FOOLISH DEFENDERS. The Globe's Ottawa correspondent says that the other day (July 31) one of Sir John Macdonald's organs challenged the reform press to point out a single failure of a manufacturing establishment in Canada recently. And therefore he cites the case of the Napanee brush manufacturing company, the property of which is about to be sold by the sheriff. Now, they are certainly very foolish defenders of protection who commit ish defenders of protection who commit this respect. Still, in spite of these difficulties which the Mutual Union had in The Globe's Ottawa correspondent says ish defenders of protection who commit themselves to so absurd a contention as that it is all-powerful to prevent the failure of manufacturing concerns, no matter under what circumstances started or how conducted. A cause perfectly sound and strong on its own merits may be damaged by weak and nonsensical arguments, and this appears to be an instance. But will difficulties which the Mutual Union had in this respect. Still, in spite of these difficulties, we cannot but admire the boldness of the conception by which the executive of the telegraph brotherhood propose to utilise the striking operators in the work of raising a capital of thirty millions of dollars in a single day. Speaking the opinions of English manufacturers, it of course desires to see free trade prevail the world over; though it is candid enough to admit, in substance, that Cobden's "good time coming" really sems further off than ever. Well, in a recent number of this paper we find the following brief story, in which the careful reader may detect a good deal more than meets the ear:

"An interesting ceremony that took place a few days ago in the large weaving shed of the Calder Bank mills, Dewsbury (Yorkshire), owned by Messis Howgates, Day & Hoot, when an address was presented by the work people to Mr. E. Mr. Howgate, in reply, stated that the difficulties had not been brought about by lack of hard work and perseverance, but during the last eight or ten years they had had to contest with hostile tariffs increased continually in the countries they formerly did a large trade with. The consequence has been reduced prices, less quantity and profit, until the trade has been mearly nothing and worthless. A correspondent writes that this is the second largest firm in the heavy woollen the second largest firm in t and perseverance, but during the last eight or ten years they had had to contest with hostile tariffs increased continually in the countries they formerly did a large trade the second largest firm in the heavy woollen district, the branch at Ravensthorpe being stated to have cost two hundred thousand pounds. That is something a good deal bigger than the failure of the Napanee brush company.

The truth is that in any commercial country failures must continue to take place, from various causes, no matter whether protection or free trade be the system adopted. But what protectionists may very safely take their stand upon is the argument that, while the former system tends to diminish failures, both in number and amount, the latter tends to increase them. Yet, hold! perhaps the Globe or some other free trade campion may knock us out of time by citing the five million dollar protectionist. The prospectus herewith speaks for itself.

OUR CULORED CITIZENS.

If anything were needed to demonstrate the fitness of the colored race for all the freedom and the privileges enjoyed by white men it was supplied by the peaceable brated last Wednesday the anniversary of the hiberation of slaves in the British colonies. There was plenty of hilarity and good humor, but the colored people showed that they could enjoy themselves without the aid of liquor aid without quarrelling. The whole day's festivities passed off in the most harmonious manner. They we not marred by a single mismore most marred by a single and orderly manner in which they celeupon the colored people, and presents a orderly scenes too often accompanying he festive celebrations of white folks. The on-looker could not fail to be struck also with the evidences of material prosperity which the colored people showed. They were as well dressed and looked as happy and contented as any similar gathering of the opposite hue.

Probably, however, the colored people of Ontario enjoy exceptional advantages in this respect; indeed, we are satisfied they do. Nowhere on this continent are there a superior class of that race, and nowhere have they a fairer chance in the struggle of ratulated on the good use they are making of their opportunities in industry, educa-tion and citizenship. They have perhaps some things yet to learn from their white fellow citizens; but they have shown by their conduct on Wednesday that they can teach whites at least one thing-that is, how to behave themselves.

We may depend upon it that the project has the sanction of we lthy and influential people in Montreal, otherwise the Gazette would not come out so strongly in its favor. We hope to see it taken up in a similar spirit by the business men of Toronto.

