We carry a large stock in assorted sizes.

MAIL ORDERS

We solicit out of town orders which receive our personal attention. The length of time taken to fill orders is governed very largely by how busy we are in the department of our factory in which the particular goods are made. While we have exceptional facilities for promptly turning out goods, it is important to place orders as far ahead as possible. Orders are filled by us in the rotation in which they are received, and customers can always depend on our doing everything in reason to give prompt despatch.

Our Office is connected with the N. B. Telephone Co.'s line by two separate lines insuring prompt attention.

CHARLO MILL BURNED FRIDAY

Large Up-to-Date Mill of Continental Lumber Co. With Lumber Destroyed.

About three o'clock Friday afternoon the large lumber mill of the Continental Lumber Co. at Charlo River was discovered to be on fire, and before any steps could be taken to extinguish it, the entire structure was doomed.

Fanned by a westerly wind the fire quickly spread to the adjacent buildings and lumber piles, which were soon a mass of flames. The fire fighting equipment was all in the burning mill and little could be done to check the fire.

A hurry call was sent to Campbellton and about six o'clock the steam fire engine in charge of a number of the firemen went to the scene, and did noble work in saving lumber piles and the shingle sheds and piles.

About seven o'clock the wind turned to the east and for a short time a gale raged, which sent the fire up through the large piles, so that about four fifths of the total quantity was burned.

The mill, office, cook house, store, stables and warehouses were destroyed and the scene of a bustling lumber industry is now a smoking ruin.

The loss will be one of the heaviest experienced in this county in recent years, but up to present writing no definite figures can be given. The loss is fairly well covered by insurance. St. John agencies are interested in the insurance of the mill and lumber of the Continental Lumber Co., at River Charlo which was destroyed by fire last week to the extent of more than a quarter of a million dollars.

BOARD OF TRADE HOLDS MEETING

Enthusiastic Opening Meeting of Season Held Tuesday Evening.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Murray Hall Tuesday evening, President Champoux in the chair.

President Champoux in a very optimistic address said that he hoped the Board of Trade would meet regularly and work for the best interests of the town. When he visited other towns and cities he saw Boards of Trade doing excellent work. We should be alive to our interests.

The matter of a subway from Patterson street to Union street as an extension of Central street was discussed, as was the necessity of increased facilities at the C.N.R. shops here and after a lengthy discussion a committee composed of Messrs. D. A. Stewart, D. Champoux, H. A. Carr, W. H. Miller and W. H. Wallace was appointed to confer with the proper authorities and press for the necessary work.

Some other matters were discussed after which the meeting adjourned.

MR. LABILLOIS MADE THE OFFER

Wanted $2500.00 to Withdraw From Contest—Offer Was Turned Down.

To the Electors of the County of Restigouche,

Ladies and Gentlemen:—The Tribune of last evening contains the statement that the "Hon. C. H. LaBillois received $2,500 to lay down in the 1916 election."

This is not in accordance with the facts which are as follows:—

Early in 1916 Hon. C. H. LaBillois requested that a committee of the Liberal Association meet him. A committee was appointed but a meeting was not arranged.

Again in July 1916 Mr. LaBillois met Mr. John Harquail at Dalhousie and commenced to explain for what purpose he wished to meet a committee. Mr. Harquail told him that he was not one of the committee, but if he wished to tell him the circumstances to go ahead.

Mr. LaBillois then said that if the Liberal party wanted to keep him quiet they would have to pay him $2500.00. Mr. Harquail promised to bring this matter to the attention of the executive of the Association.

When Mr. Harquail returned to Campbellton he stated to members of the Liberal Association what Mr. LaBillois had proposed, but the members were loath to believe that Mr. LaBillois would sell himself in this manner. However to corroborate Mr. Harquail's statement a committee of three, viz: John Harquail, John Quinn, and F. M. Anderson, was appointed to wait upon Mr. LaBillois.

This committee went by auto on the 13th day of July, 1916 to Mr. LaBillois' home and there met him. Mr. LaBillois there and then put the following proposition up to the committee.

