WOOD-VIOLETS.

Like runs dense,
With faces pure.
You drop your modest head,
Or, bending there,
Seem rapt in prayer,
Beside your mossy beds.

Your cloister, these,
The whispering trees,
Where none dare kiss you but the wind; Though naught you preach How much you teach
To the receptive mind.

Lift up your heads!
That he who treads
These hallowed woodland aisles May, in your looks—Fair written books—
See purity which naught beguiles.

Your modest lore
To me is more Than all the pomp of learning can impart; Symbols of Youth,
Grace, Virtue, Truth—
You speak unto the heart.

This murmuring stream Will sadder seem
And with these airs of incense-colored breath Will join its own Soft monotone,
And chant a tender requiem at your death.

Easy if You Know How.
"Do you know?" said the cheerful idiot, "that it is the easiest thing in the world to tell whether a man is going out on a journey or returning by it?" "I never thought of that," said the youngest boarder. "What is the difference?"

The cheerful idiot settled himself a little firmer in his chair and gloated a moment before answering.
"It is just this way," he went on.

his valise toward the railroad station

After The Great Freeze.
C. E. HOWARD, FLORIDA.

The following account of the effect of the late disastrous freeze in Florida to the orange groves in particular, is not sent forth in any spirit of pessimism, nor with any thought of shaking the faith of any who may have indulged in the fascinating dream of some time being the proud possessor of a grove of golden apples. For, as demoralizing as the effects of the freeze have been to many, the man of philosophic mind regards it simply as one of the many risks to be taken in agriculture, horticulture, or any other pursuit, and consoles himself with the thought that as many years have passed since so great a destruction as this visited the state, a generation will likely come and go ere another freeze sweeps over this fair land.

The freeze of December last caught the orange trees with little sap in them, thus killing only the tenderest twigs, which in itself was not so damaging as the loss of the crop, except in the case of nursery stock, which was in many places cut to the ground. The fruit literally froze on the trees and soon after, with the leaves, fell to the ground.
In many places so covering it that it formed a carpet of golden orange, startlingly beautiful, but none the less dead and soot. These oranges were gathered and thrown into furrows drawn between the trees, to serve as fertilizers.
The grower felt hopeful, notwithstanding his loss, sure that a month's sunshine would clothe his trees with a new growth of foliage, and that the usual time for blooming would arrive. "Nipped in the bud" does not express the freeze of February. Now the trees were filled with sap, the growing season being farther advanced, leaves were forming and buds swelling. Like a demon of death came the stroke that not only destroyed the tender leaves and blighted the prospect of fruit, but nearly killed the goose that laid the golden egg. Nay, in many cases did kill to the ground.
The freeze was a great blow to the trucking industry throughout the southern states. Early vegetables were generally killed.

minutes, how many cats will it take to kill 100 rats in fifty minutes?

The Boys' Brigade in Canada.

A conference of officers called by the provisional president, Rev. T. F. Fotheringham, of St. John, N. B., assembled in Toronto on the 26th of March.
There were present twenty-two representatives from St. John, N. B., Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston, Niagara Falls, Ottawa and Sarnia, and letters of regret and concurrence were read from Mon-real, St. Catharines, Berlin and Victoria.
B. C. Rev. T. F. Fotheringham was elected chairman and T. W. Nisbet, of Sarnia, secretary of the meeting, which was opened by prayer by Rev. John Young, of Toronto.

The adoption of a constitution for the brigade in Canada was the next order of business; the constitution of the parent brigade with some few alterations was adopted.

The following officers were then elected: President—His Excellency Lord Aberdeen.

Vice President—Rev. T. F. Fotheringham, M. A., St. John, N. B.; Rev. J. H.
Dixon, Montreal; Hon. Senator Allan, Toronto; Major Walker, Calgary.

For Manitoba and British Columbia (the president was asked to nominate men to fill the office for these provinces.)

Brigade Secretary and Treasurer—T.
W. Nisbet, Sarnia.
Eastern District Secretary—J. W.
Cassidy, St. John, N. B.
Western District Secretary for British Columbia—Referred to the executive to appoint.

Executive Committee—W. B. Rankin, Esq., Halifax; Rev. John Young, Toronto; Major McLaren, Hamilton; Rev. A. J.
McLeod, Regina; Rev. J. G. Stuart, London.

The Boy's Brigade hall, Sarnia, Ont. was then adopted as the headquarters of the brigade for the Dominion.

Votes of thanks were passed to Messrs Manchester, Robertson and Allison, of St. John, N. B., for valuable services rendered; to Rev. T. F. Fotheringham for introducing the brigade into this country and for his services during the past six years; to the Bible Society for the use of their rooms for the meeting, and to Mr. W. A. Smith, of Glasgow, the founder of the Boys' Brigade, for the interesting meetings he has had since coming among us, and the interest he has created in the work by his visit to Canada.

After some discussion on the practical work of the brigade the conference was closed by prayer by Rev. T. M.
Winfield, chaplain, to His Excellency the Governor General.

