MOTHER SEIGEL'S

1887.

ALMANACK

Shakeresses Labeling and Wrapping the Bottles Containing Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots.

We Have Often Wondered Why

the people doubt that our medicines are made by the Shakers, but we suppose that it is because the country is filled with worthless articles made to deceive the public. So we must suffer for the faults of others. But to the afflicted this is a very important matter, because the sick and ailing are anxious to get genuine medicines, and they have faith in the Shaker articles. In view of this fact it is our duty to the public to inform them how to learn beyond all doubt the facts about Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, and other Shaker remedies. Write to the "Shaker Community," Mount Lebanon, N. Y., and ask if Mother Seigel's Syrup, sold by A. J. White, Limited, 67 St. James Street, Montreal, and by all dealers in medicines, are not made by the Shakers, and an answer will be returned. The Shakers would not let their good name be used on the medicines if they were not genuine was born in the county of Tyrone, Ireland, and came to this country in the year 1819. At the time of his death, in 1876, he left a fortune of about $40,000,000.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR

was born at Walsdorf, Germany, July 17, 1763, and came to this country, landing in Baltimore, in 1788. When he died, in 1848, he was worth $25,000,000, which he made principally in the fur business. His estate is now worth in the neighborhood of $150,000,000, and is in the possession of his descendants.

GEORGE PEABODY

was born in Danvers, Massachusetts, February 18, 1795. He was a successful business man, leaving, at the time of his death, November 4, 1869, $5,000,000 to his friends and relatives. During his lifetime he gave away $8,040,000 to benevolent and charitable objects.

PETER COOPER

was born in the city of New York in 1791. He learned the coach-maker's trade, and during the war of 1812 invented and sold a machine for cloth-shearing, which earned him his first capital. He died April 4, 1883, full of years and honors. He gave $800,000 towards the erection and endowment of the school known as the Cooper Union.

COMMODORE VANDERBILT

was born on Staten Island, New York harbor, in 1794. He began life as a boatman, then advanced to be a steamboat captain, then owner, then railroad president and owner, until at the time of his death, in 1877, he had accumulated about $70,000,000, the bulk of which was left to his eldest son.

A REMARKABLE AND FORTUNATE DISCOVERY.

A celebrated New York physician gives the following account of the discovery of this wonderful remedy, for it appears to have had its origin in Germany :

I first saw Mrs. Edith Seigel on my visit to her home in June, 1868. The gentle old lady had just taken off her spectacles, wiping them with the edge of her apron, while she was directing her daughter, Agnes, to prepare some jelly for one of the peasants upon her estate, who had just recovered from a dangerous illness.

The old lady loved to do good. She taught her children to do good. Every feature of her benevolent and healthful face was lit up with joy, kindness and love. When first I beheld her, she had saved the life of one of her poor tenants, and was now seeking to show him that her acts of kindness did not stop with his recovery. The reader may ask how I came to visit this remarkable woman. I will relate the circumstances of my visit in as few words as possible.

I had been a practising physician in the City of New York for twenty years. With an extensive practice it was my lot to see very many severe cases; and although I was presumed to know as much of the science of medicine as any of my profession still I felt that I lacked skill to meet a very large class of complaints which are familiar to every practising physician, especially those termed Chronic Diseases. The want of this skill to meet such obstinate cases was felt and confessed by all of my medical brethren, and in every town in the country are to-day many living, suffering examples of the ignorance of the physicians in curing cases of long standing.

During my practice within the last few years, I fell in with many Germans who came to this country to make it their adopted home. From them I learned of Mother Seigel. They told me she was a woman of most wonderful mental and physical ability, a woman who had done more for the well-being of all classes than any one who had ever lived, and one whose works would live after her for centuries to come.

Some of these Germans brought with them a number of packages of what they termed Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and which they claimed was a positive cure for all diseases arising from impurity of the Blood. Of course this would include all diseases, for it is a well-established fact that all diseases of mankind arise from one source, namely, IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. I, of course, understood the importance of keeping the various passages of the body open, for if these become clogged, the blood becomes thick, diseased and corrupted. I know that our health, strength and beauty depend upon the purity and vitality of the blood, and that all sickness, pain and diseases of every name are caused by stagnant humors in the blood, which are not properly carried off by the bowels, by the urine, and by the sweat of the body. I knew that nature needed assistance in carrying off these impurities, by opening the various channels of exit and letting out the foul humors. I had always, in my practice, used opening medicines for the purpose of purifying the blood, but I found many times that perfect harmony was not produced by the action of the medicines I used; for instead of keeping the bowels regular, and the other channels properly acting, trouble would frequently arise by too frequent movements; after which the bowels would become costive, the skin dry and scurfy, and the water passages slow to act.

These Germans told me that Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup left no constipation of the bowels, nor the clogging of the water and sweat passages after it, but kept every avenue of evacuation from the body free and open.

I was, therefore, induced to try some of the Curative Syrup which these honest laborers had brought with them, and to my surprise the effect was, indeed, marvellous. I afterwards submitted some of the Syrup to some of the most eminent of my medical friends, who were also equally satisfied with its astonishing healing and cleansing properties.

The idea, however, of a medical man resorting to the production or discovery of an old nurse was a little humiliating, but when I came to consider that the best remedies now used by the medical profession were the accidental discoveries of poor ignorant people, I felt that it was my duty as a public benefactor to seek relief for suffering humanity from any and all sources within my reach. I was prompted in accepting of the remedy discovered by Mother Seigel by some eminent medical men, who suggested that the Buchu was the discovery of the ignorant Hottentots, who employed it in various diseases to which the inhabitants of Southern Africa are subject.

The Cinchona, or Peruvian Bark, was accidentally discovered by a Jesuit of Peru, who used it upon the wife of the Conde de Chincon, at that time Viceroy of Peru, who was cured by it of a malignant fever. The Jesuits kept the discovery to themselves for a long time, but the fame of the bark as a febrifuge gradually spread, until now it is universally used, and the name of "Jesuit Bark" still clings from the facts connected with its origin. The medical profession opposed the use of the Peruvian "Jesuits' Bark" for a long time; but in 1659, Strum, of Antwerp, and Bado, of Genoa, advocated its employment, and wrote so highly in praise of its virtues, that the French Government sent out an expedition in 1843, under M. Weddell, to investigate its medical properties, since which time it has been extensively and successfully used, and acres upon acres of land are now planted with it for export. In fact, nearly all of the medicines which are to-day used were discovered by accident, and nearly all by the poor and unenlightened classes.

After fully testing the virtues of this wonderful Curative Syrup, I was prompted to sail for Germany, and learn from Old Mother Seigel herself the composition of her marvellous remedy.

In due time I arrived at the home of the old lady, near the great city of Berlin, where I found, upon inquiry, she possessed a wide and excellent reputation for healing the sick of diseases which had baffled the skill of the great physicians, and which had also been given up as incurable cases.

As already stated, I called upon her on June 25th, 1868, and saw her as I have represented.

She was a fine, benevolent-looking old lady, about seventy-five years of age. I made known my business in a frank manner, and told her I had come all the way to Europe for the purpose of knowing more of the valuable medicine which had fallen into my possession, and which she was said to have discovered.

She received me kindly, and told me that she knew her medicine was doing much good on the Continent, but seemed surprised and delighted to learn its name had been mentioned beyond her own shores. Her whole manner inspired me with confidence. I felt that I was in the presence of a remarkable woman, and I do not hesitate, nor do I feel ashamed, to declare that she taught me more in a few hours' conversation about the diseases of mankind than I had learned in years from the Professors of Medical Colleges at home.

I at once saw the folly of ignoring the opinions of a clear-headed, observing woman, who had made nursing the business of her life. The reason for her

WILLIAM H. VANDERBILT.

Few men in America have been more written about and talked about than William H. Vanderbilt. He was without doubt the richest man in America, his wealth being estimated at $200,000,000. The eldest son of the famous Commodore, William, inherited $65,000,000, which he has more than doubled since 1877. His estate has fifty millions invested in United States four per cents, and the checks which are received for interest are larger than those paid to any other of Uncle Sam's creditors. Mr. Vanderbilt was sixty-four years old at the time of his death, which occurred, Jan. 8th, 1885. He recently gave $500,000 to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and by his will, gave $1,200,000 to various charities. In his splendid brownstone house on Fifth avenue, almost opposite to St. Patrick's Cathedral, are many pictures by the foremost of living artists. The Vanderbilts are conspicuous in New York society, and give entertainments of the most dazzling and costly nature. The millionaire was fond of fast horses, and liked to drive them himself. Leander and Aldine were among his treasures, and for a long time he owned the celebrated Maud S., who has recently lowered the record to 2:08 1/2. Being annoyed by challenges and propositions to match the mare against other flyers, Mr. Vanderbilt sold her to Mr. Robert Bonner for $40,000, who promised never to enter her in a race.