He said that he had mortgages on his property which he wanted to pay off. If the Liberals would pay him $2500.00 he would not only retire from the local field, but he would come out and work for the Liberal candidates.

The committee informed him that they had no authority to make any such arrangement.

The matter was kept between the committee and a few members of the executive who all expressed regret that Mr. LaBillois had made such a proposition, but agreed that they would never sanction the payment of any money.

The above are the true facts of the case, and the result was that Mr. LaBillois took no part in the provincial election of 1917.

HOME FROM HIS TRIP TO EUROPE

Mr. Anderson Visited Some Battlefields in France.

R. H. Anderson, Supervisor of the Bank of Nova Scotia in the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, has returned from England after spending a few days in Toronto. He had the opportunity while in England to go over to France with Hon. Mr. Squires, Premier of Newfoundland and to visit some of the battlefields in that country. Mr. Anderson was deeply impressed by the way in which the French are handling the reconstruction problem. The people are working hard to restore their villages and are succeeding. The graves of Newfoundland men, he said, were marked by green wreaths. Mr. Anderson said great unrest still prevails in Great Britain.—Globe.

GOOD RECORD OF THE GOVERNMENT

Contrast Conditions of To-Day With Those of Four Years Ago.

If the citizen who ordinarily does not take an active interest in provincial politics will take time to contrast present conditions with those existing four years ago, he or she will have no difficulty in arriving at a right conclusion as to the course to be pursued on Oct. 9th.

Four years ago the province and all Canada were ringing with the scandals relating to the crown lands, the Valley Railway, and others known in part but later to be revealed in all their nakedness. Today from end to end of Canada the crown lands policy, the highway policy, the public health policy and others that might be enumerated are cited as examples of progressive legislation; while no breath of scandal attaches to the government which is carrying them into effect.

The thoughtful citizen cannot fail to note the contrast between the new and the old, nor fail to realize that the Foster administration has restored the good name of the province. Over against this how petty and small is any individual criticism of members of the government. United they have achieved the results of which the people are proud. If returned to power they will carry out the same progressive policies, and further advance the interests of the province and its people.

This is the great fact to have in mind on Oct. 9. The government should go back strengthened, and not weakened. Its good work has only begun. In order that the government's hands may be strengthened the electors of Restigouche must vote for Messrs. A. T. LeBlanc and S. S. Harrison.

WIFE ONCE BOUGHT

Proceeding Many Centuries Ago Was Universal.

Present-Day "Marriage Portion" May Be Regarded as a Symbol of Old Custom--Some Curious Wedding Ceremonies.

Among far older civilizations than that of the Anglo-Saxon the system of wife-purchase had ceased before Britain was a real country. The Indian law-giver, Manu, strictly forbade it, and said: "A man who, through avarice, takes a gratuity, is a seller of his offspring." In the historical times of the Greeks they no longer bought wives. In Rome "emptio" was only a symbol of the ancient custom. In the Jewish Talmud the purchase is also symbolic, as is frequently the Mohammedan "mahr." Withal, the bride price, "foeter leas" and marriage gifts, when returned, were converted into dowry and became at first the bride's property. Thus marriage portions chiefly derived their origin from the habit of purchase, and dowry often became, as with the Hebrews, a religious duty. Not less than the tenth of the father's property was considered a just dowry. In Aristotle's time nearly two-fifths of all Sparta belonged from this cause to the women. Sir Henry Maine considers that the amazing thrift of the French is also owing to this custom, which probably descended to them from the marriage law of Augustus Caesar. It was only by an anachronism that Euripides made Medea lament that women were obliged to purchase husbands at a great price. And it is often as true today as when the Latin poet sang:

When marriage ceremonies first did arise it was by degrees and in many ways, and customs such as capture when superseded became by symbol a part of the succeeding legal form or contract. To eat maize pudding from the same plate or to eat in any way together is a widely distributed marriage ceremony. In Brazil a couple may be married by drinking brandy together; in Japan by so many cups of wine; in Russia and Scandinavia it used to be one cup for both. The joining of hands among Romans and Hindus is common in many parts of the world. In Scotland it is called "hand fasting," and couples live together after it. To sit on one seat while receiving friends or to have the hands of each tied together with grass, or to smear with each other's blood, or for the woman to tie a cord of her own twisting around the naked waist of the man constitutes marriage in one place or another. In Australia a woman carries fire to her lover's hut and makes a fire for him. A Levantine negress cooks two dishes for him in his own hut. In Croatia the bridegroom boxes the bride's cheek and in Russia the father formerly struck his daughter gently with a new whip--for the last time--and then gave the weapons to her husband.

