DECLARES THAT CONSPIRATORS PLANNED GENERAL SLAUGHTER

Progressive Leader in Portuguese House of Lords Tells That the Regicides Proposed to Murder All the Family of King Carlos

LISBON, July 2.—Dr. Jose Maria de Alpoim, chief of the Progressive Deputies, smarting under the insinuations that he was implicated in the assassinations in Lisbon last February of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luis, created a sensation in the House of Lords today by revealing what he asserted to be the true story of the re-gicide plot. He asserted the assasination had been decided upon at a meeting of the Progressive and Regenerator Party a few days before they were carried out. A number of Republicans also were present at this meeting. Dr.
Alpoim charged further that the Republicans proposed to obliterate the entire Royal Family with the exception of Maria Pia, the mother of King Carlos, but that the assassins insisted that a general slaughter would be useless. Finally Manuel Silvius Buias, and Alfred Costa, were given $2000 and $10,000 respectively to kill King Carlos and Premier Franco. Arrangements were made by other men to cover the flight of the assassins by when Buias and Costa fired, their friends lost their heads and opened fire also. These shots resulted in the death of Prince Luis.

ETON IN THE FINALS FOR GRAND CHALLENGE CUP

Defeated Thames Crew—Result Regarded as a Victory for the English Style of Rowing

HENLEY, July 2.—Eton, which this year, for the first time entered a crew for the grand challenge cup, qualified for the final heat of the race this morning, by beating the crew of the Thames Rowing Club in a very close race, finishing only three-quarters of a length ahead. Eton's success in this race is considered a triumph for the English style of rowing, as the Thames Club crew has partially adopted the style of the Belgian crew, which was the cup in 1907.

STILL HAVING TROUBLE
OVER FREDERICTON POLICE

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 2.—The police commission in session this morning appointed Geo. H. Winter chief of police, and Paul F. A. Wright, chief of constables. These gentlemen were afterwards sworn in by Magistrate Marsh. The fourth policeman was not appointed and it was decided to advertise for a man. It would seem that under present conditions it is very difficult to get anyone to accept the job. A lively time is expected at the city council meeting next Tuesday.

SHAH PROTESTS AGAINST BRITISH ACTION

LONDON, July 2.—The fact that the Shah has been in direct correspondence with King Edward, probably protesting against the sheltering of refugees in the British Legation at Tehran, is confirmed. It is believed that the King in reply referred the Shah to the foreign office as the usual channel for such communications.

PUBLIC WORKS SECRETARY
DIED VERY SUDDENLY

OTTAWA, Ont., July 2.—Fred Collins, secretary of the department of public works, dropped dead last night. He had arisen at 8 a. m. to smoke, but was unable to sleep, and fell in a few minutes. He died before a doctor arrived.
He was 39 years of age and leaves a wife but no children. He had been a newspaper man in Montreal until 1894.

EL PASO, Tex., July 2.—Mayor Mat-the of Junes across the river from here, city officials and Commandant Ponce de Leon early today began garrisoning together at police headquarters all heavily armed, and police and troops were held in readiness to repulse on the town. Merchants have been notified that they must protect their own property in case of trouble.

KING ALONZO'S SON
WILL GET NO MONEY

Had Taken Action to Recover What Has Long Been Due Under the Terms of the Dead King's Will.

MADRID, July 2.—The supreme court yesterday gave judgment against the son of Elena Sams, Bohemian opera singer, in a suit brought to recover a share of the estate of King Alonzo XII from the Dowager Queen and other legatees, which he claimed as the natural son of the king.

PARIS, July 1.—The mysterious murder of M. Remy, the aged ex-banker, has caused a veritable panic in Paris.
The terror caused by the crime is increased by the recent equally mysterious murder of the artist, M. Degott.

BRITISH FAIL TO RAISE
AN ENTERTAINMENT FUND

Olympic Committee Wanted $500,000,
But Did Not Get It—The Daily
Mail to Rescue

LONDON, July 2.—Lord Desborough on behalf of the British Olympic Council recently has been appealing to the British public to subscribe $500,000 for the purpose of entertaining the judges and officials and the 2000 foreign athletes who are coming here for the Olympic games. Yesterday, however, Lord Desborough stated that the response had been so small that the council had been compelled to abandon the proposed official reception, excursions and entertainments, as the British government provides no funds for such purposes. In contrast, he pointed out to the Greek government which spent $1,000,000 at Athens on a similar occasion in 1906.

GANS AND NELSON ARE READY FOR THE FIGHT

Will Meet on Saturday Afternoon in a Bout Which is Fixed for 45 Rounds.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Joe Gans and "Battling" Nelson, who will meet on the afternoon of July 4th in a 45 round boxing contest for the lightweight championship, have practically finished their training work. The weight agreement calls for 133 pounds at the ring side. Gans has confined himself almost entirely to "bad work and gymnasium exercises of the simplest nature, entirely eliminating boxing. Nelson on the other hand has paid particular attention to boxing in his training and seems to be in as good condition as when he last met the champion at Golden. Nelson is the favorite at 2 to 1.

GAZAR'S LIFE SAVED BY WOMAN'S SUICIDE

Schoolmistress Ordered by Anarchists to Slay Him Prefers Death to Crime

Throws Herself in Front of Train to Escape Becoming Whorehouse Murderess.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 1.—It has just leaked out here that, despite the extraordinary precautions taken to protect the Czar on the occasion of his visit to Revel to meet King Edward, his majesty had a narrow escape from assassination. A terrorist plot was organized by the revolutionaries which would have been successful but for the refusal of the woman appointed as "executioner" to carry out the work.

HER CONNECTION WITH TERROR-ISTS.

The connection of this woman with the revolutionary organization was never suspected by the authorities. Apparently she had joined the revolutionaries a long time ago, and afterward withdrew from active work in the organization.

TERMINAL ALTERNATIVE.

Inasmuch as there were no barriers at the station and no special precaution to keep back the school children. It would have been an easy matter for the woman to walk up to the Czar and throw a bomb which would have destroyed all the members of the royal family as they walked from the train to the quay.

SERIOUSLY HURT BY A RUNAWAY HORSE

NEWCASTLE, July 2.—Basil Savole, of Tranter, was picked up last night unconscious, and carried to Comfort's hotel where Doctor Desmond was summoned. He had been run over by a runaway horse and remained unconscious for eight or nine hours. He was hurt in the shoulder and across the abdomen, but will likely recover.

ATTACK ON CAMP GUARD REPULSED WITH COLD STEEL

AMHERST SADDENED
BY SEVERAL DEATHS

Mrs. James Horton and Mrs. Gordon Goy
Have Passed Away—Iceboat
Captain Seriously Ill.

AMHERST, N. S., July 2.—News of the unusually sudden death of Mrs.
Horton, wife of James Horton, barber, came with a shock to their very many friends in Amherst yesterday. At ten o'clock Tuesday morning Mrs. Horton was in her usual health and was working among her flowers in the garden when stricken with paralysis.

Men on Duty Forced Late
Comers to Pay Up—67th Regt. Resented This and Tried to Rush the Guard—Men Refuse to Go to Quebec

SUSSEX, N. B., July 2.—There was a stir in camp lines late last night, owing to the action of the camp guard. The duty of the latter is to halt all men coming into camp late. This rule, however, is more honored in the breach than in the observance. The guard of last night was thirty, and not only stopped all men coming into camp late, but also compelled them to pay up as much money as they had on their person. Men of the 67th Regiment resented this action, and getting together a large number of their regiment and engineers, attempted to rush the guard.

