OFFERED TO THE MEETING. Rev. Mr. Fessenden, the prohibition sheriff of Portland, Maine, in a despatch. One of the recent offers that he has received is from a large lecturing bureau in New York. "This firm wants me pretty badly, I guess," said the sheriff to the Portland Press. "Their managers have written me that they want me to travel in certain sections of the country and that they will pay me $50 every time that I appear on the platform at their meetings, not caring whether I speak or not. When the sheriff read this tempting offer he remarked that he appreciated it, but that it would be impossible for him to accept the invitation.

SAVED BY HIS FACE. The Council of Revision of the constitution met at Nimes, France, has just pronounced the weighty decision that uniform is inadmissible into the French army. A young soldier newly enrolled came before the council for his medical examination yesterday, but while his constitution was admirable and his physical development unimpaired, he was of an ugliness so appalling that the council could not pass him.

AT BISLEY.

Canada the Only Colony Furnishing Full Team. LONDON, July 7.—The forty second annual meeting of the National Rifle Association opened at Bisley today in brilliant weather. The entries generally are satisfactory, but there is a notable absence of colonialists; Canada alone furnishing a full team. The events decided today are unimportant.

BURY THEM ALIVE.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The World today contains a St. Petersburg, Russia, despatch, which says—Twenty persons, 12 of them women, have been arrested, imprisoned in the province of Bessarabia and Kherson, for having been implicated in a new outbreak of Begun atrocity. The Begun is a strange sect which kills many of its votaries, the victims willingly consenting to the sacrifice. The favorite method is to bury alive those selected for the sacrifice. In the cases just discovered the victims were given a more merciful death. Some of the women arrested confessed to having smothered members of their families with pillows. The Begun has been existing for nearly thirty years. Though its followers are religious fanatics the Begun has crushed long ago all its strange, religious features have thrived.

NEWS FROM KLONDIKE.

SEATTLE, Wa., July 7.—The steamer City of Seattle has arrived from Lynn canal with a Klondike treasure cargo of $400,000, all save $100,000 consigned by the Canadian Bank of Commerce to the United States assay office in this city. William W. McPier, M. Watcher, a cattle herder and a Mr. Lee, a miner, had $200,000 in dust. The Klondike crowd left Dawson June 29. At that time every prospector claimed in the district was being worked and the government had 500 men employed in the construction of roads to the greatest gold producing streams in the district. About 1,000 people are said to have been killed since the river opened.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 7.—While sketching on the tracks of the Burlington railway near Louisiana, Mo., Miss M. Read, assistant librarian of the Missouri botanical garden, and a well known writer on botanical and other subjects was run over and instantly killed by a passenger train yesterday. She had been almost totally deaf for several years as a result of a fever. The deceased was 45 years old, and has been connected with the Missouri Botanical garden as indexer and assistant librarian for more than ten years.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Over one hundred members of the Knights of Pythias supreme lodge have reached Chicago to take part in the preliminary meetings to inquire into the financial condition of the endowment fund. This subject will be the principal matter considered at the emergency session of the supreme lodge, to be held at the Loring hotel tomorrow. The judicial and endowment rank committees of the supreme council held sessions last night. They went over the ground which they will cover in the general meeting. It is probable that the session of the supreme lodge will last three or four days.

LORD SALISBURY.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Rumors respecting the retirement of Lord Salisbury have died out, says the Tribune's London correspondent, and it is generally assumed that while he is weary of public life he will consent to remain prime minister until the coronation, Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain are on excellent terms, and Sir Richard Hicks-Beach is holding his ground with tenacity of purpose. No immediate changes of leadership in the commonsense are considered probable by those watching closely the course of political events.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, July 7.—West and east, moderate winds, mostly northerly, cool clearing; Tuesday, moderate northerly and westerly winds, fair and moderately warm. WASHINGTON, July 7.—Eastern states and northern New York—Partly cloudy tonight; Tuesday, fair; moderate temperature; light northwesterly to northerly winds.

A ROYAL DUEL.

