Germany Under Martial Law; Nothing Now Gives Hope That General War Will be Averted Russia And Austria Are Still Carrying On "Conversations" But The Worst is Feared

Not a Stock Exchange in the World Open Today -- Britain's Military and Navy Measures Almost Complete--News of Some Fighting at Points on Austrian Border

London, July 31--Official announcement of the resumption of the "conversations" at St. Petersburg and Vienna, came at the moment when pessimism had taken entire possession of the whole of Europe, and the hope that it might lead to a peaceable solution was grasped with desperation, but the news was offset later in the day by the proclamation of martial law in Germany, which was regarded as a preliminary to mobilization of the German forces for war. Everybody then seemed to settle down to await the news that the European powers had decided to engage in a struggle for supremacy. There was nothing to give the public hope that a general war might be averted.

Today there is not a stock market in the whole world open. It was decided this morning not to open the New York exchange, and soon afterwards came announcement from the chief financial centres of the states that the exchanges in these cities would be closed. Throughout the continent of Europe exchanges had already been closed, and today the London exchange was added to the number, creating a condition that has not existed for many years. It is said that it is half a century since the New York exchange was closed.

ENGLAND READY FOR EVENTUALITIES

London, July 31--Precautionary military and naval measures taken by the British government are almost completed. The great bulk of public opinion here is determined that England must observe her unwritten obligation to assist France in her difficulties with Germany, but a small body of radicals continues to utter objections to England involving herself in the quarrels of the continental powers.

The House of Commons met at noon to clear up the belated business before it and the king gave his assent to the bills already passed, including the Finance bill, so that, should the necessity arise, the members of the house will be free to deal with any proposals or extraordinary measures financially or otherwise.

Despatches from Nish, in Serbia, and from Vienna, tell of encounters between Austrian and Serbian troops on the frontiers, but authentic details of the fighting were lacking. It seems certain that conflicts between the frontier guards have occurred, but military men here say that stories of fighting were heavy losses, such as that said to have occurred at Fotska, are absurd, as it would be impossible for the Serbians, in the time at their disposal, to have crossed the Drina and advanced twenty miles within Austrian territory. It is also argued that the announcement of 500,000 Austrian soldiers being on the march into Serbia is practically impossible, and it is said that Austria cannot have 500,000 men on the move in less than six weeks.

THE NEXT STEP Berlin, July 31--Germany's mobilization will undoubtedly be followed by mobilization of the Russian army. After these two steps a general conflict may be considered certain. London, July 31--The "state of war" proclaimed in Germany, means martial law, under which the military authorities take charge of the situation. The kingdom of Bavaria, however, is excluded from the operation of today's proclamation.

"Conversations" are being carried on in St. Petersburg and Vienna simultaneously, and this fact has aroused an other flicker of hope in London that the opportunity for mutual explanation may form a starting point toward an improvement in the situation. A report stating that Prince Henry of Prussia had gone to St. Petersburg was regarded as a strongly favorable sign, as Emperor William's brother is believed to have more influence over the Emperor of Russia than anyone else.

STAGGERING ESTIMATE OF COST OF A GENERAL WAR Paris, July 31--The cost of a general war in Europe, involving seven of the mighty powers, would be $19,735,025,000 a year, according to Dr. Charles Richart, statistician of the University of Paris. If it lasts at least five years, as diplomats are certain it will do, the cost of the war, without indemnity claims, would reach the amazing total of $98,713,125,000.

STORING SUPPLIES OF GRAIN AND FLOUR Berlin, July 31--A decree proclaiming martial law and the prohibition of publication of news of the movements of German troops and war material, was issued today. The proclamation announces military measures on the frontiers, the armed protection of the railroads and the restriction of telegraphic postal and railroad services except for military purposes.

PORTUGAL MUST HELP ENGLAND Lisbon, Portugal, July 31--The newspapers of the Portuguese capital today reminded the public that the treaty of alliance between Portugal and Great Britain requires Portugal to furnish 10,000 troops to England when she is at war.

RUN ON BANK OF ENGLAND; LONDON TODAY IN PANIC

Business Paralyzed; Failures of Old Firms Feared; Wheat Jumps $4 a Ton--Lloyds Rate For War Insurance Almost Prohibitive

London, July 31--A run has been started on the Bank of England by notes. The Bank of England has increased its discount rate to 8 per cent. The closing of the stock exchange here today, has increased the terrible panic that first seized speculators and investors when the war talk began, and the financial situation now is in a state of unparalleled paralysis. With the Bank of England raising its discount rate from three to four per cent, and the prospect of another advance, being made within twenty-four hours, with wheat soaring to a record mark, an utter stagnation of the security market, two brokerage firms being forced to the wall overnight and others in financial difficulty, the situation today was one that was viewed with horror by the moneyed men of Europe. The industrial world must soon reflect conditions in the financial world, and the shortage of money and almost ruinous discount rates threaten the future of many of the oldest established firms in England and throughout Europe.

Wheat Up $4 a Ton--Lloyds Rate For War Insurance Almost Prohibitive. The market for wheat today made a sensational rise of $4 a ton overnight, and even higher prices were offered today, with little of the commodity in sight. One firm bought 20,000 tons of American wheat today at an advance of about a ton over the price that prevailed last week. Every effort is being made by London bankers to protect the gold bullion reserve, but the output still assumes huge proportions, and there will be no real check on one side movement until the old orders are filled. All of this gold has been shipped to other European countries. Business at Lloyds, with the exception of that done along insurance lines, is at a standstill. The company is being deluged with requests for insurance against the ravages of war, but Lloyds were loath to take such risks, and have hoisted the premiums to an almost prohibitive figure. The government of the stock exchange here announced that the July settlement for securities, due today, has been postponed until August 31 and that the settlement due on Aug. 31, was to be made at the end of the next month.

