CAVALIERIA TAKES STEP TO SECURE RIGHTS

Pre-nuptial Agreement Signed By Husband Transfers To Her Interest In $140,000 Property.

DOCUMENT FILED IN REGISTER'S OFFICE

New York, Sept. 16.—The pre-nuptial agreement between Robert Winthrop Chandler, of this city and his bride, Lina Cavalleria, of Paris, the prima donna, was filed today in the office of the register of New York county.

After defining the purpose of the agreement as being to remove all doubts that might exist, owing to a difference of the parents as to the law governing their mutual property rights the document proceeds that "in consideration of the sum of one dollar paid, said intended Mr. Chandler shall assign to his wife all his real estate and all his interest in the estate of the late Laura Delaney of a mortgage said to be $140,000, for her sole and subsequent use absolutely.

Should the income from the real estate prove insufficient at any time to pay the $20,000 yearly agreed on, a second power of attorney is conferred all the real estate taken under its terms and all other taxes, and for the purpose of securing the payment of the said yearly sum, Cavalleria is constituted his "true and lawful attorney in law" to collect the rents and profits.

With the exception of these details the agreement specifies that the property of each of the principals "shall remain the separated property and under the sole control of each of them, and furthermore, that their status and capacity generally shall be governed by the laws of the state of New York."

It is supposed, will contest the agreement. The document not only confers the sweeping powers enumerated above, but it lists parcel by parcel all the real estate taken under its control. It then continues: "And all other realty (if any) forming part of the share of the above named Robert Winthrop Chandler and in the estate of the late Laura Delaney subject to a mortgage of $140,000, or thereabouts, and all right, title and interest therein, but subject to the mortgages thereon."

The agreement is dated May 31, and signed and witnessed in the presence of Hanson C. Cox, deputy consul general of the United States at Paris. It is written in English on parchment.

TAFT HAS NOT GIVEN WAY TO ROOSEVELT

Report To This Effect Considered Not Worthy Of Denial—President Willing If Nomination Is Tendered.

ROOSEVELT SEES COUNTY LEADERS

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 16.—The publication of a story in certain newspapers yesterday afternoon and this morning purporting to come from Beverly and announcing that President Taft had decided to step aside as a presidential candidate in 1912 to make way for Col. Roosevelt brought many inquiries to the summer capital today. For a time an official denial was considered but it was decided not to dignify the story which is reported to have been without any foundation whatever, with a statement. It can be stated that there has been no change in President's Taft's attitude toward a second term since he told a number of friends a few months ago that he would accept a second nomination if his party desired to tender it to him and that if that portion of the American people represented by his party seemed to want him. The president it is said is not considering his chances for a second term one way or the other this time. From the first he has said he would devote his time to carrying out as near as possible the pledges of the platform on which he was elected for a four year term. Mr. Taft it is pointed out does not know how to play politics and he has been quoted as saying that he would not do so if he were president. Beverly's busy season is about at an end. President Norton left today to pay a flying visit to his family. The president starts for New Haven and Cincinnati on Sunday night. Mr. Norton will leave the party at New Haven. Altogether the president will be away from Beverly two weeks, returning here on October 1st to remain until the 15th of that month. Grahame-White, the English aviator, who captured nearly all of the prizes of the recent Harvard meet, called on the president at Burgess Point this afternoon.

Wearing the bandages necessitated by the wounds he received in his mishap yesterday when his triplane was wrecked, A. V. Roe, the English aviator, attended the banquet. Gov. Draper also spoke during the evening.

BALLINGER DOES NOT FEAR FOR FUTURE

U. S. Secretary Of Interior On Eve Of Return To Washington Conscious Of Doing His Duty.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 16.—"I don't care what anybody says about me so long as I am conscious of doing my duty, not only as a private citizen, but as a public officer, the man who pursues the course that seems to him to meet the obligations of his place in life, has no need to fear for the future."

So declared Richard Ballinger, secretary of the interior, at a luncheon given him by the chamber of commerce before his departure for the east. "So far as the public service of this country is concerned, every man I know in this administration is laboring first to know the needs of the nation, then to execute these needs within the limits of the law, and constitution."

TWO HURT IN HANDLING OF HALIFAX FIRE

Blaze Threatened Whole Water Front—Roof Collapsed With Captain Richard Stone And Fireman Bennett.

THREE BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., Sept. 16.—Halifax firemen had to battle with flames tonight that completely destroyed three buildings on the market wharf and came dangerously near sweeping away the entire south end of the water front. The flames started in Adam's feet store and spread with great rapidity licking the way up the wooden walls and catching the grocery store of Miss Fazio and a large storehouse used by I. B. Shaffner & Co. These buildings were completely gutted and several others were slightly damaged. Capt. Richard Stone and Fireman Vincent Bennet both of no. 2 steamer had a narrow escape from death and are both in the Victoria General Hospital in a serious condition. While fighting the flames on a ladder the roof of the burning building fell with a terrific crash burying both firemen in the debris. The men were rescued with great difficulty and may not recover.

COTTON MEN IN SESSION

Manufacturers Hear Interesting Papers Read At Annual Meeting—European Countries After Southern Trade.

Fortsmouth, N. H., Sept. 16.—"Conditions are rapidly changing; we are losing our position as the great exporters of foodstuffs, and must give more attention to exporting our manufactured goods," declared C. A. Green, of New York tonight in speaking before the 58th semi-annual meeting of the national association of cotton manufacturers in this city on the subject of Foreign Markets For Cotton Textiles. Mr. Green cited the great South American markets in which the United States imports amount to a small per cent. "It is an undeniable fact," said he, "that the need for a more extended market for our textile productions exists and it seems to me that the great safeguard for our industry lies in getting those markets."

Spencer Janney Steinmetz, of Boston, in a paper on the cotton mills of Mexico, called attention to the fact "that the cotton mills of Mexico do not produce one-fifth of the cotton demanded by that country and four-fifths is imported from France, England and Germany, and while I have not the exact figures of the trade we receive, it is in the hands of the United States of America that we should be open for business in three years—then all English, French and German mills will reap the rich harvest they have so diligently sown in the past and present. They have mapped their plans and we must get active if we want the vast Latin-American business."

Fine Time For Study. In a paper on "Part Time Instructions for the Textile Industry," W. H. Dooley, principal of the Lawrence Industrial School of Lawrence, Mass., urged that some part of the working hours for instructions to the large number of young wage earners. This would break up the long working hours, and the young people would be better fitted mentally and physically to grasp the reasons that they would if they tried to attend night schools. The system has been tried successfully abroad, and in other industries in this country.

Among the other papers at the evening session were "Russian Turkistan and its Products," by Nicholas Malakowski, Ph. D., secretary to the cotton committee of St. Petersburg, and "The Textile Industry in Hungary," by Joseph B. Bolgar, of Fall River, Mass.

A ripple was caused in the business session of the evening when H. L. Gantt, of New York, a guest of the association, in addressing the meeting made the assertion that the association was taking all the interest it should in its industry outside of buying and selling.

People's Pulpit.

"Which is the True Gospel?"

Sermon by Charles T. Russell, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ"—Romans 1, 16.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—The International Bible Students Convention is in session here with an excellent attendance and deep interest manifested.

Three weeks ago today Christendom was startled by a communication which announced that the Christian Alliance had lifted a collection of $60,000 in a few minutes—$300 in cash, the balance in promises.

Secular editors were astonished. They had been congratulating Christian people that the days of the rack the thumb screw and the stake were past and that from every quarter were coming appeals for Christian Union.

