DR. M'NEILL GIVES EVIDENCE

Gerald Told Him He Administered Something to His Father-$500 for Will.

Good progress was made during the second day's sitting of the Sifton trial, five witnesses having been heard, including Walter Herbert, the crown's chief witness. The prospects remain bright for the conclusion of the case this week. At the last trial 49 witnesses were examined, but this time it is probable that not many more than half this number will be called. Mr. Clute is showing a commendable desire to shorten the trial as much as possible, and is confining himself in his examinations to bringing out only TOVES, BASEBURNERS AND Ranges of all kinds for wood and coal; second-hand furniture; cheap; at F. the most vital facts. The most important evidence of the day was of course that of Walter Herbert. It is impossible to say what weight will be placed on his startling story by the jury, but it seems only reasonable to suppose that his variations from and additions to his last year's evidence, as brought out by Mr. Johnston, cannot fail to have their effect.

The courtroom was crowded all day, and constables were stationed on the stairways to prevent the entrance of more spectators. The air in the courtroom became so close towards the end of the afternoon as to be made the subject of complaint by the lawyers, while one spectator had to be carried out in a faint.

Continuing his cross-examination of Herbert, Mr. Johnston questioned the witness closely as to the conversation between himself and Gerald in the cowstable on the morning of June 30. wedding took place in the Baldwin but elicited nothing new on this point. home as soon as the mourners returned Coming to the "alleged confession," from the funeral service. Witness had said last year that he went at his uncle's request, to see Edgar Morden, and find out whether or not Gerald Sifton had been talking or not. He had not gone to make a confession, nor did he expect to see High Constable McLoud.

Alonzo Decker, of the Proof Line road, followed John Sinker on the stand. He had been driving to London on Saturday, June 30, when he met Herbert, who told him Joseph Sifton had fallen out of the barn and killed himself. Witness went in and found Joseph Sifton lying at the end of the barn, with John Sinker and Mary Macfarlane present. Sifton appeared to be dying. Witness saw the bloodstained axe and the bricks lying near. To Mr. Johnston witness said he noticed Sifton's new tan boots, but saw no blood on them. ### HEARD HAMMERING AT BARN.

Ephraim Bathurst, who was employed at Canon Richardson's house at the time of Joseph Sifton's death, said he heard hammering that morning as he oft the Richardson house to walk to London. The hammering continued as the witness walked past the Sifton barn, and he looked up at the windmill on the barn, but saw no one there. The south door of the barn was open. Witness heard the hammering till he passed over the hill south of Sifton's, when he lost the sound. Witness saw no one around the place. Witness helped Joseph Sifton draw into the barn the hay there at the time of the accident. One big load of hay was put into the west mow. The hay was brought in the day before Joseph Sif-

This concluded Mr. Clute's examination of Bathurst. The witness was instructed to be on hand at 9:30 a.m. sharp in order that he might be crossexamined.

The court then rose for the night.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION.

The third day of the Sifton trial opened uneventfully, with Ephraim Bathurst in the box for cross-examination. There was the usual morning attendance, which has been much lighter than that of the afternoon sittings. The prisoner maintains his unshaken composure and appears to be cheerful. Mary Macfarlane was again in attendance, and appears to have pretty well recovered from the slight injury she is said to have received.

SIFTON WAS VENTURESOME.

Mr. Johnston began his cross-examination of Ephraim Bathurst immediately upon the opening of the court. Bathurst was asked to describe the proceedings of the day before Joseph Sifton's death, when witness helped the later to bring in the hay stored in the barn. Witness said that the lower opening in the barn was made by Joseph Sifton on the morning of Friday. He knocked the boards off with an axe. After getting in some hay, Sifton got the hayfork and brought it to the barn ready to be put up.

Witness regarded the elder Sifton as venturesome man. He had knows him to ascend his windmill after dark, which he thought a venturesome act. There was no doubt, said the witness, that the south door of the barn was open when he walked past the Sifton property.

to the end of the barn. Mr. Johnston then asked witness as to a meeting he had on the Sunday morning after Sifton's death. Witness said that he heard voices below and found Edgar and Martin Morden talk-

Witness described the alterations which had taken place in the barn and its surroundings since the tragedy. Mr. Clute asked some important questions, questioning Bathurst closely as to the vehicles which he met after passing the Sifton farm on Saturday morning. The witness was then dismissed with the instruction to re-turn to court for the purpose of being recalled if needed.

EVIDENCE RE WILL DEBARRED.

Edmund Meredith, K.C., was the next witness called. Mr. Clute asked him if he knew of a will made by Joseph Sifton and in existence at the time of the tragedy.

Mr. Johnston at once objected that until Gerald Sifton was connected with a knowledge of the contents of the will in question, it was not admissible as evidence. The crown's motive for the murder was the prevention of the marriage, and there had been nothing yet shown to warrant the admission of the Susie Bathurst, daughter of Ephraim Bathurst, testified that at the time of Joseph Sifton's death she was working at Canon Richardson's house. She had seen Joseph Sifton lying on a couch in his house after the accident. May Macfarlane was wiping the blood off his face.

