At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, in Hall-Kin vs. Knight of Macabees-J. A. Patterson, for defendants, appealed from judgment of Boyd, C. J., in favor of the plaintiff, on the findings of the jury in an action tried at Woodstock, and brought to recover $3,000, the amount of a benefit certificate upon the death of a deceased husband, issued by defendants. The appeal raised the question whether a member of a suspended "rent or local branch" of the society, could retain his standing in the "encampment," i.e., the grand lodge, body of P. R. Bad Q.C., and R. N. Ball (Woodstock), for plaintiff, opposed appeal. Reserved.

Wm. Brown, a most estimable citizen and an extensive farmer, of Innerton, met with a serious accident Monday. He went to the field to bring in a bull to the stable, when the beast turned on him and tossed several feet in the air. After this he cannot remember clearly what took place, but he saw the animal passing on the road, and saw the animal repeatedly attacking him as he vainly tried to crawl to the fence. Harvey Wittington, an employee, went to his assistance, and with a heavy crowbar finally beat the maddened beast away from his victim. Mr. Brown has a broken collar bone and a number of bruises. This is the third time he has suffered a broken collar bone, and a few years ago had both legs broken in a threshing machine accident.

The Montreal Star thus referred to the late Miss Cooke, sister of J. W. Cooke, the Ingersoll cheese buyer. The late Miss Frances Mary Cooke, who died at the Royal Canadian Hospital on Tuesday, was buried yesterday at Lachute, a large number of friends attending the funeral. Deceased was the daughter of the late R. Cooke, of Little Rideau, Ont., who, as well as his wife, a son and a daughter, was murdered by Frederick Mann on Jan. 2, 1883. Miss Cooke was herself seriously wounded with an axe while heroically attempting to protect her murdered brother. Another brother died a few years ago from the injuries received at the same time. Mann, it will be remembered, was hanged for the murder of the Cooke murders.

In Lamb vs. G. T. R. Company, at Osgoode Hall, Toronto—J. P. Mabey (Stratford), for plaintiff, appeared on judgment of Armour, C. J., at the trial at Stratford, withdrawing the action from the jury and the case without costs. The action was brought by the widow of Albert Lamb, who was killed in the employment of defendants in their Stratford yards, and met his death by reason of certain cars being backed up against a car in which he was working.

For his death, both under the Workmen's Compensation Act and at common law. The defendants paid money into court in satisfaction of the claim under the act, and at the trial the claim at common law, which was for a much larger amount than the money recovered under the act, was the only one in question. The learned chief justice was of opinion that the evidence adduced by the plaintiff was not entitled to recover at common law. O.C. for defendants, contra. Appeal dismissed without costs. Owing to the result of this appeal, the counsel agreed that the court might be relieved of the consideration of the former appeal from an order in regard to the pleadings, and neither party asked for costs in either appeal.

Hundreds of Homes Destroyed by the Flames, Besides Mills, Churches and Other Public Buildings—Only a Small Amount of Insurance Carried in Many Cases.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 7.—The bush fires, which have swept away Casselman, St. John, and other places, have been burning for several days in different places by the farmers for the purpose of clearing the land from brush. The fires have been burning for a couple of weeks. Day after day, however, as there was no rain, the adjoining woods have been dried up, and when a strong wind set in Monday night, and Tuesday morning, the brush fires communicated to the cedar swamps, and in a short time miles of bushland was in flames. The farmers in the section who have not been burned out have lost their houses and barns at the disposal of the homeless, and are providing as much food as possible for the relief of the homeless. It is all that can be for the present, is not all in proportion to the number who are suffering. While it is apparent that there will be a general effort in Ottawa and other places to raise a relief fund, sufficient to meet the needs, even with the greatest haste, there is likely to be considerable destitution in the meantime.

WHAT RAILWAY PASSENGERS SAW.

The passenger train which left Montreal Tuesday morning, and which was hemmed in by the all the afternoon and night, reached here early yesterday morning. J. Sage, of Ottawa, was one of the passengers on the train. Mr. Sage stated that the train reached Casselman at 11:45. Everybody knew that the fire was raging in the bush, but the engineer did not anticipate any trouble in reaching Ottawa, and steamed out of Casselman on time, but about two hours before the village the train was flagged, and the conductor was informed by a sectionman that fire destroyed the town, including the passenger cars, and that further progress would be fraught with the greatest danger. They could hear the roar of the fire, and the conductor ordered the train to stop. "We were forced to retreat, and Casselman was soon a mass of flames," continued Mr. Sage. "We were soon half a dozen buildings were ablaze. The villagers saw the place was doomed, and hurriedly collected their belongings and fled. They were in the middle of the train. Another hour and the bush in the immediate vicinity was one mass of seething flames.

