MUCH INTEREST AROUSED IN POSSIBLE MOVE TO DEVELOP COUNTY'S HARDWOOD SUPPLIES

Matter is Being Dealt With Quietly by Two Different Parties—Definite Steps to Interest Capital in Manufacture of Furniture Here Considered Likely Before Long—Possibilities of Such a Project Being Considered.

If the confidence and initiative merited by the opportunities of this part of the country are displayed on the part of those directly interested, the hardwood resources of the north ed to an extent not thought of comparatively short time ago. In recent months this matter has been the subject of considerable discussion.

Such a move would take the form of an effort to interest capital in the manufacture of furniture here. At least one party now has this matter under consideration and it is thought possible that before long some definite steps will be taken in connection with such an enterprise.

Until recently little has been done with a view to developing the hardwood supplies of the north shore. One of the more considerable interest has arisen in different quarters and favorable arrangements are being

They were entertained at tea at Monday evening in the rooms of the Hotel, where the tables were decorated with beautiful decorations of autumn leaves and flowers with lighted candles and shining silver made a setting that was most attractive. During the serving of the delicious refreshments, Prof. K. L. Doucet gave a most interesting and instructive and enjoyable musical programme, and the Misses Gladys Howard and Claire Buckley delighted the gathering with solos, while Miss Evangeline Melanson won golden opinion on her talent with her recitations.

A Brief Account of our Pleasant Experiences with The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Party on our Trip abroad

"Tired but cheerful after their tour of the battlefields where their fellow Canadians fought with valor during four years, 172 representatives of Canadian newspapers reached the Gare du Nord, Paris last night. For the next three days they will be the guests of La Bienvenue Française. Their headquarters will be at the Hotel Moderne, place de la République, and the Lyons-Palace Hotel, near the Gare de Lyons. An elaborate program of entertainment has been arranged, with the participation of prominent government officials.

At nine o'clock this morning, a pilgrimage will be made to the tomb of France's Unknown Soldier, where General Gérard will receive the delegation on behalf of the French Minister of War. An hour later, ten autocars will carry them on a tour of Paris, and the capital's streets will echo, for the first time since the singing of the Armistice, with the sounds of "The Maple Leaf Forever" and "Oh, Canada!" This afternoon will be devoted to visiting the Chateau de Versailles, where the Triumphant will be escorted by Senator Pelisse. An official reception by the mayor and City Council of Paris will follow at the Hotel de Ville.

those who thought that newspapers could govern the world. Newspapers had no executive power. Newspapers however, were responsible for disseminating opinion or what they described as such. (Laughter.)

It was difficult to describe a thing unless it was understood, and one of the best ways to obtain understanding was to meet those who could tell them about things. In tours like the one undertaken by the Canadian delegation the members were able to meet journalists of other countries and to obtain at first hand information about them. They will carry back with them impressions of all they have seen and heard in this country, and will do much to enlighten their readers as to the Old Country, its people and its conditions. Doubtless they will remember the words of Lord Birkenhead, who, in addressing them, said: "The problem which requires settlement to-day, which requires all the statescraft in your country and mine, is whether or not, in close and harmonious association, on terms of equal co-operation, we may preserve the British Empire—which the changed political and sociological developments have ever been afforded—a loosely associated free and equal brotherhood of great and self-respecting communities. If that association is to be preserved, first and foremost there must be absolute equality between each daughter state and the home country. There must be no question of our dictating policy to you, nor you dictating policy to us." These are the words which will not easily be forgotten, and will, we hope, be carried back to Canada, if only to demonstrate the fact that Imperialism, the word "Imperialism" if once it is understood what it really stands for to-day.

The members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association were officially welcomed at Newhaven last Sunday on their arrival from France by Mr. J. Obed Smith, Mayor of New Brunswick, and Mr. W. E. Cranfield, of the Canadian Official Press Bureau.

(London Times, July 1st)
The delegation of proprietors and editors of Canadian Weekly newspapers now visiting this country had a busy day in London yesterday. During the morning the full party of 170 went to the Houses of Parliament, where they had as conductors for a tour of the buildings Sir Harry Brittain, Sir William Bull, Sir Philip Dawson, and Mr. P. J. H. Hunter, Kincairdine, Ontario, the Kincairdine Reporter; Mr. H. J. Shore, Port Colborne, Ontario, Port Colborne Citizens; Mr. F. L. E. Evans, Strathroy, Ontario, the Age; Mr. Edward W. Zing, Wapella, Saskatchewan, the Post; Mr. W. G. Krug, Chasley, Ontario, the Enterprise; Mr. C. W. Frederich, Peace River, Alberta, Peace River Record.

Many British journalists were present at Lord Riddell's luncheon at Princes Restaurant and were able to share in the welcome to the Dominion.

Lord Riddell proposed the toast of the guests. He said that he believed party of its kind "at had visited Europe, is importance, might be by a King and a President, and the probability was that the members, while they were in London, would have the opportunity of shaking hands with King George. Lord Riddell added that he had specialized for some time in peace conferences, and had come to the conclusion that one of the best methods of obtaining the peace of the world was to give journalists of different countries an opportunity of knowing each other. FAULTY NUTRITION

Many of the ailments of grown people may be traced to faulty nutrition. Well-fed children or adults withstand weakness better than those who are indifferently nourished.

Scott's Emulsion

supplies the weakened child or adult with food-factors that other foods often fail to furnish in needful volume.

Not a great deal of Scott's Emulsion is needed—but a little regularly often means restored vigor and strength to those who are rundown in vitality or who are weak.

BIG RUM-RUNNING SCHEME IN N. Y.

Plot with Ten Million Dollars
Involved Believed Disclosed—
Seizure of British Ship

New York, Oct. 4.—Prohibition officers claim to have uncovered a gigantic Anglo-American rum running conspiracy, with $10,000,000 involved, when they towed into harbor today the twin-screw British steamer Frederick B., with its crew of 28 men and two women under armed guard, and with a $500,000 liquor cargo aboard.

Five special government agents, under leadership of William A. Walker, of Washington, general field superintendent of the dry forces, made the capture after they had, according to Mr. Walker, dickered for the purchase of 25,000 cases of whiskey from the vessel's master, paying $100,000 in currency and cheques for the contraband. Bankers in this country, Great Britain and Canada were concerned in the conspiracy, Walker said.

