The Emperor William's Unpleasant Experience.

Pertinent Queries Regarding the Duchess of Sutherland's Imprisonment.

How "Squire Baird" Squandered His Princely Fortune—The Duke of York in No Hurry to Marry.

King Alec's Cabinet Proves Troublesome.

LONDON, April 26.—A dispatch from Belgrade states that dissension prevails in the new Cabinet of King Alexander, formed under his direction after the coup d'etat of two weeks ago, and M. Djurecs, ex-Minister of War, has gone to Roumania on a confidential mission to Queen Natalie.

The Opponents of Home Rule.

LONDON, April 26.—The Marquis of Londonderry presided to-day at the conference of Irish Unionists to protest against the enactment of the Home Rule Bill. The conference indorsed the decision of yesterday's Unionist meeting to refrain from making amendments during the committee stage, while retaining freedom to vote on amendments offered by other members.

The Queen's Next Drawing-Room.

LONDON, April 26.—The Queen will be present at the drawing-room on Tuesday, May 9, but the last one of the season, which is fixed for Tuesday, May 16, is to be held for her Majesty by Princess Christian. It is expected that the next drawing-room will be the largest and smartest held this year. A great number of brides are to be presented, and the Duchess of Devonshire will attend.

Royalty Upset.

ROME, April 26.—While the German Emperor was being driven to the railway station at Frascati, which lies on a slope of the Alban Mountains, to-day, the carriage was overturned at a curve in the road and the horses fell. The groom was thrown off and the carriage was damaged. The Emperor was not injured and proceeded in another carriage to the station. The Emperor is being received everywhere in the most cordial manner.

The Squandering Squire.

LONDON, April 26.—It is stated in Glasgow that George Abingdon Baird's personality will be exceedingly small, if, indeed, there is any surplus after all the debts have been paid. The estates are heavily charged and will have to be sold, but it is not expected that there will really be more than enough to cover mortgage debts. When Baird came of age in 1881 he entered into possession of nearly £762,000 in ready money, his annual income being about £100,000. One of the leading Scotch papers says that all his princely fortune has been squandered on women, horse-racing and prize-fighting.

Return of Queen Victoria.

FLORENCE, April 26.—Queen Victoria's sojourn at the Villa Palmiera ended to-day. She started for England this afternoon accompanied by Prince and Princess Henry of Battenberg and all the royal attendants. The carriages conveying the Queen and party to the central railway station were escorted by dragoons through streets crowded with cheering citizens. The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the British consul and the principal officials of the city received the Queen at the station and presented bouquets to her Majesty and to Princess Beatrice.

George and Mary Have Had a Tiff.

LONDON, April 26.—Princess Mary is out of mourning, and very charming she looks in the modified costumes in which she is to be seen about. Her Highness is frankly pleased that at last the papers have, for the time at least, ceased to drag in her name at every turn in connection with George, who, it appears, is the only obstacle in the way of complete happiness at Marlborough House and the White Lodge. The fact is the Duke of York is by no means in such a hurry to get married as the world seems to imagine, and he possesses an ample supply of that native firmness—to term it by no other less flattering phrase — which he inherits from not a few of his ancestors.

There is absolutely no truth in the statement that the projected marriage between the young couple had been officially announced. The British court is still sphinx-like on the subject, and neither the Tecks nor Albert Edward's entourage have uttered a word which would lead one to believe that such an alliance was contemplated. It is, however, whispered in society circles that a screw is loose somewhere. George and his Mary have had a tiff, one of those lovers' quarrels which cause so much anguish while they last and which are amply recompensed in the sweet making up thereof.

The Prince of Wales' New Yacht.

LONDON, April 26.—The Prince of Wales' new yacht, the Britannia, will be launched on Thursday. She is a composite cutter of 220 tons; length on load water line, 86 feet. She is extremely roomy inside and of unusual size. Her counter has been utilized for spacious after-cabins, while the flare of her bow makes a big forecastle. The mast is an immense Oregon spar. The cabins are to be tastefully and luxuriously fitted up and furnished, but everything is to be plain. The beam permits a large dining saloon, extending the full width, and this is framed in mahogany with panels of cretonne. Aft are the Prince's own cabin, with bathroom adjoining and another stateroom, with a smoking-room, a ladies' cabin and a cloakroom. The Prince of Wales will join the Britannia at Cowes on July 28, and she is to be sailed in the royal yacht squadron's August regattas.

Siberian Snows Suit Him.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 26.—At last our poor, run-down Siberia has found a champion to dispel its blood-curdling stories of its terrible climate and general unhealthiness. According to the Pravitelstveni Viestnik the town of Semiluzshsk, in the government of Tomsk, boasts of numbering among its exiles an old peasant who has seen the coming and going of not less than 130 winters and summers! He is still very spry, and does not look to be over 70 or 80 years of age.

He was sent to Siberia 75 years ago by his master (before the freeing of the peasants by Alexander II.) for some trifling offense. The atmosphere of Siberia seems to have agreed with him, for he is entirely sound, mentally and physically, and talks very intelligently about events of 90 or 100 years ago.

On the first of every month he comes on oot to the city of Tomsk, and gathers together enough from the charitably inclined people of the town to last him through the month. This he has done regularly for the last twenty or more years, and so far there seems to be a very good prospect of his continuing to do so for many more years to come. Who shall say that Siberia is a bad place to live in?

A Pertinent Query.

LONDON, April 26.—The case of the Dowager Duchess of Sutherland will be brought before the notice of the House of Commons on Thursday. Mr. C. M. Warmington, the Liberal member for West Monmouthshire, proposes to ask the Home Secretary whether the apartment in Holloway jail now occupied by the Duchess is the one allotted usually to persons imprisoned for contempt of court, and whether the fitting up of her suite of apartments and the granting the permission to provide her own food, receive visits and other privileges are due to any relaxation of the prison rules applicable to ordinary cases of that class of prisoners. Mr. Warmington will also inquire by whose authority such relaxation, if any exists, has been ordered.

LONDON, April 26.—Edmund Yates says: "People are patting Sir Francis Jeune on the back for his courageous conduct in committing a duchess to jail. There are duchesses and duchesses, and I am wondering what he would have done to one of pur sang, with the blood of all the Percys or the Plantagenets in her veins, who had so recklessly contemned his jurisdiction. The Widow Blair, now known as the Dowager Duchess of Sutherland, had few friends outside of her own narrow circle. She had grievously offended in matters of taste and propriety, and society, high and dry, the purists and the straitlaced paragons who set so high an example to humbler folk, are much rejoiced that the judge has sent her to prison. But was Sir Francis vindicating the court or acting as the avenger of an outraged aristocracy, the hem of whose immaculate garments had been soiled by a greedy and usurping trespasser? I am inclined to think he would have given a real duchess less and Sarah Tompkins more. The offense committed was punishable by the severest penalties, and should have been so requited, if at all. Justice Jeune has fallen to the ground between two stools. He has kowtowed to the classes and visited punishment, and yet has not dared to go to the lengths this decision required."

Perils of the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 26.—Many rumors are current regarding the cause of the sudden stopping of the imperial train while en route to the Crimea and the resulting fright by which the Czar was made ill. One rumor is to the effect that thousands of peasants living in villages near Charkoff laid themselves upon the railway track in order to stop the Czar's train and thus have an opportunity to present to the Czar a petition against certain local abuses. A conflict ensued, it is said, between the train guards and the peasants, and the general result was that 42 peasants and 15 soldiers were killed in the fight or crushed by the train.

SWEPT BY FIRE.

Destruction of the Knitting Mill at Merritton.

Port Perry Suffers to the Extent of $35,000—Other Conflagrations.

MERRITTON, April 26.—The Merritton knitting mill was discovered on fire about 3 o'clock, and the building and contents were destroyed. Flying cinders crossed the old Welland Canal, and the large frame residence of James Hamilton was badly damaged by fire and water. The knitting mill and contents are a total loss. The mill was owned by the Bank of Toronto, who lose $18,000 on the building and machinery and have $8,200 insurance. It was operated by S. Taylor & Son, who lose 50 tons of machinery and about $3,000 on raw material and manufactured goods; partially insured. About 50 hands are thrown out of employment.

At 11 o'clock James Hault's residence was in flames the second time, and is now totally destroyed. Loss on building and contents about $4,000; insurance $2,300.

PORT PERRY, April 26.—The stores occupied by Jones & Co., drygoods, and Phillips & McHarry, general merchants, were gutted by fire to-day, and the adjoining stores, with the stocks of Wm. Brock, general merchant, and T. H. Philp & Co., stoves and tinware, were damaged. Loss $35,000, insurance $23,000.

TERSELY TOLD.

Cardinal Luigi Sepiacci is dead.

More conflicts are reported to have occurred between the Turks and Armenians.

Rev. Claude Wilson, a young Methodist divine, committed suicide at Columbus, Ohio, because a young lady to whom he was formerly engaged would not marry him.

All the streets near the United States legation house are being closely watched by Chilian police and detectives for criminals sheltered by United States Minister Egan.

J. M. Ashley, jun., vice-president of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railroad, said on Wednesday: "I see no necessity for a default by the Toledo and Ann Arbor, or for placing the property in the hands of a receiver."

Willie Horn, a bright boy of 15, while playing ball on the roof of a five-story tenement house, in trying to catch a high-thrown ball, stepped backward and fell to the ground. He was dead before the tenants could pick him up.

Dr. Buchanan Found Guilty.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Dr. Robt. W. Buchanan, who has been on trial for the past few weeks charged with poisoning his wife, was found guilty to-night of murder in the first degree.

Warring Elements!

Cyclones, Hail Storms and a Waterspout

Do Dreadful Damage Across the Border.

Scores of Persons Fall Victims to the Fury of the Gales—The Damage to Property Beyond Calculation.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 26.—A terrific cyclone almost wiped out of existence the little town of Jenson, in Sebastian county, last night. Nine buildings were demolished, four freight cars were blown from the track and a portion of the Frisco depot was carried away. One man and a child were seriously injured.

IN OKLAHOMA.

MOORES, O. T., April 26.—The country west and southwest of here was swept by a terrible cyclone at 7:30 last evening. Though the cyclone lasted but a minute or two, the wreck left in its wake was terrible, A path half a mile in width and eight miles long was laid waste.

A DEADLY COMBINATION.

Two distinct cyclones, a terrific hailstorm and a waterspout combined to wreak awful destruction in the newly-built town in Oklahoma last night. It is reported that 62 human lives were sacrificed. It is positive that 40 were killed, while several were fatally and scores seriously injured. The damage to property is inestimable.

THE VICTIMS.

The names of the victims so far as known are: Rev. J. M. Corn, Mr. and Mrs. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Banks, Miss Ella, Jerry and Frank Banks, John O'Connor, wife, two sons and three daughters, the whole family of a Mr. Johnson, consisting of five persons. Orders for 31 coffins have been received here. Supplies have been telegraphed for from other points.

THIRTY-ONE KILLED.

The brunt of the storm was laid upon the prosperous little town of Norman, on the Santa Fe Railway about twenty miles south of here. At that place 31 people were killed, dozens injured and the town almost completely destroyed. Business is suspended, and everybody able to render any assistance to the poor unfortunates or towards removing the dead are out searching along the track of the cyclone. People are frenzied, and cannot give any estimate of their loss, and knowing nothing except to care for the dead and injured.

TOWNS DEVASTATED.

Further on the towns of Downs and Keokuk Falls fared but little better. These towns were nearly devastated, and scores of people are injured, fatally and otherwise, though the loss of life will not be as serious as at Norman.

The first signs of the impending danger were seen late yesterday afternoon in overshadowing the northwest for miles around, while further away to the west, rushing across the horizon, could be seen the cyclone. Men left their places and hurried to their homes, where all who could sought the cyclone caves. At 7:30 o'clock the monster from the west reached its antagonist in the northwest, and, with their combined strength,

SWOOPED DOWN ON THE TOWN OF MOORE.

Houses with precious lives were caught up and carried before the angry torrent, great trees were twisted off and barns and fences and everything in its path was laid low.

Passing along for eight miles it struck the town of Norman, where the damage was repeated, and then on to Downs and Keokuk Falls and through Pottawottamie county, where thousands of dollars' worth of property was demolished.

A FAMILY WIPED OUT.

The house of John O'Connor, near Moore, was destroyed, and O'Connor and his wife and three children and five neighbors, who had sought shelter in the building, were crushed to death.