Two Houses Were Wrecked and Four

PITTSBURG, July 2.—Four persons were seriously injured and two dwelling houses partially wrecked early today when a charge of dynamite was exploded at the home of George Doxgloria, a wealthy Italian, living at Mokesport, adjoining this city. Several threatening letters signed by an alleged "Black Hand" organization have been received by Deavorio. Recently, the authorities are endeavoring to trace the authors of the letters.

UNVEILED A MEDALLION
TO "JOHN OLIVER HOBBS"

LONDON, July 2.—Lord Curzon of Kedleston, yesterday unveiled the medallion of "John Oliver Hobbs" (Mrs. Craigie), which has been placed in the general library of University College, London, of which the late Mrs.
Craigie was a student. After Lord Curzon had spoken, one of the treasurers of the John Oliver Hobbs memorial fund handed to the treasurer of the college a sum of money for the foundation of the John Oliver Hobbs memorial fund. The medallion, which was executed by Alfred Drury, A. R. A., is on the top corners are figures representing literature and comedy. A replica of the medallion is to be sent to America, Mrs. Craigie's birthplace.

ASPARAGUS CLUB
DINES ONCE A YEAR

LONDON, July 1.—A curious old-fashioned dining club that meets only once a year has just held its annual dinner. It is called the Grass Club, and its object is the cult of asparagus.
The members are mostly prosperous, middle-aged city men who for once in a way abjure kickshaws and revert to plain English food.
The dinner is invariably the same. It begins with turtle soup, after which every member is placed a dish containing ten pounds weight of asparagus.
This means about 200 stalks, and the idea is that at any rate once a year no man present shall be able to say that he cannot get enough asparagus. He is not bound to eat it all, but it is surprising how much has been disposed of before the company breaks up.
The asparagus is always English grown and the very best procurable.
The membership of the club is strictly limited.

GOING TO OLYMPIA.

NEW YORK, July 2.—M. F. Horr, the discus and weight thrower, left yesterday by the steamer Oceanic to join the team of American athletes for the Olympic games. He was unable to get away with the team last Saturday.
The team will be further augmented by George Cameron, of the Irish American Athletic Club, the fast amateur bicycle rider in the United States, who sails today.

St. John folks have been clamoring for fine, warm weather. The weather man certainly obliged them yesterday. He handed out a brand of weather which has seldom been enjoyed during the last ten years. It was exceptionally fair and exceptionally warm. In fact only two days have been better. St. John during the last decade and no holiday has equalled it for heat during that time.

Arrangements have been completed whereby St. Andrew's and St. Stephen's churches will unite during the months of July and August. CHICAGO LAD SAYS THAT GYPSIES KIDNAPPED HIM

Missing Since Thursday Last, He Makes Escape While His Captors Were Asleep.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Bayard Ashton, 18 years old, who disappeared last Thursday from the residence of his aunt, Mrs. J. Smith, was kidnapped by gypsies according to his own story. The boy said he was on his way home from school last Thursday when he was halted by two men driving in a wagon. They asked him if he wanted to ride. He climbed into the wagon and then, he asserts, one of the men threw a blanket over him and after binding his hands and feet threw him under the seat and drove a long way with him, but in what direction he could not tell. "After we had been traveling what seemed to me two or three hours," the boy continued, "they took me out at a lonely spot where they were five tents, in which lived 14 men and about as many women and two little girls. They made me undress and wash and there was someone watching me all the time so I could not run away."

BURGLARS GET BIG HAUL AT MILBRIDGE

Reported That Between $800 and $1000 In Cash and Stamps Was Secured by Blowing Safe.

MILBRIDGE, July 1.—At an early hour Monday morning, the safe at the Milbridge post office was blown open by nitro-glycerine by burglars, who after rifling the safe of its contents, made good their escape. The noise of the explosion woke nearly all of the nearby residents, some of whom made an outcry to drive the fellows away, but without success. The building was quite badly damaged, the windows and plastering being broken. The burglars succeeded in getting away with $800 to $1,000 in cash and stamps. It is not known what direction they took, but they were running up street in a northerly direction when last seen. There had been two men in town all day Saturday, with no business that anyone knew of. It is supposed that they are the guilty party. Notices were sent to all points to look out for suspicious appearing characters, but nothing doing. The men have been learned of their whereabouts. Postmaster A. L. Wallace told $40 of his private funds, which were in the safe.

FOUR SERIOUS ACCIDENTS IN AND NEAR CITY

Wm. Clark, longshoreman, narrowly escaped breaking his neck yesterday afternoon at the Clam Makenzie picnic by falling off a swing while in mid-air and landing on his head. It appears that Clark was very anxious to have a swing, so after sending himself on the board he asked to be pushed as high as possible and the crowd tried to satisfy his desire. When the swing had gone about 18 feet, Clark suddenly lost his hold on the ropes and turning a somersault in the air fell to the ground on his head. He put his hand in front of his face to save himself and one of his wrists was badly sprained and his arm cut. He lay for some time in a semi-conscious condition and a doctor was summoned to attend him. When the doctor arrived Clark had revived and ordered the medical man away.

At a picnic held at Black River yesterday afternoon by the Roman Catholic Miss Letitia Moore of Black River, received painful injuries by falling through the dancing pavilion. Miss Moore was enjoying one of the dances with a young man when suddenly the boards broke beneath them and they fell through the platform. One of the unfortunate girl's legs was caught between the boards and badly bruised and bruised. She had to be assisted to her home. Later in the evening when the picnicers were returning home another accident occurred on the Westmorland Road. An unknown woman, who was sitting with her son on a high wagon fell forward onto the road on her face, cutting her arm and spraining it. She suffered much pain from the injury.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss A. Kennedy, of Halifax, who was spending the holiday in St. John, was suddenly prostrated by the heat on Coburg street. She fell to the pavement, striking her head and was unconscious for several minutes. Miss Kennedy was accompanied by two other girls and had been walking fast for several blocks. When opposite the Coburg street Christian church Miss Kennedy suddenly fell. Her girl companions secured some water and soon brought her round. Later she visited a physician and had the wound in her head dressed.

HEMORRHAGE FOLLOWS A YOUNG MAN'S DIVE FROM BREAKWATER

While enjoying a picnic given by No. 2 battery at Port Dufferin yesterday afternoon George Arthur Pike, 17 years old, lost his life as the result of an accident. The battery practiced for some time on the range and afterwards several of its members went to the swimming. George Pike was one of the number. He had dived off a staging on the breakwater several times without mishap. On one occasion, however, he attempted to turn a somersault in the air, and misjudging the distance struck the water on his face and stomach. The force of the contact with the water rendered the young man unconscious. Harry Pike, a brother of the unfortunate man, noticed that something was wrong and immediately plunged into the water. He caught hold of his unconscious brother and brought him to the shore. George Pike was bleeding from the nose and mouth, and in spite of the efforts to restore life by his companions, he died in a few minutes. Dr. Kenney was summoned, but arrived after life had left the body. On examination it was found that death was due to a hemorrhage of the lungs caused by the young man striking the water with great force. Coroner Kenney did not consider it necessary to hold an inquest for the death was entirely accidental. The body was taken to the young man's home on Queen Square Carleton. Much sympathy is expressed for the family of the deceased.

