Opposition Leader Issues Manifesto

W. L. Hall, Esq., Addresses the Electors of Nova Scotia

To the Electors of Nova Scotia: Ladies and Gentlemen:—The provincial government has announced a general election on short notice, one year earlier than necessary. Deliberately it has set a date in the busiest season of the farmers and fishermen, hoping to prevent their active participation in the campaign. This action is characteristic of a government that places its own safety before the best interests of the people in an endeavor to get a favorable snap verdict. As leader of the opposition in the house of assembly since 1917, I am now appealing to you, on behalf of all who desire a change of government in Nova Scotia, for your co-operation and support.

The present government has been in power for thirty-eight years. During this period the province has not made the progress in wealth or population which its splendid natural resources and the character of its people would warrant. The government has been forced by strong popular demand to enact some progressive legislation during its long term of office but it is not a progressive government and under its administration Nova Scotia has not developed commensurately with her opportunities.

During the government's long term of office highways have been neglected, our educational system starved; Crown lands depleted and wasted, self-government by cities, towns and municipalities has been curtailed and impaired, and taxation has become a burden.

Practical Administration.

We believe Nova Scotia requires a government that is more practical and progressive if we are to keep pace with the rest of Canada in this reconstruction period. The present government has nine members, of whom seven are lawyers. Each of the four portfolios is filled by a lawyer. This is a mistake. Such portfolios as mines and highways should be filled by men of practical knowledge. Agriculture, the most important industry in the province, should be represented in the cabinet by a practical farmer. There should be a department of labor under the charge of a minister of the crown. A practical government would give the province more constructive legislation and less tinkering with laws. We promise to make all these changes if given the opportunity.

Legislative Council.

It is the platform of all parties in Nova Scotia to abolish the legislative council, but the government's policy has become a screaming farce. Since 1891 every man appointed to the council has given the government a pledge in writing that he will at any and all times vote for the abolition of the council. The premier has stated frequently, and as recently as the last session, that abolition of the council is still the policy of the government. At the present time all but two members of the council have taken this pledge, yet the government will not call upon its pledged appointees to redeem that pledge. The government's attitude is subversive of good government and a breach of faith with the people. When returned to power we will introduce an abolition measure and use every effort to enact it.

Highways.

We favor the construction and development of the public highways to the utmost ability of the province to pay, but roads built on capital account must give value for the money. For thirty-five years this government slept on its road policy and in 1917 Premier Murray admitted frankly that its policy had been a failure; that a large part of the money paid out under the old partisan system had been wasted and he promised that under the system he was then introducing the road expenditures would be taken entirely out of politics. Accordingly the new act was passed, statute labor abolished, a tax imposed on cities, towns and municipalities, and a highway board of five members created, who were to expend all the highway funds. Then having appointed a board to take the roads out of politics, the government created a new portfolio and appointed a minister of highways to keep the roads in politics. The result is that the road money has not been taken out of politics but continue to be spent largely by the old partisan method.

We also criticize the administration of the road funds. Too large a proportion of the road money is applied to overhead and office expenses. The present highway board is too large and the road office is uneconomical. We believe the number of members of the board should be reduced and a single permanent commissioner appointed,—a man of outstanding ability and reputation who should have charge of all expenditures.

Under the present administration the secondary roads are sacrificed and neglected. Every dollar of the $1,500,000 borrowed under the 1920 legislation for this season's road work is being expended on the trunk roads. Over seventy-five per cent of our rural population live on the Class II roads, and it is our policy to expend the entire municipal highway assessment on Class II roads within the municipality in which it is assessed, and to further supplement this sum by contributions from the general fund to the extent necessary in each instance.

Education.

We recognize that it is the duty of the government to provide such educational facilities as will secure to every child a sound elementary education. In furtherance of this duty we pledge ourselves to improve the status of the teaching profession by increasing the grant to teachers and to encourage the teaching of practical subjects in the schools, including an efficient system of technical and vocational training directly connected with industries, agriculture and commercial life.

Immigration.