CHEAP TELEGRAPHY

From the Montreal Gazette. The scheme, a prospectus of which we print this morning, for the creation of a new telegraph system, appears to us to offer about s practical a solution, outside of government control which is the best solution, of gave the name, Little, met me on York the present difficulty in the business of telegraphy that we have seen. Whoever wins in the present unfortunate conflict, the feature of it which most to be deplored is the fact that we are at any vime liable to a repetition of the same condition of things. The suggestion which is made in the prospectus which we print aims at an immediate reation of a really popular and mutual system of telegraphy, in which the element of waterwould be entirely wanting, and through which there could be no motive except to do the business of the commercial commu-

ment that each created thing was made "very good." We do not indeed gather the idea in Genesis of progression from a sponge
to a sponge merchant, or a political sponger; but then the design of scripture is not to gratify human curiosity in regard to material details, but to declare creative wisdom and man's eternal destiny.

That progression to a higher state of being was the creative design regarding man, is clearly taught in the bible. For it is declared of man that he "was made a little lower than the angels." And of men in resurrection—beyond the power of death—it is written: "Neither can they die any more, being like unto the angels."
Your corrospondent rejects the idea of resurrection as taught in the scriptures (Luke xx) because he has never been anything like it; and he rejects the testimony of the bible as to Christ's resurrection, though he is content to receive human testimony as to other matters of history.

Thus it is men set up their wills as to what they will or will not receive of historical testimony. Nevertheless Paul's testimony to the learned men of Athens, powerful as ever, as does also his testimony testimony to the learned men of Athens, near 2000 years ago (Acts 17) remains as powerful as ever, as does also his testimony to his fellow-christians, "If Christ be not raised your faith is vain, and ye are yet in your sins," (1 Cor. 15.)

In conclusion I beg to disdain any intention to insult your correspondent, or to possess the persecuting animus he charges against me. The fact is I applied to him, for reasons given, a milder cognomen than he uses himself and can only hope he believes in his own signature, for then there is a chance for him, seeing that a saviour died to save sinners and Christ came "not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance."

MR. LITTLE'S COMPLAINT, ALSO MINK.

To the Baiter of The World. Please, sir, oblige the undersigned by inserting this letter soon as convenient. It is in two parts. The first was wtitten when I did not know the personal identity of Mr. Little. About 6 p.m. August 1 a man who street near Union station, and in loud voice asserted that I had published his name insultingly in The World newspaper, a week previously. I affirmed that he was acting under a delusion. He rejoined : "It can be under a delusion. He rejoined: "It can be proved that it was you who wrote and gave the insulting thing to The World. I can prove it." Naturally irritated I said: Either you are self-deluded, or some one has invented a tale of lies. Same evening I penned a short note to you, Mr. Editor, saying: I know nothing of the man nor of his affairs. I write for British journals not to any paper in Canada: and never his affairs. I write for British journals not to any paper in Canada; and never touch with pen and ink any one's name unless there be something pleasant to follow the name. I buy all the Toronto papers and many more; glance over all; have not time to read them through and through, but have learned to like The World. I have not seen in it the name Little. Three years ago you reprinted from a Scottish paper an article of mine, which told of old handloom weavers who came to Canada in the years 1819 20-21, settling in Lanark county. Nothing else of mine has been given to your paper, though I like it very well as already written.

Thursday—It was as well, Mr. Editor, that I did not wait your return to the office when I called last night with the foregoing letter. I have enquired to-day and been told by those who know Mr. Little that he is a good mechanic, and was employed by the firm of D. S. Keith last fall when they renewed certain parts of the steamer Southern Belle, I now remember the man, though not knowing him yesterday, and bring up from memory that being out at walking exercise one morning, this man spoke to me when on his way to work at the steamer Belle. He seemed sadly dejected by some trouble, and naming a versations incident to me I sympathized with him in friendly words, and spoke of his improving prospects. He made silent sign of dissent, and passed on his way to work. I did not see him again, so far as I know, until last evening, and was not aware of his

Who-ever told to this man for fun or wicked mis-chief that Somerville had named him in The World newspaper jeeringly, imposed on a troubled mind a cruel delusion. And by that cruel delusion the story teller put in motion a figment of idle impudence to annoy another man. One who has been to annoy another man. One who has been a worker on the higher moral levels of utilitarian literature over fifty years; unswervingly occupied in advocating harmony between capital and labor, employers and employed in the great human hives of industry; and concurrently promoting commercial intercourse from shore to shore of seas and oceans among all nations, tribes or sections of the human family. CHINAMEN VS. TELEGRAPHERS.