"What does your husband do?" asked the census man. "He ain't doin' nothin' at this time of the year," said the young wife. "Is he a pauper?" asked the census man. Understanding him to say "papa," "Law, no!" she exclaimed, somewhat indignantly; "we ain't been married more'n six weeks."

extensive knowledge and information concerning a great variety of diseases was plain to me. She had remained with the patients day and night, watching every symptom and the effect of every remedy used, while the doctor stays with the sick only a few moments every day.

I asked the old lady how she came to make this discovery of the Syrup, and what causes led to its extensive use? Laying down her glasses, and smoothing out the folds of a neat Quaker costume, she began as follows:

The Story as Related in Her Own Words.

"In the year 1852, while nursing a very sick patient of the celebrated Dr. Von Schmidt, I was deprived of my rest every night for more than a month. I was completely broken down; my nervous system was shattered; my digestion was impaired; I suffered with shifting pains all over my body; my appetite was gone; my bowels were constipated; there was a bad taste in my mouth in the morning, and a blur was before my eyes continually.

"I applied to a physician for relief, and followed his advice for many weeks, but gradually grew worse. I applied to several other physicians, who also prescribed for me, but in spite of all they could do I grew worse and worse. Weakness had brought on disease peculiar to the female sex, which, together with many other diseases, made me feel that death would indeed prove a blessing. My suffering was so severe that I longed to die. I tried first one doctor and then another, until my means were exhausted, and I was reduced in flesh to a mere skeleton.

"While tottering through the lots near my living spring, as you see yonder by the side of that old stone wall (pointing to a stone fence in sight of her window), I picked up a little sprig and thoughtlessly commenced chewing the leaves and small branches. Without thinking or knowing what I was doing, I chewed this coarse wild pasture bush until I reached my home again. As I entered the house one of my grandchildren exclaimed, 'Poison, grand-ma! poison!' This arrested my attention, and I saw that I had been chewing what we all supposed to be poison.

"'Well,' said I to myself, 'death will be better than this awful life of suffering and distress.' So I waited calmly for the result, not caring how soon I might be borne hence, and find relief in a better world. Agnes and my other children were alarmed, and insisted upon vomiting me, and resorting to other means to undo what was believed to result in death; but I felt so calm and so quiet, and resigned to my impending doom, that I insisted on remaining undisturbed, and desired to be allowed to sleep. I slept, surrounded by my friends, who believed I would never awaken, and who were happy to see that after two years' incessant misery I was enjoying at least temporary repose, and that I should probably fall into the sleep of death unconsciously. I awoke in an hour, refreshed, and arose, declaring that I felt better, and, against the urgent entreaty of my dear children, I sauntered again alone to the place where the supposed 'Poison' grew. I picked bunch after bunch, and hid them away in my pocket, for I knew it would distress my children to see me with the supposed deadly herb.

"I felt better; my stomach felt easy; the pain in my side, shoulders and back was easier; the palpitation of my heart had ceased, and a light moisture was upon my forehead. I felt that the herb had helped me; in fact, I knew it was doing me good. I chewed more of the plant during the night, and arose in the morning feeling more strength in my limbs and more life than I had known for weeks.

"I determined, therefore, to steep some

JAY GOULD.

JAY GOULD.

Mr. Gould may be called the Napoleon of American finance. He was born in Roxbury, Delaware county, New York, and is now about fifty-five (55) years old. He is rather a small man, of dark complexion, dark eyes and hair, and usually wears a short, black, full beard. He is a quiet, taciturn man, not given to many words, nor to letting his opinion appear in his face or in his actions. Born of poor parents, he had simply a plain country-school education, but was anxious to become of some consequence in the world, and early turned his attention to civil engineering, in which he became quite proficient; in fact, he made the first official map of Delaware county, which became the standard, and has remained such ever since. In this way he made his first two hundred (200) dollars. He is domestic in his habits, and is strongly attached to his family and his home. He has no sporting tastes, although he enjoys a cruise now and then on his splendid steam yacht "Atalanta." His city residence is on Fifth avenue, New York, and he also has an elegant country seat on the right bank of the Hudson, near Yonkers. Mr. Gould may be roughly estimated to be worth about one hundred millions of dollars.

There is such a thing as being smothered in honey. A Kansas man recently drew a big prize in a lottery, and the very same day his wife had twins—both boys—his mother-in-law was struck by lightning while in transit to pay him a visit, and a man who had owed him nine collars for ten years sent along the money.

An Irishman, recently landed, entered a barber shop in Jersey City, for a shave. After the barber was through, he asked the customary question: "Have bay rum, sir?" "No, sir, the fact is, sir, I've just had a glass of beer an' don't like mixin' drinks."

of the roots, leaves and twigs and drink the tea.

"The next day I felt still better, and I continued to feel better day by day until I was entirely well; and from the year 1855 neither my children nor myself have ever suffered one day's illness. After my own speedy recovery, I prepared an extract from the plants, and was in the habit of giving it to the sick and suffering of the peasantry, as well as giving it to many persons whom I was nursing from time to time, and who were considered by their doctors past all human aid. From time to time I added other roots and plants, such as I found to be good.

"I found at last that I was successful in nearly all diseases—in fact, I may say all diseases—for, wherever I used it I found it invariably to work the most speedy and almost miraculous results. It is the best purifier of the blood I have ever heard of; it cleanses out the entire system of foul and unhealthy humors, and leaves good and pure blood, upon which all the organs of the body must thrive. At last the demand became so great I found myself called upon to send it to all parts of the empire, and I was compelled to build a house for the purpose of assorting, drying, compounding and putting up the Syrup for use. It has made me rich, but I have always striven to be free with what I have. I have always supplied the wants of the poor free of charge (I afterwards learned that this was so from the neighbors, and from the physicians at Berlin, who had employed her as nurse for years), and wish for a long life, that I may make it useful to those about me."

Such was the old lady's simple but impressive story, and it was told in such a way as to carry conviction to my heart. Honesty was delineated in every feature of good old Mother Seigel's pleasant and wholesome countenance, and I felt that she was like a mother to me—stranger in the land. I went to Germany prepared to pay the old lady $10,000 for the recipe of this valuable blood cleanser, and my surprise can be imagined when she told me she should charge nothing for all the information she was able to give me concerning the preparation and uses of her Curative Syrup; for she said: "I am rich; my aim is to do good; every one in Germany knows me and my Syrup; but if I can give the sufferers of the New World something for which to be thankful to Mother Seigel, I shall die feeling that I have left nothing undone which I could do. This recipe," she said, "I give to thee, believing that, as thee has come so far to get it, thee will do well with it, now that thou art the possessor of it." My gratitude was unbounded. I felt that I had a legacy indeed, that was worth more to me and the world than loads of diamonds and rubies. I promised to be faithful to her in granting her all honor for its discovery, and just to sufferers in preparing it as she had herself directed.

She took me to her buildings prepared for the putting up of this remedy, and there, indeed, I found a study of itself. She tripped along as lightly as a young girl, stopping to point out the various points of interest connected with the arrangement of the buildings. She explained to me the necessity of gathering the herb in its proper season, when all the juices of the plant are retained in the stalk and leaves. She explained to me the importance of her process of drying the herbs; then all the other important features connected with the preparation of the Syrup. After remaining with her six weeks (a period fraught with much anxiety as well as interest, for I had left behind me a dear friend, low with hereditary disease), and becoming familiar with the entire process of the preparation of Seigel's Syrup or Shaker Extract of Roots, I bade adieu to my steadfast friend, and returned to my home in New York. CYRUS W. FIELD.

CYRUS W. FIELD.

