Cricket Umpires and Some Curion Decisions They Have Made.

An umpire in a cricket match has not unusually a very exciting time. But there have been occasions when things have happened even to this impassive and phlegmatic individual.

On one occasion an umpire shared the common fate of the stumps, and was bowled clean off his pins by a ball which took him in the small of the back. It was a leg hit of terrific force, and the numpire, seeing it coming, turned round, thinking a smack in the back preferable to one in another place. Decisions They Have Made.

in the back preferable to one in another place.

But hat only did the ball knock the great man down but it rebounded into the wicketkeeper's hand, and when the umpire had regained his breath and legs he promptly gave the offending bateman "Out."

The Land of the Midnight Sun ought to be an ideal venue for cricket matches seeing that the day is twenty-four hours long, and seeing there is no real necessity, except death from over exertion of the fielding side, to draw stumps at all. There is a story teld of a match in Lapland which excited the natives so much that they organized a return match to start at one c'elock—the first hour after midnight. The gentleman visitor, who tells the story, offented as umpire, clad in his nightshirt and standing at his bedroom window!

Probably the most remarkable deciclad in his nightshirt and standing of his bedroom window!

Probably the most remarkable deci-sion on record was in this wise. The batsman had had a box of matches— evidently not cricket matche—in his pocket and the ball ignited the whole contraption. As the match quickly reached "the quick," the batsman be-gan to tear at his clothes and pads like a manise, and, of course, got out of his ground.

gan to tear at his clothes and pads like a manise, and, of course, got out of his ground.

The ball had gone to short-slip who shied the wicket down and claimed a "run out" before he realized the perilous state of the batsman. However, the umpire, seeing smoke issuing from the batsman's lower extremities luckily put short-slip "wise." "Carn's give 'in howt, sir. The gent's afre!" were his words.

Some young players in one of the parks, being hard-up for an umpire, roped in a spectator who happened to be a Hiberalan. In the first over legbefore appeal was made to the Celt. "How's that?" said the bowler. "How's that yersilf," said the umpire. "Just plaze yersilf, me bhoy, how it is; ye know a fine dale moor about it than I do."

Probally the most amazing decision ever given by an umpire, who was really supposed to know something of the game occurred in a village maish some time ago. After a single run had been scored by the players, who then made no attempt to run again, the umpire loudly shouted, "Short run!"

The verdict was halled with a per-

"Short run!"

The verdict was helled with a perfect tornade of haughter. But the umpire did not seem to realise that only a second or subsequent run could be short.

In an up-country match in Australia, a ball hit the balls and smashed them, so a piece of wattle, undivided in the middle, was laid across the top of the stumps. With his next ball the bowler sent the middle stump flying and tumbling twenty pards.

But the wattle, reclaims peaceful on the log and off stumps, was undisturbed. The umpire gave the batsman "Not out!"

Thor's Hammer Still Deel.

The fishermen of Wissey (Eng.) would never dream of vonturing out of port without a little hammer-shaped bone, from the head of a sheep, known as "Thor's hammer," as this little object is a very special charm against drawning. The mole's foot is also a "sure" cure for toothache or cramp—according to locality. Amputated limbs are in some cases preseryed so that the crippie may not be deficient in this respect in the next world.

delent in this respect in the meat world.

At Scarborough an old peasant has come to be regarded as almost a wisard, for the country folks from round about come to him for relief from rheumatism. His "cure" consists of a copper bangle and ring, and on either end of the bangle two small-bore brass cartridge cases are wedged. These charms are sold to the patient. In Suffolk a girl always keeps her first tooth; then when she marries and has a child the tooth is suspended about the infant's neck during teething, as it is said to bring instant relief.

These superstitions mostly exist in the counties which are washed by the North Sea. Doubtless they are survivals of the days of the bold Viking marauders.—Ireland's Own.

Smoking In Commons. Smoking during Parliamentary proceedings is the latest precedent set up in the House of Commons. The other day, in the Scottish Grand Committee, which was considering an important bill, a member was seen lounging at his case, a pipe between his lips. A colleague drew attention lounging at his case, a pipe between his lips. A colleague drew attention to the "offence" on a point of order; but the chairman, Mr. Arthur Hen-derson, promptly replied that the ob-jection was not sustained. There-upon a dozen members or more pro-duced their pipes and lit up. This is the first time smoking has been per-mitted during Parliamentary proceed-

Car Ferries on Irish Sea.

