MISSING MAN IS FOUND IN THE RIVER

Body Picked up Last Week is Identified as Missing Seaman From American Ship

Last Wednesday the body of a man was found floating in the river between Dalhousie and Escuminac and on being brought to shore was identified as William Newall, a seaman who disappeared off his ship on August 16th. The body was buried in the Protestant Cemetery at Dalhousie by direction of the American Consul, George Botkin. Rev. R. J. Coleman of St. Mary's Church conducting the services. William Newall, boatswain on the brigantine "John C. Myer" of San Francisco was 49 years of age and was an Englishman by birth. Witnesses state that he told them his wife was dead leaving him four young children to care for. He has a widowed sister in England, who has also young children to look after, her husband, who was a soldier, being killed in battle, it is thought during the Boer War. Newall signed on as bos'un of the "John C. Myer" on the 1st of March at San Francisco for the voyage to Quebec and Campbellton and intended to re-ship as bos'un for the voyage from Campbellton to Buenos Ayres and back to New York. He mysteriously disappeared on the evening of August 16th at Restigouche Wharf, where some parties had met and talked with him. He was searched for by the police on both sides of the river, at Campbellton and Mission Point, but no clue could be discovered and the vessel sailed without him. The body was seen in the water between Dalhousie and Escuminac on the afternoon of the 25th of August and was picked up on the 28th by men in a gasoline boat belonging to the Sydney Lumber Company, Dalhousie. The identity of the body was established by three witnesses from Restigouche, who have met Newall frequently and talked with him previous to his disappearance. The home or location of his children or other relatives and friends in America is not known. He had spoken to one of the witnesses about having come from Cardiff (Wales). He bore a striking resemblance to the "John C. Myer" and Captain Anderson was sincerely regretful over the disappearance and fate of the seaman. Judge Botkin, the American Consul, extends his heartfelt thanks to the good men of Dalhousie and to all others who took an interest in recovering, identifying and burying the body.

55TH BATTALION TO SAIL FOR ENGLAND

Announcement Made From Ottawa That They Will go as a Unit Very Soon

An Ottawa despatch of Saturday says—Senator Loughheed, acting Minister of Militia, made the important announcement this morning that twelve more infantry battalions, consisting of some fifteen thousand men, will leave at once for England. These battalions will go as complete units, instead of drafts as has been the policy hitherto in sending reinforcements to the front. Although drafts will be continued from time to time to fill the ranks of regiments at the front as required. The senior battalions in each of the military areas have been selected. Two Maritime Province regiments have been selected, the 55th of New Brunswick and 40th Battalion, Nova Scotia. The twelve battalions which have been selected are: Divisional area 1—33rd Battalion, commander Col. Wilson, London; 34th Battalion, Col. A. J. Oliver, Guelph. Divisional area 2—35th Battalion, Col. McCordick, Toronto; 37th Battalion, Col. Brock, North Bay, Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie; 58th Battalion, Col. H. A. Genet, Toronto. Divisional area 4—41st Battalion, Col. Archambault, Quebec. Monday was Nomination Day for the County Council elections which will take place on Tuesday, 7th September. This is the first time that an election will be held in the newly constituted parish of Grimmer, which was formerly included in that of Eldon. Full details of the nominations have not yet come to hand, but we understand the following is a fairly correct list. In Balmoral we have only received the names of four candidates, while we are informed there has been five candidates nominated. Grimmer Parish—A. C. Levesque, A. Lachance, B. F. Peters and John Lynch. Eldon Parish—Wm. Copeland, George R. Thomas, Murdoch Firth, Dugald Myles and William Robinson. Balmoral Parish—Edward Bernard, Wm. ## NO MORE MACHINE GUNS ARE REQUIRED

Mayor Andrew Receives Acknowledgement of Payment of $1000 For Gun

His Worship Mayor Andrew is in receipt of the following letter from Acting Minister of Militia Senator Loughheed. Minister's Office, Ottawa, 31st August, 1915. Dear Sir:— I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. enclosing draft for $1000, the donation of the citizens of Campbellton, for the purchase of a Machine Gun for the Canadian Expeditionary Force. We will endeavour to carry out the wishes of the subscribers with respect to assigning the gun to the 55th Battalion. This will, however, as you were informed in my letter of the 24th inst., be subject to military necessity which may arise from time to time. We will always have in mind that the gun is to go to a New Brunswick Batt. Please convey to the citizens of Campbellton, and accept for yourself, the grateful thanks of the Government for this generous and patriotic donation. Believe me, Yours faithfully, JAMES A. LOUGHEED, Acting Minister.

His Worship Mayor A. A. Andrew, Campbellton, New Brunswick. The total contributions amounted to $1481.90 as per the following list. Previously acknowledged— Mrs. Johnson McKenzie, 5.00 William Rogerson (Dalhousie Jct.), 2.00 D. S. McKay (Dalhousie Jct.), 2.00 Clifford McDonald, 10.00 Miss Minnie Adams, 5.00 Alex. Campbell, 2.00 $1,181.90

Owing to the fact that the Minister of Militia has written me that further contributions for a second Machine Gun would not result in the furnishing of any more guns to our troops, the Government having now provided for all the guns they can make use of, the subscriptions toward a second gun amounting to $1,481.90 will be as generously sent as the Patriotic or Soldiers' Disarmament Fund. A. A. ANDREW, Mayor.