To Mr. Johnston witness said that she had heard hammering at the barn in the morning, and that Herbert came to the door shortly after and said Joseph Sifton had fallen from the Witness had stated at the preliminary examination that she heard the hammering about five minutes before Herbert came.

HERBERT HAD "SQUEALED."

The next witness called was Jacob Burgess, a Hamilton traveler. He said he had been in jail in London since Gerald Sifton was in jail. "They claimed they had put in here to sober me up," he explained. He had had several conversations with Gerald in jail. Witness had spoken to Gerald about Herbert's statements in the case, and Gerald's employment of a lawyer for him. The conversations between witness and the prisoner took place as they stood at the doors of their cells on opposite sides of the corridor. There were three or four other prisoners in the same cell with witness and the prison officials were liable to be passing. Sifton's conversation was therein a manner public.

On Mr. Johnston cornering witness as to the exact words used by Sifton, and witness' previous statements in the matter, witness said: "It's pretty hard to remember what was said a year or two ago."

REPUBLICANS HOLD HOUSE BY A REDUCED MAJORITY

Though the Democrats Claim Five Majority.

ODELL RE-ELECTED IN NEW YORK

Ohio Republicans Made a Heavy Gain-Greater New York Went Back to Democracy.

New York, Nov. 5.-As a result of the Congressional elections yesterday in nearly every state of the union, the Republicans will retain control of the House of Representatives by sixteen or twenty majority.

The situation was summed up by Republican Chairman Babcock, as follows: "Returns very satisfactory outside New York city. Think an estimate of 204 Republican members is safe. Have elected four of the six congressmen from Maryland."

"Outside of New York," said Congressman Overstreet, "the result of the congressional campaign indicate that the Republican sentiment throughout the country is fully as strong as we have claimed in our campaign statements. The loss in New York city is due entirely to local conditions." Throughout the territory immediately surrounding New York city—that is Connecticut, New Jersey, the state of New York and Pennsylvania—the Republicans more than held their own, and this plainly indicates, I think, that the slump in New York city was a purely local incident."

DEMOCRATIC STATEMENT. Washington, D.C., Nov. 4.-At midnight Chairman Griggs made a statement, claiming the house would be Democratic by from 10 to 20 votes. He added to his specification of gains three in California, one in Wisconsin, two in Michigan and two in Minnesota.

New York, Nov. 4.-In spite of phenomenally large vote in New York and King's County for Bird S. Coler, Democrat, the returns up to a late hour tonight indicate the re-election of B. B. Odell, Republican, to the governorship of New York State by from 6,000 to 7,000. Coler's plurality in the Greater New York exceeded 115,000, but even that large vote was not sufficient to overcome the Republican majorities from up the state. TOM PLATT SAFE.

Figures from congressional districts gave the delegation as 20 Republicans to 17 Democrats. The present representation is 22 Republicans to 12 Democrats. The Democrats made gains in the State Legislature, but not sufficient to endanger he would hold an inquest. ARKANSAS. The entire Democratic ticket was elected, including eight congressmen.

CALIFORNIA. Returns indicate that the governorship is very doubtful. Lane (Democrat) is running ahead of his ticket. COLORADO.

Returns received up to 10:30 o'clock indicate the election of Peabody (Republican), for governor by a small plurality. The Democratic congressional candidates are reported to be running ahead of their ticket, and are believed to be elected.

CONNECTICUT. Returns from 50 towns in Connecticut indicate the election of the entire Republican ticket by pluralities ranging from 15,000. The General Assembly promises to be comfortably Republican thus insuring the return to the United States Senate of O. H. Platt. DELAWARE.

The complexion of the next Delaware General Assembly is in doubt.

FLORIDA. There was no opposition to the Democratic ticket, state or congressional.

GEORGIA. Georgia today elected a solid delegation of eleven Democratic congressmen. IDAHO.

Scattered returns, mostly from the southern part of the state, show Morrison (Republican), for governor, running ahead of Hunt (Democrat). - ILLINOIS.

There is every indication that the Republican ticket has been elected by a good majority. The next legislature will be Republican without any doubt. INDIANA.

IOWA. On the basis of the precinct returns received up to 11 p.m., the Republicans have elected their state ticket by about 75,000 plurality. Judge Birdsall, nominated by the Republicans to succeed Speaker Henderson, ran substantially with his ticket, and will be elected by 4,000 to 5,000 votes over former Gov.

LOUISIANA.

The Democratic nominees for congress in Louisiana are elected.

MARYLAND. Of the six congressmen the Republicans elect four and the Democrats two.

MASSACHUSETTS. The Republicans carried Massachusetts for the entire state ticket, and won in a majority of congressional districts, and seven out of the eight councilor districts, and retain a firm con-trol of both branches of the Legisla-ture.

