SOMBRE ANGEL OF DEATH IN THE WAKE OF PLEASURE

Life of Little Tilly Butler Suddenly Crushed Out After Day of Happy Merry Making—Child Had Returned From Excursion and Bounded Homeward off Moving Train—Stumbled and Fell Beneath Wheels—Inquest Held.

It does seem as if the Diety of Pleasure always requires the immolation of a human life upon its altars as compensation for its presence at any merry-making. This human toll was exacted from those who attended the excursion of the Union colored Sunday schools at Sarnia yesterday.

The victim was eight-year-old Tilly Butler, whose young life was ground out last night about half past nine by the merciless wheels of the Grand Trunk train carrying these excursionists.

The accident occurred between St. George and Park streets, near the Ferry Works. The train carrying the merry-makers had returned from Sarnia and had pulled up to the station. Conductor Park went through and informed the passengers that all who wished to might remain on the train while it backed down to the Park and Quinette Junction and those who lived in that neighborhood took advantage of this opportunity of getting home more quickly. The little Butler girl, who lives on Foster street, was of the number.

For the past few days gravel trains have been working in the railroad yards and have deposited long heaps of gravel on either side of the tracks. The train was backing quite slowly and, when the scene of the accident was reached it, apparently, occurred to the unfortunate child that, by getting off the train there she could make her homeward journey shorter still. A young boy named Jackson, who was standing on the car platform with her, tried to persuade her to desist but, breaking away from him, she leaped from the train. It is not likely she knew of the presence of the gravel, but it is altogether probable that she struck it, stumbled and fell under the life-crushing wheels.

Conductor Park, after leaving his train at the Junction, was returning to the station by way of the track when he made the gruesome discovery of her mangled body. One leg was completely severed and the head frightfully cut. Death must have been instantaneous.

Coroner Dr. J. L. Bray, LL. D., was summoned and the body removed to the morgue. An inquest will be held. It would seem as if during this, the holiday season, the joyous God of Pleasure and the raven black Angel of the Valley of the Shadow are travelling hand in hand.

Coroner Dr. J. L. Bray empanelled a jury this morning and after viewing the body at Jahnke's morgue, it was decided to adjourn until Monday night to take evidence.

BAND CONCERT

By kind permission of Col. J. B. Rankin and officers of the 24th Regiment, the Band will play the following program, weather permitting, on Tecumseh Park this evening, under the direction of Watson H. Walker, Bandmaster:

March, Non Coms.—W. H. Walker.

Overture, Abeldare Heloise—Zimmermann.

Piccolo Solo, The Wren, Damare-Mr. Collins.

Selection, Wang—Morse.

Intermezzo, Moonlight—Moret.

Euphonium Solo, Air Varie, Harlow—Mr. Walker.

Concert—Valse, Feodora—Bucallos.

Two Step, Peter Piper—Henry.

Regimental March, British Grenadiers.

God Save the King.

WILL RECOVER

The Pelton agent of the Pere Marquette, Fred McCarthy, who was so badly hurt Wednesday night, as reported "exclusively" in last night's Planet, will, in all likelihood, recover. Detective Archie Skirving visited him in Hotel Dieu in Windsor yesterday and brings in this hopeful report.

GOVT. WILL TAKE ACTION

Special Lady Officer to be Appointed to Watch the Passengers on the "City"

Inspector gives Warning to Owners of Yachts and Launches—Official Statement to The Planet.

Mr. Allan, the genial Inspector of Customs, was in town yesterday, and reports from different parts of his inspectorate numerous complaints of smuggling and other infractions of the customs laws. He is informed that gasoline yachts and other light craft are being employed for the purpose of importing goods from the U. S. Perhaps it is not so generally known as it ought to be, that the importation into Canada of goods of any kind by such craft, notwithstanding that the same are honestly reported and entered at customs, is regarded as a serious breach of the customs laws, subjecting the offender to the confiscation, not only of the goods so imported, but of the vessel in which they are carried.

The Inspector is also informed that a regular smuggling traffic, in a small way, is being indulged in by numerous patrons of the City of Chatham in the passages from Detroit to the Maple City. Many, probably without a thought as to the morality of their conduct, take the risk of securing from the customs officer and landing their foreign purchases without reporting same for duty. The offence at first sight does seem venial, but when it is considered that it means at least the evasion of the amount of the shirked duty of the honest share of the country's burdens, which every honorable citizen should be willing to bear, it is seen at once to be an act not merely illegal, but dishonorable and dishonest.

Whether these reports are warranted by fact or not, the Inspector is determined to take such means as will render such conduct more difficult and risky than it has heretofore been.

Not a little of the illegal traffic is understood to be maintained by the ladies of this city, who are said to be adept at secreting goods about their persons in a manner past the comprehension of the ordinary customs officer. To meet this special difficulty it is understood that a lady searcher will be occasionally put on the boat. This will render exceedingly risky any attempted pilferage, and those who are blind to the dishonorable nature of such a traffic will do well to consider the risks as well as profits which attend it.

GET READY

To-morrow the big Pere Marquette picnic will be here. They do Chatham a compliment in choosing out the site for their outing, and it behooves us all to make their stay pleasant.

A little decorating by King St. merchants, a few banners of welcome and the glad hand extended generally would show them that our hearts are in the right place.

The program for to-morrow will start at ten a. m. with a baseball match between St. Thomas and Chatham.

The races will be run off, starting at 2 p. m., and include the following events:

Seventy-five yards, open—Carving set and shoes being the prizes.

Fat Man's Race—Umbrella and flour.

Shack Race.

Married Women's Race.

Three-legged Race—Cash prizes.

Single Women's Race.

Girls' Races.

Hundred Yards, men's race, employees only.

Boys' Race.

Married Men's Race.

The program also includes a tug of war and a baby show for children twelve months of age and under.

The crowd will, doubtless, be a large one, as the committee claims they cannot obtain coaches enough to carry them. The events will be run off on Tecumseh Park, but both parks will be in use. The affair ought to be a good advertisement for Chatham if we impress them with the attractiveness of the place and see that, as far as in us lies, we give them a good time.

NEIGHBORLY ROW

Yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock a violent discussion took place on St. George street. A boy belonging to one family had become obnoxious to the mother of a neighboring household and said mother drove him off with an umbrella, the sharpened end of which inflicted a bad cut in the boy's head, requiring several stitches. His mother, with true mother's instinct, took up cudgels on his behalf, both literally and metaphorically. The case may be aired in the Police Court.

CLEVER YOUNG HARWICH GIRL IS KENT'S BEST SCHOOL ESSAYIST

Minister of Education Awards Planet Gold Medal to Little Jean McGregor, of S. S. No 4—Kathleen Mannion, of St. Joseph's, and Laurence Thornton, Central, Follow—Hon. Dr. Pyne will be Present to Make Award.

A special message to The Planet this afternoon from the Provincial Educational Department at Toronto states the Minister of Education, Hon. R. A. Pyne, has completed his examination of the fourteen essays submitted by Chairman W. E. McKough and the Board of Judges as the best entered in The Planet Junior Gold Medal essay competition on the subject of "Our School."

In the judgment of the Minister the essay of little Jean McGregor, aged 12 years, of School Section No. 4, Harwich, was the best submitted and will accordingly be awarded the handsome gold medal, together with a recognition from the Minister of Education himself. Little Miss McGregor is a pupil of Miss Lydia M. Broadbent.

A close second place is awarded to Kathleen Mannion, the little 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mannion, of this city, and a pupil of St. Joseph's Separate School. Miss Mannion's teacher is Sister M. Gertrude. Miss Mannion also secures special recognition from the Minister.

Almost immediately following is Laurence Thornton, also aged 12, the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Thornton and a pupil of the Central School. Master Thornton is under the tutelage of Miss S. C. Irwin, and is also to be specially recognized.

The Minister of Education has classified the whole fourteen essays submitted in order of merit and has kindly comments to make upon them all. He has also some very complimentary things to say regarding the teachers and the very high standard of work they have evidently established in our County. The full text of his report, which is being forwarded to The Planet by Mr. John Millar, Deputy Minister, will be published in to-morrow's issue of The Planet. It will appear in next week's issue.

The Minister of Education has very kindly consented to visit this County at the conclusion of the summer vacation and make the awards in person. When these great demands are made upon his time are considered, this is a very great honor to bestow and a tribute to his appreciation of the excellent work done by our clever young essayists. All of the fourteen essays will secure special gifts as a result of their splendid efforts. When the extensive character of the competition and the immense number of entries are considered some idea of their good work may be secured.

FRIENDLY VISIT

Members From St. Joseph's Court C. O. F. Pay a Visit to the Pain Court Lodge and Put on Work—Excellent Entertainment Given.

The degree team from St. Joseph's Court, No. 241, C. O. F., attended at the meeting of the Dover Court, No. 1246, last evening, and put twenty candidates through the exalted degree. Those from Chatham who attended were, Fred Trudell, F. Tschirhart, J. Brennan, N. Pinsonneault, J. P. Dunn, G. McIntyre, G. Revere, M. Kenney, T. J. Doyle, J. Stevens, Dr. Sullivan, W. Drew, J. Gerber. Chas. Goodall went along as guide and mascot.