To the Editor of The World. SIR: The editorial that appeared in the Telegram a day or two ago, that a Jay fould would likely employ Chinamen as elegraph operators, was no doubt inspired by Mr. Dwight, or perhaps Gould himself, for there is no doubt but the Telegram is the paid organ of the monopolist in this province; every wage-sarner is satisfied of that, and the day will come when people of my class will get even with these men.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS.

DAVID BLAIN, JOSEPH PRIESTMAN, JOHN BACON.

President-DR. GEORGE D. MORTON. DR. JAMES CARLYLE, FREDERICK W. WALKER, WALTER D. BEARDMORE.

It is proposed to form a Joint Stock Company for the purpose of furnishing Electric Light and Power in the City of Toronto, with a capital of $200,000, divided into 2000 shares of $100 each, for the present to limit the subscriptions to 1000 shares, and to commence active operations as soon as 500 shares have been subscribed.

After a careful examination into the merits of the different systems of Electric Light ing, and acting under the advice of an Expert Electrician the system of "The Excelsion Electric Company," of 66 and 68 Duane street, New York, has been adopted. It combines lighting by the Arc, Incandescent and Storage systems, and as these inventions include the latest devices for in-door and out-door lighting, as well as vainable improvements in the direction of economy, this Company, it is expected, will be able to furnish light at a cost much less than heretofore done, and at the same time offer a safe and profitable investment to shareholders.

A sufficient number of applications for lights has already been secured to warrant the erection of a 200 light plant, and estimates of the probable results of the operations of the Company, and all other information can be had at the office of Messrs. Cox & Worts, 26 Toronto Street, who are authorized to receive subscriptions for th

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Ten per cent. to be paid upon allotment and the balance subject to calls of 20 per cent, with ten days notice of each call.

In order to interest as many citizens as possible in this enterprise not over twenty shares will be allotted to any subscriber.

The Excelsior Electric Co. lights are in competition in the Fishery Exhibition, Kensington, London, and have received the award of the Commissioners as BEING THE BEST LIGHT THERE EXHIBITED. Sir Radeliffe Owens, M. P., writes, "that is i the best light that has been exhibited on that side of the water," and the same opinion has been expressed by John Roach, the engineer-in-chief of the city of London, Eng. Dr. S. R. Beckwith, who is the principal owner in "The Excelsior Electric Co.," when interviewed by a World reporter on the 19th, stated, In "Toronto, where you have sufficient water pressure, private houses will be able to use our smallest size Dynamo, which will furnish 32 Incandescent Lights, enough for most any house, and weighs less than 100 pounds, and can be sold Metors, Lamps and all, for $350. Once one of these is put in the house, all the lightning will cost is the price of water and an occasional new lamp,

The same volume of light when furnished from a plant, either Arc or Incande is cheaper than that of Gas, but the Electric Light is of much greater volume or candle power, and even in this unequal comparison, it is as cheap, with the tendencies all in favor of its further reduction."

The following testimouials as to the Excelsior System speak for themselves : CURTIS & MAYER,

Under date of May 15, 1883, say; "We have the Excelsior Light in use in Weber Musis hell. It has had but a short test, from 5 to 6 weeks, but has proved satisfactory in every respect. We wish it all the success it deserves." PARTRICK & CARTER,

Managers of the Weber Music hall, Chicago,

Dealers in Electrical supplies, 114 South Second street, Philadelphia, Under date May 19, 1883, say: "We are using the Exce sior Electric company's system with three lights and they give general satisfaction. We think their improved system with automatic regulator is the best in existence. We have had it in use three mon as.

HAL TEAD, HAINES & CO., 376, 378 Broadway, New York, Under date May 3, say: "The Excelsior Electric machines have been in operation in our building for the past two months and in every particular give us the utmost satisfaction. You will and the Excelsior Company to be honorable busin as men, desiring to give any one that makes a contract with them a perfect piece of work as they have done with us."

ROGERS, PEET & CO., ROGERS, PEET & CO...