MINNESOTA. Chairman Jamison, of the Republican state committee, said: "Returns so far received, while somewhat meager, indicate that VanSant will have a plurality of 60,000 for governor." Chairman Buck, of the Democratic state committee, said: "Returns so far as received are not flattering, as to Rosling's success. However, we have not enough to indicate a definite result."

MISSISSIPPPI. All Democratic nominees for Congress elected.

MONTANA: The latest reports received give the state to the Republicans almost be-yond a doubt, although defeat has not yet been conceded by the Democrats. NEW HAMPSHIRE.

For governor, 150 towns and wards in New Hampshire gave Batchelder, Republican, 21,296; Hollis, Democrat, 16,888; scattering, 953. Same towns and wards in 1900 gave Jordan, Republican, 27,607; Potter, Democrat, 17,287; a net Republican loss of 6,002.

NEW JERSEY. The Republicans will again control both houses by heavy majorities. NEBRASKA.

Thirty-two precincts in Douglas County give Mickey, Republican, for governor, 3,514; Thompson, Fusion, 3,- NEVADA. Indications are that Sparks, Democrat, for governor, has carried Washoe County by about 400. Meager returns point to a Fusion victory in the state. NORTH CAROLINA.

At midnight there is no appreciable change in the Democratic state majorwhich is apparently 63,000. The Legislature and state Senate will be overwhelmingly Democratic.

OHIO. At 10 o'clock Chairman Dick, of the Republican state committee, gave out a statement, claiming a plurality of more than 100,000 on the state ticket, and 17, and possibly 18, out of the 21

Ohio congressmen. PENNSYLVANIA. Estimates from more than half the counties in Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties, show gains for the Democratic state ticket. These gains are offset by heavy Republican gains in Philadelphia and Pittsburg. The returns indicate a Republican plurality in the state of from 150,000 to 200,000. RHODE ISLAND. For governor, 21 districts out of 149, give Garvin, Dem., 1,525; Kimball, Rep. 2,785. Last year Gregory, Rep.,

Bogus Ballots in Conservative

Ward Elections. While Dr. Pyne, M.P.P., Boasted of

the Purity of Their Methods.

Toronto, Nov. 4. - Three of the Conservative ward associations met last night to elect officers for the year. At the second ward meeting in Victoria Hall, Mr. W. B. Northrup, K.C., M. P., said he was always glad to come to this double-distilled quintessence of Toryism-Toronto. As Conservatives they considered themselves better than their opponents. The Liberals would object to this perhaps, but that only showed their ignorance and besotted condition. The representatives sent from Toronto were proof that Conservatives had abler men and better measures to propose than had their opponents. A GOOD MANY "CRANKS." In a contest every man, who was a crank and who was ignorant was on the side of their opponents. It was finally decided that all Conservatives in the ward might vote. Mr. C. C. Robinson, who protested against this as nominator of Mr. S. W. Burns for the presidency, had difficulty in obtaining a hearing. After the election Mr. Burns expressed the opinion that many who had voted were not even Conservatives.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 5. - In a cell in the city police station, two brothers named McLean, met, after not seeing or hearing of one another for seventeen long years. They left home when quite young, and came to Canada, drifting apart in a short time. The brothers lost all trace of each other, and until their arrest neither had any knowledge of the other's presence in the city. One brother was charged with being drunk and incapable, while the other was up on a more serious charge of assault on an Indian woman. The former was fined the usual amount, $2 50 or five days, while the latter was given two months at hard labor in the chain gang, in which he is now serving. He was supposed by his friends in Scotland to have been killed in a mine disaster in Nanaimo twelve years ago. The one charged with drunkenness paid his fine, and has since left for the Orient. #### IN DAILY DREAD OF DEATH | no need to tell him and he never asked.

Millionaire's Terror of Coming Dissolution.

An Unconfirmed Statement by Carnegie's Former Secretary.

New York, Nov. 5. - The American says: "Few men would accept Andrew Carnegie's horror of death with all his millions.

In these words James H. Bridge, formerly secretary to Carnegie, described what he asserts is one of the famous millionaire's most striking characteristics in his declining years. "Carnegie's horror of death," says Bridge, "is literally unspeakable, for he never allows it mentioned by any of his own circle. If others speak of it he quickly moves out of earshot. Just before his mother died he called a friend to his own sickbed and said, When mother goes I don't want to be told about it. You attend to everything.' And to this day he does not know how or when she died, although he was within a dozen feet of her at the time. "It was the same a few days before, when his brother Tom died. To break the news gently, I told him that Tom was ill with pneumonia. 'Then he'll never get over it,' he replied, and turned his face to the wall. There was no need to tell him anything more,

"Carnegie's vanity is nis great weakness. It has been carefully nurtured and cultivated until it has grown into the most impressive thing about him. The love of himself, the fondness for his own name, the desire to see it in 5.000 cities on 5.000 imposing facades. and to think of it as thus conspicuous throughout all succeeding ages—this is the underlying motive of the Carnegie generosity.

"And it is barely possible that Carnegie himself would so admit it. At any rate, he never made a gift without provision for such public and perpetual recognition of his benevolence."