WORST WATERS OF THE WORLD.

Many people, when asked what is the ugliest bit of sea they know, will tell you the English Channel. A yachtsman who knows his Mediterranean well mentions that horrible "race" between Cadix and Tangiers.

The globe-traveller who has sailed round the world is willing to bet upon that tract of wild waters to the south of iron-bound Cape Horn, but the sailor who tells you, and tell you true, that the wickedest, cruellest bit of water is encountered in rounding the Cape of Good Hope from west to east.

AVOID LIKE PLAGUE

All these and many others that might be mentioned are tracts of sea which are full of danger. Yet in a well-found vessel they are perfectly navigable, and vessels do cross them by nitro-glycerine by burglars, who after rifling the safe of its contents, made good their escape. The noise of the explosion woke nearly all of the nearby residents, some of whom made an outcry to drive the fellows away, but without success.

The building was quite badly damaged, the windows and plastering being broken. The burglars succeeded in getting away with $800 to $1,000 in cash and stamps. It is not known what direction they took, but they were running up street in a northerly direction when last seen. Notices were sent to all points to look out for suspicious appearing characters, but nothing doing. The men have been learned of their whereabouts. Postmaster A. L. Wallace told $40 of his private funds, which were in the safe.

SHIPPING HIGHWAYS

To make matters worse, the monsoon here rages with appalling violence, and once caught in such a storm, with the full drive of the whole Indian Ocean behind it, a vessel is either smashed to pieces on the rocks or driven ashore, and her crew delivered into the hands of looting, marauding savages. It is a curious fact that, while the Red Sea is one of the chief of the world's shipping highways, yet there is a stretch of the east coast from Jeddah to Hodeidah, into which no sane skipper would venture his vessel.

UNION BANK TELLER DROWNED AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 1.—Dominion day at Ottawa was marred by a drowning accident. Wm. A. Green, aged twenty-one, teller in the Union Bank here, was drowned in Lake Deschene. He was one of a party of six who left Aymer at ten o'clock in a yacht. The party consisted of Mr. Laidlaw, the owner of the boat, his wife and two sons, and Miss Brewster. They crossed the lake and landed at Shirley's Bay. The wind had arisen to a half gale and the boat was managed with difficulty on the return trip. When half way back the sail swung across the boat and Green, who was standing on the poop deck, was struck by the sheet and thrown into the water. A float was thrown to him, but failed to reach him. He went down before the boat could be brought around. The body has not yet been recovered. Green, who is a native of Dartmouth, N. S., was in Ottawa for about a year. He was engaged to Miss Brewster, who fainted when she saw her fiancé drowned and was brought to with the greatest difficulty.

MAGNETIC IRON ORE

Quite recently there have been complaints from Hong Kong of the seal-raiders who haunt the mouth of the Red Sea. A year or two ago the steamer St. Olaf was wrecked in Seven Islands south of the Labrador Coast, and of all her crew and passengers, but one, a girl, was saved alive. Several others struggled ashore, only to lose their lives, wandering in the deep snow which covered the land. It is not only fog and storm, rocks and sea monsters which make this stretch of sea so perilous. The beaches are covered with a black sand, which is almost pure, magnetic iron ore. These deposits affect the compasses of ships so strongly as to cause them to work wrongly, and many a vessel has thus been cast away.

CAPE RACE SHUNNED

Cape Race, the south-eastern extremity in Newfoundland, is another point shunned by sailors. During the past forty years no fewer than ninety-four ocean-going ships have been wrecked on the iron-bound cliffs of Cape Race, involving a loss of over two thousand lives and fifteen million dollars. Cape Race's chief dangers are drifting ice and currents of unpredictable set but enormous power. The fogs which fall there are sudden and thick as wool. Once, in 1899, three big cargo ships were piled up on the shore north of Cape Race in one day and night.

Rockall, that strange islet almost in mid-Atlantic, where, in 1904, the emigrant ship Norge was wrecked with fearful loss of life, is the centre of another piece of sea, which all mariners religiously avoid. North from Rockall, Helen's reef runs, unseen under water for no less than four miles, and as the island itself is entirely unlighted it is easy to see why all ships give this death-trap a very wide berth. So many weavers of fiction have written wildly imaginative accounts of the Sargasso Sea, that many have come to look upon the sea itself as a myth. As it is no myth, the Atlantic as a basin, the Sargasso Sea is its smooth, almost motionless, centre, and here are thousands of square miles of stagnant water, a marine rubbish heap, whose surface is covered with

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 2, 1908.

THE HALIFAX MUSICIANS.

The visit to St. John of a company of amateur musicians from Halifax is an event which tends to strengthen the friendship between the two cities, to bring personal appreciation of the abilities and well directed efforts of our neighbors. It is unfortunate that Mr. Well and his friends came here at a time when a very large number of St. John's music lovers are out of town for the summer, and consequently unable to bestow upon the visitors the generous patronage which in any other season would have been gladly extended. St. John and Halifax possess respectively many qualifications which render such visits most enjoyable. St. John is music-hungry. There may be good singers and players here, but there has never been any sustained organization tending to the proper development of the talent which we possess. In the field of drama this city is not lacking, but even in this there has been a want of organization, which difficulty may, however, be overcome before long. Halifax, on the other hand, has been most fortunately placed, and in the Nova Scotia capital peculiar conditions have existed which have led to marked success in the efforts put forth for the development of musical talent. Halifax is no more appreciative than is St. John—indeed, it might almost be ventured that concerns here could find a heartier patronage than in Halifax. But whatever the circumstances may be, Mr. Wells' company was warmly received, and whatever was lacking in the numbers of those attending the opera was due wholly to the season. St. John was glad to hear the musicians from across the bay, and hopes that such visits may be more frequent in the future.

THAT AFFAIR AT ST. CATHERINES.

It now appears that the fall-out of the Halifax crews to qualify at St. Catharines for the Olympic meet was chiefly due to a quarrel, and the conduct of it at one of the crews while at St. Catharines is being severely criticized by Upper Canadian papers. They point out that in the first place it was a great mistake on the part of Halifax to have ever permitted three crews to go up to St. Catharines for the purpose of settling something which should have been decided at home. The Olympic committee had arranged that the best four oared crew competing against the Argonauts should be sent to England, this being a very generous concession and being made possible because of the fact that the Argonauts four were going anyway as members of the eight-oared crew. Accordingly Halifax sent three crews to the trials. It was arranged that the St. Mary's in the preliminaries should be put against the Argonauts and in the final against any but the Argonauts. The final row against the winner of the other heat, that between the North Stars and the North West Arms. In the first heat the Argonauts and North Stars were respective winners. Then the latter absolutely refused to enter the final against any but the Argonauts, which refusal was in direct violation of the original agreement. The committee wavered and in spite of the fact that by according to the demands of the North Stars they destroyed the only chance the Maritime representation at Olympia they gave in. It was decided that St. Mary's would not be permitted to enter the finals. If the North Stars won from the Argonauts they would go to England; if not they would stay at home and the St. Mary's and North West Arms crews would also remain at home. The North Stars lost. The Maritime Provincials will have no crew in the great meet. The relative strength of St. Mary's and North Stars is as yet unknown, although the St. Catharines trials had been arranged with the intention of determining this. The change in the arrangement upset all plans. Nova Scotia has spent $1400 for the purpose of having these crews make an unfortunate exhibition of themselves in Upper Canada.

