

SAUNBY AGAIN SERVES NOTICE ALLEGES WATER IS BACKED UP

Famous Case Against the Water Commissioners Which Ran From 1897 Until 1909 May Be Again Opened Up—Commissioners Are Inclined to Fight—Deny That They Are Causing Damage to Plaintiff's Mill.

The celebrated Saunby case, which involved the city in a lawsuit for about twelve years, and cost the city about $12,000, was again opened up yesterday when a notice was served on the water commissioners by Ivey & Dromgole, solicitors for Joseph Danby Saunby, to restrain the city from forcing the water back into the mill race at his mill property.

If the evil complained of is not remedied within a reasonable time, the commissioners will be brought up for contempt of court.

THE NOTICE TO THE CITY.

"In the high court of justice, between Joseph Danby Saunby, plaintiff, and the water commissioners of the city of London and the corporation of the city of London, defendants:

"Take notice that the defendants have committed, and are committing, a breach of the injunction order herein, a copy of which is hereto attached, by penning and forcing back the water of the River Thames, thereby preventing it from flowing away from the plaintiff's mill, as it otherwise would do, and causing the plaintiff damage and injury.

"On behalf of the plaintiff we hereby give you notice to forthwith cease penning and forcing back the water in manner aforesaid and see to it that repetition of it does not occur in future.

"In default of compliance with this notice our instructions are to take immediate proceedings to enforce the terms of the injunction order, and for the commitment for contempt of the order of the court of the officers and servants of the defendants responsible for the breach complained of.

"Dated at London this 3rd day of May, 1910. IVEY & DROMGOLE.

"Solicitors for the Plaintiff."

Each member of the board was furnished with a copy of the writ, and they will discuss the situation at the meeting of the board on Saturday afternoon.

NO BREACH, SAY THE COMMISSIONERS

According to the information received, the water commissioners are certain that they have committed no breach of the injunction order.

"That, in brief, was the judgment given last year by which the commissioners were not to cause the water to back up into the mill race of the plaintiff.

The Saunby people claim that the water has backed up into their property, causing them damage.

This the commissioners deny. The splash boards at Springbank are no higher than they were when the judgment was given, they say. The level of the river has not changed a particle, according to the measurements of their engineer. They also deny that the backing up injures the Saunby premises in any way.

CAUSE OF THE DIFFICULTY.

The difficulty is due, according to the engineer, to the fact that great quantities of gravel have been taken out of the river north of the Dundas street bridge.

By diverting the channel, and causing deep holes, this has had a tendency to force the water back to a considerable extent into the mill race, causing the damage complained of.

The disposition of the water commissioners is to fight the claim, feeling certain that they have lived up to the letter of the injunction. This action has already cost the city $19,575.17. It will be remembered that suit was entered in 1897, and continued until 1909. It was carried through every court in Canada, and to the Privy Council in England. The claim was for $20,000 damages, but Mr. Saunby was forced to accept $15,000 in settlement of his claim. This was more than eaten up, it is alleged, by legal and other expenses.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL ONCE AGAIN HAVE A BIG PICNIC

Board of Education Yesterday Decided to Hold an Outing in the Good Old Fashioned Way—Some Opposition to the Proposal—One Trustee Wanted to Hold a Separate Picnic for Each School.

Now for the big day of the year!

Let all the kiddies rise up, and say that this year's board of education are men of wide judgment and discretion.

No more will wild-haired poets write wild-eyed verses and set them to the music of "School Days."

No more will the red flag of anarchy be raised on the schools, and petitions signed in blood, and the trustees, there will be a school picnic this year. The board of education yesterday afternoon decided to hold the annual outing at Springbank Park on June 2.

The Picnic.

Trustee Weekes brought the question to the attention of the board, and suggested that each teacher be allowed a day off to hold a picnic with her class.

Dr. Teasdale did not favor that idea, declaring the unit to be too small. Give each school a day, he suggested. However, he did not make a motion to that effect.

Trustee Gunn favored each school being granted a day, and moved to that effect. Trustee Strong seconded the motion.

Held a "Thumper."

Trustee Graham moved that a big picnic, with all the schools, be held on June 2. He voted against a picnic last year, but had come to the conclusion that they were a good thing.

Dr. Teasdale seconded the motion. Dr. Teasdale said a grey hair until the board of education abolished the picnic," said Dr. Teasdale. "Last year I was given credit for the agitation against it, and I am sure I was far from happy. I was worried almost to death. We cannot have a picnic without a brass band. We cannot hold sixteen picnics one for each school, and have a band for each. Let us have a real picnic for once anyway."

Chairman Cunniff opposed a picnic, saying that it disorganized the schools, and had a serious effect upon the examinations.

"It is the greatest day in the lives of the children," said Trustee Graham. Inspector Edwards favored the idea, provided it were held early enough to allow the youngsters to recover before examinations.

Trustee Gunn's amendment was put to give each school a day but only Trustees Gunn, Weekes, and Strong voted for it.

Trustee Graham's motion to hold a big picnic had four ardent followers, Trustees Graham, Wyckoff, Teasdale and Balfour.

Trustee Weekes voted against it, while the other trustees did not vote.

AUSTRIAN RULER REWARDS HEROINE

Franz Josef Sends Golden Chain to Woman Who Saved
Prince Rudolph.

Vienna, May 3.—In spite of his age Emperor Franz Josef has a retentive memory. He has just sent a double chain of gold, with his initials in precious stones, to a certain Frau Catherine Winkler on the occasion of her eightieth birthday, in memory of the fact that she saved the life of the prince imperial, the ill-fated Rudolph, in 1871.

This was the way of it. On Easter Sunday of that year, Frau Catherine Winkler, proprietor of a restaurant for tourists in the valley of the Naif, in the Tyrol, near Meran, was in her home with her little 2-year-old son, when she thought she heard cries of distress from the River Naif, a madly rushing tributary of the Danube. She ran out, deposited her little boy in the middle of a field and hurried in the direction of the cries.

On the opposite bank she perceived a man and a 1-year-old boy. They were on the steep river wall, and the child was clinging to the little shrubs which grew between the stones. He seemed to press his face against the rough stone wall to avoid becoming giddy at the sight of the great gulf and glacier-fed torrent far below him. She called to them to hold on tight and at peril of her life, climbed along the slippery lower wall and finally reached the man whom she caught in her arms and helped to descend to the bank of the river. Then she did the same for the child and both found themselves safe and sound in the valley.

The prince imperial gave her all the money he had on him and made her promise to say nothing of his terrible adventure lest his parents should learn of it. She kept the secret and the affair was not divulged until 1880 when officers of the garrison of Meran erected a tablet in marble on the spot where the prince had been in danger.

Aide's Letter Rather Chilly. Accompanying the gift just made by the emperor was a letter written by Count Paar, first aide-de-camp to the emperor. It runs:

"Madame: His imperial, royal and apostolic majesty deigns on the occasion of the eightieth anniversary of birth which it has been granted you to celebrate recently in perfect health and mind, and in very gracious souvenir of the incident relating to his late serene, imperial and royal highness, the Archduke Rudolph, to whom you indicated his road with a very special obligingness in the course of an excursion, makes you a present of a chain of gold with the initials of his very august majesty in diamonds, etc."

This letter of one single paragraph is in itself a bureaucratic gem. That magnificent phrase: "To whom you indicated his road with a very special obligingness" in the course of an excursion, surely ought to be preserved. It contrasts strangely with the patriarchal stories of "our Fritz" as the emperor is called—and his simple ways, with his people. Indeed, it is reported that the emperor has since given his aide a first-class wiggling that has taken a good deal of starch out of the official.

LITERARY NOTES

The unique portrait section of the Red Book Magazine for May is devoted to the latest studies of those foremost American actresses who will preside over booths at the forthcoming Actors' Fund Fair in New York City.

The Canadian Magazine for May contains the following contributions: "The Arctic Host and Hostess," by Agnes Deans Cameron (illustrated); "The Festival of Empire," by Randolph Carlyle (illustrated); being an account of the great pageant to be held at the Crystal Palace and on the Thames River this summer; "Doctor Torrington and His Work," by Jean Blavett; "The Land for the People," by Sir Gilbert Parker; "Paul Peel and His Art," by Isabel C. Armstrong, with reproductions of some of the artist's most famous paintings; "The Great Silent Force," by Clayton M. Jones (illustrated); short stories by Frank H. Shaw, Mazo de la Roche, and St. Clair Moore; a review by Katherine Hale of the season's music, and verse by Douglas B. and Jean Graham, and Katharine Lee Bates.

"Acadian Reminiscences," the true story of Evangeline, is the title of a delightful little work from the pen of Judge Felix Voorhies, of Louisiana. The author is a near relative of Mrs. Anne Bastorache, who was the Widow Robichaux when she left Acadia, and as Evangeline was the adopted daughter of the Widow Robichaux, the facts related in this book are part of the past history of the family. The narrative is told in an interesting and engaging manner. The grandmother tells the story of the hardships experienced by the exiles in their wanderings from their desolated homes in the bleak Acadian coast to their final destination in the hospitable valley of the Teche. There is a pathetic strain throughout the story which appeals to the heart of the reader. The book is well illustrated, showing the old Evangeline Oak that still stands on the banks of the historic Teche, where the lovers met after years of separation. The Jacob News Depot Company, of Opelousas, Louisiana, are the publishers of the volume, the price of which is $1.

Theodore Roosevelt, while president of the United States, selected James B. Connolly, a noted writer of sea stories, to accompany the American fleet on its tour around the world. Mr. Connolly did not go in the capacity of reporter, but on a purely literary mission. After studying naval life at first hand, Mr. Connolly is writing a series of remarkable stories. The first of these, "The Wireless Night of Hal-Fo Bay," appeared in the April number of Hampton's Magazine. This story, teeming with action and excitement, will be followed by a number of others equally as interesting.

"Within the coming year, airships with passengers and mail may cross the ocean in one and a half to two days." This is the prophecy made by T. R. MacMechan and Carl Dienstbach, authors of "The Aerial Battleship," "Fighting in the Air," and "The Dirigible of Today." In a presentation, to be published in the May Century, of

Sale Begins at 8 o'clock. Come Early for Your Choice.

Sale TomorrowSuits, Skirts, Tourist and Short Coats

For the fourth season we have cleared this manufacturer's stock. With the maker, the season is through, and we have left them without a single garment. We expected this and laid our plans accordingly. The opportunity came just at the right time, in the middle of our season, which enables us to supply our customers, both in and out of the city, with their Suits, Skirts and Coats for summer wear at less than manufacturer's prices, and at less than we could buy these same garments for earlier in the season.

You will probably remember one or two of these sales a few seasons back, when hundreds of garments were offered, and in every case practically everything was sold in the forenoon. In this sale we have just 345 garments.

35 Ladies' $15.00 to $18.00 Suits $7.50 Each

In Suits we have less in number than the Coats and Skirts, but the values are no less. In the last clearance we had 100 Suits, and all went in the forenoon. These we consider a better lot, and only 35, so if you wish an $18.00 Suit for $7.50, when you wake up get up tomorrow morning, and come down with the 8 o'clockers and have your choice. The Suit illustrated is a sample of one of the styles in this lot. Made of serges and venetians, in navy, black and myrtle, well tailored, with moire silk collars. Made to sell for $15.00 to $18.00. Our price Thursday, each $7.50

One of Our $14.50 Coats for
$7.50
Thursday.

60 Ladies' $14.50 Tourist Coats $7.50 Each

There will not be enough of these to supply those who never thought of a new coat, but happened to see one of the natty black broadcloths or a plain or shadow stripe covert, a semi or fitted style full-length tourist in our window with the $7.50 ticket on, for anyone who has even a dream of needing a new coat will never pass these. Only 60 in the lot, and not one worth less than $14.50. Black broadcloths and plain and striped fawn coverts, semi and fitted styles. Your choice tomorrow $7.50

150 Ladies' $7.50 Coats $3.95 Each

These are splendid styles, one of which is shown in illustration. Your choice of plain or shadow-striped, fawn covert or black broadcloth, 30-inch lengths, finished with strappings of material. Can you imagine new Spring Coats, direct from the tailor within 20 cents of half price at first sight? Note the price. Your choice of 150 at each $3.95

100 Ladies' $5.00 to $6.50 Dress Skirts $2.95

Two Dollars and Ninety-Five Cents for fine twilled Worsted and Venetian Skirts, principally in navy and black, but styles are varied as the weather, one of which is shown in illustration; pleated sides, with pleats at gores. Without attempting to describe in detail such a variety as this, we might just mention that as in all other garments in this sale, the styles are all this season's designing, and correct in every detail. Sizes waist bands, 23 to 30-inch; lengths, 37 to 41-inch. Every Skirt a $5.00 to $6.50 quality. Your choice Thursday $2.95

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY THAT COMES JUST ONCE IN A SEASON, and rarely at this early date, and an opportunity every woman should take advantage of, considering you have a season's wear ahead, and reap the benefit of the substantial price savings.