The immigration policy of the government is stagnant. During the past session the government refused to publish or table the report of its own secretary of industries and immigration. Obviously the government feared to have this report made public before the election. We believe this department should be made a live branch of the provincial public service. The eyes of Europe are fixed on Canada, and Nova Scotia should be in the forefront in securing desirable immigration to people our vacant farms. If placed in power we shall make the department of industries and immigration a strong factor in the development and progress of our province.

Fishing.

During the government's long term of office our fishing population as a class has been absolutely neglected. We deem it advisable to add a fisheries branch to our system of technical education, that will demonstrate improved methods of curing and packing fish. The government should also render practical assistance in improving facilities for the marketing and transportation of fish.

Right of Women.

We advocated women's suffrage both before and at the time it was adopted by the government, and we favor legislation that will give full sex equality and the same civil status to women as to men.

On many occasions we have drawn the government's attention to the fact that the work of our agricultural college and normal school is hampered by lack of proper dormitory accommodations, and we shall endeavor to make a practical solution of this difficulty.

We pledge ourselves if returned to power to encourage the development of our natural resources; the improvement of our highways and the betterment of our educational system to the fullest extent that our finances warrant. To promote the interests of our industrial workers; to extend the work done by the province with the assistance of federal aid for agriculture; to more fully protect the users of public utilities; to develop and distribute hydro-electric power throughout the province where it is economically feasible; to adopt a comprehensive system of reforestation; to safeguard the public health, and improve generally the living conditions of our people.

The government has appealed to the country on its past record. We are not dwelling in the past but are looking to the future. We believe that Nova Scotia with its varied industries and interests should have a government not of one class, but of all classes and for this reason we appeal to the men and women of Nova Scotia irrespective of class. Our interests are one and our aims are one. The present government is not increasing in strength, but is growing weaker in personnel and more dilatory in action.

We ask the support of all who are not satisfied with the progress of our province; we appeal to all who desire a practical government. If you honor us with your confidence we pledge ourselves to form a government of the strongest men available and to conduct the affairs of the province honestly, progressively and impartially for the best interests of the

WOLFVILLE DEFEATS BERWICK

In Closely Contested Game.

The Wolfville baseball team broke their losing streak Wednesday afternoon when they defeated the Berwick team by the score of 7 to 1. The game was a closely contested one. Fred Eagles pitched a good game for the local team and all the players were in the best of form. Angus umpired for Wolfville and Balsor for Berwick.

Middleton defeated Kentville in the latter town on Wednesday by the score of 9-5, and Annapolis defeated Bridgetown. The league standing is now as follows:

Team	WON	LOST

CRICKET NOTES.

Our cricketers went down to Windsor on Thursday last week and played a return match with the home team, which resulted in a defeat for Wolfville by Windsor in one innings with five runs to spare. In the first innings the Wolfville team went down in quick succession before the very destructive bowling of Messrs. Anslow and Shaw to the tune of only fifteen runs, but in the second innings they made a very creditable showing, scoring 65. Messrs. E. R. Robinson and Jowett bowled very effectively for Wolfville. A very pleasant day was spent by the Wolfville team and the best of good fellowship prevailed.

The Wolfville men were entertained to supper by the Windsors at the "Y" restaurant, where a jolly time was spent. Short speeches were made by Rev. R. F. Dixon and Rev. F. J. Armitage.

A return match with Windsor will shortly be played at Wolfville. The Bridgetown team plays here on August 4th and an eleven is being formed at Kentville to play Wolfville. Windsor, we understand, is playing the West Indians this week and will also play Bridgetown later on. A match between the West Indians and Wolfville is under consideration.

At a meeting of the Club held on Saturday, Mr. J. F. Herbin was elected captain, vice Inspector Robinson who resigned on account of the pressure of professional duties. Mr. Robinson, whose most effective batting and bowling are such an asset to the team, will remain a member.

people as a whole.

Yours faithfully,

W. L. HALL,

Red Cross Clinic at Grand Pre

The Red Cross Clinic at Grand Pre last week proved to be in every way a success, and was a very practical and valuable illustration of the work contemplated in the future by the Board of Public Health.