Today's War News

"Conversations" were resumed today by the Russian and Austrian governments. Martial law was proclaimed throughout Germany. Stock exchanges were closed everywhere. Several encounters between Austrian and Serbian troops resulted in the Serbian army retreating the advance of the invaders. The great German liners Imperator and Vaterland were taken off the trans-Atlantic service. Wild patriotic enthusiasm prevailed all night in St. Petersburg. Vienna has been kept in ignorance of events at the front and Germany has imposed a rigid censorship on despatches, which are greatly delayed.

ing cash and the inability to sell the securities caused credit business automatically to cease, and the closing of the exchange became necessary. The street today was full of despair and their clerks, discussing the situation in a more or less mournful tone.

Liverpool, July 31--The stock exchange here was closed for business today.

Manchester, Eng., July 31--The committee of the Manchester Stock Exchange ordered the market closed today.

Glasgow, July 31--The stock exchange here and in Edinburgh were both closed today.

German Rate Advances Berlin, July 31--The rate of discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany was raised from 4 to 5 per cent today.

Six Per Cent. Vienna, July 31--The bank rate here was today advanced to six per cent.

Paris, July 31--Transactions on the bourse today were fewer and the quotations were almost without significance. The private discount rate was 4 1/2 per cent.

Money Stringency in Berlin Berlin, July 31--Money is almost impossible to obtain, and it is known that at least a dozen brokerage and banking firms are in difficulties and several suspensions are apprehended. American visitors after at first treating the chief reason for the unprecedented action of the committee was the fact that system of credit had practically broken down and it was impossible to carry on business in the ordinary way. This situation did not arise through over-speculation but because bankers could not collect margins which had been gradually shrinking, while at the same time the continent continued to pour stocks into London.

Wellington, New Zealand, July 31--William F. Massey, prime minister of New Zealand, today announced to parliament that the government proposed to offer the services of an expeditionary force to the imperial government if events necessitated it. All the members then sang "God Save the King."

Mr. Carvell Calls For Action By The Commissioners Declares it Clear Case of Contempt of Court--Messrs Teed & Fowler Express Themselves--A Little Evidence Having To Do With The Finances

A. R. Gould, president of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company, was on the stand at the Dugal inquiry into the railway matters all morning, but did not have much opportunity to give evidence. Practically the whole morning was devoted to a battle between the opposing counsel and the witness was allowed to answer only a small proportion of the few questions addressed to him.

The first occurrence of interest occurred when Mr. Carvell demanded the books of the New York office of the railway company. Mr. Gould said that he had written for the books and had instructed his solicitor to wire; he professed astonishment that they had not arrived. Mr. Carvell said that the conduct of the company was an insult to the court and that its officers had laid themselves open to commitment for contempt.

Messrs Teed and G. W. Fowler, M. P., counsel for the defence, said that if they were witnesses as Mr. Gould, they would not produce the books at least until it could be proved that they were relevant. The commissioners took exception to the view that witness or their counsel could dictate to the court. Mr. Carvell then asked that a date be fixed on which the books should be produced and, if this failed, that the president and all the directors be proceeded against for contempt of court. The commission took this under consideration and will announce their decision later.

Mr. Gould on the Stand. When the morning session opened Mr. Carvell called A. R. Gould, Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Thompson to the stand. Mr. Gould was in the city, but not in court, as he expected Ross Thompson to be on the stand. Mr. Teed asked for an opportunity to cross examine Mr. Thompson, but Mr. Carvell said he wished to examine Mr. Gould before continuing Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Gould was sent for and when he arrived took the stand for examination by Mr. Carvell. In reply to questions, Mr. Gould said that he was president of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company, incorporated in New Brunswick with head office in Fredericton. The company also has an office in New York, where the books were kept. He did not have the books with him. He had written to F. H. Lisman & Co. asking them to send them and had told Mr. Guthrie to wire for them. He denied having issued any instructions that they should not be sent.

denials of their intention to mobilize was regarded as a favorable sign that everything possible was being done to prevent a clash. It was evident everywhere today that the military authorities were quietly preparing for the speedy moving of troops in case the order for mobilization should be given.

At many of the banks in Berlin this morning army officers were seen making inquiries to make their own arrangements for their families, while many women were there to deposit their valuables in the safety vaults.

Members of the various royal families of Germany, spending their vacations away from their homes, hurried back today.

TOURISTS HELD UP Eight Hundred Left to Own Devices Because Imperial Sailing Cancelled. London, July 31--The Hamburg-American Steamship Company has cancelled the sailing of the steamer Imperator from Hamburg today. The company sent notices to the 800 first-class passengers waiting here for the Imperator, that the company had been compelled to postpone the sailing owing to the political situation.

The passengers, of whom about 50 per cent are Americans returning after European trips, have been left by the company to make their own arrangements. The company, however, says the moment the situation clears, the Imperator will sail for New York, and the passengers will be given due notice of the date of her departure.

Hamburg, July 31--Besides suspending the sailing from Hamburg of the Imperator, it was reported today that the Hamburg-American line had also ordered the Vaterland to stay at New York to await developments. The other Hamburg-American liners, however, will continue the service. Shipping to Baltic ports has been entirely suspended.

