PRODUCE WANTED.

C. HUMPHREY TAYLOR.

PRODUCE PRICES.

The produce market has been exceedingly busy the past week. A vast deal of poultry has been shipped from this station as well as from Bath and Florenceville. The market all along the line was glutted the day before Thanksgiving and every merchant had to refuse offers of poultry. Chickens bring 5 to 7c.; ducks and geese 7 to 9; turkeys 9 to 11c. Oats are still quoted at 23 cents and the merchants at that price have difficulty in realizing any profit, as they are quoted in St. John at only 29 and 30 cents. It costs fully the difference to handle and ship them. This difficulty also exists in the hay and pork markets. It costs $4 to get hay from here landed in St. John, so buyers must get $8 for it there to be able to pay $4 here. Pork is worth 4 1/2 cents this week Butter is worth 16c. if extra good, (poor butter refused) and eggs have jumped to 20c.

On Tuesday J. E. Parsons who has been buying in this vicinity shipped a car of dead pork and a car of lambs. He has now gone to his home in Owen Sound after a very successful season. He is well pleased with this section of the country, particularly Hartland, and says a pork-packing establishment here would make money for itself and for the farmers. He will come here again next season. He advises farmers to raise pork for spring market as well as fall.

VICTORIA CO. COURT.

The fall term of the Victoria County Court opened on Monday last, Judge Stevens presiding.

The first case on the docket was the Queen vs. Albert Tardy for assaulting a constable in discharge of his duty. It seems that on the 22nd of October last Clinton Frazer, a constable of Grand Falls attempted to arrest a drunken man, a friend of Tardy's who was kicking up a rumpus in the street. Tardy pulled off his coat and assaulted the constable. No serious results followed, but constable Frazer laid a complaint. Tardy was given 30 days in goal.

There were three claims for damages against the C. P. R. Mr. McLauchlan on the Grand Falls Branch, had a cow killed by the train and another man at Andover, had two pigs killed. The Company put in no defence and McLauchlan was rendered a verdict for $20 damages and 10 cents for costs; while the other fellow got a verdict for $25 and 10 cents costs. The third case, the C. P. R. put in a defence, A. B. Connell, council. This was for cow-killing and the C. P. R. gained a verdict for nonsuit.

Temperance at Perth.

One evening last week Emerald Division of the Sons of Temperance at Perth gave a public temperance meeting. There was splendid vocal and instrumental music and well-rendered recitations. Rev. Mr. Estey and Hon. G. T. Baird addressed the meeting. Then after all this a course of refreshments in the way of coffee and cake was passed around. This was the first attempt the Division has made for a public meeting, and it was a decidedly successful affair from start to finish. The Division is endeavouring to raise funds for the completion of the Union Hall, so ten cents admission was asked at the door and a sum of over six dollars was netted. Two weeks prior to Christmas a concert and drama will be put on, the proceeds being for the Hall fund. Full announcements of this will be given at a later date in the ADVERTISER.

THEY DON'T THINK SO.

Upper Woodstock Won't Join the Town.

Here is a voice from Upper Woodstock:

"I noticed in the last issue of the Dispatch an article headed 'A Proposal to Extend the Town Boundaries and take in the Upper Corner. Now Upper Woodstock expects very soon to extend her boundaries to the north and west and take in Hartland, Victoria Corner and Jacksonville and therefore become one of the largest cities in the Province. Upper Woodstock expects very soon to have the iron foundry running and when she does there is no doubt but there will be electric cars running to the above named places. And if Woodstock wants to come in she will have to hold out better inducements than she has in the past. And as to the Court House and Goal if Woodstock wants them to beautify her town there is no doubt but what Upper Woodstock will let Woodstock have them in the course of seventy-five or a hundred years.

A TAX PAYER.

Nov. 24th, 1898.

He Didn't Say It.

Frank R. Shaw, chairman of the Wakefield Parish Liberal committee, says the ADVERTISER erroneously reported his utterances. He wishes it expressly understood that he made no statement to the effect that the Liberals lost the last election in this county because of the Conservative candidate having too much money to put up.

