

TURKEY IN ASIA.

A Vast Territory With Many Cities Famous in History.

The Turkish possessions in Asia cover 682,000 square miles, extending from the Black sea on the north to the southern tip of Arabia and from the Mediterranean on the west to the borders of Persia and Transcaucasia.

The population of Turkey in Asia, according to recent estimates, is nearly 17,000,000, made up principally of Turks, Arabs, Greeks, Kurds, Circassians and Armenians.

The Turks captured Constantinople in 1453, after overthrowing Asia Minor and what is now European Turkey.

The Moslem rulers of Constantinople extended their conquests farther into Europe. They took possession of the Grecian peninsula and obtained footholds in Hungary and on the Adriatic coast.

An alliance between Venice, Spain and the pope defeated the Turks in the battle of Lepanto in 1571, and the decline of Ottoman power in the west began.

In the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Greece, Serbia, Montenegro and the Crimean provinces of Russia were wrested from Turkish rule.

Constantinople has remained in Mohammedan hands continuously since its capture, nearly 600 years ago.

DON'T BE A BORE.

Never Talk Disease, Descendants, Domestic or Dress.

Washington belles and beaux, according to the correspondent of the New York World, are practicing Mrs. George W. Wickersham's rules for avoiding the conversational reefs upon which the social bore is wrecked.

"You'll never be a bore," says Mrs. Wickersham, "if you carefully avoid the four D's—

- DISEASE.
DESCENDANTS.
DOMESTICS.
DRESS.

"The first does away with organ recitals." The second eliminates the baby, no matter how cute he is, and one's forbears, no matter how distinguished they were.

Mrs. Wickersham's little "conversational code" was propounded at a recent White House dinner, and everybody nowadays is dropping D's.

Easing the Engineer. Locomotive engineers sit for hours at the throttle in a cramped position, the mind taxed to its full limit, the body at a terrible strain.

Percentage of deaths from kidney disorder is very high among locomotive engineers, and it is asserted that this is due in a large measure to the continued fat of the engine. With a view to ameliorating these conditions, an inventor has contrived a portable back rest made of canvas, which is attached to the seat, while the upper end is secured to coil springs, which are hooked to the ceiling of the cab.

A Picture Signature. Peter Newell, the artist and maker of freak books, has evolved a new signature that beats Whittier's famous butterfly a mile.

They have a genial way of announcing deaths at the antipodes. Here are the opening sentences of an obituary notice that appeared in a recent issue of an Australian newspaper: "David Hay Dairyville is now bumping his ass among the stars. He died at the age of seventy-two. His early career doesn't matter much, for he was just the usual kind of business man, mayor, etc."

A Valuable Stamp. Any one who has an unused thirteen cent United States postage stamp printed on blue paper would do well to hold on to it rather than to use it as a letter or package.

INSTINCT OF MERCY FATAL TO OVER FIFTY BRAVE MEN

Three Hundred Tons of Dynamite Exploded on Steamer.

Scores Buried in Icy Water of Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., March 8.—Fifty-four known dead, others probably whose bodies are buried in the icy waters of the harbor, and scores of injured over many of whom death hovers, represent the human toll of an explosion of 300 tons of dynamite in the hold of the British steamer Alum Chine off Fort Howard yesterday morning.

By a curious irony of fate it was the instinct of mercy and brave men's gallant response to the appeal of two of their fellows, in imminent and deadly danger that swelled the death list and the list of terribly injured to their ghastly proportions.

Warned in Time.

Curling smoke from the bow of the Alum Chine warned the members of her crew, the stevedores engaged in loading her, and the crew of the tug Atlantic, lying alongside, that death was in the air.

There was a rush to the ship's side. Fourteen members of the crew and four of the stevedores tumbled

WERE OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES

Entire Family in the East Ward Had Narrow Escape This Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Johnson and family, who reside at 271 Nelson street, had a very narrow escape from being asphyxiated on Monday night last and as it is the family have been sick nearly all week from the effects of the coal gas. During the night gas fumes leaked from the coal stove and when Mrs. Johnson went to get up in the morning, she fell on the floor. Her niece heard her fall and she arose from her bed and assisted her aunt and she fell and in turn Mrs. Johnson then got up on to meet the same fate as her daughter. Finally the lady folks managed to get the window up and let the gas fumes escape. The family have been sick all week from the effects of the gas. Dr. Bier was summoned and attended the family.

"Tekahionwake" Is Dead-- Pauline Johnson Passes To Her Rest in Vancouver

Famous Writer Who Was Born Near Brantford Called Home--A Distinguished Career is Closed After Much Suffering.

VANCOUVER, March 8.—Pauline Johnson, poet of the Canadian outdoors, died yesterday afternoon in the Butte street private hospital, where she has spent over a year of hopeless illness. For four years this gifted Canadian has been a resident of Vancouver. Her inheritance from her father, an Iroquois chief, in addition to her poetic gifts and the primitive sense of color which gave charm to much of her poetry, was the unfortunate tendency of primitive races to weakness of the lungs, and it was this trouble which made Miss Johnson an involuntary dweller on the Pacific coast.

"Vancouver people felt that the poet honored them by dwelling among them, and everything that the most kindly hospitality could do to brighten the last years of her life was done. Miss Johnson, though ill, did much work in Vancouver, wrote for the most part, but several delightful poems, reproducing the local color which fascinated the poet from the first, were written. For a Vancouver newspaper Miss Johnson wrote a series of articles in which were many of the legends of the Pacific Coast

Indians and the folk stories of those whose ancient home had been in the vicinity of Vancouver in particular, which were afterwards published in a volume, entitled "Legends of Vancouver." In her Vancouver sick room the poet prepared the large volume, called "Flint and Feather," in which are her collected poems, which was published in England a short while ago, and which has had a very large sale and has attracted much attention to Miss Johnson's work.

A Powerful Writer.

Rich in color, melodious, strong in picturesque interest, and excellent in literary workmanship, Miss Johnson's poems, mainly on outdoor subjects, brought her distinction in England and in the United States as well as appreciation in Canada. "Her best poems," writes one of her appreciative critics, "the poems in which there is the greatest life and fire, are those on Indian subjects, canoeing, etc." In all her work there was the greatest sympathy with nature, and she possessed a considerable amount of the poetic art. There is also in her work a powerful human appeal.

Miss Johnson's first book "The White Wampum," published in England in 1905, the admirable work in which gained for her a high place among Canadian poets. As an eloquent and reciter of her own poems she entertained many audiences in this country and the United States. Miss Johnson was in possession of considerable dramatic art, and her strong voice and fluent manner, an inheritance perhaps from Indian ancestors who were notable orators, made her a favorite entertainer. She was the daughter of George Henry Johnson, a head chief of the Mohawk Indians. Her mother, the wife of chief Johnson, was a white woman of English birth. The poet was born on the Six Nations Reservation near Brantford, Ontario. She received her education in the schools of Brantford. For many years she was a copious contributor to magazines, both Canadian, American and English.

In Vancouver the death of Miss Johnson will make a vacancy which is not likely to be filled. The news of her death was felt as a shock throughout the city. Miss Johnson's books have had a larger sale in Vancouver than in any other Canadian city. Last summer when the Duke of Connaught visited Vancouver, he spent several hours of his much occupied time in Miss Johnson's sick room at the hospital, where he made a kindly effort to cheer the invalid poet.

OBSTRUCTIONIST GANG ARE STILL AT IT AT OTTAWA

CHIEF JUSTICE

Edward D. White, Chief Justice of the United States, who administered the oath of office to Woodrow Wilson.

A Weary Lot of Men on Parliament Hill To-Day.

The Giddy Gurgle and Fluent Flow of Words Enjoyed.

OTTAWA, March 8.—Recklessly disregarding the effect of the Parliamentary deadlock upon the financial and business world of Canada, the Liberal Opposition continues the blockade. Protests and appeals from every part of the Dominion pouring in upon the blockers have been without avail. The one idea of preventing the Dominion from playing a courageous part in the Empire's defence controls the hold-up party to the exclusion of all others. It is an Opposition run mad. Under ordinary circumstances this would be the last legislative day of the week, but the usual Friday night exodus is not taking place in the House of Commons, preparing to sit through till midnight to-night, when there will be an adjournment till 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. As soon as Government orders are reached on Monday the House will be moved back into Committee of the Whole and the debate on the Aid Bill. The Opposition will then have the choice of passing the appropriation clause or restoring the blockade, and forcing such changes in the House rules as will stop the obstruction.

Will Force Its Passage.

The present probability is that the committee will not rise next week until not only the appropriation clause, but all the four remaining clauses of the bill have been passed. The Opposition will have to definitely declare itself one way or the other. The question of supply is daily becoming more important, and the Liberals will have to declare their attitude in regard to the voting of supplies. Instead of the bulk vote of one-eighth of the total estimates which has been customary in past sessions, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is said to be unwilling to agree to a vote of more than one-twelfth, which would provide money for only one month. He may even run counter to all precedent and decline to allow any percentage vote at all.

Surprises in Store.

An effort will be made by the Opposition on Monday to keep the naval issue off the boards altogether for two or three days by bringing up some of their so-called election grievances and prolonging the debate upon them. If this is done, the Liberals are quite likely to be a succession of surprises for the Liberal strategists. Sooner or later the naval order will be reached; when that happens there will be a decided change in the procedure. All this week the Government has permitted the widest possible latitude in the discussion, if it can be called a discussion, and even that latitude has been abused by the Liberal speakers. When the order is reached next week the committee chairman will enforce the rules of debate, and the Opposition blockers will have to keep their orations within the bounds set by these rules. In other words, they will be required to speak directly to the clause under consideration. Instead of wandering unchecked over whatever subject they choose to interject, they will have to talk business. This will be required under the existing rules, which are explicit. The blockers will fight the application of the rules, and this fight may last for a couple of days.

Foredoomed to Fail.

If another week passes in this way, and the Liberals refuse to abandon their campaign of obstruction, involving as it does the whole machinery of Parliament, the Government will take further steps, which will be effective in breaking the deadlock. The Opposition are waging a battle foredoomed to failure.

Knew His Geography.

It took five expert circumlocutionists to carry on the Liberal campaign during the hours from 3 a.m. to 8 a.m. Friday, when legislators dozed in the chamber, when the tramps avail themselves of the hospitable of the galleries of the all-night Parliament, and when a Hansard man and a few alert reporters are the only attentive listeners.

Y.M.C.A.

The dates for the arts and crafts exhibit at the Y.M.C.A. have been settled upon. It will take place on April 21, 25 and 26. The exhibition promises to be larger than ever this year.

Memorial Service.

A memorial service will be conducted in the Mohawk Church, at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon, in memory of the late E. Pauline Johnson. The services will be conducted by Rev. Robert Ashton.

Elusive Jack Bennet Now a Prisoner

County Constable Kerr received a telegram from Toronto this morning stating that Jack Bennet wanted here on a murder charge had been arrested in the Queen City. He left on the first train to establish identification. The prisoner, of course, will be brought back to Brantford for trial.

GOOD WORK AT TORONTO

Mr. W. S. Brewster M. P. P. Gives Talk on Work in Legislature.

Mr. W. S. Brewster, M.P.P., who returned home to-day from his sessional duties stated that the session of the Legislature had this week been very interesting.

The budget was delivered by Hon. J. B. Lucas, acting Provincial Treasurer. Mr. Lucas is one of the most popular members of the House and will beyond question succeed the late Colonel Matheson as Provincial Treasurer.

The budget showed that the revenue of the Province had doubled under the Whitney administration, and although the budget was discussed for several days, not a single item of expenditure was objected to, nor was it shown that a single dollar had been spent for which the province did not get actual value.

The debate has not yet been concluded but will likely be closed on next Thursday.