This collection of 345 garments represents perhaps every worthy style feature of the present season, and we cannot imagine a single customer not being able to satisfy her taste. Out-of-town customers who cannot make it convenient to attend this sale, make your selection from above illustrations, send measurements, and your orders will be promptly attended to. As customary, purchases of $5.00 and over delivered free within 200 miles of London, by express or mail.

The Prices Are: Skirts, $2.95; Coats, $3.95; Tourist

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

COLDSTREAM.—My neighbor draws his refuse, tin cans, stove pipes, etc., every spring and dumps them by the side of the road in front of my place. This has been done now for three years. Said neighbor lives a mile or so away. Is there a way of stopping this, and how? Answer.—Prosecute him under the criminal code for committing a public nuisance. If the bylaws of the municipality do not provide a more summary process.

CAIRO.—A being a ratepayer in the municipality was travelling on the road in the winter, and got his team down in the deep snow and had one horse cut so badly that the chances are that it will always be lame, and had to hire a horse to work in its place this spring. Can a hold the township liable for damage, and to what extent, as a will have to buy another horse to fill the place of the lame one? If he has a claim against the township how long has he to make it? Answer.—Every public road shall be kept in repair by the corporation which in default is responsible for damages sustained, but the action must be brought within three months, and notice of the accident must be given in writing to the head or to his clerk of the corporation within 30 days, but the court may dispense with such notice if the defendants have not been prejudiced in their defence. You had better consult a lawyer upon full particulars.

EARL GREY.

The House of Commons yesterday adopted an address of appreciation of Earl Grey. Glowing eulogies were pronounced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden. These compliments are normally tendered every retiring governor-general, but in this case they are not merely conventional. The praise was as well-deserved as it was sincere. The whole Canadian people subscribe to the sentiments expressed, accepting the little knot of Nationalists who have objected to some of his opinions on Imperial questions.

Sir Wilfrid summed up the services of Earl Grey by remarking that under his wise and generous guidance the arts, letters and sciences have received an impetus. The London Daily Mail's extravagant assertion that "Earl Grey's robust Imperial enthusiasm has been a precious influence in Canada," shows a mistaken conception of the nature and duties of the office of governor-general, which Lord Grey, to his credit, has not shared. He has been too sensible to pose as a propagandist. As one who has learned to understand Canadians, he has taken their robust Imperialism for granted. If he has been a force in the country it has been in the direction indicated by the Premier. He has typified the highest culture of the old land, and presented the example of a benevolent and high-minded gentleman, with no affectation of superiority, and no patronizing airs. He leaves these shores with the goodwill of the Dominion.

LICENSE REDUCTION.

More than two hundred licenses in Ontario were cancelled on May 1 as the result of voting in January under the local option act. Opponents of the liquor who are disposed to complain of the progress of their cause may find comfort in a retrospective glance. In 1875 there were 6,185 tavern and shop licenses, for a population of 1,750,000. Today there are fewer than 2,000 licenses for a population of 2,250,000. There has been an average reduction of 120 licenses per year for 35 years. The changes in some counties and cities have been very marked, as follows:

	1875.	1910.
Toronto.....	553	171
Hamilton.....	171	83
Peterborough.....	222	83

These figures include tavern, shop, wholesale and vessel licenses, but do not include club licenses or licenses to liquor manufacturers. There are no vessel licenses issued now, and the total number of licensed clubs in the Province is less than 50.

THE DAUGHTER NATIONS AND THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

The House of Lords is today the representative and champion of privileges and abuses which have been foreign to this country for two generations. The secularization of the clergy reserves and the abolition of seigniorial tenure swept away the remnants of an order, of which some features survive in the mother country through the political power of the landed aristocracy, entrenched in the hereditary chamber. Canadians can as consistently pray for the revival of the family compact as for the perpetuation of the present status of the House of Lords. Yet Canadian newspapers and politicians do applaud the present system and side with its defenders against the democratic parties in Great Britain and against the very principle of responsible government. It is not easy to understand their motive, but the inference is that the spirit of flunkiness which supported arbitrary and personal rule in this country in other days is not yet dead. Nothing, for example, could be more remote from true Canadian sentiment than this comment by the Toronto News on the political situation in Great Britain:

"It is proposed that Britain, alone, amongst the great nations of the world, shall be governed by a single chamber. It is proposed that a country which has vital interests in every corner of the earth shall accept a system of government which not even one of the great British colonies has been willing to adopt, and shall submit absolutely and under all circumstances to the unchecked dictation of party. Besides, to a House of Lords so feeble and so impotent as that which would remain with the veto abolished, no man of character or distinction could be persuaded to go."

This is irrelevant in more than one respect. Mr. Asquith's anti-veto resolutions do not aim at creating single chamber government. No member of the Ministry, except, perhaps, Mr. Burns, favors a unicameral system. The power of delaying legislation for two years, which is conceded to the House of Lords under the proposed reform, would be a great and real one. As explained by Mr. Asquith it would mean that only bills sent up to the House during the first two years of a five-year parliament, when the House of Commons would be fresh from the country with a mandate, could be given statutory effect against the will of the House of Lords.

The reference of the News to the second chambers of the colonies is equally inapplicable. There is no second chamber in the colonies analogous to the House of Lords. In Australia the Senate is elective. In Canada the Senate has only once in 40 years thrown out a measure sent up by the House of Commons. The framers of the new South African constitution have taken care that the second chamber shall be a subordinate chamber. In New Zealand the principle of life appointments to the legislative council was abolished in 1891, so as to bring the upper chamber into conformity with the popular house, of which it is now merely an echo. For all practical purposes the daughter nations of the empire have submitted themselves "absolutely and under all circumstances to the unchecked dictation of party." They are not alarmed by this development. They merely marvel that people of Great Britain should consent to submit themselves to the dictation of an irresponsible second chamber, chosen almost exclusively from a small class.

The community of sentiment in the empire will best be strengthened by bringing the system in the mother country into harmony with the representative institutions of the daughter nations. The House of Lords in its present condition is an offence to the democracy of the whole empire.

Canada shall not quarrel with it. It is the correct and self-respecting attitude.

The issue of the Contemporary Review has been recalled, because of an attack upon King Edward for permitting the budget to become law. The party that makes the loudest profession of loyalty is the loudest in its denunciation of established authority when it cannot have its way. The incident reminds one of the mobbing of the King's representative in Canada by the "loyalists" of that day.

AN IMMENSE BOON.

[Montreal Herald.]
The Lemieux industrial disputes investigation act has now been in force for three years, and an impartial review of its work during that period will convince candid and fair-minded persons that it has been an immense boon to the country in the saving of a vast amount of money that would have been spent in industrial strife in averting serious losses arising from the dislocation of industry and in preventing much suffering among the working classes.

JOE CATCHING ON.

[Ottawa Citizen.]
Our own Joe Martin is becoming thoroughly Anglicized. Instead of telling his troubles to a policeman, he now writes to the Times.

A WORKING SESSION.

[Montreal Star.]
As prorogation approaches, Parliament is transacting business with a feverish haste which bespeaks the anxiety of each member for his own hearth. This is usual. But not usual has been the working zeal of the members ever since the session opened in November last. It has been the most workaday session of many years.

THIS GOODLY LAND.

[Dutton Advance.]
Although many Ontario farmers are going west, yet the value of farm lands is increasing. A prominent resident, who is well acquainted with the conditions in West Elgin and elsewhere, states that lands have increased at least 10 per cent in value over last season, and that the end is not yet. With the exceedingly bright outlook and the high prices realized for everything the farmer has to sell, the demand for farms is very active, while many who have been considering to go west have concluded to remain in the province of fulfillment.

THE MAIDEN'S DREAM.

[Chicago.]
My bonnet spreads over the ocean,
My bonnet spreads over the sea;
To merely spread over the sidewalk
Is not enough for me.

FISHING FOR COMPLIMENTS.

[Cleveland Leader.]
Barber—How does the razor work?
Victim—Why, I wouldn't know I was being shaved.
Barber—Thank you, sir.
Victim—You see, it's more like being fayed alive.

MR. SMITH'S NUMBER.

[Punch.]
"Does Mr. Smith live here?"
"No, sir."
"Does he live on this street?"
"Yes, sir."
"Do you know his number?"
"No, sir; but you'll see it on his door."

QUITE CLEAR.

[Harper's Weekly.]
"I always used to wonder," said Willoughby, "what the ornithological reason was for there being no birds in last year's nests, but now it is clear as a pie." "How do you account for it?" queried Jiggers.
"Why, look at the women's hats," said Willoughby.

IS IT AS BAD AS THAT?

[Ottawa Journal.]
Congratulations to Major Beattie, M.P., upon his escape—narrow as it was—from the Cornwall hotel fire. But, after all, a man who goes successfully through a London city council election ought to be both fire proof and bomb proof.

CANADA'S PAST.

[Toronto Star.]
As Sir Richard Cartwright's memory goes back over forty-seven years of public life, the dominant idea in his mind is the part that Canada might play in conjunction with the United Kingdom and the United States, in bringing about world-wide peace. It seems to be an ambitious role for a young nation. Yet the ambition is not of the kind that overleaps itself. Canada is related to the United Kingdom politically and by the strongest ties of sentiment. It is related to the United States by geography, by language, by numerous business and social connections. Canada is, therefore, the natural link between the two other members of the league which Sir Richard Cartwright has in view.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

[Hamilton Times.]
Canadian industry has nearly reached that point at which two jobs seek one man. In many lines the problem of obtaining a supply of labor is likely to become pressing. Unfortunately too few of our own boys have qualified by apprenticeship to take the best jobs offering, and employers are looking elsewhere. That is something to be regretted.

CANADA'S GOOD CREDIT.

[Brandon Branch.]
Nothing could be more satisfactory or promising, from the point of view of national development, than the assured position which Canada has attained in the world, which, on the testimony of eminent financiers, has a practically inexhaustible supply of capital for investment abroad.

AN EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY.

[Victoria Colonist.]
The deposits in the Canadian banks increased at the rate of upwards of a million dollars a day during March. Truly this country has "got a move on itself."

YOUTH.

[Henry Newhall.]
His song of dawn outsoars the joyful bird,
Swift on the weary road his footfall comes;
The dusty air that by his stride is stirred
Beats with a buoyant march of fairy drums.
"Awake, O Earth! Thine ancient slumber break;
To the new day, O slumberous Earth, awake!"
Yet long ago that merry march began,
His feet are older than the path they tread;
His music is the morning song of man,
His stride the stride of all the valiant dead;
His youngest hopes are memories, and his eyes
Deep with the old, old dream that never dies.

THE LIMIT OF STANDPATISM.

[Springfield Republican.]
That St. Louis tariff speech from Vice-President Sherman was about the limit in the way of standpatism. He talks of the need rather of revision upward than revision downward. Some $250,000,000 of manufactures and materials for manufactures are now coming into the country annually, which could "undoubtedly have been made in this country," and "to that extent American production has been displaced and at least $250,000,000 of Americans' wages paid to foreign laborers." Yet Mr. Sherman had previously stated that "all our artisans and mechanics are busy." Where, then, is the labor which has been displaced by those unnecessary imports? The answer is easy, but it will probably be blind to the vice-president. No labor has been displaced. It has been engaged in producing the products which were exported to pay for the $250,000,000 of goods imported.

and work for the betterment of the tuberculosis poor of the city. In this the tuberculosis citizens generally will take a proportionate part in coming to their aid.

MONEYED AMERICANS FLOCKING INTO WEST

Returned Londoner Tells of Booming Condition in the Prairie Provinces.
"Fifty-five Americans in two days brought in $250,000 in cash, besides household effects and the like through one part of entry in the west this spring."
The above statement was made by Mr. Harry E. Buttrey, who has just returned from a trip through the western part of Canada.
These figures were attested, and given out by Mr. J. Bruce Walker, immigration officer at North Portal, where these Americans crossed over. This happened on April 1 and 2 of this year. On the next day, the first American to register had $22,000 in cash on him. These farmers are bona fide settlers, and have come to Canada to take up land and live here. I merely mention these facts to show what a great hold the west has on the Americans.
"It will mean millions of dollars to this country in the next year or two. In addition there are thousands of settlers coming from other countries. This country has a great future, and it is looking better all the time. Everything looks well in the west, and they are looking for a great harvest."

SOUTHWOLD CHILD DROWNED IN CISTERN

St. Thomas, May 4.—A two-year-old son of William Rice, near Southwold Station, was drowned in the cistern near the house.
Missing the child, the mother found him floating near the top of the water, and pulled him out, but life was extinct.

Bar and Bottle Bill.
Boston, May 3.—The so-called bar and bottle bill became a law at 10 a.m. today, when Governor Draper entered his signature to the measure which prohibits the sale of liquor by the glass and by the bottle over the same bar.
Although it becomes immediately operative the effect of the bill will not be felt until a year from this time, as in all liquor selling communities in the state the licenses are dated May 1.

A LIFE'S DEVOTION

"No," she said, "he is no worse—I have not seen him yet; I understand he is better, if anything." Then she stood for a second hesitatingly. He was looking at her with a half-smile, infinitely tender, wholly assuring. What a hypocrite he was!

