AT WORK AT ONCE UPON ARRIVAL IN THE DOMINION

Sir Henry Thornton, New C. N. R. Chief, in Capital

Takes Opportunity of First Stop and First Canadian Train Ride to See How Things are Done—New Board to be Called Soon.

(Special to The Times) Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 2.—Sir Henry Thornton, president of the new Canadian National Railways board arrived here yesterday. The Grand Trunk private car "Bonaventure" in which Sir Henry and Major Graham A. Bell, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals and vice-president of the C. N. R. board came to this city, was not taken into Montreal but crossed the St. Lawrence River at Valleyfield and was met at Colonsay for the Montreal to Ottawa train.

The time spent at the junction was not wasted. Sir Henry accompanied the trainmaster on a tour of inspection of the car shops. He was struck with the cleanliness of the buildings. On his way to this city he went through the train learning the character of the cars and general train equipment.

Sir Henry will remain here over the week end and on Monday evening will attend a dinner tendered by the Government to the Postmaster General of the U. S. who will be here to take part in an international postal traffic conference. On Tuesday morning Sir Henry and Major Bell will go to Montreal and meet chief officials and the staff of the Grand Trunk take a look over some of the properties of that road. On Tuesday evening Sir Henry will be the chief guest at a dinner tendered by the Montreal Board of Trade. The remainder of the week will probably be spent here.

A meeting of the new Board will likely be called before the middle of this month. There is a question as to the location of headquarters to be determined, and there are many steps yet to be taken to complete the re-organization of the staffs of the various roads comprising the national system.

Sir Henry made it known that nothing in the way of decisions must be expected of him until he had had a chance to look about him.

PRIZE DESIGN FOR HISTORICAL SITES IN CANADA

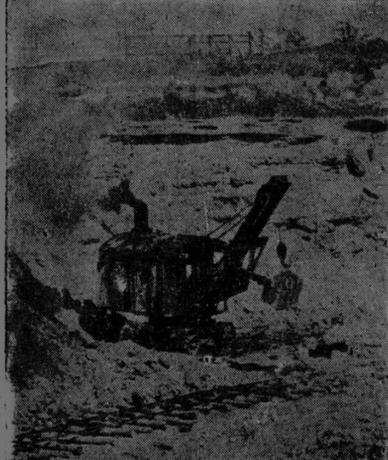

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—Lieutenant Colonel C. P. Meredith, architect of this city, has won the first prize in a competition arranged by the historical monuments branch of the Interior Department for a design to mark the historical sites of Canada. W. L. Somerville, architect, Toronto, was second, and the architect from Winnipeg third. The prizes were $250, $150 and $100.

The design of Colonel Meredith is simple and can be adapted to any locality with the local stone of the district and built by local craftsmen. It is in the form of a shrine ten feet high, four feet at the base, with an inset panel for a bronze tablet explaining the significance of the monument.

The shrine would be surmounted on three steps symbolical of the three peoples, the Indians, the French and the British. Colonel Meredith has suggested that a screen of nine trees be placed behind the shrine. These could be representative of the provinces.

WANTED LIQUOR, WENT AT CAPTAIN

That is Charge Against a Sailor at Halifax—Evidence of Rum Running.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 2.—Evidence by members of the crew that the British schooner Mary Elizabeth was engaged in rum running off the U. S. coast when a frigate occurred between Captain Horswell and James Ashton, the latter an able seaman on the ship, was the basis of a hearing yesterday. The charge centres around a fight between the captain and Ashton following the latter's demand for a bottle of whiskey on the night of November 1 when the Mary Elizabeth was lying twenty miles off the U. S. coast. Captain Horswell says Ashton attacked him with a knife when the liquor was refused him.

MRS. HALL PLANS TO GO ABROAD

Will Not Let New Jersey Murder Inquiry End.

Her Attorney Says Slain Clergyman's Widow Will Use Own Fortune to Solve Murder; Feels She Has Been Vindicated.

New Brunswick, N. J., Dec. 2.—A temporary exodus of the Hall family is imminent now that the Somerset County Grand Jury has failed to find an indictment. It was learned from a reliable source that Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall will leave soon for a long rest and probably will go abroad until the excitement created by the murder of her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor R. Hill has died down. Henry Stevens and T. Edwin Carpenter will go duck shooting in North Carolina. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stevens are scheduled to start on a world tour which is postponed until the grand jury met to investigate the murders. Since the state has failed in its attempt to prosecute the case, Mrs. Hall intends to conduct a vigorous investigation of her own through her attorney, Timothy Newell Pfeiffer. A statement issued on her behalf this week was as follows: "So far as Mrs. Hall's attitude toward this case is concerned, she has no desire to see any one punished. She will continue her investigation of the crime with renewed vigor."

ATTACKED ON MARCH TO DUBLIN

Irregulars Lose Men and Munitions in Clash

Capital City Combed by the Military and Arrests Made—Bombs Thrown into the Home of a Galway University Professor.

(Canadian Press) Dublin, Dec. 2.—National troops engaged a party of irregulars at Leixlip, Kildare County, yesterday, capturing twenty-two of them, besides arms and ammunition. There were a few casualties on both sides. The irregulars apparently were marching on Dublin. All the chief approaches to the city were patrolled yesterday by National troops, part of the plan to prevent any sudden Republican blow before the Free State was legally established. Three men were arrested in Dublin in the course of surprise searches conducted through various streets by the military yesterday. The searches were most thorough, pedestrians, cyclists, motorists and passengers in tram cars all being stopped and examined. It is reported one man arrested had an automatic pistol and important papers in his possession. Airplanes flew over the city during the searches. The Tallaght military barracks, five miles from Dublin, was attacked last night and four National army soldiers were wounded. Dublin, Dec. 2.—Bombs were hurled today into the home of Dr. Thomas Walsh, professor of pathology at Galway University and chairman of the National Council. It is believed that the demonstration was an outgrowth of Dr. Walsh's refusal to permit the council to discuss the recent executions in Dublin.

FOR IMPEACHMENT OF DAUGHERTY

Keller Names Chief Justice Taft as Witness—Gomper's Also.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Chief Justice Taft was named yesterday in a statement to the House Judiciary committee by Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota, as a witness to be called in support of his demand for the impeachment of Attorney-General Daugherty. The chief justice was declared to be "untrustworthy, corrupt and dangerous" by Mr. Keller, who said that at the time that they were men of such character. George W. Wickström, former attorney-general, Samuel Gomper, president of the A. F. of L., and Guy Oyster, Mr. Gomper's secretary, also were mentioned by Mr. Keller as other witnesses. Setting forth 14 specific grounds for impeachment, Mr. Keller alleged that Mr. Daugherty had practiced "fraud and deceit" on Mr. Taft while president to obtain the release from prison of Charles W. Morse and that on Morse's failure to pay Daugherty's associates in the pardon proceedings an agreed fee, he "prostituted" the office of attorney-general for personal revenge by securing an indictment of Morse.

FIRE CONSUMES 175 HOUSES IN TERREBONNE

Lower Part of Quebec Town is Destroyed

Loss Placed at About a Million Dollars—Host Borne Through Streets in Midst of Conflagration—Edmonton Has $75,000 Blaze.

(Canadian Press) Terrebonne, Que., Dec. 2.—Loss set at half a million dollars, only very little of which is covered by insurance, was sustained in a conflagration which last night destroyed the lower part of the town, and which will smoulder for several days to come.

