

Carleton Place

VOL. XI.

CARLETON PLACE, C. W., OCTOBER 10, 1860.

No. 5.

The Carleton Place Herald,
PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING
AT CARLETON PLACE, BY JAMES POOLE,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.
To whom all communications, remittances, &c.,
should be addressed.
Only One Dollar a Year.

Advertisements will be inserted at the following rates:
Six lines and under first insertion, 75 cents and 20 cents each subsequent insertion; six to ten lines, first insertion, $1.00, and 30 cents each subsequent insertion; above ten lines, 10 cents per line for the first insertion; and 3 cents a line for each subsequent insertion. The number of lines in an advertisement to be inserted by the space which it occupies in a column. Advertisements without specific directions inserted until forbid and charged accordingly.

LIFE THOUGHTS.

In this world, full often, our joys are only the tender shadows which our sorrows cast.

They are not reforms, but only the shadows of reforms.

Sometimes men who have been frankly wicked attempt to reform, and become locked-up hypocrites.

Some men are like pyramids, which are very broad where they touch the ground, but grow narrower as they reach the sky.

If a man is odious in society, he might as well be in prison. The worst prisons are not of stones; they are of throbbing hearts, outraged by an infamous life.

Men who neglect Christ, and try to win heaven through moralities, are like sailors at sea in a storm, who pull some at the bowsprit and some at the mast, but never touch the helm.

There are many people in this world who are like perfumed vases, from which the perfume has fled, all the surrounding objects attracting it; and so their life is not in themselves, but in their things.

People say, "How fortunate it is that things have turned out just as they have—that I was prepared for this!" As if God did not arrange the whole! One might as well say, "How fortunate it is that I have a neck beneath my head, and shoulders under my neck!"

No man need fear that he will exhaust his substance of thought, if he will only draw his inspiration from actual human life. There the inexhaustible God pours depths of endless variety of truth; and the true thinker is but a short-hand writer endeavoring to report the discourse of God. Shall a child on the Arabian sea fear lest he should drink up the stream?

One man's heart beating against yours may be little to you; but when it is the echo of a thousand hearts, you cannot resist it. A single snow-flake, who cares for it? But a whole day of snow-flakes, obliterating the landmarks; drifting over the doors, gathering upon the mountains to crash in avalanches, who does not care for that? Private opinion is weak, but public opinion is almost omnipotent.

What if the parent bird should sit, nervous and fluttering, upon the bough, when the young ones were hatching, and mourn because its beautiful egg shells were being broken? Yet this is what we do. We have joys and truths deep as eternity, committed to us in egg form, and the shell must needs be chipped before they can be born, and fly full-fledged, singing, toward the gate of heaven. Yet we grieve and fear, and cling still to the undeveloped egg.

It is often said it is no matter what a man believes if he is only sincere. This is true of all minor truths, and false of all truths whose nature it is to fashion a man's life. It will make no difference in a man's harvest whether he thinks turnips have more saccharine matter than potatoes—whether corn is better than wheat. But let the man sincerely believe that seed planted without ploughing is as good as with, that January is as favorable for sowing seed as April, and that oakle seed will produce as good a harvest as wheat, and it will make no difference. A child might as well think that he could reverse that ponderous marine engine which, in night and day, in calm and storm, plunges its way across the deep, by sincerely taking hold of the paddle-wheel, as a man might think he could reverse the action of the elements of God's moral government through a misguided sincerity. They will roll over such an one, and whelm him in endless ruin.

JOKER'S BUDGET.

The Great Eastern is simply a bark from the British Lion.

Why would a printer make a good lawyer? Because he would always understand "the case."

Fast young men smoke a good deal, for it is the nature of a rake to have a quantity of weeds about him.

A PULP, BUT NO SPILT.—It is said that Chang and Eng, the Siamese twins, differ in politics. Both are veteran Democrats, but Chang is now for Breckinridge, and Eng for Douglas.

"Won't you cut open a penny for me, father, and use it as the case long as you can from school one day." "Cut open a penny! What do you want me to do that for?" asked her father. "Cause," said the little girl, "our teacher says that in every penny there are four farthings, and I want to see them."

MILKING MACHINE.—The new air-pump milking machine is regularly used by B. D. Kershaw, a gentleman near Philadelphia. One man milks twenty-five cows in an hour with it. Mr. Kershaw intends to apply steam power, and milk thirty cows at once. The cows are perfectly satisfied, and it does the work thoroughly.

A few days since, a physician in this city, who is so much like the city clerk that few people can tell one brother from 't'her, was called upon by a young gentleman with a fair duns on his arm, who was all smiles and bluster, to obtain a certificate for marriage.

"Oh," responded the physician, in his bland manner, "it is my brother that you call on before marriage; my call comes afterwards."—Newburyport Herald.

A STRANGE ENCOUNTER.—When Louis Philippe and his queen were in exile, in Claremont, they visited the convent of the Sacre Cour. The nun who conducted them through the house was so amiable and agreeable, that the queen, on leaving, expressed her extreme satisfaction. "Perhaps," added her Majesty, "you will be interested to know who your visitors are. This gentleman is Louis Philippe, I am the Queen Amelie."

The nun, bowing profoundly, replied, with a gentle smile, "And I am Mademoiselle Bonaparte."

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

CANADA AND THE COLONIES.

Snow fell extensively in Quebec a few days ago. It melted quickly in the city, but the mountains around are still white.

The County of Kent Agricultural Society have voted $200 to assist in defraying the expenses of the Provincial fair in London next year.

THE HUNDRETH REGIMENT.—The Quebec Mercury says it is rumored that the head quarters of the Royal Canadian Rifles are to be established in Quebec.

The St. John, N. B. Globe, of the 11th ult., states that the decision of the police magistrate of that city, finding "Doctor" Tumblety $20, for assuming the title of a "doctor" has been reversed, no appeal to a higher Court.

Mr. John Allen, of the village of Chatham, on the 15th inst., shot a bear which weighed not less than 500 lbs., and measured 64 inches in length, was 32 inches around the neck, 18 inches around the foreleg, and 10 inches between the ears.

A son of Mr. George Galt, West Williams, while riding on horseback, the other day, was thrown over a steep embankment and sustained such injuries that although amputation of the leg was performed, he died a few days afterwards.