Canada at the age of forty-one has the youth and enthusiasm necessary for the proper enjoyment of her birthday, and at the same time the age and sound common sense to refrain from excessive display of slushy patriotism. How differently will next Saturday be observed across the line! For weeks past the press of the United States has been clamoring against the recklessness which makes the fourth of July a day to be remembered with sorrow. The annual slaughter has already begun. The death list promises to fully equal those of other years.

"Natural tea is rapidly giving way," says the president of the tea trust. With such weather as now prevails nothing else could have been expected.

TWILIGHT IN THE PARK.

Ah, how remote the great town's tumult seems.
Its stress incessant and its molting schemes,
Here in the sweet companionship of dreams!
The brilliant arc lights blaze and flare afar,
Where traffic pulses with its rush and jar,
But here is calm, and eve's cool vesper stars!
Subtle earth attars seep up through the sod,
The friendly leaves like comrades beck and nod,
While lover birds invoke the lyric god.

Tomorrow life's imperative demands
Will give my spirit as with iron bands,
But now they are no more than numbered sands.

For I have sloughed the shackles and am free,
And peace, with her enfolding ecstasy,
A radiant celestial, blides with me!

COMFORT AND STRENGTH.
The sea is the soul imprisoned
Of a lady who tries to flee;
We hear her sobbing, moaning,
For one to set her free.
She bears the woe of the ages,
For she knows of the wrecks that

Speaking of being carried away to sea, a couple of Maltese tradesmen went aboard H.M.S. Caesar one morning to collect certain money due to them. The old saying in the Navy is, "The first turn of the screw pays all debts." However that may be, the two tradesmen were horrified, on returning to the deck, to find the great vessel standing out at sea upon a camp chair, and they sighted was Gibraltar, and from that place they had to get home again before they might.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., July 1.—Because Alexander Johnson, about 30 months old, weighs ninety-six pounds, he is a victim of unusual hardships. His mother is dead and his father is now in Jersey City, while the baby is left in the care of Charles Campbell, of this city. Campbell has been exhibiting the child as a prodigy in local amusement houses, until the humane officers stopped this last night.

County Detective Logan received word that the child had been exhibited continuously for about nine hours and investigated. The fat little fellow had been forced to sit upon a camp chair on a platform in a hot room until he was too tired to walk and had to recline when rescued.

The number of fishermen alone has increased since 1905 by 2,593, the total number of persons employed in the allied trades by 1,406, 1,542,784 barrels of herring 71,248 cwt. of other fish, and these landed 7,053,550 cwt. alone. In England and Wales 1,187 more fishermen were employed in 1906 than in 1905, and 901 more fishing boats registered. Herring exported from England were more valuable in 1906 than in any other previous year by $34,326, the quantity caught being greater by 213,332 cwt. In 1907, however, whilst the quantity increased by 1,187,248 cwt., the price fell off by $181,266. In Scotland the quantity of fish for 1906 showed a smaller catch by 262,949 barrels, but their value was greater by $206,683. Fish of all sorts landed in England and Wales during 1907 was worth $2,519,000 showing an increase over 1906 of $19,964 and over 861,235.

STORIES OF ENFORCED HOLIDAYS

A year or two ago an American family consisting of father, son, and two daughters, arrived at Chalkie, in the island of Euboea, and put up at the hotel there.

They were evidently well-off, and spent money freely. They had been travelling all through Greece, and meant in a month's time to return to Athens, and thence to make their way home.

Suddenly their regular weekly remittances stopped, and calling to America, the head of the family received a reply that, through the loss of a law suit, he was ruined and absolutely penniless.

MISERABLE VACATION.
The hotel bill amounted to nearly $50, and they had no funds to settle it. The landlord allowed them the use of one room in the basement, and here the unfortunate people were obliged to drag out a miserable existence for weeks, until a newspaper reporter discovered their plight, and succeeded in getting the American Legation. A sum of money was at last raised sufficient to enable the family to make their miserable enforced vacation.

These Americans are by no means the only people who, having left themselves unable to return at the appointed time, only last March an English traveler, staying at Madeira for a short holiday, had the curious experience of being turned into a stowaway and carried across two oceans before he saw home again.

Being a mail boat, the Araguaya could not turn back, so the poor gentleman, who had, of course, no luggage, and only four dollars in his pocket, was carried to Pernambuco, Brazil. There he left the ship, traveled to Bahia, caught a steamer, and came home via Portugal. In all, his travels amounted to 7,000 miles!

Speaking of being carried away to sea, a couple of Maltese tradesmen went aboard H.M.S. Caesar one morning to collect certain money due to them. The old saying in the Navy is, "The first turn of the screw pays all debts." However that may be, the two tradesmen were horrified, on returning to the deck, to find the great vessel standing out at sea upon a camp chair, and they sighted was Gibraltar, and from that place they had to get home again before they might.

THE HISTORY OF THE SIMPLE LITTLE MATCH

Of the manufacture of matches, whether of those which are traditionally said to be made in heaven or those which by their sulphurous odor seem as if they originated in the other place, there is apparently an end. It seems in this modern day and generation a far cry from the time when they were so much means for ready production of fire as now exist and when coals were carefully covered with ashes at night to preserve them alive or fire was carried from one house to another, or, in lieu of these methods, resort was had to flint and steel. Yet it is less than the span of two lifetimes, for persons not yet old have heard their parents and grandparents talk of the days antecedent to the general use of matches.

That such a necessary article to modern civilization should have been lacking to the world for more than eighteen hundred years after the Christian era began appears almost incredible, and yet it was not until 1327 that the lucifer match, the pioneer of friction matches, was produced by human ingenuity.

Fire was first made known to man by its direct descent from heaven, doubtless, in the form of lightning, which caused dry leaves or timber to burn. How to produce it artificially was a problem in savage days, and this was solved by the laborious method of friction, by rubbing two sticks together until they burst into flame, and later by the bow-drill, by which the process was shortened.

With the advance of civilization began the use of flint and steel to strike sparks, which were caught in tinder and ignited it. From this grew up the first form of a match. This was a thin strip of wood, one end of which was steeped in melted sulphur. When this was presented to the spark caused by striking flint and steel together it burst into flame. But this process was cumbersome and costly.

DANGEROUS PROCESS.

The first improvement, about a century ago, was the construction of what was called an instantaneous light box. The device consisted of a bottle with sulphuric acid, into which were dipped splinters of wood, one end of which had been covered with sulphur and over this a paste spread made of chocolate or potato, leaf sugar, powdered, gum arabic and a little coloring matter, so that the end to dip could be distinguished. While they waited instantly there was danger in the use of so powerful a poison as sulphuric acid, and it absorbed moisture so as soon to lose its usefulness unless carefully used. Out of this grew the lucifers, made with an inflammable mixture of chlorate of potash and sulphur and antimony placed over the sulphur and which would ignite on sandpaper. These were the lucifers of John Walker in England. The fact that sulphur and phosphorus would ignite by friction was discovered in 1800 by a German chemist, but no practical use of the fact was made until a century and a half later, when phosphorus friction matches were made in Vienna. About the same time Walker began to use phosphorus in his matches.