The frame house of John Banks was torn to pieces and he was killed, while others of his family of six were badly injured, three of the children and Mrs. Banks fatally.

The home of Henry Dyer was demolished. West of Norman eight houses were demolished and five people badly injured. East of the stricken town two men and two women were killed. Around Norman after the cyclone started in and after it a violent rain storm. It was too dark to search out the dead. Rescuers could hear the pitiful cries of the unfortunates and here and there locate the imprisoned victims, but help in most cases was out of the question, and some of the unfortunates were compelled to lie buried beneath the debris of their homes. Men, women and children by the score spent the dismal night in the rain in an endeavor to find their loved ones. Their search was generally fruitless.

THE WORK OF RESCUE.

As soon as it was light enough the men got to work. The victims who had been imprisoned all night were carefully carried to improvised hospitals. But few saved more than they had on their backs. Help from neighboring towns soon arrived, and before nightfall something like comfort was provided. Everything, however, is in confusion, and it will be impossible to gain a correct list of the casualties before to-morrow.

A WATERSPOUT.

In Payne county, 50 miles north, a waterspout struck the place about the same time as did the cyclone, and several houses were swept away.

MANY MORE VICTIMS.

Further reports of the cyclone near Moore multiply the horrors. The latest estimate is that 36 people were killed and 25 injured; 125 persons are left in destitute circumstances and 36 houses were swept away.

RAIN, HAIL, SNOW.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 26.—Reports from 100 points in Minnesota to-night indicated that the great storm which began last Wednesday with twenty inches of snow is stil raging.

Since daylight this morning it has been alternately raining, hailing and snowing. Farmers all over this region are discouraged over the outlook for crops.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

At Toronto, a three-years' agreement, dated May 1, between the Master Stonecutters' Association and the Journeyman's Association, was signed on Tuesday. The terms of the document are exactly the same as the agreement which has just expired. The rate of wages is fixed at 43 cents per hour.

The Knights of Labor in Hull, Ont., are making extensive arrangements for the grand labor celebration in that city on the 1st of July. An effort is being made to have a procession of about 3,000 people.

Ex-strikers of the Santa Fe's mechanical department at Argentine, Kan., celebrated their return to work on Tuesday night in a peculiar manner. At the close of the day's work the ex-strikers gathered in a body and drove the non-union men from the yards. Then they went to the boarding cars where the non-union men had been housed, and wrecked their interiors after having driven out the cooks and other employes. Then hiring a brass band they paraded the streets visiting all the saloons, which provided free beer for the crowd.

GLADSTONE SHOT AT!

Sensational Story in the Pall Mall Gazette.

Its Accuracy Doubted, However—Probable Explanation of the Report—Great Excitement.

LONDON, April 27.—The Pall Mall Gazette to-day contains a most sensational article headed "Rumors of an attempt to shoot Gladstone." The paper states that the alleged attempt upon the Prime Minister's life was made while Mr. Gladstone was walking through St. James' Park at midnight last night on his way to his home in Downing street. The accuracy of the report of the Pall Mall Gazette is doubted. It is probable the story is based upon the fact that a man who is now in custody on the charge of firing a revolver on a thoroughfare, had in one of his pockets a note book containing a number of entries detailing the recent movements of Mr. Gladstone. The prisoner will be arraigned shortly, and his object in making these entries will be learned, if possible. The article in the Pall Mall Gazette caused much excitement among the friends and supporters of Mr. Gladstone, and many inquiries from various parts of the country have been made as to the truthfulness of the story.

Later—Notwithstanding the statements that have been made to the effect that Mr. Gladstone was in no danger of being shot, there is a growing suspicion that he came nearer being fired at than his friends are willing to admit. The man under arrest is named Wm. Tounsend. He is 38 years of age and a resident of Sheffield. The officer who arrested him saw him mount the steps of Mr. Gladstone's residence shortly after Mr. Gladstone had entered. When the policeman ordered him to descend he fired at the officer, and subsequently struggled desperately against being arrested. Tounsend asserts that the discharge of the revolver was accidental. Some of the entries in the notebook read: "The Irish Home Rule Bill has passed its second reading by a full majority, including our Saunders. Talking does not convert. Now is the time for action. I might willfully murder you; would nothing of the kind be justified? Now, to prove it: What says Sir Henry James? See Gladstone's speech of last night. What says Saunderson?" At this point Sir John Bridge, the presiding magistrate, refused to read any further. He instructed the jailer to guard the prisoner with the utmost care.

BUSY AS BEES.

An Army of 15,000 Men Finishing the Work on the World's Fair Grounds.

CHICAGO, April 27.—The warring elements seem to have lost their terror so far as the management of the World's Columbian Exposition is concerned. The vast work of bringing the mighty enterprise to a state of completion goes steadily on in spite of the wind and the weather. The blizzard, the cyclone and the deluge each in turn have turned themselves loose on the great white city, and each in turn have failed to check its progress.

There is an army of 15,000 men working in relays night and day, with all the assistance that modern intention and science can provide, and this great army works with a systematic precision. The management now admits the fair will not be complete in all its parts before next Monday, when President Cleveland will formally open the exhibition, but nearly everyone who knows anything about it declares that even though unfinished the grand exhibition will have so far advanced towards its completion that what will remain to be done will be scarcely noticeable. Others, however, are less sanguine and express themselves of opinion that it will require a month to put things in presentable shape.

The monster 2,000 horse-power engine, which will be set in motion when President Cleveland touches the button on Monday, was tested last night for the first time. The ponderous wheels revolved with such ease and precision that the onlookers could scarcely believe it was in motion at all. It was tested in every part and not a flaw was found. To-day the mechanics connected it with the dynamos and belted it for the great work to be begun on Monday.

The electrical fountain will be in readiness for its first display when the monster engine begins to work. Another wondrous accomplishment is the work of building the elevated railroad in the grounds. The terminal has been completed, and by Sunday it will be ready to land passengers in the grounds. In eighteen days the company has built an immense stretch of track, constructed a suspension bridge with a span of 150 feet over the Illinois tracks and erected its terminal station.

Loaned $10 and Got $17,000 Back.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 26.—A. J. Eimermann, a well-known attorney of this city, is in receipt of a letter from Rube & Cox, a law firm at Houston, Texas, informing him that he is the sole heir to an estate of $17,000 or more, left by F. A. Walter, who recently died in Houston. Mr. Eimermann at first thought that there must be some mistake, but finally recollected Mr. Walter as an old Chicago friend whom he had helped in the summer of 1870 by a loan of $10 with which to buy a ticket to St. Louis, where Walter had the promise of a job.

GLADSTONE COMPLIMENTS BLAKE.

And Thanks Canadians for Their Sympathy—Mr. Blake in Demand.

LONDON, April 26.—Mr. Blake on Saturday informed Mr. Gladstone that he had received cables from Mr. Costigan, solicitor-general, and Mr. Curran, on behalf of St. Patrick's Society, Montreal, and from certain citizens of Ottawa, including the mayor and Archbishop Duhamel, asking him to convey to the Premier their hearty congratulations upon the second reading of the Home Rule Bill. Mr. Gladstone, in replying to Mr. Blake, promised due acknowledgment of the congratulations to the respective senders. He continued: "In the meantime, it adds to the interest with which I receive them that they reach me through the medium of one who has already done so much service to this great imperial cause."

Mr. Blake is still being pressed to speak at political meetings in different parts of the country, but at present is declining further engagements. He will, however, speak at Southwark on Friday, at Birmingham on Wednesday and in London on May 31 at the annual meeting of the Women's Liberal Federation.

COMPARE

A careful comparison of our delicious Flavoring Extracts with the other extracts offered for sale will convince any person that for strength, purity, delicate and natural flavor the extracts made by Cairncross & Lawrence, the chemists, are far superior. Ladies of taste once having enjoyed the delicate flavor that is given to cakes, puddings, creams, etc., by our Vanilla, Lemon or Orange Extract, could not be induced to use any other. Mrs. Ewing, at her cooking class in this city, used our Flavoring Extracts and Baking Powder exclusively.

A GREAT SPECTACLE.

The Biggest Naval Review in Modern History.

New York En Fete—Hundreds of Thousands Witness the Parade of the Ocean Monarchs—Three Miles of Ships.

After the naval ships had passed the Narrows and had entered Upper Bay the fleet of excursion steamers and yachts and big boats fell in and became a volunteer escort. The scene then became one of combined grace, animation and beauty never to be forgotten. The fleet's trip up the North River was one long continued ovation. The ferryboats and tugs screeched to the best of their ability, while the crowds which thronged every wharf and pier cheered and waved anything they happened to have with them. The vessels along the route were dressed out in all the bunting that place could be found for on their rigging. The same was true of all piers on both sides of the river. When the ships arrived at anchorage grounds they fell into places that had been assigned them. The United States ship Enterprise heads the column off One Hundred and Tenth street, and immediately below her are stationed the Spanish caravels. Next come the war ships in two long lines, reaching as far down as Twenty-fourth street.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The naval review in honor of Columbus, which has been in active progress for nearly two weeks, culminated to-day in a demonstration more spectacular and noisy and remarkable in many other respects than anything of the kind recorded in modern history. The quaintest part of the day's proceedings was that the post of honor at the head of the reviewed ships was given to the apparently unseaworthy reproduction of the Columbus caravels. These pigmy boats were anchored opposite Ninety-third street and formed practically the turning point of the review.

The line of vessels reviewed was over three miles in length, stretching in two columns from the foot of Second street to about Ninety-fifth street, where the reviewing ship, the Dolphin, anchored. The foreign vessels were most of them stationed on the New York side of the Hudson River; the American fleet, with the German, Dutch and Argentine cruisers, occupied the New Jersey side. The ships were anchored 300 yards apart, and a space of 400 yards was left between the two columns. Thousands of visitors poured into the city to witness the sight. The day being a public holiday, business was generally suspended. Flags were displayed from all the shipping and from many public and private buildings. Hundreds of thousands of spectators lined the water's edge on both sides of the majestic river, perched upon roofs and upper stories of the tall buildings and climbed the palisades at the slopes of the riverside. The United States took full possession of the waters of the harbor for this day. A circle was tightly drawn round the reviewing vessels and reviewed, and until the actual ceremonies were over no unauthorized boat was allowed to cross the line.

Nearly every tugboat and excursion steamer in the harbor was engaged and crowded with sightseers. At the preconcerted arrangement, all the ships simultaneously hoisted colors and dressed ships. The embarkation of the Presidential, party on board of the reviewing boat Dolphin was a gorgeous affair. The President was escorted by his naval aids and accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland and the members of the Cabinet with their wives, and the members of the diplomatic corps representing foreign governments. As soon as the Presidential party arrived on board the Dolphin. She tripped her anchor and fired the gun as a signal. This was responded to in thunderous volleys. The crack ships of ten nations had been put in readiness for their part of the celebration. On board these vessels the rain was most unwelcome. It drenched the decks and riggings, and hung in pearly drops from the brass work. Dress uniforms were abandoned for storm coats and the jack tars instead of being in holiday rig were in every-day attire. At 10 o'clock the United States ships ran up bunting, and the British, Russian, Italian, German and Holland ships followed suit, until all were in holiday dress.

MARVELOUS MEN.

Cardinal Gibbons Comments on Gladstone and Leo XIII.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 26.—At the banquet of the Catholic clergy yesterday afternoon, His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, in the course of his response to the toast, "The Holy Father," said the two most conspicuous figures before the world's gaze to-day are the two octogenarians, the Hon. William E. Gladstone, Prime Minister of England, and His Holiness Leo XIII. Mr. Gladstone is the ruler of the nation on whose dominions the sun never sets. Some weeks ago, in presenting the Home Rule Bill, he accomplished a feat which has seldom been equaled and never surpassed. He spoke for two consecutive hours with all the vigor of youthful manhood before one of the most distinguished audiences that ever assembled in the House of Commons.

Although Leo XIII does not own an inch of temporal dominion he is to-day the most powerful ruler in Christendom. He is the spiritual head-chieftain of 250,000,000 people, who are not restricted to one continent, but are scattered over the entire globe. He has no standing armies to enforce his mandates like temperal sovereigns. He has no police or civil magistrates to coerce refractory subjects. He has no prisons in which to confine the violators of the law. He has recourse only to moral suasion and spiritual penalties for the maintenance of the Gospel dispensation. The only weapon that he wields is the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. Leo XIII. can say what Gregory XVI. said long before him, that nowhere is his authority more respected than in the United States."