The Caravan arrived on Friday morning and made its headquarters at the Acadia Villa School instead of at the old church at Grand Pre as at first intended. The location selected proved to be ideal for the purpose. The party numbered sixteen in all and they were quartered at the homes of members of the Women's Institute at Grand Pre, which organization contributed much to the success of the undertaking.

The clinic was in charge of Dr. Douglas, of Halifax, who was assisted by Dr. McLellan, throat specialist, Dr. Craig, chest specialist, and Dr. Ryan, dentist. Local doctors in attendance were: Dr. G. E. DeWitt, Dr. J. Glen Allan, Dr. M. R. Elliott and Dr. C. E. A. deWitt, of Wolfville; Drs. Woodworth, Moore and Burns, of Kentville; Dr. Bissett, of Windsor; and Dr. Shankell, of Hantsport. Dr. Arthur Webster, of Edinburgh, who is visiting his native county, was an interested observer. The nurses were: Misses Hayden, Kennedy and Fraser, accompanying the caravan, and Mrs. C. A. Patriquin, Miss L. Sutton, Miss G. Miner, and Lady Townshend, V.A.D.

Valuable assistance was rendered by Miss A. M. Stuart, who gave a great deal of time to the arrangement of details, Mrs. W. M. Black, Miss Violet Black, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Prosser, Miss Lalia Chase, Miss Eunice Borden and Capt. Wilkinson. Miss Magee, of Grand Pre, was registrar.

The total number of applications for treatment was twenty-six, but the time at the disposal of the doctors only allowed of seventeen successful operations of the throat and a large amount of dental work and chest examinations. The generosity of the people of Grand Pre and vicinity is well demonstrated by the fact that not a single operation was performed on results of this clinic.

Before the caravan arrived that there would not be sufficient time to handle all the cases offering. The first operation was performed on a patient from Berwick. Much satisfaction is felt over the success of the public clinic and it is hoped that the outcome may be the establishment of more adequate provision for surgical assistance to young and old of this section.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY.

A hurry to the kitchen, a strife with pot and pan,
A tempting little breakfast set for a hungry man,
A row of fresh-washed dishes put back into their place,
A row of children sent to school, each with a shining face,
A whirl of sheets and pillows, of dust-pans, and of brooms;
A set of smooth and snowy beds and neatly ordered rooms;
A rather rapid toilet, within the glass a peep;
A tidy housewife setting forth with mark a hot basket deep,
A little rest and reading, a noonday meal in quiet;
A rush of school-free children, a hungry, noisy, laughing set, made ready for the day;
A most delicious supper, served up with love and fun;
A chat, a yawn, a pillow, and then her day is done.

The Man Who Wins

IS ALWAYS FULL OF LIFE AND ENERGY FAILURES ARE WEAK AND BLOODLESS

Some men seem to have all the luck. If there are any good things going these men seem to get them. They make other people do their will—they are leaders. If they are business men they are successful; if they are workmen they get the forman's job. They have the power of influencing people.

The same thing is true of women. Some have the charm that makes men seek them out; others are always neglected. But this is not luck. It is due to a personal gift—vitality. Men and women of this sort are never weak, puny invalids. They may not be big, but they are full of life and energy. The whole thing is a matter of good blood, good nerves and good health. Everyone would wish to be like this and the qualities that make for vitality and energy are purely a matter of health. By building up the blood and nerves, sleeplessness, want of energy, weakness of the back, stooping shoulders, headaches and the ineffectual sort of presence which really comes from weakness can all be got rid of. Dr. Williams Pink Pills have made many weak, tired men vigorous and healthy, and many pale, dejected girls and women, plump rosy and attractive, by improving their blood and toning up their nerves.

If you are weak, ailing, low spirited or unhealthy, try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and note their speedy, beneficial effect.

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Don't be a Knocker

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper.

Do not growl or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that.

Do not be a knocker.

If you see that the city is moving along nicely, feel good about it. Help things along.

Shove a little.

Push. Try and secure some of the benefit yourself.

Do not stand around like a cadaver.

Do not waste time feeling sore because some fellow has a little more sand and sense than you have.

Do a little hustling yourself.

If you can say a good word say it like a prince. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean, keep your mouth closed.

Do not be a knocker.