SAFETY MATCHES.

The first improved friction matches were made on this continent, at Springfield, Mass., by Alonzo Phillips in 1836. A score of years later the so-called safety matches were devised to obviate the difficulty caused by the use of the ordinary lucifer match, part of the compound, the phosphorus, being left off the match head and put with the sand on the outside of the box, on which the match must be rubbed for ignition.

The detestable odor of the ordinary sulphur match was obviated by the discovery of the so-called paraffin match, in which no sulphur is used. But the danger in its use, from the readiness of ignition by stepping on or friction in one's pocket, has led in a large degree to the substitution of the safety match, also free from the odor of sulphur, but which cannot be ignited on any ordinary surface. Besides the prepared surface of the box on which safety matches may be struck it is also possible to strike them on a pane of glass, or other smooth, highly polished surface.

Match-making may be classed among the great industries of the world, for to many are made, and the variety of machines employed is so great that the labor of many hands and minds is employed.

SECRET OF MANUFACTURE.

An estimate of the use of matches places it at five a day on an average for each individual person. But as one machine has been known to turn out 17,000,000 matches in a single day, all boxed, ready for use, there is little danger of a lack of supply, in some countries match making is a government monopoly. The amount of wood consumed in making matches is something enormous, as it must be straight grain pine in order to be used. But the portions of the lumber not used for matches find other use. An almost infinite variety of machines make the different sorts of matches. Each company has its own patent device and special secrets of manufacture. Round matches, those most in use, are made in that shape by softening the wood by steam and forcing it through dies. The making of match boxes is also an important branch of the paper industry. In Japan matches are made from paper, but as this is made from wood the match material is the same. But with the exhaustion of the supply of proper timber it will be left to the inventive genius of the future to discover a substitute for wood in matches. The general introduction of electric lighting should reduce the consumption of matches perceptibly.

A FRANCO-GERMAN
WAR, SAYS EDITOR
The Gaulois Thinks the Ententes With England and Russia Mean That

(N. Y. Times Correspondence.)
PARIS, July 1.—Under the title of "The Danger of Tomorrow," M. Arthur Meyer, director and proprietor of the National anti-Governmental Gaulois, has contributed a leading article to his paper in which he declares that unless something occurs to modify radically the foreign policy of France, war with Germany is inevitable within the next few years. He intimates that the conflict may become general, involving other European powers.

"The visit of King Edward VII. to the czar," he says, "indicates that M. Clemenceau has resumed the foreign policy adjoined by the fall of M. Delcasse. It is certainly the triple entente opposed to the triple alliance—that is to say, the probable isolation of Germany. We should not deceive ourselves; the inevitable result of this plan is war. Delcasse barely concealed this fact, but parliament understood it so well that Delcasse was overthrown. At this time we opposed a foreign minister whose programme might have been seductive if he means at our disposition for realising it had not seemed to us insufficient."

"We could not throw ourselves into a military adventure with a war minister named Andre and a military marine like Pelletan. Are we better armed today than we were then? Is France more united? Is our government more popular? We have not rid of Andre, but we have replaced him by Gen. Picquart. We do not pretend to judge the professional qualities of this soldier, who has been so strangely favored, but no one can doubt that he is little qualified to strengthen the army's discipline. Moreover, it is certain that the country is more divided than it was at the time when Delcasse secretly conducted, with his finger on his lips, our foreign relations."

"Clemenceau, who flattered himself the other day at Rennes with having reconciled all classes in the republic, has reopened the Dreyfus affair, which should have been forever ended. The financial projects of Caillaux have so weakened our credit that it would be hazardous at this moment to attempt a domestic loan. These do not constitute favorable conditions in which to engage upon a bellicose enterprise. But if the government really desires to follow Delcasse's policy, why was he removed from office?"

"We are following out all his intentions—the penetration of Morocco, the isolation of Germany, ententes with England and Russia which prepare that configuration which we hoped to escape. We have lost three years during which time Germany has so strengthened herself that at the present moment the superiority of our former enemy is probably greater than ever. We greatly fear that we shall be forced to choose one of these days between war or a still more redoubtable humiliation. We earnestly hope that the government will note the danger of the situation, and that it will avoid the conflict, or, in any case, get ready for it."

MISSING BANKER MYSTERY

Lady Seeks to Prove Death of Man Who Vanished on Wedding Eve

LONDON, July 1.—A renewed application will shortly be made in the probate division to presume the death of Wm. Robert Liddell, formerly manager of the Indemnity, Somerset, branch of Stuckey's Bank. It will be remembered that Mr. Liddell, who was to have married a lady named Miss Chapman of Newbury, Berkshire, mysteriously disappeared on Jan. 3, 1892, the eve of his marriage.

By a will dated March 5, 1890, Mr. Liddell left Miss Chapman all his property. On the date of his disappearance it was found that he had gone by train to London, and a month later there appeared in several newspapers an announcement of Mr. Liddell's death on board Miss A. H. Vining's yacht Foresight. No yacht, however, of that name was registered, and though it has been suggested that both the yacht and Miss Vining were myths, there is a strong opinion in the West of England that "Miss Vining" was a real lady, who possessed a large fortune, and was infatuated with the banker.

In February, 1892, Miss Chapman received by registered post an envelope, addressed in a strange handwriting, containing, amongst other things, £200 in bank notes and a visiting card bearing the words in Mr. Liddell's writing, "Was true to you."

In refusing the application to presume the death, his lordship, on Nov. 2, last, suggested that before the matter was again brought up six months should elapse. The publicity has brought many letters bearing on the subject, some of which will make very interesting reading when the renewed application comes before the court.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION
Catastrophe Last Evening in a Russian Colliery — Troops Sent to Preserve Order.

YUNOVKA, Russia, July 1.—Last evening a violent explosion occurred in the Rikovsky Mine in which 500 miners were at work. A hundred are reported to have been killed. The thousands of miners in the town are greatly excited because of the accident, and reports have been hastily summoned to prevent the disorders which are feared.

GIRL LOSES HER LIFE
TRYING TO SAVE CAT

YORK, Pa. July 1.—Mabel Seiple was crushed to death here today while trying to save the life of a small kitten, which she feared would be crushed to death by the falling of some railroad ties.

The little girl made a leap for the cat and in so doing disturbed the heavy timbers. She fell beneath, and her life was instantly crushed out. The kitten escaped without injury as did her sister who was also trying to catch the cat.

AMUSEMENTS.
BUSTER BROWN AT THE PRINCESS.
Probably no vaudeville act ever put on in the city has attracted so much attention as Buster Brown and his company, who are now playing there. Yesterday the large house was packed to the doors, afternoon and evening, and all expressed themselves as very much pleased with the show. Buster will appear in an entirely different show today and on Saturday after the matinee he will hold a reception on the stage for the ladies and children. This is in addition to our regular picture programme, which is much above the average this week. Four of the best and latest comedy subjects ever published. Don't forget the matinee. Buster appears at the matinee every day at 3 o'clock and twice in the evening. A. Monroe Dorr, the famous New England baritone, will be heard in the latest illustrated songs.