According to Bridge, the aged millionaire is truly harassed by the responsibility attending the proper dis-position of a fortune which is increasing at the rate or over 50 cents a second, $30 a minute, $1,800 an hour, $43,200 a day, $302,400 a week and

$1,296,000 a month. "His sole motive in life," according to Bridge, "now appears to be the exaltation of his name and a postponement of the hour when death shall separate him from the millions which accumulate faster than he can distribute them.

"But he may live a good many years Although he is now nearly 70 years old-his mother used to give his birth year as 1835, not 1837, as he himself does-his regular life and careful habits have kept him young, and he

it is refreshing to note that the pro- ership of William S. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the over-worked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimiliation

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

The United States Elections.

The United States elections show that the Republicans have generally held their own, the most prominent exception being New York State, where Governor Odell's immense majority of two years ago has been nearly wiped out. This is accounted for by the vote In New York City, where Tammany bas reared its head again. A year ago is melting away under the influence of Gotham was reclaimed to civic decency by the election of Seth Low to the mayoralty, the Republicans and the better element in the Democratic party loining forces to overthrow Tammany. It now looks as if the moral reformers, thought that if the Canadian boys the friends of pure government in New York City, will have to fight their battle over again. They have merely scotched, not killed, the tiger. Coler, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is a clean man, however, and no doubt commanded the support of many anti-Tammany Democrats.

The Republicans will retain control of the House of Representatives by a majority of sixteen or twenty, as compared with the present majority of 38. Considering that 386 members were elected from 42 States, the loss is in-Bignificant, and indicates no appreciable change in public sentiment. The settlement of the coal strike and President Roosevelt's extraordinary popularity, were doubtless factors in the Republican success.

A great deal of interest centered in the Ohio campaign, where a Democratic victory would have given Tom L. Johnson, the single tax champion, the seat in the United States Senate now held by Mark Hanna, and would have made Johnson also the logical Democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1904. The returns indicate that the Republican plurality is 100,000, the heavlest in years. This will probably put Johnson out of the Presidential race.

The Congressional district in Iowa, formerly represented by Speaker Henderson, a leading Republican, who retired rather than subscribe to the you! tariff reform sentiment in his own party, has been again carried by a Republican, the majority being cut in half. The Republican nominee ran, like his opponent, on a tariff reform platform. The federal issues were not very clear-cut. The question of the trust was uppermost, but neither party offered a drastic or a definite policy. After all, the prevailing prosperity is - the trump card in the hands of the Republicans.

Another of Mr. Whitney's followers has fallen by the wayside. What an anti-climax! Immediately after the general election Mr. Whitney filled the public prints with tales of Grit corruption. He was going to spring a mine that would blow the Ross Government to atoms. He called a convention of his party and "breathed threats and slaughter" against the "machine." He promised that the election courts would unmask a hideous conspiracy against the public morals. The Government would be forced to resign, and appeal again to the country. Protests were filed against nearly half of the Liberal members-elect, charging all sorts of electoral crimes. Only three or four of the petitions will go to court. One-East Middlesex-has been tried already and we think the unbiassed reader of the evidence will say that Dr. Routledge and his friends fought a clean campaign. Mr. Whitney's threat was merely stage thunder-a brutum fulmen. His incurable vice as a public man is a habit of reckless exaggeration and defamation. When he wants to be emphatic he is abusive-too often calumnious. The late Hon. A. S. Hardy once described him as a man who was always trying to shoot flys with a cannon. He is continually making such a huge noise over trifles that the public has ceased to take him Beriously.

Politics in Municipal Affairs. The Hamilton Herald, an independent paper, claims that the abolition of I count the joys that you have brought the ward system in that city has intenmified one evil-the dominance of party politics in municipal elections. "For this unfortunate condition of things the Tory managers are primarily to blame," says the Herald.

In London political lines were sometimes tightly drawn under the ward system. In that respect it was no better than the present system. It was hoped, however, that an election by the general vote would induce a better class of men to enter the field, and that the typical ward alderman would stand no show when he appealed to the whole city. The first election by general vote was held last year, and resulted very satisfactorily. Politics did not enter into the contest. Some very good men were elected: the council was one of the best the city had had in years, and included a number of citizens who would not have been tempted to run under the ward system. Some of the good men are still in this year's council, but a few of many physical woes in its wake and at the same time, had taken the same the aldermen are no credit to the city. and we say, with the Hamilton Herald, has always been associated with the cable from London, stated that he was that "for this unfortunate condition of wasp waist, and everybody knows that never connected with the company in things the local Tory managers are it is in the category of the incompetance any shape or form.

no ticket and made no effort as a party to back aldermanic candidates who happened to be Liberals. The Conservative Club, on the other hand, drew up a slate and set the party machinery running. We are not finding fault with the club for this, but if it insists on machine politics in municipal affairs, and on deciding who shall and who shall not have its support, it at least owes it to the community to put up a representative class of men. If municipal elections are to be run on party lines, then the winning party, Liberal or Conservative, must be held responsible for the character of the City

Mr. Whitney is as mad as Mullah over the turn of events.