"I haven't been kissed for hours," he said. She choked, her heart seemed literary to stab her by its forced beating—but she controlled it with an effort. Then, without a reply, she turned and went from the room.

"Oh, it's too much; it's too much," she sobbed in the corridor. "I can't—I can't! I won't be a hypocrite, too—dear God! what must I do?" She forced her lagging feet to carry her to the nursery; she entered and made at once to the bedside. Mervyn was quiet; even as she stood there, thinking dully of the exultant night past, wondering if it had not been better that she had died outright before her eyes read her husband's secret. Dr. Gibbs came into the nursery in an unwashed condition. But he made no apology for his appearance; his first thought was for the child.

"He's holding his own," he said after a critical examination. "Your husband was with him until full daylight—he forced me to lie down. Said a man who'd lost as many nights' sleep as I had done, owed it to himself and his patients to rest. At day-break the child was so much quieter that I told Scroggs he must take rest himself—I sat down in the outer room and gave instructions to be called at once. I'm certain we're going to win. Lady Marion. We've got everything on our side now the collapse is over. Dashed plucky—er—excuse me!—extremely courageous on Scroggs' part, administering that restorative. Yes, he's saved your child for you."

Marion sat down limply, her hands idle in her lap. What should she do? If a life had been taken a life had been given. Would it not be better to know no word of this matter—to let it lie dormant in her mind? Time enough for that when the child was thoroughly out of danger. No; she would not speak. She would bear this cross in silence; but she felt that the last vestige of love for her husband had gone from her in an agony of suffering and misery.

Scroggs scratched his head thoughtfully as his wife said this. "Now, who's come over Marion?" he cogitated. "Of course, I know—she's a bit unbalanced. No wonder, poor darling. Still, it isn't like her to go out without a single word of affection. I know I'm unreasonable and all the rest of it; but hang it all, trouble like this ought to draw us closer together instead of shoving us further apart."

Marion thought and thought; no light would come. At one moment she rose to her feet, impelled by a desire to know the truth, no matter what it might be. Could it be that her husband was shielding another man? Could it be that the impossible had happened, and that two men possessed of similar pistols? But no, such a thought was ridiculous. In a sudden wave the whole of the past came to her—she remembered the quarrel that had taken place between Ebenezer and her father—the story of the servant; then she sat up alertly. Of course, Ebenezer would have everything to gain by her father's death.

Scroggs tubbed and dressed; ate a satisfactory breakfast, though the hour was late; and finally, satisfied that all was well in the nursery, drove down in person to meet the nurse. Once they were installed in possession of the sick room, Ebenezer insisted on his wife taking further rest. Rest! Marion could have laughed at that. In person only for the separation to her on this side of the grave, she said. Scroggs noticed the strangeness of her manner—he went towards her and held out his arms.

"Come, my dear," he said, "comradely, don't shirk back. Nay, she covered her face with her fingers and gave a shrill cry. "Don't touch me!" she said fiercely. "I know everything now—you are stained with my father's blood. I've found out the truth—you killed my father!"

CHAPTER XXXII.

Loved Turned to Hate.

There, it was out at last. She had meant to keep silence; she had promised herself that the secret should be locked in her own breast; but she had not taken into account that swift impetuosity that had always characterized her. The die was cast—the truth was told; and it remained only for the separation to be made complete. She heard an inarticulate cry from her husband. Summoning up all her courage—and she had never been a coward—she drew away her hand and looked at him. His face was blanched—an unmistakable sign of guilt, she said. His hands were trembling—well, if not trembling, at least clenching and unclenching rapidly, as they hung at his sides. This was not the attitude of an innocent man. He ought to have darted forward and clasped her in his arms; ought to have stormed at her for her accusation; ought to have convinced her by sheer strength of will that he was innocent. Marion knew very little of men—beyond her own husband she knew practically nothing. She had never seen the male human being in any great crisis, except once, the night before, and then—well, that did not count.

With some undercurrent of vicious anger that was almost vulgar she determined to make him writhe in shame before her. He was almost unmoved by her accusation; then he should be moved—he should have every damning fact hurled into his understanding. She would let him know that she knew the whole truth; she would tell it to him; and then—let him clear himself if he could. He had lied to her; he had lied to the dishonor as men loathe an evil plague.

"Yes, I know everything," she said stormily. "You forgot last night in your haste that there was something else beside a phial of medicine in the secret drawer of your desk. I found it—the pistol with which my father was murdered. In your desk—yours. The inference is perfectly obvious, you murdered my father—you bastard! You shot that helpless, old man as if he were a dog. You, you—the brute that has tied me to him with bonds that are stronger than steel. You, the father of my child, the man I thought I loved—you murdered my father, because he was in your way. You had no thought of the sin and shame you were bringing on me; all you thought of was your own selfish passion. With my father's life you could never hope to possess me, so you took the shortest way out of the difficulty. Oh, I loathe you! You hypocrite! You, a murderer, a base, dishonorable, cowardly monster, and I am your wife! Worse than that, you are the father of my son. It is unbearable, unbearable. I wish I had died last night before this hideous truth became known to me. Can't you say something—can't you confess? Don't try to hide your sin behind a tissue of lies; the truth must out. You have blinded me long enough. Now I see you as you are, with the veil torn from my eyes, and everything as clear as day. Oh! the damning evidence!"

He said nothing; only he looked at her like a man transfixed. Unable to control herself, unable to read the expression of his face, she named it for consciousness of detection, and naming it, lashed herself to an ungovernable frenzy.

"You have nothing to say?" she shrieked. "You stand dumfounded at my having discovered the truth! Yes, yes, I have discovered it. And now—now that you know I know—we must act." "And you believe this thing of mine?" he asked her slowly. "You have found some evidence; you at once jump to the conclusion that I am the guilty man. A woman who loved her husband would have given him the benefit of the doubt. She would never have hurled such a statement at a man who was all unprepared to receive it."

"Yes, yes—I loved you. You beg the question—you quibble. You were always so plausible, so hypocritical, with a lie ever on your lips. I know you now. I've lived in a fool's paradise long enough. But now the walls are down, and I am ready to speak the truth, whatever lies you might concoct. I thrust this on you without warning, did I? And what of that? An innocent man would have needed no warning!"

She was like a raving fury by this. Scroggs, confounded by her tirade, did not recognize her for the gentle, loving woman of the past. But he tried to reason the matter out. She was overcome with the suspense of watching—her nerves were all on edge. It must be the raving of semi-delirium; surely it would be possible to give her some answer that would assuage the flood of vindictiveness and show her matters in a clearer light. Words trembled on his lips, and then he drew himself up with a quick catch of the breath. What of that view of his, taken solemnly in the past. She could believe this of him; and it would not have the same shattering effect on her that—that—

"Listen to me," he began, forcing himself to be calm. "You are overwrought, your nerves are not under control." Never had he been at a greater loss for words. He could not give vent to his thoughts—he stammered, stumbled, horrified at the white anger of Marion's face. "I will listen to you for one moment and on that moment rests everything. Is that the pistol with which my father was killed?"

PLAYTIME STORIES

FAIRY BELLS.

A long time ago some of the elfin messengers went on a strike. Yes, a really strike. They elected Spiritely Wing to carry this message to the queen:

Most Beautiful Highness: We, your elfin messengers, have decided to go on strike. We just won't go and wake up all the trees, flowers, and birds in the spring, and then have to wait till the sun gets warm before we can hit the hoptoads, beetles and the rest unless we are paid more money.

ELVES. The queen frowned, saying to Spiritely Wing: "You are lazy. No more money shall you get, and never again will you be allowed to call my name. Another way shall be found. Go!"

Now, being greatly perplexed, she called Most High Gardener to her and begged his aid.

"Let me see," said he, scratching his head. "Can't I grow some flowers that will in reality be tiny bells? There are still some magic seeds which were given me by Autumn & Sons."

He planted the seeds, but, lo! some grew up blue flowers that wanted to grow in the woods, the others white bells that wanted to live near people and in the gardens.

"The white ones are so fragrant and tiny we will call them Lilies of the Valley," said the delighted queen. "The others shall be Blue Bells. Every spring if these blossoms they will ring at midnight, waking the hoptoads, beetles and friends."

Thus came to grow these tiny bells.

Economize Work—Keep Cool

[By Cynthia Grey.]

Life in the home is made up in a great measure of things that when we housewives adopt methods of economizing time and trouble in doing these tasks, it means a tremendous saving in a year.

It is clearly the woman's duty when the days of summer approach to lighten her domestic labors as much as possible in order that she may enjoy the open-air pleasures, and so store up strength and health for the comparatively shut-in winter days.

One-piece house dresses of white polka-dotted calico or lawn are nice, because they are cool, easily laundered, do not fade and are always becoming.

We wear dingy old gingham aprons just because we have them. Why don't we make our aprons from the cheapest grade of bleached muslin, instead? They are fadeless, always look neat, even when a little soiled, and are easily washed, dried and folded. Many are easily doubled for the comparatively shut-in winter days.

To keep the house cool and clean in the easiest way, we should have bare floors, small rugs which are easily shaken, and simple muslin draperies. Many are easily doubled for the comparatively shut-in winter days.

The lower curtains are fastened to the sash, and so raise with the window, leaving the entire space for air to enter.

Heavyweight sheetings with wide hems all around make dainty bedspreads. They are light and easily laundered. The kitchen floor may be scrubbed with an ordinary scrub brush fastened to a mopstick, so that one need not get down on hands and knees. Surplus water can be taken up with cloth in another mopstick. A wise housekeeper I know keeps a paper over the catch-all pan under the burners of the gas stove, and changes it often. That's easier than scouring the pans.

On the sill she keeps a small pot of growing parsley, and she always has green onion hands to flavor soup and to decorate the meat platter.

In the cool of the morning, she bakes a few individual custards and sets them away to cool for the evening meal, and junky tarts, kept on hand for a quick and easily prepared dessert. Hot spicy puddings and indigestible pies, she says, are not tempting in summer time.

She boils sugar and water together until rich syrup is formed. When cool, she adds juice of lemons and bottles the syrup. She sets it in ice-chest to be ready for a thirsty family or unexpected guest. It keeps indefinitely.

She always has a few cans of salmon on hand or cold meat of some kind. And salad "makings," also.

As we were saying, she would always have a comfortable corner on our porches where we could rest and cool off to our heart's content, when the day's work is done. If we have a 10-cent can of cool-looking green paint and use it on those easy old chairs most of us have stored away in the attic, they would be just the thing for the porch "cosy."

The hair should be shampooed every two weeks, a cool sponge bath should be taken daily, and a hot one twice a week; we ought to eat plenty of fruit and green vegetables, wear white stockings while at home about the work to save our feet, and be cool, comfortable and good-natured the whole summer through.

A girl makes a superb nurse. She is kind and has infinite patience. Moreover, she does not get excited, and obeys the physician as a soldier does superior orders. "He" never often cause the breaking down of women in civilized countries do not affect her.

COOKING RECIPES

Lamb Stew.

Get the neck and have it cut in pieces. Season with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown in frying pan with drippings and a sliced half of onion. Add a tablespoonful of flour and a pint or more of boiling water and simmer until the meat is so tender that the bones slip out. Remove from the kettle, bone and put the meat in a bowl. Strain the sauce and return to the kettle for the dumplings. To make them, mix together two cups flour, a teaspoonful and a half of baking powder, a level teaspoonful of salt and a cup of milk. When the liquid is boiling drop the dumplings into it from the point of a tablespoon, cover the kettle closely and cook twenty minutes, being careful that they do not burn. Put the meat in the centre of a hot platter, arrange the dumplings about it and pour the sauce, to which a cupful of hot strained tomato has been added, over all.

Moisten a cupful of cornmeal with boiling water, add one-half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of sugar, one cupful of maple syrup, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of seeded raisins, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon and nutmeg mixed, and bake slowly for three hours. Serve with cream.

Maple Pie. Line a tin with nice crust and fill with a custard made of one cupful of thick maple syrup, the juice and grated rind of one lemon, one egg, one teaspoonful of flour. Cover the top when done with a meringue made of the white of an egg beaten stiff, with a tablespoonful of powdered maple sugar, and brown slightly.

Dandelions and Bacon. While the dandelion in the front lawn or crowding cultivated crops out of their proper place is a perennial nuisance, its food and medicinal value are both well recognized. When cultivated and blanched by covering by earthen pots, the dandelion is quite as attractive for a salad as the very expensive imported endive, possessing the same appetizing faintly bitter taste. In early spring the ordinary sun-faded wild dandelion comes a closer second to the cultivated one, and may be had for the picking. As a pot herb, the young dandelion cannot be excelled, whether cooked alone with sorrel or with bacon. Later the leaves become bitter and must either be boiled in two waters or given up.

Clean carefully leaf by leaf half a peck of dandelions. Let stand in a pan of cold water, after draining, for an hour or longer. Put into a saucepan, cover with boiling lightly salted water, and cook ten minutes. Drain in a colander and return to the saucepan, with a pound or less of bacon, two onions sliced, a teaspoonful of salt and pepper to season. Pour on fresh boiling water to cover, put on the saucepan lid and cook until tender and nearly dry. Pile in the centre of a hot dish, slice the bacon and lay in a circle around the dandelions. Serve with boiled potatoes.

