STILL MORE QUESTIONS

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Dear Sir:—Will you kindly tell me (the Editor is supposed to know everything) if I have been rightly informed as to a recent occurrence in the law enforcement. It is common talk by the "man on the street" that the detective imported to endeavour to stop boot legging here obtained evidence against an ex-councillor sufficient for conviction but who was allowed to escape with an admonition. Now it is not long since a laboring man in this vicinity was imprisoned at a considerable expense to the community for the same sort of offence against the law. Can you tell me why this is so, as to my mind such a condition of affairs renders the administration of the law both ineffective and contemptible.

ONE OF THE MEN ON THE STREET

THE "BLACK OWL" HOOTS AGAIN

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:
Dear Sir:—In the last issue of your paper you were kind enough to publish my letter concerning "Children on the Streets at Night" and I am wondering if my words fell on rocky ground and proved futile, or whether they fell on fertile soil, so that the law will take steps to aid the parents of today to the betterment of the citizens of tomorrow. This is not my idea alone, for there are many in the contention that if the parents cannot control the children in this respect then the law should.

The other day I was speaking to one of the business men whose store is situated on the north side of our Main Street and he mentioned the inconvenience and annoyance caused by loafers in his store doorway. This is not occasional but a nightly practice. Is it permissible by law to loiter indefinitely on privately owned property? Is it permitted in every municipality or are this class of person especially privileged in Wolfville?
We have one of the fairest towns in the Province and some of the best type of citizens, and whilst we have the big things let us not neglect to rectify the little things that tend to cast a shadow and mar its beauty.

BLACK OWL

WOLFVILLE HIGH WINS FROM BLOOMFIELD

(Received too late for last issue)
After spending an enjoyable time on the train the W. H. S. hockey team arrived in Halifax, where at 12.30 we played Bloomfield High.
The game was a good exhibition of clear hockey and, indeed, the score by no means indicated the closeness of the game, which was 5 to 1 in our favor.

Bloomfield has a good team and much of its strength comes from the defence and the goals. These boys are great sports and we heartily hope they are more successful in the future.
Wolfville High team worked to perfection, Williams on the forward line netting four of the five goals, while "Johnny" Johnson, our crack defence, netted the other tally after a long rush. His rushes were frequent and only the good work of Bloomfield's defence and goalie kept the score down. All the men on our team played well and we surely deserved a win.

Much appreciation is felt toward Prin. Silver for the enjoyable time he extended to the boys while in the city. We also heartily wish to thank Mr. H. W. Phinney for the banquet tendered the W. H. S. team at the Green Lantern, which was enjoyed by all present.

We left the city at 8.15, too early for us as we were all having a wonderful time. We very much envied one of our companions who spent the week end in Halifax, due to missing the train.

Arriving in Wolfville the boys departed to their homes after giving the school yell and one for Prin. Silver. Those making the trip were: Prin. Silver, Coach Stackhouse, Walter Ritchie, Clair McKenna, John Johnson, Fred Regan, Jack Wilkins, Ronald Prescott, Horace Vaughn, Harold Phinney, Karl Eaton, Randolph, McLeod, Ronald Shaw and Hollie Spinney.

In the first game of the intercollegiate basketball series played at Sackville last Thursday evening, U. N. B. won from M. J. P. by the close margin of 20 to 18.

HIGH HONOR FOR CANADIAN

Captain Robinson, of the Empress of Australia, who did such splendid work in saving passengers and refugees during the Japanese earthquake, has been decorated with the silver medal of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, of which the King is Patron. The award was made at the instance of the Order in Canada, and Captain Robinson is only the second Canadian to receive the award since it was instituted in 1874.

BUILDING THE OLD COLLEGE

Work on the new college building, which has been going on steadily during the winter, is progressing satisfactorily, and already some idea of what the new structure is to be may be conceived. With the coming of spring the staff of workmen will be greatly increased and operations will be pushed forward in real earnest during the coming summer.

In this connection older residents will recall the building of the structure which it replaces, and which was destroyed by fire on December 2nd, 1920. This building was erected during the summer of 1878 by Rhodes & Curry, who were the founders of the company which is erecting the new building. The former building was far inferior in size and general character to its successor, but when it is remembered that the price at which it was built, together with the Seminary which then included only the west wing and was built during the same summer, was only thirty thousand dollars, some idea is had of the advance that has taken place in the cost of building.

Conditions were then very different from what they are today. The wages paid to all carpenters aside from the foremen was $1.50 per day of ten hours, and there was no complaint and no strike and every man did a full day's work. The rough lumber used was purchased for $6.50 per thousand and other materials cost corresponding prices.
Work was begun some time in May and both buildings were completed before the end of the year. Mr. Elias Curry, our well known and popular fellow townsmen, was engaged on the work and has good reason to remember at least one incident in connection therewith. As the result of a fall of nearly fifty feet from a staging while at work on the Seminary he sustained such injury as to practically disable him for the rest of his life.

The Vancouver Acadia Club was recently entertained at the home of Dr. Evelyn Keirstead Ferris of that city. A large number of Nova Scotians were present, including Mrs. Alice Whiteside, Dr. Theodore Rogge, Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Estabrook, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell, Miss Etta Yuill, Miss Linda Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaw. Mr. Shaw, Acadia, '91 gave a very entertaining recital, after which a dainty collation was served in the dining room which was fragrant with spring daffodils and tulips. Mrs. Ferris assisted in serving by her daughters and three sons. A donation for Acadia was raised during the evening.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

Old Power Station to be Converted Into Fire Hall

A special meeting of the Town Council was held at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon with all the Councillors present. In the absence of Mayor Chambers, who is out of town, Presiding Councillor Balcom occupied the chair.
The Town Manager reported for the Fire and Water Committee respecting permission for the accommodation of the new fire engine which it is expected will arrive in the course of a few weeks. It had been proposed to use for this purpose the old power house on Main street and Mr. Stairs presented plans for changes which it will be necessary to make. The building will be divided by a partition and the west side is to be used for the storing of the engine and other equipment. On the east side a room will be comfortably fitted up for the use of the firemen. Specifications had been prepared on which tenders were asked for the work of making the necessary changes. Five tenders had been received at prices ranging from $875. to $560. On motion of Coun. Peck, seconded by Coun. Mitchell it was decided formally to use the premises for the purpose as indicated above and that the tender of E. W. Eagles of $560.00 for doing the required work be accepted.

FORMER WOLFVILLE BOY GETS COLLEGE CHAIR

Reginald G. Trotter, Ph. D. (Harvard), who for several years past has occupied a chair in Canadian and English History at Stanford University, California, has been appointed to a similar position in Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario. Queen's University offers Dr. Trotter almost a unique opportunity for research in his chosen field of Canadian history. He begins his new duties next September. Dr. Trotter is the eldest son of a former president of Acadia, the later Dr. Thomas Trotter, and a brother of the young Canadian poet, Bernard Trotter, who gave his life in the Great War.

DEATH OF ESTEEMED CASPEREAU CITIZEN

There passed to rest Saturday morning, March 22nd, at CasperEAU, a highly esteemed and widely known citizen, Mr. Silas I. Baker, in his 74th year.

The deceased was born in Bridgewater and went to White Rock when a young man of twenty-five. Two years later he came to Wolfville where he has since resided. He was baptized forty years ago and united with the CasperEAU Baptist Church. Fourteen years ago failing health compelled him to give up active work. The last nine weeks he has been a patient sufferer and received at the hands of a faithful wife and son the tenderest care.

The funeral service was held at his home on Monday afternoon, the Rev. F. E. Rupp, of Wolfville, officiating, giving a very comforting address from Ps. 23:4. The floral tributes were lovely and the music beautifully rendered by the choir was "Asleep in Jesus", "Saved by Grace", and "When My Soul Reaches Home". The funeral was very largely attended, people coming from miles around to pay their last respects to one who was a friend to all. The pall bearers were: J. L. Gertridge, F. L. Gertridge, P. J. Gertridge, J. B. Gertridge, O. W. Coldwell and A. H. Coldwell.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Della Coldwell, and an adopted son Perry, to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. He is also survived by two brothers Reuben and Phineas, of Bridgewater, and two sisters Mrs. Levinia Heim, of Chelsea, N. S., and Mrs. Benjamin Ramey, of Saskatchewan. One sister Mrs. Lydia Bolivar predeceased him by only one week.

