Hotel McConkey on King West to Cost $2,000,000 Will Be Started in April

Ernest G. E. McConkey Announces That He Has Secured Property Adjoining Bank of Toronto at Bay Street and Will Erect Twelve Storey Hotel With Six Hundred Rooms, Roof Garden and Other Big Features.

ERNEST G. E. McCONKEY last night announced that he would build a twelve-storey hotel, at a cost of two million dollars, on the land leased by the Dominion Bond Company, adjoining the Bank of Toronto's new building, at the southwest corner of King and Bay streets. Mr. McConkey would not say who were his financial assistants; he will appear as proprietor and manager of the new place, which will be called Hotel McConkey. Local interests are chiefly responsible.

Six hundred rooms and 600 baths will be contained in the new hotel. On the ground floor there will be a ballroom 70 x 100 feet in size, and a buffet to accommodate 200. The big feature will be a grill room to seat 800 guests. There will be also a palm room for afternoon teas.

A new departure for Toronto will be a magnificent roof garden, with all the latest accessories.

Warren & Wetmore of New York will be the architects. This firm has now charge of the construction of the new Biltmore Hotel, and has built the Belmont, the Vanderbilt and the Ritz-Carlton in New York. The foundations will be constructed of sufficient strength to carry three more storeys if they are needed later.

ELABORATE AND IMPOSING.

The entrances will be most elaborate and imposing. One will be from King street, the other from Bay street, adjoining the new stock exchange. Brokers' offices will be placed at the rear of the building. The Bay street property of the site is only a 20-foot strip, and just how high this entrance will be has not been determined.

The King street facade will be treated by the architects simply, and yet in an impressive manner.

The transfer of the properties on the site was concluded yesterday afternoon from the Dominion Bond Company, and the land owners on King street, who have given 99-year leases on the land, as told in details and exclusively by The World three weeks ago. The King street front will be 90 feet, and the depth 212 feet. To secure complete light, which they are assured now on three sides, the hotel company may purchase the adjoining leasehold at the west.

Construction of the hotel, which will have a decidedly ornate interior, commences April 1 next year, and will be finished in twelve months.

Mr. McConkey will continue his present place at 29 West King street, running it chiefly as a restaurant.

OPPOSITION NOT EAGER TO DEBATE ON NAVAL PROGRAM

Railway and Fiscal Questions Will Be in Foreground in Discussion to Follow Speech From Throne, Which Will Outline Important Legislation—Bank Act to Be Revised.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—A large number of members are already here for the session, and a striking feature is the absence of interest among the Liberals on the naval question. They called on Sir Wilfrid Laurier this afternoon and congratulated him upon his 71st birthday. Perhaps they took their cue from him, but the consensus of opinion among them seemed to be that there will be no reference to the naval issue by the Liberals, at least in the debate upon the address. Railway and fiscal questions will be pressed to the front.

The speech from the throne tomorrow will announce that legislation will be introduced as a result of the recent conference of imperial naval defence between the British and Canadian ministers, and will foreshadow bills for the promotion of agricultural education and the improvement of the highways.

Revision of Bank Act.
The revision of the Bank Act will be made to the right of the western provinces to increased representation in the senate.

Naturally the speech will refer to the recent visit of his royal highness to the various provinces of Canada, and express appreciation of the country's prosperity and the continued increase of desirable immigration. The growing trade of the Dominion will be referred to and the recent reciprocity arrangement between Canada and the British West Indies commended. Reference may also be made to the recent cut in cable rates.

LAVERNE RESIGNS AS WHIP.
QUEBEC, Nov. 20.—(Can. Press.)—Armand Lavergne this afternoon handed to the opposition leader, Teller, his resignation as opposition whip in the Quebec legislature. The resignation was handed in towards the close of the day's proceedings and Mr. Teller has as yet had no opportunity to reply.

Mr. Lavergne was tonight pressed for a statement on his resignation, but refused to say a word.

Mr. Lavergne also declined to comment upon the Cotter-Doyon contest in Hochelaga, or to say whether the result of the by-election had influenced him in resigning as opposition whip in the provincial parliament.

Of course, it is quite well understood by this time that contestants in The World's Proverb Contest will be permitted to submit as many as five different answers to each proverb picture.

BRAND TORONTO AS DISEASE BREEDER

Dr. McCullough and Dr. Nasmith Score City For Failure to Dispose of Sewage Properly at Washington Conference—Partly Responsible For Typhoid.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Terrific were the arraignment of Toronto health conditions thru sewage pollution, which marked the two sessions today of the international joint commission, the startling statements being made by Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, chief health officer of Ontario, and Dr. George M. Nasmith, director of laboratories, health department of Toronto.

A letter was received from Attorney-General Doherty, suggesting a postponement of the decision regarding the construction of a dike on the Detroit River, until full investigations of the existing conditions are made by Canadian engineers. Col. Patrick, the U. S. army engineer, was on hand to show the necessity for the dike.

Pollution Condemned.
Dr. C. A. Hodgets of Ottawa, medical adviser to the Dominion commission of conservation, said: "The waters of the great lakes receive polluting material from the vessels plying thereon, the sewage being discharged therein at any point convenient to the vessels themselves. The sewage from this source has been estimated as that of ten million persons for seven or eight months in each year."

"The total amount of raw sewage and factory waste deposited in the great lakes is becoming greater year by year, consequent upon the growth and development of both countries."

"As a result of this gross pollution the waters of the great lakes have been year by year less suited as sources from which the inhabitants adjacent thereto can derive water supplies for domestic purposes."

Toronto's Bad Example.
Dr. McCullough, representing the Provincial Ontario Board of Health, submitted memoranda on the pollution of the great lakes, declaring that the great lakes and their connecting rivers are subject to constantly increasing sewage pollution of practically all communities bordering thereon, as well as of large boat population. Lake Ontario, in the neighborhood of Toronto, shows contamination to be carried from the polluted Toronto Bay by winds and currents to varying distances, and has been found 15 miles out.

