Poppies Everywhere In City; Tributes To the Soldier Dead

St. John Observes Well Anniversary Of Armistice

People Eager to Get Emblem from G. W. V. A.'s Workers and They are Generally Worn—Mayor's Appeal at Post Office Ceremonial—The Silent Moments—Service in Trinity, Memorial in Fernhill.

Throughout the length and breadth of the British Empire, at eleven o'clock today, all heads were bowed in silent tribute to the memory of those gallant men and women who laid down their lives in the gigantic conflict which rocked the world and which was brought to a close just three years ago. Time has worked wonders in softening the sorrow of those who were left behind to mourn, but it can never efface the memory of the noble sacrifice. While today's events recalled the lifting of a great burden of anxiety and suspense from the shoulders of a war-torn world, they also brought back vividly to mind the remembrance that many of Canada's sons and daughters lie buried in the poppy-strewn plains of Flanders, beneath the restless sands of Egypt or Mesopotamia, under the burning sun of Africa or India, beneath the tossing billows of the seven seas, or in some other theatre of war where the cause of justice and humanity called them. The last resting place of those who died on land, marked by a plain white cross, the universal symbol of unselfish sacrifice, today their deeds show with greater glory in the various public ceremonies and services which were carried out.

Two Minutes of Silence. In accordance with an official proclamation issued by the governor-general on behalf of the king, a complete suspension of all work and traffic for two minutes throughout the Dominion was carried out, commencing at eleven o'clock. Mayor Schofield, on behalf of the Women's Canadian Club, placed a wreath of poppies on the memorial tablet in the post office building. A memorial service, attended by members of the city council and of all local organizations, was held in Trinity church at four o'clock. The Municipal Chapter, I. O. O. F., conducted a memorial service at Fernhill, during which a wreath of poppies was placed on the monument in the soldiers' lot. Poppies were sold in the streets under the auspices of the G. W. V. A., the proceeds to be applied to the relief of the suffering children of France.

Post Office Ceremony. Impressive indeed was the ceremony which was carried out at the post office and which terminated just before the silent period. At the request of the Women's Canadian Club, Mayor Schofield placed a wreath of poppies on the tablet in memory of the New Brunswick men who gave their lives in the war. Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, president of the club, was in charge of the arrangements. The city commissioners, members of the club and many citizens were present.

FOCH, GREAT LEADER IN WAR, POINTS TO LESSON OF ARMISTICE DAY

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 11—An armistice day statement issued to the American Legion by Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the Allied forces in France during the great war, is as follows: "Armistice day should be made sacred throughout the entire civilized world. "It is the day when we think of the noble sacrifice made by the hero dead, of the brilliant records of duty performed on the field of battle, of the spirit of patriotism and bravery shown by those who, fortunately, escaped shot and shell. "On this day let us think only of the great cause for which the Allies fought. And in thinking of this great cause, let us think also of a bond of eternal peace, so that the people of the world may work and rebuild and find happiness in industry, with no thought of future conflicts. God helping, peace will reign throughout the world."

All Canada Pays A Tribute to Noble Dead

Observance of the Day General in Honor of 60,000 From Dominion Who Gave Lives in War.

(Canadian Press) Toronto, Nov. 11—All Canada, from coast to coast, combined thanksgiving and reverence in the celebration and observance of Armistice Day. Flags flew at the tops of the poles for the glory of the great victory which the day commemorates and the red poppies and the two minutes cessation of work at the 11th hour of the day brought back to Canadian minds and hearts the memory of the sacrifices of her 60,000 dead in Flanders fields. "The day was observed as a holy day rather than a holiday. Except for the two minutes of silence in schools, factory and street, in all parts of the Dominion, business and work went on as usual. In many cities there were public services under civic and veteran auspices in memory of the immortal dead. Montreal, Nov. 11—A handsome centenary in memory and honor of Montreal's fallen war heroes was unveiled or the memory of our brave lads who did not return. "But what we say the war is over, we who had only to stay at home and carry on among the comforts of home far remote from the battlefield. I think of the last one among us it taken care of and provided for." He referred to the eighty or ninety patients still being treated in the D. S. C. R. hospital at Lancaster who still suffer from wounds received in battle. These cases, he said, should be reminders that the war is not over, nor can it be until the last man is out of hospital. Besides honoring the dead he said that it was possible to do more by helping the living. The Memorial Shop. "How, you say, may this be done? I am taking this opportunity of sending you for your assistance by sending my work to do in the memorial shops, where we are trying to assist several disabled men by providing them with work, and I would here remind you that this shop also has been made possible through the efforts of the ladies, as it was by funds from the Soldiers' Comforts Association, supplemented by the Commercial Travellers' Association, that the committee were able to start the work. It is carried on by helping the disabled in memory of those who passed away in the same cause as they fought for. We are doing all kinds of cabinet and woodwork, furniture repairing, boat building, and have at all times men willing and anxious to go out and do almost any kind of a job around your home or office or factory. Lauds G. W. V. A. I would also gladly draw your attention to the Great War Veterans' Association, who are worthy of your assistance should they call on you. They have, as you know, an organization for helping one another, also the widows and orphans of their comrades, and they have a home for which many citizens contributed, and which may justly be considered a memorial in the truest sense; the city also assisted them to pay off the mortgage. The expense of carrying on, however, is quite a burden and I feel the public might well be asked to assist them by patronizing the same and thus enable them to carry on the work they are organized to do. May we hope you will do so, as all these efforts assist the living who took part in the great struggle and survived the same. I may justly be called a memorial to the brave lads whose memories call on us here today. I have referred as briefly as time would permit of the past and would like to say more of the future, but if we have left to carry the torch do our part in the same spirit as those whose lives we honor today, they will not have died in vain. At the conclusion of the mayor's address the national anthem was sung and the last note had hardly died when the booming of a gun at Fort Dufferin announced that the silent period had arrived. The assemblage stood with bowed heads while the two minutes passed.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeum to the Times reporter, "Sile Jones's wife must have been a heavy cross to bear this mornin'." "I am sorry," said the reporter, "that there been a death in the family?" "Oh, no," said Hiram. "You couldn't kill any o' Sile's family. They're golly a cross to the rest o' the folks in the Settlement. They're damnin' healthy." "No such luck," said Hiram. "They ain't got it by." "Then I can't conceive," said the reporter, "why Mrs. Jones would have anything to do with it?" "That's because you ain't acquainted," said Hiram. "This is Armistice Day, an' she goes to her work for two minutes. If you knowed the woman I wouldn't hev to say another word—By Hen!"

Deeply Impressive Washington Scene

Reverent Throng Lines the Streets as Casket is Borne to Arlington—No Service at Capitol—Presidents Past and Present and Prominent Men of Army and Navy Assist in Honoring Soldier.

Washington, Nov. 11—Long before the rising sun broke through a low bank of clouds long columns of soldiers, sailors and marines today began making their way to the Capitol plaza, there to receive into their keeping the unknown soldier of the U. S. and to accompany him to his final resting place at Arlington. Pennsylvania Avenue was roped off and all traffic stopped. Before sunrise spectators began to line the sides of the avenue. As the east door of the Capitol rotunda swung open there entered the first flood of sunshine. The band outside played "Nearer My God to Thee," the coffin was lifted upon the shoulders of the bearers and taken through the east door to a casket a few moments before eight o'clock. The honorary pallbearers followed. There was no ceremony in the rotunda. The flower strewn casket was borne tenderly down the broad steps of the Capitol. The assembly of thousands on the plaza stood at attention. Flugs of the placid bearers were dropped while those on the Capitol were half staff.

SOME 20,000 STUDENTS IN CANADA MAY LOSE VOTES

Winnipeg, Nov. 11—Students who are unable to return to their home constituencies either to register or vote will be automatically disenfranchised as the altering of registration rules is impossible, so a delegation of students from the Manitoba University was informed yesterday. Local returning officers pointed out that the qualifications necessary to register were laid down by the Dominion elections act, and could not be altered except by an amendment approved by parliament. It is estimated that 20,000 university students in Canada will lose their votes through inability to return to their home constituencies to register.

SEPTEMBER FISH CATCH LIGHTER

Same Both in Atlantic and Pacific—Fundy Sardine Take Larger.

Ottawa, Nov. 11—(By Canadian Press)—According to a statement issued from the Department of Marine and Fisheries, the total quantity of sea fish landed on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts during September was 1,025,883 hundredweights, valued at $2,620,047 while for the corresponding period in the preceding year 1,187,870 hundredweights were landed with a value of $3,881,607. On the Atlantic the weather conditions were generally responsible for the decreased catch. In some localities fishing was curtailed on account of the severity of the fall. The total catch of cod, haddock, hake and pollock during the month was 688,289 cwt., compared with 692,618 during September, 1917. The catch of mackerel was a little more than half the quantity landed during the same period last year, and the quantity of herring landed was less than half. The quantity of sardines taken on the Bay of Fundy shore was 79,180 cwt., compared with 99,897 cwt. in the similar period of last year. "Since the opening of the lobster season in last November 382,446 cwt. have been taken as compared with 309,254 during the similar period of last year. During the month two fishermen were drowned on the Atlantic coast and one on the Pacific.

ARMISTICE DAY

Three years ago today, at four o'clock in the morning, the Canadians captured Mons. It was their last great act in the war-drama. That day the armistice was signed. Among those who entered the city that afternoon with Gen. Currie were men who had fought at Mons in 1914. The troops of the Third Division were formed up in the main square when the general arrived, and we can imagine the scene when the civic officials and leading men of the city extended a welcome to him and his staff.