The election last Saturday for the Mock Parliament at Acadia resulted in a win for the Liberal party by a majority of 11, the vote being, Liberals 82, Conservatives 71. Mr. R. Thorpe was chosen leader of the Liberal party in place of Mr. McLeod, who resigned. The first meeting of parliament will be a week from Saturday night.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

One of the most conspicuous figures in public life in the Old Land, he is a soldier, writer and statesman. He ran as an independent candidate in a by-election at Westminster, but was defeated by just a few votes. It is said he will now be welcomed back into the Conservative party if he chooses to enter it. He has been Secretary for the Colonies, First Lord of the Admiralty, Minister at different times of Munitions, War and Air.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF LENT

From the very excellent Lenten Pastoral of Archbishop Worrell to the clergy of his diocese, all of which is worthy of careful perusal, we culled the following paragraphs which present truths that should be carefully considered by all people at this season:

No religious life can be complete unless it is developed along the lines of prayer and service, unless worship and work have their due proportion. These are not for special cases and unusual circumstances alone. They are the props and mainstays of daily life, ever ready throughout the routine of the common round, and ever ready for the most unexpected emergency. A well spent Lent will help to make them such. But it must be really well spent. It will not do to make it a fitful period of emotion, in which to live a hothouse sort of religious life, inevitably checked and killed by the cold atmosphere of the experience afterwards. It should be rather a nursery in which the young plant may grow strong and healthy, and able to develop into a sturdy and fruitful tree. It should bring out all that is best, and nobler, to the exclusion of the mean and narrow, by fostering an earnest, mainly life, strengthened by prayer and fasting, and sacrament and consecrated to the service of Jesus Christ.

In this busy world, where the majority of people have their minds filled with the material problems of life, both great and small, it is not easy for everyone to find time for all the work of the Church. But because all cannot be done is no reason why some should not be undertaken. There is plenty of work to go round all hands, and there are plenty of hands to keep everything going.

There is no room today for a Church content with superficial religion. If it is only an incident it may be allowed to pass. If it is only a field for warring opinions it may be left to the colleges. But if it is really an integral part of life, a power, a moving incentive to goodness and personal holiness and helpfulness, is practical use is evident, and its great claim as the Kingdom of Christ cannot be ignored.

In the Lenten call to worship and work we have not only the authority of Christ's Church behind it but we have also his example to show how these were essential features in His strong and beautiful life. In the matter of worship He kept the fasts and festivals and attended the services of the Jewish Church. His active ministry was preceded by forty days of rigid fasting and frequently he spent whole nights in prayer. His last act was the institution of the solemn services of the Holy Communion which thenceforward was to supercede the Passover and be the great spiritual event of life. In the matter of work, He went about doing good. He taught His disciples and took active steps for the preaching of His Gospel to all the world. He paid tribute Himself, and called upon all to render to God the things that are God's.

Lent is our great forty days to gain the needed strength to walk worthy of the vocation whereto we are called, following the examples of His most Holy Life. Opportunities for worship and work are everywhere.

ACADIA GIRLS WIN FROM U. N. B.

Intercollegiate Teams Debate Merits of Pulp Embargo

The Acadia University co-eds were given the decision over the U. N. B. co-eds in a closely contested debate last Thursday night. The debate, which was held in the auditorium of the Baptist church, was on the subject: "Resolved that the export of pulpwood from Canada should be prohibited." The U. N. B. co-eds were led by Miss Mary Jones, the other speakers being Miss Florence Snodgrass and Miss Dorothy Phillips; they upheld the affirmative. The Acadia co-eds, who upheld the negative, were represented by Miss Jean Walker (leader), Miss Claire Cutten and Miss Alice McLeod.

The judges were, Prof. Munroe, of Dalhousie University, Dr. Oulton, of Moncton, and Rev. Mr. Logan of Canada. Dr. Patterson, president of Acadia University, occupied the chair. Rev. Dr. MacPherson, president of St. Francis Xavier University, who was to have been one of the judges, was held up by a railway blockage and was unable to be present.

Miss Jones opened the debate for the affirmative by reviewing the resolution with its political and public interest. She declared that they should look to the best interests of all the people and to the future as well as to the present. She outlined the various phases as they were to be discussed by the affirmative: (1) the prohibition of pulp export would be a means of conserving Canada's natural resources; (2) that prohibition would be essential in the development of Canada; (3) each class of the country and province would share in the benefits derived therefrom. She emphasized the need of conservation of pulp areas. Instead of drawing from the principal of the forests, with an embargo the yearly cut might be reduced so that it would be included in the annual growth or income.

Miss Walker, opening the debate for the negative, advocated a scientific forestry program by which the depletion might be looked after as well as the problem of reforestation. An embargo would be too drastic a measure, she said, and it would not remove the internal loss from fire and other causes. She quoted statistics to prove that an embargo on the export of Canadian pulp would only affect 1.2 per cent of the timber cut in Canada yearly. Hence they should look to other sources for conservation.

Miss Snodgrass spoke of the necessity for the development of the pulp industry. This could only be done by an embargo on the export of pulp, she declared, if the United States would grant free trade on all higher forms of paper from Canada an embargo would be unnecessary, but as conditions exist the home industry should be protected.

Miss Cutten made a splendid impression, giving a humorous touch to her arguments and speaking with clearness and ease. She argued that in case of prohibitive measures by Canada the United States, to whom Canada exported all her exported raw pulp, would look elsewhere for a supply; also the United States Congress would retaliate by placing an import tax on Canadian paper which would reduce the market for Canadian industry.

Miss Phillips, closing the arguments for the U. N. B. co-eds, had her subject well in hand marshalling her arguments in an effective manner. The basis of her speech was that an embargo would cause no real lasting injury to any class or any province. In the four eastern provinces there would be an increase in number of mills and in the pulp industry.

The final speech was given by Miss MacLeod. She spoke on the injustice done to the small land owner in case of an embargo. In support of her argument, she said the small land owner could not profitably ship his pulp to Canadian concerns. She said that the transportation charges from Yarmouth county to the White Rock Mills, outside of Wolfville, were greater than those from the same place to Virginia. The leaders had 10 minutes each for rebuttal, after which the judges gave the decision in favor of Acadia.

Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

PROTECTING OUR FORESTS

Hon. Mr. O'Hearn, Nova Scotia's new Attorney-General, indicates a spirit of progressiveness that is apparently not shared in by other members of the provincial cabinet. Some of the innovations which he has proposed since taking office have been resented by his colleagues, but for the most part they display a desire to make progress that is commendable.

The idea of employing aeroplanes to patrol the forests of this province with a view to their protection, however, he is inclined to regard as unnecessary. On the other hand he proposes an energetic campaign of publicity as likely to produce more profitable results. He suggests using the schools, the moving pictures and even the pulpit in an attempt to educate the people and impress upon them the gravity of the situation respecting the safety of our forest wealth. There is no doubt as to the wisdom of this proposition and we would beg to suggest that in addition a liberal appropriation should be made to newspaper publicity in order to disseminate the information that the subject deserves. Up to the present little has been done along this line while in the United States and in other provinces the importance of such a work has long been recognized. There are few directions in which the government can better afford the expenditure of public funds than in bringing to the attention of the people their responsibility in the conservation of the resources of the country.

MUNICIPAL RIGHTS

That our provincial government is beginning to recognize the fact that the municipalities possess at least some rights is encouraging. It will be remembered that some years ago an act was passed giving to the provincial treasury the license fees in connection with all circuses performing in Nova Scotia. The cutting out of this means of revenue and the usurping of the right of saying what nature of entertainment should be foisted upon any community was naturally the occasion of not a little complaint, with the result that last year this was amended by granting to incorporated towns the right of collecting the fee for their own use. Last week another amendment was introduced to extend the same privilege to cities and rural municipalities which were overlooked in the former legislation.

It is to be hoped that this action indicates a more generous course of treatment on the part of the legislature towards the towns and municipalities of the province, which have for years been seriously handicapped in consequence of many arbitrary and foolish regulations.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES

In view of the threatened re-rating of this town for fire insurance purposes it is interesting to note that in Yarmouth the business men are indignant because of the sensational jump recently made in the insurance rates of that town. Yarmouth, like Wolfville, has been practically free from serious fires, and again like Wolfville has recently added to its fire-fighting equipment by the purchase of an expensive "La France" engine, at the suggestion of the fire underwriters. There is a feeling of general indignation at the "gateway to Nova Scotia", and already several large insurance policies have been cancelled. The forming of a mutual fire protection association is under consideration with local capital, which seems a very wise procedure under the circumstances. The details of the increase are not yet given but it is said that it will mean an increase of fully fifty per cent. in some cases.

With the likelihood of receiving similar treatment when our turn comes it will be well for the citizens of this town to take into thoughtful consideration the whole subject of fire insurance.

