Agriculture

The Cabbage Maggot.

The grub attacks the roots of cabbage and cauliflower, causing a condition known as "club-root." This insect is most destructive on soils in which large quantities of farm-yard manure have been applied. A good dressing of lime or bone meal, well worked into the soil in autumn is a favorite preventative amongst market gardeners. Gas-lime, if prudently used, has also proved to be a good preventative. Slow progress is made with destructive remedies, which consist in digging a hole close to each plant and dropping in 9 or 10 drops of bisulphide of carbon, closing the holes again. Another remedy consists in removing the soil around the stems and sprinkling a small quantity of lime around them.

Applying Fertilizers.

It is a great mistake in the application of concentrated fertilizers such as the superphosphates, bone meal, ashes or any of the different agricultural chemicals, to drop them in a compact mass in the hill and near where the seed is planted. It should be remembered that the plants take their food from the soil through their roots, and that those roots are quickly sent out into the surrounding soil after the plant starts into growth. While it is conceded that the elements in the fertilizer are dissolved out by moisture, and diffused through the soil in a measure, yet it is certain that they do not travel far. The soil is a retainer, and does not pass the material along from particle to particle. It is plain, therefore, that the fertilizer should be scattered into the surrounding soil if we would have it where the roots of the plants may readily reach it. The old method of dropping with a spoon in a mass is an error of practice which should not be continued. If liberal portions are applied it is better that it matter little what the crop is, the entire soil will be filled with its roots, and there can be no danger but they will find the fertilizer.—Maine Farmer.

Cabbage Insects.

Cut worms or larvae of several species of insects are often very troublesome when cabbage plants are first set out. They work at night, and eat through the stem of the plants at the surface of the ground. Prof. Riley has bred these creatures to their death, and it can be done every time. The method is to bait with poisoned leaves, laying them over the surface of the soil about ten or fifteen feet apart, covering the whole plot or field a few days before planting. The leaves to be employed are those of cabbage, turnip, lettuce or clover; a light coating of Paris Green is mixed with a pall of water and kept well stirred. In these the leaves are dipped and then distributed over the ground.

The cabbage worm, the common green worm that feeds on the leaves of the growing plants, can be easily destroyed, and at little cost by the use of Paris Green Powder. The cabbage fly which deposits its eggs on the stems of the plants, and which is often very troublesome. The maggots, when hatched out, work into and downwards through the stem, or groove along the bark, until they reach the root upon which they feed when the plant dies. One of the best remedies proposed is to scatter slacked lime, or coal dust around the stem of each plant, leaving a few plants here and there through the field, unprotected, in order that the flies may visit them and lay their eggs. These plants the flies will seek out and leave the others untouched. The plants that have been visited will soon show the effects of the insects, and can then be pulled up and burned.

The science of breeding, together with better knowledge of sanitary laws, must help to prevent the ill incidents of these dangers attending the horse in civilization. The mare is capable of breeding at two years old, but as size, good form, and sound health are essential to the value of the horse, it is wise to risk these by so early taking nature heavily. The old English view is a safe one, that one or the other of the parents should be mature. If a young mare is to be bred, the horse should not be less than eight or ten years old, and it is generally accepted that an aged mare, if bred at all, will do better bred to a young horse. If both horse and mare are very young or very old, the colt is generally weak and small. Many of the best horses have been gotten by old stallions. Old or worn out mares are never successful.

A slightly acid milk is necessary in scouring cream to make butter for keeping. Excellent as the creamery system is for getting the most butter and cream from a certain quantity of milk, it gets too suddenly for long keeping butter. Keeping cream one or two days after gathering in a moderately cool temperature, and then churning, is a remedy for this defect.

SIR CHARLES, 2745.
Is the fastest Standard bred Trotting Stallion in New Brunswick. He can show a 2:10 gait in stud condition. He is a trotter by right of inheritance, as his sire Mambrino Chariot has a record of 2:30, and was the sire of Hellen 2:55. His grand sire, Mambrino Chariot, had a record of 2:20, and is the sire of Mambrino Sparkle 2:17. His great grand sire, Mambrino Chariot, was the sire of Lady Thurn, 2:18. His dam, Lady Messenger, was the dam of Owino Princess, trial 2:18; Crown Prince 2:25, and Grey Chatter, trial 2:30. It seems almost impossible for a horse so powerfully bred in speed lines to avoid string trotting.

Evictions in New York.
The following extract from the New York Standard will be found of interest: "The truth is that evictions in Ireland are nothing like as numerous and nothing like as heartless as they are in New York. In the last quarter of last year the total number of evictions in Ireland was only 600. More than that often take place in New York city in a month. And while in Ireland the poor law officers are required to be present at every eviction, and evicted tenants are frequently put back as caretakers, here people who can't or won't pay their rent are thrown out on the street or on the road and left to shift for themselves. Only last week an item was printed in our papers telling how a widow and seven children were evicted in Long Island and left with her little efforts on the roadside all night during a heavy storm, and how they were taken in by a man who offered them a place to sleep, and how they were then taken to a poorhouse, where five of the children sickened and died."