The temporary building used for the grand ball in honor of the Prince of Wales in Montreal, has been sold for $3,000, a little more than eight of its original cost. The party in Boston. The building is to be taken down, removed to Boston, and there re-erected.

A few days ago while a farmer residing in Newbury was attempting to cross the Grand Trunk Railway his buggy came in contact with a train. The vehicle, was smashed, one horse killed, and the other hurt, while the farmer was fortunate enough to escape without a scratch.

A serious collision occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway about four miles above Kingston on Tuesday night, destroying an engine and five cars. Two men are said to be injured, one of the firemen and a second-class passenger. The cause of the collision, we are told, was in consequence of the passenger train being an hour ahead of its time, and overtaking a freight train.

Bayard Taylor was recently in Toronto, and his last letter to the New York Tribune gives his impressions of the city, which, somehow or other, are not favorable. He complains that, having sent his baggage to the boat shortly before he arrived there himself, he was charged twenty-five cents for wharfage. This he regards as an imposition as he had taken his trunk with him in his carriage he would have had nothing to pay.

A track man, Robert Woodhouse, 21 years of age, received on Wednesday a very extensive fracture of the skull, on the railway track, at Waterloo. He had sat down on the track to eat his dinner, and fell asleep when the western express passed and produced the accident. Surgical assistance was obtained from Kingston, the detached portions of the skull were removed, and other attentions paid, but very little hope of his recovery is entertained.

FOR UPWARDS OF A WEEK past a man named Wm. Scott, well known through the city as a news-carrier, has been missing from home. Yesterday his body was found submerged in the water of a cellar on Maple Lane. Information of the fact was conveyed to Coroner Lawlor, who held an inquest in the afternoon at Purdy's tavern, Queen street west. From the evidence it appears that the deceased must have fallen accidentally into the cellar while in an intoxicated state. He was nearly always in this state, but nevertheless sold daily a goodly number of papers and was generally well liked by his patrons. The jury returned a verdict of "Died by suffocation."

HOMICIDE.—David Colin White, a young man seventeen years of age, in the employment of Mr. Fleck, machinist, was killed on Wednesday evening last, in a fight with Philip Tatley, a youth of 16 years. It appears that the deceased had paid attentions to a young woman whom he met at a singing school, which was offensive to Tatley, and the result was a challenge to fight; the contest took place in a field near the Grand Trunk terminus, and resulted in White's death from a blow upon the temple. So far as we can learn, it was a fair fight; and its unfortunate result accidental. The deceased was a steady, promising young man, and remarkably stout and healthy.—Commercial Advertiser.

The Prince of Wales before leaving Canada deposited in the Bank of Montreal, to the credit of the Governor General, a large sum of money to be distributed among certain educational institutions named, "as some token of the very great gratification which H. R. H. has derived from the interesting visit now nearly completed, and as a proof of the deep interest which he must always take in the future progress of this magnificent Province. H. R. H. wishes that the sums appropriated to each should be applied in such way as may be suggested by the governing body as most conducive to the interests of the institutions, subject in each case to your approval." Queen's College, Kingston receives £200; and proposes to found a scholarship or bursary, to be called the "Prince of Wales' Bursary" and to be annually competed for by the students.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Tuesday last, during a heavy storm, in which the lightning was uncommonly vivid, and appeared very near, an old man named Burns was struck, and seriously, if not fatally, injured by the electric fluid. He was sitting on a chair in front of the stove in the dwelling of Mr. McCarthy, in the 2nd concession of Ops, when the lightning, no doubt attracted by some old iron which he foolishly been used to protect the chimney from rain, ran down the stove pipe, and after bursting open the stove, struck the unfortunate man; tearing off his head, and almost annihilating the face on which he was sitting, one of the pieces of which inflicted on the lower part of his person a wound through which the intestines were immediately seen to protrude. Dr. Benson was instantly summoned and stitched up the wound, but it is very doubtful whether the patient can recover. An eye witness tells us that the chair was severely knocked into small pieces, the bottom being split up into narrow strips, and the rungs, legs and rails as completely disjointed as if done by the hand of a man. The lightning made its exit through the flooring, several boards of which were torn up, but not injured.—Lindsay Advocate.

UNITED STATES.

It is rumored that Mrs. Cunningham, of Burdett notoriety, who was married but a few weeks since, in California, is again a widow.

At the St. Louis Fair, Ethen Allen was awarded the $1,500 prize. The profits of the association for the week are about twenty thousand dollars.

SLAVER.—The ship Erie of New York, under American colors, was captured by the United States steamer Mohican, on the coast of Africa, on the 8th of August last, with 397 slaves on board. The captured vessel has arrived at New York in charge of a prize crew.

GREAT YIELD OF WHEAT.—A few days ago Mr. Rheinhammer, residing in Park county, Indiana, threshed five acres of wheat which produced sixty-four bushels and four-tenths per acre. One of his neighbors threshed forty-five bushels per acre. The yield which yielded a fraction over forty-three bushels per acre.

THE CASHMERE GOAT IN AMERICA.—A Scotch lady residing in this city from a merchant shop by Messrs. Garrett & Conner was burned on Wednesday morning last, about three o'clock—the clocks escaping out of a second story—dry goods, and many valuable papers, all of which were lost. There was an insurance on the building and on the goods, so that the loss will not be as great as was at first expected.

REMARKABLE RECOGNITION.—A few days ago a Scotch lady arrived in this city from the British possessions at the Northwest, on her way to Scotland, to visit her only sister, who she had not seen for many years. The sister living in Scotland, by a singular coincidence, arrived in St. Paul, on her way to the Northwest the same day. The two sisters stopped at different hotels, and neither had the remotest idea that they were within a thousand miles of each other, until the morning after the arrival, they met face to face, on Third street. The mutual recognition was immediate. They had planned their visits to each other, without any correspondence, that each might have a pleasant surprise.—St. Paul Pioneer.

CHARACTERISTIC IRISH ANECDOTE.—No class of citizens were more boisterous and enthusiastic in their greetings of Baron Renfrew than the sons of the Emerald Isle—many of whom they had followed the driver, had been about foreigners getting into no way part of it in the matter. When the Prince was seated in the car yesterday morning, ready for his departure, an Irishman was observed giving vent to his feelings in a manner that showed he was fairly overcome with enthusiasm. After showing a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter. A few days ago, the President of the Senate, Mr. Schuyler, was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The Count of Aquila, uncle of the ex-King of Naples, has purchased a mansion in Paris for $500,000. His wife is a Brazilian princess, and prodigiously rich.