The Germans had evacuated the city as the first of the Canadians marched in, and had wrecked the lighting plant and done other damage before their departure. When the famous Third Division concert party gave a performance on the night of the 12th in the largest theatre, they found there the programme, in German, of an entertainment given by an enemy concert party a few nights before. On every hand were evidences of the German occupation, but on Armistice Day these were disregarded and the city gave itself over to unfettered enjoyment. People danced on the streets and squares, the Canadians were overwhelmed with loving attention, and the long pent-up feelings of the loyal citizens found joyful expression.

TORY BUNCOMBE

If that which the Liberals propose to do when they are returned to power is not good for Canada it should be possible to marshal arguments revealing the fact. That is what the opposing party might reasonably be expected to endeavor to do. They would be expected to take the statements of men like Hon. Mackenzie King, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Sir Lomer Gouin, and to show that the policy advocated by those men would not benefit but injure the country. They would be expected to credit the Liberal leaders with sincerity in their declaration of policy, and go on to show that the policy would not do the things claimed for it by its sponsors.

KNOCKED OUT IN THROW TO MAT

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Constant Lemaire of Belgium threw Jack Leavitt, a local wrestler, to the mat with such force as to render him unconscious in the feature bout at the Mount Royal arena last night. The bout lasted nine minutes and fifty-two seconds, and ended with a back waist throw which put Leavitt out. The second fall came in three minutes and two seconds, when Leavitt was beaten with a head lock. Each man weighed about 244 pounds. In a bout between Henry Strombunt of Belgium and E. Johansen of Philadelphia the latter gained the winning fall with a scissors hold. Johansen went to the mat at 200 pounds, and the former

THE WOMEN WHO MAY VOTE ON DECEMBER 6

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—(By Canadian Press.)—When has a woman the right to vote? This question is being generally asked in Canada today, especially in view of the recent amendments to the Dominion Election Act, which give women a wider share in political affairs than formerly.

Under the present act, as amended at the last session of parliament, any woman who is a British subject of the full age of twenty-one years, and who is not prohibited for any reason, has equal rights with men in holding election offices, being a candidate for the House of Commons, and in voting.

Foreign women who were not born in North America, but who through marriage became British subjects, do not have the right to vote despite their British citizenship, unless they secure a certificate from a judge certifying that they possess qualifications entitling them to become naturalized. Any foreign woman, who has not been personally naturalized but who has acquired the status of a British subject through marriage, can nevertheless not vote, unless born on the continent of North America, without a certificate of qualification from a judge. This means that if an Italian woman, born in Italy becomes a British subject by marrying a Canadian she would not be entitled to vote in the Dominion elections. But if the same woman happened to be born in the United States, or even Mexico, and acquired British citizenship through marriage she would be entitled to vote because of her citizenship and without the qualifying certificate demanded in the case of the woman born outside of North America.

The same rule applies to any woman born in North America, and outside of Canada, who secures British citizenship through marriage no matter what her race or color. Any woman, born of foreign born parents in Canada, a natural born British subject, and neither needs to marry nor secure a certificate from a judge in order to cast a ballot.

Prior to the latest interpretation of the Dominion Election Act there was one rather curious anomaly with regard to women voting. This rule, and with dealing in the formal phraseology, carried the meaning that if a Canadian woman married an American resident in Canada she would be unable to vote because of her loss of British nationality. It also carried the meaning that if an English born woman married an American resident in Canada she would be able to vote despite her lost British nationality. Colonel O. M. Biggar, chief electoral officer, overcame this apparent discrimination against former Canadian women by ruling that neither had the right to exercise the franchise.

Aside from the question of naturalization there are other rules which women must observe before being allowed to vote, although these rules apply equally to male voters. The person must have resided in Canada for the year immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ of election, and must have ordinarily resided in the electoral district in which he or she votes for the two months immediately preceding the polling day. Women, as well as men, may not vote who, in the province in which they desire to vote, are disqualified by their particular provincial laws from voting for a member of the legislative assembly. Persons undergoing punishment for criminal offenses, persons in lunatic asylums, persons maintained partially or wholly in municipal poorhouses or houses of industry, persons who are inmates of any charitable institution receiving provincial government aid and three persons disqualified for corrupt or illegal practices cannot vote.

Cheap American Shoes!

GOOD SHOES TO COST $3.50 AND $4.00 SOON?

Boston, Nov. 9.—The era of high shoe prices is practically ended and in the near future it will be possible to purchase good shoes for $3.50 and $4. L. Q. White, president of the L. Q. White Shoe Company of Bridgewater, told the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

Speaking at a hearing on a proposed wage cut of 25 per cent, Mr. White asserted that the cheaper shoes would be made in St. Louis and that unless Massachusetts manufacturers could reduce their wage scales they would be unable to meet western competition. He added that the proposed reduction was necessary if his plant were to continue in operation.

Anybody with sound judgment could surely not imagine good solid reliable shoes retailing at such prices as described here in this U. S. A. report.

Footwear bought now for spring, cost from the best manufacturers several dollars more than these supposed retail prices.

The cheap American shoes, some branded, others not, which have been put on the Canadian market do no credit to some of the manufacturers.

TEACHING GIRLS TO FEED RIGHT
How One Problem That is Vital is Being Tackled.

(Toronto Globe.)

"The cause of the conclusion that the essential for good meals that people want to eat are, first, good materials and the closest attention to flavors," said Miss Violet Ryley, when found presiding over the lunch hour at the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria in Adelaide street west.

"My mind's made up on that," repeated Miss Ryley, who first graduated as a dietitian, then worked off her skill as such in military hospitals, and later as a dietician in a big summer hotel, where expense was no object, and where of which is devoting the off months, when summer hotels hibernate, to helping Miss Ryley with her present job of catering for several hundred girls—and men—daily.

How to Keep Within Pies.

"The question is not how to do the work I'm tackling now," laughed Miss Ryley, running her eye up and down the row of glass and nickel shelves, where the day's menu was attractively displayed. "but how to do it for the thirty and forty cent prices we have set. I could manage it easily if we could be sure of 500 or so daily, but at present we run only something over 800, and, of course, you must remember that our average check is from fifteen to eighteen cents. Girls have to economize somewhere, and I'm sorry to say its too often on their meals. In time I hope to establish a little lecturette, showing the girls the value of a well-balanced diet, and convince them that a piece of pie or cake for five cents, a pickle at two cents, and a little jelly and a cup of tea are not the best they can do for the money."

Tasteful Surroundings.

On the menu the day the Globe strolled in to have luncheon of spotless tables, china and silver, in a room attractive with gay chintz and ferns and flowers, there were soup, Swiss steak, roast leg of pork, potatoes, a toothsome combination of carrots and peas, creamed rice, ice cream, baked apples, jelly rolls or bread and butter—and the piece de resistance of the place—lemon pie, made from Miss Ryley's own recipe.

"I believe it was the fame of that pie that brought us our men patrons," laughed the hostess of the day, who later took the visitor to the rest room, where books, writing tables, deep easy chairs are scattered about a large room, hung with soft art blue. Along one side run several cubicles, little rooms shut off by curtains, where a girl may lie down and rest. There is also a dressing room, and many girls who want to stay down-town and go to the theatre after dinner, find it invaluable, as they can slip in there and change into a pretty blouse and do up their hair freshly.

This cafeteria helps the small employer who cannot afford to maintain a lunch room for his staff, as the larger establishments do, realizing the importance of a warm mid-day meal in keeping their employes to the efficiency mark.

It is also an experiment in sociology, its promoters knowing that bright and comfortable surroundings and a welcoming smile are as necessary to the mental and physical morale of a girl as the kind of food she eats.

Rheumatism Grows Worse if Neglected
It is a Uric Acid Trouble.

It makes its presence known by local heat and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles but cannot be permanently relieved by local applications. Its cause is constitutional and it must have constitutional treatment.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood in which the disease depends and makes you feel young again.

Mr. and Mrs. doctors said I could not be cured of rheumatism but at 64 I am still alive, well and strong, thanks to the yearly use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am convinced there is nothing better for rheumatism." C. E. Goodrich, Bolivar, Mo.

ANATOLE FRANCE GETS NOBEL PRIZE

(Canadian Press Despatch).
Stockholm, Nov. 10.—The Swedish Academy today awarded the 1921 Nobel prize in literature to Anatole France, noted French author.

The Nobel prize was founded in 1895 by Dr. Alfred B. Nobel, noted Swedish chemist, inventor of dynamite, who created in his will a foundation of some $9,000,000, the proceeds of which provide for annual prizes of about $40,000 each in physics, medicine, chemistry, literature and peace.

PROTESTANT ORPHANAGE

The board of directors of the St. John Protestant Orphanage met yesterday afternoon in the Britain street Institution and transacted much business. Reports given were very satisfactory. D. C. Clark, the president, was in the chair. A letter was received from the executive of the Provincial Memorial Home in Wright street declining the terms on which the older institution had agreed to take over the care of the children in the street home shortly. It was felt that a public display of the work done by the children would be one of the most effective methods of giving fuller realization of what the children were learning to do.

LOCAL NEWS

A meeting of the Fundy Chapter, I. O. D. E., was held last night. It was decided to give a hot plate to the General Public Hospital; to provide milk and cream for the Poppy Day workers; to help in sending a soldier's wife back to England; and to give four treats at the Seamen's Institute. Miss Fairweather and Miss Alward were appointed convenors. Miss Nelson, Miss McFadden and Miss Dodge were appointed to prepare a programme for the December meeting. The Echoes secretary, Miss Margaret Bolton, read a report. Three resignations were received from Miss Melick, Miss Taylor and Miss Bolton. Miss Bartlett gave reports of the ten. Letters were read from Miss Beatrice Penny and Miss Arnold, national president.