The typhoid death rate in communities on the St. Clair River is the highest in America. The typhoid rate for the boat population upon these international waterways is generally much higher than that of the various ports.

Mr. Beatty will be remembered by the members of the Gooderham and the Worts families, by all connected with the Gooderham & Worts firm and its varied interests, by the Bank of Toronto and by a long list of clients who entrusted their affairs with the law firm of which he was head, and which put more business thru its office than any legal concern in the history of Canada. He was one of the best types of Canadian solicitor and had a most varied experience and had associated with him in the handling of that immense business a whole host of lawyers, counsel and office men. He hardly ever went into court. The firm had nearly as many clients outside of Canada as in it, and they represented all kinds of interests and especially large investments made in Canadian lumber, mining, manufacturing. One of his constant maxims, and he realized it, was never to loan a dollar of invested or trust money, and he saved many thousands of dollars to persons other than clients who came later to his firm for advice. He sat on boards of all kinds and devoted his life himself to others' affairs. The firm as a consequence had an immense income.

NEW HAMPSHIRE JOINS PROTEST
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(Can. Press.)—New Hampshire states officials today joined with Massachusetts and Rhode Island in protesting to the department of justice against the alleged traffic agreement between the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada and the New York, New Haven and Hartford, petitioning the federal government to interpose under the Sherman anti-trust law, with the purpose of preserving railway competition in New England.

WM. H. BEATTY PASSED AWAY AT HIS HOME

One of Toronto's Most Prominent and Respected Citizens and a Leading Spirit in Law, Commerce and Public Affairs, Died After a Long Illness.

HIS LAW FIRM DID MORE BUSINESS THAN ANY IN ALL CANADA

One of His Constant Maxims, Which He Realized, Was Never to Lose a Dollar of Invested or Trust Money and His Clients Saved Thousands.

Another of Toronto's most prominent and respected citizens passed away yesterday in the person of William Henry Beatty at his residence, 3 Queen's Park. In law, commerce and public affairs he was for many years a leading spirit.

He was born in Toronto in 1835, five years after his father, James Beatty, merchant, settled here. He was educated at Upper Canada College and was admitted as an attorney in 1862. In April, 1865, he married Charlotte Louise, daughter of the late J. G. Worts, who survives him with four children, Henry W. Beatty, Mrs. Wallace Nesbitt, Mrs. W. H. Cawthra, and C. W. Beatty.

In politics Mr. Beatty was a lifelong Conservative, and a personal friend of Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, and Hon. Mr. Chapleau. He always declined to take any public office.

In 1896 he was recommended for appointment as queen's counsel by the Upper government.

An Active Life.
His life was a very active one. He was connected with many of the great financial institutions of the city. He began practicing law in 1865, and for many years his firm was Beatty and Chadwick.

For some time, on account of failing health he has been confined to his house. Prior to his health failing, he was president of the Bank of Toronto, president of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, president of the Confederation Life Association, vice-president of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation, and vice-president of Gooderham and Worts, Ltd.

He was an Anglican and a member of St. James Cathedral.

Long List of Clients.
Mr. Beatty will be remembered by the members of the Gooderham and the Worts families, by all connected with the Gooderham & Worts firm and its varied interests, by the Bank of Toronto and by a long list of clients who entrusted their affairs with the law firm of which he was head, and which put more business thru its office than any legal concern in the history of Canada.

JAMAICA SWEEP BY DESTRUCTIVE TIDAL WAVE

Western Portion of Island Devastated, Two Large Towns Wiped Out and Forty-two Lives Reported Lost—Wave Moved Inland For a Quarter of a Mile.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 20.—(Can. Press.)—The western end of the island of Jamaica has been devastated by a hurricane, lasting five days. A great tidal wave has swept over both the north and south coasts, practically wiping out the towns of Savanna la Mar and Luces, both places of considerable importance.

According to a report, brought in by steamer, forty-two persons were killed at Montego Bay.

All the coast roads have been wrecked along the southwestern coast and much damage has been done. Communication between Kingston and the centre of destruction is not likely to be resumed for a week.

The latest reports indicate that the tidal wave swept over Savanna la Mar and adjacent villages for a quarter of a mile inland. The effects of the hurricane extended along the coast eastward to Black River, about twenty-five miles from Savanna la Mar, where the residential quarter was wrecked.

Floods which accompanied the storm caused immense damage, a hundred houses being blown down. Telegraphic communication is still suspended.

Gale Landed Days.
The governor of Jamaica has left on a special train, accompanied by a detachment of artillerymen, who have taken with them three hundred tents and foodstuffs, as in certain sections the people are homeless and destitute.

The gale began on Nov. 15 and continued in increasing fury for several days. Vessels arriving in port reported that the wind was blowing over one hundred miles an hour.

Luces is a small town of two thousand inhabitants on an inlet on the northwest coast of Jamaica, while Savanna la Mar is a seaport with the same number of inhabitants on the southwest coast, almost directly opposite on the other side of the island.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. George E. Foster called for home on the St. Louis yesterday, in order to be present during the discussion on the naval policy. He expressed great satisfaction at the return of Hon. All they are not in possession of the details they have voted overwhelmingly in favor of the principle."

CANNINGTON VOTES FOR HYDRO.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20.—(Can. Press.)—The resignation of R. A. Sara, business manager of the city power department, was received this morning by the board of control. He will return to his home in Toronto to be identified with the hydro-electric commission in that city.

An offer of the board of control to meet the salary offered by the eastern concern, he intimated, would not keep him in Winnipeg, his main object being to return to his home locality.

Sir Richard Cartwright's Reminiscences Published Sensation of the Season

Not for a Long Time Has There Appeared a Volume With so Intimate a Personal Note or so Remarkably Frank in its Estimate of the Canadian Political Leaders.

