On Tuesday the 28th inst., Rev. Fr. Watters celebrated the anniversary of his fifteenth year as a priest of the Most High. The Sodality, numbering 27 young ladies and children, wearing their white veils, approached the Sacrament, and sang appropriate hymns.

James Runciman who has been absent for many years in the Northwest and California, arrived here about three weeks ago, and is now travelling agent for the mail messenger firm of Runciman Bros., of which he is a member.

Mrs. James Bisset, East street, returned last week from her trip to Edinburgh and Glasgow. Mrs. Bisset made her return passage on the Buenos Ayres, and had so stormy a passage that the captain entertained great fears of disaster.

The case of Stark vs. McDonald for seduction, was tried in London this week. The defendant James McDonald, who lives near Walton, a married man of 50 years, was charged with seducing a 13 year old girl named Agnes Stark. The jury decided in favor of plaintiff. Damages $400.

Says the Seafarer Examiner - "The Methodist church was packed on Sunday night, and the immense congregation listened with a great deal of pleasure, and we trust profit, to the very able and eloquent sermon delivered by Rev. T. M. Campbell, of Goderich, on the subject of temperance."

PAINTER ACCIDENTS - On Thursday afternoon Wm. Buchanan, one of the owners of Buchanan, Lawson & Robinson's painting mill, lost the middle finger of his right hand by coming in contact with one of the machines. The index was also injured, but it is hoped that he will be spared the use of it.

The Goderich H. S. L. Society held its annual meeting on Friday evening last, at 7:15. The following was the programme: Recitation by Fred. Mygale; reading, Mrs. Carroll; song, Miss Miller; reading, Miss Wiggins; duet, J. Swanson and L. McBrien; reading, Miss Williams; reading, L. McBrien.

CALL ACCEPTED - Rev. Mr. Acheson, of London, has accepted the call to Kippin and Hills Green, and his induction will take place at Kippin on Tuesday, November 11th, at 2 p.m. Rev. R. Y. Thomson, M.A., B.D., Hensall, will preach. Dr. Ure and J. R. Miller, of Goderich, will address the minister and people respectively.

TEMPERANCE SERMONS - The temperance sermon preached by Rev. T. M. Campbell on Sunday evening was a masterly one, full of energy, logical, statistical, yet eloquent and interesting. He held the closest attention of his immense audience. Rev. Alex. Birks, of Holmesville, preached in Victoria street church on temperance. This eloquent young preacher made a most able and convincing sermon.

HYMNICAL - We clip the following interesting item from the Brussels Post: "Last Tuesday the banes of marriage were solemnized by Rev. F. Ryan, B.D., at the residence in Victoria street church, of the bride, between William Smith and Miss Hannah Knoeshaw. The contracting parties are residents of Goderich. The bride was written on by Miss Marion Grant, of Goderich, while Ernest S. Cooper performed like services for the groom."

The Hamilton Times says: - "Bread has not been so cheap in Hamilton as it is now for a good many years. Several reductions have been made during the summer and fall, and the price has been lowered again this week. Large leaves of pound ones - sell for 10 cents each, and the small ones, of course, for 5 cents." Here in Goderich we are not in so happy a state. But perhaps there will be a drop in the price of bread here soon.

HYMNICAL - A very pleasant though quiet wedding was yesterday morning celebrated at the residence of our worthy townfolk, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Straubel, the contracting parties being their only daughter Ida V. with Mr. S. T. Bastedo, of Toronto, private secretary of the Hon. O. Mowat, Premier of Ontario. The knot was tied by the Rev. Dr. Ure, Goderich, assisted by the Rev. J. A. Turnbull, of St. Mary's, and the bride was attended by Miss A. McIntyre, Toronto, the groom being assisted by his brother Albert Bastedo, Princeton. The presents of the bride were numerous, costly and beautiful, not a few of them being sent from a distance. Only the immediate friends of the two families and a few others were present, the guests being: - Dr. and Mrs. Ure, Rev. Mr. Turnbull and Mrs. Turnbull, St. Mary's; G. R. Pattullo, Woodstock; Miss McIntyre, Toronto; Albert Bastedo, Princeton; J. R. Miller, Inspector public schools, and Mrs. Miller; H. I. Strang, principal high school, and Mrs. Strang; W. R. Miller late principal model school and Mrs. Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Hick; Mr. and Mrs. Currie; Mr. McNair; Knox College; J. Robinson; E. C. Russell; Miss Morris; Miss Strable, Leamington; Miss McLaren, Hamilton. The bride and brides maid were becomingly attired in a travelling costume of brown and gold. After the ceremony an elegant breakfast was enjoyed, the health of the happy couple being felicitously proposed by Mr. Pattullo, and responded to neatly by the groom. Dr. Ure proposed in appropriate terms the health of the bride's parents, after which the wedding party left for Toronto, there to begin the duties of housekeeping.

