THE BROOKLYN EAGLE'S OPINION.
Esgle, Sunday, Dec 3:—This enactment is not worth the paper it is written upon, for the excellent reason that it is utterly opposed to public sentiment. The people of this country have pretty generally agreed to carry on the government upon the democratic theory, which is that every man is entitled to every liberty not incompatible with equal liberty on the part of his neighbor. The Peckaniffs who contrived to smuggle the passage in question into the code have succeeded in showing what they would do if they had the power, but they have net in the least succeeded in diminishing, the power of liberal American citizens who have their hand firmly on the throat of bigotry and mean to keep it there.

MR. BEECHER'S OPINION.
On the occasion of the new Sunday code coming in force in New York last Sunday Mr. Beecher preached a sermon on the matter. He said the Sabbath is the greatest boon to civilization, and contended that if men were not able to enjoy the whole Sabbath they should at least have alternate Sabbaths, or have some day in a week which would represent the Sabbath. It is right on this day to interrupt the business and pleasure of the yeek only so far as that business and pleasure of the yeek only so far as that business and pleasure of the seneral good. When bands of mine go tramping through the street I think the laws are right to say, "On another day, not to-day." To secure the observance of the Sabbath you must make the day honorable, you must make it a day of sweetness, and feel that of the whole week it is the best.

Provost Boddy of Trinity college, and Mr. Robert Graham (England), and N. W. Hoyles on the present movement. Bishop Sweetman said that nearly all the episcopalian clergy in the city were taking part in the movement. With the object of giving them something practical to do he asked each clergyman at the meeting to go through the audience and solicit names for a society to be formed in connection with Grace church. He further stated that it was not pledges he wished them to take, but to sign declarations agreeing to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as long as they kept the card in their possession. The meeting this evening will be held in St. Peter's schoolhouse and will be addressed by Revs. J. Pearson, O. Aslachson and J. D. Cayley. Mr. Graham will not be able to attend the remaining meetings as he leaves the city to-day.

Mr. Baker and Venus, The regular meeting of the mathem and physical society was held at half-past seven last evening at University college. Alfred Baker, B. WOMAN'S PROGRESS IN TORONTO. It is gratifying to those who take interes in the advance of the feminine intellect to know that recent statistics prove that Toronto is already one of the greatest millinery and dry goods centres in North America. Considering that the mind of the average young woman is incessantly occupied in meditation on what style of dress will most set off those charms which are her stock-in-trade for the matrimonial market, it is obvious what an influence in stimulating the powers of observation the aggregation of a vast number of dry goods stores must exert. Our lecal astronomers will rise this morn ing at an early hour and take a hurried survey of the heavens. The transit of Venus is an astronomical phenomenor that occurs so infrequently-it will not occur again for 120 years-and one to which so much importance is attached, that both professional and amateur astron omers display the liveliest interest imag inable. Considering that the weather plays so important a part in making the curiously casting his weather-eye heaven This is a day on which dark clouds will throw very dark reflections on the minds of scientists, while sunshine graceful deportment? Venus will enter the lower part of the sun's elisc shortly before 9 this morning and will have crossed the disc by 3 p. m. The dark spot on the sun caused by the planet's transit may be seen through smoked or colored glass. The phenomenon is not one that will strike the eye for its beauty, like Regina, the capital of Assiniboia. an aurora, nor excite feelings of awe, like a total eclipse. The importance of the straggling tents and a fashionable log tavern transit rests, in the fact that it will give us which is called the Royal hotel. THE LATE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY. Dr. Archibald Campbell Tait, archbishop of Canterbury, carries with him to the grave the policy of compromise between opposing forces which has for a time delaved the disintegration of the English state church. Essentially a moderate and mediocre mind, Dr. Tait was placed by fortune in positions which to a great and aspiring intellect would have given grand opportunities of influencing for good or evil the ment and enlargement of the undeveloped fortunes of the episcopalian church; he succeeded the great Arnold at Rugby; he was called at a critical time to sit on the throne of Thomas a Becket and of Cranmer.

But being cautious, prudent, and above all man of Henry Ward Beecher's acuteness things averse to compromise himself by favoring doctrinal extremes, Dr. Tait kept aloof alike from the great movement under which Newman fied in despairing reaction to the medicevalism of Becket, while he lacked the breadth of purpose to carry out with Arnold the ecclesiastical liberalism for which Craumer died. But he was careful to avoid offence; he endeavored to steer in all things a middle course; he attempts a should declare his adhesion to a theory generally accepted by educated people. In England where the clergy from their social positions as officials of a state establishment are brought a good deal into contact with well-informed people, the ablest preachers do not hesitate to avow their down the preachers do not hesitate to avow their belief in evolution. Dr. Tait enjoyed the exceedingly comfortable income of seventy-five thousand dollars a year besides palaces and perquisites. THE OLD LADY GOING TO A BALL. By the end of the present week the Toronto "season will have been fully commenced. The snow and has allowed society to gather strength for, perhaps a more than ordinary amount of animation thi year. The number of young ladies "coming out" is said to be unusual. Evening parties are being chosen for this trying ordeal, on account of their in the season. The theatres have probably neve before held such audiences. The dresses and je worn by so many lately at the opera house test to an excellence of taste and amount of wealth in Toronto far beyond former years. Aside from parties and theatre-going there are no other diversion peculiar to the time. The latter end of this menti lowever, always witnesses a shaking up in the dry private glee clubs are waking up to their winter's

KINDERGARTEN CODLING (To the Editor of The World.)