The fire had its origin in the explosion of a boiler in the ash and door factory of Joseph Limoges and from there spread with amazing rapidity, fanned by a forty to sixty mile gale. Every store, the post office, the city hall and the Provincial Bank branch were destroyed in that area and 400 people were rendered homeless. More than seventy-five houses were burned to the ground. The fire fighting apparatus was wholly inadequate. The one hose that was used in St. Marie street burst almost as soon as it was put into use, being rotten with age. The remaining apparatus was in the town hall and was lost in the destruction of that building.

The fire was brought from Montreal, twenty-five miles away, and local volunteer firemen of every kind were pressed down to the older boys of the St. Louis College. It was not until well into the early hours of the morning that the fire was under control.

A picturesque incident was the straggling of the Host through the streets while the population knelt and prayed. It is the smaller proprietors of the town who are the hardest hit, they have lost their only means of livelihood. Little or no insurance was carried by them. The church, the convent, and the Juvenile College, conducted by the Fathers of the Very Holy Sacrament are safe.

Edmonton, Dec. 2.—Seventy-five thousand dollars damage was done by fire yesterday gutting the Fair Clothing Store and the National Furniture Company's building.

Terrebonne, Que., Dec. 2.—Early morning estimated show the situation far worse than supposed late last night. There are 1,200 persons homeless, and approximately 175 houses were destroyed with damage estimated in the vicinity of $1,000,000. So far as could be ascertained at nine a.m., no lives were lost.

Don't "Tip" Red Cross, Protests Morgenthau

Former U. S. Ambassador to Turkey Appeals to Public Not to Toss Money to Collectors, as to a Waiter, But to Give With Respect.

(By Henry Morgenthau, former United States Ambassador to Turkey.) It took some time to educate the average American citizen to the Red Cross, not as a gift for some dramatic emergency very much in the public eye, but as a regular annual contribution to meet the often unmet demands upon that great society and, with the dollars of others, to furnish a fund which when emergencies did arise could instantly be transverted into practical, effective relief.

beyond them, only prompt relief is of much use. There is no time to organize committees or make collections. The machinery should be ready to set into motion instantly, for furnished, half-naked, panic-stricken people cannot wait until ships from overseas come in loaded with generous gifts.

We saw that at home at the time of the Halifax explosion and fire during the war, when the four-day oil fire burned down to the water's edge just across the East River, and when the successive explosions near Perth Amboy ravaged that section of Jersey as though war itself had been waged there.

One of the most startling demonstrations of this preparedness on the part of the Red Cross came recently, at the time of the Smyrna calamity, when 250,000 refugees had to be housed, meanwhile clothed, fed, and given medical care.

Now, when we are facing a possible massacre in Constantinople that would make the massacre insignificant by comparison, it behooves us to prepare for such a catastrophe. Since our government is taking no steps to avert this calamity, the least that we citizens can do is to get ready to help the victims of the holocaust, should the marauding Turks put into action their firm determination to drive every Christian out of Turkey and to complete their dream of a "Turkified Turkey."

There it seems to me that the greatest good the Red Cross does is not in the material relief it furnishes, but in the teaching of its millions of members and the principles of human brotherhood. The constant meetings of Red Cross Chapters bring together the real Samaritans of the community. They are enriched by this association and in turn thousands of people are taught practical charity.

Fifteen thousand Families Tried Vicks Last Winter and are Enthusiastic

ACTS SO INSTANTLY AND SO DIRECTLY

Here's the successful new method of treating any kind of a cold—

A salve that acts like a heating liniment, poultice or plaster. At the same time its ingredients, released as vapor by the body heat, enter the nose and lungs every time you breathe.

Colds are commonly broken up overnight, croup in fifteen minutes. This preparation, Vicks VapoRub, was discovered by a North Carolina druggist. In ten years its use has spread until now over seventeen million jars are used yearly.

Tested in 15,000 Homes. Over 15,000 families in Toronto and Quebec tried Vicks last winter by invitation of the manufacturer through local druggists. They promised to report results. The three cases below are just random specimens of the hundreds of good reports received.

Vicks is an ideal remedy for children, applied externally, no dosing to upset their stomachs. Good for head colds, chest colds, tonsillitis, catarrh, sore throat or hoarseness, and for skin hurts or itchings, too. Truly, "The Remedy of 100 Uses."

How Vicks Is Used.

Mrs. J. Saunders of 288 Barton St., East Hamilton, Ont., says: "I was bothered with asthma and a very bad cold in my chest. O applied Vicks VapoRub, rubbing it on with my fingers, and it gave me wonderful relief. I would be pleased to recommend it to anyone having a bad cold or in case of burns. As a family medicine, it has no equal. I know it will help others as it has helped me."

Mrs. Joseph Haley of 199 West Mills St., Brantford, Ont., says: "My wife has suffered with quinsy for years, but Vicks must have prevented it, for she got through the winter without a single attack. We sent part of a jar to a neighbor, whose boy was very sick with cold or grippe. He also got relief. Vicks surely should be in every home."

Mrs. Wilton Bull of 979 Tupper St., Montreal, says: "I find Vicks VapoRub one of the finest salves I ever used. We use it for cuts, burns and bruises, and even mosquito bites, with most excellent results."

At all drug stores. 50c. per jar.

REMARKABLE PIECE OF WORK

A remarkable piece of handwork is on display in a store on King Square recently vacated by the Phonograph Salon. It consists of twenty-four settings of scenes from the life of Christ executed in wood and painted in appropriate colors. Each setting is enclosed in a box illuminated with electric light. The work was executed by Archibald Poulin, a cripple, after two years and eight months of labor, during all of which time he was confined to his bed by his infirmity. Poulin's home is at Lake Megantic, Quebec, and since starting out three years ago he had covered Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick. There are 360 figures in the collection and all are made of pine wood and carved out of a single piece.

ANTHRACITE PROSPECTS.

15,000,000-Ton Shortage by End of Winter Predicted.

New York, Nov. 28.—The country is facing a shortage of 15,000,000 tons of anthracite coal before the end of winter. It was said today at the offices of the State Fuel Administration. The estimate is based on a survey of conditions in the anthracite field, taking, according to officials, the most optimistic viewpoint regarding production during the next four months.

An analysis of the output shows, it is said, that the October supply, the surplus of which would ordinarily be used to make up the difference between the consumption and the output in later months, was 1,000,000 tons short. November is estimated to be 1,250,000 tons short. The estimated shortage for December is 3,750,000 tons; for January, 5,000,000; for February, 8,750,000 tons, and for March 12,500,000 tons.

LETTER MAILED IN 1896 IS RETURNED TO SENDER

New York, Dec. 2.—A letter mailed for twenty-six years was returned to the American Credit Indemnity Company at 102 Fifth avenue by the Post Office Department this week. Paul U. Farley, manager of the company, discovered it had been mailed on Nov. 4, 1896.

It was addressed to the Conquistador Packing Company in San Francisco and enclosed a folder which carried a report of an examination of the credit company by the Insurance Commissioner. The indemnity company was at 809 Broadway then, and Mr. Farley heard that the letter had been found in a mail chute, probably in that building.

SWEDISH INVENTOR HAS NEW OIL LIGHT

Claims Whiter and Much Cheaper Light Than Electric or Gas.

Edison enabled us to enjoy the benefits of electric light, Count Weisbach's mantle made it possible to have an incandescent gas light, but it remained for a Swedish engineer named Johnson, now living in Chicago, to devise a lamp that would burn ordinary, everyday kerosene oil and produce a light as bright as the electric light. The lamp is as simple to operate as the old style oil lamp, burns without odor, smoke or noise and is proving a sensation where oil light is needed.