Eight Fatalities.

SOMERSET, Pa., April 26.—Five persons have died so far as a result of the catastrophe on the Bear Rocks Railway last evening, and at least three others will die from their injuries. The names of the dead are John A. Pile, a farmer; Mrs. Pile; Mary Pile, aged 12; Russell Neil, aged 9; Italian, name unknown. Another unknown Italian is fatally injured and will probably die before morning.

Not a Miracle Now.

Until recently Consumption was considered incurable, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. The cure of Consumption is not a miracle now. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength-restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser, and nutritive, or flesh-builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, "Liver Complaint" and Dyspepsia or Indigestion it is an unequaled remedy.

Ontario Legislature.

New Version of "Much Ado About Nothing."

The Opposition's Futile Efforts to Show Culpable Mismanagement.

Discovery of a "Mare's Nest"—First Vote of the Session—Petitions for Initiative and Referendum.

PARLIAMENT HOUSE, Toronto, April 26.—A deputation from Port Arthur and Fort William this afternoon waited on the Cabinet and asked for a bonus of $2 a ton on pig iron manufactured in the Province. The deputation was assured that the Government would consider their representations.

It having been rumored about that Mr. Marter would to-day move the second reading of his bill to prohibit the retail sale of liquor, the temperance people of the city mustered in large numbers in the galleries of the Legislative chamber. For some two hours Messrs. Clancy and J. M. Gibson talked regarding the motion of the former, stating that in the opinion of the House the system of making living allowances was objectionable, unsatisfactory and should be discontinued.

Mr. Gibson moved an amendment, stating that that the system was economical, just and reasonable.

Mr. Wood replied, and Mr. Marter went into the question of eggs used at the Toronto Asylum, claiming that 700 dozen eggs had been shown by public accounts to have been used at the table of Dr. Clarke, superintendent of asylum.

"Awful," chorused the Liberals.

"I guarantee that the Provincial Secretary does not furnish his table so expensively," said Mr. Marter.

"What do you know about it? How can you guarantee?" put in Mr. Hardy.

He would not buy such things as these if he had to pay for them out of his own pocket, went on Mr. Marter. "It is only when these officials have the Provincial treasury at their backs that they go in for extravagance. Warden Massey," Mr. Marter pursued, "had $500 table expenses and $2,000 salary. Why could not other officials be so governed?"

After recess Mr. Hardy followed. It was ridiculous, he said, to charge that officials had dealt corruptly with goods of the Government. Mr. Marter had claimed that Dr. Clarke had consumed at his own table 700 dozen eggs. This was something which was hardly criminal. The doctor's table had been in some ways a public table. Commissioner Noxon, in making his report, had said that these might have been some goods sent to the general asylum kitchen, which had not returned to Dr. Clarke. But what did Mr. Marter know of it personally? Had he ever been in the asylum kitchen or in Dr. Clarke's pantry? Mr. Marter was too much in the habit of making statements which were only the result of supposition. For twenty years the system had gone on and it had remained for Mr. Marter to discover this mare's nest. The order-in-council appointing Dr. Clarke had stated that $2,000 would be his cash salary, and, in addition to this, he was to get a house and table allowance. Mr. Marter's statements at the Auditorium meeting at Toronto during the late campaign had not been by book.

After Mr. Marter had replied, Sol White objected to the Province's paying $150 a year each to Provincial detectives for clothing. The items of cab fare spent by Ministers were also criticised.

Mr. Balfour followed, charging the Opposition with factitious criticism of the Government's action.

Mr. Whitney continued the attack on the public accounts.

Mr. Meredith said the system of supplying public institutions was most unsatisfactory. Dr. Clarke was a good official, but when such bad results were attained under so efficient an officer, how undesirable would be the results under an inferior officer. The investigations of the public accounts committee had shown this. Messrs. Clancy and Marter had done the Province good service on the examinations before the public accounts committee. They had exercised their duty in examining civil servants whose employment depended on Ministers of the Crown, who stood behind to compel them to give evidence acceptable to the Government.

Mr. Harcourt defended the work of the public accounts committee. Mr. Clancy had taken up more of the time of the committee than two or three members in it. He had been accorded wider latitude than any man would be given in a court of law. But his efforts had gone for naught, for all that he had been able to prove was that the system of managing Provincial institutions was most economical. Salaries were moderate and supplies were bought cheaply. Not in any American State could an institution be found which could be accepted as a model to the Ontario institutions.

At 11:15 p.m. the first vote of the session was taken, Mr. Gibson's amendment being carried by 49 to 30.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

The following counties sent in petitions in favor of the initiative and referendum, signed by the numbers following their respective names. They were presented to the House by Mr. C. C. Field, member for Northumberland:

Brant 20, Bruce 370, Carleton 17, Dufferin 6, Dundas 83, Durham 10, Elgin 25, Essex 29, Glengarry 208, Grenville 30, Grey 435, Haldimand 48, Halton 16, Hastings 72, Huron 74, Kent 163, Lambton 126, Lanark 80, Middlesex 168, Monck 25, Norfolk 172, Northumberland 55, Oxford 142, Peel 12, Perth 127, Prescott 72, Prince Edward 35, Simcoe 183, Stormont 43, Victoria 41, Waterloo 66, Welland 51, Wellington 60, Wentworth 120—a total of 3,458.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

Mr. Dack's bill to amend the Municipal Act provides that municipalities may erect slaughter houses, and that when such places are erected butchers are to be compelled to do their work in them.

TWO BILLS BY MR. WATERS.

The latest bill introduced by Mr. Waters to amend the Municipal Act, contains two clauses. The first provides for the appointing of inspectors to value sheep killed by being worried by dogs; the other provides that where the sideroads in a township are two miles and over apart, and where there is a school house midway on the concession between the sideroads, on petition of one-fourth of the ratepayers interested, a road will have to be opened midway between the sideroads.

RESTRAINT OF OPIUM-EATERS.

Mr. Biggar has a bill in hand to facilitate the reclaiming of victims of narcotics. Under the Private Asylums Act a victim of drink can, on the recommendation of a county judge to the Provincial Secretary, be placed under restraint. Mr. Biggar wants to amend the law so that opium-eaters and the like may be treated in the same way.

QUALIFICATION OF RAILWAY MEN.

By a bill which Mr. Conmee will introduce thousands of railway employes will be affected. He seeks to provide a standard of qualification for railway engineers, conductors and bakemen. This will be a measure of some considerable importance.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

BRANT.

The Brantford police made a raid on a cocking main which was taking place on the outskirts of the city on Monday. Some 40 sports were present, and the police were able to catch the party in the very act, and secured the names of about 25 persons present, who will be summoned to appear before the magistrate and answer to the charge. Two birds were fighting as the officers entered, two lay dead on the ground and one dying at the side.

H. R. Fairclough, M.A., formerly of Brantford, lecturer in University College, Toronto, has received an offer of the position of associate professor of Greek and Latin in the Leland Stanford University, Palo Alto, Cal.

At Brantford on Wednesday the marriage of Miss Nellie Whittaker, daughter of Thomas Whittaker, to Dr. Robert Macdonald, of South Bend, Ind., was made the occasion of elaborate ceremony. The parties are very popular.

ESSEX.

Canadian Pacific Railroad Ticket Agent Fred Sharp, Windsor, was married on Wednesday to Miss Rupert, of St. Marys.

The rescinding of the bylaw taxing theatrical companies will be the means of keeping the Windsor opera house open.

Windsor's rate of taxation is 21½ mills on the dollar.

ELGIN.

Mrs. Shepherd, during her address at St. Thomas Wednesday, said that her libel suit against the Brockville Recorder was still in progress, and that she intended having Stead and Mrs. Booth brought there as witnesses.

Mrs. Gregory, relict of the late William Gregory, died at Aylmer Wednesday, aged about 70. She had resided there for the last seventeen or eighteen years since the death of her husband. Previous to that they lived in Yarmouth, near Belmont. She leaves three sons and seven daughters.

KENT.

A convention of representatives of the several Epworth League Societies in the county of Kent came to a close Tuesday night after most pleasant and profitable meetings. Nearly 100 delegates were present from all parts of the county. Among the important subjects on which addresses were delivered and discussion invited were: "The Convention," by Rev. J. W. Annis, M.A., pastor of Park Street Methodist Church, in which the convention was held; "Young People's Societies," by Rev. Mr. Ford, of Dresden; "The Ideal League," by Dr. Thornton, of Dresden, and Mrs. H. R. McDonald, of Chatham; "County Union," by Rev. W. H. Butt, of Chatham; "Our society, its religious, literary and social work," by J. H. Harvey, of Charing Cross, G. D. Lamont, of Chatham, and Miss Mitchell, Wallaceburg; "Relation of the society to the church," by Rev. Mr. Lanceley, of Ridgetown. The following officers were elected for the county union: President, Dr. Thornton, Dresden; first vice-president, Miss Hamil, Ridgetown; second vice-president, Mayor Shillington, Blenheim; third vice-president, Miss Mitchell, Wallaceburg: secretary, Mr. J. E. Brock, Chatham; treasurer, Miss Causegrove, Thamesville; executive committee, the county officers and presidents of local societies.

MIDDLESEX.

The Primrose Baseball Club, Glencoe, has organized for the season. The following officers were elected: President, H. D. Mitchell; vice-president, J. Virtue; secretary and treasurer, H. Bodman.

OXFORD.

A fatal accident occurred in James Elliott's bush, near Oxford Center, Tuesday, resulting in the death of Alfred Sherwood. The deceased, along with his father, was cutting down a tree, which fell, a limb striking him on the back of the head and crushing his skull. After receiving the blow he never spoke and died shortly afterwards. The deceased was about 20 years of age and was a son of Henry Sherwood.

At the Oxford Assizes Wednesday afternoon Tim Carroll, of Ingersoll, pleaded guilty to a charge of rape, and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Rev. David Hunt, of Oxford Center, was arrested Wednesday morning on a capias and taken to jail. The proceedings were instituted yesterday by Warren Totten, Q.C., who was informed that Mr. Hunt was shipping his furniture and chattels to the Northwest. The amount of the claim against the minister is $144 25. Mr. Hunt will fight the case.

WATERLOO.

The stock of drygoods, with lease of store, belonging to T. A. Mara, Galt, worth upwards of $20,000, has been sold to George A. Chrysler, who intends continuing the business.

Crossley and Hunter are meeting with remarkable success in Berlin. Fifty-one young converts were baptized, 100 joined the Trinity Methodist Church, and about 400 partook of the Lord's Supper.

In a debate between the Parisian Debating Society of Paris and the Young Liberals of Galt on the subject the other night, "That independence would be beneficial to Canada," the affirmative was sustained, as supported by the former.

Business Troubles.

TORONTO, April 26.—The backward weather is very injurious to business throughout the country. Messrs. Johnston & Co., general merchants, who ran stores in Walkerton, Wiarton, Paisley and Chesley in connection with the Patrons of Industry, have assigned; also F. Long, of St. Marys, and J. Jennings & Co., of Simcoe. The latter dealt exclusively in drygoods, and their liabilities amount to $25,000. It is said that the firm's assets will exceed that sum.

Indorsed the Marter Bill.

OSHAWA, April 26.—At the quarterly meeting of the South Ontario district council, Royal Templars of Temperance, held here yesterday, there was a large attendance of delegates and visitors. The reports presented showed that the total membership of the district is 502, an average of 84 in each council. A resolution was passed indorsing the Marter bill now before the Provincial Legislature, and a petition was sent to the Government asking them to give the measure their support. Mr. W. J. Moore resigned the office of the district secretary, and Mr. Geo. F. Farewell, of Oshawa, was elected in his place.

A MORNING BRACER.

Radam's Microbe Killer.

In a few moments you will feel its revivifying influences at work; the bad taste in the mouth, the coated tongue and the "I-don't-care-to-work feeling" will be all gone; the stomach under the spell of this tonic water will reassert its functions wonderfully and by the time you are ready for breakfast your appetite will be glorious.

No Spirituous Stimulants

can produce the same tonic effect that this Microbe Killer does. To use liquors of any kind as stimulant of the appetite is simply slow suicide when resorted to by persons in ordinary health.

To remove the cobwebs, so to speak, from one's brain, especially after getting up from a bad night's rest, cannot be done by using poisonous stimulants; only such a refreshing and invigorating drink as the Microbe Killer, which acts upon the system, as does mountain air to the eagle heart, or morning dew to drooping flowers, can do this. It is a drink that feeds and nurses and keeps inviolate the human structure. For sale at all chemists.

