KING ALBERT'S BIRTHDAY

Great Britain and her Allies owe a deep debt of gratitude to King Albert of Belgium and his heroic subjects for the gallant stand which they made when Germany invaded their territory, and as a mark of respect and appreciation, I would ask the citizens of Campbellton to fittingly observe King Albert's birthday, April 8th, by the display of flags and bunting, giving special prominence to the Belgian flag.

I would also ask that they render what financial assistance they can to the several societies which will on that day endeavour to raise funds for the relief of these homeless people.

A. A. ANDREW, Mayor.

GAME WARDENS AFRAID TO ENTER PROSECUTIONS

Only a Few Cases Before Magistrate Out of Hundreds of Animals Slaughtered

The statements contained in last week's Graphic with respect to slaughter of big game throughout Restigouche have aroused considerable interest throughout the county and from many quarters we have received word that the half has not been told.

The Campbellton Tribune endeavors to cover up the matter and suggests that if the Graphic has such information it might send same to Warden Robt. Dawson, who will look into the matter. It also says that every section of the county has its game warden.

We may add that it is Mr. Robert Dawson's duty to protect the big game in our forest. That he is the party who is paid to do this work, but so far as we can learn he is content to stay at home and draw his salary, and as he is the chief of this noble company of Restigouche game wardens, the rest follow his example.

There are one or two exceptions to this rule and we understand that Warden John S. McLean is one of them. He is one of the men who knows conditions in the woods are very bad, but he was only sworn in about two weeks ago, or after all the damage was done, and he understands that game wardens have only been sworn in a very short time.

Through the influence of Mr. M. M. Mowat who went to Fredericton, and other citizens here who appealed to the government to make an effort to save our big game, two special wardens, Harvey Galton and James Thompson, have been sworn in. These are two of the best men in the county and we can assure them that they will be backed up by the people at large, if they prosecute every case they can furnish proof of.

It is even hinted that the government is afraid to prosecute offenders, because it will mean loss of voters to their party.

One pot hunter, who was convicted and fined $100.00 some years ago, made the remark in hearing of others that for that $100.00 he had killed enough game and sold same to the amount of $700.00, and had not been caught yet.

We could go on and write of many cases which have come to our knowledge, some of them within rifle shot of Campbellton, but the season is now passed when the game are being slaughtered. Unfortunately our attention was called to this matter too late for this season, but we hope that it will mean an improvement in years to come. If no steps are taken next year it will be only a very short time until our big game are entirely exterminated.

LETTERS RECEIVED FROM OFFICERS OF 26TH

Col. McAvity and Late Major Belyea Write of Capt. H. W. Ferguson's Death

The following letters are self explanatory. It will be noticed that Col. McAvity mentions Capt. Ferguson, instead of Lieut.

In the Trenches,
Belgium, March 17, 1916.
To William F. Ferguson, Esq.,
Campbellton, N. B.
Dear Mr. Ferguson:

It is my painful duty to officially notify you of the death of your son, H. W. Ferguson, Captain in my Battalion.

Captain Ferguson was sniped while on duty in our front line trenches and was in the act of going from one section of strong points to another so as to inspect his machine gun detachments, there he was shot through the chest, immediately becoming unconscious and was brought rapidly to dressing station, he died in a few minutes, never becoming conscious.

You and family have the deepest sympathy of myself and my regiment in your bereavement.

Captain Ferguson was all an officer commanding could ask for, as an officer and a gentleman, fearless in carrying out all and any duty intrusted to him, competent beyond the ordinary measure in his branch of the service, and with his impressive courtesy, made him an ideal officer whom I personally will greatly miss.

I am afraid before many days that I shall have to report heavy losses, as I am to take over several difficult parts of line at once, but God's will will be done as it is our duty.

There is no useless weeping in this corps and all ranks are always ready to do their duty. May this bloody war soon terminate in all our prayers, but not a peace without accomplishing what so many have given their lives for.

Capt. Ferguson's effects will be forwarded home at once. He is buried with 71 officers, N. C. O.'s and men in the 26th N. B. Battalion burying ground near Kennel.

He was buried with all possible honours permissible in war time. Capt. Rev. Dr. Burnett officiated. Lieut. General Sir A. Alderson, Army Corps Commander, Major General R. C. Turner, V. C., and General Watson, C. B., attended with their personal staff. Every officer of the 26th and 24th who could be spared from the trenches were also there, while two companies of Battalion lined walks in graveyard. Coffin was covered with Union Jack and there were a number of floral decorations on coffin, all made by the loving hands of his own men out of evergreen holly which here grows wild.

In my life time spent in a good many parts of the world, I don't think I ever was more impressed or effected. After the Padre's final prayer there was scarce a dry eye in the Battalion. I intended to have a Masonic funeral, but no one had a copy of ritual. Every Officer, N. C. O.'s and men filed by the grave, halted in turn, came to the salute, passed on, from Army Corps Commander to Private. Every man did his act of final respect. His friend, Lieut. Lockhart will succeed him as Machine Gun Officer and will undoubtedly write you and Mrs. Ferguson. Again assuring you of my deepest sympathy,

I have the honour to be,
Your obedient servant,
J. L. McAVITY, Lt. Col.
26th N. B. Battalion.