BOOM CANADIAN TRADE London, May 4. — Admiral Lord Charles Bessford has now taken up the matter of instructing the British merchants how to market their wares in Canada. He has become an exponent of practically in business and has sought to indelibly impress the English merchant that he must take that course if he would be successful in trade with his Canadian cousin across the water. His lordship bases much of his text book advice for his publishing pamphlet, which bears the title of "British Trade With Canada," upon the results of his personal observations. When he last year opened the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Great Possibilities. "During my visit to the Dominion," asserts the distinguished instructor, "many facts came to my notice which impressed me strongly with the conviction that the time is ripe for increasing trade with the old country, and that the possibilities of Canadian trade are immense. Traders of all classes were most desirous of buying British goods, and were hoping that a preferential tariff of 33-1-3 per cent in our favor would result in increased British and Canadian trade."

"Secure the services of a first-class resident commercial traveller, one with an A-1 connection and experience," is the first rule laid down by the admiral. "He must know what is required by the Canadian people respecting the class of goods that he would recommend. Having ascertained what the Canadian people want, he must convey necessary particulars to British manufacturers. He should be paid a good salary, or a salary and a commission. This traveller should make an effort to get directly in contact with customers, as well as with merchants and agents."

Other proposals advanced by the admiral recommend no delay in shipping and quick delivery. Every large British manufacturer should have an individual representative in Canada.

French lights are the best along the shores, say the navigators. They are posted low, close to the water line, and so do not mislead like the Italian pharos perched high above the sea. They have the best lenses, and are always visible.

A lift which will convey visitors to the base of the dome is to be inaugurated at St. Peter's in Rome.

ELKINS HEADED OFF. Washington, May 3.—Heading off a motion by Senator Elkins to lay on the table his amendment to the traffic agreement provision of the railroad bill, Senator Cummins withdrew his amendment today. Mr. Elkins then withdrew the Crawford-Elkins amendment and Senator Clay presented his amendment to strike out the entire provision. It will be adopted.

UNCLE SAM GUESSING ON TARIFF MATTERS

Washington Has Idea That Reciprocity Arrangement Would Raise Embargo On Pulp-wood.

Washington, May 4.—With the near approach of the adjournment of the Canadian Parliament, interest is revived here in the situation as to wood-pulp and pulpwood. The intimation from Quebec, that the Canadian Government very likely would be willing to enter into a reciprocity arrangement with the United States which might involve the removal by the provinces of the prohibition against the exportation of pulpwood in consideration of favors by the United States in the way of lower duties on print paper, and the free entry of mechanically ground pulpwood, occasioned no surprise here.

From the time of the visit to Washington, last March, of the Canadian Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding, the United States Government has understood that such an arrangement would be welcomed by the Dominion, and the intimation was then made that the proposals contained in the Mann bill, introduced in Congress last December, probably would be satisfactory. This bill reduced the duty on print paper from $3.75 to $2 per ton, and placed woodpulp on the free list.

Owing to the attention of Congress being directed to other important matters, urged by the President, the question of the modification of the tariff as to pulpwood will probably not come up this session.

It is understood by the state department that the Canadian Government has practically assented to the proposal for a reciprocity treaty and that the matter will be taken up after the adjournment of Parliament.

Even under the Canadian law, as it stood prior to the order-in-council of the Province of Quebec, prohibiting the exportation of pulpwood, the prices of print paper had been increasing steadily and under the new order a new increase is expected.

LONDONERS CHEER COMMANDER PEARY

North Pole Hero Most Heartily Welcomed by British Metropolis.

London, May 3.—London is making much of Commander Peary. Interest in his visit is not confined to social circles, but is general. Today a great crowd in the streets adjacent to the home of the Royal Society, where he was entertained at luncheon, awaited the arrival of the explorer and gave him a hearty reception. Entering the clubhouse he was received with a noisy demonstration of welcome by the distinguished party of scientists and explorers. When a few minutes later Captain Robert Bartlett, commander of the Arctic steamer Roosevelt, arrived, the excitement was again renewed.

Lord Halsbury, president of the club, presided, with Commander Peary seated at his right. Capt. Scott, the leader of the British Antarctic expedition, was at the head of the lower table, with Capt. Bartlett, at the place of honor. Sir George Nares, one of the oldest surviving Arctic explorers, was among the notable guests, others being: Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada; Lord Roberts, Sir George Reid, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sir Hiram Maxim, Dr. Scott Keltie, secretary of the Royal Geographical Society, many explorers, travellers and naval officers. The United States embassy was represented by Secretary William Phillips and Commander Edward Sampson, naval attaché.

Toasts to King Edward, President Taft and Commander Peary were drunk.

The speakers, in addition to Lord Halsbury and Commander Peary, included Major Leonard Darwin, president of the Royal Geographical Society, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and Sir Hubert von Herkomer, the artist.

BURGARS AT DELHI.

Delhi, May 4.—Burglars again visited this town last night, this time entering the post office. Entrance was gained by breaking out a large glass at the back of the building. The safe was unlocked and the burglars secured $150 in cash, $30 in stamps, and about $400 in postal notes.

BUILD FIFTY MILES THEN GET SUBSIDY

Alberta Railway Commission at Winnipeg Yesterday.

Winnipeg, Man., May 4.—The Alberta waterways and railway commission resumed yesterday, with W. A. Faulkner still on the stand. Mr. Johnston, examining. On Nov. 9, 1906 Mr. Faulkner said he wrote to A. Hawes, saying he had secured through Senator Foy a charter, and as the attorney-general's department had been instrumental in getting it the charter looked good.

The witness said he meant Mr. Biggar, of the law firm, of which Attorney-General Cross was a member, and not really the attorney-general's department. It was always intended to form a construction company if the witness was built. Mr. Cornwall did not understand the financial end, the only ones who did so were Hawes, Minto and himself. Eventually negotiations proceeded so far with the Athabasca river that Cornwall obtained a letter from Premier Rutherford, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Cornwall arranged that Rutherford, Cross and J. R. Boyle were to go to Ottawa in an effort to obtain a cash subsidy. Sir Wilfrid replied that as the river was a colonization one, 50 miles should be built before they could hope for a subsidy.

SOUTH SEA ISLES SWEEP BY CYCLONE

Sydney, N. S. W., May 4.—The islands of the Loyalty Group were devastated by a cyclone at the end of March, news of which has just reached here. Plantations were demolished and many of the inhabitants are homeless and without food. Supplies on the way from Noumea, the capital of New Caledonia.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Walsingham Centre, May 3.—During an electric storm yesterday evening lightning struck and instantly killed Joseph Harris, aged 17, as he was driving his horses to the barn on the Reynolds' farm, third concession, South Walsingham. Deceased was son of Silas Harris and a brother of James Harris, both farmers of South Walsingham.

CHOQUETTE'S TERMS

Wants Naval Bill Withdrawn If He Wins Test Vote.

Ottawa, May 3.—Senator Choquette in the Upper House today stated the terms upon which he would resign his seat and contest a Quebec constituency on the naval issue. First, that he should get a fair constituency; second, that he should return to the Senate if defeated, and third, that the Government should withdraw its naval bill next session if terms are successful.

AN UNUSUAL ACTION

Physicians Sued by Man Whom They Sent to Asylum.

Ottawa, May 4.—A writ in an unusual action was issued yesterday in the high court, Ottawa, by F. B. Proctor, in behalf of W. A. McIntosh, of Apple Hill, in Glengarry County, against Dr. Robb, Avonmore, and Dr. McMillan, Appleton. The plaintiff alleges that he was passed upon as a lunatic by these physicians and placed in the Brockville asylum, being released after he was about a week or more in the asylum. He contends that he was perfectly sane, and that it was due to the negligence and carelessness of the defendants as medical practitioners that he was placed in the asylum.

GREYTOWN BLOCKADED.

Washington, May 3.—Senator Salvador Carrillo, representative here of the Estrada Provisional Government in Nicaragua, acting under cable instructions from Minister General Rivera today advised the state department that the insurgents forces had established a blockade of the port of San Juan, del Norte, or Greytown. The blockading force consists of four ships, three ocean-going tugs equipped as gunboats and a fourth larger vessel armed with rapid firing guns. It is not unlikely that this is the rebel fleet.

Among Central Americans here it is generally asserted that the rebels are now better equipped to carry on the war than they were at the outset.

New York, May 3.—The Shuberts have announced that two more circuits of theatres have declared for the open door policy, thereby severing their connection with the Klaw & Erlanger agency. The two circuits are the "Copper and Iron" circuit of Michigan and Wisconsin, and the theatres in Winnipeg, Grand Forks and other cities of the Northwestern States.

BURGARS AT DELHI.

Miss Ella Muriel Wood, of Brownsville, Ont., says: "Two years ago I was going into a decline. I could hardly drag myself across the floor, I could not sweep the carpet. If I went for a drive, I had to lie down when I came back; if I went for a mile on my wheel I was too weak to lift it through the gateway, and last time I came in from having a spin I dropped utterly helpless from fatigue. My father would give me no peace until I secured PSYCHIE, knowing it was excellent for decline or weakness. I must say the results are wonderful and people remarked my improvement. Instead of a little, pale, hollow-cheeked, listless, melancholy girl, I am to-day full of life, ready for a sleigh-ride, a skating match, or an evening party with anyone, and a few months ago I could not struggle to church, 40 rods from my home. I have never had the slightest cause to fear any return of the disease."

AN UNKNOWN MAN CUT TO PIECES

Waterloo, May 3.—An unknown man was killed on the Elmira branch of the Grand Trunk about this evening. He was very badly cut up and is unrecognizable. He was apparently a young man, and was dressed in blue overalls. The engineer of the train saw what he thought was a bundle of rags lying across the track and was unable to stop the train when he noticed his mistake.

KING BUYS A TOMB

Austrian Emperor To Be Buried in Vault Built in Cellar.

Vienna, May 3.—Though hale and hearty, and keenly enjoying the prospect of celebrating his eightieth birthday in August, Emperor Franz Josef has made arrangements lately for his demise.

Beneath the Capuchin Church in this city is an historic vault, containing the remains of all the members of the royal family for two centuries. But it was crowded, so the emperor decided to make more room before he had to join the departed.

Next door to the vault was the wine cellar of the Capuchin monastery. A part of that big chamber has been acquired by the aged monarch and out of it two magnificent vaults have been constructed. Their walls are lined with pure white marble. One will be reserved for Franz Josef and his immediate relatives. The larger chamber will serve as the resting place for more distant connections of the royal house.

SULTAN FLEES CARE

Turkish Ruler Takes Vacation Where Yachtsmen Gather.

Vienna, May 3.—Fatigued by his state cares, sluggish Sultan Mahmud has betaken himself to Ismid, in Asia Minor, for a rest, according to news from Constantinople.

It is a place of mean attractions, but the Turkish ruler can give himself greater liberties there than at home and enjoy a fuller portion of peace and quietude. His personal attendants say he needs this relaxation badly, for the visits of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and King Peter of Serbia taxed both his patience and his strength.

Near by is the Armenian village of Barcheg, with an American mission building and the chief of the Sultan's outtings is a beautiful little place called Delmendere, set in deep cherry orchards. Close by lives Ahmed Rous Bey, one of the Turkish revolution leaders, now withdrawn to horticultural pursuits, far from the varying currents of political life.

American yachting men are seeing more of the Sultan than usual during this holidaying, for the Gulf of Ismid is a favorite resort for Anglo-Saxons fond of sailing and just now the weather is tempting them to pursue their pastime with zest, under royal encouragement.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER WEDS.

Lincoln, Neb., May 3.—Lieutenant Reginald Owen, of the British army, and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of Wm. J. Bryan, were married today at Mr. Bryan's home, Fairview. The strictest secrecy was maintained, the announcement not being made for several hours until after the bridal couple had departed.

W. H. Leavitt, who is Mrs. Owen's divorced husband, had threatened, it was reported, to prevent the marriage unless his former wife surrendered their two small children to him. He was in Toledo, Ohio, today and there said he had decided not to interfere with the marriage.

MARY'S FREAKY FLIGHT.

New York, May 3.—Miss Mary Freda, who lives at Hamlet Station, Long Island, was tossed into the water from a fast-moving train on the Long Island Railroad as it rounded a curve on a trestle over Jamaica Bay, today. She was caught by the oncoming tide and carried more than 100 yards, and then rescued without having received a scratch.

Miss Freda was passing from one car to another, when the train swayed on the curve. She was flung from the platform. A man dived through the blinding fog into the water. He called out, and the girl answered him. Guided by her cries, he swam about until he found her, clinging to an old pile. He seized her by the shoulder and struck out. It was impossible to see land because of the fog, but he guided his movements by the tide until his feet struck bottom.

HIS NOTE RETURNED.