Car ferries are familiar modes of freight transportation across water barriers in this country, but have not been much exploited in Europe. The most notable example, perhaps, has been that which connect Germany and Sweden. The latest development of the idea is an important scheme, recently begun, for ferries from Ireland to Scotland and England, one to convey railroad freight ears from Larne, Antrim, to Strauvaer; the other, connecting Dublin and Holyhead, Wales. The latter will be about the same distance as the German-Sweden line but will be through rougher waters. Car Ferries on Irish Sea.

"The longest one has the first choice, and so on," he said, presenting them to Gale, who promptly drew the longest of the four. He turned to Doret, but the Frenchman waved him courteously to Stark, and when both he and Runnion had made their choice Lee handed him the remaining one, which was next in length to that of the trader. Stark and Runnion qualified in the order they drew, the latter cursing his evil luck.

The Manufacturers' visit.

The "Makers of Canada" arrive i Halifax to-day. The Canadian Manufac-turers Association holds its annual meet ing here and the Captains of Industry are ing here and the Captains of Industry are gathering from near and from far. Something like two hundred and fifty of these and Coatlenok, Can. – Hartford Times. thing like two hundred and may of enterprising gentry will gather here to discuss matters of commercial interest to things connected with the now great industrial system of this country. different conditions. A Convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association any where between 1878 and 1896 would have been a thin gathering indeed, and the reports presented would have dealt in small figures. It will be remembered that the Laurier Government came into power in 1896, when the value of the annual marufactured products of Canada was something like 400 millions. Sixteen years of prosperity under the Laurier regime found the value of those products multiplied four times over, and the mbmentum of the Laurier prosperity has carried forward the development during the past two years.

The morn was cold and still,

As the shadow of a Cross arose Upon a lonely hill. And once again my dream was changed New Earth there seemed to be ;

I saw the Holy City Beside the tide The light of God was on the streets, The gates were opened wide, and all who would might enter And no one was denied.

No need of moon or stars by night, Nor sun to shine by day; It was the New Jerusalem That would not pass away.

A noble and uplifting lyric.

St. John Telegraph, Sept. 15th:

While in the city attending the Fall millinery openings, Mise Marie Amiro, aged 24, of Lower Pubnico, Yarmonth County, N. S., died some time early Sunday morning. When persons went to her room at the lodging house of Mrs. M. S. Maye, 19 Horsfield street, yesterday morning, she was found dead in bed. Ervious to coming to the city last Tuesday the girl had not been well. Her people thought she was merely run down and believed the trip to St. John would do her good. On Wednesday, after she had arrived in St. John, she became worse and was confined to her bed. A few days in bed seemed to improve her condition, and it was intended that she should return to her home to-day. A physician attended her and when he called at 11 o'clock or Saturday night he pronounced the patient to be well enough to be left alone for the night.

About 1 o'clock Mrs. Maye went to the sale, girl room and made her comfortable for the night.

Dr. Muret is 31 years old. He was born in Chicago but went to Europe as a boy and studied in the public schools of Berlin. He graduated from a deutal college there in 19020 and semiet to New York in the latter year. The police say that Schmidt was often seen in the apartments in West 134th Street, and with Dr. Muret. The agent of the flat is also said to have identified Muret as having been in the apartment eith Father Schmidt.

After the finding of a copper counterfeiting plate for making $10 gold certificates in Schmidt's room the detectives ransacked Schmidt's persons in papers and discovered a receipted bill for rent having been paid by a "George Miller" for an apartment at 516 West 134th St., and there the detectives a lings they found a complete outil for the manufacturing of phetographic prints such as might be used in making "counterfeit bills. making counterfeit bills. Here also the detectives told of having found the half-burned parts of several impressions of a $10 gold certificate.

Examination disclosed that they may have been represented in the night in the rooms of Schmidt, at the Remark of St. Joseph's Church, where he was eating as a prest at the time of his arrest dut the marker of Anna Aumulier. From sources which Inspector Faurot refused to divuige, he staced that that he had traced the 'George Miller,' whose name was signed to the rent receipt, to the office of Dr. Muret, 30! St. Micolas Avenue. In the meantime, Mrs. Mary Bowye, owner of the apartment at the 13th St. address, went with detectives to the dentists office, where he also lived, and postively dentified him as "George Miller."

In reply to questions put to him by Inspector Faurot, Inv. Muset is alleged to have said that he had been in counterfeiting operations with Schmidt. After his arrival at police headquarters, Muset answered the questions put to him by the Inspector Faurot, Inv. The last rent for the 134th Street apartment was paid on August 25th last, when, the police say, the innihang received $22 from Schmidt; on this same date Schmidt paid a $6 deposit on the Bradhurst avenue apartment, where he has confessed that he killed Anna Aumulier.

