Welcome Peace.

The British Press Sees It in Salisbury's Statement

In Regard to Arbitrating the Venezuelan Question.

Prospects That Uncle Sam Will Have to Settle Spain's Claims.

A Scrimmage in Belfast—Another Political Prisoner Released—Oil Combine in Germany.

ANOTHER RELEASE.

London, Aug. 18.—Thomas Devaney, the Irish political prisoner, was released from Portland prison yesterday.

LORD DUFFERIN'S SUCCESSOR.

London, Aug. 18.—Sir Edmund Monson, British ambassador to Austria, has been appointed to succeed Lord Dufferin as ambassador to France. Sir Horace Rumbold, at present British Minister to Holland, will succeed Sir Edward Monson.

A GERMAN OIL COMBINE.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—As the result of a combine of the various oil companies with the Standard Oil Company, it is announced that it is possible that the Government will take steps to facilitate the importation of Galician oil. It is also rumored that an attempt will be made to impose an almost prohibitive duty on American oil.

THE SOUDAN EXPEDITION.

London, Aug. 18.—The Chronicle says the British Government has decided not to stop at Khartoum, but to advance eventually with the Egyptian forces of Lado or Wadelai, the object being to effect a junction with troops from Uganda, thus being in a position to dominate the valley of the Nile.

A GERMAN CRISIS.

London, Aug. 18.—The dismissal of Gen. Bronsart von Schellendorf, German Minister of War, it is believed, indicates a crisis in the internal policy of the empire. Other removals, it is hinted, will follow, and the prospect of quiet political development is anything but reassuring. The removals are attributed to the influence of Aide-de-Camp Gen. Hanke over the Emperor.

HARVESTING.

London, Aug. 18.—Rapid progress has been made with the harvest during the past week, the bulk of the product having been already secured. The quality is reported as excellent. The market for wheat ruled dull and inactive, but was occasionally easier. There was not much change in prices, buyers being very reserved and bids being scarce. The quantity of wheat offered was only moderate.

DUE TO THE DOGS.

London, Aug. 18.—Dr. Nansen left Vardoe, Norway, yesterday morning on his way to Christiana. It now develops that the meeting between Dr. Nansen and Jackson, the English explorer, was the result of the barking of the dogs. The Norwegian and his companion were exploring one day, when they heard barking, and, following the sounds, to their amazement they reached Jackson's camp. Vardoe has been en fete and decorated in honor of the return of Dr. Nansen.

THOSE SPANISH CLAIMS.

London, Aug. 18.—The evening newspapers comment at length on Spain's bill for damages against the United States, as a result of the fitting out in American ports of filibustering expeditions, destined for Cuba, and to the decision arrived at in the case of the Alabama.

The Globe says: "The United States' acceptance of the Geneva award makes it absolutely impossible for them to repudiate their liability under the present circumstances with any show of reason or justice."

GRAND TRUNK'S POSITION IMPROVING.

London, Aug. 18.—The friends of the Grand Trunk Railway do not share the pessimistic talk which the half-yearly traffic statement has produced. On behalf of the Grand Trunk, it is noted, its position is improving, and the deficiency of the combined system on meeting fixed charges for the past half year was £88,000, being £13,000 better than the first half of 1895. The danger of a renewed rate war is regarded as a bad feature.

THE CRETAN SITUATION.

London, Aug. 18.—Advices from Canea say that the Russian and French commanders there have received identical instructions to protect all Cretan Christians.

News received at Constantinople from Crete says that more serious fighting has taken place in the Apocorona district, at Tenedeh and elsewhere.

An Athens dispatch says: The Christian insurgents in Crete have defeated the Turkish troops in the Maleviso district, killing 30 of them. The insurgents captured 50 mules, loaded with ammunition, which will greatly aid them in their attempt to overthrow the Turkish Government in the island. The victory is described as a brilliant one in the advices received here.

TROUBLE IN BELFAST.

Belfast, Aug. 18.—Serious rioting occurred here yesterday morning in connection with the Nationalistic manifestations in favor of granting amnesty to the Irish political prisoners. There were several processions of Nationalists through the streets as a beginning, and they finally were merged into a large procession, headed by bandsmen, armed with spears.

The procession soon attracted immense crowds of people, and stone-throwing commenced. This served to enrage the Nationalists, and their bandsmen attacked the crowds with their spears, wounding many people. The police charged the rioters, and used their batons freely, with the result that several persons were hurt before order was restored.

The rioting caused the greatest excitement throughout the city and further disturbances were feared in the evening if the demonstrators should carry out their threat of returning in very much greater strength and marching in procession throughout the main streets of Belfast. The police, however, took steps to make a display of force calculated to prevent any further serious rioting, but rain fell heavily, and this had the effect of causing the mob to disperse.

PEACEFUL OUTLOOK.

The British Press Sees It in Lord Salisbury's Speech.

London, Aug. 18.—The statement concerning arbitration made by the Marquis of Salisbury when he was installed as lord warden of the Cinque ports, is attracting widespread attention here.

The Times, Daily News and Daily Chronicle, in editorial articles, this morning, comment upon the importance of the Premier's statements of Saturday, and the Pall Mall Gazette concludes a column leading article on the same subject this afternoon with the following remark: "Mr. Balfour's and the Marquis of Salisbury's arbitration statements have caused unfeigned satisfaction to thousands of members of our common, Anglo-Saxon stock on both sides of the Atlantic."

The remarks of Mr. Balfour, alluded to by the Pall Mall Gazette, were made on Friday last at the closing of Parliament. He said the Government was still considering the latest proposals of Secretary Olney, which, he added, are regarded as opening the way for an equitable and early settlement of the dispute. The statement was received with tremendous cheers.

The St. James Gazette says that the country will receive the arbitration news with the greatest satisfaction, but further on, the same paper remarks that it refuses to believe that the Marquis of Salisbury will "be so feeble as to yield to Secretary Olney's demand for the inclusion of the settled districts of Venezuela in the arbitration scheme."

The Globe, while completely indorsing the arbitration movement, remarks: "The new arrangement, whatever its details, should certainly define in the most exact terms the cases which lie within and without the Monroe doctrine."

The Bradford Observer states that it has been arranged that the settled districts question is to be solved in the following manner: If they are held to belong to Venezuela, the British settlers are to be entitled to withdraw, and will be compensated for whatever losses they may sustain by such withdrawal."

Angus Was Fined.

The Sarnia Flyer Admits Having Lost His Temper.

Claimes He Was Fouled and Took Revenge on the First Man He Met.

Angus McLeod, the Sarnia bicyclist, lost his temper as well as his race during the meet yesterday afternoon, and last night his loss was supplemented by a fine of $5 and costs. Duncan Metcalf, of this city, formerly of Toronto, laid an information with Squire Lacey after the races, charging McLeod with assault. A warrant was issued for him, and Detectives Ward and Northgreaves arrested him at the Grigg House about 8 o'clock. He was taken before Magistrate Lacey. Angus said he was sorry he had lost his control of temper, and apologized for his conduct. He accused C. Elliott of trying to foul him in every track where the two had met for the past month. Angus said he lost his self-control in the finish of the race, and when he had dismounted, Metcalf, Elliott's friend, was the first man he saw, and he struck him. He pleaded guilty, and the magistrate imposed a fine of $5 and costs.

The magistrate made the remark that he hoped Mr. McLeod would not miss the fine out of his day's winnings.

"No," replied McLeod, "I'm just shy one-tenth."

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course, by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators, and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. A Terre Haute young woman prevented her sister's elopement by entering a charge of profanity against her lover.

Mrs. Seleste Coon, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For years I could not eat many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Parmelee's Pills according to directions under the head of 'Dyspepsia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose without distressing me in the least." These pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required.

The New Parliament's Formal Opening Tomorrow.

Charlie Mackintosh's Extravagance Causes a Deficit.

Probabilities as to the Result of the Conservative Caucus.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The formal opening of Parliament by the Governor-General will be on Thursday. The House of Commons meets tomorrow afternoon to elect a Speaker.

Among the last members who arrived here last night were Messrs. Erb, South Perth, and Ratz, North Middlesex.

The debate on the address will begin on Friday at 3 o'clock.

The election of Mr. Edgar as Speaker of the House of Commons will probably be unanimous. Senator Pelletier is already Speaker of the Senate, his appointment coming from the Crown.

In the House of Commons the address in the reply to the speech from the throne will be moved by Mr. Benjamin Russell, Q.C., member for Halifax, and seconded by Mr. R. Lemieux, member for Gaspe. Both are excellent speakers, and the occasion promises to be more than usually interesting. After them the leader of the Opposition, if one is found by that time, will indulge in a criticism and the Premier will reply. A common custom is then to allow the address to be passed without further debate or division, but in this case it has yet to be seen how the Conservatives act in Opposition.

The corporation will present an address of welcome to the Premier on the occasion of his taking up his permanent abode in Ottawa.

CHARLIE MACKINTOSH'S EXTRAVAGANCE.

Mr. J. H. Ross, member of the Executive of the Northwest Assembly (and a former Londoner), had an interview with Messrs. Laurier, Scott and Fielding, in regard to Northwest affairs. The outstanding debt of the Northwest Exhibition is one of the matters which must be disposed of. An item was put in the estimates by the late Government to partly cover this indebtedness, but it was not passed. The financial part of the exhibition was under the control of Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh. It will take about $14,000 to pay the debts, for which there were no funds. Although the Dominion Government is not obliged to meet these debts, having only agreed to give a grant to the exhibition, which has already been paid, it is likely that the Laurier Government also will place a sum in the estimates to cover the amount required, as most of the accounts are due to workingmen.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

The Conservatives are making a big effort to defeat not only Mr. Paterson, but Mr. Blair, as well. Mr. Geo. E. Foster is making the fight of his life against the Minister of Railways and Canals. He is the manager of the campaign, and trustee of the large funds that have been provided to defeat Mr. Blair. The latter may be trusted to give a good account of himself in Queen's and Sunbury. The other evening he gave Mr. Foster a great dressing-down in Fredericton.

Mr. Hugh John Macdonald is to be put to work in Ontario for the first time in North Grey. He will arrive in Ottawa this evening, and be sworn in as a member of the House tomorrow, and leaves immediately afterwards for Owen Sound.

THE CONSERVATIVE CAUCUS.

Mr. Marter, M.P.P., arrived this evening to attend the convention of Foresters, and also, it is surmised, to lend his counsel in the election of a leader for the Conservative party. Sir Charles Tupper outlined his course as leader of the Opposition a month ago, but he afterwards was made to realize that his leadership was seriously questioned, and that if he got it he would have to fight for it in caucus. The caucus will, therefore, be held here, in the railway committee room of the House of Commons tomorrow morning. Mr. Marter is an anti-Tupper man, and there are many others, but Sir Charles has the "machine" behind him, and will probably win. The other names to be submitted to caucus are Mr. Wallace, Mr. Foster, Sir Adolphe Caron, Dr. Montague, and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald. Hon. John Costigan, who is an anti-Tupper man, will have nothing to do with any of them, and, instead of leaving for Ireland, as he purposed, on Monday next, left yesterday. He will attend the Irish political convention as a Canadian delegate.