Lima, Peru, May 3.—Note of resignation which the Peruvian minister to the Argentine Republic, E. de la Riva Agero, presented to the Government, has been returned to him by the council, because of the alleged disrespectful terms. In resigning the minister said that the direction of foreign affairs in Peru had been characterized by many mistakes during the past nineteen months.

A FIREMEN'S FUND.

Hamilton, Ont., May 2.—The fire, police and jail committee tonight decided to recommend to the city council the establishment of a benefit fund for the firemen and a contribution towards it of $500 annually. Chief Ten Eyck brought up the matter.

YAPT BLAMES INSURGENTS.

Cincinnati, May 3.—Although his visit "home" today was largely of a serious character, President Taft could not altogether avoid politics. The President read with the keenest interest today the dispatches from Washington dealing with the critical situation in which the administration railroad bill had been placed.

The President would make no comment for publication regarding the attitude of the insurgents in the Senate.

The Bicycle that "doesn't eat its head off" in repair bills is the one for you.

You can buy a Bicycle at almost any price you care to pay, but what's the use? Half the time a cheap wheel is in the repair shop, and when you come to figure it out it's a pretty expensive investment after all. Nor have you enjoyed the comfort of wheeling as it is possible to do today with a good wheel.

PERFECT BICYCLE

The Good Wheel

Hygienic Cushion Frame. Sills Handle Bars. Hercules Coaster Brak.

PERFECT

The PERFECT sells at a price that covers the making of a thoroughly honest wheel. It is fully guaranteed. The PERFECT is equipped with the very latest of the new inventions that have done so much to make wheeling comfortably pleasant. The PERFECT is greater today than it was years ago, and then it was considered the best.

THE HYGIENIC CUSHION FRAME—If there is one invention more than another in the bicycle line that has helped to popularize wheeling, it's the Hygienic Cushion Frame. "Makes all roads smooth," is the slogan that carried it to popularity, and it has lived up to the advance notice. The Cushion Frame gives "Pullman Comfort" to bicycling.

A TREAT IN STORE
FOR SARNIA CITIZENSHerbert Booth to Lecture There
—Death of Mrs. Sparks.

SARNIA REPRESENTATIVE—Mr. Geo. H. Hughes, 111 Charlotte street, Toronto 242.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, May 4.—Herbert Booth, the youngest son of Gen. Booth, is to deliver his lecture on "The Early Christian Church," illustrated by a hundred views, and 1,200 feet of moving pictures, tomorrow evening, May 5, in the Central Methodist Church. It is generally recognized that a rare treat is in store for those who attend this lecture, and a large attendance is expected.

Death of Mrs. J. W. Sparks. After many weeks of severe suffering, which she bore with great fortitude, death came as a happy release to Mrs. Sparks, wife of Mrs. Joseph W. Sparks, at the family home, 239 Davis street, yesterday. The deceased was in her 75th year, and is survived by her husband, Harry, of Battle Creek, Mich., and Byron, at home; also two daughters, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Roseville, Sask., and Pearl, at home. To the bereaved husband and family is extended the sincere sympathy of their many friends. The funeral will be held to Lakeview Cemetery at 3 p.m. tomorrow, services at the home at 2:30.

There will be no meeting of the Parker Street Epworth League tomorrow night.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Church will be held in the parish hall, Devine street, this evening. Election of officers.

Mr. J. E. Proctor, district passenger agent of the C. P. R., at Brandon, and wife, are the guests of Mr. Proctor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Proctor.

Bank Officials Transferred. Howard Morrison, of the Hamilton branch of the Traders' Bank, has been transferred to Sarnia, and will act as accountant in place of James K. Atkinson, who goes to Bishop, Alberta, where he will open a new branch of the bank.

During the months of May, June, July and August, the local dentists will observe Wednesday as a half-holiday.

EX ST. MARY'S CITIZEN
DIES IN CHICAGOFuneral Marked by Numerous
Tokens of Esteem—Boy's Bad Accident.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Mary's, May 3.—Leslie, the little 4-year-old son of Walter Leslie, Water street south, met with a painful accident on Saturday afternoon. He was playing with some other lads, who had a small box with a high box on it, each giving the other rides in the box, when the Leslie boy was accidentally dumped out on the gravel bottom of the C. P. R. stock yard, and sustained a bad fracture of his left arm at the elbow. The Leslie lad, while suffering much pain, is doing as well as can be expected.

Thomas Bunt, a farmer residing in Downie, just north of the G. T. R. junction, and who has been an invalid for years through rheumatism, and a complication of diseases, died on Saturday night. He was a son-in-law of Mrs. Ferris Wellington. Besides a widow, there survive two daughters, Shirley and Della May.

Wm. R. Willis, a former resident of St. Mary's, died in Chicago on April 13. Deceased was brother of Mrs. Richardson Skinner, corner of Wellington and Park streets, and had been in ill-health for some time. He was here during the early spring, and had returned home just seven days before his death took place. Deceased was in the employ of the Rush Commission Company of Chicago. His funeral took place on April 17 at Chicago, and was conducted under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of that city, who attended in a body sixty strong, and of which deceased was a member. Rev. Mr. Hickson, a Methodist minister of Chicago, officiated at the house and grave. Interment took place at Mount Hope Cemetery, Chicago. The floral offerings, which were very beautiful, were as follows: From the family, a pillow; sheaf of roses from Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Spry; from his niece, Miss Eva Skinner; sheaf of American Beauty roses from A. E. Elmer, president of the Rush Commission Company; spray of white carnations from Miss Nellie Billows; spray of carnations from Ben Howard; sheaf of carnations from Miss Plattner; wreath from Mrs. Richter and mother; large

FAMILY FOOD

Crisp, Toothsome and Requires No
Cooking.

A little boy down in N. C. asked his mother to write an account of how Grape-Nuts food had helped their family.

She says Grape-Nuts was first brought to her attention in Charlotte, where she visited.

"While I was there I used the food regularly. I gained about 15 pounds and felt so well that when I returned home I began using Grape-Nuts in the family regularly.

"My little 18-months-old baby shortly after being weaned was very ill with dyspepsia and colic. She was sick nine weeks and we tried everything. She became so emaciated that it was painful to handle her and we thought we were going to lose her. One day a happy thought urged me to try Grape-Nuts soaked in a little warm milk.

"Well, it worked like a charm and she began taking it regularly and improvement set in at once. She is now getting well and round and fat as fast as possible, and on Grape-Nuts.

"Some time ago several of the family were stricken with la grippe at the same time, and during the worst stages we could not relish anything in the shape of food but Grape-Nuts and oranges, everything else nauseating us.

"We all appreciate what your famous food has done for our family."

sheaf of pink roses from employees of Rush Commission Company; bouquet from Mrs. Barley; wreath from the Engleheart Council; emblem from the Masonic Crescent Lodge. Similar tokens of high esteem were also in evidence from near friends of the family. A widow and three children survive, also three sisters and two brothers.

The bell which the Daughters of the Empire are presenting to the town has arrived and is now stored at the C. P. R. freight house. It bears the following inscription on its sides in raised letters: "Directed by Carroll Chapter, Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, 1910. Originally cast 1891; recast April 1910."

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Willis are the guests of Mrs. Willis' parents, Mayor J. and Mrs. Willard.

INTERESTING BUDGET
OF AYLMER NEWSDeath of John Spence—A. Y.
P. A.—Valuable Horse Killed —Council Proceedings.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Aylmer, May 4.—The death occurred yesterday morning of one of the most respected residents of this place in the person of John Spence, after a long illness. Deceased, who was in his 71st year, was a farmer, but for the past few years had lived a retired life in this town. He was a member of the Aylmer Church, and also an enthusiastic member of the Aylmer Bowling Club. He leaves a widow, one brother, George, of Calton, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Rockey, of Springfield. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 2 p.m., interment in the Aylmer Cemetery.

William Anderson has resigned his position with Frank McGinnis, of this place, and leaves on Monday for Council Bluffs, Iowa, where a good situation awaits him.

S. Bradshaw has sold a fine team of horses to Mr. Blakeley, of Lambeth, for $350.

The A. Y. P. A. held their closing meeting Monday night, when there was a large turnout in spite of the unfavorable weather. W. W. Rutherford gave an excellent reading, and A. Ray gave a vocal solo. The other members on the programme were well received.

Benjamin Mitts met with a bad accident recently, when a load of earth pressed over his ankle, breaking it and badly crushing his foot.

Mrs. A. Miller is in South Middleton today attending the funeral of Mrs. Fred Hough.

Miller and son were in Ingersoll this week, where they sold the Miss M. Pierson farm to J. Hanson, of Brantford. They also sold Martin Kidd's property on Pine street, Aylmer, to R. H. Trim, of the Brown House. They assisted Mr. S. Pothole in selling the south half of lot 16, con. 12, South Dorchester, to W. H. King. These sales amount to about $9,000.

Elgin Clark met with a serious loss on Sunday morning. He had just unhitched his horse, when he became frightened and dashed around the barn, running into a barbed wire fence and breaking his neck. Mr. Clark had raised $300 for the horse a few days ago.

Township Council Matters. The town council met Monday night, and with the exception of Charles Tintin, the members were all present. Bylaws 748 and 749 respecting the sale of the watering cart on Talbot street, from east to west, inside the corporation limits, and on John street, were carried. The ratemakers are to pay for the above service according to frontage.

Bylaw 750, to borrow $10,000 from the Trust Bank, for four months, at 5 per cent interest, was passed.

The reports of the different committees were read and adopted, and many accounts were recommended to be paid.

The account of the Stratford Bridge Company for work done on the Myrtle street bridge, will be held until Engineer Bell, of St. Thomas, certifies to the bridge having been built according to specifications.

Dr. D. T. Augustine addressed the council, stating that the roof of his building had been badly damaged by the explosion last fall, and asked the council to grant him $50 to make the necessary repairs. Reference to the water and light commissioners.

It was moved by Wright, seconded by Summers, that the fire company be granted the land for May 24, and the use of the town hall on the evening of that date.

Jas. Peters, night watchman, asked for an increase in salary. Referred to No. 1 committee.

Harry Goostrey was instructed to look after the washout near James Bay residence caused by the gully box being stopped up.

Township Council. The township council met on Monday, all the members except Wm. H. who is ill, being present. Little business of importance was transacted. Accounts amounting to $378.62 were paid. This amount included $500 balance of defendant's costs, Leslie vs. Township of Malahide. The ratemakers will not doubt be pleased to learn that everything in connection with this lawsuit has been settled, and the costs, which amounted to $1,750, have been paid. Leslie sued the township for $5,000 and received judgment for $47.50.

TILLSONBURG. [Special to The Advertiser.] Tillsonburg, May 3.—Mr. W. A. Jones, of Stratfordville spent Monday here on business.

W. S. Law was a Courtland visitor this week.

Mrs. Brady has returned from a visit in Woodstock.

William Barrett, of St. Thomas, was a Tillsonburg visitor on Monday.

Austin Winters, of Springfield, spent Monday here on business.

Dr. Welford, of Woodstock, was a Tillsonburg visitor on Saturday.

F. M. Wright spent Saturday in Ingersoll, where he was opening another business college, similar to the one which he conducted here.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock have moved to Ingersoll, where Mr. Woodcock will have charge of the Ingersoll branch of the F. M. Wright school.

P. J. Barker is spending a few days in Toronto on business.

Stanley Stoner, of St. Thomas, was the guest of his mother on Sunday.

Mrs. J. Hearn is spending a few days in Hamilton.

Joseph James, of Detroit, spent Sunday with his family here. He intends moving to that city at an early date.

Mrs. Johnston, of Port Burwell, spent Saturday with friends in this

PILLS.CURE
SICK
HEAD

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as indigestion, nausea, drowsiness, distress after eating, pain in the side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cure ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint, but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these Little Pills valuable in many ways that they will not be willing to do without. About 100,000,000 bottles have been sold.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not grip or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ad Parker left on Monday for Brantford, where they will reside in the future.

MAPLETON NEWS. [Special to The Advertiser.] Mapleton, May 2.—Mr. George Thompson, who has been attending the London Medical College, is spending his holidays at his home here.

The next meeting of the Women's Institute will be held on Thursday afternoon, May 5, at the residence of Mrs. Roy Charlton. The election of officers for the coming year will be held and a good literary programme will be provided.

Mrs. Mary Putnam, of Yarmouth, Centre, has been the guest of her brother, Mr. John H. Charlton.

The weekly meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Church of Christ was held on Friday evening.

The topic was "Christ, Our King," which was ably discussed by Messrs. Warrle Brown and George McCauley. Misses Clara Wismer and Stella Warwick sang a duet.

BRUCEFIELD. [Special to The Advertiser.] Brucefield, May 2.—On Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, the Dixon House here closed its bar for at least three years owing to the result of local option contest held in the township of Tuckerburgh in January. Brucefield, therefore, for better or for worse, must go "dry."

The annual spring stock show was held here on Friday afternoon, and proved a success. The weather during the early morning was very disagreeable, but this did not prevent competitors from bringing their stock to the village. When the hour for the judging to begin had arrived, sunshine between Talbot and large numbers witnessed one of the most successful and up-to-date fairs ever held in Brucefield.