Everyone is prone to blunder and newspaper reporters are no less liable to mistakes than people in all other avocations. The ADVERTISER regrets having misquoted Mr. Shaw, but it is authoritatively informed that had he made the statement as reported he would not have shot aside of the mark.

On hand to wholesale at St. John prices, freight added, 24 dozen axes. Lumbermen and general traders can save some money by looking into our prices on axes. Shaw & Dibblee.

Fur and fur-lined capes, astrachan jackets, boas, muffs, etc., for ladies and children; also men's fur coats in coon, wombat, reindeer and imitation buffalo—at Carr's.

ORNITHOLOGY.

A Paper Read by M. A. Oulton at the Teachers' Institute, Hartland, 1898

The classification of the bird will now depend largely on the description which the pupil returns to the teacher with. Supposing the description to be given as follows: Length 5 to 5½ inches, about one inch shorter than the English Sparrow; male ashy grey under the eye and the back of the neck, underneath and lower back. Gray stripes over the eye, and blackish brown one running through it; dark red crest as a cap for his crown; upper back brown, slightly reddish; wings and tail dusky brown; wing-bands dull; bill black. Female lacking chestnut crown; bill brown; the song a continuation of chirps, strongly resembling the song of a junco but more nearly resembling the notes of a locust. The teacher having called his class and received the above description will ask a few questions as to where the bird was seen and a few points as to his habits, so that the full class may understand the bird's distinguishing features. The point which now arises is to what family does the bird belong and what is its name? But how are these questions to be answered?

Now a small quantity of botanical knowledge will serve to tell us that when a new plant is found its classification and name depend upon its correct analysis as a standard, which by means of a key will name our plant, so in like manner a bird when thoroughly described can be named by means of correct reasoning in a standard Ornithology, which should be in the possession of each such teacher, if this can be conveniently arranged for. Now by using the description of the bird as given above the teacher will readily decide that the one mentioned belongs to the Finch family, or Fringillidae, also that he is the smallest sparrow that we in New Brunswick meet with and as his notes intimate, he is our familiar friend "Chippy."

The teacher may now allow the different members of the class to write a description of this bird with notes on his habits and song in their Natural Science notes for the day being mindful always not to omit the date, or name of the bird in these notes, which will be kept not only as science notes but as knowledge useful for future reference throughout life.

This plan of class work should be continued from week to week until the oblique rays of the noonday sun allow the insects, which form much of the food of these birds, to become dormant, when most of our songsters return with the receding sun to the far south thus leaving the bounds of our field of study.

Now as the autumn winds take the place of the gentle zephyrs of summer and appear to be mourning the loss of our feathered friends among the falling leaves, the teacher may ask each pupil to make a synopsis of his bird lessons throughout the spring, summer and autumn; and in a general review emphasize the importance of each pupil being able to detect the common songsters of the province by (a) note, (b) sight, or (c) even by mode of flight in some cases.

The teacher who thus pursues a course of "bird-study" will not only be teaching his pupils many useful lessons, but he will also be adding to his own store of knowledge, as well as awaking that interest in his pupils which will drive away many dreary feeling and dark clouds common to school life; and instead place them in a fit condition for to receive many useful lessons direct from the hand of Nature. Yea, I believe that even the birds will learn to appreciate the close inspection of the pupils and teacher, without sitting in dread of the shower of mud, stones and sticks which greeted their advent and bade them farewell, on their departure in former years.

Returning once more to our bird class there are many points which when connected with our study will afford pleasure to both teacher and pupils, such as searching for and finding the nest of each bird described in our list. This will not only be a pleasure but also a source of many moral lessons, shown in the parental affection of the mother and father birds in caring for their tender fledglings and in building a nest where dangers are least liable. Also the fact that each bird, such as a Savanna Sparrow, will build a nest just the same as any other Savanna Sparrow, also that no two classes of birds will build just the same style of a nest.

