Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, is a new Company which has taken over the whole undertaking as a going concern of the Maple Leaf Flour-Mills Company Limited, including therein that of the Hedley Shaw Milling Company Limited. When the construction at present under way at Port Colborne is completed the company will have a total milling capacity of 12,800 barrels per day. The company nas at present thirty-five elevators situated throughout the Western Wheat Belt, and fifteen additional ones are being added at the present time. MARKET FOR OUTPUT.

The rapid growth of the business of the two companies taken over has long made apparent the necessity of additional milling capacity. Further, the tremendous increase in the total output from the Western Wheat Belt makes it absolutely necessary to have more mills in Canada to handle it. Last year this output amounted to about 125,000,000 bushels, and experienced men estimate that by the end of the year 1920 Canada will be producing fully 500,000,000 bushels annually. A great proportion of this will of necessity find its way into Canadian mills. Larger demands are bound to come as the population of the country increases, and the enquiry for the Canadian product, both from Great Britain and from the foreign markets of the world, will increase. The chain of mills now controlled by the new company will enable it to secure its full share of the trade of every section of Canada, as well as of Great Britain and foreign countries. The rapid growth of the business of the two

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER: The assets of the old Companies taken over as above stand in excess of all liabilities and without any allowance for good-will, trade marks, etc., at $3,770,524.11, this amount being ascertained on the basis of an appraisal by the Canadian-American Appraisal Company, Limited, as of March 17th, 1910, of the capital assets taken over, and the certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, as of February 28th, 1910, as to current assets and current liabilities, with a liberal allowance for all contingencies. There has also been placed in the Treasury $1,000,000 of additional cash, which, besides permitting of the completion of a 6,000 barrel mill and a million bushel elevator and storage warehouse at Port Colborne, and of fifteen additional elevators in the West, will provide the new Company with further working capital. As per certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, of London, quoted below, the earnings of the old Company on the present plant amounted from September 25th, 1908, to August 20th, 1909, to $218,843.38 And from August 21st, 1909, to February 28th, 1910, to $166,793.29 being for the latter period at a rate equal to ever 13 per cent. on the preferred stock of the Company. LOCATION OF MILLS AND MANAGEMENT.

Mr. Hedley Shaw and Mr. D. C. Cameron, under whose direction the properties of the old Hedley Shaw as Managing Director.

The location of the new 6,000 barrel mill at Port Colborne is without exception the best in Canada.

THE HOMESTEADERS KEEP DOWN WAGES

Work at Carpentering in Summer and Go to Their Homesteads in the Winter,

Homesteaders have had an importint part in keeping the wages of carpenters low in this city, according to Recording-Secretary Jeffcote of the local carpenters union. He says the eason for this is that homesteaders flock into the city and work during the summer, competing with men who live here a'l the year round and leav-ing them at a disadvantage. The homesteader comes to the city and takes what work there is in the building season, and in the winter moves to his homestead, leaving the city man idle during a longer period in the winter than would otherwise he the case and making it also more difficult for nim to get work in summer.

Discussing the demands of the carpenters for higher wages Mr. Jeffcote said yesterday: "I do not think there will be any strike. We have until July 1 to come to a satisfactory ar-rangement with the employers. The fact is, two-thirds of the first-class mechanics in the city are getting 50 cents an hour, the wage we are asking for, already, so I can't see that we are chanics get more than this. This scale is paid only to hammer and saw men." The local union has received word from Secretary Joseph E. Bayard of the Montreal Carpenters' Union that the Walker-Fishe company, which has the contract for constructing the Cal-gary Power company's plant at Horse-shoe Falls, recently employed six men in Montreal to go to work for the company at the Falls. The men were offered 40 cents an hour and six months work, half of their fare being paid.

The Montreal secretary wrote here to ascertain if the Calgary local has any objection to carpenters being hired in Montreal in that manner.

This is without a doubt the very best, close in, sub-dividing property obtainable within the 3 miles radius that can be bought at the above figure. Almost every acre of this splendidly located land can be used for sub-dividing purposes. 400 acres of this lies due east of what is known as Nose Hill, and immediately north of La Grange, where 25 ft. lots are selling from $50 upward. This land, situate as it is on a sort of market an excellent view of the city and surrounding coun-

The Constructive Ability of Some Opposition Members Unsuccessful

THE MAN WHO BUILT UP WHARF SCANDAL

The Facts in Connection With the Richibucto Incident

(Special Correspondence) Ottawa, April 26 .- Proceedings in the nouse of commons in the last few days in relation to a number of matters have furnished striking illustration of the constructive ability of some individual members of the opposition, the conspicuous feature of which has been a manifestation of ability to erect doubt seemed a very large structure a very meagre supply of mate-

First came the demonstration of apacity in this respect by Dr. Bradury, the member for Selkirk, who n the interior department in connec-ion with the surender of St. Peter's Indian reserve. Then followed Mr. Crocket of York with his palace of corruption in the Public Works department and lastly, or most recently rather Mr. Taylor of New Westminster with his batch of irregulartities in the department of the uostmaster general. But unhappily the gentlemen built upon the sand, and being short of foundation material their structures came tumbling about their ears when ernment side of the chamber swept away their underpinning.