On Tuesday the 28th inst., Rev. Fr. Watters celebrated the anniversary of his fifteenth year as a priest of the Most High. The Sodality, numbering 27 young ladies and children, wearing their white veils, approached the Sacrament, and sang appropriate hymns. We wish Rev. Fr. Watters many anniversaries of a like nature, and hope with restored health he will have a long and useful career.

THE HURON SIGNAL

Published every Friday Morning, by Mc... GODERICH, ONTARIO

HOW THE "STAR" MISSTATES THE CASE.

The Star in its last issue attempted to prove that Hon. A. M. Ross, at Clinton...

Mr. Ross' position was this, that the Conservative press were blaming Mr. Mowat for not going to the Privy Council in 1872...

"The great advantage in such a submission was that it would have given both parties the opportunity of submitting such evidence as they might think proper...

Mr. Ross gave his audience the paragraphs quoted by the Star and the preceding one also, and the whole of them proved Mr. Ross' contention, that Sir John was not in favor of going to the Privy Council in 1882...

THE BIG FIGHT ON THE SCOTT ACT.

Huron Rolls Up a Glorious Majority for Temperance.

1,600 FOR THE SCOTT ACT.

All the Towns and Villages But One for It—13 Townships for and 3 Against.

4 COUNTIES OUT OF 5 WON.

Brace, Dufferin and York Solid and Sure A Slight Reverse in Prince Edward, Ont.

Yesterday was a memorable day in our history. It saw the rout of the whisky party in four out of five counties. It saw the redemption of Huron by the largest majority ever polled for the Canada Temperance Act.

The fight was forced by the temperance side from the beginning, and the whisky party learned once and for all that their hold upon a free people has slipped and is gone.

The clergy, the ladies and the clean press of this county did their part nobly. Woman's pure and mighty influence was never more strongly manifested.

The returns show that in this county, out of 18 townships and 9 towns and villages, all but 3 townships and 1 village went for the Scott Act.

During the past week the Scott Act campaign was pushed vigorously. Meetings were held all over the county, and the very air was redolent of the temperance controversy.

THE WORLD OVER.

As directed by the Councils of our outside Correspondents.

The new light house at Hope Island, Georgian Bay, is completed and was lighted last night for the first time. Chas. Tarril, of Collingwood, takes charge.

A Quebec dispatch says:—It is stated that the Quebec Government has been notified by wire from Ottawa not only to keep up their present guard over the Parliament buildings here; but to double it.

It has been decided at a meeting of the Brown Memorial Committee to proceed with the erection of the statue at Hon. Alex. Mackenzie will be asked to unveil it, and Prof. Daniel Wilson to deliver an address.

The old steamer Belonging to Simonnet McNaughton, of Montreal, was burned here last night at the foot of the old lock. The Albert has been lying there for some time. It is supposed the sparks from a passing boat caused the fire, as there was no fire on board.

The total revenue of Canada for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1884, was $32,902,218. For the preceding year it was $34,734,648, thus showing a diminution in 1883-4 from 1882-3 of $1,832,430. The expenditure last year was $31,135,847—more than $7,500,000 over the expenditure of Mr. Mackenzie's Administration.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the New York state trades assembly, has issued an address to the workmen of the state. He justifies the action of Cleveland in vetoing the car drivers' mechanics' lien, and five cent fare bill. He condemns Butler's candidacy as a baron, and endorses Cleveland as the true friend of the laborer.