As the Patriotic Fund is needing every penny that can be raised it is hoped that contributions will be as generously sent as before and given to the Patriotic Fund.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW CARLISLE ACADEMY

Many Important Personages Will Attend Meeting on Sept. 25th.

Preparations are now being made in order to have a formal opening of the New Carlisle Academy to take place at New Carlisle on the 25th of September. The New Carlisle Academy is a beautiful building which has been completed quite recently, and has cost about $20,000.00. The Honourable John Hall Kelly obtained a grant of $10,000.00 from the Quebec Government, and the Municipality of New Carlisle put up the balance. A number of children are now attending this Academy, receiving a good education, thus saving their parents considerable money which they would be obliged to disburse to send their children to schools further away from home. Honorable Mr. Kelly and Mr. E. A. Bouillon, among with the School Trustees of New Carlisle, are now organizing for the aforesaid formal opening. Mr. Scoles, manager of the railway, has kindly consented to give excursion rates to all those who wish to attend, and has also consented to give free transportation to all the teachers teaching in the Protestant schools of the counties of Bonaventure and Gaspé, and also to one child of each of the said schools. People attending the opening will be able to return home the same day. The Honourable Walter Mitchell, who represents the Protestant population of the Province in the Quebec Government, will also be present, as well as many other distinguished personages. A special appeal has been sent by the Honourable Mr. Kelly to the clergymen, School Trustees and school teachers of the Protestant schools of counties of Bonaventure and Gaspé, asking them to give their co-operation to make this day a success.

FAREWELL RECEPTION AND PRESENTATION

To Capt. Rev. A. W. Buckland on the Eve of His Departure For the Front

Tuesday evening, August the 31st, the Parish Hall, New Carlisle, P. Q., was the scene of a large impromptu gathering of citizens, irrespective of race, creed or religion, representing both New Carlisle and Paspébiac, to bid farewell to Mr. Buckland, the popular Rector of the two above named places. The Honourable John Hall Kelly acted as chairman, and spoke in glowing terms of the many lovable qualities which have so endeared Mr. Buckland to us all, and though he has only been with us one short year, his good influence has been generally felt, and his cheery face, and hearty laugh, will be much missed. The sympathy of the people was extended to Mrs. Buckland, for the sacrifice she is making for her country, and if the good wishes and prayers of a people count for anything, and they surely do, Mr. Buckland will be returned to her in the not too distant future, safe and sound, and covered with glory. Mr. W. M. Sheppard on behalf of the two towns read an address, and presented to Mr. Buckland a purse of one hundred and twenty seven dollars as a slight token of the affection and high esteem in which he is held by all. Amid much cheering Mr. Buckland, though well nigh overcome with emotion, replied in his usual happy vein, thanking one and all for their kindness, and for the substantial form it had taken. He promised to do his best where at all possible, to look up those of our boys at the front, and spoke feelingly of the time when the war will be over and we will all, it is hoped be reunited. Mr. E. A. Bouillon, representing Paspébiac, also spoke a few words of appreciation, and after singing God Save the King, the gathering then took on a more social aspect, refreshments being served by the ladies of New Carlisle.

SPLENDID WORK BEING DONE IN RECRUITING

Another Batch of Volunteers Forwarded This Week to Sussex. Some for Artillery

Recruiting in this district is still touching a high mark. Capt. LeBlanc and Mr. A. McG. Every day batches of recruits are being sent to Sussex, while four or five have signed on for Artillery and will go to Partridge Island for training. Up to date the number signed this week was 44, the list being as follows: (Capt. LeBlanc, Recruiting officer.) John Christie, Nash's Creek, Lawrence Carrier, Campbellton. ## SUPREME COURT AT DALHOUSIE TUESDAY

Striking Remarks by Judge Landry at the Opening of Court. Recruits Must be Had

A sitting of the Supreme Court was held at Dalhousie on Tuesday of this week, Judge Landry presiding. In his charge to the jury in the Levesque—Archibald assault case His Lordship spoke on the necessity for greater care by magistrates in the trial of petty cases, claiming that in many instances the magistrates were competent to deal with these, rather than saddling the county with the expense and wasting the time of the court. In his opening remarks the learned judge spoke on the war and its circumstances, and his remarks should be thought over and digested by everyone. His own opinion he said was in favor of conscription, but further stated that perhaps if he looked at the matter from the stand-point of the Imperial authorities he might think differently. The great point he said for every one was "Are we in this war to win." If we desire success to crown our effort every one must either fight or pay for only by so doing will the end be achieved. He said if we were satisfied to be under German rule what is the sense of fighting, better to give up the whole thing now and say let us have peace for we are quite satisfied to be vassals and slaves of Germany. His Lordship's remarks were well received and have been largely discussed here.

MAKING PLANS FOR GRIST MILLS

The Committee of the Board of Trade Are Busy Drawing up the Prospectus

A meeting of the Board of Trade was held Monday evening in the Secretary's office, President Blackhall presiding. The committee to whom was referred the matter of procuring the cost of a grist mill reported fully. After discussion it was decided that a committee of the Board of Trade proceed with the drawing of a prospectus and initial steps for the organization of a company to erect and operate a grist mill. It was the unanimous opinion of the Board that such a mill was very necessary, and as the capital required is not large, it is hoped sufficient will be locally subscribed, so that the mill can be put up and in operation this fall. Full announcement will be made later.

