Port Arthur, Ont., July 19.—(Canadian Press)—Some orphans of Canadian Masons are being cared for in the established homes of the Oddfellows and Foresters, some in county houses of refuge and at least two in Roman Catholic institutions, declared Lieut. Col. W. N. Ponton, grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge, in an address, in which he urged immediate measures for the purchase of a large central site on estate and the erection of a Masonic home, hospital and school for the orphan children and widows of deceased Masons, and for infirm and aged Masons without means. "For more and more Masonry must become the auxiliary—the handmaid of the church militant," said the grand master.

Uncle Sam—"And I just had everything arranged to give him a real welcome."

INSISTS THAT LENINE WAS POISONED

Stockholm, July 19.—Notwithstanding a denial issued by the Soviet embassy at Riga yesterday about the report that Premier Lenin had been poisoned, the correspondent today telegraphed his newspaper here from Riga that he had obtained confirmation of his statement. He says cyanide of potassium was the poison used.

MASONIC HOME IS URGED BY THE GRAND MASTER

Some Orphans are in Care of Foresters and Oddfellows, Some in Other Refuges, Some in Catholic Institutions.

Port Arthur, Ont., July 19.—(Canadian Press)—Some orphans of Canadian Masons are being cared for in the established homes of the Oddfellows and Foresters, some in county houses of refuge and at least two in Roman Catholic institutions, declared Lieut. Col. W. N. Ponton, grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge, in an address, in which he urged immediate measures for the purchase of a large central site on estate and the erection of a Masonic home, hospital and school for the orphan children and widows of deceased Masons, and for infirm and aged Masons without means. "For more and more Masonry must become the auxiliary—the handmaid of the church militant," said the grand master.

ELLIOTT-BEATREY. There was a very quiet wedding this morning at the residence of Rev. Charles R. Freeman, 274 Towson street, West End, when he united in marriage Miss Vida Aletha Beatrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Beatrey, 172 Tower street, and Reginald Hugh Elliott. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a suit of navy blue tulle, with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of Columbia roses. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left by train for Fredericton, and later will go to Montreal, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, returning to Montreal, where they will make their home until the winterport activities open in St. John for the C. P. S. Ltd., with whom the groom is employed.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I heard two boys talkin' this mornin' about the great time they had in camp for a week. It sorta made me wish I was a youngster agin, with the wigwam us boys made out of spruce poles an' bushes, out 'sposin' the woods. Didn't we hev fun—an' sometimes we went there after dark, with birch bark torches to scare the Injin devils away so they wouldn't jump on us from a tree. I was'n't an Injin devil within forty mile—had we'd heerd so many stories about 'em that when we got our torches goin' an' struck the path into the woods we was awful brave—yes, sir. But the thing that struck me in the talk of them two boys was what they said about the right kind of a camp—I'd hand him a week off an' paid him just the same. The other one said his boss let him go—but he lost the wigwam. If I was him—an' I had a poor young feller workin' that way—that was keepin' good company an' wanted to go to the right kind of a camp—I'd hand him a week's pay an' say—'Go to it, young feller, an' hev a good time.' I would. By Hen! An' he'd be a better boy fer me when he come back too."

RUSSIANS MAKE NEW PROPOSALS

Negotiate Directly With Foreign Property Owners.

Accorded a Full Meeting of Hague Conference in Hope to Save Situation—Would Give All Powers a Week to Consider.

(Canadian Press Cable) The Hague, July 19.—New proposals in connection with compensation of confiscated property and payment of the Russian debt were advanced by the Russian delegation at a meeting today with the entire non-Russian commission of the conference on Russian affairs here. The Russians suggested an arrangement by which Russia would undertake to negotiate directly with foreigners for the payment of compensation for confiscated property and with bondholders for settlement of the Russian debt. The delegates, including the Russian, submit this project to their respective governments and await an answer for one week at The Hague. The Russians for the time being dropped the question of credits, as they said, the non-Russians had declined credits. It was announced that the non-Russian representatives would meet later to discuss the proposal. Russia, he representatives said, would engage to make arrangements with foreign claimants within two years. Today's meeting was the Bolsheviks' last chance to save the conference from complete disintegration. They had insisted upon a joint plenary session, and they were accorded it.

LATE SPORT NEWS

Fredericton Gets New Pitcher—St. Stephen Horse Races Postponed.

Fredericton, N. B., July 19.—"Emmy" Rideout of Springfield, N. S., pitching ace of New Scotia, is expected to arrive here today. He is to work one of the two games against St. Peter's of St. John tomorrow. He is a southpaw. Stephen, N. B., July 19.—On account of heavy rain here this morning, the races have been called off for today, and the programme will be carried forward a day. The programme for Thursday will be the free-for-all, 2:18 mixed, and 2:23 trot. Roy Solo was sole favorite last night in the free-for-all, Red Russell in the 2:18 mixed, and The Finisher in the 2:23 trot. On Friday the 2:16 trot, 2:30 mixed and 2:18 mixed will be the events. Kalamazoo, Mich., July 19.—The Paper Mills purse for 2:08 trotters, classic of the Kalamazoo Grand Circuit, was the feature event on today's card. This event, with $5,000, is one of the races of the year, and drew one of the best fields in the two-year-old class. Other events today were the 2:14 trot, for which fourteen were named, the 2:09 trot and the 2:08 trot, which were won by the 2:18 mixed, in which Peter Pluto beat out the popular choice, Longest. The other winners were Jane Revere, in the two-year-old class, and Jackson Grattan, in the 2:07 pace.

TWO POLICEMEN ARE INDICTED

Allegation is They Brutally Beat a Canadian in Washington.

Washington, July 19.—Policemen Ernest C. Spaulding and Charles R. Bremmerman of the Washington police force have been indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia on charges of assault with deadly weapon. They are alleged to have brutally beaten Louis W. Moore, a Canadian, a student at the Bliss Electrical School whose home is in St. John's. The trouble grew out of an altercation on a street car and the police dragged Moore from the car and blackjacked him. Moore was escorted in the police cart and U. S. District Attorney Gordon started an investigation which resulted in the indictments. First reports of this affair stated, apparently incorrectly, that Moore belonged to St. John, N. B.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN LIMERICK; THE INSURGENTS LOSE

Capitulation There is Believed to be Imminent, According to the News Reaching Dublin.

Dublin, July 19.—Recent speculation on the supposed impending large scale operations against the Republican insurgents in southwest Ireland seems to have moved the Free State government to put the brakes on popular anticipation of an early march to triumph and peace. The provincial government's newspapers, Truth, today publishes an article emphasizing the difficulties to be met and warning the public not to expect immediate achievement of the task. It points out that the expenditure of both lives and money may be considerable before the end is reached. Meanwhile, although the military council is busily preparing for action, there is outward sign of that great advance in progress in the streets without apparent advantage to either side. Owing to difficulties of communication and censorship there is no possible means of confirming any of these rumors. Dublin, July 19.—News reaching Dublin today confirms the early reports that heavy fighting occurred in Limerick over the week-end, the national army troops succeeding in isolating the irregulars in the Strand Barracks and King John Castle. The capitulation of the insurgents is believed to be imminent.

GOOD WEATHER; BETTER SCORES

King's Prize Being Shot for Today at Bisley—Results in Other Matches.

Bisley Camp, July 19.—(Canadian Press)—Capital weather conditions and generally excellent shooting marked the opening of the competition for the King's prize today. There are 935 entries, compared with 637 last year. Private Campion of Liverpool, after a shoot off, was the winner of the Daily Graphic squadd competition, 200 and 300 yards, seven shots at each distance. Lieut. Noble of South Africa, with a score of 49 out of a possible 60, was the winner of the Corporation of the City of London squadd competition, open to all comers, 1,000 yards, ten shots. Among other Canadian marksmen in the Corporation of the City of London match was J. Chandler, Woodstock, N. B., with 31.

CANADIANS SALUTED.

Greetings Exchanged at Alliance Francaise Congress.

Paris, July 19.—At the congress of the Alliance Francaise at Marseilles, Pierre Dupuy, a Canadian delegate, brought a message of sympathy from the Canadian people, and said: "Three million Canadians speak French, not patois, but a language still impregnated with the perfume of the 17th century. They still live the whole intellectual life of France and they proved it by coming to die in numbers on her battlefields." Mr. Colrat said he was anxious to salute the Canadian delegate who had given to the congress the greetings of a million of Canadians who still speak French with the purity of Pascal and Racine.

GIANTS BUT HALF A GAME AHEAD

Series With St. Louis was Disastrous

White Sox Given Setback by N. Y. Americans—Several Homers Feature Contests—Judge Landis Speaks of "Old Man Cobb."

(Canadian Press) New York, July 19.—Holding the lead in the National League by the scant margin of a half game, the Giants moved on to Cincinnati today after a disastrous series in St. Louis, in which they dropped three out of four games to the fast going Cardinals. Rickey's team took the final game 9 to 8, a see-saw match in which the lead changed five times. Ainsmith cracked out his tenth homer of the season during the battle. After dropping three in a row in Chicago, the New York Americans pointed three Chicago White Sox twirlers for twenty hits and a 14 to 4 victory in the final game. Shawkey struck out ten men, Hooper hit his third homer in as many days, and Menard and Wheeler registered four hits apiece, the former driving in seven runs. Homers by Speaker and Wood, coupled with Morton's effective pitching, gave the Indians a 6 to 3 victory over Philadelphia and its ninth straight win, the longest winning streak in the American League this season. The Red Sox, who had the bases full tied the score in the seventh, but the Red Sox came back with another run and defeated Detroit 6 to 5 for the first time this season on their home grounds. Three of the five hit-gathered off Bixey were homers, two by Nicholson and one by Hooper, but the Reds hit Oeschger for fourteen hits and won from Boston 9 to 8. Grimes celebrated his return to the game with four hits, including a double and a homer, and aided the Cubs to down Philadelphia 6 to 8. "Old Man Cobb."

Chicago, July 19.—Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, took a look at the papers and learned to his surprise that Cobb was giving George Sibley a double fight for batting honors of the American League. "Cobb batting 406; Siller 420. Cobb gets five hits in one game including a homer," read the commissioner. "Aint it a shame about poor old man Cobb?" Judge Landis said. "They said he was slipping and ready for the home for the aged."

PALESTINE AND SYRIA TODAY

League of Nations Council Meeting—Vatican Opposition Reported Not to be Pressed.

London, July 19.—Announcement that today's meeting of the council of the League of Nations set for 10:30 would be private, brought forth renewed expressions of disappointment, because it was understood that the subject for discussion would be the Palestine and Syria mandates, which the opponents of privacy contend are particularly susceptible to the evils of traditional diplomatic bargaining. The chief opposition to these mandates has been expected from Italy, which nation is accused of having been seeking to obtain economic advantages, while her objection to the French claim to the protectorate over Christians in the Near East also is said to stand in the way of a smooth agreement. On the other hand there is reason to believe that the Vatican's opposition to the mandate will not be pressed, as it has been decided that the Christian representative on the council should be a Roman Catholic. Italy's attitude on the point appears to be understood to have been modified. Consideration of Bulgaria's request for a commission to be appointed by the council to investigate alleged incursions into Yugoslavia and Roumania by bands of Bulgarian irregulars was another topic slated for today's meeting.

TWO EDITORS DEAD

New York, July 19.—Charles R. Miller, seventy-three, for forty years editor of the New York Times, died here yesterday after an illness of several months. His entire newspaper career was with the Times, except for three years spent on the staff of the Springfield Republican after his graduation from Dartmouth in 1872. He was recognized as one of the ablest editorial writers in the country. He received an honorary degree from Dartmouth and Columbia and decorations from the French and Belgian governments. Minneapolis, July 19.—Rev. J. M. Sandheim, editor of Lutheraan, official publication of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, died yesterday.

NEW HONOR FOR LONDON GROOM OF YESTERDAY

London reports that military operations on a large scale are impending in Ireland, and the Republican forces are said to have taken up a line from Limerick to Waterford and to be entrenching in readiness for an attack. The line is shown on this map.

Where It Would Bring Prosperity Development Should Be Undertaken

Hon. Dr. J. H. King, After Inspection of Local Facilities in the Morning, is Guest of Honor at Board of Trade Luncheon—Gives Warning That Finances Will Permit Government to Undertake Only Most Essential Improvements at Present.

That improvements would be made in the harbor where they were a necessity and would bring trade and prosperity to the country and when funds permitted was the substance of the address given by Hon. Dr. J. H. King, minister of public works, at the luncheon tendered in his honor at the Union Club by the council of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon, in replying to the address of welcome which had been presented to him by W. F. Burditt, president of the board. The minister made no promises of what the government proposed, but he made it clear that on account of the financial condition of the country at the present time, many operations which in ordinary times would be carried out had to be suspended.

The luncheon yesterday was given by the council of the board of trade in honor of Hon. Dr. King and the members of his party, which included Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, who came here to be with the minister of public works on his inspection trip; J. B. Hunter, deputy minister of public works, and Arthur St. Laurent, chief engineer of the department. Hon. W. E. Foster, premier of New Brunswick, also was one of the guests.

