

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 8, 1907.

Town Elections.

The civic elections took place on Tuesday under rather unfavorable conditions. The day was one of the most disagreeable of the season, a blinding snow-storm raging from early morning, and the roads being in an almost impossible condition. In spite of this, however, there was a fairly good vote polled—107 out of the 180 qualified voters depositing their ballots. When the ballots were counted the result was found to be as follows:

J. E. Hales.....91
W. T. Ford.....87
Dr. A. J. McKenna.....79
R. E. Wickwire.....26
C. M. Gormley.....16

Town Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council and the first meeting of the new Board was held on Wednesday evening.

As is customary a brief meeting of the old Board was first held for the purpose of closing up any matter left unsettled.

A report of the Finance Committee was read, showing receipts for the past month $321.46, and expenditures $231.46. At the end of January there was a credit balance in the bank of $116.11.

The Mayor and Couns. Chambers, Hales, Sherwood, Fitch, Johnson and Abbott were present.

The following accounts were read and ordered paid:

Geo. A. Pratt.....$ 6.00
Rebecca Gould.....12.50
S. M. Griffin.....50
O. D. Harris.....4.50
Town Clerk.....1.55
A. V. Rand.....50
Acadia Electric Light.....49.74
F. W. Woodman.....6.48
London Guarantee and Accident Co.....10.00

Mayor Black addressed the Council, thanking the members for the help given during the past year, and expressing regret that the Council was to lose the services of Couns. Chambers and Sherwood. These gentlemen were also called upon and addressed the Council briefly.

Mayor Black and Coun. Hales, who were present, were then duly sworn in by the Recorder, and the Board constituted proceeded with the business, Messrs. Chambers and Sherwood retiring.

A petition was presented from Mr. C. H. Borden, permanent assessor, asking an advance in salary of $30 and read. The conditions in such cases as imposed by the Council not being complied with the matter was, on motion, laid on the table.

At this time Couns. Ford and McKenna arrived and were duly sworn in.

Mayor Black presented a lengthy and very interesting address, teeming with valuable suggestions for the various standing committees of the town.

The Exhibition Fakirs.

The Farmers' Association, at Middleton, has been discussing the last Exhibition at Halifax. Referring to an alleged surplus of $1,115, as reported in the Halifax Herald, 'E. B. Elderkin said that this exhibition was really a provincial fair with a Dominion grant. The Dominion gave $50,000, the provincial government $10,000 and Halifax $10,000. In future we must not look for a surplus.' Of course not.

Would it be possible to discover where this $70,000 of public money went to, along with the very large sum of public money taken at the gates? We know that much of the gate money was stolen, that certain of the thieves were convicted in the Halifax Police Court, and that as the Crown did not move for sentence, none was imposed. Here is the end of this prosecution, after the expenditure of a considerable sum of public money, upon Montreal detectives and otherwise, to discover and punish thieves, which had been prevalent for some time previous. In such theatricals (on a par with any in their Fakirs' Row), the Commissioners seem to have forgotten that they are Trustees of Public Money. There is an Ethiopian in the woodpile some where about this business. Who is 'the Crown,' anyway, who steps in to stifle proceedings for the punishment of those who steal our money? Upon what principle or by what 'pull' were the thieves let go 'on suspended sentence,' after the custodians of our money had caught these employees of theirs? This thing has never been explained. To remove the fear of punishment incites to further crime.

Where can a suffering public have access to an account and audit of the Commission's affairs, which are not affairs, or is there any such thing on record anywhere? Now that the 'Grand Stand' must be replaced by a large expenditure on capital account, no doubt involving a loan, it would be opportune for the Legislature to reconsider this Exhibition question thoroughly: as to its material and moral utility, its financial history and prospects, its management, the frequency of the thing, and so forth.

The report of the proceedings of the Farmers' Association goes on to say: 'A. E. McMahon moved, seconded by H. W. Corning, the following resolution: 'Resolved, that the Provincial Farmers' Association of Nova Scotia again express its disapproval of what is known as 'Fakirs' Row' in connection with the exhibitions at Halifax. And further resolved, that we instruct our commissioners to use their influence to have it eliminated from these exhibitions.'

A hot discussion followed in which Messrs. Logan, Elderkin and Innes apologized for, or defended 'Fakirs' Row,' but everybody else present appeared to be decidedly against it. The motion was carried by a vote of 96 to 1. Every right thinking man must say 'Amen' to that.

That the Commission has licensed gambling thieves to prey upon the ignorant and simple among the visiting public at these shows, is generally known and is matter of record in the County Court at Halifax. Strange that a County Court Judge should have to convict these licensed criminals, when one of the Commission responsible for such licenses is a Supreme Court Judge! It is not important here that such licensing was wilfully or knowingly done; but the granting of such licenses can be attributed only to extreme negligence or incapacity.