INCOME ASSESSMENT

A measure which has recently been introduced in the legislature at Halifax is an amendment to the Assessment Act. This provides that when a single man claims exemption from taxation on the ground that he is supporting a household, it must be shown that such household is within the province of Nova Scotia. The exemption on income in this province is now two thousand dollars for a married man supporting a home, or one thousand dollars for a single man who does not. The latter also receives the advantage of the larger exemption when he is the supporter of a home, which, as the law stands today, may be located in another province or a foreign country. The amendment will be useful in such places as observe the law regarding income assessments. The Assessment Act in this province is not a good law. It is antiquated in its provisions and extremely difficult to follow, even if a reasonable attempt were made to do so, which is not always the case.

PERMANENT SIDEWALKS

It is understood to be the intention of the town authorities to undertake at least a measure of permanent sidewalk construction during the present season. While no statement has been given out on the subject there is a report to the effect that the sidewalk on the north side of Main street between Gaspereau and Elm avenues will be the first to receive attention, and that the property owners will be required to bear half of the expense. While THE ACADIAN favors a policy of keeping down taxation as far as is reasonably possible this must not be pursued at the expense of public efficiency. We believe that the providing of good sidewalks in Wolfville, which has already been too long deferred, would come under the head of well justified expenditures. There are unquestionably many improvements that might be made in Wolfville if the financial conditions warranted but good sidewalks is something which we cannot afford to do without.

OURS BUT TO DO OR DIE

As a result of the solicitude of some unknown friend our attention has been called by the post office authorities to the fact that THE ACADIAN has not complied with the exact letter of the law in the matter appearing at the head of each page of the paper. We are thankful for the information and have made the necessary corrections. The publishers of this popular home journal are law abiding citizens who desire to "fear God and honor the King". So far as we have been able to observe THE ACADIAN is the only newspaper in Canada which is at present fully complying with the postal regulations. Why an exception had been made in our case we are unable to say, but it is not ours to reason why.

GRIN

If you're up against a bruise and you're getting knocked about—
Grin.
If you're feeling pretty groggy, and you're licked beyond a doubt—
Grin.
Don't let him see you're finking, let him know with every clout. Though your face is battered to a pulp your blooming heart is stout; Just stand upon your pins until the beggar knocks you out—

And Grin.
This life's a bally battle, and the same advice holds true.
Of grin.

If you're up against it badly, then it's only one on you
So grin.

If the future's black as thunder, don't let people see you're blue; Just cultivate a cast-iron smile of joy the whole day through; If they call you "Little Sunshine", wish that they'd had no troubles, too—
You may—grin.

Rise up in the morning with the will that smooth or rough,
You'll grin

Sink to sleep at midnight, and although you're not the kind of stuff;
Yet grin.

There's nothing gained by whining, and you're not that kind of stuff; You're a fighter from away back, and you won't take a rebuff;

Your trouble is that you don't know when you have had enough—
Don't give in—
If fate should down you, just get up and take another cuff;

You may bank on it that there is no philosophy like bluff—
And grin
—Robert W. Service.

It isn't the wealth of the town, as shown by its fine building and well dressed people, that after all makes a community. Rather it is the spirit of unity which permeates the people who live there.

MOTHER AND SON RECOVER HEALTH

Two Members of a Well-known family praise merits of Dreco, the famous herbal remedy. It gave them relief sought vainly for years

Few people seem to be immune to digestive trouble. These distressing disorders are apt to afflict any or all members of a family. A case in point is that of Dow Moore, a well-known farmer of Springfield, York County, N. B., and his mother, Mrs. Charles Moore, both of whom suffered and both of whom were helped by Dreco.

"I was a terrible sufferer from constant headaches and dyspepsia for three years. I took all kinds of medicines, but did not improve. At this time I heard Dreco so highly recommended for my troubles that I decided to give it a trial. All headaches, dyspepsia and constipation are now relieved and I owe my recovery entirely to Dreco."

Incidentally, Mr. Moore gained twelve pounds in weight. Mrs. Moore's statement, which follows, is equally interesting.

"For over five years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, there seemed to be a lump in my stomach and constipation was dreadful. I took various treatments for over two years, without relief. After taking three bottles of Dreco, I was greatly improved. Now I can work all day and have no headaches. My constipation is relieved and I have no more sour stomach or heartburn. I sleep soundly too."

Mrs. Moore is 58 years of age; her son 31. Irrespective of age, Dreco gave them equal benefit. Its corrective properties come from Nature's own herbs, roots, bark and leaves.

Dreco contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Wolfville by A. V. Rand, and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

NOVA SCOTIA APPLES BEST IN THE WORLD

E. W. Robinson, M. P., Urges That Something Be Done to Cheapen Cost of Production and Transportation

MONTREAL, March 23.—Although apples growers in the Annapolis Valley produce the best fruit of its kind in the world, something will have to be done for them if the industry is to survive, declared E. W. Robinson, M. P. for Kings County, N. S., in a luncheon address at the Montreal Reform Club on Saturday.

Because of increasing competition by other countries the Annapolis Valley apples are now in an unfavorable position as regards price when placed on the British market, Mr. Robinson said, the fruit having to sell for $4 a barrel, which is the minimum the growers can accept with the present costs of production and transportation.

The speaker said that what the growers want is a reduction in the cost of the implements of production; they do not ask for a protective tariff or for reduced freight rates because they realize that these cannot be obtained. Only about one quarter of the land in the Valley suited to the raising of apples has yet been planted and this is in danger of extinction unless something is done to help to lower the cost of production.

Fertilizers, machinery and gasoline, a great deal of which has to be used in connection with the spraying of trees, should be made cheaper, Mr. Robinson said. Some people might say that the Annapolis Valley was too small for its people to thrust their views down the throat of the Dominion, but the country was made up of what benefited one part was for the good of the whole.

Mr. Robinson's address was entitled "The Land of Evangeline", and he gave an interesting account of the region made famous by Longfellow's poem and of the conditions under which it was settled. The speaker told of the arrival of the first settlers early in the seventeenth century, of the conflicts between the French and the English and the expulsion of the Acadians.

About fifty thousand people are now engaged in the apple growing industry in the Annapolis Valley, the speaker said. The most modern methods are used in the raising, handling and marketing of the crop.

SCREEN GOSSIP

Reading as though it came from the pages of a fairy tale is the story of Peggy Montgomery's rise to fame over night. Familiarly known as Baby Peggy, she was only two years old when she started on her career as a film actress. Today at five years of age she is not only the most famous, but also the best paid cinema baby in the world. Baby Peggy was the second daughter of John and Marion Montgomery, both Canadians. The "discoverer" of Baby Peggy is Julius Stern, president of the Century Comedies. He was also the discoverer of "Brownie", the Wonder Dog of the pictures. In fact, it might be said that Brownie was responsible for Peggy's debut, for it was essential for the success of the comedies that a baby should "co-star" with the dog. Peggy was given a trial, and as she showed no fear of the dog, and her chubby face, expressive eyes, and general demeanor showed she thoroughly enjoyed the new game, she was "contracted" immediately, and Brownie and Peggy have romped merrily through no less than 40 Century comedies.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Stoll-Film Company, Limited, in London, Sir Oswald Stoll, who presided, explained why picture theatres during the year had done less business. Exhibitors, he said, apparently preferred to please themselves rather than the public, and utterly disregarded public sentiment. British exhibitors were obsessed by United States pictures, but the general public were not, he declared. The public at large keenly resented having to find $3 million pounds per annum to send to the United States in payment of war debt. They were becoming more and more averse from paying for American pictures as well. The British public were sufficiently catholic in taste to wish to see pictures of every nationality, but they never at any time had desired to see them instead of pictures of their own, wherein they could see British life and ideas in a British atmosphere and revel in the feeling that "there is no place like home".

While "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood", was in the making, this master of celluloid thrills carried nearly half a million dollars in life insurance, all of which was in addition to the usual amount of protection of this kind that has been written for him. The exact amount of the insurance carried during the filming of the Robin Hood picture was $480,000, written in two policies by Lloyd's. The first policy of $300,000 was for death from any cause, accident, and all sickness from the first day of April to the 31st of July. The second policy of $180,000 was for accidental death and covered the same period of time. The reason for this large amount of insurance, said to be one of the biggest sums ever placed against an individual, was due to the danger and risk attendant to the filming of this extravagant picture. That no portion of it was collected is a tribute to the skill of the magnetic and agile Douglas.