W. F. Burditt, president of the board of trade, was in the chair, and in extending a welcome to Hon. Dr. King and Hon. A. B. Copp, he said that it seemed as though they were members of our own family. He said that many of us from the maritime provinces had distinguished themselves in the west, particularly in the field of politics, and he mentioned the names of Howe, Tupper, Tilley, Blair and Fielding as some of those who had distinguished themselves in the east. Mr. Burditt then read the address to Hon. Dr. King.

Board of Trade Address.
The address was as follows:
"While extending to you a most cordial welcome on this your first visit to your native province since assuming the important duties which now engage your attention, we wish to congratulate you upon your election to so distinguished and responsible a position as that of minister of public works of this great dominion and to assure you of our confidence that the duties of that high office while in your hands will be effectively discharged in the best interest of the entire country. It is a matter of gratification to us that the important role of public works has fallen to one who, although representing a western constituency, having been reared and educated in this province, will have a sympathetic interest in its affairs and will be better able than otherwise would be possible, to understand our local problems as they may come before you for consideration.

We wish to take the opportunity of your presence among us to direct your attention to one or two matters which we trust will receive the careful consideration of your own or kindred departments of the federal government in the near future.

Harbor Protection.
"The first and most urgently important of these relates to the better protection of our harbor by extension of the Negrotown Point breakwater to Partridge Island. Realizing that the future progress of St. John depends very largely upon the development of our overseas commerce, large sums have been expended by our city in providing dock-age and other ocean traffic facilities to our water-front. The federal government too, recognizing the importance of the whole dominion of its Atlantic seaports, has supplemented the expenditures made by the city, by further extending the dockage on the main harbor front. In doing this it became necessary to remove a natural breakwater known as the Beacon Bar, which formerly afforded a large measure of protection to the main harbor, and the result has been that not only are the new docks, constructed by the government, in an exposed position which renders them to such a degree unsafe as to be unacceptable to shipping interests, but also to deprive the previously existing docks in the main harbor of the protection which they formerly enjoyed from the Beacon Bar; and the whole harbor, particularly the government property on the eastern side, is much more exposed to the action of southwest winds than formerly, serious damage having actually resulted.

"As the partial protection to the harbor is provided by what is known as the Negro Point breakwater, constructed by the dominion government some years ago, and the obvious solution of the problem of affording complete protection from southeast gales, as has been pointed out by all engineers who have studied the subject is to extend the Negro Point breakwater to Partridge Island. This conclusion has not only been fully endorsed by shipping men, but the necessity for the improvement has long been recognized by the dominion government, appropriation therefor having been voted by parliament in 1914, when tenders were called for, but no further action was taken on account of the outbreak of war. This appropriation was only made after careful inquiry as to the vital necessity for the work as a measure of needed protection to the existing government owned docks and other government property on both the east and west sides of the harbor.

Courtesy Bay.
"What has been said with reference to the need of this extension as a necessary protection to the main harbor applies with equal force to the eastern harbor at Courtesay Bay where the government is now making heavy expenditures with the ultimate purpose, as we understand it, of making it available as a shipping terminal for the National railway system. It is the general opinion of shipping men that Courtesay Bay will be unsuitable as a shipping harbor unless the western channel is closed by extension of the N. P. breakwater.

"An incidental advantage which is believed to derive from the closing of the western channel is that the silting-in of the main channel will be prevented and the depth be maintained by natural forces without dredging.

"We hope that before parliament is again in session our city will be able to make proposals to the government which will form a basis for legislation acceptable to all parties and that would provide for the continuous development of the harbor of St. John as a public work in the interest of the country at large.

C. N. R. Terminals.
"Although it may not come exactly within the province of your department, we wish, sir, while speaking of shipping facilities, to direct your attention to the fact that the shipping facilities at this Atlantic terminal of the Canadian National Railway system are inadequate to the needs even of the present very limited volume of traffic which that system brings to this port. Were the National Railway system functioning as we believed it should in carrying the largest possible volume of Canadian export and import traffic through exclusively Canadian channels, the shipping facilities at the Atlantic terminals of that system—Quebec, St. John and Halifax—would need to be increased to a very large extent. It takes time, as well as money, to provide such facilities, and these we have being inadequate for present needs, we hope that you will urge upon your government the importance of an early and serious consideration of this matter.

"We recognize fully the need of strict economy of expenditure under existing conditions, and the expenditures we advocate are only those which are directly or indirectly of a revenue-producing character—necessary for the expansion of the trade and commerce of the country—to hamper which is to choke the main sources of revenue and to retard that general development upon which so largely depends the future of our great Dominion."

Hon. Dr. King's Reply.
In reply, Hon. Dr. King said that he appreciated very much the honor bestowed upon him by the council of the board of trade in asking him to be their guest on the occasion of his first visit to the city, and his native province since he had become minister of public works in the federal government. He said that in order to build up trade the country must be provided with the proper facilities to get the business. As a country, Canada was fairly progressive and the facilities must be provided which would keep the country so.

During the morning, Dr. King said, he had had an opportunity of inspecting the work at Courtesay Bay and the rest of the harbor front. The work at Courtesay Bay was a tremendous undertaking, and the people of this city had every reason to be proud of what was being done there. He had been taken also to Negro Point to make an inspection of the breakwater, but the fog was so thick that it was impossible to make a thorough inspection of the breakwater. Reports of the various public works and the needs of each particular locality had been prepared by the engineers and the department and any work which would be done would be based upon the recommendations in these reports.

The extension of the Negro Point breakwater to Partridge Island to protect the harbor from the winds in the winter was to the layman the logical conclusion. The advisability of this would depend upon the recommendations of the engineers and also upon the condition of the country's finances. Canada today was struggling under an enormous debt and only the most essential improvements in the way of public works could be undertaken at the present. The government did not want to be penurious and hinder development by excessive economy, and where development would bring prosperity the work should be undertaken.

After the fine reception that had been tendered to him here, he hoped that he would have an opportunity to come again. The people of Canada, he said, were beginning to realize that they must not become sectional in their views. The people of the maritime provinces who were the pioneers in the building up of the country must not be harsh with the people of the west, who were now passing through the stages which the east already had gone through. "Have patience with us in the west, for we are going through the conditions which you have experienced here," was the way the minister summed up the situation. "If young men want to go west, let them go, for there are great opportunities for them to help develop that part of the dominion."

In conclusion, Dr. King said he hoped that he would be able to make another visit to the city while holding his present position.

of an entirely local interest, for the acceptance of such a programme would be in the interests of the whole country.

The Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk were being taken over by the government and this should add to the reasons for the development of this port. He felt that any government whether Liberal or Conservative should adopt the policy of exporting only through Canadian ports.

In 1911 a portion of the harbor had been handed to the government for the purpose of certain developments, and some of this work had been done through the efforts of Hon. William Pugsley and Sir Douglas Hazen, while ministers of the federal government. It might be quite possible that a harbor commission, such as Montreal had, would be a good policy to adopt. The act which had been submitted to the citizens of St. John had been defeated largely on account of certain objectionable features of the particular act. If the government felt that a commission should be in control of the harbor in order that the government might be more able in that way to carry out a national policy in regard to the ports of the dominion, he thought that the people of St. John would gladly give it their consideration.

Speaking of the province generally, the premier said that he thought the people of New Brunswick were fairly prosperous and that the last ten years had been the best times when things looked none too encouraging, but when the clouds had passed over he hoped to see this province move forward and enjoy with the other parts of Canada a greater measure of prosperity than ever.

At the conclusion of the premier's remarks, Mr. Burditt said he thought that the department of railways was fully aware of the needs of the city of St. John in regard to a new station and better facilities generally for the handling of the traffic.

J. Fraser Gregory.
J. Fraser Gregory paid a tribute to the ability of the new minister of public works and thought that New Brunswick was very fortunate in the fact that he had been chosen for this portfolio. In regard to the port development, he said that St. John was in the interests of the whole dominion that it should be developed. The plebiscite held in the city last year was not on the principle of harbor commission but on a specific act which to the electors had objectionable details. He said that it was quite as right for Canada to spend money on the development of the harbor of St. John as it was to spend money in beautifying the public squares of the city of Ottawa. Before taking his seat, Mr. Gregory suggested that the deputy minister of public works, J. B. Hunter, be called upon. His suggestion was followed and the chairman called upon him.

The Deputy Minister.
"It is not very often a deputy gets a chance to say anything; he is supposed to keep quiet," was the way Mr. Hunter commenced his remarks. He thanked the gentlemen present for the fine reception which had been tendered to their party. He said that he had served under eleven different ministers, two of whom were from the province of New Brunswick, and in regard to the calibre of the two men from this province he said: "Looking over the field, I can confidently say they are two of the best I have ever had, both in ability and patience." He said that he had never seen a new-comer secure such general good-will as had Hon. Dr. King in such a very short time.

Continuing, he said: "A minister can be a good fellow when the treasury is filled; but when money is scarce it is a very different matter." The city of St. John had been looked upon at Ottawata as a pretty hungry port and when it was remembered that St. John gets one-sixteenth of the total expenditure this year, the people here ought not to expect much more.

With regard to Dr. King, he thought that his interests would be divided between British Columbia and New Brunswick, with the possibility that his native province would be the favored one.

G. E. Barbour.
George E. Barbour, vice-president of the board of trade, was the last speaker and he urged upon the guests the importance of developing the port.

The luncheon was brought to a close with the singing of the national anthem.

Ladies Entertain.
Mrs. J. H. King was the guest of honor at a delightful luncheon at the home of Premier Foster, Rothsay, yesterday at high noon. Those present were Mrs. J. H. King, Mrs. F. Sadler, her sister-in-law, N. B. Mrs. A. B. Copp, of Sackville; Mrs. Pugsley, Mrs. William Pugsley, of Ottawata; Mrs. William Vassie, Mrs. Dr. Skinner, Mrs. George McAvity, her sister; Mrs. Busby, the hostess, Mrs. W. E. Foster and Miss Joan, her daughter. Mrs. G. H. King, of Chipman was unable to be present.

Mrs. Foster was handsomely gowned in brown lace dress, with georgette, while Mrs. King wore a dainty pale grey georgette with jet trimmings. Mrs. Copp's costume was white silk jersey cloth, and Mrs. Pugsley wore navy blue crepe.

Busy Week Planned.
The local teams are planning a busy time for the balance of this week. Tonight the St. Johns and St. Peter's will meet in a league game and in view of the closeness of the last few games another exciting contest is expected. Ray Hansen is the probable twirling choice for the St. Peter's with Parlee as the opposing hurler. Bobby Atchison will again be seen as one of the umpires. Tomorrow night the fast Moncton team will play the St. Johns and since this is the first meeting of a local team with the Monctonians great interest is being taken in the contest. Bobby Wala, the popular catcher of the Newburyport team, will be behind the bat for the visitors. The St. Peter's will go to Fredericton tomorrow to meet the capital city outfit. The St. Johns will go to Moncton on Saturday to play a double-header with the team in the railway town. The Quincey (Mass.) All-Stars will be here to play two games with the St. Peter's.

The Table Beverage of no Regrets—delicious either Hot or Iced

YOU need not hesitate to indulge in a second cup of cheery Instant Postum, the happy mealtime beverage that never harms your nerves nor interferes with your digestion.

Its delicate aroma is fragrant and inviting; its full, rich flavor is satisfying and delicious. Even the children can safely enjoy this wholesome cereal drink, though denied the use of other table beverages.

But have you ever tried Iced Postum? Ah! If not you've missed a real delight—a cooling, invigorating, refreshing drink of simple pure enjoyment.

Made instantly, in the pitcher at the table—no waiting—no trouble at all. Just a teaspoonful of the sparkling, pulverized Postum for each glass; add boiling water to dissolve, and stir thoroughly; add sugar, and cream or lemon, as desired—then pour into the glasses of cracked ice. The result is a joy to the taste; a beneficial relief to the nerves and digestion.

At your Grocer's in sealed, air-tight tins.

THE HEALTH CENTRE.

A Health Centre for St. John is something so greatly needed that the movement to have it established must appeal to every citizen. The story is told in another part of this issue of the Times. Miss Meiklejohn, representing the public health department, makes out an unanswerable case. The women of St. John will doubtless be the first to rally to her support, and none should turn a deaf ear to the appeal.

The infant death rate in St. John is 187 per thousand. In Toronto, Dr. Hastings, who was recently in St. John, announced that the rate there for the first six months of this year was 80 per thousand, and it is estimated that if all births were registered it would not be over 68 per thousand or one-half the rate in St. John. In this department of work alone there is great need of more effective efforts.

What would a Health Centre do? The Times has published at regular intervals the reports of the Halifax Health Centre, one of the best conducted in America, and whoever has read these reports knows the answer to the question. In St. John the Health Centre would house the board of health and all the clinics now conducted in different places. It would provide the much needed dental clinic. It would centralize and thereby render more efficient every branch of health work. It would provide for the adequate training of public health nurses, of whom there is a great scarcity now, and for whom there will be an ever growing demand. It would benefit the city and the province, and the city cannot be indifferent to health conditions in other parts of the province, from which there is always some movement of population toward the city. The health conditions as reported from some outside localities are such as to be a menace to the public welfare, and we know that conditions in parts of the city itself are very bad. A Health Centre will make a great change for the better, and make St. John an example for other towns and cities. The public health nurse is the key to the health situation. Properly trained and temperamentally fit she goes into the homes, gains sympathy, radiates good-will and good cheer, gets at the facts, and helps the family to a better understanding of fundamental principles in public health. Through her agency infant mortality is reduced, mothers are saved, lives are prolonged, and the danger of epidemics brought to a minimum. Her value is now only beginning to be realized. Let us have a Health Centre at St. John, and with the least possible delay.