MIGRATION OF BIRDS.

Again another excellent lesson may be gained by watching the birds as they return to and leave us, and when this time is appointed for each. Also some birds spend the winter with us and the summer in the groves and fields of Labrador, among which may be mentioned the Tree Sparrow, the Snow Bunting, etc., while others such as the far famed Old Tom Peabody, Vesper Sparrow; and still a third class such as the Canada Jay, the Blue Jay and the black capped Chickadee, remain with us throughout the year, these being called permanent residents. Thus Nature has provided us with birds for the entire year although they extend from the Iceland lake to the orange groves of Florida.

GROUPING OF BIRDS.

An excellent method for remembering the birds in their families or according to color—still the former is the preferable method—is to compare the different species of each family or sub-family.

FOOD OF BIRDS.

Another subject with which the teacher must treat is the food of birds, as it is only when our pupils learn that many birds which are found among our fruit trees are not looking for fruit as food, but insects which do much harm by gnawing the fruit, that they will allow the birds to rest in peace.

Lastly the result of bird-study must be the fitting of our pupils to read intelligently those poems, sonnets and various prosaic articles with which they are brought in contact which are literally filled with references to our various "feathered neighbors" and to their good qualities as well as habits. In fact without our birds where would the poet get his substitute for such a poem as "The Sky-Lark," "The Cuckoo" or "The Sparrow," etc.?

But this study can not do other than elevate the moral standard of our pupils and create a taste for deeper study into the laws of Nature. The rough barbaric notion of appearing at school with a partridge feather or a sparrow's wing attached to the side of the hat will fade from the minds of our female pupils, while our boys will learn to shun the room with a dressed Blue Heron, Loon or Goose standing as an ornament of the same, just as much as if it were an embalmed brother, cousin or sister posted up as an ornament of the room.

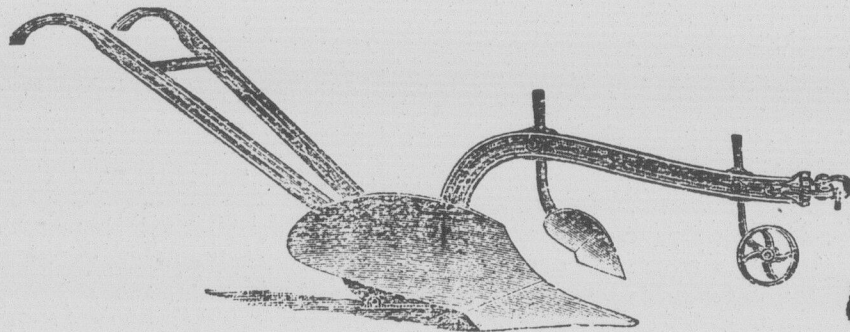

THE CONCLUSION.

Therefore, fellow teachers, seeing the vast importance of bird-study in our schools, let us not prepare to greet our summer birds as thieves, and our winter birds as omens of evil, but let us rather lay aside the shot gun and with pencil and brain welcome our friends from Greenland, Florida, Europe, Africa, South America, etc., as messengers of love and happiness. Let us join hands in greeting our soul inspiring, yet melodious songsters, even though they be draped in feathers.

Piles Cured without the Knife by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Brown, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoria Co., says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physician wished me to have an operation, but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

Bloomfield.

BLOOMFIELD, Nov. 16th.—The children's service Sunday, was quite a success. The day was fine, and the recent snow had made good sleighing, so there was a large audience. The following programme was excellently rendered:

- 2 Prayer by Rev. G. A. Seller.
- 3 Hymns, "Little Saints to Christ Belong."
- 4 Responsive Bible Reading.
- 5 Chorus, "Children of Jerusalem."
- 6 Sunday School Lesson, taught by Edward London.
- 7 Chorus, "If I Come to Jesus."
- 8 Recitation, "November," by Ethel Williamson.

