THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, A 48 COLUMN PAPER! ac Best in the Maritime Provinces! Only One Dollar a Year!

The Daily Tribune.

J. L. STEWART, EDITOR. FRIDAY EVENING, DEC. 19, 1873.

The News, in reply to The Tribune's suggestion in reference to the compromise that might have been made with Bishop, Sweney says:

1. That according to the first clause of Regulation 30 of the Board of Education, no person who has "undergone training as a certificated teacher in a Normal School in another country," or who holds a diploma from a chartered College or University, is required to undergo a three months' or three weeks' attendance at the Normal School in order to be eligible for examination for licenses to teach.

2. That it seems on various grounds highly improper to discriminate against the young men and women who pass through our own Normal School in favor of the graduates of other training institutions.

3. That the Government could not legally authorize the use of certificates issued in Schools required by the law to be non-sectarian.

(1). With Regulation 30 in force we are at a loss to understand how the Bishop and three members of the Government could fail to come to terms in the matter of examination.

(2). It does not appear what this reply is, and we will explain. Any class graduate of the Normal School, equally with any holder of a foreign diploma, can go before the Board of Examiners for the purpose of striving for another certificate, and to give the Christian Brothers advantages for gaining high classification, no given to other applicants, would be unfair. This is reasonable justice, and is justifiable in its own right. The prescribed examination is conducted by persons of unimpeachable character, and the grades to which the papers of the writers entitle them are known to the examiners. A graduate of Oxford University has to stand this test, and it is held to get a first-class rating in it, because it is defective in some branch. It is so manifestly unfair to ask for other examination than this, an examination that would be open to the possession of giving a better chance for obtaining first-class certificates than we suppose the Bishop to have been, like ourselves, ignorant of the regulation that enables graduates of other Normal Schools to be examined on this point, and to be awarded a certificate on this point.

(3). We did not want the Government to authorize sectarian books, books that teach the religious tenets of any sect. If two historians, Brown and Jones, take different views of the conduct of the Roman Catholic, or any other Church in any crisis of the world's affairs, one of their books is just as "sectarian" as the other. The Government could have the books examined (by Mr. Perley, say) and formally pronounced unsectarian before authorizing them.

It will be seen by an article from the St. Stephen Courier that the N. B. & C. Railway people are making war on the Riviere du Loup route. It is to be carried to the Legislature, it is useless, for the location made by the Company's engineer has been approved by the Government. Mr. Osburn, according to his own showing, was used badly, but he has more satisfactorily explained than it has been, in such as to render any report he may have made of no account whatever. He may be able, however, to satisfactorily explain all the circumstances that go to show that he was unfairly in the hands and under the management of Mr. Nichols. He owes it to his own reputation to clear up the suspicious circumstances detailed by Mr. Osburn. We take pains to give all the assertions on both sides of this question, as it will soon come up in the Legislature and we want our readers to know all about it. It looks now as though Mr. Stevenson, Surveyor General, would be forced to resign. If it can be shown that the Government has winked at a violation of an Act of the Legislature, the position of his constituents, he will be forced, we should think, to throw up his position and go into opposition.

Mr. V. S. Pike has written a book to show the sufferings of the white people of South Carolina under Negro rule. A relative of his, Mrs. Fred. A. Pike, wrote two or three books some years ago to show the sufferings of the Negroes under White rule. The freedom will get square with their former masters, the hostility of race will die out, and then good government will be possible.

"McAlpine's Dominion Business Classified Directory," just published by David McAlpine, Montreal and Halifax, is a valuable book of reference for every business man. It gives full lists of all the business houses of Canada, and much other valuable information, in a compact and well arranged form.

Those Borderers of Calais and St. Stephen know how to organize first-class lecture courses. One brilliant course has hardly closed when another one is announced for the next winter. Mr. Frederick Douglass, Broncho—the comic English governess, at the Court of St. James, Dr. Geo. Victor Drury, and the Temple Quartette have been engaged.

Jas. Mitchell, Esq., M. A., School Inspector for Charlotte County, was married last Wednesday to Miss Mary Anne Ryder of St. Stephen. The ceremony is planned to notice "the good wishes accorded to Mr. Mitchell by the children of the Free Schools, accompanied by beautiful and costly offerings as tokens of their regard and interest on the auspicious event." The Courier deprived matrimony of its terrors on the St. Croix. The temptation to get married, just for the sake of reading about it in the Courier, must be great.

A lot of cattle that are being fed for winter were exhibited in Truro last week. One pair, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan, weighed 4470 pounds and are expected to be 400 pounds heavier at Easter; a pair by Mr. J. Longworth, 5665 pounds, which by comparison with previous weights showed a gain of two pounds per day to each ox, during 75 days; a pair of beef cows owned by Mr. John Smith, Smith's Island, 3940 pounds.