THE FARMERS WIN.

The Farmers have won in Manitoba. They will have a larger representation in the new legislature than the Norris government had in the last. They may even have a clear majority, as there is a prospect that of the eight independents elected several may give their support to the Farmers. The Liberals and Labor lost heavily in the contest; and the Conservatives, who had only seven members in the last house, made no gains, and may even lose a seat. It is a Farmer victory. Manitoba has followed the lead of Ontario and Alberta.

One result of this election is that we shall probably hear no more about weakening the prohibitory law in Manitoba. The Farmers are not favorable to any such downward step.

There appears to be no doubt of the defeat of Mr. George C. Chipman, the New Brunswick man who is editor of the Grain Growers' Guide, and was said to be slated for the premiership. Premier Norris was re-elected, but three members of the government were defeated. The attempt to carry the city of Winnipeg for the Progressives failed, and a Labor candidate headed the poll. Only one Progressive was elected, but he will support the Farmer government.

It is desirable, since the Farmers have the largest group, that they should have a clear majority and freedom to carry out their policies. These will probably not be radical, but whether they are or not the new government should not be exposed to the constant danger of defeat by a combination of forces having no sympathy with each other except a desire to defeat the administration. It will doubtless be found that the Farmers can depend on a measure of support from the Liberals, despite the previous disclaimers of some of the leaders of the latter party.

It has been predicted that in this Manitoba contest the Farmer movement in the west would reach the peak, and thereafter begin to disintegrate. This does not by any means follow as a matter of course. The old parties are in eclipse, and predictions as to future alignments are not profitable.

CAMPS AND MOTORISTS.

Reference was made in the Times a few days ago to the growing popularity among motorists of the camping habit. Occasionally a car comes this way with a trailer carrying the camping outfit, and in Ontario so many camping parties are out that in no less than twenty-six municipalities or districts provision is made either officially or unofficially for their accommodation. The Toronto Globe says: "Of these, sixteen have provided definite sites for the motorists, and in the majority of these cases every facility is extended in catering to the comfort and convenience of the transient visitor. A further sixteen municipalities report the matter under consideration by Municipal Councils, and it is almost certain that the consideration will result favorably in the establishment of permanent sites where the motorist will be invited to pitch his tent."

Many other localities are also considering action in the matter. Delegates to the recent good roads congress in Vancouver brought back reports of the growing interest in camping on the other side of the Rockies, while in the United States it is now a popular summer recreation. In some Ontario towns space is provided in parks, with facilities for cooking, good water supply, tables and seats and electric light. A Toronto alderman who visited a number of places in the United States where such camps are located is keen for action along similar lines in Toronto. The Globe tells of a touring party of forty students in seven cars with camping outfit who would have gone right through the city but that President Doolittle of the Canadian Automobile Association was able to get them a camping site in the Exhibition grounds. The Globe says several sites will probably be selected within the next week or two and set apart for camping motorists.

It is time we gave some attention to this matter in New Brunswick, and let the motorists pouring into Maine know that they can get accommodation here. The Bangor Commercial says there are many delightful camps in that state. Maine is this year said to be enjoying a record-breaking tourist traffic, as the result of an intensive advertising campaign. The Maine Publicity Bureau in Portland is making a record of passing cars, and of Thursday last it reports: "Yesterday's record showed that there were 770 out-of-state or foreign cars, carrying 1,762 people. This, added to the Maine cars, showed that over 5,000 automobiles passed the station between the hours of 8 a. m. and 8 p. m., while 214 people called at the Bureau seeking information on various subjects. They came from all parts of the country as the register shows. Besides many from Philadelphia, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey cities there are others from Cleveland, Ohio; Phoenix, Arizona; Beatrice, Nebraska; Chicago, Ill.; Ft. Morgan, Colorado; San Francisco, Cal.; Omaha, Neb.; Bay City, Michigan; Birmingham, Ala.; Lyons, Iowa; Dallas, Texas; Indianapolis, Ind., and Wichita, Kan."

It has been estimated that it would not be difficult to get $100,000,000 a year in Canada from American tourist traffic. There is no part of the country so delightful in summer as the maritime provinces. To get the tourists we need good roads, good hotels, camping sites and publicity. We now have very good roads, which are rapidly being made better. We need the hotels and the publicity. The governments of the three provinces should unite their efforts to tap this great, easy and perennial source of wealth.

Halifax Chronicle:—"The Retail Merchants' Association of British Columbia denounces government control of liquor. It knows, as The Toronto Globe remarks, that more money spent on wet goods means less spent on dry goods. So do the wives and children of the drinkers."

The minister of public works has been given information regarding port facilities and the need of improvements at St. John, and has himself inspected the harbors, east and west. He has made no definite pledges, but has familiarized himself with the facts. There, for the present, the matter rests.

Mr. Walter H. Trueman, K. C., formerly of St. John, was a Liberal candidate in Winnipeg. He received only a small vote, but was fifth in the list of the ten Liberal candidates. While the leading Liberal got 3,429 votes, and the Labor leader 7,394, Mr. Trueman got only 687.

President Harding is taking a firm stand in regard to the coal strike and will use the whole force of the government to pressure order. Conditions will be much better or much worse very soon.

FROM WINE TO CEREALS.

A representative in Capetown of the London Daily Mail writes his newspaper that it is purposed to invite "Pussyfoot" Johnson to South Africa in the interest of Prohibition. Stress is laid on the fact that during the recent strike, Prohibition was enforced on the Rand with pleasing success.

It is understood the government is not averse to Prohibition, and will place wine growers by offering compensation in case they change from wine production to the production of cereals. Acceptance would be facilitated by the fact that there has been an over-production of wine and large quantities of raw wine are said to have been destroyed.

THE COUNCIL OF FOUR.

(By Blanche E. Holt Marston in The Veteran)
They sat at a table bare,
In a room full of ghosts.
A room full of ghosts.
There were four of them there,
And Michael and Gabriel,
And Michael and Gabriel's hosts.
Four men who had fought,
Because they thought
To fight it was right.
To fight for dynamite that had no soul.
To play in a Game—
To play in a Game that had no Goal.
All they knewes.
There was fighting to do.
A bloody ball
To pass—and pass.
In classic lore
They call it War.
With sweat of blood,
And sweat of brain
With sweat of soul,
And sweat of pain—
So they fought . . . .
So they played . . . .
While Pilate dreamed of a Man betrayed,
And Christ on Calvary prayed—and prayed.

O, brave and blind,
What did ye hope in Hell to find?
I wonder—and wonder!
Ye wondered—too,
And wondered—and wondered—
And never knew.
Was it Caesar—or Nero led?
Was it Herod—or Jesus bled?
Far—far—the nearest star.
Unfrenzied the sea
The ultimate touch of eternity.
How shall be measured the gain and loss
Or Humanity's pitiful pitch and toss?

A Shadow falls . . . It is only a Cross!
That reaches yearning arms
Above the white of that table bare,
Where four men sit—
Just four of them there.
The lady one is bleached with gas,
But what does it matter?
He caught the ball—
It did not pass.
So the game went on—
That was all!
And one holds his neck as though in a Cross!
It was broken . . . and mended,
That story's told . . .
And one has half of a hand—
To leg
Just a couple of wooden pegs.

It happened the Car of Juggernaut
Needed a pit for a broken wheel,
And flesh and blood
Are as good as steel.
And one—
The best of the grim quartette—
He came back,
So the world thinks—whole.
What does it matter,
A shell-shocked soul?

So they sit in session,
And what of the men who have nothing
to eat?
"We're rather like dogs
That snarl for a bone!
We're only four . . . .
God bless the man who more,
Who only asks for a chance to live.
For warmth and food—
A little good
Of all we were promised the world would give
When we came back.
If we came back.
Is there no prophet—
Nor priest—
Nor king—
To bring the head of this Shameful
Thing?
This naked Spectre,
Whose blatant bones,
Battle and cry and the stones,
How shall the weak become the strong?
Who will right us the bitter wrong?
Is there no music left—
No song?"

Silent—his comrades listen.
What can they say?
They're here to try and find a way
To solve the problem of workless men—
Whom Disability has not lent
The blessed relief of Pity . . . .
One hundred per cent!
These have paid for the price of meat:
But what of the men who have nothing
to eat?
Nerves that are blasted to agony,
That is something men cannot see—
A matter of mere psychology.
Rather a nuisance—on the whole;
What does it matter—
A shell-shocked soul?

A million ghosts go marching by,
So many from try and find a way
And some from Mons and Courcette,
And some from places I forget.
Some from the Marne and the Meuse!
And one that looks like Wellington.
And one that looks like Lafayette.
And one has come from Marathon—
And ONE has come from Olivet.
So many ghosts
Such valiant hosts!
So silent—yet
They all salute
That strange quartette.

Is that the smoke of a cigarette
That curls and vapors through all the rooms?
Is that an altar standing there,
Or out of a table white and bare?
Just for a moment,
I know not whence—
I breathe the fragrance of frankincense.
The air was divinely lavendered—
Misted and myrrh—
With something for which I have no
word. . . . .

I have no word.
If I had—who would heed?
Squid-like sits in the councils of Gred,
And a soldier's service—
What is it worth
When balanced in votes,
Or paid in toll?
What is it worth—
A shell-shocked soul?
Out in the street the hucksters cry,
Junk to sell—
And junk to buy!
And one small room
Holds a Council of Four,
With a grisly wraith—
And the Shades of Sleepers
Who cannot sleep . . . .
"It—ye—break—feith—
It—ye—break—feith—
With—us—who—die!"

The challenge still rings from Calvary!
The Ark of the Covenant
Comes again
To Shiloh's plain.
And the Sleepers muster upon the hills
Of the Sword—
And the Cross—
And the Da'fodils.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Adam Heard It.
The teacher was exasperated at the inattention of her class. The lesson had been on machines, and Edison's invention had been mentioned.
"Non, then," asked the teacher, impatiently, "from what was the first talking machine made?"
A lengthy silence a voice from the back exclaimed: "Please miss, from a rib!"

Diplomacy.
Mrs. Blackstone—How in the world do you manage to get your husband to take you to dances so often?
Mrs. Webster—By using diplomacy, my dear. Since I told him that only the young men could dance these modern steps he is eager to prove to me that he isn't getting older.

There's Always A Way Mabel (to brother, who has got the best of the cherries)—You really are a pig, John.
Mother—It's not very nice to call anyone a pig darling.
Mabel—All right, I won't. But the next time I see a pig I shall call it
"John."

The Art of the Epigram.

Not A Lay Success.
A young country minister, noted for his jollity, was dining at a farmhouse one Sunday and when his plate of roast chicken was passed to him he remarked facetiously: "Well, here's where that chicken enters the ministry."
"Hope it does better there than it did in any other," replied the bright boy of the family.—Boston Transcript.

Poor Kitty.
Four-year-old Bobby was stroking his cat before the fireplace in perfect content. The cat, also happy, began to purr loudly. Bobby gazed at her askance for a while, then suddenly seized her by the tail and dragged her roughly away from the hearth. His mother interposed.
"You must not hurt your kitty, Bobby."
"It's not," said Bobby, protesting.
"But I've got to get her away from the fire. She's beginning to boil."

ALCOHOL-DRUG PATIENTS FEWER
According to official announcement of the Ohio State Board of Health, there has been a marked decrease in the number of alcohol and drug patients received in hospitals for the insane in Ohio under Prohibition. A decrease in the percentage of such cases is noted in every institution.
Taking all the hospitals as a group, of the total admission in 1911, 11.8 per cent were attributed to alcohol and drugs. In 1921, the percentage from the same cause was 2.7. At the Columbus state hospital, admissions attributed to alcohol and drugs in 1911 were 11.5 per cent, but in 1921 the per cent, was reduced to 2.6.
This showing is an ample reply to the contention of the wets that Prohibition would bring about an increase in habitual drug uses.

THE AUTOMOBILE HOBOES.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Toronto ought to provide free camping grounds for the automobile tourists. We are getting a lot of Americans here, bent on roaming around Canada for a change, and this city is the pivot of their operations. In the United States, nearly all cities and towns give special accommodation to road tourists, and make it a point to attract them. In California, where auto "hobos" and "hikers" of both sexes abound, state regulations require that each car on a camping site shall have a space of twenty-five by fifty feet, and every member of a party must register. The community furnishes water, electric light, fuel, rest rooms, mail service and protection.
We in Canada should not be backward in this respect. "Hoboling" by motor around the country is becoming popular. Motor trips for long distances are common. It is said that in the United States three thousand persons make the coast-to-coast tour each summer. It is a common sight to see a whole family, from grandmother to the babies, packed in a flivver, and bent on covering thousands of miles. To remain on the road for weeks and months is possible only when the overnight charges are low. If these families had to stay at hotels, they would never start out. Why should not Canada encourage the sightseeing propensity by going to the small expense of furnishing the meagre accommodation required? This city, for instance, has plenty of idle spaces at each end of the city, very suitable for the purpose. The park commissioner should look into it.