Under date May 2, 1833, say . 'Wo are pleased to be able to testify to a very satisfactory experience with the Excelsior Company and have used thier dynamo and lamps from their start. We are now running 50 lights from three generators that they are the most committed and simple in construction of any are light we have seen or know of. We have arrived at this decision from practical experience with almost every are light in the market.'

BRONNER & CO., New York, say: "We are satisfied in every particular. The light is at all times not only brilliant—more so than the lights given out by other systems—but is steady in the extreme.

KUNHARDT & CO., F. E. BEARDSLEE,

Electrician of Mexico, under date of December, 1882, writes: "Having used Excelsior lamps and machines in Mexico, after examination in New York and Paris Electrical Exhibitions, I think you have the best. The lights are as steady as it is possible to make an arc lamp." W. KURTZ,

W. KURTZ,
Photographer, 233 Broadway, New York, states:
"After trying several systems of electric lighting, with very poor success, I have found the lights to be of great Actinic power, and as they are entirely under my control, the proper time for exposing of the plate is no longer left in uncertainty. I can produce effects which could not be obtained by the sun. I take pleasure in giving the testimonial and consider it well merited."

New York, 1882: "The success of your electric light in our retail department has determined us to rest them in our work rooms. We believe our premises are the best lighted in the city. You can refer to us if occasion arises."

GEORGE G. ROCKWOOD, Photographer, New York, writes: Excelsior Electric Company—Gentlemen: It is with great pleasure that we announce to you the perfect success of your light for photographic purposes. By it we have perpetual sunlight. The light has a pure Actinic quality which is extremely valuable for our use. It is a revolution in our art. THE MOSS ENGRAVING CO.

of New York: "Your No. 3 Dynamo and six lamps in series has made us practically independent of the state through their superintendent: "I bear sheer-ful testimony to the superiority of your machine overany other in the market." A. C. MANNING, New York, 1883: "Your machine is being run with success by our gas engine in several places both here and elsewhere."

MESSRS. WECHSLER & ABRAHAM. BROOKLYN, N.Y., 1883. GENTLEMEN: "We are much pleased with the twelve lights you placed in our stores. Your lights, in our judgment, surpass those of your competiers, in clearness, brilliency and steadiness."

The New York Tribune, in describing the appearance of the cities of New York and Brooklyn at the opening of the Bridge, says, Messrs. Wechsler & Abraham's store was more brilliantly lighted than "Your lights in West Brighton Plaza depot buildings give entire satisfaction to myself and company. We believe your lamps and generators to be superior to all others."

R. SCHERMERHORN, sec'y & Sup't.

The President of the Brighton Pler and Navigation Company states: "We have had the Hochhausen light on our pier last and this season. It gives entire sati faction." THE BEST LIGHT OR NO PAY. In the Chicago Exposi ion of 1832 the Excelsion Electric Company entered into an agreement that if they did not exhibit a handsomer, larger and steadler are light than any other light io the building no charge would be made. As vidence that this agreement was fulfilled we give the following statements:

M. J. F. P RIOLAT& CO, M. J. F. P. RIOLAT& CO, of Chicago, December 19 182, say; "It affords us pleasure to state that we used the Excelsior Light at the last Chicago Exposition under the fillowing conditions: Tnat you should make no charge whatever for your light if it was not handsomer, larger and steadier than any other are light in h. Exposition. We believe you are entitled to your contract price, and enclose check for same as you have carried your proposition out in every respect to our entire satisfaction."

H. K. & F. B. THURBER, of New York and Chicago, say: "The light furnished us by the Excelsior Electric Company gave us unbounded satisfaction, always reliable, while toos of our neighbors who were unable to procure your light were in eclipse most of the time. We can safe you much this light as being perfection itself."

F. W. Horne, Western Manager Excelsior Electric Co.:

DRAR Sir: It affords us especial pleasure to testing our perfect sati faction in the use of your light at our recond display in the Exposition Building. We were furnished an agreeable, continuous and steady light, and would cordially commend it to any one seeking such.

Very Truly.

N. MATSON & CO.

F. W. Horne:

DEAR SIE: I used the "Excelsion Lights" in my hooth during the exposition, some six weeks. I found it was the largest light, steadlest and handsomest in the building. Gave pertect in the story, in diskering and no regulating from the time it was put in until the close of the exhibit.

Yours, Respectfully.