- 10 Exercise, "Little Hands," by Wendall and Frank Stokoe, Ethel and Pearl Williamson, Howard London and Eva Cheney.
- 11 Solo, "Holy Bible," by Miss Ida Williamson.
- 12 Recitation from Romans 12, by Pearl Williamson.

- 15 Recitation, "The Last Hymn," Myrtle Black.
- 16 Solo, "Hark, the Voice of Jesus Calling," Nellie Nye.
- 17 Remarks by pastor.
- 18 Chorus, "Growing Up for Jesus."

Mrs. Frank Black presided at the organ, and sang a solo while the collection was being taken.

In the evening a party of thirteen young people drove over in the "Yellow Bird" to Monticello to attend the union services which are being held by Rev. Mr. O'goode, Methodist, and Rev. Mr. Potter, Baptist. Another party of seventeen went over last night on the "G. O. P."

Arnold Flemming has gone to Lewiston, Me., to work in a shoe factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Cregger and their little boy, of Elkhart, Indiana, have come on to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Frank Black.

The school at Lower Bloomfield closed last Friday, and the teacher, Miss Tracey, has returned to her home at Woodstock. She will be greatly missed in the community.

Mrs. London, widow of the late Cavalier London, died Sunday before last. She had a stroke of paralysis Friday afternoon from which she never regained consciousness. She leaves six sons, all married, five of whom, Edward, William, Horatio, Benjamin and James, live here, and one, Nelson, at Mars Hill. She had been living with her son, James, and all her children were there at the time of her death. Her remains were carried to the Methodist church here, where the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. G. A. Seller, assisted by Rev. Mr. Cahill and Rev. Mr. Pinkerton, and thence to Jacksonville, where she was buried besides her husband, who died three years before.

Miss Mary London is very sick with appendicitis. Dr. Bearisto is attending her.

Mr. Ross, of the firm of Mitchell & Ross, St. Stephen, was at G. H. Stocoe's Saturday.

PEARLE W. STOCOE

E. Morton Weller has resigned his position as clerk for A. L. Green. He intends to open up in Columbus Craig's store for himself. We wish him every success in his new business.

Nash Johnson has taken E. M. Weller's place with Mr. Green.

Miss Laura Brewer is clerking for James McPhail.

Roy Murphy is book-keeping for Mr. A. L. Green.

Mr. Peter Anderson has built a large building, 30x40, to use as a woodworking factory in connection with his blacksmith shop.

The temperance lodge on Thursday evening held a tea and coffee social, realizing about seven dollars, which goes towards completing Union Hall.

The heavy rain on Saturday has taken all our snow. Now we have mud and lots of it.

F. D. Sadler has purchased the Rowena mills and will commence sawing at once.

Ralph Briggs' three boys passed through here on the 21st en route to Tennessee.

The Salvation Army has arrived.

A runaway occurred on the Perth Bridge on Monday. A broken road cart was the only damage done.

Centreville.

Geo. W. White, ex-M. P. P. and wife celebrated, on the 17th inst. the forty-ninth anniversary of their married life. Both Mr. and Mrs. White are well preserved and to a large degree retain the look and vigor of their early days.

Thomas Lindsay, brother of the late Hon. Wm. Lindsay who lived in Williamstown died on the 17th inst. Rev. George Sellar officiated at the burial. Mr. Lindsay came to this country when a young man, made a home in the wilderness, raised a large family and by industry and economy secured a competence of this world's goods. He was a faithful member of the Methodist church. A large concourse of people attended his funeral, showing the respect in which he was held. His wife, who was Miss Corbett, died before him. He was 82 years of age.

The widow of the late N. Gregg has sold her farm to the Messrs. Lockhart of Knoxville.

Woodstock.

There has been "hot times in the old town" for the past few weeks. Friction in the town council, all caused by the bad boys on Halloween night. It takes one policeman to a Woodstock boy at ordinary times. The boys think they have scored a victory and now, there will have to be an addition to the town to hold them.

