At the Eleventh Hour!

Man's Head and Woman's Heart.

He beamed on her so glad, so gay, so fond, that not many a girl could have helped loving him; but Lynette had never been as far from it as at this moment.

Not so very long ago—a few months only—she had admired and liked him and if she had never met Stephen Belmont she might have liked him still. But now she was fighting hard against hating him. For she felt herself unjust to this loyal lover. He had given her his heart's best love, and her uncle and her brother had said that he was worthy to be her husband.

But the harder she tried to like him, the more keen was the repulsion that she felt—repulsion growing into hate.

Vida rushed in, tastefully gowned, ready to accompany them on their drive. They had been compelled to make this concession to Lynette's scruples.

Lynette put on her black-plumed hat that made her look like a picture and all their eyes were turned to her.

"Where shall we drive?" she inquired, looking at her darlings.

"Anywhere," she answered, with cold indifference.

"Oh, then, if Lynette has no choice, suppose we go to Lewisburg," cried Vida, anxious to exhibit herself in all her grandeur.

"Agreed," cried Prentiss, nothing loathe, and gave the order to the driver.

They drove through the country roads and into the quiet old town, coming in at the top of the hill past Belmont in its stately grove of autumn-colored maples. Vida and Prentiss had had the talk all to themselves. Lynette leaning back mute and pale, her eyes following the scenery.

Suddenly she cried out eagerly: "Wait! there is Myrtle Dare!"

And there was the saucy, dashing little blonde coming out of the gate at Belmont.

The carriage stopped, and Lynette leaned to the side, exclaiming: "Myrtle, come and drive with us, please, a little way. Oh, don't refuse! I have a message for you."

Myrtle had looked on the point of refusing, but at the last words she blushed to the tips of her pretty, shell-like ears, and consented.

"Drive past the jail," Vida said, in a malicious whisper to the driver, who whipped up his horses and obeyed.

Lynette murmured to her friend: "Edgar is coming home soon—to the wedding."

Myrtle began to draw away quickly and Lynette added: "He said," catching her breath

Cured Of Salt-Rheum

by the use of Dr. Bovel's Herb and Gum Salve—All Other Preparations Failed.

Box 76, Base River, N.S.
The Bovel Manufacturing Company, Montreal, Que.

Dear Sirs:—

"I have been troubled with Salt-Rheum for some time. I tried many kinds of Salve but failed to obtain any relief. I lately bought one of Dr. Bovel's Herb and Gum Salve and am now perfectly cured.

I must say that your Salve has cured me when all others have failed."

Yours truly,
MRS. JOSEPH BLAIR.

We have hundreds of similar testimonials from grateful patients who have been permanently cured of skin diseases of all description by the use of Dr. Bovel's Herb and Gum Salve—they write spontaneously, so that sufferers may benefit by their experience.

If you are a victim of eczema, barber's itch, salt-rheum, sore feet and toes, scalds and burns, old sores, insect bites or any other form of skin troubles, do not hesitate, but Dr. Bovel's Salve to the test—IT WILL give immediate relief and cure you rapidly.

Dr. Bovel's Home Remedies are sold by all dealers. Ask for them. If not obtainable through your dealer within a reasonable time, send 25c (in stamps) to us for any article you require Bovel Mfg. Co'y, St. John's, Nfld.

SECURED PROMPT RELIEF

From Severe Neuralgia of Six Years Standing

Mrs. Jas. Tait, of Westmeath, Ont., writes:—

"I have been a dreadful sufferer for the past six years. The doctors have had neuralgia of the muscles of my back, the pain was so great at times that it would draw me all up. I tried different doctors, but could find no relief until I used Douglas' Egyptian Liniment which was recommended by Mr. Fraser of this place.

"I had the desired effect. I secured prompt relief and have had no relapse of it in over 15 months. I only used one bottle and can now load my own produce, pressed hay, etc., myself. Egyptian Liniment has made my old days brighter, and I trust that others may be benefited by its use."

Don't you think that a liniment that will do this must be a little out of the ordinary, and well worth trying? You will find it pleasant for Rheumatism, Sciatica and all bruises, sprains, burns and frost bites. It is sold in 25c. at all drug stores. Free sample on request. Douglas & Co., Napanee, Ont.

CHAPTER IX.

At that moment such an anguished cry came from Lynette's lips that all turned toward her with one accord and started with surprise when they saw the direction of her upraised eyes.

The carriage was at that moment rolling past the dark, forbidding walls of the country prison, and her upraised eyes, dim with unshed tears, were fixed on the gloomy, barred windows yearningly, as if gazing on some beloved face.

"I—I—saw Stephen Belmont's eyes looking at me through the grating!" she gasped faintly.

CHAPTER X.

"Poor Lynette! The shock of surprise had been too much for her weakened nerves. As the words left her lips her eyes closed, and she fell back heavily among the cushions, unconscious for the moment of her sorrow.

Graham Prentiss began to berate the driver roundly for his stupidity in driving the way.

"It was the lady's order, sir," he replied sulkily.

Vida was holding her vinaigrette to Lynette's nostrils, and she explained carelessly:

"I asked him to come this way. I did not suppose it would affect Lynette like this."

Prentiss made no reply, but watched the two girls anxiously as they worked over the unconscious Lynette, thinking how strange it seemed to see her like this, so pale, so weak, and always been such a picture of health and strength, never fainting in her life till the past month. He knew too well, for whose sake she lay there so still and white, and his heart burned in him with futile rage against his rival.

"She loves him still!—despite everything," he muttered to himself.

Suddenly he saw her bosom heave and her eyes unclose languidly.

"You are better?" he said eagerly, and she faltered:

"Oh, yes—yes, and sorry I frightened you all like this. But—but—I am so weak still, I cannot bear much."

She raised herself from Myrtle's arms and leaned back among the cushions again, her face death-white, her lips quivering, her eyes half-shut with the dew of tears on the black-fringed lashes.

It was the saddest face that any prospective bride ever wore, and Myrtle looked at it with surprise and suspicion. She had been told that Lynette was proud and happy over the approaching marriage. This did not look much like it.

MYRTLE'S REPENTANCE.