The Frederick B., of 196 tons, was seized fifteen miles off Monmouth Beach yesterday, after an investigation of three months. She was brought into harbor under a heavy guard. Coast Guard officials, who made the seizure under Walker's instructions, said details of the international plot would be made known after the prisoners had been taken before United States District Attorney.

PRAY FOR RAIN TO SAVE JAP CROP

A Queen Ceremony Which Has Been Carried Out Upon
Other Occasions

Osaka, Japan, Oct. 6.—A summer of unprecedented drought has brought to light strange and primitive customs among the farmers of the countryside around Osaka.

So great has become the menace to crops that there has been supplication to the rain gods, used only in the greatest emergency, and resorted to only twice in the last seventy years. This is the "opening of the sacred well" in the precincts of the famous Oira shrine, near Osaka.

Seven men are chosen by lot from among the people of the village in which the shrine is located. These offer prayers for a week, living apart in the shrine precincts, and purifying themselves by daily rites of abstinence. Then a fence of dry grass is built around the sacred well and the opening begins. The well is buried deep in the earth. Before its stone cover can be reached three boxes, each containing a prayer in ancient Sanskrit, relics of the early days of Buddhism in Japan, have to be unearthed. When the stone cover of the well is removed, according to the belief, an inexhaustible flood of cold water gushes over the brim, the sky becomes overcast and rain falls heavily. How efficacious the prayers have been in this instance is not yet known.

BELGIAN "COUNT" IS SENTENCED TO JAIL

Had Wed Chicago Heiress—
Given 4 Months for Wearing Uniform of American Officer.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Jacques Albert Uriebroeck, a native of Holland, in his own admission, but who in 1909 married Irma Kilgallen, Chicago heiress, as the Count Alexander Dudley, Van Maurik de Beaufort, a Belgian nobleman, was sentenced to day for four months in the San Francisco County jail on a charge of having worn without authorization part of the uniform of an American army officer. He pleaded guilty.

For two hours last Sunday de Beaufort wore the cap of an American army captain, the jacket of a Belgian officer, white riding breeches and orthodox boots and spurs. He explained that he dressed up as "a courtesy to the ladies who were my hostesses." He said he had sold potato peelers in Los Angeles and that he was the inventor of a patent can opener. In between his selling and inventing he lectured before society and club women, who accepted him at his own valuation.

The "count" married Miss Kilgallen in London in 1909. She was the daughter of Martin H. Kilgallen, of Chicago, who had made millions in iron and steel. They lived together in Chicago for a year, during which the count was reported to have had numerous physical encounters with his father-in-law and others. He and his wife separated in 1910, and she obtained a divorce in 1912, charging that he had beaten her several times when she refused to ask her father for money for him. The "count" went into vaudeville later, and on his debut was cheered by a delegation of his creditors. In 1915 he was reported killed in the war.

The former Miss Kilgallen was married after her divorce to Joseph Howard, the song writer, and committed suicide on her second honeymoon.

BE CAREFUL

This week has been fixed as Fire Prevention Week, the object being to impress the public in a special manner with the necessity for carefulness in the woods, in the homes and in offices and warehouses if the enormous loss in lives and property recorded each year in Canada is to be curtailed.

The appeal for serious consideration of the fire menace as it exists in Canada should not be treated lightly. Since no one can doubt that lives are lost and property destroyed through sheer carelessness about fire, through leaving inflammable matter lying around, through neglecting fires or other heating arrangements or through carelessness in the handling of matches or tossing aside of lighted cigarette or cigar butts, it would be criminal to ignore the appeal of this crusade.

Fires in Canada claim hundreds of lives annually and cause a property loss placed at more than $45,000,000 a year. The loss of wealth by this destruction of property is so definitely a loss as that of the lives that are ended. The individual owner of the property destroyed, if he had it insured, may not feel this directly because of his ability to collect insurance. But the insurance has to be paid out of the country's capital, being diverted from the promotion of wealth to the replacing of a part wiped out. When forty-eight million dollars' worth of property is destroyed it means that the country's wealth has been reduced by just that much. It means that much capital has to be sunk in replacing it. It means not only higher insurance rates, but indirect additions to the burdens of the people in a number of ways. It means into the hands of the rent profiteer through hand-laying those who are trying to catch up with the demand for more buildings.

There is no excuse for the tremendous loss by fire in Canada, and every person should keep this always in mind. Here is advice which if acted upon will prevent tragedies and reduction of the wealth of the country: "You may be the next victim if you do not take this Fire Prevention seriously. Look about your premises. Clear away any rubbish you may see. Inspect the heating arrangements and have any defects repaired before it is too late. See that the matches are placed where children cannot reach them and by practicing caution, in other ways seek to reduce the fire hazard in your home and in your community."

THE NEW JUDGE

Hon. J. P. Byrne will be warmly congratulated upon his appointment to the Supreme Court Bench of the Province. As a lawyer and as Attorney General he has been a hard and faithful worker, and his training and temperament should make him an able and highly satisfactory judge.

Hon. Mr. Byrne became Attorney General upon the formation of the Foster Government in April, 1917, and he has been one of the hardest working members of the Administration ever since. He has a host of warm friends who are pleased to hear of the new honor that has come to him.

THE NEW ASSOCIATION

Because of its vital necessity in the promotion of public health, the splendid work similar organizations are doing elsewhere and the fine programme of work outlined by its leaders, the New Brunswick Tuberculosis Association, organized here on Thursday, September 26th, should meet with hearty support from all sides. The meeting held here on that date, at which the new association was placed upon a working basis, was enthusiastic and thoroughly business-like sessions conducted by persons who were well with the work at hand in a decisive manner. If this same spirit of aggressiveness characterizes the effort of the different officials in the duties assigned to them there is little doubt but what this new organization will give a good account of itself in the coming months and abundantly merit the support of the people of this province. At the mass meeting held in the Opera House here it was clearly shown by the Hon. Dr. Roberts, the President, Dr. L. G. Pinault and other speakers that the fight against tuberculosis constitutes one of the most important phases of public health work. While comparatively few people realize the hazard from this dread disease, all those familiar with public health work are aware of its danger—especially to children. The new organization doubtless does a great work in educating the general public in this respect and also in familiarizing parents with the best preventative methods.

Campbellton has the distinction of having one of its foremost physicians Dr. L. G. Pinault at the head of the new association. Mr. H. M. Armstrong of this town is the secretary and John Hargrave, D. A. Champoux, A. McG. McDonald and others appear on other committees. Campbellton is well represented in this province-wide fight against tuberculosis and all citizens here will doubtless watch its progress with keen interest.