With two great enterprises the name of Cyrus W. Field is inseparably associated: the Atlantic Cable and the elevated railroad system of New York city. Mr. Field was born in Massachusetts sixty years ago, but most of his life has been spent in New York. In 1858 the first cable was laid under the Atlantic. The cable broke three times, but at last Mr. Field had the satisfaction of superintending the transmission from President Buchanan to Queen Victoria of the first message, "What hath God wrought?" The same pertinacity which marked Mr. Field's struggle for the cable was displayed when the question of elevated railroads came up. With every detail of the work Mr. Field is familiar. Abroad, as well as in the United States, Mr. Field has an extended acquaintance among public men, and numbers among his friends the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Argyll, and Mr. Gladstone. He started the fund of $250,000 for the family of President Garfield and the one for the late Gen. Grant. Mr. Field belongs to a remarkable family. His brother, David Dudley, the eminent lawyer, is hale and vigorous, although more than eighty years old. Stephen J. Field, another brother, is a Justice of the United States Supreme Court, while Henry M., a clergyman, is a well-known religious editor. Mr. Field's manner is serious, but very polite.

"He called me an ass," exclaimed an overdressed, excited dude. "Well you ain't one," soothingly replied a kindly cop; "you are only a clothes horse."

A young mother should not be too ambitious to correct her children. She should begin at the bottom.

No sick person should neglect to read letter on page 28.

I resolved that in justice to Mother Seigel and the world, I should use every means to make this valuable remedy extensively known in the United States, and to use every facility for introducing it to the world. Accordingly, I placed the matter in the hands of the SHAKERS OF MV. LEBANON, who have had experience in growing herbs, and extracting from them their best medicinal qualities. The medicine is now known as SEIGEL'S SYRUP, or Shaker Extract of Roots.

I submitted the Plants to analysis, and found them to be indeed a cure for all diseases for which she had applied them, for I found the Plants to contain five alkaloids. The first, a SOPORIFIC, which quiets the nerves and allays all pain and excitement of the nervous system, giving rest to the body and to the mind by its soothing, quieting influence.

The second, a LAXATIVE, which acts upon the liver and carries off through the bowels the impure substances from the blood, which are not passed off by the water, by the sweat, and other outlets; routing out from the system all foul humors from the blood, and leaving that vital current pure and wholesome.

The third, a SUDORIFIC, which opens the pores of the skin, and allows the corrupt substances near the surface to pass out in the form of sweat, producing always a soft and natural condition of skin, keeping the oil ducts and sweat glands alway healthy and strong to carry on both sensible and insensible perspiration.

The fourth, a DIURETIC, which acts upon the kidneys, enabling them to carry off in the urine the impurities which should in health pass off by the water passages, thus drawing off a great amount of impurity from the system.

The fifth, an ALTERATIVE, which acts upon all the fluids and juices of the body, and prevents an excess of acid or alkali, always keeping the secretions of the body free from acid and improper accumulations of unhealthy fluids. It also gives strength to the liver, producing healthy bile, strengthening the gall ducts, promoting nutrition, and building up the flesh of the body.

These five qualities, I found, by analysis, to be so harmoniously blended by Nature in the structure of this valuable plant, that it is the best purifier of blood that ever came under the notice of the medical profession, and will, indeed, cure all diseases by communicating through the blood and other fluids of the body the vigor of life, repairing the wastes of the body with new and sound material.

This remedy opens all the natural passages of the body and casts out diseases; takes away all sickness, and builds up the body with pure blood and sound nourishment. Hence it must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment.

The following letters will illustrate this case more fully, showing conclusively that our success in all cases has been the result of the composition of the article, and not in any secret method of conducting the business. Nor is the lesson of success here conveyed by any means solely confined to our line of business. Merit alone is the key-stone of success. (It is now admitted that the sale of this remedy is greater than any other in the world.) And for Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, we claim the merit of curing disease. Of the component parts of this Syrup we shall speak further on.

Ph. D. Le Brocq, 29 Queen street, Jersey, writes under Aug. 11, 1883, as follows:

I have great pleasure in writing to you regarding Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots. It has done wonders in this neighborhood, and I always recommend it when I have a chance.

The following from a celebrated chemist:

Lammas Street, Camarthen, Jan. 7, 1884.

From cases that have come under my personal observation, your Pills and Syrup contain wonderful healing properties, as they appear to give universal satisfaction. Yours faithfully,

J. PALMER RICHARDS.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

Samuel J. Tilden was born at New Lebanon, N. Y., in 1814, and entered Yale College in his 18th year. In 1836 he was admitted to the bar, and opened a law office in Pine street, New York. He soon became very prominent in politics, and was equally influential in that field and in the law. One of his greatest triumphs was the overthrow of the political combination known as the Tweed ring in New York city, which had stolen from the taxpayers, by means of corrupt legislation and fraudulent bills, about $16,000,000. Mr. Tilden was elected Governor of New York over Gen. John A. Dix by a plurality of 58,000. During the fifteen or sixteen years of active labor at his profession his income often reached the sum of $50,000 a year. This money, added to the results of large financial operations in other directions, has made him very rich. He owns, perhaps, the finest private residence in New York city, and a magnificent country house called Greystone, near Tarrytown, on the Hudson. His fortune is estimated at $10,000,000. Although he has nominally retired from public life, he is constantly consulted on political questions by the leaders and statesmen of his party, who attach great value to his advice.

The following from a prominent chemist in Edinburgh :

St. Leonards Street, Edinburgh, Dec. 25, 1888.

DEAR SIR:—I have had quite an enormous sale for your medicines, and find that of the many patent medicines I keep, none sell so well or produce such beneficial effects as the Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots. Where the results are generally good, and in some cases marvellous, it would be invidious to select any particular case as a subject for testimonial. While writing this a gentleman has just come in to inform me that he has derived much benefit from it for Stomach and Liver Complaint, and that he intends keeping it constantly in his house. My sale of it has been in the thousands.

I am, yours most respectfully, JAMES REID.

This man has discovered the secret of our success in business. Because the medicine has "proved of such value to those who have given it a fair trial."

23 Liverpool Road, Steeple-on-Trent, Jan. 3, 1884.

DEAR SIR:—Respecting Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, I have been surprised at the great sale it commands; but when I hear so many speak of its merits, my surprise becomes less, in consequence of its having proved of such value to those who have given it a fair trial. Yours respectfully,

C. F. WILSON.

DISEASES OF THE LIVER.

A person in health does not know he has such a thing as a liver, but when the system gives way to the ravages of disease he is made sensible that he really has a liver. After one has spent a couple of years in India he knows there is a liver, generally to his sorrow, for this organ is the main-spring of the human organization. When the liver becomes disordered and diseased, the person so afflicted is indeed miserable. He suffers with dull pains in the side, bad taste in the mouth, spots before the eyes, flushes of heat, irregularity of the bowels, piles, coated tongue, disordered stomach, heartburn, costiveness, and pain in the head. He frequently has a dry cough, high-colored urine, yellow skin, and dull sleepy sensations, rendering him unfit for business or for employment. The hands and feet are cold, circulation of the blood sluggish; the patient suffers with vertigo, ringing in the ears, loss of appetite, nausea, and sick headache, heartburn, dry, scurvy skin, etc.

Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, acts moderately upon the bowels, so as to produce two or three easy passages a day, without any purging or griping. It does not leave constipation, as most of the ordinary blood-purifiers in use do, but produces harmony in every part of the system. The liver is invigorated to secrete healthy bile, and to filter impurities from the blood, by the use of this wonderful regulator and invigorator, and all the disagreeable and painful sensations above mentioned are one by one removed as the blood is cleansed and renewed. The skin loses its sallow appearance, and the bloom of health and beauty takes the place of the haggard sallow hue of disease. A dose of Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, taken at night on going to bed, will, in a short time, give evidence of its purifying and cleansing properties by the brilliancy of the eye, the bloom of the complexion, and the vigor of the whole body. A few doses of Seigel's Operating Pills will aid in effecting a cure.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint Cured.

Middle County Harbor, Nova Scotia, April 19, '86.

A. J. WHITE (Limited).

Dear Sirs: Your Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup gives good satisfaction to all who use it. For Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint it never fails. One old man who had suffered for years with both these ailments is to-day a well man.

Yours respectfully,

F. SALSMAN.

RHEUMATISM.

Never before has there existed a remedy as unfailingly successful in rheumatic affections as the Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots. It lubricates the joints, promotes the secretions of the fluids necessary to remove the stiffness of the muscles, removes hardened deposits in the joints, greases the machinery of Nature, and makes it move easily. One or two bottles of Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, will do more than a hogshead of liniments, for it carries out of the circulation the acrid humors in the blood.

JOHN W. MACKAY.