FLOATING MINES
LOSE THEIR EFFECT
Have Not the Same Power After Remaining in Water For Lengthened Period

There do not seem to be nearly as many vessels destroyed by floating contact mines as there were in the early part of the war in European waters. This may be due to several causes—the great number caught by mine sweepers and the drifting ashore of many, while others have been swept from their anchorages and are drifting around at sea. But I think there has also been another reason.

A short time after the Maine was blown up, or even before, the Spaniards mined all of the harbors in Cuba with both floating contact and electric mines. This was particularly true of Guantanamo Harbor. Our ships steamed in there at the early part of the war and, ignoring the mines, opened fire on the Spanish position. In doing so the Maribhead and Texas, both fouled floating contact mines with their propellers, and literally dragged them from their moorings, and no explosion followed or we would have lost two fine ships. The launches of the Maribhead and other ships then swept the harbor and secured in all nineteen contact mines.

One day in going on board the United States ship Panther on duty I saw a gunner's mate dismantling one of these mines. He had already removed the charge of gun cotton, and, being interested in the matter, I asked him why the mine had not exploded when fouled by the Maribhead and Texas. He picked up a machinist's hammer and struck one of the contact plungers a powerful blow, and it was not even started. On close examination I found that the percussion contact plungers were all absolutely sealed by barnacles and marine growths so securely that the plungers would break off before they could be driven home. This was of course in tropical waters after only a few months of service, and this is what saved our ships from destruction in Cuban harbors. In the temperate zone the same thing will occur, except that the period of usefulness of the mine will be longer. The mines in European waters have been down a year, and I believe that many of them will be rendered innocuous from the same cause. This applies, of course, only to contact mines.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. THURSDAY'S RACES
DRAW FAIR CROWD

Hal L Wins Free For All and Brazilian Takes Name Race.—Auto and Motorcycle Races

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
The races held at the Bathurst speedway last Thursday turned out to be the most successful in every way in years. About 500 people were in attendance which is a very good showing considering that the day was not a public or other holiday, and the race committee was able for the first time in a long while to come out of the deal without a loss.

The presence of a band added considerably to the afternoon's pleasure, and a refreshment booth was also a new feature that was much appreciated.

An automobile record was made by E. E. Tabor, who did the two and a half miles in 3.36 1/2. Albert Melanson made a mark of 3.35 1/2 on a motor cycle. Both of these races were highly exciting and created an unusual amount of interest.

The first of the horse races called on was the Free for all in which Northern Jack drew the pole, with Hal L in second position and Simino third. The horses got the word on the second score down, and Simino won the heat from Hal L by a neck. Driver Cormier of Simino seeming to use his whip rather freely in front of Hal L on the home stretch. Northern Jack won the second heat, and the third heat, which was the best of the race, the horses being so close together that a blanket could cover them all, the whole course round, was taken by Hal L on a close margin. The fourth and fifth heats both went to Hal L who therefore took first money.

HARVEST NEWS
FROM CANADA

Is Much Liked and London Observer Believes Dominion Will Greatly Benefit

London, August 29.—Today's Observer has a lengthy article, eulogizing the financial position and prospects of Canada. It says:

"The Canadian harvest news is much liked and is naturally having a material influence on prices. With a big surplus and high prices current, owing to the Dardanelles being still unforced, the Dominion should benefit. Moreover, it is distinctly encouraging to learn that a considerable impetus has been given to general trade, and that the volume of orders from country districts is increasing largely.

"The immediate result is that Canadian Pacific and other Canadian railroad securities are making headway and business becoming more pronounced. The Canadian Pacific report gives timely reminder of economies being practiced, and furnishes evidence of the confidence of the directors in their roads for the future.

"Owing to crop conditions and the period of forced economy, severe curtailment is unnecessary. The outlay has helped to place the Dominion in a position to benefit decidedly from any impounding profits, whether from war munitions, trade, or the sale of food stuffs."

PATRIOTIC FUND

The Presbyterian Witness has a most timely article with regard to this fund in their last issue. It said: "Amid the multiplicity of calls for financial aid in connection with the war, there is one fund, perhaps the most worthy and needful of all, which is in danger of suffering for lack of adequate support. When the urgent call went out for men to enlist in the service of their country, they were assured that their families would be adequately provided for in their absence. This was the least that their fellow-countrymen could do for those who were risking, and many of them sacrificing, their lives in a just cause and to save the nation from a great peril. But for such an assurance, it is doubtful if many men having wives and children dependent upon them would have felt in a position to give up their positions and salaries and enter upon this patriotic service. For a time large contributions were regularly made to a fund for providing a regular allowance to supplement the military pay of men whose families were being deprived of their usual income. This fund was incorporated a year ago, and up to the beginning of this month something over four and a half million dollars had been contributed to it by provinces and private individuals. During the early months of the war the monthly contributions exceeded the expenditure; but the demands on the fund have been rapidly increasing since its inauguration. The scope of the fund has been enlarged so as to include temporary assistance to the widows of men in action or of services and to men invalided home by reason of wounds or sickness. At present there are about 20,000 families in Canada receiving aid from the Patriotic fund. On the other hand through the diverting of interest to other undertakings, commendable enough in themselves, in aid of the great cause to which our country is committed and a failure to keep the Patriotic fund prominently before the people its revenue has declined, and a balance on the wrong side has begun to appear. In June the income was only $200,000 whereas the expenditure amounted to $326,000, making it necessary to draw $126,000 from the reserve accumulated in the early months. It is not difficult to see what will happen if this disproportion is allowed to go on and increase. We cannot contemplate the possibility of any of the families of the brave men who have sacrificed so much for our country and for us, suffering through our failure to fulfil our pledge. We have nothing to say against appeals for aid on behalf of the military equipment of our troops, though this does seem to us to be rather an obligation of the Government than a matter of individual generosity. It is right and commendable for those who are able to do so to contribute toward machine guns, aeroplanes, and other patriotic objects, but we believe that the patriotic fund should take precedence of these, helpful and necessary as they may seem to be. Money for military equipment may easily be raised by the Government, whereas the Patriotic and Red Cross funds are more naturally objects for private charity."

