Theatre last night. The scarf dance surprised and delighted all; it was the first time a St. John's audience had an opportunity to witness this latest creation, which is in effect a whirlwind of entrancing figures produced very effectively by an approdelightful audience who seemed captivated by his Andante from A. minor concerto by Golterman and Guitarre by Mosz Kowski: the latter, a difficult number. The celebrated Celist well deserved the applause which followed his rendition of this masterpiece. The recitation, "Mother Machree," by Pauline Thurston won the plaudits of all. Every word was heard distinctly even by those who were compelled to stand near the entrance. The performer was favoured with repeated requests for encores. "Footlights," the feature film is story of the stage life of a renowned Russian actress. Before the footlights she was Liza Parsinova, great Russian actress, but back of the stage she was Lizzie / Parsons, American clear through. Expansion of Empire Northward

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 30—(Canadian Press)—Ottawa has followed with great interest hie fortunes of the past summer's Canadian Arctic expedition, which adds another chapter to the checkered history of the northward course of Empire. The expedition, under J. D. Craig, supplemented the work inaugurated in 1922 which had for its object the preservation of Canadian sovereignty, the introduction of law and order and the enforcement of existing regulations. A distinct feature of the trip was the introduction of British justice in the Franklin district in the person of Justice L. A. Rivet, who conducted a trial at the Mounted Police building at Pond's Inlet. Nookud-lah and Janes, a trapper, had been at daggers drawn for a considerable period and the former got rid of the trapper according to his primitive way of doing things. After due deliberation, it was deicded to have Noo-kud-lah confined to the Stony Mountain Penitentiary, Manitoba, for ten years, and an accomplice was sentenced to two years' detention at Pond's Inlet under police

Mr. Craig and Captain Bernier are immensely pleased with the trip and its outcome. The ship covered 7500 miles and its itiherary included a stop at Grady Harbour, Labrador; Godhavn, Greenland, Craig Harbour, Ellbsmere Island and Etah, Greenland, the farthest point north touched by the boat. Here the expedition conducted by Donald B. McMillan was encountered, which made a delightful break in the ship's routine. Owing to ice conditions, it was impossible to establish a police post at Cape Sabine.

New Judge

MR. G. J. TALBOT, K.C., TO TAKE SIR C. DARLING'S PLACE—' COURT FAREWELL.

Mr. G. J. Talbot, K.C., has been appointed to succeed Mr. Justice Darling.

He is the eldest son of the late Mr. John G. Talbot, of Edenbridge, Kent, who sat in the House of Commons for forty-two years, and a nephew of Dr. Edward Talbot, who recently resigned the Bishopric of Winchester.

Mr. Talbot was called to the Bar in 1887, and appointed K.C. in 1906. He has specialised on ecclesiastical law, and is Chancellor of the dioceses of Lincoln, Ely, Lichfield, Southwark and Winchester.

His son, Mr. J. B. Talbot, was one of the six victims of the mysterious ptomaine poisoning outbreak among a fishing party on Loch Maree.

There was a note of sadness in

King's Bench Division IV. recently when Mr. Justice Darling, who has been a member of the Bench for over twenty-six years, heard his last case and took leave of the Bar.

High tributes to his work as a

Judge were paid by Mr. Harold Morris, K.C., and Mr. S. J. Merlin.

Although obviously moved, Mr. Justice Darling's brief reply was in his usual bright and witty style. "I do not feel that I am dead," he declared. "I can say that I have done my best."

"I have tried to remember some of the qualifications which you may find in Portia's speech to the Doge of

"I leave this court for the last time.

Paris, Nov. 24.—A despatch received by a French paper from Magdeburg says that the ex-Crown Prince narrowly escaped death on his recent trip from Holland to his home in Silesia. In making a turn the ex-Crown Prince's car swerved and turned over. One of the policemen was killed instantly, but the Prince was not hurt.

Interesting Whispers About the Royal Family

At present the King and Queen have only one grandchild—the infant son of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles—but I hear a whisper that before many months are past this number will be increased to three, as two interesting announcements may be expected part spring.

Another Royal announcement which will interest Scotland will be the creation of new Dukedoms for the brothers of the Prince of Wales. It is improbable that next year will run its course without a new Duke of Edinburgh coming north to visit us.—Glasgow Post, Nov. 18th, 1923.

BIG SPECIAL AMATEUR CONTEST FRIDAY NIGHT.

"Breadway Scandals"

SCORE TREMENDOUS SUCCESS WITH THE BOLTON, WODE-HOUSE, KERN MUSICAL PLAY "OH BOY".

The programme for the last half of the week at the Casino is one of exceptional merit, and at the performance last night the large crowd in attendance were delighted. "Broadway Scandals" presented the joyous Broad-London Col. Morris Alexander, a way play "Oh Boy" with its irresistible score that will be whistled and nummed for weeks to come. The play maintains a well defined plot and offers both the principals and the chorus an opportunity to appear to exceptional advantage. There is rich comedy vein throughout the show and the actors are quick to respond to the possibilities of the excellent book. The part of Lou Ellen was in the capable hands of Edna Richards ,and her rendition of "Old Fashioned Wife" with the chorus, and her duet with Lynn Halbert as George received several encores. Mr. Halbert as George Budd gave an excellent performance, and was particularly good in the duet with Bonnie Mack, who played the part of Jackie to perfection. Although suffering from a

Miss Allen received day of November, A.D., 1928. several encores in "Little Bit of Ribbon," and Miss Bindle scored in her "Solo Dance." What was perhaps the Court House, St. John's. biggest surprise of the evening was Sam Goldman, who discarded his Hebrew character in this play to appear as Constable Sims. He was a scream, and received an ovation after each scene. Miss Pauline Travis was Aunt Penelope Budd and in her big scene had the audience in convulsiens. Miss

Joan Allen was a dignified Mrs. Carter and played her part well. Jack Le-Roy was Briggs, and played the part with just the right diction and action. Ben Bernie was the handsome waiter and E. J. Murphy, the Judge. The Chorus was in its usual good form, and the Orchestra rendered the Score in a delightful manner. The lighting BAIRD & CO. effects are worthy of special mention.

Dance and Presentation THE MARITIME

DENTAL PARLORS A very enjoyable time was spen ast evening when the pupils of Mes srs. Ray and Hal Pushie's Dancing Class met in their rooms for the purpose of making a presentation to them as an appreciation of their services. Mr. Whitemarsh, on behalf of the pupils presented Mr. Ray Pushie with a set of Labradorite cuff-links set in gold, and to Mr. Hal Pushie, a silver cigarette case. Taken completely by surprise Messrs. Pushie, in a very able manner, thanked the pupils for their kindness. . After which songs were rendered by Misses B. Jardin and K. Hayse and Mr. P. ENGLISH-AMERICAN CLOTHING C OUR GREAT CLOSING-DOWN SALE

Is Now at its best for Big Bargains

It's still going "full blast," our Great Closing Sale. The reductions which were unbelievably large, even at first, have on many lines been made still greater, so that we have no hesitation in saying that the prices on all our many lines for this Sale are "the very lowest ever known," and the qualities are so exactly right, that every individual line is a special attraction in itself. New customers, as well as our old friends---to whom we express our appreciation of their liberal patronage--will be heartily welcome, and will receive all courtesy from our staff.