In an editorial on the leadership of the party, the Citizen (Conservative) says this morning: "As for Mr. Wallace being the leader of the Conservative party in Parliament, that is a matter for the Conservative members to decide in caucus on Wednesday next. The question is not likely to give much trouble. Mr. Wallace has intelligence, and a good deal of force of character; but few, we should think, would seriously consider him to have any qualifications for a party leader. In fact, Mr. Wallace can scarcely imagine himself intended for such a position."

BASEBALL.

LONDON WHITEWASHES GUELPH

Tecumseh Park saw the largest crowd at a morning game yesterday since the Canadian League has been in existence. The weather was all that could be desired for the spectators, but it was the coldest day that "Georgie" Bradford had experienced for many a long summer; in fact, it was a veritable "blue Monday." The Maple Leafs reached the city on Sunday from Hamilton, where they were defeated on Saturday. They were a little late in arriving at the ball grounds, but filled up with confidence that they could take another game from the Alerts. The "Village Blacksmith," as Bradford has been dubbed, who has won so many games for Guelph in years gone by, was put in the box for one inning, when the home team made enough runs to win the game. If Captain Roberts had the famous Ruste to put in the box it would have availed nothing, as not one of the men from the Royal City could make connection with the round object known as a baseball. Gallagher pitched after the first inning, but the Alerts dropped on to him also. Fisher was in fine form. It was not until the fourth inning, when Roberts hit a liner near first base which Delaney could not handle in time, that one of the Leafs reached the initial bag, but Roberts did not reach second in this inning. After Sullivan struck out, Cockman hit to Delaney, who cut off the captain and catcher at second. In the eighth Dark got as far as first on Wood's error of a thrown ball by Strowger. In the ninth Roberts kept up his record of being hit by a pitched ball, and got as far as second on Sullivan's sacrifice.

Sippi was out of the game for the first time this season. He is suffering from a spiked foot received in the game last Friday at Guelph, but the manager must have been overjoyed to see Delaney fill his position at second. He took in everything that came his way, having seven assists and two put outs. The error credited to him is one of the most excusable kind. His hitting also was a large factor in run-making.

In the first inning Strowger hit safely, stole second and third, and scored on a three-bagger by Delaney. Hynd was given his base on balls and stole second. Roberts tried to throw him out, and Delaney scored. Snyder was given his base. Hynd stole third, Wood sacrificed, Hynd scored on Humphrey's hit to left; Mertsch hit to center and Snyder crossed the plate. Mertsch stole second and third, but was left there. Four runs.

Second inning—Fisher went out, Sullivan to Lauer; Strowger hit to center, and took third on Delaney's two-bagger to Congalton; Hynd flew to right, Strowger scoring on the hit. Dark tried to cut Delaney off at third, but threw wild and Delaney scored. Snyder out. Two runs.

Third inning—Mertsch was hit and stole second. Rathburn and Fisher were presented with bases on balls. Strowger popped an easy fly which Gallagher could not hold, and allowed Mertsch to tally. Rathburn tried to come in from second, but was nipped at the plate.

Fourth inning—Delaney hit to McIlroy, who threw wild to first, allowing the ex-Guelph to take second. Delaney scored on sacrifices by Hynd and Snyder.

Fifth inning—Humphrey struck out; Mertsch got four bad balls; Rathburn was hit; Fisher hit safely to right, scoring Mertsch. Rathburn scored on Cockman's bad throw to the plate. Two runs.

Sixth inning—Snyder started the fireworks again, hitting to Congalton, who managed to let the ball get away from him, and hits by Wood, Humphrey, Mertsch, and Rathburn's sacrifice netted four more runs. The score:

NOTES.

If the score card did not have Maple Leafs on it, the crowd would have thought the Brantfords were here.

Delaney is good enough for London.

That Strowger-Delaney catch in the sixth was of the grand stand variety.

Yesterday's game puts London in the lead.

What's the matter with Fisher? 0 Runs, 0 Hits, 9 Errors.

Is Dr. Wood on bad terms with the Maple Leafs. Only a few of them went down to see him at first.

Only three Guelphs went to bat in each of six innings.

Cheer up, Georgie, it may all be for the best.

The crowd hooted for Carney to go in the box, but Roberts said n-t-t.

THE CANADIAN LEAGUE.

Yesterday's game places London at the head of the league just as the league goes up the flue. The Alerts would have preferred to win the pennant by finishing the season, but that seems to be an impossibility, now that Galt has dropped out. The Guelph directors may decide tomorrow to agree to London's request for a series of games between the Leafs and Alerts, in which event an interesting finish may be expected, but it looks as if Hamilton will have to drop out, anyway. The league's collapse is a pity, now that the race was becoming so interesting, and the Alerts are on top.

THE GUELPHS IN LONDON.

Guelph Herald: "The Leafs were taken to London on Saturday night, in order to be in good shape for the game on Monday morning. The manager ought to have taken warning from past experience—it is said that the Leafs did not go to church yesterday at London. Their devotions appear to have been paid at another shrine. The Alerts put up a magnificent game. Delaney covered second splendidly, while Humphreys was in the field. Gallagher got a miserable support. Mr. Fisher has got his revenge."

A CATCHER'S BAD LUCK.

Hamilton, Aug. 18.—An accident occurred in a very simple way in the ball game at John Eustice's grounds on Saturday afternoon. Copp Bros.' team was at bat, and Catcher John Sibbald, of the Canadian Screw Works' team, threw down to first base to try to cut off a man. In doing so his right arm broke above the elbow. Fortunately Dr. Aikins was wheeling past at the time. He set the bone, and Mr. Eustice sent Mr. Sibbald to his home, corner of Cannon and Tisdale streets, in a conveyance, as comfortable as possible. There Dr. Aikins again attended him, and he is now doing as well as can be expected, being able to go around with his arm in a sling.

It is many a year since a serious accident occurred on the ball field in Hamilton, and the simplicity of Saturday's accident makes it remarkable.

CRANE'S GREAT THROW.

Sam Crane writes in the New York Commercial Advertiser: "I was a witness of Ed. Crane's great throw in Cincinnati in 1884, and measured it, and can vouch that it was 405 feet, but it was never allowed as a record, as no affidavits were taken by the proper officials. The throw was made before a game between the Cincinnatis and Boston Unions. Crane was then a catcher of the latter team. He made the throw with a stiff wind in his favor, but he covered the distance without a doubt."

ATHLETICS

TO FIGHT FOR $5,000.

Tom Duggan, who went to Johannesburg, South Africa, has been matched to meet Bill Doherty for a purse of $5,000. The mill is to be decided in September and will be to a finish.

Jake Kilrain has signed articles of agreement to box Frank P. Slavin, of Australia, a limited number of rounds on Sept. 7 for a side bet of $500 and a purse offered by the Eureka Club, of Baltimore.

THE WHEEL.

The Chatham Cycle Club meet will be held Thursday next. The classes will be as follows: Amateur—Mile novice, half-mile open, two-mile handicap, two-mile lap, two-mile local, mile club riders. Professional — Quarter-mile heats, two-mile handicap, half-mile open, 25-mile Dominion championship.

SARNIA RACES.

There is every indication that the tournament at Sarnia tomorrow will be a success. The programme, already published in these columns, is an attractive one; the track is in prime condition, entries numerous, and the arrangements as nearly perfect as possible.

THE TURF.

DETROIT RACES.

Detroit, Aug. 18.—The layers of odds were hit hard yesterday, three favorites, and two second choices winning. Summaries:

TIPS.

A San Francisco telegram says it is reported in the east that Lucky Baldwin may retire from the turf as a result of the bad luck his string had early in the season. It is settled, however, that he will not abandon the breeding of horses.

There is a Balloon Jib, a Flying Jib, and an Electric Jib. The last named is a trotter, the others pacers.

Page, 2:09 3-4, pulls a 29-pound aluminum sulky. His driver, Ike Fleming, believes the weight tells.

The dam of Page, 2:09 3-4, was sold at one of Berry's auctions in 1895-96 for $15. A full brother to Page, named Will H. Wood, brought but $35 at the same sale.

AQUATIC.

IN TRAINING.

London, Aug. 18.—Harding has commenced to train Gaudaur for his great race with Stansbury. Gaudaur tried the new shell built for him at Putney by Clasper. It weighs 27 1-2 pounds, and the Canadian finds it satisfactory. He is now about down to weight, and is in excellent health. Stansbury is also in prime condition, and his friends speak most confidently of his success.

CRICKET.

THE TEAM FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The selection of the team which is to represent Canada in the international cricket match with Philadelphia on Sept. 4 and 5, at Philadelphia, was made last night by the executive committee of the Canadian Cricket Association as follows: W. H. Cooper, Trinity College, Toronto; A. Gillespie, Hamilton; P. C. Goldingham, Toronto; W. A. Henry, Halifax (captain); J. Horsted, Chatham; J. M. Laing, Toronto; F. Martin, Hamilton; J. A. McIntosh, Halifax; H. B. McGiverin, Hamilton; G. S. Lyons, Rosedale; M. A. Walker, London.

BEATEN AT HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 18.—The touring Homestead cricket club, of Pittsburg, Pa., played the Hamilton eleven yesterday. The home team made 287 in their first inning, and the visitors 60 in their first and 94 in their second for six wickets.

TRIGGER.

AT THE COVE.

City picnic day saw members of Capt. Dawson's and Capt. Graves' companies putting in their ball practice at the Cove Range and preparing for the struggle to decide the possession of the Tracy cup for 1897, now in the hands of Capt. Graves. There were about 30 non-coms. and men present at the range. In the afternoon another handicap sweepstakes was fired, and a young shot took the honors. The scores were:

Capt. Dawson, 92, and 7 handicap ..99
Wm. Robson 98
Col.-Sergt. Jacobs, 89, and 5 handicap.94
Capt. Watt, 88, and 5 handicap 93
Major Hayes 90
Col.-Sergt. Hayman, 84, and 4 handicap 88

Do You Use It?

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use

Victims of Sunstroke.

651 Fatalities From Heat in New York Last Week.

Total Deaths From All Causes in th Seven Days, 1,591.

New York, Aug. 18.—Last week's mortality record for this city was the largest in the history of the bureau of vital statistics. There were 1,810 deaths, nearly 200 more thany any other week's record since the health board began taking statistics. The deaths from heat prostrations alone numbered 651, nearly thrice the number from that cause recorded for any single week in the history of the city. This number, however, includes many deaths of which the heat was not the primary cause, and which have been printed as "sudden deaths, cause not specified." The hot spells of 1872 and 1892 were completly eclipsed in regard to the number of deaths by the recent hot spell. The present really hot spell was preceded by five hot days on which the temperature was recorded at 90 degrees and upward.

During the hot week in 1872, out of 1,591 deaths, 733 were infants under 1 year, of whom 495 died of diarrheal diseases. In the hot spell of 1892 the deaths of infants under 1 year numbered 563 for the week, out of a total of 1,615, and 273 of these were from diarrheal diseases.