Mr. Johnson offers to send a lamp on ten days' free trial and will even give one to the first user in each locality who will introduce it. A letter addressed to O. K. Johnson, 246 Craig Street, W. THE OBSTRUCTORS.

The provincial government will meet on Monday night. The hydro contract will be confirmed at this meeting. The City Council could have appointed the Civic Power Commission on Tuesday. It can do so yet if there is no obstruction, for it is competent to reconsider the obstructive action of Thursday afternoon. If the obstruction continues the effect will be to waste more money, for it is competent to reconsider the obstructive action of Thursday afternoon.

OF WHAT INTEREST?

It is somewhat difficult to understand why any citizen of New Brunswick should not realize the significance of the hydro fight in St. John. Yet we read in the St. Croix Courier: "Of what interest is the hydro fight to the New Brunswick citizen outside of St. John? Surely if the newspapers of St. John, if the people of St. John could see themselves as the rest of the Province sees them, they would speedily settle the power question in some way and seek some other topic for discussion."

WHAT HYDRO DOES.

The experience of the Ontario town of Orillia is an effective answer to the assertion that a debt incurred to get cheap power is equivalent to increased taxation. The Toronto Telegram tells the story: "Orillia scrapped the steam plant which supplied the town with light and water and incurred a debt of half a million dollars to construct a hydro-electric plant. Today, including payment of interest and sinking fund, the town of Orillia is getting light for one-quarter the rates charged previously. Factories are getting power for one-third the cost of production by electric light. Substitution of electricity for lighting and installation of electrical labor-saving devices has enabled owners of households to dispense with domestic help. The same argument applies to St. John. The same argument applies to St. John. The same argument applies to St. John.

It is interesting to note the yield of potatoes in the different provinces. The estimate is as follows: Quebec 28,308,000 bush, Ontario 26,394,000, New Brunswick 12,288,000, Manitoba 7,024,000, Saskatchewan 6,598,000, Nova Scotia 6,189,000, Alberta 4,681,000, P. E. Island 8,587,000.

WITTING TO OBLIGE.

"Would you mind seeing me across the street?" asked the jumpy old gentleman. "Not at all, brother," replied the corner loafer, as he retained the point of contact with a fire plug. "There's a great deal of work in that watching you walk a couple of blocks." - Birmingham Age-Herald.

HON. H. H. WICKWIRE.

The death of Hon. H. H. Wickwire, Minister of Highways, will be a great shock to the province as it has been a terrible sudden. He was only 57 years of age and in the prime of his life. He was a veteran in political service. He was a member of the House of Assembly, and he had been in the House for many years. He was a man of great energy and vigor, and he had been a great help to the province in many ways.

TOO BIG TO PLAY WITH.

Guelph Herald: - Divorce courts abound with examples of the all too plain fact that, with thousands a year, the engagement is a matter of boyish or girlish caprice. Some marriages may be made in heaven, but many of them appear to have been made on earth. It is a good practice to follow that which is described as a "broad-minded" policy, and to make new ones by so doing, and we are told that it is with our friends that we do business, the more in an entirely separate undertaking and will not take place till 1924.

FOR AMICABLE RELATIONS.

Victoria Colonist: - If the Turkish Nationalists finally arrive at a realization that was Greece they defeated on the battlefield and not the allied powers of Europe, they will have reached a frame of mind which will enable them to confer amicably with Britain, France and Italy.

WOMEN AT THE POLLS.

Calgary Alberta: - Only two women were elected to the British Parliament and the women in the United States election met with disaster almost as sweeping. There is very little chivalry at the polls. Lady Astor, who was the first and only candidate to challenge the brewers, put up a very able battle and won easily.

PERFUMES IN ARGENTINA.

U. S. Exports to Latin America Have Greatly Increased. (New York Times) Exports of perfumery, cosmetics and toilet preparations from the United States to Argentina and Brazil were in 1921 nearly three times their pre-war value. During the current year shipments to Argentina already are three times and to Brazil twice those in the complete year 1918; and if sales to these republics continue at the present rate, the total for the twelve months of 1922 to Argentina will be four times and to Brazil three times as much as in 1918.

By Edward N. Davis
Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 171. THE ELECTROLYTIC DETECTOR.

(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)
There is a type of detector which is connected in circuit for detecting wireless waves in a way similar to the crystal detector but which employs a fine wire resting in an acid solution instead of a crystal. This type of detector known as the electrolytic is a very sensitive detector when properly used but is little used at the present time due to large numbers of crystal and tube detectors which are much more easily adjusted and involve the handling of no fine wires and dangerous acids.

In its usual form the electrolytic detector consists of a carbon cup mounted upon an insulating base and containing a twenty per cent solution of nitric acid and water. A fine platinum wire about .0001 inch in diameter is mounted on a vertical shaft fitted with an adjusting screw so that the "Wolston wire" as it is called, may be gradually lowered into the acid solution. The detector is connected into the receiving circuit in the manner indicated in the diagram. It will be noted that a local potential is employed in the same way that crystal detectors are used with a battery. The battery is shunted by a potentiometer having a resistance of about 400 ohms which allows very little current to flow continuously from the 4 to 6 volt battery usually employed.

When in use the electrolytic detector acts in a manner somewhat similar to that of a valve. The local battery causes polarization of the fine wire electrode, that is, hydrogen bubbles completely cover the portion of the wire resting in the solution so that the electrode is insulated from the solution and current from the battery is cut off. Incoming signals, however, break down the film of insulating gas and allow one-half of the wave to pass through, thereby causing the device to serve as a detector of radio frequency current.

In practice great care must be exercised in handling the fine platinum wire which is used in this type of detector. Usually the platinum wire which is from .0001 to .0002 inch in diameter is encased in a coating of silver which gives more body to the wire so that it may be more easily handled when mounting in the adjusting shaft. The acid eats away the silver coating, leaving only the platinum wire in contact with the nitric acid solution.

It is essential in connecting this type of detector in circuit to have the platinum wire connected to the positive terminal of the battery. When the device is correctly connected and the potentiometer adjusted until the set is ready to receive signals a hissing sound is noticeable in the telephone receivers.

In order that the platinum wire may be very gradually inserted into the nitric acid solution a very fine thread is cut in the vertical shaft in which the wire is mounted so that this adjustment may be made very carefully. In the more carefully built electrolytic detectors the vertical shaft itself does not rotate, but has a keyway cut in it so that a projection of the supporting bridge keeps the shaft from turning at the same time leaving the vertical shaft free to slide up and down. A large knurled nut is threaded on to the shaft between the two shaft bearings so that turning the nut slides the shaft up or down.

One of the disadvantages of the electrolytic detector is that it "burns out" on very strong signals such as received from nearby transmitters. The ensitive adjustment may be restored by readjustment of the platinum wire. The degree of sensitivity secured compares favorably with the more sensitive crystals and in many cases the electrolytic detector is superior. Considerable patience is required for the attainment of results with this type of detector.

Answering The Yearly Question What To Give a Man?

Deciding upon the item to give is only a small part of it. Almost any item of furnishings is very good—but it is the little fine points and distinct characteristics which mean everything. Men, as you know, have their preferences. We can usually tell what they are and have chosen our stocks with an eye to pleasing the most discriminating.