Mrs. W. E. McIntyre gave an address, illustrated by lantern slides, on the beetles of Florida, before the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society last night in the N. H. S. rooms. She told of the damage done by the recent storms and regretted the fact that her slides showing some of the devastation had not arrived. Mrs. McIntyre gave some interesting stories of the history of the country from its first settling by the Spaniards in 1521 to the present day. Many of the pictures showed samples of the wonderful tropical vegetation as well as the large prehistoric cities and well kept roads. Miss Minnie Poole and Mrs. Blake Ferris gave musical numbers. Mrs. W. H. Shaw, president of the association, thanked Mrs. McIntyre for her interesting talk.

The Natural History Society was the recipient yesterday of several valued gifts from Robert Jardine, of Shediac, and James William Clark, of Manguerville. The collection presented by Mr. Jardine included two silver bowls, lolly ladies, a snuff mill, a snuff box, an old flintlock pistol, an old musket, a loading revolver with bayonet tip and mahogany case, a baton used by Mr. Jardine's father as a member of the first police organized here, and a pair of sugar cutters found in an old house in Shediac. From Mr. Clark the society received a piece of old English pottery first brought to this country in 1783 by his great-grandfather. This piece is said to be 252 years old.

Views With Alarm Reckless Violation of Prohibition Laws in Canada.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 11.—Approval of the proposal to enter an unknown Canadian soldier in the national capital was expressed in a resolution adopted by the Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, of Nova Scotia, which concluded its sessions here last night. The resolution stated that 1,150 members of the Canadian order took part in the war, 129 making the supreme sacrifice, and one being crucified by the enemy.

Another resolution "viewed with alarm the reckless violation of prohibition laws throughout Canada, leading to crimes of violence and murder, lowering the standard of morals and threatening the stability of the state." The resolution calls upon the government to stamp out the run-running on the borders and coasts of Canada. A copy will be sent to Premier Meighen.

The guessing competition concerning the weight of the ornamental cake was won by Miss Helen Hennessy, of Fairville, who guessed that the cake weighed six and three-quarter pounds, while the actual weight was six pounds and eleven ounces. CANDIDATES IN SOME OF THE N.S. CONSTITUENCIES

Halifax, Nov. 11.—(Canadian Press)—Cumberland, N. S., was the native county of Sir Charles Tupper, one of the Fathers of Confederation, and Prime Minister of Canada for a few months in 1896. In his first political contest—the provincial elections of 1865—Dr. Tupper, standing for Cumberland, defeated the redoubtable veteran, Joseph Howe, who years before, after successfully defending a charge of sedition, preferred by the Council of Twelve Magistrates at Halifax, had risen to the position of leader of the movement for responsible government in the maritime provinces, and enjoyed an unexampled popularity among the people of his native province. As the Conservative party suffered severe defeat elsewhere throughout the province, Dr. Tupper's victory over the great Liberal incumbent made him a marked man. In 1868 the young man from Cumberland achieved the premiership of the Provincial Assembly, and in 1871 he was elected to the House of Commons. After committing Nova Scotia to the Confederation compact, Dr. Tupper resigned his premiership and in the elections of 1867 stood in Cumberland for the first confederation parliament. When the smoke cleared Dr. Tupper was elected, but in the seventeen other seats of the province the pro-confederation candidates had been snowed under. At the same time the elections for the Provincial Assembly resulted in the return of 88 anti-confederationists as against 2 confederationists. The Tupper government refused to grant constitutional repeal to the Union and Howe was too loyal to the British connection to adopt other than constitutional means. Sir John A. Macdonald came to Halifax, convinced Howe of the serious danger into which the anti-confederationists were drifting, and finally induced him to go to Ottawa as President of the Dominion cabinet. In view of Nova Scotia's attitude Dr. Tupper declined Sir John A.'s offer as President of the cabinet council, and on the occasion of his elevation made a speech containing the first advocacy of the National policy ever made in the House of Commons.

In the present elections Colonel C. E. Bent is the government candidate for Cumberland. He went overseas as adjutant of the 17th Battalion in 1914 and reverted in rank in order to get to France in the spring of 1915. He served mostly with the Canadian 48th Highlanders in France, and in the closing days of the conflict was in command of the 8th Canadian Infantry brigade. He has the following decorations: C. M. G., D. S. O. and Bar, Mons Star, Victory Medal and Allies Medal. After the war he was appointed Customs Collector at Amherst. The Liberal candidate is Hance J. Logan, who formerly represented the county at Ottawa. Mr. Logan is President of the Maritime Board of Trade.

Lunenburg, N. S., is largely peopled by descendants of immigrants from Hanover, who came from Nova Scotia in 1788 and, according to William Duff, Mayor of Shiretown, "Lunenburgers can claim closer associations with the reigning house of England than any other section of the Canadian people." Lunenburg, La Have and Mahone, the ports of the county, have the distinction of having built up on the co-operative basis the largest fleet of Grand Bank fishing vessels in the world. In the past Lunenburg has been variously known as the Gloucester of Nova Scotia or the Grimsby of Canada, but since the International fishermen's races this year it has been content to be known by its own name and as the port of call of the Bluebonnet of the North Atlantic fishing fleets by virtue of her win over the Marie, a craft fisherman of New England. In the present election William Duff, who represented the constituency in the last parliament is again a candidate in the Liberal behalf. Mr. Duff, who was born in Newfoundland, Britain's most ancient colony, and educated in Scotland, is a large fish merchant and shipowner. The government member is Dr. Donald Stewart, one time school master, former member of parliament and at present a well known medical practitioner of Halifax. In the election of 1911 Dr. Stewart was a successful candidate in Lunenburg defeating A. K. MacLean, who was later minister without portfolio in the union government.

Shelburne and Queens gave Hon. W. S. Fielding a seat by acclamation when after the election of 1896 Premier Laurier called him from the premiership of Nova Scotia to take the position of Minister of Finance in the new Liberal Government, and to introduce into the House of Commons the first measure giving preferential tariff treatment to Great Britain. Judge Forbes of Liverpool who had previously defeated C. H. Cahan, now a well known financier of Montreal, had retired to make room for the new finance minister. In the elections of 1911, following the introduction of the Fielding-Taft reciprocity agreement, Mr. Fielding, who had held the same seat for fifteen years, was defeated by F. B. McCurdy, now minister of public works. When union government was formed in 1917 Mr. Fielding, who came out as a supporter of it, was again elected for Shelburne and Queens by acclamation. Mr. McCurdy going to Colchester County. In the present contest Mr. Fielding is again a candidate in his old constituency running as a straight Liberal. The government candidate is W. L. Hall, a prominent lawyer of Liverpool, Queens County, who for a time was leader of the opposition in the provincial legislature. Shelburne, the shire town of the western section of the constituency, was during and for a short time after the American revolutionary war the largest town in America north of the Rio Grande, having then a population of more than 16,000.

HOLDUP MEN BEAT AN AGED CITIZEN

Beaten severely about the head and robbed of his store at 24 Mill street was the experience last night at about twenty minutes past ten o'clock of Harris Gilbert, a Hebrew second-hand dealer, sixty-eight years of age. His assailants, numbering two men at least, used a blunt instrument with such telling effect that their victim was rendered well-nigh senseless and examination of the hospital to which he was immediately rushed, revealed a broken nose, besides the cuts on the head.

It is understood from the police, who were at once notified, that Mr. Gilbert had locked up his store in Mill street and had almost reached his home door when the attack occurred. Mr. Gilbert's house, at No. 98 Union street, is a building and to obtain entrance to his home, it is necessary to go through a large yard in which is also a garage. The yard is quite dark, owing to the shadows thrown by the two large buildings just past the garage, the miscreants lay in wait for the old man and when he appeared, they sprang out and commenced their attack.

Evidently, the robbers expected that one blow would quiet the old man but he was tougher than they bargained for and shouted lustily for help. His wife, hearing the outcries, opened the door and the assaultants became frightened and made off, taking with them the keys to Mr. Gilbert's store, while the members of the household carried the injured man into the house.

Dr. W. R. Howley was summoned and later Mr. Gilbert was removed to the hospital, where he was reported last night as resting as well as could be expected, although the shock to a man of Mr. Gilbert's age might prove serious.

LENIN CONFESSES RUSSIAN FAILURE

The Breakdown of Communism — The Soviet's Debt Proposal Not Seriously Regarded.

(Bradstreet's)

Recent cable dispatches give reports of a speech made by Lenin at Moscow which has yet appeared of the failure of communism as an economic system. It is quoted as saying that there can be no doubt that on the economic front the attempt to force communism toward the spring of the present year, and his co-workers suffered a defeat before. The outcome, he said, showed that the Soviet's economic policies did not have the effect that was expected, and did not create that rising of productive powers which was recognized in an urgent and direct communication to construction in the villages and in the cities, he added, "retarded the elevation of our productive powers and were the cause of a deep economic and political crisis. We recognized defeat, and the defeat is continuing in many places even at present, and very unnecessary disorders." In another place he is quoted as saying: "We must face the fact that we are re-establishing capitalism," but that "the present return to capitalism is not the fulfillment of the obligations of Russia to the world, but the result of the economic policies which he has had through blood to establish."

Following closely upon these statements by Lenin, a note sent by the Soviet Foreign Minister to the governments of Great Britain, France, the United States, Italy and Japan is of interest. In this communication M. Tchetterin announces the willingness of the Moscow government to recognize the foreign obligations of Russia contracted up to 1914 upon certain conditions, one of which is the recognition of that government by the powers. Specifically he asks for a simultaneous undertaking by the great powers unconditionally to put an end to any actions menacing the safety of the Soviet republic and the Far Eastern republic, their sovereign rights and the inviolability of their frontiers. On this basis he proposes the immediate calling on an international conference to undertake the solution of the problems involved, consider the demands of the other powers on Russia and the claims of

She has held the office of superintendent of nurses at the St. John hospital since Miss Maude Retaillic resigned, less than one year ago.