WHOLESALE STARVATION IF SUPPLIES FAIL

Three Million People Dependent Upon Supplies Sent in.—All Should Contribute

The following is from a remarkable interview with a representative of the Rockefeller Foundation, reprinted from the leading English newspapers of Feb. 29, 1916:

"There would be wholesale starvation within three or four weeks if the importation of food into Belgium were stopped."

That is the carefully considered opinion of F. C. Walcott, a well known American, who has arrived in London from Belgium, where he went at the request of the Rockefeller Foundation to investigate the work of the neutral commission for relief, of which Herbert Hoover is chairman. The Rockefeller Foundation—the most richly endowed philanthropic institution in the United States—before contributing any further sums for the benefit of the 7,000,000 civilians in that part of Belgium occupied by the Germans, desired an independent report from their own representative. The German authorities allowed Mr. Walcott to go wherever he liked, and under these exceptional circumstances he spent three weeks visiting the more thickly populated districts in Belgium and northern France.

"If any of those who cavil at sending relief supplies into Belgium could only visit Belgium," said Mr. Walcott yesterday, "and could see personally the plight of the suffering people, they would come back as eager for the continuance of this relief work as I now am."

"It is difficult for anyone getting three ample meals a day, with plenty of fuel in the house, and living even in moderate luxury, to comprehend what it means suddenly to be reduced to existing on one meal a day.

"Waiting in the Rain for food.

"That one meal in Belgium consists of 300 grammes of bread—which is the equivalent of three medium-sized breakfast rolls or three thick slices of bread—and one half-litre—approximately one pint—of soup, made chiefly from vegetables. Of the 7,000,000 in Belgium, 3,000,000 are practically destitute, and they have to stand in line from one to three hours a day for this pittance of food. The depots for distribution are generally only large enough to accommodate between thirty and fifty people at a time, so long queues of the hungry extend into the street for 100 yards or more. Most of those who wait are so poor that they have no protection, in the shape of an umbrella or a thick coat, against the discomfort of stormy days.

"In the cities of Belgium I have recently seen thousands of people lined up in the snow, or rain-soaked, and shilly, waiting for bread and soup. I have returned to some of the distributing stations at the end of the day and have often found many men, women and children, still standing in line, but as the doors were then closed, they were compelled to go back to their squalid homes, cold, wet and miserable. It was not until eighteen weary hours afterwards that they got the meals they missed.

The Misery of the Children.

"There is another stratum of society, the middle class, just above the poorer working people, which is only partially destitute; but even these must swallow their pride and stand in the long lines every day for a supplementary ration of food, for their means do not enable them to buy enough to keep body and soul together. Many of them are mothers and fathers who have children only partly nourished. When they go home without even the daily ration, as occasionally happens, the suffering becomes pathetically acute to yourself the mental condition of a people who have been without work for more than a year and a half who have daily been face to face with the possibility of starvation, and who are cut off from all communication with the outside world by the barbed wire and armed cordons of a conquering foreign army. In every Belgian city, once a fortnight, the bulletin boards are placarded with bright pink paper—the German 'affiche'—on which the Belgians can read the names of their fellow-countrymen and women who have been sentenced to imprisonment, for terms varying from a year to a life time on account of offences committed against German rule. And, on top of all this, the majority of the Belgians cannot help realizing, always keenly, sometimes bitterly, that they are 'objects of charity.'

"A few well-fed people outside of Belgium sometimes hint that the Belgians are getting more relief than they need, and that Germany is benefiting either directly or indirectly, or both, because the British nation allows bare living supplies, for the nation for whom they went to war, to go through the blockade. As regards the first point, expert neutral dietitians, who have been permitted to visit Belgium, are unanimous in stating that the food doled out to these 3,000,000 destitute

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN OPERA HOUSE VERY LARGELY ATTENDED

Citizens Gather to Do Honor to Restigouche Boys Who Have Fallen in Discharge of their Duty at Front—Our Brave Dead.

The memorial service in honor of Lieut. H. W. Ferguson, which was planned for the Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, was later broadened to embrace all the Campbellton and Restigouche boys who had fallen at the front in the discharge of their duty, as well as in memory of Major W. H. Belyea of the 26th, who was a cousin of Rev. Mr. Camp; and the place of the meeting was changed to the Opera House.

Long before the hour set, people began to congregate at the Opera House, and when the doors were open to admit the different societies, the street was blocked with citizens.

At 3.15 the Mayor and members of the Town Council, and two officials, headed by the Campbellton Brass Band and the members of the Campbellton Fire Brigade and the L. O. L., left the Town Hall and proceeded to the Masonic and Oddfellow's halls, where members of these societies and the Knights of Pythias joined the procession. At the Subway the societies fell in behind "A" company of the 132nd Battalion, headed by the Bugle Band and the procession proceeded to the Opera House.

At the Opera House the members of the 132nd filled the right hand aisles, while the societies were seated in the centre. A large choir of boys in khaki were seated on the platform and attended to the musical part of the service.