A SCARF IS EASY TO BUY
You don't have to worry about any size. You can get him one and be sure that he won't have to change it. He's sure to be well pleased with one of the newest ones we are showing here in knitted silk or wool.

HAS HE A NICE DRESSING GOWN?
There's a thing every man likes to own. All you need do is get the length of his sleeve and size of his coat. We'll help you select one that we are sure will please him. Smoking Jackets, Bath Robes and House Coats are also well represented in our stocks.

THE HOSIERY GIFT CAN BE DISTINCTIVE
The fact that it is a sensible gift doesn't mean that it can't be a little out of the ordinary. The exceptional qualities and textures in our gift assortments enable you to select "something finer". Lisle, silk, cashmere, wool and fine mixtures are all included.

IF HIS GLOVES ARE NOT FUR LINED
That is your hint. You can give him something that is more than just a pair of gloves. A pair of these fur-lined ones will give him the necessary protection for all the cold weather we are bound to have.
Motor Gloves, Silk-Lined Gloves, Wool Gloves and many other kinds await your approval here.

CHOOSING NECKWEAR TO PLEASE A MAN
It isn't at all difficult here where patterns and colorings have been so carefully selected. It's all the better for you to decide upon some design that he would not choose for himself—it gives him better variety. The latest popular styles are always featured here.

NEW SHIRTS WILL BE APPRECIATED
A great many men are not keen on shopping, even for themselves; think it's a bother. So in selecting a few shirts from assortments such as we can offer you will not only be giving him extra quality, but saving him a lot of trouble. Collars to match are a feature of many of our colored shirts.

Hydro to Solve The Problem of Coal

(The Independent.)
The present burden of the high price of coal, together with the unpromising future of the industry, has naturally led many investors to take a new interest in the possibilities of hydro-electric plants, which offer the only practical alternative to coal as a source of power now everywhere in demand. It is of course true that the necessary initial investment in a hydro-electric power plant is a good deal higher than for a steam plant. Yet the total of recent economic events, and of economic prospects, has put the hydro-electric plant in a new, and perhaps a permanently favored, position with respect to power plants dependent on coal.

For the hydro-electric plant, the relatively high carrying charges on the initial investment are compensated by relatively low operating charges which are themselves subject to comparatively small fluctuations. On the other hand, the advantage of a lower initial plant cost seems likely—if this has not already happened—to be wholly wiped out by much higher operating cost year after year, due to the great increase in the cost of coal.

Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing.

Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me."

A lady who used it says:—"The atmosphere seemed heavy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses.

Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You

MOTORS And Their Care

Practical Suggestions for Insuring Longevity of the Car

A Suggestion.
When storing a car it is a good plan to release the tension on the clutch spring by propping a stick between the clutch and pedal and front seat.

Importance of Lubrication.
Spring shackles, wheel bearings, steering connections and universal joints should be oiled frequently to save wear and insure smoother operation.

To Reduce Traffic Congestion.
An operator of an automobile should turn off to the side street when temporary repairs are needed so that traffic on the main highway may not be interfered with.

Position at Steering Wheel.
Never drive with the hands sprawled on the steering wheel sector, there is danger of getting a finger or two wedged between a spider of the wheel and the gas control.

A Test for Weak Battery.
Always watch the lights when the starting motor is used. If they dim noticeably, the battery is low, or the starter may be dirty and draw an excessive amount of current.

To Save a Bump.
Place blocks of wood on the garage floor near the rear wall. This will check the car when the driver fails to apply the brakes, and save the front or the rear of the car from a possible smash.

If the Radiator Boils.
When the radiator begins to steam, the proper method is to open the drain cock and remove some of the water. This permits the steam to expand and lowers the pressure. This can be accomplished without damage.

Common Cause of Knock.
Knocking in an engine is most commonly caused by loose bearings, carbon in cylinders, causing pre-ignition, and knocking at high speeds, opening the throttle too quickly, or driving with spark too far advanced.

Speedometer Needs Grease.
It is the consensus of opinion that most speedometer trouble is caused by lack of lubrication in the speedometer shaft. Uncover the coupling from the speedometer twice a year, and pour into the casing the best grade of heavy oil.

When Buying a New Car.
There are 10 important points that a buyer should consider carefully before selecting a new car. They are:

- 1. Economy.
- 2. Power.
- 3. Flexibility.
- 4. Durability.
- 5. Comfort.
- 6. Safety.
- 7. Convenience.
- 8. Easy riding qualities.
- 9. Beauty.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS FOR CONSTIPATION BILIOUSNESS Headache INDIGESTION Stomach Trouble

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

10. Style.
Each of these points should be carefully studied in the order named.

There are more than 50 parts of a car that need lubrication.

It is an easy job to remove a tire from a rim that has been shackled.

Use a thinner grade of oil in winter. Cold weather causes oil to thicken.

A tire should receive as much attention as any other part of an automobile.

Seventy-five per cent of motor troubles are traceable to the ignition system.

A slipping clutch is a constant waste of power and fuel, and a strain upon the engine.

Do not permit the motor to labor on hills. It is cheaper to change gears than to buy new parts.

The best gear combination for a quick getaway and for stopping quickly in traffic is "second" speed.

Before washing the car, remove all the dust possible by applying a slow stream of cold water.

When pouring gasoline never let it fall any great distance, as the petrol, when passing through the air generates static electricity.

Side curtains of an automobile should be dusted and refolded occasionally, so as not to become too deeply creased or the celluloid badly scratched.

Approximately one-third of the cost of operating an automobile goes into tires; another third into general wear and tear.

All motor vehicles, when approaching an intersecting highway, should do so carefully and under full control, the operator being prepared to stop if necessary.

Before driving away in a car that has been blocked on a steep grade, throw the loose stones or other material off the road. They are dangerous to divers coming along later.

A motorist often gets the bad habit of trying to "show" his car up a heavy grade, not because he is too lazy to shift gears.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, soothes and breaks out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, dandruff, itching, or other skin troubles, fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The mentho sulphur preparation is applied to the itching spots and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

WORLD NEEDS GOD, AUTHOR DECLARES

Rev. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) Preaches in Toronto.

(Toronto Globe)

"The need of the world today is not conferences and conventions, but the truth about God," said Rev. Charles W. Gordon, D.D., of Winnipeg, addressing a congregation that filled to overflowing Bloor Street Baptist Church at the anniversary service yesterday morning.

Dr. Gordon attributed the unrest throughout the world today to the nation being out of harmony with the purposes of the Almighty. If Britain, where but 20 per cent. of the people attended Divine worship, were peaceful, quiet, and could carry on contentedly, he said, he would cease to believe that God exists. He believed that the restlessness of the world was conclusive proof that God was right and that God still ruled, and that the world needed Him to be at peace.

"The trouble with the Balkan States," said Dr. Gordon, was that they did not know that feeling of brotherhood with those across the line. They needed the teaching of God that all men were brothers together. They needed most of all the loving heart that could be found only in a harmonious relationship with God. What was true of the Balkans, he contended, was true all around the world. When Jesus returned to glory, he said, He left the world a great heritage in His teachings. Those teachings were the spiritual bread of life that the world was starving for.

"God forgive us if we withhold this bread from a hungry world," he declared.

The duty of the Church, said Dr. Gordon, was to tell the world that "God is, that He is righteousness and that He is loving." "Think," he added, "what that love would do for Canada today. It would be like ointment to a diseased body, bringing quiet and rest."