Hat Decorations.
A very dignified matron, the wife of one of the city's clergymen, went into a downtown store the other day to take advantage of a sale. She bought the books for which she had come and started out of the store. But a counter-piled high with men's hats attracted her to a crowd of more fastidious shoppers, most of whom were examining the variegated silk stockings on the racks above the counter. The most personable woman almost blushed over their open interest.

Finally the socks were bought, several other counters visited, and then the minister's wife started to leave. At the door she met one of the parishioners. They exchanged greetings and then, with a "Please allow me," the parishioner reached up to the hat of the minister's wife and lifted from its wide brim a pair of gaudy rose silk stockings.

The racks above the bargain counter were, of course, the cause. "But no one knew it," mused the parishioner's wife. "Just think how many people saw me wearing those decorations, and actually I was embarrassed over the other women just looking at them. And I--well, I was wearing them very prominently."

Hats Off.
One day I was watching a new company drill. The officer gave the command, "Cover off in the rear rank," meaning that every man in the rear rank had to stand directly back of the man in front of him. Instead the whole rear rank took off their hats--except one.

BENGING SANDS.

Sediment Explains Strange Phenomenon of Nature.
An interesting attempt is made by a writer in Science to explain the strange sands of Lake Michigan. These extend along its eastern shore from Gary, at the southern extremity, to Mackinac, at the northern, with comparatively few breaks or interruptions. Throughout this region the sands near the water's edge, in dry weather, emit a peculiar but definite and unmistakable sound when the foot of the pedestrian pushes through them in an abrasive way. This unusual sound is produced not only by the leather-soled foot, but is emitted also if the bare foot or hand is struck through the grains or if a stick is trailed, boy-fashion, behind. Thoreau, in the Journal, said it was like the sound made by rubbing wet glass with your finger or by waving a table. It was a squeaking sound, as of one particle rubbing against another.

"My hypothesis, briefly stated, is this," says a writer in Science. "The sand grains on the lower beach and as far as the upper limit of the storm beach are bathed periodically by the waters of the lake, which contain various salts, including calcium and magnesium carbonates. This water dries on the grains of sand, coating the surfaces with an extremely thin film of salts, including calcium and magnesium carbonates. This film is of such a nature as to create considerable friction when rubbed, and thus when the grains are brought into contact with various surfaces a sound is emitted. One may compare the action of the film of dried salts on the sand grains with the action of rosin on the violin bow. The beach sand is, of course, the same sand which later goes to form the dunes when transported by the wind. But during its transportation, due to the abrasive action of grain against grain, much of the salt film is rubbed off and carried on by the wind in the same manner that clay dust is, to be deposited in quiet places, or to speak metaphorically, after deposition in blowouts or on dunes, the grains are subjected from time to time to the breaching action of rain water, and this completes the removal of calcium and magnesium carbonates (in the form of bicarbonates and of the other salts) so that the original sand grain surface is restored, or to speak metaphorically, the sands lose their singing voice. Such is the hypothesis."

An Island Sanctuary.
About twenty miles from Salt Lake, on the Great Salt Lake, is Bird Island, recognized as the sanctuary of pelicans. Bird Island derives its name from the fact that only birds, and, in fact, only pelicans--live on the island in the great inland body of salt water.