LONDON, - - CANADA.

THE ADVERTISER

Looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an Independent Canadian Republic, in friendly alliance alike with the United States and with Great Britain, believing that such a status would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, and promotive of the best attainable relations with the United States, short of a great continental confederation. Meantime, everything is to be gained by cultivating cordial relations between all English speaking peoples. Those who take an opposite course should be regarded as enemies of mankind. We believe it to be no mere dream of Andrew Carnegie's, but a Providential outcome of the future—some sort of federal union between Great Britain, the United States and Canada; either preceded or followed by a confederation of the States and Provinces of the whole of North America—forming one great united English-speaking federal republic.

THE ADVERTISER

Is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort. The differences between most of the existing denominations are no greater than the differences, natural to thinking men and women, to be found in every congregation. Even those Christian bodies supposed to be the farthest apart, the Protestant and the Roman Catholic, have more of belief that is common than of belief that is antagonistic. Even if your usual standpoint is to regard those who differ from you in religion as enemies, there is high authority in the suggestion to "love your enemies, and do them good, • • • despairing of no man." No good cause was ever promoted by any Gospel of Hate. To the laity the differences between the various Protestant denominations are microscopic. For various reasons the clergy, even when, as is true of the best of them, they favor Christian Union, are not in a position to be as outspoken as the laity. There ought to be at least a federal union, at once, for large common purposes; with denominational home rule, if necessary, meantime.

THE ADVERTISER

Is an advocate of Equal Rights for women, whether as regards the franchise, or equal wages for equal work. Municipal and school suffrage in the hands of women has been a splendid success; and the parliamentary franchise should now be granted without delay.

THE ADVERTISER

Advocates the more general use of the Plebiscite, the Initiative and Referendum, etc., believing that the interest of the people in public questions, apart from persons, would be increased, and that something would thereby be done to promote independence of political thought, as opposed to excessive party spirit. Not less democracy in government, but more democracy in government, is the remedy. Everybody is wiser than anybody. Get closer to the people.

THE ADVERTISER

Advocates Prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor; the sooner the better.

God's in His heaven,
All's right with the world.
—[BROWNING.

London, Thursday, April 27.

IT IS not unlikely that Andrew Carnegie, the millionaire manufacturer, who has in many ways shown his breadth of mind, will shortly propose such arrangements with his employes as will inagurate a new and desirable era in the relations between capital and labor.

REV. R. N. GRANT, of Orillia, has been made a D. D. by Knox College. The new Dr. Grant is a strong, meaty preacher; the writer of the very clever "Knoxonian" papers regularly appearing in the Canada Presbyterian, and altogether a worthy son of Canada. Here's to Rev. Dr. R. N. Grant!

GREEN goods men are always trying to get the money of Canadians gullible enough to respond to their circulars which promise a big return for small investment. But occasionally they come to grief. George Albow, one of the gang, was recently captured at Albany, N. Y., and sentenced to three years and two months in State Prison and to pay a fine of $250. Readers of the ADVERTISER who receive circulars offering them counterfeit money can aid in bringing the rascals to justice by handing the missives to the police.

OTTAWA Trades and Labor Council at its monthly meeting last night adopted a resolution declaring strongly in favor of the abolition of the present protective system, and of raising the revenues needed by the Government by direct taxation upon land values. Toronto, Hamilton and Ottawa representative workingmen have thus been heard in opposition to the high tax policy. The large majority of the farmers are opposed to it. The independent manufacturers are against it. The iniquitous system cannot stand.

TRADE OF THE WEEK.

The universal complaint among wholesale men in this city is that business is backward because of the late spring and cold, raw weather. While these conditions continue, that briskness in trade which is necessary to set the wheels of industry humming is wanting. This is especially the case with drygoods, the movement in which is so much controlled by the weather. One feature in the drygoods business worthy of note is that relating to cotton. The short crop of this commodity last year enabled all who grew cotton to get a fair price for it, and a better price for the seed. Those prices stimulated planters, and in Louisiana they are at work with a will. The acreage along the Mississippi River, Yazoo River and the Louisville and New Orleans Railroad will be fully 60 per cent. greater than last season and about 10 per cent. greater than the season of 1891-92. The lands along the Mississippi River and portions of the Yazoo and the railroad named, which were overflowed last season, will go to cotton this year. These indications are of less importance to us in Canada than they are to the people of Great Britain or the United States. The cotton output of Canada being under the control of a combine is little influenced by the condition of the crop over the border, and the price charged to wholesalers remains pretty much the same whether the supply of raw cotton is large or small.

The Canadian wool market has not presented a very encouraging aspect for several years, and from present indications this season will be no better than its predecessors. It will be June before the new clip will be on the market. Prices are stationary, 16 and 17 cents per pound being realized on fleece wool. The decrease in price in wool has been general in this part of the country, and is attributed by some dealers to the fact of so many farmers going out of sheep raising in favor of the dairying industry, thus causing a lack of variety in the supplies; but probably the chief cause is the failure of the farmers to get their output placed upon the United States market, where the prices are considerably higher than here, without paying a high customs tax. In the British markets the price of wool has advanced 10 per cent. on the low grades and 5 per cent. on the fine grades.

The most important news in hardware circles is the announcement that the binder twine manufacturers, at their meeting on Wednesday, resolved to fix the price of their commodity for the ensuing season at 25 per cent. less than last year. This is a great object lesson. The reduction is attributable to three prime causes: (1), the competition from the manufactory in the Central Prison, set up for the relief of the farming community from the combine; (2) the successful running of the Patron of Industry factory at Brantford; and (3) the reduction of the tariff on the commodity by 12½ per cent. There is no change in the iron market since the decline of $1 a ton ten days ago, but there is a brisk demand for fence wire, the late storms, which destroyed so many fences throughout the country, having verified the old saw that "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

The outlook is not so bright in the grocery trade as was predicted at the beginning of the month. Collections are comparatively slow, in fact they are positively dull. This may possibly be accounted for on the ground that farmers are busy getting in seed. A like dullness prevails all over the country, very little goods being on the move. April has not so far come up to the expectations that the satisfactory trade of January, February and March portended. Dull trade always causes prices to recede somewhat, and this is most notable in canned goods and soaps. Raw sugar has advanced very materially during the month, and will go higher. One-half cent is the raise so far.

Cold weather has considerably retarded the seed business during the past three weeks. The cold and damp have affected a great deal of the grain now in the ground, causing it to rot. Reseeding will have to be done to a considerable extent, especially in oats and barley. The staples, clover and timothy, are both easier and somewhat slower. The bulk of the jobbing and wholesale trade in this section is now about over. There is a good deal of inquiry for seed corn, and some difficulty will be experienced in securing a first-class stock. A great deal of caution will be necessary in the selection of reliable seed, owing to the fact that the severe winter has killed the germinating properties of any corn not sufficiently matured.

Business is booming and the outlook bright in the cheese making and dairying line. There is a tremendous trade in dairying apparatus, and prospects are good for a large make of both cheese and butter, providing of course that the season proves favorable. It hinges entirely on good pasturage, with no extended spell of dry weather. There is a considerable increase of cheese factories, many new ones being erected. Winter dairying will receive a decided impulse in the coming fall. More than two dozen farmers in this section have already signified their intention to a prominent dealer of putting in winter dairying outfits.

The backwardness of pastures has kept up the price of butter. In this market, it has been meeting with good demand at from 20 cents to 25 cents, but in New York as high as from 30 cents to 35 cents has been paid for good creamery. The result is that supplies are brought from as far off regions as the grassy slopes of California, and still the price remains high. Eggs, however, are selling at low prices, and are not likely to advance. Business in cheese is confined to small jobbing lots, the new stock offering not being of sufficient importance to indicate what the position of the market will be when the season opens next month.

The Deputy Minister of Marine, who has been on a visit to Montreal, says the shippers expect large consignments of fat cattle to arrive shortly for shipment to England. He found the cattle men very anxious that the slaughter of these animals in British ports should be done separate and apart from cargoes of cattle arriving simultaneously from the United States. As the removal of the schedule restrictions from Canada cattle depends upon the establishment of veterinary examination of the freedom from pleuro-pneumonia, the Canadian shippers think that every precaution should be taken to prevent the lungs of the United States cattle, possibly affected with pleuro-pneumonia, being examined in mistake for those of cattle from Canada. It is to be hoped that the authorities and cattle importers will co-operate in this work. Only by doing so effectively can we expect to secure the lifting of the embargo against Canadian "stockers." So far, sales of cattle in the West are slow, because of the absence of a strong demand for animals for shipment.

Consignments of Canadian horses have this week been disposed of in New York at fairly remunerative prices, despite the fact that the Canadian dealers had to pay a heavy duty at the border before the animals were admitted. But the horses were well bred and in excellent condition. If they had been scrubs, there would have been little or no demand for them. The British Live Stock Journal, alluding to the demand for horses in London, shows that almost the same conditions govern the trade there. It says: "Common cheap cab horses, even though they be genuine and useful, are not wanted, because the paying public give preference to a smart turnout, which must naturally include a good-looking, well-bred horse. The wear-and-tear on London cab horses is enormous, and there is generally a demand for a neat, well-bred animal, even though he be blemished a little, or have an eccentricity of manner which would unsuit him for private use." Our farmers must produce good animals if they are to find any remuneration for labor in horse-breeding.

The drought on the European continent caused a flurry in the grain trade early in the week, and prices advanced in some markets, but cable advices say that whatever damage has so far resulted from the drought had been simply to the pasturage and not to the wheat crop. This view seems to be generally entertained, as prices, though fluctuating, have not materially advanced. The aggregate stocks of wheat are still large, and unless the reports from wheat-growing countries get steadily worse there is not much hope of any advance in the present prices.

Poisoned Pie—Two Victims.

LIMA, Ohio, April 26.—Nora Wood and Minnie Rhoda, two little girls, while playing about the home of the latter, found a pie which they ate, and soon after were taken with convulsions and died. The pie had been filled with poison and placed there for rats.

"NOT A SOLITARY SNIPE."

The Dean of Rochester Enjoyed Football.

Proposed Inter-Club Boat Racing—Speed on a Unicycle—Sporting Items in General.

FOOTBALL.

"NO SOLITARY SNIPE."

The dean of Rochester, England, Dean Hole, presented the Kent senior cup to the Ashford united team after their victory over Chatham lately. Addressing 3,000 people, he declared, amid enthusiasm, that he was a lover of all field sports. He was a gregarian and not a solitary snipe, and he liked to be in the company of his fellowmen. Football was a fine old English exercise, in which the players met on equal terms. It was a game in which they all could join. A duke could not kick an inch further than a dockyard laborer, and a private soldier could keep goal as well as a commander-in-chief. He loved the game because it advanced the health of the country. He was glad he had lived in such counties as Kent and Nottinghamshire, which had won the greatest honors in the cricket and football fields.

THE TURF.

According to a London paper, it is currently reported in Ireland that Mr. John R. Gubbins has sold the stallion Kendal to the Hungarian Government for £20,000.

The Buffalo Driving Park Association announces $70,000 in purses for their grand circuit meeting, and a $20,000 purse in free-for-all trotting. Already three horses with records of 2:10 or better, and eight horses with records faster than 2:12 are entered.

THE WHEEL.

SPEED ON A UNICYCLE.

The Sporting Gazette gives the following interesting paragraph about Roy Keator, the unicycle rider:

"Roy Keator, of the Lincoln Cycling Club, is noted the world over as a unicycle rider. He made his reputation on a high wheel, which he rode with the greatest ease standing perfectly erect on the pedals and without a seat on which to sit. Some of his performances bordered on the phenomenal, and caused comment in all the cycling papers. This year he will ride a geared unicycle, the first of this class of machine that was ever ridden. This it a single 30-inch pneumatic-tired wheel, geared to 68. It is the front wheel of a Mandamin front-driving safety, with only the forks and handle-bars attached. The feat of standing erect on such a mount would be an impossible one for the ordinary rider of to-day, but Keator's past training stood him in good stead, and now he gains quite a turn of speed on the novel contrivance. Thus far he has ridden only inside a building, but soon will be seen on the road and path. He will make an attempt to lower all existing unicycle records, and claims that a mile in 2:40 is possible."