The Ross Government's majority went up 150 per cent in one week.

Strange to say the Doukhobor army a No. 1 hard frost.

Mr. Brodrick, the British war secretary, says that the Canadian troops sent to South Africa could not have faced a European army. It might be were fit to stand beside British regulars, they would be fit to stand in front of any army in the world.

The London Globe expresses a fear that Canada may some day consider the possibility of "setting up for herself." So she may; and if she does decide to set up for herself, the wise old mother country will not say "nay." There will be no repetition of the American revolution. Just now the trend of Canadian sentiment is strongly toward nationhood within the circle of the British Empire. That seems our fixed destiny, but no one can predict what will happen a hundred years from now.

The Free Press today publishes with a splurge heading some balderdash in the Toronto Telegram to the effect that the Dominion and Ontario Cabinets are at loggerheads over the Temiskaming Railway subsidy. Says the Telegram's correspondent: "The Dominion Government is determined to throttle public ownership at the start, and 'not a dollar' is its answer for a Federal subsidy for the Temiskaming road." In an adjoining column the Free Press denounces the Minister of Railways and Canals for suggesting public ownership of a trans-continental railway. There's consistency for

I hope some who are helping to form the company will write also on the subject, and that it will be soon a reality and in working order.

Balkans May Soon Enter on a Reign of Terror

the "Agent Provocateur."

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—A Rome cable to the Ledger says: Macedonia is in an actual state of ferment, and the situation is beyond the grasp of the authorities, who are unable to depend on the large bodies of Turkish troops which are constantly being sent from Salonica into the interior. If there is any reliance to be placed in historical parallels, the situation demands the instant intervention of the powers, or the Balkans will soon enter on a reign of terror which is likely to convulse the continent. The same signs were present when out of the Bulgar-ian atrocities grew the Russo-Turkish war, when out of the rebellion in Crete grew the Graeco-Turkish war. The ever restless radical and socialmorality of the people, but what a respect they must have for British law est in the affairs of the Balkans, and est in the affairs of the Balkans, and particularly in the situation in Albania, for there are many ties from the peninsula across the Adriatic. The spirit of sympathy for an oppressed people is quickly aroused in the Italian heart. Besides, there were Albanians who fought for Italian independence and unification. Unless the Italian Government proceeds with caution, it will soon find itself in a similar position to that of the Greek before the late war with Turkey. Consciously or unconsciously, the Russian Government has played the part of an "agent provocateur" by the Shipka Pass celebrations. Whether intended or not, all the Balkans have gathered inspiration from the thor-oughly official demonstrations made there. And what could be more natural? There was gathered with Prince Ferdinand a Russian grand duke and ten Russian generals of high rank, all bent on celebrating a Tur-kish defeat on what is nominally Tur-

The London-Toronto protest will be considered at the meeting of the Ontario Union executive tonight, which will be held in the Rossin House. The semi-final games in the junior series and the finals in the intermediates will also be arranged.

BASKETBALL.

L. C. I. GIRLS WON. The senior girls of the Collegiate Institute and the girls of the Normal School played a basketball match in the gymnasium of the Normal School Tuesday afternoon. Although basketball is a new venture both at the Normal and Collegiate, the girls of both institutions have already developed very considerable amount of skill and the game yesterday was closely tested. The score at the end of halftime was 4 to 0 in favor of the Normals, but apparently the Collegiate play better when the score is against them, for the final score was 7 to 4 in their favor. Mr. C. W. Horton, B.A., of the Collegiate, was referee. Both teams anticipate with pleasure the return match to be played shortly on the Collegiate grounds. The teams were: Normals—Misses Murray, McGarvah, Ruthven, Kenney, Lee, Nicholas and Freek (captain). Collegiates - Misses Thompson, Carson, M. Fraser, Nash, Robson, Tait and Beal (captain).

Trolleys Collide in a Fog.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 4. - A rear-end collision occurred on the Niagara Falls Park and River Electric Railway about 8 o'clock this morning, in Queen Victoria Park. A northbound car had stopped on account of its fuses being disabled, a heavy fog prevailing at the time, when the car following it crashed into it with terrific force, badly shaking up some halfdozen passengers. The motorman of the second car, Wm. Trelford, was se-verely bruised. He was pinned between Sickness steals more savings than the burglar. Slowly, coin by coin, the money that has been so hardly earned is paid out for drugs and doctors. Sickness is the worst enemy of the working man, and the common cause of the working man's sickness is disease of the stomach often involving the heart, lungs, liver, or kidneys. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Med-

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Wm. Connolly, of 535 Walnut Street, Lorain, Ohio, "It got so bad I had to lay off quite often two and three days in a week, my stomach would bloat, and I would belch up gas, and was in a awful distress at such times. I have employed and been treated by the best doctors in the city lait got no help whatever. By some way or other I happened to get hold of a vial of your 'Pellets,' and I thought they helped me. It was then I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint, and advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' in connection. These medicines I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Corruption in North Norfolk-Another Seat Abandoned by Conservatives.