"Myrtle crimsoned deeply, but whispered back hurriedly: 'I can't—I won't! Don't ask me.' 'Més Dare,' said Vida maliciously, 'are there any new developments in the Belmont case?' Myrtle looked at her with flashing eyes, and answered: 'Yes, there is a new development, and it is thought a very favorable one for the prisoner. Only this morning a strange woman came to Roncovette to see the pictures taken of the murdered girl. Her own daughter—a lovely girl, deserted by her husband—is missing, and, having read in the papers about this case, she fears that—Oh, Mr. Prentiss, how ill you look! What is the matter?' 'The driver had turned his team down Jefferson Street; but no one noticed it, so excited were all at Myrtle Dare's words. While speaking, she had looked carelessly at Graham Prentiss. The sudden start he gave, and the pallor of his face, surprised her into exclaiming: 'Oh, Mr. Prentiss, how ill you look! What is the matter?' Vida and Lynette instantly turned their eyes on him. They saw that he did indeed have a pallid look, as of some one suddenly ill or frightened. 'Oh, Mr. Prentiss, how ill you look!' exclaimed Lynette, in a shocked voice. Then, recoiled in amazement from the dark and angry frown that settled on his brow. All at once he recovered from the seizure, of whatever nature it was, and, looking at them, forced a smile to his blue lips. 'I—I was ill—for a moment; but it is over now. It is a heart trouble to which I've been lately subject,' he explained, with elaborate carelessness, though his voice shook in spite of him. Vida turned again to the beautiful blonde, and said: 'You were telling us, when you interrupted yourself, that a strange woman had arrived who thought that she might recognize the picture of that dead girl as her missing daughter.' 'Oh, yes! But she has not seen the picture yet, so we cannot tell if there is any hope. But it is a plausible story she tells. She came from the country, near Washington. Her daughter went to the city to work in the sewing department of a large dry-goods store. For a few months letters came at intervals, then they stopped for six weeks. Alarmed at her daughter's silence, the woman journeyed to Washington to see the girl. That was last year so her story runs. Well, she did not find Madge, as she called her; but the girls at the store told a story that is, alas! all too common in the great wicked city.' She looked again at Graham Prentiss; but he was quite himself now, and said carelessly: 'Your story is quite interesting.'

In Dread of 'Something'

You can scarcely tell what it may be—Hysteria, Insanity, Nervous Collapse.

You can only throw off this depression when the nerve cells are restored to health by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment to the nerves and you are compelled to seek aid from other sources.

It will take some patience and persistent treatment, but there is no way by which you can so certainly restore health and vigor as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. Such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, nervous indigestion, muscular weakness, loss of energy, loss of memory and power of concentration, irritability and discouragement, tell of a failure of the nervous system and warn you of the approach of serious trouble.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SARIE MULLEN, 2725 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drug on a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

The Evening Chit-Chat

And this our life, exempt from public haunt Finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, Sermons in stones, and good in everything."

I thought of the called Dilemma
the other day
when I found a lesson in a piece
of toast.

It was a Sunday night supper at a friend's home. In the absence of a host maid she had made the toast
herself and it
was so abnor-
mally different from the ordinary toast that every one of the guests spoke of it.

You see the point was this. The toast wasn't merely palatable. It was JUST RIGHT. It was made over just the right kind of fire. It was browned just enough. The butter was put on at just the right moment and in just the right quantity.

Now thinking the matter casually, you may be inclined to say that toast is toast, and doesn't vary very widely, but really, if you had eaten this toast I feel convinced you would admit that there was as much difference between it and the common or garden variety of lukewarm, half-burned-on-the-outside, half-cooked-on-the-inside toast, as there is between a landscape attempted by a student in his first year of art school and the same landscape painted by a master.

It seems to me that that toast was a work of art because it was a product of the same passion for perfection that stands behind all great artistic expression.

And the lesson, of course, is that any every-day task, the ironing of a dress, the darning of stockings, the cleaning of silver, the keeping of books, may also be a work of art if the doer of it be only inspired with that passion for perfection.

Between work poorly done and work well done, is a long road. It slopes gently upwards and many people travel along it.

Between work well done and work absolutely right is a shorter road, but oh, very steep and rough, and few people ever enter upon it.

But those who do take in their hands the staff of a passion for perfection and climb this steep and thorny road find many splendid things on the mountain tops to which it leads.

For the man who works for money there is gold and success and sometimes fame.

For the woman who works for love
there is soul satisfaction.
All things worth climbing for, I think.
Don't you?

New York Clearing Out Harpies Who Prey on the Weak Minded.

New York, Aug. 22.—Efforts of the New York County Medical Society to rid the city of illegal medical practice brought two accused persons up for arraignment in the West Side Court to-day. Adele Marie Rique, "Counselor and Speaker of the Advanced New Thought Cult," after producing a $500 bail as cash bail for later appearance, smiled benignly at Magistrate House and handed over to him considerable literature, including an invitation for him to join the "circle of universal soul freedom, university for soul cultivation, mental and material salvation," of this city. Before the magistrate had appreciated the situation, Miss Rique had tripped out of the court room.

A police matron testified that she had sought Miss Rique for a cure for "palms in the back" and that part of the cure prescribed was a repetition of the formula "God and Myself, Myself and God, God and Myself," three times, and then swing the arms around in a circle. The formula was to be repeated daily and promptly at noon. A course in this and similar treatment was offered at $25 a month.

Hendrick Dueringer, who said he was a graduate of the "Palmer School of Chiro-Practices," of Davenport, Iowa, and who said he could cure typhoid fever and infantile paralysis by manipulation of the spinal vertebrae, was also held in $500 bail for later hearing.

King George's
Little Joke.