The Advantage of Buying Your Canned Goods Now and in Case lots.

It is quite true that all around one sees fresh vegetables, but it is equally true that when you put away coal for use in the Winter the weather is warm—very warm. Buying canned goods now in dozen lots is just as reasonable as buying coal for the Winterin the Summer months. Canned goods opened up low in price this season and now is a particularly good time to buy. Then again, if you buy in case lots you will save considerable, to say nothing of having a good supply of canned goods on hand whenever they are required. We are quoting extremely attractive prices on case lots. Drop in and

Just About Coats

Autumn is here, thrust upon us with very little warning or consideration. During the last two or three days the change has been decidedly noticeable. The mornings are damp and chilly, and towards evening when the sun has dropped below the norteen the atmosphere gets cooler and the Fall winds begin to blow, and send their chills through. It is then that we decide that it is time for a comfortable Suit or Goat. Our Coat and Suit Department is a veritable style centre.
All of the latest models are shown there. We cordially invite you to come in and insp our showing.

LILAINE

A Linen and Wool Waisting for Autumn

With the coming of cool weather, you will welcome this dainty material of linen and wool, a product of the French mills.

Lilaine is of unique manufacture, in that a fine thread of linen is twisted with one of wool, and from that the material is woven-with linen and wool running both ways.

The plain colors and neat stripes are particularly suitable for smart tailored waists. It will be found very satisfactory in washing, and in all a serviceable and beautiful waisting. Its fine texture and lustreless finish make it very desirable for men's shirts and pyjamas.

The plain colors are white, pink, pale blue and heliotrope. Stripes in pink, grey, blue, green and black; all light grounds.

Width, 30 inches.

reat Building Will Have Rooms Re presenting the Various States of the Universe Before and After the Fall - Lecture Rooms, a Scaling Room, and Apartments For High er Priests Are All Provided.

Another great occasion has come to the Mormon world. When Southern Alberta began to be populated with the people of this faith, and throughout all the years since, yearly visits were made by many of the Mormon people to their home state, Utah. These visits were in most cases to perform duties in the temple there, it was thought wise by the leaders at Salt Lake and the authorities in Canada, to build a temple in Canada for the use of the Canadian members of the church.

President Smith, of Salt Lake City, was at Cardston, Alta., for the dedication of the site a short time ago. A large delegation was present from eation of the site a short time ago. A large delegation was present from Utah, and the occasion will be long remembered in the history of the thurch in Canada. The new temple, moreover, will be the first to be erected on British soil. It is probable that the excavation will be completed this fall, but building the foundation will not be begun till next spring, when work will be pushed with the utmost vigor.

The ceremonial work for which the new temple will be built will comprise baptism, specifically baptism for the dead; ordination and associated endowments in the priesthood mar-riage ceremonies; and other sealing ordinances. Each of these ordinances may be performed either for the fiv-ing, present in person, or for the dead, who are represented by an in-dividual living proxy. Ordinance work for the dead exceeds by a great preponderence that for the living. The temple will be maintained large-ty for the benefit and salvation of the dead relatives of Canadian Mormons. For the performance of these ordidead relatives of Canadian Mormons.

For the performance of these ordimances many different rooms will be required. The most important of these, perhaps, is the baptistry. In the Mormon Church baptism is required of all who have lived to the age of accountability. Only those who die in infancy are exempt. Many measters of the Mormon people have ancestors of the Mormon people have died without this water baptism, and for these an opportunity of posthum-ous repentance is given and the rite of baptism for the dead is administered. Baptisms for the dead is administered. Baptismal fonts are usually placed in the basement floors and the accustomed plan will be carried out in the Cardston temple. Laying on of hands will also be performed in this noom.

In the lecture rooms of the temple instruction is given to candidates relating to the significance and sequence of past dispensations, and the course includes a recital of the most mportant events of the creative per-od—the condition of Adam and Eve jod—the condition of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden and their expulsion; the plan of redemption as taught by the Mormon Church; the restoration of what the Mormon speaks of as "The Gospel," personal purity, etc. Provision is made for the giving of these instructions in different rooms, each devoted to a particular part of the course.