Simcoe, Nov. 4.-Five charges of corrupt practices proven in five minutes was the record made by counsel for the Liberal petitioner in the North Norfolk election trial today, and for the second time within a week and in two consecutive trials the Liberals had the satisfaction of seeing the Conservative member-elect throw up the sponge and resign his seat rather than undergo the ordeal of a trial.

Justices MacMahon and Street were the rota judges assigned to try the petition of Mr. E. C. Carpenter, ex-M.P.P., against the return of Dr. F. S. Snider, the Conservative memberelect, whose majority as given by the returning officer was 23.

Messrs. W. R. Riddell, K.C., H. L. Drayton and H. G. Slaght appeared for the petitioner, and Messrs. Walter Cassels, K.C., H. Price, of Price & Carruthers, St. Thomas, and L. V. C. Livingstone, Tilsonburg, for the respondent. The petitioner and respondent were also present.

FIVE CHARGES PROVEN.

The supplementary charges having been admitted, Mr. Riddell proceeded to call evidence in support of the charges 155 to 160. Henry Ladd, Waterford testified that at the time of the election he was living at Brantford, working for the Massey-Harris Company. Edward Jarvis, of Waterford, who was also working for the same firm, asked him to go to Waterford to vote, and gave him a return ticket for that purpose. Edward Jarvis was next and not only admitted having given Ladd the ticket but stated that he gave Bert Squire, John Taylor and two other voters tickets, which he paid for out of his own money. Mr. Cassels contented himself with asking whether witness knew he was doing wrong, and received a negative reply.

THROWS UP THE SPONGE. Addressing the court, Mr. Cassels stated that as soon as the amended particulars were received the charges were investigated, and he was instructed that what the witnesses had testified to was perfectly correct in fact. There was no doubt as to that, and he was compelled to admit Jarvis was an agent of respondent. The next question was as to whether it was wise as a matter of expense to have a protracted trial for five or six days, in order to get the benefit of the saving The total vote, as he was instructed was somewhere in the neighborhood of 5,000. The number of passes given were five, which would reduce the majority to eighteen. He had adclient, whether rightly or wrongly, that it would be in the interests of all parties to allow the seat to

DISASTER ENDED THE CELEBRATION

Explosion of Fireworks in New York.

New York, Nov. 4.—By a premature explosion of fireworks in Madison Square tonight, ten persons are believed to have been killed and many seriously injured. Owing to the panic and confusion among the crowd watching the election returns, it was impossible to make an accurate estimate of the fatalities. The explosion took place among the fireworks that were to be set off to celebrate the announcement of the election returns.

When the first panie had subsided 16 persons were found unconscious on the ground. Some of these, however, quickly recovered. Others had been horribly mutilated. It is reported that four boys who were watching the fireworks on Madison avenue were killed. Five hundred extra policemen were ordered on duty, and the work of caring for the dying and more seriously injured was carried on with all possible speed. The list of the dead includes Policeman Dennis Shea, Wm. G. Finney, Geo. Ritz, Harold Robley. Five unknown Unknown colored man. Unknown colored boy. Twenty-one persons were seriously injured, some of whom are likely to die.

A few more such nights, however, will either kill them or cure them of their craze. The keen northeastern wind cut to the bone. They had said that God would not allow winter to come upon

Their fare consists of dry oatmeal with a pinch of salt, with prairie rosebuds for desert, and water to give a sense of fullness. The pilgrims' condition, lying unprotected on the snowy waste, posed to all the inclemency of a No-vember storm in Manitoba, would move the pity of the most hard-hearted. The main body, some 450 strong, are huddled in a willow scrub at the bottom of Stony Creek, one and ahalf miles west of here.

Scores of the pilgrims have fallen on the plains, and despite the exof Leader Zibroff, many horting were talking of turning back to their homes Zibroff has told them there will be no winter and that the present fine weather is but a continuation of the summer that will last until their search for the Messiah is rewarded.

Following in the wake of this strange army of pilgrims are scores of sane Doukhobors, who night and day plead with the misguided ones to return before sickness and death

THE COMMONER LOVES A PRINCESS

Ten Persons Killed by the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's Son Austin Enamored of the King's Daughter.

> London, Nov. 5. - The clubs are discussing a story to the effect that Austin Chamberlain, the newly-appointed postmaster-general, is in love with Princess Victoria, King Edward's second daughter. The princess, it is said, returns the affection and the engagement of the two is possible.

The difference in the social position of Chamberlain and the princess is probably insurmountable, but it is pointed out that the King's well-known democratic ideas might lead him to obviate this difficulty, although these ideas have never been extended to family matters.

The Princess Victoria is the only unmarried child of the King. She was born at Marlborough House on July 6, Killed Her Own Son.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 4.-Mrs. W. S. McLean, of Covington, Va., shot and killed her 13-year-old son last night. The mother thought she heard burglars, and, becoming frightened, fired through a window and shot his head off. She did not know what had hap. pened until she stumbled over his lifeless body on going to look for him two hours later.