Explanation Surely in Order. Since Brother Simpson may not care to tell the whole truth about the matter and since the Christian public is interested and ought to know the facts I must tell them.

There are two reasons why Brother Simpson thought it doubtful if he could come next year following our three days of this year.

(1) He knew instinctively that his collections would be smaller, hardly worth coming for, if the people should begin to get the eyes of their understanding more widely opened.

(2) The $60,000 "raised" was not cash and a large proportion of it never will be. Some of it is promised over and over again and telegraphically, and over, as was the case with the young woman who in the spectacular manner offered her jewels from time to time and had it mentioned in the papers.

This same method is illustrated in the Chicago Stock Yards. A fine, large, trained bull gallops out to meet the cattle designed for slaughter.

We do not mean to say that those who give their money are slaughtered or otherwise injured. We believe that they are blessed—that everyone is blessed who sacrifices anything heartily to the Lord, or to what they suppose to be His service, whether it is or not.

"The Darkness Hateth the Light." Some one may inquire, why the Christian Alliance should fear us and whether or not we have ever done them harm. We reply, "No, we have injured them in the slightest degree, nor ever even publicly mentioned their name before."

As Christian people come to see the grossness of the errors by which they have been blinded the light not only has a blessed and transforming effect upon their minds, but it influences their pocketbooks also.

Let the Truth Prevail.

If the intelligent men connected with the Alliance really believe that horrible nightmare of the Dark Ages which they are proclaiming as the Gospel of Christ, then, of course, they are excusable for preaching it.

Everybody knows that the word Gospel signifies "good tidings." And everybody ought to know that, as Christians, we have for centuries misused the word, applying it to the bad tidings of great misery to all people, except the mere handful of the elect.

Which is the True Gospel? Catholic and Protestant orthodox have for four centuries two general views of the Gospel of Christ. To whatever extent they now disagree with these they should publicly disown and abandon them.

The Catholic Gospel (Good Tidings) is that all the heathen, all Catholics and all Protestants, except a mere handful, go to a purgatory of awful suffering, terrible anguish, lasting for decades, centuries and thousands of years, roasting, boiling, agonizing and thus purging away their sins and dross that they may ultimately attain to heavenly bliss for the remainder of eternity.

Our Protestant Gospel.

Our Protestant Gospel of which we are so proud that we want to thrust it upon Jews and Catholics and heathen everywhere, we should thoroughly understand, enjoy and appreciate before we waste good time and money giving it to others.

The Reformers criticized the Catholic teachings which they had formerly believed. They examined their Bibles and found nothing there to the effect that Mary was the mother of God, nor that we should pray to saints, nor that we should use pictures or images in our worship, nor that their sacrifice of Christ in the mass was proper, nor that there was a Purgatory anywhere.

From Coast to Coast. At a temperature of from 34 to 38 degrees F. this trip was made with a Bernet refrigerator and cannot be duplicated by any other refrigerator.

At a meeting of the Presbyterian congregation at Chipman on Thursday, presided over by Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, of St. John, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. J. F. Polley, Ph. D. of Ferrons, N. S., accompanied by a guarantee of a stipend of $1,000.

Just One Week More For Special Prizes

The Diamond Ring, Gold Watch, Gold Brooch, and Mesh Bag Are the Attractions for Next Week—Hustle and Wear a Diamond.

Continued from page 1. The work to be done in the contest will be of short duration, but the enjoyment of the results will last for years. It is well worth one's time to help a candidate win out; it is well worth the candidate's time and close attention in the few remaining weeks of the contest to make every single working hour count.

The desire of the ladies who entered in The Standard and New Star's Bermuda tour contest to possess the special prizes, and the work done by them already as a starter toward earning the rewards is reflected in the greatly increased number of ballots cast.

The prompt response of the friends of the various contestants is, indeed very gratifying to the ladies and to The Standard and New Star. The diamond ring, the watch, the solid gold brooch and silver mesh bag are worth striving for, and besides all votes cast for them will count for the trips also.

The next week will be very interesting and exciting, and every reader of The Standard or New Star will watch every vote with a great deal of interest. Concentrated efforts are the most effective now. At this period of the contest there is at stake the winning of a valuable prize, and the votes accumulated in this effort place the active contestants in the realm of big numbers and in good position to start in the last grand period for the final closing on October 8th, when it will be determined who are the winners of the New York City and Bermuda tours.

Just seven days remain for the busy candidates to get in the votes that will tell who the fortunate ones are that will receive the beautiful jewelry. Votes will win them. Get the votes and wear a fine diamond ring.

These vacation trips and special prizes are surely worth a little hustle on your part. And you can win them with just the same ease as anyone else if you only think so. You will find that people are willing to help you if you only ask them.

The record of these last few days conclusively proves this. There is no one in the race for the Bermuda tours who can feel sure of her laurels until the last vote is counted. Every contestant has friends who have promised to subscribe before the contest ends. The Standard and New Star are doing their share to get these promises fulfilled. Let the contestants do their full share, and then, even if they do not win, there will be no vain regrets, nor sorrowful expressions, such as "If I had only seen So and So!" An ounce of work is worth a pound of regret after October 8th. Get busy at once; use the telephone, and make personal calls—any way will do, but be sure to see them all, for to lose a trip to Bermuda or a valuable prize by the 1000 votes you might have gotten from one of the persons you should have seen, but did not, would not only be a momentary, but a lifelong regret.

Who will take the lead in her district and hold it is becoming an interesting problem. Several changes are likely to take place shortly, and new leaders may be looked for any day. The trips and special prizes are to be won, and right now is the time for the ladies who aspire to lead on to victory in their respective districts to determine that they will be the winner. Let everybody know that you are in the contest. There are thousands of votes waiting for the ladies, and all they have to do is find them. Many people who are now taking The Standard or New Star and paying weekly or monthly would gladly pay a lady her subscription if it would help her win one of the prizes or a trip or both.

CANALEJAS A LLOYD GEORGE Premier of Spain Has Become International Figure As Result of His Contest With Vatican.

Jos Canalejas, premier of Spain, has become a figure of international importance through his successful encounter with the Vatican. Born in wealth and high social position, he has grown to be, if not quite a conservative, at least a strong friend of the monarchy and a staunch upholder of its power.

Like English Situation. Whatever may happen to Canalejas, we may be certain that his place in history is already assured. He has established his right to be reckoned one of the great statesmen of Europe, not only because of the success that has attended his dealings with the Vatican, but because of the other features of his policy that are designed to regenerate Spain.

The old-age pension system of Great Britain has been adopted by the Spanish premier; and he proposes to reform the military service. Every man in Spain is supposed to serve in the army; but the practice of permitting the wealthy to hire substitutes has prevailed for many years.

Canalejas' campaign upon clericalism began ten years ago, when he declared in the Cortes, "We must make war against clericalism," this being the first time within the memory of man when such an appalling declaration had been made within the halls of parliament. He had then been in public life for twenty-five years, and had won a reputation for oratory that has gone on increasing ever since.

SAINT JOHN, FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1910.

AFTERMATH OF THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

The Eucharistic Congress has come and gone, and apart from the notable, if somewhat uncalculated attack on Protestantism, delivered by Rev. Father Vaughan, leaves behind it the memory of several unusual incidents which are attracting comment in the Canadian Press.