It has at last been learned where the Commission obtained its idea of a pity to deprive its members of the glory of an original idea, public interest seems to require this. They borrowed the conception from Mr. Dooley, who years ago imparted it to a friend in the following conversation: 'An' there ye ar-re, Hinnessy. Ye can believe me or not, but they're all alike, man, woman or child. If I ever give a wuruld's fair they won't be much to it but th' Midway. Th' principal buildin' will be occupied by th' Streets of Cairo, th' Indian village, th' shoot th' shoots, th' loopholes an' similar exhibits iv what man is doin' no't fr' mankind, but fr' himself. They'll all be in th' main street, an' they'll be bands playin' an' tout toms beatin' an' Egyptian girls dancin', an' Indians howlin', an' m' hootin' through megaphones, an' m' minyit ye had ye'r ficket to th' chopper at th' big gate. An' away over in a corner iv th' gr' round in a buildin' as small an' obscure as Alice Ben Bolt's grave where no man'd find it unless they thripped over it on their way to th' merry-go-round, I'd put all th' arts an' sciences I cud pack into it an' lave th' rest outside where they cud wurruk. Fr' a wuruld's fair is no riddle-mills. If it was ye'd be paid fr' goin' there. 'Tis no't th' rollin'-mills an' 'tis not a school or a machine shop or a grocery store. 'Tis a big circus, with many rings—an' that's what it ought to be.'

'Why do they get them up?' asked Mr. Hennessy.

'They get them up fr' th' advancement iv thought an' th' gate receipts,' said Mr. Dooley. 'But they're run fr' a good time an' a defecit.'

The Lord's Day.

DEAR SIR.—Having called attention to the late hours on Saturday night, totally unfitting many for enjoying the Sabbath day, I hope the public generally will help along this matter by getting their shopping done early.

However, is there not another growing evil? Is there not a good deal of unnecessary Sunday driving? Wolfville has become a center for American tourists, and to encourage this we've not become lax in regard to the Lord's day. Many of these tourists come to us for rest. Some come simply for sight seeing. Are we catering for the best class of summer visitors by breaking the Sabbath? I think not. But the evil of Sunday driving I do not wish altogether to lay at the feet of the livery men. These are not sinners above all others. Our belief is that much of this Sabbath desecration lies at the door of many respectable people who own their own teams. Do such people ever think of the influence of their example? I know that I am treating 'my nearest ground' in presenting this matter thus. A man harnesses up his team and takes his wife and family off to Evangeline beach or some where else. Who has any business how any man spends his Sabbath? He is conferring a blessing on his family by giving them the benefit of the fresh air and God's sunshine, and it is a piece of clerical impertinence to find fault. That would be true if men stood alone; but in a community each influences the other. How is our Sabbath recreation interpreted by others? How do the young people around you look on your disregard for the Sabbath, your indifference to worship? Never mind what ministers or religious people think, what do others think? They think you, as a respectable man, care little for the religious aspect of the day. You are in silent antagonism to the Church of God. By your desecration of the Lord's day you have put the virus of your indifference, of your carelessness, of your trivialization into the hearts of those who are already partially hostile to religion. They grow up antagonistic to religion and as there is no other moral restraining force in the world, the lives of these people are wrecked. It is not that the church has failed, but those who should have helped have been against us. That is not the end. The moral tone of the community is the atmosphere in which our children are to live. If we have helped to lower that by our example, at our feet lies the blame. Even if it be at inconvenience to ourselves, we ought to teach others to respect either God's laws or the country's laws. We appeal, therefore, to those who have an inclination for Sabbath driving to deny themselves for the sake of their own children and for others. We appeal to those engaged in the livery business to help along in this matter, and we are sure it will be in the interest both of the temporal and moral welfare of the town.

Diseases of the Kidneys

No one can afford to neglect derangements of the kidneys. The results are too painful and the risk too great. Some of the symptoms are—Pains in the back and legs, gradual loss of flesh, deposits in the urine, headache, scanty, dark-colored urine, painful, scalding sensations when urinating, dropsical swelling of ankles and legs, irregularity of the bowels, and gradual failure of health and strength.

Judged by actual cases made, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most satisfactory treatment obtainable for kidney disease. Relief is prompt and cure thorough and lasting. Enquire about cases in your own neighbourhood.

Mrs. F. W. Woodworth entertained a number of her friends very pleasantly on Wednesday evening. A feature of the evening was a number of well-rendered piano solos and duets by her daughter, Miss LeVaughn, and Miss Vesta Pick.

The hockey match to-night in Evangeline Rink, between the H. C. A. 2nd team and the Shamrocks, promises to be a very fast game. Both teams have been practising hard and are in good condition and will make the game very interesting to spectators. Game starts at 7.15 sharp. Admission 75 cts.