King George has always been fond of a joke, and he found a rare opportunity for one once. His ship was lying off Portsmouth, and coaling had been taking place. In this the prince, like everyone else on board, had to take his share. When he had finished he looked a pretty picture, being coal-dust from the crown of his head to the soles of his boots. One of his messmates made the laughing remark that his grandmother, then staying at Osborne, would have something of a shock if she could see him at the moment. "By Jove," said his royal highness, "what a lark! I have a good mind to let her see me."
His brother officers egged him on,
and a boat was lowered away and off went the prince, as black as a nigger. By some means or other he managed to gain access to the grounds of Osborne, and presently the familiar donkey-chaise bearing the late Queen here in sight. When it got close to him he stepped from where he had been concealed, and approached her Majesty, who gazed at the weird apparition in amazement. Then she made a movement as though to call one of her attendants to throw him out of the place.
"Oh, all right, I'll go if you like," said his royal highness in assumed dudgeon, "but I must say that I don't think it is a very kind way to greet your loving grandson!" Even the grave old Queen was forced to break into a smile as she recognized the royal sailor, but from all accounts, he received rather a severe "dressing down" from her majesty when he joined the royal party at dinner late in the day, over the "unbecomingness" of his conduct.

Expert Coming to Report on Asylum.

According to the Daily News, the Government is bringing out a lunacy practitioner to examine and report on the Asylum for the Insane. His name is Sir James Matthew Moody. Little information is given about him in Who's Who. The chief information available is that from 1876-1883, he was Assistant Medical Officer for Brookwood Asylum, Surrey. In the latter year he became Medical Superintendent of the London County Asylum, Cane Hill, which office he holds at present. It is somewhat singular that the Party in power made the denunciation of importation of outsiders to assist the Government of the day a chief line of their plan of campaign against the Bond Government. Since their advent to power they have outlived any previous Government in this respect. Their course of conduct is in striking contrast to their pre-election propensities, and casts substantial doubts on the sincerity of their campaign.

Stealing Game Dogs.

Yearly about this time, just before the opening of the sporting season, game dogs are stolen on sportsmen, but this seems to be the banner year in this respect. During the past week or so no less than six valuable setters have been stolen belonging to sportsmen, who have been keeping these dogs all the year to be prepared for the shooting season. The canines are stolen by men who call themselves sportsmen but who are determined to keep dogs themselves. Should any of the thieves be discovered they will certainly be "soaked."

The Telegram Scores.

Recently a gentleman lost a very valuable bunch of keys which were indispensable to him and could not be replaced in a hurry. He was very much concerned about them and determined to try one of those catchy little ads—which are so pungent with results—in the Evening Telegram. He inserted one yesterday, and the paper was hardly out when his keys were restored to him. There is a moral in this: Never despair of recovering lost property unless a Telegram ad. fails to find it for you.

Died This Morning.

A bright and promising boy of 6 1/2 years old, son of Contractor Michael J. and Margaret McDonald, died this morning. The poor little fellow was ill only a few days. He was the idol of his parents and playmates who will miss their loss very keenly. The Telegram tenders its sincere sympathy to the father and mother in their bereavement.

The s.s. Rescue is now out 13 days from Goole with a cargo of coal to Croable & Co. After discharging here she will be laden with fish for the Mediterranean by A. H. Murray.

Western Bay Notes.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Mr. Editor.—Things have been more than lively at Western Bay this season. Every going and returning Ethie has brought hosts of visitors from the Canadian and American cities whose general appearance argues that "the lines have fallen to them in pleasant places" since they left the North Shore. Others are finding out that Western Bay is a splendid health resort and a good place to spend a summer vacation.
Mrs. James Pratt and children have spent a time with those who will remember the earnest ministry of the late Rev. John Pratt, father of James Pratt, Esq., of the firm of Bishop & Co., St. John's.
Mrs. Andrew Goobie who, accompanied Mrs. Pratt and family, delighted the people at Western Bay with her beautiful singing in our new church.
The Sunday School Picnic was a great success. Among the invited guests were Rev. C. and Mrs. House, Blackhead, Emos, Hollett, Esq., a Blackhead boy who has prospered in Toronto as a contractor and builder, and also Mrs. Hollett. They love the land of their birth and seek rest and recreation here every two or three years. Mrs. Andrew Vatcher, wife of the esteemed and newly appointed Stipendiary Magistrate, teachers from adjoining settlements, home on vacation, and many others.
A picnic party spent the day in the country and lived in real rustic fashion. In the evening Dr. Ferguson returned to the party with 40 speckled beauties that would have set the Isaak Walton's of the city longing. The frying pan was soon in evidence, and though it was the first time that some of the party had eaten trout without forks, they hope it won't be the last.
The Western Bay football team has had good success the past season, coming off thrice triumphant. Their first match was with some jolly good fellows who came holiday making in a steamer on July 12th. The St. John's lads, all champions of Bay de Verde District, who can boast of eleven victories. Western Bay proved equal to the occasion and secured 2 goal to 0 (nil). Job's Cove treated the Western Bay victors and friends right royally.
With a little diffidence, they thought at length there was not much to risk and they challenged Carboner to play them on their own ground. It was regarded as a daring piece of audacity, but they secured conveyances and faced the gale of wind for 4 hours, then faced the opponents and after a most interesting hour's hard kicking they closed the tightly contested game leaving Carboner as they commenced, viz. nil to 1 goal for Western Bay.
Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think that your correspondent of Saturday last, having told the story how Carboner defeated St. John's in a cricket match on the same day by 7 runs, might have found just a little place in his notes for the football contest? No doubt he would if Carboner had been victorious!
Dr. Ferguson who is a great sport and takes a great interest in the boys of Western Bay, did the fine thing, treating the victors and their friends (upwards of twenty in number) to the tea at Father McCarthy's Garden Party.
When after another season the lads return from College and from their schools, where they are off "to teach the young idea how to shoot," we hope to have Carboner to Western Bay, and we are sure they may depend on the hospitality of Dr. Ferguson and the friends.
With many thanks for space.
I am, yours etc.,
CORRESPONDENT.

Means Business.

Yesterday Young Olson deposited with Mr. R. Dowden, of the Herald, the sum of $100 to show his bonafides in connection with his prospective wrestling match with Sam Anderson. Should Olson not appear on the mat the forfeits this and the same also goes to the winner as a side bet. When Anderson arrives here he will put up $100 also, conditions the same.

To-Day's Outings.

The Oddfellows will go to the Octagon to-day to enjoy their annual outing. Quite a number will go with them; hot dinners are to be served, and a jolly good time is in store for the people who go there.
The members of the Benevolent Irish Society also hold their annual outing at Donovan's, leaving by a special train at 2.30 p.m. During the afternoon there will be sports, etc., and at night a dance in the ballroom. A large number will go forward.