When Edwin Adams, the well-known actor, was ill and penniless in San Francisco, news of his unhappy situation reached J. W. Mackay, the "Bonanza King." He promptly visited the needy actor, took him to a first-class hotel, procured for him the best medical attendance, and quietly slipped into his hand a check for $5,000. This incident fairly illustrates Mr. Mackay's impulsive generosity. No appeal for charity is made to him in vain. He made a fortune rapidly in silver mines, and to-day is said to be worth $50,000,000. He is interested with James Gordon Bennett in the transatlantic cable which bears their names. He has served a term in the United States Senate, representing the State of Nevada. At present he is about fifty (50) years old. For several years Mrs. Mackay and her daughter have lived in Paris. The boundless wealth at their disposal has enabled them to give entertainments which were the delight of the gay capital. Mrs. Mackay's dresses, furniture, objects of art and dinner parties have been "written up" again and again. Miss Mackay was lately married to Prince Colonna, a Roman, whose noble family was old in the time of Rienzi.

Indigestion and Burning in the Stomach.

Princeton, Va., October 10, 1884.

Mr. A. J. WHITE, 54 Warren street, New York.

Dear Sir:—I can recommend your medicine to be the best I have ever used. I have only used one bottle and commenced on the second. I have had a burning in the stomach for about 30 years, and I never found any medicine that seemed to give me ease until I commenced using your Syrup.

Yours truly,

C. B. JACKSON.

The Bowels and Their Functions.

The bowels, in a healthy state, carry off all useless matter which can be carried off in solid form. Sometimes the main channel becomes choked up by slime on the coating of the intestines, which gives rise to constipation and irregularity of the bowels. If the bile is not thrown out from the liver in sufficient quantities the bowels become costive, and the membranes of the bowels become weak and irritated. When much irritation exists diarrhoea follows, because the bowels have not the strength to do what is required of them. Inflammation follows; the fundamental cause of this irregularity is indigestion. The effect of this constipation is something awful to contemplate. The foul gas that arises from the fecal matter becomes absorbed into the system, and acts as a slow but deadly poison. We all know the injurious effects of when taken into the system, and we expend money and skill to so adjust the plumbing of our houses as to shut the poisonous gas out. We have carts going about the city pouring disinfectants into the sewers, so as to obviate the poisonous influence of this terrible pest, but we allow this same gas to be generated within our own systems. If by constipated bowels we permit the formation of this sewer gas within the system (for this is what it really is), we expose ourselves to a slow but deadly poison. We should make use of Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, and remove the constipation, and with it the danger.

SEWER GAS

Horncastle, Ont., Jan. 26, 1885.

A. J. WHITE (Limited).

Dear Sirs: It is with pleasure that I have to state to you that the Seigel's Syrup and Pills are doing wonders around here as far as it has been tried. The woman that I mentioned to you has taken three bottles of the Syrup; when I sent for it first we all thought she could not live much longer. She was completely prostrate and her appetite was clean gone, but after taking a few doses of the Syrup her appetite returned and she gradually gained strength until now she is able to leave her bed entirely through the day, some days she is out of doors. Before taking the Syrup, her menses were colorless, now they are regular and natural. I have not given the Syrup any puff, but resolved that it should stand on its own merits, and I have watched the result, and now I have the fullest confidence in it; the people here are coming for it from twelve miles.

Yours truly,

GEORGE SHARP.

SICK HEADACHE.

SIDNEY DILLON.

The tall form of Mr. Dillon can be seen almost any day on Wall street, although he no longer takes an open and active part in the battles and enterprises of that great financial and speculative arena. He belongs to a generation whose active work is over, as he is more than seventy years of age; but his snowy white hair, heavy English side whiskers, and erect bearing and positive manner still render him a remarkable figure wherever he appears. From the force of habit he haunts the scene of former struggles and victories, and takes a keen interest in the operations of younger men than himself. For many years Mr. Dillon was President of the Union Pacific Railroad, to the construction of which, at a time when the scheme of a trans-continental railroad was ridiculed as wild and impossible, he bent the energies of a mind not accustomed to defeat. He has also been and still is interested in many of the enterprises of Mr. Jay Gould, with whom he has been a valued co-worker. He ranks among the rich men of to-day, and is worth millions of dollars.

Not Equal to the Occasion.—“My dear, demonstrated a wife, peering out from under the bed clothes, “I do wish you would use the word ‘sheol.’ It sounds better.”

“It may sound better at times,” replied her husband, who was noisily cursing his heel, “but when a man steps on a tack he wants the old version.”

The Shakers are noted for the purity of their medicines.

properties, but we did not know that the keeping it in the house would prevent disease." "I don't mean that," said he. "Two years ago I had a dreadful attack of sick headache every week. The veins of my head became swollen and my eyes blood-shot. I was obliged to go home and go to bed. Well, Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, cured me. Now, when I have eaten a little too much, I take a small dose of the Syrup and it prevents the headache. I have not had an attack for two years. One of our clerks was afflicted in the same way, and it has cured him also."

How Happy Many People Would Be if They Did not Have Stomachs.

They imagine if they had no stomach they would be free from pain and distress after eating; free from headache, dizziness, etc. But this only happens when the stomach is diseased, when digestion is impaired. A good stomach gives a good deal of pleasure and help to endure the labor of life, for it is through the stomach that we obtain all our strength and vigor.

When the stomach is too weak to properly digest the food, the person so diseased is sorely afflicted. Dyspepsia shows itself in very many disagreeable forms, but more frequently in distress in the stomach after eating, sourness of the stomach, beating and trembling of the stomach and sides, a sense of fullness, headache, dizziness, bad breath, loss of appetite, difficulty in breathing, restlessness, nervousness, loss of strength.

The food remains in the stomach until it becomes corrupt, which poisons the blood and produces the most painful and distressing feelings.

The stomach loses its tone, becomes inflamed and filled with slime and mucus. This produces giddiness, sick headache, choking up the circulation, and pressure upon the brain. Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, cleanses out the corrupt and noxious matters from the stomach, and strengthens the stomach to dissolve and digest the food, increases the flow and strength of the gastric juice, and produces harmonious action between the stomach, liver and intestines. All the organs work in concert—no jarring, no over-taxation of one organ above another, which always damages the nervous system and works havoc and decay.

Strength to the stomach, invigoration of the liver and tone to the bowels must necessarily follow the use of Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots. Mother Seigel assured me, when I was at her home near Berlin, that a few packages of the Syrup had cured cases of indigestion of twenty year's standing, which had baffled the efforts of the best medical talent in Berlin. It corrects acidity, and promotes a flow of healthy gastric juice, which dissolves the food and carries it out of the stomach at a proper time.

A Merchant's Testimony.

Clifford, Ont., March 6, 1886.

Dear Sirs: I have not been acquainted very long with Seigel's Syrup, but I consider it a good medicine for the diseases you recommend it. Please send me some Almanacks that I may circulate them among the people and let them know more of your medicine.

Truly yours,

THOS. SMITH.

It Does Good Wherever Used.

Holland Harbor, N. S., May 5, 1886.

A. J. WHITE (Limited).

Gentlemen: Your medicine does good wherever it goes. People come thirty miles after it, and before the last box came, there were several parties waiting for it. I have no trouble in selling the second bottle.

Yours very truly,

Gents: I have used some of Seigel's Syrup, and find it all you claim for it. For my inward trouble it acts like a charm, and I shall be pleased to answer any inquiries.

Yours truly,

Gents: I have reason to speak well of your Syrup, as I suffered agony with indigestion and could find nothing to give me permanent relief till I used Seigel's Syrup. I will never cease to speak well of it.

Yours truly,

Mrs. J. B. STOOD.

LELAND STANFORD.

EX-GOV. LELAND STANFORD.

This gentleman deservedly ranks high among the magnates of money. He was born in the State of New York, and educated as a lawyer, but, in common with multitudes of others, he was smitten with the California fever, and went to that State in company with the original Argonauts of 1849. Having decided to make his home there, he was one of the first to foresee the advantages which must certainly accrue to California through the construction of a railroad across the continent, and, associated with Huntington, Crocker and other pioneers, he advocated the scheme, and prosecuted it to its wonderful realization. For many years past he has taken a deep interest in fine stock breeding, and now owns an immense stock farm in the Santa Clara valley, about thirty miles from San Francisco, where he gives especial attention to raising trotting and running stock. In his numerous business enterprises, Mr. Stanford has accumulated a vast fortune, estimated at not less than $50,000,000. Mr. Stanford is a man of about sixty-three years of age. He is most strongly attached to his home in San Francisco, where he dispenses a generous hospitality. Mr. Stanford served as Governor of California, and is now U. S. Senator from that State. He is free, but discriminating, in his charities, and, even in the midst of many cares and engagements, never refuses to see any who have any legitimate demand upon his time and attention.