No man ever became rich and happy minding anybody's business save his own.

No man ever helped himself up permanently by knocking his neighbors down.

Give a kind word. Give it liberally. It will not cost you a cent, and you may want one yourself some day.

You cannot afford it. It will not pay. There is nothing in it.

If you want to throw something at somebody—throw cologne, or roses. Do not throw brickbats, or mud. If you must kick—go behind the barn and kick yourself. For if you feel that way you are the man that needs kicking.

But whatever you do, do not be a knocker.

Admiral John A. Fisher, First Baron of Kilverstone and former First Lord of the Admiralty, died on Saturday, July 10th, following an operation.

Sir Robert Borden

The retirement of Sir Robert Borden from the premiership very naturally is of especial interest to the people of Kings county. Sir Robert during his political career, and particularly during the war and since, has brought unusual honor to his native country. Few provinces of the Dominion have had the honor of being the home of the Prime Minister of the country, and few constitutions the honor of being represented in parliament by one who filled the highest position in that body. Such a distinction has been enjoyed by this county during the past three years. We are an undemonstrative people but without doubt appreciate, nevertheless, the honor. Sir Robert's birthplace is less than three miles from Wolfville and the people of all this section feel justly proud when we remember the important place one of their own citizens has filled in the great undertaking of the Empire during recent years. Now, after contributing to such a large extent to the interest of his country and having been honored in such a marked degree by sovereign and people alike, he has been compelled by broken health to give up the position he has filled with such outstanding ability. It is to be hoped that he may live many years to enjoy the honors he so worthily won.

THE ACADIAN has it on the best of authority that it is Sir Robert's intention to remain the representative of this his native county in parliament, which will be good news indeed for all. To have as our representative at Ottawa a man with such a record and a parliamentarian of such marked ability, indeed, would fortune to the people of Kings county.

N. B. to Retain Prohibition

The province of New Brunswick gave emphatic expression on July 10th to its position regarding the great question of prohibition, at the plebiscite held throughout the province. There was a majority of 21,000 for the retention of the Provincial Act, and a majority of 15,000 against the sale of light wines and beers.

All advance dope failed and there were many surprises when the returns were finally totalled. It had been freely predicted that the cities would surely be strong in favor of light wines and beer, and that the northern counties, inhabited largely by the French, would also favor that question. This proved to be the wrong view of the situation.

Workers for the cause of prohibition feel that the question has been settled for all time in that Province, and that it is now up to the Government to see that a rigid enforcement of the law is carried out.

The women of New Brunswick were most active in the campaign and at the polls. They were enthusiastic in support of the present law and against wines and beer. They were at all polling booths and worked diligently for the success of their cause.

The following from a Vancouver paper will be read with much interest by a host of old friends of Mrs. Farris, (nee Miss Evelyn Keirstead). Mrs. Farris is regarded as one of the cleverest women of British Columbia and she is rendering much valuable service in the realm of public affairs in the Western province:

Mrs. J. W. DeB. Farris made a favorable impression at the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Women's Missionary society of the Baptist churches of B. C. which met during the week in Victoria, when she made a distinctive pronouncement in favor of prohibition as against government control of liquor sales.

"Mrs. Farris gave a really brilliant speech," said many of the delegates at the convention. The attorney-general's wife gave the address of welcome to the delegates, who came from all parts of the province.

"I suppose I really got away from my subject," Mrs. Farris said afterwards, "but though of course it was not a temperance convention, I think such a democratic gathering as assembled in the Douglas street Baptist church can make itself a very powerful influence."

Mrs. Farris made it plain in her remarks that in her opinion prohibition is in the best interests of the home and religious life.