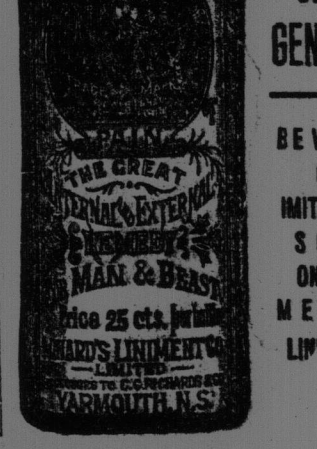

NICKEL'S NEW VOCALIST A STAR.
In Miss Isabel Foley, mezzo-soprano, who made her bow to St. John people yesterday at the Nickel, the music lovers of this city have a young lady who will enrich the big picture house's programmes for several weeks to the delight of thousands. Miss Foley, whose home is in Montreal, is a cultured, refined singer of unusual ability and in her home city is identified with the leading musical organizations and church choirs. In the ballad, "Sweet Adeline," she sang with exquisite expression and sweetness, and yesterday's intense heat the big Nickel was as cool as the proverbial cucumber.

2,000 FEET AT THE UNIQUE.
Despite the exceptionally hot weather yesterday the Unique Theatre was packed to the doors from the opening until the last show. The programme, which will be shown today, also is the best ever put on by a picture house in this city. Two of them are feature films and one of these, "For the Sake of a Crown," was issued less than a week ago. A daughter was born to the King and Queen, who very much desired a son. The King takes the baby girl to the house of a peasant and bribes him to exchange his infant son for the girl. He does so and the twenty years afterward the King is injured and on his death bed admits that the young heir is not his son. The other feature is acknowledged by the press to be a masterpiece. It is called "A Night of Terror," and has been the hit of both hemispheres. To judge by the reception it received last night its picture ever shown here has been as much appreciated. Two other pictures, "The Letter," a beautiful pathos story, and "The Mayor's Misfortune," a comedy. New songs by W. H. Harrison, Wm. Lanyon and Happy Butler.

OSTLER JOE AT THE HAPPY HALF HOUR.
The fifty-nine windows at the Happy Half Hour made this popular house delightfully cool yesterday, and patrons were delighted with the new programme. Ostler Joe, as predicted, made the same hit here that it has in the large cities in the States, and many ladies and a few gentlemen were seen to frequently dry their eyes, and the beautiful and touching story was told in the motion picture. Nobody who has read the beautiful poem should fail to see the picture. Tears were changed to laughter when The Sticky Lampost was shown, and another scream was an Exquisite Wedding, showing how the famous "costers" of London enjoy themselves at a wedding. Today there will be new songs. Prof. Titus will sing, I Like Your Way, and Harry LeRoy has a winner in When The Robins Sing Again. Today will be the last chance to see "Ostler Joe," and no one should miss it. It is alone worth the price of admission. New pictures today.

COLE BROS. CIRCUS.
The picturesque Arabs who ride the camels in Cole Brothers' World Famous Shows as it parades through the city, are about as a unique set of men as one would care to meet. They live a life of religious devotion, and their every move is under the protection of some god or other. When one of these Brahmins cleans his teeth he must use a small twig, and before he cuts it he must make his act known to the god of the woods. He must not indulge in the daily habit of every day. He must abstain on the sixth, eighth, ninth, fourteenth and the last day of the month, on the Tuesdays in every week, on the day of the constellation under which he was born, on the day of the month which corresponds to his birthday, and an eclipse, at the equinoxes and other

RECORD MONTH IN COAL MINING IN CAPE BRETON
SYDNEY, July 1.—The month of June was a record breaking month for the Dominion Coal Company, both as regards output and shipments. The total output approximated 340,000 tons, and the shipments reached 325,000 tons, 250,000 of which went up the St. Lawrence. The quantity of coal sent out by the big Cape Breton company last month is equal to the total amount handled by some of the Nova Scotia mainland companies the entire year. Thus the last year from its four pits was in the vicinity of 375,000 tons, or exactly what the Dominion Coal Co. shipped last month.

The outlook at present is for the biggest year in the history of the Cape Breton coal trade.

THE STAR, ST JOHN, N. B. THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1908

SIX

HIS IDEAL

By DESTA B. BROWN WOODS

(Copyrighted, 1908, by Jesse Morgan.)
"Now, Harry, honestly you don't believe that?"
"Yes I do. A true woman is always a coward. Brave is a masculine adjective, incapable of being used with a feminine noun."
"Oh, boy! You are old-fashioned, my boy!"
"I grant you—medieval in fact—but neither Joan of Arc nor Boudicca, either, my heart, like a certain little girl who faints when she pricks her finger with a pin."

"That's what it is to be in love. Your ideal is based on what you think to be Miss Osborne's character. Now, for my part I believe that young lady capable of heroism."
"And I tell you, George Evans, that the very thought of physical pain turns her cheek pale; but, in the matter of moral courage—well I could stake my life on her there. She has such a high ideal of truth and honor. She is so—"

"Oh, yes, yes! Spare me! Remember I am not in love."
An hour later he was sitting with his fiancée, a puzzled, pained expression on his face.

"I don't think I understand you," he said slowly. "You don't mean that you told your father the money was spent on this silly speculation?"
Jesse Osborne's pretty cheeks were very pink.

"Well, I thought it a good investment, and father never lets me try stocks."
"But, Jesse, you have been deceiving him for months!"

A pair of little white hands flew to hide the pink cheeks.
"Oh, I'm sorry, I'm miserable—and you don't care," came in broken sobs.

"There, there," he said soothingly, as he took the slight form in his arms. "I didn't mean to be cross, but my darling we must be honest. We must help each other to be true and morally brave."

"Of course," he mused on the way home. "Her father must have known from the first what she was doing and simply meant to give her a lesson by allowing her to proceed. Poor little girl, she didn't mean any harm, but I am disappointed. I didn't think her capable of the slightest deception."

As he turned the corner, leading to his boarding house, the light streamed out from Dr. Gordon's office and he dropped in for a moment's chat.

"I say, Nell, you don't look well! What's the matter?" the doctor inquired.

"Oh, I believe I have nerves, and I haven't slept well lately."
"You had better let me give you a sleeping draught, and then take a week's rest soon."

The sleeping draught had the desired effect, and scarcely had Harry's head touched the pillow when he was wrapped in deep slumber. After a time he was dimly conscious of a hum of voices in the street below. The room was hot and he tossed off some of the bedclothes. His throat smarted and his head ached. There was a strange roaring in his ears. He struggled to rouse himself, but it was to great an effort, and he lay dreamily listening to the voices below.

"My God, Evans, Nell is in his room!" came in terrified undertone from Dr. Gordon. "I gave him a dose, and the noise has never wakened him."
"We must take a rope to him," said Evans, and Harry's eyes opened at the unaccustomed ring in his friend's voice.

"But how?" Again it was Dr. Gordon's voice. The front verandas are all in flames."
"Could we reach him by means of the new building? That beam runs parallel with his room?"

"It would be madness," exclaimed Mr. Osborne. "The beam wouldn't hold your weight. See! It has burned through at the end next the Nelson house."

This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life.
Mrs. Emma Chateau, Valleyfield, Bellefleur, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want to tell you that without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I would not be alive. For months I suffered with painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the feminine organs. Doctors could not do anything for me and I had a tumor. One of my cousins advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her."