But, he continued, the truth about man's sin. It was plain sin, he said, to go through life, as many did, without that thing of God. What was needed was a Church that would proclaim the sin of forgetting God.

Dr. Gordon then went on to point out the greatness of God's forgiveness of sin, and made a fervid appeal to those members of the congregation who were parents of wayward children not to place themselves above God, but to extend the arms of forgiveness to the child that had gone astray and to welcome him back with the past wiped clean from the slate.

Nearly 800 people were present last night at the dance held in the Pythian Castle Hall by the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters. A programme of more than twenty dances was carried out and supper was served at eleven o'clock. William A. Simonds was chairman of the committee in charge.

A. POYAS HAS
GOTH DEALER
TAKEN TO COURT

Gives Evidence That He was Assaulted in Store When He Declined to Make Purchase.

There was a little flutter this morning in the vicinity of King square about 1045 which resulted in the arrest of Thomas Poyas, a cloth dealer from Ireland, on a charge of assaulting A. Poyas in his store in King square.

According to the story told in court this morning Murphy had been in the store of Mr. Poyas yesterday exhibiting some of his goods and trying to make a sale.

Mr. Poyas ordered him out of his store and the young man went as far as the door. At this point, it is alleged, he swung around and struck Mr. Poyas under the ear, told him he had a good mind to smash his windows, and walked away.

Mr. Poyas, who lives at 1045 King street, told Traffic Policeman Duffy of the occurrence, and Policeman Duffy set in pursuit. He overhauled his quarry in the old burial ground. In court Mr. Poyas gave evidence against him as related. The accused was remanded to jail.

CANADA PRESERVES HISTORIC SITES

History and romance surround the story of Fort Prince of Wales, at the mouth of the Churchill River, on Hudson's Bay. It was a strong fort in the 18th century than Quebec. Built with wall 500 feet wide and 800 feet wide, with foundations 80 feet wide, and a roadway 25 feet wide on their summits, the fort was the stronghold of the Hudson's Bay Company in the north. Three French warships captured the fort in 1782. The picture shows an old gateway.

ROBBER OF WOMEN
GETS 5 TO 10 YEARS

Alfred E. Lindsay Swindled Dupes Out of More Than $500,000—Turned State's Evidence.

New York, Dec. 2.—Alfred E. Lindsay, former broker of South Nyack, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, after having been charged with swindling wealthy women out of more than $500,000, was sentenced to five to ten years in prison by Judge Francis X. Mancuso, in General Sessions. Lindsay, who had aided the State in prosecuting two of his alleged accomplices, Major Redondo Saiton and Dr. Knute A. Enlund, was stunned at his sentence.

"You made women of means your prey," said Judge Mancuso to Lindsay. "You turned their heads by lavishly entertaining them with their own money, but you left them impoverished. You stole $525,000 from Mrs. Lillian B. Duke and my investigation shows that none of the money you got from these women was invested."

"Acts of this kind, if tolerated, would soon prevent people from investing at all and would injure the mercantile business of our city. It must be stopped. A man of your ability and shrewdness would have prospered in a legitimate business, but you were too lazy. You wanted to live by stealing and you are now here to reap the fruits of your crime."

Lindsay had pleaded guilty to stealing $28,860 on Dec. 8, 1921, from Mrs. E. Arnold of 182 West Seventy-ninth street, but there were eight other indictments against him. Henry Goldstein, attorney for the prisoner, pleaded for clemency, promising that Lindsay would make good the losses incurred through him. Assistant District Attorney Richard C. Murphy said that Lindsay had given valuable aid to the State, but he pointed out that he had been permitted to plead to one of the nine indictments against him. Judge Mancuso said that that was clemency.

Women were the dupes of Lindsay, practically widows and divorcees. He obtained introductions to widows at the funerals of their husbands. After an acquaintance was thus started, the broker told of an exclusive club where he said he was accustomed to meet the wives, as well as for tolls collected. Lindsay was to discuss gigantic projects. When he had obtained the initial amount for "investment," it was easy to get more on the plea that additional funds were required to protect the original principal. Several times women threatened to expose him to the authorities, but each time Lindsay would say that once he was in jail all the money they had given him would be lost.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES
OF ST. JOHN

IMPERIAL'S EXTRA
IN MONDAY SHOW

"The Four Seasons," which is to be shown at the Imperial Monday as an extra feature — in conjunction with Mary Roberts Rinehart's "A Glorious Fool" — is a masterpiece of nature. It was made under the supervision of Charles Urban, president of the Kineto Company of America, and Dr. Raymond L. Dillman, curator of the New York Zoological Society. It is a picture that delights, instructs and thoroughly entertains every person of every age, from youngster to oldster. It competes neither with drama or comedy, and yet it is a picture that is composed of elements of both, because nature in motion stirs the deepest pools in the human soul. A bigger instructive attraction than "The Four Seasons" has never been offered. At its premiere in the Rialto theatre in New York it played to crowded houses at every performance and critics on every New York newspaper voted it the most exhilarating production of the year.

JOINT FUNERAL OF TEN VICTIMS OF COLLEGE FIRE

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—A great joint funeral of the ten St. Boniface fire victims will be held to St. Boniface Cathedral on Monday morning. There will be a solemn mass of requiem. The bodies and parts of bodies recovered from the ruins will be buried in one plot, over which a single monument will be erected, bearing the names of the ten victims.

Lack of strength and of adequate fire fighting apparatus, and the fact that the water mains were not large enough to give the pressure needed at big fires was emphasized at last night's session of the fire investigation, by firemen who appeared as witnesses.

The newcomer told the Justices that he was Lester Brooks and that he had been a "side-kick" of O'Bryan's for more than ten years.

"We used to work together on the Bar X Ranch in Montana, Judge," said Brooks. "At that time Jim and I were breaking bronks for the tourists to ride in the Glacier National Park. We made two trips to Alaska together, Jim and I here. In the war we were in the same company, a Canadian regiment. A little while ago we got separated in Seattle, and while I was trying to find Jim some one told me my pal had gone to New York and was about to start for Argentina."

"Of course, as soon as I heard that, I left for New York myself. Here, I just learned that Jim had arrived. I wish you'd let him go, Judge, so we can sail tomorrow for South America." Impressed by Brooks' sincere manner, the justice, after O'Bryan had pleaded guilty, suspended sentence.

PAL'S TALE FREES
COWBOY WITH GUN

Trails Chum from Seattle and Finds Him a Prisoner in Court in New York — Fought in Same Regiment

New York, Dec. 2.—A modern version of the story of Damon and Pythias was told in the Court of Special Sessions during the trial of James O'Bryan, cowboy, charged with illegal possession of a pistol.

O'Bryan, whose home is in London, Ontario, came to New York a week ago to take ship for South America. He stayed at the Seaman's Mission at 22 South street. On last Thursday, he started out to see the town. Before he went, he asked the clerk at the mission to take care of his "artillery," a big forty-five calibre gun. No sooner was O'Bryan out of the building than the clerk called the Old Slip Police Station, and when the cowboy returned, he was arrested by Detective Pierre Fleming.

Before sentencing O'Bryan, Justice Daniel F. Murphy, James P. McInerney and Arthur C. Salmon asked the defendant if he had any friends in New York. O'Bryan started to shake his head, when a commotion was heard in the back of the court room.