Enjoy Life.
What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glass and ocean, and thousands of means of enjoyment. FREDERICTON, N. B., June 15, 1887.

The Jubilee Celebration.

Fredrickton after all, thanks to the energy of Lady Lilly, will have a jubilee celebration on the 21st. The programme as finally decided upon, will include the laying of the corner stone of the Victoria Hospital by Lady Lilly, followed by addresses from Sir Leonard Tilley, Lieut. Governor, Hon. A. G. Blair, Premier and Attorney General, a parade on the same occasion of the local military, and the various city societies, a military review, the grand bazaar in the Parliament Buildings, a march on to the Fredrickton and St. Mary's fairs, and a fine display of fireworks. This programme will pretty well cover the day, and afford amusement and pleasure to our citizens and the large number of strangers who will come to Fredrickton. If our celebration is not on so grand a scale as those of other cities, we shall be able to boast of its permanent character. The Victoria Hospital, towards the erection of which our citizens have contributed so liberally, will stand as a memorial, not only of the jubilee year, but as a monument to the public spirit and energy of Lady Lilly, whose interest in the welfare and happiness of the people of this city, will never be forgotten.

A Delusive Hope.

The Gleaner thinks that Mr. J. M. W. Ruel, who was superannuated from the Fredrickton Custom House some time ago, will yet be filling his former position, under a Grit Government. Well, hardly. Mr. Ruel is an old man, and although quite vigorous, will scarcely live to see a Grit Government in power. Mr. Ruel, we understand, was not required in the Custom House. No appointment was made to the vacancy his superannuation created, and if it is the policy of the Grits when they return to power, to increase the staff of the Customs department, when such increase is altogether unnecessary, the people will not likely take kindly to such an extravagant idea. Mr. Ruel has petitioned against Mr. Temple's election, and the Gleaner in holding out delusive hopes to him is endeavoring to increase the ex officio official's party zeal, which is said to have been none too latent for his Grit friends, even while he held a position under the Conservative administration.

The New Grit Leader.

Hon. Mr. Blake is quite ill at Toronto, and there is little expectation that he will ever be able to resume the leadership of his party. Hon. Mr. Laurier in the meantime has been chosen to succeed Mr. Blake. Mr. Laurier is an able man, a grand speaker, and popular with his party, but he is of delicate physique, and cannot be expected to withstand the worry and responsibility of party leadership any better than Mr. Blake. Mr. Laurier is a Frenchman, and was the leader of the Riel agitation. He it was, who said if he had been on the banks of the Saskatchewan during the rebellion, he would have shouldered his rifle and fought the Canadian soldiers, but these facts do not seem to have militated against his choice as leader of the Grit party. In appearance, the new leader very strongly resembles Mr. C. N. Skinner, M. P., of St. John. He represents Quebec east in the House of Commons.

The Finance Minister.

Sir Charles Tupper returns to London the end of this month, but it is not known whether he will resign the Finance Ministry and resume the office of High Commissioner. That would give his seat in Parliament, and he will be wanted again next session. Besides one of the principal objects of his mission to England is to resume negotiations for a treaty with Spain, and these can be conducted by him as Finance Minister even more conveniently than as High Commissioner. The commercial arrangements with the United States that may grow out of the fishery question can also be negotiated by Sir Charles Tupper as Finance Minister, and it is probable, therefore, that he will continue to hold that office.

Mr. Temple in Parliament Tuesday voted against the repeal of the Scott Act, and against prohibition. Barnes, Skinner and Weldon (St. John) were the only New Brunswick members who voted for the repeal of the Scott Act, and Foster, Baird, Gilmer, Hale, Landry, Weldon, (Albert), Wilmet and Wood voted for prohibition.

It is said in Ottawa to be improbable that the veterans of the Fenian raids of '66-'70 will receive medals as requested. The number of volunteers on the pay lists then was so large that the Government considered that it would be too much to grant medals to all those now in the country who took part.

Urban Johnson, ex-M. P. P., for Kent, is a candidate in that county to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Whetten's appointment to the Shriever. The names of C. J. Sayre and J. D. Phinney are also mentioned in the same connection.

Robert Campbell, M. P. for South Brunswick, Ontario, died yesterday at his home, Eggenville. He is the third member of the Commons who has died since the opening of Parliament, and a fourth in an instant of a lunatic asylum.

The information comes from Ottawa, that Hon. P. A. Landry, M. P. for Kent, will be taken into the Cabinet at the close of the present session.

The Conservatives of Digby meet to-day to select a candidate to succeed the late Mr. Campbell in the Commons.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State, is to be appointed Governor of Quebec.