There will be a Sulphite Pulp Mill built here next summer. Fifty thousand dollars worth of stock will be taken in the town and vicinity, and the remainder of the funds needed will be furnished by English capitalists. Employment will be given to upwards of 1000 men the year around.

A shoe factory will be running by next October and will employ about three hundred hands. As the factory is to be built by Edinburgh capital nothing niggardly in the way of building and plant will be used.

A syndicate is about being formed for the purpose of buying and exporting all kinds of country produce, which is an industry hitherto unknown in this county. The ware house will likely be erected by the last of next June.

About five hundred tenement houses will have to be erected next summer for the employees of these various enterprises.

The old iron works have been purchased by a Chicago firm, and a tramway will be built to the ore beds so that abundance of ore can be easily brought to the works at the Upper Corner. As the ore is said to be the finest in the world for the manufacture of high grade steel, the industry will be a large and permanent one.

DO YOU BROOD?

Melancholia is a Grave Disease and Leads to Insanity.

A Broken Down Nervous System is the Cause of Trouble.

Paine's Celery Compound Nature's Nerve Bracer and Health Restorer.

Do you brood from day to day and make life a continued misery for yourself and family? If you are a victim of melancholia, understand at once you are suffering from a terribly grave disease—trouble that induces suicide and homicide.

One of the most celebrated physicians of the day says that there are several forms of melancholia; simple melancholia, melancholia agitata, melancholia attonita, and melancholia with stupor. The first two are the most difficult of recognition, and are the forms that especially endanger the lives of victims and their friends.

Some of the first and most important symptoms of melancholia are sleepiness, depression of spirits, slow mental movements, terrifying hallucinations and aversion to food. The whole nervous system is soon in a most alarming condition, the mind becomes affected, and even insanity may show its hideous form.

Experience has proved that the ordinary medical treatment of melancholia fails in nine cases out of every ten, simply because the root of the disease is not reached.

Hundreds of cases of melancholia in all stages that have baffled the best medical men have been successfully cured by nature's nerve medicine—Paine's Celery Compound. This marvellous medical prescription does its work directly on the nerves. It tones, strengthens and braces up the entire nervous organization, and as a consequence, the tissues and muscles are built up, and pure life-giving blood is freely supplied to every part of the body.

Reader, this should be an all-important subject to you if you are sleepless, despondent, languid, out of sorts, depressed in mind and mental faculties impaired. Your path of duty is clear. Terrible dangers are ahead if you fail to banish the first symptoms. Your present and future happiness and health depend wholly upon your choice of medicine. The use of Paine's Celery Compound at this time means new life, health, vigor, activity, full mental powers and a length of happy years.

OF LOCAL BENEFIT.

A New Steamship Line Between New York and St. John.

The Manhattan Steamship Co. have placed a boat on the route between St. John and New York, which will make weekly sailings.

It is a modern and complete service in every particular and produce shippers will at once realize that it affords a new output of great value for their wares. Produce can now be shipped to New York about as cheaply as to Boston or to Montreal, and much cheaper than to Great Britain as far freight and dispatch is concerned. This line will be of certain incalculable benefit to the Maritime province export trade.

Next season the Company will put on fast, modern, steel, twin-screw, double-bottomed freight and passenger steamers especially built for the service. They will have every convenience and ample cold storage compartments. The Company offers every possible inducement for patronage.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

The day set apart as one for Thanksgiving may have been observed in the hearts of the Hartland people, but there was little outward manifestation. The schools closed, and there were services in some of the churches. In the Free Baptist church Rev. C. T. Phillips preached an excellent sermon, which was attentively listened to by a large congregation. More than the foregoing and that the roller rink was open afternoon and evening, there was nothing to indicate a holiday. It is a pity no move was made toward arranging for the places of business to close on that day. But as one sage expressed himself, we worked for nearly all our temporal blessings, and sincerest thanks we can express is a willingness to keep on working.

Tomorrow's Services.