World of Monday, has erected in his imagination a kindergarten system of his own, kindergarden system are not "new lights of education." The system has been in peration for many years, and mainly among the Germans—a people not usually counted frivolous or superficial in their ducational methods or attainments. In the second place the advocates of the system do not "ignore the necessity for ental labor as a condition of educational rogress." The fact that some of the ablest and most thoughtful educationists of this century are in favor of that system, ought to have led the writer to hesitate before asserting that it was founded on so manifest an absurdity, even if he did not know the facts. His illustration of the law of forces is not a bad one, but he ignores the important element of friction. If the same results can be obtained by nores the important element of friction. If the same results can be obtained by making the primary stages of education agreeable to the child, instead of harsh and disagreeable; if its early "school" education can be carried on in the same unconscious course of gradual development as the education it receives from every object presented to its senses, surely sush a method is to be preferred. If not, it seems to me the word "education" is a misnomer, and the sooner we drop it in favor of some term expressive of a shelf or box packing process the better. This idea of regarding a child's mind as a rather coarse fibred receptacle, into which an equally coarse fibred "dominie" is engaged, with the aid of a birchen rod, to pack so many abstractions from a—b ab onwards, is, thank heaven, getting pretty well dissipated, and the general adoption of some such system as Froebel's would be a long step in the direction of getting rid of it altogether.

If the writer of the article in question will consider for a moment the illustration he has used he will see that he may carry it too far. The same reasoning he has employed against the kindergarten system would, if sound, prove the necessity for the agriculturist to go back to the old-fashioned scythe, or "cradle," because reaping is made "too easy" for him by the use of the mowing or reaping machine. In both cases it is a question of employing "improved machinery" and auxiliary forces to accomplish a specific object. The "forces" employed in the old system of education, so called, were those of the mind and hand of the teacher, largely the latter; but the chief function of the enlightened teacher of to-day is merely to guide and direct the education which the mind of the child is conter reaction of the emigneente teacher to to-day is merely to guide and direct the education which the mind of the child is undergoing from the objects around him. The writer virtually gives up the whole case in his half-hearted admission that the case in his half-hearted admission that the system he is opposing is "suited at best to an infant school." The whole question, as I understand it, is as to the best system of teaching primary classes, and the success attending the proper use of what he sneers at as "doggerel rhymes," and "educational gimeracks" in the education of young children has been so overwhelmingly demonstrated that the general adoption of the kindergarten system, or some modification of it, can only be a question of a short time.

The estimable Mr. Gradgrind was down The estimable Mr. Gradgrind was down on "educational gimcracks" and "doggerel rhymes." He favored the "square" system. "Now, what I want is facts," said he "Teach these boys and girls nothing but facts. Facts alone are wanted in life. Plant. nothing else, and root out everything else." In Mr. Gradgrind's model school, a small boy, educated strictly on the Gradgrind system defined a horse to be; "Quadruped; graminivorous; forty teeth, namely, twenty-four grinders, four eyeteeth and twelve incisive; sheds coat in the spring; in marshy countries, sheds hoofs, teeth and twelve incisive; sheds coat in the spring; in marshy countries, sheds hoofs, too; hoofs hard but requiring to be show with iron; age known by marks in mouth, etc. You know, Mr. Editor, as I do, that even in our time (and if I'm not astray in question comes up—as doubtless it will some day—for your paternal (not your edi-torial) decision.

GETTING ROUND THE JUDGMENT. (To the Editor of The World.)

SIR: In the third chapter of Genesis, 17. 18 and 19th verses, we find the following sentence passed upon Adam, and through him, upon all the human family-not one being exempted :

17-And to Adam He said : Because th

he thinks of the great mission he has been called upon to perform in the enlightenment and enlargement of the undeveloped.

19—In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread till thou return to the earth, out of which thou wast taken; for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.

Such was, and is, the Almighty judgment. But man is determined not to conform to the dictates of that decree, and accordingly, all the way up through the ages

Falsifying Diamonds.

From the Lindon Times.

The diamond fields of South Africa produce large quantities of yellow diamonds, This color of course lessens the value considerably, and a white diamond is worth five or six times as much as a yellow one of fire or six times as much as a yellow one of the same weight and quality. It was re-cently reported that a method of removing the color had been discovered. Such is the case, but the important addition has to be made that the yellow reappears after a slight washing, as some French merchants lately found out to their cost after pur-chase, at a high price, of some perfectly white diamonds. The method is a simple white diamonds. The method is a simple application of the law of complimentary colors. The yellow diamond is put in some violet solution. A slight coating of violet suffices to render diamonds of the most pronounced yellow tint perfectly white.