NEW YORK, July 7.—According to a Rome despatch in the World the Duke of Aosta, count of the King of Italy, and his presumptive to the throne, fought a duel last week with a Russian prince, believed to be Duke Eugene of Leschtenberg, grandson of the Czar Nicholas I. The Russian received a severe sword thrust through the stomach. Duke Eugene is known to be suffering from peritonitis, and from this it is concluded that he was the Duke of Aosta's antagonist. The duel has excited the widest interest, because of the rank of the principals, and there is much speculation as to its cause. It is reported that the Russian affronted the King of Italy recently, by making in his presence an insulting remark about the queen while on a visit to Naples.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Southern Baptist Association met at Central Norton on Saturday. The meeting of the S. B. P. Union opened Friday evening and was addressed by Rev. A. White and Rev. J. D. Freeman. Saturday morning six out of the eleven unions reported 572 members, chiefly active, against 612 last year, the increase being divided between three, while three reported large increase. The unions reported were: Brussels street, 120 members; Germain street, 197 members; Leves, Dufferin, 15 members; Tabernacle, 71 members; Main street, 57 members; Fairville, 70 members. Junior societies also reported a membership of 120.

THE STEEL STRIKE.

A Plan to Settle It Has Been Agreed Upon. NEW YORK, July 7.—The World says:—A plan has been agreed upon which will settle the great steel strike within the next five days. As matters stand all that remains to be done is to hold a final meeting to formally ratify the plan and announce its terms. The programme now is to hold that meeting and make that announcement on Wednesday or Thursday of this week in New York or Pittsburgh. The main points at issue have been settled and there will be no great strike, such as was contemplated a week ago. It may be stated that this early settlement is the direct result of J. P. Morgan's efforts. If the conference which is to formally end the strike is held here, it will be at the office of Mr. Morgan; if in Pittsburgh, at the office of the American Tin Plate Company. Representatives of the general board of the U. S. Steel Company, all the subsidiary companies whose interests are affected as well as the leaders of the various labor bodies in the Amalgamated association were notified on Saturday night of the coming conference, and were invited to send representatives.

BURIED WITHOUT CEREMONY.

NEW YORK, July 7.—There was a cleaning up of the morgue in this city today, after the hardest two weeks' work the attendants had ever experienced. The law compels the authorities to keep unidentified bodies five days before burial, and this law during the recent torrid spell, worked great hardships. There are only sixty cold storage vaults for bodies in the place and the consequence was that as the victims of the heat multiplied, the morgue space was soon overtaxed and the keepers were compelled to place the dead in pine boxes in various parts of the building as well as in adjacent buildings. No religious services of any kind were held at the morgue chapel over the bodies of the heat victims, which were taken to the Pottery Field. No services were held when the bodies reached the burial grounds.

A CHURCH SENSATION.

MEXICO CITY, July 7.—The arrest and imprisonment in Communicado of Father Icaza, a parish priest of the church of Santa Catarina, has created a profound sensation. He is accused of grave crimes against women. His accusers are the husband of one of the women and Senor Terraza, once editor of a fanatical ultra clerical weekly paper. The case will be tried before Judge Peter Leonis Dalvag, and will be the greatest judicial event of the year. The Catholic people are greatly agitated as the trial is bound to open up various lines of investigation into church discipline and conduct of the clergy. It is expected that an ablegate from Rome will arrive here early in August.

ROBBERS ESCAPE.

BOERS ARE ACTIVE.

LONDON, July 7.—A special despatch from Cape Town, dated today, says Scherper's Boer commando has entered Murraysburg, Cape Colony, and burned the public buildings and residence. The town was not garrisoned. Murraysburg is situated about the centre of Cape Colony, not far from the railroad leading from Cape Town to Kimberley, and 245 miles from Algoa Bay.

MICE ADOPTED BY A CAT.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) Louisville reports a cat that has adopted a nestful of baby mice. The cat is Kate, a little striped mouse that has been a pet at the Tenth street Union station for a year past. Two weeks ago Kate had her first family of kittens. A dog killed them all during her absence, and her mother heart was soothed when some of the workmen about the station, tearing up a portion of the floor, uncovered a nest of mice babies in the nest. Perhaps she was thinking of her own recent loss. At any rate she lifted the wee mice one at a time and carried them carefully into the baggage room and placing them in her basket, where they have since remained. Kate is apparently as proud of her adopted children as she could have been of her own, but the railroad men predict that when the fondlings grow large enough to leave they will desert Kate for their own free life.

INDIANTOWN NOTES.

On Saturday evening strawberries dropped to what will probably be their lowest price this year. They sold for three and three and a half cents per box, which was due to the fact that they could not be retailed on Saturday night and would have to be held over until this morning. Today the large consignments which came down in the steamers were at four and a half and five cents. Another week, according to the general opinion of the farmers, use up most of the berries and parties having any quantity after that will likely get big prices for them.