The message of the acting-governor general to Cardinal Vannutelli: "The administrator of the government of Canada presents his homage to his Excellency and bids him welcome," has roused the ire of the Toronto World. Under the heading "Have we been absolved of our allegiance to the King," it says:—
"The excuse is offered for Mr. Justice Girouard, who as administrator of the government of Canada presented his homage to his excellency Cardinal Vannutelli, that he did it from his own college at Tadoussac, that neither the secretary of state (Hon. Charles Murphy) nor his deputy (Mr. Thos. Mulvey) nor the goldstick of the department (Mr. Joseph Pope) knew anything of it until later.

"Mr. Justice Girouard can send any private wires he likes, but as administrator of the government of Canada, as representing Earl Grey, who fills the office of the King, is in fact the King for the time being, he did a foolish and a highly unconstitutional thing in presenting 'homage' to the legate of the Pope. The Protestant succession in England, and in Canada as well, is absolutely based on no homage to the Pope. It all turns on that. If the King offers 'homage' to the Pope he admits the Pope to be his superior in religion just as Mr. Justice Girouard meant it. This is tantamount to declaring on the part of the person presenting homage that he is of the Roman Catholic communion.

"Has Mr. Justice Girouard given us all an opportunity of disowning our allegiance? Certainly Mr. Justice Girouard made a bad break. Certainly the prime minister and secretary of state owe the country an explanation; and certainly the head and officers of the department of state had better exercise a more careful supervision of the acts of the administrator of the government of Canada. Our own opinion is that one or more resignations are in order. There is no excuse for carelessness, still less of design in such things."

The fact that Col. Labelle, commander of the 65th Regiment of Montreal permitted members of the regiment to turn out in uniform to provide a guard of honor for Cardinal Vannutelli has been the subject of considerable criticism.

The Winnipeg Telegram, after remarking that Col. Labelle was as good as his word, and that the turnout was in defiance of the King's regulations and of the specific order of Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, proceeds:—

"The precedent is a dangerous one, but since it has been established there is no reason in the world why other sectarian bodies should not copy it. The Orangemen, the Sons of England, the Masonic order—any of these have now a perfect right to decorate their parades with guards of honor furnished by those of their members who are also members of the militia.

"If military honors can be extended to his excellency, Cardinal Vannutelli, they can with equal propriety be extended to the head of any religious organization, to the grand master of the Orange body or grand master of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons. The Minister of Militia, under threat and intimidation, has officially sanctioned this practice and it is difficult to see where it is going to end.

"Numerous organizations may be depended upon to exercise the rights which precedent concedes them. And they will be fully justified in doing so. The Canadian militia is no respecter of persons, sects or creeds, and that fact can be demonstrated by any organization which sees fit to put it to the proof."

The foregoing incidents raise questions which will doubtless be the subject of much animated debate, even if there be no definite outcome. They lack, however, the humor which surrounds the "flag incident" in Montreal during the week of the congress, which is to be the subject of a civic investigation. "The banner joke of the season" is the way the Ottawa Citizen puts it, and proceeds to tell the story of what actually happened.

"When the Montreal city hall was considered dressed for the festivities," says the Citizen, "the building was principally draped in the papal colors, plus a number of French tricolors, Irish flags, etc. It is also said that there was a British flag or two, enough to show that it had not been entirely forgotten. But a distinguished foreign ecclesiastic in the retinue of the cardinal, Archbishop Touchet, took strong objection to the plenteous display of French tricolor, denounced it as the emblem of revolution against the church, and declared that the French flags should be taken down, especially from the churches. Obedient to this the French tricolors were removed from the front of the city hall, but allowed to remain up on the back. When the question arose as to what flags should be substituted in the decorations, apparently nobody seemed to think of the poor old British flag, under the protection of which so much freedom and special rights were being enjoyed, so it was decided to fill in the vacancies with Irish flags.

"When the French-Canadians discovered that Irish flags had been substituted for the tricolor there were wigs on the green. Immediate notice was given that an investigation would be demanded before the city council, and the two factions, neither of which apparently cared a hoot for the one flag which should be most respected by them, were at once ready to lock horns as to what other flags should be preferred to the British colors. Not a moment was lost; they scarcely waited until the congress was over before the demand for an investigation was lodged before the city council. With equal promptitude the demand for an investigation was granted and the investigation will be duly held.

"Perhaps the cream of the whole joke consisted in one of the reasons put forward in condemnation of the slight put upon the French tricolor. One French-Canadian alderman declared with righteous indignation that the Americanized French-Canadians from across the border had been particularly scandalized at not being able to enjoy the pleasure of seeing the tricolor accorded its usual triumphal position, because at home (that is the United States) they are not accustomed to getting 'fair play,' and they came to Montreal expecting to see civil liberty, and were disappointed! In other words the people of the United States, where they now live, would not stand for having a foreign flag flaunted over the stars and stripes, and, that pleasure being denied the Americanized French-Canadians, they had looked forward with pleasurable anticipation to seeing it flaunted in Montreal to the practical exclusion of the British flag. Hence their ingenious and quite natural disappointment.

"It would seem that nearly every flag except the one that braved a thousand years was honored during the festivities, for the report in the New York Herald states that on Sunday when the procession was in progress, 'the first real enthusiasm shown by the masses of humanity along the line of march was when the stars and stripes appeared.' As has already been remarked the majority of the people of this British Dominion are an easy-going lot, but the flag business has surely at last reached the reductio ad absurdum."

THE CONQUEST OF THE BOY.

From the general tone of the American press it would seem that the Boy Scout movement has fallen upon good ground in the States. The New York American admits that Baden-Powell has enjoyed a wide fame as the hero of Mafeking though it does not think that either Mafeking or any other British victory in the Boer war was "so very glorious." And B.P., it considers would hardly belong to the world's current history if he had not added to his conquest in Boerland "the conquest of the heart of the Universal Boy."

"In the United States," says The American, "as well as in Great Britain, in half a dozen countries of continental Europe, as well as in Canada and the other quarters of the British Empire, the name of Baden-Powell stands for the Boy Scout movement. And the Boy Scout movement stands for a glowing idea, that promises to outlive, in its effect upon the mind and heart of the rising generation, any like moral enterprise of our time.

"Such a statement of the case will not seem exaggerated to those who have ever thought what a power of social regeneration lies waiting to be evoked from the enthusiasm of boyhood, or to those who have paid any attention to the development of this affair. Baden-Powell is not a socialist or a professional publicist, but he has made a tremendous contribution to the solution of social problems. In face of the sordidness of monopoly, the meanness of privilege and the general political bewilderment of Europe and America, Baden-Powell has an appeal from the serenity of statecraft to the primal instinct of fair play in the generous soul of youth.

"The Boy Scout movement is an adventure toward fraternity and peace. It is military in its form only because the achievement of fraternity and peace requires soldierly devotion and must be fought for. This truth may be concealed from the 'wise and prudent'—but the boys understand. In England, where the Boy Scout movement has had a three years' run and has subjected hundreds of thousands of youngsters to its chivalric discipline, snobs, cadis, shirks and mollycoddlers are said to feel an uncongenial change in the climate of the country. The spirit of Bayard and Sydney is abroad. The poor, the weak and the unfortunate meet with unaccustomed consideration. There is a band of young knights in every village aching to stop a fire or a bolting horse, to thrash a bully or help an old woman with a burden on her back.