NEW X-RAY CAMERA IS INVENTED

Detection of Hidden Treasure Easy to Mysterious "Eyes" In Box

The discovery of hidden treasure, the detection of contraband, however carefully concealed, and absolutely fool-proof X-ray photography are some of the developments that will follow on Dr. W. D. Coolidge's invention of a portable X-ray apparatus, described in the London Daily Express.

It weighs thirty pounds, is no larger than a wireless battery and more compact, and it worked by ordinary electric light current.

The new X-ray "camera" has an enormous advantage over its cumbersome predecessors, since it can easily be taken anywhere and everywhere. Whereas previously whatever was to be examined had to be taken to the rays, now the rays can come to it. The many complicated "gadgets" necessary to their use, too, have been abolished.

The apparatus is enclosed in a neat little case with a lead cone for concentrating the rays. The company has only to connect it with an ordinary electrical plug and it is ready for use.

"Seeing through a brick wall" with this appliance is an easy operation. Thousands of secret cupboards, some containing old treasure, are known to be in existence in this country, utmost efforts to trace their location have been fruitless.

Now, however, the X-rays can clear up the mystery of centuries. The operator holding the apparatus stands on one side of the wall. On the other is the observer, who holds a fluorescent screen before which a film is placed. When the rays are projected on the wall they reveal on the film any differences in its density caused by a cavity. If coins and metal objects were hidden in it they would immediately appear on the film.

Another romantic possibility of this wonderful instrument concerns the subterranean of the smuggler. If, for instance, contraband were hidden in bale of wool, the mysterious "eyes" in the little box would reveal through the hiding place and would reveal the presence of something within.

It will be possible for local detective forces immediately to take X-ray photographs of the finger-prints of any criminal in their own locality. Every one knows that the whorls and spirals of the fingers of each individual differ, but the X-rays show that this individual structure applies also to the finger bones.

In this way detection and identification by finger-prints has been strengthened, and when a portable X-ray apparatus is installed in every police station the criminal will have small chance of escape. Patients suffering from leg fractures are often obliged to endure agony when transformed from their homes to the X-ray wards of hospitals. The portable apparatus will abolish such torture.

It can be used as a bedside, and enable any medical man to diagnose the nature of the break without the assistance of a specialist. This was recently done in the case of a woman whose thigh-bone had been severely injured in a motor accident. Plasterers who wish to locate hidden pipes in walls, and dentists who desire to make a photograph of the teeth of their clients will benefit equally. The X-ray camera will be on show at the forthcoming International Dental Exhibition next month for the first time in England.

DALHOUSIE GIRL WINS

FRANCE AS VOCALIST
Friends of Miss Elna Barberie will be glad to know that at a sacred concert given in the Orpheum Theatre, Halifax, recently, Miss Barberie was specially mentioned in the columns of the Halifax Herald, as a vocalist of great promise, as the following extract shows: "With such an array of talent, it was difficult to choose the best of the voices. However, special mention must be made of the singing of 'Ave Maria', by Miss Elna Barberie, who, though very young, possesses an extremely pleasing soprano voice. She is a student of Mount St. Vincent."

NOTIFY US OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS

The other day a man walked in the office and complained that he was not getting his Graphic regularly. We found his card with address, but was told that he had moved to another place. He said he left a forwarding address at the post office of his previous place of residence, and that he was receiving his mail right along—with the exception of his copies of The Graphic.

Now folks, bear in mind that while first class mail—regular letters—will be forwarded by the post office to any change of address given them, second class mail—like The Graphic—will not be forwarded.

MADE FALSE CLAIM

A case is pending between the C. N. R. Express Company and a well-known merchant in the province of Quebec, who, it is understood, laid a false claim against the Express Company for goods which he claimed were not received, and which claim amounted to $300. The case was handed over to Detective Harry Ouligan, who in company with another detective from Quebec province, went to the man's store, and in his absence, checked up his goods. The result was that they found the lot numbers on some goods to correspond with those of the claim goods. They then proceeded to Montreal where they consulted the manager of the wholesale house from whom the goods were purchased, and also found them to be the same as the claim numbers. Just what action the Express Company will take is not yet known.

No lady will be bored if she sees "Ladies to Board" at the Opera House Friday and Saturday.

WEDDINGS

LeCouffe-LeBell
The church at Balmoral was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Tuesday morning, September 30th when Elmina LeBell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George LeBell was united in marriage to Mr. John G. LeCouffe of this town. Rev. Father Legacy performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeCouffe motored to Dalhousie where they were the guests at dinner of Mrs. Theo. Nielsen, the bride's sister. After a dainty luncheon given in their honor by Mrs. Dr. A. Martin here, the happy couple left on the Ocean Limited on a honeymoon trip to Montreal and the Eastern Townships.

The bride was a popular girl in her own community and received many beautiful gifts from hosts of friends.

Upon their return the newly wedded couple will reside in Campbellton where Mr. LeCouffe is employed as manager of the Coles & Co's.

The young couple many years of happiness and prosperity.

TALKS ON TOURIST BUSINESS IN N.B.

At Least 70,000 Visited Province Says Secretary of Tourist Association

At least 70,000 tourists came to New Brunswick during the summer, according to the estimates prepared by C. B. Allan, secretary of the New Brunswick Tourist Association. A considerably larger proportion of the tourists came by motor than entered the province by car last year. He said he believed the tourists this year had been better satisfied with conditions of weather, roads and accommodation than they had been in any previous year. The camp sites, of which there are about 15 in the province, had been very well patronized but he thought some of them could still be improved, with advantage. Some of the tourists had complained to the Tourist Association about indifferent accommodation in various parts of the province, having special reference to the hotels. Mr. Allan thought there should be some improvement made in several of the hotels.

He spoke of the entire lack of tourist accommodation in some localities where the tourist would be glad to go. Speaking of the part that the Tourist Association has played this year in bringing so many tourists to the province, Mr. Allan said that it had expended more than $3,000 in advertising since Jan. 1. The Association had this summer put on a province-wide campaign for members to try to raise a little money for extra advertising.

It was the experience of the Association that an increasingly large number of the visitors who came to the province wanted to play golf and Mr. Allan said that the Association had been able to help several of the tourists in that regard. The Tourist Association this year had distributed more booklets than in any previous year and had received and answered more enquiries with reference to accommodation, roads and places.