The worst tears touching the fate of the men imprisoned in the coal mine at Uniontown, Pa., have been realized. Six miners were taken out last evening after the disaster. Two were dead and two fatally wounded. Search for the remainder continued throughout the night, and by this morning the bodies of twelve of them had been brought out and delivered to relatives.

The search which was made for the light-house-keepers of Sandhead, British Columbia, who have been missing since the 7th inst., has not yet been successful. The three men have undoubtedly been drowned. The names of the missing men are H. H. Fraser, keeper; W. S. Fraser, his brother, and a man named Williams. The Frasers were natives of Pictou, Nova Scotia. Williams belongs to British Columbia. The lights have again been put in operation.

A very large concourse of friends and acquaintances of the late David McCulloch, collector of the Port of Hamilton, assembled at his late residence, Monday afternoon, and followed the remains to Burlington Cemetery. Rev. S. Lytle conducted the service at the house and grave. The pallbearers were: S. H. Turner, Messrs. H. B. Witton, H. F. Witton, H. B. Gardner, A. T. Freed, Richard Fuller, Geo. E. Tuckett, A. Sutherland and Hugh Murray.

The Tichborne claimant has been released from prison. It will be remembered that he claimed to be Sir Roger Tichborne, and after a lengthy and exciting trial he was condemned as a fraud and sentenced to 14 years imprisonment. His time has been shortened owing to good conduct, and he is now released on "a ticket of leave." He has a good many sympathizers in English who will supply ample funds for the support of himself and family. It is feared that he may bring another suit to obtain the property.

A good deal of controversy has lately taken place in Brantford in regard to the Dufferin Rifles church parades. At a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance recently, a few of the members drafted a petition, asking the commanding officer to discontinue the practice of having the bands turn out on Sunday when the regiment attends church. At a meeting of the officers it was decided not to accede to the request, whereupon the Alliance issued a manifesto, requesting the members not to ask the Rifles to attend church. The Anglican churches are open to the band, and on Sunday morning a parade was held at Grace Church. The Deputy-Adjutant-General of the district was in attendance, and before dismissing the regiment he fully upheld the conduct of the officers in not acceding to the request of the Alliance. The Alliance comprises all the churches outside those of the Anglican.

The Grand Trunk workmen employed in the shops at Point St. Charles discontinued at the position they occupy in the President Mutual Association for the benefit of the employees of the road. According to the present system all employees are assessed alike for death claims, and as the mortality is much greater among engineers, firemen and brakemen than among those working in the shops, the latter complain of the unfairness of the method. They state that almost daily assessments are made upon them ranging from 35 to 40 cents to provide for the relatives of train hands who have been accidentally killed. They suggest as a remedy that a new section of the association shall be formed, including only the names of the men in the workshops, so that the appalling death-rate on the road shall not affect them. A strike of 2,000 men is threatened unless some immediate change is made.—[Montreal Herald.]

Cleverly Caught. Hamilton, Oct. 28.—This evening the man Dempsey Demehy, who was arrested a short time since on a telegram in connection with the Simcoe jewelry robbery and dismissed for want of prosecution, was caught burglarizing the residence of F. W. Fearman, in the East End. When chased by the police he drew a revolver. Constable Lowery sprang upon him, knocked the revolver out of his hand, and fell him to the ground. He had stolen clothing and other articles.

Extending the Range of the Scott Act.

Some say that as much harm is done by gittony as by drunkenness, and therefore the law should be directed against the former as much as against the latter. Many only laugh at them. Well, I shall state a few facts, and then let the reader judge whether they should be so treated or not.

The town of A— was noted for the quietness, industry and tidiness of its inhabitants until eating houses were introduced. Almost every second house now is one. It is sadly changed in consequence thereof. Day and night yells, oaths and pistol shots are heard. Only a few nights ago a fine young man was shot dead in a moment in a row. All engaged in it were under the influence of pork and beans. In the houses and in the streets, filth and foul smells abound. The inhabitants spend the most of their time 'loafing' in the eating houses.