"Here is a living principle that belongs to America by every right. General Baden-Powell would be the first to admit, indeed, that the idea that is actuating his crusade is indigenous to this soil, and that it was worked out by Americans before it was seized upon by his contagious genius and given a worldwide vogue. To the Boy Scouts of every land the American sends respectful greeting, with an assurance that General Baden-Powell shall have a rousing welcome when he comes to New York."

AIR-SHIP VERSUS SEA-SHIP.

Airship or battleship, which would be the victor in an air-sea fight? Captain Hobson, of Spanish-American war fame, has no doubt about it. He declares for the battleship. "The aeroplane has come," he says, "like the torpedo and the submarine, but the battleship remains and will continue to remain king." He comes to this conclusion by arguing from analogy with nature. The experience of nature, he contends, is usually a fair guide for man, and he argues that by the very nature of their realm the birds of the air can put forward no champion that can in any way compete with the creatures that exist on earth and in water.

"Never yet," he says, "has the bird of prey been a menace to the beast or the fish of prey. If actual combat took place the outcome could be but one way. Choosing combat and unable to lift the beast or fish into the air, the bird would of necessity be vanquished. In weapons nature has found it impossible in the air to match the fang, claw, tusk, horn, and hoof of the land combatant."

Such being the case, he argues that there must be some great principle underlying these evolutionary limitations of nature in producing combatant power in the air, and he holds that it is the difficulty of sustaining any considerable weight in the air. The bulk of the activities must be devoted to sustaining the bare weight involved in life itself, and nature could find but a small margin of weight and energy available for purposes of combat.

It will be found difficult, if not impossible, he continues, to sink or destroy a modern battleship by a single blow even below the water-line, except in case of the most powerful mine explosion. How, then, can it be expected to destroy such a vessel by a single blow from the air? Any claim of armor penetration is out of the question.

The battleship now is expected to stand without vital injury scores of blows as heavy as an aeroplane can hope to strike, and in addition it can readily adopt new applications of armor and methods of construction against missiles dropped from above, while at night its searchlights would blind an aeroplane. Capt. Hobson's suggestion of such a defence is two lines of wire nettings held up possibly by small captive balloons, the higher to explode the projectile and the lower to catch the fragments.

MACINTOSH'S WEEKLY LETTER

St. John, N. B., Sept. 16.—Contrary to general expectations Thursday's cables brought no information as to change in the Bank of England rate. All week advices tended to show an easing condition of the London money market, although the outlook at this stage is rather uncertain.

New York Market.

Inactivity in Wall Street still prevails. Trading, except by professionalists, has shrunk to very low proportions and in consequence there is very little demand from stock exchange houses for money. Banks, however, maintain firm rates. The political outlook seems to be the main factor in the market. While the recent Republican defeat in Maine has been hailed as a defeat for Roosevelt, it is not a factor in the eyes of those interested in supporting the market, it is accepted as an indication by most people that the United States is on the verge of a political uprising against the Republican party. Mr. Roosevelt himself seems to be a leader in this very movement. It is questionable, however, if the ex-President has strengthened himself with the country by his recent western speeches.

Wall Street is prepared at all times to discount Roosevelt and a determined effort seems to have been made to keep the market from going off in sympathy with a growing belief that the entering of a new period of unsettled politics. Repeated rumors during the week that a reduction in the price of steel was about to be made, had a weakening effect upon Steel Common for a time which will probably be followed later on by a more active and rising market, provided something very unfavorable does not happen in the meantime. The large financial interests are doing all they can to discourage the purchase of stocks at present for fear that activity and rising prices will cause too severe a strain on the money market.

Montreal Market.

Our Canadian market has again demonstrated its independence of New York by a period of activity on the Montreal Exchange. "Street" is still the storm centre and there is every indication that big plans are in process of being worked out. The latest development in connection with the future of the Montreal Power Co. is still the subject of active discussion. There has been tremendous purchases of Power this week, the price jumping to 148.

Many believe that a scheme is on foot to merge Street, Power and Shawinigan in an effort to offset the plans of the Canadian Power Co. The latter people claim now that they have unquestioned control, but, as their deal would only involve a protracted fight in the courts, far-seeing people on the "Street" now believe that if the Canadian Power people are strong enough to assert themselves there will ultimately be a big deal involving Montreal Power, Canadian Power, Street Railway and Shawinigan. That the latter company may be included seems to be evidenced by the advance in the stock to 105 1/2.

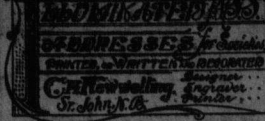

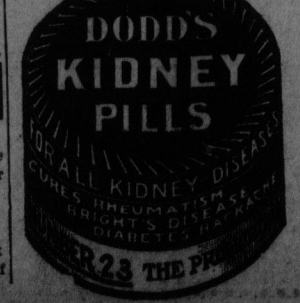

There are all kinds of rumors as to the price the different stocks will go in at, it having been stated some time ago that Canadian Power would go in at 150. If this is so, it is argued that Montreal Power would go in at 200. This way of looking at it is undoubtedly responsible for the big rise in Montreal Power stock. Much to the satisfaction of interested parties Cement has taken a strong upward start.

As intimated in our last letter, there is every prospect of favorable news and it is generally believed that the pool operating in the preferred stock is behind the advance. The showing made by Quebec Railway has resulted in considerable strength in this stock at 44 or better and it is predicted that a further advance may soon be expected. Dominion Steel holds firm at 63 to 64 and Scotia is selling at 85.

Are Your Glasses Right

It's not enough that you should wear glasses—you should be sure they are right—that they properly correct the irregularities in the shape of the eyes and that they fit the face properly.

There's one final test in regard to glasses—do they show results.

If you've been troubled with headaches, do your glasses stop them?

If your sight has been poor do your glasses give you good vision?

If the answer to these questions is "yes," you may be satisfied with your glasses; if not, better let us help you get the right kind.

the Chosho clan, which took a prominent part in the great drama of the restoration. He succeeded Prince Ito as resident general of Korea when the latter was made president of the privy council of Japan, on June 14, 1909. He himself was succeeded last May by General Viscount Terauchi. Prior to leaving Korea, Viscount Sone suffered a serious illness, and was said to be afflicted with cancer of the stomach.

Viscount Sone was appointed in 1899 minister of agriculture and commerce under the Yamagata cabinet and when Marquis (then Viscount) Katsura succeeded Prince Yamagata and formed his cabinet in 1901, Viscount Sone was appointed to the important portfolio of minister of finance. He held this office during the Russo-Japanese war. When the Anglo-Japanese alliance was concluded in 1902, he was created a baron. The Katsura cabinet resigned in 1905 and Sone was appointed a privy councillor, and in the year following he was created viscount in reward for his services during the war. In September, 1907, he was appointed deputy resident general of Korea.

During his incumbency he was perhaps the most outspoken opponent of annexation among all those who gave public utterance to their opinions on this subject, and in an interview shortly before he gave up his office in Korea, he said: "The decision now rests with the Koreans. If they make it impossible for Japan to accomplish her plans, and within the next few years bring about complete order for the benefit of the Korean people, a change will be inevitable, but otherwise notwithstanding the outcry, there will be no annexation, no absorption and no amalgamation."

"I Honestly Believe 'Fruit-a-tives' THE GREATEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM IN THE WORLD"

THE GREATEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM IN THE WORLD

Knowlton, Que., Oct. 12th, 1909.
"For many years, I suffered from severe Rheumatism, and the attacks were very distressing and prevented me from doing my ordinary work. I tried many remedies and physician's treatments, but nothing seemed to do me much good, and I was becoming very anxious for fear I would become a permanent cripple from the disease.
I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this medicine has entirely cured me and I honestly believe it is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world."
E. E. MILLS.