The general public was next admitted and filled every available seat, and hundreds stood throughout the lengthy service.

Mayor Andrew acted as chairman and Revs. W. Camp, Mr. Wilson of the N. B. Temperance Federation, J. E. Purdie, Hugh Miller, Dr. C. W. Squires, John Squires and Judge Botkin occupied seats on the platform.

Mayor Andrew explained why the change of places were made, which was to enable all societies to take part, and to do honor to all our fallen heroes.

He read the names of those who had given up their lives for their country as follows:—

Daniel O'Keefe, P. P. C. L. I.
Jos. S. Gallant, Athol, 25th.
Dawson Winchester, Dalhousie, 29th.
Jerome Belanger, Val Brilliant, 26th.
Sifton Mann, 26th.
J. A. O'Keefe, P. P. C. L. I.
Almon Saviand, 26th.
Lieut. H. W. Ferguson, 26th.
Major, W. H. Belyea, Newcastle, 26th.

The following was the order of service.

Doxology.
Prayer—Rev. Mr. Wilson.
Hymn.
Scripture Reading, St. John, 14th, Rev. Hugh Miller.
Prayer—Dr. C. W. Squires.
Offering for Red Cross purposes.
Hymn.
Rev. W. Camp delivered an eloquent address, taking as his text the words: "He saved others, Himself He cannot save."—Matthew 37:42.

Theme—The Self Sacrifice of Jesus.

The following is a brief synopsis of the address:

The words of our text were uttered by the Chief Priests, scribes and elders. They were spoken as a taunt. Around that cross of Calvary were those whose hearts were deeply touched by the sad scene before them. Some were there who were perfectly indifferdo good to others, we make our lives conform to the life of Christ. And this brotherhood is bound up in that word love. Jesus loved us and gave up His life for us. We must love one another and lay down our lives in helpfulness and sympathy in burden bearing for one another. And let the inspiring motive be the love of Christ.

Mr. Camp closed with a fitting tribute to the boys who had fallen in this our fight for principles and country. They showed the spirit of self-sacrifice and we honor and respect their names.

Solo—Miss De Corveant.
Prayer—Rev. J. E. Purdie.
Address—U. S. Consul, Judge Botkin.

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:—

In such an hour as this, the partition lines of parties, sects and factions vanish from view and people with sad but proud hearts blend common feelings in the brotherhood of a common loss. Let me speak as one of you, for your feelings and emotions are mine, your loss is mine, and your exaltation is also mine.

Our dead citizen and friend, Harry W. Ferguson, who reposes in a martial grave near the spot where his noble and brave life was sacrificed for his country's cause, was dear to us all, and we feel common pride in his exemplary character, his friendly and buoyant spirit, and in his sterling devotion to whatever duty confronted him. All who ever met him paid him sincere respect and reverence. All who knew him felt the promptings of his high manly principles, loved him; and all who gained or received his friendship were blest.

His life was clean, his thoughts were upright and his actions were ever kind, and his words were ever frank and candid and always accentuated with truth and sincerity. In his bosom burned no fires of malice or vengeance. I suppose that probably he had some faults, but I never discovered them nor heard what they were.

To him the doors of this world's best and most desirable opportunities were opened wide or were opening, and before him lay a broad, extensive and inviting field of success in all that pertains to a most splendid and noble career; but his patriotic ears heard the call of Duty in paths full of danger and arduous trial, and, laying all else on the altars of sacrifice, he sprang to the forming ranks of Duty's defenders, exclaiming in act and spirit: "Let us have no more of this! Take me." Heroically he tendered his service and marched away with dauntless breast to face his country's foes.

Other brave young men of this commonwealth have fallen along that same battle front, and perhaps many others are yet to fall in the fight before substantial peace can come to this blighted world. Already in many homes stretching in line from Halifax to Vancouver and from the International boundary to the ice fields of the north, there is unspeakable sorrow and anguish; yet from the sacrifices of the dead and maimed the country, and the world at large, will gain inestimable benefits and blessings that shall ripen in the years of the future. Human liberty will become more priceless, and human hearts under the Dominion's flag will beat more in unison and feel a keener and more enduring joy in the blessings of political and religious freedom made more sacred and precious by the toils and struggles, the sufferings and death of Canadian volunteers and the sorrows and heartbreaks of mourning kith and kin.

"They never fall who die in a great cause.

The block may soak their gore, their heads may sicken in the sun; their limbs be strung to city walls and castle gates. But still their spirits walk abroad. And lead the world to freedom."

Every Canadian soldier whose life and limbs shall be endangered, or lost, will add to the future greatness and glory of the Dominion. But we have a faith, that our lives here with all their vicissitudes and sorrows, that attend them, are not a mere mockery, that "the grave is not our goal," that "dust to dust, ashes to ashes," "was not spoken of the soul." And in our inner selves we, like that splendid optimist of Lytton's who sang—

"There is no death! The stars go down To rise upon some fairer shore, And bright in Heaven's jewelled crown They shine forevermore.

"There is no death! An angel form Mar. 23-4-pd.

Walks o'er the earth with silent tread,
He bears our best loved things away,
And then we call them dead.