The Toronto press lacrosse club yesterday afternoon divided themselves into two teams, one representing the newspapers whose offices are west of Yonge street and the other the offices east. The eastern men were too strong for the westerners, and won in three straight games in 35, 5 and 10 minutes. The boys turned out in great style. To morrow they play the telegraphers.

All the stakes, $5000, have been posted in the prize-fight between Herbert A. Slade and Charley Mitchell. Mace on Tuesday handed Harry Hill, as stakeholder, $1500 as the final deposit from Slade. Mitchell sent his $1500 aome days ago from the west. Mitchell's representative won the west. Mitchell's representative won choice of ground and announced that the match would be fought within 200 miles of Omaha. Under the articles of agreement recently signed in New Jersey, Mitchell is to give Slade at least ten days' notice of the exact location of the ground selected for the reacting.

After Wm. Mulkey's Topsey beat Parole, Monitor, Fair Count, Barnum, Startle and Heel-and-Toe on Tuesday at Monmouth park, the majority of the betting men claimed Monitor won, and they made a great demonstration. Gen. Withers, Carroll Livingston and Louis Hoyt were the judges. The crowd swarmed round the stand and threatened the judges with personal violence. Gen. Withers left the stand and assisted the police in ejecting the ring leaders from the police in ejecting the ring leaders from the grounds, while he coolly smoked a cigar. Oursiders said Monitor won by half a length, but the judges said Topsey by a neck. The diagonal line is blamed. Parole was third.

A hundred yard foot race took place on the exhibition grounds yesterday between Gus. Carruthers and William Warwick for Gus. Carruthers and William Warwick for $200 a side. An excellent course was marked off on the southwest of the speeding track. Four or five hundred peope were present, all of whom appeared to be intensely interested. Carruthers was the favortee at 30 to 25, and occasionally 15 to 10. The start was by mutual consens. Both meo stripped in excellent form, Carruthers show in 2, up particularly well. After fifteen or sixteen minutes dickering the purg stunder way, with the favortee slightly on the lead. Warwick, however, settled down to his stride and at firty yards there was little to choose between them. After that distance had been accomptished Carruthers forged to the front and was never again headed, winning a good race hands down by seven feet in 10.2-5 sect. The victor ran in splendid style and never showed to better advantage, After the race was over he was congratulated all round. Mr. Frank Martin was stakeholder, and at once handed over the duoats to the winner.

The yacht club's rooms on Michigan avenue are the headquarters. A lively group of vessel owners and seamen assemble there now in the evenings. Sailors' yarns are in demand, and those of the high sea command a premium, because a fresh-water tar is reputed to be too much of a land-lubber to become the hero of a yarn. That man is most honored who has crossed the torrid waters and has seen the trident of Neptune. The especial interest in the coming races is because they are international, and the list of entries comprises some of the finest vessel and the second of the seco of entries comprises some of the finest vessels in the two countries. The Turkish License Law. From a Constantinople Letter.

The foreign population is greatly exercised over the new license law, by which the gevernment proposes to levy a tax, in the shape of a license fee, upon all foreigner doing business in the country, as they do now upon natives. In itself, it is not an unreason ble demand, but there are conditions and circumstances connected with it that bring an almost unanimous disapproval upon the me sure from every hand. The condi ion is that foreigners should be held amenable to Turkish tribunals without the right of representation by their consulate. The circumstances are the notorious corruption of the tribunals. There is, in fact, hardly the pretense of justice.

There is a case new before the highest court of appeal. A man from Mosul, in Mesopotamia, a wealthy merchant, secured the hatred of a prominent ecclesiastic. The the hatred of a prominent ecclesiastic. The latter entered into a plot with one of the government officials to bring a false claim against the merchant. The case was quickly settled in the provincial court, and the merchant appealed to Constantinople, putting his case into the hands of a well known. English lawyer. Here it has gone from one court to another, and is at last at the highest. The Mosul official has a brother connacted with the tribunals here. He met the merchant and told him frankly, "your case is perfectly plain, your right is clear, but if you win my brother is ruined. Therefore I shall fight you with all my might." What the end will be nobody knows. It is hardly strange that foreigners are not anxious to come before such bourts, for this is but a common and by no means aggravated case—without the protection of their consulate.
