GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

Robert Burley, a sailor on a schoone belonging to Kingston, N. Y., recently, when the vessel was off New London, saw an eagle light on the topmast. The actions of the bird showed that it was tired out. Burley waited untll night, when he climbed to the topmast. The eagle was fast asleep. Burley grasped the bird by the legs. It showed fight, and tore the flesh on one of Burley's arms in several places with its talons, and it also attacked his head and face with its strong beak. After a struggle Burley, bleeding numerous wounds, reached the deck with his captive. The eagle measured about five feet from tip to tip.

The following is a copy of the Haldi mand Queen Victoria circular for Indians only. It was not denied that Dr. Montague was aware of this circular and assisted in its distribution. A good many people, Conservatives and Liberals, would con

"The Queen has always loved Her dear, lo subjects, the Indians. She wants them to be go men and women, and she wants them to live the land that they have, and she expects i little while, if the Great Chief, John A., gets is Government again, to be very kind to the India and to make them very happy. Deep under the waves of Brittany's shore
Lies buried the City of Is so fair,
And the sailors hear through the still night air
The voice of a bell that is tolling there;
A bell of the city that is ro more
Binging a direg for the days that are e'er,
And calling its dead to prayer.

Deep under the waves of our hurried lives
Lies many a City of Is so fair,
And we often hear through the still night air
The sob of the past, with its deep despair;
An echo of days when our lives were glad