After the degree work the following program was given for the entertainment of the members present:

Address—F. Trudell.

Duet—F. Trudell and Gagnier.

Song—J. Emery.

Inst. Solo—F. Tschirhart.

Trio—Gagnier, Boyer, and J. W. Carron.

Recitation—John Stevens.

Address—F. Bourdeau.

Address—T. Doyle.

Address—N. Pinsonneault.

Song, If I Were Only Young Again—J. P. Dunn.

Address—Dr. Sullivan.

Mr. Bourdeau spoke of the excellent work of the Chatham Degree Team and of their kindness in putting on the work, and Mr. Doyle spoke of the good feeling which does and should exist between the members of the two lodges.

At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was passed to the Pain Court lodge for their excellent entertainment, and Messrs. Gagnier and Bourdeau moved a vote of thanks to the Chatham crowd.

Mr. and Harry Ferris and children, of New York, formerly of this city, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gib. Taylor, Joseph street.

FIRST WHEAT

New Grain Received by the Canada Flour Mills Co. This Morning—Farmers Experiencing Good Crop.

The Canada Flour Mills Company received the first load of new wheat this morning. The grain was delivered at the Blenheim mill by Thomas Maynard, of Harwich. It was a good sample, tested well and sold for 80 cents a bushel.

"The farmers are at present experiencing the best harvest that I have seen in 20 years," remarked N. H. Stevens this morning. "The farmers around Chatham will be threshing to-morrow and we expect lots of deliveries of new wheat in the morning."

"While the corn is a little slow and the beans are generally quite poor, the hay, oats, barley and wheat are excellent. When I was in the Old Country last year, I thought that the farmers there had us beaten for growing hay, but they cannot touch us this year. Some of the wheat fields in Kent this year will yield 40 bushels to the acre."

Foley Bros. Get Contract.

Montreal, July 21.—At the C. P. R. headquarters yesterday William Whyte, vice-president, being present, it was decided to give the contract for the double tracking of the road from Fort William to Winnipeg, 426 miles, to Foley Bros. Rapid work will be started at once east and west of Rat Portage.

Sectionman Killed.

St. Catharines, July 21.—William Wiley, a sectionman on the G. T. R., was at work yesterday afternoon on the track just west of the city, when a fast freight train came along. Wiley stepped off the track to let it pass. He stood too close, however, and was killed. He was 38 years of age. He leaves a widow, five daughters and two sons.

CROWN DIRECTS FULL ENQUIRY

Attorney General Sends Officer to Investigate the Dulmage Assault as Reported Exclusively in The Planet

Detective John Murray Arrived in Chatham—Crown Attorney is in Charge—Blenheim Case Too.

Yesterday afternoon Crown Attorney Smith reported direct by telephone to the Attorney General, Hon. J. J. Foy, the facts in connection with the midnight assault on Thomas Dulmage, of Wheatley, by eleven masked men, as reported "exclusively" in The Planet, and the character of the evidence and verdict in the Blenheim case on the death of the crippled child, Irene Broadbent.

The facts of the case as reported in The Planet were fully outlined to the Attorney-General and the Crown Attorney was asked to institute the fullest investigation, which is now proceeding.

The morning Toronto papers to-day announce the fact that Chief Provincial Detective John Murray has left for Chatham under instructions from the Department to investigate both cases.

Inspector Murray arrived in Chatham at noon and is registered at Hotel Rankin.

Dulmage's condition is reported to be quite serious. He was badly lacerated by the sousing in the well and his flesh lacerated by the subsequent horse-whipping.

Rumors of Dulmage's alleged ill-treatment of his wife have been current for some time. Threats have been made privately that something would happen if the Dulmage domestic affair did not run more smoothly.

People began to talk openly, and sympathy for the woman was crystallized, so it is declared to-day, in a plan to visit Dulmage and treat him with a little of his own medicine. All arrangements were made, and the eleven men, believed to be near neighbors of Dulmage, met near the Dulmage home late at night, donned black slouch hats and black masks, and waited until there was quiet.

Then they approached the house.

FRENZIED FINANCE LAWSON.

Thomas Lawson, of Boston, himself formerly a stock manipulator and exploiter of inflated companies, has been passing through Canada on his way to Chicago, travelling in his private car and shedding interviews with characteristic energy. For nearly a year past Lawson has been one of the most abused and most ridiculed men in the United States. Since he declared war against the high financiers of Wall street the batteries of capital in the United States have been trained upon him in an endeavor to discredit his propaganda, but, while much may be said in criticism of the man, it is notable that there has been no defence put up against the charges he has launched at what he calls "the System." To Lawson may be attributed the characteristics of a man who turns king's evidence, but that makes the evidence no less valuable to the public provided the evidence remains uncontroverted. One of the most striking evidences of the ramifications of the capitalistic influence in the United States has been the number of reputed high class and independent publications which are now discovered to be turning their guns on Lawson in defence of the trusts and stock manipulators. Newspapers and periodicals in which the mass of the public had the greatest confidence until the appearance of Lawson on the scene are now found ranged more or less openly on the side of the trusts and against the public. To critical observers this is one of the most significant phases of the frenzied finance campaign, and stamps the Lawson crusade with an importance which these same organs are doing their utmost to discredit and belittle.

When Lawson first came out with his article on frenzied finance the first impression of those who read them was that he would be in jail and a pauper as a result of criminal and civil libel actions before six months were over. The articles admitted of no other reply unless it were an admission of their truth. The revelations which he made read more like a fairy tale or chapters from the bandit legends of school boy days than a serious expose of the manner in which the high financiers of the United States had been brazenly and systematically robbing the public for years past. Names and details were given in each transaction cited, but no suits for damages resulted, neither was there any denial of the facts made public. "The System" contented itself through its organs with trying to diminish the effect upon the public mind by ridiculing the author. This, by the way, is an old trick with smaller combinations than "the System."

Lawson's attack has now concentrated itself into a very simple objective. He has told the people of the United States that the great millionaires and billionaires of the trusts have become such by inflating stocks, investing them with a fictitious value on the market and selling them to the public. He suggests to the public that it now sell out these stocks while their fictitious value remains and unload them upon the inflators. The result of a combined action of this sort on the part of the public, would be to let the hot air out of the inflation and bring finances down to a hardpan basis. Lawson says that the same scheme of inflation exists in Canada on a smaller scale than in the United States and he is pressing upon Canadian investors the same advice. According to him financial affairs in America to-day are in a South Sea Bubble condition and it is his mission to prick the bubble. If he were not a self-confessed renegade to "the System," he is exposing his task might be easier; on the other hand he would not be in possession of the prolific sources of information which enable him to convince any who take the trouble to examine it of the absolutely bona fides of the man.

It appears that the Twelfth of July incident in London was greatly exaggerated. According to the Advertiser the incident consisted merely in a drunken man grabbing at an American flag which was hanging from a bystander and thereupon desisted. There was no crowd, no disturbance, and the flag was not molested. "Flag intolerance," said the London Advertiser, "is the last offence that can be charged against the Canadian people and the citizens of London are grossly libelled by the story given currency." We rather suspected there was more booze than patriotism in the incident.

Dr. A. W. Thornton is greatly interested in an item which appeared in the papers on Wednesday referring to the burning of a hotel in Wabasha, Minn., when six persons lost their lives. Dr. Thornton taught school in Wabasha 20 years ago and boarded at the hotel that was burned.

CRAZY WITH THE HEAT

Wednesday morning a man was noticed lying on the sidewalk near the Grand Trunk station. He was thought to be torpid with drink and was moved to a shady spot, where he remained until evening, when some Good Samaritan passing by went over to investigate. He found that the man worked on one of the gravel trains and was prostrated with the heat. Dr. Holmes was summoned and removed the man to his office where, under medical care, he recovered.

QUITS AS A SENATE LEADER

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Announces His Retirement—Trading Stamp Bill Passed—Prorogation To-day.

Ottawa, July 26.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell sprang a sensation on the Senate last night, when, on the motion to adjourn, he announced that when the Senate met again next session he would relinquish the post of leader of the Opposition. Sir Mackenzie said he would devote his time and attention to the business of the Senate, but desired to be relieved of the duties which fell upon a leader.

Senator Scott expressed regret at the announcement. There were few men, he said, who were so familiar with past history of the Dominion. Referring to a remark made by Sir Mackenzie in regard to his own reported retirement, Senator Scott said it was the first he had heard of it. It was merely newspaper talk, and it was not his intention to resign unless it was the desire of the Government that he should do so. He hoped to lead the Government forces in the Senate for at least another year.

Prorogation at 5 p. m. The Senate adjourned till 2 o'clock to-day, and prorogation is booked to take place about 5 this afternoon.

The trading stamp bill was read a third time. Senator Landry had backed up his opposition to the anti-trading stamp bill with the longest speech of the session. Shortly after the uper Mouse met at 11 o'clock, Senator Landry took the floor against the measure. He talked until 4 o'clock, and then announced that he would resume at 8 o'clock and repeat his observations in French.