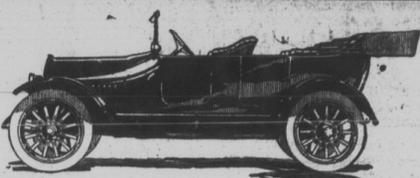

For a closing thought on this matter the following paragraph, taken from the St. John Globe, should be read with interest:—
Ottawa, Aug. 30.—In an official memorandum to-day the Militia Council announced that except by express permission, no appeals will be allowed by regiments for overseas service for funds to buy equipment, band instruments, or to create regimental funds. The department is prepared to buy everything for the equipment of the units without drawing on the generosity of the public.

A BAFLED GERMANY.

The German campaign in Russia is without parallel in the history of warfare in respect of the magnitude of the operations and the demands that are made upon the nervous, physical, and moral reserves of the fighting human unit. It seems impossible that the pace can be continued; it seems more than men can endure. But the limit is unknown. The dramatic fact is that Germany cannot stop. She must go on, and at this heart-breaking pace, like a runner who holds his breath. She desperately seeks what has so far eluded her on both fronts, and without which every conquest over space is a mocking triumph, namely, a decisive action. If now she fails to get it in Russia, if Grand Duke Nicholas does not slip in walking backward, then Germany definitely will have lost the war. That would still be true, rather more than less, though the German Army, in seeking a decision had made clean conquest of all Baltic Russia up to Petrograd. Every kilometer further that Germany penetrates the Czar's domain and merely pursues his army without beating it, weakens Germany not only toward Russia, but toward all the world. In the admiration one has been compelled to feel for the headlong, heedless manner in which the German fighting machine has overcome great obstacles one has been touched a little more or less by a superstitious of its invincibility, and has perhaps too lightly considered the irreparable failures of German strategy. There is a way of saying that the Germans so far on points have won everything in Europe. But, on the contrary, they have lost the very points on which they counted most.

They lost the opportunity for a decision in France, and that was to have been won first of all before anything else could happen. Instead they hold a line 500 miles long, through France and Flanders, on which the condition is one of stalemate. Frontal attacks are of prohibitive cost, if, in fact, they are feasible at all, and flanking attack upon a line that begins at the English Channel and ends on the Swiss frontier is, of course, impossible. In any event, the Germans cannot put an additional battalion on this line without reducing their strength in Russia; the Allies, on the other hand, can increase their numerical strength on this line and are steadily doing so.

The irony of this situation for the Germans is that if they had persisted last Autumn in their original design to force a decisive result in France and had not been diverted by the Russians' attack on the other side the story might now be very different. The Russians struck with unexpected swiftness. Most military experts agree that if, instead of transferring troops from west to east to stop the Russians, the Germans had brought a few more battalions into action against France a decision could have been obtained. So much for the west. Having failed in her first intention Germany turned to her second, which was to crush Russia. She attacked her from Galicia to the Baltic Sea, on a line 1,000 miles long, determined to pierce it in several places, to bend the ends back to surround the pieces, in short to destroy the Russian resistance and be done with it. And in more than a year of the most desperate fighting on a large and continuous plan that has ever occurred in the world she has failed really to break that Russian line at any point. She has whipped it back. She has made it writhe. She tried to pinch it in two on the Polish salient. She took Warsaw and all of Poland in the pinching process, but she did not break the Russian line. So intent was the German mind upon the main object that the fall of Warsaw was hardly celebrated. Before the city was formally occupied in her momentary pursuit of the Russian forces had carried the German invaders beyond. They cannot stop. The further they go the longer and thinner is their own line and the greater the necessity of engaging the Russian forces in a decisive action. Napoleon failed at that.

This year the Studebaker announcement is more significant than ever before. It demonstrates more conclusively than ever Studebaker's leadership in the industry. For once again, Studebaker is announcing new cars at prices that completely recast all standards of value in the automobile industry. And never before has a dollar bought so much as it buys in these new Studebakers. They are the best car in every detail that Studebaker ever built.

But while the prices are remarkably low, Studebaker has made no effort to manufacture a small, low-price car, to compete purely on a price basis.

A whole Book of Specifications couldn't begin to convey the impression that your first glimpse of the cars will give—you must see the cars to appreciate them.