During the last hot spell there were ten days in succession on which the temperature reached 90 degrees or more. The mortality and the number of sunstrokes were highest on the tenth day of this high temperature. Out of the total of 1,810 deaths in the last week 391 were infants under 1 year, 137 of these having died from diarrheal diseases. The temperatures recorded by the health board were taken from the thermometer at the city observatory in Central Park.

Of the deaths recorded during the week last past 651 were caused by sunstrokes and 72 by violence, that term including suicides, homicides, and all deaths resulting from accidents.

The death rate was 48.65, which is more than double the average death rate and the highest yet recorded. The death rate, not counting the sunstrokes, was 30.99, which is an unusually high average. Of the number of deaths recorded 552 were children under 5 years and 226 were 65 years and over. The death rate was highest in the institutions, penal and charitable, and tenements, and in each case double the record of the preceding week. In the institutions there were 426 deaths, as against 216 during the preceding week, and in the tenements there were 1,134 deaths, as against 502 during the preceding week.

CURE FOR DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, Aug. 17.—An unlooked-for and remarkable recovery from an advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely-known veteran stage proprietor, whose life, for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease, she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. And claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

AERONAUT KILLED.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18. — Guy Borsen, an aeronaut, was killed while descending in a parachute at Oak Cliff, a suburb of this city, Monday afternoon. When within forty feet of the earth and falling gracefully, his big umbrella struck an electric wire pole, throwing the man into a small elm tree near by. His head caught in a fork only ten feet from the ground, dislocating his neck and causing instant death.

Several Men and Horses Killed in Sunday's Storm.

Wabaushene Suffers to the Extent of Over $50,000—Terrific Storm in Lambton.

Seaforth, Aug. 18.—During a thunderstorm here on Sunday afternoon, John Waugh, retired farmer, was instantly killed by lightning, while standing in the flax mill office.

Lyn, Ont., Aug. 18.—On Sunday morning a stroke of lightning struck a stay wire running from a telegraph pole to the stables of the Lyn flour mills, belonging to James Cummins. The lightning passed through the building, killing two horses.

Niles, Mich., Aug. 18.—Wm. Metcalf and his horse were killed by lightning just across the Indiana State line on Sunday night.

Waubaushene, Ont., Aug. 18.—During a terrific hail storm on Sunday, the Georgian Bay Lumber Company's mill, store and storehouse at Port Severn were struck by lightning and completely destroyed. Had it not been for the heavy rain the whole village would have been swept out. As it is, over 75 families will suffer by this loss. The total loss is placed at $50,000; partly insured.

Forest, Ont., Aug. 18.—The most destructive storm that ever occurred in this section was that of Saturday night. Rain fell in torrents, and the electrical display was terrific. Several barns near Forest were struck and burned with all their contents. Gillis McPherson, Warwick township, lost two barns and all his crop. Loss about $2,000, with only $500 insurance. Murdock MacDonald, Bosanquet, two barns and stable, with crops and implements burned; insured for $2,000, which nearly covers loss. James MacFarlane, barn and hay crop burned; loss, $500; no insurance. Alvin Lougheed, Bosanquet, barn, crop and implements burned; loss, about $1,400; insured for $650. Mr. Lougheed had a stallion worth $300 in his barn, and the animal was burned.

Selma, Mich., Aug. 18.—Advices just received here from Augustine, Perry county, say a terrific cyclone visited that place last Thursday. Everything in its path was leveled and twelve negroes and thee whites killed. Scores of animals were crushed in falling barns. The heaviest rain in fifteen years followed the cyclone, converting streams into raging torrents, which swept away cotton and corn crops.

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 18.—About 11 a.m. Sunday, during a heavy thunderstorm, three little girls were crossing Napanee River, about four miles up, in a boat, on their way to Sunday school, when lightning struck and killed two of them and rendered the other unconscious for a time. Their ages were about 10 and 12 years. One was named Lindsay and the other Ellis.

HELD UP!

Chicago and Grand Trunk Train Boarded by Masked Robbers.

Charlotte, Mich., Aug. 18.—A special stock train which went east on the Grand Trunk at 12:30 Saturday night, was boarded at Bellevue by four men, all masked and heavily armed, who at the point of their guns compelled the two men in charge of the stock to empty their pockets of all their money and a number of other articles of small value. The robbers escaped.

Later the miscreants were caught by a sheriff's posse and lodged in jail here. They gave their names as Jas. O'Donnell, Frank Wright, Ed. Marlow and Frank Eddison, and ages from 18 to 22 years.

What They Do in Germany.

Dutch peasants are proverbially stolid and slow, but they are quick enough to grasp new ideas for increasing their comfort. For years they have used wooden sabots for footwear on account of their lightness and warmth; and now they have stockings made of a yarn which is spun out of pure wood fibre; and their coats and vests are interlined with Fibre Chamois, which is nothing more or less than a wooden cloth, made as it is entirely from Spruce Fibre. These same stolid peasants realize thoroughly the non-conducting properties of the wood, and avail themselves of the inexpensive warmth it provides. Fibre Chamois has a world-wide reputation as a warmth-giving interlining, for it is so light that its presence is hardly felt in a garment, and yet it gives an absolute healthful protection from the coldest blasts of a long stormy winter.

Good breeding shows itself most where to an ordinary eye it appears the least.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

A Great Trial.

The Grounds of Complaint Plainly Stated.

Witnesses and the Advocates Described—Characteristic Discourse by Rev. Dr. Talmage.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—The illustrations of this sermon are drawn from the scenes in a court room, with which Dr. Talmage became familiar when he was studying law. The text is I. John, ii, 1: "We have an advocate with the Father. Jesus Christ the righteous."

I have to tell you today of a trial higher than any Oyer and Terminer or Circuit or Supreme or Chancery. It is the trial of every Christian man for the life of his soul. This trial is both civil and criminal. The issues at stake are tremendous, and I shall show you, first, what are the grounds of complaint; then, who are the witnesses, and, lastly, who are the advocates.

Stand up, O, Christian man, and hear the indictment of the court of high heaven against thy soul. It is an indictment of ten counts, for thou hast directly or indirectly broken all the Ten Commandments. You know how it thundered on Sinai, and when God came down how the mountain rocked and the smoke ascended as from a smouldering furnace, and the darkness gathered thick, and the loud, deep trumpet uttered the words: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die!" Are you guilty, or not guilty? Do not put in a negative plea too quick, for I have to announce that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. There is none that doeth good; no, not one. Whosoever shall keep the whole law, yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all." Do not, therefore, be too hasty in pronouncing yourself not guilty.

This lawsuit before us also charges you with the breaking of a solemn contract. Many a time did we promise to be the Lord's. We got down on our knees and said: "Oh, Lord, I am thine, now and forever." Did you keep the promise? Have you stood up to the contract? Have you not sometimes faltered when you ought to have been true? Have you not been proud when you ought to have been humble? Have you not played the coward when you ought to have been the hero? I charge it upon you and I charge it upon myself—we have broken the contract.

Still further, this lawsuit claims damages at your hands. The greatest slander on the Christian religion is an inconsistent professor. The Bible says religion is one thing; we, by our inconsistency, say religion is some other thing, and what is more deplorable about it is that people can see faults in others while they cannot see any in themselves. If you shall at any time find some miserable old gossip, with imperfections from the crown of her head to the sole of her foot, a perfect blotch of sin herself, she will go tattling, tattling, tattling, all the years of her life about the inconsistencies of others, having no idea that she is inconsistent herself. God save the world from the gossip, female and male! I think the males are the worst! Now the chariot of Christ's salvation goes on through the world; but it is our inconsistencies, my brethren, that block up the wheels.

Now, you have heard the indictment read. Are you ready to plead guilty or not guilty? The trial will go on.

The first witness I call is the World—all critical and observant of Christian character. You know that there are people around you who perpetually banquet on the frailties of God's children. You may know, if you have lived in the country, that a crow cares for nothing so much as carrion. There are those who imagine that out of the faults of Christians they can make a bridge of boats across the stream of death, and they are going to try it; but, alas, for the mistake! When they get midstream away will go the bridge and down will go their souls to perdition. O, World, of the greedy eye and the hard heart, testify in behalf of the prosecution against this Christian soul on trial. What do you know about this Christian man? "Oh," says the World, "I know a great deal about him. He talks about putting his treasures in heaven, but he is the sharpest man in a trade I ever knew. He seems to want us to believe that he is a child of God but he is just full of imperfections. I do not know but I am a great deal better than he is now. Oftentimes he is very earthly, and he talks so little about Christ and so much about himself, I am very glad to testify that this is a bad man."

Stop, O World with the greedy eye and hard heart. I fear you are too much interested in this trial to give impartial evidence. There always has been a variance between the World and the Church, and while the World on the witness stand today has told a great deal of truth about this Christian man, you must take it all with much allowance, remembering that they still keep the old grudge good.

The second witness in this case is Conscience. Says Conscience, "I was born in heaven, I came down to befriend this man. I have lived with him. I have instructed him. I have warned him. I showed him the right and the wrong, advising him to take the one and eschew the other. I have kindled a great light in his soul. With a whip of scorpions I have scourged his wickedness, and I have tried to cheer him when doing right; and yet I am compelled to testify on the stand today that he has sometimes rejected my mission. This Christian man has done wrong. He has been worldly. He has been neglectful. He has done a thousand things he ought not to have done, and left undone a thousand things he ought to have done."

The third witness I call is an angel of God. Bright and shining one, what has thou to say against this man on trial? "Oh," says the angel, "I have been a messenger to him. I have guarded him. I have watched him. With this wing I have defended him, and oftentimes, when he knew it not, I led him into green pastures and beside the still waters. I snatched from him the poisoned chalices. When bad spirits came upon him to destroy him, I fought them back with infinite fierceness, and yet I have to testify today that he has rejected my mission. He has not done as he ought to have done. Though I came from the sky, he drove me back. Though with this wing I defended him, and though with this voice I wooed him, I have to announce his multiplied imperfections."

There is only one more witness to be called on behalf of the prosecution, and that is the great, the holy the august, the omnipotent Spirit of God. We bow down before Him. Holy Spirit, knowest thou this man? "Oh, yes," says the Holy One, "I know him. I have striven with him ten thousand times, and though sometimes he did seem to repent, he fell back again as often from his first estate. Ten thousand times ten thousand has he grieved me, although the Bible warned him, saying: 'Grieve not the Holy Ghost. Quench not the Spirit.' Yes, he has driven me back. Though I am the Third Person of the Trinity, he has trampled on my mission, and the blood of the Atonement that I brought with which to cleanse this soul, he sometimes despised. I came from the throne of God to convert, and comfort, and sanctify, and yet look at that man and see what he is compared with what, unresisted, I would have made him."

The evidence on the part of the prosecution has closed. Now, let the defense bring on the rebuttal testimony. What have you, O Christian soul, to bring in reply to this evidence of the world, of the conscience, of the angel, and of the Holy Ghost? No evidence Are all these things true. "Yes, unclean, unclean," says every Christian soul. What? Do you not begin to tremble at the thought of condemnation?