"He leaves our hearts all desolate,
The dear immortal spirits tread,
Transplanted into bliss they now
Adorn immortal bowers.

"And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread,
For all the boundless universe
Is life! There Are No Dead."

And so today we honor those who have already fallen, and those who still living, have offered their lives and all of life's interests on the altars of patriotic duty, and are yet to fall.

Many homes in this community and vicinity are shrouded in the awful doubts and terrible expectations of the times. Every day brings its renewal of dread lest the despatch shall come telling its tales of woe to Father and Mother, Brother and Sister, or Wife and Children. Such is the curse of war: As one who in two wars under the Stars and Stripes and who has witnessed all the panoply and parade of martial forces, and the unspoken horrors and sufferings of countless fields, let me tender to every bereaved and anxious soul before me, my heart's deepest, best and holiest sympathies.

On some slightly and convenient location in Campbellton when this war shall close, I would erect a noble monument of pure white marble in memory of all the fallen who enrolled at Campbellton. I would chisel into that marble shaft their several names, and other data, and on the summit in the act of working his machine gun, I would place the sculptured form of our good and noble friend, Lieutenant Harry W. Ferguson; and then under all the names I would chisel the verse:

They are sleeping, grandly sleeping:
Bring your sons to view this sight:
Let them learn from these men's lesson
That great glory crowns the Right;
And that men whate'er their station,
Whate'er be their creed,
Doff at last their hats to Virtue,
Pay in tribute in full mead.

Hymn.
Benediction.
God Save the King.

During the addresses the most profound silence was maintained and many were the tear dimmed eyes throughout the vast audience.

The service throughout was a most fitting one, and one who will be long remembered by those who took part.

Please permit me to correct an error I read in last week's paper about the death of John McDonald. He died at his own home, Duncan Street, Campbellton, N. B., not at his daughter's.

Deceased was a member of a fine old Balastrae family and was born on the old McWhirter Homestead, "Richmond Hill" nearly 74 years ago.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. William McKenzie of Red Deer, Alta., and two brothers, Henry of New Richmond West and Alex. of Iron Mountain, Mich., and two sons, Gilbert and John of New Richmond Centre and David on the old homestead.

Five daughters also survive him, Mrs. Johnson Smith of Beverly, Mass., Mrs. William Cochrane of Huntsville, Ont., Mrs. Clarence Dimock of Maria, Que., Mrs. Robert Burton of Little Cascapedia and Miss Sarah Ann at home.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. J. Rattee, assisted by Mr. Stewart.

The cortege was one of the largest seen in New Richmond for years, which showed the respect in which he was held by all denominations.

OBITUARY

At Black Point on March 21st, Mrs. Margaret McMillan, at the advanced age of sixty-nine years. Her husband Robert McMillan, pre-deceased her just two years ago. The memory of loving parents, now "united above" will be ever green in the hearts of their family, viz: Willie of Vancouver, Mrs. G. A. Craswell, Dalhousie Junction; Nat. of Black Point and Mrs. R. C. Dutch. Also two sisters and five brothers, Misses Isabella and Mary McNair, William of Armstrong, B. C., and Nathaniel, Robert, David and James McNair of Vancouver. Deceased had been ill for the last six months. A very painful illness, yet she never murmured, but ever looked forward to the "Best" when she would be made "perfect through suffering". She often said "God deals gently with me". When passing through the Valley and Shadow of death she said, "He is with me I feel his presence now". Death had no fears. It was the welcome "messenger of peace". With a smile on her lips she passed away. Thus was the veil of separation drawn for a season.

She is departed and no more seen. But she will be seen on the right hand of her Redeemer at the last day. A strong, very strong love bound us together and it was anguish to rend it, but it is only for a little while, it will soon be reunited again never to be disturbed. Friends may wait, angels beckon, but it is Jesus himself that comes to take us home. He did not say, "I will come again and take you to myself, where I am, there ye may be also." Till then, we who still remain may trust the very same Jesus that took our loved one through the swells of Jordan, to support and shelter us from these storms of life and hide us under his pavilion. Until we also go hence. "Till not be long our journey here, Each broken sigh And falling tear Will soon be o'er."

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vye have the sympathy of many friends in the death of their four months old child, which occurred on Sunday morning, April 2nd. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, Rev. Hugh Miller officiating. Interment was in the Campbellton Rural Cemetery.

The announcement in church on Sunday morning was as a shock to the large circle of friends. Much sympathy was expressed throughout the entire community to the loving and affectionate husband and family. Funeral was held on Monday. Interment in New Mills cemetery.

Died at New Carlisle, March 21st, 1916, Mr. Chas. Eugene Lelievre, age 27 years and 4 months. "Gone but not forgotten". Inserted by his family.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS Why Demanded

"Gin Pills did for my husband and me what no other remedy could. I have advised two other parties to use them, one of them being my mother-in-law, a great sufferer for several years, and one boy, aged 12, so as to enable her to sleep on her left side, something she could not do for many a year. The doctor told her they could not cure her, but could relieve her by an operation for a floating kidney, but on account of her age they did not think it advisable. My mother-in-law's advice she tried Gin Pills which cured her and for which she is ever ready to speak in terms of praise."