Straight up the aisle to the judge's bench strode the tall, slender figure of another cowboy. He wore a silk shirt with a green hankie peeking about the neck. His trousers were tucked into high cowhide boots, on the heels of which rattled a pair of spurs. He carried a wide, tall-peaked sombrero in his left hand. Every one was so busy watching the stranger that few of them heard O'Bryan's surprised and joyful cry, "Les!"

The newcomer told the Justices that he was Lester Brooks and that he had been a "side-kick" of O'Bryan's for more than ten years.

"We used to work together on the Bar X Ranch in Montana, Judge," said Brooks. "At that time Jim and I were breaking bronks for the tourists to ride in the Glacier National Park. TRY NATURE'S OWN INTERNAL BATHING FOR CONSTIPATION

Thousands of Canadians testify to the immediate relief from constipation through the J. B. L. Cascade which provides that wonderful internal bath. For twenty-five years it has been recommended and endorsed by physicians for men and women suffering from obstinate constipation, piles, biliousness, headaches, lack of energy and sleeplessness. And why should it not? Ninety-five per cent of all human ailments are attributed to the accumulated waste in the lower intestine. That is why physicians first see that the system is thoroughly cleansed before treating any specific disease. You must be clean inside as well as out before health can be restored. Mr. Frank Stanton, of Port Stanton, Ont., writes: "I must say that the J. B. L. Cascade has been of great value to me, and I feel indebted to the inventor of this treatment. I feel twenty years younger and have no need of medicine of any sort since using J. B. L. Cascade." The J. B. L. Cascade is shown and explained at Clinton Brown's, Druggist, Union and Waterloo streets; F. N. Munroe, 357 Main street, St. John, N. B., who will give you free, on request, an interesting and helpful booklet by Dr. C. A. Tyrrell, "The What, Why, How, and I feel indebted to the inventor of this treatment. I feel twenty years younger and have no need of medicine of any sort since using J. B. L. Cascade."

much as the prophets expected. The real surprise of the election has been the success of Labor. In saying this I am not thinking merely of the number of seats actually gained or of the numerical strength of the Labor party in the new parliament. What is still more significant is the heavy poll recorded by many Labor candidates even in constituencies which were regarded as more or less hopeless. Regarded from a broad imperial point of view this is felt to be a matter of congratulation rather than a matter for disquietude. No one who is not a party fanatic wished to see the Labor party "snuffed under." It is idle to blind one's eyes to the fact that in some parts of the country, and especially in Glasgow, Bolshevism has obtained some footing. It is not to be feared so long as a safety valve is provided. Do away with this safety valve and there might be an explosion. If Labor had met with no successes or encouragement at all the general election its leaders might easily have been betrayed into the frightful mistake of abandoning the peaceful method of seeking an outlet for their ambitions through the legitimate direct action. If it has done nothing else the general election has killed that danger. What the country asked for was one two years of quiet, stable government, and that is precisely what is likely to be insured by the election

HEART PALPITATED AND WAS SHORT OF BREATH

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble. Trouble Coming. A business friend just returned from Germany, tells me that within the last months there has been a remarkable psychological change. The German is no longer pointing with pride to the rapidly falling mark as proof of political ineptitude, but it frankly nervous of the immediate future. It is already apparent that there will be an open talk in this Christmas owing to the impossibility of buying coal and raw materials, and within the last week, for the first time since the Armistice, manufacturers have been turning off some of their men. Meanwhile food prices are rising fantastically. Butter and bread doubled their price in a night, ration cards for sugar are to be in force from December 1st and in several towns recently there have been small food riots. Concurrent with this there is an open talk in the next two months, and well-informed Germans declare that should it take place it will not be met by counter-Communist outbreak. The fall of the mark is now out of control, and wages cannot keep pace with the rise in prices. Such a state of things can only mean trouble. The Scotland Yard Episode. That Sir William Hornwood is now reported out of danger, thanks to his own, splendid constitution, and the zealous efficiency of St. Thomas' Hospital, the one extraordinary thing about the Scotland Yard episode of the deadly chocolates. The whole affair has fairly astonished Londoners, who held views about the famous Scotland Yard department entirely incompatible with such human simplicity. Here we have a chief of criminal investigation and a distinguished British general who eats chocolate cream sent to him at his own-chosen post. This fact is hardly more remarkable than its official explanation, which is that Sir William was expecting such a postal present that very day at Scotland Yard. Bernard Shaw's critics were terribly wrong on Capt. Bluntish, the Shavian here of "Arms and the Man," because he, like the whole of Kitchener's armies after him, had a penchant for chocolates. But a Scotland Yard chief who not only expects but eats chocolate cream at his office is a much better than the Swiss captain. Another point that puzzles the public, who are intensely interested in the case, is the fact that the investigation of the facts has hampered the police. The official indignation aroused seems on the face of things to be a curious access of the facts. But after a burglary and an attempted murder on the premises, Scotland Yard must really put itself together a little. Home Secretary's Good Start. Most people will agree that Mr. Bridgeman has made a very promising start as Home Secretary in prohibiting the fight between Beckett and Siki, the two best fighters in the country. Even in the trust interests of the popular sport of boxing, it is its spectacular phase of glove-fighting, the pleasing tendency of a contest between a white champion and a black man should be avoided. But there are other reasons for an embargo like ours of all-embracing races still more potent reasons for the official decision. Anybody who knows anything of either boxing or anatomy knows that such encounters are unequal. Given anything like equal conditions otherwise, without which such a contest would be open to sporting objections, the conformation of a negro's head puts the white man at a grave disadvantage. It is not only the shape of the head, the main target, and in the case of a black fighter that target is to an extent a target of honor. The boxing and evening dress assembly at the Albert Hall with an exciting exhibition, in which the white champion, such as contented in every white settler in lonely regions inhabited by exportable blacks is neither desirable nor desirable for the nation. Capt. "Tiddy" Evans Home. A most interesting visitor home just now is Capt. Evans of the immortal Scott Antarctic Expedition and H. M. S. Broke fame. He arrived with Mrs. Evans and their children in a motor car in China, where Captain Evans has been in command in the China naval base. He is looking forward to a brief holiday, but whether or any other post for him is in the offing remains to be seen. He has long been marked for promotion. Captain Evans has many exploits to his credit, which stamp him as one devoid of fear. His participation in the Scott Antarctic Expedition and the way in which he rammed a German torpedo boat in the North Sea during the war are no doubt his most notable achievements. He was awarded a Victoria Cross for his services in the Chinese waters added yet another exploit to his list. During a severe gale he jumped into a raging sea with a rope to a Chinese vessel, in distress, thereby saving several hundred lives. His Majesty awarded him the Order of the British Empire, and he is believed that the King will take the opportunity of bestowing the medal while Captain Evans is in this country. Rarest British Postals. London philatelists are taking unusual interest in this week's sale of the wonderful Ferrari collection of postage stamps, and since the big men are attending the auction London houses have received many commissions from different parts of the empire, as well as from the Colonies. These are mostly of the British West Indian colonies, and a unique collection of the first postage stamps issued in Uganda, and produced by missionaries with a type-writer. What are believed to be the two rarest postage stamps in the world are offered for sale—home-made affairs printed by W. A. Fret, Postmaster of Bermuda, between the years 1848 and 1851. One is a wack, dated 1848; the other, carmine, dated 1851. They are hand-printed on this sauro paper, the back specimen being cut out and the red one on an octagonal shape. There are other interesting West Indian specimens and some from the Antilles. In St. Helena, besides a half sheet of Indian stamps believed to be unique. Dogger As Does It. Now that the Home Office has voted the proposed Beckett fight in London, Dec. 1.—The Irish constitution bill passed unamended today through the committee stage in the House of Lords. It will not receive its third reading until Monday. The activities of Inspectors Barton and Henderson resulted in the capture this week of liquor on the premises of Joe Killest at Sook Minto. The man on whose premises the liquor was found was taken before the court at Minto on November 30, found guilty of a violation of the prohibition act and fined $100 and costs.