The garden room represents the earth as it was before sin entered and brought with it is curse. It is the Garden of Eden, depicted in miniature. Ceiling and walls will be decorated to represent sky and clouds, ture. Ceiling and walls will be decorated to represent sky and clouds, with sun, moon, and stars. The wall will show sylvan grottoes, mossy dells, lakelets, and brooks, waterfalls and rivulets, trees, vines, and flowers, insects, birds, and beasts—in short, the earth beautiful before the fall. The world room will be painted with scenes typical of the earth after the fall. There will be similar land-capes to those in the garden room, but the whole representation will be that of the fallen state. Trees will be gararied and mis-shapen, rocks rent naried and mis-shapen, rocks rent ound everywhere, and in the dis-nce a raging storm will be depicted ending in deadly strife. Therns histles, and noxious weeds will cance a raging storm will be depicted. The lectures in this room will be on the fall of man, and the scenes painted on the walls will remind the candidate of the fallen world.

From the scenes of turnoil in the world room the candidate will be led to the peace and quiet of the terrestial room. In it are given instructions A Safe Investment to the peace and quiet of the significance of the endowments and the practical duties of a religious life. Next to this room and joined to it will be the celestial room. Between the two will hang silk-an nortieres known as the veil of the ments of to-day is to place your spare cash in building lots. The holy of holies of the Cardston Temple will be situated between the two sealing rooms. It will be elaborately finished, and its entrance will be guarded by a pair of sliding doors, which, in a measure, will correspond to the inner veil of the angient sanctuaries. This room will be reserved for the higher ordinances in the prisethood relating to the exaltation of both living and dead.

PICKLED MACKEREL Well Known Table Delicacy Is before will find

Prepared For Market.

How many of those who eat jekled mackerel ever think of the toil and weary hours of waiting that are spent by the men who make a living by catching them in seine nets. The look-out man, or "huer," as he is called in Cornwall, Eng., sits on the edge of me carely watching for the black packs on the sea that proclaims the marked school "playing up."
The stentoring shout he gives is heard by the fishermen, resting on their oars, probably half asleep, in the boats far beneath him. In a moment all is excitement. The boats haul their anchors and race in the direction indicated by the "huer."

It is a case of "first some, first shoot." The great seine boat leads with the heavy mass of brown net heaped in its stern; them comes the "rowleg," as it is called—probably a corruption of "follower"— whose business it is to see that the fish, who, once paciosed by the selne, do not lead over the row of floating corts, and this is done by efficer splashing with a great stone tied to all gord, or else by throwing smaller himself behind." Apply this idea to OAR INSUR-ANOE, and remember that it is setter to have foresight rather than undsucher in the case of fire or ceident. Insure with us, we can give you both an Auto Policy and in Accident Policy.

KITCHENER'S BULLET.

Knew He Was Hit Because He Swallowed the Lead.

Lord Kitchener, one of the most distinguished of the Knights of the Bath who recently were installed at Henry VII.'s Chapel in Westminster Abbey, once had as narrow an escape of his life as ever befell a soldier. It was in the course of the prolonged and fercely-fought campaign in the Soudan in the 'eighties, in the first year, dif that decade, in fact.

Ther, was a lively skirmish going on at a place named Handoub, just outside Suakin, when Kitchener, who was then a rising young officer of Engineers, was shot at by one of the Mahd's, negro soldiers. The bullet found its mark in the side of Kitchener's face at the back of the cheek. It was a Remington bullet, and indicated a 'Yeally dreadful wound, breaking the bone at the base of the law, it took a long time ' get the sulmiters of bone out and the decions were there to operate, as the bullet and fragments of bone were too close to the dugstar vein. The ball could not be Jogated, and the octors your differed from the surgeons, and steadily refused to believe in their groomy progness of his case, and steadily refused to helieve in their groomy progness of his case, and the goomy progness of his corks, and this is done by either splashing with a great stone tied to an cord, or else by throwing smaller stones into the circle, a large supply of these having been put in the boat before it left the beach. Presently the crew of the "wowler" will help to haul the seine, pulling in one end whilst the crew in the larger boat pulls in the other.