OUR CIVIC RULERS

The life of the present Town Council nears its close. In these late hours of the life of the Council, its individual members come in for some sharp criticism from our contemporary "The Tribune". The debt of the Town if dilated on as well as the extravagance of the Councillors. Doubtless the debt is great and the expenditure of some amounts by the several departments might be criticised. We hold no brief from any of the Councillors and do not argue that they are at all perfect, neither do we deny that the Town is in debt. But the remarks of our contemporary relative to the voting to themselves of money by the Councillors, is unnecessary and uncalled for. The gentleman in the Council referred to by name and spoken of as the worst criminal is Mayor Andrew. Mayor Andrew has filled the Mayor's chair for two terms most acceptably to the large majority of the people of the Town. To a close attention to all matters pertaining to the office, he has added a gentlemanly, dignified tone to the position and it will not be easy to find a more assiduous and courteous officer than the present Mayor. Many citizens have been heard to express themselves with gratitude to Mayor Andrew for the hours he has given to the business of the Town and of the careful oversight to all its affairs given by him. He has "been instant in season and out of season" in Town affairs and has always met every citizen who had a grievance against the Town's administration of its affairs, in a way to win the admiration of any fair-minded man. Doubtless he has not given the satisfaction that some required at his hands, but perhaps the Town's welfare denied the request made upon him. If no greater charge can be made against Mayor Andrew than that he has gobbled some insurance commissions in the way of business, he ought to be canonized as a saint. Undue and unfair criticism of our Town Councillors and Mayor will have the opposite effect of that perhaps intended. If there are better men willing to devote their time and ability to the service of the Town, why are they not presented to the public for their acceptance, but to charge men with unfair and untrue charges either in substance or in implication is not the way to induce new men of the proper calibre to undertake the job. The public surely admires men who are doing things, even if mistakes are made, in contrast with those who hold their office only as an adjunct to their dignity and do nothing.

A GREAT UPHEAVAL

When we consider that during the Russian-Japanese War, when the Russian Fleet in their passage through the North Sea on their way to Japan, made an attack on and sunk English trawlers mistaking them for the Japanese Fleet; and compare their attitude of that day with their intelligent bravery of today, we naturally inquire why? Is it the same race of people who were so thoroughly whipped by the Japs, that are successfully resisting the mighty power of the great German army in the East. A nation of people enslaved by their own ignorance and the autocratic power of their despotic rulers has emerged from such barbarism and ranked themselves among the great powers of the world. And the cause is in a free people, wise to learn from their disastrous defeat by the Japanese, they turned their attention to betterment of their internal condition. Is there not something that we can learn from these our Russian neighbors? One signal act of the Russian people in their efforts to accept civilization and to profit by its teaching, was to declare for the prohibition of vodka throughout their whole country. And for this one act alone dates much of their success in the conflict against the Germans. It has also contributed independence and prosperity to the whole mass of the people. As a nation they may be admired and imitated.

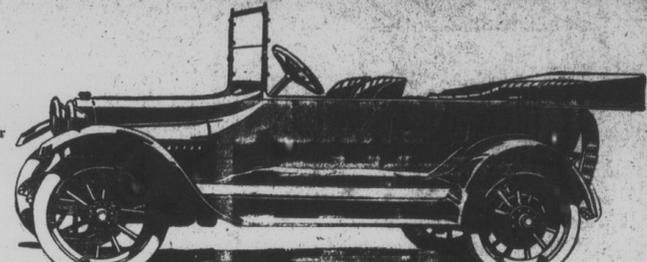

Frederickton, April 1—Donald Fraser, Sr., head of Fraser, Limited, one of Canada's largest lumber concerns, died at his home on the Woodstock road shortly after noon. He was taken suddenly ill with heart failure while attending the evening service at St. Paul's Presbyterian church on Sunday, and little hope was held out for his recovery during the week.

MILITARY HONORS FOR LATE CORP. STEWART

Toronto Star, March 30.—Toronto saw to-day one of the most imposing and impressive military funeral processions that has passed through its streets in many months, when the body of Corporal (Dr.) Robert Gordon C. Stewart, a member of the gallant 15th Toronto Highland Battalion, who died on Tuesday at the General Hospital, following an operation, was carried on a gun carriage to the Union Station. The body was shipped to Dalhousie, New Brunswick, where the dead hero will be buried in the family plot. The funeral, which took place from his brother's residence, W. W. Stewart, 138 Arundel avenue, at 10.30 this morning, was in charge of Major George C. Williams, senior chaplain of the division, from Exhibition headquarters. Major Williams paid a fitting tribute to the dead warrior in the text he chose: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for a friend." The words found a silent echo in the hearts of Corporal Stewart's friends, who had gathered to pay the last honor to the departed soldier.