In St. Petersburg St. Petersburg, July 31--The population of the Russian capital kept awake throughout the night and the streets resounded with the din of patriotic demonstrations.

Kaiser Gets Noted Hotel Man To Run His Household and Check Wholesale Thievery "Below Stairs"—Some Austrian Matters

(Copyright, 1914, by the Brentwood Company.)

Emperor William has once again given a striking illustration of that modernity which is blended unquely with the medieval and mystic sides of his interesting character, by entrusting to Conrad Uhl, one of the most widely known Bonifaces of Europe, the task of entering for his entire household. Conrad Uhl, a Bavarian by birth, and a captain of infantry on the reserve list of the Bavarian army, is known to nearly every American or Canadian who has ever visited Berlin, as the owner of the Hotel Adlon.

Among all the hotel-keepers of Germany, he is perhaps the most successful, and assuredly the one most up to date. The household of an emperor, or of a king, has much analogy with a big hotel. Even in ordinary times the number of persons whose rank and status entitle them to be fed at the expense of Emperor William, averages from eight hundred to a thousand in a single day, while this number is even doubled and trebled when on such occasions as the wedding of the Kaiser's only daughter to the sovereign Duke of Brunswick. Then he is called upon to extend his hospitality to a whole contingent of reigning sovereigns such as the Czar, King George of Great Britain, the Kings of Saxony, Wurtemberg and Bavaria, each of whom brings a perfect army of retainers of high and low degree in his train.

They, too, there are the court balls during the winter season, where the number of guests who have to be provided with supper, ranges from four to even six thousand, at a single function.

During the reign of the late Emperor William, who was a man of most simple and abstemious tastes, the waste and robbery to which he was subjected in this connection, was something inconceivable, but was in keeping with the system that prevailed at the courts of Vienna and St. Petersburg, and at that of Queen Victoria, the loss in each case amounting, through dishonesty and waste, to fifty and even sixty per cent.

thievery, to a considerable extent, it affected injuriously the quality of the cuisine.

Realizing this, and thoroughly dissatisfied, the Emperor took the occasion of the recent retirement of old Count August Eulenburg, who had been the grand master and supreme controller of his court ever since his accession, to consult the count's successor, Baron Hugo von Reischach, about the matter and at his suggestion called into council Conrad Uhl, as the most capable Boniface within the length and breadth of the German empire.

Uhl was invited by the Kaiser to institute a most searching investigation of all the conditions of what may be described as "life below stairs," in the imperial palaces, and to make use of his experience as a successful hotel manager, to report on the possibilities of increasing the efficiency and quality, while reducing the cost, and abolishing the transparent abuses which had resisted all the efforts of the monarch to eradicate.

The report of Uhl was of such a startling character, showed such untoward results, corruption and mismanagement, at the expense of the imperial palate and purse, that the Kaiser, realizing that it was hopeless to expect any of his court officials to accomplish the work of cleaning out the Augean stable requested Uhl to undertake it, and to assume the entire charge of the feeding of the reigning family, of their guests, of the dignitaries of the court, and of their retainers of every class and degree, running the entire business on hotel lines.

Conrad Uhl, who is a very rich man, has accepted the task.

The question naturally arises, what inducements have been offered to him to undertake this task, seeing that he is already possessed of a very large fortune?

It is said that his reward will take the form of elevation to the nobility for himself and family.

To what extent the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand was at daggers drawn with the other princes of the sovereign house of Hapsburg, is strikingly shown by the fact that his death under such shocking circumstances has been immediately followed by the reappointment to active command in the army, of all those archdukes who had been driven to resign them, by his hostility. Even Archduke Francis Salvator, husband of the Emperor's youngest and favorite daughter, Valerie, and who with his wife and

PHY THE POOR DIPLOMAT
One Must Have Independent Means To Enter This Life

(Times Special Correspondence.)
London, July 20—Those critics who have complained of the difficulties of diplomats abroad and who are agitating for a living wage for ambassadors and others would do well to read the recent disclosure by Sir Arthur Nicolson, permanent under secretary of state for foreign affairs in the British government.

According to Sir Arthur, who is really the directing genius of England's foreign affairs, candidates for positions in the English diplomatic service are first asked to guarantee that they have an independent income of at least $2,000 a year. This is not done with the idea of limiting the positions to young men of the moneyed class but simply to be sure that the man can live in a foreign capital.

"For the first two years when he goes abroad," Sir Arthur says, "he gets no salary at all, and even for his early years as third and second secretary, his salary is very modest and, especially as an attaché, he has to go to some of the bigger capitals, and living there is very expensive, and if one were not sure that he had a certain minimum to live upon, we should have a series of bankrupts dotted over Europe." In St. Petersburg, for instance, my last post, I was frequently asked by parents what was the minimum on which an attaché could

It is an inferior grade of shoe and I will never pass it off as anything better. Mark it 'A Shoe Fit for a Queen' and put it in the window. A queen does not have to do much walking."

3-in-One Oil is a minimum on sewing machines, blotches or stains the best thing to do is to free yourself of the stain itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercuric wash, which can be had at any drug store. Use at night as you use cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin particles go to pieces and are removed. Gradually the entire surface is freed of its impurities and a new, healthy, smooth skin is formed. The skin is soft, white and sparkling beauty is regained in no time.

Your Stove Should Have These Good Points

THERE are at least three extraordinary points in a Gurney-Oxford Stove.

The first is a point in fuel economy: the grates are so designed that the fire gets plenty of air; the fire is bright and smoky; there are no smouldering, wasteful tinklers.