Doom of Dancing Partners.

Just as the fashions in dances have altered in the last twenty years, says a London despatch, so has the fashion in dancing partners. In the days when the valse, the polka and the lancers were universally danced, it was considered a breach of good manners to dance more than three times with the same man in any one evening. Then with the advent of the one-step and fox trot, the pendulum swung to the other extreme, and there came the "regular" dancing partner, with whom a girl would dance throughout the entire evening, refusing to be partnered by anyone else.
Today the pendulum is beginning to swing back once more, for the dancing partner is becoming a rarity on the average floor. Soon the type will become extinct, and a girl will bring a partner to a dance merely as an escort, not to stay by her side the whole evening.

It has been said that change in fashion is without reason, but that cannot apply in this case. There are very sound and definite reasons for banning the whole-time dancing partner.
In the first place modern dances have become standardized. No longer do we see the extravagant variations of steps so popular two years ago. The result is that nearly all men dance alike, and the need for the special partner has gone.

But there is an even more powerful reason. People are beginning to realize that a dance, to be successful, must be a social affair, that the one-partner system is merely selfish, and adds nothing to the gaiety of the rest of the party.
The partner for every dance, and not only does it increase the enjoyment of others, but she finds that she enjoys herself far more than when she was a devotee of the single dancing partner cult.

BURD
Quick-Seating
PISTON RINGS

are designed to meet the demand of garages, service stations and mechanics for an efficient piston ring having the quick-seating features of a narrow ring, with the wall tension of a wide ring.

The Burd Quick-Seating—is a one-piece, step-joint ring which fits accurately, and is very easy to install. No slow, laborious "lapping in" is necessary. It "goes to work" at once—adjusts itself quickly to the cylinder wall and perfect seating is obtained in less than one-fifth the time required to seat other rings.

Made in all standard sizes—and over-diameter sizes—for practically every make and model of motor.

"BEST BELOVEDEST."

(Liverpool Weekly Post)

It would be wrong to state when and by whom the Prince of Wales was called "best belovedest" after his return, but it does seem to me that this is really the phrase by which he can be spoken of by the empire at large. The phenomenon is remarkable that in the most democratic decade ever known, the heir apparent to the British throne should be more idolized than anybody since Charles II. was welcomed on his restoration. There was veneration and enthusiasm for Queen Victoria at her two jubilees. Intense devotion was shown for King Edward. Who will ever forget the national anxiety on the day of his operation? But nothing can be paralleled to the general love for the Prince of Wales. He makes friends wherever he goes. His charm of manner, his jolliness, his youthful bonhomies, the out-beating Beauty of the tilt of his hat, his splendid sporting proclivities—all these make him unique.

Y. W. C. A. Is In Urgent Need of Funds

Campaign to Aid Treasury Will be Launched—Travelers' Aid Department Assists Difficult Cases.

That the condition of the finances is serious was strongly emphasized yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. The situation was discussed at considerable length, the decision reached being that a campaign to obtain further funds should be launched later in the season. It was arranged to confer with the advisory board of men. It was announced that negotiations are in progress for the purpose of getting a new general secretary and a new physical director, the latter to begin his duties about September 1. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. A. E. Logie, vice-president.

Mrs. James F. Robertson presented the report of Miss Florence A. Hoyt, travelers' aid worker. Miss Hoyt said that the work of her department had been heavy during the past month because of the big summer rush. Several women accompanied by children on their way to the United States to join the heads of families had been detained here by the immigration people and they had been assisted. One woman and baby were sent back home, as it was found that she deserted her home and three other children. Another case was that of an English woman who came to St. John looking for employment. Upon investigation it was ascertained that she had deserted her life-partner over the main. She was placed in a home. Her home conditions are being investigated.

From June 12 to July 12 Miss Hoyt attended 292 trains and twenty-three boats. In all ninety-six persons were taken to the transient home and ten to hotels. Those assisted at the Union station numbered 103. Employment was found for four persons.

A meeting of the travelers' aid and C. W. Hotel was held on July 13. Mrs. Forbes reported ninety-five beds occupied and eleven meals served. The receipts were $79.70, and the expenditures $29.15.

Mrs. E. C. Weyman presented the report of the activities of the physical department of the Y. W. C. A. for June. Mrs. Weyman told of the strenuous and beneficial work done by the girls, including swimming, dancing, tennis, physical exercises and long hikes. She read Miss Littlefield's report verbatim to show that every moment was filled with something to build up the strength of the young women and make them real robust. The valuable services of Miss Mary Robertson, Miss Julia Price and Miss Edna Hunt were referred to. It was pointed out that there was urgent need for some of the members of the board to interest themselves in the tennis branch of the department during August.

Miss Ethel Milligan, financial secretary, reported that there was a deficit in the physical department of $19.75. The exhibition at the Imperial theatre in May netted $816.01.

The girls' work report was presented by Mrs. J. D. Hunter. Mrs. Hunter told of activities at the Hampton camp of seventeen. The girls spent ten days on the Belleisle.

POLICE RESCUE BOY CHAINED UP 4 DAYS

Break Into New York Home and Find Lad with His Ankles Padlocked.

New York, July 19—Smashing down a door when their command to open it was ignored, three patrolmen rescued Andrew Karo, nine years old, after he had been chained in his home, 225 Sixth street, for four days. The boy was taken to the Fifth street station, where a brass sash weight chain, padlocked to his ankles, was filed away, revealing two deep gashes where the chain had cut into the flesh.

With his two sisters, Helen, thirteen, and Julia, eight, the boy was afterwards transferred to the shelter of the S. P. C. C. in Irving Place, charged with improper guardianship. The father of the children, John Karo, a blacksmith's helper, was locked up in the Fifth street station on a charge of endangering the life and health of a minor.

The attention of the police was called to the case when a man hurried excitedly into the Fifth street station last night and told Lieutenant Patrick Dihan that a small boy was chained to the fire escape at the Sixth street dwelling. Sergeant William Burns and Patrolmen Harry Raphael and William Wittenberg were sent to the house. Raphael went to the rear, while the other two went up the stairs to the Karo apartment on the third floor.

As Raphael entered the rear yard, he saw a boy crawl through a window from the fire escape, a chain dangling behind him. In the meantime Burns and Wittenberg knocked at the door of Karo's home and demanded admittance. Karo refused to open the door and the shoulders of the two officers soon ripped it from its hinges.

Inside the apartment they found the boy, cringing in a corner, a chain clanking his ankles and fastened with a padlock. The two girls were found in another room. The boy was unkempt, and his sister Helen said he had been chained since Wednesday and had slept in his clothing at night.

The father claimed the boy had run away several days ago, had often gone to the roof and thrown tar balls at pedestrians, and had been otherwise unruly, and for that reason he had tied the chain to his legs to keep him in the house. He denied that the boy had been chained to a stationary object. The boy impressed the policeman as an unusually bright lad, and told them he attended school at Ninth street and Avenue B, where he was a pupil in Class 2A.

The police learned that the mother of the children, Mrs. Esther Karo, is employed as a cook at Asbury Park.

The father later was arraigned in night court before Magistrate Joseph Corrigan, who remanded him back to the police station to be arraigned today.

GRANDMOTHER AT 32 OUTSTRIPS FLAPPER

Still Has Impatient Feet and Taste for Clothes.

St. Louis, Mo., July 19 — Flappers, watch your laurels!

In St. Louis resides Mrs. Joseph E. Dehner, a grandmother at 32, and now 33, in possession of all her "flapper" attractions — laughing brown eyes, impatient feet and a taste for wearing sport clothes in a truly flapperish manner.

Mrs. Dehner, who keeps house for her husband and 12-year-old school girl daughter, has the charm of youth with the wisdom of age. The call of the dance, the joy of motherhood and the delight of grandmotherhood are all hers.

When Mrs. Dehner was 14 she married the man of her dreams, then a youth of 23. Within a year she was the girl-mother of a daughter. Sixteen years later her baby, now Mrs. R. W. Covert, presented her with a grandson.

"Marriage seems to run in my family," she smiled. "I married at 14 and my daughter at 15. Early marriages, however, are all right only when the girl is serious. She must be ready to settle down."

SCOUT LEADERS AWAY.

County Housing Board To Be Asked to Quit

The county housing board members will be asked to resign at once, according to a motion passed yesterday afternoon at the regular quarterly meeting of the municipal council. This decision was reached after considerable discussion on the report presented by the auditor, Paul F. Blanchet, C.A., on the balance sheet of the housing board's activities up to the time the management of the property was taken over by the Eastern Trust Company.

The session was occupied for the greater part of the time with consideration of recommendations from the finance committee and a hearing in committee granted to R. Tobias, representing N. J. Lahood & Company, having reference to the recent award of a sewerage contract by the Lancaster sewerage board. As discrepancies were discovered on examination of the tenders, the matter was referred back for further consideration by the Lancaster sewerage board, with the understanding that the contract would not be signed until the figures were verified.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of peroxide powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dirt and dirt secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The peroxide powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

The DEAFNESS Thief

DEAFNESS is a sneak thief; it comes stealthily, destroying little by little until 40 per cent of your hearing is gone before you discover it. Don't allow it to go on. Arrest the thief with Leonard Ear Oil. The treatment is simple and agreeable. Just "insert it in the nostrils" and "rub gently behind the ears."

It not only arrests the disease in its early stages but relieves deafness and head noises no matter how long it has been progressing. Thousands, in all ages, are relieved every year.

The reading of the section brought from Councillor Frink the question: "Has the housing board resigned?" He received a negative reply, he asked why should the council go on in this slipshod fashion.

The secretary read from the minutes of previous meetings as to what action had been taken by the council. He explained that the Eastern Trust Company was managing the affairs as agent, while the housing board acted as secretary and the council as a committee. Councillor Frink thought it was high time that a stop be put to this drifting.

The secretary read a communication from the commissioners of the hospital in which they recommended the refunding of a sales tax not included in the tender from B. Mooney & Sons for the construction of the nurses' home. The amount is $486.45. Councillor O'Brien moved that the letter be received but Councillor Frink added an amendment "that it be received and filed." The amendment carried.

R. Tobias, representing N. J. Lahood Company, unsuccessful tenderers on the sewerage contract for the parish of St. John, was given a hearing. He had heard rumors that his tender was lower than that of the Maritime Construction Company, which had been awarded the contract.

Councillor Campbell explained that no meeting of the board had been held on the night advertised, owing to the absence of the seven councillors O'Brien and Golding. According to figures of the tenders when opened, Lahood's contract was a few dollars higher than that of the Maritime Construction Company. He believed that the county secretary had the successful bid and as Mr. Tobias also had his bid there, he suggested they be examined.

When the bids were examined by the board and county secretary, it was found that Lahood's tender was for $4,822.35. The Maritime Construction Company's bid was found to be for $4,800.01, a difference of $22.34. As the county secretary declared it was his bid that the seven councillors O'Brien and Golding were in favor of, the contract was given to Mr. Lahood's tender were not correct, on motion it was decided to defer signing any contract until all figures had been verified.

HOPE TO HAVE HEALTH CENTRE IN CITY SOON

Pressing Need For Such an Institution Described — Only Small Sum Required and Value of Work Made Possible Would be Vast.

The next and the most important move yet made in the public health programme in St. John will be the establishment of a health centre. The only requirement is a fund of $10,000 to $15,000, and in view of the necessity for a health centre it is believed this amount can be raised. St. John has not been as fortunate as Halifax, for the Massachusetts organization formed at the time of the great explosion continued its work, and this is held to be a result greatly desired. The tuberculosis clinic must have new quarters. A dental clinic can be provided as soon as there is accommodation, as the dentists of other provinces. It is held, and very properly, that we should train our own.

One of the most important benefits of the establishment of a health centre would be the opportunity it would give to train public health nurses. There are not enough of these nurses to meet present needs, and the demand will be very largely increased as a result of the work already done by the provincial health department and the Red Cross. Miss Melkieleh has a request now for a public health nurse for an outside town and none is available. It is extremely difficult, and it should not be necessary, to get nurses from other provinces. It is held, and very properly, that we should train our own.

There is another phase of the matter which especially relates to sparsely settled country districts, where medical care is not easily secured and where the scattered families may not be able to pay a public health nurse. Miss Melkieleh points out that in all these districts there are women who have to act in a nursing capacity and who perhaps have very little skill. It would be possible to have them come to the city and take a few months' course in house-keeping and care of the sick, and perhaps also to take a course in midwifery, which would make them of incalculable value in their respective districts. In such districts the infant death rate is as well as that of mothers is far too high.

Miss Melkieleh, in the course of the conversation, revealed health conditions in portions of the province which are deplorable. She pointed out that Florence Nightingale, many years ago, told the people of England that the remedy would only be provided by sending the nurse into the home, and today that is being done throughout England with really wonderful results.

Meiklejohn to be so compelling in its appeal to the people that there should be no difficulty in carrying the plan to a successful issue. She hopes for the universal support of women's organizations, and of the sympathy and help of the citizens at large. It is necessary to make a decision very soon and no time will therefore be lost in making the appeal.

Is Now a Healthy Boy

"From a puny, delicate child, my little Johnny has become a strong sturdy boy."