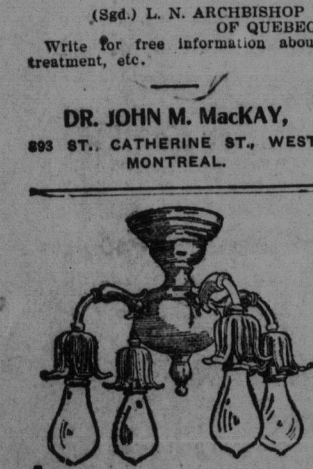

Such a statement could not be bought from a man like Mr. Mills. He thinks too much of his good name, to sell it or sign it an untruth. Mr. Mills tried "Fruit-a-tives" after all other treatment failed—and "Fruit-a-tives" cured him of Rheumatism. In the goodness of his heart, he wrote the above letter in order that sufferers in all parts of Canada would know that there is one remedy that actually does cure Rheumatism. This testimonial was entirely unsolicited on our part. We did not know that Mr. Mills was taking "Fruit-a-tives" until we received the above letter.

It is a case like Mr. Mills' that proves the marvelous powers of "Fruit-a-tives" in arresting and curing disease. It may be stated, without fear of contradiction, that "Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure Rheumatism when properly used.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices and is the greatest Rheumatism cure known to modern science.
50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. Sold by all dealers or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF QUEBEC Strongly Recommends The Dr. John M. Mackay Treatment For DRUNKENNESS

As His Grace says, in the letter below, "I know there are many families that are indebted to you for the peace and happiness they at present enjoy. His Grace has seen for himself—and through the priests of his diocese—that the Dr. John M. Mackay Treatment is not only the best—but also the ONLY CURE—for Drunkenness.
Archbishop's Palace, Quebec.
Dr. J. M. Mackay:
Dear Sir:—Many reliable men, priests, monks and laymen, have often spoken to me of the splendid work you are performing with your treatment. I congratulate you on that work. If you have saved but one person from the vice of drunkenness I would say, "Thank you" but I know and have been able to ascertain myself that in Quebec, as well as in other parts of my diocese, there are many families that are indebted to you for the peace and happiness they at present enjoy. Therefore my heart is gladdened by the good you have done up to this time, and I want to encourage you most strongly to continue your work, and even to extend it, if possible.
Yours, etc.,
(Sgd.) L. N. ARCHBISHOP OF QUEBEC.

Organize Provincial Branch of St. John Ambulance Ass'n

New Brunswick Council Selected, After Hearing Addresses by Col. G. Carleton Jones and Capt. Birdwhistle, at Largely Attended Meeting in Board of Trade Rooms Yesterday -- Lieut. Governor Tweedie Patron -- Col. George West Jones President -- Details of the Work Explained.

After addresses by Col. G. Carleton Jones, director general of the medical services of the militia, and Captain Birdwhistle, General Secretary, delivered before a largely attended meeting in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon, a provincial council of the St. John Ambulance Association was formed. Many men prominent in industrial and professional circles, as well as members of women's organizations, were present. Lieut. Governor Tweedie presided.
In opening the meeting his honor said the fact that Earl Grey was head of the society in Canada should commend it to all good citizens. Ever since coming here His Excellency had been busy boosting movements looking to the material advancement and social betterment of our people. The movement, his honor continued, was in accord with the spirit of the century, though it started in the time of the crusades. The distinctive feature of the day was the interest shown in projects to aid the afflicted. St. John had ambitious big city needs, and first aid societies; the more complicated its industrial organization became, the greater the number of accidents.

The Director General.

Col. Jones then outlined the aims and objects of the association. He said in part:
"The work of the St. John Ambulance Association must be familiar to a certain extent, to all present here today. Ambulance work, meaning first aid instruction and first aid rendering, has been synonymous with the name of this organization. Those of us who have travelled in England must have noticed on days of great gatherings of crowds, in London especially, numerous establishments ready and waiting to render aid to the injured. One cannot help noticing the badge of this association on the arm of many policemen, firemen, and railway men, showing that they have made themselves proficient towards aiding and helping their fellow beings.

"In some instances this is also the case in Canada, notably in Toronto and Vancouver. Although this association has for nearly 20 years been doing work in Canada, it has never been organized on a satisfactory working basis. Branches were organized in various places throughout the country, but the growth was only spasmodic, and rapidly died when individual interest ceased to be active.
"About a year ago it was decided by those interested, to organize the St. John Ambulance work in Canada on a practical working basis. His Excellency the Governor General was asked to give his aid and help, to which he readily agreed. Leading men were interested and the whole movement was launched, and established in a most satisfactory manner. The object of this meeting today is to extend the good work to this province, and to organize a provincial branch, which will, by the formation of working centres throughout the province, enable this organization to extend its practical and philanthropic purposes.

An Honorable Record.

"The Ambulance Department of the Grand Priory of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, has an honorable record and desires your consideration. It is the lineal descendant of an ancient and worthy order of chivalry dating from the Crusades and has been noted for its good works during the intervening centuries. The Patron and Sovereign head of the order is His Majesty; the President and Grand Prior is H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, the head of the Association in Canada is the Governor General, and His Honor the Lieutenant Governor has graciously consented to be the chief in this province.
"The objects of the Association are: The instruction of persons in rendering first aid in cases of accident or sudden illness, and in the transport of sick and injured.
"The instruction of persons in the elementary principles and practice of home nursing.
"The instruction of persons in the principles of domestic hygiene and sanitation.
"The carrying out of works of relief of suffering, of the sick and injured in time of peace and in time of war.
"The organization of auxiliary voluntary aid centres to be utilized in time of war.
"This association prides itself on being practical, and you will see that all its objects are practical, as well as being philanthropic, commercial, conservative and patriotic. This practical character is recognized by practical organizations. As you no doubt know the C. P. R. has taken this matter up, and when its management takes up anything it does so in half measures. The directorate recognize the importance of having its employees instructed in first aid; it realises not only the humane and philanthropic but also the commercial element involved. The C. P. R. has organized a department to take charge of this work and Sir Thos. Shaughnessy has become the honorary president of the association in Canada, and in his usual practical manner has demonstrated his interest in the movement by a large financial donation.

Importance of First Aid.