Rev. D. B. Bayley will preach at Lansdowne at 10.30, Somerville at 3, and Hartland at 7.30. Rev. J. B. Daggett will preach in the Free Baptist church at 10.30. The other churches will have services and Sunday schools at their several usual hours.

Four Days More.

Very many new and old subscribers have taken advantage of the ADVERTISER's extraordinary offer of six months for 25 cents. Those who have not done so have remaining just four days to take benefit of the inducement. The offer positively withdrawn after next day.

Florenceville Notes.

From Florenceville station there were shipped for the week ending Thursday, Nov. 24th, seventeen cars of produce. This is the largest week's shipment ever made at this time of the year. One ton of poultry was shipped by express the day preceding Thanksgiving.

Last fall G. W. White's warehouse at Florenceville station was blown down. He did not intend to rebuild as he expected the Centreville road would be completed before another shipping season. He now has a crew of men at work rebuilding, however.

IT'S EASY TO DYE.

Home Dyeing With Diamond Dyes is Pleasant and Profitable.

Beautiful and Brilliant Colors That Will Not Fade—Diamond Dyes Have Special Colors for Cotton and Mixed Goods—How Wise Women Economize in Hard Times—A Ten Cent Package of Diamond Dyes Often Saves Ten Dollars.

In these times of enforced economy it should be a pleasure to any woman to learn how she can save the cost of a new gown for herself or suit for the little one, or how she can make her husband's faded clothing look like new. Diamond Dyes, which are prepared especially for home use will do all this. They are so simple and easy to use that even a child can get bright and lovely colors by following the directions on each package.

There is no need of soiling the hands with Diamond Dyes; just lift and stir the goods with two sticks while in the dye bath, and one will not get any stains or spots.

In coloring dresses, jackets, coats, and all large articles, to get a full and satisfactory color it is absolutely necessary to have a special dye for Cotton and all Mixed Goods and a different one for all Wool Goods. This is done in Diamond Dyes, and before buying one should know whether the article to be colored is all mixed or union goods, and get the proper dye. Do not buy dyes that claim to color everything with the same package, for their use will result in failure. The Diamond Dyes alone can do your work successfully; they are the only guaranteed dyes.

Fewer Bros. of Woodstock have this week been employed by the village to tap the water mains for service. Water has been put into Keith & Plummer's, T. J. Hurley's and other buildings.

Gabe Acquin, chief of the Indians of York County, district, has received a letter from London, England, asking to get together a party of ten Indians, two squaws and three papooses for the purpose of an exhibition to be held there next summer. Gabe will do so. He has been in London before on a like mission.—Gazette.

The Andover waterworks are now about completed. The water was turned on on Monday morning, just a month after the time called for in the contract. Alex Porter was the contractor, and the delay was caused through no fault of his. Andover has now a water supply surpassed in no great degree by any in the province, not even by Hartland's famous system.

J. T. G. Carr, Hartland, would respectfully urge his patrons not to kill their poultry now. The markets are overstocked and the weather such that it has to be disposed of quickly, hence buyers have it their own way. Keep it till the middle of December, and it will be in better condition and bring better prices. He can then take all that is offered.

Rev. D B Bayley and bride arrived home from their wedding tour on Friday of last week. On the evening of their arrival a number of the members of the Methodist flock gathered at the Commercial Hotel, where Mr. and Mrs Bayley are residing, and on behalf of the congregation, tendered a welcome. Members of the church and others had previously gotten up a subscription and purchased a substantial oaken rocker, while the choir gave a pretty mirror, to the pastor and his wife. A very neat presentation speech was made by Allen Rideout, and was as aptly replied to by Mr. Bayley. Mr. Carr also made an address suited to the occasion.