"Nearly Lost Baby With Croup" Has Depended on Dr. Chase's Medicines for 25 Years

This letter from Mrs. Thompson gives you some idea of why so many thousands of people depend on Dr. Chase in the hour of sickness.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has a permanent place in the great majority of Canadian homes because it is the most certain relief from Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough and Asthma. Mrs. Alex. Thompson, Whila, Alta., writes:—"When my first baby was born, I think she would have died from croup before we could reach a doctor, if it had not been for a neighbor who had a bottle of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine in the house. This relieved her almost immediately. That was 21 years ago, and Dr. Chase's Medicines have been friends of ours ever since."

WINTER GARDEN IN NEW YORK TO BE REBUILT

Changes in Interior Are Designed to Make Theatre More For Revue Than Extravaganza. New York, Dec. 2.—The rebuilding of the Winter Garden into a theatre of a more intimate type will begin at the end of this week with the departure of "The Passing Show of 1922." The theatre will still be used for musical shows, but it will be designed more for revue than for extravaganza. Practically the entire interior of the house will be torn up and by working night and day it is hoped to reopen the theatre during Christmas week. Among other changes, the present stage apron, which extends out into the auditorium, will be cut away, and the large posts at the back of the orchestra will be removed. The new decorations will be in the style of the Italian Renaissance.

MORE WOMEN LEAVE FARM

Exceed Number of Men Seeking More Lucrative Fields. Washington, Dec. 2.—Larger numbers of women than of men are leaving farms in search of more lucrative fields of endeavor, the Census Bureau says, basing its statement on an analysis of the 1920 census statistics. The enumeration shows that the ratio of males to females is higher for farm population than for the total population, despite the fact that the farm-born element, in which the males considerably outnumber the females, is found mainly in the cities. The sex ratio of farm population in July 1, 1920, was 109.1 males to 100 females, while the ratio for the entire population was 104 males to 100 females. Of the number of farm dwellers, totaling 31,014,269, males number 16,496,333 and females 15,117,931. Of the total farm population 49.5 per cent were 21 years and over, 24.7 per cent between 10 and 20 years, and 25.7 under 10 years. Those 21 years and over numbered 15,522,093. For the country as a whole those 21 years and over comprised 67.6 per cent of the total population. The farm population, therefore, includes a relatively large proportion of the young, and a relatively small proportion of the old. The divorce in the proportion is due in large part to the fact that the majority of persons who leave the farm to take up their residence elsewhere have reached or passed 21. The largest proportions of children and youth in the farm population are shown in the Southern States and the lowest for the New England States, New York, New Jersey and California.

"I Was a Fright!"

"Nothing I Could Take Made Me Any Fatter." "Up to the time I was seventeen years old, I believe that I was the most miserable and unhappy girl that ever lived. Honestly, I was a night, I was the most ungly looking creature you ever saw. I was thin and scrawny—straight up and down. My height was five feet nine inches and I weighed exactly ninety-one and three quarter pounds. No matter what kind of clothes I put on I looked like a fright. I was clumsy and awkward. I used to stand before the glass and study my features. I found I had a good nose, good eyes and a good mouth, but my cheeks were like a skull with a piece of parchment stretched over it. But nothing I could do or take made me any fatter. Men rarely even glanced at me. When they did, they merely gave me a casual, amused or pitying look—an expression which I am sure meant, 'why is a being like that allowed to live?' I used to lie awake at night for hours at a time wondering why there were so many beautiful girls in the world and I was so hideous. I met a friend of mine one day, Elsie W. and I hardly knew her. While she had never been as thin as I was, a year or more ago she ran me a close second, but when I met her she had taken on flesh and had developed into a fine handsome girl with one of the prettiest figures I had ever seen. I asked her what had caused the big change. She said Carnal. She told me she had been taking it regularly for the last three months and that from the first week of taking it she had begun to put on flesh. I was so encouraged by what she said that I couldn't get to the druggist fast enough. I bought a bottle and since then I have been taking it regularly. It has made the greatest change in me you ever saw. I now weigh 163 pounds and all my friends tell me I look like a different girl. I have and I know that I am admired." Carnal is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. For sale by J. BENSON MAHONEY, A. CHIPMAN SMITH CO., C. W. WALKER, ROSS DRUG CO., GEO. K. BELL, W. R. DUNLOP, West St. John.

FRENCH CROOK HAD SENSE OF HUMOR

Took Jeweller to Police Headquarters, Where He Robbed Him of Gems.

Paris, Dec. 1.—A crook with a sense of humor and nerve the other afternoon took a jeweller to the reception room of the prefect of police and there robbed him of rings worth several thousand dollars. The thief, who has since been identified as an Algerian named Cohen, escaped with the booty, and tonight he is being sought by the police with a fervor of which even the victim cannot complain.

Cohen introduced himself to the prefect early this afternoon as an intimate friend of M. Mauden, the prefect of police, who incidentally is the most powerful man in the French capital, and stated that the prefect wished to make his wife a present, but was too busy to visit the stores. He had accordingly commissioned him (Cohen) to make several choices of rings which the jeweller should bring to the prefecture where a final selection would be made.

The jeweller, happy and pleased assigned his son to take to the prefecture three valuable rings which Cohen selected.

The amiable Cohen took the young man to the prefecture where he guided him to a room marked "cabinet de prefecte." There he bade him wait while M. Naudin was informed of his presence. Returning almost immediately, however, Cohen stated that the prefect was too busy to see him personally, but wished the rings sent. Trustingly the jeweller surrendered the rings, and waited while Cohen passed out a door into the corridor and left the building.

Only after half an hour, when the young jeweller became nervous and entered an adjoining office, did he realize he was duped. The police on hearing the story exhibited an alacrity not generally accorded to public officials, and identified the crook as a former stool pigeon connected with the prefecture.

PERFUMES.
(London Times.)
In a lecture published by the Royal Society of Arts last week, L. G. Radcliffe discussed modern progress in the manufacture of perfumes—one of the oldest industries ministering to human pleasure. The art of the maker of scents is to preserve the fragrance of some essential oil, usually vegetable, beyond the time when it would succumb to the natural decay of the living plant. Distillation is a mode of accomplishing this preservation, older than history and still being improved by the perfection of apparatus. But there are essences too delicate to survive heat and the passage through still and warm; these are captured by spreading the fresh bloom on trays lined with fats and oils, into which the flying flowers slowly breathe their fragrance. In yet another device the flowers are steeped in some selective solvent. The yield of the finer scents is minute. A ton of orange blossom gives only thirty to forty ounces of the odoriferous oil; a hundred thousand Bulgarian roses supply only one ounce of "roze."

The chemist is now engaged in dis-from the less costly materials. It is true that the subtlety of the natural perfumes have still baffled his art. But a great and legitimate industry has arisen in the production of cheap and tolerable substitutes for natural scents, with a profitable, although less legitimate, "side line" of scientific adulteration. Mr. Radcliffe pleads for the encouragement of scientific research into perfumes in the British Empire, which has a sufficient variety of soil and climate to produce all the raw materials. It is an opening to which the Department for Scientific and Industrial Research might give attention. Valuable work has entirely been done by the In-

STOLE FROM BANK BY NOVEL TRICK

Branch Manager Admits Taking $51,912 in a Few Years—Spent Money on Family.