The first football match in the intermediate series of the W. P. A. in this district will take place in the near future between Brucefield and Strathroy. The local Rovers are now

Amendments to the Criminal Code Pointed Out.

Ottawa, May 2.—Mainly through the efforts of Senator Coffey, Senator Belcourt's measure to amend the criminal code so as to restrict the work of American labor organizers in the Dominion, was withdrawn today. In opening his speech on the subject, the senator from London read letters from the Typographical and Plumbers' unions of the Forest City, protesting against the bill.

Senator Coffey said that the measure was a lineal descendant of one introduced a few years ago by Senator McMillen. It pretended to preserve liberty of action for British subjects denied to others, but to him the bill possessed all the qualities of a dangerous explosive.

The ostensible purpose was, he said, to give British subjects in Canada a wide field of action, but those amongst us who may have sworn fealty to the American republic were handicapped by it. It was true that in the minds of many senators there was belief that emigrants came from the United States for the purpose of sowing seeds of discord. It was true that there might come to Canada from across the border undesirable citizens, but it was equally true that there was reciprocity in this matter. He did not deny that in this it would be well to have adequate protection, but feared that there would be malcontents, as long as human nature is what it is.

Control of Capital.
The bill was a blow at international unionism, though he did not doubt its promoter had the best motives. Senator Belcourt sought to be an angel of peace. If the bill became law the result would be quite the opposite.

It would aggravate differences between capital and labor. In the controversy between these the impartial observer will ever see the fault is never wholly on one side. Detestable conditions may be formulated by workers and detestable demands made by capital. Even the casual should be treated as it was found, simple justice being dealt out to all parties. He was glad to say that Canada had machinery for this purpose, which was regarded with equal interest by the working world and the employing world.

Senator Coffey said that never to his knowledge had the American branch of international unionism sought to promote strikes in Canada. On the contrary, international officers sought to avoid strikes and only sanctioned them as a last resort. He instanced the case of the job printers of Toronto about a year ago. Delegates of international unions were peace-makers, not strikers. The trouble between miners and mine owners in Nova Scotia was quoted as justification for Senator Belcourt's bill. But if all that was said about these miners was true, would that single case justify legislation to break the relations of all other Canadian unions with the international bodies with which they were affiliated? There was too much recrimination. Capital blamed labor, and labor blamed capital for the prevailing unrest, but it was notable that movements for the control of organized capital were more tardy than those for the control of organized labor.

Evidence that capital often needs guidance to the path of rectitude was provided daily in the news of the world, which noted the formation of mergers, combines and trusts. They should be given as heroic treatment as was given to the workers in the shops. In conclusion, he said that he heartily desired peaceful adjustment of differences between capital and labor, but to get these the subject must be approached with a kindly spirit. Capitalists must meet their workers on a common platform as man to man, as free and independent Canadians. The workmen must meet their employers with consideration for their interests. He moved the six months' hoist.

Senator Poirier seconded the motion, declaring that the bill of Senator Belcourt was to the disadvantage of Canadian workmen, and would therefore be to the injury of Canada.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said he thought it was time that some action was taken to prevent Yankee interference coming into Canada and causing trouble for both workmen and their employers, as was conspicuously the case in the Nova Scotia coal fields.

Senator Belcourt said that he was not opposed to unions, but in fact favored them, and agreed that capital needed as much or more legislative control as did labor. At the same time he believed his bill would be for the benefit of the Canadian unions, and

Every Meal Brought Agony
But Since Taking "Little Digesters" He Can Eat Heartily

From Osgoode Station, Ont., comes a story of five years of suffering from Indigestion and Dyspepsia—five years of doctoring in vain—then "Little Digesters" and a complete cure. Mr. R. H. Ralph tells the story—his own story—thus:

"I have been a sufferer from Indigestion and Stomach Trouble for five years. I had treatment from several doctors. I did not find a cure until I began using 'Little Digesters.'"

"I can hardly describe how much I suffered at times. Every meal brought with it more or less agony and I seemed to have a complete distaste for food. I had almost begun to think my case incurable when I came across an advertisement in the papers about 'Little Digesters.' I decided to give them a trial. I am very thankful that I did so for I had not been taking them long when I found them helping me. I can now eat heartily and no longer feel pain and discomfort after eating."

Does Indigestion and Dyspepsia make your life miserable? Take "Little Digesters"—they will cure you or your money will be refunded.

WEST MIDDLESEX DEANERY MET IN HYDE PARK

Interesting Addresses Delivered and Important Business Disposed Of.

The West Middlesex deanery met yesterday in Hyde Park. Rev. Rural Dean Robinson, of Strathroy, presided, and the morning was taken up with the celebration of communion service at 10:30. The sermon was delivered by Dean Robinson.

The feature of the afternoon service was a paper on the "Epistle of St. Jude," by Prof. Jenkins, the discussion following being taken by Rev. G. B. Sage and Canon Hague.

There was little business before the deanery committee, which met after the communion service in the morning. Arrangements will be made with the executive committee of the diocese, it possible, to have an afternoon service at Melbourne in the Muncy Mission instead of in the evening, as at present.

An excellent meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the diocese was also held. Addresses were given by two of the officers, Mrs. (Dr.) Sage and Mrs. Faulds, both of London.

Evening Session.
The evening session was taken up with two addresses and a paper on "Young People's Societies," by Rev. H. R. Dehl, of Adelaide. The addresses were by Rev. E. W. Hughes, on his work among the Indians and by Rev. Principal Walker, of Huron College, on "Exiles of the Rochester Students' Volunteer Movement."

Votes of thanks were tendered Rev. H. H. Tancock and the ladies of Hyde Park for their hospitality, which they showed by throwing open their church and serving luncheon and tea.

Delegates were present from Strathroy, Ilderton, Lucan, Byron, Parkhill, Granville and Delaware.

ALBANIANS STILL HOLD THE PASS

Salonica, May 3.—The trouble in Albania is not over by any means, and the task of Shekiet Pasha, the Turkish war minister, who is commander-in-chief of the forces in the disturbed region, is not ended. A force of 20,000 Albanians is still in possession of Tchernolova Pass.

There are persistent reports that the Turkish troops are massacring Albanian women and children.

A FORMER SARNIA GIRL IN ELOPEMENT

Sarnia, May 4.—Word has been received here of the elopement of Miss Jeanie Crosby, formerly of Sarnia, with her father's chauffeur, Perry Hayworth, at Tulsa, Okla. The girl's father was formerly in straitened circumstances here, but after several years in South America amassed a fortune and removed his family to the Oklahoma city, where he is president of a banking institution.

COMMITTEE REPORT ST. LAWRENCE BILL

Ottawa, May 3.—The private bills committee this morning accepted the amendments of the Senate to the St. Lawrence power transmission bill, and the bill was reported.

GRAND TRUNK OFFERS TWO SCHOLARSHIPS

Montreal, May 3.—The management of the Grand Trunk Railway issued a circular today offering to its employees or their sons, three competitive free scholarships in the applied science faculty of McGill, covering a term of four years, commencing in June this year.

FATAL TROLLEY WRECK

Two Men Killed and Nine Injured in Accident in Ohio.

Springfield, Ohio, May 4.—Two men were killed and nine persons severely injured late last night in a wreck on the Ohio Electric Railroad, near Urbana.

W. H. Ferguson, a motorman, and M. N. Roark, of this city, were killed when a freight car broke away from a trolley express car and plunged down a steep grade into a passenger car. The injured include two women.

A DE LESSEPS DUEL

Son of the Famous Count Mixed Up in Harmless Affair.

Paris, May 3.—Count Ismael de Lesseps, son of Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, and an officer of a cavalry regiment, fought a duel with Count Just De Poligny today in the Parle des Princes. The bout followed a quarrel at the circuits, where during an argument, blows were struck.

As Count de Poligny is lame, the seconds called a halt to the duel after the first round of sword play, substituting pistols for the swords. Six shots were then exchanged, but neither was hit. The two antagonists left the field without a reconciliation having been effected.

DR. LYLE STEPS OUT

But Will Remain Pastor Emeritus of Church at Hamilton.

St. Catharines, May 3.—At the meeting of the Presbytery this afternoon, the resignation of Rev. Dr. Lyle, of Central Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, was accepted.

A delegation from the church addressed the Presbytery and expressed their regret at losing Dr. Lyle, but stated that, considering his long years of faithful service, they thought it best not to oppose his resignation.

Dr. Lyle is to be pastor emeritus of the church, with a stipend of $1,100.

NO SURRENDER OF FISCAL INDEPENDENCE

Minister of Customs Shows That Mr. Borden's Fears Are Without Foundation.

Ottawa, May 3.—The debate on the tariff arrangement with the United States was begun by Mr. E. Borden when the finance minister moved the ways and means motion today.

Declaring that in five years the Canadian-United States trade went against Canada to a total of four hundred and fifty-two millions, Mr. Borden said: "If there is any discrimination at all it is not on the side of Canada." The trade balance against Canada for the same period in respect to Great Britain was less than two hundred and seventeen millions.

The Fielding concessions, Mr. Borden regarded as "of no moment compared with the maintenance of good tariff relations," but "how will it be possible at any time to deal with these items in our tariff without the consent of the United States? How can we deal with our tariff as a whole unless the Government is prepared to invite the opinion of the United States Government in that regard?"

"The United States would," said Mr. Borden, "have just as much right to demand concessions if Canada entered into treaties with Germany or Italy as they had in respect to the French treaty."

Mr. Borden urged the Government to make no tariff that would prevent Canada maintaining her own industries, her own fiscal independence, and her own right to enter into a system of mutual trade preferences within the empire.

The minister of customs answered for the Government.

Mr. Borden had argued that accepting the Government view of the French treaty, the Government of the United States would not have been justified in imposing the surtax. Mr. Paterson replied that it was not a case of putting the surtax on, but of taking it off.

To show how good a bargain Canada had made Mr. Paterson figured out the loss in revenue due to the concessions at $132,814. Surtax of 25 per cent on the $43,072,000 of dutiable goods sent into the United States last year would amount to $10,768,000.

NEW YORK BAKERS IN SERIOUS RIOT

One Man Stabbed, Many Mauled and Hundreds of Loaves Taken From Wagons.

New York, May 4.—Rioting continued in the bakers' strike. One strike-breaker has been stabbed, several severely mauled, and hundreds of loaves of bread tossed from wagons into the street, but no fatalities. Both sides, employers and strikers, maintain an air of confidence, and conflicting statements of the status of affairs were issued. The strikers say that six thousand men are out, and most of the big bakeries, including those in the larger hotels, are seriously crippled. The employers, on the other hand, insist that they are only temporarily handicapped and will quickly fill all vacancies. Many hotels, however, are getting bread from neighboring cities. The bakery which supplies Columbia University, ran short of supplies and hungry students were limited to one slice of bread for breakfast this morning.

A squad of strike-breakers has arrived from Philadelphia.

The Dutton Case.

The celebrated Dutton case was next taken up. This was an appeal from R. S. McMillan for the action of the session of Knox Church, Dutton, in unjustly suspending him as an elder and asking reinstatement. Mr. McMillan was heard at length in support of his appeal, while Rev. Jas. Malcolm and Mr. Law represented the session. This matter elicited considerable discussion, and it was finally decided that a judicial committee be appointed to visit Dutton and consider the whole case carefully and recommend a finding. Mr. Jelly moved for a dismissal of the appeal but Dr. McCrae's motion was carried by a small majority. The committee is as follows: Rev. Jas. Rollins, J. Currie, Dr. Ross, Dr. McRae, Rev. J. G. Inkster, Rev. J. G. Stuart, Rev. A. Henderson, Thos. Alexander, Jas. Weir, Wm. Munro.

The Finances.

Rev. J. G. Inkster brought up his overture on the financial affairs of the church. The overture was worded as follows:

"Whereas it is generally believed that the scarcity of candidates for the ministry is due in part at least to inadequate and uncertain support;

"Whereas the payment of ministers and missionaries in augmented charges and home mission fields is, under our present system, causing a good deal of criticism;

"Be it resolved that we, the Presbytery of London, do overture the general assembly to appoint a committee to make exhaustive inquiry into the whole financial system of our church with a view to making such changes as they, in their wisdom, may deem advisable, and report to the assembly at their earliest convenience."

The overture was adopted, and Mr. Inkster was delegated to support it before the assembly.

Presbytery adjourned. The next meeting will be held in Port Stanley on June 21 at 10 a.m.

INTO LIGNITE LAND

Party of Geologists and Surveyors To Make Thorough Investigation.

Toronto, May 3.—A party of expert geologists, geologists and mining men will start from North Bay next week to thoroughly explore the lignite deposits found in New Ontario on the Meragami River, 90 miles north and 20 miles west of Cochrane. They go as representing the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and will be thoroughly equipped. Several shafts will be sunk to depth and the tests will be exhaustive.

Western Division of the Society in Annual Convention at Toronto.