Mary B— was a beautiful, accomplished and charming young woman. Alas! she fell into the snare of the destroyer. She became too fond of cakes and pies. She wandered from the paths of virtue, and died a miserable outcast.

Thomas M— was a lawyer. He might have become a great, and a wealthy man, and a benefactor to the love of good eating. The only kind of literature in which he took any interest was cookery books. Night after night, till far on in the morning, he caroused with his jolly companions over oysters, turtle soup, lobsters, pies, tarts, cakes, ice cream, and the like. The more they swallowed the more ravenous their appetites became. After T. M— had made himself a beggar by his faring sumptuously, I have known him follow a poor man who he knew had two cents on him, and beseech him to lend him—them to enable him to get some ice cream. Poor fellow! the last time I saw him he was going bare-footed through the streets of T—. He had on an old grey overcoat, singed on the back. Soon after I read of his death in the hospital.

Of powerful intellect, and noble heart, was young G—. On New Year's day he went out to make a few visits. Knowing his weakness, he resolved, before doing so, not to eat anything. For a short time he stood to his resolution. But, at length, he came to the house of the youthful, beautiful, sweet-tempered, clever, accomplished, industrious, hospitable, and wealthy Adolphus Organette N— the darling of his heart. The unfeeling dumping cakes which she offered him with her most bewitching smiles, were baked by her own fair hands. He ate. He became ravenous. He ate in any other house which he visited. His weak home in delirium tremens. At midnight a pistol shot was heard in his room, immediately followed by a sound as if a body falling on the floor, and two groans. The household roused in. They found him quite dead. The blood was flowing from a hole in his right temple. In his right hand was a revolver.

John S— was a most loving husband and father when he was out under the influence of food. One night he supped a large 'bicker' of porridge which made him quite furious. While in this state he killed his wife, for which he was hanged. On the scaffold he said to those present that porridge had brought him to an untimely and disgraceful end, and warned them against indulging a love of eating.

Let the foregoing suffice. Now, lovers of your fellowbeings! labor with all your might to have eating, in the confectionery-shops, bakeries, flour mills, oatmeal mills, and other like sources of iniquity made like the baseless fabric of a vision, leaving not a wreck behind. The struggle will be hard and long, but despair not. 'We'll win the day, we'll win the day.'

Metis, Que. T. F.

Pruning Old Trees.

The best way is, first, to cut all the dead limbs, leaving no stubs, but smooth surfaces, on the main stem or branches, avoiding any larger surface than practicable. If this treatment does not leave the tree in good shape, or if some branches are too long, and the tops are not symmetrical, cut back the long branches to a fork, so that there may be no projecting stubs, and so that the shorter of the two branches at the fork shall remain. This work, if carefully performed, will enable you to bring all the limbs into a proper length to make good tops.

This work may be done late in the winter or early in the spring, but never while the trees are growing or are loaded with foliage. Then cover all the wounds with paint, grafting-wax, or other substance of composition, to make a watertight coating. If in addition to this treatment the whole surface of the ground could be covered with old straw as a mulch, and a light top-dressing of coarse manure could be applied, the trees would probably renew their vigor. It should always be borne in mind, in pruning any old trees, to reserve the young and vigorous shoots, and remove the old and feeble ones, whenever a choice is to be made between them.—Country Gentleman.

London.

The London Spectator has just made a discovery—nothing more nor less than that London is the first city in the world. A French visitor on the subject that London was a magnificent city if you could see it. It is impossible to get a bird's-eye view of London. The atmospheric conditions are never such as to enable one to behold it in all directions on a given day. Few persons have any idea whatever of the scope of London. Paris is pear-shaped, with a bit out of the north side. Our own New York is an irregular parallelogram, and Vienna is not, from one point of view, unlike a gridiron, handle and all complete. But London has been built and planned with the exterior irregularity of a great hornet's nest. There is at times a decent view of parts of London to be had from Hempstead Heath. From the dome of St. Paul's a good deal of the city may be seen, but nothing like a comprehensive view of the vast conglomeration of spire and tower, of mansion and factory, can be had; its endless andathomless miles of masonry evade the pencil of the sketcher, and are lost on the lenses of the photographer.