A Scotch paper makes the following instance of the sagacity of a dog, which was manifested on the 30th of July, at Berwick in Berwickshire. A dog came to the station-master, and played such antics to and fro, as to induce the master to follow along the railway bridge, where a poor man was found lying run over by a railway car, one leg so frightfully crushed as to require amputation to save life. Had it not been for the dog, another train speedily due would have passed over the man's body and cut him to pieces.

SHARKING EXTRAORDINARY.—The sloop Emma, formerly the splendid, has just returned from a voyage around French Frigate Shoals, where she has been to obtain sharks' fins and seal oil. During her cruise she has taken 800 sharks, some of monstrous size, with jaws large enough to swallow an ox.

THE ATMOSPHERIC CLOCK.—A curious philosophical toy, lately invented in Paris, is called the atmospheric clock, mere mention of which has been previously made in this paper. It consists of a glass tube, containing a little mercury, and closed with corks at both ends. When placed vertically, the mercury tries to get to the bottom, but on account of the air below it and the want of space, it is compelled to go very slowly, the rate of course, varying with the tightness and compactness of the corks. When right-angled, it takes about twenty hours to make the journey from top to bottom. To prevent irregularities or accidents, the tube is enclosed in another, which is hermetically sealed at both ends. The whole is mounted on a wooden frame, the sides of which are graduated to mark the hours. When the clock runs down, it is wound up by turning it over. Its cost is only about 30 cents.

THE CHINESE cannot concern themselves in anything without investigating it with ludicrous circumstances. They succeeded in raising the steamer Cornwall, sunk in the Peiho, and took out her engines. It is to be regretted, in the comic histories of mankind, that how they did it is unknown, and consequently indescribable. But Sang-ho-lin-sin, when he heard that the engines would not work in the hands of his countrymen, summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the endless discussion to which the subject gave rise, while the monster was in New York. A special messenger was sent to him, with a letter from the President, and the messenger was summoned into his august presence four watchmakers from Pekin. "You understand machines," said he to the trembling artisans. "Make that barbarian concern go, or I'll eat your heads off." Down they went, and after mature deliberation, but a score of complimentary remarks, he said, "the coup de grace by swinging his hat and shouting—"Be dad, and come back here four years from this, and we'll run you for President." The Royal suite were greatly amused at this unexpected invitation, and the Prince came near tumbling from his seat in a paroxysm of laughter.

THEY DO THINGS QUIETLY AT HOME after all. They don't know how to do things there after a Democratic fashion. Without the least noise or bluster the great problem has been solved; the Great Eastern's bottom has been cleaned. We all remember the Miscellaneous News Items.

The Lindsay Advocate says:—On Thursday last, a sad accident happened in Fenelon to David Walker, of that township. It appears that whilst the deceased was logging, the oxen struck one end of a log against a stump, which caused the other end to rebound and strike the deceased across the abdomen. He was taken up and medical attendance provided, but he died the next day.

We have reason to believe that the Duke of Newcastle, so far from agreeing with the views expressed by the Times, in reference to the selection of Ottawa for the capital of Canada, expressed himself well pleased with the place and its admirable adaptation for the purpose. Even if this were not the case, it is out of the question that any unskilful colonial interference with the selection should take place.—Leader.

A little son of Charles Galt, of East Lanesboro', aged five years, died a few days ago from the bite of a spider. The little fellow awoke in the night crying, and on his parents seeking the cause of his grief, they found a small black spider biting the calf of his leg, and appeared to be sinking itself into the flesh, where it hung very tenaciously till removed. The leg swelled to a very large size, and his sufferings increased till he terminated in death, about forty-eight hours after he was bitten.

A short time ago a man named Cradall made his escape from the Algonquin county jail. For the information of the curious he has lately written back the following account of the manner of his escape:—“I suppose it is a mystery to some how I got away, consequently I will give you a brief account of my departure. The warden opened the door, and I got out of my cell by ingenuity, ran up stairs with agility, crawled out of the back window with secrecy, slid down the lightning rod with rapidity, walked out of the angle town with dignity, and am now basking in the sunshine of pleasure and liberty.”

OUR TERMINUS.—The Railroad Bridge under the Grand Trunk, in the rear of the town is now all completed, and the rails are nearly all in place for the permanent track, between that point and the wharf. The station house at the river is nearly all finished, and the engine house is fast rising into colossal proportions. The trade of the road we understand, still continues largely in excess of expenditure, and everything betokens fair prospects for carrying the road back to Amprior at an early day. The full amount of business will never be felt till the Ottawa is tapped by the road, and the sooner this is done the better.—Brookville Recorder.

DR. TUMBLEY AGAIN IN TROUBLE.—The “celebrated” Dr. Tumbley has fled from serious trouble in St. John, N. B. We learn from the Morning News and New Brunswick newspapers of the 1st, that Mr. James Portmore died in St. John after suffering on Tuesday week. He had been for a short time previous to his death under the treatment of Dr. Tumbley, who, going to Amprior at an early day, the full amount of business will never be felt till the Ottawa is tapped by the road, and the sooner this is done the better.—Brookville Recorder.

SPANISH DESIGNS ON MEXICO.—A few days ago we published a statement from the New Orleans Picayune, to the effect that Spain is making extensive preparations for an attack upon Mexico, by the way of the St. Andrew's road. His clerk was examined, and in the course of his testimony he said that Tumbley told him that he intended reaching Calais that night, and upon being questioned closely he said he had suspicions that he fled in consequence of learning that the causes which led to the death of Mr. Portmore were in investigation.

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

From the Montreal Witness
MONTREAL, Oct. 8, 1860.
Weather dull and raw.

The latest news from Europe has stiffened the general market, and the sellers are firm in asking an advance of 10c. on Flour. Not many transactions.

The news yesterday from Father Point and the telegraphic despatch from New York this morning, have unsettled our market, and it is difficult to quote.