The Globe, Toronto, says: "The proposed inter-club races between the Toronto Argonauts, Hamilton Leanders and London Rowing Club are meeting with every encouragement, and all arrangements will soon be completed. So far, it is proposed to hold races with the Argonauts and Londons in Hamilton on June 10, at London on June 17 and Toronto on June 24."

THE L. AND P. S. R. INSPECTION

Cut Short by the Interference of the Lessees.

Engineer Jennings and Ald. Coo Have to Proceed on Foot After Reaching Maitland Street on a Hand-Car — Text of the Correspondence Between Mr. Ivey and the Mayor.

Engineer Jennings, of Toronto, Ald. Coo and four corporation laborers proceeded on a hand-car as far as Maitland street on the London and Southeastern Railway yesterday afternoon, and they purposed continuing their trip along the London and Port Stanley, with the object of inspecting the road as instructed by the L. and P. S. R. Company, but at Maitland street their explorations were suddenly interrupted. The hand-car had been procured from the Grand Trunk authorities after a request from the mayor had been refused by the L. and P. S. R. lessees. Permission was also refused to the proposed inspectors until such request had been put in writing and the lessees relieved of all responsibility in case of accident.

The mayor then sent the following letter:

"To the lessees of the London and Port Stanley Railway:

"On behalf of the Corporation of the City of London I undertake and agree that you will not be responsible for any accident or injury to Mr. Jennings or his hand-car crew in Mr. Jennings' inspection, on behalf of the city, of the London and Port Stanley Railway Line.

(Signed) E. T. ESSERY, Mayor."

When the passengers on the hand-car had reached Maitland street the receipt of the following letter put a sudden stop to their travels in that way:

"To the mayor and council of the city of London:

"Your undertaking of this date on behalf of the Corporation of the City of London, in reference to relieving the lessees of the London and Port Stanley Railway from responsibility in the event of accident or injury to Mr. Jennings or his car crew, is just presented to me for approval. In reply I would say if the document is officially executed by you with the corporate seal attached, I will accept same, but before granting permission to your engineer to go over the road, I will require a request in writing stating what inspection you require to make and how long you will be in making it.

"(Signed), C. H. IVEY, for the lessees."

Determined to proceed with the work of inspection, Mr. Jennings and Ald. Coo proceeded on foot.

ODDFELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.

The 26th of April Fittingly Celebrated.

Genial Gathering of the Brotherhood—Interesting Addresses and a Pleasing Programme.

The 26th day of April is always looked forward to with pleasure by the Oddfellows of this city, and this year, being their 74th anniversary celebration was no exception to the rule. Last night the large hall in the Oddfellows' block presented a scene of unwonted merriment, about 300 members and their friends having assembled to do honor to the occasion by an "At Home." A bountiful repast had been prepared, and everything in connection with the affair passed off pleasantly, reflecting great credit on the committee of management. It was expected that Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, the sovereign grand sire of the order, would be present and occupy the chair, but he was obliged to leave for Grand Rapids on business in connection with the order.

Dr. Bordan, of Strathroy, was then requested to act as chairman, and before introducing the various participants on the programme made a neat speech, it which he gave a brief history of the brotherhood. It was, he said, founded in Baltimore, Md., in 1819, and since that time had made rapid progress in every quarter of the globe. There had always been considerable objection raised by the ladies about their husbands joining secret societies and spending so much of their time "at lodge," but when they, especially the younger women, saw what a comfortable and well-furnished room the Oddfellows of this city had, he thought all such objections would be forever dropped.

The programme was then proceeded with, and it comprised the best local talent that could be obtained. The various encores fully testified to the appreciation with which they were received. The solos by Misses Mutch, Gott, Bergin and Lilywhite, and Mr. Roselle Pococke's violin solo were especially well rendered. The programme was as follows: Violin solo, Mr. Roselle Pococke; solo, Miss Gott; Highland fling, Miss Geary; solo, Miss Mutch; sailor's hornpipe, Miss Lillian Shand; song, Miss Mamie Bergin; cornet solo, Mr. St. George; Kerry dance, Misses Lillian and Eva Shand; recitation, Miss Bissell; solo, Miss Lilywhite; shaun trews, Miss Geary; solo, Miss Beatrice Shand.

Mayor Essery, who was called on for an address, said he was glad to be present on such a happy occasion, and he was also glad to see so many wives and daughters present. They had also among them Ald. Coo, the poet laureate to the council, Acting Mayor Shaw and Mr. Robt. Cowan, of the Board of Water Commissioners, and last, but not least, they had at the head of the order a Londoner whom the Yankees would consider, if an American, as being next to their President; but as he was a Canadian we had to consider him as next to the Queen.

The committee of management were chosen from the various city lodges and were as follows: Eureka Lodge—John Mitchell, W. F. Darch; H. Powell, Thos. Valier, L. W. Crawford. Forest City—— Hays, J. Matthews, J. Partridge, W. Maddiford, W. E. Beltz. Dominion—W. Ward, J. Saunders, W. Howell, J. M. Symonds, Thos. Mack. Chorazin—J. Heaman, H. Woodman, W. Watts, D. L. Hardey, W. G. Willis.

On Sunday next the annual church parade of the order will be held, when the members will assemble at their hall, corner Dundas and Clarence streets, and march to the Centennial Methodist Church, where Rev. D. M. Mihell, Ph.B., pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, will preach the annual sermon. The choir for the occasion will be composed entirely of members of the order, and good music is assured.

IMMIGRATION AND ANNEXATION.

(From Harper's Weekly.)

There are many good citizens among us who watch the influx of large numbers of immigrants, especially those coming from the south and east of Europe, with serious alarm. They think that these people having grown up under the influence of political and social institutions, customs, ways of thinking and habits of life widely different from ours, are not only utterly ignorant of the nature and working of our system of government, but presumably incapable of understand and appreciating it; that they threaten to remain an unassailable element in our population, calculated to deteriorate our social condition, and that it will, therefore be a highly dangerous experiment to endow them with political rights enabling them to take part in governing the republic. It will, indeed, hardly be denied that many of the new comers, especially those of the Latin and Slavic races, appear at first sight in a hight degree unfitted for the enjoyment and exercise of the rights and privileges of American citizenship, and that not a few of them will remain a distinctly foreign element among us as long as they live. But no candid observer will fail to recognize the fact however intractable the original immigrants may be, the process of assimilation in a large majority of cases tells very forcibly upon their children, and that the third generation is likely to be but little, if at all, distinguishable in their habits, intelligence, ways of thinking, and fitness for American citizenship from other members of the community in the same walks of life. This is the general rule. There are exceptions no doubt, but certainly not enough to put out institutions to any dangerous strain.

The assimilating is facilitated by an interesting combination of influences. The immigrant finds here a people busily at work under local conditions which promise, not a comfortable sustenance without an effort, but ample reward to vigorous exertion, and which at the same time are most favorable to the steady exercise of the physical as well as the mental forces. Our people are accustomed to the use of self-government, and to the habits of order and law-abiding self-restraint, which make self-government possible. Free institutions, the protection of individual rights, submission to the legally expressed will of the majority, and government by public opinion have been found by our people to be a necessity of their existence, and as to the maintenance of these fine institutions they are naturally and instinctively conservative. A society so occupied and animated has great power of assimilation and absorption, for it is a great educator. If it does not wholly assimilate those of the original immigrants who are of the very ignorant or stupid or perverse kind, it is at least very apt to make their children, who grow up under its influence, its own. That after the absorption of foreign elements on a large scale the character of the population will not remain the same as it was before is undoubtedly true. But in the crossing of of nationalities those elements that have the greatest vitality under the surrounding circumstances, and are the most congenial to the conditions under the influences in which they live, will be the most potent force. In a climate which requires as well as encourages vigorous activity and stimulates the energies of human nature we observe the elevation of lower types to a higher one, or assimilation upward.

It is different in tropical latitudes, where nature is so bountiful in its production that man can live without steady work, and where, moreover, the influences of climate impede and discourage vigorous exertion. While the countries under a temperate climate are the home, the natural field of activity of, roughly speaking, the Germanic race, of which the Anglo-Saxon is the most vigorous branch, and while here Germanic vigor is the absorbing element, the assimilating force, the tropics are the home of the African and Indian races, and there they flourish best. The Anglo-Saxon may appear there as a conqueror and a ruler, as the Englishman appears in India, holding other races in subjection with a military and administrative force, which, so to speak, acts as a garrison. But the Anglo-Saxons, with all their native vigor and vitality, have never been able to found and maintain anywhere in the tropics populous commonwealths of their own stock with free political institutions. Even their military and administrative garrisons have to be renewed from time to time, because the tropical climate is so unsuitable to the man of Germanic origin that he inevitably degenerates under its enfeebling influence. It is much more congenial to the Latin races, but even they do not preserve there the best traits of their original character. They, however, commingle readily with the native populations, and thus grew up that Latin-Indian-African mixture which we find in the Central and South American States and on some of the West Indian Islands. This population is on its tropical soil the assimilating force, and if Anglo-Saxons go among them to stay they will appear there as exotic plants, and in the process of assimilation the Anglo-Saxons will lose more than the Indian-African-Latin mixture will gain. It will be assimilation downward, degrading the higher type to a lower one. It is hardly necessary to elaborate how the population flourishing in the American tropic has indeed succeeded in founding commonwealths with nominally free institutions, but how these commonwealths have drifted into a chronic state of lawlessness and revolution. There never was a stable democracy in the tropics. Tropical republics have continually oscillated between two extremes—liberty which meant anarchy, and order which meant despotism. As Bolivar himself once said, the attempt to plant democratic institutions in those tropical regions is like plowing the sea.

Nothing is more curious than to hear serious men, who are terrified at the perils brought upon this republic by the immigration of a few hundred thousand Italians and Hungarians, speak with the utmost coolness of the annexation of tropical countries as a thing devoutly to be wished. It is true they ask at present only for the annexation of Hawaii, because it is the "key" to the inter-oceanic canal in particular and the Pacific Ocean in general; or for Cuba, or San Domingo, because it is the key to the Gulf of Mexico, and necessary for the security of our coast, and so on. But they forget that a key needs another key, an outpost another outpost for its protection, and that if we need them we must encircle the globe with our possessions, and require a large fleet to protect them, like Great Britain. In other words, one annexation will call for another, that for another, and there will be no visible end. For instance, if we possess Cuba, we shall find that the other West India Islands in the hands of other powers "threaten" Cuba, and to secure what we have we must have the other islands too; we must "command" the Gulf of Mexico, and to that end possess the western shores of it—that is, Mexico and Central America. We shall not stop north of the Isthmus of Darien. If we possess those countries, we shall have to embody them in our political system, that is, make States out of them, and permit the people of those States not only to govern themselves, but to take part in governing the United States, in governing us, through their senators and representatives. While entertaining serious apprehensions as to the safety of the republic in admitting to our shores a few hundred thousand Hungarians, Slavs and Italians, who may be absorbed by our people under the favorable conditions of our northern climate, we are to add to our population by annexation many millions of people of the Latin-African-Indian mixture who have nothing in common with us, neither language, nor habits, nor ways of thinking, nor political institutions, nor morals; and these people, too, by the baneful influence of the tropical climate, rendered incapable to acquire those habits of calm reasoning, of sober self-restraint, of orderly acquiescence in the will of the majority, which are necessary to true Democratic Government. Nor can we hope to fill those countries by migration with a population of the Germanic race, for it is a well known fact that the migration of large masses of people follows certain isothermal lines, and that the Germanic race never goes in masses to the tropics for permanent settlement.

We may sometimes be told that such people wish to be annexed to the United States. What does such a wish mean? Not only the desire to be a part of this Republic, but also to have their proportionate share of power in governing it. If the people of the Canadian Dominion expressed such a wish, a people who speak the same language with us, have the same code of morals, the same ways of thinking, the same habits and experiences of self-government—well and good. But as to the people of the tropics, no commercial advantages, no addition to our natural resources and our wealth, no increase of external power, can pay for the dangers they would bring with them. May a benignant fate save us from such acquisitions! May the American people well beware of the beginning!

PARIS GREEN IN THE PAIL!

An Ancaster Man's Escape From Being Poisoned to Death.