The figures for the entry of automobiles into the province this year Mr. Allan had obtained from the various points and were as follows: St. Stephen, about 5,000; Centerville, 2,294; St. Croix 400; Edmundston, 425; Grand Falls and Saint Leonard, about 5,000; River du Loup, 105; and Campbellton, 250. The number of tourists brought by the Eastern Steamships this year had been about 11,000 and it was estimated that about 11,000 had come in by the C. P. R., while tourists who had landed at Grand Manan and Campbellton would bring an additional 100 to 200. In each case the figures showed an appreciable increase over the figures of last year.

Good Home Gardens Are Planned Early

Now is the time to make that garden list for next season; the list that will note all the things that were wanted this year; all the alterations in planting flower beds that experience has taught you could be bettered.

A list of vegetables that you had too many of and others of which you had planted an insufficient quantity, and a record of choice varieties of the things best liked should be made. The time should be noted of how long it takes for the different things to mature after date of planting; for this allows you to call time on the garden, allowing for variations of weather.

Then, there are always some unsightly places that you forget from year to year and by the time they show up it is too late to plant vines or shrubs to cover them. It is also a good idea to remember what time tubers are taken from the ground and just how they were put away, whether dry or packed in dirt.

Large geraniums may have the dirt shaken from their roots and be tied in bunches and hung upside down where it is cool and rather dark until early spring when they may be potted in the cellar and get a start before it is time to set them outdoors, but a record should be kept of them so not to neglect them too long.

Make a list of the kinds of seeds kept from your own garden, what the colors are, length of time of maturity and all that is vital about them. The same must be done with bulbs, those that should blossom next year and the small bulbs that must stay another season in the nursery bed. This information is invaluable when it is needed.

It is also time to order the flower pots needed in sizes generally used. Not forgetting the handy paper pots, tumbler size for slipping use and to be used to start certain seedlings, tomato plants, for instance, and cabbage plants, in the early spring. It is time to repair and paint the hot bed sashes and to have a load of meadow hay, or straw ready to cover the tender things.

In many places, after the garden is raked and the trash is burned, there are people who favor a deep spading and a working in of a strong fertilizer, saying that it is the ground more thoroughly than just depending on the spring preparation of the garden. Then when it is time to plough and work in the usual fertilizer, saying that it is the ground already rich and seasoned. If this is done there should be a record of it and what fertilizer was used and then if the garden does unusually well you will know when and why the land was cared for and all about it. It is the hit-or-miss gardening that is heart-breaking for the man who can't devote all of his time to it, and whose plants and harvests are failures because he has no records to help him make the most of his time.

We should study a garden as we would a lesson, know just where every streak of sunshine falls, how long it remains, how rapidly the summer months will hurry it on its way, and where the winter rests and where the spaces dry out rapidly, where the ground slants and where it is level, which direction the strongest winds and hardest storms of the locality generally come from—all these things help in the perfect planning when it comes time to plant.

Lawson tools are expensive, necessary, and should be carefully taken care of. A tool rack is easily made and keeps the wooden handled things on the ground. Spades should be sharpened and creased, rase and nose knives kept in repair, axes kept in the wooden rack, all wheeled things kept oiled and in running order. The more expensive the tools are the more care they should receive.

Garden baskets are a necessary accessory and should be brushed out and hung up when not in use and not allowed to stand out in all weather on the ground. A compartment seed box saves lots of time for things that are always where they should be and there is no danger of the wind carrying off the envelopes, before you have marked the drills.

Galvanized pails for garden use are nice when painted green and the word "garden" lettered on them in white letters. This avoids their being used elsewhere and allows no mistake to be made by bringing household pails out for garden use, a thing which always stirs the temper of the housewife, and justly.

Delicious Dishes to Prepare for a Harvest Picnic

Cooking in the open is always fascinating and it is a simple matter to follow in this sort of an outing and as it is a first cousin of the old recommend it to trippers. The barbecue is hard work but pays a rich reward in delicious food. A folding brazier, a folding oven and a stew pot with a handle for the tripper's camp fire, as well as the generous sized coffee pot with ground coffee all ready in bags. Then a very large-sized grill or gridiron, two long meat forks and two saws for basting, the usual table equipment and such fancy foods as may be desired.

A shovel is needed for digging a trench four or five feet long, two feet deep and the width of the big brazier. When the trench is dug it may be lined with flat field stones, with stones at each side of the top to rest the brazier on. The ends of the trench are left open to regulate the fire by a long, forked stick of green or damp wood. The fire is built of hard wood and is allowed to burn to a solid bed of coals, then the cooking is begun. The regular camp fire is used for cooking the rabbit stew, the coffee and the biscuits.

For the barbecue young roasting chickens may be prepared. They are singed, washed, cleaned, the sinews drawn from the legs before the feet are cut off, then firmly trussed with steel skewers, rubbed over with melted butter and lightly dusted with pepper and salt. The grill should be well greased then placed over the stones and it is ready for the chickens. The chickens must be turned with the long fork very frequently and swabbed with a sauce made for the purpose. The sauce may be made at home and bottled, then warmed up and used when needed.

For the sauce put into a saucepan a pound of butter, a pint of water, a teaspoonful of pepper, a teaspoonful each of salt and curry powder, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a sliced lemon, a half tumbler of currant jelly, a large minced onion, a crushed bud of garlic, a tablespoonful each of chopped celery leaves and parsley. Boil gently for a half hour in a double boiler, then strain into a jar and let cool, then cover and use for basting chicken. Wet the swabs with the sauce and baste freely as the chickens cook.

Potatoes may be washed and prepared for baking at the same time as there will be room on the grill between the chickens, and if the potatoes are placed over the skins will not burn as the potatoes cook. If the chickens happen to broilers they should be split down the back in the usual way before cooking them on the grill. They should be brushed over with butter and dusted with pepper and salt before being placed on the grill and cooked on the under side, then turned and basted.

ADVANTAGES OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES FURTHER DISCUSSED

Writer's View is That We Need Rejuvenation Not Transformation—Fox Industry in Prince Edward Island Brings in Millions Annually—As to Special Industries They are Dependent on Men for Invention and Development—Switzerland's Achievements.

(St. John Globe)
The Toronto Mail and Empire is sound in its views and happy in its phrasing in a recent editorial. If writers of "the greatest of our national problems" the rejuvenation of the Maritime Provinces, the conservation of their people and the setting up of progress where there is now stagnation.