The second is a point in economy and comfort: The Gurney-Oxford Economizer is the only damper on the stove. The fire can be dampened to a mere spark but it never goes out, and by moving the handle it will be hot and bright again.

The heat is conveyed from the fire through divided flues over and around the oven. The oven is always evenly heated.

We would like to demonstrate these points to you, because they have made the Gurney-Oxford the favorite stove in thousands of Canadian homes. You are invited to see the Gurney-Oxford.

WAR AND PANIC

Germany had not declared war upon Russia at noon, in spite of a New York despatch to that effect; but "a state of war" had been proclaimed in Germany, giving the military charge of the country, and the next step, at any hour now, may be a declaration of war against the Czar. This was London's interpretation of the situation early this afternoon.

With every stock exchange in the world closed, with a run on the Bank of England, an upward leap in the price of wheat, the forced suspension of liquidation in stocks to prevent a financial debacle, and everyone of the big European nations straining at the leash, the situation this morning is one of stress and strain and of ghastly possibilities such as our generation has never before experienced. It far outdoes the days of Foshoda and of Agadir in gravity and in peril. At any hour may come Armageddon.

Great Britain will be drawn into war the moment the German sword comes out of the scabbard. Canada, an integral and loyal part of the Empire, will instantly accept its full measure of responsibility in the expenditure of blood and treasure. Our country's duty and its honor, and the call of the blood demand such a declaration from our people and they will be found more than equal to the obligation. War is to be lamented and to be avoided so long as it can be avoided with honor—but no longer. When the British Lion moves by field and by flood to meet the challenge of the foe the Lion's whelps must keep step. And they will.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

There is a quickened beat of the pulse of the Liberal party in New Brunswick because of the promised visit of the revered chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He is assured a demonstrative welcome. That this is his due, even his most bitter political opponents cannot gainsay. Their interest or their bias may keep them silent among their applauding fellows, but none there is who can say that the record of the great Canadian has been other than to add lustre to our statesmanship. Few leaders have held so firmly the allegiance of their followers over such a span of years; none, perhaps, through the days of triumph as well as defeat, have so well retained the admiration of opponents.

ANSWERING THE PRAYER FOR BREAD

The latest bulletin of the Bureau of Labor of the United States government devotes itself to a study of the middleman's contribution to the cost of wheat and flour to the consumer. No doubt the middleman is responsible for a large part of the increase in the cost of living, but so far as the millers are concerned, this report exonerates them from the charge of exacting an unreasonable toll. The statement of one miller visited was: "I will contract to grind all the wheat you will bring us, give you all the flour made, and in addition furnish the sacking for your flour, provided I may have the feed for my pigs?" Competition is generally keen in the business of handling wheat and flour, and the element of speculation is never absent. There may at times be local agreements as to prices, and occasionally a man or group of men may attempt a corner in wheat, but the field is so broad and so easily entered that no monopoly can be maintained.

No man is in the wheat business save for the profit he hopes to make, but the percentages which are taken by the various hands through which the wheat passes is not sufficient to make a perceptible difference in the weekly budget of the average family. The farmer delivers his wheat to the operator of the country elevator who tests, weighs and receives it. The elevator operator usually buys at about three cents per bushel under the price at which he can sell on track at the time. Competition generally keeps him down to a margin of about three cents; a decline in the wheat market at the time of shipping may turn his apparent profit into a loss, and on the other hand, an advance may give him a larger profit than he anticipated. The report states that elevator margins have been about the same since 1906. The commission men receive one cent a bushel for handling wheat. Jobbers make what they can but they figure on about one cent a bushel. A fortunate purchase or sale or a change in the market may cause a good profit, while some adverse conditions may make the transaction a losing one. The terminal elevator charges add another cent to the toll. In Kansas City the charge is one cent per bushel for the first twenty days or part thereof, and one-fourth of a cent for each subsequent day.

It is the transportation companies that first begin to exact the large tolls. Taking the state of Kansas, the report says that a fair estimate of the average rate from the hard wheat area in Kansas to Kansas City is about twelve cents per 100 pounds or 7.2 cents per bushel. Hauling from the prairie to the sea must make a very considerable addition to the cost per bushel. The four jobber takes as his toll about an average of fifty cents per quarter-barrel sack—forty-eight or forty-nine pounds.

All who undertake to answer the world's prayer for bread, do so of course from the profit they expect to make. The farmer of necessity takes great risks. He invests his labor and seed, the use of his land, power and tools. He assumes the risk of making a crop or of having a whole or a partial failure, and he assumes the risk of the price per bushel of the wheat he may harvest. A year of good crops may mean a competence, an adverse year may mean the loss of his land, the foreclosure of the mortgage and the piteous of poverty. Any year he may find the government under the control of the protected interests, and the latter straddled on his back like the old-man-of-the-sea, exacting their tribute. Indeed, in Canada this is an evil more to be dreaded than rust or snow in harvest. It is the ultimate calamity for the farmer.

This report does not consider the baking of flour into bread, but home baking is greatly decreasing throughout the country and the percentage of flour passing through the bakery is rapidly increasing. If home baking were more common it might have some effect in decreasing the cost of living. But a point that should be emphasized is the importance of milling to a country that produces wheat. The mills are said to sell flour in bulk at the mills at less than the cost of the wheat required to make it. The cost of manufacture, the profit, and the loss of the flour is covered by the value of the by-product—feed. St. John is in an ideal position to become a milling centre, and the by-product would originate and stimulate many other industries.