Montreal's Police Scandal.

Montreal, Nov. 5. - There are more developments in connection with the Montreal police department scandals. Capt. Millette, of No. 1 station, has made a report to the commissioner regarding the disposition of wines and liquors seized in houses of evil repute.
Chief of Police Legault recently denied that any had been sent to his house. In his report, Capt. Millette gives dates and quantities of the seizure, and says that the articles were sent to the chief's house.

THE SOLE OF COMFORT

VOUR foot sole is curved and soft.

Your shoe sole is flat and hard.

Walking with such a foot sole on such a shoe sole, is like sleeping on a plank, instead of on a mattress.

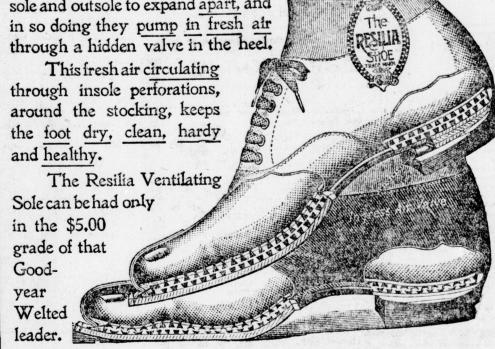

Cut open an old shoe at its most comfortable stage, and you will find its insole shaped by wear, to ball and heel, great toe, and outer edge.

You will also find it burnt up and eaten, through accumulated sweat, which must have gnawed the foot, when it so ate the leather.

The Resilia Sole, is placed between insole and outsole, instead of the usual scrap leather filling. It is an elastic spring centresole, which collapses and shapes up round foot-curves like an old shoe, the first moment it is borne upon. The foot sinking into the sole, at the very time the ball of the foot spreads, makes the shoe a size larger inside, when the foot needs most room. The foot lifting, permits the insole and outsole to expand apart, and Queen Bess regarded her wonderingly.

It was very seldom that Alice expressed so much. She was a remarkably self-contained young lady, and it was not often that she betrayed the deeper sentiments of her nature, even to Queen Bess, who had always been almost her other self.

proposed that they should go back to the hotel, and, turning, they retraced their steps in awkward and almost un-broken silence.

All day long Alice Sherman dreamed of that tall, symmetrical figure, of that frank, genial, handsome face, with its grave yet sweet brown eyes, in which there seemed to lurk a touch of wistful sadness, which had gone directly to her heart; of that broad, white forehead, gleaming out between masses of rich, curling chestnut hair; of a straight perfect nose, and a mouth whose expression was one of mingled strength and gentle-

It was a face that had haunted her ever since that first meeting on Broad-way, when Kenneth Keith had come to aid, and demanded her money from flower vendor, but afterward, when had believed him to be dishonest, a aid, and demanded her money feeling of contempt had taken possession of her, and yet this had been mingled with keen pain that one who had seemed to be so true and noble should be so unworthy, and she had tried to forget him. But today, upon learning how unjust her suspicions had been a violent reaction had taken place, and a feeling of deep sympathy and admiration, If not something of even a stronger nature, had crowded all other thoughts from her heart.

heart. She had realized, too, that Queen Bess had been similarly impressed, and for the first time in her life, a feeting of bitter jealousy and resentment against her became rooted in her mind and impelled her to avoid her companionship.

Bess instinctively felt that something was wrong with her lifelong friend, and so, after dinner, when Alice ran upstairs and shut herself within her own room, she donned her hat and strolled off again toward the beach, and gave herself up to musing on the meeting of the morning. She found a cozy nook among the rocks, and spreading her shawl down to protect her dress, she seated herself upon it, took off her hat, and leaning back beneath the cool shelter of the crags above her, she gazed dreamily out upon the water and counted the white-winged vessels in the distance as the shiftmered across her vision, while all the time her mind and heart were full of the handsome face that she had seen in the morning, and of a name which to her were full. and of a name which, to her, was fast becoming the most euphonious in the

BASEBALL.

PROPOSED NEW LEAGUE. Toronto, Nov. 4. - At a meeting of the directors of the Toronto Baseball Club, held last night, to wind up the affairs of the 1902 season, Retiring President Ed Mack propounded a scheme for a Canadian professional league, to be composed of two circuits, embracing four cities east of Toronto, and four cities west of this place including London, all the players to be Canadian, who have resided in Canada for a year at least previous to the opening of the season.

Mr. Mack stated that it was the intention to apply for admission to the National Association of Minor Leagues, so as to get protection for the players, and to have games every day in the week to keep the players out of mis-chief. Mr. Mack proposed that the Toronto Club waive the right to the territory, and allow the new league to put a team in here when the Eastern Leaguers were away from home. This proposal was opposed by Directors Applegath, Soole and Alexander, who will likely be most concerned in the management of the Toronto Club for the next year. They said it would have a tendency to kill the game in Toronto. They were unanimous in their decision not to allow any club but the Eastern League in their territory, and that settled that part of the proposition for good and all. Outside of this phrase of the question Mr. Mack's confreres gave the scheme an unqualified approval. They thought it would be a splendid thing for the development of the baseball talent that is lying loose around this country. Mr. Mack may go on with the project, leaving a Toronto team out of the question entirely, and an organization meeting in the near fu-TORONTO'S LIST.