Often disease or partially decayed food causes sickness, nausea and diarrhoea. If the bowels are cleansed from this impurity with a dose of MOTHER SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS, these disagreeable effects will vanish, and good health will result.

What the Shakers make bears the impress of their upright character.

FEVER AND INFLAMMATION.

When there are free evacuations each day by the water passages, and by the bowels, and by the sweat of the body, and all the corrupt and useless matters are carried off, there can exist no inflammation or feverish symptom. Dyspepsia is the cause of these dérangements. When these disease particles are retained, they poison the blood, which shows itself in various forms. When good and bad blood are struggling to get the better of each other, the irritation produced gives rise to fever and inflammation. How necessary, then, to keep every outlet of the body free and open, that no clogging of impure blood can exist! By attending to these passages of evacuation, persons can live to old age without one feverish symptom; and when bruised or cut by accident the wound will immediately heal, without inflammation, if the blood be kept in a pure and uncorrupted state by occasional use of this strengthening, cleansing and invigorating Syrup.

One Bottle Sells Another.

Hartland, N. B., March 27, 1886.

A. J. WHITE (Limited).

Gents: All Seigel's Syrup wants is to be known to sell well. One of my customers bought a bottle and it helped him so much, that he had a friend try it who was likewise afflicted with Liver Complaint and he was so much benefited that he took four bottles, and to use his own words, "it built him right up." Before taking the Syrup he could scarcely do any work. I have heard indirectly of many cases that have been greatly benefited.

Yours truly,

J. T. G. CARY.

Prince Edward Island, N. S., Feb. 7, 1886.

A. J. WHITE (Limited).

Gentlemen: I have not words enough to praise Seigel's Syrup and Pills. It gives universal satisfaction, and shall want some more soon.

Yours truly,

BENNETT McEACHEM.

WORMS

are produced by corrupted matter in the system, which breeds these uncomfortable companions. Clear out these scavengers by the use of the Syrup, which so paralyzes them that they cannot cling to the sides of the bowels, and when the corrupted matter is passed off by the use of the Syrup they must go with it. They and their nests are effectually destroyed and passed off.

Mothers should give their children occasional doses of the Syrup, that worms may not breed in corrupt substances of the body.

Foul matter breeds worms; cleanse the system of impurities. Worms cannot breed in healthy substances, for they grow and thrive on the filth and corruption.

West Bangor, Franklin Co., N. Y., Jan. 13, 1885.

DEAR SIR:—Helen Duncklee, of this place, wishes to testify to the merits of your valuable medicine in cases of Worms, Colds, etc., and its efficiency as a wonderful family medicine. As for myself, I cannot find words to express my high opinion of your Seigel's Syrup, or Extract of Roots. May God bless you.

Yours truly,

LOIS ELIZABETH BARNHART.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, has given health and spirits to thousands of females. The hollow cheek, the sunken eye, the sallow countenance, the dark circles underneath the eyes, all are indicative of weakness of the female organs of generation, which are speedily overcome by the use of Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots.

During pregnancy the Syrup can be taken with perfect safety in 10 to 15 drop doses instantly after eating. If the bowels should be costive, an occasional dose of the Seigel's Operating Pills will give great relief. Care should be used so as not to produce violent purging.

Its use removes obstructions, brings the hue of health to the countenance, and should be used by females suffering from the various diseases to which the sex is subject, such as leucorrhœa, or whites, falling of the womb, bearing-down sensations, etc. Two or three bottles of Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, will bring the flush of health to the cheek and vivacity and elasticity to the system. Flagging spirits are restored, and new life and

WILLIAM H. SHARON.

W. H. SHARON.

Mr. Sharon was one of the many men who have been brought into prominence through the rich mineral treasures of the West. He may be styled a silver king, having reaped a vast harvest of riches through his large interests in silver mining. While in the United States Senate, representing the State of Nevada, he used all his influence to procure the passage of the Silver bill, and finally succeeded. Few men were personally better known in Washington. He possessed many personal traits which won for him a large circle of friends and admirers. Mr. Sharon was about fifty-five years of age, and died leaving an estate said to be worth $25,000,000.

Sick Headache.

Serovia, Coweta Co., Ga., October 15, 1884.

A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—I have been subject to that annoying complaint (Sick Headache) for twenty-five years, from once to twice a month, which would keep me in bed sometimes for three days. I have also been troubled with pain in my left side for several months, which prevented me from lying on that side, shortness of breath, and a wheezing when lying down. I have taken two bottles of Mother Seigel's Syrup, and am now enjoying good health. Have not been troubled with either of the ailments since I have taken the medicine, and I can heartily recommend it to all sufferers.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. M. A. VICKERY.

Saved My Life Last Fall.

Gainesville, Green Co., Ar., January 9, 1885.

The Best Medicine for Female Complaints.

Tyner, Hamilton Co., Tenn., April 16, 1885.

Dr. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup gives better satisfaction than any medicine we have on sale. One of our customers called the other day and told me that his daughters were very unhealthy, and he purchased one bottle of the Syrup. They have used part of the medicine, and he called to say that it has proved more beneficial than all the medicine they ever took. He wished me to write and notify you of this fact, that other females may know what is good for their complaints.

Yours very truly, etc.,

Mother Seigel's Syrup Did More Good Than All the Doctors.

Moody, Greene Co., Ill., January 24, 1885.

Dr. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—Mother Seigel's Syrup is doing more good than all the doctors. My mother has been afflicted for years with female complaints. She finally tried Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. She used twelve bottles, and finds more relief from their use than from all the medicines she has taken for years. She speaks highly of the Syrup. Nothing to equal it. I have a number of customers who say the same. They cannot do without it. I send an order for three dozen more.

Yours very respectfully,
GEO. W. MILLER.

Seigel's Syrup for Females.

Hughes Springs, Cass Co., Texas, March 23, 1885.

Dr. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—Please send me another box of Seigel's Syrup. It has proven to be the best medicine for female and other complaints. My wife wants more of your Syrup. She says it has done her more good than all the medicines she ever took in all her life. She cannot say too much for them.

Another lady in this community says she does not know what she would do without Mother Seigel's Syrup and Operating Pills. This lady has been in very poor health for five years, and says your medicines are the only medicines that proved beneficial.

WM. EDWARDS, Postmaster.

CONSTIPATION.

A very prevailing complaint, and one that causes a vast deal of suffering. The cause is a torpid liver. The Liver is the largest gland in the body, secreting the bile, the natural physic, and when this gland becomes torpid and inactive, the bowels become sluggish and constipated. The effects of constipation upon the system are serious when the collected faecal matter collects in the lower part of the bowels, it produces an unnatural pressure upon the blood vessels of the parts, causing that painful matter already known as piles, but as a rule, when this matter is removed, the piles disappear. This collection of faecal matter, however, causes several other serious troubles. The foul matter becomes reabsorbed into the system, poisoning the blood, and when this poison reaches the brain, there is congestion, which may vary from simple headache to the most violent brain disease. The impure blood, while circulating through the lungs, causes the breathing to be labored, without affording relief as usual, and the breath becomes disagreeable, leaving a nasty taste in the mouth. Too close attention cannot be paid to the regularity of the evacuations from the bowels. Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, will be found especially adapted in such cases, for it gives the most satisfactory results.

Recommends It for Dyspepsia.

Coban, Ont., April 28, 1885.

Gentlemen: I cheerfully recommend your Seigel's Syrup for dyspepsia. Anyone suffering from indigestion, will do well to give it a trial.

Indigestion Cured.

Bromly, Ont., April 18, 1885.

Gents: It is with pleasure I recommend Seigel's Syrup. I suffered for years with indigestion, and finally concluded to try a bottle of your Syrup. After using two bottles I considered myself cured.

Yours truly,
ROBERT STEWART

Carleton, Ont., Dec. 11, 1885.

MR. WHITE (Limited).

Sir: As I have sold one dozen bottles of the Curative Syrup, and have heard good reports of it everywhere, I am taking it myself for dyspepsia, and it is doing me a great deal of good. I want you to send me some more of the Curative Syrup. You send me four dozen or more, or as many as I think proper. I am, Sir,

Yours respectfully,

RUSSELL SAGE.