HAMILTON, April 26.—What came near being a tragedy had its denouement in Ancaster village on Monday, and there was considerable excitement among the residents of that section when the facts of the affair leaked out. It was a poisoning case, the victim being Henry Kelly, of Ancaster. Mr. Kelly is a partner in the firm of Kelly & Fisher, operating a sawmill on Hamilton road, near the Half-way House. On Monday last he walked from home to the mill, carrying his dinner with him, as usual, in a tin pail, with a cup attachment on the top. When the noon hour arrived he took his meal, and, raising the pail to his lips, drank long and deeply of the coffee with which Mrs. Kelly had filled the vessel. A few minutes after returning to work he was taken with a deathly sickness that culminated in severe vomiting. He was taken home and Dr. Richardson summoned, who discovered that he was suffering from a large dose of paris green. For some hours the doctor worked at him with stomach pumps, etc., and finally Mr. Kelly was restored to consciousness. The doctor does not think he will be out of danger, however, for some days yet.

Yesterday an examination was made of the dinner pail, and in the coffee which remained the doctor discovered sufficient paris green to kill twenty men, and he was of the opinion that Kelly had taken sufficient to kill six men. In fact, the doctor thought the excessive quantity of the poison taken by him was what saved his life.

Various stories are afloat as to the way in which the paris green got into the coffee. Among others, a statement, which lacks confirmation, to the effect that the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. Kelly confessed having made the attempt to poison her father. She is said to be of a very obstinate disposition, and ever since being punished by her father on Friday last for some slight offense she has evidently been brooding over what she considered ill-treatment. From statements made to her schoolmates as to having her own way when her father died, etc., it is thought that in a fit of ungovernable rage she dumped the contents of the paris green package into the dinner pail before her mother filled it with coffee.

Proposal to Open the Gates on That Day Discussed.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 26.—Sunday opening of the World's Fair came up in to-day's meeting of the National Commission. A resolution looking to that end was introduced by Commissioner King, of Iowa, and after much debate referred to the judiciary committee. The members of this committee are opposed to Sunday opening, and this, it is thought, ends the matter.

Offered for subscription..... 250,000
(Of this amount $60,000 has been subscribed by the present owners of the patent.)
Reserved for Future Requirements, $250,000.

JOHN TORRANCE, General Manager Dominion Steamship Company, Montreal, P. Q.
W. M. MACPHERSON, Director Molsons Bank, Quebec, P. Q.

HELLMUTH & IVEY.....London, Ont.
A. FERGUSON.....Ottawa, Ont.

BANKERS:
THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE.

This Company now proposes to carry on a Telephone Business on the Automatic Principle and to that end proposes to purchase the patents of the Strowger System of Automatic Telephony. The present owners already have orders for the equipment of several Canadian towns with their Automatic System.

The present owners of the patents have subscribed for sixty thousand dollars of the stock at par, paying cash therefor.

The success of the system has been practically demonstrated by actual operation, and must necessarily supplant the present cumbersome system.

It is also exclusively used in La Porte, Ind., a town of ten thousand inhabitants, where it has replaced the original system, and it has been adopted by the United States Government and installed for it at Fort Sheridan.

It has also been purchased by and is in successful operation in the Free Press building at London, Ont., and was purchased at a far higher price than that at which the present existing system was offered, and in direct competition as far as the merits of the two systems were concerned.

The Strowger system possesses the following features:

IT COSTS LESS THAN ANY OTHER SYSTEM TO INSTALL.

IT REQUIRES NO CENTRAL OPERATOR.

EVERY SUBSCRIBER MAKES HIS OWN CONNECTIONS.

NO DELAY OR REPLY FROM CARELESS AND INDIFFERENT OPERATORS OF "LINE BUSY."

EVERY SUBSCRIBER HAS A PRIVATE AS WELL AS A PUBLIC LINE WITHOUT EXTRA COST.

THE VILLAGE requiring ten telephones can have as perfect a service as the CITY requiring 10,000.

The service being automatic is ready NIGHT and DAY.

The fact that OTHER SYSTEMS require operators PREVENTS many SMALL TOWNS from having a TELEPHONE SERVICE, as they need but a few telephones and cannot afford operators.

Other towns employ a day operator but have no NIGHT SERVICE, which this system gives.

The Company desires to equip exchanges in every CITY and TOWN throughout Canada as rapidly as possible, and now offers TWO HUNDRED and FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS ($250,000). of its Capital Stock at par (of which sixty thousand dollars has been subscribed by the present owners). Terms of subscriptions:

10 PER CENT. ON SUBSCRIPTION, 15 PER CENT. ON ALLOTMENT.

Remainder as may be required by the Board of Directors, but calls not oftener than thirty days apart, nor for more than ten per cent. at one call.

The right is reserved to reject any or all subscriptions, and to allot a pro rata amount in case of over-subscription.

POSSESSING A PERFECT SYSTEM, REQUIRING NO OPERATORS, the Company by its saving in operation alone can pay large dividends, and in the end it always

"THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST."

THAT TELEPHONE STOCKS ARE AMONG THE MOST PROFITABLE OF ALL INVESTMENTS THE FOLLOWING QUOTATIONS OF PRESENT PRICES AND DIVIDENDS SHOW:

Bell Telephone Company, United States, Price, $190 per Share. Dividends, 8 per cent.
Bell Telephone Company, Canada, Price, $150 per Share. Dividends, 8 per cent.

The price to be paid for the exclusive right of using and of manufacturing under these patents for the Dominion of Canada is $90,000. The patents are valid for fifteen years from 1891.

Subscriptions will be received at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, and its branches in Montreal, London and Hamilton, where full prospectuses can be obtained.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., April 26.—Cattle—Six cars on sale; market active; all sold early at strong Monday's values.

Sheep and Lambs—Thirty-three cars on sale; market opened strong and higher. A few loads of the best winter-clipped lambs sold at $6 35; a good load of wools brought $7 35, but with eastern reports of weak markets values eased off, and the close was about steady with Monday's values. Sheep were not in quite as good inquiry as lambs; one load of choice brought $6 25, and an extra fine lot of 117 lbs weight, nearly all wethers, brought $6 50.

Hogs—Market opened with 8 cars on sale, 2 of which were Canadas. Values were 10c better on anything of the choice quality. Packers' grades and the best Yorkers, light and heavy, sold generally at $8 for hogs of 150 to 200 lbs and over, a few lots bringing $8 05—the best of the hogs on sale. Later 7 more cars came in from Canada, and the market eased off, the advance being lost, late sales of the best Canadas being made at $7 90 to $7 95.

INTERESTING LECTURE TO-NIGHT.

It is hoped and expected that the attendance at Principal Caven's lecture to-night in St. Andrew's Church will be as large as the subject, handled by one possessing so keen a power of observation and so rare a faculty of imparting his knowledge to others, so well deserves. Those having the matter in hand have wisely placed the admission so low—only 15 cents—as to debar few from attending, not even large families. Sabbath school workers particularly should be present in numbers. "A Trip Through Palestine" to-night will interest you.

—A man engaged in repairing a certain line fence near the center of the city, yesterday made a discovery which promised to lead to startling revelations. The horribly mutilated remains of a human body were found buried a few feet below the surface of the ground. Considerable excitement was caused in the neighborhood, and various theories of foul play were freely advanced. The mystery was solved however before the affair came to the notice of the police. It was learned that a young medical student had buried the bones of a subject he had dissected during the winter for safe keeping till he could "boil them down."

—The death occurred at the family residence, South London, yesterday, of Mrs. John Dufton, aged 60 years. Deceased was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and came to Canada with her husband. She resided near Byron for 12 years, but has for some time lived in the city. Deceased leaves five children. The daughters are Mrs. C. A. Smith and the Misses Dufton; the sons are J. M. Dufton of the woolen mills and A. Dufton, livery owner. Her husband survives her. Mrs. Dufton was a member of the Baptist Church and a very estimable woman.

The L. and P. S. R. Inspection.

Ald. Coo and Engineer Jennings, who started out to inspect the L. and P. S. R. yesterday, walked as far as Pond Mills. They were footsore and weary, and were pleased to meet Ald. Connor there. The latter sent a hack to bring them back to the city. Mr. Jennings returned to Toronto last evening, and will resume his inspection of the L. and P. S. R. to-morrow morning.

Successful Over the Line.

Mr. S. R. Callaway, president of the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas Railway, is at present on a visit to scenes of former labors in this Province. He is a native of Toronto, and is one of the numerous Canadians who have succeeded in winning fame and fortune in the United States. He was originally an employe of the old Great Western Railway, and was secretary to the late W. K. Muir. He is now president and has entire control of one of the largest railway system in the States. His brother, W. R. Callaway, is the well-known district passenger agent of the C. P. R.

After the Carshops.

A deputation of Sarnia citizens left to-day for Montreal to interview Manager Seargeant of the G. T. R. Sarnia will make a bid for the carshops, Manager Seargeant having informed that town that he is open to receive offers for them. The main purpose of the visit is to talk over this matter. The deputation, some of the members of which were in the city to-day, is composed of the mayor, the reeve, Dr. Merrison, and J. W. Proctor, chairman finance committee, representing the council, and James King (president), John D. Beattie and H. Gorman, of the Board of Trade.

The Police Court.

At this morning's Police Court William Pate, the boy charged with ransacking Randall's coal and wood office, pleaded guilty, and was remanded until Tuesday for sentence. This same boy is now on suspended sentence for the theft of a watch from the Sulphur Springs bath house. Wm. C. Jordan was sent for trial yesterday on a charge of assaulting P. C. Addison in the discharge of his duty. He was bailed out then, and shortly afterwards he was again in the toils, charged with being drunk and disorderly. His venom took the same turn this time as it did when he got into the former trouble, and he commenced abusing P. C. Addison. It cost him $5 or ten days. Edward Pellow and Joseph Symmonds were to have appeared on a charge of assaulting Walter Phillip. They did not show up at the court, and the service of the summons was proved. Warrants will be issued for their apprehension if they have not got out of town. Three drunks were discharged.

The Last Service.

Services were conducted by Rev. Canon Davis in the St. James' Episcopal school house last night as a farewell to the old building, which is to be destroyed. The canon preached from Genesis, xxviii., part of verse 16: "Surely the Lord is in this place." After an interesting historical sketch of the Episcopal Church in South London, the preacher went on to talk about the building they were holding service in. It was put up and opened for divine service on Nov. 30, 1873. He (the preacher) officiated for the first time on Jan. 11th, 1874, and entered fully on the work of the parish March 24, 1874. The number of communicants on Easter Sunday, April 5, 1874, was 17; the congregation increased, and 74 partook of the holy communion Oct. 9, 1877. The new church was opened Nov. 18, 1877. God had signally blessed the work, and there were many still connected with it who were rejoiced to see the prosperous way which God had led them. The benediction brought the last service in St. James' school house to a close. The work of tearing down will be commenced on Monday.

The French-Canadian Exodus.

MONTREAL, April 27.—A few days ago the Government organs contained a special dispatch from Sherbrooke stating that four special train loads of French-Canadians had returned to that city from the New England States in disgust at their experience there, and that they intended to settle down again in Canada. It now appears that there were four car loads, and not four trains, and that they were workmen from Lynn, Mass., who were temporarily out of employment owing to a fire. They all intend to go back again as soon as they can get employment. Referring to the declarations of the Minerve that the repatriation movement is a fair compensation for the exodus the Patrie says: "Go and visit Sorel and the surrounding district, and you will see whether the alleged 128 manufacturing establishments mentioned in the census prevent people from going away and the grass from growing in the deserted streets. Go to Farnham, which is another manufacturing center, and you will see whether the Canadians are going to or returning from the United States. Follow the movement of departures and arrivals at the Bonaventure station and you will be edified over the authenticity of the carloads mentioned in the Minerve."

The worst fatigue is that which comes without exercise.

ELOPERS STOP THE TRAIN.

A Runaway Couple Hold Up the Express—Passengers Take Their Part and Appease the Angry Conductor.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The southern express over the Pennsylvania line was stopped about 50 miles south of Washington yesterday by a runaway couple anxious to get to Washington to be married. The train leaves Richmond about 9 a.m., and makes no stop between Richmond and Washington. The train was behind time and was running at a very high rate of speed.

When the train was about two and a half miles from Guinea, a small station in Spottsylvania county, it came to a sudden stop that almost threw the passengers over the seats in front of them. Looking out of the window nothing was seen but a wilderness of pine brush. Men, women and children tumbled over one another in the rush to get out. In the midst of the rush a big, awkward young farmer was seen assisting a pretty, black-haired and blue-eyed girl upon the train. The girl looked to be 17 years old and the young farmer about 21. The couple walked into the train and took a seat together. This reassured the passengers and they began to get aboard again.