War between Austria and Serbia is had enough, but if all Europe becomes drawn into it the world will be staggered as never since the days of Austerlitz and Waterloo.

Canadian troops are ready to bear a hand should Britain become involved in war. But what of assistance to the Empire at sea? Australia and New Zealand have battalions to place at the disposal of the admiralty, but Sir Robert Borden is found wanting in face of a real "emergency."

The importance of the police inquiry now being held here must not be lost sight of in the happenings of world wide interest demanding such general attention. Already there have come to the front facts which make it patent that better conditions must be brought about.

There has been relief from the blasting nuisance at Courtenay Bay for some time, but some charges set off last night seemed to have gathered the might of many. The city was shaken. It is to be hoped that this business will not again have to be made the subject of complaints and further action.

Again we hear that the provincial government mean to throw Premier Fleming overboard and will try to hold together under re-organization. The people will not permit this manipulation. The government members must answer to them and that very soon. There must be an election.

Differences of the moment, some of them serious enough, are sunk by the rival parties in the Mother Land and Britain stands sturdily ready for eventualities. She wants peace and still strives hard to prevent a great war, but if it must come it will find her sons shoulder to shoulder, irrespective of party affiliations.

"The wretched sex war is making men less courteous to women and women more aggressive to men," said Lord Cromer in a speech opposing woman suffrage. He declared he could not see why an imprisoned woman who refused to take food should not be permitted to commit suicide if she wanted to.

LIGHTER VEIN

The ferryman, while plying over a water which was only slightly agitated, was asked by a timid lady in his boat whether any persons were ever lost in that river.

"Oh, no," said he, "We always find 'em again the next day."

"Why doesn't somebody build on this vacant lot? You seem to be short on civic enterprise."

"Quite the contrary, stranger. The man who owns that lot has too much public spirit to build on it."

"How do you make that out?"

"That's where the circus shows when it comes to town."

A party of automobilists were touring and one day found that their destination compelled them to dine at a hotel which was not one of their "ideals." However, they decided to make the best of it, and proceeded to the dining-room.

"What is this leathery stuff?"

"That is a file of sole, sir," replied the waiter.

"Take it away," said the guest, after attacking it with his fork, "and see if you can't get me a nice, tender piece of Harper's Magazine."

Where Shall I Invest My Money?

This is a question that often bothers us when we have any surplus money. Some people are born rich and do not have to provide for independence, others are looking for investments that will bring them in good dividends. The Silver Black Fox Industry in P. E. Is there any other industry that would do this? 1914 dividends will be even greater than before. Now is the time to invest. Send in your application today to the

This capitalization included all expenses for the first year up to September 1, 1915. In other words, the breeding stock will be ranches, cared for, fed and all expenses paid for the first year without any cost whatever to the shareholders. Instead of paying the 10 per cent to 15 per cent, increase charge paid to most ranches this money will go directly into the pocket of the investor.

Each director is placing practically all his fox investments in this enterprise and the directors have their interests so involved in this ranch that they cannot afford to let their interest and watchful care lapse for a moment. The best breeding stock has been secured and one of the strongest, safest and most convenient ranches yet established is being erected and equipped.

Wm. Moran, Secretary-Treasurer
St. Lawrence Silver Black Fox Company, Ltd.
I hereby make application for shares of the capital stock of the St. Lawrence Silver Black Fox Co. Ltd., Charlottetown, P. E. Island and enclose $ being 20 per cent. of total amount and agree to pay the balance on or before the first of August, 1914.
Should stock not be allotted it is understood that all money paid by me will be returned in full.

The History of The Industry

If you inquire, you will find that the majority of rich men in P. E. Island have made their money in the Fox Industry, which, while yet in its infancy, shows the probability of making a great many more rich men. This being the case, you should not let this opportunity of increasing the earning powers of your money pass without giving it your careful consideration.

Directors ARE Reliable Men

This is a most important feature when you consider that these are the men that you must look to for a square deal. Read the list over carefully and you will certainly conclude that an investment here is as safe with better prospects than money in the bank. This Company has only a limited amount of stock for sale. Secure yours today. This is a gilt-edge proposition.

IN KANSAS CITY.

In Kansas City they love to tell of a certain wealthy meat-packer who never loses an opportunity to impress upon visitors to his house the great extent of his riches. He was showing a caller from the east through his palatial mansion on one occasion when they stopped before a handsome plate-glass mirror, of massive size, above the fire-place in the drawing-room.

BECAME A DEBTOR.

The lady in the water was in difficulties, and the man on the pier could not swim. "Help! Help!" he shouted; twenty pounds for the man who saves my wife! A boatman put off promptly, and brought the drowning lady safely to the pier. The man's face, white with terror before, was ashen grey as he gazed upon the features of the lady. "What about that twenty pounds?" inquired the boatman. "Man, I took this lady to be my wife. It's her mother!"

The poet of cheer sat in his library, deep in thought, while his poor wife was wringing after the fashion of Eve with the serpents of domestic care. "Really, Wadsworth," the good woman said as she entered the room timidly, "I hate to disturb you, but you must do something about the coal. There isn't a scufflet left in the cell."

(Continued from page 1). Ottawa, July 31—Should the government-in-council consider the European emergency of such a nature as to warrant calling out of the Canadian militia for the defence of Canada, beyond her shores, parliament will have to be called within fifteen days of that decision. It is thought more than probable that the Canadian parliament will have a mid-summer session this year.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, July 31—The developments in the cotton market yesterday will go into history along with those of the Sully campaign, while in many respects the causes responsible for the break of 65 to 95 points are of more far-reaching gravity than anything affecting the market in a generation.