There are countless thousands of pelicans on the island, and many tourists leave Salt Lake City every summer to spend a few hours there. The birds are so thick, and fly so low, that most persons leave the small island with either umbrellas or parasols open to prevent the pelicans from alighting on their heads. There are no fish in Great Salt Lake, and many have asked how the pelicans live. The answer shows that the older pelicans fly every morning to Utah Lake, about thirty miles distant, and consume a meal of freshwater fish, and then return with their pouches full to feed the younger pelicans.

Bird Island is nothing more than a rocky structure. There is no human habitation there, and there are no trees or any other vegetation. The reason for the pelicans remaining at Bird Island and making the daily flight to another lake for food has never been fully explained, although fish dealers say that the pelicans are not molested at the island, and that therefore the sanctuary in Great Salt Lake will always continue as their permanent abode. Popular Science Magazine.

Skeletons for Sale.
This is not really gruesome as it sounds. The most successful impediments of the medical student is a skeleton, and at the moment there is a considerable dearth in the latter commodity.

Before the war, medical men and students of Great Britain used to purchase the material required for carrying out anatomical examinations from Paris. Now, for some unaccountable reason, the supply has been greatly decreased, and, unhappily, the price has also stepped in. Four or five guineas was the utmost asked for a complete skeleton of a man, and now the price is at least ten guineas.

A certain humor is lent to the situation by the appearance in medical journals of advertisements asking the loan of a skeleton for a short period. It recalls the nursery conversation between Bob Sawyer and his fellow-student, Benjamin Alton, at the breakfast table, when Benjamin Alton was asked to lend a skeleton. Benjamin Alton was asked to lend a skeleton. Benjamin Alton was asked to lend a skeleton.

Only a Dream.
"I'm going to get a nice little wife. I'll have a cozy little home, well-cooked meals, my slippers ready for me when I get home at night, my pipe always handy to me and peace and contentment for the rest of my days." "You never ought to marry." "Why ever not?" "Well when a man has a dream like that he ought not to risk waking up."--Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Last call for fall fruits

Do not miss your chance to pre-serve these last sun-ripened fruits of summertime. Now your folks will enjoy them, and how pleased you will be to serve them when canned goods made with top-priced sugar are out of reach. The time for preserving foresight is when the fruit is still in season.

Lantic is your best friend in retaining the rare bouquet of luscious plums and peaches, of delicately-flavoured pears. Its tiny, snow-white crystals of pure cane dissolve so quickly into syrup of concentrated sweetness, that you can smile at the old-time caution "Let it simmer until the sugar is all dissolved"--because it's FINE.

Fruit will retain its natural form and colour because over-cooking is unnecessary. Lantic WILL go further, and so costs less.

GOVERNMENT CANDIDATES.

Election throughout this county remember that the only accredited candidates in support of the Foster government are Messrs. Arthur T. LeBlanc and Stubbart S. Harrison.

In an address delivered at Upper Charlo Monday evening Hon. Mr. Veniot made this plain. The two distinguished gentlemen, who have so many times turned their political coats, and who are posing as supporters of the Foster government have neither been endorsed by the local government organization or by Premier Foster, but are self-appointed candidates, and as such should not be recognized at the polls on the 9th of October.

That the Foster government will be returned at the polls in the coming election is conceded by all who have made a study of provincial politics. In every county in the province strong government tickets are in the field. It is therefore up to the electors of Restigouche to see that they are represented by the supporters of the Foster Government, Messrs. LeBlanc and Harrison.

This is most important at this time as Restigouche in the next five years will have many large requests in the way of public works to make and we must have friends on the government benches to press such requests.

We are sure all ratepayers who place the best interests of the county above mere party will support the Foster government supporters, Messrs. LeBlanc and Harrison.

GOOD ROADS VENIOT.

In commenting on the great improvement brought about in the condition of the roads of the province since the Foster Government took office, the St. John Times says:

"In Nova Scotia our minister has been described as 'Good Roads Veniot.' That is to the credit of the province as well as the minister. Mr. Veniot has not spared himself. Not even his engineers have a better knowledge of the roads than he as he has gone over them for the very purpose of becoming familiar with the relative needs of each locality. All cannot be dealt with at once, and if any locality is disposed to feel that it is being neglected it should bear in mind that the most urgent work must first be done; and that in due time every stretch of highway will have its turn. Those who are disposed to be reasonable, and are not blinded by partisanship, rejoice at what has already been done and will vote for the continuance in office of a minister and a government who have taken up with courage, and intelligence the great task of giving the province a system of good roads."