Mrs. S. T. Henning, New York and Kentucky Society Woman and Expert Cattle Breeder, Commissioned to Teach the Japanese the Breeding Values of Food.

Can She Teach Japan How to Grow Taller Men?

This Kentucky Woman Knows How to Breed Big Cattle, And Japan Hopes Her Secret May Point the Way to Bigger Men and Women.

Prize Jersey Bull Raised on Mrs. Henning's Farm Which Illustrates the Sturdy Type She Produces

Admiral Albert Gleaves of the U. S. Navy and Baron Uruu, Admiral of the Japanese Navy and Said to Be Their Tallest Officer. The Disparity Between the Heights of the Two Men Suggests One Reason Why the Jap Emperor May Have Commissioned Mrs. Henning.

Daingerfield, his famous horses, both men animals have a wide range over which they must travel; they are supplied with abundant limestone water; the valleys are sheltered by high mountains from cold and violent winds, and this shelter tends to develop size; undulating hills compel the exercise of all the body muscles and increase heart-power and lung development. Given all these advantages and, with them, the most nutritious milk, beef, grain and vegetables to be had, is it any wonder that men in this region grow tall and strong?

"It is these conditions that the Emperor of Japan wants to know about, and he wants me to tell him all I know about the topographical, water, soil and agricultural conditions which obtain in the locality where my cattle are bred. He wants to know exactly what process of feeding has been used in producing beef, butter, milk and by-products of such a highly vitalized nature as the kind for which Allen-Dale has received so many gold medals and awards. And he wants to learn the milk balustration in human diet by which the stature of Japanese men may be further developed through drinking a sufficient quantity of milk as well as by eating meat, grain and vegetables produced in a soil prepared to impart the greatest vitality to them.

Rearing an Essential

"Added to all the other essentials required for building stature and strength in men I feel that my argument in favor of range in physical development is a strong one. Even flat countries, where the men walk over great spaces and where vegetation and milk are also rich in nourishment, seem to produce tall men. I have noticed that natives of Gulf Coast plantations are, as a class, tall and well developed, and natives of cities in the same region are more or less stunted in height. This was true in localities where both city and country people drank only rain water, and goes to prove that range, independent of water, has something to do with height.

"But one can never fairly compare country people with those from a city where conditions of life do not encourage a sufficiency of either fresh air or exercise.

"Well-instructed mothers seek to balance the diet of their children. But do any of them learn whether the food provided comes from localities where vital properties are abundantly supplied to it? Numberless people cultivate their own gardens, but how many study the nature of the materials fed to the soil for its enrichment with a view to securing not only abundance, but vitality, in their garden produce?

"When as much care is given to breeding children as we give to breeding animals, the question of the source of their food supply will receive as careful attention as the quantity and balance of it.

"In considering the question of developing the stature of the Japanese race, the Emperor of the country will give due attention to instructing farmers how to restore nitrogen to impoverished soil by growing soy-beans—which flourish in Japan, and other legumes, such as vetches, field peas, alfalfa and clover. Lime must also be restored to the soil and alfalfa is an excellent grass for feeding cattle with a view to enriching their milk with phosphate of lime.

"I think," added Mrs. Henning, "that the maternal instinct in a woman is a potent factor in the successful breeding of animals. There is an innate sympathy between animals and a woman which makes them more adaptable to her management.

By MAY WILKINSON MOUNT

JAPAN is proud of the strength of her people, but she has to admit that they are undersized. Whether she fights or not she would like to have taller men. Taller men are born of taller women, and the women are very short.

The Emperor of Japan has hit upon a plan that might almost look like a direct effort to accomplish a change in the Japanese figure. He has come to believe that what you eat, and especially what is eaten by the cattle whose milk you drink, has a lot to do with your height, and he has asked an American expert in cattle breeding, and one of this country's foremost authorities on dietetics, to go to Japan and tell Japan what it ought to do.

This expert is Mrs. S. T. Henning, of Allen-Dale, Kentucky. So that if Japan sends an army of giants to some distant war it might happen that a woman would be named as the responsible factor!

The man who is reputed to be the tallest officer in the Japanese Navy is Baron Uruu, who was a member of the delegation which recently visited once spread over portions of Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, when Nicholas Merriweather accepted the grant of land from Charles II. in payment of a loan he had made the monarch and which Charles Stuart could not conveniently pay in any other way. And this is why the son of Nicholas Merriweather lies beneath the blue grass of Shelby County, where also sleeps Anne Polk, who married John Allen, of County Armagh, Ireland, then Keeper of Ammunitions in Virginia. The gallant soldier won this ancestral of President Polk at her home in Carlisle, Pa., and took her to that broad and beautiful land, known as Virginia, and from which so many states have since been carved. Their graves at Allen-Dale lie near those of their grandchild, daughter of Jane Polk Allen, one of the five sons of Anne Polk, and wife of Thornton Merriweather, grandfather of Mrs. S. T. Henning.

Cattle "Perfect in Beauty"

Descendants of the Merriweather family come from all parts of the country, once a year, to hold a family reunion at Dunbar Cave, in Kentucky, and here Mrs. Henning goes, dons her homespun costume, made for her out of her spring wool clip, which she sends to Berea College to be spun, and, if the weather be warm, puts on her common sense white shoes with an all-white costume and gives that energetic care to her herds which have enabled her to prove, during her fifteen years of Jersey cattle breeding, that this

Mrs. Henning has accepted the commission. Romance, like the scarlet trumpet flowers of Virginia, clings about Allen-Dale, where, fifty-three years ago, the late Mrs. Thornton Merriweather, mother of Mrs. T. S. Henning, brought the first Jersey cow to Shelby County and founded what is now the strongest industry and largest source of income in that locality. Allen-Dale type of cattle can be bred perfect in beauty of form as well as in production. It took a woman to hold and develop that theory. Men breeders looked only to the utility side of breeding. At any rate, Mrs. Henning worked along the line of joint utility and beauty and made herself world-famous as a breeder of livestock.

"The Emperor wishes me," said Mrs. Henning, at her apartment in a fashionable New York hotel, "to lecture on milk as the principal part of balustration for human food, as he thinks it will improve the stature of the human race to drink milk intelligently and a sufficient quantity of it. He also realizes that milk, to be efficacious in this direction, must contain the proper nutritive elements in the best proportion and, therefore, the feeding and raising of cattle must be thoroughly understood in Japan. He wants his country to know what food and management will produce the best cattle and, through them, the most physically perfect men.

"You may, perhaps, have heard that a recent defeat of Yale University in athletic games was attributed to the meat, milk and vegetables of Connecticut which did not contain the strengthening properties included in meat, milk and vegetables from western states, where the soil is new and full of vitality and where, Dr. Eugene A. Crilly, chemical expert of Connecticut, says, the soil is best fitted to turn out athletic champions.

"Dr. Crilly goes further and states that undeteriorated soil is calculated to produce not only the highest physical but also the highest mental development, and it is to the newer soil of Ohio that he attributes the coming of so many Presidents from that state when, during the first fifty years of our national life, Virginia was the presidential center of our country.

"Of course it will be argued that the political situation determines the choice of men for the presidency, but it must also be considered that the state must first prepare the man. He must be virile of brain and body and this virility he owes to his native soil.

"As water is to the arid land of the West, so is lime to the agricultural soils of the East, Dr. Crilly states, and he adds that eastern farmers should plant alfalfa to get phosphate of lime into the soil, as animals which are fed on non-nutritious foods, such as corn silage, have weakened constitutions and impart weakness to human beings who feed on their products.

"I do not need to remind you that the bluegrass region of Kentucky is world-famous. Our meadows in the world. But I do not attribute the size and vigor of men and animals in this region alone to diet, any more than I think the stunted stature of men of Japan is due solely to lack of milk balustration in their diet. An island very close to Japan produces men of tall stature.

"No, in my opinion, vital as is diet in the production of perfect men, limestone water for bone construction and wide ranges for body development are also essential. Indeed, I consider range very important. In Shelby County, where I breed my Jersey cattle, and my neighbor, Col.

ITALIAN HOTELS SOLVE TIP ISSUE

Ten Per Cent Gratuity Tax is Added to the Bills of Travelers.

London, Nov. 10.—After a short holiday spent in Italy, says a writer in "The Daily News," one wonders whether our Italian friends have not earned the eternal gratitude of all travelers by finding the basis for a real solution of the great tipping question, at least as regards hotels. The experiment of what is colloquially known as the "state tip" has now had a fair trial in Italy, and it is generally admitted that it has proved entirely successful.

"It was in Genoa that I first discovered the beautiful simplicity of the state tip," says the writer, "and it was a welcome experience after having dispensed largesse to the servants at a Nice hotel. Most travelers of limited means have sad reason to know that horrid doubt, on leaving a hotel, as to whether they have been either ungenerous or too prodigal in paying for services rendered.

"At Genoa I found a neat little addition to my bill of 10 per cent of the total, charged as gratuity tax (5 and a notice confronted me in the hotel office intimating that the servants were forbidden to accept gratuities indiscriminately. The same system operated throughout Italy, and though the giving of tips is not unknown—there were one or two occasions, indeed, when I thought it only reasonable to offer a gratuity in return for some special service rendered, and the offer was not rejected with contempt—the fact remains that the servants do not expect tips and do not linger on the doorstep to speed the parting guest and to receive him of whatever he happens to have left after his stay in the hotel.