The following is a letter from a Laborer, dated 15th Sept., conveying very discouraging information from the Herring Fishery:—

“The Herring Fishery, this year is a complete failure. This ship (164 brls.) is all we have caught, and probably all we will catch. There are 10 or 15 Canadian schooners here engaged in the Herring Fishery, and none of them have, as yet, caught any.”

The feeling in business circles is very good. The Dry Goods houses are very busy, and the general improvement is telling materially upon Canadian Railways. The receipts of the Grand Trunk for week ending 22nd ult., are $79,994 17c., against $61,585 50c. corresponding week of last year. The Great Western receipts for week ending 28th ult., are $61,207 04c. against $45,190 36c. for corresponding week of 1859.

And the Northern Railway receipts for week ending 22nd ult., are $10,143 18c., against $6,335 48c. for corresponding week of last year. The aggregate increase of income for one week and the three roads, footing up to $47,423 64c.

FLOUR.—A considerable parcel of Superior change hands this morning, $5.63; at noon, holders are asking $5.75 for some brand.

WHEAT.—Samples designated Chicago No. 1 are offered at $1.21. Prices of yesterday promptly followed.

ASHES.—Very dull.

FRIDAY, Oct. 5th 1860.

The weather has been dull, with heavy rains; to-day is fair and genial.

Business is generally brisk, there being many western merchants in the city.

The wholesale Hardware houses are doing a very good business, and the Dry Goods dealers have been busy for several weeks.

Heavy Woollens and Cotton Goods are in great demand; the stock of Prints are heavy, and going off at low figure—many buyers are purchasing lightly, with the intention of coping back next month.

The Leather trade is very dull; it has not been so inactive for many a year as it is at present.

The Iron market is very dull; nothing doing.

The Flour and Grain markets continue unsettled.—There is a considerable firmness at recent advances. At Chicago on the 26th ult., No. 1 Spring Wheat was at 85c., and No. 2 at 82c.; on the 27th an advance was reported of 2c. on each grade; but on the 27th, No. 1 had gone down to 86c., and No. 2 to 83c. On 2nd Oct., (Tuesday), there was an advance of 3c. to 3c., No. 1 bringing 89c. to 89c., and No. 2, 86c. to 86c., with an advance of 3c. on Flour. Freight has materially declined; on the 29th ult., 12c. being the rate for Wheat to Buffalo was accepted.

The feeling in business circles is very good. The Dry Goods houses are busy, and the general improvement is telling materially upon Canadian Railways. The receipts of the Grand Trunk for week ending 22nd ult., are $79,994 17c., against $61,585 50c. for corresponding week of last year. The Great Western receipts for week ending 28th ult., are $61,207 04c. against $45,190 36c. for corresponding week of 1859.

And the Northern Railway receipts for week ending 22nd ult., are $10,143 18c., against $6,335 48c. for corresponding week of last year. The aggregate increase of income for one week, on the three roads, footing up to $47,423 64c.

Within the last two weeks the Montreal Flour market has been variable. On the 22nd ult., Superior Extra was at $5.40, and before end of the week had advanced to $5.45, and $5.50. On the 3rd inst., sales were made at $5.65, with an upward tendency. Wheat has also fluctuated considerably; the market is firm at our quotations.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

Flour and grain from the Western States are coming forward to the seaboard in large quantities.

A physician once advised Sydney Smith to take a walk upon an empty stomach.—“Whose stomach?” asked the wit.

Why is a young lady just from boarding school like a builder? Because she is ready to receive proposals.

NOTICE.

ALL persons indebted to William Morphy, by Book account or otherwise, are respectfully requested to pay to the undersigned, who alone is duly authorized to collect the same. All parties having just and equivalent claims against Mr. Morphy, are requested to hand in their claims to the undersigned, either at Almonte or Carleton Place.

D. CAMPBELL,
Attorney for WILLIAM MORPHY.
Carleton Place, 8th October, 1860.

University of Queen's College.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

THE SEVENTH SESSION of the MEDICAL DEPARTMENT of the University will commence on the First WEDNESDAY, (the 7th) of November.

For particulars regarding the course of Study, Fees, &c., attention is directed to the “Annual Announcement” of the Department, a copy of which may be had on application to

JOHN STEWART,
Professor of Anatomy.
Kingston, Oct. 1, 1860.

PERSONS REQUIRING MONUMENTS.

CHEAP, HANDSOME & DURABLE. should use the much admired ARMPRIOR MARBLE.

Monuments, Headstones, Mantel-Pieces, Table-Tops, &c., Manufactured in the best style, by W. G. H. SMART, ARMPRIOR, C. W.

FOR SALE.

ONE pair of French Bur Mill Stones, 44 feet, and one pair 4 feet; both of which will be sold low. Apply to THOMAS LYON, Richmond, Sept. 20, 1860. 3-4f

Unconditional Assurance on Life.

THE LIFE ASSOCIATION OF SCOTLAND has adopted a NEW SCHEME of “UNCONDITIONAL ASSURANCE,” which entirely obviates the objections to the ordinary system of other offices.

OMISSION to pay a premium by oversight does not affect the Assurance, and, after a time, payment may be intentionally postponed for a year.

THE ASSURED is not subject to any restriction as to Occupation or Residence, and NO EXTRA PREMIUMS can ever be payable.

THE ASSURANCE is virtually Non-forfeitable and Unquestionable.

THE POLICY HOLDER, on surrendering his Policy can withdraw a fixed and unusually large proportion of his payments, or take a paid-up Policy for double the amount; or he may withdraw the same sum as a Loan, and still continue the Policy.

SO COMPLETE and SATISFACTORY a system of Unconditional Assurance is not to be found in the arrangements of any other Assurance Office. EXTRACTS TO THE PROFIT CLASS on or before 5th DECEMBER NEXT will secure ONE YEAR'S BONUS more than will be allocated to later entrants.

THE LIFE ASSOCIATION OF SCOTLAND was founded in 1838, and has issued upwards of Thirteen Thousand Policies for Life Assurance, amounting to nearly Six Million Pounds Sterling. The Annual Income is upwards of £160,000 Sterling. The Policies under the original Scheme have also, for many years, been unusually free from restrictions and imperfections, and the assured have received large benefits. Prospectuses of this Scheme also may be had on application.

JAMES GRANT, Secretary.