Mr. Rowell introduced a motion upholding his policy of abolishing the bar. The house was crowded during this discussion on Wednesday. Mr. Rowell spoke for one and a half hours, but was in very poor form and his speech fell very flat. In marked contrast to his address, was the speech of the Hon. W. J. Hanna, who was able to show that the Whitney administration had fearlessly administered the license laws of the province and in temperance legislation. He also showed beyond controversy that Local Option is a better temperance measure than would be Mr. Rowell's proposition to abolish the tavern license and leave the shops to sell liquor.

The debate will be concluded next week.

"Among other interesting measures introduced," said Mr. Brewster, "was the Bulk Sales Act by Mr. McPherson, M.P.P., and myself. The object of the Act is to prevent peddlers from selling out their goods in bulk, putting the money in their pockets and leaving their creditors without anything. The measure has the support of all the wholesalers of the

WANT WILSON AT CHURCH

A Keen Rivalry Among the Churches for Attendance of President.

[Canadian Press Despatch] WASHINGTON, March 8.—Keen rivalry has sprung up among the Presbyterian churches of Washington over the effort to enroll the membership of President and Mrs. Wilson during their four years' stay in Washington. So keen has the competition been that the President has declined up to this time to make any announcement of his affiliation. The same holds true in the case of Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, who also are Presbyterians. The several congregations engaged in the attempt to enroll the heads of the nation are the New York Avenue Church, the Church of the Covenant and the First Presbyterian Church. The first named, because of its accessibility to the White House, is believed to have a better chance of winning in the race than have the others. Furthermore, a number of Presidents have worshipped in the edifice, and for this reason it is popularly known as the "Church of the Presidents."

It was known that the President's family would attend service at the New York Avenue edifice to-morrow, although no instructions had been given to the White House employees concerning arrangements.

POLICE COURT

Interesting Cases Heard by Magistrate Livingston This Morning

Walter Gale, on the charge of being drunk, appeared for the second time within a year. He paid three dollars for the spree.

Walter Nichols was charged with the theft of five dollars from a man rooming in the same house. His case was adjourned till Monday, in order to give the police a chance to dig up some evidence.

Heavy Fines.

Those Sears were found guilty on a charge of stealing scrap iron from the Hartley foundry. The piece of iron in question, which was a very large one, was produced in court, with great difficulty. It took the best part of the police force to bring it up into the court room. His Worship, after hearing the evidence, decided that Sears was guilty and fined him $25.85.

David Leffer appeared as a witness in above case. After his evidence had been heard, however, he was charged as an accomplice to the theft also. This morning he was found guilty, and fined $22.80 or three months, he will likely take the latter.

Chub Sears, a brother of Tom's, was let on suspended sentence.

UNKNOWN MAN DIED IN HOTEL

Inquest Has Been Called to Investigate Case—Was a Stranger.

A few minutes after 11 o'clock last night an unknown man was found dead in the wash room of the Bodega Tavern, by Alexander Paterson, one of the wine clerks employed by the hotel.

Up until noon to-day the authorities have been unable to identify the man. The deceased was about 5 feet 8 inches tall, had two scars on left side of his neck, black curly hair, blue eyes probably about 37 years of age. He was attired in a brown striped suit with the name "Chapman" written in ink on the inside breast pocket of the coat. The deceased wore a pair of high laced tan shoes similar to what is worn by prospectors and civil engineers.

The name "Crossen Freyers," in all probability the makers of the clothes, was printed on a ribbon on the coat, and is thought to be that of a French firm. In his pocket was found a ten dollar bill and two 25c pieces. There were no letters, cards, papers in his possession, that would lead to identify and the authorities are at a loss to ascertain who the deceased was or where he came from.

Alexander Paterson who was on duty as wine clerk at the Bodega Tavern, told a Courier representative this morning that "the deceased came into the bar-room shortly after 6 o'clock last night with a young lad named Smith who resides on Wellington street, son of Mr. Smith, who carries on a clothes pressing business in the city. The deceased asked for a drink of liquor and was served, but Smith who is not of age, was not. The deceased went out and came back to the hotel again about 6 o'clock under the influence of liquor and asked for another drink, but was refused by Wine Clerk Paterson. The deceased then left the bar-room but returned again about half past ten, and asked for a drink but was again refused, as he was not this time pretty well intoxicated and Messrs. B. Cavanaugh and A. Paterson seeing the condition the man was in, carried him into the wash room of the hotel. Mr. Paterson went into see the man in a short time and found him asleep.

When the bar was closed at 11 o'clock Mr. Paterson went into the lavatory and shook the deceased to life and woke him up, but alas he had passed to the great beyond. Mr. Paterson then called Mr. Cavanaugh and Mr. Thomas McCusker, the manager of the hotel who was in the office and they carried the man into the office. Mr. John Milton, the proprietor of the Bodega, who had just retired, was made aware of the facts and he came down to the office and immediately telephoned for Dr. C. C. Fissette, who came to the

MISS PAULINE JOHNSON.

The falling asleep of Miss Pauline Johnson will be regretted by Canadians generally, but especially by residents of this city and county to the hearts of many of whom she was very dear.

Residing at Chiefswood on the Grand River, and later for many years in Brantford, she was long a familiar figure, and her literary success was a source of legitimate pride to many of us.

She was not one of Canada's greatest singers, but she wrote much that was tuneful and graceful and far beyond the ordinary.

Perhaps this is the best example of her work when in the strongest mood.

The Corn Husker.

"Haid by the Indian lodges, where the bush breaks in a clearing, through ill-fashioned fields,

She comes to labor, when the first still hush of autumn follows large and recent yields.

Age in her fingers, hunger in her face— Her shoulders stooped with weight of work and years,

But rich in tawny coloring of her face, She comes afield to strip the purple ears.

And all her thoughts are with the days gone by, Ere night's injustice banished from their lands

Her people, that to-day unheeded lie, Like the dead husks that rustle through her hands."

Then Miss Johnson at her best was camp or on a canoeing trip. All the sense love of nature bequeathed by her Mohawk ancestry was then to the fore and served to still further accelerate her always wild and blithesome mind.

This was her final message: Good-Bye.

"Sounds of the seas grow fainter, Sands of the sands have sped, The sweep of gales, The far white sails, Adrift, spent and dead.

Sounds of the days of summer, Mourning and die away, The wind distance hides, The light shuts out the day.

THE SPEECH OF A GERMAN CANADIAN

One of the most interesting speeches delivered in the debate was that delivered by Mr. Weichel, member for Waterloo, who defeated Hon. George King. As a member of German descent and representing a constituency largely settled by people of German descent, his utterances attracted unusual attention.

Canadians in the Borden province was shown by the speech of Weichel, for although he paid a tribute to the greatness and glory of the German Empire he was very clear that he was enthusiastically behind any plan which would strengthen the ties between Canada and the Motherland.

Mr. Weichel gave his hearty support to the plan for a stronger navy. It was the most striking speeches of the debate and it is seldom a young member gets as good a hearing as Mr. Weichel.

"We have the assurance," said Mr. Weichel, "that a permanent naval force will be submitted to the people of Canada. In the meantime let us be true to our professions of loyalty. Let us do something to regain our respect. Our sister colonies have no right to shame by doing their share. We should big and prosperous Canada behind. We are proud of our history. Proud of our history and proud of our Empire. Envious eyes are watching our progress in developing our natural resources. Our future is with that of the Motherland. She has watched over us, she has guided us and now when we are becoming a nation it will be to our best interests to stick closely to the Union Jack. She has confided in us, and to prove it she sends freely of her money to develop our resources. We owe a great deal to England. Although of German origin and proud of my ancestry, I am prouder still that I am a Canadian and a British subject."

And again in closing, Mr. Weichel amid cheers, said: "A great deal has been heard and said about autonomy and rights, and far too little about duties and responsibilities. In my opinion the principle of local autonomy has for all time been accepted and no serious man questions it any longer. Canada is either a part of the Empire, or it is not. We cannot any longer, with respect, stand by and allow Great Britain to shoulder the whole burden."

"The supreme interest of the British race is the peace of the world. We would hail with delight an announcement that the nations had decided to propose disarmament. But as long as nations will persist in arming to the teeth, just so long must the great British nation be in the race, ready at all times to assert her rights and to maintain at all hazards the integrity and stability of the Empire."

Canada's destiny lies with that of the Empire. Our success and prosperity will be assured if we share with her weal or woe. I hope to be spared to see this a great nation, taking her part in trying to secure a better understanding between the Christian nations of the world.

"Canada has a destiny and it is to be a glorious one linked together with the other parts of the Empire in one insoluble tie that will make for the peace and for the prosperity of the world."

THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO SUBMITS A REPORT.

The report of the Directors of the Sun Life Assurance Co., for 1912, is a record of all round increases. New policies how an increase over the previous year of $4,775,628.45.

Assurances in force at the close of the year show an increase of $18,160,347.00. Income for the year shows an increase of $1,775,746.08.

The assets of the company show an increase for the year of $5,704,730.51. These increases justify the statement made by the Directors in their annual report, in which they say: "The company now occupies the premier position among Canadian Life Assurance offices; and not only is the new business transacted much greater than that of any other Canadian Company, but it is we believe greater also than that of any other company incorporated in the British Empire which does not issue industrial policies."

The proud position occupied by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, is a matter of gratification not only to the management, the policy-holders and the shareholders of the company, but to all Canadians who take a pride in the development and success of purely Canadian institutions.

Mr. F. Hendry is the successful Brantford agent.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Many a good Grit is secretly ashamed of that obstruction game at Ottawa.

Up to date the Liberal blocking brigade at the Capital has cost the country some $60,000. But what the hang do they care about a little thing like that?

Some means will have to be devised to stop the Grit gab artists. All has been said that can be said on the navy question and it is only the part of business and of common sense to put a check upon the flow.

Days do come and days do go but Dr. Clark of Red Deer flows on forever.

One woman has been elected to sit on the London County Council in connection with 117 other members. She'll have at least one consolation; no other member of the fair sex can sit at one of the desks with a more attractive dress than her own.

Wanton obstruction is not patriotism and never will be.

A glass of milk taken from a Montreal restaurant was analyzed and shown to possess 7,668,000,000 bacteria. Small wonder that the pesky fluid comes so high.

BUSINESS CHANCES

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

And Deservedly

Toronto News.—If any child in any well-conducted home in the land were to exhibit one-half as much cross-grained, petulant, lank-headed obstinacy as the official Liberal party in Ottawa, he would be soundly warmed.

No Conflict of Interest.

Toronto Telegram.—Again and again in the Parliamentary history of the British Isles the representatives of the old country people voted the money of the British taxpayers to create property in forts and dockyards and canals in Canada.

Once in the parliamentary history of this country the representatives of the Canadian people are being called upon to vote the money of the Canadian taxpayers to create property in Dreadnoughts.

Forts, dockyards and canals built with the money of the British taxpayers were handed over to the control of a Parliament in which the British taxpayers had no representation.

Was Britain's autonomy impaired, was Britain's parliament degraded, or Britain's liberties endangered by such a transfer?

Not at all. When forts, dockyards and canals built with the money of the British taxpayers served Canada's purposes these properties served Britain's purposes.

When Dreadnoughts built with the money of the Canadian taxpayers serve Britain's purposes they serve Canada's purposes. There is no possible conflict of interest between the ideals of Canadian nationality and the demands of British unity.

Friedmann and the Doctors

Toronto Star.—Dr. Friedmann came from Germany to New York professing to bear with him the fruits of a discovery for the cure of consumption. He came avowedly to demonstrate the efficacy of his cure and place it at the disposal of physicians for the benefit of the hosts of persons on this continent who are to-day marked for death by the white plague.

On arrival he found his path besieged by victims of the disease. They thronged the street where it was supposed his office would be, although he was not opening an office. Then they came in crowds to the hotel where he was stopping. But his progress was barred in another way. The medical profession interposed. The hospitals declined to act with Dr. Friedmann in making tests on patients "inasmuch as Dr. Friedmann has no license to practice in New York State."

No license to practice! Although the white plague goes on practicing without license, let, or very much hindrance.