It supplements and confirms the views expressed in these letters; particularly our view that what we want is rejuvenation, not transformation. There is the material to work on, and if there is not the brains to direct, and the skill to execute, nothing that Governments can do will adequately help us. We showed in our last letter not only what had been done, but what was being done now in the Maritimes in way of industrial successes, and we took only a few salient instances; nor did we touch on the fact that our provinces, Prince Edward Island, seed potatoes was in the smallest of about half the Dominion acreage of nor that it had founded and developed a fox industry which now brings in millions annually; nor that in one province alone not pre-eminently agricultural, the value of its field crops was in 1923 something over $25,000,000, about fifty dollars a head for every member of its population. These sufficed to prove our position.

These facts also indicate the three lines along which we may expect development. One of them is that which progresses by the using of raw materials which are at hand; the second is the development of industries which owe their origin to inventive skill and specialization. The third is quality, and it is the greatest of these three. What have we in these provinces to work on?

Fish, Lumber, Sheep and Fruit. It is wasting the readers' time to dwell on the abundance of our fish and the excellence of their quality. The trade grows slowly, because speaking broadly, it has reached about the natural limits of its expansion. We are selling as much fish as we can naturally expect. What is needed now to expand the trade is branded goods, and those branded with the names of producers. Our fish is good enough to warrant an appeal to the highest class trade, by its appeal to the highest class taste, an appeal made not only by character in the goods, but in the way they are packed.

We have examples of this in Canada. The "Montreal Melon" takes its place on the best tables of the United States. Fort de Salut cheese made at the Lake of Two Mountains by the Trappist Monks is in the same class. Quebec cream cheese is so rare a luxury that the supply is not equal to the local demand, and we once had oysters of the same quality but allowing our beds to deteriorate.

Fish is not the only product of our Provinces which can be developed as regards quality. Out mutton, when well bred, well grown, well killed, will stand comparison with the finest mutton of France and England. It is gaining in reputation and its market is extending, but it is nothing compared with what it might be. Our wool is good, but compare the money which goes into the Shetland Islands for knitted goods, made by women of the same race as the people of Cape Breton where this home industry is thriving. Our hardwood is suitable for furniture, and there is no place in the Dominion into which supplementary foreign woods can more favorably be imported. Design and craftsmanship make little of freight rates.

Our small fruits make up in savour for being ripe later than their forestallies, but they go on the market without a name. Many a box of British Columbia apples is sold from the lure of its appearance in a shop window, thousands of miles from the orchard. Are our apples well enough graded, well enough packed, to make markets for themselves? We must aim to sell on quality and name. Quality means the highest price, a demand for special excellence is a demand which makes price a secondary consideration. (We think it quite possible the market gardener of Montreal or the Trappist Monks do not know the rate of duty on melons and cheese.) Name ensures the producer getting the market the quality of his goods deserve.

We therefore hold that if the Maritimes go in for quality and keeping before the purchaser those who can be depended on to supply quality our trade will respond.

As to special industries, they are dependent on men, for invention and development. What they may be here none can well say. Switzerland is without coal but with imported fuel and imported raw materials she exported in 1921 about $250,000,000 of manufactured goods. Notwithstanding mass production in the United States of watches, the Swiss watch still sells there, so do her linens and embroideries. Specialization and quality accomplish these things. They will reach the same results with us, when we find the right objects, and the right men to exploit them. One new industry has originated in the Maritimes, fox farming.

We can give examples of the influence of men. Three attractive towns lie along the Isthmus of Chignecto, with equal economic advantages. That three or four settled in Amherst has made all the difference in the development of these towns.

Pictou was a comparatively rich and flourishing town when New Glasgow was a village. A few men made New Glasgow an industrial centre, while the other remains a residential town noted for its Academy. The men are with us. When they can work together backed by their with a conviction the reputation, fellows to build up the Maritimes, profit and a sense of duty done are theirs at home, they will remain with us and transform this section of the Dominion.

The most badly fooled person is not the woman who thought her hair wouldn't be any more trouble after it was bobbed. The real joke is on the husband who thought there wouldn't be any more expense.

Now is the time to purchase your motor, before the hydro is here. You make no mistake in buying a Westinghouse Motor, as their goods are known throughout Canada and are manufactured in Canada. We can supply you with motors from the smallest to the largest made, and the prices are right.

SOCIAL IN AID OF R. C. CHURCH

Sum of $40 Realized at Function Held in Bay View House

Notwithstanding that the Town was in total darkness on Wednesday evening, Oct. 1st, the homes being lighted with lamps, the Whist party and the Social, which was held in the Bay View House, given by Mrs. Theo. Nadeau, for the benefit of the proposed new R. C. church, was a success.

The prize winners were: Ladies 1st. Mrs. Theo. Nadeau, 2nd. Mrs. Theodore Daigle, 3rd. Miss Clothilde Brudeau and 4th. Mrs. Albert L. Arsenault. Gentlemen: 1st. Mr. Theo. Nadeau, 2nd. Mr. Wm. Letourneau and 3rd. Mr. C. H. LaBelle.

A very large number of citizens travelled by motor and by train to Campbellton during the three days of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital fund-raising fair which was held last week. It is very gratifying to hear that the financial proceeds amounted to $5000.

The splendid business done at the Queen Hotel during the past summer will encourage the proprietor Mr. E. R. Gaudet, to add improvements to this popular hostelry. It is the intention of Mr. Gaudet to improve in the heating of the building, and to add a modern entrance to the place. The dining room will also be made very comfortable.

Details of Canadian-Australian Treaty Should be Public Says Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The secrecy displayed in regard to the details of the Canadian-Australian treaty gives rise to rumors.

Advices have been received that the Australian Parliament has approved the arrangement and thus there is no apparent reason for withholding the information sought by many manufacturers and business houses.

While the commodities on which Australia gives a preference have been announced there has been no outline of those upon which Canada extends a preference to Australia while, in the former case the extent of the preference is not known.

1,100 GALS ALCOHOL
Hyannis, Mass., Sept. 15.—A truck that was supposedly an oil container, but which gave off both alcohol and gasoline from its false bottom was seized by State and local police here today with its cargo of 1,100 gallons of alcohol.

10 Commandments of Fire Prevention Week

1. Have all flues and chimneys properly cleaned before attempting to burn.

2. Look very carefully at the chimney or flue, at the point just above the peak of the roof where the chimney goes through, as the lower part being settled and the upper portion, being held up by the roof timbers, may have pulled away, leaving an open space or break in the chimney that will permit sparks slipping through into the attic or roof.