One mother writes:—"If you had seen my little Johnny four months ago and you were to see him to-day, you would never believe that he is the same boy. Then he weighed only 48 pounds. To-day he weighs 90 pounds, almost double what he weighed four months ago. His trouble first started with a cold, which we never noticed because he was strong and like all boys of his age occasionally caught cold. After a while he began to notice that his cough, instead of getting better, was getting worse, that he was looking pale and losing weight. He seemed to be tired all the time, had no energy to do anything. Before he caught this cold he had no trouble with his lessons and remained at the head of his class without much study. But we began to notice a change. He didn't seem to care whether he knew his lessons or not and nothing seemed to interest him. He coughed so much and so hard at times that his face would become purple and we thought he would surely burst a blood vessel. Medicines and cough mixtures didn't do him any good. Finally, in desperation and as a last resort, we tried Carnol. In a short time his cough had almost disappeared. His appetite was returning and he was beginning to take an interest in his studies. And, thanks to Carnol, he has become as strong and healthy as he has ever been."

Two Interesting Letters

Toronto, Ontario.—"When my husband was called back to England in 1914 I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to strengthen me so I could work. I had a trouble that used to make me weak, but I am able to do my work now and am perfectly satisfied with your medicine. I still get it at the chemist's and I strongly recommend it to anybody I hear of suffering as I did. You may publish this if you wish."

I Did Not Feel Like Working

"I was in a general run-down condition with a weak back and a tired feeling so that I did not feel like working. My mother was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me, so I have taken it and my back is better and I am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my neighbors and you may publish my letter."

Mrs. JOSEPH A. GAENZER, Box 47, Carbon, Alberta.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial.

REV. MR. BAIRD'S INDUCTION
 Halifax Echo: Rev. Mr. Layaon, moderator of the presbytery, Rev. Mr. Gillis and Rev. Dr. Thomas Stewart will be the officiating ministers at the induction ceremonies to be held in the Bedford Presbyterian church, Thursday evening, when Rev. Frank Baird, who comes from Chipman, N. B., will take over the duties of the pastorate of the church.

SURVIVED THE FIRE.
 Another old city landmark is on the eve of passing. At the corner of Princess and Prince William streets is a circular piece of curbing, which was in position during the St. John fire in 1877 and still bears the scars where the heat chipped pieces from it. This morning a new circle was dumped alongside the old timer and the change is due to take place soon, so Commissioner Frink announced.

MINISTERS AWAY.
 Hon. Dr. J. H. King, minister of public works, accompanied by Mrs. King, J. B. Hunter, deputy minister; Arthur St. Laurent, chief engineer, and G. Heidman, secretary to the minister, left at noon today for Halifax. Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, and Mrs. Copp, as well as Dr. King's father, Senator G. G. King, also went out with the party. Mr. and Mrs. Copp are on their way to their home in Sackville.

ON INSPECTION TRIPS.
 J. M. R. Fairbairn, chief engineer of the C. P. R., arrived in the city last evening in a special train from Montreal and will be visiting Bay Shore and other parts of the local terminals, left on the regular train for Montreal. He was accompanied from Moncton by J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of this district.

F. W. Branscombe, superintendent of the Dominion Express with headquarters in Montreal, arrived in the city today on an inspection trip.

HAMILTON-WHEATON
 At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Earle, 125 Victoria street, this morning at eight o'clock, Rev. F. A. Allaby united in marriage Miss Annie Harvey Wheaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wheaton of Eimhurst, Kings county, to Clarence Frederick Hamilton of Hamilton Mountain, N. B. The bride wore a charming suit of navy blue tricot with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left on the S. S. Governor Dingley this morning for a trip to Boston, New York, and other cities. Mrs. Harvey Wheaton was present at the ceremony.

DRURY COVE TO HAVE CLUB HOUSE
 Community Meeting Puts the Matter in Hands of Board of Seven.

A new branch of community endeavor, the building of a club house, is being undertaken by the residents of Drury Cove. A move by the Drury Cove Tennis and Outing Association for the building of a club house was broadened out, on the suggestion of some of the members, to include all the residents of the "Cove" and a subscription list has been started to raise the funds necessary for the work of putting up the building. The new club house will be built on the site of the old cooper shed, which has been used in the past by the tennis club as a dressing house and tea room, and will contain a hall for dancing, card rooms and rooms for various other indoor activities. On account of the limited membership in the tennis club and the fact that some of the residents were not interested in tennis, it was decided to make this work a separate matter and all residents of the cove are welcome to the use of the building.

A board of directors was elected the other night at a community meeting and they elected officers as follows:—President, Thomas Inkpen; vice-president, George Dishart; secretary-treasurer, E. E. Thomas. The other members are A. C. Clark, Russell Evans, Mr. Stafford, and LeRoy H. Sandall. These directors were instructed to go ahead with the work of making arrangements for the building. The old shed is being torn down and it is hoped that the work of putting up the club house will be started soon. It is thought that there will probably be a club started similar to those in some of the other suburban resorts.

QUICK ACTION IN THIS CASE
 Arrested at 7 O'clock, Committed at Eleven in Police Court—Other Cases.

Arrested this morning at seven o'clock and sent up for trial at eleven was the experience of William Delany, charged with the theft of two carriages wheels, the property of Peter McCarthy.

The latter, who said he was a teamster and lived in Pond street, said there had been a carriage in his barn in the Sandy Point road and about two weeks ago he had missed the two front wheels from it. He had reported the matter to the detectives and had not seen the wheels again until this morning in a blacksmith shop, owned by William R. Beyea at the rear of 55 Sydney street. He was positive that they were his wheels. He valued them at $20.

Mr. Beyea, a wheelwright, said the wheels had been brought to his shop. The accused had told him that the hind wheels were being used on another wagon and he had no use for these. He circled was duly identified as the thief. Detective Saunders told of going to a barn in Adelaide street when he had met the accused who had denied all knowledge of the wheels. Later he had admitted that he had sold them for $3 to a man in Sydney street. The accused, he said, had told him that he had bought the wheels from a "tall fellow with a light suit" in Haymarket Square. In company with the accused he had gone to McCarthy's house in Pond street and there brought the accused to the police station.

When asked if he had anything to say the accused replied "Nothing, but I am not guilty." He was then committed to stand trial.

A Theft Case.
 Joseph Murre, who was arrested last evening by Detectives Biddiscombe and Donahue, charged with theft, appeared before the sitting magistrate this morning. The articles reported stolen included a coat, valued at $20, taken from an automobile, the property of E. A. Mason, and a ring, a clock and a pair of spectacles, valued at $10, the property of Mrs. James Porteous.

Mrs. Anna Porteous, 58 Sydney street, said that sometime yesterday afternoon she went to look at the clock and found it gone. She also missed a ring and later a pair of spectacles. She had reported the matter to the detectives and last evening about 9.45 they had brought the missing articles to her house along with a cash box, which was not hers. The accused was remanded for further examination.

Two men off a coasting steamer in port, engaged in the bay service, were fined $100 each in the police court this morning for supplying liquor to two women aboard the steamer.

One man charged with drunkenness was fined $8 or two months in jail.

SIMMS MEN PLAY BALL AND DINE AT LORNEVILLE
 The office and factory executives of T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., thoroughly enjoyed themselves Tuesday afternoon and evening at Lorneville, where a lively ball game, dinner and entertainment were given by the president and directors of the company.

The feature of the afternoon sports was a five inning ball game between members of the office force and the factory, the former winning by the margin of 20 to 8.

Harry Champelovier, popular sales manager, was captain and pitcher for the office force and Andrew Patriquen, head of the machine shop held the same position for the factory.

Many amusing incidents kept the spectators in gales of laughter during the game. A splendid dinner and entertainment was then enjoyed at Dean's Hotel. The line up of the two ball teams was as follows:—

Office Team	Pitcher	Factory Team
H. Champelovier	A. O. Patriquen
W. L. Beville	Catcher	C. Ritchie

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

One of the properties of the three element vacuum tube is that when a slight change is made in the potential impressed upon the grid the current of the plate circuit undergoes a greater change. This is the principle characteristic of the three element vacuum tube is made use of in the multi stage amplifiers where the plate circuit of one tube is connected to the grid circuit of the next succeeding tube and so on until the desired intensity of signal is reached.

Regenerative receivers possess the valuable property of not only amplifying the signals from damped wave transmitters but by increasing the coupling between the plate and the grid circuit by which a similar result may be obtained. It is also possible to accomplish this feed back of plate voltage to the grid by means of condenser.

LYNCHING NOT ALL IN SOUTH

Southern Senators Strike Back With Telling Force When Roused. Washington, July 19.—Senator Calder of New York inserted in the Congressional Record last week an account of the recent lynching in Wayne County, Ga., of two negroes.

Senator Harris of Georgia saw the article in The Record next morning, and when the Senate convened he took the floor and characterized the action of Senator Calder as an effort to exasperate lawlessness in the Southern States. He declared that there was more lawlessness in New York in one week than there is in Georgia in a year.

Senator Shields of Tennessee, at this point interrupted to point out that Senator Calder had not mentioned lynchings in the world. "He did not say anything about the recent terrible massacre of miners at Herrin, Ill., almost in the shadow of the City Hall of Chicago," said Senator Shields. "We do not know how many were killed. It runs anywhere from twenty-three to forty, according to account, but we do know that sixteen unidentified miners were buried after the massacre."

HORSE CASE.

Thomas Saunders was in the police court this morning charged with ill-treating a horse by overloading it. The report was made by Sergeant Rankine. The accused pleaded not guilty. The sergeant said that yesterday afternoon he had seen the man driving a horse hauling a load of iron in Main street opposite Portland. When he first saw him Saunders was trying to get the load started. Another man was sitting on top of the load. The horse had fallen near Acadia street. The sergeant had helped the horse up and taken it out of harness. He had examined the shoe and found no corks. The horse weighed about 1,100 pounds and the load was far too heavy, about 3,400 pounds. A horse of 1,100 pounds, he said, should not haul a load weighing more than a ton. A fine of $20 was imposed.

CLOSING DAY OF MEDICAL MEET

Important Subjects Discussed by the Doctors at Sessions This Morning.

This morning's meetings of the forty-second annual conference of the New Brunswick Medical Society were split up into sessions of the Medical and Surgical sections at which papers on technical subjects were read by several of the members. Many matters of wide-spread importance were discussed by the doctors present at the meetings and much helpful information was given on the subjects of the papers, all of which showed evidence of careful preparation.

Dr. G. G. Melvin, of Fredericton, presided at the medical section meeting. The program here included addresses by Dr. A. B. Walters, of Cambridge, on "Some Problems of the Country Practitioner"; Dr. T. D. A. McEwage, of St. John, on "The Merits of Intraperitoneal Injection in Infants"; Dr. H. L. Abramson, St. John, on "Hemorrhage in the New Born"; and Dr. D. Moore on "Heredity in Mental Defects."

At the meeting of the surgical section the following subjects were taken up: Early Diagnosis and Treatment of Syphilis, by Dr. F. W. Stevenson, St. John; Fracture of patella, Dr. E. Simard of Edmundston; The importance of proper treatment of gonorrhoea, by E. J. Ryan, of St. John; Trauma of shoulder joint, by Dr. G. G. Corbett, St. John; Case reports on primary sarcoma of breast and carcinoma of ampulla of Vater, by Dr. L. G. Pinaud, of Campbellton; and case reports of T. B. C. Sidney and primary carcinoma, by Dr. W. H. Irvine, of Fredericton.

Both the meetings were well attended in spite of the inclemency of the weather and a great deal of interest was taken in the subjects up for discussion. In the surgical section, Dr. John F. Edmondson, of New Brunswick, and Dr. F. B. Gurd, of Montreal, took part in the discussions and gave some interesting observations.

The programme in the medical section was changed somewhat on account of the inability of two of the doctors to attend. Dr. J. S. Bentley's paper on "Pityriasis" and Dr. J. Anglin's paper on "Medical Diseases and the General Practitioner" were not given but the paper on "Heredity in Mental Defects" which Dr. D. R. Moore was to have given yesterday, was read this morning instead. The subject taken up by Dr. H. L. Abramson was changed from "The Value of the Laboratory in Clinical Diagnosis" to "Hemorrhage in the New Born" which he was to have read at the combined meeting this afternoon. This afternoon he will read the paper he was to have read this morning.

The paper by Dr. Walters on "Some Problems of the Country Practitioner" aroused a great deal of interest and one of the points brought up was discussed with approval by the gathering. In particular he emphasized the need for the education of the country people in health matters, and the fact that the rural population had the same rights to hospital treatment as did the city people. There was considerable discussion on this and on the other questions, and members showed a great deal of enthusiasm.

This afternoon the combined sections were to meet for attention to the matter of unfinished business, and addresses were to be given by Dr. D. A. Cameron, of Miramichi; Dr. F. H. McKay and Dr. F. B. Hurd, of Montreal; and Dr. H. L. Abramson.

FIRST COURT OF LONDON SEASON

Beauties of England and the U. S. Presented

Reported Plans of the Prince of Wales - Society Huffed About Close Inspection by the Multitudes.

London, June 15—Those who were present at the brilliant assembly in Buckingham Palace on the occasion of their Majesties' first court of the season, declare that nothing so splendid has been seen before during the present reign. There were two important absentees from the royal circle, of course the Prince of Wales being still aboard the Renown, homeward bound, and the Duke of York away in Belgrade, acting as best man to his cousin, King Alexander of Serbia, at his marriage.