There was some doubt expressed as to the force of that clause of the bill which brings the bill into effect on November 1, and after Senator Landry had been induced to close off at 9 o'clock, Sir Mackenzie Bowell arose and said he had received the assurance of the promoter of the bill in Commons (Mr. Gervais) that the intention and effect of the cause was that the act shall come into force on the date named, and he considered this satisfactory.

Moreover, it was intimated to Mr. Landry that the Government was determined to have the bill go through, and Mr. Landry might count on having to hold the floor all night unaided.

Brief Commons Session.

Ottawa, July 26.—There is a certain mild satisfaction in sitting around here doing nothing while the Senate is working. So said Mr. R. L. Borden yesterday morning after the House had sat forty minutes and were adjourning without any definite word as to when the Senate would be ready for prorogation.

"It will not take place to-day, but I hope it will be to-morrow," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier, provoking Mr. Borden's remark above quoted.

Members received the news with some disappointment. The House adjourned till 11 o'clock to-day, when it will clear up the order paper as well as the measures from the Senate.

At 3 o'clock to-day the first session of the tenth Parliament of Canada will be duly prorogued.

The session has lasted ten days over six months.

ONE DOLLAR SAVED REPRESENTS TEN DOLLARS EARNED.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. When a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house of ten saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by All Druggists.

"Yes, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured my Dyspepsia. I was a sufferer for seven years. I could not eat without suffering intense agony. I doctored some but to no avail, and I was given up to die. Five boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me completely. Now I am well and strong."

The story of a terrible disease easily and completely cured is told by Mrs. John F. Sellers, of West-ern Bay, Nfld. It teaches several lessons, the most important of which are that no cases of Dyspepsia are too far gone to be beyond the reach of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and that if Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure the most extreme cases of Dyspepsia, they will easily dispose of your indigestion.

It remains that you can't find a Dyspeptic who has used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, but you can find thousands of healthy, happy people in Canada who were once Dyspeptics but who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

HAY FEVER ABOLISHED

Medical Science Discovers a Cure for This Malady by Breathing Hyomei.

Among the important additions made to medical science in recent years, none is more notable than the positive announcement of a cure for hay fever. Exhaustive experiments with Hyomei prove that this treatment will prevent the attacks of hay fever if used for two or three weeks before the annual appearance of the disease, and it may be relied upon, if used faithfully after the sneezing and other annoying symptoms have appeared, to relieve at once and afford a permanent cure.

Stomach dosing cannot cure hay fever. A change of climate is the only treatment that gives any relief, and Hyomei, which medicates the air you breathe, acts upon this principle, giving in your own home a climate as refreshing as that of the White Mountains or other health resorts.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1. extra bottles, 50 cents. The Central Drug Co. have seen the good effects following the use of Hyomei to many cases of hay fever that they are willing to sell the treatment with the understanding that if it does not give satisfaction, the money will be refunded to you.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by All Druggists.

Whitewash the Hog House.

Whitewash is cheap, and there is no reason why it should not be used more than it is in the hog house. Whether the boards that compose the hog house are smooth or rough, the whitewash will be found to be a help. It will stop up the hiding places of vermin and will tend to give a sweeter smell to the places where the hogs stay. In addition it adds light, as does any light color placed on the walls. It shows the dirt more plainly than the unpainted boards and acts as a reminder to the owner to clean out the hog pen often.

LEARN DRESSMAKING IN TWO WEEKS. I will be at the Garner Hotel, Chatham, on Saturday, July 22nd, between 9 and 6 o'clock, to show how dressmaking can be taught in two weeks. Why spend from six to nine months learning dressmaking in a shop, when then not know anything about cutting, when I teach you everything from measuring to finish in the making of ladies' and children's garments in two weeks. I have taught over 700 girls in this way within the past three years, and all were more than satisfied. If you are the wife or daughter of a farmer, mechanic, laborer, merchant or millionaire, you should learn Dressmaking. No accomplishment you can acquire will prove of such every-day, life-long value to you as a practical knowledge of Dressmaking. And if you have this knowledge you can, by saving dressmaker's bills, be able to dress much better, with less money, than you probably do now. I teach you how to put together, not only the lining, but all the outer goods, in coats, skirts, waists, wrappers, sleeves, in fact everything in dressmaking. And you are losing nothing by trying, for if you are not satisfied at the end of the term, then there will be no charge. School teachers, college girls and everybody who are having your holidays now, do not fail to take advantage of this splendid opportunity. You may never get another like it.

Charge for full course is $10, when you are through, if satisfied, including one of the most perfect fitting systems in use, which I give you free! I will also at the same time teach part of the course, consisting of shirtwaists, sleeves and skirt, and teach you how to use the system for $6.

I will teach at Chatham from July 24th to August 5th. Hours from 8.30 to 5. All wishing to learn, or for full particulars, be sure to see me in the upstairs parlor of the Hotel Garner on Saturday, July 22nd, at the hours named above.

An evening class will also be taught at Chatham this time. Full particulars for it can be had upon application on July 22nd.

QUEER FRIENDSHIPS.
The Way Children and Snakes Play Together in Australia.
Children and snakes appear to get on well together in Australia. A writer in Chambers Magazine, who lives in Sydney, says he has never heard of the bush of a snake biting a child, nor do the children show any fear of snakes.
The bigger the snake the greater the joy in setting near to it and the stronger the desire to play with it. The snake's bright eyes and sinuous motion probably charm, and snakes, even the most vicious, respect the confidence. At Koonooka, a little settlement in Victoria, a woman heard her child, eight-teen months old, laughing as if she was having great fun. The child was supposed to be asleep in bed. When they went to the room and found the child scrambling over the bed after something she could not see. That happened several times. Once, however, the mother went in suddenly and heard something drop off the bed. Looking hurriedly under the bed, she distinctly saw a large snake that turned upon her with evident intention to fight.

Numbering the Hairs.
The number of individual hairs that cover the human scalp is greatly a matter of speculation; but it is supposed to vary according to the thickness and color of the hair. A well-known authority estimates that red-haired people possess the fewest, and places the average number at thirty thousand. Black-haired persons, on the other hand, are said to run into one hundred thousand;
while the fair-haired have the largest number of all—namely, one hundred and fifty thousand. These figures should form a valuable index to those people whose hair is on the down grade. An excessive falling out could be reckoned as from 100 upwards, and by counting the number of hairs they lose each day some idea might be formed as to how long they are likely to be before they are overtaken with total baldness.
Hairs which fall out, however, are always a "total loss." They often grow again from the root.
World's Most Ancient Ruins.
The oldest architectural ruins in the world are believed to be the rock-cut temples at Ipsambul, on the left bank of the Nile, in Nubia. The largest of these ancient temples contains fourteen apartments, hewn out of solid stone. The largest single stone used in this work is one which forms a veranda-like projection along one side of the main temple. It is fifty-seven feet long, fifty-two broad, and seventeen feet high. This colossal stone is supported by two rows of massive square pillars, four in each row and each thirty feet high. To each of these pillars is attached a colossal figure of a human being, reaching from floor to roof. In front of the main temple are seated still other colossal, four in number, the two largest being each sixty-five feet high. The ruins are supposed to be 4,000 years old.
Alexander's Strange Position.
The legal position of Queen Alexandra is very curious. So far as her private business is concerned she is not regarded by the laws and customs of England as a married woman at all.
She is the only woman in Great Britain who does not come within the scope of the married woman's property act. The idea of the law is that affairs of state consume all the time of the King and therefore no responsibility for the Queen's private business rests upon him. If the Queen contracted debts in her husband's name he would not be responsible for them as any other husband would. The King cannot be sued for debt, but the Queen can be. Should the King die some authorities hold that the Queen could not marry again in case she wished to do so without the special license and commission of the King's successor.
A Wonderful Book.
The most wonderful book in the world is one which is neither written nor printed. Every letter is cut into the leaf, and as the leaves are alternately blue and white, it is as easily read as the best printing. The labor required in cutting each letter may be imagined. The work is done so perfectly that it seems as though done by machinery, yet every character was made by hand. The book is entitled "The Passion of Christ." It is a very old volume, and was a curiosity as long ago as 1640. It belongs to the family of the Prince of Ligne.

CRAMPS CURED.
I was troubled with Cramps for a long time, and had several doctors attend me, but their medicine did not seem to do me any good. I got three bottles of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and it cured me. It is the only medicine I can recommend.
I would not be without it in my house.

pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from bowel complaint.

Uses of Ammonia.
The use of ammonia in the household are many. In cleaning of any kind it should be used in the proportion of one tablespoonful to a quart of water.
It makes the water softer than rain water. Smoky lamp chimneys, window panes and mirrors all respond quickly to ammonia. When a stain is produced by lemon juice or any other acid nothing is so effective as ammonia in refreshing and thus removing it. A few drops to a pint of water sprinkled on the roots of house plants will produce an abundant growth. Stains on marble can be removed by rubbing them well with a toothbrush dipped in powdered chalk and ammonia.