THE REMOUNT PURCHASES

The evidence that has been adduced before the Commission of Enquiry regarding the purchase of horses for the Militia Department reveals a condition of affairs that is worse than disgraceful. It seems almost impossible to believe that Canadians should be so utterly depraved as to be anxious to sell worn out and otherwise broken down horses, to be used by their own countrymen who are now risking their lives in Europe at the call of duty. On the other hand, it is almost equally difficult to understand how any competent judge of horsemanship could ever have brought himself to accept some of the ancient and blighted equines that the Veterinary Inspectors appear to have accepted. It seems almost as though there was a conspiracy to defraud the public treasury, for the deliberate designs of the vendors on the one hand and the complacent acquiescence on the part of the Government buyers on the other, leave it difficult to come to any other conclusion. There seems to have been little or no pretence at making any examination of the animals purchased; the owners brought them, stated their price and the deal was closed.

The ethics of horse dealing are on a plane by themselves, the principles under which ordinary business transactions are carried on scarcely apply to it. In a horse trade, it is each man for himself, and this fact is so well recognized that no one suffers thereby. But in the matter of the purchase of these horses for soldiers' use, one scarcely knows which to condemn most, the men who sold or the men who bought. The latter were trusted Government officials who admittedly bought animals for military use that they would never have bought for themselves, and moreover appear in almost every case to have paid just whatever price was asked. The men who sold them were anxious to do the best for themselves, and in one sense they can scarcely be blamed for this. But it is a very poor testimony to their patriotism, or loyalty to and regard for their fellow men, that they should have been willing to "plant an old skate" on to men whose lives might at any moment depend on the vitality and endurance of their horses.

It is a sorry story altogether, and men have gone to the penitentiary for complicity in transactions more excusable than have been disclosed in connection with the horse purchases—Commercial.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor of the Graphic,
Dear Sir:—
Let me say in reference to the appointing of the Durham officers at the time the appointments in question were made, matters in that parish did not appear very satisfactory, either to the Councillors themselves or the people of that district, inasmuch as they brought a very complicated case before the Council to have settled, which had arisen between one of the collectors and the Bank of Nova Scotia. Also a large delegation of taxpayers waited on the Council to have these changes made. There was complaints regarding the collecting of taxes and the revising of the Parish lists and not least, that the Parish Clerk had taken on himself the office of judge to say who should run for Councillors and who should not. Under these circumstances we thought it reasonable to grant some relief. Having the power to do so, we made some changes in the Parish officers.

After the meeting of Council, and in some side-show down town they met, at which bidding we do not know nor care, and appointed their officers, which was not according to law, as all officers are not legally appointed until such appointments pass the whole Council. In that case they made application to the Legislature to have a bill passed. This bill said that these officers so appointed would have to qualify in ten days from the time so appointed or their offices would be vacant. No heed was paid to the law they had so laboriously wrought out and so their officers never qualified at all and in respect of the law they were not officers at all and so we called up the officers appointed by the Council and confirmed the work already done in the Council. They carried this to the judges at a time there was a great fete in St. John. They said we made those appointments on the ninth day that was counting Sunday, one of the days we should have worked. Our bye-laws give the Council eight days to do business. It does not say Sunday excluded, but it is unnecessary. Who would suppose that any reasonable man would ask another to pay for nine days work when he only worked eight days. Suppose he says, but its nine days since I began work, would any of these men, who said that Sunday should be counted in, be willing to pay the bill. If I have a carload of goods, I have two days to unload. Suppose it is placed Saturday morning, I consider I have Monday morning to finish unloading, but the agent tells me the two days are up on Monday morning and that I will have to pay demurrage, beginning Monday morning. Who would stand that? I might go on in this way and write books but time nor space don't permit. Now Sir I say, if the officers appointed by the Council were not legal there was no legal officers in Durham in 1914. Let me tell you that the bill they got through the Legislature only had a life of ten days, after that time it was dead, inasmuch as it said that the officers so appointed had to qualify in ten days or their offices would be vacant. They never qualified at all, so the law so made to suit the Durham Councillors was allowed its work, for lack of men of good business habits to carry it out. Accordingly the whole Durham Parish was in a muddle simply because someone had broken the law. Had the laws of our country and Municipality been observed, everything would have gone on in harmony.

These are facts Mr. Editor, facts that can't be turned. "Gow the wind and you will reap the whirlwind." Let the good people of Durham show now as they will soon have another chance to redeem the name of their Parish. They can run a clean Council election and send to the Council men that will be a credit to the Parish.

Yours truly,
JOHN DICKIE,
Point La Niem, N. B.

He entered Rimouski college from which he was graduated as honor student in his class at the end of his academic studies.

In the year of his collegiate graduation, he entered on his ecclesiastical studies in the Old Seminary of Rimouski.

The priests who shared with him the hardships and the joys of seminary life, testify to the untiring assiduity of his application to study, his large mental capacity for acquiring knowledge, his quick, unobtrusive piety and devotion, his scrupulous observance of the rigid rules of the Seminary, and his cheerful, buoyant companionship.

His Lordship Bishop Andrew-Albert Blois, on the advice of the Directors of the Seminary will ordain him a priest

WILL COIN IRON PIECES
Germany Authorizes an Issue of Five-Pfennig Money

Berlin, Aug. 27—The Bundesrath has passed a law providing for the coinage of iron five-pfennig pieces (1/4 cents). The demand for five-pfennig pieces is great, especially because quantities are in circulation in the hostile territory occupied by Germany, and more are needed.

Under the present circumstances, however, the use of nickel as a metal for their coinage is held to be inadvisable.

WHY THEY CHAIN GUNNERS
French Writer Says German Do So Only to Steady the Guns.

A writer in L'Illustration demolishes the legend that the Germans chain the men serving their machine guns to the pieces in order to keep them from leaving their posts.