"The suggestion which I once heard put forward by a doubting Thomas—that the hotel management probably pocketed the greater part of the state tip and that the employees saw little of it—may be dismissed as quite unwarranted. The full amount of the percentage is paid into a special fund, and every hotel bill received for a customer has to bear on it special stamps—not unlike our own familiar health insurance stamps—to the full value of the gratuities. Every hotel, moreover, has to display an extract from the act of Parliament which authorizes this charge, plainly setting forth the agreement between the hotel proprietors and employees.

"No doubt there always will be a small section of the traveling public anxious to distribute gratuities, whatever arrangement may be made to protect them as a body, but the fact remains that one has the satisfaction, under the Italian system, of being able to leave a hotel with a clear conscience, and the knowledge that the members of the staff have received precisely what the state, the hotel proprietors, and the staff themselves have agreed to recognize as a fair remuneration.

"Will the time ever arrive when some such system becomes universal? It would be a real boon to holiday makers, as well as to those who are obliged to travel for business reasons, and it is not easy to understand what obstacles there can be in the way of its universal adoption."

THE MORMONS IN THE DOMINION

A Marvelous Temple in Alberta Nearing Completion.

(F. J. Cowdery in Montreal Herald.)
BEGUN in 1918 and now nearing completion is the Mormon Temple at Cardston—a small town on a Southern Alberta branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway. This edifice, which has cost more than a million dollars to build, is attracting thousands of tourists from all parts of the continent.

The town of Cardston has been the centre of the Mormon faith in Canada since 1887, when a company of immigrants from Utah, induced by the rank growth reaching to horseman's stirrups, made their home there. It is on the highest point in the centre of the settlement that has sprung into existence that this monument of the Mormon faith has been erected.

The first impression of the structure is of a huge pyramid or bell-tent. On inspection its beauty and simplicity of design command attention. The structure is in the shape of a Maltese Cross, 118 feet square and more than one hundred feet in height. The outer walls are of light grey granite and concrete six feet thick, and this solidity of construction has been followed throughout.

For Ceremonial Purposes Only.

It should be mentioned that the purpose of the temple is not for general worship, but for the carrying out of certain ceremonies and rituals, such as marriages, ordinations and baptisms. After dedication, the temple may only be entered by Mormons of good standing.

Certain foods, those rich in vitamins, are more useful than others.

Scott's Emulsion is replete with those elements that determine growth and strength.

FOR INDIGESTION

Such may not smoke, drink coffee or tea or any alcoholic stimulants. Until dedication, however, all have free access to the building, the uses of which are fully explained to the visitor.

After the cold austerity of the exterior, the richness of the interior decorations afford a strong contrast. The woodwork and panelling is undoubtedly among the finest on the American continent, while the paintings and mural decorations are by some of the foremost American artists, some of whom have been steadily at work for more than a year.

Facing the main entrance or Assembly Room is the Baptistery, directly in the centre of the building. The huge concrete and marble front here rests on the back of twelve life-size oxen, symbolical of the twelve tribes of Israel. Ascending, the visitor reaches three lecture rooms, used in connection with the marriage services. These are known as the Creation Room, the Garden Room and the World Room. The first of these is decorated in oak, with ebony and maple inlay. On the walls are portrayed scenes representing the different phases of the creation of the world from chaos to cosmos. In the Garden Room are depicted scenes from the Garden of Eden, while the woodwork is of bird's-eye maple inlaid with ebony and tulip. The third of the lecture rooms is intended to represent conditions on earth after sin and discord entered, and is in direct contrast with the Garden Room. This room is finished in the finest South American walnut.

Terrestrial and Celestial Halls. According still higher is the Terrestrial Room paneled in African mahogany, where a summary of the lectures given in the previous rooms is given by means of a moving picture. This is of magnificent proportions, forty feet square and thirty-six feet high. It is luxuriously furnished, and decorated with mahogany, onyx and marble. The total cost of this room is $75,000, the carpet alone involving an expenditure of $1,000.

Off this lead three small seating or prayer rooms where some of the finest woodwork in the whole temple is to be seen. These rooms are finished in American or curtain walnut, and can only be described as exquisite.

Although the construction and decoration work is now practically completed, it is not expected that the dedication services will be held until the summer of 1922, as it is intended to give as many people as possible an opportunity of visiting the edifice. At the dedication services, which will most likely last a week, it is believed that some ten thousand people will be present, who will be cared for in a tented city.

In 1920 six thousand tourists availed themselves of this opportunity, and

BURIED TODAY.

The funeral of William Burton was held this afternoon at three o'clock from his late residence, 302 Main street. Rev. W. H. Spencer conducted service at the home and interment was in Fernhill.

PORTY HOURS DEVOTION. The Devotion of the Forty Hours was commenced in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception this morning and will continue until Sunday evening. Masses were celebrated this morning at 6, 7 and 8:15 o'clock and attended by very large congregations.

HELPED LITTLE ONES. Through the thoughtful efforts of the little Misses Elizabeth Quigg and Margaret Joyce, the little ones of St. Vincent's Infants Home will be more comfortable this winter. These little ladies held a party and the result was the reception of many useful gifts which were donated to the home. The Sisters of Charity sincerely thank the little ladies and all who helped in this kind act of charity.

DEGREE EXEMPLIFIED. The first degree was exemplified to a large class of candidates in the Knights of Columbus Hall last evening. E. J. Heineberry, grand knight, presided and there was a good attendance of members. After the degree work refreshments were served and a musical programme carried out in which Messrs. Mulally, Hines, Branley and O'Regan participated.

LEAK IN MAIN. A leak in one of the joints of the twenty-foot main in the Marsh road near the McAvity plant was reported to Commissioner Jones last evening. Mr. Jones said today that the water had been turned off to effect repairs and this would reduce the pressure on the high pressure line. It is expected that the repair work would be completed this evening. It is understood that the recent rolling of the surface at that point for the laying of a new roadway was the cause of the leak.

GENEROUS LITTLE GIRLS. Two little girls about eight years old, being anxious to help as much as they could in these hard times, conceived the idea of holding a sale at their home in Elliot Row. They were assisted in raising the sum of $9.70. They handed this substantial amount to Mrs. W. W. Tennant, secretary of the little ones in the Children's Aid Home, 68 Garden street. The girls who are to be congratulated on their brightness and unselfishness are Alice Henry and Mary Harding.

LAST NIGHT'S OUTRAGE. Harris Gilbert, who was attacked and badly beaten, and robbed in the front yard of his home in Union street last evening by men as yet unknown, was said to be doing nicely at the General Public Hospital early this afternoon. The shock suffered by Mr. Gilbert on account of the sudden attack upon him in the dark was said to be not nearly so bad as at first supposed. His nose was broken in the encounter and the fractured bone was set at the hospital this morning. The police have a difficult task to trace the assailants as there was not a clue left.

LITTLE RIVER CONCERT. A very enjoyable concert was held in Little River hall on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Little River Community Club. A large number of people were present and thoroughly enjoyed the various numbers. It was the second of a series of concerts to be held by the club during the winter. Those participating were served refreshments at the home of Mrs. Harrington, who was assisted by Mrs. R. Reid, Mrs. Goldman, Mrs. Babcock and Mrs. John McHugh, after which they were driven to their homes by Mr. Wood. Prior to their departure they were tendered a hearty vote of thanks by the president, Frank Godman. The programme was as follows—Piano solo, Miss McCallum; vocal solo, Mrs. Brentnall; sketch, "Going Somewhere," Miss Watts and G. W. McAuley; musical duet, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wallace; scotch dances, Miss Beattie Written; reading, Miss Alice McKim; solo, Miss Irvine; sketch, "New School Marm," Miss Datts and Messrs. U. N. B. TO FIGHT FOR THE RIGHT TO MEET IN DIALHOUSE Suggestion of a Spirited Session at Meeting to be Held in St. John Tonight.

Fredrickton, N. B., Nov. 11.—As a result of the victory of Mount Allison over Acadia at Sackville yesterday U. N. B. claims the championship of the western section of the Maritime Intercollegiate Rugby League, possession of the Clark trophy and the right to meet Dalhousie University at Truro, on Nov. 17, for the maritime intercollegiate rugby title.

U. N. B. will have representatives at a meeting of the western section called for this evening in St. John. Prof. Stephens and Captain H. H. Trimble of the U. N. B. team left here this morning for St. John. U. N. B. will be found to have not been quietly sitting back with folded arms when this meeting comes off at St. John tonight, declared a U. N. B. football official this morning. "Our representatives have left here fortified with affidavits and accompanied by witnesses. Referee J. W. Allen, of Halifax, has been urged by wire to be in St. John tonight to appear before the conference and we may spring an unlooked for surprise before this case has been disposed of. Meanwhile U. N. B. claims the championship of the western section and that only the vote of the whole maritime conference—not one section composed entirely of interested parties alone—can deprive us of our rights to meet Dalhousie University for the maritime championship."

TELLS OF FIRST ARMISTICE DAY

When Canadians Captured Mons—Something About Whiz-Bangs.

The Times has received a copy of Whiz Bangs, the monthly official organ of Vimy Camp, No. 1 American volunteers of the Canadian expeditionary forces. It is published in Boston, and is edited by Elmer A. Belding, formerly of St. John, while Roy E. Edwards, also of St. John, but now manager of a hat store in Boston, is one of the adventurers. He was the original R. S. M. of the 20th Battalion and after long services in France was given a commission and attached to the 88th Highlanders. There are other St. John men besides Belding and Edwards in Vimy Camp, which the commander, James Smith, declares is now among the leading military organizations and held up as an example to other in and around Boston. The November issue of Whiz Bangs gives a very interesting brief history of the Princess Pats. In recognition of Armistice Day, it publishes the following brief story of the first Armistice Day in battle-scarred Mons, by the editor, who was there:

"As we celebrate the third anniversary of the signing of the Armistice on this day this month we feel it will be of great interest if we bring to the minds of our readers a picture of where we were and what we were doing at that time. Of course we are speaking of the Canadian Corps.