Smuggling Going On.

Yesterday H. W. LeMessurier had a message from Sub-Collector Furbieux, of Rose Blanche, saying that he had seized on the sch. Stanley Ellis, Capt. Slowbridge, from St. Pierre, a parcel of sugar cane, a caddy of tobacco and one jar of rum which it was believed was in possession of the crew.

A Ladies' Picnic.

At 2.30 this afternoon the Cathedral Women's Association will hold a picnic at Clarke's Farm, near Burton's Pond. The object is to raise funds to support clergymen where needed but where the parish is too small to sustain clergymen. The ladies have worked assiduously to make the picnic a success, and those who attend will enjoy themselves thoroughly. The weather to-day is ideal for such an outing.

Mishap to Dory.

Last evening a dory with two Lunenburg fishermen on board was beached up at the harbor under sail when a sudden gust of wind upset it. The occupants were thrown into the water, but boats from schooners near went quickly to the rescue. The dory was uprighted and the men sailed back to their schooner to change their wet clothing.

Tobiotic Arrives.

The sch. Tobiotic, Capt. Pettet, arrived here from Oporto yesterday after a very good run of 20 days. On arrival she was placed on the quarantine ground where Dr. Campbell visited the crew whom he found all right. He then gave the ship a clean bill of health and she was released.

TWO MEN FIGHT FIERCELY.—Two East Enders had a falling out last night and going to Gill's Cove, just east of the King's wharf, settled the dispute by an appeal to physical force. Very few were about and the men fought fiercely for fully fifteen minutes until the cry of "the police" was heard when both quickly quit the place. Each man was pretty badly cut about the face.

A Discussion of Our Economy and Its Distribution is Well Spent and Why Not Develop Britons?
The fairy tale of the growth of modern wealth which Mr. George Paish put before the Sociological Society was summarised in our last issue. Mr. Paish declared that he looked forward for the supply of capital to grow more rapidly, and to bring its advances to the whole of mankind. As one read that astounding story of human wealth, about which there was no dark side to it—whether the wealth indicated had made for human happiness, and whether its production had had their share.
The recent strikes at our big docks all over the country, show how essential the men who carry things are to making wealth. This point was discussed at the Sociological Society at the close of Mr. Paish's paper.
The Governor of the Bank of England, Mr. A. C. Cole, said he believed that in the future "productive" nation was going to be more extensive.
Small Number of Capitalists.
Mr. Chiozza Money, M.P., said: "I could not refrain from asking myself as I listened to Mr. Paish's 'Who have the savings?' That is a very important question, for it is obvious that those who have the savings must draw the interest attached to the savings. I fear it will be found on examination that the savings of the great masses of the people which they amount to a large figure, are actually, are yet small relatively to the total savings of the nation. In fact, the at all events, some sort of foothold, some shelter, more or less insubstantial. Out of this 21s. 8d. or out of the 23s. or 24s. of to-day, what has the man to spend on clothing, furnishing, and so forth? It is a mere shilling or so. If they need something in the way of furniture, they have to resort to the hire-purchase system, and to purchase one or two sticks which would be a libel to call furniture. If they are to buy household utensils, they must be cheap and miserable products. If they are to purchase clothes they must be mere shoddy, and if they are to have anything in the way of decoration they must be trinkets of the cheapest and most garish kind. In these circumstances, how are your trades to be developed productively for the benefit of the masses? The figures I have given, the great masses of the people are really poorer than they were ten or fifteen years ago, and as a consequence trades cannot expand for home account.

The Trade That Might Be.

"You are reaching out for a large export trade, but what of the trade which lies immediately at your doors? And what of the trade that might be, the trade which would satisfy the home hunger for boots and clothes and decent houses? You cannot get the trade because of the insufficiently of wages. Mr. Paish is right, entirely right, when he says that real wages have not expanded; but real wages have not expanded in this country in the last ten or fifteen years, when you take into account the very handsome increase in profits. I doubt whether there is, in the last ten years the wages in a group of industrial trades which have been investigated have risen about 1 per cent.—an almost negligible quantity. But food has risen 10 per cent.; therefore the British workman is really worse off. It is not good for him. It is not good for industry, it is not good for the nation.

Profits vs. Wages.

"I now pass to what has happened to the product of labour. We find from the income-tax returns that there has been a handsome increase—a very handsome increase—in profits. The increase is almost startling; it amounts to hundreds of millions during the past fifteen years. It is not a good thing for the country that simultaneously with the fall in real wages received by the masses of the people, there should be, on the other hand, a vastly increased profit drawn by the few people who possess the capital and land, because it means the unhealthy development of your industries."

The Worker's Handicap.

Professor Smart, of Glasgow University, says:—"I hold that the cure for most of our economic evils is not to be hoped for in any mechanical redistribution, but in a progress of wealth so great as to allow a constant rise in real wage, and to make every sober wage-earner a 'capitalist' as well. Every one recognises that a man is that he cannot put a reserve price on his labour or on the labour of his children, and so has neither the time nor the chance of employing it where it would be most remunerative, and, at the same time, most profitable to the community. Give him some capital, and this handicap disappears. In this respect, then, the possible check to the accumulation of capital, involved in immediate expenditure of income, is at least a subject which requires consideration before we can congratulate ourselves wholeheartedly on it as a sign of 'bounding wealth.'"

Professor Warwick of King's College, London University, says:—"First, there is little doubt that in every community in which wealth is most rapidly increasing the outstanding characteristic of the people is their growing discontent, restlessness, and dissatisfaction. Secondly, the method of wealth development extolled by Mr. Paish has never yet been freed from this ominous difficulty, that it increases parasitism through an ever larger proportion of the population. And it is not easy

Why Not Develop Britain?

