GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE, complete, from its commencement in 1731 to December 1817, with Index up to 1786, many hundred portraits and other engravings of old English and parochial and national antiquities, bound in 97 vols, half calf, 37.50. 1

A most valuable book of reference for all subjects appertaining to local history, historical events, literature, biography, family history, American affairs; full list of births, marriages and deaths for upwards of eighty years. Mr. Allibone, in writing of CAVE, the founder, well says, "It should be in the library of every student of English literature and political history." And we may add that Cave was perhaps the most enterprising and fearless newspaper originator of his time. He it was who broke through the cast iron rule and defied the Commons in reporting Parliamentary news, and in the number for June, 1738, we have Gulliver's account of the famous empire of Great Lilliput, meaning by this the English Parliament. The Commons after this not interfering with his publication of the so called Lilliput debates. DR. JOHNSON was part editor, and in the commencement of his literary career, drew his chief means of support from his contributions to the "Gentleman's Magazine." In 1778 JOHN NICHOLS obtained a share in the magazine, and rendered it more valuable than at any period of its former history. EDMUND BURKE entitled it one of the most chaste and instructive miscellanies of the age—an opinion corroborated by DR. WATSON and EDWARD GIBBON, the latter of whom urged Nichols to make a selection for future reference from its overflowing pages. RICHARD GOUGH was for many years a constant contributor.

GVANGELICAL MAGAZINE COMPLETE from its commencement in 1793, down to 1869, 77 vols, 8vo, half calf, a scarce and valuable set of books, 30.00, 1793-1869. 2

Another lot from 1808, down to 1836, numerous portraits, 29 vols, A GOOD SOUND LOT, half calf, 6.75. 3

IS WITHOUT QUESTION the MOST VALUABLE PUBLICATION pertaining to Evangelical Christianity and Nonconformist Church History and Biography ever published. There are numerous dissenting seminaries of learning, in which this publication should most assuredly be found, to be loved, consulted and preserved for future generations. It was commenced at a time when to be a dissenter was to be almost a criminal, and abounds with the most reliable information relating to church history, biography, the history, constitution, results, and prospects of Christianity in all parts of the world for nearly one hundred years, and is not obtainable from any other source. THE SET CONTAINS some SIX OR EIGHT HUNDRED ENGRAVED PORTRAITS of good old NONCONFORMIST MINISTERS and others, whose names are household words in England, and whose MEMORY AND LABORS WILL BE HELD IN EVERLASTING REMEMBRANCE. The portraits alone should be worth more than the money.

Early and Rare Old Works on Educational Subjects.

ACCORDING TO COCKER.

COCKER'S ARITHMETICK, 168 pages, lacks Portrait and title, which counts as the first four, edges a little frayed and bears the imprint of time, stitched, early and EXTREMELY RARE EDITION, see below for full title, etc, 35.00.

268

Cocker's Arithmetick, amended and Corrected by George Fisher, Accomptant, with curious portrait, the forty-eighth edition, 18mo, calf, 15.00, VERY RARE, London, at the Looking-Glass on London Bridge, 1736. 269

"Ingenious Cocker, now to rest thow'rt gone,
No art can shew thee fully but thine own;
Thy rare Arithmetick alone can shew
Th' vast Sums of Thanks; we for thy labours owe."

Inscription on the Portrait.

The full title being as follows: COCKER'S ARITHMETICK, being a plain and familiar method, suitable to the meanest capacity, for the full understanding of that incomparable Art, as it is now taught by the ablest schoolmasters in city and country, composed by EDWARD COCKER, late practitioner in the Arts of Writing, Arithmetick and Engraving, being that so long promised to the world. Pursued and published by John Hawkins, Writing-Master, near St. George's Church in Southwark, by the author's correct copy, and commended to the world by many eminent Mathematicians and Writing-Masters in and near London.

The first of the above items may or may not be the ORIGINAL EDITION but that it is extremely early and rare is proved by the fact of the address to the "Courteous Reader," dated November, 27, 1677, and signed JOHN COLLENS instead of COLLINS as in later editions, and the work being confined to 168 pages, whereas it was afterwards enlarged. The first edition is a volume of extraordinary rarity, so much so that it is a disputed question if the work first appeared in 1677 or 1678. Its popularity and authority ACCORDING TO COCKER, is owing to the fact of its being the first which entirely excluded all demonstration and reasoning, and confined itself to commercial questions only.

COCKER (E.) of Arithmetic Fame, The YOUNG CLERK'S TUTOR, enlarged, being a most useful collection of the best precedents of recognizances, obligations, conditions, acquittances, bills of sale, warrants of attorney, etc. 108 pages, 12mo calf, RARE, 7.75, at the Sign of the George, 1670. 271

A nice copy of a rare book, in which, says the title, all the names of the men and women in Latin, with the day of the date, the several sums of money, and the addition of the several trades or employments in their proper cases as they stand in their obligations, with directions of writs of habere corpus, writs of error, etc. to the inferior courts in cities and towns, likewise all the best precedents of all manner of concordors of fines, and directions how to sue out a fine, etc. etc.

272 Cocker's (Edward) ENGLISH DICTIONARY, interpreting the most refined and difficult words in divinity, philosophy, law, physicks, mathematicks, husbandry, mechanicks, etc. 12mo, morocco, and is not at all a bad copy of the EXCEEDINGLY RARE FIRST EDITION, 8.75, at the Red Lion on London Bridge, 1704.

With an explanation of those hard words which are derived from other languages, as Greek, Latin, Dutch, Italian, Spanish, French, etc. to which is added an historico-poetical dictionary containing the proper names of men, women, rivers, countries, cities, castles, towns, mountains, etc. in England, Scotland and Ireland, etc. and the feigned stories of heathen gods, with other poetical inventions; also the interpretation of the usual terms in military discipline, likewise the terms which merchants and others make use of in trade and commerce, and the coins of most countries in Europe and several parts of the world, with other useful particulars—a work necessary for all persons who desire to understand their own language and would attain to eloquence in speaking and elegance in writing, by EDWARD COCKER, the late famous practitioner in fair writing and arithmetic, perused and published from the author's correct copy by JOHN HAWKINS." Title in full.

273 Cocker's English Dictionary, and in this third edition very much enlarged and altered, by JOHN HAWKINS, the like never yet extant, with other variations in the title-page, a little larger in size, being small 8vo, original calf binding, and is a sound copy, 4.50, at the Looking Glass on London Bridge, 1724.

276 Mr. Wingate's Arithmetick, containing a plain and familiar method for attaining the knowledge and practice of common arithmetic, with supplement by George Shelley, writing master of Christ Hospital, 448 pages, 8vo, calf, 1.00, at the King's Arms, 1726.