We have now come to the most interesting part of this great trial. The evidence of all being in, severe and stern Justice rises on behalf of the prosecution to make his plea. He reads the law, stern and inflexible, and the penalty, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." Then he says: "O, thou Judge and Lawgiver, this is thine own statute, and all the evidence in earth and heaven agrees that the man has sinned against these enactments. Now, let the sword leap from its scabbard. Shall a man go through the very flames of Sinai unsinged? Let the law be executed. Let judgment be pronounced. Let him die. I demand that he die!"

O, Christian, does it not look very dark for thee? Who will plead on thy side in so forlorn a cause? Now, in this matter of the soul, as you have nothing to pay for counsel, do you think that anyone will volunteer? Yes, yes; I see One rising. He is a young man, only 33 years of age, I see his countenance suffused with tears and covered with blood, and all the galleries of heaven are thrilled with the spectacle. Thanks be unto God, "we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous." Oh, Christian soul, your case begins to look better. I think, perhaps, after all, you may not have to die. The best Advocate in the universe has taken your side. He rises and says: "I admit all that has been proved against my client. I admit all these sins, ay, more; but look at my wounded hands and feet. By all these wounds I plead for his clearance. Count all the drops of my tears. Count all the drops of my blood. By the humiliation of Bethlehem, by the sweat of Gethsemane, by the sufferings of the cross, I demand that he go free. On this arm he hath leaned; to this heart he hath flown; in my tears he hath washed; on my righteousness he hath depended. Let him go free. I am the ransom. Let him escape the lash; I took the scourgings. Let the cup pass from him; I drank it to the dregs. Put on him the crown of life, for I have worn the crown of thorns. Over against my throne of shame set his throne of triumph!"

Well, the counsel on both sides have spoken, and there is only one more thing now remaining, and that is the awarding of the judgment. The Judge rises and gives this decision, never to be changed, never to be revoked: "There is, therefore, now no condemnation for them who are in Christ Jesus."

The soul that on Jesus hath leaned for repose,
I will not, I will not, desert to his foes;
That soul, though all hell should endeavor to shake,
I'll never, no, never, no, never, forsake.

But my friends, there is coming a day of trial in which not only the saint, but the sinner, must appear. That day of trial will come very suddenly. Lo! the sun hides. Night comes down at mid-noon. The stars appear at noon today. The earth shudders and throbs. There an earthquake opens and a city sinks as a crocodile would crunch a child. Mountains roll in their sockets and send down their granite cliffs in avalanches of rock. Rivers pause in their chase for the sea, and ocean, uprearing, cries to flying Alps and Himalaya. Beasts bellow and moan and snuff up the darkness. Clouds fly like flocks of swift eagles. Great thunders beat and boom and burst. Stars shoot and fall. The Almighty, rising on his throne, declares that time shall be no longer, and the archangel's trump repeats it till all the living hear, and the continents of dead spring to their feet, crying: "Time shall be no longer!" Oh, on that day, will you be ready?

I have shown you how well the Christian will get off in his trial. Will you get off as well in your trial? Will Christ plead on your side or against you? Oh, what will you do in the last great assize, if your conscience is against you, and the world is against you, and the angels of heaven are against you, and the Holy Spirit is against you, and the Lord God Almighty is against you? Better this day secure an Advocate.

The Board of Aldermen of Barre, Vt., extended clemency to a man who had been arrested for keeping a dog without paying the license fee on condition that he abjured intoxicants.

London's Centennial.

Yesterday, the citizens of this fair center of civilization celebrated their Civic Holiday—a modern innovation, but withal a welcome respite for the sons of toil. In reality, however, the people of London could this year truthfully celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the designation of London as a "city," the site of modern London being so proclaimed by Governor Simcoe, then Governor-General, in the year 1796. How it came about is told by an officer of Governor Simcoe's staff, who visited this locality in the spring of 1793, in company with the Governor-General and the famous Indian chief Brant. This is how the future site of a great and thriving city was then sized up in the diary of Officer Littlehales: "Struck the Thames on one end of a low flat island. The rapidity of the current is so great as to have formed a channel through the mainland (being a peninsula) and formed this island. We walked over a rich meadow, and at its extremity reached the forks of the river. The governor wished to examine this situation and its environs, and we therefore stopped here a day. He judged it to be a situation eminently calculated to be the Metropolis of all Canada. Among many other essentials, it possesses the following advantages: Command of territory, internal situation, central position, facility of water communication up and down the Thames, superior navigation for boats to near its source, and for small craft to near the Moravian settlement; to the northward by a small portage flowing into Lake Huron; to the southeast by a carrying place into Lake Ontario and the River St. Lawrence; the soil luxuriously fertile, and the land capable of being easily cleared and soon put into a state of agriculture, a pinery upon an adjacent high knoll, and others on the height, well calculated for the erection of public buildings; and a climate not inferior to any part of Canada." Such was the character given to the site of the present city of London 103 years ago, when Governor Simcoe named it Georgina-on-the-Thames, in honor of the reigning sovereign, and planned it as his great seat of government. In 1796, he so proclaimed it, and doubtless would have carried out his intentions of making London the capital of all the Canadas if he had not then been transferred to the West Indies. Modern Londoners can admire his good taste, and wonder at the lack of appreciation of so eligible a site for a great center of population and influence which Governor Simcoe's successors displayed.

There have been many changes in this neighborhood since the famous governor's proclamation of London as a city one hundred years ago. Through his departure, settlement was entirely neglected for nearly 30 years, not a house being built on the site till 1826, and not until two years afterwards was the postoffice moved into the settlement from Westminster, where it had been established for several years. In 1819, the nearest postoffice to London was at Delaware! Going out to mail a letter was no joke in those days. Down to 1840, the settlement formed a part of London township. In that year, a village government was granted, and from 1842 to its incorporation as a city in 1854 it had representatives in the County Council of Middlesex. In 1847, the place passed under a town council in place of a board of police, and in 1854 the city of London was proclaimed in earnest, 58 years after Governor Simcoe's futile proclamation. The city has made steady progress ever since. It has not been "boomed" as some places, on purely speculative grounds, but it has grown because of its admirable position as a manufacturing, trading, railway and educational center. With its magnificent water supply, beautifully shaded avenues, and cheerful, well-kept homes, it is an ideal place of residence, and though not the capital of all Canada, as the governor of 100 years ago so strongly insisted it ought to be, it is yet the center of the Garden of Canada, and is bound to prosper and progress.

Says the New York World: "Laurier, the new Canadian Premier, might have made a fortune and a reputation at the bar, but he rarely goes into court. He is poor, and it is said that if he were to die now his estate would not amount to more than $2,000. He is considered the most pleasing orator in Canada, and gained great fame by the first speech he made when he took his seat in the House of Commons."

Six Liberal Victories.

They have had a Liberal revival in Nova Scotia also. A week ago nominations for six vacant seats in the Legislature took place. Four Liberals were returned by acclamation, and in two constituencies a contest was forced between Liberals and Conservatives in Lunenburg and Colchester. In each county the Liberal was triumphantly returned—in Lunenburg by over 700, and in Colchester by 400. These results foreshadow what will occur when the Dominion bye-elections are brought on.

Several city and suburban preachers witnessed yesterday's baseball match, and apparently enjoyed it. Why not? It was entertaining.

Fatal Illness of Hon. W. D. Balfour.

Yesterday afternoon a special telegram from Toronto to The Advertiser brought the sad news that Hon. W. D. Balfour, late Speaker of the Legislature, and but the other day sworn in as Provincial Secretary of Ontario, was dying, his medical advisers having given up all hopes of his recovery. Though from his youth up an indefatigable worker, Mr. Balfour has never had robust health, and on Friday last he was seized with bleeding at the lungs. His wife was immediately summoned from Amherstburg, and everything was done to alleviate the suffering of the patient. All was in vain, however, as on Monday forenoon a consultation of medical men resulted in the declaration that there was no hope for Mr. Balfour's recovery.

It is particularly sad that the new Minister should be thus stricken down as he attained the eminence in the service of his country for which his undoubted talents so well fitted him. When seized with a fatal illness, Mr. Balfour had only just celebrated his 46th birthday, having been born in Forfar, Scotland, on Aug. 2, 1851. From the time he reached his 6th year his home was in Canada. Before he was 23 years of age, Mr. Balfour entered public life, as a member of the board of school trustees of St. Catharines, and ever since, down to his fatal illness, he continued in the service of the people, doing good work for his fellow-men as a school trustee, councilor, reeve, county warden, president of the agricultural society, M. P. P. and Speaker of the Legislature. At the same time, he established the St. Catharines Daily News, and latterly the Amherstburg Echo, which latter, in conjunction with Mr. Auld, he successfully conducted for over twenty years. He had barely begun his duties as Provincial Secretary when seized by illness. But there could be no mistaking his mental ability to conduct that important department. As a private member of the House, he had made no mean impression on the statute book of the Province. He was a pioneer in the work of establishing manhood suffrage in the Province. He led in the crusade against the foolish municipal bonusing system, and he did good service for freedom when the libel laws were amended. When he was re-elected by acclamation, on taking office a few days since, Mr. Balfour addressed his constituents in a thoughtful and statesmanlike manner, and gave a masterly outline of the policy which he believed the Hardy-Ross Government intended to pursue. Man, however, proposes, but a higher power disposes.

Mr. Balfour's career, if it ends now, affords the rising generation a striking example of how much good work can be compressed into even a short life.

Three or four aeronauts have been killed within the last few days. If a man is determined to commit suicide, going up in a balloon is probably about as effective a method for speedy blotting out as has yet been invented.

JUNIOR HUSBANDS AND SENIOR WIVES.

Because Miss Grace Wilson, who married Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt in New York a few days ago, was six years older than her husband, a great hubbub was raised among the New York four hundred. But a correspondent points out this small difference would be little thought of in Europe. Here are a few instances:

John Howard, the great English philanthropist, when only 26 years of age, married a lady of 52, She was therefore just twice as old as himself. As husband and wife they always lived happily together.

Adolphe Thiers, one of the greatest modern French statesmen, and a most learned and illustrious historian of his country, married, and was wise and happy in marrying a lady who in age outranked him by more than fifteen years.

Shakespeare, beyond intelligent controversy the greatest poet who has ever inspirited and blessed the world with his presence, when only 19 years of age married Ann Hathaway, who was then 28. So it is plain that the incomparable and immortal Bard of Avon was nine years younger than his wife.

PECULIARITIES OF LI.