"Is there a deficiency of capital being put out in the interests of these islands? I doubt whether there is, taking the Housing question. What is the Housing question? It is one of capital. Some people think the Housing question is a question of land; no doubt it is, but it is much more a question of capital. Enough British is not being put into the Housing question; our cities of to-day are not attractive living places. It is considerations of this kind which should make us ask ourselves where we should draw the line between the development of the waste places of the earth and the development of our own country. And we ought to ask ourselves whether we are giving ample opportunities to the forty-five or forty-six millions of people which inhabit these islands. No one can have failed to notice the recrudescence of emigration. I do not lose sight of the fact that this emigration has been largely stimulated by methods never before exerted. We all know that Colonial Governments have set up attractive offices in order to draw people out of this country. If the process is to go on, and rich people continue to send their savings abroad, I warn you that the best of your life-blood will also go abroad; I hope the Scotch Census will wake the people up to what is going on.

Have Wages Increased?

"Another thing of moment arises from the ill-distribution of wealth; you get a lack of driving power to develop all your trades for home purposes. Mr. Rowntree sketched for us the economic man who went to the co-operative stores and bought at the lowest possible prices, avoiding butcher's meat and such luxuries; and he told us that this wonderful creature and his family could be sustained in efficiency at 21s. 8d. per week. That was in the year 1899. What has happened in the interval? Prices have gone up 10 per cent. since 1899, and Mr. Rowntree's economic man must spend to-day 23s. or 24s. in order to secure a minimum of physical efficiency. His poverty line took account of only 4s. as the rent to be paid; but what is 4s. for rent in London, Manchester, in Leeds? "A poor family would need to pay 6s. or 8s. in London for rent in order to secure—I won't say a home, I hesitate to say a resting-place—but

Who Have the Savings?

A Discussion of Our Enormous Wealth and Its Distribution, and Whether it is Well Spent and Well Divided—Why Not Develop Britain and the Britons?

The fair tale of the growth of modern wealth which Mr. George Paish put before the Sociological Society was summarised in our last issue. Mr. Paish declared that he looked for the supply of capital to grow more rapidly, and to bring yet greater advances to the whole of mankind. As one read that astounding story of human wealth, about which there is no doubt, one wondered if there was no dark side to it—whether the wealth indicated had made for human happiness, and whether its producers had had their share.

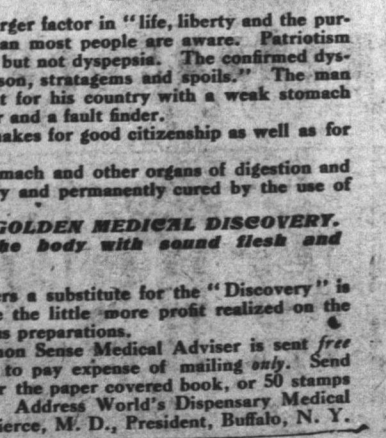

the savings of the masses amount to such a mere fraction of the capital of the country that if they were entirely dissipated and lost at this moment the country would be practically as rich as before. "One looks at those hundreds of millions of figures in the Registrar General's returns which are a summary of the greater part of the savings of the people—inventions in building societies, provident societies and so on—and the total sum, in relation to the total capital of the country, is almost negligible. The truth is, that interest is almost entirely drawn by a very small class of the community, and that there is a very great ill-distribution of wealth in the country. The greater part of the people have only their labour to sell, and they have to sell it to a small class which owns the means of production.

Savings of the Masses.

"When we come to inquire into the nature of the savings of the masses, what do we find? What is their nature? They resemble in kind the squirrel's store of nuts. They are not industrial capital. The savings of the poor consist almost entirely of little houses, sometimes very inferior in character, of small sums put by for a rainy day. They are not sums invested in industry. Now let us ask what becomes of the large savings of the upper classes of the community—the bulk, that is, of the nation's savings. I think it my duty to point

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder. A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness. Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. to see how progress or prosperity is compatible with either growing discontent or growing parasitism."

Casual Labour.

Miss E. L. Hutchings says:—"Mr. Paish says nothing about the mass of irregularly employed labour that is to be found in the poorer quarters of all our great cities. Recent researches have shown the tendency of dock work, the building trades, and others, to collect in certain centres a number of workers in excess of those who can be regularly employed. These workers know that jobs are to be had, and on occasion very well-paid jobs; there is no machinery or organization to adjust the supply of labour to the demand, and the result is what has been aptly called a 'stagnant pool' of under-employed or irregularly employed labour. These are the men who get demoralised by what they ironically call 'playing', and by the resulting cadging for odd jobs, which easily shades into begging. "Then, there are the cases of the sweated worker, and the slum child, often closely connected with those of men unemployed. Thousands of women can scarcely earn their five or six shillings a week, even with unremitting toil for twelve or thirteen hours a day. Some most experienced observers think that, apart from the operation of the Trades Boards Act (which, of course, is still a new departure), the wages of this class of work are actually falling. Again, rents are so high that poor families often live three or four in a room (there are worse cases still, but these will serve); and milk at 4d. a quart is far too dear for the children, save in the smallest quantities. "Is it possible to feel so very proud of the growth of wealth in the face of such facts as these? Again, Mr. Paish seems to have overlooked the fact that part of the increase of wealth consists, simply in economic rent. The workers toil, the genius invents, the capitalist saves, the able and enterprising direct and organise, and part of the result of their efforts is that some one else can charge them all higher for the privilege of living and working on his land." ### Annual Field Sports at Bell Island.

The annual field sports at Bell Island in conjunction with the annual Regatta, and under the auspices of the Dominion, Nova Scotia and Wabana Clubs, took place there on Saturday afternoon, August 26th. It was the intention to hold the sports the previous Saturday afternoon following the Regatta in the morning, but the inclement weather prevented the committee's desire and after a week's postponement, at 4:15 Saturday evening in the presence of many hundreds of people, the sports were run off in the following order:

One Hundred Yards Dash—Two competitors entered—W. Thomas, representing Scotia, and R. Burnham, Dominion. All expected this to be a close race, as Thomas had won last year and Burnham had won several prizes for the event. Burnham got a good start and increasing his lead finished about four yards ahead, winning the gold medal. Time, 11 3/5. Last year's time, 12 secs. This event was run on the road, and the time for such is considered remarkably good.

Half Mile Race—Four competitors entered—T. Neary, W. White and J. M. Greene from the Dominion, and M. Tierney, White set a quick pace from the start and finished the first quarter in capital style. J. Greene then forged to the front and finished up with a sprint, crossing the line first. T. Neary, second. Prizes gold and silver medals. Time 2 min. 10 secs.

