizations, this Board would urge the Legislatures of the several States, the adoption of some improved system of voting, such as the so-called Hare system, by which the intelligent sense of the people may be ascertained and expressed, the tyranny of majorities overruled, and the rights of minorities protected, and the rights of unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues brought to an end.

The fact of such a subject having been introduced into an assemblage like that at New York shows that the political evils so prevalent are seriously affecting the trade of the country.

Those evils have been felt with more than ordinary force of late, and the clear-headed men of business see that the only possible reform to be effected must begin at the ballot box. "Unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues" control the ballot boxes, and get into office, and rob the people and injure the commercial and manufacturing interests of the places under their rule. The evil must be seriously felt, indeed, when the subject of its abatement has become one for Boards of Trade to discuss. The following extract from the report of the proceedings shows how vague are the ideas entertained on the manner of overcoming the existing evils.

Mr. Rogers, of Boston, considered this a proper subject for the action of the Board, and proceeded to show the great importance of this subject in relation to the present system of elections, whether in mass or by districts, parties are elected contrary to the wishes of the people. Another evil was the operation of various characters, who pulled and pulled who controlled the elections. A reform was demanded, and four different methods have been suggested. For instance, substitution and proxy and the limited system, both of which are considered objectionable. Then there is the cumulative vote, which is a dangerous system. The systems most worthy of recommendation, he said, are the list method of voting and the Hare system. By this method every voter is allowed to give his own ballot, and he may add to the candidate nominated as many as he pleases, numbering them 1, 2, 3, &c., according to his preference; so if there are 100,000 voters and ten candidates it requires 10,000 votes to be elected.

Mr. Hoffman of Philadelphia, thought this a subject they had nothing to do with; he was in favor of the majority rule, and moved to lay the subject on the table. An amendment to refer it to the Executive Council was adopted.

A remedy for the evils attending the elective system may not be discovered by the Board of Trade, but the discussion of the matter by that body will arouse the commercial classes to a sense of the extent of the danger and their own interests in securing reform.

Another subject discussed was that of free trade in money, and there was a unanimous expression of opinion against the usury laws existing in some States.

Resolved, That the several Legislatures in the States where usury laws exist should be memorialized to pass such laws as will leave all persons free to trade in money, by borrowing, loaning or otherwise, at such rates of interest as may be agreed upon.

This resolution, it must be remembered, was not passed by a convention of bankers but of borrowers, and it can be accepted as proof that the usury laws made for the protection of the trader are found to embarrass rather than relieve him in times of monetary pressure.

When money is plenty no laws are required for securing a low rate of interest. When money is scarce it cannot be borrowed except by paying a high rate. If it were possible to make laws so stringent as to prevent the loaning of money at a greater rate than six per cent there are times when bankers would rather keep it locked up than loan it. Whatever theories or scruples, religious or otherwise, that may be entertained against usurious interest, must give way before the unqualified declaration of the Commercial Congress of America in favor of free trade in money in other articles of commerce. We may fiercely denounce the Bank of Montreal for exacting ten per cent, but at the same time we must acknowledge that a refusal to lend at any rate would be decidedly more inconvenient.

The question of tariff was discussed without any admixture of political trade or about protection, for or against, and was

Resolved, That this Board regards with great satisfaction the recent action of Congress for the partial relief and protection of the American industry, by a moderate reduction of duties on imports, and believes both producers and consumers are thereby benefited, by stimulating industry, by checking waste and extravagance, and thus promoting economy of production, and by increasing the amount of living almost unqualified in any other country.

Here is a lesson that may be of use to some of our readers who are agitated on the subject of protection for home industry.

Whether they are for or against the protection of home industry, they were disappointed during the late election campaign, it may be worth their while to consider the utterances of the commercial men of the United States on the subject.

Their verdict is that industry will be stimulated, waste and extravagance checked, economy of production promoted, and the cost of living diminished, by lowering the tariff.

Resolved, That in view of the increasing danger, to the country, of the combination and the tyranny of party organizations, this Board would urge the Legislatures of the several States, the adoption of some improved system of voting, such as the so-called Hare system, by which the intelligent sense of the people may be ascertained and expressed, the tyranny of majorities overruled, and the rights of minorities protected, and the rights of unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues brought to an end.

The fact of such a subject having been introduced into an assemblage like that at New York shows that the political evils so prevalent are seriously affecting the trade of the country.

Those evils have been felt with more than ordinary force of late, and the clear-headed men of business see that the only possible reform to be effected must begin at the ballot box. "Unscrupulous and profligate politicians and demagogues" control the ballot boxes, and get into office, and rob the people and injure the commercial and manufacturing interests of the places under their rule. The evil must be seriously felt, indeed, when the subject of its abatement has become one for Boards of Trade to discuss. The following extract from the report of the proceedings shows how vague are the ideas entertained on the manner of overcoming the existing evils.

Mr. Rogers, of Boston, considered this a proper subject for the action of the Board, and proceeded to show the great importance of this subject in relation to the present system of elections, whether in mass or by districts, parties are elected contrary to the wishes of the people. Another evil was the operation of various characters, who pulled and pulled who controlled the elections. A reform was demanded, and four different methods have been suggested. For instance, substitution and proxy and the limited system, both of which are considered objectionable. Then there is the cumulative vote, which is a dangerous system. The systems most worthy of recommendation, he said, are the list method of voting and the Hare system. By this method every voter is allowed to give his own ballot, and he may add to the candidate nominated as many as he pleases, numbering them 1, 2, 3, &c., according to his preference; so if there are 100,000 voters and ten candidates it requires 10,000 votes to be elected.