As soon as the train had stopped the conductor had rushed forward to the engine, and he now came back in a fuming rage. Twenty of the passengers who loitered around the conductor explained that the engineer had stopped the train because he saw the two young people in the middle of the track waving one a red bandana and the other a white handkerchief. When the engineer pulled up the couple said nothing, but pointed up the track and walked by him. The engineer sent the fireman some distance ahead, but he could find no sign of danger.

"Get right out of here. What do you mean by stopping this train anyway?" shouted the angry conductor whose train had been further delayed.

"My name is Charles Samson and this is Miss Jennie Dinwiddie," said the young farmer, "and we are just going to Washington to link up. I ain't never been on your train before, Cap'n, and now I am here I am going to stay, an' you have just got me to lick. We had to get away from Jennie's old man some way, and the quickest way I knowed of was to stop this here train and get on board. I ain't trying to beat you, and here's your money to pay for our ride."

The conductor called his brakemen, and the brawny young farmer squared himself for a fight. The girl burst into tears. Then a motherly-looking old lady said it was a shame, and took the young girl in her arms and told the conductor he was a bad man. The passengers began to plead with the conductor to allow the young people to go on to Washington and be married. At first the conductor refused. All the passengers began to take the side of the runaway couple, and the conductor reluctantly gave in, and at last his face broadened into a smile as he reached up and pulled the bell cord to signal the engineer to go ahead.

Satisfied that they were well on their way to be married, the young girl dried her tears and began to laugh, and the young farmer told his fellow passengers how he had come to run away.

"Her father is a well-to-do farmer," he said, "and didn't want her to marry because he thought her too young, and he 'lowed that I was too young, too, and might get to drinking yet. I have got 100 acres of land myself and two yoke of oxen, and I just made up my mind that I wasn't going to let the old man euchre me out of Jennie any longer. She lives about two miles from the railroad track. She left home this morning in her Sunday clothes, telling her folks she was going to Fredericksburg to spend the night with a friend. I met her about a half-mile out, and we came right over here and stopped this here train in the brush. I would be glad for you all to stop over and see the weddin', and I will set 'm up to a spanking good supper, too, after we are married sure and tight."

The passengers all declined the gracious invitation, and Mr. Smith and some friends of his took the young couple back to the dining car and treated them to the best luncheon that could be provided. All the passengers wished them long life and happiness when they disembarked at Washington.

Careless Guards Discharged.

SING SING, N. Y., April 27.—Keepers Hulse, Murphy and Glynn, who were on duty at the time of the escape of Murderers Palliser and Roehl from prison here last week, have been discharged from the service. Nothing definite has yet been heard from the escaped murderers.

No Silver Certificates.

MONTREAL, April 27.—Exchange brokers here received notice from their bankers in New York to the effect that silver certificates will no longer be received on deposit, as the New York banks are compelled to pay gold or legal tender to the clearing house for all checks. The effect of this in Canada will be to compel all banks to refuse all silver certificates, as no doubt they will go to a discount in the United States.

"Is yer hens layin'," asked the farmer of his neighbor. "Yes," was the disconsolate reply. "They're layin' off."

His Repentance.

A better feeling came over him, and he held out his hand to Lady Oswald, his atoning smile wonderfully frank and sweet.

"Forgive me if anything in my speech or manner has offended you, dear Lady Oswald. But I believe you have vexed me more than I have ever been vexed in my life."

"Well, well; you shall be as independent as you please," said Lady Oswald. Let us change the subject. When do you intend to follow Mark's example, and marry?"

"Not till I can afford it better than—Mark could, I was going to say," he added, glancing at Dr. Davenal and laughing.

"You mean to marry some time, Oswald?"

"I hope so."

The answer was spoken so fervently, that they looked at him in surprise. Sara contrived to draw behind, and began plucking one of the flowers, already closing to the night. He resumed carelessly, as if conscious that his tones had been too earnest for general ears.

"Men do marry for the most part in this good old-fashioned land of ours, and my turn may come some time. I think our time is nearly up, Davenal."

The captain took out his watch.

"In a minute or two. We can walk it in ten minutes if we put out our best speed."

As they went in Oswald Cray looked round for Sara, and found she had not followed them. He turned back to her.

"I must say good-bye to you. Sara! you are crying!"

"Oh, no," she answered brushing away the rebellious tears. "It's nothing."

He took her hand, and placed it within his arm, and they advanced slowly to the house.

"Will you tell me what the 'nothing' is?" he asked, in a low tone, which of itself was enough to invite confidence.

"I cannot bear to part with Edward," she answered. "Nothing has been said about it; but he brought down bad news. They are ordered to Malta: and thence he thinks he shall go to India. Edward said he should tell you as you went back to-night."

It was entire news to him, and he thought how greatly Dr. Davenal must feel it. Few admired that young officer, Edward Davenal, more than Oswald Cray. But he had no time to discuss it now, scarcely to say a word of sympathy.

"Good-bye!" he whispered, as they halted and he turned to press her hand in both of his, bending his face a little down, "Good-bye. And remember."

"Remember what?" she asked.

"That you don't quite belong to yourself now?"

He hastened in, leaving Sara standing there; standing there with the significant words and their meaning beating pleasant changes on her heart. Captain Davenal came springing out.

"Hush, darling, be brave!" he said, as he took the kiss from his sister's lips. "Leave all that until I come down for my real farewell."

And Sara was brave, and dried her tears, and confided in the prospect of that real farewell; little dreaming that it was destined never to de spoken.

CHAPTER IX.

LADY OSWALD'S JOURNEY.

Mr. Marcus Cray's marriage had taken place on a Thursday, and the time went on to the following Saturday week with little to mark it. Enough, as events were unhappily to turn out, was to mark it then. They, Marcus Cray and his wife, were expected home that evening; but it is not with them we have at present to do.

On this Saturday morning, Oswald Cray had come down to Hallingham on business connected with the line. In the course of the day he called on Lady Oswald and found her in a state not easy to describe.

That very morning certain men had been seen on her grounds, marking off the small portion of its boundaries intended to be taken for the sheds. Convinced that all her hopes of immunity had been but vain dreams, she had become angry, hysterical, almost violent. Oswald Cray had never seen her like this.

It was an illustration of the misery we may inflict upon ourselves, the evil spirit that will arise from self-grievance. In point of fact, these sheds, to be built on a remote and low portion of her land, could not prove any real annoyance to Lady Oswald; she could not see them from her windows, she did not go, ever, near the spot. The grievance lay in her imagination; she had made it a bugbear, and there it was. In vain Oswald Cray pointed out to her that it had been the same with regard to the rail itself. When she first heard that it was to skirt her grounds, she had been as alarmed as she was now; but when the work was completed and the trains were actually running, then Lady Oswald found (though she did not acknowledge it) how void of reason her alarm had been; had the trains been 50 miles off she could not have seen less of them. I would be so with regard to the sheds. Oswald Cray told her; he told her that even a less portion of the ground would be taken than was at first intended; he did not add that he, by his persistent efforts in her cause, had obtained this little concession, but he might have told her so with truth. He might just as well talk to the winds. She would not listen. Parkins sat in tears, administering specifics for the "nerves," and entreating my lady to be tranquil. My lady replied by saying she should never be tranquil again, and she actually abused Mr. Oswald Cray.

"Nay," said Oswald good-humoredly, "it is your landlord you should blame, not me. He agreed to the thing instanter — the moment it was proposed to him."

Lady Oswald's cheeks were burning as she turned to Oswald.

"If he had refused instead of consented, what then? Could they have done it in spite of him?"

"It would have been done eventually, I suppose. Not just yet; the company would have had to bargain with him, perhaps to dispute the matter with him legally; and all that takes time."

"Had he persistingly contended against it; the company might have grown weary; have ended by fixing upon some other spot for their sheds," she breathlessly cried, the excitement on her face deepening."

Mr. Oswald Cray hesitated.

"It is possible, certainly; but—"

"I will go to him," broke in Lady Oswald. "I will go to Low this very hour."

She startud from her seat, upsetting a bottle which Parkins held in her hand, almost upsetting Parkins in her vehemence. Mr. Oswald Cray gently restrained her.

"My dear Lady Oswald you will do no good by going to Low now. It is too late. The thing has gone too far."

"It has not gone too far, Oswald Cray. So long as the sheds are not begun it cannot be too late. If Low did give his consent he can retract it. The land is freehold, and freehold land cannot be seized upon lightly. Get my things, Parkins, and order the carriage." And Parkins submissively retired to obey.

"Lady Oswald, believe me," said Oswald impressively, "Mr. Low cannot now retract his consent if he would. The agreement is signed; nay, I believe the money is paid. Your going to him will do no possible good; it can only be productive of further unpleasantness to yourself."

"Have you a motive in keeping me away from him?" asked Lady Oswald, and his brow momentarily contracted at her blind pertinacity. "Do you know that I have never once seen him upon this subject?—never once."

"No?" he said, really wondering at the omission.

"I would not go to see him; I was too angry; I contented myself with writing to him and telling him what I thought; and then, you know, until this blessed morning, when Jones came into the house with the news that the men were measuring the land, I never thought the thing would be really done. I will go to him now, Oswald Cray, and all you can say against it will not avail with me. If you had any courtesy, you would accompany me and add your voice to mine against this unjustifiable wrong."

Courtesy was an adjunct in which Oswald Cray was not naturally deficient; in time, that day, he was. The business which brought him down was pressing, must have his full attention, and be finished so as to enable him to return to town that night. He had snatched these few minutes, while the clerks in the company's office were at dinner, just to see Lady Oswald.

"It would give me great pleasure to escort you anywhere, Lady Oswald, but to-day I cannot really absent myself from Hallingham. I have my hands full. Besides," he added, a frank smile on his face, "have you forgotten how impossible it would be for me to go against the agreement made by the company by Mr. Low, by soliciting that gentleman to attempt to retract it?"

"I see," Lady Oswald, beating her foot pettishly on the carpet; "better that I had called anybody to my aid than you. Are you cherishing resentment against me, Oswald Cray?"

Oswald opened his dark blue eyes in surprise.

"Resentment against you, Lady Oswald! Indeed, I do not understand you."

"I thought you might be remembering what I said at Dr. Davenal's the evening of your brother's wedding. I mean about the money, which I said I could not leave you," she continued, in low tone. "You took me up so sharply."

"I fear I did. I was vexed that you could so misapprehend my nature. We need not recur to the subject, Lady Oswald. Let it pass."

"I must say a word first, Oswald. I believe, with all your fiery pride and your aptitude to take offence, that your nature is honest and true; that you would save me from annoyance if you could."

"I would, indeed," he interrupted. "Even from this threatened annoyance I would doubly save you, if it were at all within my power."

"Well, I want to say just this. I have always liked you very well; you have been, in fact, a favorite of mine; and many a time it has occurred to me to wish that I could put you down in my will——"

Hood's Cures.

In saying that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, its proprietors make no idle or extravagant claim. Statements from thousands of reliable people of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them conclusively prove the fact—HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES.

Blobbs—I know that you are very good-natured, Wig; but what would you say if your wife gave you mutton for dinner three days in succession? Wigwag—Bah-h-h!

A mans' wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too.

"Johnny," said a playmate to the boy who is always losing things, "is that watch your father gave you going yet?" "No," replied Johnny ruefully, "it's gone."

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

It is natural enough after all that an athlete should mount the ladder of fame more rapidly than does the average man.

THE HAZERS' VICTIMS

Said To Be in a Serious Condition—Prison Staring the Male Offenders in the Face.

TOLEDO, O., April 26—The victims of the recent outrageous hazing at the Ohio Wesleyan University have suffered greatly in mind as well as in body. The constant reflection that on their faces cabalistic signs will be carried through life is by no means for quiet peace of mind. Medical experts have been called to the city, and every method known to science has been employed to prevent permanent disfigurement in the way of scars, but at least in three instances the marks will stand as living mementoes throughout life.

The branding of six or seven of the young lady students of lower grades by their schoolmates of old Monnett Hall is of more serious consequence than was at first reported. Three or four of the girls are terribly scarred.

A patron of the university says that unless the male offenders jump their bail, which was made ridiculously small, he believes from a positive proof of a direct violation of the statutes a short time in the penitentiary will result from the trial.