Lastly comes the "larker," generally manned by boys. This little boat is a tenier to the others, taking out the anchors, for it is necessary that the bigger boats should be firmly anchored so that there may be something to ed so that there may be something to pull against when hauling the seine, and the boys also shake loose any and the boys also shake loose any part of the great net that may get fouled. It is very hard work, too, because all the toil and time may have been expended in valu, and the macker's school may have escaped for some more fortunate boat to secure. It if all is well the harvest of the sea is reaped, and the mass of silver, purple, and blue is poured from the net to the boats. Then wel, hot, and e hausted, the men prepare for the next "shoot." The seine is arranged afresh, and once more the weary fishermen await the "huer's" dry from the cliffs above.

lowever, differed from the surgeons, and steadily request to believe in their gloomy prognosis of his case, and, though he had to endure a journey down the Mir of the hospital at Cairo, confined in a small cabin in sweltering heat, his thin, muscular shaped and from will-power kept the dreaded fever at bay. The hospital declores also failed to find the bullet, and came to the conclusion that it had worked its way out during the young down the Mile. Kitchener More than a hundred years' service as teachers is the joint record of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw, of New Barnet, and Mrs. Wm. Shaw, of New Harnet, Eng., who celebrated their golden wodding recently. "We both began teaching in 1852," said Mr. Shaw "There have been great changes since I first taught, the greatest being in 1850, when Mr. Robt. Lowe, afterwards Lord Sherbrooke, introduced the system of grants or payment by results. Then we all began to cram the boys in arithmetic, reading, and spelling so that we could get the grant. If a boy was a slacker in the "three R's" we helped him along with a cane. Now there is less routine. voyage down the blie. Kitchener himself was of the opinion that the builted had, by some means, come out, unnoticed by the surgeous or himself, and gradually the terrible wound healed, and. Kitchener returned to a cane. Now there is less routine.
The boy is helped to develop his powers of observation and his intelligence. The teacher has more freedom, and as a result the modern elehealed, and Kitchener returned as duty.

A year or so after the skirmish at Handoub, Kitchener one day sat down to dine off a beet steak which had been served up by largt. Bilton, of the hospital stair. Suddenly Kitchener clapped his hand to his jaw.

"Bilton," he sain. "was there a bone in that steak?"

"No. sir." raplied the sergoant.

"No, sir," replied the sergeant.
"Then that bullet was in my jaw after all," said His swallowed it, for I felt it go down!"
That proved it to the case; and the great soldier preserves the flattened piece of lead on his key-chain.

Duties of the Marshalsea Court.
Windsor Castle and the other royal residences outside London are under the authority of the Court of Marshalsea. It has the same officials and powers as the Green Cloth, and was established by Henry VIII. In particular it is charged to administer Justice between the King's servants so that they are not drawn into the service of foreign sovereigns. Among One of the most prosperous industries in Australia is that of dairying, and with the extension of operations the latest labor-saving machinery is being adopted. For milking the machines in packare the latest. At one dairy, which about 100 cows are in milk, there are seven machines installed, abortiding for the milking of 48 cows at the one time. The machines are working effectively, and appear to find favor in the even of the practical men. They combine efficiency with simplicity, and present to difficulty in handling. The releaser conveys the milk from the cow to the separator quickly and cleanly owing to the automatic adjustment of its lifting and outflow. The approximate toot of installing a plant of this kind is $1,750, and it is capable of milking a hundred cows in about two hours. There were one or two unrehearsed incidents at the opening of the new King's College Hospital, Denmarko Hill, by King George and Queen Mary, which caused considerable amusement to Their Majestles. A manber of purses were handed in by shildren from three years old and unwards.

Light From Below One of the first bores put down in Western Queensland to tap the great artesian storage known to exist in the interior of Australia, was at Thargomindah, and the water from it is now being put to a novel use. The pressure is 270 pounds to the square inch—one of the strongest pressure bores in Queensland, though the flow is not very strong—about 670,000 gallons per day. The bore is 3,560 feet deep, and the temperature of the water is 166 degrees. It drives a waterwheel at 1,200 revo'utions per minute to provide power for an electric light system for Thargomindah. The charge for Hight is 26 cents per week per light. the and trimming it to make it burn brightly. The fir candle was a length of wood cut from a kind of fir tree which is found embedded in the peat. This kind of candle is still used in some parts of Scotland. It usually fell to the lot of the "herd laddies" to act the part of candlestick; but should a beggar ask for a night's lodging he was expected to relieve the "herd laddies" of his duty. A candlestick is still called in Aberdeenshire a "puir man," or "poor man." St. Kilda Linked Up. For all muscottar pairs, strains, and weakness, Polson's Nerviline and Nerviline Phasters have no equal. Refuse substitutes.

Passing of the Grey Bowles. The days of the grey bowler hat are numbered. A leading Bond street hatter declares that during the present season he has never sold so few grey bowlers for the past twenty grey bowlers for the past wenty years. "Society men used frequently to wear grey bowlers when going racings," he said, "but now they invariably favor hats of a darker shade." In a few years' time he predicts that the grey bowler, will be as great a rarity as the harse bus,