TORONTO TEAMS. Toronto, Nov. 4.—There will be at least two strong senior hockey teams in Toronto this winter. "Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially. I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a sore, pain, ulcer or any other symptom of the blood disease."

TRUSTEE MacROBERT WILL MAKE ANOTHER ATTEMPT

Public School Pupils Learn Domestic Science.

The board of education met last night and held a very brief session. The question of allowing public school pupils to be taught domestic science at the collegiate institute was again brought up, but only as a notice of motion made by Trustee MacRobert. His motion will be that the senior form girls of the public schools engaged in the study of entrance work be allowed to attend the domestic science school at the collegiate when the schools open after the Christmas holidays, the cost to be defrayed from the public school fund, and to be adjusted by Nos. 1 and 2 committees and son, the latter to make arrangements for classes. A notice of motion was made by him at the last meeting along order by the chairman. Inspector Carson said at the meeting last night that the attempt to introduce vertical writing into the public schools had been a failure and he thought the board should introduce some other system, and that the slant system as practiced in England would be the most practical. Mr. Carson will make a full report upon this matter. Inspector Radcliffe's report for Oc-tober showed that there were 545 en-

This is an increase of 25 over the month of 1901 and 87 over 1900. Engineer Graydon Reports on Hospital Changes.

Other Business Transacted by the Trust at Their Meeting.

The hospital trust met yesterday afternoon, all the members being present, and Chairman McCormick occupying the chair. The business done was not of striking importance. The board did not take up the petition of the physicians of the Medical School, who seek to obtain a longer term at the City Engineer Graydon submitted his report on the recent alterations at the hospital. The completion of the top story of the private wards building, he said, provides nine additional he said, purovides nine additional, bright, cheerful and well-ventilated ooms for private and semi-private patients. The four serving-rooms, one in each of the private wards, which were unsuited for their purpose, have been converted into storage rooms and fit ed up with lockers for storing the clothes of the patients. Previous to this the clothes had to be put up in bundles and stored in the attic or the basement. New and large sewing rooms are now provided, giving the accommodation which was so greatly lacking. The dispensary has been re moved to the ground floor, and the former room converted into a nurses dining-room. A diet kitchen with sink, cupboard, etc., had been fitted up in the top flat. A linen and sewing room has been fitted up in the west end of the main corridor on first floor. The public and private operating rooms have been painted with enamel paint. The sterilizing room has been energed and fitted up in a modern way. The dispensary is now located in the old operating room and fitted up with new shelving. The pump supplying the water from the well sunk by the board has been increased to over double its former capacity, and now provides water for the entire building, with a large surplus to fall back on. The boiler chimney has been raised 25 feet, the result of a much better draught, and the smoke and dirt nuisance is thereby very greatly, if not entirely, abated. In making these changes—all of which were absolutely necessary-the engineer said he had been greatly assisted by the lady superinendent, Miss Mayou. His report concludes: "The trust are to be congratuated on the energetic manner they went to work to make Victoria Hospital into a modern and up-to-date institution, complete in every respect they have it. The only thing lacking to make the hospital equal to any in Canada is a nurses' home, which is urgently required, and it is to be hoped the city council will make provision next year for the immediate building of one." The report was received and filed. For the nine new rooms provided, 21 beds will be required. Of these 7 have already been provided for by private generosity. St. Andrew's So-clety has agreed to furnish two more rooms, the Irish Benevolent Society one ward, which means four new beds, the Memorial Church one room. Supt. Heard was ordered to purchase 18 new hospital beds at $8 each. The board will be pleased to hear of any citizens or societies who desire to Supt. Heard's report for the previous fortnight showed that the number of patients admitted was 52 males, females and 24 children, a total of 108. The number discharged was 49 males, 33 females, 29 children, a total of 111. The number of patients cured was 104, deaths 7, births 3, operations 41. The number of patients now in hospital under treatment was given as 92. The sum of $1,201 35 had been received from paying patients during the month. Cairneross & Lawrence's tender for the supplying of drugs for the coming year was accepted.

"Sergeant James," presented at the

The action moves briskly for the most part, the situations are not too improbable, and altogether it is the best specimen of bet-Carl Haswin's "A Lion's Heart." Several spots will bear cutting out, such its wealth of magnificent and historias the "scrap" scene in the last act beween two of the leading female characters. Only one or two of the com-pany proved to be letter perfect in their parts, and some added careful rehearsing is needed to make the piece run smoothly. While the performance as a whole is satisfactory the players, and especially the male members, give the impression of being just a little below the average of ability required for their parts. The minor roles were handled in a more finished manner than the principal roles. Doubtless much of this is due to the fact that the play has been out only a few weeks, and many of the defects now noticeable will be eliminated in future