High Jump—Three competitors entered and all got away together at the start. Burnham, however, reached the tape first, closely followed by Burke. Prize, gold medal.

Football, Jr. (Dominions vs. Scotians)—This was very interesting to see the youngsters all about 14 years and younger striving for supremacy. Mr. W. J. Higgins refereed, and after the game had been in progress nearly an hour, time was called, victory being awarded the Dominions.

High Jump—Two competitors entered—Ryan (Dominion) and Cahill (Nova Scotia). After a closely contested jump, Ryan won. Height, 4 feet 9 inches. Prize, gold medal. Last year Ryan also won, doing 5 feet 4 inches, but this year he decided not to jump for height.

Putting Shot—In this event two also entered—Peter Fitzgerald (Nova Scotia) and Jos. Nugent (Dominion). Victory fell to Fitzgerald, who beat his opponent by about two inches. Distance, 34 feet. Last year Fitzgerald also won this event.

Football, Fives (League Teams)—Dominions vs. Scotians—After a stubbornly contested game, well refereed by Mr. Higgins, the Nova Scotia boys carried off the honors, defeating the champions (Dominions) by 1 goal and 1 corner to 0. The N. S. five are: Egan, Cahill, Thomas, Hadden and Ross. They were awarded gold medals.

Inter-Club Relay Race—What proved to be the prettiest race of the day now took place. Two clubs, the Dominion and Nova Scotia's entered. The N. S. trio were McKenzie, Thomas, Cahill, and the Dominion trio, Dave, Burnham and Greene. Each contestant had to run 220 yards. Dave (Dominion) and McKenzie (N. S.) started first. McKenzie finished about four yards ahead. Greene (Dominion) and Cahill (N. S.) then followed. Greene reduced the distance and finished about 4 or 5 yards in advance of his man. Burnham (Dominion) and Thomas (N. S.) concluded the race. Burnham increased his lead and finished about 6 or 7 yards ahead. The winners, Dave, Greene and Burnham, were awarded gold medals.

Football, Jr. (Wabanas vs. Dominions)—After an interesting and closely contested game, the referee decided the game a draw. The youngsters played well and show clearly that football, in a few years at Wabana will be very scientific.

Long Distance Race (1 mile run)—This event concluded the programme. Five competitors entered—McKenzie, F. Negus and Doolan (N. S. Club) and T. Neary and J. Greene (Dominion Club). The run was eight laps of the football field. Doolan led off at the start, closely followed by Neary. He maintained the lead until after the half was passed, when Neary, running well, forged ahead and continued the lead till the 7th lap, when J. Greene came to the front and with a sprint finished first in 5 mins. 12 2/5 secs. T. Neary, second. Prizes, gold and silver medals. This last year, 5 mins. 30 secs. Winners last year also Messrs. Greene and Neary, respectively. After this the medals won in the field sports were presented by Mrs. Bown, wife of the manager of the D. I. & C. Co., in the usual affable way, while earlier in the afternoon the medals won in the Regatta were gracefully presented by Mrs. Burrows, wife of the manager of the Nova Scotia Co.

To the following Field Committee the success of the evening is due: Judges—Messrs. Coch, Pinn and Pynn. President Taylor, Secretary Greene, Treasurer Burke and Reporter Jardine; starter, Mr. Lindsay; timekeeper, Mr. J. J. McDougall; herald, Mr. J. Parmiter; Messrs. J. H. Greene, R. Proudfoot, A. Cohen, D. J. Jackman, R. J. Costigan and many others of the Regatta Committee who generously gave their services to conduct the events; as also to Managers Bown and Burrows.

Kelly to the Rescue.

Conductor John Kelly of the shore train is one of the most popular of his class on the road, a man of cheerful disposition and very obliging, yet he is not every day in a case of emergency. Yesterday he proved this trait in his character. When his train coming citywards yesterday was nearing the Harbor Grace water shute, the roof of the residence of a Mr. Hamilton was seen to be on fire. Kelly stopped his train and with the train hands and passengers started to quench the blaze. Under Mr. Kelly's direction a ladder was run to the roof; he was the first to mount it, a bucket brigade was formed and soon the fire was extinguished. But for this prompt action "Jack" (his poor man's name) could have been destroyed. Both his employers and the public will appreciate this generous action on the conductor's part.

Another Officer Leaves the Force.

Const. Humber, of the Western Station, who has been in the police force for the past two months, tendered his resignation yesterday. He was a very intelligent officer and a man of splendid physique, being the tallest who ever entered the police force. Others are also going from the force, and small wonder. The rate of wages is so small that some of the young men have not enough to pay for boots after they pay the month's mess bill. And yet the "Split" party in effect say to these deserving and hard working men, "Take it or leave it," while the M. H. A.'s are taking picnic trips half over the world and the Premier is to spend thousands of the people's taxes after B. U. R. in the interest of his interest. However, the day of reckoning is quickly approaching.

Glencoe's Passengers

The following passengers came in Glencoe to the city yesterday:—B. Baxter, Rev. Turk, wife and child, Rev. Mercer, Rev. Soper, A. W. Lake, Laidment, T. Cheeseman, Capt. Canning, Rev. Brother Brennan, Mrs. Canning and child, P. J. Parsons, Miss Hardy, Miss Cheeseman, Miss Wood, K. Malone, J. Coody, Miss Ash, Miss Hutchings, Miss Morris, Miss Roche, Miss Pratt, Mrs. Pincus and child, Mrs. Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Miss Bradshaw, Miss Hardigan, W. Rumsey, Miss Forsay, Mrs. Paul, Master Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Richards and child, Mrs. T. Burke, Miss Doyle, Miss Mahoney, Miss Flynn, Miss Red, Miss Pitcher, Miss Baker, Miss Wagg, Miss Rose, Miss Broderick, Miss Brown, three Sisters of Mercy, and 12 second class.

Police Worked Hard.

Consts. Hutchings, Crocker, Kelly, Scobie, Humber, Keefe, who was in charge, were engaged beating out the fires on the South Side Hill all Sunday and Monday nights, and did not get back to the city till yesterday morning. Despite the rain which fell yesterday morning the turf held the fire, and last night in the high wind the crest of the hill was dotted with small fires. A large section is denuded of its forest growth.