The part taken by the military men was a fitting tribute to one who had answered the call to duty, and fell wounded on the battlefield of St. Julien. Over 40 wounded soldiers, many of whom fought with Corporal Stewart at St. Julien, attended the funeral in a body, and marched the long distance from the home to the Union Station (five miles) behind the gun carriage which carried the casket. They were men who had been gassed, some suffering from shell shock, others who carried scars on their faces, and many limped along with the aid of a cane. After the service in the house the eight pall-bearers, J. C. Holy, 15th Bn.; J. R. Hindes, 15th Bn.; H. G. Herrington, 15th Bn.; Corporal John Scott, Princess Patricia's; Robert Carr, P. P. C. L. I.; C. Powell, 15th Bn.; R. Warrington, 15th Bn.; and Wm. Daldiday, 3rd Bn.; took charge of the casket. They were followed by a piper of the 92nd Battalion, who played a lament as the casket was borne to the gun-carriage, which was from the 49th Battery of Exhibition Park in charge of Sgt. F. J. Brown. Mounted on the gun-carriage, draped with the Canadian Ensign, which Corporal Stewart had fought for so well, drawn by four Belgians constitutes the irreducible minimum living ration. As regards the suggestion that Germany is in any way benefiting, the whole question has been very thoroughly and impartially investigated by the neutral commission and their report fully and conclusively and, to my mind, definitely proves that there is no stealing of supplies by the Germans.

"If Supplies Were Stopped!"

"I do not think it is quite realized here that many German authorities openly state that if relief supplies were stopped going into Belgium the Germans would then be able to take many Belgian workmen into Germany where, in munition works and factories, they could release German workmen for fighting.

"It would, of course, be improper for me to express any opinion as to the correctness of this German view. I merely mention it because this aspect of the case does not seem to have been presented itself to the public in England.

The Need is Great.

"There would be wholesale starvation within two or three weeks if the importation of food into Belgium were stopped. The need will continue to be great many months after peace is declared. Factories have been stripped of machinery and there is complete stagnation of industry in Belgium. It will take months to rehabilitate these industries and start the wheels again.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it.

SAD STORY OF CORPORAL STEWART'S FINAL HOURS

St. Julien Hero Who Had Been in St. John Arrested on False Charge

An investigation into the unfortunate circumstances surrounding the death of Corporal Robert Duncan Caldwell Stewart, M.D., in Toronto recently, shows that he did not die of an abscess of the brain as reported, but of pneumonia which followed his unwarranted arrest on a charge of being drunk. It develops that Dr. Stewart was not intoxicated, but walked unsteadily because of the serious injuries he sustained at the battle of St. Julien.

Dr. Stewart's home was in Dalhousie. He was in St. John last winter for several weeks and was a speaker at a recruiting meeting at the Imperial Theatre one Sunday night. Dressed in his Highland uniform, and limping slightly, his figure was a familiar one on St. John streets. For a time he was in the Convalescent Home here.

Enlisted When War Began

When the war broke out he was living near Kingston, Ont. He went to Valcartier and enlisted in the Fifteenth Highlanders. At St. Julien he was shot in the head and leg. He lost the sight of one eye and the vision of the other was affected. In England he heard of Col. Dr. Perry Goldsmith's skill in treating cases similar to his and he believed that Dr. Goldsmith was the one man who could remove the bad effects of the wound in his head. Learning that Dr. Goldsmith was in Toronto, Corporal Stewart went there March 25th and was operated upon. We got through the operation very successfully. While in Toronto he was cared for by a number of ladies who took an interest in his case, as a number of ladies in St. John had done while he was here.

Last week he left the convalescent home at the Bishop Strachan School to take a walk. While proceeding along Yonge street somewhat unsteadily due to the paralysis in his leg and to his imperfect sight he was arrested by a military policeman on a charge of being drunk, and was taken to a police station. He told the police that he had not been drinking, but that the bright light so affected his head that he could not cross the street quickly.

In Cell All Night.

The unfortunate man was kept in a police cell all night in spite of the endeavors of a member of the military staff to have him released. He is said to have contracted the pneumonia which caused his death, while in the jail.

Corporal Stewart was born in Dalhousie 36 years ago. He attended Yale University and afterwards took a medical course at the University of Pennsylvania. About eight years ago he went to Mombasa, East Africa, and for a year did medical mission work. Then for several years he wandered. Sometime before the war broke out he settled on a little farm on Perth Road, near Hamilton, Ont., and was employed by the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

All up and down the line he was known by everyone and well liked. When the war started he went to Valcartier and enlisted in the 15th Battalion. He had formerly belonged to the 48th Highlanders. At St. Julien he was so badly wounded that he lost the sight of one eye, the hearing of one ear and was partially paralyzed.

Sister-in-Law Talks.

Mrs. W. W. Stewart, sister-in-law of the St. Julien hero, when interviewed concerning her brother-in-law, said that he walked with a distinct stagger

CAMPBELLTON—GASPE STEAMSHIP SERVICE

Matters Not Favorable For Service This Year.—Boats Are Scarce.—All Should Work

The delegation of the Board of Trade which went to Ottawa in connection with the Campbellton-Gaspe service returned Monday morning.

While they were at the Capital they learned that no other boat than the "City of Ghent" was available for the route and the department were disposed to make a contract with Capt. Beattie.

Later it has been learned that an offer of $10,000 has been made Capt. Beattie for a weekly service. It is doubtful if this will be accepted.