A Seventeenth Century Fad.
In the seventeenth century Englishmen thought it injudicious to sleep in rooms facing the sun, so most of the rooms faced north and east, opening off a passage or else out of each other.
At the head of the stairs slept the master and his wife, and all the rooms tenanted by the rest of the household were accessible only through that. The daughters of the house and maid servants lay in rooms on one side, with the maids in those most distant; the men's rooms were on the other side, the sons of the house nearest the chamber of the master and the serving men furthest away.

Paupers in England.
There were 778,339 paupers in England and Wales at the end of April.
This is the highest April since 1872.
Over 245,000 were in workhouses, the greatest number since 1865. London's paupers number 119,375, or one out of every forty inhabitants.

Calve Sees Her Tomb.
Mrs. Emma Calve has had the pleasure of observing her tomb. Four years ago she gave an order to a French sculptor, who after a long interval was at last convinced that she was in earnest, and she has given her approval of the design.

Naturally.
"Yes, she calls her play 'Brains.'"
"Is the plot her own?"
"Yes, she made it all up out of her own head."

Hair Vigor. Always restores color to gray hair. We say, "always." No mistake about this. It stops falling hair, also. And there is no mistake about this, either.

A SAD CASE

Tom Gilles again made his appearance in Police Court for being drunk and was remanded until Wednesday to give the Judge time to consider just what would be best to do for him.

Mr. Gilles is a sad case. He is a man who is a faithful worker when he is sober and earns good wages, but when he starts off on a spree he keeps it up for some time, spending the money he has saved up and making himself a public nuisance. Tom has been off for some time now and has made repeated promises to straighten up, but the promises are evidently forgotten as soon as they are made. Chief Holmes found him on Tecumseh Park this morning and took him over to the Police Station.

MORE ROWS

Residents of Queen St. Should Have More Police Protection—Another Man Should be Added to Force.

Residents in the neighborhood of the Grand Trunk are getting calloused and hardened. Last night the sound of fist cuffs and the dull thuds of fist on flesh and club on craniums, interspersed with cries for help, rent the night air. Evidently some one was being beaten to death, but the dweller in this vicinity merely rolled over on his other side, serene in his confidence that the ever-watchful guardians of the peace, on King street and would be out there sometime the next morning to investigate. What more could they desire? Even when the man who had been pummelled ran down the street yelling for the police at the top of his lungs they paid no attention, but merely smiled ironically. There were some police somewhere because they had read of them in the papers, although they had never seen one and, if the man had strength enough to run far enough he might find one.

While the victim was running for a club wielder the participants in the row returned to beat into a pulp another man who had started in the first row and the fun escaped all over again, all for the same price of admission. The interested victim escaped up William street with his pursuers in full cry after him.

The sublime confidence of the nearby residents was shown not misplaced when about an hour after the fracas had occurred one of the guardians of law and order was secured and visited the spot, making a clever capture of a man, sunk in a torpid slumber by the wayside. The man had nothing to do with the fracas, but that did not make any difference. The rattlepatties who had been robbed of their slumbers pulled their night-caps down more firmly over their ears, slapped an over-bold mosquito into mosquito eternity and settled down to their slumbers who they left off to dream of an Elysian state where rattlepatties got the police protection they paid for.

LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Miss Dorothy Jennie Sherwood Sheldon took place Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pike, corner of Murray and Adelaide Sts., to the Maple Leaf Cemetery.

The service, which was held at the house was largely attended by relatives and friends of deceased, testifying to the popularity of the departed girl. During the service the Christ Church Male Quartet sang a couple of appropriate numbers—"Peace, Perfect Peace," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

The floral tributes were very numerous and beautiful, and consisted of evidences of esteem from the Misses Meyer, S. R. Hodson, Mrs. A. Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Darker, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Watsh Rowley, Col. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Saunders, J. M. Cook, J. E. Dewey, Stewart, and Dr. and Mrs. Martin, Ed. Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Pike, Mrs. H. R. Bokhardt, Miss Verna Heyward, Miss Nell Richards, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Martin, the Misses Massey, Miss Edith Dolan, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sheldon and Mrs. Bogart, of this city.

The pall-bearers were six young friends of deceased—Walter Massey, Percy Piggott, Dr. Kingsley Holmes, Dr. Reg. Rutherford, Mac Holmes, and Will Stevens.

Rev. Dr. Battisby conducted the obsequies, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Rutledge.

Mr. Stephenson, of Toronto, and of Galt, are paying a short visit to J. W. Miles, city.

TO GENERAL REVOLUTION.

Incendiary Speech in Zemstvo Congress

—No Reform From the Czar—An Appeal to the People.

Moscow, July 21.—The zemstvo congress assembled yesterday without interference on the part of the authorities and commenced a discussion of the proposed legislation.

The congress passed the first reading of the scheme for a constitution by a vote of 226 to 7.

M. Petrunkevitch, president of the Moscow Agricultural Society, declared that all hope regarding the Government's scheme, which had hitherto been nourished, had proved vain.

It was obvious, he said, that the bar separating the Emperor and the people was too strong, that they could not count on reforms from above. They had appealed to the Emperor and they should now appeal to the people.

Prince Rostkovski said that the speech of M. Petrunkevitch was a direct incitement to revolution and left the hall.

The Dolgorouff repudiated Prince Rostkovski's construction of M. Petrunkevitch's speech, which, he said, only echoed what had been set forth in the memorandum presented by the marshals of the nobility to the Emperor.

A resolution was passed protesting against the constant violation of the private and social rights of Russian citizens by administrative officialdom and calling upon all loyal officers to protect the sufferers from the present state of affairs and to assist in preserving the troops from illegal and arbitrary acts carried out by the authorities.

On To Vladivostok.

Russian Headquarters at the Front (Location not given) July 21.—The Japanese advance from Korea is taking on a more energetic character, and is being pushed toward Mousan, Nengsan and Managawa. The Japanese seem to have received reinforcements from Field Marshal Oyama's main army in front of Gen. Linvight. A landing of Japanese near Vladivostok would not be surprising, and the operations appear to be concentrating in that direction. The Japanese advance in the island of Sakhalin has reached Vladivostok. The Japanese artillery includes forty machine guns.

That Witte Interview.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—The interview of the Associated Press with M. Witte on Monday last was telegraphed back to St. Petersburg from New York, and was printed throughout the empire this morning, receiving high commendation from the press, with the exception of the extremely reactionary Soviet and The Moscow Gazette.

Komura's Busy Day.

Seattle, Wash., July 21.—Baron J. Komura, Foreign Minister of Japan, and one of the peace commissioners, is struggling with a mass of diplomatic correspondence at the residence of S. Hiramatsu, Japanese Consul at Seattle. Baron Komura worked until 5 o'clock yesterday morning with cable messages and letters, which reached him when the steamship Minnesota arrived at Port Townsend.

China's Official Notification.

Washington, July 21.—China's official notification to the powers that she has not been consulted beforehand, has reached Washington and will be forthwith forwarded to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

YOUNG MOTHER HANGS HERSELF

Found Dead by Her Husband—A Winnipeg Coincidence

Winnipeg, July 21.—An extraordinary coincidence occurred here yesterday when William Richardson, an employee of the city quarry, was found dead in his bed, and Mary Richardson, wife of another William Richardson, was found dead, suspended by the neck. The former apparently died under natural circumstances, heart disease being attributed, but the latter was a clear case of suicide. An additional odd circumstance is her husband is also a civic employee.

She was broken-hearted, according to her husband's story, because her mother had taken her child from her care. Richardson discovered the body of his wife when he came home to dinner at 12.15 o'clock noon. She had attached a rope to the knob of the door at the top of the stairs leading to the first floor of the house and swung the rope around to the other side of the door and over the top of it, thus making the rope short enough to suspend her body six inches from the floor.

Mrs. Richardson was 18 years of age.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market as reported by the two railways since Tuesday, were 60 car loads, composed of 681 cattle, 1158 hogs, 1776 sheep and lambs, and about 200 calves.

Prices ranged all the way from $4.25 to $4.80, one lot of 15, the best on the market, being sold by Wilson, Mayhew & Hall at that figure, the bulk going at $4.40 to $4.60. Bulls are worth from $3 to $3.50 per cwt. As will be seen by the sales reported, the supply was limited, but plenty for the den and.

Butchers. Choice picked lots sold around $4.20 to $4.25, and one lot of 11 cattle by McDonald & Mayhew, at $4.35. Loads of good at $3.90 to $4; medium, $3.50 to $3.75; common at $3 to $3.25; canners, $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers. There were a few lots of feeders and stockers, principally the latter, sold on the market yesterday. One lot of short-keeps, 1200 lbs. each, sold at $4.40.

Light feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, were reported at $3.50 to $3.75. Stockers, 600 to 700 lbs. each, at $2.75 to $3.40 per cwt.

Milk Cows. About 15 milk cows and springers sold all the way from $25 to $65, with only two reported at the latter price.