Mr. Winston Churchill

Deprecates Exaggerated Report of Strike Scenes.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Winston Churchill, the Home Secretary, in the House of Commons yesterday, said that the strike situation in London had improved very much. He denied that the soldiers at Liverpool charged the rioters on Monday with fixed bayonets, and also denied that there was any volley firing. The troops, said the Home Secretary, had fired only individual shots in order to disperse the rioters. The Home Secretary declared that there were good grounds for believing that the London freight handlers were beginning to realize the advantages that they had secured by the recent settlement arranged between them and the employers, and that they realized that it would be folly to jeopardize these advantages by any ill-considered action. If no untoward events occurred, Mr. Churchill continued, the commissioner of police hoped to continue to maintain order in London without the necessity for calling in military aid.

The situation in Liverpool continued to be satisfactory, but the last reports received were favorable as regards the keeping of order and the distribution of the necessary food. The chief of police at Liverpool had sent a telegram that there need not be any great importance attached to the rioting in the city yesterday. The rioting, the police chief said, took place in an area where disorder is chronic when there is any abnormal excitement. The object of the rioters, Mr. Churchill said, according to the police chief's report, was simply to attack the police, who were tempted into side streets where barricades, the sanitary dust bins and wire entanglements had been placed in order to entrap the police and enable the rioters to fight them to more advantage.

Wire Flashes Around Globe in Record Time.

New York, Aug. 21.—In order to ascertain the speed at which a commercial message could be sent around the world by cable, the New York Times filed a dispatch in the telegraph room of the Times building at 7 o'clock last night, and a reply was received by the same operator at 7:16:30 p.m. The time occupied in the journey of 25,612 land miles was 16 minutes and 39 seconds, including sixteen relay which gave an average speed of twenty-nine miles a second. An official of the Commercial Cable Company said that the time made by this message was the fastest ever achieved by a commercial cablegram since the opening of the Pacific cable by President Roosevelt and Clarence H. Mackay, eleven years ago, when a record was made of 9 minutes and 30 seconds.

Parrot Saves Lives.

OF Twenty Persons by Giving Alarm of Fire at New York. New York, Aug. 21.—A talented green parrot gave an alarm of fire in a ten story Madison Avenue apartment house early to-day and saved the lives of twenty persons who would otherwise have been suffocated by the dense smoke which filled the upper floors. The parrot owned by H. W. Dearborn, Secretary of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Association, noticed the smoke shortly after midnight and roused its master by calling repeatedly "Come on, Harry, come on, come on," the fire was in the apartment just above.

CRIPPLED FROM CHILL.—By last night's train a young man named Mr. Grace of Saltwater, came along, accompanied by his cousin. He was suffering from a chill in the leg, could barely walk along and was taken to the boarding house of Mrs. Woods. He will go to Hospital for treatment today.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

My home should be a home of peace; there everything is slick as grease. The wolves don't have a chance to roar around my handsome cottage door—they soon would get it in the neck; the horn of HUNTING GRIEF plenty is on deck; the larder's full of cake and jam, and coffee balls and shredded ham. The hanafan and her bunch of kids would be as gay as katydids, if I could but my home enjoy, and not let outside its annoy. But I must fret my darning foot soul 'er such things as Alaska's coal, the wiles of those blamed Guggenheims and Rockefellermorgans' crims. The wicked tariff makes me sweat; our naval needs I can't forget, and when I hear that Hobson man predicting warfare with Japan, all sunshine leaves my haunted life, and I get up and beat my wife. I can't indulge in harmless chaff; I can't enjoy my phonograph; I can't return my wife's kind looks, or get much comfort from my books, because the referendum fave has filled me with a blue from ache. What booming fools we mortals be! With old Bill Shakespeare I agree. Our lives might be serene and calm, and Gilead would give its balm, if from grief would step aside, and take the gifts the gods provide.

Thirty-Seven Over Sixty

MANCHESTER, N. ## Thirty-Seven Killed, Over Sixty Injured.

MANCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 25.— Speeding eastward behind time, the Lehigh Valley passenger train No. 4 ran into a spread rail, on a trestle near here to-day, and two day coaches from the mid-section of the train plunged downward forty feet striking the east embankment like a pair of projectiles.

In the awful plunge and crash at least 37 persons are to-night believed to have been killed, and more than sixty injured. The injuries of several are so serious that it is feared they will die.

The wreck was the worst in the history of the Lehigh Valley line in this State, and one of the most disastrous ever recorded on the system.
Crowded with passengers many of whom were war veterans and excusionists from the G. A. R. encampment at Rochester, Train No. 4 made up of 14 cars, drawn by two big Mogul engines was 40 minutes late when it reached Rochester Junction and from there sped eastward to make up time before reaching Geneva.

PLUNGED DOWNWARD.
The engines and two day coaches had just passed the centre of a 300 foot trestle over Canadiana outlet 150 yards east of the station at Manchester, at 12.35 o'clock when the pullman car Austin, the third of a long train left the rails. It dragged the dining car with it, and two day coaches, and two pullmans in this order followed. All bumped over the trestle a short distance when the coupling between day coach No. 237 and the rear end of the diner broke.

The forward end of the train dragged the derailed pullman Austin, and the diner over safely, after which both plunged down the south embankment and rolled over. The front end of the ill-fated Lehigh Valley day coach, where most of the slaughter occurred was shoved out of the gulf, and followed by a Grand Trunk day coach, stripped the rear guard off the south side of the trestle, and plunged to the shallow river bed, more than forty feet below.

A Neglected Cold May Cause Consumption.

Thousands of people die every year from the effects of this dreaded disease which, if treated in its first stages with

MATHIEU'S SYRUP
of Tar and Cod Liver Oil and other medicinal extracts, will cure the diseased lungs and give strength to the patient. Sold every where.

MATHIEU'S NERVINE POWDERS are free from opium, chloral and other dangerous drugs and they are supreme against headache, sick headache, neuralgia, overwork. 25 cts. per box of 18 powders. Prepared by J. L. MATHIEU Co., Wholesale Chemists and Druggists, St. John's, Nfld.