GOOD ROADS NECESSARY.

If the Bay Chaleur country is to come into its own as a tourist country it must have good roads.

In this issue we publish an article on the roads in Bonaventure county which deserves more than passing interest.

If we in this section work together we can have good roads. The road down the Matapedia valley to Campbellton and from Cross Point to Gaspé must be made passable if we desire to encourage motor tourist to this beautiful country. Each year sees more tourists trying out our roads and if they find them good or bad they are so reported.

Fortunately we in New Brunswick have a road policy which is a credit to the government and our roads are being advertised throughout the United States as being in excellent shape. It is also said that the further north you travel in this province the better the roads. We do know that Restigouche roads are in excellent condition.

We would suggest that the Boards of Trade unite in this matter.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. W. J. Kent.

Bathurst, Sept. 25.—Seldom has such deep regret been so wide-spread at the death of Mrs. W. J. Kent, which took place at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Kent who had undergone an operation several days ago, did not rally afterwards, complications having arisen. Her husband and her three daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) R. G. Duncan, Bathurst, Mrs. (Dr.) Thompson, Boston, and Mrs. McDiarmid, Greenwich (Conn.) had been with her during her illness in Montreal. The sympathy which will be felt by numberless friends will be most heartfelt and sincere for the loss to her family of a devoted wife and loving mother.

Besides her own immediate family, Mrs. Kent leaves the following stepchildren—Mrs. G. Schryer, Miss Elizabeth, of Bathurst; Mrs. G. McLaughlan of Toronto; George, Harold and Harper of Bathurst. Mrs. Kent, who was formerly Miss Johnston of Bathurst, was married three times. Her first husband was Mr. J. Curran of Rexton, and her second Mr. Abbott, manager of the Royal Bank at Moncton. The funeral will take place here on Saturday afternoon.

AUTO PRICES DOWN.

There is a depression in the automobile business, especially in the United States, where business has been very poor during the past season. Most factories are working on short time and have also laid off a large number of hands. Last week Henry Ford reduced prices on his make of cars thirty per cent, which brings them to prices asked in 1914. Other manufacturers are following his lead and several have announced reductions of 25 per cent.

LIGHTING THE OCEAN.

Certain Marine Creatures illuminate the Water. On still nights in tropical waters the light is illuminated as it is by the light of its own. Every breaking surface looks like a flame. An observer looking at the surface seems to see a million stars. The light is due to the presence in the water of innumerable minute animals, each of which holds up its tiny torch, so to speak, to contribute to the illumination.

Marine creatures of many kinds—jellyfishes, ctenophores, etc.—carry on their heads; other have luminous spots along their sides, and others are covered with a luminous slime. The lantern fish has a regular row of light organs along its back. It is a very remarkable light-bearing creature. There is a realm of light in the depths of the ocean that is very remarkable. Light-bearing creatures are found in the water. They are in the light, they must furnish it themselves; and, to catch every possible ray, most of them are provided with huge eyes.

Most remarkable in this respect of all known deep sea fishes is the "argyropelagic," which carries a couple of dozen lanterns of large size—on each side, in front of the eyes, and the others along the belly in a single row. These are veritable "lanterns," each of them with a double-convex lens of crystal-clear substance and a reflector behind. The light is emitted by a mass of cells in the rear part, while the purpose of a reflector is served by a luminous sheet of white fibrous tissue. Each lantern has a muscular arrangement for turning it this way or that, and is connected by a nerve (connected at the back) with the central nervous system, by which its mechanism is minutely controlled. Thus in all likelihood the fish is able to turn its lights on or out at will.