Mr. Hoffman of Philadelphia, thought this a subject they had nothing to do with; he was in favor of the majority rule, and moved to lay the subject on the table. An amendment to refer it to the Executive Council was adopted.

A remedy for the evils attending the elective system may not be discovered by the Board of Trade, but the discussion of the matter by that body will arouse the commercial classes to a sense of the extent of the danger and their own interests in securing reform.

Another subject discussed was that of free trade in money, and there was a unanimous expression of opinion against the usury laws existing in some States.

Resolved, That the several Legislatures in the States where usury laws exist should be memorialized to pass such laws as will leave all persons free to trade in money, by borrowing, loaning or otherwise, at such rates of interest as may be agreed upon.

NOTES AND NEWS.

Of the 103 deaths in Boston last week, 33 were of small-pox, an increase of 6 by the latter disease over the previous week.

The Canal of Sweden and Norway invites the subjects residing in New York city and neighborhood to record an oath of allegiance to King Oscar II.

Dr. Hall's new church has been commenced in New York. It will have 100 feet frontage on Fifth avenue and 200 feet on Fifty-fifth street.

James Moren, a brakeman on the Boston and Albany Railroad, was run over by the cars at Worcester, Mass., Saturday, and fatally crushed.

Henry Klubb, of Portland, Me., a love-sick youth of 21, tried to poison himself to death, Friday night, but some hot mustard water relieved him and he still lives.

The high-jumping match for the championship, between M. C. Burris and W. B. Curtis, at New York, Saturday, was won by the latter. Height of jump, 4 feet, 10 inches.

In the whole company of George Eliot's writings, says the Spectator, "we can scarcely recall a description of one happy scene, and not one happy story of life."

John Kerr, of Utterville, N. Y., is called mother-in-law, because he abandoned Miss Anna Wilkins, whom he had courted for seven years, and married a country girl named Palmer.

The Rev. Mr. Furber, a prominent Unitarian of Brighton, who was tried and condemned last year by an ecclesiastical court of the Established Church, is dead.

Richard Hickey, a well-known butcher and stock dealer of Chicago, while going to the stockyards in a buggy Saturday, suddenly fell dead. He was apparently in good health.

The trial of Mark Flanagan for the murder of his wife was postponed Saturday at the instance of the State.

The New Orleans longshoremen's strike for four dollars per day has terminated successfully. A slight advance in coal and freight is probable in consequence of the increase of wages.

Field Marshal Sir George Pollock, a distinguished East Indian officer, died at the time of his death of the "Tower," died in London on the 6th inst., at an advanced age.

A copy of the "Herald" Office has been caught with a duplicate key of the safe in his possession. Small sums have been frequently missed from the safe for a long time past.

Advices from all the sections of South Carolina show that the amendments to the State Constitution, prohibiting any increase of the State debt, had been ratified by every voting vote, both parties very generally endorsing the measure.

Charles Sumner visited Mr. Gamble on Saturday. During a conversation Gamble said that Mr. Sumner expressed the warmest sympathy for the French Republic, but regretted the want of sincere republicans in France.

The youth of Halifax under twenty-one years of age are denied the privilege of carrying arms, the offence being punishable by fine or imprisonment. David Gallagher, aged eighteen, has been fined $1 for violating the by-law.

John Hook, an employe of the Northern Central Railroad, in Baltimore, was caught in the act of carrying a loaded revolver in the pocket of his coat. His right arm was broken in several places, his neck dislocated, both legs broken several times, and a number of his ribs broken. His body made about twenty revolutions before the machinery was stopped.

For a list of Agents for the sale of the Daily Tribune see first page.

For advertisements of WANTED, LOST, FOUND, FOR SALE, or TO LET, see Auction column.

The Bat and Ball.
The members of the St. John Base Ball Club will meet for practice on the Barrack Square at 9.30 a. m. to-morrow.

Reviews.
The Custom House will be closed to-morrow.

No Western mail, beyond Bangor, was received here this morning, owing to the non-connection of the trains.

A Thanksgiving service will be held in St. David's Church to-morrow at 11 a. m.

Auction Sales.
Mr. Lockhart sold at auction on the Market Square at 11 o'clock today, another lot of apples at from $1 to $1.80 per barrel.

The Market Slip.
There is a fair supply of potatoes and apples at the Slip to-day. The former selling at $1.40 per tub and $1.75 per barrel, the latter from $1.75 up to $3.

Our Sidewalks.
The last piece of asphalt sidewalk on Germain street, near the corner of Princess, is being laid down. All that now remains to complete the circuit of the block is a strip of sidewalk from the corner to Ritchie's building.

A Woman Run Over.
Yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock a woman named Danley was run over by a cart on the corner of Germain street, near the corner of Princess, by a cart belonging to Dr. Berryman and driven by some boys. She was taken up somewhat seriously injured and the medical assistance of Dr. Travis called into requisition.

The "Send."
A strong force of men are employed putting the steamer "Send" in working order again. Her burthened deck, railings and guards are being repaired and replaced as rapidly as possible. On and after the 4th November, she will make her three trips a week, running Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

A Halifax policeman was stabbed Sunday by a disorderly shopkeeper under arrest, and an American citizen was injured in an hour or two later. Shopkeepers have political influence.

Shipping Notes.

Captain John Gillis, master of the ship "Adriana," 3300 tons, of this port, from Callao, with guano, at Leith 31 inst., makes the following report:—Left Callao on the 11th May. Proceeded, and on Sept. 26, 10 p. m., tide fell, weather stormy, wind N. E., terrific gale, the ship being about 35