3. Be sure that all flue holes that are not to be used this year have good metal stops as innumerable fires are caused by sparks through unused pipe holes in chimneys.

4. Clean the ventilating collars around all flues, removing all lint, cobwebs and dust, leaving nothing in the vent, in this way permitting the air to flow through the pipe where it goes through.

5. Be careful that the supply of kindling wood is not piled up in the yard in such a manner as to carry fire to your house, in case your neighbors house should burn.

6. It is best to keep all light-wood kindlings and boxes in sheds, stables or basements, in orderly piles, and not to have papers or excelsior mixed with it.

7. Extra caution should be used in the handling of gasoline. In the event of a spill, do not use matches or open flames, but cover with a wet cloth.

8. Never use gasoline inside the house for cleaning, and when compelled to use it for any other purpose do not forget that you are handling a powerful explosive which may endanger your life and property.

9. Remove all dry grasses and leaves from your premises before and during the fire season.

10. Do not dry clothing and inflammable materials above or near hot stoves.

If you obey the above commands, you can prevent many fires and much loss of life and property.

TRAGIC DEATH CAUSES REGRET

The Late A. Gaudet was Valued Member of Fisheries Department

The tragic death of Mr. Alcide Gaudet, General Inspector of Maritime Fisheries of the Province of Quebec, who lost his life recently in an auto accident at Barachois, Gaspé Co., causes general regret, as he was a popular official, having for several years been a fisherman, he could sympathize with the fishermen in their difficult avocation on our coasts, their numerous needs and dangerous work.

The Hon. J. Ed. Perreault, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries met with a great loss in the death of Mr. Alcide Gaudet. He had a great experience and he was always ready to devote himself in the interests of the department and for the good of his former fishing companions. His work was always producing splendid results, when a dreadful accident terminated an outstanding career.

The Right Reverend, J. A. Richardson, D. D., Lord Bishop of Fredericton, conducted a confirmation service in St. Mary's Church on Sunday evening. While in town he was a guest at the Rectory.

Mrs. Matilda Power, who has been an invalid for a year or two at her home here, suffered a weak turn on Sunday. She was taken by motor or early Monday morning to Campbellton, where she entered the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital for special treatment.

One pair spectacles and case for same. Finder kindly return to H. F. G. Bridges, Town.

All the giblets from the chickens may be parboiled, then cut up and put into a rich well seasoned brown sauce and baked in a pie, or made in little turnovers to be served hot with the chicken. A few mushrooms may be sautéed and added to the giblets and the sauce should be thick. Each turnover should have a heaping table-spoonful of the filling. If the stew is not needed then boil corn in its place as that always tastes so good when cooked and eaten in the open. It can be roasted if preferred, after it has been boiled by just laying it on the open grill over the camp fire. Have soft butter and salt at hand to use on the corn when it is done. It should be roasted after the dinner is served as it takes only a few minutes and must be eaten hot.

Bread and butter sandwiches may be served with the chicken, and bread and currant or mint jelly sandwiches also for those who do not eat the hot biscuits. If the family are rather English in their taste a fine baked ham may be taken along to slice and eat with the chicken, especially if no stew is used as a side dish.

Melons generally take the place of other sweets at a barbecue, but it is a matter of taste. Many people take the canned plum pudding. Put into boiling water for an hour it makes a hot dessert. The sauce is made at home and reheated, or a good hard sauce is made for the pudding. Pies, if chosen may be easily reheated by placing them on top of the grill.

Are You Planning to Refurnish The Nursery

Nursery furniture has become a staple in furniture circles and each season we find it more charming than ever before. Interior decorators prepare a room for the fittings these days like an appropriate frame for a picture, taking into consideration the style and period of the house, its natural lighting, the occupants, their ages, tastes and looks. This means the most perfect of the room, and the future harmony and happiest surroundings.

There are three sizes in the nursery suites—that for two year-olds, then for the up to nine year youngsters, then the next size that is not outgrown until the fifteenth year. Strictly speaking, the first is the real nursery furniture, yet many refurnish as fast as the children outgrow the things and pass them on to the young relatives and friends.

Needless to say the furniture chosen is of the painted variety, though it is also to be had in the straight woods. One white enamel set is decorated with bluebirds, the straight chair and rocker having cane seats and backs painted blue like birds. In the room where the set was to be used the woodwork was white, the paper silver and white striped with a cut-out bluebird border and the floor of polished oak had blue and white woven rugs scattered over it. The draperies of white fluted muslin had ties of blue ribbon the shade of

Toronto Mother Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a splendid medicine to take before and after confinement. A small book was put in my case one day advertising Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines, and as I did not feel at all well at the time I went and got a bottle of Vegetable Compound right away. I soon began to notice a difference in my general health. I was full of aches and pains at the time and thought I had every complaint going, but I can truthfully say your medicine certainly did me good. I can and will speak highly of it, and I know it will do other women good who are sick and ailing if they will only give it a fair trial. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills are splendid for constipation. You are welcome to use my letter if you think it will help any one."—Mrs. HARRY WATWOOD, 545 Quebec Street, Toronto, Ontario.

The bird's wings. The play chest was covered with bluebird cretonne.

Nursery breakfast sets are rather new and consist of small round or oblong tables with as many chairs to match as are needed. They seat four very comfortably. These sets are in white, gray or blue with colored decorations. Some have two lin borders in floral design, Greek key or alternate colored blocks. Others have the alphabet in a medallion in the centre or in a border running around the edge of the table. The small chairs in many sets are bent wood with cane seats.

The nursery screens have frames to match the furniture, but the panels are covered to match the draperies, or with one of the nursery cretonnes that tell a story. In one nursery the screen was covered with white muslin and the children were allowed to paste picture cut-outs on it as a special privilege and when they got tired of the pictures they were easily removed and fresh ones pasted in their place.

The wooden soldier set is always a favorite especially with boys, for soldiers for the legs of the chairs and tables, stand at either side of the looking glass on the dressing table and appear again as bed posts. The military colors of the uniforms are quite gay looking on the white woodwork of the set.

The pleasant coloring used on some of the sets is very striking but the lines are embroidered to match tempt all into a harmonious whole. There are a number of chintz wall papers that go with this style of decoration, especially those having floral medallions on yellow or soft green backgrounds, which are most effective.