Veal Calves. Prices remained about steady at $3.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs. Receipts were fair, but quality of lambs was not so good as it has been for several weeks, as would be expected. Prices were a little easier. But had drovers left the poor kind at home the good ones would have sold at high as ever. Farmers should keep their thin shaggy lambs on the farm and get a better price.

Export Cattle. Receipts, 400 to 500 lbs. each, at $3.50 to $3.75. Butcher's, $3 to $3.25; canners, $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt. The market was inclined to be dull.

Deliveries light, with prices unchanged at $6.50 for steaks, and $6.10 for lights and fat.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET. Receipts, 200 to 300 lbs. each, at $3.50 to $3.75. Butcher's, $3 to $3.25; canners, $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt. The market was inclined to be dull.

WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL

The Chatham football team will play a game with the Pere Marquette team on Tecumseh Park tomorrow afternoon at half past four o'clock.

CRICKET

Chatham cricketers are a happy lot this morning. Yesterday a team representing Chatham and composed, with one exception, of the young cricketers of this city, defeated the strong D. A. C. team. The game was something in the nature of an experiment. It has been foreseen that, sooner or later, the team must have new blood, as some of the older players found that they were approaching the "dehelerizing" age, and, by reason of this, and business ties, could not keep in the game.

Yesterday they gave place to "colts" and the experiment turned out successfully. Detroit being beaten by nine runs in the first innings. The locals went to bat first and scored 63, being all out before lunch. Some of their supporters were inclined to feel gloomy but the wise ones said to wait for revelations. These came when the colts took the field, and by some phenomenal catches and stops disposed of D. A. C. for 54. Chatham had another innings, in which they piled up 62, but as time did not allow of giving D. A. C. another the first. For the home team the batting of Frank Richardson was the feature — 14 not out in the first and 17 in the second. His performance is all the more meritorious when the splendid bowling of the opposing team is taken into consideration. Lindsay, a new face on the team, and Taylor, also attained double figures.

and forced an entrance quietly, going straight to Dulmage's room.

He awakened as the first two men entered and, believing burglars were about to loot the place, showed fight.

The other nine entered, one by one, and he stared at each in amazement, and then with increasing fear, seeing in the mysterious, silent proceedings premeditated and concerted action.

He was seized and dragged from the bed.

Then he began to plead and, when he was not answered, protested and pleaded again, and then struggled desperately.

His captors forced him to a well. A rope was tied around his waist and he was lowered into the icy water, raised and lowered again and again for half an hour, being immersed for half a minute at a time.

Finally he was pulled to the surface and carried to a post, for he was benumbed and exhausted.

The lash of a horsewhip was wielded by brawny arms, cut across his back until his shirt was torn to shreds and the flesh raw. Then, and only then, was he released.

VICTORIA PARK

Master Car Builder Lowery, of the Pere Marquette, was in the city the other day, and, under the guidance of Conductor Turtle, visited the different points of interest in the Maple City. When he was shown Victoria Park he made the comment that it was one of the prettiest spots he had ever seen.

"If I had that park," said he to Mr. Turtle, "I would give up my desire to become President of the United States. It we had that park on the other side we would make it a feature and have it remodelled into one of the prettiest and most up-to-date spots on the continent."

KEEP THINGS MOVING.

Accumulated Rubbish Clogs the Household Machinery.

Even in these advancing and bustling times of ours there are not a few families who, from the home maker down, evince a decided tendency toward stagnation, remarks a writer in Table Talk. In one house, up in the stateroom, is a pile of little frocks which Dorothy has outgrown; and no one can advance any good reason as to why they should remain there any longer. I should like to say to Dorothy's mother: "Why not pass these along to some other little girl, and do it right away? Don't wait for the dust to accumulate in an extra layer nor for the moths to plan another banquet to which all their greedy relatives shall be invited. And, too, a good deed becomes a better for being performed quickly."

"But I don't know to whom to give them," might be urged.

And then I should like to reply: "Oh, yes; you do! If you will only think. Suppose no one among your extensive acquaintances might be grateful for these, or for some other of the castoff garments in your collection (which is extremely doubtful), there are plenty of hospitals and other institutions which would be glad to take them off your hands." That thing for which one can find no real use degenerates into so much rubbish to clog the household machinery.

Housekeeping! Why, some folks' housekeeping consists mainly in keeping everything that comes their way—merely keeping it, and that's all. No wonder their domestic cogwheels run with so much friction. They need to apply a generous quantity of the oil of "keep things moving" and to note the result. Besides it makes the blood circulate more freely and prevents one from becoming a fossil.

There is old Lady Harkins, who owns a set of beautiful dishes—yes, and some very fine silverware too; but you didn't know it; of course you didn't, because you never saw her table well set in all your long acquaintance with her. No wonder you came to the conclusion that partaking of three meals a day appears to be but a painful duty in the Harkins establishment. It is all owing to the spirit or torpidity which broods so darkly over the house of Harkins. You ought to see their attic—that's all. The old lady was always opposed to using things, for fear they might wear out. Goodness! What does she suppose anything was made for?

But you can never dig the old soul out of the rut into which she fell when she was only a young woman. No, but she'll be likely to die one of these days and then her accumulated treasures will have to be moved along. Well, her daughter happens to be one of the active, reasonable sort. She'll put the dishes on the table, bless you, because she believes nothing is too good for her husband and children! Between you and me, I believe that is part of the secret of their happy home life.

Convenient Valenciennes.

Some laces should never be imitated. Torchon is one, for instance. But Valenciennes can be imitated admirably and by the mile, and "nobody seems one penny the worse"—in fact, we are all many pennies better. There is nothing vulgar about imitation Valenciennes, and, though so cheap, it is so well made, so wearable and so durable that it always delights one. It is one of the most appropriate laces for summer wear too. Some seasons a lace is popular which is really not a bit suitable, only smart, because fashion ordains its use. Valenciennes combines well with other laces, with net, with embroidered lawn—in fact, it is difficult to use wrong; also it really washes, which cannot be said of all washing laces, or materials, for that matter. And it is young looking, but not necessarily exclusively juvenile.

Yachting Costume.

Alpacas and brillantines in solid colors are to the fore among the tailor makes for yachting costumes, together with dark blues, which are in particular favor once more, and if given touches of white or brilliant orange, green or red, it must be confessed they prove very jaunty, fit and becoming. No one, however, who goes in for sport of this sort ever depends upon one costume, as what will look exceedingly well on a certain occasion will not do at all upon another. In that way outfits are necessary that include, let us say, an all white, a light beige, a dark blue, besides a few linen suits as well.—Vogue.

A Recipe For Success.

Keep your head cool, your feet warm, your mind busy. Don't worry over trifles. Plan your work ahead and then stick to it, rain or shine. Don't waste sympathy on yourself. If you are a gem, some one will find you.

A Tempting Dessert.

A simple cornstarch blancmange—three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch to a pint of milk—is seen molded as a border, its center filled with large strawberries, red or black caps, and should be served with plain cream and sugar.—Table Talk.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful menstruation—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the womb. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

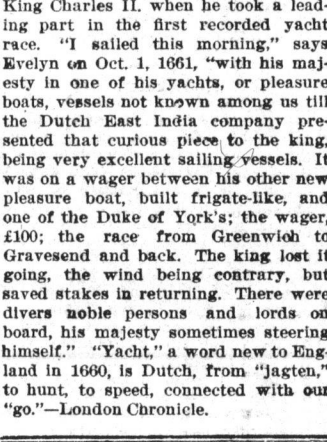

"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I cannot live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I feel every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

First Recorded Yacht Race.

A race across the Atlantic ocean would have seemed a wild romance to King Charles II. when he took a leading part in the first recorded yacht race. "I sailed this morning," says Evelyn on Oct. 1, 1661, "with his majesty in one of his yachts, or pleasure boats, vessels not known among us till the Dutch East India company presented that curious piece to the king, being very excellent sailing vessels. It was on a wager between his other new pleasure boat, built frigate-like, and one of the Duke of York's; the wager, £100; the race from Greenwich to Gravesend and back. The king lost it, saving the wind being contrary, but saved stakes in returning. There were divers noble persons and lords on board, his majesty sometimes steering himself." "Yacht," a word new to England in 1660, is Dutch, from "jagten," to hunt, to speed, connected with our "go."—London Chronicle.

Ives' Brass Beds

give brightness and dignity to a room.

Many artistic home furnishers have adopted the metal bed instead of the cumbersome and sometimes unsanitary wooden beds. A metal bed adds grace and beauty to a room, imparts an atmosphere of dignity often-times hard to secure with a wooden bed. Its lines are light and graceful and if it is an Ives bed it will be handsome and artistic in design.

Ives beds are always beautifully designed because Ives artists are the most proficient metal designers in America. They have made Ives famous for high class metal bank and hotel fittings.

Ask to see an Ives bed and you will like it.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A man must have lots of backbone in order to put up a good front.

Probably the reason why conceited people do not have great results to show is because they have to put in so much time boasting that they do not have any time for execution.