A Scotsman who started out with the laudable ambition of becoming an operatic star, and ended up by becoming "famous" as one of the infamous characters in history, is Ernest Torrence, an Edinburgh man, who takes the part of Clopin, King of the Beggars in Victor Hugo's masterpiece, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame". It is said that Torrence hates himself for becoming a screen villain, but Fate in the shape of motion picture directors drives him ever on. As Clopin, he wields a knife to clinch arguments, tries to kill his own brother, and gloats in church sacrifice. It seems a waste of good talent to learn that Torrence won the Westmorland Scholarship for singing after a course of voice culture at the Royal Academy. He expects some day, however, to return to the path of virtue, by favor of his motion picture director.

George Ade, the humorist, wrote the story of "Black Home and Broke", Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount vehicle, specially for the star. When Mr. Meighan, as the hero, after going away to make good in the West returns to the old home town an apparent failure, even the newspapers can not resist the temptation to greet him sarcastically. But at this juncture a novel twist to the story is introduced. Lila Lee is the leading lady of the picture.

It is stated in a London paper that a definite effort is being made to utilize the cinema in knitting the Empire together. Mr. Cecil Heyworth has been approached by certain Dominion Governments as to the possibility of his touring their dominions with his company in order to make a representative picture in each of them. Moreover, the Colonial Office, it is stated, approves the plan.

Pola Negri has just finished playing in "Shadows of Paris" at Hollywood, and is now on a visit to New York. Her next production will be directed by Dmitri Buchowetzki, and so far as the producers know will have the brief, simple title of "Men".

Constance Talmadge, in "The Goldfish", her next picture, which is being directed by Jerome Storm, plays the role of Jennie Wetherby, who has no less than four husbands, without counting numerous admirers.

CLEANING UP SYDNEY

Down in Sydney under the regime of Mayor McConnell the clean-up goes merrily on, and from all indications it will be thorough and complete. Already several suspected places against the proprietors of which it had in the past been almost impossible to get evidence have signified their belief that the day of the bootlegging is done by closing up their places of business. Raids carried out on several of these joints were barren of results says the Sydney Post. The police department has adopted a system of repeating raids, which is proving very efficacious, as the divekeeper never knows when a police officer is going to drop in on a tour of inspection.

THREE CANDY RECIPES

CARAMELS
1 cup sugar, 1-2 cup corn syrup, 1-2 cups cream.

Put sugar, corn syrup, and one-half cup cream into saucepan, stir until sugar is dissolved, bring to boiling point, and boil until mixture will form a soft ball when tried in cold water. Stir gently and constantly to prevent burning, making the spoon reach all parts of the saucepan. Do not beat, as beating may cause the candy to become granular.

As soon as candy forms a soft ball add another half cup of cream. Boil again until it forms a soft ball in cold water, add remaining cream, and boil until candy will form a decidedly firm ball when tried in cold water. The caramels when cold will be of the same consistency as this firm ball. Pour caramels into a buttered pan or between bars four by nine inches.

When cool cut in squares, and wrap in wax paper. If caramel should get sugary, return it to kettle, add more cream and boil again. It all the cream is added at once, caramels may be made in a shorter time, but they will not be as rich and creamy.

ASSORTED CARAMEL
To Caramel Mixture add, just before pouring into buttered pan, one of the following combinations:

1 cup coconut, 1 cup nut meats cut in pieces; raspberry extract and rose color paste, 8 figs, cut in pieces; 3-4 cup raisins, cut in pieces; 16 marshmallows, cut in pieces; 3 squares melted chocolate and 1 cup blanched almonds, teaspoon vanilla.

PEANUT BRITTLE
1-2 cups sugar, 2-3 cup corn syrup, 2-3 cup cold water, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups shelled raw Spanish peanuts, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 tablespoon soda, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Put the sugar, corn syrup, and water into iron kettle, stir until mixture boils, cover, and boil 3 minutes. Remove cover, and boil to 275 degrees F. Add butter and peanuts, and stir constantly about ten minutes or less, or until peanuts are cooked. Add vanilla and soda dissolved in one-half tablespoon cold water and salt. Stir until thoroughly mixed, and turn on slightly buttered marble slab or agate tray spread as thin as possible, and lift constantly while cooling, using a spatula, and pull to distribute nuts evenly. Flatten with palm of hand and break or cut in pieces.

Immigration Swinging Towards Canada Because of United States Restrictions

LONDON, March 20.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, discussing the rumor that United States shipping interests are looking with suspicious eyes on Canada's decision to grant new settlers from Great Britain a cash bonus of $15, says the real truth is that the pendulum of North American travel is swinging to the Canadian route. The United States immigration restrictions and the Ellis Island administration have done more to bring about the change than any effort of the Canadian authorities or the British steamship companies, concludes the Journal.

Give us this day our daily loaf of cheer, Glad laughter, rose-hued hope to shut out fear; And comrades kindly on the common way To scatter crumbs of all that's goodly gay.

"Thank God for Tea! What did the world do without it—how did it exist? I am glad I was not born before Tea."
Thus wrote the brilliant Sydney Smith in the early days of the nineteenth century, and countless thousands have echoed his sentiments since. But if Sydney Smith could so enthuse over Tea as it was then, what would he say of it to-day, when science in growing and art in blending have brought your cup of Tea to such a high point of perfection.
And what would he think of to-day's cost? At an incomparably lower price you are able to enjoy Tea of a deliciousness Sydney Smith never knew or imagined.

Don't Pay $1,400 or More for a car, without knowing what the leader offers in the fine-car field
WE made a canvass of many who bought rivals of Studebakers. We said, "Tell us why you liked your car the better."
The majority said, "We did not even look at the Studebaker." Most of them bought new models of the car they owned before.
Yet Studebaker is a leader in the fine-car field today. Studebaker builds more quality cars than any other plant in the world.
Last year, 145,167 fine-car buyers paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars. Nearly three times as many as in 1920.
Is it fair to yourself—or fair to us—not to learn the reasons for this trend?
See the Studebakers
Studebaker builds more fine cars than any other plant in the world.
Last year 145,167 wise motor car buyers paid $201,000,000 for Studebakers.
The demand has almost trebled in the past three years.
It is folly to buy a car in this class without knowing what we give.
The infinite care
We employ 1,200 inspectors to make 30,000 inspections of the material and workmanship in each Studebaker car—before it leaves the factory.
If you want beauty, fine upholstery, rich finish and equipment, consider that Studebaker has had more experience in fine coach building than any other motor car maker.
These are facts you should know. They are inducing 150,000 per year to choose Studebaker cars. Some sell under $1,500. Some meet every requirement in size and power and luxury. But the chassis are all alike, save in size. The same steels, the same standards throughout. Every important Studebaker part represents the best we know.
People have learned these facts—hundreds of thousands of them. The demand for Studebakers has almost trebled in three years.
Investigate the reasons. You will find them by the scores. Then, if you choose a rival car, we shall have nothing more to say.

WOLFVILLE TOPS LIST IN MARBLE CONTEST ENTRIES (From the Halifax Herald) Come on you other 16 towns of the province. Show some speed or see if you cannot creep up to the number of entries already in the hands of the Marble Contest Editor from Wolfville, where Scoutmaster E. Percy Brown is heading up the local organization for the game. In a letter accompanying the following list which arrived this morning Mr. Brown intimated that this was only a portion, and that the others would follow shortly. From this it looks as if the other towns of the province will have a hard time to compete with Wolfville for the honor of having the largest entry list. The following are the boys of the Wolf Cub Pack of that town, who have officially entered the competition: Truman Baird, Boyd Bartheaux, Vincent Cook, Walter Cook, Jason Caldwell, Ralph Creighton, Porter Dakin, George Dakin, Peter Forbes, Jack Harris, Bryce Hatfield, Harold Keedy, Reg. AVONPORT

Miss Olive S. Parker, of Halifax, spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Parker, returning to the city on Monday morning. Mrs. John Aylward and Mrs. Henry Lockhart, of Falmouth, were the guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. James Strarrat last week. Miss Minnie C. Brooks spent the week end in Wolfville with her sister, Mrs. H. E. Fraser. Mrs. Levi Daniels, of Martock, is the guest of her mother Mrs. David Fuller. Mrs. F. Curry, who has spent the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. F. F. Graham, was the guest of relatives in Grand Pre for the week end. Mrs. Henry Childers and little son W. Iler, are spending a week with friends at Port Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Reid and two children Donald and Irma, who have spent the past four years in Alberta, returned to their home here on Saturday last. Their many friends are giving them a warm welcome. Avonport has again been called upon to mourn the loss of another of her young men. Mr. Walter S. Anderson, who left here last June to take a position in the U. S. A., passed to that Great Beyond on March 13th. He had been ill there for some time but his sickness was not considered serious and his death came as a great shock to his brothers and sister here who received a telegram on Friday last stating he had passed away the day previous. Walter enlisted in the 219th Highland Battalion and served overseas till his return home at the close of the war, his brother Wilfred having been killed in action in 1917. His death at the early age of twenty-five is greatly regretted by a host of friends. He is survived by two sisters, Adelaide at present training for a nurse in Boston, Mrs. Ralph Davidson, of Wolfville, and five brothers, Orlo, Edward and Kempton at home, Oscar in Manitoba, and Fred in Dartmouth. His mother passed away just one year ago and his father while he was serving overseas. The sympathy of the entire village goes out to the sisters and brothers left to mourn. The remains arrived from Boston on Thursday last and funeral service was held from his late home on Saturday afternoon, conducted by Mr. Blaisdel, of the Avonport church. The floral offerings were very beautiful, including a handsome patriotic wreath from Avonport friends.