"The Canadian Corps finished its career in the war by the capture of Mons at 4 a. m. on the day that the armistice was signed. The city was taken by troops from the Princess Patricia's and 42nd Highlanders. These troops were given a demonstrative welcome by the inhabitants. Men, women and children crowded round them with hot coffee and wine. The flag of Belgium, France, Great Britain and all the Allies, concealed for over four years, appeared from every window.

"On the road to Mons traffic trundled to and fro as if no change had taken place. The procession of refugees waved to every soldier and shouted, 'La Guerre est finie!' The cafes, which remained any longer, were all crowded.

"About 3:30 p. m. General Currie rode into the city with his staff, escorted by a bodyguard of the 8th Lancers, all men who fought at Mons in 1914. Formed up in the main square was a company of troops from every unit of the Third Division, each with its regimental band.

"As each company came in they were cheered to the echo by the thousands of civilians packed solidly in the four sides of the square, and crowding every balcony and window.

"The Corps Commander was met by the Mayor and City Fathers, leading clerics and prominent men of the place. He was welcomed and presented with an address. He replied through an interpreter and then presented the city with a Canadian flag tied to a lance.

"The ceremony was short and when the last section of troops passed the saluting point the crowd could not be restrained any longer. Soldiers and girls swarmed everywhere and the lid of Mons was lifted off.

"Couples danced in the square to the music of bands playing everywhere, and cafes were filled by soldiers and civilians, now united by an indissoluble bond.

"The night was filled with gladness. There was a peace and quietness such as France and Belgium had not enjoyed since August, 1914.

"The day was one of the most historic in the war history of Canada, by virtue of the fact that her sons captured and made a triumphant entrance into the most famous city in the annals of the west."

TRAFFIC AND OTHER BY-LAW CASES HEARD. Several traffic matters occupied the attention of the police court for a long time this morning.

Maurice Kominisky pleaded guilty to speeding in Prince Edward street. He explained that it was necessary to speed to avoid a collision. A fine of $10 was allowed to stand.

S. S. Foley, charged with exceeding the speed limit in Prince Edward street and not sounding his horn, was fined $10 and the fine allowed to stand. John Hamilton pleaded not guilty to exceeding the speed limit between Clarence and Esplanade streets. Policemen Hisholm and McAuley testified and a fine of $10 was struck.

RADIUM RELIEVES BUT DOESN'T CURE

Can Only be Regarded as a Palliative in Treatment of Cancer — Dr. Armstrong's Views.

(Montreal Gazette.) Radium as a curative agent in the treatment of cancer of the mouth and tongue and in various parts of the human body, was discussed by Dr. George E. Armstrong, C. M. G., in an address upon "Some Cancer Problems," delivered at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, held at the Windsor Hotel.

Dr. Armstrong explained, was the appalling death rate from cancer and the apparent increase in that death rate, though there was always some doubt on this point, as there might be more careful diagnosis now; but the present figures showed an increase of cancer at the rate of two and a half per cent. in the United States.

Referring to the recent statement made by Dr. J. R. Deaver, of Philadelphia, against radium as a curative agent, one which had found wide publicity and caused much disappointment to patients, Dr. Armstrong said: "One must speak very carefully on this subject of radium. It is better not to camouflage it, and I would speak only as a general surgeon, not with regard to nose and throat, but for cancer of the mouth, tongue, lip, breast, stomach, intestines, rectum and colon; I have never seen radium cure cancer in any of these regions. Radium will not cure cancer up to date. Radium is a palliative. I mean that it relieves pain; it makes the patient more comfortable; it may relieve vomiting, distress, and I think it retards the growth to a certain extent; how far, no one is prepared to say, for we have not got evidence as yet. Don't take away all hope from people. I don't like to say radium is of no use; but we should say that up to date radium will not cure cancer, but will give a great deal of relief and prolong life, and for that reason should be used under certain conditions."

Dr. Armstrong believed that by arousing public interest on this matter, it might be possible to save between 25,000 and 30,000 lives yearly from this disease.

WASH—Don't Scour Teeth

You Wouldn't Scour the Piano Keys

You would call it madness to use a grit cleanser on your ivory piano keys. You know what it would do to them; you know how readily they give up their dirt to gentle washing treatment. Ivory and teeth are first cousins — made of the same basic substance.

Are you scratching and cutting into the protective enamel of your teeth, tearing down with harsh and gritty tooth paste their only defence against decay? Every time you scratch your teeth, you remove part of the surface.

Your Teeth Need "WASHING"—Not Scouring

Simple Tests That Show If You Are Using The Right Tooth Paste

- 1. Anyone, even a little child, knows when his teeth or gums hurt. This sensitiveness often comes from brushing with a harsh, gritty, soapless tooth paste. Suggestion—Try a gentle "washing" dental cream for three weeks. (A trial size of Ribbon Dental Cream will be sent you free on request.) If no improvement is noted, you need to consult a dentist at once. 2. See if gold fillings look dull. If a scratchy, soapless tooth paste dulled the gold, imagine what it does to enamel and delicate mouth tissues! Suggestion—Brightness can be restored in many cases if a "washing," non-scouring dental cream is tried for three weeks. (A trial size of Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream will be sent you free on request.) If no improvement is noted, you need to consult a dentist at once.

COLGATE'S TEETH THE RIGHT WAY

WASHES—DOESN'T SCRATCH OR SCOUR

SENSIBLE IN THEORY—You can't beat common-sense when backed by modern science. Teeth need a non-acid cleanser. Colgate's is slightly alkaline—like the saliva itself—Nature's way. Your family use freely bicarbonate of soda (alkaline) and milk of magnesia (alkaline). The mild alkalinity of Colgate's about equals that of the clean, healthy mouth—thus helps maintain normal mouth conditions. CORRECT IN PRACTICE—To-day scientific dentists contend that harsh drugs and chemicals harm mouth tissues. They too advise against "acid tooth pastes." They recommend a dental cream with thorough cleaning qualities, pleasant to taste, containing ingredients safe to use every day—and mildly alkaline like human saliva itself.

COLGATE'S—The Double Action Dentifrice KEEPS TEETH SMILING!

1. Loosens Clinging Particles

The most effective and trustworthy tooth cleanser for habitual use is one that offers the combined action of fine non-gritty precipitated chalk and pure soap. Thus, in Colgate's you get what modern science finds best. More dentists prescribe Colgate's than any other dentifrice. They rely solely on the merit of that article guaranteed by a reputation of 115 years for "Truth in Advertising—Honesty in Manufacture."

2. Washes Them Away

Gritty soapless pastes may show "quick results." If you gouged away your skin Nature could replace that. Silverware scoured with grit or harsh chemicals can also be restored if damaged. But even Nature cannot replace tooth enamel if once it is worn away. Decide on the safe and sane method of cleaning teeth. Better it is to use a safe dental cream now than suffer years of regret later on.

A Good Rule for Everyone Brush your teeth twice a day Consult your dentist twice a year. Colgate's Cleans Teeth Thoroughly No dentifrice can do more. A large tube costs 25 cents. Why pay more?

Note to Professional Men. PASSING FADS IN DENTIFRICES—Interesting quick claims of one sort or another have their day, and pass out. Years ago carboic acid in dentifrices was hailed as the cure-all of dental ills. Later on peroxide seized the role of panacea to the teeth. Borax (Ipecac) suddenly dazzled with the idea of doing in a dentifrice more than any other dentifrice. Chlorate of Potassium, too, through its prominence as the end-all of dental worries. Each swaggered jumped into prominence as the end-all of dental worries. More resuscitation of peroxide—that cure-all of a generation ago—added gaiety to unagitated claims of dentifrices. Solely the "Journal of Dental Research" has pursued beneath facts the renewed aspirations of this long abused victim of quackery. QUESTION—What drug shall next glorify the illogical claims of the "patent medicine dentifrice" fad.

DOCTORING THE WORLD'S ILLS.

Doctors are always at work endeavoring to find out what is the matter with the world in these disturbed times. One of the latest and most instructive reports is that of the executive committee of the Federation of British Industries, which was recently forwarded to Premier Lloyd George by the president of the Federation, Sir Peter Rylands. The summary of the finding of the committee is instructive as a presentation of the causes and a sketching of the periods of difficulty resulting from the troubles which have arisen.

The fundamental causes of the present trade position are the direct results of the war, consisting of:

- (a) The general impoverishment of the world owing to the enormous unproductive expenditure. (b) The destruction of the world's standards of value due to the inflation of currencies, and manifesting itself through a condition of the exchanges so chaotic as to make international trade, instead of a matter of reasonable foresight and calculation, a game of chance, in which the rules and stakes are perpetually altering without the will or knowledge of the players; (c) An alteration of the world's channels of trade, which may be permanent or temporary, due (1) To the partial or complete disappearance of certain raw material markets and sources of supply; (2) To the development of industries in the countries which previously exported raw material and imported manufactured goods. These causes mean that we must face two periods of difficulty:— (1) A period during which the exchanges and such subsidiary causes as the high and constantly varied tariffs which have been a feature of post-war economic policy in many countries, will form a serious hindrance to international trade. During this period trade will also have to adjust itself to the new channels insofar as they seem likely to be permanent. (2) A longer period which will last until by a process of hard work and restricted consumption the world has replaced the stock of commodities and instruments of production lost during the war.