He says that chains are undoubtedly used, but simply to enable the gunners to steady the weapons, and that the practice was common in the German Army before the war. Besides, it is easy for the soldiers to unfasten the chains, which are attached merely by hooks on either side of the men's belts.

In the pretty church of St. Joseph of Cape Cove.

After his ordination he will begin his priestly career in the beloved Seminary, where he has performed his studies, in occupying the pulpit of the "Business Class."

Long may he be spared to assist over great College Faculty and by the works of his genius and by his exemplary life to edify more and more the church of Rimouski.

I would respectfully advise all Americans in your district, whose intention it is to visit Newfoundland, to have in their possession a passport or some document of identification, to assure them more courtesies at the hands of the Colonial authorities, and lessen inconveniences to themselves.

I have the honor to be, Sir Your obedient servant,

SHIPPING INDUSTRY PROSPERS IN BRITAIN

Information Given That Over a Million and a Half Tons Building in Yards

Much information bearing upon the war has been received from trade agents in Great Britain by the Department of Trade and Commerce, and is being published. The Manchester agent, Mr. Bickerdike, says that, despite the blockade, shipping is one of the most prosperous industries in Great Britain, ships afloat being worth double their old value, while for ships sunk insurance is paid. Over a million and a half tons are building up British shipyards, while the loss from six months of blockade amounted to only 212,000 tons. In 1914 the British losses, including war losses, amounted to 2.2 per cent. tonnage, and 2.43 per cent. of vessels owned, while the Norwegian, Swedish, Danish and Dutch losses amounted to 2.37 per cent. tonnage, and 2.62 per cent. of vessels owned.

THREATS TO BURN THE CANADIAN CROP

Heavy Guard is Patrolling International Boundary to Protect the Grain

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 30.—Three hundred and fifty armed Canadian guards are patrolling the international boundary along northern Minnesota and North Dakota, as the result of threats that attempts will be made to destroy the Canadian grain crop by fire.

Recently such threats came to Canadian officials from several sources, and although they declare themselves "unconcerned", they have placed an unusually heavy guard on the border. Threats against Canadian farmers are said to have been made principally by Austrian and Hungarian laborers.

Not only have Canadian soldiers been stationed along the boundary lines, but the provincial elevators throughout Manitoba are said to be closely guarded.

ON THE ROAD TO TIPPERARY.

Woodford Connell, the writer of the following verses, is a native of Woodsteek, N. B.

This young soldier was badly wounded in one of the early engagements, but is making a good recovery.

Every young man with red blood in his veins should be with his brothers who are winning glory and saving the Empire.

On the road to Tipperary
There's a vacant place still,
There's a rifle lying silent,
There's a uniform to fill.
True, at home they'll hate to lose you,
But the march will soon begin
On the road to Tipperary
With the army to Berlin.

In the Morris chairs of Clubland,
Are you there content to stay
While the others guard your honor
While the Germans boast "the day?"
For your king and country need you
And we want to count you in
On the road to Tipperary
With the army to Berlin.

When from Mone they fought each footstep,
When with pain their lips were dumb,
'Twas the hope which held their trenches
Never doubting you would come.
Through the frozen hill of winter,
Midst the shrapnels racking din,
They have waited never fearing
You would join them to Berlin.

On the road to Tipperary
There's a crimson debt to pay;
There's a land of awful darkness
Patient faces, tired and grey.
Sobbing women, ruined girlhood
Strew the trail of Kiltured Sin,
Can't you hear that call for vengeance?
Can't you join them to Berlin?

On the road to Tipperary
Sleep the boys whose day is done;
Don't you hear the voices calling,
To complete their work begun?
There are ghostly fingers beck'ning
There are victories yet to win
On the road to Tipperary
With the army to Berlin.

On the road to Tipperary
When the boys come home at last,
Won't you wish that you had listened
'Ere old England's call had passed.
But the gate of manhood's open
You, your part, can still begin,
On the road to Tipperary
With the army to Berlin.

SERIOUS SHOOTING AFFAIR AT REDBANK

Young Man Receives Sixty Five Shot in Chest and Abdomen Last Wednesday

About two o'clock on Wednesday morning a shooting affray occurred at Redbank, the result of which one young man is confined to the house with sixty-five fine shot in the chest and abdomen.

M. Weston, M. D., of Redbank, attended to the young man's injuries, and he will recover, if no complications set in.

The story, as reported, is to the effect that a neighbor awoke James A. Gillis and informed him that some parties were stealing beer from his shop. Mr. Gillis dressed and taking a gun loaded with shot, proceeded to his store. On arriving there he noticed that a quantity of beer had been carried away, and after waiting a short time two young men put in an appearance and were in the act of securing the second lot when Mr. Gillis fired at them; the result being as recorded above.—Leader.

EDITOR'S MAIL BAG
Gaspe, Que., Aug. 28, 1915.
Editor of the Graphic, Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir,—
Permit me to say a few words in commendation of the train service Matapedia to Gaspe. When we look back a few years and note the trouble we had in getting along the Coast waiting three or four days for a steamer or drive up by stage, then turn over to the present moment when we can leave Gaspe and reach Mont-real in twenty four hours, and vice versa nearly always on time, we must say that Mr. Scoles has done well. Especially during the winter when battling with some severe snowstorms being seldom held up, and if he could see his way clear to bring the train to Gaspe an hour or two earlier, we would be even more pleased.