Li Hung Chang, who will visit Niagara Falls, and pass through Canada on the G. T. R. and C. P. R. next month, travels with an establishment—about sixty persons—the uses of which are hard for the European to understand. That it is complete from the Chinese standpoint cannot be questioned in the face of the 350 pieces of baggage, of every possible size, shape and appearance, brought to London. The suite is organized in two sections, the mandarins, who take part in official matters, and the domestics, who look after the comfort of the party. These are more particularly for Li, his suite being commonly satisfied with the attentions of European servants supplied by their hosts. The most interesting personally among the mandarins, apart from the giant figure of the ambassador, is Commandant Li Boh, who commanded a Chinese gunboat at Port Arthur, and ran her ashore when the Japanese fleet appeared, escaping in a junk. For this, it appears, he was condemned to death, but was taken under Li Hung Chang's protection and will keep his head until Li dies, when, Li Boh placidly remarks, "I will lose it." To the suggestion that he had better remain behind at Vancouver, Li Boh replied with a grin. His duties throughout have been to take charge of the presents to potentates and look after Li Hung Chang's parrots, four of which have been treated to a trip around the world

IT'S A PRETTY IDEA, ANYHOW.

London Chronicle.

Mr. James Bryce struck a new and happy note in his speech in reply to the appropriate toast of "The Community of English-Speaking People." He suggested that the time had come when neither the English nor the American Government should regard the subjects of the other as "aliens" in law.

If indeed, we have given up—as who doubts we have?— the idea that England and the United States will ever again fly at each other's throat, then there is no longer any reason why the citizen of the United States should not find himself when he arrives in England, a citizen also of the mother country. Such an amendment of the law, formal as it might seem to be, would do more to efface the memories of the variance than many greater things. All nations live by sentiment and what good men desire to foster in this year of grace between America and Britain is a sentiment of common nationality.

OBJECT LESSON IN FREE SILVER

Boston Standard.

As a practical illustration of what effect the free coinage of silver at an inflated ratio of 16 to 1 may have upon life insurance policies, the following illustration is cited: In September, 1882, a Mexican gentleman took out a policy of $10,000 in a well-known American life insurance company. He was given the option of paying his premium in gold or Mexican money, the standard of which is a silver dollar, the policy to be paid at maturity in the same coin. He chose to have his policy issued on the basis of Mexican money. In June of the current year the policy became a claim on the company through the death of the insured, and $10,000 in Mexican money was paid the widow of the deceased. The widow, however, is now living in Pittsburg, Pa., and in converting the proceeds of her policy into the currency of the United States she received just $5,847.

HAMILTON HAS A SAY.

The Hamilton Spectator says: "Now that Brantford has decided not to continue in the Canadian League, it is expected that representatives of the London, Guelph and Hamilton clubs will get together and arrange a new schedule of games. It is not known whether the games played so far will be counted or if a series will be arranged for the championship. Several days ago London talked of arranging a series of games with Guelph and freezing out Hamilton. Guelph, however, would sooner play with the Hams; but there is no disposition on the part of Hamilton or Guelph to freeze out London. It would be better to arrange a series between the three clubs, but Manager Sippi should be given to understand that London is not in a position to dictate terms, and must agree to a schedule that is fair to all the clubs."

As regards the above, it may be said in defense that London desires to freeze out nobody, but is merely acting from motives of self-preservation. It is impossible to arrange a three-club schedule on a paying basis, as two games a week must be played by each club to pay expenses. The rivalry between London and Guelph is keener than between London or Guelph and any other club, and a series between the Leafs and Alerts would be mutually profitable, as both are better ball towns than Hamilton. "Things cannot go on as they are," said an officer of the Alert Club today. "We have no scheduled game until Sept. 5, and with a salary list of $500 a month we cannot wait until then for a game. We would arrange exhibition games if we thought they would pay, but the people here will not patronize anything but championship games. If we cannot secure a series with Guelph, I am afraid we must disband."

The Alerts play an exhibition game at Stratford on Wednesday with the Guelphs.

THE ARLINGTONS AT POINT EDWARD.

The Arlingtons feel very proud of their victory at Point Edward yesterday over the Sarnia Invincibles, who have whipped every team in that section of the country. The Invincibles were reinforced by three members of the Yale University team, who were staying at Oaklands, the St. Clair summer resort. The Yale boys proved great players, but were surprised at the good work of the Arlingtons. Hibbs, for the visitors, pitched a fine game and Walter Costello distinguished himself in center field. The score, 7 to 5, indicates good ball playing.

LAWN BOWLING.

THE LONDON TOURNAMENT.

The first annual tournament of the Western Ontario Bowling Association will be held on the grounds of the London Rowing and Canoe Club, at London, commencing Monday, Sept. 7 (Labor Day). In addition to the valuable prizes offered for each event, a trophy has been presented to John Labatt, to be held for one year by the club represented by the rink winning the championship prize, and to become the property of any club winning the championship prize three times. The grounds are in first-class condition, and the lawn is large enough to afford ample accommodation. It is intended, as far as possible, that the rink competitions be played on Monday. Entries for rinks must be in the hands of the secretary by Friday, Sept. 4. The drawings will be made on Saturday and published. The entries for double and single must be made on the grounds by 5 p.m. Monday.

The programme will consist of a championship match—game 18 ends (open to any four players of same club); consolation match—game 13 ends (open to all rinks defeated in the championship match); singles—game 15 points (open to members of any bowling club); doubles—game 15 points (open to any two members of some club).

Charles Davis May Lose the Use of His Arm.

An Accident in the East End—Caught Between Car Buffers.

Chas. Davis, an employe of the G. T. R., was the victim of an accident this morning which may cripple him for life.

About 6 o'clock this morning he was oiling two freight cars on the track at the old race course in the East End, and was stooping between them. Some cars further up were being shunted. He did not see them moving towards those between which he was standing until they struck. Davis' left arm was resting on the drawhead and was caught squarely between the buffers. It was terribly cushed from the elbow to the wrist, the skin being stripped off and the bone broken in several places.

Dr. Drake was summoned and dressed the wounds. Davis bore the pain manfully and walked home, though suffering intensely. It is feared that the arm may have to be amputated, or that he may lose the use of it. Davis is a married man.

Spending the Holiday.

The Whole Population Apparently Had an Outing.

Great Day at Springbank—Port Stanley Gets a Crowd—Excursions Well Patronized.

Civic Holiday in this city, from standpoints of weather and temperature, was a "beaut." It was a model day for sport of almost any kind, and both the ball match and the bicycle races drew large crowds. The gathering at the ball match was the largest seen this season, and in the afternoon another large crowd witnessed the bicycle races. The back streets of the city were practically deserted, save at meal hours.

From 6 o'clock till nearly noon the people were seen hustling along towards the depots and the boat, with their baskets heavily laden with provision for the day. About 375 people went to Detroit via the different railways. Over 400 people went to Sarnia, about 350 to Toronto, and 150 to the Falls. The business was distributed between the three railways.

Port Stanley was again besieged by a multitude of over 2,000 people from the city. The heights on Erie's shore presented a pleasing picture when the ground was spread with table-cloths every few feet, which were covered with the thousand and one things that a practical and good housewife is capable of preparing. The day was, if anything, a little cool, but the water was the right temperature for the bathers. The steamer Mount Clemens made special trips and was largely patronized. The train service was good and splendid time was made. The last car reached home about 11 o'clock, with about 350 on board.

AT SPRINGBANK.

Yesterday's crowd at Springbank capped the climax. It was the largest Springbank ever saw. The street railway people deposited 15,046 people at the park during the day and evening, and all told carried over 25,000 passengers. In the morning eight cars were put on with an eight-minute service, but in the afternoon the crowd swelled to enormous proportions and stood at every corner awaiting the arrival of Springbank cars. This necessitated placing 26 cars on the line, while the eight-minute service was maintained. The people came back and forth all day long. At the foot of Dundas street there was another jam to get on to the boat, which made trips every hour to accommodate the crowd, and each time carried a heavy load of human freight. All over the open grounds and under the trees were seated picknickers, who from all appearance enjoyed themselves immensely. In the nooks and corners under the apple trees the lads and lassies told one another pretty stories, which every now and then were interrupted by a shower of green apples, caused by a missile from the hands of some inconsiderate youth. There were apples galore. The boys knocked them down by the bushel. The ice cream parlor was taxed all day to its utmost capacity. The attractions at the park were highly appreciated by the thousands. Everything passed off without a hitch. The cars ran on time, and the only interference was a fifteen-minute wait on the line about 8:30 o'clock in consequence of some trouble at the power house. The last boat arrived about 12:30, with about 200 passengers.

Singular Hatching.

It is well known that the Australian megapod is a bird that is accustomed not to sit on its own eggs. In certain parts of Australia are found numerous mounds of considerable size and height, which the first explorers took to be burial mounds. These were made by the Megapodius tumulus, which uses them for hatching its eggs. They have sometimes considerable dimensions; a nest that is 14 feet high and 55 feet in circumference may be regarded as large. Each megapod builds its own nest with materials which it gathers from all sides, and these are exactly what the gardner uses in the month of March to make his forcing beds, namely, leaves and decomposing vegetable matter, which, by their fermentation, give off an appreciable amount of heat. In the forcing beds this heat hastens the sprouting of the seeds; in the nest it suffices for the development and hatching of the young birds, and the mother can go where she likes and occupy herself as she wishes, without being troubled by the duties of sitting. In the small island of Ninafou, in the Pacific, another bird has a somewhat similar habit, insofar as it also abandons its eggs; but in place of obtaining the necesary heat from fermentation, it gets it from warm sand. The leipoa, or native pheasant of Australia, acts like the megapod, and watches the temperature of its mound very closely, covering and uncovering the eggs several times a day to cool them or heat them, as becomes nescessary. After hatching, the young bird remains in the mound several hours; it leaves on the second day, but returns for the night, and not until the third day is it able to quit the paternal abode. —Revue Scientifique.

Death of Niagara Falls.

Fifteen hundred years ago the terrestrial movements raised the Johnson barrier to the Erie basin so high that the waters of that lake reached not merely the level of Lake Michigan, but the point of turning all the water of the upper lakes into the Mississippi drainage by way of Chicago. But the falls were then cutting through the ridge, and when this was accomplished, before the change of drainage was completed, the surface of Lake Erie was suddenly lowered by many feet, and thus the falls were re-established for some time longer.

Slowly, year by year, one sees the cataract wearing back and suggesting the time when the river will be turned into a series of rapids; but another silent cause is at work, and one not easily seen—namely, the effects of the changing of level of the earth's crusts. From the computations already referred to it was found that for the first 24,000 years of the life of the river only the Erie waters flowed by way of the Niagara River, and for only 8,000 years have all the waters of the upper lakes beenfeeding the falls. If the terrestrial movements continue as at present, and there appears no reason to doubt it, for the continent was formerly vastly higher than now, then in about 5,000 years the rim of the Erie basin promises to be raised so high that all the waters of the upper lakes will flow out by way of the Chicago Canal. Thus the duration of Niagara Falls will have continued about 37,000 years. But the lakes will endure beyond the calculations of the boldest horologist. —Appleton's Popular Science Monthly.

Town and Country

The friends of the Rev. Mr. Hughes, from Adelaide and Strathroy, gathered at the rectory in Adelaide the other evening to do honor to the reverend gentleman and his family on the eve of their departure for Tilsonburg. Mr. Wm. Broch was the chairman, and called upon Mr. James Sadlier, who read a very complimentary address, setting forth the many excellent qualities of the reverend gentleman, as a man, as a citizen, and a pastor, and which was accompanied with a handsoem china dinner set from the people of the parish. Mr. Hughes replied in a very feeling manner.