Sir Richard Cartwright's "Reminiscences," issued yesterday by William Briggs, will provide the sensation of the season. Not for a long time has there appeared a volume with so intimate a personal note or so remarkably frank in its estimate of Canadian political leaders who are not beyond the scope of living memory. The late Sir Richard Cartwright was a very methodical man, as well as a highly interesting figure in contemporary politics. For forty-nine of the seventy-seven years of his life—1835-1912—he sat in parliament and played a great part in the events of a stirring time. No actor on the political stage knew better the rules of the parliamentary game or surpassed him in the faculty of vigorous and terse yet classic English.

His "Reminiscences" have evidently been carefully set down and are cast in the form of a succession of interviews with an imaginary reporter. The scene is Sir Richard's library, and the style is in keeping with the environment. Perhaps it is too finished for the supposed occasion and the impressions and recollections might have gained in vividness if expressed in the language of ordinary conversation. But in many respects these reminiscences of leading men and events are the best yet published for the light they throw on the last half century of Canadian history.

Gratitude and Devotion.
The preface to the book is written by Mr. T. M. Courtney, at one time deputy minister of finance, an Englishman by birth, one of the best types of civil servant at Ottawa, who knew Sir Richard intimately. Mr. Courtney, at his own solicitation, owed his unsolicited appointment to the late minister, and naturally renounces the name of Sir Richard Cartwright with gratitude and devotion. But even if his point of view is necessarily affected, a few sentences conveying his estimate of the dead statesman may be given. "I had arrived in Canada the summer of 1869," he writes, "and felt some curiosity about the young man, just at the outset of his political career, who preferred principle to party and who with another member of the party had just gravitated to the cross-bench."

Again, speaking of the period from 1878 to 1896: "Looking back and remembering the composition of the house of commons, I am more and more struck with the admirable patience with which Sir Richard, in most admirable English, assailed the principles of the ministry." As a final word: "He never in the hour of success was envious at the exaltation of another, but faithfully gave his great ability to carry out what was his dearest wish, the establishment of good government in Canada."

Sir Richard's main object in compiling his reminiscences, to paper was evidently at once to pay a tribute to Alexander Mackenzie and to vindicate his administration. To Mackenzie the volume is dedicated as follows:

To the Memory
ALEXANDER MACKENZIE
Some time Premier of Canada.
This Volume
Dedicated
"I have loved righteousness and hated iniquity, therefore I die in exile."—Dante.

Mackenzie and Sir Richard Cartwright were close friends, and if one of the primary objects of these reminiscences was to enhance the premier under whom he served, a secondary object was undoubtedly to condemn the late Edward Blake for the difficulties caused to the Liberal administration, for his retirement from the government and later from the leadership, and for his utterances in connection with these events. But probably another and even more appealing object Sir Richard had in mind was to justify his position on free trade, on commercial union with the United States, and on reciprocity. The compass of this review will not permit of a full discussion of this division of the volume. Sir Richard Cartwright was so good sincere in his conviction that the fiscal policy he supported would operate to the national advantage and did not suspect Plenipotentiaries of Belligerent Powers Meet Today to Discuss Terms of Armistice—Bulgarians Likely to Modify Sweeping Demands Made on Turkey.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Can. Press.)—The war has shifted for a time from the field of arms to that of diplomacy. It may be that the war is near to an end. Plenipotentiaries of the belligerent powers will meet tomorrow at the Village of Hadzioken, a few miles outside the capital, for a preliminary discussion of the terms of an armistice.

In the meantime the Turkish, Bulgarian and Serbian commanders have ordered a cessation of hostilities, also announcing which Nazim Pasha reports as unimportant occurred this morning. The sweeping terms which the allies were said to have demanded yesterday as a basis for the armistice, appear not to have been advanced, but the plenipotentiaries may not know the level of the platform until they meet for the discussion, and it is almost certain that it will be on the basis of the Balkan states holding all the conquered country until a permanent treaty of peace is signed. How many concessions they are prepared to make to the Turks depends largely upon two factors—the strength and supplies of the allied army threatening the gates of Constantinople and the extent to which the cholera spectre has embarrassed their plans.

It is certain that great transport difficulties hamper the Bulgarian army on account of the distance from its base and the rough roads. The cholera is counted on by the Turks to weaken the Bulgarian ambition for a triumphal march into the capital, and the celebration of mass in St. Sophia. But to make assurance doubly sure the Turks resorted to the amazing plan of transforming the mosque into a pesthouse and has crowded 2000 cholera stricken patients within its walls.

ALGOMA CENTRAL SOON TO BE READY

Will Facilitate Communication With the Head of the Lakes and Winnipeg.

SADLE ST. MARY, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Government inspection of Algoma Central is taking place today. Mr. Binmore, government engineer, is going over the line, accompanied by R. S. McCormick, G. A. Montgomery, and W. C. Franz. When the line will be opened is not known. This is dependent on the decision of the inspector, who will announce the date after he has completed his tour. The party are expected to return to the Soo tomorrow.

That the inspection is going on is a sure guarantee that the line from the Soo to Franz will soon be in operation and when that is so, the journey from the Soo west will be materially shortened. Communication with the cities at the head of the lakes and with Winnipeg will be made much easier.

that the United States Government and Congress saw in the identification of the commercial interests of the Republic and the Dominion the means to make Canada dependent on the much larger and far more highly developed community. Sir Richard was closely involved with both efforts and the chapters treating with this may be taken as his apology for the share he took in their furtherance. But if we were asked why he took to commercial union and reciprocity, we should reply that it was largely because of disappointment at the collapse of the Liberal administration under Mackenzie and the discouraging results of the conduct of Mr. Blake. No party fell so low in its fortunes as did the Liberals after the defeat in 1891 of commercial union. Sir Richard may have been able to justify his commercial union and not a few of the quailers which go to make a public man a popular idol, as, indeed, he had become, and in a sense continues to be on this day, but he did inculpable mischief to Canada, and that in a fashion which it will take more than one generation to repair, if ever repaired, which is more than doubtful.