We would advise our friends along the Gaspe coast to telegraph immediately to the Hon. Sir Geo. E. Foster and impress upon him and the department the necessity of having this boat put on for the two trips a week, otherwise it looks as if there will be no service on this route this season.

The Campbellton Board of Trade is active in this matter, but should be backed up by all those interested personally.

HAS RECOVERED

Friends of Capt. R. Malcolm Hope will be glad to learn that he has fully recovered, and will sail for England with his battalion.

due to the paralysis in his leg. He had been much disappointed in not being able to return to the front, but had hoped to recover sufficiently to permit of him serving in some capacity. "After he left the Convalescent Home," said Mrs. Stewart, "his walk was so unsteady that people might perhaps be led to think that he was not sober."

Miss Gilker, a half-sister of Corporal Stewart, does not know whether confinement in a cell had anything to do with his death, but states emphatically that he was not drunk. "I know that all his life he would take a glass of wine, but never did I see him drunk. I knew he was going to be operated on last Thursday and had never heard a word of his being arrested until a prosecution society woman told me she had succeeded in getting him out and back to the Convalescent Home. Poor fellow, he might easily have been mistaken for a drunken man. Ever since he was wounded he staggered three or four steps to the one side and being partly blind could hardly see where he was going."

Capt. Lee, in charge of the Convalescent Home, stated that Dr. Stewart was arrested by the military police, not by the civil police. He was not drunk, said Capt. Lee, and it was due to the lateness of the hour when the news reached him that the corporal was not released immediately. He remained in the cell all night, but Capt. Lee does not believe he contracted pneumonia on this account.

Corporal Stewart was buried at Dalhousie on Sunday, two hundred soldiers from Campbellton attending the funeral. The body lay in state in the Presbyterian church over night. A military salute was fired over the grave.

ZAM-BUK MAMA!

Mothers who have used Zam-Buk say it is so fine for the many little accidents of daily occurrence in the home—and especially where there are children—that they would not be without it. Not only so, but children who have had Zam-Buk applied to an injury or sore, when again injured, cry for Zam-Buk to be applied. They know that Zam-Buk stops pain. Nothing ends the pain of a cut, bruise, burn, or skin disease like Zam-Buk, and nothing soothes, draws out the soreness and heals so quickly.

Mrs. J. Wilson of Sarina, Ont., says: "I could not do without Zam-Buk for my children. It is the best ointment we have ever used for burns, sores and cuts."

Mr. L. B. Anderson of 1407 E. 22nd St., Minneapolis, Minn., writes: "When any of the children, my wife or self meet with an accident, we immediately apply Zam-Buk. It has saved us many a doctor's bill."

Mrs. C. B. Ritey of Riverport, N.S., writes: "My baby had sores on her face, caused by teething. Zam-Buk completely healed them."

Zam-Buk is equally good for eczema, ringworm, itching sores, blood-poison, dandruff, skin eruptions, bites and stings. All drug stores, 50c. per tin. Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send tin stamp for free trial.

On Monday, March 20th, a very enjoyable evening was spent in the Odd-fellows Hall at a concert given by the young people of Sandy Beach and Douglastown, in aid of the new Catholic school at Haldimand. Amount collected over $70.00. The actors deserve much credit in the way they carried out the programme, especially Mr. C. Kennedy as John Schmidt, the Dutchman, who kept the audience laughing by his witty jokes and sayings.

We must not leave out the pupils, who took an active part and were highly applauded. Miss V. Howell kept the audience laughing in two acts as "Topsy" in "The three mischievous girls" and "Sue's Beau" in "Sue's Mistake." Miss C. Howell as leading lady in "Three Mischievous Girls", personated their teacher, who turned the tables on her companions and to the laughter from audience won from Topsy the story of past tricks on their teacher. We cannot leave out Mabel and Pearl, who deserve congratulation on their acting in this, their first concert.

Master J. Howell won a hearty applause by his recitation, "The Unreasonable Pa" and as leading actor in the dialogue, "Sue's Beau" played the part of Charlie to perfection. "The Flag Drill" by the pupils will be remembered, as the children won the admiration of all, keeping perfect order in the ranks and time to the music, showing careful training on the part of their teacher, Miss Eva Kennedy, who is to be congratulated on her management and smartness of her scholars.

GOD SAVE THE KING. At the last Council meeting held on Monday, March 6th, it was decided that all back wood lots be taxed, and a by law passed by which all public roads must be repaired during the coming summer. Travellers from the coast who drive over our roads will be pleased to hear this, as the roads in our Municipality are noted for their mud beds and brooks, especially at the west end. Messrs. W. Carter and C. Mullen have been appointed road officers for Sandy Beach centre to replace Messrs. A. J. Harbour and D. E. Beattie.

The new back lot tax is the latest in our community, we now enjoy a dog tax and "a personal tax" Coming boys, the bachelor tax. Au Revoir. McNAB.