A Springfield correspondent writes: Our village was shocked Friday night when it became known that Peter Neff had expired suddenly about 7 o'clock. Deceased had complained during the day, but appeared quite well at teatime. He was an old resident of this vicinity, having reached his 69th year. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two daughters, Mrs. Oliver, of this place, and Mrs. Simpson, of Copenhagen; and three sons, Dr. Neff, of Ingersoll; George, at home, and Ernest, M. C. R. operator.

GLENDALE.

Glendale, Aug. 14.—Miss Edith Banghart, who has been ill at the residence of Mr. J. D. Cleveland, for the past two months, was able to return to her home in Delaware on Saturday last. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Will Kettlewell is detained at her father's home, Frome, through the illness of her little girl, Winnie.

Mrs. J. D. Cleveland was summoned to Chicago some three weeks since, to be with her son Elmer, who is very ill. Reports say he is not yet out of danger.

Miss Annie Kinder, of Strathroy, spent Friday in this place.

Miss Jessie Duncan is away for her holidays.

The Misses Harding, London township, are the guests of Mrs. John Dale.

Master Charley Hammond, of Horton street, has been visiting his uncle, John Cleveland.

ARKONA.

Arkona, Aug. 17.—Early on Saturday last a very heavy thunder storm passed over this section, doing considerable damage. A barn belonging to Gillis McPherson was struck by lightning, and burned to the ground, with all the contents. As it happened, there was none of the live stock in. Great numbers went to view the grand and terrible scene. Five other fires are reported to have been seen between here and the lake shore, a distance of about fourteen miles to the west of us. Mr. McPherson's loss has not been estimated.

On Saturday afternoon last Mr. Geo. Hall died very suddenly. He went out to help load oats after dinner, and started vomiting, and in less than an hour he had passed away. Mr. Hall was an old and respected resident, and leaves a large family, all of whom have the sympathy of the neighborhood.

Last week the Misses Ada and Daisy Rosenberry, of Forest, and Miss Wilson, of Wyoming, paid a visit to the Misses Rosenberry's aunt, Mrs. Conley, and other friends in town and vicinity.

Threshing has commenced in this vicinity. Wheat only averages about 13 bushels per acre, and oats are a poor crop. The season has been so wet that it was hard to harvest oats at all. They have rusted quite a lot, and in some sections they are shrunken. Apples are an abundant crop, but there is no sale for fall apples; consequently hundreds of bushels will spoil. We look forward to a better market for our winter fruit.

Mrs. Hugh Ross has been quite ill the past week with an attack of inflammation of the lungs. Several other parties have very severe colds, and a number are troubled with sore throat, supposed to be caused by the sudden change in the weather.

STRATHROY.

J. D. Meekison, Business Agent.

Strathroy, Aug. 18.—Mr. Malcolm Auld, of London, wheeled over to Strathroy on London's Civic Holiday, and spent the day with friends.

Miss Sherbrooke, of London, is the guest of Miss Jennie Sickles, in town.

Mr. Black, of the Chatham Collegiate staff, and the Misses Black, of Toronto, are visiting Mrs. Sinclair, Kittridge avenue.

Miss Evans and Miss Phillips, of London, wheeled from London on Saturday, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Evans for a few days.

Messrs. H. Ropley, W. English and D. Downie spent Sunday in Sarnia.

Mr. Wm. Geddes has returned from his business trip to the old country.

Miss Gertie Macbeth, of Sarnia, spent a few days with friends in town.

Mr. Emerson Vokes, of the Age staff, was married to Miss Nellie Burrows, of London, on Aug. 15, at St. Andrew's manse, London, by the Rev. Robert Johnston.

The Strathroy I. O. O. F. Band will be in attendance at the Oddfellows' picnic, to be held this evening in Squire McGugan's grove, Mount Brydges.

The interest in baseball is greatly on the increase in Strathroy. A large crowd witnessed the interesting game played between the Hobbs nine, of London, and the Diamond Stars, of this town, yesterday afternoon, which resulted in a victory for the Diamond Stars. The score stood 10 to 15 in favor of the Stars.

COURTRIGHT.

Courtright, Aug. 14.—There was a swell assembly last night at Oaklands, which attracted a number of Hotel Bedard guests. The party from this side were conveyed home about midnight in rowboats, and made the night air ring with the sweet songs they rendered on the return trip. Everyone passed a delightful time.

The band concerts given at Oaklands are much enjoyed by those summering on this side of the line.

There was a mild sensation yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of St. Clair and Courtright, when a boat containing three young men was seen to capsize and the sailors went down. They bobbed up serenely, however, and made their way to the American shore. They will perhaps learn how to sail a boat before making another trip. As the water was in splendid condition for bathing, the ducking will do no harm.

Oats in this section are a dismal failure.

Large numbers of wheelmen are every night coming down and lunching here, returning on the up boats from Detroit usually. The roads are good.

The Unique and City of Toledo are eagerly watched for by those interested in the respective boats, as they make their runs to and from Detroit. Both are speedy, but the wreath of victory seems to be earned by the Unique, which invariably makes far better time than her rival. The Unique has been very unfortunate this season, but is carrying her share of the business.

WANTS A DIVORCE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18.—William Edward Ricard has begun an action in the Supreme Court for an absolute divorce from Regina Magdalena Ricard. The divorce is sought on statutory grounds. Mr. Ricard also demands the custody of his two children, Wm. E. and Clara Belle Ricard. The couple were married at Kingston, Ont., on July 28, 1886. A man named Kenney, of Newark, N. J., is mentioned as the co-respondent.

A Battle With a Wolf.

The author of a book on early Canadian life says that a young girl was one afternoon on her way to the spring for a pail of water, relates the Youth's Companion, when she heard her pet lamb bleat and saw what she supposed was a large dog worrying it.

Being a brave girl, she dropped the pail, seized a stout stick which lay on the ground and rushing forward began to beat the brute with all her might.

The animal let go the lamb and turned upon the girl, showing his teeth and snarling. She saw then that she had to deal with a wolf instead of a dog. The sharp ears, bushy tail and gaunt figure were convincing. But she was not frightened; excitement and fears for her pet gave her courage, and when the wolf again seized the lamb she valiantly attacked him, and again he released his prey. She used the club vigorously and rained blows upon the wolf, crying for help meantime.

Her brother, hearing her outcry, ran with his gun toward the spring, but the wolf saw the reinforcement coming and fled into the woods.

A Temperance Lesson.

A cavalryman had for the second time returned to the barracks in an intoxicated condition.

His comrades saw a chance the second time to give him a little lesson. He had gone to bed and thrust his bare foot out from under the blanket; and they fastened one of his spurs on his naked heel. The trooper lay in a heavy and motionless sleep for a long time. At last he stirred, changed his position and dug the spur into his other leg.

"Oh! Help! Murder!" he shouted. Then he started up; struck a light, and looked at the spur fastened on his bare heel.

"Well," he said, "if that doesn't make me out a helpless idiot! When I took off my boots last night I forgot to take off one of my spurs. I'll never drink a drop again!"

HONEY FOR SCOTLAND.

A ton of that sweet fluid, honey, was shipped from our station recently by Charles Brown, of Drumquin. It was destined for Scotland. This large quantity was made during June by Mr. Brown's one hundred and fifty hives of bees. The season thus far has been favorable, the clover and basswood blossoms being plentiful. Last year he did not ship any, but left the bees all the honey they could gather for winter food. Besides that he fed them nine barrels of granulated sugar last fall. In this way he saved his bees, while other bee men lost nearly all they had. Wm. Dixon, another enthusiastic honey man near Milton, lost 59 out of 60 hives. Others were similarly unfortunate, and honey will likely advance in price. — Milton Reformer.

He lingered until evening, when he died.

Unknown!

The London Free Press professes to believe that Hon. William Paterson will be defeated in the bye-election in North Grey on Tuesday next because he is "unknown in Ontario"! Well, well! It has been generally conceded that Mr. Paterson is well known not only as a statesman of the first rank, but as a successful manufacturer of many years' standing. What must be the feelings of the Minister of Customs when he hears that our city contemporary classes him as the great Unknown.

Topics of Today.

Nominations took place for vacancies in the House of Commons in North Grey and Sunbury and Queens this afternoon. Hon. Mr. Paterson and Hon. Mr. Blair are the Government candidates. Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Wilmot, candidates defeated at the general election, are the Opposition nominees. The voting takes place on Tuesday next.

While at Parry Sound Premier Hardy was entertained at a banquet. He had a very warm reception. Parry Sound has many holiday makers from the United States, and the Premier noted the fact in complimentary terms. He said Canada could do very well without annexing the United States. The people of the United States loved their flag, Canadians loved the Union Jack. Canadians would eat and drink with their United States friends, but they would live out their own destiny, fighting always for freedom; the advancement of intelligence and the unity of the empire under the grand old flag.

The first sample of new Manitoba wheat was received at Winnipeg on Monday. It will grade No. 1 hard. The yield will be from 18 to 20 bushels. Complaints of rain there have been, but in the main the late moisture has only filled the grain and made it plump. A nip of frost is reported, but no damage has been done so far.

How mining is booming in the Canadian Rocky Mountains is shown by the returns just presented to the Dominion Government. In 1894 the aggregate value of the precious metals mined in British Columbia was $1,000,000. Last year it reached the grand total of $5,038,375, and this year the output promises to be still greater. For the period of 1896, ending July 15, practically only three months from the opening of the season, the total quantity of ore produced in Kootenay was 56,910 tons, of which 14,797 were exported. The estimated value of ore smelted and shipped to July 15 was one million and three-quarter dollars.

The music is conducted by Mr. Charles Zimmerman.

CONCERT AT FRASER HOUSE.

A charming concert was given last night in the hall adjoining the Fraser House, Port Stanley. The attendance was large and representative. Mr. Harold Jarvis, of Detroit, was in fine form. Among his selections, The Creole Love Song, and the MacGregor's Gathering, may be mentioned as admirable specimens of dramatic delineation of the poetical and the stirring in song. Mr. George Angus, ever a favorite, handled his violin with such effect as to cause him, like Mr. Jarvis, to be repeatedly encored. Much interest centered in the two duets by Miss Emelie Scott and Mr. Jarvis, and it is not too much to say Miss Scott came through her first public ordeal with gratifying success. Her voice is clear and sympathetic in tone, she has evidently received careful training, and the public will watch her future progress with interest. A word must be said, not alone for Mr. Hewlett's piano solos, but for his dainty, unobtrusive accompaniments. The concert closed at a seasonable hour.

CUPID'S DOINGS.