Goderich, March 9, 1882.

Be sure that you have some vines,—they grow so prettily over bare places of the walls and make such pretty festoons across curtainless or curtained windows.
Prize of all vines for house culture is the English Ivy. It is a slow grower, but then it lasts.

Bear and Fo-bear.

Some housekeepers, who keep their houses in excellent order, have a very annoying way of talking about what they have done in detail.
It is foolish of women to make their work the subject of conversation at all the meals and at the occasions for social intercourse in the evening hour, for it irritates the husband and children; although all are too respectful to say so.

An Indian's Appetite.

The improvidence of the Indian is proverbial. They toil not, if they can help it, neither do they spin, unless it is around the kitchen about meal time.
They take no thought of the morrow, but will gorge their capacious stomachs to the highest notch, utterly indifferent of the coming day.

Portable Strawberry Beds.

Portable strawberry beds are the latest in the long list of inventions of the nineteenth century, and in a few years every citizen who has a little patch or garden or a sunny spot on the roof of his house can raise strawberries all the year round.
These beds have three or four advantages over the old-fashioned style, which cannot be overestimated.

It Could be Done.

He called a meeting of indignant citizens, in a town in Illinois, to petition Congress to prohibit the landing of any more French wines in this county until the American hog was recognized in France, when a citizen arose and said:
"Gentlemen, what would we do without French wines? Let us pass a law."

Fire. Last Monday morning the barn and contents belonging to James Hepples were totally destroyed by fire. Loss about $800. Insurance $500.

Sheppard's. John McLeod died last week after an illness of two years, respected by many friends. His funeral was attended by many members of I. O. G. T. No. 213 in regalia, and the service of the order was read by Bro. John Clutton.

Large quantities of apples have been washed ashore here. It is thought some vessel must have thrown her cargo overboard during recent gales.

Although no meeting on the Scott Act question was held here, excitement ran high.

Leedsboro. SICKNESS.—Sickness is quite prevalent in this neighborhood. Mrs. Knuckle, Lake Shore, is very ill at present.

Crops.—The fall wheat looks remarkably well all over the country, and farmers are in great hopes of a good crop next year.

SCOTT ACT MEETING.—Notwithstanding bad weather a good audience attended the lecture on the Scott Act by Rev. John Gray, of Clinton, in the Presbyterian church on Thursday last week. The speaker left a good impression upon his hearers. John Linklater occupied the chair. No one spoke for the other side.

WINGHAM'S WICKEDNESS. Assault on the Lord's Army—Threatened Bombardment of a Methodist Church.

"During the past two weeks," says the Times of that village, "Wingham has gained an unenviable reputation on account of the lawless conduct displayed by rowdies towards the Lord's Army. Not content with saluting them with a volley of eggs during their march on the streets, on Friday evening last a raid was made on the barracks, the windows broken with stones, and balls filled with paint hurled through them, ruining the dresses of several ladies in the audience. On Saturday night as the army were marching out balls of paint were again hurled at them, one of them striking Lieut. Wilson in the face, cutting him and covering his clothes with paint. And on Monday a communication was received by the pastor of the Minnie Street Methodist church threatening to bombard that edifice if the army were allowed to hold any more services there. It is a disgrace to the town that such lawless proceedings are allowed to go on week after week unchecked, and we hope now that prompt and vigorous measures will be taken to put down this rowdism and bring the perpetrators of these outrages to justice."

Scott Act Contests. A resume of the votes taken upon the Scott Act during the six years in which it has been in operation shows that there have been in all 43 contests. The result has in 40 cases been favorable to the act, while it has only been defeated in eight elections. Five of these defeats were sustained in this province, two in Quebec and one in New Brunswick. Of the forty Scott Act victories, 12 were obtained in Nova Scotia, 12 in New Brunswick, 6 in Prince Edward Island, 6 in Ontario, and two each in Quebec and Manitoba. Five of these contests were on the question of the repeal of the act in constituencies where it had been adopted, and in no case was the attempt to procure a repeal successful. This is a specially favorable indication, as showing that prohibition stands the test of experience—a conclusion fully borne out by the Maine law, which after having been in force for more than a generation, has so far commended itself to the approval of the people of the state that the latest action of the electors has been to embody it in the state constitution. There is ample testimony that the more the people see of prohibition the better they like it.