GASPE

A very humorous spectacle was witnessed on Wednesday night at the Olympia Skating Rink, when the Gaspe ladies hockey team opposed the Gaspe Southern seven. The Southern team was composed of men attired in ladies' clothes and impersonating the colored race. It was exciting throughout the entire game and the players were well applauded; as expected the Gaspe colored team were beaten by the odd goal in seven. Mr. J. deSte. Croix, who refereed the game was a little at fault in designating offside and goals; but it was excusable as he was out of practice, this being one of the first games he has refereed this winter.

Pte. Ralph Fitzpatrick of the Grenadier Guards arrived here on Monday on a short vacation and will return to headquarters next week. A large and destructive fire was experienced at Grand Greve last week; the fire commenced in Wm. Fruing & Co's store, and then extended to two of the outbuildings, which contained flour, molasses, coal oil, etc., etc. The fire raged for about four hours and the three above buildings are a total loss. At the time the fire commenced, it was blowing a hurricane, but fortunately for the Grand Greve inhabitants it quickly calmed down, otherwise serious consequences might have arisen, through the fire spreading to Wm. Hyrhan & Son's store, and thence to the houses nearby.

The origin of the fire has not yet been ascertained, and we hope to give further details in our next news item. The manager of the William Fruing Co., Mr. F. M. Luce, was at Gaspe Harbor at the time of the fire, but Mr. Luce, upon receipt of a telegram informing him of the fire, drove down immediately to superintend matters.

Mr. Nat Hyman drove up to Fox River on Wednesday and returned to town on Friday. He informed us that his trip had been exceedingly rough, owing to the heavy downfall of snow which was experienced here last week. The Gaspe ladies hockey team intended visiting New Carlisle on Friday, but owing to the irregular railway service, they were obliged to postpone their visit to a later date.

A snowshoe party was organized last week at Gaspe Basin, about thirty persons being invited. The party had a very enjoyable tramp over the bay to Gaspe Harbor, and then returned to their starting point at midnight, whereupon light refreshments were served to all the members of the party, who then dispersed to their various homes.

A serious accident occurred here last week to Miss M. Doolan; as Miss Doolan was traversing the bay by sleigh, the ice suddenly broke in and precipitated sleigh, horse and occupant into the water; after several minutes had elapsed Miss Doolan was rescued, but the horse and sleigh had disappeared from view and therefore rendered help in that direction impossible. Miss Doolan is to be congratulated upon her lucky escape, and thanks are due to the many willing helpers who assisted her to safety.

"So that my executors may have ready money."

The following extract is from the will, recently probated, of a keen, successful, and, as the will proves, thoughtful business man.

Among the insurance policies on my life which are now payable to my children in equal shares, I am endeavoring to arrange that these policies shall be made payable to my estate as that my executors may have to hand ready money for immediate requirements. If this shall not have been accomplished at my death I desire my children to release their interest in the policies and in lieu thereof

The $27,847 life insurance prevented the sale of property which would otherwise have had to be disposed of at a great sacrifice. The moral is plain. There is no estate, be it large or small, but should be covered by life insurance. A policy would prevent losses to your widow or your children that could not otherwise be averted, because it spells "ready money," especially if placed with

LETTER FROM THE FRONT

The following is a copy of a letter written by Lt. H. W. Ferguson to his little brother a few days before he received his fatal wound. These last written words are all deeply prized by the late Lieutenant's friends and this one to his little brother is touching and shows the deep interest he had for him even under the stress of this terrible war.

Dear Walter: Thanks very much for your letter that you wrote February the seventh and which I received the other day. As your first attempt at letter writing it is a good one. Isn't it? I was sorry to hear that you have a cold but I hope that you've managed to get rid of it before this letter reaches you, and that you are able to go to school once more. You know Walter, you don't want to miss school any more than you can possibly help. Make up your mind that you're going to be a big man of some account when you grow up and get all the education you can, now that you are young. If you are ever going to be a man that any body thinks worth while, you'll have to keep going to school and not miss any days that you are well enough to go. The little boys out here in Belgium haven't the chance to go to school you have. Their schoolhouses are all knocked down by shells. The little boys over here wear wooden shoes on their feet, strapped on with leather straps. They are not as nice to walk about in as boots are and I don't think you would like them very well. I suppose you are still in the Boy Scouts and are waiting to grow up so as to come to the war? Who is your scout-master now? I received a letter from Frank in the same mail with yours and am

The little boys out here in Belgium haven't the chance to go to school you have. Their schoolhouses are all knocked down by shells. The little boys over here wear wooden shoes on their feet, strapped on with leather straps. They are not as nice to walk about in as boots are and I don't think you would like them very well. I suppose you are still in the Boy Scouts and are waiting to grow up so as to come to the war? Who is your scout-master now? I received a letter from Frank in the same mail with yours and am

Dear Walter: Thanks very much for your letter that you wrote February the seventh and which I received the other day. As your first attempt at letter writing it is a good one. Isn't it? I was sorry to hear that you have a cold but I hope that you've managed to get rid of it before this letter reaches you, and that you are able to go to school once more. You know Walter, you don't want to miss school any more than you can possibly help. Make up your mind that you're going to be a big man of some account when you grow up and get all the education you can, now that you are young. If you are ever going to be a man that any body thinks worth while, you'll have to keep going to school and not miss any days that you are well enough to go.