At the river steamers today had large passenger lists and heavy freights. Traffic is steadily increasing on all the boats and the owners are consequently pleased. Most of the freight now coming down river consists of green garden stuff, chiefly berries, peas and potatoes. Peas sold today at from seventy-five cents to one dollar per bushel and potatoes for one dollar and a quarter.

In some places up river the farmers have commenced cutting hay, chiefly around their houses, and here the end of this week the work will have become general. The hay crop never looked better than it does at present. The weather has all along been exceptionally favorable and should it continue until the haying season is over the crop will be one of the best for many years.

The City Cornet band will be in attendance, and at night will furnish one of their famed band concerts.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

A DRY SERMON.

To the Editor of the Star:— Sir,—A prominent, enterprising and public spirited citizen, one highly esteemed by all who know him, coming out of a drug store last evening remarked to a friend who was passing: "I went in there to get a glass of soda water, but as the proprietor informed me that the law forbids him to sell soda water on Sundays, I am forced to go elsewhere for the same." "Whiskey as a substitute," he further remarked. "The intention in debarring me and others from drinking a glass of soda water on Sundays was probably good, but the effect is as I tell you."

Are there not hundreds of our citizens who can say the same? As for summer tourists, what will they say? "The inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn."

CITIZEN.

A HORRIBLE CASE.

The body of Mary Carr, known also as Mrs. O'Brien, who died Friday at a hovel on Sparrow's Alley, remained in the morning this morning when it was buried. The place was in a horrible condition. The filth of the room in which the body lay for almost three days was indescribable. The remains were covered with a dirty sheet, and a couple of dogs at times found shelter there. Saturday night the scene was made more gruesome and horrible by the presence of a drunken man sleeping in the corner. The heat of Saturday and Sunday made the place an inferno of abominable odors. This morning the body was removed by the alms house commissioners and buried.

STANLEY STREET.

Some weeks ago a portion of the stone retaining wall of this street gave way. A fence was placed around the dangerous section and the traffic diverted from the sidewalk to the roadway. The locality is handy to the City road and used by the Street Car Co. How long this condition is going to be tolerated remains to be seen. In the meantime pedestrians are inconvenienced and exposed to danger. The lamp that was placed as a danger signal by night has not been lighted for some time past.

GOVERNOR GENERAL'S TOUR.

Mayor Daniel received this morning the official programme of the governor general's tour of the maritime provinces. Lord Minto will arrive here on Monday morning the 29th inst., at six o'clock, from Digby on the Prince Rupert. He will remain here until about one o'clock on Tuesday when he will leave for Fredericton. He will again visit the city on August 3rd, on his way back from St. Andrews and St. Stephen, and will remain here about nineteen hours.

PERSONALS.

Rev. Dr. Manning returned today from Fredericton. Mrs. Daniel Angeline, of Montreal, arrived in the city today on a visit. Dr. G. P. Matthew left on Saturday for a two week's trip in Cape Breton, where he will study the geologic formations. He was accompanied by Miss Bessie Matthew. Dr. Mullin leaves this evening for Bathurst to attend the county court, which meets there tomorrow. Miss Prudence Babbitt, of Fredericton, is the guest of Miss Payne, 218 Duke street. As Dr. Berryman wishes some further information in regard to the sale or whose body was found a few days ago in the Marsh, the funeral has not yet taken place, but the body will probably be interred this evening or tomorrow morning. Margaret Donnelly has been reported by the police for permitting cows to run at large on Fort Howe.

POLICE COURT.

The effects of the Dominion Day celebration have not entirely worn off, and on Saturday night a number of belated celebrants found their way to the cells in the central station.

Among the prisoners who sat cooling their heels on the seat of sorrow this morning one of the most noticeable was Timothy Burke, well known to the police as the possessor of an abnormal thirst. On Saturday evening Officer Finley had repeatedly warned Burke to go home and stop creating a disturbance, but as Burke continued to be annoyed by his old stomach trouble and was endeavoring to conquer his unconquerable dryness he failed to take the good advice given and was finally put under arrest. Tim offered violent resistance to the police and in the scuffle managed to tear Finley's coat sleeves and the front of his vest. The officer this morning stated the facts of the case and was cross-examined by the prisoner.

"Soon as you see'd me didn't you look up an' down the street an' then without rhyme or reason begin to start hittin' me?"