HEAD OFFICE FOR CANADA, 9 GREAT ST. JAMES STREET, MONTREAL.

AGENTS: Amprior, David Campbell, Amprior, Andrew Russell, Postmaster, Renfrew, George W. Ross, do, Pembroke, Andrew Irving. 52

Removals.

Removal.—Almonte Tin Shop.

THE Subscriber in returning his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Almonte and vicinity, for the liberal patronage bestowed upon him, since commencing business in this town, would inform them that he has REMOVED HIS TIN SHOP, to the opposite Mr. BRUCE'S BUILDINGS, (nearly opposite Mr. McIntosh's Factory), where he will keep a general assortment of TIN and SHEET-IRON WARE, at prices which cannot fail to suit purchasers.

Sheep Pelts, Cotton Rags, or Farmers' Produce taken in exchange for Tinware.

JOHN KILPATRICK, Almonte, Aug. 21st, 1860. 50-4f

REMOVAL!

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES!!

TEN THOUSAND POUNDS OF WOOL AND FIVE HUNDRED KEYS OF GOOD BUTTER WANTED.

DURING the building of the Subscriber's New Store on the corner, his business will be carried on in the premises lately occupied by Mr. Andrew Bell, near the Bridge, where great inducements to purchasers will be offered.

In order to encourage the Cash Trade he will make a reduction of 10 per cent on all purchases of Dry Goods, where the money is paid down at the time of purchasing, which will be equal to two shillings on every eighteen shillings. He will pay the very highest price for Good WOOL, and will give every facility and encouragement to parties packing Good BUTTER in Kegs. His whole Stock must be cleared out, therefore good Bargains may be expected.

JOHN SUMNER, Carleton Place, June 26, 1860. 42

Removal Card.

IN REMOVING FROM BURNSTOWN to Amprior, A. H. DOWSWELL takes this opportunity of returning his thanks to his customers in the Burnstown country, for the long and hearty support extended to him, since his establishment in the business of Harness-Maker at Burnstown, and hopes that though changing his place of business to a more commercial centre, the same patronage may follow him, from his old and respected friends and customers. With a view to secure the continuance of the support he has hitherto received, and to extend his business operations, he will have on hand, at all times, all articles connected with his business, made up of the best materials in the market, and by the most experienced workmen, under his own supervision; and orders from a distance will be as strictly attended to, as those of personal call and inspection. Lumbermen especially are solicited to give him a call, and look over his stock of Heavy Harness.

Amprior, Aug. 24th, 1860. 51-4f

Woolen Factories, &c.

WOOL! WOOL!

100,000 LBS. WOOL WANTED

BY THE SUBSCRIBER, FOR WHICH THE HIGHEST PRICE

IN CASH OR CLOTH, WILL BE PAID.

JAMES ROSAMOND, Victoria Woolen Mills, Almonte, June 11, 1860.

THE BEST AND LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF CLOTHS EVER OFFERED

IN THIS VICINITY

NOW ON HAND.

40-41. JAMES ROSAMOND.

IMMENSE STOCK

FACTORY CLOTH AND DRY GOODS!!

THE Subscriber begs to inform the Public in general, and his friends in particular, that he has now on hand $4,000 WORTH OF DRY GOODS & FACTORY CLOTH, amongst which will be found any quantity of Summer & Winter Tweeds, Grey Cassimeres, Brown & Grey Satinet, Galla Plaid, Twilled & Plain Flannel, Grey Cotton, Striped Shirting, Blue Denims, and a fine assortment of PRINTS, Mousseline de Laine, Ladies' Tailor's Dresses, &c. All of which will be exchanged, at very Low Prices, for WOOL, and BUTTER by the Firkin.

CASH PAID for any quantity of GOOD CLEAN WOOL. JOHN MCINTOSH, Almonte Woolen Mills, June 1, 1860. 39-4f

Wool Carding AND CLOTH DRESSING.

THE Subscriber begs to return his sincere thanks to his Customers for the liberal patronage he has received during the past year, and at the same time would inform them that he has got his Wool Carding and Cloth Dressing Establishment in good working order. All orders left with him will be done with neatness and despatch. Also, he has on hand a great assortment of Tweeds and other Fancy Cloths, which he will sell cheap for cash, or give in exchange for Wool.

THE highest cash price paid for any quantity of good Wool. WILLIAM PAISLEY, Carleton Place, May 14, 1860. 36-4f

Dry Goods, Groceries, &c.

TEAS! TEAS! DIRECT FROM SHANGHAI, PART OF THE CARGO OF THE SHIP “ANGUSTA MAY.”

HAVING Purchased a lot of CHOICE NEW TEAS

At the Great Tea Sale in Montreal, I can now offer a better article at LOWER PRICES Than any purchased in the usual way. MY STOCK comprises 50 BOXES and 20 CADDIES, of the finest samples in

HYSON, HYSON TWANKAY, IMPERIAL, GUNPOWDER, YOUNG HYSON, SOUCHONG

THESE TEAS have been selected with care, and I am satisfied they will please. A full Assortment of GROCERIES, and all other GOODS for Sale low, at JAMES H. WYLLIE, Almonte, June 18, 1860. 41

New Arrivals AT ALMONTÉ.

THE SUBSCRIBER begs to return his sincere thanks to his customers for the liberal patronage he has received during the past two years, and at the same time would inform them that he is now receiving his SPRING AND SUMMER STOCK of DRY GOODS, Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES, HARDWARE, CROCKERY, BOOTS & SHOES, DRUGS, &c.

BEST SPANISH SOLE LEATHER. An early inspection of the whole Stock is respectfully solicited. GEORGE WILSON, May 9, 1860. 35-4f

Miscellaneous.

CAUTION!

I HEREBY forbid any person or persons from hiring or harboring JOSEPH BOND, Jun., my Indentured Apprentice, as he has unlawfully left my service; any person found doing so will be prosecuted according to law. JOHN BUTLER, Tinsmith, Amprior, Sept. 25, 1860. 3-4

Township Clerk's Office, McNab, Sept. 17, 1860.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Municipal Council of McNab will, on Monday the 18th day of October next, pass a By-law to alter the Sand Point road on and near the side line between lots 18 and 19, on the 4th and 5th concessions.

A. H. DOWSWELL, Township Clerk, McNab.

AGENTS WANTED.