It was so preposterous that such a reason as that should be given for refusing countenance to a German physician, who professed to bear a remedy for the worst of human ills, the next day the medical authorities of the hospitals hastily changed their position and offered accommodation for making tests on patients. (Toronto Telegram Tips)

Closure is coming. Let Laurier Finish His Talk. On with the talk, let jaw be unconfined.

Obstruction will have reason to beware the idea of March. Closure will knock the Ottawa obstructionists into the middle of next week.

Obstruction will shortly begin to suffer from an impediment in its progress.

Is Mr. F. Maclean, M.P., in favor of the Borden contribution or of a general election? Obstructionists at Ottawa usually talk English, occasionally French, but rarely talk sense.

No, the antics of party interests are not generally recognized as the struggles of patriotic principle. Laurier Opposition please copy. Edit. Brev. B PpMoc

Sir Charles Tupper, now nearly 92 years of age, contemplates an early trip to England. He will sail from St. John on May 2nd by the Empress of Ireland. It is expected that he will spend at least the greater part of the summer in the Old Country.

Sir Charles, who crossed the ocean within a year on the sad mission caused by the death of Lady Tupper will be 92 years of age on July 2nd next, being born in Amherst, N.S., in 1821. He had made his home in England at The Mount, Bexley Heath, in Kent, for some time prior to his wife's death.

Canadians, irrespective of politics, will wish the grand old man bon voyage.

A Simple and Cheap Medicine.—A simple, cheap and effective medicine is something to be desired. There is no medicine so effective a regulator of the digestive system as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple, they are cheap, they can be got anywhere, and their beneficial action will prove their recommendation. They are the medicine of the poor man and those who wish to escape doctor's bills will do well in giving them a trial.

Forty years in use, 20 years the standard, preserved and recommended by physicians. For Women's Ailments. Dr. Martel's Female Pills, at your druggist.

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, president of the Equal Suffrage branch of the Canadian Suffrage Association, wearing the costume adopted by the Canadian contingent in the Washington parade. It consisted of a white over garment, clasped at the throat with maple leaves, and a Portia hat.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Piles, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days.

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE. PAPE'S COLD COMPOUND CURES COLDS AND GRIPPE IN A FEW HOURS.

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs; by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness, and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—except he substitutes—contains no quinine—be longs in every home. Tastes nice.

To-day's Special Calendar.

Afternoon Bridge—Mrs. Roy Seccord, Chestnut avenue.

Major J. S. Hamilton has returned from a trip to the coast.

Mr. A. Roberts of Roberts & Van Lane is in Toronto on business.

Miss Ada Burt has returned from a short visit spent with London friends.

Mrs. Clifford Seldon of Waterford spent yesterday with her aunt, Mrs. A. Roberts.

Mrs. Pero is a visitor in town at present, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Bone.

Mr. Frank J. Bishop is able to be out again after a two weeks seige of La grippe.

Miss Holt has returned to the city from a three weeks' visit spent with friends in Montreal.

Miss Gay Shannon of Chatham is the guest of Miss Marion Watt, William street, this week.

Mr. C. W. Aird, Dufferin avenue, spent three or four days in Niagara Falls on business this week.

Mrs. W. B. Preston has been spending this week in Toronto, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Biggs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pateron, Charlotte street, leave on Sunday evening for a short sojourn in Atlantic City.

Mr. Jack Hope of Toronto, was a welcome visitor in town this week, the guest of Mrs. Large, William street.

Mr. Jack Hope was one of the hosts at the young bachelors' dance given at the Metropolitan in Toronto last evening.

Mr. K. Bunnell and Mr. Iden Champion leave next week on a trip to Pinehurst, N.C. for golf at this popular winter resort.

Dr. J. Anderson of Ohio has been spending a few days in town before leaving for abroad, where he will study for two years.

Mrs. Harry Leonard, Chestnut avenue, is still confined to the house with la grippe—convalescing but not yet downstairs.

Mrs. S. F. Passmore, Charlotte St., was one of the week's hostesses, giving a delightful little thimble tea at her cosy home on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Allan Muir, who has been seriously ill for the past six weeks, is greatly improved, but will still be confined to the house for some time.

Mrs. James Scace, West Street, gave a jolly little bridge of three tables on Tuesday afternoon—Miss Torry and Mrs. McFarland being the fortunate prize winners.

Mrs. Roy Seccord, Chestnut avenue, was the hostess of a charming little "bridge" on Friday afternoon, and again to-day is entertaining at the ever-popular game of bridge.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" on the 11th, and "Freckles" on the 15th March, are the two good attractions booked for the Grand Opera House by Mr. Johnson for next week.

The engagement is announced of Miss Helen Wanger, daughter of Mr. Frank L. Wanger of Hamilton, to Mr. Percival C. Allworth, son of the late Dr. Allworth of Windsor.

Mr. Harold Cresser, the well-known insurance and real estate broker, was appointed district manager of the Imperial Life Assurance Co. on March 1st, succeeding Mr. Wm. Moore.

The contingent of Lake Erie and Northern surveyors who are at the Port Dover end of the line at present, were guests at a dance given in the Town Hall there on Thursday evening.

Of the 18 or 20 ladies expected from Galt, yesterday afternoon only 13 arrived, so some hostesses were minus a guest after all, la grippe being responsible for the change in numbers.

Mrs. James Scace, West street, was the hostess of a most enjoyable progressive euchre on Thursday evening. The prizes were won by Mrs. Harry Weeks, Mrs. J. Broadbent, Mr. Bob Ryerson and Mr. Hollinrake.

A popular Brant avenue girl is the proud possessor of a beautiful diamond and emerald ring these Lenten days, and a D. R. officer is receiving all sorts of congratulations from his various friends in consequence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bell, formerly of Brantford, are now on their way to England, having taken the Panama trip. They expect to make a three months tour before their return.

Mrs. Marry Leonard, Chestnut Avenue, has very kindly offered the use of her home for a talent tea and bazaar to be given in connection with St. Paul's church, Holmedale early in April.

Another delightful little affair claiming Mrs. James Scace as hostess was a "Thimble Tea" given at her home on Saturday afternoon of last week, which was much enjoyed by her many friends.

Miss Melita Raymond, an old Brantford favorite, now studying in New York, was recently chosen as the soloist in French for the concert given by Madame Cecile L. Casteguer Steele on March 5th in that city—a wonderful tribute to Miss Raymond's abilities.

Letters received from Mr. E. N. Roberts from London state that he and Mr. E. L. Cockshut are having a delightful time, musically and otherwise, in the world's metropolis. Mr. Roberts is studying hard, and it will probably be the end of the year before he returns to Canada.

F Company, 38th D.R.C., are planning a theatre party and supper to be held on Wednesday evening, March 12th. Each member to have the privilege of inviting one outsider. Needless to say, the event is being much looked forward to by the men and their friends.

The News that the receipts of all the football games this coming season will be donated to the Tuberculosis Hospital, again demonstrates the generosity of our local sports men—they have always been most generous and this is another manifestation of that spirit.

Dear old Pauline Johnson! The news of her death, in spite of her long and serious illness, comes as a shock to her many friends to-day—and yet, where the suffering has been so great and the malady incurable, one cannot but feel glad, for her sake, that the end has come. She loved the West and the city of her adoption—but Brantford mourns her as one of her children—fallen asleep.

Among the Brantford ladies who were acting as hostesses to various members of the Galt Musical Club, while in the City yesterday afternoon to whom we were indebted to for yesterday's programme at Smith's Music Hall, were Mrs. Herbert R. Yates, Mrs. M. F. Muir, Mrs. Glynn Ellis, Edith Sweet, Mrs. C. C. Fissette and Miss Wye for luncheon. Mrs. C. W. Aird also entertained the visitors to Afternoon Tea at her residence, Dufferin Avenue, prior to their departure. Altogether, the day was most enjoyable.

A delightful "at home" was given by Mrs. Geo. A. Elliott, Egerton St., on Tuesday afternoon, many friends enjoying her kind hospitality. Mrs. T. D. Barber ushered the guests to the tea room which was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Young, Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Benedict, assisted by Miss Chalcraft, Miss Mildred Cook, Miss Lindsay, and Miss Elliott. Beautiful spring flowers were in an abundance throughout the rooms making a pretty setting for the costumes worn by matron and maid.

The talent tea and bazaar given in Grace church school house, on Tuesday afternoon by the Junior Auxiliary of that church proved a most successful affair. The membership though showing larger on the books, is usually not in excess of seven, but these seven are workers and both they and their president, Mrs. Creygers are to be congratulated on the work achieved, and a tempting array of things were on sale at the various tables which were in charge of Mrs. Harry Weeks and Mrs. Mary Potts, Miss Potts and Miss Nora Frank, fancy work table Mrs. Noble and Miss Cook. An attractive table at which afternoon tea and coffee were served was presided over by Mrs. Cummings Nelles and Mrs. George Hatley. The attendance was large and altogether about $45 was realized over and above expenses.

Under the heading of "Easterers Who Have Made Good" West Street Saturday night this week has a collection of Mr. Charles C. Fairchild, C.E. of Fairchild, Jones & Taylor, consulting civil and mining engineers of Edmonton. Mr. Fairchild held a number of important municipal professional positions in Ontario before he went West. He was born in Brant county, Brantford friends, by-the-by, will be sorry to hear that Mr. Fairchild is quite seriously ill. He met with a nasty accident, lately whilst on a survey, and this has been followed by a nervous breakdown, which threatens to incapacitate him for two or three months.

The following programme, from the Women's Musical Club of Toronto, reached us recently, and as two of those taking part are former Brantfordites, we are sure our readers will be interested in its perusal. Mrs. W. H. Doherty was formerly Miss Mabel Wolfe, and the violinist is our own Miss Marjorie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Harry Jones, Chestnut Avenue: (a) "Lento" from Trio, Opus No. 34, Mrs. W. W. Doherty, piano, Miss Marjorie Jones, Violin, Mr. Frederic Nicolai, cello; Gena Branscombe (violin), (a) A Memory, (b) An Old Loxe Tale, Miss Lina Drechsler Adamson; Mary Turner Salter (Vocal), (c) The Song, (b) The Pine Tree, (c) The Lamp of Love, Mrs. Hamilton; Mrs. Gerard Barton and Miss Mary Morley, at the Piano.

LAUGHTER LINES.
Mrs. Mason's colored washwoman, Martha, was complaining of her husband's health.

"Why is he sick, Martha?" asked Mrs. Mason.

"He's ve'y pol'y, ma'am, ve'y pol'y," answered the woman. "He's got the exclamation rheumatism."

"You mean inflammatory, Martha," said the matron. "Exclamatory means to cry out."

"Yes, ma'am," replied Martha with conviction: "dat's what it is. He hollers all the time."—From Judge.

Our Recipes

Bacon Fritters.

Quickly made and fine in place of the meat dish for a meal. Make a batter of four eggs and half-cup milk and about a teaspoon of flour. Have bacon sliced very thin, then dip in the batter and fry. Now lay the bacon out in pan, pour remainder of the batter over it, and, when browned nicely, it is ready to serve. Have the serving dish very warm.

Bean Croquettes.

Get the white pea beans or the little Mexican brown frijoles. Soak one pint of them over night in cold water. In the morning cook until soft in water to which a saltspoonful of soda has been added, changing the water after it first comes to a boil. Rub the beans through a colander, then add to the pulp 1 cup grated breadcrumbs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 eggs well beaten, 1 small onion grated, salt and pepper to season. The onion may be omitted if not liked.

Mix all thoroughly, shape into croquettes, dip in beaten egg, then in cracker crumbs, and fry in hot, deep fat. Drain on soft paper and serve with a bit of parsley.

Weather indications—Mostly fair and milder, followed by light snowfalls.

Our Recipes

Bacon Fritters.

Quickly made and fine in place of the meat dish for a meal.

Make a batter of four eggs and half-cup milk and about a teaspoon of flour. Have bacon sliced very thin, then dip the batter and fry. Now lay the bacon out in pan, pour remainder of the batter over it, and, when browned nicely, it is ready to serve. Have the serving dish very warm.