I would venture to say that in the event of the Government taking the road over as a branch of the I. C. R. which would seem a natural thing, they could not do better than retain the services of Mr. Scoles as manager of this branch, and whilst writing let me say a good word for all the officials on the train, and connected with it, not forgetting our friend and agent here Mr. Munroe, who is always ready and happy to do anything he can rightly do.

With the traffic we notice now moving on the road, we will look for even better service than the present moment.

Glad to say the business of Gaspe and the Coast seems very good. The extra catch of codfish having been taken, and the pulp and lumber business generally booming.

Yours truly,
GASPE.

NEWCASTLE BOY IS VERY BADLY SCALDED

Painful Accident to Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hachey on Friday

(Commercial)

Ned, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hachey of Newcastle, was the victim of a very painful accident Friday afternoon. The young fellow was preparing to take a bath in the family washtub and had put the cold water in the tub and in childish glee was playing in the water, while his older sister, Beulah, went to get some hot water. On her return she asked him to be careful, as she was about to put the water in the tub, and the young fellow, rising suddenly, struck the pail with his head, knocking it out of his sister's hands and spilling the boiling contents over his little body. He was painfully scalded about the back and the chest, but will recover.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada. "Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. "After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—MRS. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can. Why will women take chances or drag out a half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? NEW CARLISLE

The Rev. J. E. Batisle has occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church here with much appreciation indeed, and it is hoped the rev. gentleman may be induced to remain and take charge of the congregation. A meeting of the whole congregation will be held on Monday the 6th, at New Carlisle at 6:30 p. m.

The Union Sunday School picnic, which took place Wednesday the 26th was a great success. Many thanks to Mr. Soles for his generosity in sending a special train from New Carlisle to Port Daniel, leaving New Carlisle at 10:30 a. m. and returning at 5:30 p. m. The goodly number attending filled 5 coaches.

Mrs. H. Miller, Misses Clara and Gerlie Cooke, Mrs. J. A. LeBrocq and W. D. Sherar motored to New Richmond on the 26th to attend the Red Cross concert.

The engagement is announced of Alice Caroline, second daughter of the late Robert Miller of Port Daniel, Que., and Mrs. Miller, now of Stettler, Alta., to Mr. George Philip LeGrand of New Carlisle, Que. On Wednesday of last week, August 26th, three hundred and twenty five children, also parents and teachers were given a delightful ride over the railroad to Port Daniel, through the kindness of Mr. Soles. Such an occasion was a real red letter day in the lives of many of the children, who had never been on a train before. The children of St. Andrew's congregation, also the ones from the Presbyterian church all marched to the station, where they found the train waiting and also welcome from Mr. and Mrs. Soles. Most of the children carried Union Jacks which they waved vigorously at every passer by, and the train sped on mile after mile to the strains of "This is long, long way to Tipperary" and other patriotic songs. Large contingents of pupils and teachers from Paspébiac West, Paspébiac East and Shigawake were picked up on the way down. On arriving at the grounds all made a charge on the lunch baskets, and after the Doxology was sung, enjoyed the good things provided.

Boating and other games were indulged in. The Presbyterian pupils were in charge of Mr. J. Sherar and those from other Sunday schools were under the superintendence of their teachers and superintendents. About five o'clock, after spending a very pleasant day, children and parents returned home all expressing their admiration for the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Soles. Arriving at New Carlisle all reformed and marched to Mr. Soles' residence and gave three rousing cheers. Then all sang very heartily "God Save the King", thus bringing to a close a very happy day, which will long be remembered by those who were present. Mr. Hamon of Paspébiac very kindly donated a large bucket of chocolates which was distributed among the children.

PATIENTS AND PROPAGANDISTS
GERMAN DENTISTS
Propagandists in U. S. Lose no Opportunity to Preach Huns Doctrine

There was one method of spreading the pro-German propaganda which the agents of the German Government overlooked, if stories of its campaigns are to be believed—and that is through pro-German dentists. Concerning the matter a reporter can speak feelingly, says the New York Times.

It so befell that the reporter had an appointment with a dentist who believes that the sinking of the Lusitania and the Arabic was justified and Wilson all wrong in his attitude, otherwise this one best bet might have been overlooked for all time. That is a very effective method there can be no doubt.

Moderate Drinkers.
It is disquieting to learn from the weekly bulletin of the Department of Health that the sort of folk we used to call moderate drinkers have a death rate far exceeding the teetotalers. Forty-three of the leading life insurance companies, we are told, conspired six years ago to discover the truth about alcohol in its relation to the prospect of long life, and collected the facts concerning two groups, to wit: (a) men who drank two glasses of beer, or a glass of whiskey, or their equivalent, a day; (b) men who drank more, but were not considered by the companies to drink to excess. The mortality of the second group was quite 50 percent above that of the first.

Miss Pearl Fenderson and Lou Brown were the guests of Mrs. Garnet Ellis, Nash's Creek, last week. Miss Greta Hayes of Nash's Creek, has taken a new school this term, teaching in Campbellton convent. Miss Kathryn Patterson, who has been visiting Mrs. M. McDonald, has returned to her home in Newcastle. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barabie and children of Dalhousie motored through here Sunday enroute to Bathurst. Miss Maria Goodwin and Miss Evelyn Frenette of Petit Rocher were the guests of Mrs. A. J. Melanson last week. Messrs. Wallace Sheehan and Ed Delaney paid Jacquet River a flying visit last week.