Visit of Prince to India Fifty Years Ago.

Rebuilding Work in Historic Ypres—Controversy of British Doctors and Government—A Flying Project—English Styles for Women.

(From our own correspondents.) London, Oct. 6.—The visit of the Prince of Wales to India invites some interesting comparisons between the conditions prevailing now and when his grandfather toured that country more than half a century ago. Then, as now, there were heard many voices raised in protest that the visit was inadvisable, for the terrible tragedy of the mutiny was still fresh in the public mind. Queen Victoria had drawn up a formidable list of subjects that the prince should study beforehand, but a regretful memorandum indicates that these studies were rather neglected. Further, there is a cherished idea that while in India the prince should keep an elaborate diary which should be of the greatest value to posterity. For this purpose he was given a resplendent volume sumptuously bound and crested with his feathers in gold. On his return, however, when the record was called for, it was found to be discourteously empty. The queen was "deeply grieved that such an opportunity had been allowed to be frittered away."

Modern Ypres. When the war was just over, and enthusiasms were high and memories keen, it was understood that the epic ruins of immortal Ypres would remain for ever undisturbed as a souvenir of twentieth-century civilization and undying valor. But an ex-serviceman, who fought and wrought and thought in Ypres in the big years, tells me differently. He has just returned after three weeks' tour in the Belgium battle area, and among other things he explored the old Flemish capital. It is almost as greatly changed, he says, from what our men remember it in 1918, as it was changed in 1918 from what the Belgians knew in

Proven best for 65 Yrs. Makes baby healthy and happy

1914 before the German batteries literally pulverized it. About a half of it has already been rebuilt in an improvised style. The Cloth Hall ruins, such as they are, are now masked in scaffolding. The rampart dug-outs, where brigade headquarters and the R. E.'s lived, are gone, and civilians are in residence under permanent arches. The chaos or ruination is being cleared up rapidly and the historic spots made new and unfamiliar. The trenches where our best and bravest died are vanishing, and another Ypres, quite unlike the old historic capital or the modern Ypres of the war is mushrooming into stucco and lath existence.

Trouble With The Doctors. There is every prospect of a serious controversy between the government and the doctors over the decision of the Ministry of Health that the capitation fee of eleven shillings a patient is too high for panel practitioners. Sir Alfred Mond wants to reduce it by eighteen per cent, which would mean about £75 a year difference to the average panel doctor, and so much as £200 to those working up to the maximum number of patients allowed. The doctors are much incensed about this proposal, and a series of suggestions are being made for medical reprisals.

It is to be remembered that, in spite of the big outcry with which so many medical men greeted the panel project at first, panel doctors are now making quite a good thing out of this class of work. A suggestion which to the layman would seem to be a restriction of the system should be altered and that, instead of the doctor being paid so much a head for each patient on the list, whether actually receiving treatment or not, the payment should be for each actual visit, the state contributing two-thirds and the patient one-third. This would act in restraint of abuse, either by the doctor or the patient, and would enable freedom of choice as to medical attendance to be restored to the panel public. Sir Alfred Mond is determined on this question, and apparently sure of his ground, but the medical men are mobilizing for war on a grand scale.

Flying to America. One of the most ambitious commercial aeroplane ventures is now being discussed by a syndicate that has at its command available capital enough to start a South American republic. In the past it has always been lack of sufficient capital that has hampered the development of aviation, and this new syndicate is determined not to make a start unless ample funds are available. An international service is contemplated, but the most novel project is to moor floating docks every thousand miles, equipped with directional wireless, and to make use of giant seaplanes with twin engines and each carrying an engineer and two pilots. The scheme is at present only under discussion, but it is so far advanced that one of the technical experts is at present touring Europe making a close study of commercial aircraft used in every part of the world.

An Unfortunate Princess. The statement that Princess Phillip of Coburg, a daughter of the late King of the Belgians, is being prosecuted for obtaining money from an opera singer under false pretences, will once again draw attention to the extraordinary life story of this noble lady. There was, at one time, a probability—almost a certainty—that she would marry into our royal family, for Queen Victoria, remembering with sentimental interest that Leopold of Belgium had suggested the match between herself and Prince Albert, listened willingly when "Spade-beard" (the nickname of Leopold II) suggested an alliance between his daughter and the late Duke of Clarence. However, there was a hitch, and in a fit of pique the king married his daughter to Phillip of Coburg. The match was literally a failure from the first, for the sensational fight of the bride on her wedding night was soon whispered around every court in Europe. She was persuaded to return, but her subsequent love affairs are a matter of history.

The Ribboned Ringlet. The very latest evolution of the bobbed tresses mode (writes a lady correspondent) re-introduces the Victorian side ringlet, copy tied up with a ribbon bow, which should match in hue the sultrious head necklace—incidentally an increasingly beautiful and a correspondingly costly cetera of the toilette de soiree.

The new fashion in coiffures demands that the hair be only demi-bobbed, which, being interested, means bobbed in thick wavy masses over the ears, with the ribboned ringlet bien en evidence, the rest of the hair being coiled in a Grecian knot just above the nape of the neck. One trembles to think how far the tenacity of the generosity-proportional middle-aged lady will lead her, but there is no denying the beauty of the mode.

Times may Fluctuate—Humans do Not. IN CANADA the reward is still to the pioneer. The Canadian longs to go forward. He loves the man who points the way. In every corner of the world the New Improved Gillette has met with unprecedented success, but nowhere has the enthusiasm been greater than in our own Canada, where the razor is made and the Gillette word and record of achievement is best known. No one can forget the peculiar tribute expressed in the way so many loyal followers of the old-type Gillette affectionately laid it aside for the new. They believed Gillette when Gillette said the new razor is better. They bought, tried and told about the New Improved Gillette. The news spread from man to man and now many of your very own neighbours express their enthusiasm over the real shaving advantages brought to them by the New Improved Gillette. NOTE.—One of the first things to strike the user of the New Improved Gillette is its simplicity. Most men prefer to screw the handle up tight to get the most satisfactory shave. The Gillette Blade and Gillette Razor are developed to work together. No Gillette Blade can deliver its full shaving quality unless used in a genuine Gillette Razor—built by Gillette, in the Gillette way and up to Gillette standards. Thought He Was Wanted Here On Murder Charge. The local detective department has received a description and a photograph of a colored man named Ardis W. Penn, who is being held at Norfolk (Va.) on the charge of murder. This communication, which was forwarded to Halifax, was relayed to St. John by the police there. Sergeant Detective Power said last evening that he had looked into the description of the man carefully and was confident he was not wanted in this city for any crime. The prisoner is a native of Norfolk and is about thirty-eight years of age. Chief of Police Hanrahan, of Halifax, when he found that no person of the description given was wanted in Nova Scotia on a murder charge, thought it possible that the man might be wanted by the St. John police and forwarded the letter and its contents. Both police departments, however, are confident that some error has been made by the department at Norfolk and that Penn is not wanted in these provinces. To Organize Harriers' Club. The Y. M. C. A. has called a meeting of the track team and all interested in the formation of a Harriers' Club for next Tuesday, at eight o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. The object of the club will be to look after the welfare of its members in promoting activities and field events and championships, swimming, skating, wrestling, boxing, hikes, toboggan parties, etc. A tentative programme of events for the winter season will be submitted to the club on Tuesday, and committees formed to handle the various branches of the club's activities. The members are enthusiastic over the possibilities of the club's development, and a big meeting is expected.

Extreme Heat Didn't Hurt This Sale

Selling 3,000 waists in two of the hottest days of the summer, when the maximum temperature was ninety-seven degrees, is the merchandising record of the Dencker Company in Grand Rapids, Ia. Unusually attractive prices and clever advertising turned the trick and shot the volume of this store up to new heights during an otherwise dull season. And the waist sale went big despite the fact that throughout the season waists and blouses have been poor sellers because of the popularity of dresses and sweaters which are worn as substitutes for waists.

HEARTBURN A SEVERE CASE

Many people are troubled with heartburn who really do not realize just what it is. In cases of this trouble there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by disturbed appetite. It is generally caused by great acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and becomes extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter. The one way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

Courtesy to Children Led to Big Idea. One day about the middle of June four little girls approached the manager of the art of needlework section of the Department Store, in St. John, N. B., and asked if she would teach them to embroider. It seems that they had gotten interested in making garments for themselves, as well as doll dresses. They thought that the store that had the goods to sell might be willing to show them how to use the materials. This store, one of the largest in St.

In Britain today there is a type of merchant known as the "vacation retailer." His job is to put on holiday sidelines that he knows from experience will be in demand just as surely as night follows day. It doesn't matter much whether the "vacation retailer" has a store in London, suburbs or by the sea, before he gets the holiday tripper either before he starts or when he gets to his destination.

HEAD AND NOSTRILS CLOGGED UP COULD SCARCELY BREATHE

When you become all choked up and stuffed up with a cold your head becomes thick, the nostrils become so clogged up you can hardly breathe, a feeling of weight or oppression in the chest and the cough raps and tears your lungs and bronchial tubes. This is the time to take DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP before things get to be too serious. There is no remedy to equal it for clearing up the cold, making the breathing easy, loosening the phlegm and soothing and healing the lungs and bronchial tubes. Mrs. Edward Kincaid, 60 Bryden St., St. John, N. B., writes: "I wish to express my hearty thanks to your valuable remedy Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and what good it did me. Last fall I contracted a severe cold, like I never had, my head and nostrils were so clogged up I could get no vent, and could scarcely get my breath. I tried remedy after remedy until at last I thought I would try "Dr. Wood's." After the first dose I felt relief, and by the time the bottle was finished I was all better. I will always keep it in the house." Price 35c. and 60c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Millburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

KING GEORGE STILL HOPES FOR PEACE

In Speech at Closing of Parliament His Majesty Expresses Desire for Success at Limitation Conference

London, Nov. 10.—The earnest hope that the work of the coming armament conference in Washington will be rewarded by success was expressed by King George in the speech from the throne proroguing parliament today.