A native agent is wanted in every County in the United States and Canada, to solicit orders and introduce our New National Double Thread Sewing Machine. Wanted Agents to sell high priced machine. Practical for every Family, which makes it the cheapest and most popular machine in existence. A limited number of responsible Agents are wanted, to travel and solicit orders by Sample, at a salary of $50 per month. Business permanent. Address, with stamp, for conditions and instructions, to J. W. MARSH & CO.

JOHN ANGLADE, Boston, Mass.

Foundries and Machine Shops.

RIDEAU FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS.

SMITH'S FALLS, C. W. G. M. COSSITT & BRO.

Manufacturers of the celebrated BUCKEY MOWER AND REAPER, and Wheeler & Miller's DOUBLE HORSE POWER, and Improved Combined Thresher & Winnow.

The most perfect Thresher and Cleaner ever offered to the public. Ploughs, Cultivators, Horse Hoes, Straw Cutters, Fanning Mills, and all kinds of Agricultural Implements. Parlor, Box and Cook Stoves, of the best and most improved patterns, always on hand. Also, Buggy, Waggon and Cart Boxes, Coolers, Sugar Kettles, Circular Sawing Machines and Mill Castings of every description made to order.

Job Work of all kinds executed with neatness and despatch. Cash paid for OLD IRON. August 20, 1860. 50-4f

SMITH'S FALLS FOUNDRY & MACHINE SHOP.

THE Subscriber returns their sincere thanks to the Public for the liberal patronage extended to them for the last Twenty years, and begs to leave to notify them that they will keep constantly on hand, 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10 Horse Power THRESHING MACHINES, with or without SEPARATORS, SHINGLE SAWING MACHINES, CIRCULAR SAWING MACHINES, CULIVATORS, WOOD AND IRON BEAM PLOWS, Cooking, Fancy, Box, and Parlor STOVES; Wagon, Buggy, and Cart BOXES, COOLERS, Sugar and Caudron KETTLES, &c., &c.

Also make to order all kinds of GRIST and SAW MILL CASTINGS. JOB WORK done with Neatness and Despatch. Also, Agents for the BOSTON BELTING COMPANY, and Campbell, Jones & Hinton's SAWS, &c. Cash paid for old Cast Iron. Smith's Falls, July 2, 1860. 43-4f

Amprior Foundry.

THE Subscriber is manufacturing the very best PATTERNS of PLOUGH STOVES, and all other articles in our line of business which for neatness and good quality will compete with any other in the Province. Please call and examine for yourselves. Old Metal and Farm Produce taken in exchange for castings. ROBINSON & McEWEEN, Sept. 20, 1859. 2

Machinery Castings, Implements, MURRAY & MILLER MANUFACTURERS.

FIRE ENGINES, STEAM ENG AND ALL KINDS OF AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. At the Perth Foundry, near Railway Depot, PERTH, C. W. 42-4f

THOMAS TOY, AXE MANUFACTURER, ARMPRIOR, C. W.

BEGS respectfully to return his grateful thanks to the Lumber merchants of the Ottawa district, and the public generally, for the liberal support which he has received since commencing the above business; and begs to assure them that he will be found always on hand with a good assortment of superior axes.

Every other article in his line of the best quality, and at the shortest notice. Amprior, June 27, 1860. 42-4f

Marble Works, &c. PERTH MARBLE WORKS.

JOSEPH DAVIES, DEALER AND MANUFACTURER IN AMERICAN AND ITALIAN MARBLE MONUMENTS, TABLETS, HEAD STONES, HEARTH STONES, and CHIMNEY PIECES. Executed with neatness and despatch at his works, CORNER STREET, PERTH. The Subscriber returns thanks for the public, since he commenced business. He will warrant all work done at his Shop equal to any in the Province. 10 per cent will be taken off the general price for all work taken from the Shop by the parties purchasing. Orders in his line will be strictly attended to. JOSEPH DAVIES, May 10, 1859. 35

Wants.

WANTED. FOR a store in Almonte, a young man accustomed to the business of a General store. Apply, post-paid to GEORGE WILSON, Almonte Aug. 29, 1860.

WANTED. BY the subscriber, 20,000 Bushels of WHEAT, for which the highest market price will be given. PHILIP THOMPSON, Chaudier Mills, Ottawa, January 25th, 1859.

Engineering and Surveying.

CIVIL ENGINEERING AND LAND SURVEYING!!

THE Subscriber having procured the best adapted instruments, is now prepared to attend to every thing in either of the above capacities. Meridian lines accurately drawn. Specifications and Plans made for Bridges in Wood, Iron and Stone. Levels taken, &c. For particulars see hand bills. C. MCLENNAN, Civil Engineer and Land Surveyor, Amprior, July 10, 1860. 45

LAND SURVEYING.

THE Subscriber is provided with the best adapted and most accurate instruments ever used in these parts for Land Surveying, and will honorably Survey in every part of the counties of Lennox, Renfrew, Carleton and Russell, as well as in the adjoining Counties, at a very low charge. For side lines by the meridian very accurately drawn, a uniform scale will be made as follows:—For not over half a mile 4 dollars; over a mile six dollars; not over 11 miles 8 dollars; and where less accuracy is required, lower charges will be liberal credit given, when required. All post-paid Letters, describing exactly the survey to be made and addressed Perth, C. W. will receive prompt attention. JOSEPH M. O'CONNELL, P. L. SURVEYOR, Perth, May 3rd, 1858.

Foundries and Machine Shops.

RIDEAU FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS.

SMITH'S FALLS, C. W. G. M. COSSITT & BRO.

Manufacturers of the celebrated BUCKEY MOWER AND REAPER, and Wheeler & Miller's DOUBLE HORSE POWER, and Improved Combined Thresher & Winnow.

The most perfect Thresher and Cleaner ever offered to the public. Ploughs, Cultivators, Horse Hoes, Straw Cutters, Fanning Mills, and all kinds of Agricultural Implements. Parlor, Box and Cook Stoves, of the best and most improved patterns, always on hand. Also, Buggy, Waggon and Cart Boxes, Coolers, Sugar Kettles, Circular Sawing Machines and Mill Castings of every description made to order.