Every newspaper in Canada, irrespective of politics, is extending congratulations to the "FAMILY HERALD and WEEKLY STAR," of Montreal, on their enterprise this year, in securing that favorite battle picture of Great Britain, "THE THIN RED LINE" as a premium for their subscribers. We notice, too, that the "FAMILY HERALD and WEEKLY STAR" this week is twenty-four pages. How is it done? A twenty-four page paper like the "FAMILY HERALD and WEEKLY STAR" and a picture like "THE THIN RED LINE," for one dollar per year is one of the wonders of the century. No wonder the publishers offer to return the money if the subscriber is not satisfied, for none could feel otherwise than that they have a unique bargain.

"Rannie" Raymond of Middle Simonds, for many years has been hopelessly insane. He at times is violent and to guard against him giving trouble he is kept in confinement, only at intervals is he let out of his room. About three weeks ago he was in a passive mood and was liberated. Rainsford Shaw, of Simonds, endeavoured to induce him back into his room when he, Rannie, cut him very badly across the hand with a table knife he had in his hand. Mr. Shaw came to Hartland and had his wound dressed by Dr. Estey. A number of stitches were necessary.

Told By The Editor.

During a Holiday Ramble He Visits the Old Homestead.

He Found Changes that Astonished Him,
One of Which Deserves the Widest
Publication for the Benefit It
May Prove to Others.

From the Leader and Recorder, Toronto
Junction.

The editor of the Leader and Recorder, during a recent holiday trip through the counties of York, Peel, Dufferin and Grey, spent a few days at the old parental homestead where he was born and spent many happy years. The old homestead is in the township of Euphrasia, Grey county, about one and a half miles south of the village of Heathcote, and about ten miles from the town of Meaford. It is occupied by the writer's youngest brother, George F. Fawcett. The latter was the picture of health, and remembering that when he came from Detroit, where he had been living for several years, and took possession of the homestead, he was in such feeble health that his life was despaired of, the writer suggested that the bracing climate of the northern regions must be the best medicine in the world for a shattered constitution. The reply made contained statements so remarkable that we consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to give them as wide publicity as possible through the columns of the Leader and Recorder. A severe attack of malaria, contracted whilst in Detroit, brought the writer's brother to death's door, from which he recovered only to find himself the victim of a complication of troubles which unfitted him for work. He was attended by some of the most eminent physicians in Detroit, but he received little or no benefit from their treatment. Change of air was finally recommended and he removed with his family to the County of Grey. A slight change for the better was noticeable at first, but he soon relapsed into the condition and again sought help from the leading doctors of the district in turn. Sleeplessness took possession of him and soon he was wasted away to a mere skeleton. Then the doctors declared they could do nothing more for him, and advised him to go to California. During all these weary months, he read in the papers from time to time, and laughed at what he termed the "miracles" wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He had no faith in such remedies, and it was only when the physicians told him that they could do no more for him that, like the drowning man who catches at a straw, he thought he would try a box of the pills. To his great astonishment his sleeplessness had vanished before he had been using the pills a week, and he sleep like an infant. Gradually his strength returned and his appetite improved, and soon he felt like a new man. A few months after taking the first dose he was as well as ever. For more than two years past he has not taken any medicine whatever, and today you will not find a sturdier specimen of mankind in Grey than Geo. J. Fawcett. "What do I think of Pink Pills?" he queried with a smile; "why I think there is nothing like them on earth for building up the system; but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I do not think I would be alive today."

The experience of years has proven that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles would avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy from a dealer, who for the sake of extra profit to himself may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail.

IN MEMORY.

Of Edward Culbert, who was killed near Hartland, N. B., Sept. 20th, 1898.

Oh how sad and lonely to think of a loved one gone,
No sickness came to take him from his quiet happy home,
But on the track he met his doom; death claimed there alone.

'Twas early in the Autumn, when the leaves were turning gold
And nature in her fullness has some store for each to hold;
What befell this youthful school-boy is here just simply told.

There are dangers for the many and fortunes for the few;
As we journey on life's flowing stream, we'll find this saying true:—
We may bless the coming future or to us it may bring woe.

It may bring us sorrow deep and thorough, just to the utmost test
To a test beyond all question—Human nature is no jest;
We think our lot the very hardest, but must say "God knows best."