We have already mentioned that new and old religious sects in England, calling itself a "Peculiar People," the main article of its creed being that it is sinful for a Christian, however unwell, to call in a medical man. In one respect the Peculiar People are not particularly peculiar—they die just like other folk. The last case of this large faith in the Lord is that of Mrs. Emma Bennett, who suffered from cerebral paralysis, expected to be cured by miracle, and is now in the cemetery.

It is again settled that if railway companies give free passes, they are to carry the heaviest loads, and if they do not carry so much load as the one that has paid for its passage, they are to be fined. It is a very good thing that the railway companies are being forced to carry so much load as the one that has paid for its passage, they are to be fined. It is a very good thing that the railway companies are being forced to carry so much load as the one that has paid for its passage, they are to be fined.

Mr. Perley as a Disinterested Referee. Mr. Osburn's Wild-goose Chase. The Report—Action of the Government. (From the St. Stephen Courier.)

After full discussion at the Convention, the Convention instructed Mr. Engineer Perley to go up to the ground and make a survey, and to report on the "disputed territory," so that they may determine whether or not the road should be built according to their agreement. And Mr. Perley was expected to report on the survey, so that both sides of the controversy might have their say upon the spot.

This was felt and many on the part of the Convention, but mark the sequel as told by Mr. Osburn at Fredericton, last Friday.

Mr. Osburn, on being informed of the state of affairs, wrote a note to Mr. Perley, stating that he would be expected to meet him at Woodstock the next day, and to be ready to accompany him on the survey.

Shipping Notes. Wrecked and Abandoned.—The steamer Life Brigade, at New York 16th inst., from Newcastle, E., reports having on the 12th inst., in lat. 44 10, lon. 71, passed the wreck of a ship of about 1200 tons, painted black, masts lying alongside; she appeared to have been but a short time at that condition.

The wreck of a bark of about 500 tons, waterlogged and abandoned, with all her spars standing, was passed on the 15th inst., in lat. 36 43, lon. 69 53, by the steamer Glenfloch from Shanghai. She was painted black, had no name on her stern, and appeared to have been but a short period in that condition.

By Christmas Presents at Notman's.—Ministres for Lockets and Brooches. Our Christmas Presents at Notman's. St. John appears to be afflicted with a set of civic rulers who seem to have but little consideration for the dignity of the city or themselves. An English gentleman—Sir H. Burrard—offered to present the city with a life-boat on condition that the city would organize and maintain a crew for it, but his offer not being accepted or declined, he now has a chance of accepting the boat.—Gleaner.

Patrick Stoker was given in charge by Henry Carr for stealing a cap from his home in Dock street. Carr keeps a boarding house, not for single gentlemen only, and Stoker paid him a visit last night. He was well treated, and wishing to remember his happy evening, he took a cap belonging to one of the boarders, which cost 80 cents, and was carrying it away under his coat. The eagle eye of Carr detected him; he was detained, and an officer sent for. When the officer came Stoker made a brave fight for liberty; he bit Carr's hand, seized a chair and tried to fight his way out. It was useless, and he was overpowered and taken to the station. This morning he denied all knowledge of the affair, and said he was drunk. The evidence proved the contrary, and he was adjudged guilty and sentenced to three months in the penitentiary.

John Smith, a young lad, was charged with assaulting Wm. Rogerson. They worked together and Smith, in his play annoyed Rogerson, who pushed him away, and Smith then threw a piece of iron and struck him on the face. The boy pleaded guilty, and, as Rogerson did not wish to press the charge, he got off by paying costs.

Andrew Peller, charged with stealing plate in Halifax, was remanded. Portland Police Court. Charles Gillespie, charged with drugging snowballs on Main street, was the only prisoner. He was let off with a caution.

Bromelitis and Consumption.—Letter from Dr. Grass. HALIFAX, N. S. From a general knowledge of the prominent ingredients of your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I formed such a favorable opinion as to be induced to recommend it to my patients as preferable, and more convenient than any other prescriptions of the Hypophosphites. For several years I have continued to prescribe it, in many cases with very beneficial results. Since, upon consultation, you kindly afforded me more intimate knowledge of the composition of your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I have used it freely in my practice, both in diseases of the chest, as Consumption and Bronchitis, etc., and in infantile diseases of the prima via, or Stomach and Bowels, with eminent success, considering it superior to any similar preparation yet offered to the public. Thanking you for your kind information,

I remain, yours truly, JOHN B. CRANE, M. D.