An extraordinary feature was the presence of a large number of distinguished American visitors, introduced by the American ambassador, a sufficiently impressive figure in his semi-court dress and American glasses, and, in the case of the ladies, presented by Mrs. Harvey, a typical American matron of much self-possession and person of fair. Directly the date of the first court was announced quite a number of American society leaders booked their passage to London with the object of viewing their daughters presented. Comparisons were inevitable between the characteristics of the American belles and the English debutantes, prominent among whom was the stately eighteen-year-old daughter of the Ulster King at Arms, Miss Gwendolen Wilkinson, who stands six feet too in her silk stockings. The American beauties presented several splendid types of womanhood, but the most divinely tall of them was dwarfed beside the Ulster lady, and the court critics, who may, of course, have been slightly prejudiced, awarded the palm for simplicity and girlish charm to the English rosebuds. A big crowd drew round the palace gates, and assembled down the Mall to watch the arrivals, and some of the fashionable elite had to submit, with as complete a Vere de Vere demure as they could, to astonishingly outspoken personal comments. Women even glued their faces to the carriage windows to study the court modes worn by those within, and made remarks as callously as though society folk were wax images at Madame Tussaud's.

This splendid group picture of the royal family, was taken at Buckingham Palace, upon the return of the prince after his world tour. From left to right: Queen Mary, Prince Henry, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the King, Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary.

English and American Beauties. An extraordinary feature was the presence of a large number of distinguished American visitors, introduced by the American ambassador, a sufficiently impressive figure in his semi-court dress and American glasses, and, in the case of the ladies, presented by Mrs. Harvey, a typical American matron of much self-possession and person of fair.

Despite the fact that during the last few weeks many invitations have been received at York House, St. James' for the Prince of Wales to undertake public engagements after his arrival in this country, none of which will be accepted since his medical advisers are strongly of the opinion that he needs a thorough rest and freedom from all responsibility for some time to recover from the fatigue attendant upon his recent tour through India and the Far East. After a couple of months, he will be expected to present arranged the first public engagement to be undertaken by His Royal Highness will be a visit to a great Scout rally at the Crystal Palace on the afternoon of Saturday, October 7. The greater part of the winter the prince hopes to devote to hunting, and it will not be until the early part of next year that His Royal Highness will really get into harness again.

Roman Bathing Parties. A friend of mine, a young man with a flat in the centre of the East End, and a manly face, smothered in invitations has just been the guest at an unusual entertainment. A few days ago he met at dinner a well-known hostess, who invited him, a little mysteriously, to a "Roman bathing party." He arrived at four, and was ushered by a maid down a long hall, and through a charming doorway into an amazing chamber containing the reproduction of an old Roman bath, surrounded with dressing boxes. His hostess was already in the water with two or three friends. In the bath he found a bathing dress waiting for him, and he soon found himself swimming in the cool water, upon which the sun shone through a glass roof. After the bath he found laid out a set of classical robes, in which he arrayed himself. Then, very conscious of his sandals, he bashfully emerged to find tea arranged on the wide marble at the end of the bath. When he left the house an hour later, clad once more in the garments of the twentieth century, he could hardly believe that he had been no more than a mile from Piccadilly Circus.

Street Fashions. In the Row last Sunday, after morning services, there was a great crush of fashionable gowns, of the very latest and most daintily brilliant and bizarre designs, and a still greater crush of humdrum suburban costumes, that had come to gaze at the show. Some of the suburban sightseers of the gentler sex behaved so scandalously, actually stepping up to Lady Vere de Vere to examine her and her toilette as though Lady Vere de Vere had been a mannequin and her expensive gown a public exhibit, that Ascot Sunday may be abolished.

AN INSURANCE AMALGAMATION. An amalgamation has been effected between the insurance companies of Rainey, Keator, Ltd., of Halifax, and G. E. Fairweather & Son, of this city. The company of Keator, Rainey, Ltd., which carried on all lines of insurance business, is one of the largest insurance companies in Nova Scotia, and until recently had a branch office in this city. G. E. Fairweather & Son have conducted an insurance business in this city for forty years and in the new company will carry on as general insurance with the local office in Prince William street, which will be under the management of Edgar H. Fairweather. The new company is considered a strong one and will enjoy the patronage of all who have done business with the amalgamated companies.

EAST ST. JOHN SCOUTS' CAMP. At a meeting of the Boy Scout troop committee, arrangements were completed whereby the boys of Edith avenue troop No. 6, under Scoutmaster Lawson and Assistant Scoutmaster Archer, will enjoy a ten day outing at Mispec. This site was chosen by the committee on the recommendation of the chairman, Mr. Franklin, who, in company with Mr. Lawson, had inspected several of the nearby camp sites and reported Mispec as the ideal spot. The trip is being financed from the troop's camp fund, which fund has grown during the year through the efforts of the scoutmaster, troop committee and boys; also a very generous donation received from an interested lady. Friday night will see the boys under canvas and if the weather is agreeable all should have a good time.

MASQUERADE DANCE. The Fair Vale Outing Association held a most enjoyable and successful masquerade dance, last night at the club house, which was attended by a large number.

DRY LAW PRAISED BY BUSINESS MEN

How Cities Have Been Benefited—Bank Savings Grow, Fewer Persons Need Charity, Trade is Expanding.

Evanston, Ill., July 18.—Prohibition was declared to be a civic asset by officials of Chambers of Commerce in some of the principal cities of the U. S. in statements sent to the Union Signal, the official publication of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and made public by that organ. The Union Signal quoted the following:— James S. Cady, secretary of the Minneapolis Association—"Prohibition has proved an economic asset in our community. It has promoted thrift and has been beneficial generally to the interests of our city."

Vance C. Criss, secretary of the Springfield, Mo., Association—"Prohibition has been helpful to the community for the reason that the oncoming generation has not had the access to liquor that was had by young men and boys of four or five years ago. In other words, there would seem to be less opportunity for far members of the next generation to become addicted to the liquor habit."

Nelson Marshman, associate secretary of the Springfield, Mass., Association—"I believe that prohibition has proved to be an economic asset to this community and that it has promoted thrift among our people. A statement from the various savings banks shows that more people have savings accounts and that the balances are larger."

"The charitable organizations of the city tell me that, taking into consideration the recent business depression, there are fewer people receiving aid than during the time before prohibition. The former saloons in most cases are being used for other lines of business. Prohibition has been, I believe, very beneficial to the general interests of our city."

Pool of Jersey Citizens. William A. Searle, secretary-manager of the Camden, N. J., Chamber of Commerce, took a pool of representative citizens. (Two bankers, a clergyman, an insurance man, a salaried Army leader, a Y. M. C. A. secretary, chief of police, a large manufacturer, the director of the Bureau of Charities, and his own.) The questions and answers follow:—

Has prohibition proved an economic asset to your community? Yes, 7; no, 2; uncertain, 2. Has it promoted thrift among your people, as indicated by an increase in savings banks deposits and depositors? Yes, 6; no, 1; uncertain, 4. Are fewer people receiving aid from charity organizations as a result of prohibition? Are there fewer delinquents and dependents in your institutions? Yes, 4; no, 2; uncertain, 3. Are the buildings formerly occupied by liquor concerns now used for other lines of business? Yes, 10; no, 0; uncertain, 1. In your judgment has prohibition been beneficial generally to the interests of your city? Yes, 9; no, 1; uncertain, 1. "Uncertainty in regard to questions two and three was due to the fact that unemployment and other factors enter into the question in a way so confusing that it is difficult to give a satisfactory answer," Mr. Searle said.

O. O. McLeish, acting secretary of the Rockford, Ill., Association—"You may place your organization on record as very enthusiastically and energetically favoring both local and national prohibition. Rockford was given Camp Grant because it had had a record for many years previous of being a temperate town. Of course, immediately following local prohibition we had several buildings vacated, but only temporarily, as they were filled very soon afterwards by the normal expansion of business."

E. W. Porter, secretary of the Concord, N. H., Association—"Prohibition has proved an economic asset to our community. It has promoted thrift among our people and the savings banks depositors are constantly increasing. Fewer people are receiving aid from charity organizations and there are fewer delinquents and dependents in our institutions. Buildings formerly occupied by liquor concerns are all used for other lines of business. "It is my judgment that prohibition has been of the greatest benefit generally to the interests of our city."

GYRO CLUB ELECTIONS. Yesterday's luncheon of the Gyro Club at Bond's was given over to a business session, with G. Sherman Dearborn in the chair. The following were elected additional members to the board of directors:—Alexander I. Machum and G. S. Dearborn, both to serve two years; Charles J. Agar and C. Harold Scott to serve for one year. The following members were elected chairmen of the various committees:—Civic affairs, G. K. Shea; membership, B. S. Stephenson; entertainment, Dr. P. I. Bonnell; affiliations, Rev. A. Gabriel; athletics, Charles Burpee; fines, Harold E. McLean.

BRITISH JUSTICE ATTACKED IN HOUSE

Comment on the Execution of Pantry Boy and the Reprieve of Ronald True.

(Toronto Mail and Empire) It is so rarely that British justice is attacked, except by open enemies of all British institutions, that the assault made upon the Home Secretary, Edward Shortt, in the House of Commons lately has attracted unusual attention. Two cases were contrasted significantly—one in which a youth without powerful friends, killed a woman of title and was hanged; the other in which a man, supposed to have been the son of a woman who is now a peeress, killed a woman and was permitted to cheat the gallows. In the House Mr. Shortt was able to give convincing legal arguments for his failure to act in one case and his action in the other. He carried the House with him, but the British public has obviously been troubled, and the press continues to discuss the matter. It seems not improbable that one result of the incident will be a change in the criminal lunacy law.

Clemency Refused.

The first case was that of Henry Jacoby, a nineteen-year-old pantry boy, employed in a West End hotel. One night, prowling through the hotel looking for an unlocked door that offered prospects of an easy theft, he entered a room occupied by Lady White the widow of a city knight. As he was rifling the drawers, Lady White awoke, and Jacoby, in a panic, struck her on the head with a hammer, killing her. At his trial no formal plea of insanity was entered, but there was evidence to show that the youth was a degenerate, and it may have been on this account that the jury, while finding him guilty, recommended him for insanity. There was also a petition widely circulated asking for clemency, but Secretary Shortt refused to interfere and Jacoby was hanged. There was no general feeling that the penalty was too severe, although it was obvious that the crime was not premeditated. Nothing more would have been heard of the Jacoby case had it not been for another which shortly afterwards occupied the attention of the public.

The True Murder.

Ronald True was an ex-flying officer, aged thirty-one. He is supposed to be the son, whether legitimate or not is not stated, of a woman who is now the wife of a peer, but whose name was not permitted to transpire at the trial. He was accused and convicted of an atrocious murder. His victim was Olive King, a woman of the pavement, upon whom he had been hating for some time. It was shown that it was by such means that he lived, the woman being only one of several whom he obliged to support him. The crime was carefully planned, and True took unusual precautions to avoid discovery. However, discovered he was, and he was convicted. The defence was that the man was insane. The jury thrust aside this plea,

MOTORLESS PLANE FLIES FIVE MINUTES

Successful Gliding Tests are Announced by Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

(New York Times.)

What were said to be the first successful gliding tests in this country since the early experiments of the Wright Brothers, which culminated in 1903 in the initial flight of a motor-propelled airplane, were announced yesterday by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. The experiments were conducted Wednesday at Ipswich, Mass., by three young students of aeronautics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in a glider of their own design and construction. The trio will sail tomorrow on the Saviole with their glider to participate in the first international gliding contests to be held Aug. 6 to 22 at Clermont-Ferrand, France.

The aeronautical experimenters are Edward P. Allen, twenty-six years old, of Chicago; Harry C. Karcher, twenty, of Mansfield, Ohio; and Otto C. Poppen, twenty-two, of Mamaroneck, N. Y. In a glider designing contest at the institute they won first place and funds were provided for the construction of their plane. Professor Edward P. Warner, an aeronautical engineer and member of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, supervised the work of the students.

On Wednesday Allen took the glider to a fifty-foot elevation and "took off," rising in a fifteen-minute head wind. Five successful flights were made, in one of which the glider was in the air for more than five minutes, it was said. The velocity of the wind was said to be such that the glider hovered practically the entire time. The glider reached a maximum elevation of twenty feet and in one flight advanced a maximum distance of more than 200 feet.

The glider has a span of twenty-four feet, a wing spread of four feet nine inches and an over-all measurement of sixteen feet. Constructed of spruce and fabric, the glider weighs only eighty pounds. The weight was pointed out as a feature, as the most successful of the German gliders weighed 140 pounds. The builders said their craft had a greater degree of control and "manoeuvrability" than the ordinary type of plane, having ailerons, rudder and flaps.

and found him guilty, making no recommendation to mercy in his behalf. Reprieved at Last Moment.

But True had powerful friends. They carried the plea of insanity to the Court of Criminal Appeal. It was again rejected. On the eve of his execution it was announced that the Home Office, after having had True examined by three alienists, had come to the conclusion that he was insane, and that, therefore, instead of being hanged, he would be confined for the rest of his life in the Broadmoor Criminal Lunatic Asylum. A storm of protest burst forth. Was Jacoby, the friendless, whose crime was unpunished, inferior to murder was concerned, and who had been recommended for clemency by a jury, to be hanged, while True, because of friends, was to escape the death penalty for a premeditated crime many degrees more horrible? The questions were raised in the House after having been ventilated in the press, and Mr. Shortt supplied the answers.