"MONNA VANNA" "Most Stupendous" is Phrase Describing Maeterlinck's Work The latest William Fox feature production to be shown at the Orpheum theatre will be "Monna Vanna", adapted from Maurice Maeterlinck's drama which starts an engagement next Monday. According to previous reports this picture justifies its title of the most stupendous production in the history of motion pictures. The screen version of the immortal love story of the Belgian poet-playwright has won enthusiastic press comments wherever it has been shown. Maeterlinck's story comes to the screen with the reputation of being a popular success both as a dramatic production and as an opera. The screen version will win far greater fame than either of the stage presentations because it contains all of the beautiful pathos of the play together with the spectacular action which can be shown only on the screen.

The delay in the arrival of the D. A. R. train at Windsor on Friday a. m. was due to a smashup in the railway yards at Halifax, a car on a siding being run into and placed in such a position as to block the course of the Sydney Express and other trains.

A small blaze occurred on Monday morning at "Butt Inn". The fire, which was in the roof, was caused by a spark from the chimney and was easily quenched by the members of the Fire Company who responded with creditable speed to the call of the fire alarm.

The season is so far advanced as to admit of Main Street receiving a thorough clean-up this week. Winter's accumulation of snow and ice disappeared with wonderful alacrity presenting an opportunity for putting the street in a neat condition that the authorities were not slow to take advantage of.

THE ACADIAN was favored by a call on Monday afternoon from the class in Library Science at Acadia University, the members of which under the direction of Mrs. Ingraham were intent upon studying at close range the equipment of a modern printer. The young ladies evinced a keen interest in the various appliances, especially the Monotype machine which excited their admiration and wonder.

Tourist travel to Nova Scotia from the United States is spreading the fame of MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE Tea. Last year some visitors from Lakeville, Connecticut, who used this tea while here, immediately they returned to their home induced their dealer to send for a supply. Last week he sent for a further supply, and intimated that MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE is becoming a very popular seller with him.

Our enterprising shoe merchant, Mr. G. D. Jefferson, has been making alterations and improvements in his store that make it up to date in every particular. The counters have been removed and new floors laid throughout. The lower shelving has been extended and when the work is completed handsome "silent salesmen" will take the place of counters in the centre of the store. Mr. Jefferson reports that during the past winter, when previous complaint has been general, his business has surpassed that of last season. He believes in employing modern methods to secure customers and is finding that it pays.

HABITANT

Mrs. Payzant Cox was the hostess at last week's meeting of the Women's Institute, president, Mrs. W. L. Newcombe, presiding. The responses to Roll Call, "Spring" were very delightful. This Institute is doing splendid work along practical lines, and is being of much good to the community. Its work is not restricted here, for many worthy causes are being helped. Friday afternoon the members completed four complete sets of infants' clothing, to be sent to the Infants' Home, Halifax, and a large box of groceries and clothing, were collected for a needy family. The tea committee, Mrs. Payzant Cox, Mrs. W. L. Newcombe, Mrs. Bernard Burbridge, furnished delightful refreshments.

Mrs. Harry Bennett we regret is ill. Mrs. R. A. Porter was called to Hantsport on Friday, owing to the illness of her brother.

Mrs. Esley Cox, who has been ill, we are glad to note is improving. Mrs. Ira Cox left this week to visit relatives in Manchester, Mass.

ORIGINAL IDEAS FOR HOUSE-WIVES

Several sheets of newspaper torn in sixths and hung on the door under the sink are handy, clean and easy to rub off smut from cooking dishes that have been lightly sprinkled with scouring powder.

One and one-third yards of cotton and linen crash cut in four twelve-inch pieces and hemmed make very satisfactory dish washers and dish drainer cloths. A cloth in the bottom of the drainer saves dishes from being soiled and broken. A portion on both front and back) and laundered frequently will make the sanitary care of bedding much simpler.

An excellent pad for a baby's crib or kiddie-coop can be made from discarded flannel night shirts, which are usually most worn around the neck and sleeves. Button the night shirt, turn wrong side out; stitch completely around the edges keeping inside the armholes and straight across the shoulders; then cut off sleeves and shoulders; unbutton; turn through this opening; rebotton. You will now have a good double pad of good shape and easy to launder.

FUNNY, ISN'T IT?

"Isn't it funny, that a man who thinks he is a business man will get up in the morning from a newspaper advertised mattress, shave with an advertised razor, and put on advertised underwear, advertised shirt, collar, tie and shoes, seat himself at the table and eat advertised breakfast food, drink advertised coffee, put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigarette, ride to his place of business in an advertised car, seat himself at an advertised desk in an advertised chair, then turn down a newspaper advertising solicitor on the grounds that advertising does not pay."—The Eaton Democrat, Eaton, Ohio.

WHEN ED GOT A JOLT

Ed Vance watched the girl as she sat on the rug at his feet holding a slice of bread before the cheery fire. As she drew it back and turned it on the fork the crispy brown odor came up to him. "You're a regular little homemaker," he said, admiringly, as he crunched into the buttered toast and sipped the hot chocolate she had placed at his side. Sarah Scott flushed with pleasure and gratitude and passed him another piece.

"But I think Mrs. Wade is a dear to let us do this in her parlor—not many people would," she told her fiancé.

"She certainly is 'pretty decent,'" he admitted, "but then she looks on you as her own child."

"Yes, she's just about been a mother to me since I came to town to work. This feels almost as much like home to me as my real, sure enough one does now."

"Huh, it feels more like home to me than I've had since I was a little boy. When I'm here with you, like this, why I don't want anything better—ever. It's perfect! All the bliss of a home of your own without the responsibilities," he said, laughing lightly.

A tiny little frown appeared on Sarah's face. He was joking, of course but somehow the words jarred. They sounded so shiftless, so weak-backed. The rest of the evening fell flat for her—she sat beside him in front of the fire, as was her custom—he in the big armchair, she on the rug at his feet. Occasionally he would put out a hand and draw her head against his knee, usually blissful moments of happy silence while the two stared into the fire and dreamed and rested, rested from a hard day's work. But to-night—she felt almost irritated by his touch; she wanted to jerk her head away to jump up and run away upstairs and leave him puzzling over her strange behavior.

The evening wore away somehow, and at last Ed took his departure, perfectly happy and totally ignorant of his fiancé's disturbed condition—dense male that he was.

"Well, he's gone," Sarah said a second later, as she walked into the little dining-room where Mrs. Wade sat rocking and piecing quilt scraps. The latter glanced up from her work at the young girl's standing there before her.

"Well, child, you said it as if he was a book agent or a collector or some other human varmint."

Sarah tried to laugh, but it was rather a failure.

"Oh, no, he's lovely, but somehow I felt all out of sorts to-night. I'm blue and can't tell exactly why it is."

"Don't tell me anything's gone wrong between you and Ed," said Mrs. Wade, taking off her spectacles and looking more closely at Sarah.

"No, nothing that I can put my finger on."

Sarah was silent for a moment and Mrs. Wade, with sixty years' knowledge of human nature knew that something was forthcoming, so waited patiently for the girl to speak.

"It's funny, Mrs. Wade, but Ed has not said anything about getting married for nearly three months now," Sarah said after a while.

"Been engaged nearly a year—haven't you?"

The girl nodded silently.

"Too long. Time you got married. Trouble is Ed's too comfortable sitting in my parlor chairs and warming himself by my fire."

With a start Sarah remembered what Ed had said that very evening, and she flashed a glance of wonder at motherly Mrs. Wade.