"Wasn't you warned by people to stop usin' the club on me?"

"No."

"There is no use in askin' that man any questions."

Magistrate: "Have you any witnesses?"

"Yes, but I don't know who they were. I was choked blind and could not see them an' this man won't tell me who they was."

Burke was remanded.

Joseph Dixon was picked up by Officer Hamm early Sunday afternoon on Chase street. He was also charged with being drunk and resisting. Officer Hamm gave evidence to the effect that Dixon was drunk and using profane language, but the prisoner did not seem to think that the statements were quite correct. He "didn't think there was no use in asking any questions," and declared that the officer had "took to work and hauled him outen his own door." Dixon was also remanded.

The attention of the spectators was diverted for a short time from the regular business to a playful squabble between J. E. M. Baxter's "Anything" and a handsome colt belonging to one of the spectators. "Anything" was indignantly pulled under the table and "Laddie" crept for protection to his owner's feet. There were five other dogs in the court, and during the moment they made their presence noticeable.

William McNally and Healey Wilson were arrested on King street on Saturday night by Officer Crawford for fighting. A number of witnesses were examined, but on account of the absence of one of the principals the case was postponed.

Joseph Laurette was arrested last evening by Officers Killen and Marshall charged with an indecent assault on a six year old child by the name of Mary Howe, a daughter of Henry Howe, formerly engineer in the post office, and now of Sydney. The offence is said to have taken place in the cellar under Laurette's house on Pitt street. The child screamed and called for help and Laurette allowed her to go. The police were notified and Laurette arrested. He was identified by the child as her assailant and this morning on appearing in court was remanded. Laurette is a Frenchman, a laborer, and lives on Pitt street, near the corner of Britain. He has a wife and children.

The evidence of the little girl and that of a neighbor was taken and the prisoner was remanded.

The case against Michael Barry for using profane language and resisting the police on the ferry floats, west side, again came up. The keeper on the Carleton side of the ferry was examined and stated that Sergt. Ross needed assistance, but that no one went to help him. He heard loud swearing and saw the tussle between Ross and the prisoner. He was on duty at the gate and could not leave to assist Ross, but there were lots of others there who might have rendered assistance. Mr. Mayes, of Carleton, who was a passenger on the ferry, was also examined and told the story exactly as related by other witnesses. Mr. Johnson, with whom Barry was in conversation before the arrest was made, was another witness and corroborated the stories already told.

J. B. M. Baxter, who appeared for the prisoner, in addressing the court, spoke of the excessive amount of profane language used on the Carleton ferry. He said that if Sergt. Ross or any of the officers were to make a few trips on the steamer additional accommodation would have to be furnished for the prisoners, who could be arrested and another magistrate would be required to deal with the cases.

Recorder Skinner, for the prosecution, also addressed the court, dealing chiefly with the evidence given. Barry was fined eight dollars or twenty days in jail for the profane language, and for the resistance, sixteen dollars or thirty days in jail.

In regard to the statements made by Sergt. Ross to the effect that the captain and crew of the ferry steamer refused to assist him in the discharge of his duty, some statements were made showing that such might be the case. Capt. Nice said that he never heard Ross ask for assistance and another witness did hear the request. The magistrate thought that this conduct might arise out of ignorance of the law and suggested that the full meaning of the regulations should be impressed upon the public.

Mr. Baxter suggested that at the next meeting of the council the recorder

This morning, before Magistrate Marsh, he was warned of the danger of fooling with customs officers, and was fined $50, with $65 costs, or $115 in all.

Proceedings occupied so much time this morning that it was almost one o'clock before the noisy crowd who had assembled to hear the evidence against Laurette were ordered from the room, and the magistrate's dog was able to settle down in quietness for his customary forenoon nap on the court-house sofa.

When the spectators had been sent out the case against Laurette was continued behind closed doors.

might call attention to the matter and instructions could be given to the crew of the ferry steamer. Mrs. Barry, who was in court, complained to the magistrate that Sergt. Ross had insulted her. He called her Mag Nelson and Nelson, which is not right, as she is Mrs. Barry. Mr. Henderson explained that the sergeant probably did not know her right name or he would not have called her Nelson. Proceedings occupied so much time this morning that it was almost one o'clock before the noisy crowd who had assembled to hear the evidence against Laurette were ordered from the room, and the magistrate's dog was able to settle down in quietness for his customary forenoon nap on the court-house sofa.