OBITUARY

Mrs. R. H. Montgomery (An Appreciation)

Margaret Grant McWhiter

An inestimable loss was sustained by the community, the death, at the whole Dominion of Canada when on Thursday morning, September 25th, Mrs. R. H. Montgomery of New Richmond, P. Q. of Quebec passed suddenly to her eternal rest. Mrs. Montgomery has been so intimately associated with the life of the people, among whom she has lived since her marriage to the late R. H. Montgomery, Esq., of the lumber firm of that name, that her sudden death is no ordinary event in the history of our community. Her winning personality, her invarying kindness and sympathy with all who were in distress of any kind, her strong, positive stand on the side of religion, temperance and everything pertaining to the highest good of the people at home and abroad, her deeds of unheralded beneficence, her sincere Christian life exemplified in word and deed gave her a place in the affection of all who had the privilege of her acquaintance and friendship which speaks in no uncertain terms of the worth and sterling qualities of this beloved lady.

Truly a great one has fallen in the ranks—and those who were associated with her in her public activities are stricken with grief, bereaved of a friend whose advice and aid were always so willingly bestowed.

Her home was ever open to others; strangers were made welcome and carried away the remembrance of true, unostentatious hospitality.

Her kindness was only surpassed by that thoughtfulness which it is skin. Hers was a busy life. She was for many years superintendent of St. Andrew's Sunday School, New Richmond, and even when she resigned the office, her interest continued.

For over thirty-five years she was the active, faithful president of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society, the pioneer and parent, Society of the Women's Missionary work in the congregation, which has now increased to six auxiliaries and two Mission Bands. She was Hon. President of the Montgomery Mission Band, which she organized, and which usually met every month at her home. For many years she was an active member of the Y. W. S. C. E., she also held the office of County President (Bonaventure) in the W. C. T. U., as well as that of President and Corresponding Secretary in the local union.

Mrs. Montgomery was a woman of rare intellectual gifts and these were consecrated to the service of her Lord and the welfare of others. Seventeen months ago her husband predeceased her, and now the home is truly bereft. In her sorrow and loneliness her sons and daughters have the enviable heritage of being the children of a mother, whom they can truly call blessed.

She has gone to her reward, and her influence in the home and in the community will live on. On every hand we hear resolutions being made of activities which must be carried on as a memorial to her who has gone.

"The good that men do lives after them," and so only eternity can declare the influences for God, for truth and righteousness which were set in motion by this noble Christian woman.

The funeral on Saturday, the 27th inst., was the largest known in New Richmond. Over five hundred persons of all classes and creeds gathered to pay their last debt of respect to one who had lived so worthily. The service was in the Presbyterian Church, being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Alexander Mackay, assisted by Rev. J. F. McCurdy of New Carlisle, a former pastor of the congregation.

The service opened with Hymn 470—"Nearer My God to Thee," and the reading of several portions of scripture, of which Psalm 23 was a favorite of the deceased, and selections from John 14; Rom. 8: 1 Thes. 4; Rev. 21 and 22.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. McCurdy, followed by Hymn 612—"The Sands of Time are Sinking." Rev. Mr. Mackay spoke from Mark 14: 8, "She hath done what she could." Attention was drawn to the circumstances attending the utterances of the words, Mary's anointing of Jesus. He observed that some deeds are so fine that only Christ can understand; some actions so inspired that even the saintliest person leaning on Jesus' bosom could misunderstand.

To Judas, the gift was a waste, and so to-day there are those who consider that a life devoted to Foreign Missions is a wasted one. Mr.

"Only remembered by what we have done; Thus will we pass from the world and its tollings, Only remembered by what we have done. The righteous shall be held in everlasting remembrance, Verily she hath done what she could."

"Shall we meet beyond the river," was rendered by the choir.

Rising to speak, Rev. Mr. McCurdy remarked how greatly she appreciated the privilege accorded him to be allowed to address them on this occasion. For nine years he had been the minister of the congregation of New Richmond. He said "A good rule is to make no mention of the deceased on the occasion of a funeral, but there are times when to abide by such a rule would be positively wrong. This is one of such occasions. A prince and a great one has fallen in Israel." A faithful servant of her Lord was she. To her great Master she said, "well done, enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

Always she was seeker of those whom she might help. If. One has always been struck not only with the munificence of her gifts, but with marked her doings. She never forgot the constant thoughtfulness that got. One thinks she must have kept account, a journal of some sort, a record of possible benefactions, for she never forgot. III. How firmly she stood for the right! Her effort was unremitting. Yet I

Her effort was always positive, seldom if ever condemnatory. None could say such a truth more justly than the minister speaking for oneself. I used to so value her appreciation of a sermon. If she felt it just to do so, she would cross from the pulpit and would thank me for it. When she did not do this, I knew it was because she was honest and respected her the more, nor was it difficult at prayer meetings.

VI. As we cherish this glorious memory, let us emulate her example, if like her we would accomplish our own task, finish the work God giveth us to do, and in the end find entrance unshaken into his presence! With all the saints who from their labors rest."

Rev. Mr. Mackay offered prayer; Hymn 621—"Asleep in Jesus" was sung, and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. McCurdy.

The pall-bearers were Messrs James Underwood, J. A. Campbell, T. Wilson, Hugh M. Johnson, Ernest Harvey and William A. MacWhiter. A very beautiful and touching scene was the presence of the young girls of the Montgomery Mission Band who followed the mourners. The flowers were exceptionally beautiful and abundant. In addition to the offerings from relatives and friends were those from the several auxiliaries of the W. M. S. of the congregation and from New Carlisle, (whose W. M. S. had been organized by Mrs. Montgomery); and the local W. M. S. the municipality there were present C. T. U.

Hon. John Hall Kelly, Rev. J. F. and Mrs. McCurdy, and Miss Rena R. Caldwell, New Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Montgomery, Dalhousie; Mr. Angus MacLean, Bathurst, and Mr. Anderson, Ban of Nova Scotia, St. John.

Mrs. Montgomery was the daughter of the late Robert Langwell, Esq., of Campbelltown, Scotland, and was born at St. Jerome, Que.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. J. Malcolm, wife of the manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Yarmouth, N. S.; Robert L. Mills, H. and Arthur R. of New Richmond, Edgar G. of Kimberly, B. Thanks to the Soothing and Healing Aid of Zam-Buk

McKay illustrated his point relating briefly the life story of the devoted missionary, Adoniran Judson. He pointed out that the motive behind Mary's act was love to Him from whom she had received so much. "Others criticized her action," but Christ's justification was found in the words of the text, "she hath done what she could."