Anyone who has essayed to climb any of the Rockies will recognize in John Harker's, "Mount Stephen With Martha" the actual portrayal of experiences of the novice in mountaineering. The author of this, the first of a series of humorous Martha stories, is a well known member of the Canadian Alpine Club and his amusing story appears in Rod and Gun in Canada for July. "At the Mercy of the Flames" is the title of a thrilling story of actual experience with a bush fire written by a fire ranger, Earl Dalton Tipping. The concluding installment of Harry M. Moore's interesting story "The Silver King" appears along with several other good stories in this issue of Canada's national sportsmen's monthly. The various departments dealing with the activities of rod, gun and canoe in Canada are up to their usual high standard. Several valuable articles appear giving valuable hints to campers and outdoorsmen in this month's issue. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

Delivering Goods by Aeroplane

In our last issue there appeared an item announcing the purchase of an aeroplane by Brandram-Henderson Ltd., and the installation of a delivery service by air from their factory at Montreal to the towns and villages within the central division. Since then, we have seen Mr. George Helliard, the Brandram-Henderson manager at Halifax, who recently returned from Montreal, and he has told us more about it. The conception of the aeroplane idea, he says, was that of the President of the Company, Mr. George Henderson, and so far it has proved to be the most effective advertising effort that has ever been made in Canada. Other institutions such as County Fairs, Victory Loan Campaigns, etc., have engaged aeroplanes for special stunts, but Mr. Henderson in his venture went further. He bought an aeroplane outright, lock, stock and barrel, and gave it definite duties which it performs with clocklike regularity.

"Up to the time I was in Montreal," said Mr. Helliard, "flights had already been made to a large number of places; one to Three Rivers, a distance of 90 miles was made in 50 minutes. On a day when a trip was made to Berthierville, the Mayor of that town proclaimed a public holiday, and on the landing of the aviator, the local band played "See the conquering hero comes." I understand that the Brandram-Henderson agent there sold over $900 worth of paint right in the aviation field, within a very few minutes, so impressed were the people by the firm's enterprise. I might say that in each town before making a landing to deliver his freight, the aviator is instructed to circle about for a time, dropping bombs of propaganda for "B-H Elgish" and "Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead." It is a fine advertising stunt; the most effective that we have ever attempted."

"Perhaps Brandram-Henderson will instal an air delivery from Halifax," the "Merchant" suggested. "They might but for one thing," said Mr. Helliard. Halifax is without an air drome and until she gets one, there is no use to consider the matter. I must say that it made me quite jealous to see our Central Division getting so much splendid publicity, which we might have shared in if only Halifax had had an air drome. However, we may have our chance yet. An air drome for Halifax is a real necessity to-day."

"You think then," said the "Merchant" "that the aeroplane delivery is a sound commercial proposition." "That," said Mr. Helliard, "is the view of our President. He believes the aeroplane is bound to have an important place in the merchandising world just as soon as the country will take it seriously, and hopes that the precedent he has established will be quickly followed by other Canadian manufacturers."

It should be gratifying to all Maritime Provinces people to hear that a firm born and nurtured in the provinces has been the first to instal a goods delivery service by aeroplane in Canada. The only regret we suspect they will have will be that the lack of an air-drome at both Halifax and St. John made it impossible for the initial effort to be undertaken from one of these places.—Maritime Merchant.

The spines or thorns of the blackthorn are not infrequently used in some parts of England as fish-hooks.

Boost Your Paper

By watching the advertising columns of a newspaper we are enabled to know the exact condition of mercantile affairs and the general prosperity or depression in the town where that paper is published. We can sit at our desk and pick out the live business towns and the dead towns. There is no better index to a town than its paper: it is a better criterion to go by, and is considered so by sagacious men, than a photograph, it is the enterprise of the inhabitants and not the size of the buildings that makes the town. You may pick up a paper and read at a glance, "We mean business" or "We're deadier than a stuffed bird," as plain as though it was printed in ten line pica and red ink across every page.

A Farewell Reception at Avondale

On Friday evening last the Methodist Parsonage at Avondale was the scene of a genuine surprise party, when the people of the community gathered to spend a social hour with the Rev. G. W. Whitman and family, on the eve of their departure for Grand Pre, their future field of labor.

In a pleasing and appropriate address, Mr. Cecil Hamilton assured Mr. and Mrs. Whitman how greatly their services had been appreciated during the past four years, and on behalf of their friends, presented them with a cheque, which though generous, "only in a limited degree expressed the good will of the entire community." Both Mr. and Mrs. Whitman responded, thanking their friends for this and the many other kindnesses they had received during their residence in Avondale.