Doctors as Final Judges.

The Jacoby case he dismissed in a second. Jacoby was not sent to an asylum because insanity had not been pleaded for him. As regards True, Mr. Shortt denied that any influence had been exerted. He had spoken to nobody about the case except the judge and the alienists. It was his sworn duty to have the prisoner examined by alienists if his defence was insanity. Mr. Shortt had no option in the matter. For three hundred years it had been a principle of English law that an insane person should not be hanged. The question is, shall a cold-blooded murderer, who was sane enough to commit a crime that would have been to his advantage had it not been discovered, and who was cunning enough to cover up his tracks, escape the gallows because three medical gentlemen think that he is not normal? The British view appears to be that this is unjust and absurd, and, as remarked earlier, the prospect is that there will be framed a new legal definition of what insanity is, and that mere eccentricities or delusions of grandeur will not in future be sufficient cause to reprieve a murderer.

SCHOONER ARRESTED ON SAILORS' CHARGE OF UNPAID WAGES

(Canadian Press Dispatch.)

Halifax, July 18.—Schooner Mina, a Canadian vessel, was arrested here in the admiralty court at the suit of four of her crew who claim wages totalling $358.57 and damages amounting to $473.23 covering loss of clothing and property of which they say they were deprived after leaving Magua. One of the four, George Herbert, also brought suit in supreme court against W. A. and Angus Beatty, Pieton, said to be part owners of the ship, for assault.

The regular weekly dance was held by the Millidgeville Summer Club last evening and despite the unfavorable weather conditions there was a large attendance. The bridge prize for the evening's play was won by Miss Elizabeth Richie.

and there seems to be no reason why a plane cannot be designed that will do the same thing," said Allen. "We make no promises regarding the possibilities of our glider; we are entering the international contests with a feeling that we will at least make a good showing, if not win."

The Technology students, it was said, were the only American entrants in the international contests. Sixty entries from other countries have been announced. In a statement, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce said:

"The American aircraft industry will watch the results of the French meet with keen interest. The attention of the world is divided between the helicopter (machine capable of vertical flight) and the glider, or motorless airplane. Both have much to contribute, but the glider probably appeals more to sportsmanship. A great deal should be learned, aerodynamically, from motorless flight."

BOARD TO DISCUSS TELEGRAPHERS' PAY

(Canadian Press Dispatch.)

Montreal, July 18.—The board of conciliation which will sit in connection with the dispute over working rules and conditions between the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and telegraphers employed on its lines will be composed of U. E. Gillen for the company and David Campbell, of Regina, for the men, with D'Arcy Scott as chairman. Mr. Scott's appointment was made by the minister of labor following failure of the men's and the company's nominees to agree upon a chairman.

KILLED ON ROAD TO BARN RAISING

(Canadian Press Dispatch.)

Moncton, July 18.—Moody Horsman, age twenty-nine, unmarried, son of John Horsman, Luts Mountain, near Moncton, received injuries from which he died in the city hospital this evening, when his team ran away, throwing him under the loaded wagon and the wheels passing over his body. The deceased was hauling a load of shingles from New Scotland to Ammon, where a barn raising was in progress when the accident occurred. An inquest is to be held.

DR. S. H. McDONALD
NEW PRESIDENT

Medical Society at Yesterday's Session Heard Excellent Papers—Banquet Last Night.

At the sessions of the forty-second annual meeting of the New Brunswick Medical Society held yesterday afternoon and evening, Dr. L. G. Pinault, of Campbellton, the president, was in the chair. Much important business was taken up at the general assembly and many interesting papers were read. The papers at the medical and surgical section meetings were of special importance and interest. Dr. S. H. McDonald, of St. John, was elected president for the ensuing year. A banquet was held in Bond's restaurant in the evening.

In honor of a few friends attending the session of the New Brunswick Medical Society here this week, Dr. S. H. McDonald, of St. John, was elected president for the ensuing year. A banquet was held in Bond's restaurant in the evening.

Next Meetings in Woodstock and Houlton.

It was decided that the next annual business meeting should be held at Woodstock and the annual general meeting should be held in Houlton with the Maine Medical Society in Houlton (Me.). The dates of the two meetings will be June 12, 13 and 14 of 1923.

Dr. J. M. Barry gave a very interesting paper on encephalitis, based on facts gathered from personal observation and the experience of others in St. John.

While there was not known to be any agent which was the direct cause of the disease it came as a complication of influenza, mumps and other infectious diseases and it was believed that there must be some causative factor. He hoped to call forth reports of the experience of others and went on to give details of two cases which he had treated one of which had made a complete recovery in three weeks. Both cases had been sudden and both had run a rapid course and he had resorted to tapping the spinal fluid. He hoped that if a direct causative agent existed it might be discovered.

Discussion of the three last papers followed. Dr. Preble said he had enjoyed all three papers and could corroborate Dr. Rowley's statement regarding eggs causing complications in gall bladder trouble. He himself also added sweets to the list of restrictions for patients with digestive disturbances.

Dr. H. L. Abramson referred to the cases mentioned by Dr. Barry and said that in post mortem examinations of similar cases he had found the brain and respiratory systems affected. By some it was held that an organism caused the disease of encephalitis and a serum had been prepared but neither was generally accepted as yet.

Dr. R. Moore said that he had attended the meetings of the society for forty-two years and had never heard more important papers than those delivered by Dr. Wetmore and Dr. Rowley.

Surgical Section. At the meeting of the surgical section, Dr. W. D. Rankin, of Woodstock, presided and gave a paper on head injuries. The remainder of the session was occupied with a symposium on the "acute abdomen." The introductory address was given by Dr. G. A. E. Addy, Dr. W. H. White spoke of colics and Dr. W. H. Irvine, of Fredericton, read a paper on perforations. Dr. G. C. Vanward, of Fredericton, dealt with hemorrhage and injuries and Dr. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G. P., spoke of obstructions. Dr. White gave a short talk.

Importance of Diet. Dr. F. H. Wetmore, of Hampton, in his paper on deficiency diseases, dealt in a lucid and most informative manner with the principles of dietetics, referring particularly to the vitamins which are essential in a correct diet. Dr. Wetmore went into the subject fully and illustrated his remarks with some excellent wall charts and diagrams. The essential points in the diagnosis and treatment of deficiency diseases, he said, were correct balancing, suitability of the substance and the presence of the vitamins. He declared the profession should keep in touch with dietetics as one of the most important branches of science in the prevention of disease. At least twenty-five per cent. of all cases which come under a doctor's care, he believed, had their origin in faulty diet, and he recommended that the public health authorities should have oversight of the diets in institutions. By means of comparative anatomy charts and in giving particulars of experiments with animals, he explained the serious effects of improper feeding.

Dr. Melvin complimented Dr. Wetmore on his presentation of a very important subject, and said the subject of nutrition was one which to be fore at present.

Dr. W. F. Rowley spoke of some practical points in the diagnosis and treatment of digestive disturbances, giving an analysis of about 1,000 of his case records. Of all means of diagnosis, he considered the taking of the case history as the most important, and in this connection he had found that the patient did not give sufficient information as a rule. While about one-quarter of all the cases were due to functional conditions, he had found that there was a direct relation between tonsillitis and ulcer, and between nasal catarrh and dyspepsia.

He divided cases of digestive disturbance into two classes: First, those of over-function, irritation or over-stimulation, and second, of depression of function. Mastication, he found, had a marked effect on the condition of the tongue, and he also found that the condition of the respiratory system had more effect on the condition of the tongue than did the digestive system.

Taking up methods of treatment, Dr. Rowley recommended sedative treatment for the first class and food which could go through a fine sieve. For ambulant cases he prohibited certain things, including fried food, meat, broths, stews, meat extracts, pickles, spices, condiments, raw fruits, baked beans, boiled cabbage and cheese. Belladonna was the great sedative drug, and according to the form of the disturbance an alkali might be used to neutralize acidity. For the second class of cases, the depression of function, forced feeding was good. If the patient would put up with some discomfort, Dr. Wetmore's remarks on diets would apply there.

Encephalitis. Dr. J. M. Barry gave a very interesting paper on encephalitis, based on facts gathered from personal observation and the experience of others in St. John.

While there was not known to be any agent which was the direct cause of the disease it came as a complication of influenza, mumps and other infectious diseases and it was believed that there must be some causative factor. Try Ironized Yeast To Put On Firm Flesh

Here is a quick easy way to acquire firm, smooth, velvety, cheeks, a well rounded neck, and beautifully curved shoulders free from hollows.

Just take two pleasant-tasting tablets of Ironized Yeast three times a day. The yeast adds new firm flesh, fills out the hollows, and gives the soft delicate curves which true beauty requires.

The new secret "ironization" process used solely in Ironized Yeast, changes the yeast to impart these benefits twice as quickly. And the iron brings a wonderful color to the cheeks. Get Ironized Yeast today. In a few days the wonderful improvement in your figure will astonish you.

To try it entirely free, simply mail postal card for famous 3-day test. Address: Harold P. Hildes, Ltd., Dept. 101, Toronto. Ironized Yeast is recommended and guaranteed by all good dealers.

In summarizing, Dr. Preble impressed on his audience the facts that obesity is the result of bad diet habits, that for increasing weight over fifteen pounds a diet of what the public should know and that it was the duty of the physician to impress on his patients the seriousness of the disease and to see that the restrictions of diet made were not too severe.

In the discussion, Doctors Rowley, Melvin and Pinault took part and, in reply to the last two doctors, Dr. Preble said that cases of overweight which were due to obesity were comparatively few.

What Should be Known About Cancer. Dr. G. A. B. Addy spoke briefly but stressing the importance of his subject and the great good derived from going to the control of cancer, he said, was a vigorous organization, having "cancer education" calling on every citizen to carry on a vigorous educational campaign.

Dr. George Armstrong, of Montreal, had been appointed to head the movement in the maritime provinces, and Dr. Murray MacLaren having been appointed to organize New Brunswick, he said, was true that a great many might get alarmed by a cancer educational campaign, there must be no absolute fear of death from going to the people and advising them to have early treatment of cancer or cancerous conditions. They might be assured that it was not possible to proclaim what cancer was, but it could be impressed upon the public that cancer was not a primary or hereditary and hereditary cancer. In patients of more than forty years of age, the death rate from cancer is less than that from tuberculosis. New Brunswick was fortunate in that its death rate from cancer was lower than that of any other province in the Dominion, but to reduce the death rate still more there should be instilled into the minds of the people the fact that cancer is curable in its primary or local condition, and that instead of keeping quiet about cancer, as was generally done, they should go at once to a specialist for treatment.

Following Dr. Addy's address, an educational film, prepared for the American Society for the control of cancer, was shown.

Those who registered yesterday afternoon were: Doctors H. B. Hay, Chipman; S. H. Colbeck, St. John; D. B. Ross, Fredericton; O. Peters, Rothesay; J. C. Malcom, St. John; F. L. Kenney, St. John; F. X. Morris, St. John; D. W. Clark, Carleton Place; H. S. Clarke, St. John; A. Sormany, Shediac; Honore Cyr, Rogersville; E. J. Ross, St. John; C. M. Pratt, St. John; R. L. Ellis, Jacques River.

Obesity. Dr. W. E. Preble, of Boston, took for his subject "Obesity" and gave observations on 1,000 cases. The mortality statistics, he said, showed that obesity was no joke and obesity was purely a matter of habit. Tables which he exhibited showed the cases by age groups, blood pressure by age groups before and after treatment, the incidence of heart disease, the incidence of kidney disease, and the presence of sugar in urine by age groups in the 1,000 cases. He expressed the opinion that it would be of great value if records were made of heart disease incidents by the health departments. He told of favorable results obtained by reduction of weight, heart disease, kidney trouble, diabetes and high blood pressure being among the other conditions which had been found in obesity cases.

Obesity mortality statistics secured through life insurance companies showed that mortality rose steadily with increasing weight after five pounds beyond the normal. Fat people die sooner than those of normal weight. The mortality from pneumonia among the obese was well recognized.

Methods of treatment also were dealt with by Dr. Preble. Drugs might be used in rare cases. The causes of obesity were either too much fat or excess of carbohydrates or fat and alcoholism, now less to be considered because of legislation. The physician could be successful in reducing weight in 100 per cent of cases where the patient co-operated. The habits should be carefully scanned and enough protein should be taken or weakness would result.

ON HAVING A NATIONAL IDEAL. (New York Evening Post.) At Boston the other day Dean Russell of Columbia, speaking on the necessity and difficulty of educating the majority in a democratic ideal, nearly every one will agree with that oftand, but discussion enters when we set out to choose the particular ideal for nationalization. The Dean admitted the difficulty when he expressed abhorrence for the "Deutschum" ideal, in which the German people were sedulously trained for forty years with such lamentable results. He condemned the result, but praised the ideal. Equal attention to a better ideal would produce, he fancied, infinitely better results.