Mary was found faithful, and Christ expects the same of us; 'ne does not expect us to do more than we can, but he demands of us that we do whatever we can. She did the best she could with what she had. The principle brought out in this connection might very aptly be applied to her who has passed away, for it can truly be said of her "she hath done what she could."

Her rich qualities of mind and heart, her sympathy and thoughtfulness to the sick, her mission of powers to the sick rooms all were in line with a life characterized by devotion to duty, entire consecration and faithfulness.

It has been said that God buries his workmen, but carries on his work, when one falls there is another to take his place, but in Mrs. Montgomery's place in the community and church cannot be filled."

McKay mentioned the various activities of which she had been the leader, which have already been enumerated.

He referred touchingly to her work in the church, her regular attendance in the sanctuary, her ready willingness to truly every good work by personal interest and giving. She ever went about doing good, 'hers was a prepared life. A life such as hers can never die. Her words, deeds and example, the influences she set in motion will outlive the stars. They shall shine as the stars for ever and ever."

"So while we mourn and lament we are thankful to God for the potent example of such a life and surely our resolve will be "to hold high the torch," that whatever our lives in the past may have been, in the future we shall be Christian men and women serviceable men and women.

"Only remembered, only remembered, Only remembered by what we have done; Thus will we pass from the world and its tollings, Only remembered by what we have done. The righteous shall be held in everlasting remembrance, Verily she hath done what she could."

MILITARY CORPS ORGANIZED HERE

Signalling and Boys Cadet Classes now Formed—Much Interest Being Taken

With the organization of Signalling and Boys Cadet Corps here a long-felt need is being met with. The movement got off to a good start on Friday night when a meeting was held at which Lt. Colonel T. E. Powers of St. John was present to direct the work of organizing. Sergeant Major Harrop of M.D. No. 7 has also been sent here as an instructor and already twenty-six boys are attending the evening classes which are being held in the Curling Rink. These classes will be held five nights a week and the course in signalling will cover a period of six weeks.

Most of those who have so far enrolled are High School students. The course includes the Morse alphabet by flags, lamps, heliograph and buzzer and the young signallers are apparently taking a keen interest in the work. Certificates for efficiency will be granted to all those who pass the examinations to be given later and bonuses of from $5 to $15 will be awarded. During this course the boys are provisionally attached to the N. B. Dragoons.

The organizing of the Cadet Corps has also been successful. This class which meets in the afternoon now has a membership of some 25 boys of younger age than those of the Signalling Corps. On Wednesday of last week Lieut. A. B. Snow, St. John was here and began the work of organization. This class will also run for six weeks and prospects are good for a very satisfactory Corps. It is interesting to note that the formation of these two fine military corps is largely due to the efforts of Lieut. Colin McKenzie who took the matter up some time ago with Lieut. Colonel C. M. P. Fisher of Sackville. Lieut. McKenzie has thereby done the boys of our town a good service and one they will doubtless deeply appreciate.

TO VISIT HOTELS ON GASPE COAST

Secretary of Quebec Tourist Ass'n Making Automobile Tour this Week

About the 20th of this month the hotels along the Gaspé Coast will be visited by Mr. Emile Renaud, secretary of the Quebec Automobile Club, in order to make a complete canvass of the hotels between Quebec City and Gaspé, started yesterday on a motor trip over the route mentioned. Mr. Renaud is making the trip as Field Secretary of the Quebec Tourist Association and will compile information for that organization. During recent months the hotels on the coast have been doing more and more to attract visitors than was formerly the custom and no doubt Mr. Renaud's visit on the coast and the publication of the information he secures will help greatly in making this scenic part of the Province of Quebec still better known to prospective visitors.

Steady Improvement

Mr. Renaud will find a great improvement in Gaspé over conditions as they existed forty years ago. Not only were good hotels scarce, travellers had to cross many of the rivers with boats and scows, such as the Grand Caspédia, Little Caspédia, Bonaventure, Port Daniel, Grand Pabos, Little Pabos, Grand River, Barachois and Douglastown. All that is changed. All the rivers mentioned are bridged, and in each parish the commercial traveller and tourist will find many other improvements which have been effected in recent years. Of course many suggestions can be thrown out to Hotel Proprietors, by the agent of any Tourist Association, about improvements to facilitate the work from this out, especially when the Matapédia Valley Road is further improved, and the new highway is built between Campbellton and Van Buren.

In the past few years there has been a still more marked improvement in hotel accommodations on the Gaspé Coast. With the tourist traffic yearly assuming larger proportions, many hotel proprietors have enlarged their hotel buildings, made notable improvements in sanitary and other conditions and are now in a position to give service which will prove satisfactory to their guests. At all the leading hotels on the coast first class meals and other accommodations may now be secured.

Doing Good Work

The Quebec Tourist Association has proven itself an energetic organization and is doing splendid work in developing that province. It will be remembered that the association named recently asked for and received from the Provincial Government a grant of $50,000 for the furtherance of its plans to develop the tourist traffic of the Province of Quebec, particularly by securing better rural hotel accommodations for the visitors. It is in accordance with these plans that Mr. Renaud is making his present trip.

Mr. Renaud will tour the whole territory between Quebec and Gaspé, carrying with him a number of questionnaires that will be filled in by the hotel proprietors and in part by the field secretary of the Tourist Association. Each questionnaire contains more than 150 questions concerning the nature of the building, the condition of the grounds, the nature of the service, sanitary conditions, and a host of other things which will enable the association to compile a complete directory of hotels of the Province. In cases in which an unfavorable report is submitted by the field secretary the hotel proprietor would be communicated with by the association and exhorted to better the conditions of his house in order that the association might be able to direct tourists toward him. It is believed that with the information that will be collected by Mr. Renaud the association will be able to increase the tourist traffic to the province.

RED CROSS DRIVE FOR MEMBERSHIP

Throughout the Province Begins Next Week—Satisfactory Returns are Anticipated

On Wednesday next, the 15th, inst., a province-wide drive for Membership and funds will be started by the various branches of the Red Cross Society. These splendid organizations are doing a great work throughout New Brunswick and in order to meet the growing demands of their progressive programme, require more funds to carry on the work in an effective way.

It is, of course, unnecessary to go into details regarding this work. Everyone knows what a worthy organization the Red Cross is and what an important part it now plays in the life of our country. The drive which begins next week should meet with very satisfactory results and because so worthy is sure to make a strong and confident appeal to the generous spirit of our people.