Perhaps you will state wherein indeed! Perhaps you will state wherein this great difference exists?" "An architect, sir," replied Mr. Alexander, "conceives the design, prepares the plan, draws out the specifications—in short, supplies the mind; the builder is merely the brick-layer or the carpenter. The builder, in fact, is the machine; the architect the power that puts the machine together and sets it going." "Oh, very well, Mr. Architect, that will do. And now, after your very ingenious distinction without a differvery ingenious distinction without a difference, perhaps you can inform the court who was the architect of the Tower of Babel?" The reply, for promptness and wit, is not to be rivaled in the whole history of rejoinder: "There was no architect, sir, and hence the

C W McMullen, 281 Parliament street, Toronto, writes Dr M Souvielle: Your Spirometer and medicines at once relieved and finally cured me of bronchitis, from which I have been suffering for shares of the duke of Manchester's land company. He says that in the placing of one-third of the capital employed, that is £1,000,000, or about $5,000,000, through Scatth, Osler and others in Toronto, and an equal amount in Montreal, a large number of persons made purchases beyond their means. Having no expectation that another call would be made in so short a time, as none of them had seen a prospectus, many persons actualicines at once relieved and finally cured me of bronchitis, from which I have been suffering for over two years.

Michael Mechan, Mile End Station, Montreal, writes Dr M Souvielle: Having been unable to work for a long time on account of bronchitis, from which I have suffered, and after spending a great deal of money to obtain a cure I was induced to try your Spirometer and medicines. I take great pleasure in stating that I am completely cured through their use. W M Elliott, high school teacher, Omennee, Ont, writes, Dr M Souvielle—I have been cured of a very severe form of bronchitis and asthmaby the use of your Spirometer and medicines.

AF Albright, Decewsville, Ont, writes, Dr M Souvielle: I am glad you have placed within the reach of all a remedy for catarrh so effectual in its operations, I believe it will not fail to give relief in all cases and effect a permanent cure in most cases. J D Armskropg, real estate agent, Yorkville, Toronto, says, Dr M Souvielle: Your Spirometer and medicines have entirely cured me of catarrhal deafness. Lift Deboucheville, Ottawa, says: By the use of Dr M Souvielle's Spirometer and medicines I have been completely cured of catarrh.

Hundreds of such letters can be seen at the offices, and seen a prospectus, many persons actually paid from 8 to 12 per cent to carry their shares over in hopes that they would be floated in London, and that they would sell Men who, for example, having but a salary of a thousand dollars a year, took five hundred dollars worth of shares, expecting to realize for them before the second call should be made, found themselves greatly

Here is an old anecdote, very famili authorities which called on these ratepayers to pay this additional amount. By rights the city's share would be one-third, but the committee decided that it should assume the whole amount. Ald. Carlyle said there were several other similar cases, and it is probable they will receive like consideration. Several petitions for sewers and block pavements were received. Ald. Love, on behalf of several Yonge street merchants, got a sub-committee appointed to adjudicate upon street signs. By a former resolution of the board no sign is allowed to project over four feet across the sidewalk. Ald. Love explained that many of the street signs plained that many of the street signs were ornamental and costly and the city should not be too particular. The claim of should not be too particular. The claim of the street railway company against the city for macadam taken from Yonge street when the new pavement was laid dewn was sent in again by Messrs. Bain, Gordon & Shepley, solicitors. The board again ignored it. Elliott & Co. of Beverley street want $5000 for damages to their premises by altering the level of the street. No notice was taken of the demand. Wm Rainor and other laborers petitioned to have sewer works carried on in winter to provide employment. As the city engineer has several times reported against winter work on the sewers the petition was tabled. As per requirements of by-law the city engineer submitted the estimates for the department for 1883. For roadways, $63,600; sidewalks, $43,500; general purposes, $14,400; total was gratifying, and an attractive program of music and singing was presented.

The policeman on duty on King street found the door of the office of A. Willis, real estate agent, 36 King street east, wide open about 1 o'clock this morning. He went in, lit the gas and examined the premises but found everything all right. The proprietor probably neglected to lock the door on leaving the office.

He was aggrieved and said in self-justification: "They is not dead, they sleepeth."

From the Weekly (Toronto) Mail, Aug. 24.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that ha been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarth. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured on this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their externination—this accomplished, he claims the catarrh is practically cursel and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him two years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has Catarrh—A New Treatment. cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cureatarth in this manner, and no other treatment he ever cured catarth. The application of the rened is simple and can be done at home, and the preser season of the year is the most favorable for a speed and permanent cure, the majority of cases bein cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correpond with Mr. A. H. Dixon, 305 and 307 King street, west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for heatise on catarth.