Job Work of all kinds executed with neatness and despatch. Cash paid for OLD IRON. August 20, 1860. 50-4f

SMITH'S FALLS FOUNDRY & MACHINE SHOP.

THE Subscriber returns their sincere thanks to the Public for the liberal patronage extended to them for the last Twenty years, and begs to leave to notify them that they will keep constantly on hand, 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10 Horse Power THRESHING MACHINES, with or without SEPARATORS, SHINGLE SAWING MACHINES, CIRCULAR SAWING MACHINES, CULIVATORS, WOOD AND IRON BEAM PLOWS, Cooking, Fancy, Box, and Parlor STOVES; Wagon, Buggy, and Cart BOXES, COOLERS, Sugar and Caudron KETTLES, &c., &c.

Also make to order all kinds of GRIST and SAW MILL CASTINGS. JOB WORK done with Neatness and Despatch. Also, Agents for the BOSTON BELTING COMPANY, and Campbell, Jones & Hinton's SAWS, &c. Cash paid for old Cast Iron. Smith's Falls, July 2, 1860. 43-4f

Amprior Foundry.

THE Subscriber is manufacturing the very best PATTERNS of PLOUGH STOVES, and all other articles in our line of business which for neatness and good quality will compete with any other in the Province. Please call and examine for yourselves. Old Metal and Farm Produce taken in exchange for castings. ROBINSON & McEWEEN, Sept. 20, 1859. 2

Machinery Castings, Implements, MURRAY & MILLER MANUFACTURERS.

FIRE ENGINES, STEAM ENG AND ALL KINDS OF AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. At the Perth Foundry, near Railway Depot, PERTH, C. W. 42-4f

POETRY.

LEAF BY LEAF THE ROSES.

Leaf by leaf the roses fall,
Drop by drop the spring runs dry;
Our by our, beyond recall,
Summer blossoms fade and die;
But the roses bloom again,
And the spring will gush anew,
In the pleasant April rain.

And the summer sun and dew,
In hours of deepest gloom,
When the spring of gloom is fall,
And the roses in their bloom,
Drop like maidens and pale,
We shall find some buds that lie
Like a silent gem apart,
Hidden far from careless eyes,
In the garden of the heart.

Some sweet hope to gladden woe,
That will spring forth and new,
When grief's winter shall have fled,
Giving place to rain and dew.
Some sweet hope that breathes of spring,
Through the weary, weary time,
Budding forth and blossoming,
In the spirit's glorious clime.

POLITICAL ISSUES OF THE DAY.

MR. BROWN'S SPEECH AT GALT.

The Globe of Thursday last contains the speech delivered by Mr. Brown at the meeting of his friends at Galt. It is an able production, and gives a full review of the state of the views of the Reform party of Upper Canada, it is worthy of publication and we give so much of it as our space will permit, noticing the leading topics in succession.

After alluding to special circumstances connected with his reception at Galt, Mr. Brown proceeds to refer to the ACTUAL POSITION OF UPPER CANADA.

The gentleman who for six years, past, by favour of Monsieur Cartier, have ruled the Western Province, have enjoyed the reward they sought in the emolument of their offices and in the empty honours of place. They have not only been able to go into any county of Upper Canada to-day and be welcomed with the unthought sympathy of the stalwart yeomanry, with the hearty confidence of the thousands whom he never yet met before, and who owe him no obligation for favours past, but he has such as are due from free people to a faithful public servant? (Loud cheers.) But how comes it, Mr. Chairman, that while the sympathies of the people of Upper Canada have been heartily with the Parliamentary Opposition for years past, men have been called to retain office and control public affairs in the name of the people of this section of the Province? How comes it that, with constantly increasing strength in Parliament, and out of it and advocating a policy admittedly just in itself and equitable to all, the Liberal party of Upper Canada have not achieved the reforms they have so long and resolutely demanded? How comes it that the minority of Upper Canada continuously and systematically rule over the majority? How comes it that to trample under foot the rights and interests of his own section of the Province is the safe road to political advancement for the Upper Canada politician? How comes it that, while every man in Upper Canada knows that the reckless extravagance that pervades the whole public service, waste and extravagance have gone on unchecked to this hour until we stand on the very brink of serious financial embarrassment? These, Sir, are the questions to which I now propose to address myself.

PARLIAMENTARY REPRESENTATION.

The first position I desire to establish is that the existing system of Parliamentary Representation is most unjust to Upper Canada and forms the root of our political evils. (Hear, hear.) Every one knows that while Upper and Lower Canada are usually regarded as one country the line of separation between them is a deep and wide one. It was at the time of the Union. Each Province has sixty-five representatives without regard to the number of people the two may respectively contain, and each is represented in the Government by the same number of members. Now when last census was taken, nine years ago, the population of Upper Canada was 1,338,633, while that of Lower Canada was 1,338,633, or an excess of 44,007 souls in favour of Upper Canada. I do not claim, however, that these numbers will be realized when the official returns are made in January next, because while Lower Canada has suffered little from the commercial crisis of 1857, the Western section has suffered most severely, and the immigration has not been at all equal to what it was in the case of the Eastern. Lower Canada will show very nearly the result I have stated, and that of Upper Canada under the numbers given; but this is certain that the population of the Western section, is at this moment from 350,000 to 400,000 greater than that of the East, and that we are entitled to twenty-four or twenty-five representatives more than Lower Canada has. (Cheers.) But notwithstanding this great disparity in population Lower Canada have the same number of representatives as we have—and we are told that the system shall not be changed; and Upper Canadians are not found only to submit patiently to the injustice, but base enough for party purposes to palliate it, and endorse it as representatives of Upper Canada constituencies!

REPRESENTATION BY POPULATION.

Our opponents have brought it as a railing accusation against the Opposition that we have abandoned the demand for representation by population—but nothing could be more groundless. We have never ceased to urge it with all our influence; we urge it still; but along with that great Reform we demand constitutional safeguards for the people against waste and extravagance on the part of the Government and Legislature and against any further increase of the public debt, already sufficiently alarming. (Cheers.)

DISPARITY OF TAXATION.