Tragedy at Winnipeg. Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—A man named Cameron was shot dead yesterday morning at 5 o'clock by the keeper of a disreputable place, named Walsh. Cameron and three or four others visited the place and remained during the night on a drunken spree, during which several rows occurred. On leaving in the morning and while the group was standing a short distance from the house, Walsh fired a revolver into the crowd, hitting Cameron, who dropped dead. Walsh and the others were at once arrested. The deceased came from Prince Edward Island, and this was his first drunk. He was employed at Ogilvie's mill, and had an excellent reputation. He was 29 years of age and unmarried.

EGYPTIAN AFFAIRS.

The instructions given General Wolsey by the Egyptian government—A Letter from Chinese Gordon.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Official correspondence regarding Egyptian affairs is published. Wolsey's instructions are stated. The expedition was to bring Gordon and Stewart back from Khartoum. No further offensive operations than in a defensive nature were to be permitted. Neither the English nor the Egyptian government was prepared to assume the responsibility of the government of the Nile valley beyond Wady Halfa, though they would be glad to see an independent government established at Khartoum, which would keep peace with Egypt on a commercial basis, and with the Sudan. When it was known that Gordon had sent Stewart to burn B. the government directed that orders should be sent. In a letter dated April 23, Gordon says he offered freedom and pay to slaves who desert Mahdi. This policy he hopes will sound the doom of slavery in Sudan. He does not think it is likely that it will be due to the government's failure to send Zubeir Pasha to him. He opens a new chapter for the honor of England. The Abyssinians will not be engaged to fight England's battles.

It is rumored here that Khartoum has fallen into the hands of the rebels. The Government has no advice on the subject.

CAIRO, Oct. 28.—The greatest anxiety exists here at Wady Halfa and Dongola over the news of the capture of Khartoum. The rebels who have been menacing Khartoum for several months recently received large reinforcements from El Mahdi, and early in the morning they made a sudden onslaught on Khartoum, and notwithstanding that Gordon and his followers fought desperately the town was soon at the mercy of the enemy, who swarmed into the place from the surrounding country in large numbers.

Another report is that Gordon was surprised through the treachery of some of the Egyptian troops under him, and was compelled to surrender by overwhelming odds after a desperate attempt to drive the rebels back, during which thousands of the latter were killed.

WOLSELEY'S FORCES. CAIRO, Oct. 28.—The plan of Wolsey's expedition to Khartoum was to lead him a total force of 8,500 English troops. He will take 6,000 of these to Dongola, leaving a reserve corps of 3,500 at Wady Halfa. The Mufti of Dongola has promised to furnish a contingent of 3,000 men. If an advance in force is deemed necessary, the Egyptian troops the reserves will be pushed on from Wady Halfa.

THE CANADIANS. The Canadian bastion speak lightly of the obstacles and difficulties of the Nile cataracts.

THE SCOTT ACT. The Supreme Court settles some Doubtful Points.

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—The supreme court, which sat at 12 noon today, was crowded with legal counsel, owing to some questions coming up affecting the Scott Act. There were on the bench Chief Justice Ritchie, Justices Strong, Henry, Fourrier and Taschereau. The first case taken up has the reference to the government-general-in-council in regard to whether there being two registry offices in the county of Perth, it was in compliance with the terms of the Scott Act to deposit a petition for submission of the measure in one of these. The law requires that the petition ought to be placed in the sheriff's office of the county, but there is no provision where more than one registry office is placed in a county. Hon. R. A. Scott argued in favor of the affirmative, and Christopher Robinson, Toronto, for the negative. Scott contended that the convenience of the people was considered in this case, and that was the spirit of the clause. Robinson held that the law was not complied with. Chief Justice Ritchie said that while he expressed no opinion as to the merits of the act, still it could not be denied that there was great difficulty of opinion in respect to the passing of the act, and it was plain to him that in this case the rights of the people were interfered with, in so far as the petition was not placed in the registry office of the county, but in a registry office of one of the ridings of the county. If the petition had been placed in the sheriff's office, which was close beside the registry office mentioned there, it would be valid. Justices Strong and Henry agreed with the chief justice. The next case was also a question from the government-general-in-council as to whether certain electors in Kent county had the right to withdraw their names from the signatures to the Scott Act petition. The case is now going on, and it is likely, from the tone of the remarks of the judges, that they will not be allowed to do so.