Best, yet hard to think so, when we think of the youth now gone;
That he met his death on the railroad track, near to his father's home,
Just as he left his school-mates and journeyed on alone.

He walked along with books in hand, on his well accustomed way
From thence down on the railroad, where the train it came full sway,
And killed our boy of thirteen years, where on the track he lay.

Some say he fell asleep there, others think it is not so;
That how or why it happened, we may not truly know
May think it was this way or that, but for it we cannot show.

And now since all is over, and on earth see him no more,
We'll pay for his soul's happiness on Eden's golden shore,
Among the angel band to stand, to sorrow never more.

—Susie A. McGuire.

Sheldon's Newspaper.

The Rev. Chas. M. Sheldon's books, now so universally read, make it plain that that writer's hopes of the regeneration of the world lie in getting individuals more and more to do their daily tasks on Christian principles no matter what the sacrifice involved. In the best known of his books, "In His Steps" he clearly looks to the newspaper, carried on upon Christian principles, as largely the hope of the "coming kingdom." In looking about him for a newspaper upon his model, he seemed to have hit upon the Montreal Witness, to which he has addressed a letter, part of which we quote:—

"I have read the Witness with much interest. I cannot say that I know of any other daily paper in the United States that is conducted on such high Christian principles. I wish I did, for if ever we needed such a paper in our country we need it now.

"Let me express to you my appreciation of the Christian heroism and consideration which make a paper like the Witness a possibility. I have always believed it possible for a Christian daily to succeed. You have proved that it can. So much of the ideal newspaper in 'In His Steps' is therefore real.

"I pray that you may continue to be blessed in your work. I do not know a more glorious opportunity for building up the kingdom on earth than by means of Christian journalism. I take the greatest pleasure in sending the copies of the Witness to newspaper friends of mine for their inspection.

Very cordially yours,

CHARLES M. SHELDON,
Topeka, Kansas."

Live Stock Notes.

Put in a supply of clay for winter use. Place a box containing clay, ashes, salt, charcoal and leached ashes, which is a substitute for bone meal, where the sow can have easy access at all times.

Comfortable winter quarters for the brood sows pays just as well as for other stock, and no person can expect to be successful in the swine industry who feeds his stock hogs in a mud puddle or a snow bank. Now is the time to look after such work if it has not already been done.

A hog does not lay on fat very fast when he is squealing with the cold. Pigs that are to be wintered with the sows should have warm comfortable quarters, so arranged as to admit of cleaning frequently for sanitary benefit. The same is true of the winter care of all animals kept on the farm. Warm quarters cheapen the cost of wintering.

The second danger to young pigs is that they become diseased for want of exercise. If the sow is kept in a close pen and proves to be a good suckler, it is often the case that in two or three weeks the pigs get so fat as to die. Many a farmer no doubt, with a valuable litter of pigs shut up in a close pen, has seen them die one after another until the litter disappeared, and yet he had no idea what was the matter. Lay it down then as a second rule in pig raising that young pigs must have exercise.

What has become of the Y. W. C. T. U.? Knowing of the splendid work they did last winter we cannot understand how they could let these opportunities pass unheeded. For surely the work that lays close to their hands must appeal to the conscience and ambition of our young women, who might make the "Y" a strong, popular and effective organization, as they have had privileges that we who are older have missed. And it seems as though they might, by setting up their standard, control society in Hartland. It is they who might gather the children in the Band of Hope; teach the young men they must have higher aims and loftier ideals if they would be companions of their gracious womanhood; and in a day like this when questions of such interest are coming up they should get to work. We talk of the wonderful life of our departed leader, Francis Willard. Is it an impossible ideal? Are there not plenty of girls in Hartland who might be like her in a great many ways, and whose life, like hers, might be a benediction. Dear girls, we want to see you mustered into a standing army whose life work should be a "peaceful warfare" for the saving of souls, and the character building that will make our lives grand in this world, and gain us an entrance to the Home above.