"I've been thinking about this right along," she said, almost as if she had read the girl's thoughts, "and I want to tell you something; Ed's a fine boy, but he needs a jolt—a great big hard one. Now I got a letter from your mother this morning—aimed to tell you about it at supper; but didn't get time—and she says the rheumatism's settled in her knees mighty bad and she has a hard time doing the work. She didn't want me to tell you, because she thought you were happier down here than you were in the country—more opportunity and such—and she didn't want you to lose your job, but I didn't live near Myra Scott thirty years for nothing and I know when she grumps; she's got something to grump about. So if I were you I'd throw up that good-for-nothing job and go home, and I wouldn't be writing to Ed every minute, neither."

"Oh, oh, poor mother, I'd never have forgiven you if you hadn't told me I'll go home to-morrow." Sarah's face was white with grief.

"That's right. You go along and pack your things so you can catch that six o'clock train in the morning. I'll explain to Ed and your boss."

"That morning as the train hurried her to Cumberland, she had just a little sense of satisfaction in picturing Ed's face when he found her gone, and without a word of explanation, either. She might have enjoyed it more had she been able to witness it. Mrs. Wade was in her most disarming mood.

"Sarah's gone home," she told him. "Yes, her mother's not well," she rattled on, ignoring his gaping astonishment, "but she's not as sick as Sarah thinks. I just got to worrying about that young girl down here all by herself. And down at that office working with goodness knows what kind of men. A city's so full of wickedness and crime it ain't no place for a girl that ain't got a husband to look after her, and especially a sweet little country girl that don't know nothing about sin. So I just telephoned her boss she had to go home to take care of her mother, and she's not coming back here till she's married. I'm sorry, Ed, but you'll have to do without her till you can go and get her."

For a second Ed was speechless. He looked wistfully at the big leather chair, now holding its owner so comfortably in its embrace—at the vacant spot on the rug where Sarah had sat only the night before, and a feeling of loneliness swept over him. It was all so sudden, so brutally unexpected.

"But—I must have her," he said at last. "I can't do without my little Sarah."

Mrs. Wade lowered her eyes to hide the glint of triumph in them.

"I know, Ed," she said with all motherly sympathy, "but we all have to stand some things and I reckon you'll have to wait until you can afford to start housekeeping. You'll enjoy it all the more when it comes. I'll be grand having a little house all your own with Sarah to greet you when you come home from work and a nice hot meal setting on the table. My, my, I don't blame you for being impatient the way you must be banded from bad boardin' houses to worse."

"I can't wait and, what's more, I won't!" The man spoke with masculine determination as he started toward the door. "I'm going to get Sarah right now. In the morning you can phone my boss my mother's sick too," he said, turning back.

"My, my, but you are such a hasty young man!" she remarked innocently.

WHY HORSES ARE SHOD

The horses which run at large in the plains country go barefoot, yet they have healthy feet. It is only under the artificial conditions imposed by man that the horse requires shoes. A good deal of this necessity for shoes arises from hard pavements and roads which the horse is worked on. But there is another reason. The stabled horse does not get a foot dew-bath at night; He needs that dew-path. The moisture can be supplied, and sometimes is, by packing the foot each night in wet clay, a method so wasteful of labor that it is only resorted to in exceptional cases usually when the need is acutely manifest. To maintain healthy condition and durable texture, the horses' hoof must have moisture. This the dew-bath, enjoyed by the pastured horse throughout the night, effectively supplies.

The greatest density of the population is north of the equator. Also, we fear, north of the ears.

EDITORIAL

Some weeks ago the Hantsport ACADIAN referred to the desirability of again having Boy Scout activity undertaken in this place and we are glad to note now that a reorganization of the work has been effected. Under the direction of capable and earnest citizens we look for splendid results that will be creditable to all concerned. Our town has a fine lot of boys within its borders who will appreciate the efforts which are being put forth in their behalf. We congratulate those who are at the head of this movement on their enterprise and foresight in the interest of the young life of the community and will be very glad at any time to do all in our power to advance the prosperity of the undertaking fraught with such wonderful possibilities.

HANTSPORT SCOUTS RESUME ACTIVITY

At a meeting of the committee in control of the athletic field and the Boy Scout building at Hantsport, held at the residence of W. S. Whitman last week, arrangements were made for the re-organization of the Hantsport Boy Scout Troop and the active promotion of the Scout movement in this town.

A night was set aside for the use of the building by the Scouts and a small group under the leadership of Everett Beckwith as scoutmaster, and Kenneth Parker and Maurice Smith as assistants, will begin work on their Tenderfoot and Second Class tests at once. It is expected that a number of the boys will attend one of the Scout camps to be established by the Nova Scotia Provincial Boy Scout Council this summer.

The committee under whose supervision the work will be carried on consists of W. S. Whitman, chairman; Dr. F. R. Shankel, secretary; D. W. Murray, A. W. Patterson and James Lawrence.

The troop will be kept small in number until next fall, when it is expected the enrollment will be increased to a full troop of four patrols.

H. A. Eaman, of Halifax, Field Commissioner of the Boy Scouts for Nova Scotia, was present at the meeting.

INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS ON BIRDS

R. W. Tufts, Federal Migratory Bird Warden, gave a most interesting and instructive address in the Baptist Church on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Church. Miss Gladys Masters, President, occupied the chair, and introduced the speaker Mr. Tufts dealt with the game laws of the Province and urged that all the girls and boys be kind to the little birds. He also referred to the enemies of birds, particularly the cat. There are so many strays which the owners neglect to feed and they must prey on the birds. There are already two of the United States that have made laws taxing cats, and he believed the time is not far distant when a similar law will be enacted here. In some neighboring towns they have organized a Fish, Forest and Game Protective Association, the purpose of which is to establish a respect for the game laws of the Province; to protect the forests, as the home of wild life; and to promote the interests in legitimate sports and fishing.

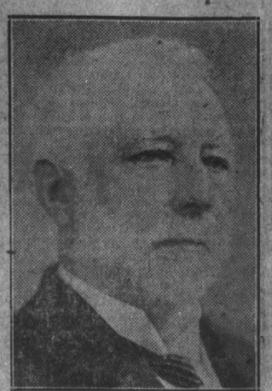

He hoped Hantsport would fall in line. Mr. Tufts gave some splendid colored slides of different species of birds, which were most interesting to all, particularly the boys and girls of whom there were a large number present. At the close, Rev. Mr. Frestwood spoke words of appreciation as one extremely interested in birds, and moved a standing vote of thanks to the speaker, which was seconded by Mrs. (Rev.) Beals, who also gave a few remarks along the same line.

Following the lecture a male quartette "Come to the Church in the Wildwood" was particularly well rendered by Messrs. J. Folker, W. Pulsifer, G. Holmes and J. Pulsifer. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

rain turned to snow. After we got back Emily Ann came over. Hibbart was over there making a call. Ann was up to Marry Sams. It seemed like old times to be at home again, I like to see them all, I like to be there to read, and study with Robert, I suppose I will soon go home again. 7th. This has been a squally day. I have been employed in tailoring. There was meeting to-night but none of us went. Ann Davidson brought Hibbart a codfish and stayed a while, then Hibbart paid him a visit. Capt. Michener came in and told stories a while, Hibbart and Mary have been telling about their voyage to Ireland, and their passengers. Mary is rocking the baby to sleep, and it is bed time. How comforting it is to rest when one is tired. May we ever be thankful we can do so in peace. 8th. This has been a fine day. I was busy all the forenoon, Hibbart went up home the men are as thick as hops. After dinner Ann came down and stopped in to Mrs. Mansons, then we went over to Harris's store. Ann bought two patchwork patterns and black velvet to make her a bonnet. Gideon Reid, Enoch Masters and Elisha Holmes were there. We called in to Mrs. Mansons, then Ann went down to Olivest, and came back here to tea. The boys came down just as we were drinking tea, and went to the shore, then they came back and spent the evening. Mr. Church came in also. John, Ann and I went shopping again to Mrs. Mansons. Ann bought some artificial flowers. I bought me a brown Orleans, and a box. We all bought paper to make books for the singing school, which commences on Friday. The boys were telling the chimney caught fire just after Ann went away, and burned clean. Wouldn't Mother be busy. Hibbart entertained us in the evening telling of his voyage and stay at Malaga, of their oil, fruit, and various other things. After Mr. Church went away we sang some temperance songs. We also sang some while he was here, beginning with "Adams' tune". Then we had a nice pie warmed and passed around. We chattered a long time this afternoon but have not got the butter yet. 9th. I arose before five this morning and succeeded at last in getting the butter. Hibbart went up home and came back in time for dinner. I was sewing in the afternoon. Hibbart, Geo. and Mercy went over to Kept in a boat. We expect them back tomorrow. The children are in bed, Mary and I sitting here quite leppy. We have not got Hibbart here to entertain us and make speeches, but I must lay by my pen and go to Knitting.