Toronto, May 4.—In some respects this meeting may be considered the most important in the history of our society," said Mrs. Shortreed, president of the Western Division of the Presbyterian Church in Canada (western division), in the course of her address at the opening session of the 34th annual meeting of the society yesterday afternoon. Referring to the tentative constitution, which has been before the society for the past year, and which will be one of the most important matters to come up at the present convention, the president said they were called upon, owing to the growth and spread of the population, to give consideration to changes which might very materially affect the present plan of carrying on their work.

Another matter, the president said, which must be considered, was the placing of the general literature department on a more satisfactory basis than at present, the expense of printing and management being much

CRIES OF "FIRE" AT DEAD OF NIGHT

Mr. J. L. Johnson, of Princess Avenue, Tells of the Awful Holocaust at Cornwall.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Ran to Back of Hotel, Kicked Out a Window, and Gained the Ground Over the Roof of a Shed.

"If I had awakened five minutes later than I did I would never have found my way out of that hotel. As it is, I probably owe my life to the fact that I was a light sleeper, and awakened as soon as there was any noise."

Mr. J. L. Johnson, of Princess avenue, who had a remarkably close call from losing his life in the fire which destroyed the Rossmore House at Cornwall last Friday, made the above statement to The Advertiser last night shortly after his arrival home.

"I was fortunate right through," he continued. "I arrived in Montreal early in the week, and after completing my business there went to the depot, intending to take the 7:30 evening train for Cornwall."

"A Fortunate Circumstance."

"I could not find my order book, and after looking through my grips, decided to go back to the hotel and see if I had left it there. I found that I had the book with me all right and left for Cornwall on the 10:30 train and arrived there at 12:30."

"This was a fortunate circumstance, as I would almost certainly have had a room on the second or third floors had I come in earlier in the evening. As the head of the given room No. 12 at it was I went to the room and went to bed as soon as possible."

"I remember hearing the clock strike 1 o'clock when I was awakened by someone in the hall saying 'fire.'"

"I thought at first it might be a fire somewhere down the street, and did not pay a great deal of attention."

"A moment later I again heard the call of 'fire,' and jumped out of bed and made for the door. There was a smoke in my room when I got up, but as I opened the door the hall was filled with smoke. There were two men there."

"They were dressed, but I could not tell who they were."

"One of them went down the hall, and I followed him to the door of one of the front bedrooms."

"Smoke Was Dense."

"By the time the smoke was pouring through the hall in dense clouds, and was so thick that when we reached the stairway we decided not to go down for fear of being overcome."

"I could see no fire, but the smoke was stifling."

"The three of us hurried back through the hall the way we had come, and finally came to one of the rear windows."

"One of the men kicked the sash out, and helped me out, and we climbed down over the kitchen and went into a yard and ran out around to the front of the hotel."

"Raging in Office."

"The fire was raging in the office in the front part of the hotel, but there was none to be seen any place else, and the smoke was going up in clouds."

"I saw Major Beattie sitting on a stone, trying to pull on his trousers."

"He looked up and said, 'My God, this is you, Johnson.'"

"I seemed awfully good to see him just about that time. I did not think it so soon enough, but I am certain now that if we had picked up some of the stones that lay about in the road in abundance and thrown them up to the third-story window where the fire was, the bank clerks also."

"One man, I remember, came to a window with a little girl. Another man stood under and held her safely to the street, and slid down a rope himself and got out safely."

"A Terrible Fire."

"I never saw a fire burn so quickly. It seemed only a few minutes before the whole place was a furnace, and the second floor fell in."

"It seemed like half an hour before the volunteer fire brigade came, all escape with me from the first floor sent in an alarm as soon as he got to the front of the hotel, where there was an alarm box."

"I could not get to work at last, but could not get away from the stores on either side. It was useless for the men to attempt to save lives after they arrived, as the place was a mass of flames."

"Not Hospitable."

Mr. Johnson states that the citizens of Cornwall did not show much hospitality to the guests who escaped in their night clothes.

"A man gave him an old overcoat, but he had to stand around shivering until nearly 7 o'clock in the morning before he could get to a store and buy some of the clothes and other articles of clothing."

"Major Beattie, who took an early train, had to go all the way to Ottawa without any shoes."

"Lost Everything."

"As it happened, I lost everything," said Mr. Johnson. "Had I thought at first when I was coming away from the room, I could easily have secured my grips and clothes. I didn't think of that at the time, and when a few minutes later we were going away to the rear, the smoke was so blinding that it was impossible to see anything, and I could not find my room. It was a good thing we got out when we did, or we would never have come out alive."

"A Close Call."

"I shake yet," he said, "when I think about it. I had a close call from falling last summer, but I certainly don't want to go back to that hotel fire, or fires of any other kind."

"I remember hearing the clock strike 1 o'clock when I was awakened by someone in the hall saying 'fire.'"

"I thought at first it might be a fire somewhere down the street, and did not pay a great deal of attention."

"A moment later I again heard the call of 'fire,' and jumped out of bed and made for the door. There was a smoke in my room when I got up, but as I opened the door the hall was filled with smoke. There were two men there."

"They were dressed, but I could not tell who they were."

"One of them went down the hall, and I followed him to the door of one of the front bedrooms."

"PEEPING TOM" HAD A GOOD LESSON

Adam B. Wilson, of West London, Was Allowed to Go by the Magistrate.

Adam B. Wilson, of West London, who was arrested a week ago for peeping in windows of West London homes late at night, appeared before Magistrate Love this morning, and was bound over in the sum of $100 to keep the peace, and be of good behavior for one year.

"You have been in jail for a week," said the court, "and that, I think, is sufficient punishment."

John Connor, a drunk, was remanded to jail for a week, as the magistrate thinks he has been imbibing altogether too freely of late for his own good.

Ed. Perrin, a young man who gave the age as 28, and his home from Toronto, was arrested for being drunk last night. He was allowed to go as a first-timer.

COMMISSION TO WATCH PUBLIC UTILITIES

Quebec, May 4.—At the meeting of the newly-created public utilities commission, the chairman, Sir George Macdonald, made a statement as to the objects of the new body. These will be to look after the operation of all public utilities, receive complaints and see that the laws as to such utilities are observed. The powers of the former committee of railways have been transferred to the public utilities commission, and consequently railway rates will be required now to report all accidents on their lines to the new body. There will be no appeal from the commission's decisions, except on points of law, when an appeal may be taken to the court of appeals.

STARTLING STATISTICS.

Referring to the fact that the Grand Trunk Pacific is now bringing large numbers of settlers into the west, the chairman, Sir George Macdonald, said that the number of French-Canadians from the east and thousands of Americans from the south—a high official of the Grand Trunk recently stated that the development of the west was proceeding with such gigantic strides as not to be fully appreciated by the Canadian people themselves.

"Take these figures, for instance," said the official, "which the Grand Trunk has compiled and distributed over Great Britain and Europe, and you will see what I refer to."

"In 1907 the total wheat acreage was 1,061,207."

"In 1908 it was 5,678,999 acres, an increase of 529."

"In 1907 the total yield was 71,574,402 bushels."

"In 1908 the yield was 147,482,000, an increase of 106.1 per cent."

"The total yield in oats in 1907 was 74,713,561 bushels, while in 1908 it was 185,439,000, an increase of 148.2 per cent."

There is the summary of all grains: In 1907, 165,474,412 bushels; in 1908 it was 364,279,000, an increase of 120.1 per cent.

A record which beats the world. "No other record of advance could be shown by any other country in the world," said the official.

"With wheat at $1 per bushel, oats at 35 cents, and barley at 52 cents, the millions of dollars actually brought into Western Canada can be easily computed."

"The Grand Trunk Pacific goes right through the heart of the wheat belt. The people who have brought Trunk Pacific have already brought in have grown wonderful crops of first-class wheat, and got the money for it in their pockets."

French-Canadians for the West.

"You have seen that we are bringing French-Canadians to the west, as well as the American farmers, each with at least $1,000, not to speak of cattle and other belongings. All this is new blood, untouched until the Grand Trunk Pacific went in."

"What about the alleged danger of the Americans Americanizing the Northwest?"

"I don't think we need trouble about that. The Americans are much like ourselves. They have the same tongue. They have been obeying the same laws, only the laws are better carried out in Canada than in the United States. They will understand the advantages of order and regularity more readily than other nationalities."

"Of course, they will have admiration and love for their own country, which is natural, but they will make the best of citizens."

"During last year 100,000 Americans crossed the border and entered the Dominion as permanent settlers," Montreal Standard, April 16, 1910.

A Great Milling Industry.

Up to the present Montreal has regarded herself as being the headquarters of the milling industry in Canada. In financial and commercial circles there is a good deal of comment being heard regarding the incorporation of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, with head offices in Toronto, and flour mills scattered throughout Ontario and Manitoba. Even the most ardent admirers of the Lake of the Woods and Ogishie Milling Companies acknowledge that the Maple Leaf Milling Company will prove a competitor from the very outset, owing to the location of their mills, and their ability to lay down flour in European ports cheaper than any other company can do. The future developments of the company will be watched with keen interest.

BUILDING BOOMING IN THE DOMINION

Honors for the Month of March Fell Again to the West.

LONDON DID VERY WELL

Operations in the East as a Whole Were Fairly Brisk — A Loss Is Noted in Toronto.

The avalanche of building work prophesied for 1910 is giving strong signs of materialization. Returns for March indicate that the country in general is in the swirl of increasing activities, and that operations in all sections are being carried out on a stupendous scale, both in point of investment and in the volume of work undertaken. Permits issued in twenty representative cities reporting to Construction total $3,857,737, against $4,750,710 in the corresponding period of last year. This is an advance over the preceding month of $5,122,260, and an average gain over the month of March, 1909, of 87 per cent. By far the outstanding feature of the situation is the decided "upturn" in evidence on every hand, and the unusually high totals attained in almost every instance. Only three cities in the list, in fact, met with reversals, viz., Toronto, Windsor and Halifax, the loss in each case being 5 per cent, 32 per cent, and 39 per cent, respectively.

West Forges Ahead.

Again the honors for the month fell to the west, where the strides taken in every particular were most gratifying indeed. Calgary, with a gain of 83 per cent, registers the highest increase noted; Saskatoon, the second highest increase (75 per cent); while Winnipeg over-reached the field both in amount recorded in the volume of work undertaken, having issued permits aggregating in value $2,526,350, as against $861,200 for the corresponding month of last year. This remarkable total is not only the highest ever recorded in the Dominion, but practically double that noted for the month in any other city, and is extremely doubtful if any place on the continent of similar size has ever displayed more marked activity.

Extraordinary advances were also made in all other centres. Vancouver netted a gain of 126 per cent, representing over a million dollars more in new buildings than was undertaken in the same month of last year. Regina piled up an increase of 53 per cent; Edmonton gained 47 per cent; Victoria advanced 301 per cent, and Lethbridge topped the figures for the corresponding month to the extent of 48 per cent.

London's Excellent Showing.

In Ontario, aside from the two setbacks previously noted, the upturn movement was both widespread and substantial. London made a most excellent showing, registering a gain of 69 per cent, as did also Hamilton, where the total was 67 per cent in excess of that recorded in 1909. Again, Fort William came to the front with an increase of 63 per cent, while Berlin, whose figures were received too late to be included in the following table, reports building operations amounting to approximately $90,000. Other gains noted are those of Peterboro and Port Arthur, which registered increases of 81 per cent and 346 per cent, respectively, although the amounts in both cases are considerably less than those noted in the other part of the province.

Operations were also decidedly brisk farther east, as is indicated in Montreal's increase of 73 per cent, and the gains of 426 per cent and 406 per cent made in the case of St. John and Sydney, respectively. Montreal's total of $576,804 exceeds the amount recorded in March, 1909, by $300,524; while St. John's splendid advance gives that city the third highest increase registered for the month.

Toronto Case.

In the case of Toronto, it might be mentioned that the loss noted is not due to a less favorable condition than obtained a year ago, but rather to the fact that a large amount of work scheduled for this month has also been materializing. Within the next few weeks this city will see things veritably humming and any deficit of the past month or two will be offset many times over. Equally as much may be said in the case of Windsor, which will witness a number of important developments in the near future, while as regards Halifax, both the importance of its geographical location and the prevailing activities in the Maritime Provinces is possibly the best assurance that operations there will shortly assume far more substantial proportions.

Women's Missionary Society of First Methodist Church Elected Officers.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church was held on Monday afternoon and the reports for the year were of a most gratifying nature. Mrs. W. G. Young presided, and reports presented showed that during the year $777.96 has been raised for missions, while there are now 108 members on the roll and 52 life members. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs. Robert Fowler; hon. vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Young; president, Mrs. John H. Chapman; 1st vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Young; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Boyd; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Whiting; 4th vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Boomer; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Stanger; assistant, Mrs. W. J. Hill; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Phelps; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. E. Magee; pianist, Mrs. E. H. Johnston; delegates to the branch, Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. Phelps; alternates, Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Chapman.

During the afternoon addresses were given by Rev. Richard Whiting and Mrs. N. S. Williams.