There is so much human nature about a liar that one is apt to feel like dealing very gently with him.

YOU MAY HAVE SOME MORE

It is hard on a cynic who lives at a boarding house when strawberries are cheap.

Curious, but when a man gets old he chuckles over his youthful depravity, but appears to think that of the present generation abominable.

When a man begins to ride his hobby his listeners are apt to take a walk.

The wise young man of today does not wait for opportunity to knock at his door, but he rings her up and makes a date with her by telephone.

Think twice before calling any man a liar—he may have more than one way of getting back at you.

If we could admire weeds with the fervor that we do flowers, this world would be paradise now.

Vacation.

Vacation, fellows! That's the stuff! Gee, isn't she a hummer? Somehow you never get enough of playtime in the summer.

We fold our little books away And get our playthings ready To make the summer good and gay And keep her whooping steady.

The swimming hole is deep and cool, Down where the waters shimmer, Where little fishes go to school Unmindful of the swimmer.

The playground in the vacant lot Is ready for an inning, And in some cool and shady spot The merry top needs spinning.

The woods a wireless message send, A pressing invitation, Now that the school is at an end And comes the dear vacation.

Vacation, fellows! That's the stuff! Say, isn't she a hummer? Somehow you never get enough of playtime in the summer.

A Business Proposition.

Angry Father—We can't afford to get Elizabeth an expensive gown for that party.

Maneuvering Mother (impressively)—We simply can't afford not to.

One Way.

"I understand poor Bill got sent over the road."

"Don't speak so harsh. Bill has only retired to lead the simple life for a few years."

He Had Help.

He built himself a pair of wings, But couldn't pierce the sky; A cyclone came along one day And showed him how to fly.

Sometimes.

"He doesn't agree that when man and woman are joined together they make one."

"What does he think it makes?" "Trouble."

Hadn't Started Yet.

"Who is he talking about?" "Some one who never told a lie in his life."

"Babies never did interest me."

Luring on the Men.

"I notice he always wears soft slippers at home."

"Yes; he is the father of ten marriageable daughters."

The Heiress.

Oh, I love her, see above her; How I love my little honey! She is witty, she is pretty; Better still, she's all the money.

The Reason.

"Sowing wild oats does not seem like hard work."

"No; a man can always get plenty of help."

Only the Rich Can Afford To.

"Is he pretty well fixed?" "He must be. He is wearing his last year's straw hat."

Had to Be.

"Why do you think he is married?" "He said he was a man of but few words."

VACATION IS A NECESSITY.

All successful people take a vacation. To be successful you need a change from every day occupation. A brief respite among the pines and woods, breathing in the pure air of the Highlands of Ontario, is nature's best tonic. There are so many delightful tours offered by the Grand Trunk that it is hard to enumerate, but they not only embrace charming Muskoka, Lake of Bays, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, Temagami, The Magnetawan, French River, Lake Simcoe, but also delightful six day trips to Mackinaw Island through the 30,000 Island scenery, Duluth, Winnipeg, Portland, Oregon, Exposition, and to the East the always delightful 1,000 Islands and St. Lawrence tours, Historic Quebec, White Mountains, and Sea Coast resorts, Portland, Old Orchard, St. John, N. B., Halifax, etc. A tourist folder, giving rates, etc., may be had for the asking at the City Ticket Office, W. E. Rispin, City Agent, 115 King Street, or by addressing J. D. McDonald, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Crops in Temiskaming.

Toronto, July 20.—Prof. C. A. Zavitz of the Agricultural College, Guelph, who has been in the Temiskaming district, reports immense crops of peas and clover there. Potatoes grow well, and barley, oats and wheat flourish in the order named. The spring was very dry. Traffic, says Zavitz, has been heavy on the Government road, the Cobalt district attracting large numbers. Prospects for the Temiskaming district are bright, and the advantages of the country have not been overestimated.

COUGHERS, HAWKERS, SPITTERS.

Public expectation is against the common law, against the laws of health also. When the throat ticks, that's the time you need "Cattarrhazone"; it soothes away the irritation, cuts out the phlegm and loosens the tight feeling. You'll quickly cure that catarrh and throat trouble with Cattarrhazone. It positively prevents new attacks and cures catarrh forever and for all time to come. Don't take our word for it; try Cattarrhazone yourself. Once used you'll be delighted with its pleasant and helpful influence.

The Lot's Advantages.

Advertising Expert—I've written the praises of all these lots but one. I'm afraid you can't sell that one. Real Estate Agent—What's the matter with it? Expert—Why, it's on an almost perpendicular hillside. Agent—Call attention to its wonderful drainage facilities.

No More Work.

Hicks—I suppose Dremer is still pottering alone at his inventions. Wicks—Well, he has actually perfected a great labor saving scheme at last. Hicks—You don't say. Wicks—Yes; he's going to marry Miss Roxley.

BIRTH OF THE WALTZ

THE DANCE HAD ITS ORIGIN EITHER IN FRANCE OR GERMANY.

Its Introduction into England Caused a Great Scandal in That Country and For a Time Had Fashionable Society in an Uproar.

No exact date can be ascribed to the introduction of the waltz into England from France. In 1800 Gilray published a caricature of a couple waltzing, with the note that "this was intended for a quiz upon the then foreign dance, waltzing." Again in 1810 the same artist published another sketch, entitled "La Walse, Le Bon Genre," with the note, "The walse was at this time new in England and just coming into fashion."

The fame, or rather, notoriety, of the new dance had, however, reached England some years previously. Dr. Burney had seen it danced in Paris in 1780 and was moved to write, "How uneasy an English mother would feel to see her daughter so unfamiliarly treated and still more to note the obliging manner in which the freedom is returned by the females."

Railikes in his journal declares that "no event ever produced so great a sensation in English society as the introduction of the German waltz," which he attributes to Baron Neumann and others about the year 1811. He relates how the mornings, which had hitherto been dedicated to lounging in the park, were now absorbed at home in practicing the figures of a French quadrille or whirling a chair round the room to learn the step and measure of the German waltz.

It was danced at Almack's by a few very bold spirits, notably Lord Palmerston, Mme. de Lieven, Princess Esterhazy and Baron Neumann, and thus became a matter of exhibition, the whole company standing on benches to view the performance.

However, the anti-waltzing party took the alarm and cried it down. Mothers forbade it, and every ballroom became a scene of feud and contention. How profound was its unpopularity in certain quarters is proved by the pasquades leveled against it. The famous seven lines commencing "What! the girl I adore by another embraced!"

are commonly attributed to Byron, though they were published anonymously in 1812, and some authorities give Thomas Moore as the author. An impromptu purporting to be addressed by an indignant lover to his betrothed and her partner echoes Byron's feelings:

You've brushed the bloom from the peach,
From the rose its soft hue;
What you've touched you may take,
Pretty waltzer, adieu.

Another poet delivered himself of the following distich:

How arts improve in this inspiring age!
Peers mount the box, and horses tread the While waiting females, with unblushing face,
Disdain to dance but in a man's embrace.

"The waltz, however," continues Raikes, "struggled through all its difficulties. Flanriault, who was 'la fleur du po' in Paris, came over with a host of others drove the prudish into their intrenchments. And when the Emperor Alexander was seen waiting around the roof at Almack's, with his tight uniform and numerous decorations, they surrendered at discretion."

It is a moot point whether the waltz originated in France or Germany, whether it came from the French "La Voita" or the German national dance, the "Landler." According to French authorities, La Voita was simply the waltz a tris tempo. Provenance was its birthplace, and it was first introduced at the court of Henry II. at Fontainebleau in 1555 by the Comte de Saulte, who is said to have invented it, for many called it La Voita de Saulte, and the name is suitable both because of the etymology of the word and the character of the dance.

It enjoyed a great run throughout France and even penetrated to Scotland, where it met with furious opposition, one writer averring that its importation into France had been effected by the power of witches. Mary Stuart once exhibited her agility in this dance, but she was careful not to repeat the experiment, and this was about the last heard of it.

The case for Germany is that the first waltz tune appeared in 1670 in a popular song called "O du lieber Augustin." From Germany the dance made its way to Vienna and was introduced into the opera, while by and by it found its way to France, whence it came to England—the insidious waltz, this imp of Germany, brought up in France.

The waltz when first danced in London was a slow movement a tris tempo, and the early English waltz compositions were very poor. Strauss came to London in 1837 to play at Almack's, and his waltz music created a perfect furore. It killed the old tris tempo waltz, and the deus tempo usurped its place. Now that the fascination of the waltz is all powerful, it is difficult to realize the commotion its introduction caused.—London Globe.

Sidetracked.
"I was looking about in Bargen's millinery department today," began the scheming wife, "and I saw the sweetest thing!"

"Yes," interrupted her foxy husband, "that's a great idea of Bargen's to put mirrors all around where you women congregate."—Exchange.

Some people are inquisitive from habit, not because they want to know.—South Bend Tribune.