Expressions of regret are heard from all over the circuit that the "Itinerary Wheel" in its revolution is removing from our midst a minister and family so deservedly popular.—Hants Journal.

The Home Paper

Review of Reviews:—Country weeklies are pre-eminently the home papers of newspaperdom. They are not hurriedly scanned while men travel to business, then left to brakemen to gather up. They go direct to homes where their reading is a duty as well as a pleasure. Hence their peculiar value as an advertising medium.

In another contest between man and mighty Niagara, the latter won. Charles Stephens, a barber, who came all the way from Bristol, England, to go over the Falls in a barrel, took the leap Sunday morning, July 11, and lost a few pieces of the barrel eventually drifted in but of Stephens there was no sign.

Newsprint Situation

Commenting upon the newsprint situation, an old established daily paper in Western Ontario, which recently suspended publication, said: One feature toward which we, in common with many other newspapers in Canada feel critical, is that which allows the raw material of Canada's forests to be made into newspapers that are offering fabulous prices for the newsprint tonnage.

If this export continues, it is evident that other newspapers, which have long been public-spirited and useful institutions, will be forced to surrender. We have letters on file from New York offering 9 1/2 cents a pound for newsprint in the roll. Canadian papers accordingly have to pay the piper, and it may be found later by Canadian newsprint manufacturers that they are killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

Use Paper Serviettes
For Informal Occasions

NOWADAYS in most Canadian homes you will find a supply of paper serviettes. Housewives vote them indispensable for their casual guests—always at luncheon—when serving refreshments at night—or when off on a picnic. They defeat the high cost of laundry. They are most attractive in appearance. In fact, they are just one more Eddy improvement in housekeeping methods.

Election Card of J. E. Kinsman and C. R. Bill

To the Electors of the County of Kings, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been nominated at the recent convention of Liberal Conservative and independent electors of the County of Kings as candidates for election to the Legislative Assembly, we beg leave herewith to solicit your votes in our behalf and your support in the present contest.

The present government in its desire for office has dissolved the House and called on an election at a time when the people were unusually busy. The shortest time possible for an election to be held was given hoping by this means to catch unawares the electors of the Province and by a snap verdict again obtain a sufficient majority to carry on the affairs of Nova Scotia in their usual way in the interests of the Liberal party rather than the public at large.

The shortness of time before election will prevent us from visiting your homes and discussing the public issues of the day with you. With such a large list of voters of both sexes in this County we can hope to have time to personally speak to but a very small number. We therefore are compelled to ask our friends and well wishers to consider this notice as a request for your earnest support, influence and votes in our behalf on election day.

The present government is appealing to the people on their past record and the prestige of their leader, Hon. Mr. Murray. It is a well known fact that while he is leader now, it is only for the purposes of carrying the party over the uncertainty of the present contest. During the past two seasons his health has been in a condition which prevented him from being in attendance in the Assembly only a very short time. With the elections won the government will be carried on without his former leadership and by men in whom the people of the Province have but little confidence.

We appeal to the women voters in this their first opportunity to cast the ballot with all confidence. We have always worked and used our influence for women's franchise, feeling sure that when the ballot was placed in their hands that some of the veils of the present day which have been allowed to continue by the apathy of many men, would soon be voted out of existence. We are firmly of the opinion that by the women having the right to vote it will work for good government.

To all who work with his hands as the laborer of all classes is obliged to do, we have this to say that there are few in the county who know their problems better than we do and would seek to further their interests.

As farmers we can confidently appeal to that large class of voters in this county with the utmost confidence. There is no plank in the platform of the United Farmers as adopted at Truro with which we do not heartily agree, in fact all those planks are embodied in the Conservative platform as presented to the public by Mr. Hall, leader of the opposition and for which he has been agitating for years. We can confidently say to the farmers, your interests are ours and if entrusted with your votes and elected we will work for your welfare.

We do not solicit the support of the people with the expectation of being elected to represent any one class but to use our best judgment and efforts for ALL classes.

Yours respectfully,

J. E. KINSMAN
C. R. BILL

MOTORS AND MOTORING: A Page Full of Interest to the Owner or Prospective Owner of an Automobile.