The newly elected executive committee afterwards met and took steps to raise a headquarters fund, and instructed the secretary to publish a leaflet containing the constitution as adopted at the conference, and other information, which will be sent to all officers, as soon as possible.

Correspondence and contributions to

The Wonders of Wood Pulp.

In the United States in 1890, the production of wood pulp was 97,000 tons.
In 1894, it probably exceeded a million tons. In Germany it increased 60 per cent from '90 to '93. Norway exported about 200,000 tons in 1890, and over 300,000 tons in 1894.

With regard to Canada, it is somewhat surprising to find the pulp-manufacturing industry so far behind. As a suitable country for the production of the material Canada stands among the foremost in the world. It might be a great national industry. They possess enormous forests of suitable wood. It seems almost incredible that paper manufacturers of the United States should go up into Canada for large supplies of wood, manufacture it into paper, and then export the paper into Canadian markets.

The United States manufacturers excluding, perhaps, those of the New England States, are fully aware that to Canada they must look for their future supply of raw material. Canadians are certainly masters of the situation, and with the requisite enterprise and capital, they may yet become one of the largest producers of pulp and paper in the world.
It is to the interest of Canada to manufacture on a large scale both pulp and paper. It is satisfactory to find that one or two Canadian firms have been enterprising enough to commence exporting pulp to England, and have most successfully faced the competition with Scandinavia. The quality of this Canadian pulp is of a very high standard and is certainly equal, if not superior, to any European make. The paper imported into Canada from the United States alone amounted in 1893 to $730,000.

Although wood pulp was originally intended for the manufacture of paper, its adaptation for other purposes has gained a wide range. It has been successfully employed for the manufacture of all kinds of furniture, carriages, wheels, portmanteaus, kitchen utensils, barrels, warping, floor coverings and ornaments of every description. The fibres are now being spun and woven into various garments, which for warmth and softness are almost equal to wool. Blankets and rugs are made at about half the price of those of wool. Quite recently some beautiful specimens of artificial silk fabrics have been made from cellulose fibres. At Hamburg a complete hotel has been built of wood pulp, and mattresses, beds, doors and window cases are now being made from this material.

If British paper makers wish to retain this particular branch of the papermaking industry, they will certainly have to take immediate steps and provide for the future. If I might be here permitted to make a suggestion, I would advise our makers of this class of paper to turn their attention to Newfoundland or Canada, and there secure their future supply of raw material before it is too late.
By selecting the most suitable localities they could manufacture their own pulp and supply their paper mills with the raw material at a very much lower price than they now pay.

Thelner's artificial silk is a new material for use in textile manufacture possessing distinct and valuable characteristics, which render it unique among all fibres hitherto existing. As the result of study and analysis of the natural worms of production of silk by the silk worm, the inventor has by simple chemical and mechanical means closely and successfully reproduced a natural process. Wood pulp cotton or jute waste, etc., are chemically digested and the liquid product is spun by a mechanical spinning machine to a thread of even diameter throughout and of unbroken and unlimited length. The same machine which draws the threads from the liquid twists three threads in any desired number into the requisite "count" or thickness of yarn, in an uninterrupted and continuous process with perfect regularity.
The machine is inexpensive and extremely simple.

Thelner's artificial silk has been spun in Bradford, and has been woven in a large variety of fabrics. Unlike most vegetable fibres, Thelner's artificial silk can be dyed in all other colors and the shades obtained excel in brilliancy and delicacy those of the finest natural silk.
For softness and beauty of appearance the new material equals the best Chinese and Italian silks. By its use therefore in combination with cotton, wool or natural silk, broadened and other ornamental and decorative results can be obtained, which have hitherto been unattainable except by the employment of silk. The use of these materials limits their sale for this purpose. The cost of B.
D. article silk being small, it follows that the fibre will open out a large and profitable new field to manufacturers, affording encouragement to them in the production of an unlimited variety of fabrics of almost every description.

The intention was first to manufacture the raw material in England, but as a large quantity of alcohol is consumed in its manufacture, and the tax on alcohol in England is almost prohibitory for manufacturing purposes, the company decided to establish the factory in a country where spirits were free for manufacture, and the supervision and management of a Thelner. Large alcohol consumed for such purposes is untaxed. The artificial silk is thus forwarded in a raw state to England, and there manufactured into textile fabrics.—Scientific American.

Theological sermon is to be preached by Rev. W. Weddall of Summerside and the FISH SHIPPERS IN LUCK.—Our fish shippers have been paying duty to the United States on smelts and bass under protest, and word has just been received of a decision in favor of the shippers. It was held that smelts and bass were salt-water fish, and liable to duty as such, but it has been shown that those shipped from here are all caught in fresh water. Messrs A. & R. Loggie will get $3,000 or $4,000 back, it is said, and others shippers from $500 to $3,000. The agent of the smelters writes: "We beg to advise you that we have succeeded in getting a decision in our favor on smelts, salmon, perch, shad, striped bass and eels."—Chatham MACAN.—Died at Capt. Travis' Macan, on Thursday the 16th ult., Minnie Fullerton in the 23rd year of her age. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon. The remains were taken to West Brook Cemetery for burial. Rev. Mr. Evans conducted the services at the house and the Rev. Mr.