Perhaps so; yet a nation too much in love with its own dream usually ends by being a menace to its neighbors and a nuisance in a practical world. Russia in revolution is as little tolerant of the ideals of other states as Prussia was before defeat taught her a lesson. The militant communism of the one is as much a threat to the world today as the imperialism of the other was a threat to the world of yesterday.

Obviously a national ideal, once fully blown, bears seeds; and no matter how negative the fancy that growth be, the neighbors across the boundary may hold it noxious growth when the seeds are carried over and bear fruit on their soil.

What we call Americanism is at no premium in Canada or Mexico, we may be sure. Of course, if a national ideal could be imposed by force, it would be a different matter; but let the thing be ever so slightly overdone and your ideal goes ravaging where it is not wanted.

In view of the inherent difficulty of pleasing every one in the selection of a national ideal, and the further difficulty of keeping the ideal within bounds once it possesses our minds, why not let the matter rest where it is? We have some sort of national ideal now, though it is not quite as easy to formulate as it was in the good old days of '98 and '17. Besides, free trade in ideals is not a bad ideal in itself.

DEMobilIZATION OF THE CANADIAN NAVY

Some of the officers and crew of H. M. C. S. Aurora, who sailed from Montreal for England on the C. P. S. Mindeosa—the last members of Canada's navy to be demobilized. It is just a little more than eleven years ago that the Niobe, the first unit of the Canadian fleet, arrived at Halifax.

TO AVOID CONSUMPTION.

Live Properly and Its Germs Cannot Gain a Foothold, Says an Authority.

Dr. Hermann M. Biggs, health commissioner of New York state and widely known as an authority on tuberculosis, in his official capacity tells how to avoid that dreaded disease.

"Tuberculosis is caused by a bacillus or germ which is so small that it can only be seen under the microscope," he says. "Sunshine will cause these germs to curl up and die, and this explains why the disease thrives in houses where fresh air and sunlight are not welcomed, and it also explains why tuberculosis is not contracted out of doors. When exposed to infection people who are in good physical condition are safe enough because nature provides defenses which destroy the bacilli. It is when the body is weakened by sickness or improper living that the germs can gain a foothold.

"When the disease has once started there is a little war going on in your body between the invading tubercle bacilli and the defenses which nature has provided. This is your own private war and the outcome means more to you than most people realize. It is your business to strengthen your defenses by rest, fresh air, proper food and medical care. A short period of rest and proper treatment at the outset may save months or years of suffering.

"The only answer is this: If you ever suspect that you have any trouble of this kind, consult your family doctor at once and follow his advice. Above all, don't say: 'I'm not going to quit work—I'll beat this game my own way.' The hospitals have any number of hopeless cases who waited too long, who thought they could beat the game their own way and who knew more than their family doctors.

"The encouraging part of it all is that the tuberculosis death rate is decreasing and more lives are being saved. Most cases can be cured, provided the patient seeks medical care before too much of his lung tissue has been destroyed. Even in advanced cases the disease may often be stopped, and many a man with only one lung is leading a useful life and supporting his family.

"Neither breaking a leg nor being operated for appendicitis is a joke, nor is it a joke to have tuberculosis—but the fact that you are not going to quit work—will beat this game my own way." The hospitals have any number of hopeless cases who waited too long, who thought they could beat the game their own way and who knew more than their family doctors.

"Neither breaking a leg nor being operated for appendicitis is a joke, nor is it a joke to have tuberculosis—but the fact that you are not going to quit work—will beat this game my own way." The hospitals have any number of hopeless cases who waited too long, who thought they could beat the game their own way and who knew more than their family doctors.

"The encouraging part of it all is that the tuberculosis death rate is decreasing and more lives are being saved. Most cases can be cured, provided the patient seeks medical care before too much of his lung tissue has been destroyed. Even in advanced cases the disease may often be stopped, and many a man with only one lung is leading a useful life and supporting his family.

TELLS GIRLS HOW TO CUT CLOTHES BILLS

U. S. Government Circular Suggests Home-Made Model for Dressmaking—Women Saved $102 on One Outfit.

Washington, July 19.—The United States Department of Agriculture does work of many interesting sorts. Its ramifications extend in divers directions not solely included under the subject of agriculture, and one of the most helpful of these is aiding in the subjugation of the still high cost of clothing. A recent publication of the department declares that the business girl with a reasonable amount of zeal and talent can use part of her spare time to such effect that she can cut in half her clothes bill.

In the first place, says the circular, it must be granted that the important way to reduce costs is to eliminate as far as possible the items of labor and distribution. In other words, the business girl should make her own clothing; otherwise, unless she's a wizard at making out bargains, she stands little chance of reducing her clothing budget.

The business girl may claim, says the circular, that she has not the time or energy left after a strenuous day's work; but a skillful seamstress who enjoys sewing as an interesting and profitable change of occupation can always find time and energy. In this connection, the department cites the case of a girl in a Government bureau who, with the aid of the circulars and extension work of the Agriculture Department, was very successful in keeping her wardrobe supplied at comparatively low cost — one half in fact what the same clothing would have cost ready-made.

To begin with, she got a department circular telling how to make a dress form by pasting layers of gummed bundle-wrapping paper over a tightly fitting vest on herself as a model. When the paper casing was cut off and fastened together she had a light, stiff, and perfect reproduction of her form. So it was not necessary to purchase a store-bought dress at 45 cents.

The girl reported that her latest wardrobe cost her only $108 for clothing conservatively estimated to be worth $210 at store prices. With the aid of her paper form she made, for $24.61, a tan broadcloth winter coat with good lining, such as she saw priced at $50 in the shop. A blue voile dress with a slip coat, including trimming, cost $6.33; a blue serge dress with organdie for trimming and also hemstitching, cost $6.33; with scrapes and a remnant she made another gingham dress for exactly forty-five cents.

For $16 she bought materials to make a pussy willow taffeta and Georgette crepe dress for social occasions, which she said, she could not duplicate in quality at a store for less than $35. Her business dress of serge and crepe de chene would have been priced at $40 or more if made of the good fabrics she bought for $18.39. Her evening dress, also, of taffeta and silver lace, cost only $21, although it was modelled after one seen at a shop at a much higher price.

MAKES BRITISHERS HUSTLE Canadian Engineer Applies Western Methods in Handling Labor.

London, July 19.—Commodious, well-built dwelling houses are going up at Feltham, a suburb of London, at the rate of one a day. Such speed in building has never been witnessed here before. It is all the more striking because it occurs at a time when complaints are heard on every side that the British workman is not what he used to be. The explanation is found in the fact that the man who is getting the work done learned how to hustle and how to

Here is the effort of Kul-el-Amara, who, despite all signs of the British Government, has gone to Angola, capital of the Turkish Nationalists. Great Britain is still technically at war with Turkey and it is feared that the general may indulge in some unofficial diplomacy that may compromise his country's position.

CHARGES KLAN HEAD IS TAKING TRIBUTE

Wade Declares Clarke and Mrs. Tyler Have Become Rich on "Ill-Gotten Gains."

Atlantic, Ga., July 19.—Charges that Edward Young Clarke, Imperial Wizard pro tem, and Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, his former associate in the propagation department, are feathering their own nests to the extent of a great fortune; that the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan have become mere tribute payers, and that Clarke has either kept Colonel W. J. Simmons, Imperial Wizard, drunk or taken advantage of "this drunken condition," as set forth by Louis D. Wade, discharged Kligrapp, in answer to a suit for injunction filed by the Klan officers to prevent him from spreading propaganda among members of the order detrimental to the officers.

Wade says in his petition: "This defendant, as a loyal Klansman in common with thousands of others, feels outraged that persons so notorious as Clarke and Mrs. Tyler should be in absolute charge of the destinies of an order in whose ranks there are so many upright and noble men whose characters are above reproach.

"Defendant charges that Clarke and Mrs. Tyler are using the Klan for their personal aggrandizement and, being in control of its funds, have become suddenly enormously wealthy from ill-gotten gains collected from the ranks of Ku Klux men. Clarke gained complete control over the Chief Executive officer (William Joseph Simmons), and has either kept him drunk or has taken advantage of his drunken condition and procured for himself the office of Imperial Wizard pro tem, which allows him to exercise supreme control over the entire organization."

According to the answer, Clarke now is Imperial Wizard pro tem, Imperial Kligrapp and Imperial Kligrapp. By virtue of these titles, the answer alleges, Clarke controls the selection of all officers of the Klan.

"Any member of the Supreme Council who opposes Clarke's will is immediately dismissed," the answer charges. Mr. Wade's answer made the further specific charges:

"That Clarke has converted a great benevolent organization into a vast body of tribute payers, whose money enriches his coffers, so that he has reduced the other members of the Klan to practical serfdom.

"That Clarke collects from every officer and agent of the Klan handling money a bond premium, while, in fact, no bonds are in existence.

"That the regalia which each Klansman is required to own is manufactured at a cost of $1.90 and sold by the manufacturer at $4, and that Clarke and Mrs. Tyler own a large, if not controlling, interest in the firm manufacturing such regalia."

Mr. Wade charged further that "the Klan purchased 200 acres of land in Fulton county for $150,000 and sold the most valuable part of it to an organization in which Clarke is the dominant stockholder for $85,000, thereby placing upon the Klan the burden of paying $115,000 for the less valuable portion."

Concluding, Mr. Wade declares Mrs. Tyler still remains at the head of the propagation department, and that she and Clarke brought the injunction suit "not for the good of the order, but to suppress the truth and perpetuate themselves in power."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

COMIC OPERA HERE WEEK FROM TODAY

Four Favorite Bills by Splendid Company—Only Big Attraction of the Season—Mail Orders Now.

Mail orders are now being accepted for the mid-summer engagement of the Boston Comic Opera Company, which opens at Imperial Theatre next Wednesday, the 26th, and continues for three days until Friday evening, giving a change of bill at each show. These mail orders will be filled for one or more of the performances in order of receipt, providing funds are enclosed, preferably checks or money orders to guard against losses in transit. The box office sale of personally selected tickets begins Monday the 24th, at 10 a. m. for the accommodation of those who desire making their own choice of location.

The opera season opens with Wallace's semi-classical work, "Martina," which has not been sung in St. John for many years, and which receives delightful treatment in this instance. On Thursday afternoon the matinee number will be Audran's tuneful and very funny work, "The Mascot," and on Thursday evening that old favorite, "Fra Diavolo." Friday evening that merry little Spanish lyric entitled "Girofle-Girofia," will conclude the three days of unusual entertainment.

The Boston Comic Opera Company includes favorite performers of other days here among whom are Helena Merrill, Norman Arnold, Edward Orchard, Marguerite Porter, Henri Raffi, John Fritchard, Lillian Chapdelaine, and Martin Allbright, supported by a beauty chorus of genuinely good singers. The comedy element in the company is necessarily strong because of the nature of the repertoire and every department will be pleasingly adequate. It has been a long time since music lovers here have been treated to comic opera by so highly a competent aggregation and the season is sure to be marked next week by a return of winter volume of patronage, including motorists from suburban parts.

PROFESSIONAL TRYOUTS; OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Mr. Emmett May Select Some from the Talent That Appears.

Some fortunate young man or woman may always remember The Emmett-McAuliff farewell week at the Opera House, since Mr. Emmett offers to use such talent as fits in with his plans for his coming tour.

During the performance of "The Family Mix-up" tonight, he will give any person with ability an opportunity to show their talent.

The Emmett-McAuliff engagement will come to a close on Saturday evening, after probably the most successful engagement from the standpoint of popularity and number of admissions, that any organization that has ever shown in St. John has enjoyed, probably mainly for the reason that the offerings have been free from all objectionable features.

The bill for tomorrow, in addition to the comedy photo play, will be "Girls Will Be Girls."

IRISH ROMANCE AT IMPERIAL THURSDAY

"The Bride's Play" Based on Ancient Hibernian Legend.

The romance and legend of old Ireland make Marion Davies' new Paramount picture, "The Bride's Play," which comes to the Imperial Theatre tomorrow, a story of great beauty. The story was written by Donn Byrne, and it embodies a beautiful legend of Ireland called "The Bride's Play," according to which the bride at an ancient Irish wedding used to approach all the male wedding guests with the question, "Are You the One That I Love Best?" This is a tale of modern Ireland which uses this legend as a source of embarrassment and also recalls its use in medieval times, when men were bold and stole brides from before their groom's eyes. The story contains many thrills, especially in the medieval scenes. The charm of the legend and the power of the romance offer Miss Davies great opportunities for the display of her art. It is a novelty de luxe.

THE NAVY AT WORK

The Empire's Shield is the greatest naval picture in the world. Never before has there been such an array of ships of all classes and sizes, aeroplanes, submarines, flying boats, and great dirigibles depicted on the screen doing their regular work. There are no faked pictures in this feature, and each individual picture is a crown copyright. The photography is absolutely perfect in every picture.

LAST DAY FOR

"HAIL THE WOMAN."

The success attending the excellent picture, "Hail the Woman," at Imperial Theatre, justifies the engagement of the picture for the third day, which is today. Yesterday the crowds were large as on Monday with the same universal verdict, "excellent." Programmes will commence at 2, 3.30, 7, 8.45 o'clock. On Thursday the programme will change when the pretty and elaborate Irish romance, "The Bride's Play," will be presented by Paramount Pictures, featuring Marion Davies and Wynndham Standing. 7-20