In this institution, under the administration of Dr. C. H. Payne, several years ago, a certain Greek letter fraternity was initiating a new member by compelling him to put his feet in shoes to which an electric battery had been connected. A stronger current than was intended was turned on, and the initiatee received a shock that resulted in his death. For this act the charter was taken away from that fraternity, and it was several years before it was again granted.

Untold Misery—What a Well-Known Commercial Traveler Suffered, and How He Was Cured.—Gentlemen,—About five years ago I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time traveling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but all to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine, and when the third bottle was finished I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of dyspepsia. (Signed.) T. S. TURNED HIS HAIR GRAY.

A Locomotive Engineer's Fright and Its Cause.

"It is not often that an engineer stays on his seat in the face of a collision if he has a chance to jump," said an old railroad man. "When he doesn't jump it is because he hasn't time. I remember once when an engineer was metaphorically frozen to his seat. I was on the engine at the time. See these gray hairs," and he pushed back his hat. "I got them in about two minutes. It happened on the Indianapolis division of the Pennsylvania line.

"I was in charge of the fast mail train, No. 7, and Charley Mann, as good an engineer as ever took hold of a throttle, was hauling us. No. 7 is a fast train, anyhow, but that night we were late out of Columbus, and I tell you we were splitting the wind. Having nothing else to do, I climbed over to the engineer and asked Charley to let me run her awhile, and he pushed over to give me room. Everything went lovely as a May-day dance until we started down the hill. Suddenly a red light showed up ahead of us on the track. The awfulness of that minute I can never describe, 'We are gone, Charley!' I yelled to the engineer behind me. 'There's a flat car ahead of us. See that red light!'

"Charlie saw it and started to get down. I yelled to him not to do it, that we might escape death, but if we jamped from the engine, running at least 80 miles an hour, we would be killed sure. I shut off the steam, and, throwing on the air brake, began 'plugging' her. The wheels reversed, but she rode over the sand as if there was none on the track. Charlie clung to me with wide, staring eyes, and I honestly believe he was praying. Nearer, nearer we rushed to that fatal light—and dashed past it. Soon we had stopped, and I called the fireman to go back with me and ascertain what it was. He could not move, and when I pulled him from his seat he was as stiff as a poker, and it was several seconds before he could utter a sound. The poor fellow was paralyzed with fear, and it was a long time before he recovered. What was the red light doing there? A fool agent had come up the track to flag a train following us, and had left his red light near the rails. When I met him I never felt so much like murdering a man in my life."—[Indianapolis News.

"Lost in London."

Newton Beers presented his successful melodrama "Lost in London" at the Grand last evening, and it thoroughly pleased the audience. The company, although smaller than when the play was last presented here, is a thoroughly competent one, and the several specialties introduced are commendable. May Lovington gave a capital skirt dance. Kate Romaine, a contralto singer, and Sam Chadwick, a tenor, rendered several pleasing songs. Lora Addison Cleft, as Nellie Armroyd, is a clever, emotional actress. Of Newton Beers' acting, words of praise can only be spoken. Next year he will present a new play to the public, titled "Tib-nay-noi-say," an Indian drama.

A Youthful Burglar.

Mr. George Rendell's office at his coal and wood yard on Adelaide street was entered by William Pate, a boy only 14 years of age, last evening about supper time. The contents of drawers were scattered over the floor, but nothing was taken except a bank book, a rule and some stamps. The police were informed and Detectives Rider and Nickel arrested Pate on suspicion on Adelaide street, where he was searched, and the stolen articles found in his possession. He acknowledged his guilt.

The Arrival of the Danes.

The population of London was increased to the extent of 58 souls last evening on the arrival of the G. T. R. train from the east. Twenty-one Danes—strong, healthy-looking men—with their wives and families, will now form quite a Danish settlement in this city. They were brought out from Denmark by the Canada Packing Company to work at the pork packing factory here. Manager Caswell lost no time, but located them in their houses last night. Among those who arrived are a number of fine-looking young women, who almost captivated the G. T. R. officials at the station.

Mrs. Holman in New York.

The New York Tribune of Wednesday says of the benefit tendered Mrs. Holman, the veteran actress, of this city: "An excellent entertainment was given at the Star Theater yesterday afternoon for the benefit of Mrs. Harriet Holman, who was long ago an actress at Burton's Theater, afterward the joint manager with her husband of the Holman Opera Company, and of late years a resident of London, Ont. Mrs. Holman, as she appeared when brought to the footlights yesterday by Wm. H. Crane, who had arranged the affair on her behalf, was an aged woman of dignified deportment, plain dress, and an evident desire to conceal the emotion which she felt. After she had retired Mr. Crane spoke of her as the mother of comic opera in America, inasmuch as she and the late George Holman had been the first to introduce English versions of French musical pieces. The receipts were about $1,000."

SCHOOL BOARD ESTIMATES

Cannot be Reduced to Meet the Views of the Council—The Audit Committee Recommends No Action.

The Board of Education met last evening to consider the communication of the council asking a reduction of the board's estimates of $79,432 91 by $5,000. Messrs. Dewar (chairman), Jeffery, Alexander, Griffin, Anderson, Sanders, Martyn, D. W. Blackwell, Dr. Campbell and Love were present, as well as Ald. Moule, Carrothers, J. Fitzgerald, Welford and Parnell, of No. 1 committee of the council.

The aldermen addressed the board, dwelling on the uncontrollable expenditure and decrease in receipts, and urging them to make, if possible, the reduction asked for.

Mr. Dewar stated that above the board's uncontrollable expenditure they had control of only $3,000. The reduction was therefore impossible. The only items in the estimates which could be discussed were the $750 for a superintendent of works and $300 for the July 1 celebration. The board knew that this year would be a hard one and took this into consideration.

Mr. Alexander moved that the board throw off $350 on general repairs, $750 for a superintendent of works, $600 on the Queen's avenue kindergarten mortgage, and $300 on Collegiate Institute repairs. This would make a decrease of $2,000. Mr. Sanders seconded.

Mr. Griffin moved in amendment that the council's request be filed. No seconder.

On motion of Mr. Love, the audit committee adjourned to an ante-room to consider the matter. In a few minutes they returned, recommending no action. Mr. Jeffery and Mr. D. W. Blackwell recommended the adoption of this report.

Mr. Alexander pressed his motion.

Mr. Dewar explained that any amendment to the estimates as adopted at a previous meeting could not be passed except by a two-thirds vote.

Mr. Alexander's motion was lost, and Mr. Love moved that the estimates be reduced by $1,500.

This was lost, as was also the motion to adopt the audit committee's report.

The matter therefore stands as it was before the meeting.

THE OPEN FORUM.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I beg to trouble you again upon the subject of "Dogs in Quod." It will afford yourself, as well as your humane readers, a good measure of satisfaction to learn that of the 25 dogs that were enjoying Caretaker Burdick's hospitality while in confinement at Queen's Park, as referred to in my communication of last Saturday, 18 were redeemed on Monday, and 3 secured from death on the promise of redemption. Of those that have been lodged since 10 have been liberated by their respective owners. At the moment of writing, there are 14 dogs in the stalls. The major portion of these are of superior breeds. Encouraged by the response to my last letter, I venture to again ask the use of the press to bring this matter to the attention of the dog-owning public. It may not be known that each dog is simply held for the payment of $1, and that Caretaker Burdick will release any dog to any person tendering him that sum. Yours truly,

FRED W. MATTHEWS.

London, April 26, 1893.

London West and the City.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I see the Board of Trade are asking the City Council to withdraw the bill re London West amalgamation. Surely the Board of Trade cannot be aware that the two municipalities have made an agreement which was ratified by the City Council and at their request submitted to the people of London West, and was again ratified by the City Council after being voted on by the people of London West, and only awaits the sanction of the Provincial Legislature to make it law. Now, do the Board of Trade desire that the city of London should repudiate an agreement made in good faith with another municipality? Is there an individual on the Board of Trade who would repudiate an agreement which he had honestly and fairly made? Then why ask the council to do that which his own code of honor would not permit him to do? It is an old saying that a man's word should be as good as his bond, but here are both the word and the bond; shall both be honorably kept or shall both be repudiated? England paid the Alabama claims, not because she had a right to, but because she had pledged her word, which she held sacred. She is now submitting the Bering Sea trouble with other nations to arbitration, and the whole world knows beforehand that no matter what the verdict is England will not try to sneak out of it. With her honor is everything, and that is why she holds the proud position she does among the nations. Where were the Board of Trade while the agreement was being made and after it was made? It was a public matter, fully discussed in the papers, everybody knew all about it, yet a voice has not been raised until now. Has the recent freshet which cost the village $100 or so frightened the Board of Trade? Does the bargain not look quite so good as when it was made? and is this the only reason for backing out? Surely in this matter the Board of Trade does not reflect the sentiments of the citizens of London. Yours,

W. SCARROW.

True Bill Against Angus Pennefather at Chatham—Slander Case at Woodstock.

KENT.

CHATHAM, April 26.—The grand jury this morning brought in a true bill against Angus Pennefather, charged with stealing $7,800 from the Standard Bank, Chatham, on Oct. 5, 1892. Trial opens to-morrow (27th).

OXFORD.

WOODSTOCK, April 26.—At the assizes yesterday the slander case against Rev. W. Kettlewell occupied most of the attention of the court, and at the time of adjournment the jury had not agreed. The grand jury returned true bills against John Bossance for an assault upon Hugh Adair, and also against Frederick J. Squair for stealing money from James Evans and William Moore. Frederick Squair pleaded guilty of the charge as to Evans. In the case of Southwick vs. Hare, his Lordship ruled the case could not be tried in the county.

THEODORE THOMAS SLIGHTED,

And the Great Leader Threatens to Resign the World's Fair Directorship.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Theodore Thomas proposes to resign from the employ of the World's Fair in consequence of what he considers a slight put upon him. Heretofore Mr. Thomas has been his own master, and if he has not felt like it he was not to report to anybody. The Board of Control decided Monday to divorce the musical department from the liberal arts department and have a department appointed to whom Mr. Thomas should report, the superintendent in turn to report to the director-general. This would be very galling for Mr. Thomas, and he has made known his intention of resigning. W. L. Tomlins, the choral director, will undoubtedly go out, too, and the departure of these men will place the musical department in a bad fix.

A CHINESE PLAY

That Will Take Four or Five Months to Perform.

The Chicago Herald says: Wong Ching Foo, who has a room in Gore's Hotel, said that the party would give performances during the fair in the Chinese theater in Midway Plaisance. As usual, there are no women in the troupe. Some of the most eminent yelpers and gong-smashers in China will be seen in the principal play, which is now reckoned will take from four to five months to perform from start to finish. As a sort of skit, or curtain-raiser, a comedy lasting one month will be produced in May. The actors will take up their residence in the theater next week.

A rival troupe of Chinese actors will be managed by Sam Moy. Fing Sang, who is a star in the combination that reached here first, is one of the tallest Chinamen in the empire. He is not so tall as Chang, but he towers so far above all the rest of his countrymen that they don't hear all he has to say. Fing Sang is a tragedian.

SHE SCORCHED HIS LIPS.

A Fresh Canvasser Asks for a Kiss and Gets His Reward.

NEW YORK, April 26.—John H. Webb, a canvasser, living at No. 278 Grove street, Jersey City, tried to sell a clothes-wringer to Mrs. Emma Bessinger at her home, No. 84 Pine street. Mrs. Bessinger didn't want the wringer.

"You will give me a kiss, though, won't you?" asked Webb as he advanced towards Mrs. Bessinger.

"Yes, you may have a kiss," replied the woman, and picking up a hair curler that she had a few minutes before placed in the kitchen fire to heat, she put it to Webb's lips. He screamed with pain and ran from the house.

Mrs. Bessinger followed him to the street, and, meeting a policeman, caused his arrest. Webb's lips were badly scorched.

Not So Glad as She Thought.

A few evenings ago a gentleman stepped from a train at one of the London stations, when a young lady skipped up to him, threw her arms rapturously around his neck and kissed him many times, saying:

"Oh, papa, I'm so glad you have come."

The old gentleman threw both arms around her and held her firmly to his breast. Soon she looked up into his face, and horror stood in her eye.

"Oh my, you're not my papa!" she said, trying to free herself from his embrace.

"Yes, I am," insisted the old gentleman, holding her tightly. "You are my long-lost daughter, and I am going to keep you right in my arms till I get a policeman."

When the officer came he found the old gentleman's diamond pin in the girl's hand.