"I did so and now I have no pain and am entirely cured. Your remedy is deserving of great praise."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, "crisis" pains, backache, that bear-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, nervous prostration, etc., etc.

Don't you try it?
Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. Guided thousands to dress, Lynn, Mass.

Was it all a nightmare, Harry wondered, or was it an awful reality? But the next words which reached him cleared the vapors from his brain and made him spring from his bed with a bound.

"The beam won't hold you heavy men, but I can go. I only weigh ninety pounds. I'll take the rope," came in Jesse's well-voiced voice.

Nell rushed to the window and hurriedly sized up the situation. His room was in the corner of the third flat, with two windows—one at the front of the house and one at the side. From the front window he could see the firemen at work. The veranda and whole face of the house were a mass of fire and smoke. Water from the hose played on the blaze, but the crackling of the flames came like the laughter of a victorious fiend.

He ran to the side window. A new building was in process of construction, but the skeleton structure had already caught fire.

The smoke cleared for an instant, and the crowd below caught sight of him. He recognized the white faces of Mr. Osborne, George Evans and Dr. Gordon. Life was sweet. There was no escape! And again he scanned the new building.

Some one was coming to him. A girl in a jersey waist, and short, tucked skirt, carrying in her hand a coil of rope. Her face was upraised for a moment, and he recognized Jesse amid the fire and smoke! She must not come farther, and placing his hand on the window ledge, he prepared to descend.

"Stop, you fool!" came from below. "Nell, for any sake, don't put your foot on that beam or it'll be death for you both," shouted Evans.

Convinced that Evans was right, he paused and watched the girl below. Light and agile as a kitten, she climbed from beam to beam and from brace to beam.

A few hours before he had boasted of his strength and bravery, yet here he was forced to stand with folded arms, while this mite of a girl brought him succor. The heat was intense, and the smoke was so thick that he could scarcely see the girl below.

One wrong step meant death. At last silence fell upon the watching crowd, and Jesse reached the second story in safety, and then, as Evans had said, the light was gained.

She placed her foot carefully on the last beam and then slowly transversed the beam until she was within reach of his hands. But a shout from George Evans made him look again. The beam had only sagged and Jesse was walking steadily toward him.

He leaned over the window edge with outstretched arms. A moment's awe, suspense, and then with a little cry, she sprang into his lover's embrace. As her foot left the beam, the huge skeleton gave way but Jesse and his precious rope were safe in Harry's grasp.

To fasten the rope and lower his predecessor to the ground below was the work of a moment; then hand over hand Harry descended the improvised rope escape. He felt himself seized and carried away from the heat. He heard a confusion of cheers and sobs, and then consciousness left him.

When he came to himself he was lying on a sort in Mr. Osborne's home. Dr. Gordon and George Evans were beside him.

"Jesse!" he queried faintly.
"Yes, and well," Dr. Gordon replied. "She escaped entirely without injury, and her father has carried her almost by main force to her room, to get the rest she needs. In fact," he added, "you monopolized the woman's right of passage."

"It was that confounded dope of yours," Harry retorted.
"It came near costing you your life, but I saved you with each escape. Your injuries are very slight, although your handgrips look formidable. The burns are only surface burns and won't even spoil your beauty, and now I must go to Miss Osborne."

As the door closed on Dr. Gordon, George Evans turned to his friend.
"What you said about Miss Osborne's sense of honor is all right, but admit like a man that she had a truer estimate of her courage, or, say," he added jokingly, "although there was a suspicion of treachery in his voice, 'perhaps the engagement is called off, since you don't admire that type.'"

"I can't joke about it, George," Nell answered gravely. "The type of a girl pictured is all right in theory, but—"

Money Unclaimed in Canada's Banks
OTTAWA, July 1.—Mr. Fielding tabled today a report of dividends, unclaimed balances and drafts or bills of exchange remaining unpaid in the chartered banks of Canada for five years and upwards, prior to December 31, last year.

The Bank of Montreal heads the list with $121,688 unclaimed balances, $5,124 unpaid dividends and $38,348 unpaid drafts or bills of exchange. Unclaimed balances of this bank for 1908 were $11,178.

The unclaimed balances of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank have grown from $90,060 in 1900 to $103,175 in 1907.

Other banks with large balances lying unclaimed are Bank of British North America, with $84,379, and Canadian Bank of Commerce, with $33,286.

Those with the smallest amounts unclaimed are the Bank of St. John's, with $8,28, the Sovereign Bank, with $91.73 and the St. Stephen's Bank, with $308.78.

The total figures show an increase in unclaimed balances over 1907 the latter year being $54,574, and 1907 $38,246.

THE GLORIOUS FIRST HAPPILY CELEBRATED

Ideal Weather Helped—
In Town and Out Crowds
Had Good Time.

Thousands Went Out of City—Many Attractions for Those Who Remained.

Fast Races at St. Stephen and Springhill—Day Quietly
Observed Elsewhere.

Dominion Day, 1908, in St. John passed into history. Thousands availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a day of rest and recreation. The weather was ideal, and the day was a success in every particular. All average of travel reported their quota of excursionists, and in many instances records of former years were smashed. The day in the world of sport was replete with contests that interested throngs of enthusiastic spectators. Every form of outdoor amusement was represented, those leading to aquatic were treated to yacht races of more than ordinary merit, while baseball fans saw several clever nines contest on local diamonds.

Crowds visited the local parks and both seaside and Rockwood parks proved attractions to the city's population. The many excursions from the city were well patronized, while incoming and outgoing trains both brought in and departed with happy throngs both enjoying the holiday.

All in all the Dominion Day celebration was one of exceptional interest, sport and pleasure, and the city's pleasure was marred by very few accidents. The evening programme was brought to a fitting close by the fact that all Canadians hold most dear and which was observed in a manner most patriotic.

Four interesting ball games were played in the city. On the Shamrock grounds in the morning the St. Josephs defeated St. John the Baptist, and in the afternoon St. Peters won from St. Roses. On the Victoria grounds in the morning the Clippers defeated the Marathons, and in the afternoon the Marathons won from the Exmouths. On the golf links St. John won from Woodstock. The Pousum captured the R. K. Y. C. cruising race. The cruising race for salmon boats won by the Nabobs. E. E. Hyde's boat captured the first motor boat race for the Leonard trophy. Shooting matches took place on the rifle range both morning and afternoon.

Throughout the province the weather was perfect and every opportunity for city people to get into the country was seized upon.

At Fredericton the day was spent quietly. At St. Stephen the driving park was opened and a large crowd enjoyed some interesting local horse racing. In Amherst three baseball games were played between the St. John Portlands and the Amherst Ramblers, the local men winning two of the games.

The racing at Springhill, which will be continued tomorrow, was exciting. At Sussex the big attraction was, of course, the soldiers and visitors from all over the province were there.

The day was considered one of the most enjoyable, so far as the weather was concerned, in recent years.

Terminal Superintendent Ross told a reporter for The Sun last evening that traffic on both the C. P. R. and I. C. R. in and out of this city yesterday, was heavier than on Dominion Day last year. Every outgoing train in the morning was crowded with holiday seekers. Nearly five hundred people went up to Sussex to watch the soldiers on parade. Hampton, Robesay, Westfield and other suburban resorts were thronged with people all day. All the trains ran on time yesterday, with the exception of the westbound Montreal express, which was an hour and a half late in arriving here. The train was delayed on account of a locomotive breaking down at Oxford Junction. No other accidents were reported along either line.