"Is not the teaching of persons the ways and means of rendering first aid in time of accidents and emergencies practical? We do not purpose to attempt to make skilled medical attendants, but we do purpose to give to the people that knowledge which is so essential to bridge over that awful time between the accident and the arrival of expert aid and assistance. The careful and sensible, in their true sense, management of the patient during that time—it may be minutes, it may be hours and in some cases days, may just make the difference between recovery and loss. Is not this practical? It is more.
"One of the great movements at the present in Canada is for the conservation of our resources. Is not the individual our greatest resource? And everything that aids in the conserving of the individual must aid in the conserving of our natural resources.
"Another practical use being made of this association is by labor unions and authorities. The regulations of the marine department of the board of trade in England, and adopted by the department of marine in Canada, makes it compulsory for masters and crews to hold a first aid certificate of the St. John Ambulance Association. From this you see that it becomes absolutely necessary that first aid instruction should be given in our sea ports to enable candidates to fulfil the above requirements.
"It is commercial. The saving of life has a commercial side. The teaching of nursing and sanitation must result in a certain reduction of mortality. The reduction of mortality affects commercially many organizations, notably the life assurance associations. We therefore look for aid and assistance from the representatives of the great life insurance companies. All employers of labor are interested in the movement and any aid and help they may give will be a sound business investment, to put on no higher plane.
"Works of Relief.
"It is philanthropic. We have seen that one of the objects of the association is the carrying out of works of relief to the suffering of the sick and injured in time of peace. The terrible experience at Campbellton has recently brought home to our minds the imperative necessity not only of first aid instruction, but also of an organization that is at once ready to bring its relief system to bear upon the stricken community must be doubly useful and welcome to the sufferers. In such a position our provincial council is ready, willing and able to at once take charge of relief work and bring its whole organization into working existence. Here we have a practical philanthropic use for the association of St. John. We have seen that the object is to relieve suffering in war. Another is to augment the medical service by the formation of voluntary aid centres and detachments. I believe that every individual, male or female, realizes that war demands from one and all a certain sacrifice and a certain duty in aid of our country, but it is difficult for the average individual to recognize that war is a national duty, and that other countries but not our own—so they say—but until the time when universal peace we are always in danger of war.
"All ages, and all conditions can contribute their share of personal service towards the end of serving their Dominion, Empire and King by helping the Association of St. John of Jerusalem.

Capt. Birdwhistle.

Capt. Birdwhistle, General Secretary, gave a full explanation of the workings of the society.
The provincial council, he said, will have charge of the administrative work of the association within the province, subject at all times to the national council at Ottawa. It shall organize local centres, procure and distribute stores to railway and local centres located in the province. It shall consult with and advise as to the proper carrying on of the work, and furnish an annual report to the general council.
The officers of the provincial council shall consist of a patron, president, vice-president, honorary secretary, honorary treasurer, and a number of members as the provincial council determines, and an executive committee.
All officers and all members of the executive committee of a provincial council shall be elected or appointed in such manner as the provincial council shall determine, and all must qualify as members of the Canadian branch.
Upon the formation of provincial councils, each province so organized shall be entitled to appoint annually its members to specially represent it in the general council of the Canadian branch.
Annual Meeting.
Each province shall hold an annual meeting for the election of its officers and executive committee, and for the transaction of other business, not later than the second Friday in the month of February in each year. Provincial councils shall report annually direct to the general council of the association not later than the Membership.

The membership in the Canadian branch shall consist of two classes, (1) ordinary and (2) life. Any person may become an ordinary member on payment of an annual fee of $2 to be paid to the local or railway centre. Life members are persons who pay a single subscription of $25 and upwards to the local or railway centre. Medical practitioners who have given four courses of lectures, gratuitously; honorary members elected by unanimous vote of the general council; persons who were at the date of the organization of the Canadian branch members of any recognized centre in Canada.

Expenses Per Class.

A "Class" consists of 30 of one sex and under. Thus if the number of pupils be over 30, and not exceeding 60, the charges are doubled; over 60 and not exceeding 90, tripled, and so on. Different sexes count as different classes, no matter how few the number.
The lecturer's fee (per class) when paid is $25. In the case of the "Home Hygiene Course" in which ten lectures are to be given, a larger fee will frequently have to be paid. The examiner's fee (per class) is $5.00.
4. Provincial Councils.
Incidental expenses are calculated at the rate of $2.50 for each of the first ten classes, and $2 for each subsequent class examined at the centre in each year, except those in nursing for which velleum certificates may have been issued. For each nursing course receiving velleum certificates the charge for incidental expenses will be a sum not exceeding $10.50.
Any treasurer or honorary secretary who has contributed in any one year from his centre to the General Council a donation amounting to $25.00, in addition to all charges incurred, is entitled to have his name submitted to the General Council for election as an honorary life member of the association.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions were then adopted:
Moved by Dr. J. W. Daniel, M.P., and seconded by Col. E. T. Sturdee, "That this representative meeting of citizens of the Province of New Brunswick heartily endorses the aims and objects of the St. John Ambulance Association, and would strongly recommend that a Provincial Branch of this organization be formed, to more effectively carry out the principles of the organization in New Brunswick."
Moved by Mayor Frink and seconded by James F. Robertson that a nominating committee composed of eight members be elected for the purpose of selecting the officers of the provincial council of New Brunswick, and that the committee so appointed proceed with the duties as laid down for provincial councils, without a further report to the general meeting.
The Committee.
The following committee was then elected:—Mayor Frink, Col. Sturdee, Dr. Murray MacLaren, James F. Robertson, Hon. R. J. Ritchie, William Downie, Dr. Thos. Walker, and Dr. Daniel, M. P.

Moved by Dr. Thos. Walker and carried by unanimous vote, that the thanks of this meeting be tendered to the officers and members of the board of trade of the city of St. John for their kindness in placing their rooms at the disposal of the St. John Ambulance Association.

New York, Sept. 16.—Hesitation and uncertainty were written on the face of the stock market today. The undertone was heavy and sometimes weak, but at other times there was evidence of resisting power and signs of support which implied a protective influence. The transactions in U. S. R. FINLAYSON OUT OF LACROSSE GAME FOR GOOD

Montreal, Sept. 15.—Albert Dade, Roddy Finlayson and Clarry McKerrrow, three of the best lacross players ever turned out in the Montreal district, have retired from the game. None of the three were anxious to play this season, but yielded to request from the club to turn out again and help Montreal to defend the championship won last fall. Now that the championship has gone to the Nationals' camp they will hang up their sticks and drop out of the game. Roddy Finlayson, captain of the Montreal club played his first game in 1894, and played with the Hibernian lacross team of Point St. Charles until 1897 when he joined the Young Shamrocks. He played with them from 1898 till 1904. He soon became an expert and broke into fast company with the senior Shamrocks. The Shamrocks won the championship of the world nine years out of ten. Roddy left the Shamrocks to captain the Montreal lacross club, who had but a very weak team for years. He worked hard and it took him some years to bring his team to the standard which he wished to see them, and eventually won the championship of the world in 1909. Mr. Finlayson was one of the greatest lacross players the world has ever seen. Lacross is one of the most popular games here. Thousands have attended the league games this summer.

FOWNES AND WOOD LEFT IN GOLF FINALS

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 16.—The mid west will meet the western edge of the east for the amateur golf championship of the country at the country club tomorrow, for the winners of the semi-final round today were Warren K. Wood, of the Homewood club, Chicago, and William C. Fownes, Jr., of the Oakmont country club, Pittsburgh. The losers today and they both went down in the home green, were Walter R. Tuckerman, of the Stockbridge, Mass. golf club and Chas. Evans, Jr., of the Edgewater golf club, of Chicago. Wood won from Tuckerman by 1 up. The much neglected putter settled the matches today, proving a more doughy weapon than the far famed mid-west or the wooden headed driver. Wood ran down half a dozen puts of more than ten feet on the greens, while Evans' stability in the important department and Evans' failure, won the other match. Both the winners used the putting creak ignoring the mallet putter, which has been tabooed by the British association.