TOOK WIFE'S GEMS

A Resident of Walkerville Sells Business and Disappears.

Windsor, May 3.—Taking with him diamonds to the value of between $5,000 and $6,000, the property of his wife, Frederick Ehrhardt, of Walkerville, has been missing for a week, and friends say his mind is probably unbalanced, as a result of too much attention to the study of spiritualism. Ehrhardt, who is about 28 years of age, conducted a bakery in Walkerville, and when he left omitted to settle several hundred dollars' worth of accounts against him. The diamonds, which he is said to have secured belonged to his wife, with whom Ehrhardt has not been living for the past few months. The stones had been placed with Mrs. Charles Mann by Mrs. Ehrhardt for safe-keeping. Her husband secured possession of them by presenting a written order purporting to come from Mrs. Ehrhardt. The day before his disappearance he sold his bakery business for several hundred dollars, and this money he had when he left.

Amusements
A Supplementary Season.
Mr. A. J. Small has four shows to play the Grand Opera House during this month that were recently booked. It was his intention to cancel these bookings, when it was announced that the house would close on Saturday, but as they play other cities in Ontario he has decided on a supplementary season. The four shows are Chauncey Olcott, Lillian Russell, Buster Brown, and the celebrated English actress, Billie Burke, in "Mrs. Dot."
Chauncey Olcott Next Monday.
The opening of the supplementary season at the Grand, Monday, May 9, brings here the popular Irish actor, Chauncey Olcott, in a new romantic play entitled "Ragged Robin."
Mr. Olcott's latest songs are: "The Eyes That Come From Ireland," "Sweet Girl of My Dreams," "I Used to Believe in the Fairies," "The Old Plaid Shawl," and "In the Garden of My Heart," written especially for Mr. Olcott. The sale of seats will open tomorrow at 9 o'clock at the Grand box office.

ASK THAT WORD "SCHEME" SHALL BE ABOLISHED
Afternoon Session of the London Presbytery—Important Matters Dealt With.

A great many important matters were disposed of at yesterday afternoon's concluding session of the London Presbytery in the First Presbyterian Church.
The first taken up was Mr. Geddes' motion to have all the regular meetings hereafter held in London. The motion was lost.
Mr. Thomas Alexander's motion to overture the general assembly to abolish the word "schemes," as applied to missionary and benevolent work of the church, was carried unanimously.
Resignation of Rev. Mr. Mackay.
Rev. Dr. Ross submitted the following minute relative to the resignation of Rev. Hector Mackay:
"The presbytery in receiving the resignation of Rev. Hector Mackay, B.A., of St. George's Church, London Junction, desires to record its appreciation of his accurate scholarship, his sterling integrity of character, and the conscientious diligence with which he has performed all the duties of his office. The presbytery wishes to express its special satisfaction with the energy and zeal with which he has thrown himself into the work of moral reform, and into every plan for the advancement of righteousness in the community. The presbytery commends Mr. Mackay to the guidance and blessing of the Master, and trusts that a congenial sphere of labor may soon be opened to him."
A resolution of appreciation of the Rev. Hector Mackay, which had not been forwarded to the last meeting of the presbytery, was received and read. It was signed by 43 members and 16 adherents, and spoke in the most eulogistic terms of Mr. Mackay's ministry, his regret at his prospective departure, and wishing him God-speed in his future charge.
Augmentation Report.
Rev. Walter Moffat presented the augmentation report. The general assembly's committee has increased all the salaries of augmented ministers by $50 a year. This should prove a godsend to the poorer ministers of the smaller churches.
The home mission report as presented by Dr. McCrae, indicated that the year had been one of the best in the history of the home mission work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.
Splendid work has been done in Knollwood Park, under the direction of the New St. James' Church and the Presbyterian council of the city.

RICHMOND ST. PETITION IS SUFFICIENTLY SIGNED
Underground Wires in Business Section Are Now Assured.

The petition for the underground wires on Richmond street is sufficiently signed, and at the next meeting of the water commissioners the question will be dealt with. The petition for Dundas street is now being circulated, and is meeting with much favor.
There is no doubt that a sufficient number of signatures will be obtained to make it certain that all wires on these streets will be placed underground.
No word has been received as yet from the G. N. W. Telegraph Company as to their intentions, but it is thought they will accede to the reasonable proposition of the city, and place their wires in conduits underground.

BOYS SHOULD GO LONGER TO SCHOOL

Inspector Edwards Says Too Many of Them Drop Out When They Are 14 Years of Age.

SLUMP IN ATTENDANCE
Both in the Collegiate and the Public Schools—Demand for Commercial Students at Collegiate Institute.
At the meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon, the report of Principal McCutcheon showed that the enrollment at the Collegiate was 746, as compared with 795 of last year. Trustee Weekes asked the reason for the decrease.
"It is practically altogether due to the smaller attendance in the second year of the commercial course," said Principal McCutcheon. "Last year we had sixty or over in this form. Now we have but 26. It is almost impossible to keep the students in this form owing to the great demand for their services. It is a sign of the good times. I never saw so many pupils in so good positions as at the present time. By the end of the term we will have very few in this department."
The Easter Examinations.
Trustee Weekes wanted to know why the results of the Easter examinations were so late in being made known, and Principal McCutcheon replied that he had held them back in order to have all published at the same time. However, some of his teachers were taken ill, and it was impossible to have the results announced as he intended. The students were informed of their standing as soon as the results were made known.
Collegiate Attendance.
Mr. McCutcheon reported that the attendance at the Collegiate Institute

For the month of April, 1910, was as follows:
On Roll Average
First year, general course 260 260
Second, general course 185 170
Third, general course 180 149
Fourth, general course 47 45
First, Commercial 68 62
Second, Commercial 26 24
746 690

There were 147 pupils from outside the municipality, and 4 pupils from outside the county of Middlesex. The attendance for April, 1909, was 700 on roll, and 627 average. The attendance for April, 1909, was 795 on roll, and 726 average.
Public Schools.
Inspector Edwards' reports showed that the total number enrolled in the public schools for April, 1910, was 5,875, being an increase of 136 over the corresponding enrollment for April, 1909. The average attendance was 5,102.
Public Schools.—Number on roll, 1910, 5,032; 1909, 4,945. Average—1910, 4,465; 1909, 4,344.
Kindergarten.—Number on roll, 1910, 843; 1909, 734. Average—1910, 644; 1909, 594.
Number in kindergarten, 843; in first book (both parts), 1,710; in second book, 1,298; in third book, 1,122; in fourth book, 992.
It can be seen from the above figures, said the inspector, "that there is a serious loss in the number enrolled in the successive classes; many leave school immediately on arriving at the age of fourteen, even though they have not finished the public school course. If some inducements could be held out to the public school pupils to attend until they are fifteen or sixteen years of age, it would be a distinct advantage to the individuals concerned and to the community at large."
Some Criticism.
Dr. Teasdale, pointed out that there was a great slump in attendance between the first and third books, and asked the inspector, very often dropped out, and quite a number reached that age between the first and third books. He advised that the limit be raised from fourteen to sixteen, thus compelling the boys to attend school two years longer. Fourteen was too young he considered, for a boy to leave school.
This matter was referred to No. 1 committee, who will inquire into the conditions.

Appointed to the Senate.
Principal McCutcheon was appointed to the senate of the Western University, on the motion of Dr. Balfour and Dr. Teasdale.

Trustee Weekes and Trustee Gunn nominated Rev. Jas. Rollins, of King Street Presbyterian Church, and stated that he was eminently fitted for the place. However, it was thought that the principal of the Collegiate should be on the senate, and they withdrew Mr. Rollins' name.
The Berlin Case Works were awarded the contract for a case for the museum of the Collegiate at a cost of $62, and it was also decided to repair the belfry at Empress avenue school at a cost of $55.

The question of appointing an assistant to Mr. John Clements was referred to No. 2 committee.
Leave of Absence.
Miss Grace Rowntree asked for leave of absence during June and September, in order to take a trip abroad.
The Teachers' Guild asked for the use of part of the Simcoe street grounds for a tennis court. The matter was referred to No. 2 committee, with power.
Those present were Trustees W. W. Gammage, chairman, Trustees Gunn, Weekes, C. M. R. Graham, Dr. Wyckoff, Dr. Teasdale, Dr. Balfour, W. T. Strong, Inspector Edwards, Principal McCutcheon and Secretary McElheran.
Great Britain's foreign trade in the nine months of the present year has increased 4½ per cent. Imports have risen $7,290,000 and exports $5,899,000.

SPLENDID CONCERT IN ST. JAMES' CHURCH
South London Edifice Was Packed to the Doors.

St. James' Church schoolroom, South London, was packed to the doors last night, to hear the concert put on by the St. James' Ladies' Choral Club and St. James' Male Chorus. It was one of the best entertainments ever given, and the large audience was thoroughly delighted.
The first half of the programme was taken by the ladies. The platform was decorated to represent a drawing-room and Mrs. Grant acted as hostess. This led up to a fine musical programme. Besides four excellent choruses by the club, solos were given by Misses P. Cullis, G. Quigley, C. Armstrong, E. Deacon and Mrs. Dockstader. In the same part of the programme, Miss Cullis and Mr. C. E. Percy gave the swinging duet from "Dolly Varden."
The second half was taken up by the men's club. This time the platform was decorated to represent a gypsy scene, with a representation of a kettle boiling on the stage. The most popular number of the evening proved to be a

WORK AND WORRY WEAKENS WOMEN
NEW HEALTH AND STRENGTH CAN BE HAD THROUGH THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

It is useless to tell a hard-working woman to take life easily and not to worry. But it is the duty of every woman to save her strength as much as possible; to take her cares as lightly as may be and to build up her system to meet any unusual demands. It is her duty to herself and her family, for her future health depends upon it.
To guard against a complete breakdown in health the blood must be kept rich and red and pure. No other medicine does this so well as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This medicine actually makes new, red blood, strengthens the nerves, restores the appetite and keeps every organ healthily toned up. Women cannot always rest when they should, but they can keep their strength and keep disease away by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which have done more to lighten the cares of weak women than any other medicine.
Mrs. James H. Ward, Lord's Cove, N. B., says: "About two years ago I suffered so much from nervous prostration that I was little better than a helpless wreck. I suffered from headaches and a constant feeling of dizziness. The least unusual movement would startle me and set my heart palpitating violently. I had little or no appetite and grew so weak that I was hardly able to drag myself about, and could not do my household work. Every way I was in a deplorable condition. As the medicine I had been taking seemed to do me no good, my husband got a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had only been taking the pills for a couple of weeks when I seemed to feel somewhat better and this encouraged me to continue the treatment. From that on my strength gradually but surely returned, and in every way I was a new woman. I was once more a well woman, able to do my own household work, and feeling better than I had done for years. I have since remained well and I feel that I owe my good health to the healing power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."
Every other weak, sickly, worn-out woman should follow the example of Mrs. Ward and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. These Pills will send new blood coursing through the veins and bring brightness and energy to the weak and despondent. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail for 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

trio taken from "Mikado" by W. E. Pope, C. Hodgins and C. E. Percy. Solos were given by F. Judd, C. Hodgins, Bert May. A reading was given by Mr. B. Hanna. Another trio from "Dolly Varden" was "A Misunderstanding," by C. Hodgins, Miss Cullis, and C. E. Percy.
Mr. C. E. Percy, the organist, is deserving of a great deal of credit for the success of the concert.

RUPTURE

A Word of Caution
Procrastination is the most common error of ruptured people. As they do not realize the risk they are running. You may have been ruptured for some time, and not noticed any change for better or worse. But, remember, no rupture stands still. Even if not getting larger, the bowel is growing fast to the inside, and any day a rupture may result in death. Many people come to me constipated, nervous, irritable, suffering from indigestion and constant pain. They seldom charge this to their rupture, but that is where their ill-health originates. A rupture strains the whole physical organism, and is a constant nerve irritant. A breeding place for the germs of typhoid and frequently causes rheumatism, paralysis and sterility. The cure of your rupture will make you feel like a new being, your nerves will recover their normal tone and your run-down condition replaced by vigorous, joyous health. Act at once and remove the daily danger of death, which, like a threatening thundercloud, hangs over the head of every ruptured person. Don't delay, to suffer and die. Let me help you live and enjoy life. What I have done for thousands in the past fifty years I can do for you today. Ask me to see you, what a cure means to you—viz., immediate security, comfort and a perfect physical condition. This is all you need for the asking. Out-of-town patients can consult me and return home same day, relieved of all rupture trouble permanently. Tear off free coupon now and bring same to me during this visit.

Free Consultation Coupon.
This coupon upon presentation to J. Y. EGAN, rupture specialist, 231 West King Street, Toronto, who will visit LONDON, Ont. on Saturday, May 7, will entitle the bearer to free consultation and examination of his or her case.

1,574 Pair of Lace Curtains To Be Cleared Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Only a few weeks remain until we vacate our present premises, and to accomplish the task of making a general clearance of this entire stock, we have marked this lot of 1,574 pairs of Curtains at prices that should be interesting reading for the women of London who have window decorations in view.