The effort of the member for Selkirk has been dealt with in this corespondence. That of Mr. Crocket of York, was less pretentious, although it equired nearly as much time and lared effort. The member attempted to revive his alleged sawdust wharf scandal at Richibucto, N.B., which was threshed out before the public accounts nmittee in the early part of the ses

This had been done at a time when it was supposed the government had only purchased a small portion of the property, but when the complaining member had learned that the govern ment had got a wharf over 700 feet long and nine acres of land running of the town, he had himself declared urge all to try its merit."

Then came the play of the member of New Westminster in a complaint that the franking privilege of the post office department was being abused by the sending of political campaign material through the mails free, but t didn't get very far before being ex-loded with most discomforting renarks for the opposition. The minister justice dealt the unkind blow by relating some of the facts in relation conservative members clogging the nails with franked campaign matter, and wound up by reciting the details of an attempt made while he was post master general, by a Conservative ember still sitting in the house, to rank through the mails a sack of oats and that member had the grace to get up and acknowledge the truth of the

The other by demonstrating the constructive of the gentlemen involved, served to bring them into prominence as available material for membership in the platform committee of the

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

There are few people who have never experienced a headache from one cause or another. It effects all ages and both sexes alike, but the female sex is naturally the more effected through the higher nervous development and more delicate organization of the system. Those also of a nervous temperament and studious or sedentary occupation are subject to it.

The presence of headache nearly always tells us that there is another disease which, although we may not be aware of tells us that there is another disease which, although we may not be aware of it, is still exerting its baneful influence, and perhaps awaiting an opportunity to assert itself plainly.

Burdock Blood Bitters has, for years, been curing all kinds of headaches, and if you will only give it a trial we are sure it will do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

THE ALL-CANADIAN POLICY OF LIBERALS

Contrasting the Arguments of the Government and the Opposition

(Special Correspondence.) Ottawa, April 26.-The naval debate, the question which has occupied a position paramount to all others in the house of commons during the present session of parliament, has run its course; the bill creating a Canadian navy has been passed, and thereby the attitude which the government of Canada proposes to assume toward the question of imperial defense has been laid down.

The last word having been said, it may be fair to assume that the policies of the historic political organizations of the Dominion, that of the Liberal party, as represented by the government, and that of the Conservative party, as represented by the opposition in the house, have been definitely and final-ly enunciated relative to the ques-

It may be observed by way of parenthesis that while there has not been for a very long time any doubt as to what the attitude of the Liberal party was or would be, owing to the divergent views held by the Conservative leader and the various sub-leaders, there has been considerable room for speculation as to what the ultimate policy of that party would be until the final pronouncement had been made; but that having been made, it is probably reasonable to presume that the policy which the party, as a political organization, will adhere to, has been registered.

It may not, therefore, be inappropriate if at this time analysis of the two policies be made, that the people may by way of contrast determine for themselves which of the policies, best and most satisfyingly to the individual conscience, meets and answers question raised at the imperial conference of 1902, when the various British colonies were called upon to say what they were prepared to do for the defence of the empire at sea. The Conservative policy as laid down by Mr. Borden, leader of the opposition, when making the last and final pronouncement on the third reading of the bill, was declared to be that Canada could best manifest loyalty and contribute toward the defence of the empire by placing at the disposal of the mother country a given sum of money twenty millions of dollars was the measure—to be used in the construction of battleships for the imperial navy, this to be the sum total of Canada's contribution until the question as to whether Canada should have a navy had been submitted to the people at an election.

The policy of the Liberal party, as expressed in the naval bill, and as exoncretely stated to proceed from the ly contribute to the defence of the empire through the defence of Canada. The government assumes that in any come engaged, the great war engines of the imperial navy must necessarily be depended upon to meet the main ssault, but that the necessity of providing vessels for the protection of the ifferent colonies and their oceanmmerce would constitute erious drain upon the British navy and, therefore, that Canada could most ffectively contribute toward the defo rthe defence of Canadian inter-

As the principal defence Canada rould require in such an emergency would be in the form of protection for cean-borne commerce, the governnaintaining a mobile navy of fast vesection of the merchant marine of a country, and thereby relieving the imperial navy of the drain from that source, Canada will more efficaciously ontribute to the defence of the empire than by any other method it is within he means of the Dominion to adopt.

This is the underlying principle of of Canada is offering as the answer of this colony to the question raised at the imperial conference, as against the answer the Conservative party would give by handing over one lump sum of submitting to the people the determination as to whether there should or should not be a Canadian navy, the government takes the position that there is no occasion for such submission for the reason that it is not a new departure of so radical a nature as to judgment necessary, but that on the ontrary it is merely an extension of an established policy of contributing to mperial defence as represented by the militia establishment, the creation of he navy merely extending to the sea the policy now in force on the land and ted to represent the people, are fully competent to pass upon the wisdom otherwise of such extension.

Thus may the two policies be contrasted and a fair judgment be formed as to which policy is calculated to extend the larger measure of support and assistance and which will the better satisfy the demands of the conviction held by all Canadians, that the Dominion, now that it has grown to wealth and power, should share in the ibility of maintaining the integ rity of the empire. during the consideration of the measpre, some are worthy of being taken account of. The point was made by the opposition that if Canada is to have a pavy, the command-in-chief should so rest that the navy in time of war would me automatically under the control of the British admiralty and the ships become available for direction by the admiralty without reference to the government of Canada.

every account preferable that while the command is in the King as the head of the empire in both peace and in war, the command shall be exercised through the government of Canada responsible to the people of Canada, at all time of serious war, that it should be exercised through the British admiralty, the transfer of direct control from his majesty's Canadian, advisers to that of his majesty's British advisers