The Ladies' Non-Talk Club gave a skating party to their gentlemen friends in Evangeline Rink Wednesday evening, Feb. 6th. After a delightful two hours spent on the ice the party repaired to the home of Mrs. R. E. Harris, where refreshments were served. Many thanks are due Mrs. Harris, for so pleasantly entertaining them.

Mr. J. Elliot Smith and family returned last week from Halifax, where they have been spending the winter. Their return was hurried on account of the threatened attack of Mrs. Smith with scarlet fever, which is quite prevalent in Halifax. Mrs. Smith remained in Halifax, and her many Wolfville friends will be glad to know that her condition is not at all serious.

The news was received by telegram this week of the death of Mrs. Arthur Cunningham, at Brooklyn, N.Y. Mrs. Cunningham was a former resident of this town, being a daughter of the late David Thomas. For some years after the death of her husband, who was employed in the Halifax post office, she resided in the house now occupied by Mrs. Gibbons, and had many friends here, who will learn with sorrow of her death. The remains, we understand, will be brought here for interment.

The Wolfville Fire Co. was called out twice this week, but fortunately in neither case was the fire a serious one. On Monday afternoon a slight blaze occurred at the Academy Home, which was extinguished with little damage. The fire caught in this case from the furnace. On Tuesday evening, at the height of the storm, an alarm was rung in consequence of a chimney on fire at E. J. Delaney's. The firemen responded promptly although at great disadvantage, but their services fortunately were not required.

The pulpit of the Presbyterian church was very acceptably filled on Sunday last by Rev. Dr. Annand, missionary to the New Hebrides.

Dr. Annand is home on furlough, having spent thirty-four years in those far-distant islands of the sea. He and Mrs. Annand leave this week to return. The Dr.'s address on Sunday evening was a most interesting one, and gave a splendid idea of the life and condition of the people of the New Hebrides, as well as a good description of the work which is being done by the church there.

Stella-Chase Ainsworth. Grand Pre Items.

Alumnae Hall was comfortably filled with a most attentive and appreciative audience on Friday evening, when Stella Chase Ainsworth, of New York, gave a most delightful recital. The program was a varied one, and in its performance the reader proved herself an eloquentist of unusual ability and training as well as a clever and versatile actress. In each of her selections her rare elocutionary power was displayed to splendid advantage. By request she substituted for one of the numbers of the program 'The Potions Scene' from Romeo and Juliet, in the rendition of which her marked ability to interpret Shakespeare was evident. Mrs. Ainsworth is no novice, having been a former member of Augustin Daly's Company, New York, and leading lady in other recognized theatrical companies. She recently returned from a tour of the world, having left Kingston, Jamaica, only a few days before the disaster. Although her father was a native of this county, this is Mrs. Ainsworth's first visit to Nova Scotia, her home being in California. She was much pleased with our Province, and will probably pay us another visit in the summer, before leaving for England. She is accompanied by her friend and business woman, Mrs. Coates. To-night Mrs. Ainsworth reads at Kentville under the auspices of the Pastime Club.

The illustrated lecture delivered by the Rev. Harry Burgess in the vestry of the Methodist church was very entertaining. The lecturer was formerly chaplain to H. M. forces in Bermuda, and gave a graphic description of the islands and of H. M. ships, crews &c., while he was on that station. He also illustrated several of the most noted battle-ships of the early part of the 19th century, including Nelson's flagship Victory, still in commission in Portsmouth harbor, as well as several of the most prominent events in the life of our greatest admiral.

The Grim Reaper.

The death of Mrs. Alice Chute, wife of the late David Chute, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. G. Sutherland, Wolfville, Sunday evening, Jan. 20th, after a long and painful illness, which she bore with Christian resignation and fortitude. Deceased was 78 years of age. She was deeply loved and revered by all who knew her, and in the circle where she was ever a fond and loving mother the loss is a great one and will be long and sorely felt. She leaves four sons, David, of Boston, Owen L., of New York, Joseph, of Seaton, Mississippi, and Edward at the old home, Canada Creek, and three daughters, Mrs. Smith, of Hartford, Vermont, Mrs. F. Edwards, of Stoughton, Mass., and Mrs. T. G. Sutherland, with whom she lived until her death. After the funeral, which took place Thursday morning at 8.30 o'clock, the remains were taken to Canada Creek and laid to rest beside her husband. The family have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland wish to thank their many friends and relatives who were so kind in helping them in their time of sorrow.

The death of Mrs. Melinda Pearson, wife of Mr. Wilson Pearson, occurred at her home in Brooklyn Street, Kings Co., at an early hour Friday morning. She had been ill for about ten weeks with a complication of troubles, but her condition was not considered serious until the last month. Miss Kate Pearson, who is on the teaching staff of the Windsor Academy, was summoned home two weeks ago on Sunday, and had to drive all the way. The funeral was held on Sunday last. Besides her daughter Kate, the deceased leaves a husband and one son. -Hants Journal.