A European war is a catastrophe, the outcome of which from a cotton standpoint no man can determine.

The late Cy Warman, who deserted railway literature for a real railway job in Montreal, told this story at a luncheon not long before his death.

The Best Quality at a Reasonable Price. Close Work Strains The Strongest Eyes. It is easy to understand why constant application to close work, such as must be done by office and factory workers, is hard on the eyes. Certain eye muscles are over-worked, and others under-worked. The result is bound to be injurious to good sight. All that is necessary in most instances, to keep the vision normal is a pair of properly fitted glasses. You who are employed at work should have your eyes examined by competent experts. Doing so may add years to your good sight. Our facilities for examining eyes, grinding lenses and fitting glasses are not equalled in the Maritime Provinces. L. L. Sharpe & Son Jewelers and Opticians 21 King Street, St. John, N. B.

BRAMAN AND OTHERS IN COURT

John H. Braman, charged with the murder of Frank E. O'Leary, was brought before Magistrate Ritchie this morning and was arraigned with William Leggett, charged with breaking and entering H. J. Mowatt's drug store, and J. G. Carleton's dry goods store.

The preliminary examination in these charges was begun.

When the boys were brought into court by Acting Sergeant Ross, the magistrate ordered Braman to sit in a corner by himself, while the other boys were separated so that they could not see one another.

The magistrate referred to a report which appeared in the Times on the last occasion when the boys were brought into court.

He thought that the proper officials should have notified the actions of the boys and stopped them. The magistrate said that as a rule the police court was orderly, of which he was quite proud.

Braman's father was in court this morning and after the proceedings, he was given permission by the magistrate to speak to his son. This was on application of Urban J. Sweeney, Braman's counsel.

H. J. Mowatt gave evidence of the robbery of his drug store. It had been robbed on a previous occasion. At the second robbery about $800 was taken.

Mr. Carleton told his story at his dry goods store in Waterloo street.

Urban J. Sweeney appeared for Braman and H. J. Smith for Petrie; C. P. Inches for Go-Gingham and R. Murray for Leggett. No evidence was taken on the murder charge this morning, and the boys were remanded to jail on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Jack Now Has a Prejudice Against Canoes :: :: By James Sminnerton

EVER since the English & Scotch Woollen Co. have been in business they have made a specialty of $15 Made-to-Order Suits, not only because there are countless men who do not care to pay more, but also because we knew we could tailor a splendid suit at that figure. We have taken such pains with our $15 suit that we have built up a flattering $15 Tailoring Service.

Of course our Tailored-to-Measure Suits must not be confused with the average $15 Suits—they are so much better in every way that comparisons are out of the reckoning. We do not buy manufacturers' made-up lines. Our "Direct from the Mill" Woollens are made up—in our own work-rooms—to the special order of our customers and to fit the demand of the hour.

Our idea in thus specializing is to create and maintain such a distinctive $15 line that no other tailor or store can possibly duplicate either style or quality at the price. The result of our efforts is that there is from $10 to $15 more actual value in fabric and workmanship in our $15 garments than in any other $15 line on the market. Give us your order today.

Summer Suitings Tailored to Your Personal Measure

Mail Tailoring

Mail orders are coming in from farther and farther afield and our swell clothes are replacing the "rural" kind. Men who were never able to hold their own with the "City folks" are today enjoying the satisfaction of being well dressed for less money through our Mail Order Dept. Send for samples, measuring chart and style book. No figure too hard to fit, and no added charges for "extras."

What We Do to Satisfy You

We would rather pay any man the price of a suit than let him go away with the slightest reason for complaint, and I will be glad to hear, personally, from any customer who feels that he hasn't received the attention, workmanship, or fit that has made our suits at $15.00 famous. We are busy, but never too busy to give a fair and square deal to every man. If we don't please you, tell us; if we do, send your friends along.

OBJECTIONS TO INQUIRY INTO $350,000 LOAN

After Evidence of Payments of Large Amounts to A. R. Gould, Counsel For Defence Engages in Desperate Battle to Prevent Further Inquiry

The uses to which the $350,000, borrowed from the Prudential Trust Company, was put was the subject of evidence and argument at the afternoon session of the Dugal inquiry yesterday. It was shown that the money was borrowed by four of the promoters of the railway but that the construction company assumed the liability and paid off $207,000 of the debt. This, Mr. Carvell argued, gave the commission the right to inquire into the disposition of the fund.

Proceeding with the examination of the witness on the stand Mr. Carvell showed various payments from this fund to A. R. Gould, for which transactions there was no explanation forthcoming. Counsel for the defence then made a determined effort to prevent further inquiry along this line and the argument continued until the time of adjournment when the question was still unsettled.

Ross Thompson was the only witness yesterday as neither Mr. Gould nor the books from the New York office arrived. T. J. Carter, referring to the evidence of the previous day, asked if Mr. Holland was to be called by Mr. Carvell to support the intimation that Mr. McLeod had offered him the appointment of arbitrator if he would not give an award greater than the company's offer. Mr. Carvell refused to be dictated to by Mr. Carter and, when Mr. Carter appealed to the commission, the chairman only smiled and said it was the first time he had ever been asked to order either side in a case to produce witnesses.

The examination of Mr. Thompson brought out that on May 29, 1912, six days after the $350,000 loan had been arranged, the witness paid $10,000 to A. R. Gould. The witness had no explanation of this other than that the money was made from a personal bank account of his own.