Let it be said to the everlasting credit of the dentist that he didn't cause unnecessary pain. He might have loosened the gum or let one of his instruments slip, or have filled the wrong tooth, or something like that, but he didn't. He simply talked and there was no reply. He had the platform all to himself and it took 50 minutes to put a simple porcelain filling in that tooth.

"Now, open your mouth wide," he said. "I don't think you have a single tooth to say to support your theory. That's right, open wide. President Wilson is all wrong."

He pressed his foot against a bar and a thing which might have been an electric fan from the sound it made, but wasn't, began to buzz.

"A bit wider, if you please. Why was the sinking of the Lusitania or the Arabic murder? That's it, now; don't you dare close that mouth or you'll get the cavity damp and I'll have to do it all over again. Why should the Government promise protection to its citizens who go on English ships and fail to give protection to those in Mexico?"

"Grrrr," attempted the patient. "Look out; keep that cavity dry," he replied. "Those ships had been used to carry thousands of rounds of ammunition to the enemies of Germany."

"Now, hold that position, hold it." He clipped out a square piece of rubber, punched a hole in it, and fitted it around the offending tooth. "There is no such thing as international law which is binding in this case."

He strung a strap about the head and chucked a small roll of bandage in the mouth—not his mouth—to keep it open.

"Ah," he said, "perfect. Now for the filling!"

That ended the patient's chance, if he ever had any, for the strap about the head was tight, the rubber secure and articulation a thing of the past until succor came. There are pro-German arguments of many kinds and he heard them all. They went unanswered; one cannot talk very well with the feet or hands unless one is skilled.

But that strap had to be removed; the rubber square taken from the tooth. Did the patient have a chance? Wait.

"Now," said the dentist as the filling was completed, "it is necessary to permit this crystal to harden. Why do you think it was wrong to sink the boat; why should there be trouble? Why, you know there are no reasons."

He was waiting for something; that much was evident. He buzzed the buzzer to test the unannounced machine of torture in operation; he arranged his tools. The hour was nearly up. "Just hold that position for 5 minutes," he said, "perhaps three, or two. I guess it is all right now."

The bell had rung and a young woman stepped into the outer office.

"Right this way, Miss Blank," said the dentist. "You've got into the chair and I'll be with you in a minute. You said you would be in a hurry. Yes, Mr. Blank, good morning. You see to come again on Tuesday."

FREDERICTON BUSINESS COLLEGE
WILL OPEN ITS FALL TERM ON WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 1

Now is the time to write for full particulars.

Address,
W. J. OSBORNE, Principal.
Fredericton, N. B.

Germany began the war to get the mastery of the world, to have all the world under her feet, and she is fighting for that end. From the dreadful deeds she is doing, killing defenseless and unoffending men, women, and children, sinking great ships without warning, in which are hundreds of people who have no part in the war—from all these things you may see what kind of a world it would be if she were to win the mastery.

You may read these things every day in the newspapers, so they need not be repeated here.

But what can you do? How can you help? There is one thing you can do, you can pray.

Pray that our men who go to the front may be strong and well and be kept from harm and wrong.

Pray that the sick and wounded among them may be helped by the doctors and nurses to get well again.

Pray that any who are dying may trust in Jesus Christ and have hope and peace.

Pray that the bereaved friends at home may have God's help to bear the sorrow.

Pray that those who have been taken captive, and are in the enemy's prisons may be kept in health, and come safely home when the war is ended.

Pray that the wicked plans of the enemy may be defeated and their cruel deeds ended.—Ex.

BERNSTOFF MUST LEAVE COUNTRY

Famous U. S. Journalist Says 'People Demand Break With Germany'

Louisville, Ky., August 28.—Col. Henry Watterston, in the Courier-Journal, says: "It is the last straw that breaks the camel's back."

"Long ago should Count von Bernstorff been given his passports. Now he must go, and along with him the whole imperial outfit will have to walk the plank."

"The country has suffered enough in its dignity and its peace. Invaded by a horde of secret service agents, who found here a body of reservists already organized and prepared to meet them, there has been no time when Germany was not making war upon us. Her hirelings have threatened us with civil strife. They have threatened us with political destruction."

"The time has come when we shall send the officials away and compel the domestic leaders, the subsidized editors and volunteer spies to know their place."

"It may be that not until we have hanged a few of them will they learn that the United States is a government and that America belongs to the Americans."

"We have neither right nor reason to doubt the President. His attitude admits of no further parley, equivocation or delay. The people en masse demand the suspension of all relations with Germany, and we believe he will promptly answer the summons. Berlin will ascertain, when it is too late, where we stand. To bell with the Hohenzollern and all his agents, his works, his ways, and up with the flag of the republic!"

PULP MILL HAS STARTED OPERATIONS

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)

The new pulp mill of the Bathurst Lumber Co. started the manufacture of unbleached pulp on August 17th, and now has quite a quantity manufactured, which will shortly be ready to be placed on the market.

The quantity turned out so far is largely for the purpose of tests, but it is expected that all the requisite adjustments, that were of course expected in the new plant, will be completed this week, and unbleached pulp will be turned out in large quantities in a very short time now. The plant is designed for the manufacture of bleached pulp, but it will probably be a month or more yet before this much more marketable product will be made in Bathurst.