Politics in 1875.
To return, however, to Sir Richard Cartwright's castigation of Edward Blake. Dealing with the political position in 1875, he remarks that Mr. Blake, on leaving the Liberal party, seemed "to consider himself as pretty much absolved from all ordinary party obligations and duties, and to regard himself as a sort of superior person, looking down indifferently on both sides." To this mordant and caustic observation he appends the following general estimate of Mr. Blake:

"Mr. Blake was a man of very peculiar nature. His general ability was unquestionable, but he had certain faults of character and temperament which made him extremely difficult to get on with. He was intensely ambitious, and also at one and the same time exceedingly sensitive to criticism of any sort from any quarter. He used to suffer positively from newspaper attacks, which a man of more robust constitution would have treated with utter contempt. Then he was reserved to the extent of being at times downright repellent to his very nearest supporters. There is no doubt, he would have liked to have been made premier in 1873, and no doubt either that if he had spoken out he would have been offered the position. But he was so afraid of being criticised as one who had sacrificed the lion's share of the spoils, that he would not allow himself to be nominated, and repented ever afterwards. I think it is reasonable to have been premier of Ontario, and having had Mr. Mackenzie serving under him, Sir Richard ought to have sent for him at once, and not for Mr. Mackenzie, and he was made to feel that he put himself under any obligations to the latter by accepting the premiership at his hands. I regret to have to say it, but Mr. Blake was not loyal either to the Liberal party or to Mackenzie, though I daresay he had argued himself into the belief that he was acting in their true interests. The truth is that he was a man who turned his back on his true position when he entered the political arena. He was a really magnificent lawyer, I doubt whether in the half-century there has been a better, more especially on the equity side, in the whole British Empire, and he was probably capable of being an equally good trial lawyer. I should say he would have made an ideal chief justice of the supreme court, a post which was pressed on him by Mr. Mackenzie, but which he declined, or a representative of the House, but he was not out for a party leader, though his great ability for a time cast such a glamour over his defects that his friends and supporters thought he would make one. In one respect his very success at the bar stood in his way. Almost from the very outset of his career he had been treated with very great deference, both by his legal associates and the judges on the bench, and in consequence had become rather impatient of the contention and routine and ready style of arguments he had to meet in the house and on the hustings. At the bar it was a case of 'Elohim first and the rest nowhere,' as far as Mr. Blake was concerned. The course he pursued, and the continued imputation of unworthy motives so frequent in the political press and in debate were naturally very repugnant to him. In some ways he might have posed as a political Hamlet."

General Election, 1891.
Again referring to the general election of 1891, and noting the old-time troubles, in an exasperated form, against which the Liberal party contended—the gerrymander and the immense number of outside voters, Sir Richard adds: "I regret and by no means least, we had at the very last moment to contend with treachery in our own ranks." "You refer," he says, "to the imaginary reporter, 'to Mr. Blake's secretary' who answers Sir Richard in his own person, and proceeds to publish a letter condemning our policy, and had it actually in type in a paper in his old riding. This was discovered by a staunch friend of ours, who had influence enough with the publisher to defer the production of the letter until the election. My own opinion on the conduct was such that I never spoke to him nor held any communication with him from that day, and I prefer to state the facts without further comment."

Riot Application.
Passing from these bitter controversial topics, Sir Richard is found in another of his self-interviews placing Mr. Blake as a parliamentary orator. In interview after interview the situation following upon the sentence passed on Riel, and the agitation in Quebec to secure a pardon. On the question he says that Mr. Blake went one way and the bulk of the Ontario opposition the other, while the French members of parliament went with their own people. Sir Richard thinks Blake had no view whatever, but delivered a speech "of immense length, which it was said, and I believe correctly, had cost him three months of hard labor to prepare, and took him seven hours to deliver." After noting the soporific effect, and the small influence it exerted, Sir Richard adds incidentally on the speaker:

"Mr. Blake was by training and temper a great equity lawyer. Such a speech might have been in place in a very intricate suit addressed to a bench of highly-trained legal experts. It was hopelessly out of character when made to a popular assembly of a strongly partisan temper on both sides. What made it all the more disappointing to his friends was the knowledge that when Mr. Blake did let himself go, and if he would only have tossed his inimitable notes to the wind, he was really a magnificent debater, and that he had many times shown himself to be such. But he had acquired the fatal habit, which grew upon him of late years, of preparing very elaborate speeches with most voluminous notes. No man really needed them less, but I am told he pursued the same course in England, to the dismay of his admirers there."

Sir John Macdonald.
The public will be interested in Sir Richard Cartwright's fine words on Sir John A. Macdonald. His judgment was none too favorable to the man whose name will be inseparably associated with this particular period of Canadian annals. Here are some quotations:

"He had many good points and not a few of the qualities which go to make a public man a popular idol, as, indeed, he had become, and in a sense continues to be on this day, but he did inculpable mischief to Canada, and that in a fashion which it will take more than one generation to repair, if ever repaired, which is more than doubtful."

"He did this in many ways, but perhaps his worst fault was that he grievously degraded the whole tone of public life and of political morality in Canada. He was absolutely unscrupulous when he thought he could gain a political advantage, and carried out to the ultimate consequences might be to the country at large, though he was quite anxious enough to forgive them in most cases."

"But yet Sir Richard says: 'Still looking back, while I do not feel called upon to retract anything of word I have written or spoken concerning him, I am bound to admit that he may have had more excuses than I at one time supposed, and also that in several important matters he did, as a rule, try to do his duty.'"