Bean Croquettes.

Get the white pea beans or the little Mexican brown frijoles. Soak one pint of them over night in cold water. In the morning cook until soft in water to which a saltspoonful of soda has been added, changing the water after it first comes to a boil. Rub the beans through a colander, then add to the pulp 1 cup grated breadcrumbs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 eggs well beaten, 1 small onion grated, salt and pepper to season. The onion may be omitted if not liked.

Mix all thoroughly, shape into croquettes, dip in beaten egg, then in cracker crumbs, and fry in hot, deep fat. Drain on soft paper and serve with a bit of parsley.

Weather indications— Mostly fair and milder, followed by light snow-falls.

THE COAL SITUATION.

Next Three Months, Coal Will Be Cheap.

Now is the time to order your next year's supply of coal. The price of coal is lowest during April and May than any other time in the year. At present Buffalo harbor is clear of ice and railway companies are busy loading their boats with coal. This is being done to rush the coal to the West as soon as navigation opens on account of the supply getting very low in that section of the country during the past winter. This state of affairs will have a tendency to make coal a scarce article in Ontario. It will pay you to order your coal from F. H. Walsh before May 1st, as after that date all mine-owners advance the prices monthly.

Throughout the past winter several of the local dealers have been buying coal from independent firms in Detroit at an advance in price of $1.90 a ton over what Mr. Walsh has been paying; therefore, he is able to quote you a better price for April, May and June deliveries, especially ear lots for employees of factories. This coal is mined under the city of Scranton, Pa., (guaranteed), and no better coal can be purchased in the world. Mr. Walsh can quote a lower price than most dealers as he is under less expense than any coal merchant in the city. You get coal of quality and quantity, which is full of weight, worth and warmth, when you have Mr. Walsh fill your coal bins. He is already booking orders for next year's supply of coal at prices which will astonish you. If you are not already one of his many satisfied customers give him your next order and be convinced that he sells the best coal in the city and at economical prices and full weight.

He is also sole agent for Beaver Brand Charcoal, F. H. Walsh, Coal and Wood Dealer, Phone 345.

The local police were notified to be on the lookout for the man, and yesterday afternoon the two local sleuths met him on King St. E. P. C. ## THE LORDS WERE IN SESSION

House of Lord Puts Back Amendments—Interesting Discussion.

(Lloyd's News)

When the House of Lords met on Monday they had before them the House of Commons' reasons for rejecting the cardinal amendments in the Scottish Temperance Bill, these being:

- (1) Period of five years from June 1, 1912, before the Bill should operate extended to ten years.
- (2) Disinterested management.
- (3) Compulsory insurance against loss of licence.

Earl Beauchamp, for the Government, suggested that if the disinterested management proposal were made to apply to England as well as Scotland the Government would look upon such a Bill with a favourable eye.

Lord Lansdowne said this system was greatly desired in Scotland, and would only mean a further alternative for the electors.

Lord Curzon argued that the Bill be not forced through in its present form unchanged under the Parliament Act, but reintroduced in the coming Session, and remodelled by the House of Lords in co-operation with the Government.

Lord Curzon said the Government could not accept this particular disinterested management scheme.

The House then proceeded with the amendments, and by forty-nine votes to thirty-two reintroduced the ten years' respice rejected by the Commons.

Lord Balfour of Burleigh moved an amendment to public house licences, and, excluding from its grocers licences, restaurants, and hotels. The amendment was agreed to without a division.

The compulsory insurance amendment was not insisted upon. During the consideration of the Trade Unions Bill, designed to modify by the effect of the Osborne judgment on Tuesday, Lord Dunmore moved an amendment to add "the publication or circulation of any newspaper having any political purpose" to the objects in regard to which restrictions on the application of funds are imposed.

He did not think there would be any objection to a trade union running a newspaper having a political purpose if it were not for the provisions of the Trades Disputes Act, 1906, which bestowed on trade unions so far as their funds were concerned, an unrestricted right to defend against the law of libel.

The Lord Chancellor refused to accept the amendment, which, however, was adopted.

FORESTERS AT MEETING HERE

Executive Committee Held Meeting In Brantford This Week.

The Executive Committee of the Canadian Order of Foresters, convened for their quarterly meeting at the head office of the order in this city on Tuesday evening, the 4th inst., and completed their business at noon on Thursday, the 6th inst.

All the members of the committee were present, and this being the first meeting of said committee, since the completion of the business of 1912, statements of considerable interest, covering the Order's work, were submitted by Mr. Alf. P. Van-Someren, the High Secretary.

These showed that excellent progress had been made in all departments:

The Insurance Funds of the Order, after payment of all claims, have increased $380,727.15.

In the Sick and Funeral Benefit Department, the net increase, after all claims were paid amounted to $51,783.44.

On the 31st of December, 1912, the total funds amounted to $4,383,453.73 and, when it is considered that ten years ago, the total funds of the order amounted to $1,310,150.79, it will be realized what a remarkable progress this Association is making.

The membership of this purely Canadian Association stood, on the 31st of December, 1912, at 87,336.

The society invests its funds in Municipal and School Debentures of the Dominion of Canada, and, owing to the very favorable market conditions for investors, the available funds were invested on this occasion at a higher rate of interest than has been previously obtainable.

SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE

And Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her Son.

Straight and Simple Statement Tells of Another Grand Cure by the Old Canadian Kidney Remedy.

SPRINGHAVEN, Yarmouth Co., N.S., March 3.—(Special)—Simple and straight to the point is the statement of Mrs. Erven C. Trefry, of this place, but it tells of another grand cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My fifteen-year-old son Angus," Mrs. Trefry states, "suffered from pain in his back, headache, and a pain over his eyes."

"He was so bad he could not walk across the floor. My friends advised me to give him Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured him."

That young Trefry's kidneys were wrong is evidenced by the cure. Dodd's Kidney Pills only cure disordered kidneys. They never fail to do that.

The reason they cure rheumatism, backache, gravel, dropsy, Bright's disease, diabetes, and kindred diseases, is that these all spring from disordered kidneys.

If you haven't any of these diseases you haven't tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbors. They'll tell you Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure them.

The Kidneys and the Skin. If the kidneys are weak or torpid, the skin will be pimply or blotchy. Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens and stimulates the kidneys, and clears the complexion. By thoroughly purifying the blood it makes good health.

LORD HALDANE IS COMING

Canada Will Have Notable Visitor Here This Summer.

LONDON, March 8.—As already announced in a previous cable, the Lord Chancellor of England (Right Hon. Richard Burdon Haldane, first Viscount of Cloan) will visit Canada in August in order to deliver the annual address at the meeting of the American Bar Association, at their meeting in Montreal.

This visit brings up the historic character of the office of Lord Chancellor, and the limitations imposed upon anyone who holds it. Before accepting the invitation Lord Haldane had to obtain the approval of the King, for ever since the Norman Conquest the primary office of a Lord Chancellor has been to keep close to the person of the Sovereign, so that he may always be ready to give him confidential advice and to act as the "Keeper of the King's conscience," and custodian of the Great Seal, the specific emblem of sovereignty.

In Narrow Bounds

He must not, therefore, take the Great Seal abroad, or even to Scotland or Ireland—England and Wales being now the limits of the Lord Chancellor's jurisdiction—without the permission of the Sovereign. A new Great Seal is made for each Sovereign, and the old is broken in a solemn ceremony. Students of history will remember how, when James II. was forced to make his escape from England, he was particularly anxious to take with him the Great Seal as the emblem of sovereignty.

Not Year in Office

Lord Haldane has been Lord Chancellor less than twelve months, succeeding Lord Loreburn. He was previously Minister for War, and during his term of office reorganized the army, introducing the Territorial system into the old volunteer organization. He has been in Parliament nearly thirty years, and has a profound knowledge of constitutional law. He is a tremendously hard worker and while he talks on the platform at a rate which bothers any reporter who wants "to get it all down," his speeches when transcribed show that clear thinking is not one of the least of his many abilities.

Lord Haldane has translated Schopenhauer, and is learned in Heze and other German philosophies. His Lordship was born in 1856, called to the Bar in 1876, and became Queen's Counsel in 1890. He is unmarried.

Wise and experienced mothers know when their children are troubled with worms and lose no time in applying Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be used. It is absolute in clearing the system of worms and restoring those healthy conditions without which there can be no comfort for the child, or hope of robust growth. It is the most trustworthy of worm exterminators.

For Burns and Scalds—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will take the fire out of a burn or scald more rapidly than any other preparation. It should be at hand in every kitchen so that it may be available at any time. There is no preparation required. Just apply the oil to the burn or scald and the pain will abate and in a short time cease altogether.

Thomas Stephenson after taking GIN PILLS

Those who have suffered, year in and year out, from the dragging misery of Kidney Disease, anything that will relieve the pain is a blessing indeed. That is just what a well-known resident of Lachute Mills, Que., and his wife both found in GIN PILLS.

Lachute Mills, P. Q. "I was troubled for many years with Kidney Disease, and a friend told me to take GIN PILLS. After taking a few boxes, I was greatly relieved, and after finishing the twelfth box, the pain completely left me. My wife is now using GIN PILLS and finds that she has been greatly relieved of the pain over her kidneys.

I can safely recommend anyone suffering from Kidney trouble to give a fair trial to GIN PILLS." THOMAS STEPHENSON.

Would you welcome such a relief? Then take GIN PILLS. They go right to the spot—ease the pain almost at once—neutralize the Uric Acid which is causing all the trouble—strengthen the kidneys so that they will be able to keep the blood pure—and quickly take away that weakness and tenderness of the back which undermine the energy and vigor of manhood and womanhood.

Lady Marjorie's Love

"You know what it is!" She faced him defiantly. "I am engaged to my cousin."

"Oh, that?" He laughed. "Oh, yes now that you mention it, of course I know that! Her ladyship told me the other day that in a sort of fashion she believed it was dragging on still. But that's nothing—doesn't amount to anything. If he hasn't backed out yet, he will before long, that's certain."

"What do you mean, sir?"
"Mean?" He laughed again. "Why, I mean that he will," he said deliberately, "that's all. It was all right before Marjorie played up such a doubt, but now when he hasn't a penny and you have just about as much—well, he simply couldn't afford it, you know, and that's the long and the short of it. And you may rely upon it that he doesn't mean to try either, not he. That sort of thing isn't in Mr. Loftus Bligh's line, I take it, and so the Countess takes it too. I should think not—rather. Quite the reverse."

There was no answer, even though he scoffingly laughed again, for sheer choking rage held the girl dumb. Had he been between her and his brink, Mr. John Jocelyn might have found himself floundering in the river. Marjorie just at the moment was furious enough for anything, and had he stood so that one passionate thrust of her hands could have sent him there backwards in the river he would have certainly gone. But he was a little behind her, at her shoulder, and he could not see her face. He bent his head close to hers in speaking.

"Come now, Marjorie, be sensible! That's the plain state of the case, and you must see it is. If you don't fling him over he'll be precious soon fling you. I only wonder, just as the Countess does, that he hasn't done it before. You'd better take the chance while I give it you and make it all right with me. You'll be sorry if you don't let the Holt doesn't need to go begging—no, nor me either, by George. So just give me a kiss, you little shrew, and we'll have the wedding over before Bligh has time to hang himself."

His arm was around her, his face close to hers. The girl uttered a cry of fright and rage and sprang back as white now as she had been crimson.
"Don't touch me," she gasped out breathlessly. "Don't dare to touch me."
"Don't dare, eh? Oh, I dare more than that!" He laughed, the horror and aversion of her face were to him simply something amusing to exult over and beat down. Her hands were flung out before her to keep him off, and he caught them and forcibly drew her towards him.
Marjorie screamed and struggled; she was frantic with terror and wrath. Then she cried out in a different fashion, for he was dragged away and flung staggering backwards, with such force that he almost measured his length on the grass. She saw him gather himself up with a hoarse cry of fury and rush forward, saw him met by a blow straight from the shoulder which sent him toppling over the felled trunk with a suddenness as violent as it was undignified, and caught and held to the arm that had administered it with all her might, terrified well-nigh out of her wits.