Mobbing the Missions. HONG KONG, Oct. 27.—Advises say that the Roman Catholic missionaries under French protection at Swatow were ordered to leave by the Chinese authorities. When those at Chao-Chu Fu had left the place Chinese soldiers went to their house and destroyed everything they could. It is said they ravished the female converts. At Kite-Yun a mob destroyed the Roman Catholic places of worship as well as those belonging to English, Presbyterian and other missions. The Wesleyan chapel at Chang-Taung was destroyed on the 14th of September by a mob.

A Fatal Accident at Kincardine. KINCARDINE, Oct. 27.—John McLeod, a young man, lost his life this morning. While attending to his duties in the engine room of Rightwells salt works he came in contact with the driving wheel, and was instantly killed.

APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE.

General Election in Great Britain Prohibited in January.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Sun's London special says:—We shall have the general election in January or February. The tone of vague hopefulness which prevailed up to the meeting of Parliament and for some hours afterwards has been completely dissipated, and nobody now believes in the possibility of a compromise between the two Houses. Lord Salisbury was careful to conceal completely his intention as to the future, and took refuge in laborious humor, and Sir Stafford Northcote was more grandly in his gentleness than ever, but Mr. Gladstone's speech was emphatic and burned the heels of the Government. The Liberals are delighted, their great dread having been all along that they would be cheated of their chance of fighting the House of Lords. It is not yet known what course the Government will take, and the Cabinet is said to be divided in opinion. It seems certain that Mr. Gladstone will stick to his policy of not granting a dissolution on the demand of the Peers. The bitterness between the two sides is great, and has been intentionally increased by Mr. Chamberlain, who has adroitly paved the way for the early dissolution of the Radical party to power, with himself of course as Prime Minister. The plans of Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Childers, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, have been completely upset by the action of Lord Wolsey, who is spending money like water. The cabinet members are kept busy every day, as the telegrams from Gordon make it clear that every man, woman and child who desired to leave Khartoum could have done so, and that the only reason the garrison has remained is that Gordon disobeyed his instructions, and was fanatical and idiotic scheme of crushing the Mahdi.

CREMATED IN A CAR. Disastrous Collision on the Canada Southern—A Conductor Burned to Death—Several Trainmen Injured—Cabooses Burned.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 27.—A terrible accident occurred on the Canada Southern Railway about 5:20 last night at Montrose station, resulting in the horrible death of Conductor Herbert Thayer, and the serious injury of several other trainmen. Special train No. 16, composed of empty cars, in charge of Conductor Thos. Reynolds and Engineer Carlton, reached Montrose at the hour named from Victoria, and was:

MISTAKEN BY THE SWITCHMAN for a light engine and caboose. He switched it on the caboose track, upon which four cabooses were standing. The back of the train struck these. The jar upset a stove in the second caboose. Several trainmen were seated in the caboose, when the shock came, and were thrown from their seats. The stove fell on Herbert Thayer, and the caboose instantly took fire. Frantic efforts were made to rescue the unfortunate man from his terrible fate, but his wounds were so severe he was compelled to give up in despair.

His brother, Willard Thayer, brake-man on the caboose, kept hold of his hand as long as he could bear the heat, but finally was driven back.

SCORCHED AND EXHAUSTED, and pulled through the window. When assisted outside, it was found his leg was broken.

Brakeman Schofield was slightly hurt, and Conductor McGregor had his feet badly burned.

Three cabooses were completely burned. When Thayer's body was recovered it was cleared to an unrecognizable mass. Deceased lived in this city. He was 21 years of age and had only been married a few weeks. There is a good deal of excitement in the city over the horrible affair, and expressions of sympathy with the heartbroken wife.