CUT RATES FOR ELECTRICITY IN HANTS COUNTY

WINDSOR, March 22.—The Board of Public Utilities met at the Council Chamber yesterday to consider applications from the Avon River Power Co. Ltd., and one from the Windsor Electric Light and Power Company. The former was asking for approval on rates for hydro-electric energy to be sold to the Windsor Electric Light Company for distribution to Windsor, Hantsport, and also to the Gaspareau Company supplying Wolfville and other Valley places. A. R. Jodrey, managing director, appeared for the Avon River concern, and G. H. Curry, secretary, supported the application of the Windsor Electric Light Company.

FUNERAL OF CAPT. BARTON MITCHNER

The funeral service of the late Capt. Barton Mitchner, formerly of Hantsport, a resident of Everett, Mass., for thirty years, and a follower of the sea for forty-five years, who died March 3rd, at the age of 69 years, was held from his late residence, Everett, on March 5th, at two o'clock. Rev. A. A. Pittman, pastor of the Glendale Methodist Church, officiated. Many relatives and friends attended to pay their last respects to one beloved, including his associates of the shipping business, members of Faith Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Charlestown, Mass., and members of the Odd Fellows Lodge. Capt. Mitchner was a former member of Poyntz Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Hantsport. The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mitchner, of Hantsport, his father being a native of Dumbarton, Scotland, and his mother, before her marriage was Miss Rebecca Harry, of Avondale, Hants Co. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Margaret Craig, of Dartmouth, N. S., and three sons, James H., Marine Engineer, of Philadelphia, Pa., now on his return from China and way-ports; Michael, of Everett, and William, Marine engineer, also of Everett.

FRED R. SMITH

Fred R. Smith, one of Hantsport's most highly respected citizens, passed away at his home on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, age 60 years. Mr. Smith has been in ill health for over a year. Some years ago he moved to Hantsport from Windsor, where he was a prosperous merchant. His wife was a Miss Ward of Windsor, who predeceased him one year ago.

Those left are two sons, Frank, of Truro, and Maurice, residing in town; and two daughters, (Annie) Mrs. Maurice Frittenburg, and Hazel, at one; also four sisters—Mrs. J. W. Baird, Honolulu; Mrs. Rufus Porter, Canning; Mrs. S. G. Irving, Everett, Medford, Mass.; and two brothers—Allison, of Malden, Mass.; and Arch, of Medford, Mass. Funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late residence.

In Utopia, love of country is so genuine that everybody cheers when the tax collector passes by.

The latter asked for approval to reduce the cost of electric light to consumers from 18 cents and 16 cents per k. w. h. to 12 cents per k. w. h., and to fix a rate of 4 cents for heat and power purposes. The board, consisting of Chairman MacLreith, Mr. Colpitts and Miss Taylor, secretary, heard the evidence given by Mr. Jodrey, Mr. Curry and Earl Mosher, superintendent of the electric light plant.

The application of the Windsor company also asked leave to increase the minimum rate on domestic lighting from 1.11 per month with 10 per cent discount, if paid each month at fixed date, to $2 per month. The chairman asked the secretary why the minimum should be increased and if it was the object of the company to make small users pay double in order to take care of the proposed reduction. The reply was that the $1.11 minimum was on the old rating, when the power had not been on during the day. The people had clamored for an all-day service but were not willing to pay the cost of production. Several citizens appeared to protest against the increased minimum as it would work an extreme hardship on the people unable to pay and not mean much to those in prosperous circumstances. Those who addressed the board on this subject in behalf of the people were F. F. Murphy, Rev. F. E. Barrett, Rev. John Astbury and R. B. Dakin.

TOWN OF WOLFVILLE

Annual Report For 1923

MAYOR'S REPORT

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Wolfville,
Ladies and Gentlemen:—

You will find herewith reports and financial statements for 1923. These reports are very complete and should have your careful attention. At the end of 1920 it will be remembered that a deficit of approximately $10,000.00 was carried over. Part of this deficit was paid off in 1921 and 1922, and the balance in 1923, a small surplus being carried over to the new year.

The report of your Electric Light Commission is very encouraging. Your electric lighting system may now be considered to be in good condition, and the time has come for a substantial reduction in cost to the consumer. The finances of this department are on a very sound basis. The expected revenue at the proposed lower rate will be sufficient to provide for sinking funds to retire bonds at maturity, and also for a depreciation account for future contingencies. A very satisfactory increase is shown in amount of energy sold. A further increase in sales will provide for still lower rates. The increased efficiency of your distribution system is shown by the decrease in line and transformer losses.

The report of your Water Department will reveal the necessity of careful management. The bonded debt for the water system is heavy, and adequate provision has not been made for sinking funds to retire the bonds at maturity. This would not be so important if the system were modern in all respects. Replacements of water mains and other changes must be provided for, probably long before the larger portion of water bonds mature.

Better fire protection has been provided for by the purchase of an up-to-date fire engine, and in this connection it should be mentioned that a generous yearly contribution by the governors of Acadia University has made it possible for us to secure a much better engine and equipment than we could otherwise have done.

The policy during the year has been to keep the expenditures on streets as low as possible. Taking this into consideration, they are in as good condition as could be expected.

Some important improvements have been made in the sewers at a small cost. The sewers are reported in good condition. The proposed extension of this system as outlined in the report of the Sewer Department should be beneficial. The present sinking fund allotment will take care of the sewer bonds when due.

If there is one department of the town affairs which has greater general interest than any other, it is our public schools. We are most fortunate in having a splendid staff of teachers, and such a good teaching staff plus good school room facilities is giving us most satisfactory results.

The bonded debt of $51,500.00 on school property is large, but not more than the value of the property. When the last of the school bonds mature in 1942, the amount not covered by sinking funds will be about $20,000.00. Considering the nature of the property, the present allowance for sinking fund may be large enough.

We must bear in mind that while we have good value for our capital expenditures, at the same time our total bonded debt, considering our small population, is very large. The matter of adequate sinking funds to take care of our debt is of great importance.

TOWN MANAGER.

I am confident that whatever criticism there has been of the town manager system has been due to an incomplete knowledge of our situation. One of the problems of your Council and Electric Commission at the beginning of 1923 was the proper care and maintenance of a very valuable electric distribution system. Proper engineering oversight seemed to be essential, but the cost of such an engineering service was a difficulty. This was the real point of the situation, for it was the necessity for an engineer in that department which led to the adoption of the town manager system. It is necessary, of course, to have a competent man in charge of town property, such as water and sewer systems, streets, etc. In these latter departments there can be no question about the value of engineering knowledge, but these services had been maintained in the past and could still have been maintained in the same way.

Arrangements were completed, however, to secure the services of a competent engineer, to have the oversight of all departments; part of the cost to be paid by the Town as part of the general expense, and the balance by the Electric Commission. It was found that an arrangement of this kind would be less expensive than any plan that could be devised. It is pleasing to note that the arrangement was approved by your Town Council and the Electric Commission.

We were fortunate in being able to secure Mr. G. S. Stairs for this important position. His work has been of great assistance in many ways that would not appear in the annual reports, and the benefit of some of this work will be more evident in the years to come. The town manager has taken over the duties of the chairman of all committees, and in this way there is proper co-ordination of all departments. All accounts are carefully checked and charged to the proper department. Greater care is exercised in the purchase of needed supplies. A careful study of the Town accounts, as herein presented, will show efficient and careful management that would not have been possible, I believe, under the old system.

I would call your attention to the testimonial in the Auditors' report of the improved efficiency of the accounting system for which the Town Clerk, Mr. R. W. Ford, is responsible.

The close of the year showed that more improvement is possible in the matter of tax collection.

The yearly report of the Health Officer will well repay reading. The small number of infectious diseases reported during the past year, and the proportion of births over deaths are matters for congratulation.

In submitting this report, I would like to refer to the great care that has been given by all the Councillors and Electric Commissioners to the many details of their departments. Much time is spent in attending Council and Committee meetings, frequently with a good deal of inconvenience to the different members. The attendance at meetings of the Council during the year was almost 100%.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the citizens for their confidence in allowing me to preside over the affairs of town government, and I would further express my appreciation of the support given by the members of the Council, with whom the associations of the past year have been most agreeable.

Respectfully submitted,
H. W. PHINNEY, Mayor.