RUSSELL SAGE.

No one, to look at Russell Sage, would take him for a keen, shrewd speculator, who keeps his own secrets, has always an eye on the main chance, and has amassed a fortune where most men lose all that they invest. The spectacles, the carefully-arranged dark hair, streaked with gray, the fringe of whisker under the chin, and the serious, deeply-lined face suggest rather the prim deacon of a country church than the wide-awake man of affairs. Mr. Sage is a native of Troy, N. Y., and in his early manhood taught school. But he had little fondness for this work, and, at the earliest possible moment, laid down the birch and chalk for the scales and yardstick. As the proprietor of a small store he showed the qualities which have enabled him to wrest favors from Fortune in Wall street. He became in time a banker, and served two terms in Congress. From politics he retired to re-enter the world of finance. The millions which he possesses to-day were gained in general speculative and "put and call" operations. Mr. Sage is known as a man of set purpose and great determination, who cannot be tempted into saying more than he desires to say.

Catarrh.

Suiting the Word to the Action.—A New York day school teacher told her pupils that when they put their pennies into the contribution box she wanted one to repeat a Bible verse suitable for the occasion. The first boy dropped in his cent, saying: "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." The next boy dropped his penny into the box, saying: "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." The third and youngest boy dropped in his penny, saying: "A fool and his money are soon parted."

Gravel, Stone, and Other Urinary Difficulties.

When the body is in a healthy state, the various salts of the body are carried off by the water passages; but when there is a weakness in the urinary organs these particles do not pass off, but lodge in the bladder, kidneys and urethra, and keep growing in size by continued fresh adhesions until they sometimes form substances varying in size from that of a bean or pea to that of an egg.

Persons with gravel frequently pass some portions of it in their urine, but the main part of the sandy substance remains, and gives rise to inflammation, pain, heat and intense suffering in making water. The accumulation of sand covers up the water passage, and the urine cannot find an outlet, and the most intense misery follows. When the bladder is full, it must be emptied; but frequently the gravelly substance so clogs up the mouth of the water passage that an instrument has to be used to push back the gravel and let the water off.

Language fails to describe the agonies of persons afflicted with stone and gravel.

Pain in the small of the back, hips and thighs; heat and inflammation; desire to make water, but cannot do so; and burning, smarting, indescribable agonies which render life a burden and death courted. Sometimes the particles of gravel are so sharp and cutting that they tear the sides of the urinary passages, and then blood will come in quantities from the urinary passages. Sometimes the bladder and kidneys are filled with slime and cannot perform their duty. The water should always be kept free and open. When there is the least disposition to an accumulation of gravel it should be immediately dissolved and made to pass off by its proper channel. Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, cleanses the kidneys and bladder and water passages from slime, gives strength to the organs requiring sufficient power and endurance to perform all the labors required of them in carrying off the water portions of the food, after all the nourishment it contained has entered into the blood, and gone to repair the daily wear of the system.

The Best Family Medicines to have in the House.

Warsaw, Benton Co., Mo., May 6, 1887

Dr. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—I wish to state now that I believe Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup and Pills are the best medicines manufactured, because they sell on their merit. They are the best medicines that we ever had in our family. Our customers say the same, and family should be without them. The last box is sold. I send order for another.

Very respectfully, etc.,

W. B. DAWSON,

Is it a Mystery Any Longer? Why it Sells.
Warrenton, Farquier Co., Va., Oct. 28, 1887

DEAR SIR:—Your medicine has obtained a reputation here that will never die. I have sought out the most intricate and chronic cases given up by physicians, and have most of them cured on the rapid road to recovery. Paralysis, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Kidney Disease and many diseases which females are subject to, rapidly yield to the healing qualities of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. I consider it the most wonderful medical discovery of the age. It has restored the sight to an old man that was almost blind. I gave him the remedy for Rheumatism from which he had suffered for 20 years, and was crippled with it. It is now a treat to see him walk about, with great joy on his countenance, thank God for sending him such a great remedy.

Yours very respectfully,

AMANDA R. HALLEY

DISEASES OF THE SKIN.

All diseases of the skin are blood diseases for when the blood is pure the skin must be free from all unhealthy eruptions, and, as we have stated, all impurity of the blood caused by Indigestion, Pimples on the face or body, erysipelas, salt rheum, ulcers, sores, boils, carbuncles, and every disease which shows itself upon the surface of the skin, are caused by bad blood. Scabs, itching of the hair, sore eyes, running from the ears, etc., are caused by vile humors in the blood which can be speedily exterminated by Mother Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots.

The skin of Old Mother Seigel was made so velously white and pure and smooth as his breast

GEORGE M. PULLMAN.

GEORGE M. PULLMAN.

Whosoever has ridden in or seen what is popularly known as a Pullman car will easily recognize this name. The beautiful cars made by the company of which he is the head and the moving spirit, are run on every line of railroad in this country save one, and are winning their way in England despite the prejudices of our English friends in favor of their own quaint vehicles. Mr. Pullman is very wealthy, being worth probably about $10,000,000. His business is chiefly carried on at an industrial village called Pullman, situated a few miles south of Chicago, near Lake Michigan. The plan of this place is very novel, and it is well worth a visit from those who are interested in schemes to combine hard common labor with the mental, moral, and physical improvement of the workmen. Mr. Pullman's residence in Chicago is one of the most notable and magnificent in the United States. Attached to it there is an immense conservatory, and a theatre, in which private performances are frequently given before audiences especially invited. Both Mr. Pullman and his family entertain largely, and famous persons from all sections may be met at his house. Mr. Pullman is now about fifty years of age, and is in the prime of his activity and strength.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT.

At the death of his father, who was the proprietor and founder of the New York Herald, this gentleman inherited this valuable property, and has since obtained control of the entire Bennett estate. This estate includes the Herald building, on the corner of Broadway and Ann street, the Bennett building on the corner of Nassau and Fulton streets, the homestead at Fort Washington, and other property. He has a great fondness for yachting, polo, horse racing, and fox hunting. Notwithstanding this, however, he has always retained an active and direct management of his business. He resides almost wholly abroad, but is constantly in close communication with the Herald by cable. He is one of the owners of the recently-laid Bennett-Mackay cable, of which he makes free and continual use in transmitting news to his paper. Mr. Bennett has never married. He is now between thirty-five and forty years of age, and receives an income of $1,000 a day from the Herald alone. Not long since a syndicate is reported to have offered $2,000,000 for the Herald, which Mr. Bennett refused.

SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS (SUGAR COATED)

Cure Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after Eating, Pain in the Side, etc., while their most remarkable success has been shown in curing Sick Headache, yet SEIGEL'S PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels.

Even if they only cured Headache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here and those who once try them will find these Pills valuable in so many ways, that they will not be willing to do without them.

But after all Sick Headache is the bane of so many lives, that here is where we make our great boast. These Pills cure it, while others do not.

SEIGEL'S PILLS are very small and very easy to take. Two to four Pills at bedtime make a dose. They are strictly vegetable, and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

MOSES TAYLOR.

MOSES TAYLOR.

The business activity of the late Moses Taylor ended only with his life. No man in the commercial community was better known nor more highly esteemed. Mr. Taylor's career began in 1830, when he opened an office in Wall street near the East River. He put his first capital into one of the original packet lines to Europe, and became rich very fast. He established the City Bank in Wall street, and was one of the pioneers of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. Hundreds of Mr. Taylor's friends and business associates recall the old gentleman's figure. His full, smooth face, was framed by silvery hair, and beamed with kindness and good-nature. Mr. Taylor's tact and energy in trade were equaled by his benevolence, and every year he gave large amounts for charitable purposes. During the last years of his life he occupied a mansion on the lower part of Fifth avenue. His widow and son inherit his immense fortune.

Shall Never be Without It.

Jersey City, August 14, 1884.

Mr. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—A year ago last May I was laid down with what the doctor called Hardening of the Liver, which, after four weeks of excruciating suffering, he finally cured and sent me a bill for fifty dollars. Three weeks ago I began to feel the same symptoms, when a friend recommended me to try the Seigel's Curative Syrup. I did so, and within an hour after taking the first dose I felt relieved. I continued its use for about a month, and now I feel as well as I ever did. I believe it saved me from a severe, and, perhaps fatal illness, and shall never be without it.

Yours very truly,
E. M. WATSON, Sup't J. C. P. Co.