While the majority went out of town yesterday there were still thousands left to enjoy the attractions in the city. Rockwood Park was one of the principal places sought by those who remained in the city. It is estimated that over five thousand people visited the park during the day and fully as many at night.

St. Mary's Band rendered a fine programme of music in the afternoon. There was also an Al vaudeville bill and other attractions for the holiday throng.

Many spent Canada's forty-first birthday at Seaside Park, where a cool breeze and slightly music helped to make the day most enjoyable.

There was a large number of excursion parties yesterday. Many private parties were held at the suburban resorts. Reports from Westfield say that an unusually large number of visitors were present yesterday. All the river steamers made about two trips each and carried large crowds. Ben Leonard was the mace of a large number of fishermen. Both the Barker House and Johnson's did an excellent business.

Harry O'Neill was successful in securing eight dozen speckled beauties. There were about a dozen ducks, a few turkeys. A fish-tail wind and bright sun made aims at long distance difficult, and consequently the scores made were below the average. The prize winners were:

Class A—E. F. Gladwin, spoon, 76 points.
Class B—Geo. Dickson, spoon, 73 points.

The afternoon match was shot at King's ranges and good scores were made by the winners. In addition to the usual open prize the challenge cup presented by W. H. Thorne & Co. and a cash prize of $2 added by the winners.

The prize winners were: E. F. Gladwin, cup and $2, 57 points. Class A—J. Kennedy, spoon, 84 points. Class C—A. G. Staples, spoon.

The third match of the Canadian Military League will be held on next Saturday afternoon, when it is hoped the club members will attend in order to maintain the present lead in the former two matches shot.

The 62nd Rifle Club held a spoon match on the range in the afternoon. It was fairly well attended. The shooting, as a rule, was about up to the average. The tie between Major Perley and Lt. Bentley for first place was broken by a shot by the former. The following are the winners in the various classes: Class A—Major Perley, 93 points. Class B—Col. Sgt. Earle, 79 points. Class C—Pte. Armstrong, 71 points. Class D—Pte. Wilkinson, 61 points.

FREDERICTON POLICE FORCE GOES UNDER CONTROL OF COMMISSION

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 1.—At midnight tonight the new law placing the police force in the hands of a commission will come into force and at this hour the terms of the present police expires, so that from 12 o'clock until the new contingent is sworn in Fredericton, legally speaking, will have no guardians. It is announced tonight that the commissioners will meet at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and in an hour later will present the names of their selection to Magistrate Marsh, who will immediately swear the new men into office. It is pretty well understood that Sergt. Phillips and Officer Wright will be retained, that Geo. H. Winter will be a new man, but as regards the other members of the force the city council will meet Tuesday evening, when the salaries of the new force will be fixed. It seems to be the general impression that these salaries will be placed as formerly. Already there are rumors about that the new commission and officers are in an ill-humored mood, and it will not surprise many if some pretty tough times are in store. Police Phillips and Wright have been on the force for twenty-six years and have proved good and faithful officials.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 1.—Dr. Samuel C. Primeau, of Lunenburg, Annapolis county, aged 71, one of the best known medical practitioners in Nova Scotia, died at the Victoria General Hospital this evening of Bright's disease. He had practiced medicine at Lunenburg for 41 years. He is survived by a widow. The body will be interred at Lawrence-town.

NEW YORK, July 1.—It can be stated with assurance tonight that Frank B. Kellogg, Republican national committeeman from Minnesota, will not consider a tender of the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO REACH THE POLE

Commander Peary Will Sail Monday
Explorer Will Join him at Sydney—His Plan for the Trip

NEW YORK, July 1.—Commander Robert E. Peary is to make another attempt to locate the North pole. The steamer Roosevelt, built for him by the Peary Arctic Club, and which carried him and his party to the far north on the last expedition, next Monday will begin her northward voyage.

Peary will join his party at Sydney, C. B., where the Roosevelt will stop to take on coal. He had planned to have his ship leave New York today, but the uncertainty of getting the $50,000 necessary to finance his expedition caused the slight delay. All but $5,000 of the fund required has been secured and Peary is hopeful of raising this amount before he leaves the city.

"Everything is now arranged for the trip," said Commander Peary today, upon his return from his trip to Maine. "Excepting that something for $5,000 is needed to complete the funds necessary to provide the essential equipment."

"If I do not obtain that I shall have to curb the equipment to the extent of $5,000. However, I am hopeful that the entire sum will be raised before leave. I have anticipations that even material objects I consider necessary to permit us to get farthest north will be provided before the Roosevelt leaves out of port."

During the day supplies are taken aboard and stowed away in the steamer's hold. The Roosevelt has been thoroughly overhauled and a picked crew of hardy Newfoundlanders (15th Capt. Robert A. Bartlett, of Brigades sailing upon his return from his trip to Maine. A collier will accompany the Roosevelt as far north as Edd, where Peary's coal depot in the last expedition was located.

Peary's plans for the coming expedition, aside from his expectation of placing the stars and stripes at the north pole, include researches into the north coasts of Great Land and Greenland. He will follow practically the same route as he did on his last trip, but the line of his goal. He has planned carefully to overcome many of the obstacles which were encountered on former expeditions, especially the "big lead" for open water which nearly caused the death of himself and his little band on their return from the farthest north.

HOLIDAY QUIET IN HALIFAX.
HALIFAX, July 1.—The national holiday was universally observed in Halifax, all places of business being closed, and much business was disrupted. The weather was intensely hot, the thermometer registering 86 in the shade and 106 in the sun, causing people to flock to seaside resorts. Outside of the local baseball and cricket matches and quiet competitions and picnics there were no other attractions in the city. The members of the medical association now in convention here were the guests of the Sydney Quill Club this afternoon.

REALLY SHORT CUTS.
"Way up in Vermont Uncle Eph was looking over his field of clover when up drops a neighbor.
"Gass is awful short this year, ain't it, Uncle Eph?" he said.
"Short," cried Uncle Eph. "Why, it's so blamed short the bumblebees hev to git down on their knees to suck the blossoms!"—Woman's Home Companion.

JUMPED INTO NIAGARA RIVER
TORONTO, July 1.—Booby Leech jumped off the upper steel arch bridge into the Niagara river today, using a parachute. He alighted in the river and swam to the waiting boat. His inflation was made of the parachute in an announcement and it was a pretty performance.

A Customer's Reasonable Wish is This Store's Pleasure.

DYKEMAN'S

Ladies' Jackets.

Customers told us at the first of the season, that we had the best value of Ladies' Jackets to be found in the city, but now that a big sale has been taken off the price, they are a bargain worth looking after.

$4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 are the new prices on these coats. They are made from Coverts, Keffers and Tweeds, short lengths in tight fitting, semi-tight fitting and loose coats. Long coats in semi-tight fitting and loose.

White Shirtwaists.

This has been known as the shirt waist store of St. John simply because we carry the best styles at the lowest price.

Strikingly attractive white lawn waists at 50 cents, 75 cents, $1.00, $1.50 and up to $3.00 each. Those at $1.00 were made especially to give extra value for this popular price. They are beautifully trimmed with lace and made from fine, British lawn, these waists are long sleeves, the sleeves are trimmed as well as the body of the waists.