On June 8, 1912, a payment of $15,000 was made from the same fund to the Quebec and St. John Construction Company but this, the witness said, went to pay for construction.

A check dated February 24, 1913 for $10,000, payable to A. R. Gould, was produced.

Mr. Guthrie—Do you think that was for election expenses?
Mr. Carvell—Oh, no, all the election bills were paid by that time and the balance invested in western lands.
Mr. Guthrie—Is that so?
Mr. Carvell—Yes, and I will give you the names if you want any more information.

Mr. Guthrie—(With some excitement) Whose business is it if Mr. Flemming did invest in western lands? (General laughter at Mr. Guthrie's expense).

The witness said that the $10,000 was returned by Mr. Gould in two $5,000 payments in May. The transactions did not go through any of the company's books but were shown only in the bank books.

The balance of the session was devoted to the argument regarding the right of the commission to go further in investigating the use of the rest of the $350,000 loan.

LOCAL WAR NEWS

A local militia conference was held yesterday by Major T. Hamilton-Grey, of the R. C. R. Fredericton, with commanding officers of the local militia here.

If war results from the present crisis it is feared that St. John will suffer loss of shipping. Tramp steamers will be withdrawn and the lumber industry seriously crippled. Freight rates for tramp steamers will be greatly advanced under government services.

KITCHENER'S AMBITION

To Be Viceroy of India Said To Be His Chief Wish

(Times Special Correspondence.) London, July 29.—The return of Lord Kitchener to England at this moment, while more or less in the nature of a much-needed holiday, is not unconnected with the greatest desire of his life. One of his closest friends some months ago told the writer that the field marshal, who has just been raised to the rank of an earl, would never rest until he became Viceroy of India. That has been his greatest ambition since the memorable days when he was commander-in-chief of the British forces there and Lord Curzon was viceroy. The soldier and the statesman had a famous quarrel in those days ending in the latter being recalled. Those who know Kitchener's enormous influence with King George and Queen Mary and who realize the almost unlimited indirect power of the throne in England today, are confident that Kitchener's complete triumph cannot be long delayed. It is expected that Lord Hardinge, the present viceroy, will soon announce his retirement to the Paris embassy "on account of ill-health," and that Kitchener, who, by the way, is not a favorite with the present government, will step into his shoes. There is no denying that affairs in India are in a bad way, that wide-spread revolt is possible at any moment, that the life of none of the leading English administrators is safe and that affairs in general need a strong man of Kitchener's mould to set them right. Constipation is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is slow suicide. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

COREAN JUSTICE. Until Recently Trials Were Most One-Sided and Unjust. This Korean judge dispenses justice in the open and by etiquette only the judge can sit. Every one else must stand, except the prisoner and his friends, who are forced to remain in a humble kneeling position with bowed heads. Until quite recently these traits were always very one-sided and shockingly unjust. When a man was brought to a judge it was taken for granted he was guilty, and if he did not confess he was tortured and made to do so. Witnesses, too, were openly bribed. In fact, giving evidence for or against an accused person meant a living to a portion of the community, and these witnesses naturally favored those who paid best,

MORE NEW EVIDENCE IS BROUGHT OUT AT PROBE OF ST. JOHN POLICE AFFAIRS

Several witnesses testified this morning in the hearing of the charges against the chief of police, but all the evidence with the exception of that of Policeman Hickey, was a repetition of former testimony.

On the night of the riot I was on the King square beat and went to Market square when the riot occurred. One of the cavalrymen knocked me down. I did not see Lucas struck.

On the night of the riot I was on Market square with Policeman Sullivan. I got the names of two people and they have been arrested.

John C. Chesley, agent of marine and fisheries, formerly at City Hall, said he was asked to write a statement by the chief of police. The statement was dictated by the chief and signed by Maxine Fred Hickey, appointed on February 12, said he was instructed by the deputy chief three days after appointment.

GOULD HERE BUT NO BOOKS

Chairman—It is not for a witness or his counsel to say that books which are ordered by court are not necessary.

Mr. Teed—It is a matter of relevancy. Chairman—Of which the witness is to be the judge?

Mr. Teed—I would not go that far. Chairman—Do you say that you are not going to produce the books?

Mr. Teed—I am not in a position to say, but if I were the person to give advice, I would say that they should not be produced.

Chairman—But Mr. Guthrie has been holding out hopes that they would be here on every train. There has been no refusal so far.

Mr. Carvell—All I ask the commission to do is to instruct the witness to produce the books at a certain date, and, if they are not then produced, to proceed against him and all the other directors for contempt.

Chairman—It did not occur to me. It would be an unfortunate circumstance if counsel attempted to bluff the commission.

Mr. Carvell—to whom did you write about the books? Witness—F. J. Lisman & Co. I have received an answer but the explanation I have in my mind is that Mr. Lisman is in London and his office help may not have felt at liberty to send the books over to answer the letter.

Chairman—You propose that any witness can take it upon himself to disobey this court? Mr. Fowler—If the matter is not relevant.

Chairman—Who is to be the judge? Mr. Fowler—The books are private business.

Mr. Carvell—I do not think that it is private business. Mr. Fowler—What is behind it all, a student?

Chairman—And if there is no wrong doing the simplest way is to bring the books here and produce them.

Mr. Stevens—It appears to me that the proposition was put forward by my learned friends in the most novel I ever heard. Mr. Gould might just as well declare he has come here himself.