On a Diet of Hard Soap. CALEDONIA, Manx, Oct. 27.—Joseph Marco is about to be tried for the murder of Mrs. Joseph Enos seven years ago. Marco was arrested, tried and convicted, and sentenced to the State prison for life for the murder of Joseph Enos, and was pardoned by Governor Hubbard after serving about six years, on the recommendation of the surgeon in charge of the prison. Marco was said to be dying of consumption, and could not possibly live but a few weeks. After getting his freedom he gained rapidly in health, and was preparing to enjoy life again, when he was arrested and again confined in the Caledonia jail for the murder of Mrs. Enos who was killed at the same time as her husband. His health again failed rapidly and at the opening of the court in May he was so reduced that it required the assistance of two deputies to support him while he made a plea of not guilty. He was again returned to jail, and has been considered convalescing until a short time ago, when it was noticed that his health was failing with alarming rapidity, or, in other words, that he was preparing for court. Dr. McKenna began to look around for the cause, which was found to be a cake of common hard soap, upon which he was feeding himself, and which had so completely brought about the desired effect that when he was called upon to appear in court he had to be carried on a chair. Capt. W. H. Harris has been secured to defend him, and he has obtained a change of venue to Fillmore county, on the ground that it was impossible to secure a jury not prejudiced.

Just at the time when the English people are discussing the advisability of abolishing peerages the Mikado of Japan has created a Japanese peerage, consisting of 11 princes, 24 marquises, 76 counts, 374 viscounts, and 74 barons. The Japanese started on a forward march a little while ago, but they seem to have got tired on the way and to have turned back toward the point from which they started.

JAPANESE TYPHOON.

Details of the Terrible Destruction wrought.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—The steamer Arctie, which arrived yesterday from China and Japan, brings the following further details of the great typhoon which September 15, caused such terrible destruction of life and property at Yokohama and Tokio: The storm came up so rapidly, with such tremendous fury, that no preparations could be taken. In Yokohama the entire lower part of the city, called "The Settlement," was completely wrecked. Not a house was left standing. The inhabitants made no attempt to save their property, but fled for their lives to escape drowning from the rushing waters, driven on by the fury of the wind. The newspapers make no attempt to furnish any details of the destruction in that section of the city. The higher portions of the city being more exposed were equally unfortunate. Several of the largest and most substantial buildings were swept away as if built of pasteboard. In that section alone 128 houses were destroyed and 300 damaged.

THE LOSS OF LIFE. On shore was less great than at sea. Out of 80 sailing vessels 58 were lost, with 223 persons on board. The boats with 190 persons were also missing. Of five lifeboats that went to rescue drowning crews four were swamped and ten of their crew drowned. The typhoon was the severest experienced since 1870.

AN ARTHUR TERROR. A Ferocious Wild Cat Nearly Tears a Man To Pieces.

The wild cat which did so much damage, and created another visit of Sunday last fall, paid another visit on Sunday last. The general supposition is that it entered the village some time during Saturday night and remained in some secluded place during the day. Immediately after dark, however, his catnip qualities were put to use. Seeing the position of Mr. Rowan, his wife and family heroically ventured their lives in his defence, and after a terrible struggle, in which all engaged were more or less injured, they succeeded in driving the beast away. Fearing its return, Mrs. Rowan ran for help, and soon a handful of persons went to the relief of the family, which was found in a fearful state of terror and excitement. The animal afterwards attacked Chief Henry, on George street, and, although terror-stricken, he succeeded in escaping with a few flesh wounds and some rough handling. The animal is described by those who saw him, as standing about 2 1/2 feet high, built in proportion, and fearfully ferocious in appearance. It is thought that a large bounty will be offered for its capture.—[Arthur Enterprise.]

Great Gales. LONDON, Oct. 28.—A violent storm prevailed throughout the British Isles. Houses have been demolished at Shields, vessels in the Clyde driven from their moorings and many minor wrecks reported. Fog and rain were driven over the Greenock. The incoming steamers reported having encountered fearful weather.

A steamer from Lisbon for Cardiff was wrecked at Penzance, and the German cruiser Urdine was wrecked off the Danish coast. The crews of both were saved.