The closing sentences of the interview, centering on Sir John's death are these: "He was decidedly courteous to Mr. Mackenzie after the latter's defeat, and that was in part a matter of policy. I think it was also due to the respect he felt for his courage and integrity which he was quite capable of appreciating. He had one considerable merit, in that he rarely canted about the purity of his motives or made much pretence of being better than he was. In his last campaign he certainly took his life in his hands, and what is more, he knew quite well the risk he was running, and he no doubt that his expectations at that occasion were at least the proximate cause of his death, and that it might fairly be said of him that whatever were his faults he died full knightly in his harness."

Worth of Matter.
This necessarily compressed review only indicates the wealth of matter embodied in these fascinating reminiscences. They are the work of a man of affairs of exceptional capacity and ability, who lived thru the best of his century, and had the gift of presenting the sittings of his reflective experiences with clearness and distinction. Whether approving or disapproving his judgment of his contemporaries, none can deny that a thoughtful warrior ever donned arms in the field of Canadian politics than Sir Richard Cartwright, who in this book of reminiscences continues to fight from his grave.

OWEN SOUND, Nov. 20.—The Georgian Bay Power Company, which a few years ago started to develop Eugenia Falls as a power proposition, have disposed of their property and their small power house at the falls to the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Eugenia Falls is on the Beaver River and is situated about 35 miles from Owen Sound. The Hydro-Electric Commission will place propositions before Owen Sound and Meaford at an early date, and it is understood that they intend to supply a current from Eugenia Falls.

Engineers report that about 8000 h.p. can be developed from this waterfall.

Conservatives Join Liberals in Congratulating Old Chieflain.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier today quietly celebrated his 71st birthday. Felicitations and congratulations were received from England and France, the United States and Canada. The "old chief," as he is now almost universally called, did not permit the occasion to interfere with his work and was hard at work in his office the greater part of the day.

Conservative and Liberal members called to offer congratulations. Sir Wilfrid is in fine health and spirits.

Rules Governing the Contest

The Toronto World Proverb Contest is a test of skill and diligence, designed to encourage thought and research on the part of the young, and provide a pleasant mental diversion for everyone.

Every day, for a period of seventy (70) days, there will appear in the Toronto Daily and Sunday World, an illustration, cartoon or other representation of a commonly used and well-known English proverb.

The Toronto Daily World will award PRIZES AGGREGATING OVER $5000 IN VALUE to readers of the Daily and Sunday World who send in the nearest or nearest correct answers to the entire series of illustrations. The first proverb picture was published in The Daily World, Thursday, Oct. 3. The last will be published on Dec. 16.

The correct answers, to serve as a basis of awards, are being selected according to their common use by the contest manager and three representatives of The Daily and Sunday World, and will shortly be placed under seal in a Safety Deposit Vault.

The list of correct answers will remain under seal until called for by the judges, whose names will be announced in due course, and who will have full control of the examination of the answers and awarding of the prizes.

The correct answers are included in The Toronto World's Book of English Proverbs, which is published as a guide and reference for contestants in the contest.

To compete for the prizes, contestants need only to supply the proverbs represented by the illustrations that will appear daily, and send in their answers at the close of the contest, according to the rules. The person sending in the correct or nearest correct list of answers to the entire series of seventy-five (75) illustrations will be awarded the first prize. The person sending in the second nearest correct list of answers will receive the second prize, etc., etc. Entry may be made any time before the contest is entirely closed. Rules follow:

Anyone not exempted as above mentioned may enter the contest by simply becoming a regular reader of The Toronto Daily and Sunday World.
- Contestants must write the Proverbs represented by the illustrations upon the coupons provided therefor and which will appear on the Daily and Sunday World every day during the Contest. Answers must be written with pen, pencil, or typewriters and arranged in any manner to suit the contestant.

- Only one answer may be written upon a single coupon. Extra coupons must be used for additional answers and all coupons of the same number must be kept together in making up the list.
- Different members of a family may compete in the contest, but only one prize will be awarded to any one family or household, and only one set of answers will be accepted from any individual contestant.

The time of receiving answers will have no effect upon the awarding of the prizes with this exception. All answers must be delivered at the Office of the Toronto World or bear postmark of mailing, if not later than midnight, December 16, 1912, and the last of the contest is published.

GOOD ROADS BYLAW MAY GO TO PEOPLE ON JANUARY FIRST

Commission is in Urgent Need of Funds to Complete Work and to Fulfill Intention of Constructing 100 Miles.

GEARY AND COADY TO REPORT ON TRIP

Committees May Be Abolished Next Year—High Tension Wires Must Be Buried in Downtown Districts.

J. J. Ward headed a deputation, consisting of the Good Roads Commission, which appeared before the board of control yesterday asking that body to recommend action to submit a bylaw appropriating $100,000 for additional work on good roads to the electors next January.

Mr. Ward stated that the construction of the roads had cost $6000 per mile, that fifty miles had already been completed, and some sections had cost a greater amount per mile than previously anticipated.

The net expenditure to date is $278,244 and the commission now only has $20,000 to its credit, which is required to complete certain portions already under construction.

"We are not asking the board to assume any responsibility," he declared. "All you need do is pass it on to the people, and it depends upon them as to whether we get it."

Mayor Hocken said he ought to do this and I cannot see how we can get out of it.

Controller Foster: "Go ahead and complete the work already on hand. If we add any more to the money bylaw we will kill the whole job."

The commission has done well during the two years of its existence, and we should give some credit to it.

The recommendation goes on to council.

That London Trip. Corporation Counsel Geary and City Treasurer Coady have not yet reported on their trip to London.

Control of the purchase of a lot of other representatives of the board of control demonstrated considerable resentment over the proposed reduction of the treasurer's issue cheques to meet accounts, etc., which fall due.

Information. Controller Maguire said: "Why is it that I cannot get any information from the board of control? I think the board should be informed as to the sequence of that visit to London."

He demanded that the treasury board report to the board of control forthwith.

The question arose out of the refusal of Mr. Coady to sign the cheque for $7000 for the purchase of a lot on the west side of Elizabeth street for the new registry office site.