Chairman—It is on the same footing. Mr. Guthrie is my only hope, he may have them here any moment. (Laughter.)

Judge Wells—The witness apparently is willing to take his chances and if the books are shown to be material he will take the punishment.

Mr. Carvell—The witness said he had the right to commit the witness to jail for thirty days.

Mr. Carvell—I am afraid you honor is showing great faith or great innocence. (Laughter.)

Mr. Carvell (to witness)—When was handed back for a statement of the disposition of the cases and the number of special assignments and how they were disposed of?

A—December, 1911. Q—When did you commence construction? A—About June 1, 1912.

Q—At what point? A—Between Fredericton and Woodstock.

Proceeding the witness said the Prudential railway company was the depository of the funds. He and Mr. Lisman made the arrangements and reported to the government.

Q—Did you know if any funds of the railway company had been placed in Mr. Thompson's hands before May 29, 1912?

A—Some of the first moneys of the railway company were put through Mr. Thompson's private account.

Q—Did the $10,000 come from that account? A—I don't know what account it came from. I was glad to get it, and I did not ask where it came from.

Q—Did Mr. Thompson owe you that money? A—No. Q—Do you know if it was railway money you received?

A—I had no reason to believe that it was. Q—Was the payment made on account of private affairs?

Objected to. Q—Who did the Gleaser give you for the $1,000? A—Some printing and advertising.

Q—Do you know that the advertising was paid for otherwise? A—No, I don't know.

Q—With whom did you negotiate the transaction? A—James H. Crockett.

The commission adjourned for lunch. ALLAN LINE Steamer Tunitian arrived at Liverpool at 6 o'clock last evening.

despite the statement in the agreement, the $1,000,000 did not cover all his claims against the railway company. He had another claim of $5,000.

Mr. Fowler objected to the examination saying that the arrangement of such affairs was a legal fiction observed in every company ever organized, even Mr. Carvell's electric light company.

Mr. Carvell promptly offered to allow him to examine the books to prove that there was no water but (amid considerable laughter) Mr. Fowler refused to take him up.

The witness said he had transferred his construction company stock to his son L. E. Gould, E. K. Barnard, F. J. Lisman, H. E. Macdonnell and Ross Thompson.

Mr. Fowler objected but Mr. Carvell said that his final questions would show his object.

Mr. Fowler—(Hotly)—Why don't you ask your final questions first? (Laughter.)

The witness said that he did not know how Mr. Howard had his stock for himself or Mr. Lisman, and the same regarding Mr. Chestnut and Mr. Macdonnell, he transferred some stock to Mr. Edgecombe.

Mr. Carvell asked if the arrangement between the two companies was not an agreement between the same men on each side. The witness demanded that there was some difference in the ownership of the two companies.

Mr. Carvell asked if the return of the railway stock was the reason for the agreement to pay the construction company ten per cent additional on the cost of the road.

The witness said that he could not say and would not say anything about his private affairs.

Mr. Carvell asked if the credit entry of $888,000 to the railway company in the construction company's books, was the result of this agreement. Mr. Gould said he did not know.

The $350,000 loan Regarding the loan of $350,000 in May 1912, from the Prudential Trust Company, the witness said he immediately received $50,000 on account. He did not remember when the second payment was made but the books in New York would show. These books contained a record of all the money received from the trust company until a year later when payments were made direct to the construction company.

The witness thought he got $25,000 on May 21.

Mr. Fowler objected to a question about the next $50,000 but the witness said he did not know when it was paid.

Q—Do you know that on June 8, 1912, you and Mr. Lisman got $25,000 from that fund?

Objected to. The witness said he did remember that the two companies agreed that the construction company should repay the $250,000 loan.

Mr. Fowler objected again and Mr. Carvell wanted to know why all these objections should be made so soon as the big witness of the case went on the stand. "What are they afraid of?" he asked.

We feel it is about time this was cleared up," said Mr. Fowler.

Continuing Mr. Carvell asked if the witness knew that portions of the $800,000 had been paid out of the proceeds of the bonds and the witness said that he knew in a general way that some payments had been made.

Mr. Carvell asked him if he knew anything of the disposition of the progress estimates after May 1 but the witness said he did not.

In the midst of a vigorous argument between counsel the news was brought to the court that the witness had declared war upon Russia and the chairman ceased. "That being the case let us adjourn the war."

After an innocent question by Mr. Carvell the witness objected to be asked by Mr. Teed. "That is a question they will ask themselves," said Mr. Carvell. "I have asked it for them."

Mr. Teed—What was the question? Mr. Carvell—"I thought so, he did not even know to write he was objecting."

Witness said that a progress estimate for June has just been prepared, claiming about $85,000 on one account, and $20,000 on another.

Mr. Carvell—Do you know if any payments have been made on the $200,000 since Mr. Brown gave evidence that $207,000 had been repaid?

A—I have no evidence of such payment. The chairman pressed the question and the witness said he knew in a general way whether further payments had been made, but did not know the exact amount.

Q—Mr. Thompson swore yesterday that he gave you a check for $10,000 on the 29, 1912; do you know anything about that?

Mr. Teed objected. Q—Did Mr. Thompson owe you $10,000 at this time?

Objected to. Q—Do you know if any funds of the railway company had been placed in Mr. Thompson's hands before May 29, 1912?

A—Some of the first moneys of the railway company were put through Mr. Thompson's private account.

Q—Did the $10,000 come from that account? A—I don't know what account it came from. I was glad to get it, and I did not ask where it came from.