REPORT OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The Mayor and Members of Council,
Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Gentlemen:—

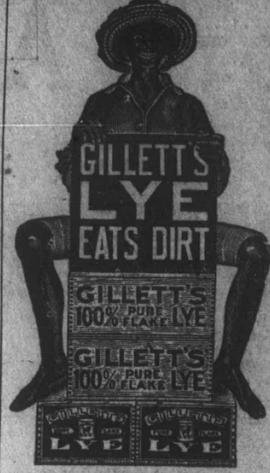

I take pleasure in presenting for your consideration this first annual report as Town Manager, which covers some of the activities of the different departments of town government for the year 1923.

It is gratifying to be able to testify to the very loyal support and kind consideration shown to me by the Mayor and every member of Council since my appointment in May last. In Council and with Committees the work has been very agreeably carried on. I wish to thank Mr. D. G. Whidden, who resigned as Councillor before the end of the year, for much valuable advice. Mr. Ford, Town Clerk and Treasurer, has given much assistance in my work, and the efficient manner in which the accounting has been done is very properly pointed out by the Auditors.

At the present time the office of Town Manager, as such, has no legislative sanction in Nova Scotia. All work must be done in accordance with the provisions of the Towns' Incorporation Act, and through the officers and system of government provided for in that Act. If the office of Town Manager is to be kept up in this or other towns in the province it is very desirable that it be provided for by statute.

As worked out in Wolfville, the office includes that of Superintendent of Streets, Water, Sewers and Electric Commission and Building Inspector. By resolution of Council, the Town Manager is also responsible for the duties of the Chairman of the different standing committees of

IMPROVING THE COUNTRY CEMETERY

(By F. H. Clark, Superintendent, Prospect Cemetery, Toronto, in Canadian Horticultural Review.)
The cemeteries of to-day might properly be divided into three classes, namely; the organized, disorganized and reorganized, with the disorganized ones far exceeding in number the other two classes. The modern cemetery of a large city has been placed upon such a systematic business basis as to preclude the possibility of much criticism, but in regard to hundreds of village, town and country cemeteries many of which are absolutely disorganized, conditions prevail that are astonishingly primitive.

Many of our country cemeteries are nicely situated, with plenty of good monuments, but contain a superabundance of weeds, briars and brush. On nearly every occasion that the writer has attended a funeral in a country cemetery, it has been a most striking fact that the patrons of the cemetery deeply deplored the desolation. Another equally striking fact was that the lack of care does not exist because of any unwillingness on the part of the patrons to pay their money for the improvements of the cemetery. There is to-day scarcely a country cemetery anywhere in Canada which does not have already invested in it in marble and granite, a sum which if placed at interest would produce income sufficient to maintain it in the best of care year after year.

As already intimated, the fact that the people desire better things affords assurance that they will look with favor upon any plan that offers hope of relief, and the fact that they spend thousands upon marble and granite warrants us in believing that when they learn that every dollar invested in a fund to produce interest to be used in care and flowers will be ten times as much to beautify a cemetery as the same amount invested in marble or granite they will invest tens of thousands in such a fund.

Let us now consider whether any plan for the care of cemeteries is feasible, and if so, what are the essential features of such a plan. First, then, business capacity must be had in management. No business worth while of any sort succeeds without a master mind. Second, we must get the money. It will hardly need to be said that a sufficient permanent fund to produce the necessary annual income of interest, must be raised. A cemetery will need to be cared for a long time and any plan that depends upon annual payments for the care from year to year is foredoomed, because the payer will not stay long enough.

This money may be had from two sources. First, from the sale of lots. This should always be a source of income towards a perpetual care fund, whether the cemetery be a public one or one privately owned and managed for profit. In country cemeteries at least 50 per cent. of lot sales should go to the perpetual care fund, but even then, it will hardly be practicable to sell lots at a price high enough to secure a sufficient care fund. And especially in order to care for old cemeteries and all rural cemeteries, we must look to some other source for money. This can be secured by subscriptions from those owning, or interested in, the lots to be cared for. This is where a competent manager is most needed—a man who is a good solicitor, and he should be well paid. His canvass should be pushed until the leading and most liberal ones have been enlisted, then for a year "show them" what can be done. Meantime, secure the names and addresses of all others interested and at the end of the year send them a statement of what has been done, and a list of all who have paid and also a list of all lot owners who ought to pay, and ask them to do a fair share, and promise them another statement next year, and most of them will want to be in the list of payers. There is no pressure that can be brought to bear upon a man to do his duty in a matter of this kind, than to stand him up in line with others in equal circumstance.

KEEP DOWN THE TAXES AND SAVE THE TOWN

This is the slogan everywhere. One hears it, reads it and sees it put into force. There's no need greater today than the need of reducing taxation. Town Councils should make it a primary concern to keep down the tax rate. This requires firmness. It means that a deaf ear must be turned to many requests that in themselves sound reasonable and even desirable; but a merely negative attitude will not be sufficient. There must be a positive reduction.

Perhaps the brightest side of the taxation situation, says the Financial Post, is the growing appreciation by the public that lower levies must necessarily be accompanied by less spending. Boards of Trade which are usually calling on the various governments for local improvements to be financed out of the public purse, are leading the present campaign for retrenchment. The Bradford Examiner diagnoses the whole question of civic expenditure and taxation accurately when it says:

"After all, it is the taxpayers rather than the city council to decide what rate of taxation we are to have in the future. They must ignore the scriptural injunction 'ask and ye shall receive', remembering that when they receive the payments must come out of their own pockets in the shape of taxation."

Peterboro Examiner: "The cold, hard fact is that the 'city' pays for nothing—it is you taxpayers who pay and you tenants whose taxes are wrapped up in your rent. You pay your share of every civic enterprise that is undertaken, you contribute your little bit to every civic grant that is made, your pocket is touched every time the civic treasury is successfully raided. There is no purse from which the spending bodies can secure the money they pay out save the purse of the citizens; and if that appreciation of the case could only be driven home to everybody the city fathers would have less trouble in keeping down the tax rate."

WHO IS COMPETENT?

Three million women, according to the New York Times, answering the question, "Who is the better judge of quality in motion pictures, the public or the producers?" tell the world that "the public" is.

This emphatic decision raises another question: What "public"? For there is a motion-picture "public", a legitimate theatre "public", a clean-minded "public" and a "public" whose mind would stand a little "house-cleaning". Even the confirmed picture-goer is not always the supreme authority in what is good. His treatment in New York of that truly excellent picture of Abraham Lincoln's career is proof. While competent reviewers waxed enthusiastic over the artistic perfection of this picture, "the public" was passing it by in order to reveal in "The Sins of Other Men's Wives" around the corner. Perhaps had the title-writer or whatever he is called) dubbed the story of Lincoln something like "Little Love Secrets of Lincoln's Life", or "The Loves of Lincoln", the theatre management could have counted thousands daily instead of merely a few scores.

Thus, the old question: "Who shall uplift motion pictures?" is as far from being settled now as it was 10 years ago. Both the public and the producer virtually confess inability to solve the problem.

THE MAPLE SUGAR SEASON

The sap of the maple tree may start to flow during favourable weather at anytime during the late autumn and winter, but experienced sugar makers do not tap their trees until spring is approaching, at which time a more continuous flow is to be obtained. Conditions are seldom right before March. The proper time is indicated by the condition of the weather—warm sunny days with frosty nights being favourable to a copious flow. It is advisable to have everything in readiness before hand, including the sugar making utensils and a generous supply of dry mixed wood ready to use. Bulletin No. 30 of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, "The Maple Sugar Industry", recommends tapping with a three-eighths, seven-sixteenth, or one-half inch bit. The hole is bored in a slightly upward direction about one and one-half inches deep in a medium sized tree and two inches deep in an older one. The point of tapping recommended is about thirty inches from the ground, where the bark has a healthy look, and some distance from an old tapping hole. This bulletin, which is available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, shows types of spouts and buckets to be used, as well as designs and plans of a modern sugar house.

CURE FOR LEPROSY

Sir Leonard Rogers' Discovery Approved by Experts—Drive It Out in Three Generations

LONDON, March 20.—Leprosy, the most hideous of human maladies, with at least 300,000 victims in the British Empire alone, can at last be cured.

That is the experts' verdict, just announced, on Sir Leonard Rogers' discovery of a vancus injection, derived from an old Indian specific, which, in a few months clears up the symptoms, destroys infectivity, and gives the patient positive cure.

For many years past, Sir Leonard, with a band of colleagues, has been carrying on researches into this disease. The greatest living authority on the subject, he was the founder, in Calcutta, of the most wonderful school of tropical medicine and hygiene in the world. The new cure for leprosy comes as a fitting crown to his life's work.

"Given the right conditions," says Sir Leonard Rogers, "leprosy can be stamped out of the Empire within three generations."