The board will compress a comprehensive report at the earliest possible date.

Only Three Committees. Controller Foster wants the board of control to recommend to council that after Jan. 1, 1913, there should exist three committees, namely: The committee on works, the committee on property, the committee on parks and recreation.

The committee on works, the committee on property, the committee on parks and recreation, etc., would not accept the chairmanship or look after receipts again for $6000 a year.

"It is the hardest thing out of the board to attend the reception of visitors, etc."

Controller Church: "I am in favor of all committees being abolished."

By a vote of 3 to 1, Controller Maguire dissenting, the council will be recommended to pass a bylaw to this effect.

Buried Wires. Hamilton's fight for buried wires has resulted in attracting other civic bodies to this ever present menace on the city streets.

Mayor Hocken will ask the mayors of Montreal, Hamilton, London and Winnipeg to meet him in a general move towards obtaining the help of the federal government towards enforcing the burial of wires.

Controller Maguire advocated careful action. He said: "If you force these companies to bury their wires they will do their best to force the hydro to do so."

The mayor: "We are confining the area to within Simcoe, Church and Queen streets."

Until Hamilton's legislation is passed its application will serve as a precedent for any application that may be made on behalf of the city. If any application is made to the board, I think the commissioner of works should have a definite plan relative to the burial of wires, etc., as this would have to be in shape before the application is filed."

Escaped From Guelph Sanatorium. GUELPH, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Robert Brown, 27 years of age, from the north-western Sanatorium, escaped in a sensational manner from that institution last evening.

He was out on the second verandah of the colonial building all by himself, and was about to be perfectly safe there, as there is a heavy screen all around the corner of the verandah, far enough to allow him to crawl thru and slip down to the next verandah, from where he jumped to the ground, a distance of about 12 feet, and escaped.

STREETSVILLE GETS SPECIAL RATES ON C. P. R. NO LONGER

Citizens Have Sent a Petition to Montreal Complaining of Cancellation of Commutation Rates.

RAILWAY BOARD MAY HAVE TO SETTLE IT

Railway Company Claim That Business Does Not Warrant It in Keeping Streetville on Reduced Rate List.

A dispute has arisen between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the residents of Streetville as a result of the recent cutting of without warning of the commutation rate that has existed between that place and Toronto for some years past.

The matter has terminated in a largely signed petition being forwarded by the Streetville citizens to the C. P. R. executive at Montreal. Should the matter fall to be satisfactorily settled by this means it may lead to the question being brought before the railway board.

Up to the beginning of this month the C. P. R. had been selling books of ten tickets, good for one year from date of issue, for $3.25, and a book of fifty tickets, good for one year from date of issue, for $7.15.

Starting with this month, however, the C. P. R. have discontinued this system of commutation rates and those using the company's service between Toronto and Streetville are forced to pay at the rate of 65 cents single fare and $1.10 return.

The reason given for this action by the Toronto office is that the business between Toronto and Streetville does not warrant them in continuing that place on the list of those to which a commutation rate was granted.

The C. P. R. state is also out of the list. The combined population of these two places is more than a thousand.

In spite of this fact, however, the following places, all lying between Toronto and Streetville, are considered worthy of being granted the special rates: Millington, Summerville, Dixie, Cooksville, Erinville, Golf Club, Lambton, Weston, and West Toronto.

In addition to these places the only other stations granted commutation rates to Toronto, Ontario, are:

For School Children. In defence of their action, the railway points out that the commutation rates for school children between Toronto and Streetville is still being continued. This consists of a book of 48 tickets, good for one month from date of issue, which are sold at $2.50.

The commutation rate for school children is in force for the C. P. R. on all stations within a radius of 25 miles of Toronto, the rate charged being graduated according to that charged on the regular fare.

The C. P. R. state that as far as the adult commutation rates between Toronto and Streetville are concerned, they were only put in force by request of the board of control, and that it had been demonstrated, after a fair test, that the business transacted did not warrant them being continued.

TO HEAR INSPECTOR

Inquest Was Adjourned in Order to Hear Evidence of Civic Official Who Looks After District.

The failure of the contractors to provide a sufficient number of city building inspectors were brought out at the inquest held at the morgue last night.

Inspector Tice, in whose district the building was located, was out of the city last night and it was decided to adjourn the inquest until Tuesday night, when his evidence will be taken.

Coroner Elliott, who had conducted the inquest into the collapse of the Nelson building, made the remark that Inspector Tice, in whose district that building also was, had stated that he had to cover, he was only able to visit a building about once in ten days, and the coroner expressed the opinion that such might account for lack of sufficient inspection in the present case.

High Park Curling Club. Owing to the great demand for tickets for the annual curling tournament at High Park Curling Club, the committee in charge has decided to advise all curlers who have not secured tickets to do so at once, as the number is limited and no further tickets will be issued.

HUNGRY

TURKEY NAMES PEACE ENVOYS

Nazim Pasha One of Three Plenipotentiaries — Bulgaria Is Playing a Waiting Game.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 20.—(Can. Press.)—Nazim Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish army, Isset Pasha, chief of general staff of the war office, and late commander-in-chief in Yenen, and Chadan Bey, councillor of state, have been appointed as Ottoman plenipotentiaries for the negotiation of an armistice with the Bulgarian representatives.

The question of peace bulks large in the foreground. The fact that the official communications with regard to the Bulgarian reply, issued at both Constantinople and Sofia, make no mention of preliminary conditions, has given rise to comment, as it was generally expected that Bulgaria would insist upon fixing bases before consenting to enter upon negotiations.

Indeed, the belief was very general that Bulgaria would demand the capitulation of Adrianople and other fortified places, and the foreign minister recently stated to the ambassadors that Turkey would refuse to entertain any such stipulation.