Loose Fan Belts

Sometimes an engine will over-heat for no apparent reason. We knew of a man who fussed with his power plant for a week trying to find out why he couldn't take a moderately long run without having the engine excessively hot. Finally he discovered that the fan belt was loose and was not being driven at the right speed due to the slipping. If you can't do a good job of tightening the belt, better take it to a harness man and get him to shorten it slightly so as to give you an efficient fan drive.

A group of tire men recently discussed the innumerability of motorists who do not carry spare tires. Not that the tires of today are not more reliable, more serviceable than ever, but common sense makes it wisdom to tote the spare along. The number of folk who jaunt forth without the emergency shoe is too, too large they thought, for this day and age. And then somebody came along and broke up the discussion by inquiring of the tire men as to how many of them owned an extra pair of garters.

Keep Radiator Full to Protect Engine

In the thermo-syphon cooling system it is important to keep the radiator full, or nearly so, in order that there may be adequate resistance to keep the water forcing its way forward. It is better to add a little water frequently than to let the matter go until the engine begins to knock for help.

R. I. P.

There's one thing that is done but once by any man, and that is to personally conduct a search for the gasoline in the tank with the aid of a lighted match. And one ought to be a very, very good man before he tries it.

Tires Damaged By Rusty Rims

Iron rust eats into can vasvery quickly, and for this reason rims should be examined and cleaned a few times each season. Assuming that the rim is clean, as it should be when the tire is attached, it may be kept so indefinitely if proper attention is given to keep the rims straight and if the locking nut on the valve stem is drawn tight so that no water can work in through the hole in the rim.

If, on inspection, the rim is found to be rusty, even though merely in small spots, the rusts should be sandpapered off and the rim given a coat of graphite or thin shellac. Ordinarily stove polish, which contains graphite, is also excellent for preventing rust and making it easy to remove a tire in case of an emergency.

Any dent or bend in a rim should be corrected as soon as discovered, for if the bend is in a warda great strain is brought o the bend, and side of the casing. If te bend happens to be outward there is a fine chance for water, oil and dirt to work in between tire and rim.

The straight line is an abomination to the Chinese. They endeavor to avoid it in thr streets and have banished it compleety where country roads and paths are concerned. They will always substitute a curve wherever possible, or they will torture it with a zig-zig. To the Chinese mind the straight line is suggestive of death and demons.

For ages past it has been the custom of the butchers in Germany to inform their customers of the days on which fresh sausages are made by placing a chair, covered with a large clean apron, at the side of the shop-door.

Overland Tested Out

Toronto, July 15.—A coast-to-coast dash, unusual in the history of automobile runs, is announced by Willys-Overland Limited, of Toronto. A stock Overland car—the same model that is made in this city,— will leave New York at midnight on July 18 for San Francisco.

This run will be made by a relay of drivers—men who have never before sat at the wheel of this car. The drivers will be furnished by Willys-Overland distributors. Each driver will pilot the car through the territory covered by this distributor.

The purpose of the relay race is to establish the economy and the stamina of this car, in particular, and the general desirability of the light car not only for the tangled traffic of the city but for cross-country touring.

With that end in view, the test has been removed as far as possible from the staged cross country test run from New York to San Francisco extracting mileage from gasoline that only an expert knows how to get.

The mileage obtained from the fuel will be that which the average, ordinary driver can obtain and the run will start at midnight of July 18th regardless of weather or other conditions.

Every possible condition of weather, of climate, of roads—mud, sand, hills, Mountain passes, should be encountered on this seven day drive.

A leaky radiator will stop giving trouble if a mixture of shellac is used with the water. That will stop the leaks from the inside.

Will This One Suit You

FOR SALE—One Ford car with piston rings, two rear wheels, one front spring. Has no fenders, seat or plank. Burns lots of gas. Hard to crank. Carburetor busted halfway through. Engine's missing; hits on two. Three years old; four in the spring. Has shock absorbers and everything. Radiator busted; sure does leak. Differential's dry; you can hear it squeak. Ten spokes missing; front all bent. Tires blown out; ain't worth a cent. Got lots of speed; will run like the deuce; burns either gas or tobacco juice. Tires all off; been run on the rim. A durr good Ford for the shape it's in.—Homer S. Wilson.