Asbery at the cemetery. Miss Fullerton was the third daughter of William H.
Fullerton New Canaan, Cumberland County, and was very much thought of in Macan where she has lived for the year or two. Her two brothers John and Allison who are living in the United States came home to the funeral.
Much sympathy is felt for the family.

BOY'S BRIGADE.—The 1st Sackville Company of the Boy's Brigade had their first march out last Friday evening.
The boys marched very well for the short time they have been drilling. With the exception of a few smaller boys, the march was almost perfect. The company was headed by three drummers. Much credit is due the instructor, Mr. Frank Beck, for the way in which the company is progressing in drill. After returning to the drill hall, an announcement was made to the boys regarding the proposed camping trip. Each member of the company who goes to camp will be required to take with him the following outfit:—2 blankets or their equivalent; a tin plate and cup and knife; fork and spoon; 2 towels; brush, comb, soap and toothbrush; overcoat; old suit of clothes; a change of underclothing and socks; handkerchiefs; old cap; heavy lined boots, swimming trunks; and a Bible.
The boys can also take anything they wish in the way of reading matter, games, fishing line, etc. The enrollment fee is twenty-five cents for each boy. A regular programme for each day will be drawn up and no boy will be allowed to leave the camping grounds without special permission. Everything that can be thought of is being done to make the trip a pleasant one for the boys as well as a safe one.

A Bright New Uniform.

Sousa's Band, as it will appear at its evening concerts will be a picture to the eye. While its new uniform is conceived in the utmost taste, it is at the same time striking in color, and stylish and effective in decoration. The cloth consists of a light tan color in shade, with collars, cuffs and braid of bright blue, edged with gold, and broad gold pantalon stripes with a narrow strip of blue in the center. Mr. Sousa himself will be arrayed in a rich uniform of jet-black broadcloth, with appropriate trimmings.
The new equipment of the band will be as much a delight to the eye as will its music to the ear.

Our readers should not lose sight of the fact that the printed programmes of Sousa's Band give but a slight idea of the great variety of music played by the genial bandmaster. The demand for snatches of music is so great that the programmes. These encores consist of his most brilliant marches and other popular melodies, plantation songs and dances, etc., etc. Sousa has a way of pleasing all tastes, and the people leave his concerts feeling that they have been entertained before. The classics get their share, the fervent of the melody of the people, the choir, and the gallery are enabled to keep time to the Southern plantation dances with indescribable delight. This feature of Sousa's concerts, together with the magnetism which is among his potent attractions, largely constitutes the great popularity of the leader at Manhattan Beach, the St. Louis Exposition, and throughout the country traversed so frequently by his concert tours. Let no lover of music fail to hear the great band. A big excursion will go to Moncton, 8 June is the date.

Tuesday morning and is making a most business-like appearance. It is run on cooperative plan. One hundred cows are already supplying milk and another hundred are to come in a few days.
Hitherto this has been only a cheese factory but butter will be made this season.

TRILBY Co. played in Music Hall Saturday evening. They had been booked for New Glasgow for that night but their manager on seeing the hall in that place refused to play in it. The time was too short for proper advertisement and the night itself was wet and disagreeable but an average house assembled. The play was a thoroughly entertaining one. The company was well represented and the peculiar interest of the story well sustained.

GRAVE YARD IMPROVEMENT.—The public meeting called to further consider matters in connection with the Public Burying Ground in Upper Sackville met in Bethel Church on Friday evening the 17th inst. and John Sharpe Esq was made chairman. Mr. W. Fawcett, secretary. The committee appointed at the preceding meeting reported that they had examined the grounds and found the fences needed repairing and the yard cleaning up, & that they had interviewed Mr. Wheaton and he would sell about two acres of suitable land adjoining at $150 per acre. After a somewhat long discussion the following motion was adopted, that a committee be appointed to select subscriptions for repairing the fence and making improvements in the old yard and whereas it is the opinion of this meeting that more land is needed in this vicinity for burying purpose, that the committee also ascertain if a company can be formed for the purpose of buying land for the said purpose. The old committee with the addition of Milton Sharpe and the secretary was then appointed to take the matter in charge.
The above committee met to-night (Thursday) to take action and a subscription paper to get funds for improvement of the old yard will be circulated at once. The object is a worthy one and deserves generous support.

HANSON'S BLOCK.—There is no neater or more tidily kept store in Sackville than that of Capt. P. Hanson on Bridge St. Everything is new and fresh and clean. Capt. Hanson has had his large windows protected by a convenient arrangement of fly screens so that there is now a little change of there being flies on the goods displayed as on the enterprising captain himself. By the addition of a verandah and stairs and a back kitchen, and a complete rearrangement of the room inside, the second story has been made into two very convenient and roomy tenements. These apart-