Bulgaria Cautious. Apparently Bulgaria has found good reasons for refraining from such an attitude, especially as the entering upon negotiations would not compel the suspension of hostilities until the armistice has been actually signed.

It is generally believed that the object of the authorities in quartering nearly 2000 cholera patients in the Mosque at St. Sophia is to deter any enemies from setting foot within the building. The talk in the Sofia papers regarding the celebration of Te Deums in that historic pile undoubtedly produced an impression on the Turkish Government which resorted to this truly oriental expedient of thwarting such a design.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN IN BOER WAR

Rev. Alf. Hall Stated That Cape Colony Was Almost in the Grasp of the Boers.

That Cape Colony was at mercy of the Boers for several weeks was the statement made by Rev. Alf. Hall at the Overseas Club last night.

In the course of an interesting address at the Sons of England Hall, the lecturer pointed out that all the Boers had to do at the outset was to march their army directly south towards Capetown, and they would have had an overwhelming multitude of their compatriots to join them, and the uprising would have been beyond the control of the small British force there when hostilities broke out.

The Boers threw away their chance by dividing their forces and laying siege to Ladysmith. The war was inevitable owing to the conflict of racial interests and the marvellous growth of population in consequence of the diamond and gold discoveries.

Johannesburg, which in 1885 had but fifty inhabitants, had grown to a great city, equal in population to Toronto, since the war conditions had settled down rapidly, and the leaders of the Boers were among the most cordial of those wishing Rev. Mr. Hall Godspeed when he left South Africa.

NEXT GOOD ROADS CONVENTION TO BE GREATEST OF ITS KIND

Largest Gathering in Canada Will Meet at Machinery Hall in the Exhibition Grounds—Permanent Secretary to Be Appointed.

The next convention held by the Ontario Good Roads Association is to be the greatest of its kind ever held in Canada, and for that matter, probably will excel any similar convention that has taken place on the continent. This was decided upon at a meeting of the executive of the Good Roads Association, held at the Queen's Hotel yesterday afternoon.

The dates for this convention will be Feb. 26, 27 and 28, and it will be held in the Machinery Hall of the Toronto Exhibition Grounds. This is in order that different classes of road-making machinery may be shown and samples of various roadbeds placed on exhibition. A section of the building will be partitioned off for the meetings of the convention.

Anything of the above nature was impossible other years as up to the present this body have been holding their conventions in the York County building.

Another feature of this year's convention is the fact that, while hitherto the membership of the association has been limited to representatives from county councils, the constitution has been changed to take in the representatives of all associations interested in good roads, such as boards of trade, etc.

The convention this year will be divided into three distinct days. One of these will be engineers' day, when it is expected about three hundred engineers will be present, including some prominent engineers from the United States, who will address the convention. A day will be devoted to county roads and the third devoted exclusively to city and town roads.

In view of the tremendous growth of the association within the past year, due to the change in the constitution, allowing a wider membership, a committee was appointed to select a permanent secretary. About ten applications for the position have already been received.

Mr. J. L. Kennedy and Vice-President N. Vermilyea were appointed delegates to represent the association at the convention of the American Road Builders' Association to be held in Cincinnati on Dec. 1.

MUST PAY FAIRER SHARE OF COST FOR POLICE BOARD

Newly Annexed Districts Will Be Charged More For Local Improvements Than They Have Been.

ENTANGLING FRANCHISES Cannot Be Got Rid of Because They Are Legal and Made Before Annexation.

The civic legislation committee yesterday recommended that in future all newly-annexed territories should be required to have a fairer share of the cost of local improvements than has been the case hitherto.

The Local Improvement Act provides that all property benefited by such improvements should pay for such improvements to the full extent of the benefit derived therefrom. On certain works the city may assume any part of the cost of work, and in other cases the amount that may be assumed by the city is limited.

This rule has been broken by the council during the past few years, and the practice has grown up for the city to assume a larger share of large works than was ever contemplated under the act. In many cases the city has been charged over the flag, whereas the council should confine its assistance to 25 per cent.

The city is now so placed that it cannot adopt a policy of assuming less proportion of the cost in recently annexed territory than was assumed in the older portions, as this would entail a flagrant discrimination.

"As to the franchises affecting property to be annexed," declares City Solicitor Johnston, "these cannot be got rid of, because the franchisees arise under legal and binding contracts with small British force there when hostilities broke out. If there be entangling franchises in any district proposed to be annexed, that is only a ground why the territory should not be annexed to the city."

NEW SECRETARY

Rev. R. R. McKay will assume the duties of Baptist foreign mission secretary here on Dec. 1. He is a brother of Rev. Dr. McKay, editor of the Canadian Baptist, and Principal McKay of the Toronto Technical School. He is a graduate of Toronto University, and has held a number of important city pastorates.

INCOME TAX NOT FAIR TO SOME WORKINGMEN DIFFERENT WAY URGED

Special Assessment Committee Heard Arguments Yesterday Advising a Change in the Method of Taxing Earnings—Mayor of Ottawa Wants Higher Tax on Land Than Improvements—More Buildings Remedy for High Rents, Says Forman.

Income tax, single tax, building tax and local improvement tax were all discussed yesterday at the second session of the special committee of the legislature appointed to revise the Assessment Act. Representatives of union labor wanted a change in the methods of levying a tax according to income. Mayor Hopewell of Ottawa handed out some criticism against the business tax and Assessment Commissioner Forman of Toronto revealed to the committee the information he has garnered in Western Canada on the single tax policy. The committee, which consists of members of the legislature and whose chairman is Hon. W. J. Hanna, held a morning session only and adjourned until 10 o'clock today.

Strike an Average. Mayor Hopewell suggested to the committee that the best way to obtain a fairly correct idea as to the value of the land so that it could be assessed properly was to take the sales of all the separate lots in any municipality for a year, add them together and then strike an average. Ottawa for the past three years had declared a moratorium assessment of land than improvements, and also for a larger measure of "home rule" in the method of raising revenue for taxes. "I believe the business tax should be abolished," he said. "So long as the security for bonds is sound what does it matter what method is adopted for raising revenue by taxes?"