New York, Dec. 1.—Max W. Hensel, 32 years old, for two years manager of the Harlem Branch of the Corn Exchange Bank, was indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge of grand larceny following a confession he made to Walter E. Frew, president of the bank and Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings that he had stolen from the institution $51,912.48 during a period of several years. He was arraigned before Judge Rosinsky in General Sessions and released in $5,000 bail, which he furnished. Pleading was adjourned for one week.

PROSPERITY AND DISTRESS.
(St. Croix Courier)
J. L. Haley returned Monday after a business trip to the islands. On Grand Manan he found the people rejoicing because of a bountiful catch of lobsters and the good catch of large herring after a rather dull summer season. All were getting lobsters for which they find a ready and yearning market at good prices. It is estimated that 140,000 boxes of lobsters will be disposed of at Eastport. On Campbell conditions were quite reversed. There are no lobsters, line fishing is poor, and the fishermen have lost about all they had invested this year in the industry. At least twenty young men have left that island this fall to seek employment elsewhere. He did not visit Deer Island, but like reports of disappointment and discouragement come from that island.

STOLE FROM BANK BY NOVEL TRICK

Branch Manager Admits Taking $51,912 in a Few Years—Spent Money on Family.

New York, Dec. 1.—Max W. Hensel, 32 years old, for two years manager of the Harlem Branch of the Corn Exchange Bank, was indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge of grand larceny following a confession he made to Walter E. Frew, president of the bank and Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings that he had stolen from the institution $51,912.48 during a period of several years. He was arraigned before Judge Rosinsky in General Sessions and released in $5,000 bail, which he furnished. Pleading was adjourned for one week.

Mr. Frew said that Hensel's pecuniations were covered by bond. Hensel, who received about $8,000 a year in salary and bonus, made restitution to the extent of $24,000, turning over his automobile, life insurance, and jewelry valued at $17,000, and jewelry belonging to Mrs. Hensel. Hensel did not use the money for speculation, according to Leslie Lockhart of 31 Chambers street, his attorney, but spent the money on his home and wife.

Hensel's confession followed his transfer to another branch, the District Attorney said. Until the time he voluntarily confessed he had been regarded by his superiors as a trusted executive whose rise in the banking profession had been very rapid. The confession was first made to Mr. Lockhart and then to Mr. Frew.

As a result of Hensel's revelation as to how he concealed his shortage, a method which the District Attorney said was a new one, banks have been informed in order that future attempts to accomplish the scheme might be frustrated. According to Assistant District Attorney Hastings, when a depositor would purchase securities through Hensel's branch, he would appropriate it, and debit the amount against a depositor who had an inactive account, making out a charge ticket.

In order to conceal the debit against the customer on the bank's books, Hensel said that he saw to it that the deposit book of the customer did not show any of the debits. By this expedient, it was explained at the District Attorney's office, it was possible to deceive even the bank examiners, who found the amount of money in the bank tallied with what the books of the bank showed.

Hastings quoted Hensel as saying that he would plead guilty and "take his medicine." He asked to be admitted to bail in order that he might assist in straightening out the bank's affairs, Mr. Hastings said. According to the confession, Hensel first resorted to his method to cover up a mistake for which he had previously been censured by superiors. After that he found it was so easy to deceive the bank that he continued the practice, Mr. Hastings said.

Lockhart, attorney for Hastings, said that his client had been under great mental stress recently and had been under examination by Dr. Smith W. Jelliffe, alienist and insanity expert. Whether or not the appointment of a lunacy commission would be asked depended on the conclusion reached by Dr. Jelliffe, Lockhart said.

OPPORTUNITY FOR BOND DEALERS

To Consider a Matter Which is of Real Importance.

Toronto, Dec. 2.—The committee of the Ontario Legislature appointed to consider the proposed "blue sky" legislation met here yesterday. The bill applies to all companies selling stock whether operating under a provincial, Dominion or foreign charter. The "bucket shops" are aimed at in the clause which defines the word "fraud" as including the taking of profits on stock-selling sufficiently great seriously to embarrass a corporation financially, or any fictitious or pretended purchase or sale of securities. If a stock-selling concern does not meet with the approval of the commissioner of securities, an official to be appointed in connection with the proposed legislation, he can take steps to prevent any newspaper publishing advertisements from the company in question. He also will have power to stop sales of issues which he considers contrary to law.

If claims set forth in a prospectus are found to be incorrect, the purchaser of the stock must be compensated. Severe penalties are provided for violations of the proposed bill, as follows:—Contravention of the act, other than fraud, not less than $100 and not more than $1,000, first offence, and a fine of $200 up to $2,000 for a second offence; in default of payment of the fine, six months' imprisonment; where there is intent to defraud, a fine of not less than $1,000 and not more than $10,000 for the first offence, and, at the discretion of the magistrate, imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years for the first offence, and, for the second offence, a fine ranging from $2,000 to $25,000, and imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years.

COMMISSIONERS GET SURPRISE

Legislation Passed at Last Session May Mean Refund of Large Tax Amount.

A bill passed by the Local Legislature last March and assented to by the Lieutenant-Governor on April 18 relating to taxation of residents of the county parishes earning incomes in the city of St. John as journeymen mechanics, employees of the Dominion Government, and employees of a steam railway company, came in for discussion by the Common Council yesterday. Consideration was given to the appeal of L. A. Acheson, chief clerk for the C. P. R. superintendent, in the matter of some $90,34, which he asked be refunded to him under the provisions of the act mentioned. The city solicitor, Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., expressed an official opinion that this act went into effect at the time the Lieutenant-Governor gave his assent. The chairman of the board of assessors and the commissioners were greatly surprised, as their understanding was that the bill would not take effect until 1923. The city solicitor said that the only thing to do now was to refund the monies collected and apply to amend the bill. Several thousand dollars' assessment is involved in this.

Just after Roosevelt was taken away a shell exploded where he had stood and Nolen was badly wounded. When he left the hospital "permanently disabled" was written after his name. He begged for re-enlistment, but recruiting officers were obscure. Then he wrote "Do you remember?" to Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and set forth the facts. Then came orders from the War Department to the recruiting agent here to accept Nolen for further service.

"They all come back to Oatmeal"
THIS is the day of fads in foods as well as in everything else. Many new breakfast foods are launched. People experiment with first one and then another. But in the end they all come back to oatmeal.
WHY?
Because instinct leads them back to the simple, basic food which provides the balanced nourishment the human system requires.
Oats come nearer to being a perfect food than any other cereal. They are vital to the health of children because they make brawn and bone for growing bodies. They are equally important for grown-ups as an energizing vim-food.
Just as Oats have greater food value than other cereals, so Quaker Oats have greater food value than ordinary oats.
We secure the very cream of the oat crop, and in the milling the grains are sifted until none but the rich, plump, queen grains are left. These are the oats you get in the Quaker Oats carton,—the finest oats in the world, with a flavour that is unrivalled. Protected by the sealed carton, Quaker Oats are kept fresh, sweet and clean, retaining all the original flavour of the unbroken kernels.
Everyone enjoys getting back to Quaker Oats.
Add a package of Quaker Oats to your list of groceries to be ordered to-day.