WOMAN ESCAPES DREADFUL OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." —Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?
For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SUPPOSED SPY AT PORTSMOUTH

Sensation in England When Hunchback German Is Captured.

The authorities attach the greatest importance to the arrest of Wilhelm Klare, a young German, charged at Portsmouth on Thursday with an offence under the Official Secrets Act.

Klare, a short man, with broad shoulders and hunch back, appeared in court neatly dressed in a bluish grey suit with a three-quarter overcoat and Alpine hat. His appearance was altogether distinctly foreign.

The only witness was detective-inspector Savage, of the Metropolitan Police, stationed at Portsmouth. He explained that he was acting under instructions from Scotland Yard, whom he believed to be in communication with the Public Prosecutor. At 4.40 on Wednesday he was in company with Chief Inspector Sly and Sergeant Simpkins, of the Metropolitan Police, and Chief Superintendent Moore, of the Portsmouth Borough Police, in Queen street, keeping observation.

He saw Klare going in the direction of Edinburgh road, carrying a handbag. Klare was stopped by Sly, who spoke to him, whereupon witness arrested him under the Official Secrets Act. Prisoner said, "That's good" and on passing the shop of Rosenthal, who was standing at the door at the time, Klare turned to him and said, "This is clever. This is very good of you."

Witness took from Klare's bag a small book on torpedoes (No. 212), and said, "You will be charged with respect to this." (The book was produced in court.)

Witness, continuing, said Klare stated: "Rosenthal incited me. He has done this thing before." At Klare's address witness took possession of a number of documents. Witness had known Klare to have been in the town for the past fourteen months, and Klare himself said he had been there for ten years. He described himself as a dentist, and certain indications in the room went to show that he had carried on dental work there. He had no shop.

Witness asked for a week's remand and Klare offering no objection, was remanded accordingly. It is stated that further charges may be preferred against Klare.

An official story of the arrest speaks of it as the exciting culmination of a smart police trap. Klare had been living at Portsmouth for several years, during the last two of which he has been under supervision by the Metropolitan Police on duty in the Dockyard. For the past six months Detective-Sergeant Simpkins has had the accused man under special observation.

The police learned some months ago that Klare got into conversation in the street at Portsmouth with a hairdresser named Rosenthal, who carries on business in Queen street, Portsea, near the Dockyard. Klare told Rosenthal that he wanted submarine plans—the very latest—and that there was no lack of money.

Rosenthal pretended that he was able to get the plans, and told Klare to call at his shop. The man did not call until a month later, when he

$3.50 RECIPE FOR WEAK MEN FREE.

SEND NAME AND ADDRESS TODAY—YOU CAN HAVE IT FREE AND BE STRONG AND VIGOROUS.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge to any man, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting, restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a card like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4745 Lusk Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has had an enviable reputation as a means of healing ulcers, sores and wounds that refuse to yield to other treatments.

In this letter you will read of a case in which doctors failed to heal a wound made in operating. All sorts of treatments were tried in vain, until Dr. Chase's Ointment came to the rescue and made a cure.

Mr. C. E. Little, brakeman on the C.P.R., and living at Grand Falls, N.B., writes: "I have given Dr. Chase's Ointment a most severe test, and do not believe there is any treatment so successful as a healer of the skin. I was operated on for a tumor, which refused to heal, in spite of many preparations tried. Dr. Chase's Ointment healed the wound rapidly. So thankful am I for the cure that I want others to know about this wonderful ointment."

province. Numerous instances can be given where dishonest traders have made a sale of their goods without the knowledge of their creditors and left without paying anything. The measure will no doubt, create a good deal of discussion.
The Bill of the City of Brantford received its first reading.
The Workmen's Compensation act will be brought down in the next ten days as the report of Sir William Meredith is now ready and also the bill founded on his report. This measure is the most important measure in the interests of the workman that has been brought before the house for a good many years.
The Minister of Railways and Mines is introducing a bill by which all miners working underground will have an eight hour day and mine-owners will not be allowed to have men at work longer than eight hours. This is a measure which should meet with the approval of all.

The Market.

Under the auspices of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, an Ontario Fire Prevention Association has been formed at Toronto, with Mr. W. H. Shapley, vice-president of the Cold, Shapley & Muir Company, as president. The object of the association is to try and prevent the fearful fire waste that exists in this country. Austria's loss per capita, 29c.; France, $300,000; Germany, $50c.; United States, $3; Canada, $3.07; Berlin's annual loss, $175,000; Chicago, same size, $5,000,000; Toronto's cost of department, $1,000,000; Chicago's expense, $3,000,000; Toronto's fire loss, 1911, $447,000; Toronto's fire loss, 1912, $1,113,000.

Shock Upset The Nerves
This letter from Mrs. Tweedle is interesting because it shows how nervous trouble develops gradually from such derangements as stomach trouble, until prostration and locomotor ataxia or paralysis render the victim helpless.
It is even more important because it tells how the writer was cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the greatest of nerve restoratives.
Mrs. T. F. Tweedle, Brighton, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with the stomach, and have always been of a nervous temperament. The death of my husband was a great shock to me, and a few months later I was prostrated by nervous trouble. Locomotor ataxia developed later, and I was in a bad condition.
I took treatment from different doctors, but did not gain until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. When I had used five boxes I was so fully restored that I was like a different person. I am sure that the Nerve Food is a good medicine, and have told many people about the remarkable way in which it has restored my health."

Humors come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. They do not run themselves out of that way, however, but mostly remain in the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them, wards off danger, makes good health sure.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Because They Cured Him, And They Will Cure You

MR. ALEX. MCCARTER
WALKERTON, ONT., MAY 9th, 1911.
"I have been in Walkerton in business for a good many years and many of my townsmen know that my health, for long periods was precarious. My trouble was extreme Nervousness, brought on by Indigestion and Dyspepsia, from which I suffered in the most severe form. It was so bad that I could not sleep before about four in the morning. I noticed one of your published testimonials of how someone had used "Fruit-a-tives" for similar trouble and asked Mr. Hunter, my druggist, his opinion on the matter and he advised their use. I immediately procured several boxes and I am pleased to say that I now enjoy splendid health and could not possibly feel better. I can eat with every degree of satisfaction and sleep without an effort. I strongly advise anyone suffering from like complaints, to commence using "Fruit-a-tives".

Instinct of Mercy
The Atlantic was but a few hundred feet away, but rapidly reaching a place of safety, when two figures were seen clambering from the hold of the Alum Chine. They were two sailors who had been let behind. They reached the sides of the vessel and hanging to ropes, sent up a piteous appeal for rescue.
Appeals Found Response.
The appeals found response. Despite the danger that menaced him and his vessel, and the absolute knowledge that within a few minutes a hail of death would be falling all around him, Wm. E. Vandycke of the Atlantic, heard and heeded the call. Standing in the pilot house of the Atlantic he gave the orders that turned the tug's nose again towards the doomed ship, speeded to the rescue and took the two seamen aboard.

Then again the Atlantic sought safety, but sought it too late. With a roar like the eruption of a volcano the dynamite exploded. For a moment a dense pall of smoke covered the waters. When it cleared away ship and barge had disappeared and the Atlantic, a dismantled hulk, helplessly on the surface of the bay, had become a human shambles.
Death in dreadful form had descended from the sky. The Alum Chine had been torn into shreds, and boxes of dynamite mingled with the flying fragments of steel and timber filled the air. These fell on the packed decks of the Atlantic, the dynamite exploding as it fell, and sweeping them as a chaotic of shrapnel levels charging troops.

Men's heads and limbs were torn from their bodies. There were groans and cries of pain, the death rattle of the dying sailors and stevedores. From ships and launches nearby watchers saw disembodied bodies flung across and tumbled about the Atlantic's decks.
His Life for His Gallantry.
Captain Vandycke gave his life for his gallantry. His body, with one arm severed, was among those recovered by the party of rescuers.
How the fire started in the coal bunkers of the Alum Chine is so far a mystery unsolved. Some have ascribed it to spontaneous combustion, while one of the rescued declares he saw a fellow stevedore stick a bale hook into a box of dynamite. This explanation appears very improbable—had such an incident occurred there would have been an immediate explosion in all human probability; while as a matter of fact the smoke of the fire was seen in time to allow almost everyone aboard to leave the ship.

Interesting Article on The Canadian League

Berlin Writer in the Sporting News Looks for a Banner Year all Round.

George F. Malleck of Berlin writes an interesting letter to the St. Louis Sporting News this week on the Canadian League.

The Canadian League is able to report progress for the week in its plans for the season. The St. Thomas club finally fixed on a manager, after considering many candidates. The league directors at a meeting held in Toronto passed upon the playing schedule for 1913 and President Fitzgerald reported that he had definitely signed three umpires and had practically closed with two others. Team managers on their part reported their players well in line for the training call.

The St. Thomas manager is George Fitzgerald, who last season with Kalamazoo in the Southern Michigan League and in 1911 with Portland and Seattle in the Northwestern League. He is a first baseman of experience and is endorsed by various wise baseball men who know him as a team leader of ability.

President Fitzgerald named the three umpires already selected as Jacko Halligan of Buffalo, Bob McLaughlin of the Central League, and J. Daley of Rochester, N. Y. McLaughlin played for the Guelph Leafs last year, and in 1911 umpired in the Central League, where he made good. Daley, according to Silk O'Laughlin, is one of the best of the younger arbiters in harness.

The work of Jocko Halligan throughout last season is well known, and with three such umpires, the assurance of real umpiring. The increase of salary to the umpires from $150 to $200 a month has resulted in better men being secured.

Sees Paster Ball This Year

President Fitzgerald believes that from the activity all over the circuit and the class of ball players being signed up, the league will be faster this summer than last. The various pitching staffs all look very high in the ratings for Class C ball and the coming of the lots of shortstop organizations by Canadian League owners for heavy hitters shows the timing brigade will not have it all their own way.

The report comes from Peterboro where the White Caps will figure in the race from the start in the 1913 season. Frank Shaughnessy believes Louie Cook will trot out a strong aggregation at that Manager Mack of the Athletics looked him up.

The young Indian had all the earmarks of a phenomenon. Connie saw and considered several likely points about him. The fact that he stretched heavenward some several inches above the ordinary mortal impressed him, likewise he noted the exceedingly long arm, and last but not least Charles Albert's bland and winning smile.

That smile of Bender's is a delusion and a snare. Any hurler in his first year in polite society that hits 20 batsmen and does it smilingly must be a villain of the deepest dye.

Run-in With Wallace

In 1903, down in St. Louis, one day the chief and Bobby Wallace had some words about a collision at the plate, the tall Indian being the victim. Next time up to bat Bender hit the little Scot a resounding swat in the ribs with the ball. This act set the Scotch blood of a Wallace boiling, he wanted to lick the "Big Chief" right there and then; players intervened, so no blood was spilt.

"Bobby remarked afterwards: 'I wasn't the act of hitting me that riled me up, but 'twas the grin that Bender wore that sent me wild.'

One lovely day in the Fall of 1905 this tall young Indian was hurling a game of baseball for the championship of the world before a crowd of 25,000 frenzied fanatics at the Polo Grounds. His teammates had suffered defeat in the first contest of that great series, which had a very depressing effect on the Athletics in general. This fact and the fact that they were to meet the enemy on their own grounds made the outlook rather gloomy.

If Big Chief Bender Comes Back, What Then?

He Is Connie Mack's Great Hope In American League This Year.

There is considerable speculation as to whether Chief Bender will come back, and be available as a leading pitcher for Connie Mack this year. His work with the Athletics in Cuba after the need of the regular championship games last season was such as to lead Mack and others to believe that he will be all right.