Both cars were filled with humanity as the plunge was made, and in a few moments the cars lay, a mass of crumbled wood, metal and glass under which a hundred men, women and children, many of whom were killed instantly, were buried.

A TERRIBLE SCENE.
The most destruction occurred in day coach No. 237, and a dozen persons were later taken dead from the second day coach, which had followed the first over the trestle, snapped its rear coupling, and thus saved the rest of the train from being dragged over.

This second day coach struck on the bottom and stood up, the rear end projecting a few feet above the top of the trestle. All of the passengers in this car were piled in tangled mass of broken seats at the end of the car. Indescribable pandemonium followed.

RUSHED TO RESCUE.
The Pullman car Emelyn which remained on the bridge with one end projecting over the gulch, and several cars behind it, derailed and in immediate danger of going over on the mass of wreckage below, were soon emptied of all their passengers and these aided by gangs of railroad employees from the big freight yards at Manchester rushed to their aid.

As the groans of the injured and dying were heard below all possible speed was made, but it was several minutes before anybody reached the cars at the bottom to effect rescues.

REMOVING THE DEAD.
The cars did not catch fire. Axes were secured and body and after body was removed and carried by the rescuers knee deep in the river bed to the bank of the west side of the trestle.

There the dead and injured were laid out on the damp ground, while planks and timber taken from buildings in course of construction were requisitioned and a field hospital was established. It was more than an hour before many of the injured could be removed, and special trains from both Geneva and Rochester brought physicians, nurses and medical supplies.

HUNDREDS RECEIVED AID.
Hundreds waited treatment and the railroad station at Manchester, a cider mill and an ice house were used to give temporary shelter and treatment to the refugees.

The dead removed from the wreck and brought to the morgue of J. M.
Stoddard, at Shortsville, near here, at nine o'clock numbered 26. Two other persons died in Rochester from their injuries. Several other persons with probably mortal injuries are lying in the hospitals at Rochester, Geneva and Clifton Springs. The number seriously injured is estimated at sixty.

They Met and Are Satisfied.

They met to-night, the one who closed his eyes
Until the pain forever and the woe,
And one who found the mansions in the skies
In all their splendor long, long years ago.

What will they say when first their eyes shall meet?
Or will a silence take the place of words,
As only saints can know how strangely sweet
A rapture such as only heaven affords?

Will she who went before ask first for those Left far behind, those whom she loves so well?
Or will the other, new to heaven's repose,
Question of all its meaning—who can tell?

And will they wander where the flowers are deep Beneath their feet there in the pastures green,
Where fadeless blossoms o'er the hillsides creep,
And where no piercing thorns are ever seen?

One went so long ago, and one tonight
Took the long journey far across the tide;
This only do I know; they meet tonight
And meeting, both, I know, are satisfied.

For Tungsten Lamp.

Important Discovery May Revolutionize Lighting.

London, Aug. 24.—A discovery which it is said may revolutionize electric lighting was made public this week.

It was announced by H. R. Sporberg of the British Thomson-Houston company, that after three years' research they had succeeded in producing tungsten in such a form that it could be drawn into a continuous wire one thousandth of an inch in thickness and used in any length or sent into any shape. At the same time its tensile strength had been increased.

Hitherto tungsten has been producible only in short lengths. The newest discovery makes it possible to use a continuous wire in a lamp, so that the risk of breakage is reduced to a minimum and the life of the lamp is considerably extended.

Girl Drugged

And Placed Aboard Street Car at Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Half a dozen police and detectives are using every effort to discover the persons who drugged and placed on board a street car at Dominion Park last night a strikingly beautiful girl of unknown identity, who was found in a heap beneath a car seat when the car was taken into the St. Henri barns early this morning. At the Western hospital all the efforts of physicians to bring the girl back to consciousness have been in vain and there are grave fears for her recovery.

Tastefully clad in modish garments the girl was found by the car conductor, and as far as he could remember the girl got on with a crowd at Dominion Park on the last trip, but whether or not any person was with her he could not say. A big crowd got on at the Park and the girl may have been lifted on the car in the same condition in which she was found in St. Henri.

New York, Aug. 24.—Ten men set upon John Pinto and Thomas Keno, two Italian workmen, as they were hurry home along a downtown street early this morning. When Pinto and Keno declined to give up their money to their assailants, one of the gang standing beside Pinto pulled the trigger of his revolver.
The bullet went through Pinto's body an inch beneath his heart, and buried itself in Keno's body. Both men will die. Their assailants escaped.

We Point the Way!

THERE are many points in connection with advertising that must of necessity—if success is desired—be studied carefully by the merchant who desires to reach new customers and to please those he has already gained.

The goods he wishes to advertise must be of the right kind --- THE KIND THE PEOPLE WANT --- and the price must be of the honest kind—good value for good money. Every merchant of course, knows this; but every merchant doesn't think of it when making copy for his advertising space. Here are

Four Cardinal Points

FOR THE MERCHANT TO CONSIDER : 1. The Right Goods ; 2. The Right Medium ; 3. The Right Copy ; 4. The Right Time.
With this combination any merchant or manufacturer may enter the field of publicity with confidence.

Many merchants who have goods to sell are fearful of investing a dollar in making known to the public the lines of goods they are dealing in, with the result that much of the goods remain on their shelves for an indefinite period to the deterioration of the materials and consequent loss to the owner. This state of things in a merchant's store ought never to be heard of; but the fact remains—and facts are very stubborn things.
There is a way out, however, and we point the way.

Take a space in the EVENING TELEGRAM.

No trouble will be experienced in unloading the goods from off your shelves that otherwise must remain there for an indefinite period.

Try an ad. in The Evening Telegram, THE PEOPLE'S PAPER, and watch your business grow.

BEAU BROCADE—Cloth 30c.

By the Baroness D'Orsey. This new and popular edition of "Beau Brocade" is a marvel of cheapness. Like nearly all of this now famous writer's books it is a story covering in part the time of the Revolution in France. All readers of Historical Novels should procure a copy. Other books by this writer are:

The Scarlet Pimpernel, 30c.; I Will Repay, 30c.; The Elusive Pimpernel, 25c.; Fitzwilliam's Rifle, 30c.; By the Gods Beloved, 30c.