Following are the details of an interesting event, which has already been briefly mentioned in The Advertiser's columns: A very pretty wedding took place at noon on Wednesday at the Mount Elgin Institute, Muncey, when Eva May, second daughter of Rev. W. W. Shepherd, was married to Dr. N. J. Tait, of Blyth, Ont., son of D. M. Tait, manager of the Star Loan Company, St. Thomas. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by the Rev. Dr. A. Sutherland of Toronto, and T. T. George, of Delaware, in the presence of about eighty guests. The bride was beautifully attired in white ivory satin, and the bridesmaid, Miss Laura Kains, of Ottawa, also presented a very charming appearance gowned in yellow silk. The groom was supported by his brother, Murray Tait. A special train from St. Thomas at 9:40 a.m. conveyed many of the guests to the wedding who had arrived from Ottawa, Whitby, Toronto, Hamilton, Listowel and London. The special returned to St. Thomas in time for the afternoon C. P. R. train for Toronto.

The floral decorations were beautifully arranged with great taste and skill by McLean, the florist, of St. Thomas, and the bountiful dejeuner, which was participated in by the guests at the conclusion of the ceremony, was in charge of Caterer Boomer of London. J. H. Hopkins was present, and took a flashlight of the group at the conclusion of the marriage.

After the conclusion of the congratulations and well wishes for the future happiness of the young couple, the wedding party left for a trip up the lakes. The present included a beautiful gold watch set in diamonds, the gift of the groom; a purse containing $500 in gold from the bride's parents; a parlor suite, the gift of the groom's father, and a handsome quarter-cut sideboard from the groom's mother; a quarter-cut oak cabinet containing $35 in gold from the bride's brother, and other costly presents, too numerous to mention. The many friends of the happy couple join in wishing them a long and happy wedded bliss.

CORNELIUS SENTENCED

To Three Months in Jail With Hard Labor.

Theodore Cornelius (colored), who was found guilty on Saturday last of an indecent assault upon Christy Bone, the 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Haskett, of London West, came up again before Judge Edward Elliott this morning. The judge pointed out that the offense of which he had been found guilty was punishable with two years' imprisonment and a whipping. He would, however, under the circumstances of the case, make the sentence as lenient as possible, as the prisoner's counsel, Mr. McAvoy, was unable to be present. He then sentenced him to three months' imprisonment in the common jail at hard labor.

Joseph Owen (colored) appeared before the judge charged with want of sureties to keep the peace, and was discharged.

E. N. HUNT,
190 Dundas Street.

No Terror for Him.

She was sitting in her favorite spot, an angle at the eastern end of the terrace, a quiet little nook sheltered by orange trees, when she heard a couple of Riviera habitues talking in the garden below. They were sitting on a bench against the terrace wall.

She had no idea of listening to their talk, till the sound of Lady Ducayne's name attracted her, and then, she listened without any thought of wrongdoing, casually discussing an hotel acquaintance.

They were two elderly people whom Bella only knew by sight. An English clergyman who had wintered abroad for half his lifetime; a stout, comfortable, well-to-do spinster, whose chronic bronchitis obliged her to migrate annually.

"I have met her about Italy for the last ten years," said the lady; "but we have never found out her real age."

"I put her down at a hundred—not a year less," replied the parson. "Her reminiscences all go back to the Regency. She was evidently then in her zenith; and I have heard her say things that showed she was in Parisian society when the First Empire was at its best."

"She doesn't talk much now."

"No, there's not much life left in her. She is wise in keeping herself secluded. I only wonder that wicked old quack, her Italian doctor, didn't finish her off years ago."

"I should think it must be the other way, and that he keeps her alive."

"My dear Miss Manders, do you think foreign quackery ever kept anybody alive?"

"Well, there she is—and she never goes anywhere without him. He certainly has an unpleasant countenance."

"Unpleasant," echoed the parson. "I don't believe the foul fiend himself can beat him in ugliness. I pity that poor young woman who has to live between old Lady Ducayne and Dr. Paravicini."

"But the old lady is very good to her companion."

"No doubt she is very free with her cash; the servants call her good Lady Ducayne. She is a withered old female Croesus, and knows she'll never be able to get through her money, and doesn't relish the idea of other people enjoying it when she's in her coffin. People who live to be as old as she is become slavishly attached to life. I dare say she's generous to those poor girls—but she can't make them happy. They die in her service."

"Don't say they, Mr. Carton; I know that one poor girl died at Mentone last spring.'

"Yes, and another poor girl died in Rome three years ago. I was there at the time. Good Lady Ducayne left her there in an English family. The girl had every comfort. The old woman was very liberal to her—but she died. I tell you, Miss Manders, it is not good for any young woman to live with two such horrors as Lady Ducayne and Dr. Parravicini."

They talked of other things, but Bella hardly heard them. She sat motionless, and a cold wind seemed to come down upon her from the mountains and to creep up to her from the sea, till she shivered as she sat there in the sunshine, in the shelter of the orange trees in the midst of all that beauty and brightness.

Yes, they were uncanny, certainly, the pair of them—she so like an aristocratic witch in her withered old age, he of no particular age, with a face that was more like a waxen mask than any human countenance Bella had ever seen. What did it matter, old age is venerable, and worthy of all reverance; and Lady Ducayne had been very kind to her. Dr. Parravicini was a harmless inoffensive student, who seldom looked up from the book he was reading. He had his private sitting-room, where he made experiments in chemistry and natural science—perhaps in alchemy. What could it matter to Bella? He had always been polite to her in his far-off way. She could not be more happily placed than she was—in this palatial hotel, with this rich old lady.

No doubt she missed the young English girl, who had been so friendly, and it might be that she missed the girl's brother, for Mr. Stafford had talked to her a good deal—had interested himself in the books she was reading, and her manner of amusing herself when she was not on duty.

"You must come to our little salon when you are 'off,' as the hospital nurses call it, and we can have some music. No doubt you play and sing?" upon which Bella had to own with a blush of shame that she had forgotten to play the piano ages ago.

"Mother and I used to sing duets sometimes between the lights, without accompaniment," she said, and the tears came into her eyes as she thought of the humble room, the half-hour's respite from work, the sewing-machine standing where the piano ought to have been, and her mother's plaintive voice, so sweet, so true, so dear.

Sometimes she found herself wondering whether she would ever see that beloved mother again. Strange forebodings came into her mind. She was angry with herself for giving way to melancholy thoughts.

One day she questioned Lady Ducayne's French maid about those two companions who had died within three years.

"They were poor, feeble creatures," Francine told her. "They looked fresh and bright enough when they came to Miladi; but they ate too much, and they were lazy. They died of luxury and idleness. Miladi was too kind to them. They had nothing to do, and so they took to fancying things; fancying the air didn't suit them, that they couldn't sleep."

"I sleep well enough, but I have had a strange dream several times since I have been in Italy."

"Ah, you had better not begin to think about dreams, or you will be like those other girls. They were dreamers, and they dreamt themselves into the cemetery."

The dream touched her a little, not because it was a ghastly or frightening dream, but on account of sensations which she had never felt before in sleep—a whirring of wheels that went around in her brain, a great noise like a whirlwind, but rhythmical like the ticking of a gigantic clock; and then in the midst of this uproar as of winds and waves, she seemed to sink into a gulf of unconsciousness, out of sleep into far deeper sleep—total extinction. And then after that blank interval, there had come the sound of voices, and then again the whirr of wheels, louder and louder—and again the blank—and then she knew no more till morning, when she awoke feeling languid and oppressed.

She told Dr. Parravicini of her dream one day, and on the only occasion when she wanted his professional advice. She had suffered rather severely from the mosquitoes before Christmas—and had been almost frightened at finding a wound upon her arm which she could only attribute to the venomous sting of one of these torturers. Parravicini put on his glasses and scrutinized the angry mark on the white, round arm, as Bella stood before him and Lady Ducayne, with her sleeve rolled up above her elbow.

"Yes, that's rather more than a joke," he said; "he has caught you on the top of a vein. What a vampire! But there's no harm done, signorina, nothing that a little dressing of mine won't heal. You must always show me any bite of this nature. It might be dangerous if neglected. These creatures feed on poisons and disseminate it."

"And to think that such tiny creatures can bite like this," said Bella; "My arm looks as if it had been cut with a knife."

"If I were to show you a mosquito's sting under my microscope you wouldn't be surprised at that," replied Parravicini.

GIRLS WITH MILLIONS.

The Duke of Manchester Will Soon Meet Them.

In case the young Duke of Manchester does not marry Miss Gould he will find a few more heiresses at Newport who may be won.

Other eligible heiresses are Miss Elizabeth Perkins, who is on a protracted European tour, accompanied by Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott. Miss Perkins in two years will come into $17,000,000, left by her grandfather. Miss Virginia M. Gammell will have probably $8,000,000 some day. Miss Mary B. Trevor inherited $3,000,000 several years ago from her father, and more from her mother. There are many other rich girls at Newport, including the Misses Gerry, Havemeyer, Brooks, Hoffman, Winthrop, Burden, Sherman, Van Alen, Brice and Taylor. None of these can compete with Miss Gould as an independent heiress unless possibly the Misses Gerry. Miss May Goelet will have millions some day, and is about the same age as Miss Gould. Miss Goelet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Goelet, and a niece of the bride of Cornelius Vanderbilt, jun.—Chicago Post.

Fourth Annual Meet of the London Bicycle Club.

A Good Sized Crowd at the Races in Tecumseh Park.

Professional and Amateur Events — An Unseemly Incident—A Loafing Race—Summaries.

The civic holiday was an ideal day for the fourth annual meet of the London Bicycle Club. The weather was bright and cool, the breeze balmy and refreshing. The attractions at other points around the city seemed to have little effect upon the lovers of cycling, and they appeared at Tecumseh Park yesterday about 900 strong. The races were not all that many would have liked, but for this the participants alone are to blame, and not the energetic officers and club officials. The weary ride of Frank McCormick, F. Hobbs, C. Bowyer, C. Bernard and C. Reid in the two-mile city championship (amateur) race will likely have a pernicious effect upon future enterprises of yesterday's character. From start to finish they soldiered, and used up 8 minutes and 2 seconds of valuable time in covering the two miles. Words of condemnation were heard on all sides about the "snail's pace" the men were traveling, and every means were used to urge them to pump hard and fast, but without avail. They knew that the rules of the C. W. A. would not allow a time limit to be placed upon amateur events, and they took their ease. McCormick, Hobbs and Bernard passed the scratch amid a chorus of hisses. Visiting riders were disgusted with the action of the London riders; so were the officials, and the spectators most of all. "Riding of that class will kill the sport in London," remarked a prominent club official. "They should be ashamed," he continued. "If they would try as hard as the other fellows to reduce the time and give the people something for their money beyond a weary parade, like a lot of mourners in a funeral procession, there would be some sense in it." The prize for this event is a handsome trophy, presented by Mr. C. W. Davis, of the Tecumseh House.

The races for the most part were well contested and fairly exciting at the finish. The one-mile open amateur was a splendid one for the first two heats, but the third one was not so fast. No fault can be found with the riders in this race for their slow pace, as the winning depends on the spurt, and each laid for his neighbor to make the break, until the referee placed a limit of 2:25 on the heat. This caused a hot chase by the riders, who were well bunched. J. Davidson, Toronto, crossed the scratch, followed closely by Axton, of Brantford, and Blayney, of Simcoe. As the time was 20 seconds in excess of the limit, the race was declared off. This caused no end of disappointment and kicking, and when the race was over the riders gathered in a group and argued that they were entitled either to their entrance money or the prizes, but the officials didn't think so, and pointed out that they themselves had been the cause of the time limit being placed on the race, and that this was done in ample time for them to cover the distance in the time named. The riders threatened to boycott the track and do other desperate things.