Others however have some misgivings on this score. Bender has been a great pitcher, but not a very rugged one. He slipped last season and was suspended and fined by Connie Mack when sent home from New York some time before the Athletics had completed their regular schedule.

Bender proposes to redeem himself during the coming season and with that object in view began work near a month ago. Everybody would like to see the chief come back, notwithstanding that he is more than likely to interfere with the prospects of other clubs who have championship aspirations.

He has an interesting history. Charles Albert Bender comes of pure blooded Indian stock. His parents were of the Chippewa tribe. He was born on the reservation near Rainard, Minn., about 30 years ago. At the early age of 7 he was bundled off to the Indian school at Carleton Place, Ont. Albert made up his classes history does not state, but the fact soon cropped out that he had athletic ability.

In 1902 he matriculated with honors in baseball and football, going to Dickinson College in 1902 to complete his education. About that period Bender began to show real skill in pitching a baseball. With the Harbors Athletic Club the latter part of 1902, he performed so brilliantly that Marquard agrees to report to his Old Club.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—"I guess I will have had had fun enough with those wise New York newspaper writers," asserted Rube Marquard of the Giants' pitching staff here yesterday. Blossom Selvey, a vaudeville sketch at one of the local theatres, and he declared that at the conclusion of his week's engagement the team would split up for the time being, and that he would tie himself to Marlin Springs.

"The public has taken me seriously," declared Marquard, "and all the publicity I have received has been a good boost for my vaudeville sketch. In fact I don't know what I would have done without it. I am under contract with the Giants for two more years, and while I think that McGraw slipped one across on me when I signed for so long a period, I guess the only way that I can do is to grin and bear it. Had I not put my name to a long term contract a year ago I would have been in a position to demand more money this spring, and to have had the baseball public back of me in my contention," the players being Gillies, Reid, McAvoy and Wardrope.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Frank Chance in a letter from Bermuda to his employer, says that he has progressed finely under the most favorable weather conditions, and will surely play first base. Chance declares that Chase will be a revelation at second base, chiefly because of his fleetness of foot and quick thinking. The New York manager expresses much satisfaction with the work of Catcher Swesney and Pitchers Ford, Fisher, Warlick and Davis. He also says that Leivell's great batting will make it hard to keep him on the bench. Chance advocates the leasing of permanent training quarters in Bermuda.

"But, my dear madam, there's no use consulting me about your husband. I'm a horse doctor."

"That's why I came to you. He's a chronic kicker,"—Life.

TO-DAY'S GAMES IN OLD LAND

Cup Ties in England and Scotland Will be Fought Out to-day.

TO-DAY'S GAMES

English Cup—Fourth Round. Sunderland v. Newcastle. Bradford v. Aston Villa. Everton v. Oldham. Blackburn Rovers v. Burnley.

Scottish Cup—Fourth Round. Falkirk v. Dunbarton. Celtic v. Hearts. Raith Rovers v. St. Mirren. Dundee v. Clyde.

English—First Division. Derby County v. Bolton Wanderers. Manchester City v. Woolwich. Notts County v. Manchester U. Tottenham v. Liverpool. West Bromwich v. Chelsea.

English League—Second Division. Barnsley v. Leicester Fosse. Birmingham v. Clapton. Blackpool v. Notts Forest. Bristol City v. Lincoln City. Bury v. Preston North End. Fulham v. Stockport. Grimsby v. Burnley. Huddersfield v. Glossop. Leeds City v. Hull City. Southern League.

Queen's Park Rangers v. Portsmouth.

Brentford v. Swindon. Gillingham v. West Ham. Northampton v. Exeter. Southampton v. Watford. Stoke v. Crystal Palace. Reading v. Coventry Club. Plymouth v. Brighton and Hove. Millwall v. Bristol Rovers.

It's cup-tie day again in England to-day, and, of course, all other games sink into comparative insignificance in comparison with the battles for what is the greatest football trophy in the world—the English cup. It was in the month of January that the marathon started, with 64 clubs entered and the Crystal Palace as the winning post, and of that number only eight have outstayed the heart-breaking pace set by the survivors.

To-day, of course, some other day soon.

Thomas Tibbits was a constable of an exceptionally kind disposition. And he had answered all the old lady's questions with praiseworthy politeness and patience. But, alas! she still persisted.

"What's your short stick for?" was the next query.

"To catch a chap over the 'ead if he gets violent," was Robert's imperturbable rejoinder.

"And what are those numbers for?" the ruthless examination went on.

"Identification purposes, mum," Bobby was getting tired, and turned away.

"And, oh, policeman!" cried the lady, as she clutched him by the arm. "What is that strap under your chin for?"

This was too much. Robert drew himself to his full height, hitched his belt, and prepared to stride majestically away, but not before he shot over his shoulder these words:

"The strap, ma'am, is for me to rest me chin on when I gets tired of answerin' silly questions."

SPORTING COMMENT

By FREE LANCE

To-morrow week the champion Leafs of Toronto will leave Baltimore for the Southern training ground, and President McCaffery expects to have all the regulars on the job when the first practice is held on the following Monday. Three of the old guard, it is said, have not yet sent in their contracts, but the Toronto club chief is sanguine that he will not have any trouble in showing them the error of their ways. The hold-outs are Bradley, Jordan, and Holy. Pitcher Herbert, the Ottawa recruit, is also a recalcitrant, but his actions are not taken seriously. Bill O'Hara has been hard at work for the past few days at the Varsity gym, and has already taken off much surplus tissue.

The Canadian Lacrosse Association is busily preparing for its annual meeting, which will be held at the Temple building in Toronto on Good Friday, March 21. Widespread interest is being manifested already in the C.L.A., and the Association looks forward to a big year.

The following additional nominations are in the hands of Secretary Frank Doyle: For the Presidency, Fred C. Waghorne, sen., Toronto; First Vice-President, J. Ed. Hinds, Orillia; Council, R. H. Everest, Preston. It might be mentioned incidentally that prospects locally for the organization of a lacrosse club are said to be not of the best.

Mr. Fred Westbrooke declares that any pitcher who is cross-eyed and who apparently is looking at the plate and throws a ball to first base catching a runner yards off the base, makes a balk. Mr. Westbrooke is an authority, and that should settle the question.

Frank Shaughnessy of Ottawa, in a letter to President Nelson yesterday concluded: "Best of luck to you, and hoping we beat your head off May 7, when we open at Brantford Yours, etc." Mr. Nelson is worried as to what the Ottawa Irishman really means.

All sporting clubs are reminded that any news relative to their interests will be gladly published in these columns. We are out to assist sporting interests of any kind in every possible way.

The Courier trophy for the local Football Association has made a great hit. This paper proposes to assist all such ventures as that of the association. What act of sportsmen could be more thoughtful than that of devoting all proceeds at games to the tuberculosis hospital funds?

They are talking down in Eagle Place of organizing a checker league. Bring on the league, we can play checkers too! It's your move.

The enlargement of Dufferin Park, which is a part of the O.I.B. grounds, will be heartily supported in these columns. Both Governments have been good to Brantford, and in this connection we believe enough additional ground can be secured at the O. I. B. to meet all requirements.

It is London and Collingwood for the intermediate O.H.A. finals. London's lead of two goals on Berlin, gained on Berlin's own ice, was just enough to hold the Dutchmen at London Wednesday and the talk now hinges on London's chances with Collingwood.

In the past Collingwood has proven a hoodoo to London. In 1908 London went into the semi-finals and stacked up against Collingwood. Soft ice alone prevented the London team winning out on that occasion, the Collingwood aggregation being a much heavier one. Again in the season of 1910-10, London went into the finals and Collingwood put them out by a two goal margin, the game in London played on ice that was totally unfit for hockey or anything else. London won by 6 to 4 at home, but in the game at Collingwood lost out in the last few minutes of play by the score of 5 to 1.

This year, however, London is confident the old order of things will be reversed, that the London intermediates are going right through to the championship is the belief of every hockey fan in London. The London team has only been beaten once this season. This was at Paris in the district schedule. However, London got ample revenge for this defeat. Four members of the London team are eligible for junior O.H.A. hockey.

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM THE LANDS ACROSS THE SEA

TOBACCO SMOKE AS AN ENEMY TO CHOLERA BACILLI

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. THAT tobacco smoke is an enemy to the activity of micro-organisms is nothing new, but definite experiments have recently been made, says the Lancet, which show that tobacco smoke rapidly destroys in particular the comma bacillus of cholera.

A good many years ago it was reported by the senior medical officer of Greenwich workhouse that the tobacco smoking inmates enjoyed comparative immunity from epidemics, and tobacco smoking was believed to have had a disinfectant action in cases of cholera and other infectious diseases. Again, during a cholera epidemic at Hamburg, it was reported that not a single workman engaged in the cigar factory in that city was attacked by the disease. Later it was stated that among a body of 1,232 cigar makers only eight cases and four deaths from cholera occurred.

Subsequent experiments proved that tobacco smoke destroyed the bacilli of Asiatic cholera as well as of pneumonia, and there was some evidence also that tobacco smoke was a preventive of some forms of nasal catarrh.

It is interesting to note that pyridin is officinal in the French pharmacopoeia and in France it has been employed in the form of inhalation in asthma, emphysema and angina pectoris, and mixed with peppermint in diphtheria.

Excessive tobacco smoking may, of course, give rise to constitutional effects which diminish the resisting power of the body to disease. In such a case it is probable the habit would afford not only no protection, but an opening for invasion.

The Englishman is said to be a quantity of cigars the American can smoke in a day. But the Englishman is not at all a light smoker himself. Last year $148,517,215 of the British nation's money went in smoke. This calculation is one of many made by Mr. R. D. Moberly on behalf of the British Anti-Tobacco and Anti-Narcotic League.

The total receipts $6,754,351 pounds of tobacco, and includes $11,063,540 spent on pipes, matches and tobaccoists' sundries. Apart from the raw tobacco made up in British factories, $23,418,435 worth, the largest is $18,132,353 spent on cigars. The consumption of tobacco a head of the estimated population of the British Isles was 2.118 pounds, or, according to the national average, 5.231 pounds a family, at a cost of nearly $15 to each family per annum.

The ratio of tobacco bill is the highest yet recorded, being nearly $20,000,000 more than in 1907.

Now England is anxious to raise more of its own tobacco. Last year the tobacco growers' reports state that the tobacco yield from one hundred acres under cultivation was not "half bad," though it is admitted that it requires to be blended with the American and other varieties to make it fit to smoke. It is suggested that some of the uncultivated tracts of Scotland should be utilized for the cultivation of tobacco. Hitherto only five acres of Scotland have been occupied by tobacco planters. A couple of years ago an attempt was made to extract gold from the mountains of Scotland, but they would not give up.

BENEDICTINE MONKS REBUILDING AN ABBEY

BENEDICTINE MONKS AT WORK IN THE MASONRY DEPARTMENT

BUCKFAST ABBEY, in Devonshire, England, said to have been founded in 700, is being rebuilt by Benedictine monks, their desire being to fashion the new building with their own hands. The work of reconstruction has now been in progress since July 2, 1907, on which date the ceremony of laying the foundation stone by the Roman Catholic Bishop of Plymouth took place. The famous old abbey, which this building is to replace, continued its work from 700 to 1238, when the property was taken over by Henry VIII. At the general dissolution of the monasteries, the buildings themselves seem to have suffered severely. The monks are progressing slowly, but surely and efficiently, in their self-imposed task of rebuilding Buckfast Abbey, and though they have already been engaged upon it for over five years it will take another ten to complete.

The husband starts with a two hours' handicap, for he is supposed to have been kept so much late at the office, and it is up to him to win the pretty actress' forgiveness for a spoiled dinner.

There is also to be "an ideal homecoming contest," which as regards popularity among the men visitors looks like put in the ideal bar into the shade. Pretty actresses are to take turn at waiting in a room for a husband, and volunteers will be invited to step forward and play the part of husband, the prize going to the man who conducts himself in the most ideal fashion.

The husband starts with a two hours' handicap, for he is supposed to have been kept so much late at the office, and it is up to him to win the pretty actress' forgiveness for a spoiled dinner.