CLOSE FINISHES AT SYRACUSE

Sarah Ann Patch Easy Winner in 2, 15—Startle Had Great Fight—Locust Boy Beat Dr. Fox.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The most successful grand circuit Syracuse has had, closed today with four good races in which close finishes and fast time, as throughout the week abounded. Sarah Ann Patch was a decisive winner in the 2:15 pace, taking it in straight heats. Direct Adair was second and Oakland Son third. An extra heat was required in the 2:11 trot, in which Dr. Gahagn drove the gelding Startle to ultimate victory. McDonald sent Juste through in the first heat, and after the second, under the rules, he survived to fight it out with Startle in the last heat. So close was the finish that many thought it a dead heat, until the judges announced Startle the winner. Just such another fight occurred in the 2:11 pace. Joe Boy, Locust Boy and Dr. Fox competed hotly in two heats. Then Joe Boy, which had failed to win a heat, was ruled out with Gentley, and Nancy Allen, Locust Boy and Dr. Fox settled the issue alone. They were well together till the stretch when Locusts Boy came up from behind and J. Gahagan with Dr. Fox was beaten by a neck. There was a fine field in the 2:15 trot, but Peter Dorsey with McDevitt up, had enough to take the race in straight heats, from Baron Aleyone, Major Wellington, Nanco and Puz Johnson.

RANELAIGH POLO TEAM DEFEATS ROCKAWAY FOUR

Cedarhurst, L. I., Sept. 16.—The Ranelagh polo team defeated Rockaway Wednesday by 10 goals to 8. After the splendid showing the Englishmen made against the strong Meadow Brook side last Saturday at Hempstead it was thought they would have a pretty easy time with the Cedarhurst aggregation. This, however, proved all wrong, as several times during the game it looked as if Rockaway would win. The Blue four played fine polo from start to finish, and frequently took the lead. At the end of the fifth period they were two goals ahead. But Ranelagh backed up, and although Rockaway scored twice in the sixth period, once more putting them ahead they could not shake off the Britishers. The Blues maintained their lead in the seventh period, when neither side was able to score, but the visitors in the final session added three goals. The Ranelagh four is a great combination. It has team work down to perfection. Of the ten goals scored by the side eight were made by the Grenfell brothers at Nos. 1 and 2, and Lord Rockaway made the other two. F. A. Gill is a perfect back and plays his position for everything that is in it. Time after time he saved his goal and at the other end of the field, when the ball was in a scrimmage around his opponents' citadel, he always kept a little outside of the other players, and when the ball came through he was on it in a second, frequently with a fine back-hand shot which drove it once more in the midst of the players.

FIGHT VIEWS DEMONSTRATE BEST MAN WON

Verdict of Hundreds That Championship Battle Was Poor Exhibition of Prize Fighting—Jeff Not Cheered.

The best man won. This in short was the verdict of the hundreds of men who were packed like sardines in Queens' rink for the purpose of seeing the moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries exhibition. It was all Johnson. Like a bear Jeff sought to weary his opponent by rushing against him, clinching and hugging. It looked like a hugging match with one thing missing—Johnson was too reluctant. He wanted to get away to be clear to accomplish the great purpose for which he had climbed into the ring—to knock out Jeffries. When the right time came it was done, but done so quickly that those who looked on the shifting film had hardly time to catch their breath before it was all over.

A few short weeks ago, hundreds of men stood in front of The Standard office in Prince William street and cheered themselves hoarse when the announcer from the window gave the word that Jeff had climbed into the ring. Many of the same men saw the pictorial representation of the same figure climb into the ring and not a voice was raised. Not the proverbial fickleness of the public this, but simply because that every man's eye in anticipation was glancing ahead on the unrolled films to that final 15th with its fatal finish. They knew how it would end, and who has a cheer for the vanquished? In their hearts those men cherished their ideal of Jeffries, young, aggressive and unconquered, but this man thrown on the screen is stooped, old and broken, no match for the black panther who follows him mercilessly about the ring, his only refuge, the desperate clutch about the naked shining body of his opponent.

Not interesting. As the rounds are flashed off the pictures become almost monotonous. The fighters coming together in the centre of the ring. A very little feinting then the interminable clinches. There are few real blows. With a lightning swing Johnson sends out his left then Jeff ducks in and clinches. No wonder the champion said: "What for you hug me so much, Mistah Jeffries. You don't love me." Prize fighting there is none. It is hard to see where the brutality comes in. The labored breathing, the sight of blood, the fierce look in the faces is nothing. Jeff perchance may be seen to lean more heavily on his opponent as the rounds go by, the negro punch is more aggressive but there is no apparent sign of a collapse.

The Knock-out. The supreme moment looks theatrical. Everyone was excited. A blow in the jaw sent Jeffries to the ropes. He leaned there while no one dared to count. Then he rose. Before he was upright a push more than a blow sent him backwards across the ropes. His feet scolding in the air. Men, presumably his seconds, pushed him back to the ring. He faced Johnson once more, received another blow and tried to get away. He ran to the other side of the ring and was downed by a terrific punch which sent him leaning against the ropes. In an instant the ring was crowded. The fight was over. Then followed the tearing down of the boards by the soured hunters. As a realistic production the pictures are unexcelled, but for the prize fight the opinion was freely expressed that better exhibitions have been given in Bob Armstrong's bigger, better and brighter Victoria Ring. The preliminaries were more interesting, the introduction of ring celebrities being a feature. "Bob" Fitzsimmons was the greatest favorite with the crowd, although the ancient John L. also had admirers, judging from the applause.

YACHTS AND YACHTSMEN

London, Sept. 16.—A. S. Cochran's crack schooner yacht Westward, which cleaned up all her British and German opponents across the water this summer, has gone into winter quarters at Southampton. She will be in commission for racing next summer. Some British yachtsmen did not take Westward's victories with good grace, but real sportsmen upheld her owner in his refusal to race under absurd handicaps. They say that the best thing Englishmen can do is to stop talking and build racing yachts. The Yachtsman, after calling attention to the great influence Emperor William has exerted on the sport in Germany, intimates that King George may build a racing schooner and that

MAHER RETIRES WORTH MILLION

DANNY MAHER. Danny Maher, who rode Neil Gow at the Eclipse meeting, Sandown park, England, has at last retired from the pigskin. With a million dollars at his command, the famous little Irishman who leads all the jockeys in England, can rest content for the remainder of his days without worrying over the price of commodities. other English yachtsmen will follow his lead. The Field, usually anti-American, comes out in its most recent issue with a condemnation of the handicap races and pronounces absurd the methods pursued against Westward. It also intimates that instead of talking about handicaps it would be a good thing if some yachtsmen would build a boat and try to beat Westward on even terms. The Field says: We sometimes wonder if luxurious steam palaces and motors of all kinds have not rather softened the hands of a younger generation of yachtsmen when we hear them decry modern racing yachts. It is the fashion among a few armchair sailors to find fault with all new-fashioned vessels. If anything breaks on board one of the yachts of the international classes they shake their heads and say the boats are mere racing machines, forgetting, of course, that a modern fifteen-metre yacht sails as many races in one season as the old boats sailed in three or four years. If in a hard weather summer spars are lost they talk of the good old boats of the "seventies" which were ships, and so on. When, too, an American yachtsman sails across the Atlantic Ocean in as fine a vessel as one could wish to see, and, having dropped anchor at Cowes, proceeds to completely outsize every British and foreign yacht on the station, what happens then? We hear

HEMORRHAGE CAUSES DEATH IN KING SQUARE

John Carney Succumbs to Sudden Attack—Medical Aid of No Avail—Hundreds Witness Distressing Scene.

In the full view of hundreds of people as they passed along Charlotte street yesterday afternoon about 5.45 o'clock, John Carney was seized with hemorrhage and bled to death on King Square. The deceased was a man of about 45 years of age, and a coachman by occupation. Early this spring he was forced to give up his work on account of illness, and for some weeks he was treated at the General Public Hospital. He was discharged from the institution about six weeks ago, and while looking somewhat ill was able to be about, but not able to work. His lungs were weak, and he was constantly taking medicine. He had remarked on a number of occasions that he expected that he would have a hemorrhage and that his death would be rather sudden.