The facing of a cone clutch should not be oiled. Oil on the surface would cause slipping and loss of driving power.

Real Hardship

When the newspaper shortage causes the newspapers to suspend publication, what are we going to do—

About lighting the furnace? For something to line the shelves in the jam closet?

For another excuse at breakfast, when one is too grouchy to converse with the wife?

In the summer for a fly swatter?

About a substitute wrapper for little Johnny's school lunch?

For a screen to conceal oneself behind, when lady enters crowded street car and rather pointedly stands in front of the seat one is occupying?

About something to put under father's feet, when he will insist on taking those afternoon naps on the best bedspread?

For something to read?

Red Hot July Days Hard on the Baby

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly, to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Your Teeth"

By REA PROCTOR MCGEE, M. M., D. D. S., PITTSBURGH, PA.

The First Molars

You cannot build a house upon the sand unless the sand is thoroughly mixed with cement and water and shaped into a firm foundation that extends well down into the earth.

The first or as they are frequently called, sixth-year-molars are the foundations of the dental arch in the mouth. These teeth are the largest and strongest of the permanent set. There are four of them, one on each side above and one on each side below.

They come in behind the baby teeth. When a child is six years of age all of the temporary teeth should be in their places in the mouth.

When the first molars come they cause an immense amount of pressure. From the pain and reflex irritation of the nerves, children often exhibit serious symptoms such as violently inflamed mouth and throat, spasms of an epileptic type, dizziness, vomiting, headaches, insomnia and diarrhea.

These wide reflexes are not surprising when you know that the Fifth nerve, which supplies the teeth and mouth, gives sensory branches to nine of the twelve cranial nerves. This means that an irritation in or about the mouth can affect the nerve supply of a large part of the body.

When these big molars finally get into place, the child's face is larger and the first definite step from infancy to youth has been taken. These are by far the most important teeth in the mouth. They govern the positions of all of the other teeth of the permanent set. Irregular teeth, weak jaws, inexpressive face, and a crippled masticating apparatus are a few of the penalties that follow the loss of the first molars in childhood.

Unfortunately these teeth are found-decayed more frequently than are any other teeth in the mouth. From the sixth to the twelfth year children should be examined frequently by the family dentist.

Keep the foundations in good repair.

This is to certify that fourteen years ago I got the cords of my left wrist nearly severed, and was for about nine months that I had no use of my hand, and tried other Liniments, also doctors, and was receiving no benefit. By a persuasion from a friend I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and used one bottle, which completely relieved me, and I have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family ever since and find it the same as when I first used it, and would never be without it.

ISAAC E. MANN, Metapedia, P. Q.

Aug. 31st, 1908.

He said to her, over the telephone.

After his weekly visit:
"Dearest, will you marry me?"
"Why, 'yes,'" she said, "who is it."

Wood Protection

The effect of the lumber scarcity, and its antecedent, the depletion of the forest, is being felt by the ambitious householder who undertakes to make his own repairs or improvements. Costs of material are rapidly mounting, and the expense entailed causes a delay in making repairs.

In many cases, however, the necessity for repairs is due to delay in protecting woodwork. By the use of paint, much of the labour and expense of renewal would be obviated. It is remarkable how little thought is given to the protection of wood where it is exposed to the weather. The alternate absorption and drying out of moisture are conducive to decay. By painting the woodwork, moisture is excluded and the life of the wood will be greatly lengthened.

Hot Weather Rules

- 1—Lod lightly, and drive slowly.
- 2—Stop in the shade if possible.
- 3—A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.
- 4—Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still.
- 5—When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and wash his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.
- 6—If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with damp sponge, using vinegar water if possible. Do not wash the horse at night.
- 7—Saturday night give a bran mash lukewarm; and add a tablespoonful of saltpetre.
- 8—Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs brought sideways, he is in danger of faint or sun stroke and needs attention at once.
- 9—If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs, and give him two ounces of aromatic spirits of tartar.