FRANCE'S NEW PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE

THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT POINCARÉ

FRANCE'S NEW PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE. The inauguration of President Poincaré took place in Paris on the day of his inauguration. There certainly is a new spirit abroad in France. Usually the investiture of a new President is a somewhat uninteresting ceremony. That tradition has been completely demolished.

Long before Mr. Aristide Briand, President of the Ministerial Council, was due at Mr. Poincaré's residence to accompany the new President to the Palais de l'Elysée a crowd began to gather and soon formed a living lane along the entire route. All Paris seemed to have turned out.

The salute while the trumpeters played a fanfare. Mr. Fallières, with Mr. Emile Loubet, received Mr. Poincaré on the steps of the palace and walked with him to the reception hall, where the Speakers of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, the members of the Cabinet and a large group of French generals and admirals had assembled.

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH OPENS RESTAURANT FOR WOMEN

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. THE Duchess of Marlborough had an unusual experience on Friday, when she opened Albion House, formerly a public house, as a residential club and restaurant for working women and girls. After the opening ceremony the parlor of a cup of tea and two slices of bread and butter (in the language of working girls, "tea and two doorsteps"), for which she paid the regulation price of one penny.

The house provides sleeping accommodation for working women at the rate of half a dollar a week, and during the day it is a restaurant.

The Duchess made a brief speech, in which she said that the economic status of women encouraged moral degradation, which would be remedied by founding more institutions on the lines of Albion House and by the grant of Parliamentary votes to women.

ENGLISH SHOES RESIST DAMP BETTER THAN AMERICAN ONES. [Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. THE weather of "February 21st" is said to be the severest of all the months as a test of boots. Even the American shoe, which is a great favorite in England on account of its extra flexibility and comfort, cannot stand the English weather, according to expert (English) opinion. It is just this flexibility, according to a member of the staff of the "Shoe and Leather Record," which is the trouble.

The occasional tendency of the American lanned sole to absorb damp is not surprising, a tendency which is known to Americans themselves, as they take the precaution to wear rubbers in damp weather.

While the English system of oak-bark tanning makes for durability, the American method (Union tanning) aims at flexibility. The sole of the average American shoe can be bent almost double without harm to the leather. But although an English sole would resist any such liberty, it has the undoubted advantage of damp-resisting qualities.

MORE COLOR TO BE SEEN IN SPRING FASHIONS FOR MEN

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. WEST END tailors are trying to introduce a note of brightness into the spring fashions for men. There will be much more color to be seen than for some years past. The two "new" colors are a substitute for plain blue serge in the form of a mixture with a blue ground, known as "snow blue," and a light blue with a silk stripe. But there will not be much change in cut. The shaped coat will be universal in lounge suits, which merely means that the garment will fit the figure.

There is to be no return to the exaggerated waistline and "skirt" of a few years ago. The frock coat is now practically obsolete, and for ordinary town wear the bowler has completely ousted the silk hat. King George, who is, of course, always exceedingly well dressed, is yet much more economical with regard to his wardrobe than was his father. If he likes a suit he will wear it at intervals through a season, although he never wears the same suit two days in succession. Of shooting and sporting suits the King of the present time has in use some that were purchased before the Durbar, but he presumably approves them, and so they remain in his wardrobe until such time as his chief valet will receive an intimation that they are no longer wanted.

THE "BEAUTY CRAWL" FAD OF LONDON SOCIETY WOMEN

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. THE "beauty crawl" is the latest feminine craze in London. It must be a proper crawl, with no half measures about it. In the morning the devotees of beauty crawl round their bedrooms, and sometimes in the afternoon they crawl in company with their women guests. Their physicians have told them that crawling on hands and knees is good for their health, and they will do it as a splendid exercise for reducing stoutness. Moreover, crawling after luncheon is one of the finest aids to digestion. That is the reason why, of late, many women have constantly and inadequately been exercising themselves in their homes on their hands and knees.

"Only yesterday," said a lady who had witnessed one of these performances, "I was at a well known hostess' tea party, where crawling was the craze as soon as tea was finished. Among those who crawled were several ladies and one well known African explorer. They were all quite expert, and could keep on crawling briskly round the room for fifteen minutes at a stretch. But, of course, these women had had much practice. It appears, however, that as a rule the women crawl about in the morning only, or with feminine company after afternoon tea. Never do they allow their husbands to see them practicing. It is purely a hush-hush convention, and those who practice the crawl never mention the fact to their husbands or their friends."

Still another method, which is being adopted by those who aspire to beauty and suppleness is being practised at Hampstead Heath. You will see women there in their daily walks bending down at regular intervals and making rhythmic movements. A physician being asked his opinion about these methods of beauty culture said: "These exercises are extremely good, though they are not strange. The physician probably orders his women patients to do peculiar actions simply because any ordinary form of exercise would bore them and they would not continue it for long."

ENGLAND FLOODED WITH APPLES FROM UNITED STATES AND CANADA

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. TO a writer in the London Post it is obvious—"quite obvious"—that Canada, the United States and the Australasian continent grow apples for the express purpose of satisfying the British demand.

It is evident to him that the British have earned a reputation as lovers of the apple, otherwise the growers in the great producing districts would not study so carefully the conditions that rule English markets. To judge by the present state of affairs it will be necessary before long for the entire populace to eat large quantities of apples daily, if the fruit that is flooding England is to be consumed.

New districts will be developed with astounding rapidity. At first they will be a few simple boxes of apples by way of experiment to try the carrying quality of the fruit and to see what kind of prospect it meets with on this side. Of course, if new fruiting districts are to be small scale is always successful, satisfactory prices are realized, and to find behind next year the fresh district consigns its thousands of packages to the ever open market.

COURT WILL REMAIN AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE UNTIL JULY

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. NOT for many years has the court resided so much in London as it will this year. Except for short absences at Easter and Whitsuntide, the King and Queen will reside at Buckingham Palace until July, when they will go to Lancashire. When they go to Windsor at Whitsuntide they will occupy the castle, but will take up their quarters at their old and favorite residence, Frogmore cottage. Some time in the spring the King will also take a brief yachting holiday and go to Plymouth to look round Devonport harbor. It is not certain that there will be no foreign trips this year, not even to Paris.

The students of Magdalen College were wrong in thinking when the Prince of Wales took to learning the bagpipes that he would soon get tired of it and give it up. They could not understand what assured he had in blowing such "unceremonious noises." Others laughed at those who tried to emulate the Prince and learn the bagpipes, too. They have given up their had to escape certain consequences. But they were wrong about the Prince. He is said to be even more determined than ever to become an expert, and so the practice goes on. But in consideration of the feelings of his fellow students he now practices in a back room, where the "skins" of the pipes cannot penetrate to their chambers.

IDEAL BAR WHERE MAIDS WILL WEAR FLOWING DRAPERIES

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. AN ideal bar, where the barmaids will wear flowing green draperies and the drinks will be all of the temperance variety in assorted art shades, will be a feature of the Simple Life Exhibition, which is to be held at the Caxton Hall in April. The decorations will be in cool green, and all the lights will be shaded in green.

Mrs. Schofield, who is arranging the exhibition, talking about the ideal bar and also the ideal barmaid, said: "They will all be under twenty years of age. In such a bar as this it will be possible to have young girls, and instead of the usual confining high stools we shall have cozy lounges where a man, when he has bought his drink, can sit and enjoy it in comfort."

There will be no alcoholic drinks. Instead of having a whiskey and soda a man

OLD TITHE BARN AT MAIDSTONE TO COME ON THE MARKET

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. A FINE medieval building at Maidstone known as the Old Tithe Barn, having lately come into the market, it is reported that a wealthy American, whose name is being kept secret for the present, has offered to buy it with a view of taking it down and re-erecting it in London.

The owner, however, is desirous of having it reserved for the town and has offered it to the local Council at the price of £18,000, which is $180,000.

Archaeologists are agreed that the building is of exceptional interest. It forms part of a magnificent group which includes the Parish Church of All Saints, erected as a collegiate church by Archbishop Courtenay on the foundations of an older structure, and a handsome palace built by Archbishop Islip, and used in later times as a residence by the Astleys, one of whom was keeper of the jewels to Queen Elizabeth.

Mr. Herbert Bensted, who is an authority on local archaeology, believes that the Tithe Barn was originally erected for the accommodation of the retainers of the Archbishop when in residence at the palace, or of the retainers of the exalted personage. Both Henry VI. and Henry VIII. were received at the palace at Maidstone during the days when it was used as a residence by the Archbishop. The palace was purchased by public subscription as a memorial to Queen Victoria's jubilee, and is an object of great interest to those who come to the town.

The club what different position now of this time of last year will not be the costly ex which was necessary in 1912 will be about three, when the 15 already signed at the limit.

Uniforms of which the King possesses upwards of four hundred, last for many years, for a large percentage of them are seldom used, while others, perhaps, are worn only once in a season. The whole of this large collection of clothes is kept on dummy figures in glass-fronted wardrobes fitted round the walls of the King's rooms and is under the direct charge of the principal or the King's four valets, this functionary having a book containing a complete list in numerical order, corresponding numbers appearing over the suits. Another room contains nothing but boots, these numbering dozens of pairs, and comprising military, naval, riding, walking and dress shoes and being catalogued in the same way as the uniforms and suits. All the orders and insinuations with which the King are kept in a constant state of three locks, the contents of which are of immense value, the history of the latter alone being worth $50,000.

THE "BEAUTY CRAWL" FAD OF LONDON SOCIETY WOMEN.

[Special Despatch] LONDON, Saturday. THE "beauty crawl" is the latest feminine craze in London. It must be a proper crawl, with no half measures about it. In the morning the coiffures of beauty crawl, bear their bedrooms, and sometimes in the afternoon they crawl in company with their women guests. Their physicians have told them that crawling on hands and knees for fifteen minutes after every meal is a splendid exercise, and that it builds up the system, and that it is one of the finest aids to digestion. That is the reason why, of late, many women have constantly and unobtrusively been exercising themselves in their homes on their hands and knees. Only yesterday a woman who had witnessed one of these performances, "I was at a well known hostess' tea party, where crawling was the craze as soon as tea was finished. Canadian League

Continued from Page 9 he was last summer. He also criticizes the scores of the Canadian League, and alleges that he was mulcted out of a dozen stolen bases. At that he led the league in base running. Brantford in Good Shape Reports from Brantford are that the team there is in good shape. There will be 15 men in Kane's crew when the training season commences. There will be five pitchers, two catchers, five infielders and three outfielders. This will be somewhat different from last year, when there were no less than 22 assistants for jobs on the Brantford team. The club is in somewhat different position now from that of this time of last year, and there will not be the costly experimenting which was necessary in 1912. There will be already signed and this will be the limit. President Stevely of the London Club has sent an ultimatum to the London, Ohio, Club, which outlines the destiny of Gilbooley, the Pittsburgh shortstop, who is the property of the London Club. Gilbooley can be secured from the local club for a figure that is just the same as the London Club paid the Canton Club for Gilbooley in the first place.

One of the main reasons why Gilbooley is being put on the market is the fact that he will not accept the contract of the London Club. He wants a salary which is far beyond that which the London club can see fit to pay an infielder, especially one of the salary limit this season is $500. Louis Cook of Guelph is depending both on his pitching staff, with Schaffer and Schuyler, last year with Hamilton in line. Both did good work in 1912, Schaffer being especially effective against the Ottawa team. He can be beat every time when he is against it. Manager Cook has decided that Schuyler will be of no use to the team this season, and his release will be given to him at once. Cook has also decided that Dinsmore is not fast enough for the team, and he has been notified to get back his contract unsigned. Dinsmore was a nice clean fielder, and with Wright, Fryer and Duncan in the field the management cannot see any chances in giving him a shot as the team that can beat that field of the Leafs will have to be a good one.