Good Game of Hockey. Notwithstanding the many other attractions of last Friday evening there was a good attendance at Evangeline Rink, to witness the return game between Lunenburg and Wolfville hockey teams. The management had an excellent sheet of ice and the fine program by the band added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The visiting team arrived on the express and were a sturdy and nice looking lot of young men. At eight o'clock, at the whistle of the referee, I. S. Boates, the teams lined up for action as follows:

Wolfville: Raife point, Lewis S. King centre, Faulkner H. Demore rover, Hughes A. King r. wing, McLeod L. Burns l. wing, Spicer Silver goal. W. C. Harris referee.

No better hockey has ever been witnessed in Wolfville. The home team started in well and landed the puck, within two minutes, but the visitors soon rallied and played a faster game, keeping the Wolfville goal-keeper busy. Their combination work was most effective, and their staying powers gave them a decided advantage, and the powers of the referee were taxed to keep them within the rules.

The Wolfville players did excellent work and many very pretty individual plays were made. In the team work, however, they were not equal to their opponents, but with plenty of practice they would undoubtedly prove a very difficult team to down. The Western hockey league should be congratulated. When time was called the score stood 7-4 in favor of Lunenburg. W. King shot 3 goals; Burns, 1; F. King, 1; A. King, 1, and Demone 1. For the home team Spicer, Faulkner, McLeod and Hughes scored.

After the game the visitors were entertained with an oyster supper at Young's restaurant, when a very enjoyable time was had. On behalf of the Wolfville team Mr. W. T. Ford gave an appropriate address to the visitors.

The Emery-Hawley Recital.

The coming musical event - that of the Emery-Hawley recital, to be given on next Wednesday evening in College Hall - promises to be unique in several respects. All the compositions on the program are from Mr. Emery's pen. Some of them were brought out in England several years ago when he appeared at the university concerts in Cambridge. Others he played with success in Berlin and in the north of Germany. Several selected for next week's program were composed when Mr. Emery was only fifteen years of age. A few have been written since his arrival in Wolfville, notably the concert etude wh'ch he has entitled, 'Fog-life' - an extremely modern and characteristic number.

Mrs. Hawley has been chosen to sing the songs owing to her wonderful power of interpretation. Her voice is of unusual range and technical difficulties have no terrors for her. She has had success in various times. Last season she sang four times under Mollenhauer, in Boston as soloist in the 'Messiah,' at the Springfield Festival, etc., etc. Mrs. Hawley and Mr. Emery have been associated very frequently in concert work since the latter's final return from Europe in 1901; and twice before has Mrs. Hawley sung an entire program of Emery Songs. Mrs. Hawley is herself a composer of considerable ability. She has written two complete operas which have elicited great praise from Boston and New York critics. As a child she was a skillful player on the cello; from which it may be seen that she is a highly cultivated musician and an artist of high merit.

This will be Mr. Emery's only appearance in concert in Wolfville this season and already the sale of tickets shows that there is a wide-spread interest in Wolfville as well as in the surrounding towns. Tickets at 50c., 35c. and 25c. are for sale now at Rand's Drug Store.

Masonic 'At Home.' The 'At Home' given on Friday evening last by the members of St. George's Lodge, was a very pleasant affair. The handsome lodge-room of the society presented a fine appearance, and was well filled with invited guests.

On behalf of the Lodge Mr. Oakes extended welcome to the guests. He referred to a similar function last year when the ladies so enthusiastically undertook work for the Masonic Fair, resulting in a very handsome contribution worth $144.00, which he said was being supplemented by members of the Lodge, so that the total gift from Wolfville to the Fair would considerably exceed $300.00. He also stated that the Fair had been a splendid success, there being raised the grand total of about $2,000. This exhibition of Masonic charity was a good answer to suspicious aspersions, sometimes indulged in by those ignorant of the true principles of the Fraternity, and would promote the interests of Masonry in Nova Scotia, as well as inspire the establishment of Masonic homes for the poor in other provinces. He thanks the ladies most cordially for their generous co-operation, and said this example had been an inspiration to the Lodge and was accordingly appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Moore was exceedingly happy in a very witty address of about ten minutes which kept the audience in continual merriment. He closed with a beautiful apostrophe to Masonry touching its reign, its progress and its destiny.

During the evening a telegram was received from J. W. Caldwell, Ottawa, reading: 'Am with you in spirit, shaking hands and laughing.'

The program included a well-rendered chorus entitled 'Farewell to the Forest,' a violin selection by Mr. R. W. Ford and a reading by Mrs. Ford, all of which was greatly enjoyed. At the conclusion excellent refreshments were served and a half hour was most pleasantly spent in social intercourse.