Anxiety was still being caused by the situation with regard to Ireland, he said, and the leaders of all parties were exhorted to patience and moderation so that friendship and co-operation might be established.

Several members of parliament, viewing with some apprehension the uncertain state of the Irish situation at the present time, last night urged the government to allow another adjournment instead of the definite closing which a prorogation implies. Austen Chamberlain, however, declared that nothing stood in the way of prorogation.

After referring with satisfaction to the work of the imperial conference, particularly its deliberations with respect to foreign policy, questions relating to the Pacific and the Far East and the empire's obligations under the treaty of Versailles and other peace treaties, the king said:

"I am happy to know that on all these issues my governments here and overseas are in perfect accord. The conference gave serious attention to the defence of the empire and the maintenance of an adequate measure of sea power; it was unanimously decided that the naval strength of the empire should be equal to that of any other power."

"The establishment of peace between the Allied powers and Hungary by the treaty signed at Trianon and ratified in July was referred to, and the king concluded:

"The efforts by my government at the Allied conference in March and renewed in June to establish peace in the near east were in each case rendered fruitless by a renewed outbreak of hostilities between the Greek and Turkish forces in Anatolia. It is my earnest desire to see these hostilities followed by

Macdonnell's Appointment Is Criticized

Hon. Mr. King Describes It as "Cold-Blooded and Heartless Action"

Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 10.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—That during 1917, 1918 and 1919 the Elorion Company had declared dividends of ten per cent. and at the same time had been allowed to pay its federal taxes in promissory notes was the further charge made during this evening's meeting in the armories here by W. L. Macdonnell, leader of the Liberal party, to an audience of about 8,000 people. Mr. King declared that the government had been carrying the Elorion Company in this way until the company had come almost to bankruptcy. "If the Elorion and other companies were entitled to this sort of treatment," he said, "then the same should be accorded the poor man who cannot pay his taxes." The Liberal leader further said that the losses to this country during the last four years must have totalled millions of dollars, other companies, he believed, also having given the government their notes.

The Liberal leader dealt also with senate appointments and characterized the appointment of Brigadier-General Macdonnell in the place of Claude Macdonnell as "a cold-blooded and heartless action." It had been made now, he said, because there was little likelihood of Hon. Claude Macdonnell recovering from his illness, and the government wanted to fill all possible senate seats with its supporters before too late.

Another new feature of the meeting was the statement that a new issue was being thrown into the arena by the government "which had found its tariff issue insufficient to mislead the people." It was a dividing of province against province and class against class, in the government's attempt to show that Quebec was opposed to national ownership of railways.

GETS FOUR YEARS BUT THE SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

Herbert Morgan, who pleaded guilty on Wednesday to breaking and entering the garage of Frederick McLeod and taking three tires, came before the magistrate yesterday afternoon in the police court for sentence. The magistrate, after giving him a severe lecture, allowed him out under four years suspended sentence. E. S. Ritchie appeared for Morgan.

CRUSADE MEETING.

The W. M. S. of the Tabernacle church had a successful crusade meeting last night in the vestry of the church when Mrs. Mary Coggin, the president, was in the chair. Mrs. John Lawson gave the scripture and prayer was offered by Mrs. John Parlee and Mrs. T. E. Owens. Two visiting members from the Main street church were welcome guests and contributed to the programme. Mrs. J. R. Yawart gave an account of the work of the W. M. S. in the various fields of its activities and told of the estimates drawn up for the present year. Mrs. McLean gave a full report of the Halifax convention. The members of the Tabernacle W. M. S. presented a social programme, including a demonstration "How not to run a missionary meeting." A on early and just peace, and my government is prepared, in conjunction with their Allies, to take the first opportunity of furthering this.

Armament Question.

"I have followed with great interest the steps taken by the president of the United States to promote the reduction of expenditure on armaments—an object which commands the fullest sympathy of my government," said the king. "It was in this spirit that my government gladly accepted the invitation extended by the United States government to the conference on disarmament to be held in Washington. It is my earnest hope that the labors of the conference will be crowned with success."

Noting that the negotiations for a settlement in Egypt have not yet been concluded, the king referred to the eastern tour of the Prince of Wales, adding: "I pray that his visit may still further strengthen the ties of affection which have for so long linked my house with the princes and peoples of India. Upon the conclusion of his Indian tour, he will proceed to visit the great and friendly empire of Japan."

The Irish Situation.

The king discussed the subject of Ireland as follows:

"The situation in Ireland still causes me great anxiety. I earnestly exhort the leaders of all parties in Ireland, and all those in whose hands lies the power to influence the negotiations and discussions now proceeding, to exercise patience and moderation with the object of establishing friendship and co-operation between my people of that country."

"It is my firm belief, as it is my earnest prayer, that with forbearance and good will, and with an honest resolve to tread the paths of obligation and forgiveness, enduring peace will finally be achieved."

Concluding with an allusion to the difficult financial conditions, the king said:

"The imperative need for the avoidance of all fresh burdens, and the further curtailment of expenditure, have required the modification of some measures already passed and the postponement to happier times of the completion of other reforms. I pray that the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon your labors."

The Atlantic Sugar Refineries bowlers went into first place in the Clerical League last evening when they defeated the Railway Mail Clerks, who had been tied with them for first place on the Victoria alley. The Refiners took three points from the Mail Clerks in a close game. The Mail Clerks won out by thirty-five pins in the first string; both teams tied in the second, but the Refiners were able to gather enough extra on the final string to win both the second and third and the total pinfall. BASEBALL.
Owner of Boston Braves Goes Scouting for Training Camp.
Boston, Nov. 11—George W. Grant, owner of the Boston National League Baseball Club, left for Hot Springs, Ark., the first stop on his trip south in search of new spring training quarters for the Braves. Manager Fred Mitchell has already returned to Galveston, Texas, where they trained last spring. Grant said he was inclined to favor training quarters in Florida or Louisiana.
SKATING.
Fall on Last Lap Costly to Moore.
(New York Times.)
Joe Moore, national amateur speed-skating champion, gave another illustration of his prowess last night in the weekly carnival at the 181st Street Ice Palace. Starting from scratch in the strong field entered in the one-mile Class A handicap event, the champion was leading before the third lap from the finish had been reached. At this stage of the race Moore appeared to be a sure winner, as he had pulled out in front of the rest of the field without having to extend himself unduly.
On the second turn of the last lap, however, Moore stumbled and fell heavily, and for an instant it seemed that he was out of the race entirely. But it was only for an instant. He was up and away again at the dazzling speed for which he is famous before more than two of the other skaters could pass him, and, while the distance to the finish was too short for him to regain the lead, he was closing the gap rapidly as the three leaders flashed past the final mark.

FOOTBALL.
Mt. Allison Wins.
Sackville, Nov. 10—The Mount Allison football team defeated Acadia this afternoon at Sackville by the score of 6 to 3 after a desperately fought game. Acadia's defeat meant their elimination from all championship hopes for this season and gives the leadership to U. N. B. unless Mount Allison's protest of the province league football championship of the province, because of the school's refusal to play-off for it, is sustained tonight.

BUFF RETAINS BANTAMWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP
New York, Nov. 10—Johnny Buff, world's bantamweight boxing champion, retained his title tonight by obtaining a judges' decision over Jack Sharkey, of New York, at the end of their fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden.
Beaten in a number of the earlier rounds, Buff started a winning offensive in the twelfth round and by the power of his hitting turned the tide against the Italian-American. Buff opened the fight with a rush but Sharkey's well-placed blows slowed him up for awhile. He was staggered by Sharkey's blows on numerous occasions but recuperated quickly.
Sharkey had the better of five rounds, six went to Buff and four were even. Buff weighed 114 pounds and Sharkey 116½.
Bert Collins, of San Francisco, received the judges' decision over George Shale, also of San Francisco, at the end of their eight-round bout.

THEN AS NOW.
(Toronto Globe.)
Mr. Meighen discounts Canadian political history and Canadian common sense. He continues to go about the country pleading for public support solely on the allegation that a change of government will man blue ruin. His talk is pitifully reminiscent of that which wooed the land before the general election of 1896. Then—as now—clinging to office by spreading weird stories of economic and industrial disaster in the event of a change. While soup kitchens operated, while unemployed walked the streets, while trade and agriculture were stagnant, the electors were loudly warned against what would happen if new men were entrusted with the task of government and "laid hands upon the tariff."
The change took place. The only thing to be wiped out was the soup kitchen. Conditions improved. Unemployment ceased. Industry revived and agriculture picked up and prospered. Canada went ahead.
This is the kind of change the country needs today. Mr. Meighen has had his chance, and failed. If the policies of his government are essential to Canada's prosperity, why has he not used them to bring about prosperity? He has been at the head of the government for more than a year, and was a member of it before the war ended. He has done nothing—he advances nothing—to give the country the necessary lead out of railway deficits, revenue shrinkages, unreasonably taxes, trade burdens and unemployment.
The country has come to a realization that the Meighen government—like the government that clung to office prior to 1896—is an obstacle to better conditions. The electors have determined that it ought to be defeated and will be defeated. They know that under the new regime which followed the election of 1896 there came a period of unprecedented and unbroken prosperity. And they are well aware that Canada today would welcome nothing so much as a similar period of settled industry, of steady employment and good times.