Another species has on each side of its head a double lamp, with reflectors, the two pointing different ways. That is to say, one of each pair of lanterns points upward and ahead, while the other is directed downward. While throwing a beam forward and in the direction in which it is going, the fish is able to illuminate the bottom over which it passes in search of food.

It is interesting to observe that the lanterns here described are constructed on the same principle as the best and most modern ones of human manufacture. Nature thought out the problem and produced the invention long ages ago. The light of the marine torch-bearers and lantern-carriers (argyropelagic, or sometimes greenish) is cold light—illumination without heat. It represents the solution of a problem which science has tried in vain to puzzle out. In other words it is light without waste, the energy employed in making it being wholly expended in illumination.

It used to be thought that this light was due to the presence of phosphorus—whence the term "phosphorescence." Long ago that absurd notion was exploded. The best theory at present is that it is attributable to some sort of chemic substance secreted by the animal, which, when oxygen comes into contact with it, it lights. In the case of the "argyropelagic" we have recognizable "photogenic cells" like those of the firefly's flashlight apparatus.

The Rainbow's Sound. Incredible as it may seem, a beam of light can be made to produce sound. A ray of sunshine is thrown through a lens on to a glass vessel containing lampblack, colored silk or soot, or any like substance. A disk having slits or openings cut in it is made to revolve swiftly in the beam of light, so as to "cut it up," thus causing alternate flashes of light and shadow. When one places his ear to the glass vessel he hears strange sounds so long as the flashing beam falls upon the vessel.

A still more extraordinary effect is produced when the beam of sunlight is made to pass through a prism so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum. The disk is turned and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it. Now if the ear be placed to the vessel containing the silk or other material, as the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given out by the different parts of the spectrum, and there will be differences in color parts.

For instance, if the vessel contains red waxed and the green light flashes upon it loud sounds will be given out. Only faint sounds will be heard when the red and the blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel. Other colors vary in the order of sounds at all. Green silk gives out sound best in a red light. Brown silk of material gives muted or less sound in different colors and no sound at all in others.

Counting a Billion. According to Popular Science Monthly it would be hard work to count a fortune of a billion dollars. Counting out one-dollar bills at the rate of 160 a minute for eight hours a day it would take a bill-counter forty-six years of 360 days to finish the job.

The Teletograph. The teletograph, an instrument which can give "redundancy" at any distance, in exact the same of telegraphing or drawing done at the transmitting station, is being away with messenger service in many large commercial and industrial plants.

A Successful Candidate.

Biancilli, the strong man, was doing well. Everywhere he appeared fresh triumphs awaited him. He found himself in a first-class compartment seated opposite a thin, seedy little wretch with side-whiskers.

Biancilli smiled knowingly. "Dear dear!" Recognized again. Gettin' quite a celebrity, I am," he murmured as the little wretch leaned forward and tapped him on the knee.

"Excuse me, sir, but are you not Biancilli?" admitted the soft impeachment.

"Is it true that you can lift two and a half tons in harness?" "Yes."

"You can hold two men at arm's length?" "I can."

"And put up 500 pounds with one arm?" "Yes."

"And 700 with two?" "Yes."

"Then," concluded the man with side-whiskers, "would you kindly raise the carriage window for me?"

It had been a hard task and taken the whole of his Saturday afternoon, but now it was accomplished, and Mr. Urbus viewed it with delight.

Little did he care for the fact that he had crushed his thumbnail with the hammer, that he had split a pot of paint over his best trousers and that the job had cost twice what a carpenter would have charged. The clothes post was now erected and he retired to the house a proud and happy man.

Ten minutes later he returned to find his eyes once more upon his triumph, but to his horror, the post now lay prone upon the lawn.

"You pushed it, did you?" he yelled, seeing his youthful heir.

"No father," said the boy. "A sparrow perched on it and it went over. I saw him do it."

PLAN MEETING FOR NEXT WEEK

Premier Foster and Other Speakers Will Address Electors Here.

The government workers plan to hold a big demonstration in the Opera House some evening next week, the date to be announced later.

Premier Foster and other government speakers will be present and a big meeting will be the result.