Sudden Collapse. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Carney was sitting on a bench opposite South Market street, and was reading an evening paper when suddenly he started coughing. Blood flowed from his mouth and he fell from the bench to the walk. Those who were near him at the time were horrified at the sight but some of the cooler heads picked the unfortunate man up and laid him on the grass.

Police Sergeant Scott and acting Sergeant McCollum were soon on the scene, and a hurry call was sent for Dr. A. F. Emery and Dr. D. E. Berryman. A call was also sent for the ambulance. It was some time before the vehicle arrived on the scene. In the meantime the doctors were working with the man while the street and the section of King Square where he was lying were crowded with hundreds of people.

It was quickly seen by the physicians that the man was beyond any earthly aid, and that he was dying, but when the ambulance arrived Dr. Berryman ordered that he be hurried to the General Public Hospital in a hope that he might survive.

Pronounced Dead. Sergeant Scott accompanied the stricken man in the ambulance. When they arrived at the hospital the physicians there pronounced the man dead.

Coroner Berryman was then notified and the body was removed to the city morgue on King street east. Later on the Coroner gave permission for the removal of the body to the home of the deceased's brother-in-law, Joseph Martin, 703 Main street.

Mr. Carney was a man who was well liked and numbered many friends. His sudden death in such a manner has been learned with general regret. He leaves a widow and a sister. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the home of his brother-in-law on Main street.

PICTURES SHOWN AND PRINCIPALS REPORTED

Johnson-Jeffries Films Draw Big Crowd to Queen's Rink Last Night—Police Court Proceedings This Morning.

The Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures were shown in the Queen's Rink last night, despite the fact that Mayor Frink would not give his permission. There was a very large crowd of spectators and the great majority of those present expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the exhibition. While there were hundreds of persons in the rink to see the pictures, there were hundreds on Charlotte street who were attracted to the place owing to the fact that it had been rumored that the Chief of Police would stop the show and that there would be some arrests. However, there were no arrests, and the pictures went on to the satisfaction of the management and the large crowd who were in attendance.

Taking Notes. There were others in the audience besides the lovers of the boxing game and the police. These were three gentlemen who represented the social reform council, Rev. Wilfred S. Gasta of the Queen Square Methodist church, Rev. W. R. Robinson of the Ludlow Street United Baptist church, and A. W. Robb, the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. They took prominent seats among those who were in the rink. The promoters and others who were present in connection with the affair will appear before the magistrate in the police court this morning. They have been reported by Chief of Police Clark and Deputy Chief Jenkins, the following charge being entered on the police book:—

The following persons are reported for running a moving picture show, admission on payment of money in the Queen's Rink, so called, on the 16th inst. without a license, contrary to laws Robert J. Armstrong, manager of the rink; J. O. Hooley, announcer and ticket taker; Charles M. Denzinger, ticket taker; Thomas Daley, operator of the picture machine, and Roy L. Potts, ticket seller.

The police notified those reported to appear in the police court this morning at ten o'clock. That was all that was done at the show last night. The large crowd who stood on Charlotte street for a couple of hours last night seemed disappointed that there were no arrests.

Legal Talent Engaged. E. P. Raymond, D. Mullin, K.C., and J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., are mentioned as having been engaged for the defence in any proceedings that may be commenced this morning against those who have been responsible for putting on the pictures.

Those responsible for showing the pictures said last night that while they could not understand why an objection had been made, they understood that the chief of police was doing his duty owing to the stand taken by the mayor, and that the whole matter would very likely be straightened out in the police court this morning.

CRITICS INSPECT FIGHT PICTURES

"Brutal and Demoralizing" is Rev. Mr. Gates' Verdict—Rev. W. R. Robinson Represents Moral Reform Council

"Brutal and demoralizing," was the verdict pronounced upon the fight pictures exhibited in Queen's rink last evening by Rev. Wilfred Gasta, of Queen's Square Methodist church. Mr. Gasta attended the show in order, as he said, to be able to give a personal opinion.

"What did I think of the pictures?" he said when interviewed last evening. "Well, I could only think they were brutal and demoralizing. To see two men standing up there pummelling one another could not appeal to anything but the more brutal passions of man."

"What did you think of the audience?" "Well, I didn't pay any particular attention to them. I noticed one lady present, I can't say I thought much of her; it was scarcely a place for a woman."

"No, I wasn't present as the representative of any association." Rev. W. R. Robinson was present at the show in the interest of the Moral and Social Reform Council. When interviewed he declined to make any statement.

"Did you think it demoralizing?" he was asked. "I am not making a statement," was the reply. "I'll express my opinion at the proper time and place. The association is taking legal proceedings against those responsible for the exhibition."

MEETING CALLED TO ORGANIZE BOY SCOUTS

Capt. Birdwhistle, General Secretary, to Explain Details at Nickel Theatre Assembly Rooms This Afternoon.

A meeting will be held in the assembly rooms of the Nickel theatre this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a branch of the boy scouts. Capt. Birdwhistle, of Ottawa, general secretary for Canada of the movement, will be present, and will explain the mode of organization and the work to be done.

Miles E. Agar, president of the Canadian Club; A. W. Robb, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Rev. G. A. Kuhn; and others are taking an active interest in the movement, and an effort has been made to induce a large number of prominent citizens to attend the meeting and become members of the organization.

A branch is organized on the same lines as the St. John Ambulance association with a provincial and a local council. These councils which usually consist of men of standing in the community, appoint scout masters and assist in the work of organizing the boy patrols.

THOUSANDS GATHER TO SEE EXCURSIONISTS OFF

City Cornet Band's Excursion to Boston by S. S. Calvin Austin Attracts Big Crowd—Music and Cheering.

It has been long since Reed's Point presented such a busy scene as it did last evening on the occasion of the departure of the City Cornet band on their excursion to Boston. Eastern liner Calvin Austin was the steamer, and she had a passenger list of about eight hundred persons, and a happy lot they were.

Long before the boat sailed the decks were crowded with the excursionists, and the wharves were thronged with thousands of on-lookers. About a quarter of an hour before the steamer sailed the band marched to the dock playing a lively air. The musicians went on board the boat and took a place on the after hurricane deck where they played further selections.

As the lines were cast off from the wharf the steamer's search light was brought into play and thrown on the vast crowd. With the light the big boat swung into the stream and headed down the harbor there was a chorus of cheering, and with the band playing "Oh My What Can the Matter Be, Johnny's so Late at the Fair," the happy throng went on their way to the Hub leaving many a person on the dock in a regretful mood.

The excursionists will arrive in Boston this afternoon and on Sunday afternoon the band will give a sacred concert on the Boston Common.

WANDERING FINN IS REMANDED TO JAIL

John Johnson, a Finlander, was arrested on Thursday for wandering about the streets and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself. It was quite apparent that the man could not tell the police anything about himself as he was unable to talk or write English. Yesterday an interpreter was taken to the police station and had a hard time to make himself understood in his talk with the prisoner.

It was learned, however, that the prisoner is a sailor who ran away from Liverpool with a cargo of coal. On arrival here, being a stranger, he said he did not know where to go. The Magistrate remanded Johnson to jail, and stated that it was possible that he would be deported.