"The tendency to do wrong increases towards night," says a well-known clergyman. I think this is very likely to be true, for when Adam ate the forbidden fruit it was near Eve.

There are somewhere near 3,000 different languages, and still the man who mashes his thumb with a monkey-wrench finds them none too many to express his joy.

WHAT THE PEOPLE OF CANADA SAY ABOUT Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup

These testimonials are all on file at our office and can be seen on application.

After 12 Years Cured of Indigestion.

South Bay, Ontario, Dec. 7, 1885.

Sir.—I take great pleasure in informing you that I have been cured by your Seigel's Syrup and pills. I suffered ten or twelve years with indigestion and constipation of the bowels, vomiting food and bile from the stomach, which caused great pain. I tried several good physicians none of whom were able to give me any relief.

I tried several patent medicines some of them giving relief for the time being, so you can easily see that I was discouraged, and it was with little faith that I commenced to take your Seigel's Syrup and pills.

I started with your medicine about one year ago and have taken in all about 2 dozen bottles; it did take some little time to stop the vomiting, but I can say that now my health is greatly improved.

I will cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from stomach complaints.

I can give you the names of several others if you wish.

You may print this if you wish, as it may be the means of helping some other sufferer.

Gentlemen.—Wherever your medicine has been introduced it has been received favorably.

Yours truly, J. EVOY.

Alderney, Richmond County, Nova Scotia.

GENTLEMEN.—Your medicines have had a ready sale here. I could have sold five times the quantity if I had had it. The ointment is excellent for Piles.

Very truly, HENRY J. DONOVAN.

N. E. Margaree, Nova Scotia, May 21, 1885.

GENTLEMEN.—I distributed the little books you sent me, and the Syrup and Pills are getting a good sale.

People come for miles around after the medicine, and I shall want another box as soon as you can send it. Everybody who has had a bottle speaks highly of it.

Yours truly, J. B. CRANTON.

READ WHAT THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND SAY, WHERE THE SALE OF MOTHER SEIGEL'S CURATIVE SYRUP REACHED
THE ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF (£90,000) NINETY THOUSAND POUNDS LAST YEAR.

9 Myton Place, Hull, Jan. 15, 1885.

A. J. WHITE, Esq., London.

Dear Sir:—I can send you two testimonials, but the parties do not wish their names or correct initials advertised. Mrs. A. suffered for twelve years from complaints peculiar to females, and tried various remedies and different medical men, but to no purpose. Two small bottles perfectly cured, and to my knowledge the person is hearty and well at the present time. Mr. S. was a martyr to Rheumatism and Lumbago, and could not turn in bed for three weeks, but after taking half a small bottle was able to get up, and following up the remainder, and having another small bottle, was enabled to follow his usual employment. He always keeps Mother Seigel's Syrup in the house. These cases are thoroughly bona fide, and have come under my own notice.

Yours truly, T. W. ROBINSON.

Catfield, Feb. 10, 1885.

GENTLEMEN:—I could quote two or three cases which are known to me, where great benefit has been derived from the use of your Curative Syrup, but the parties prefer not publishing their names. However, facts speak for themselves, and when one has customers who repeatedly assert they would not be without it, I think it is conclusive evidence of its merit and value. Such is my experience since I first commenced the sale of the Syrup, and I have pleasure in stating that it has now become one of the staple articles of stock, which requires frequent sorting up, and one which on no account must be allowed to run short.

Yours truly, J. W. HUSON.

St. Just and Trewellard, Cornwall, Jan. 24, 1885.

R. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—Our assistant was suffering from loss of voice. We, with many of his friends, thought that it was a decided case of Consumption; he was obliged to leave shop and go home. The happy thought occurred to him that he would try your "Syrup," and we can assure you it has produced marvelous effect; he returned to shop again, and now says that he has not enjoyed better health for years. We should have sent you this testimony weeks ago, but waited to see there would be a relapse, because some members of his family have died by Consumption, that we could not believe a cure would be effected so quickly. However, he now rejoices in ever having used Mother Seigel's Syrup. You have his and our sanction to make what use you like of this. His name is Jno. James Trenoweth, Lamorna, Buryan. While we remain,

Yours truly, R. W. CHIRGWIN & CO.

Grove Pharmacy, Salingle, Jan. 2, 1885.

Your medicine must be the most wonderful discovery, for during my experience of more than twenty years I never knew any proprietary or patent medicine in such universal favor and demand. It is simply extraordinary, and if I were to send you an account of every statement made to me in its favor, you would have to publish a separate book to contain my testimonials alone. (Signed) THOMAS J. PERKINS.

Mr. E. A. Atkinson chemist, reports as follows:

Padham, Dec., 1884.

I think it is a duty I owe you to make known the great good done by your Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. An elderly lady of my acquaintance was for many months suffering from spasmodic action of the stomach, accompanied by the most distressing shortness of breath, and constipation. By my advice she tried the Syrup, and took three bottles of it, and one box of Seigel's Operating Pills. She declares she is now as well as she ever was in her life, though she is over sixty years of age.

59 Bloomfield Road, Plumstead, Jan. 7, 1885.

I find the sale of your medicines increase every year, and every one speaks well of them that tries them. I know a lady that attended the Female Hospital in Soho Square for some months with pains in back and side, and bilious, and could take no food, but got no benefit from any of the medicines they gave her. Before she had taken all the contents of one bottle of your Syrup, she felt relief, and is now quite well.

(Signed) W. K. BAKER.

Mr. J. S. Woodruffe, Chemist and Druggist, Hull, says, December 13, 1884:

The sale of your Syrup increases month by month, and it is most gratifying to hear the good results it is achieving, and I can confidently say I have not heard of a single case that has not received some benefit.

Unabated Sale the Best Proof.

Bideford, Jan. 7, 1885.

As regards the benefits received by my customers who have been taking Seigel's Syrup, it would take a volume to give all the voluntary testimonials I constantly hear. I think the unabated continuous sale is the best proof of the estimation in which your remedies are held by the public.

(Signed) WILLIAM CADD.

Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint.

Mr. Wilson M. Whitford, Patent Medicine Vender, Evesham, writes, October, 1884:

We are selling more than ever of your Curative Syrup in our neighborhood. Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup has cured some scores of persons afflicted with indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaint. Many tell me it acted like magic, and speak of it in the highest praise.

Use Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup or Shaker Extract of Roots for Dyspepsia.

UNIMPEACHABLE TESTIMONY.

Readers of our last year's Almanack will remember a letter signed by Mr. W. H. Hall, of New York, giving a brief statement of his experience with "Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots," and strongly, even enthusiastically, commending it. Mr. Hall is a gentleman of high character and has been in the employ of the Adams Express Company for eighteen years. He is now Assistant Foreman of the Delivery Department, is on duty every day giving that bright, alert attention to his work characteristic of a man in good spirits and in sound health. His short letter, previously published, attracted so much attention and elicited so many inquiries for further information, that, at our suggestion, he furnished a somewhat more elaborate account of his case, as follows:

No Sick Person should Fail to Read this Letter.

Office Adams Express Co., 59 B'dway,
NEW YORK, July 30, 1885.

MR. A. J. WHITE.

Dear Sir:—I am glad to find that my former letter as to the effects of your medicine in my case has resulted in good to others; for it was for that purpose I wrote it, and not with any business end in view. My first symptoms were those of Kidney Complaint, painful urination and great pain and weakness in the lower part of my back. I became alarmed as these signs grew worse, and visions of serious, and possibly fatal, disease in that important organ rose to my mind. Presently the symptoms extended and became still more threatening. There were pains in my limbs and a bad taste continually in my mouth. I lost relish for food, and was even disgusted at the very thought of eating. I suffered great mental and bodily depression, and feared that I should be obliged to give up work and enter my name on the chronic sick list. Of course I did not neglect medical treatment. As good physicians as I could obtain prescribed for me, and I carefully followed their instructions and took their medicine, but without benefit so far as I could see. At one time I believed myself to be all broken-up with malaria, but none of the remedies recommended for that vague complaint had the slightest effect on me. I was miserable enough, and knew not where to turn for any real and radical help.

Finally, on arriving home one night—reside at No. 241 York street, Jersey City—I found a copy of Seigel's Almanack which had been left there during the day by one of your distributors. I began reading it without any hope whatever, but with increasing interest, until I came to the article entitled "What is this Disease that is Coming upon Us?" The article described my symptoms and feelings more accurately and fully than I could do it myself if I should write fifty pages in the attempt. My trouble was, indeed, "like a thief in the night," for it had been stealing upon me unawares, probably for years. There was the same complication and mystery about it that had perplexed the physicians and refused to yield to their treatment.