In the final heat of the one-mile open professional Angus McLeod became pocketed between two opponents for whom he made it interesting on the way into the dressing room. It is alleged that he struck Duncan Metcalf, who is a friend of C. Elliott, one of the men whom he accused of trying to foul him. Hard words were spoken against him for this. Some of the wheelmen claim that McLeod is bound to win, and that if he doesn't the man who causes his defeat will suffer somehow.

On the home stretch T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, spurted past McLeod, and Elliott, Toronto, followed him closely. McLeod was unable to pass McCarthy on account of Elliott, but crossed the scratch a close second.

In the two-mile handicap F. F. Radway made a beautiful spurt past J. H. Gratz, of Toronto, when about 200 yards from the scratch, but J. A. Harley, Petrolea, made a better one and crossed about two feet in front of Radway, Gratz getting third place.

The ten-mile Dominion championship race was a peculiar one. It was 30 times around the course, and for 29 of these Angus McLeod, Sarnia, Harley Davidson, Brantford, and T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, crossed the scratch in the order named. McLeod again became sandwiched between McCarthy and Davidson, and only got second place. Radway started in this race at the end of the second lap, and Roy Gordon paced him until he caught the procession.

The one-mile lap race was also one in which much interest was displayed. It was a race for points. Three points were given to the first man in the first two laps, two to the second, and one to the third. In the third lap the first man was given four points, the second two, and the third man one. J. Davidson, Toronto, F. J. Graves and C. Meehan drew for third place, having two points each, and Meehan won.

No very fast time was made, but with one or two exceptions the races were as good as any one could wish. Following is a

GIRL SHOT BY A LITTLE BOY.

Woodville, Ont., Aug. 17.—A son of George Johnson, about 11 years old, and a little girl, a daughter of Mr. Harrison, were playing in Mr. Johnson's barn, where was a loaded gun. The little fellow took the gun to scare the girl, and shot her in the head, killing her.

—The Hamilton Times says of a former Londoner: "F. W. Wodell, of Boston, sang two solos in Centenary Church last evening, and a large congregation greatly enjoyed them. His voice seems better now than ever, and his singing has also improved."

—Hamilton Times: "Rev. H. G. Millar, late principal of Huron College, London, who will take charge of St. Thomas' parish temporarily, occupied the pulpit of that church yesterday. He preached two eloquent sermons. There were fair sized congregations present."

—Rev. Samuel Lawrence, pastor of Vanneck and Ilderton Presbyterian Churches, and Miss Isabella Caverhill, of Lobo, were united in marriage yesterday, Aug. 17, at St. James' manse. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. P. Talling, B.A. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a trip down the St. Lawrence and up the Ottawa Valley.

—There are at present four women patients at the county jail, awaiting removal to the asylum. They are Mrs. Kirwin, Sarnia; Mrs. Diplock and Mrs. Hornet, Strathroy, and Catharine Lynch, of London. Miss Harris, the energetic assistant matron, has considerable to put up with from Mrs. Lynch, whose language is such that she has to be kept apart from the other patients. Mrs. Hornet has been sick in bed for some time.

—Mr. James Sharpe, whose death took place on Sunday evening last, leaves four sons and three daughters. They are: R. Sharpe, postmaster and general store-keeper, Lobo; J. F. Sharpe, Toronto, traveler for J. A. & M. Cote, St. Hyacinthe; H. E. Sharpe, Winnipeg, manager of the Imperial Oil Company, and R. W. Sharpe, grocer, this city. The daughters are: Mrs. W. R. Rollston and Mrs. J. C. Rollston, city, and Miss Jessie Sharpe, Winnipeg. The deceased's wife died 33 years ago.

—Mr. M. R. Clissold, of the Buffalo Enquirer staff, who has been spending a few days with friends in London, St. Thomas and Port Stanley, returned to Buffalo on Monday. Mr. Clissold made the trip from the east on his wheel, excepting the portion between Tilsonburg and St. Thomas. He made the run from London to the Port in 1 hour and 40 minutes, including a stop of ten minutes in St. Thomas. His time from the latter place to Port Stanley was 27 minutes. Mr. C. rides on an 80 geared "Buffalo."

At the police court yesterday morning, Viola Nelson, who was charged with keeping a disorderly house; Kitty Watson, Dora Russell and Libby Bunn, with being inmates, and Wm. Cliff as an habitual frequenter, all pleaded not guilty. They were all remanded until Thursday next, with the exception of Libby Bunn, whose health is failing. She was discharged. William McGuinnis was up again to have his bail renewed, not yet having fully settled with Mr. Tamblyn, butcher.

CITY POLICE COURT.

The police magistrate's court this morning was not a lengthy one. The docket contained two prisoners for petty offenses, and they were both remanded for a week. One of them, James Newman, a young Englishman, was charged with begging on the street. He said he was a farm laborer and came from Toronto. Chief Williams stated that he was on the street last evening with one 5-cent piece exposed to view and begging for another to get a bed at the Salvation Army Hotel. He was arrested, and 40 cents was found in his pockets. The other prisoner was Jas. McKenna, an old offender, charged with being drunk.

James Harris, a drayman, was charged with breach of the law by leaving his wagon on the sidewalk on Adelaide street near the Hamilton road. He explained that this was unavoidable. He has been a drayman for fourteen years, and was never up before the police magistrate. He was discharged.

Enoch Rechnitzer, for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, was fined $1.

Mary Jane Taylor laid an information against her husband for using abusive language towards her. She failed to appear against him and the case was dismissed.

DEATH OF DR. TUFFORD.

Among the older residents of London the many friends of Dr. Charles Duncombe Tufford will regret to hear of his death, which took place at Los Angeles, Cal., where he has been practicing for several years. He was a homeopathist, and when here was in partnership with Dr. Springer, on Dundas street, for some years. Deceased was well known and highly respected. He was the eldest son of Mrs. Tufford, Paris Station, and was born near Paris. After studying medicine, he first practiced in Burford, going from there to Brantford about 30 years ago. He also spent some time in Preston, and while there started the now famous Preston Mineral Springs. The death of Dr. Tufford has closed a very useful career.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

About fifty jolly young people enjoyed a very pleasant picnic at Wonderland yesterday afternoon. The usual festivities of picnicking were participated in. Mrs. E. Noulty and Mrs. S. Powell supplied the "good things" in their usual hospitable manner. When the sun had dipped in the golden west the party boarded the electric cars and retired to the residence of Mrs. E. Noulty, 601 York street, where a most enjoyable time was spent. The songs, recitations and stories were of a most entertaining type, and when the gathering dispersed everybody wished the day had just begun.

DARING ROBBERS.

Mr. George Wrigley, formerly editor of the Farmers' Sun, and Mrs. Wrigley are away on their holidays. The residence at 130 Peter street was left in charge of the two sons, G. W. and Edward Wrigley, who are keeping bachelor's hall. Last night an entrance to the house was forced, and the intruders made sad havoc on the ground floor. The tables were upset, chairs thrown around, books taken from the library and scattered on the floor, rugs displaced, and, in fact, everything movable was thrown over. The silver was taken from the closet and hidden, and it is not yet known whether anything was stolen. Several parcels of fruit left in the kitchen were utilized as the mainstay of an early breakfast. The thieves secured crockery and set out the table in regular order.—Toronto Star.

A SUDDEN DIP.

Mr. H. T. Smith, ex-superintendent of the London Street Railway, was precipitated from a rowboat into the Thames at Springbank yesterday, but was fortunately "collared" in the nick of time by Mr. Charles Currie, who reached over the side of the boat and caught his coat collar. The accident occurred close to the river bank, and Mr. Smith was speedily assisted to terra firma. Messrs. Smith, Carr, Currie and another gentleman had been attending to the fireworks on the north side of the river, and were crossing over to the south bank about 9:30 p.m. A sudden jerk caused Mr. Smith, who was standing up, to lose his balance and take a header. He is thankful for his fortunate rescue, but the danger was not very imminent, and the whole party seemed to discover only the ridiculous in the affair, and laughed heartily when safely landed.

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claims to public confidence.

To act with common sense, according to the moment, is the best wisdom, and the best philosophy is to do one's duty, take the world as it comes, submit cheerfully to one's lot, and bless the goodness that has given so much happiness with it.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

The new central school tenders at Chatham have been let. The cost of the work will be $30,000.

Rev. J. W. Hoyt, pastor of the Baptist Church, Dresden, has resigned, to take effect on Sept. 13.

Rev. Mr. Pickering, Central Methodist Church, Woodstock, will go on a visit to the Holy Land.

A Chatham dispatch says: It has been found necessary to inclose Rev. Dr. Battisby's body, from the armpits to the waist, in plaster of paris. The reverend gentleman's injuries from his fall over the steep embankment were much more serious than at first anticipated, and recovery will be very slow.

Windsor won its case against the Windsor Gas Company for tearing up the streets without a permit, and General Manager J. T. Lynn and Foreman John Hogan were each fined $20 and costs. The company is to be allowed to go on laying its pipes until its injunction expires next Tuesday.

Judge Bell, of Chatham, has given his decision in the appeals against the assessment of the court of revision of that city. The most important was that of the Chatham Gas Company against an assessment of $30,000 on gas mains, $4,000 on income and $20,000 on plant. His Honor struck out the assessment on income, but held that the assessment on mains and plant was not excessive, and therefore dismissed the appeal of the company.

By a technicality in the law Henry W. Delaney, accused of seduction, and who has been in the Berlin jail awaiting trial, no doubt escaped a term in prison. The indictment read that he, being over 21, had seduced a female under age. The prisoner's father proved, with the aid of the family Bible, that his son was not 21 until last May, whereas the alleged crime was committed during last December. As the crown had failed to establish that the prisoner was over 21, Mr. Bowlby agreed to have the case dismissed.

Mr. Natanael Mortonson, a well-known citizen of Ishpeming, Mich., and editor Superior Posten, who, for a long time, suffered from the most excruciating pains of rheumatism, was cured, eight years ago, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, having never felt a twinge of it since.

A SCORCHER IN TEXAS.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.—Sunday was a record-breaker. The sun rose hot, and by 10 a.m. the thermometer showed 104 in the shade. At 3 p.m. it reached 108, and when the sun went down it stood at 105. Never in the history of this section has such heat been experienced. Strange to say, no fatalities were reported.

CLEVER POPKINS.

"Popkins is a clever fellow."

"What has he done now?"

"He's put a spring gun in his back yard, a burglar alarm at every window, an electric mat at each door, and a bulldog in the kitchen. It cost money, but he accomplished the purpose he aimed at."

"What was that?"

"He's got the hired girl so scared that she's afraid to stay out late at night."