With reference to income tax he thought that a good idea of what "income" and "net income" should be given. The interests on mortgages and bonds ought to be treated differently from that which a man earns by his efforts, and his contribution to the commonwealth. He advised the committee not to be afraid of a change, as there would be no harm done if it worked toward the recognition of the fact that the paying of taxes would not be a burden, but a privilege.

Mayor Wood's Rules. With respect to the "kyscraper" problem a pamphlet by F. C. Wade, I.C.C. of Vancouver, an opponent of single tax, was read, which took the position that by exempting improvements owners of large buildings would secure a doma, to the effect that the civic hydro commission should be enlarged in scope, and henceforth be styled the public utilities board, received a setback for the time being.

ment has inaugurated a special tender coupon offer, which affords an opportunity for all contestants, as well as those who have not yet entered, to secure extra coupons for extra answers, which they will, no doubt, desire to submit to many of the proverb pictures they are puzzling over.

Rule 3 governing the contest was very carefully drawn and is very liberal in its scope, as it allows contestants, where they are in doubt, to submit correct answer to a picture, to submit as many as five answers to each proverb, with the provision that with the correct answer is included, incorrect answers will not count against the contestant.

This rule was especially drawn for the convenience of contestants, as it is very improbable that anyone will be able to correctly answer all the pictures with only one solution to each, hence the privilege of submitting as many as five answers to a problem.

There is only one correct answer to each picture, but where contestants are unable to decide between two or more answers that seem to fit a picture, they should not hesitate to send them in, as one of the answers so selected will be correct and it is the correct answer that will receive the rewards in this contest.

Contestants who desire to submit additional answers to difficult pictures should lose no time in taking advantage of the special coupon offers.

Special offer No. 2 is made especially for everyone who is interested in the contest. It allows a choice of any 25 daily and any 24 Sunday coupons, amounting to seven cents of the regular price.

Take advantage of these offers now while they are in effect, for after they are once closed the chance to secure them at a reduction will be gone.

Winnipeg Arena Is Heated and Will Seat Five Thousand

Five thousand people will be able to watch hockey games at the Amphitheatre in Winnipeg this winter with almost as much comfort as if they were attending a theatre.

There are over three thousand reserve seats under the new plan, and six hundred rush seats in the north end. These are all eighteen-inch seats, and there is plenty of room between the rows to permit the spectators to stretch themselves in a comfortable manner.

The waiting rooms have been fixed up and the dressing rooms for the hockey teams, with shower baths put in.

BOY TOOK PILLS FROM HIS MOTHER

Then Gave Seven to His Schoolmate Who Ate Them and Soon Died.

As a result of the investigations of Detective Harry Twigg among the pupils attending the Essex Street School, the boy who gave the fatal tablets to Archie Duncan last Monday has at last been found. He is Wilfrid McIntyre, aged 12, 372 Ossington street. This little fellow told the detective that he took a box of pills from his mother's room at home and gave the Duncan boy seven of them. The fact that they were coated with candy and brownish in color led the child to believe they were candy. The balance of the box was secured at the boy's home. The mother secured the tablets from a reputable physician in Toronto and had been taking them at regular intervals.

REFUSE TO CALL WITNESS WHO TOLD STRANGE STORY OF ROSENTHAL MURDER

Convict in Kingston Penitentiary Says He Heard Men Talking of the Case on the Day Before It Was Committed, But Crown Prosecutor and Presiding Judge Refuse to Accept Statements—Case Concludes Today.

Many dramatic features were present in the closing hours of the crown's case against Charles Gibson before the coroner yesterday afternoon and the defence evidence is now being heard.

When the crown's last witness had been called, Mr. Bond, counsel for the defence, arose to ask that one more be added to their number. He asked that the crown call Frank Smith, now serving five years in Kingston Penitentiary for housebreaking, who had been in the room where the body was found with Rosenenthal.

When the crown again offered the testimony of Ed Duncumkin on the afternoon as to what had happened after Gibson left the Strachan avenue house with Rosenenthal, Mr. Bond rose to object. He urged that the crown had set out a triple proposition, that he went to the house where the body was found with Rosenenthal; that the crown had found on Gibson's clothing, which he admitted explained by the fact that Gibson's brother had been hurt in a bicycle accident on the day of the murder, three stitches put in his head at St. Michael's hospital.

Popular Vote in 1908 for Electors by States

Baked Stuffed Beefsteak Roll. Cut into thin slices one cross, one carrot and one turnip and put them in a baking pan, lay the beef roll in the vegetable, pour in boiling water to the depth of one inch, add a bay leaf, four cloves and a sprig of parsley tied in a muslin bag and bake, closely covered, from four to five hours. Strain the gravy, thicken with browned flour rubbed to a smooth paste with an equal quantity of butter and serve with the meat.

Popular Votes for President

"Popular vote for Presidential electors, by principal political parties, 1888-1908," is the title of a series of tables, especially interesting at the present moment, published in The Statistical Abstract of the United States, issued by the Division of Statistics of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce and Labor. These tables, occupying several pages of the abstract, present the official record of the vote cast in each presidential election as far back as official records are available.

A study of these tables, covering a full twenty-year period, 1888 to 1908, presents many facts especially interesting at this moment. The total vote cast for presidential electors has grown from 11,891,463 in 1888 to 14,877,132 in 1908. This indicates that the vote of 1908 was about 30 per cent. greater than that of 1888. An examination of the totals in each of the electors during that twenty-year period, however, shows marked fluctuations in the number of votes cast and in the increase of the vote in the four-year period from one election to another. The total vote of 1908, for example, 14,877,132, is a gain of about 8 per cent. over that of 1888, and the vote of 1904, 13,242,454, is nearly 15 per cent. larger