Encouraged by this evident insight into my case on your part I sent at once for a bottle of the Seigel's Syrup and before long I had taken one-half of it I felt the promised and welcomed relief. But I want to make the important point that I followed the directions closely, and was cautious as to diet. Many persons, I fear, fail to find a cure as quickly as they otherwise might through carelessness in these respects.

If any one of all the countless thousands who suffer as I did will use the Seigel's Syrup wisely and as directed, I will warrant them a cure.

In a few weeks I felt like my former self. I enjoyed my food and digested it. My overworked and enfeebled kidneys recovered tone, strength and naturalness of action. The tormenting pains left my body and limbs, and the foul taste left my

I should not omit to say that millions of people need some medicine simply to act upon the bowels. To them I commend Mother Seigel's Syrup in the strongest possible terms. It is the gentlest, pleasantest, safest and purest purgative in this world. The most delicate women and children may take it, whom a drastic purge would half kill. It produces no pain—a vital consideration for the weak and feeble.

In a word, I know Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup to be a great and successful medicine, destined to benefit people whom nothing else has ever reached, and you are more than welcome to my name and influence to increase the number. Since the publication of my former letter I have had many letters from sufferers, some of them living in remote and obscure parts of the country. I have invariably answered giving direction and encouragement.

One More Point and I am Done.

I have all the more confidence in your medicine because it is prepared by that unselfish and honorable class of people—the Shakers. I may modestly claim to be a religious man myself, and I admire the Shakers for their religious zeal, consistency, industry and unimpeachable business character. I am sure what they make and commend is good, and my experience verifies it.

Trusting that what I herein say may be the means of showing many how to get rid of pain and sickness,

I beg to remain,

Cherfully Yours,
W. A. Hall

Following is the Article referred to by Mr. Hall, and which we herewith republish.

What is this Disease-Coming Upon Us?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish-colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising. They stop suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the marine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a Liver Complaint, some for Dyspepsia, others for Kidney Disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success. It is found, however, that Seigel's Curative Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, will effect a perfect cure in every case. Care should be taken to secure the genuine article—sold by A. J. WHITE, LIMITED, 67 St. James Street, Montreal, and by all Druggists.

No other Pills operate so gently—yet thoroughly—as the Mother Seigel's Operating Pills.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE!

We make the statement, without fear of successful contradiction, that Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, is the most certain cure for that loathsome disease—CATARRH—and all disorders of the body, arising from an impure condition of the blood, that the research of medical science has ever discovered.

A Doctor Recommends Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots for the Blood.

Rollersville, Sandusky Co., Ohio, Nov. 11, 1885.

Mr. A. J. WHITE, 54 Warren St., New York:

I have been badly afflicted with Rheumatism, and the doctor that attended me told me to try Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, as he knew it to be a GOOD BLOOD MEDICINE, and as the Rheumatism was a disease of the blood it would help me. After I had taken the second bottle, I began to get better, and have been growing better ever since. I have now taken three bottles. One of my neighbors, a woman, was so badly afflicted with Rheumatism that she had to call a doctor. He attended her three or four weeks, but did her no good. She then tried Seigel's Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots—taking three bottles—and says it has done her more good than all the medicine she has taken in five years.

ISAAC SMITH.

Constipation.

South Bay, Ont.,
Jan. 24, 1886.

A. J. WHITE, (Limited).

Gentlemen: Your Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup is the best medicine for Constipation ever introduced. I had, for twelve years, suffered greatly with constipation attended with spitting up of food. I was treated by several Doctors all to no purpose; at last I heard of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and although I had but little faith in it, I gave it a fair trial, with the result that to-day I feel like a different man. For stomach troubles it has the name here of being the best medicine in the Province.

Yours very truly,

LEWIS M. WELHAND.

LET US REASON TOGETHER.

Many have wondered—and still the wonder grew—how a remedy which was confessedly a cure for but one single disease should attain to such enormous sales as Seigel's Curative Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, has done; but when it is borne in mind that to Dyspepsia we owe almost all the ills which afflict us, it will be seen that a medicine which can cure that Main-spring of Disease must reach the cases of innumerable multitudes. Such is, indeed, the simple fact. Physicians are apt to give a variety of names to diseases which all come under the one category of Dyspeptic complaints—such as Malaria, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease and the like, all of which are simply due to obstructions of the system of waste and repair, to which we owe our very existence. It is far too common for our medical men to devote their attention and treatment to mere symptoms, when they should instead of this strike at the root of the evil, and thus eradicate symptoms and disease together. It is also a common error of doctors to make a faulty diagnosis of a case, and proceed deliberately to treat the patient for a disease which he is not suffering from. Far too many cases of so-called Consumption are nothing more nor less than cases of bad Dyspepsia, the symptoms of which are of the most painful character, but which readily yield to the soothing and healing influence of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots.

The Shakers could not be induced to prostitute their good name.

SHAKERESSES FILLING THE BOTTLES CONTAINING SEIGEL'S SYRUP, OR SHAKER EXTRACT OF ROOTS.

The Shakers of Mount Lebanon, N.Y., prepare Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and the firm of A. J. White, Limited, have the sole agency for its sale all parts of the world. The medicine called Shaker Blood Syrup, that has been put on the market in Canada, purporting to be made by the Shakers, is not genuine and the Shakers never sold or prepared an ounce of Syrup for the parties representing it as made by them. The Shakers having commenced a suit, this firm has entered into a bond not to sell any more, admitting they had no right to make and sell the Shaker Blood Syrup. The genuine goods have our steel plate label affixed to every bottle.

What Does All This Mean?

What means these strong and impressive letters? Why do people write such stories to men who are comparative strangers? They have no interest in the welfare of our business. They are not to gain anything by sending us such flattering testimonials. Then why do they write them? The fact is, they know the Shakers to be worthy of the confidence of the community. They find that we are engaged in a mission for the relief of the human race from pain and suffering. They also have a friendly feeling for their kind. They themselves have obtained relief by the use of these remedies, and they wish others who may be sufferers to gain the same health and happiness they now enjoy. These people who have voluntarily sent us these letters of commendation extolling the healing properties of the Shaker remedies, have done so from a sense of duty to suffering humanity, pointing out to them a way of escape from pain and disease. They have done this, too, as an expression of their appreciation of that honest and upright community which has withstood the jeers of the world's people for more than one hundred years, working against almost every adversity (with the blessing of God) until triumph has crowned their efforts; for at this time statements made and products manufactured by the Shakers have the confidence of the people from one end of the world to the other. As is instanced by the fact that these Shaker medicines are held in high esteem in every land on the face of the earth. In every country in Europe they have become a household treasure. In Africa, Asia, South America, Mexico and the islands of the sea, Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, made by the Shakers, is as standard as gold. In England alone more than twenty millions of bottles have been sold. Now, what does this mean? It means that this remedy has merit. That it does good to our race afflicted with disease.

No such pleasant physic in the world as Mother Seigel's Operating Pills.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS FOR TAKING MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP.

DOSE—FIFTEEN TO THIRTY DROPS, two or three times a day, in a wine-glass of water immediately after eating.

The quantity may be regulated by the patient, who will bear in mind that sufficient needs to be taken to operate on the bowels two or three times each day. The blood will thus be purified, the sweat-glands of the skin will be opened, and the flesh made soft and healthy as an infants. The kidneys and liver will do their duty, and all humors of the blood will be driven out of the system, and the body purified and restored to a sound and healthy condition. The medicine must be taken instantly after eating, so that it will become mixed with the food while in the stomach.

Commence by taking ten or fifteen drops three times a day instantly after eating, in a little cold sweetened water. It is best not to take the syrup on an empty stomach. If this does not give relief, increase the dose to thirty drops, always to be taken instantly after eating, so that the syrup may become mixed with the food while being digested. It is essential that the bowels be made to move freely every day, and if the above doses of syrup be not sufficient to effect this take one to four of Mother Seigel's Operating Pills at bedtime. It is better to take the pills than to increase the dose of the Syrup.

Mother Seigel's Syrup is put up in a highly concentrated form, the full dose being thirty drops, (half a teaspoonful) and contains sixty average doses, being about ONE CENT PER DOSE.