But, Mr. Chairman, the gross injustice done to Upper Canada by the system of representation and our position in relation to the taxation of the country is raised. Last year, I compiled tables from the official returns of the Province, to show the taxation constituted respectively by Upper and Lower Canada. These tables have been published with the principle on which they were compiled, and no attempt has been made to this hour to calibrate their accuracy. The result of a comparison of the whole revenue from Customs, Excise, Territorial, Public Works, Bank Tax, Postage, Law Fees, Common School Fund, Fines and forfeitures, Marriage Licences, and Lunatic Asylum Tax—constituted respectively by Upper and Lower Canada is as follows:

Upper Canada.	Lower Canada.
1854.....$4,793,082	$1,830,268
1855.....3,943,140	1,214,381
1856.....4,602,710	1,000,058
1857.....1,154,789	1,061,358
1858.....3,727,454	1,978,579

It thus appears that in the five years from 1854 to 1858, Upper Canada contributed to the Provincial Revenue no less than $21,226,199, while Lower Canada contributed but $7,589,634—Upper Canada paid 70 per cent of the national taxation, while Lower Canada paid 30 per cent. (Cheers.) And we have the admission of our leading opponents that these calculations are accurately correct. The present premier of the Government, Mr. Cartier, in addressing his constituents of Vercheres, five years ago, told them "they must not forget that Upper Canada paid 70 per cent of the entire taxation of the Province"—and Mr. Attorney General McDonald, the Ministerial Upper Canada Leader, declared in the House of Assembly, in 1853, that "two-thirds of the whole taxation of the country is paid by the people of Upper Canada."

WHAT AN ENGLISHMAN SAYS.

In explaining some time ago to an English statesman the great injustice under which Upper Canada labours, he was struck by the hardship of the case, admitted the great injustice, declared that a remedy ought to be found and must be found, but said he—"Take it easy—why are you in such a hurry. It took us forty years in England to bring peace and contentment to Ireland." I endeavored to show him that no comparison could be instituted between the two countries—that on this side of the Atlantic we lived much faster than in Europe—and that popular power was too great here to be safely tampered with. But I added "It is a very well known fact that an Englishman to talk of the evils of Ireland taking sixty years to correct. It is true that Ireland had to submit to the domination of England for many years, though very earnestly she kicked against it, and very bitter did she deem the position; but Ireland was not inferior in population and wealth, and her taxes were not so heavy as those of England. England was the populous and wealthy section of the three kingdoms, and if there was to be a legislative union at all, it is obvious that English views and interests must be predominant in the union. But put the case in a different light. Suppose that out of the 650 members of the House of Commons England returned [not 500 as she does now, but] 225, and that Ireland and Scotland returned the remaining 325, and supposing that 25 of the English members from the North of England, 25 from the Irish and Scots and obtaining thereby a majority in the House of Commons and the control of the Cabinet—should not only direct the affairs of Ireland and Scotland, but rule England too, and rule it in a manner most repugnant to her people—how would she like that?" He was honest John Bull and had to confess "that he would never stand that!" And is this not the very position the people of Upper Canada now occupy—with this essential difference, that while in the one case England would be ruled by men of her own race and language, we are ruled by men of a foreign race and a foreign tongue.

WHAT KEEPS THE OPPOSITION FROM POWER.

Why is it that the present Upper Canada Opposition has not long ere this obtained the reins of Government? Is it because we have less talents in our ranks than our opponents? On the contrary, the best talent of the Assembly, whether political, legal or commercial, has been gradually gathered into our ranks. Is it that we are personally objectionable to the politicians of Lower Canada? On the contrary we have been again and again assured that if we would but give up our absurd Upper Canada notions, the Treasury benches were open to us. (Cheers.) Yes that is the price our admission to office—give up Representation by Population, give up our demand for Constitutional changes, give up our demand for reformation, give up our demand for the entire separation of Church and State, give up our contention for justice in Upper Canada, and office we may have. (Cheers.) Office at the price and reward of treason to our country! Of the object creatures of Mr. George Etienne Cartier and his French Canadian supporters! (Hear, hear.) For eight years the present Opposition have firmly resisted all such approaches—and if as many more years of resistance were required I trust we should continue to do so.

RISE AND PROGRESS OF THE OPPOSITION PARTY.

At the general election of 1854, there were many such candidates, and at the election of 1857 many more—but this high praise can be claimed for the regular Parliamentary Opposition to the Government, the service of the people, and the service of the country. Of the long list of names who have ever left our ranks. (Cheers.) From the small number of three in 1852 we soon rose to 14, from 14 to 21, from 21 to 30—and now we number not less than 37 or 38—while all the Government can claim with all the influence at their command, is but 25 or 26 including their own party.

OUR OWN PARTY.

Our opponents are prone to boast of divisions in the Opposition ranks—but sure I am that never Opposition but would hold on to their integrity so long—so firm under the existing difficulties and temptations against which they have had to struggle, go to the United States, go to France, go to Great Britain, and show me, if you can an Opposition that has stood firm for eight years, exposed to all the blandishments of power, without a single man going over to the Government? Turn to the political history of the days of Fox and Pitt, and you will find the long list of names who have ever left our ranks. (Cheers.) And through all the record you will find continual disagreements, continual failings at heart, continual dissensions from the party ranks. But the true men stood firm through it all and at last victory was achieved. (Cheers.) And it will be in Upper Canada [continued cheers] and those who now perhaps deride us may look back with very different feelings on the conduct and the motives of men who now battle for the rights of Upper Canada in the cold shame of Opposition. (Loud cheers.)

RECAPITULATION OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

When I addressed you in 1853, you may recollect that we were contending against the very evils we now complain of, that shortly afterwards we succeeded in defeating the Administration, and on an appeal to the electors, the views we then held were triumphantly sustained in which the Government had to be formed. Lower Canada power made itself felt—a coalition was patched up—and the whole fruits of her victory was lost to Upper Canada. At the general election of 1857, we had a still greater victory. Seventeen supporters of the Administration, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls—and among them were not fewer than three ministers of the Crown. But in spite of this startling condemnation by the people, Sir Edmund Head allowed the Coalition to patch up; and ever since, though again and again repudiated in direct terms, the Government have continued to be a Government of confidence by large majorities of Representatives of Upper Canada—they have continued to misgovern the country as the puppets of Mr. Cartier. (Hear, hear.) So entirely destitute of influence in Upper Canada is the Administration, that the Solicitor General, who sat in the previous Parliament were indignantly rejected at the polls