ST. GODFROL

Gentlemen of Bonaventure and Gaspé Counties, what are we going to do for better roads. A few weeks ago I motored to Campbellton on these awful roads, breaking a spring which delayed us five hours, too late to cross over to Campbellton that night (of course I was in good humor). However we crossed the next morning; and after meeting some friends and happy faces, we began to forget our yesterday's trouble, and the disgraceful roads we came over. That same evening two kind friends invited me to motor to Bathurst, N. B., which I did and enjoyed the drive very much on most beautiful roads.

I couldn't help but compare the difference of the roads from Campbellton to Bathurst with our's down the Gaspé coast. Judging from the look of the country going along, I think our coast is equal to it in every way, farming, fishing, lumbering and etc., only the roads, which are a credit to the County, Foster government and Mr. LeBlanc, member for the County.

How can our cars stand on such roads as we have on our coast? Yet we pay more license than they pay in New Brunswick, and about double what they pay in the States. Where does all the money go that we pay for car license? Why isn't it spent on the repair of roads? As far as I can see, it is paid out to officials. First one is sent to collect license, then another is sent to collect chauffeur's license, and lastly we see another sent to look after speeding. (After all those are paid there is but little left to repair roads). As for speeding, there are places that an ox can go faster than a car.

Gentlemen of the coast let us get the cowbells out of our heads and do something for better roads, which would mean saving to our cars, vehicles, horses, time, money and gain in every way too numerous to mention.

Mr. Jasper Davison has returned from a visit to Maine.

Mr. Robt. Nelson left last week for Ontario, where he has accepted a position.

Rev. W. Camp returned this morning from Grande Ligne, Que., where he accompanied Miss Olive Sprout and Miss Geneva Rogers, who will attend the Feller Institute.

Mrs. L. Connell and Miss Florence Connell have returned from visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Chalmers of Norwich, Conn.

CARD.

To the Electors of Restigouche.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have been chosen by a convention of friends and supporters of the Foster government to contest the County of Restigouche in the coming election. We fear that we may not be able to meet all the electors before polling day and we take this means of making an appeal to all for support.

We are the only supporters of the Foster Government in this contest. Mr. LaBilloy and Mr. Duncan, the self-chosen, self-constituted and self-heralded government supporters, are running an election under false pretenses and are not the Foster government candidates in the County of Restigouche. If they were possessed with that desire of helping the County of Restigouche, of which they boast so much, Mr. LaBilloy would have accepted the position that was offered to him last June by the Foster Government on the Hydro-Electric Commission, at $3000. a year. Restigouche would then have had a voice in the selection of the water powers to be developed and for which the Legislative Assembly have voted one million dollars. Our water powers at Charlo Falls and on the Upsalquitch River would have had a share of the public moneys. Scores of Restigouche County young men would have found positions of importance in the development of our water powers.

Instead of recognizing his duty towards Restigouche, Mr. LaBilloy has chosen to refuse such an opportunity and has shut Restigouche County from the Hydro-Electric Commission and having done so, he now attempts by his present conduct to drive out of the County of Restigouche, supporters of the Foster government. Will the people of Restigouche help him to attain his end?

The Foster government has a clean record and in the short three years during which it has held power it has encouraged agriculture to a marked degree, has increased the pay of school teachers, has inaugurated a Road policy such as never was formulated in the province, has passed the Workmen's Compensation Act and has shown itself in every respect worthy of the public's confidence.

Let the Foster government continue its work. Let not any misplaced sympathy retard the progress of Restigouche. We want something from the government and one of the best means to get it is to elect the undersigned Foster government supporters in Restigouche.

We ask you one and all for support in the coming election and we pledge ourselves, if elected, to do all in our power to continue the progressive and honest administration which the Foster government has given to the province and to bring to the County of Restigouche the development of our water powers so that we may reap our just share of the advantages which have been placed at the disposal of the people of this province. What is needed now, more than at any other time, is cheap light and cheap power. The Hydro-Electric Commission can give that to Restigouche.

Yours faithfully,

A. T. LeBLANC,
S. S. HARRISON.