Begins His Rule.
Gotha, Duchy of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, July 20.—Duke Charles Edward of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha assumed the reins of government yesterday on attaining his majority. The formal ceremony of taking the oath of installation occurred in the presence of Emperor William and King Edward and others, the Cabinet Ministers and a brilliant assemblage of officials and deputations from various parts of the duchy.

THE SOURCE OF NEURALGIA.

It runs hand in hand with poor blood and weak nerves. Health runs down, nerves get irritable, neuralgic torture follows. For the moment applications may relieve; but to thoroughly cure, the system must be strengthened with nutritious blood! What can equal Ferrozine? It increases the appetite, forms abundance of rich, life-giving blood, supplies nutrition and building material for worn-out nerves. Ferrozine completely cures neuralgia. Every root and branch of the disease it kills. Absolute success in every case. Stop suffering—fifty cents buys Ferrozine. Fifty chocolate coated tablets in a box at any drug store.

Released and Re-Arrested.

Toronto, July 20.—Alfred Hall, the Victoria street lawyer, was before Judge Morgan yesterday on the charge of stealing the proceeds of a draft for £150 from George C. Briggs, a young Englishman. He was defended by H. H. Dewar, and Mr. Drayton prosecuted. His honor dismissed the charge against Hall, remarking that he could not find the accused guilty of theft on the evidence, but he thought there were ample reasons for the charge being laid against him. Hall was immediately re-arrested by Detective Duncan, at the request of the Attorney-General's Department of British Columbia. He is wanted in Vancouver on the charge of defrauding Sylvester G. Faulkner of $75 by a worthless cheque on July 20, 1903. There is also another charge of giving false evidence for him to answer.

Irish in Ireland.

A cartman of Dunsfengh, County Donegal, has been fined 1 shilling and sentenced to jail for one week for having his name and address printed on his cart in the Irish language. The case has been before the Court of King's Bench on appeal, and the issue to be passed upon is whether Irish is a legal language or not. In the matter of addresses on letters it has been decided that an address written in Irish must also be given in English translation on the envelope.

CHILLS PROVE FATAL.

If warmth and circulation are not promptly restored, chills result in fatal pneumonia. This necessitates keeping Nervine on hand. Taken in hot water it breaks up a chill in two minutes. By rubbing freely over throat and chest it prevents colds. No liniment so strong, so penetrating, so swift to kill pain and inflammation. Nearly fifty years' record has proved the value of Polson's Nervine. You should get a bottle today.

Only a small man will blame his circumstances for his size.

The men who make history have not time to write it.

Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty. Many women dream that period when they must experience a change of life. They fear that face, and form may suffer by the change; and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

A COSTLY BREAKFAST.

When Eggs Were Worth Their Weight in Gold in San Francisco.

Hens' eggs were worth their weight in gold, writes Thomas E. Farish in one of his stories of the very early days in San Francisco. A couple of young men who had recently landed from Tennessee dropped into Aldrich's for breakfast one morning. Not being aware of the rarity and consequent prices of eggs in California and having five dollars still left with which to pay for breakfast for two, they calmly ordered their usual breakfast of eggs and toast. When the bill was presented the young gentlemen saw, to their consternation, that the amount was $10. They had only $5. What was to be done?

After a consultation together it was decided that one of them should remain while the other went out to look for Colonel Gift, an old time friend whom they knew to be in the city. The colonel was soon found, who, after hearing the story of his young friend and asking who was with him, inquired what they had had for breakfast. "Eggs," was the reply.

"Eggs! Eggs!" exclaimed the colonel. "Did you not know, you blankety blank fool, that hens lay gold in California?" "I did not, but I do," said our young friend. "Well," continued the colonel kindly, handing over a fifty dollar gold shilling, "take this and remember after this that you are not in Tennessee, where eggs are given away."

THE GAME OF GOLF.

A Pastime of Kings, With a Record of Over Four Hundred Years.

A game with a history of more than 400 years must necessarily have some interesting records. Golf has been greatly liked by kings. In the time of James I. it was generally practiced by all classes. The unfortunate Charles I. was devoted to golf. While on a visit in Scotland in 1641, as he was deeply engaged in a game news was brought him of the breaking out of a rebellion in Ireland, and the royal golfer threw down his club and retired in great agitation to Holyrood House. When he was imprisoned at Newgate his keeper kindly permitted him to take recreation on the golfing links with his train. It is said that Mary, queen of Scots, was seen playing golf in the field beside Seaton a few days after the murder of her husband. In 1837 a magnificent gold medal was presented to St. Andrew's by William IV., to be played for annually. One of the earlier kings forbade the importation of golf balls from Holland because it took away "a small quantity of gold and silver out of the kingdom of Scotland, and at one time 'golfe and futeball and other unprofitable games' were forbidden in England because archery, so necessary in the defense of the nation, was being neglected in their favor.

COWARD ADAM.

The Franchise of Man to Lay the Blame Upon Woman.

"Never kiss and tell" is, I believe, an "unwritten law of chivalry." This law, as I understand, Coward Adam does sometimes manage to obey, albeit reluctantly. Because he would like to tell—he would very much like to tell—if the story of the kiss did not involve himself in the telling! But at this juncture "the unwritten laws of chivalry" stop in, and he is saved. And chivalry is the tree up which he climbs, chattering to himself the usual formulae, "The woman whom thou gavest to be with me," etc. Alas, poor woman! She has heard him saying this ever since she in an unselfish desire to share her food with him gave him the forbidden apple. No doubt she offered him its rosiest and ripest side! She always does—at first. Not afterward! As soon as he turns traitor and runs up a tree she takes to pelting him, metaphorically speaking, with coconuts. This is quite natural on her part. She had thought him a man—and when he suddenly changes into a monkey she doesn't understand it. To this cause may possibly be attributed some of the ructions which occasionally jar the harmonious estate of matrimony.—From Marie Corelli's "Free Opinions."

The Battle of a Week.

The battle of a week was the great conflict at Tours, in which Charles Martel overthrew the Saracens, A. D. 732. The members of the Saracen army are variously estimated at from 400,000 to 700,000, and the monkish historians say that 375,000 were killed on the field. It is suspected that these figures are a gross exaggeration, but it is certain that few battles of history have been either so bloody or so decisive.

Elephants in Uganda.

"Elephants in Uganda have a peculiar aspect that I have not noticed elsewhere," writes a traveler. "They cover their bodies, as a protection against flies, with the bright red volcanic dust contained in the soil. This gives them a remarkable appearance, as, instead of being a slaty gray, as in the Nile valley, their color, when thus covered with dust, resembles that of a chestnut horse."

An Idle Phrase.

There is one sentence in the English language that has an easy time, and there is no prospect of its ever being overworked. It is composed of these four words, "It was my fault."

He Will Cure You First Then You Pay Him

The physician, who has not sufficient confidence in his own ability to cure his patient first pays the patient.

Dr. Goldberg has 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient assurance as to his standing and ability. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be your advantage to get the doctor's opinion of your case free of charge. He wants to hear from patients who have been unable to cure chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which he cures for treatment. He not only cures such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach trouble, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in his laboratory to meet the requirements of each individual case. He will send a booklet on the subject, which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. All medicines for Canadian patients sent from Windsor, Ont. duty and transportation prepaid. Address, Dr. S. Goldberg, 305 Woodward Ave., Suite 511 Detroit, Michigan.

Injects Sea Water For Consumption.

Dr. Troisier of Paris recently read a paper before the Academie de Medicine claiming the discovery of a new cure for tuberculosis by means of subcutaneous injections of sea water, which he calls "marine serum." This has been tried on twenty-four patients at the Lariboisiere hospital, some only in the preliminary stages and others at a very advanced period of the disease. All the cases showed considerable improvement. The Academie has appointed a committee of inquiry.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Artificial Gold.

A new metal harder than steel, as brilliant as gold, from which it cannot be distinguished, and as good a conductor as copper has been invented by an Italian, says L'Echo des Mines et de la Metallurgie. It is composed of copper, iron, silver, phosphorus and, of course, metal. It is lighter than copper, and its beautiful color is not changed by any chemical reagent. This is wonderfully interesting if true, say The Engineering and Mining Journal. Indeed, it will go further; it is interesting if only half true.

Gentlemen,—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts, small ones, healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks the hair has grown over each one in from scarring. The liniment is certainly wonderful in its working.

IN PRISON IN CANADA.

Son of Former Mormon Leader is Charged With Forgery.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 21.—John Quayle Cannon, son of George Q. Cannon, and a man who has been prominent in public life in Utah for many years, is in custody at Lethbridge, Northwest Territory, where he was arrested on request of Chief of Police Lynch of Salt Lake City.

Cannon is charged with forgery and uttering fraudulent checks while acting as secretary of Utah's Louisiana Purchase Exposition commission last year.

The affairs of the commission were subjected to an investigation by the Utah Legislature last February. It became apparent that there was something wrong with the accounts, but a shortage of almost $2,100 was made good and the matter was closed so far as the Legislature was concerned.

Mormons and Gentiles are working the interest of John Q. Cannon, and it is intimated that Gov. Cutler of Utah, as a result of the great pressure that has been brought on him from various sources, will refuse to issue a requisition for Cannon.