While the shortstop who jumped Maple Leafs last season, has returned, he signed contract to President Mahoney. He will have to fight the position with Dranney, a new man secured by Manager Cook. Eyes on Their Graduates Canadian League fans will be particularly interested in the success of New York Americans this year. The Ray Keating, the former Hamilton twirler, and Malcolm Barry, the Brantford first baseman, number among the New York squad. It is conceded by the New York critics that Keating will make a place on the twirling staff, but just what will happen to Barry remains to be seen. Barry will have a hard job to earn a regular position at first base with two such players as Hal Chase, and Frank Chance ahead of him. Even if Chance decided to act as bench manager, Chase is hardly likely to make room for a youngster like Barry, though there is no doubt that the former Red Sox player will be given every consideration by the Peerless Leader, for the youngster was regarded as the most likely of the crop of green first basemen picked up by the major league clubs last fall. Andy Kyle, the former London player, is another ex-Canadian leaguer who will hold down a regular berth in the big show this year. Kyle was picked up by Cincinnati last fall, and showed enough form in the games in which he participated to earn a thorough trial this year. Joe McMannus of the Ottawa club has signed a probationary contract with Cincinnati, and will be taken south with the Reds.

There are a number of other products of this circuit who will get their faster minor leagues and judging from reports of the young talent signed for the coming season another crop should be ready by harvesting time in the fall of 1913.

Chief Bender

Right at that moment did Bender show qualities that afterward and all through his career proved the greatest asset and value to his manager and team. To perform brilliantly under pressure was inborn in this child of the forest. His ability to produce the heat that was in him at the crucial moment, he proved in that momentous game. With sparkling speed and his ever present smile, Bender pitched the most impressive game of his life. A shutout, allowing only four hits, and whiffing nine batters, was the result of that afternoon work. His marvellous hitting in that contest gave his team a new lease; it put them on an even footing with the Giants.

A Little Shy on Strength Had Bender possessed the strength and stamina of a Walsh or a McGinnity, long-handed, he could have pitched a few more penants for Mack. This was clearly demonstrated in his game against Detroit on September 18, 1909. Manager Mack wanted to beat Detroit; to stop the Tigers on that date and to follow it with a few victories would mean first place. Bender was the selection. Before 35,000 people the Indian gave one of his exhibitions how to administer the blow that gets the opposition's goat. This elongated child of the forest performed his part to the letter. He blanketed the Tigers, allowing but three singles and striking out nine men.

On May 12, 1910, Bender pitched his famous no-hit game against Cleveland; one slip—a base on balls—marked it from going on record as one of the few perfect games in baseball history. On the 22nd day of July, 1910, he framed up a really greater performance, although it didn't show on the face of it as did his game of May 12, Cleveland again figured as the opposing team. It was a remarkable pitching duel between the two sky-scrappers of the diamond, Falkenberg and Bender, going 15 innings to a 1-1 finish. In 11 innings of the game the Chief retired the Naps in order. Dating from his first game pitched in 1908, and up until his last game in 1910-72 games in all—Bender has touched up for the double number in base hits only on four occasions. In one half of his games the big Chief held the opponents to six hits or less, and 'twas generally less. While not posing as a strikeout king, Bender is strong in that respect averaging five men per game during his entire career; his highest in a single game was when he struck out 13 of the White Sox. Bender in 1907 made a try for the consecutive win record. He had a nice string of twelve wins to his credit when along comes that famous hand of hitless wonders, and in a 1-0 affair squelched the Chief's aspiration in that direction.

Chief Bender is a real ballplayer, and plays the game in every department in a very impressive manner.

Football

four of these will go the way of the others, and then the semi-final will be reached. In the northern section of England they can talk of nothing else than the meeting between Sunderland and Newcastle, and on paper this looks the game of the round. Who will win? It is idle to deny that the chances favor Sunderland, the team that has been the sensation of the English league this year, and more especially as the game is at Wearside. It should be remembered that Sunderland, while creating records in the English league, are also breaking records in the English cup so far as the Weasiders have never got past the third round when the game was played at Roker Park. In the third round last year West Bromwich put sudden stop to Sunderland's cup career and on their own ground too, but which Newcastle alone can repeat that performance time alone can tell. Somehow or other, Newcastle are not performing as well as a team composed of so many classy players should, but even at that they are a wonderful combination. Take such old hands as McCracken, Jamie Hay, George Wilson and Jack Rutherford, all of them are experienced cup fighters, and can play the regulation cup game. It will be a great game and all records for Roker Park should be broken. As already stated the chances favor Sunderland, but a victory for Newcastle would not be surprising.

Bradford will face the Aston Villa music, and it must be said the task that lies before Tom Maley's team is of a treacherous nature. Maley is very bitter against some of the habits of Bradford Park avenue, as indeed he has every reason to be, if what he says is true. Says Tom Bradford's chances and hopes are now in my concern, and also the enthusiasts of Bradford. There is a minority—a miserable dog-in-the-manger-like lot who, though in Bradford and of Bradford, will be found on Saturday at a certain part of the terracing (their usual stance) more Villian than the men from Birmingham. Our further progress to them would be a most disagreeable affair, indeed, that we have got thus far is matter of annoyance. May they be annoyed for many weeks to come most folks will say, and that without prejudice towards Ashton Villa, for folks with such a nature find few friends. While admitting that Bradford beat Sheffield Wednesday in the cup two weeks ago, the Villians should win, but at the finish they will know they have been in the game. It is odd but nevertheless true that one seldom hears the name of Everton associated with the winning of the English cup this year. Some look to this team and that team, but to Everton—never. It is not the first time that the Toffymakers have reached the final; in fact they won the cup in season 1905-6, and this year while not creating a sensation by their form, they are holding their own with the best of them. Today they meet Oldham, one of the surprise packets of the English league, and a team that a few days ago beat Manchester United on their own patch, and have done many other creditable things this year. It is a coincidence that this pair were due to meet in a league today on the same ground, but cupies take precedence over league fixtures, and the cup game goes on. Just twelve months ago Oldham and Everton met in exactly the same round, at Oldham with results disastrous to the Lancashire team. Oldham, however, were showing poor form in those days, and to-day they will be given a grand chance to wipe out that defeat. The game is at Liverpool and if the Toffymakers pull through it will be by a very small score, but a draw seems as likely as not. Blackburn Rovers are at home to Burnley. There are a whole lot of people who think that Burnley would be better out of the game, so that they could devote their whole time and energies to gaining promotion to the first league. While there may be some logic to this theory, it is safe to say that the players don't look at it in this light, and that they will make up their minds to play the game of their lives is certain. There is no dodging the fact that Burnley are equal in every respect to some of the first leaguers, and a good deal better than others, but at that we think the Rovers will stop their further progress in Europe.

THE SCOTTISH TIES The best game on the Scottish card is the clash of Celtic and Hearts at Parkhead—a meeting of east and west. Both teams have cup traditions that do them proud, and each team has already won the cup a number of times. Celtic's name is written no less than eight times on the trophy, and Hearts can lay claim to that honor four times. The Glasgow boys are at present holders of the cup and they are sure to make a bid to retain their grip of Scotland's premier trophy. Celtic have a notion that they can pull down both the league championship and the cup. After their game with Hearts, the question of their ability in this direction will be partly answered. If Celtic intend to win their chance appears to be at Parkhead. Dumbarton have to travel to Falkirk, and unless the unexpected happens, the Bairns will reach the semi-final. The first leaguers will not underestimate the abilities of the Sons of the Rock as cup fighters; a team that can dispose of Aberdeen will require watching, but as the game is at home, the Bairns will go into the fray with the confidence that will be lacking in the second leaguers, and, as stated, they should win. The defeat of Falkirk to-day would be the sensation of the season in Scotland. It is not impossible though improbable. Raith Rovers are at home to St. Mirren, and because the game is at Sixty's park, the Rovers should reach the semi-final. Their defeat of the Hibs at Easter road in the previous round was indeed a great performance. However a draw here would not in the least be surprising. It will be a very hard game. Clyde undertake the long journey to Dundee and it must be said the prospects of the Glasgow club are anything but rosy at Dens Park. The showing of the Shawfield boys in the ties has been anything but reassuring of their friends, though Dundee, too, are doing none too well in the league. At this distance it looks like a victory for Dundee.

Labour Premier Has Holiday In Old Land

Hon. Mr. Scadden, Australia's Premier, Gives An Interesting Talk.

The Hon. J. Scadden, who worked in the mines and on the railway as an engine driver, but is now Premier of West Australia, though not yet forty years of age, has come "home" for a holiday. To a Daily Chronicle representative he talked with enthusiasm of Imperial defence, of the advantages of citizenship of the British Empire, and of the use of State resources for the development of industry and the happiness of all citizens. "The working people of Australia," he said, "realize that they have greater opportunities and better conditions under the British Empire than they could get in any other circumstances. They have, therefore, cast upon the youth of the nation to undertake military training. We do not take them away from school, or from their work. But they have to give a certain number of hours a week or so many days a year to do it. Yes, it is absolutely compulsory, but they would never tolerate conscription as it is known in Europe. "There are other advantages arising from this than those of a military character. Between the age of fourteen and seventeen there is not a great deal for the young fellows to do, and a great number after leaving school, begin to wander about, and to parade the streets. Under this system, instead of becoming loafers, they are instilled with a certain amount of discipline, and they make good citizen soldiers. We desire to live at peace with other nations, but we want the Empire maintained, and are prepared to help in strengthening it."

Room for Emigrants Mr Scadden is as enthusiastic in his schemes for the development of his country as he is for the safeguarding of Imperial interests. "Our area is practically one third of the whole Australian continent," he commented, "yet we have only a total population of a little over 300,000. Yes, we have room for emigrants, as well as for enterprises requiring capital. Last year we absorbed 10,000 of the former, and we are always receiving the others. "We have a sure guide as to quality of earth, when we clear in the karri trees. They grow only in the richest soil, so that now we have made contracts to supply the Comptwealth with railway sleepers, we are at one and the same time getting an outlet for the products of some of our enormous timber forests and increasing our financial resources and clearing some of the richest land in the country. "Most of it we hope, will be very soon occupied by dairy farms, an industry we are specially interested in. At present we import great quantities of dairy produce, but we are rapidly overtaking the demand. "Then our railways are paying us handsomely. Of course they are all State-owned, as are the State batteries which we have put down to encourage mining enterprise. This may seem very socialistic, but it is for the good of the capitalists as well. Where there are groups of small prospectors they have to go on with the work slowly and uncertainly.

Labour Premier Has Holiday In Old Land

Hon. Mr. Scadden, Australia's Premier, Gives An Interesting Talk.

"But with the State batteries development proceeds quickly, and when the mine has been proved the capitalist is able to come in at once and help in the development without delay. "For the assistance of settlers we have an agricultural bank which lends them money at 5 per cent, using the money of the savings bank, for which we pay four percent, working on a margin of 1 per cent, and paying all expenses. To depositors we pay 3 per cent. All profit made by the agricultural bank we place to credit of reserve. "I have no hesitation in saying that for any one who desires to settle the aforesaid there is no better country in the world, and no better conditions than in Western Australia."

MOST BEAUTIFUL EASTER PRESENT

The Mysterious, Luminous Crucifix or The Cross of Eternal Light. The most marvellous mystic wonder of the twentieth century. Our Saviour nailed to the cross, a beautiful and marvellous work of art that has mystified the whole world with its startling luminous effect, which is everlasting. The figure of Christ as well as the Cross itself are of imitation marble material, showing WHITE in daylight and in a GLORIOUS, LUMINOUS, MYSTIC LIGHT at NIGHT IN THE DARKEST ROOM. The luminous effect is everlasting. The greatest work of art ever known to science. It is, indeed, a glorious and most precious article of true devotion. Science has long been puzzled at this mysterious work of art. There are two different sizes: The larger one (11 1/2 by 6 inches) has been reduced to only $2.00 from the original price of $10.00, and the smaller one (4 by 8) from $5.00 to $1.00, in order to enable every Christian family to have one in their home.