Masonic Officers Elected.

W. Bro. Hugh Murray, Hamilton, Grand Secretary; W. Bro. John Lawson, London, Grand Registrar; W. Bro. F. E. Howitt, Hamilton, Grand Chaplain. These five members of the board of general purposes were elected: R. W. Bro. A. F. Webster, Toronto; R. W. Bro. J. C. Morgan, Toronto; R. W. Bro. G. S. May, Ottawa; R. W. Bro. L. Gunn, Hamilton; R. W. Bro. J. A. McFadden, Stratford. The next Grand Lodge meeting will be held in Toronto.

PARLIAMENT WOUND UP BALFOUR IS DEFEATED

Earl Grey Congratulates Members and They Go Home.

Passage of Measures Erecting the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan into the Confederation Excites His Excellency's Hearty Approval—Close of a Very Long and Laborious Session—Final House Proceedings.

Ottawa, July 21.—The tenth Parliament of the Dominion was closed at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Lord Grey. There were the usual closing ceremonies. The Governor-General's Foot Guards furnished a guard of honor, and the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards supplied the escort to His Excellency the Governor-General to and from Rideau Hall.

A Royal salute was fired both on arrival and departure of Earl Grey, and a large concourse of people were present on the hill. The total proceedings only lasted forty minutes. There was a very slim attendance of members of the Commons and Senate, and by 3.40 the session had died. Parliament was opened on January 11, and closed on July 21. The total number of working days was 123.

In the Senate, Lord Grey delivered the following speech from the Throne:

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons: In relieving you from this laborious and long-continued session, I desire to express my hearty congratulations on the passage of the two important measures providing for the entry into the Confederation of the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The unparalleled increase in the population during the last three years of the areas the new Provinces embrace affords the strongest evidence that at no distant date they will be the homes of many millions of prosperous and contented people.

The fair prospects of an unusually abundant harvest, not alone in the three prairie Provinces, but also in other parts of this wide Dominion, will, I trust, under a kind Providence, be fully realized, justifying the hope that the stream of immigration now flowing into the Dominion will continue for many years to come, adding wealth to this highly-favored land.

The addition to the number of the permanent force which you have authorized will enable my relieving the taxpayers of the United Kingdom from the burden of keeping up the garrisons at Esquimaux and at Halifax.

It is very gratifying to note that the revenue of the Dominion continues to maintain the high level it had reached two years ago, thus enabling my Government to meet the increased expenditure chargeable against consolidated revenue, leaving a surplus to apply on capital account.

The numerous private bills for industrial objects to which I have assented point to the existence of many new enterprises.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I thank you in His Majesty's name for the supplies you have so liberally voted.

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate:

Gentlemen of the House of Commons: In returning to your several homes, all I desire to express the hope that you will find abundant evidence of the growing prosperity, and that before we meet again at another session some progress may have been made in the work of constructing the national transcontinental railway, soon to become a reality for the transportation of the annually increasing products of the west.

In the House.

The Commons met yesterday at 11 o'clock. Mr. W. R. Maclean read a letter from a commercial gentleman in Toronto complaining of the tax upon commercial travelers in Quebec.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he had no complaints about it. He had not even seen the statute.

Mr. R. L. Borden asked the Government to consider the election law during recess with a view of making certain amendments. He said that in the United States there was a provision in the law that did not permit lawyers who were members of Parliament practicing that profession in the Department.

Mr. Wilfrid said he would consider the matter. He could see that abuses might arise from members of Parliament practicing in the direction just mentioned.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, replying to a question put by Hon. Geo. Fowler a few days ago, said that it was not finally decided yet whether or not to remove the meteorological observatory from Toronto to Ottawa. The University of Toronto had offered a site on Bloor street, but the Government had not yet decided what was to be done.

Mr. Lamont (Saskatchewan) asked the Minister of Railways if it were correct that the Grand Trunk Pacific had located its line west of Winnipeg to connect with the Regina & Prince Albert road and had commenced work at Portage la Prairie.

Mr. Emerson said that so far the map showing the location had not been presented to his Department for approval.

The order paper was cleaned up and the Commons adjourned, waiting for the Indian Education.

Indian Education.

Ottawa, July 21.—Representatives of the Methodist, Anglican, and Presbyterian Churches discussed the question of Indian education with Hon. Frank Oliver, yesterday. Rev. Dr. Sutherland represented the Methodists, S. H. Blake, K. C., the Anglicans, and Dr. McKay, Rev. Mr. Martin and Mr. R. Cassels, K. C., of Toronto, the Presbyterians.

Snap Division in Which the Irish Nationalists Led.

Redmond's Proposal to Reduce the Irish Land Commission Vote by One Hundred Pounds Carries Amid Great Excitement—Government Will Re-introduce Motion—The Aliens' Bill is Passed.

London, July 21.—(C. A. P.)—At 12.15 this morning the Government was defeated by 119 votes to 96 on a snap division taken on a proposal made by John Redmond, Nationalist leader, to reduce the Irish land commission vote by one hundred pounds.

A remarkable scene of excitement occurred when it was known that the Government had been defeated. Nationalists and Liberals rose to their feet and waved hats and handkerchiefs, semaphored with arms and cheered until the glass and ceiling of the House rang again and again. It was some minutes before Sir Thomas Esmond could announce the numbers, when the cheers were repeated again and again with the utmost enthusiasm.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman rose immediately to his feet and asked Premier Balfour whether he had any statement to make, who, coolly, with a smile, replied he had not at present.

This brought up Mr. Redmond, who, in a fiery speech, amid vociferous opposition applause, pointed out that the defeat followed immediately on the meeting of the Unionist party. Mr. Balfour, rising again, declared that unless it was possible for the Government to carry on the business of the country and the House with dignity, it would not attempt to carry it on at all. He suggested it might be the duty, in the matter of the vote, to ask the House for a reversal of the decision just come to, but he could not say definitely, and would consult his colleagues, and give an answer on Monday.

Mr. Redmond, backed by Right Hon. E. Asquith and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, unsuccessfully endeavored to get the Government to agree to an adjournment till Monday. The Unionist members attribute the defeat to the laxity of the Government supporters, and say there was no cross voting.

The general opinion is the Government will not resign, but reintroduce the motion.

Aliens Bill Passed.

London, July 21.—In the House of Commons the aliens bill passed its third reading by a majority of 90. Premier Balfour, in winding up the debate on the bill, contended that the proposed restrictions were less severe than those proposed by any other nation.

The bill is much on the lines of a measure introduced in the House of Commons last year, which was dropped by the Government owing to obstruction. It prohibits immigrants from landing except at ports where an immigration officer is stationed, and only with his consent and after a medical examination. Permission to land may be refused if immigrants are unable to show that they are in a position to obtain means to keep themselves decently, if insane, if on account of disease or other causes they are likely to become a charge on the taxpayers, if they have been sentenced abroad for an extraditable crime not of a political nature, or if they have been previously expelled from Great Britain.

The Home Secretary may order the expulsion of an alien on a certificate from a court of law. The bill, however, provides that permission to land shall not be refused on account of want of means if the immigrant is able to prove that he or she is seeking admission to Great Britain solely to avoid persecution for political offences.

CANADA'S OWN BUSINESS.

Premier Balfour Says Immigration Policy Belongs to the Dominion.

London, July 21.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons yesterday Leif Jones, M. P. for Durham, put another question to the Government as to the alleged arrangements between the Canadian Government and the North Atlantic Trading Co. about alien immigration to Canada.

Mr. Balfour answered the question, and before Mr. Balfour could reply, C. B. Devlin said: "I would like to ask if the subject matter of this question is not one of Canadian domestic policy, and interest exclusively."

"What right have we to interfere with the Canadian Government in their meeting with the alien immigrants into Canada? This very subject has been one of dispute and contention between the two political parties in Canada. The course pursued in relation to this matter by the Canadian Government has already been approved by an overwhelming majority in the Canadian House of Commons."

Mr. Balfour thanked Devlin for his interjection, and said it explained exactly the views of the Government. He thought the House of Commons had quite enough of business to attend to without taking part in Canadian politics. Mr. Balfour's remarks were received with great cheering.

Burns Himself to Death.

Pictou, July 21.—A very tragic affair occurred near Wellington, when Ira Chadsey, a farmer who resided just above the village, was found cremated in a barn on the rear of his farm. Some of the neighbors saw the barn burning about 6 o'clock in the morning, and on going to Mr. Chadsey's house could not find anything of him. Upon investigation a letter was found stating that he intended to take his final exit from this earth, and that his body would be found cremated. After the fire had subsided a few bones were found among the ashes. Mr. Chadsey was the owner of the finest orchard in Prince Edward County, but for a number of years he has not been considered mentally sound on all subjects.

Earl Cowper Dead.

London, July 21.—Francis Thomas de Grey Cowper, seventh Earl Cowper, who was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland from 1880 to 1882, is dead. Their being no heir, the earldom is now extinct. Earl Cowper was born in 1834.