When hearing the train the fire provided a scene of horror. The train was able to run to safe grounds before the bush that was nearest to us took fire. I tell you, it was a awful sight," said Mr. Sage. "On every side but one were veritable billows of fire. I have never seen a number of people meet their death, or several were killed as Casselman when we left."

FATALITY AT CASSIDMAN.

The fire has been burning in the bush for some time, and at 1:30 p.m. it struck the village of Cassidman. Here one life is reported lost. The fire was caused by a man who was some of their effects, but were in the majority of cases unsuccessful. There were about 10 families homeless, and wandering through the burned fields. Some have been taken to friends out of the village by train and by vehicles.

HEAVY LOSSES.

Four mills in the village were burned. The losses were as follows: 2,000,000 feet of lumber, sawmill and mill, loss, $3,000. Mr. J. N. Cooke, lumber mill, loss, $15,000. Insurance, $3,000. Baker, loss, $1,000. Insurance, $2,000. No insurance. J. King's brickyard and private house, loss, $3,000. Insurance, $1,000. No insurance. J. King's brickyard and private house, loss, $3,000. Insurance, $1,000. No insurance. J. King's brickyard and private house, loss, $3,000. Insurance, $1,000. No insurance.

Mr. Wm. McKay, secretary of the Dominion Organ and Piano Company, of Bowmanville, died on Wednesday. Deceased has held several important positions in the town.

FRIDAY, OCT. 8.

"Dinner may be pleasant, So may social tea, But yet methinks the breakfast is best of all the three."

BREAKFAST—Nutmeg melon. Mush. Fried ham and eggs. Waffles. Syrup. Hot coffee.

LUNCHEON—Basket of choice mixed fruit—peaches, pears and grapes. Cold boiled chicken, sliced. Chile sauce. Baked sweet potatoes. Graham loaf sliced. Banana pie. Hot tea.

DINNER—Clam soup. Steamed fish. Scotch scones. Irish potatoes mashed. French cucumber pickles. Peach custard. Hot coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Chile Sauce—To nine large, ripe tomatoes add three green peppers and one onion chopped fine, two cupsful of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of ginger, one of allspice and one of cloves.

Steamed Fish—Secure the tail of the fish in its mouth so as to curve the body in a curve; pour over it a half pint of vinegar seasoned with a little pepper and a desert-spoon of salt; let stand an hour in water. Cut into triangular pieces, each side about four inches long. Flour the sides and bottom of a biscuit tin and place the pieces on it. Bake immediately in a quick oven from 20 to 30 minutes. When done brush over with sweet milk.

Peach Custard—Line the bottom of a pudding dish with pared and halved five-stone peaches, cavities up. Fill these with soft sugar. Make a rich custard of cream, stir over the fire until quite thick and pour over the peaches. Cover with a thick meringue, which lightly brown. Serve very hot.

Sweet Pickled Peas—Boil together for fifteen minutes one pint elder vinegar, one and three-fourths pounds of granulated sugar. Tie in a small piece of cheese cloth half a dozen whole cloves, one dozen whole allspice, one teaspoonful of ground cinnamon and one teaspoonful of ground mace, and a small piece of ginger root. Put with the vinegar and boil. Select fine large seeded peas, pare and remove the stems; then put into the vinegar as many as will be nicely covered. Let them boil gently until the vinegar is clear, then drain off the vinegar and the peas into jars, reheat the vinegar and pour over the peas. Seal if desired for winter use. This is a delicious pickle if properly and carefully made.

Oh, the cold comes from that crew!

Fur Argument.

No matter how fine the fur if the garment hasn't style and fit—the whole effect is wrong. A practical knowledge of designing, making and fitting, besides the cutting, is needed in fur apparel construction. A practical expert here to help every fur be more stylish and more becoming. Prices fair—the means the lowest possible. While all kinds of furs with varied styles are shown—yet the art of repairing and re-modeling old furs is not lost sight of by us.

A Local Budget

—Superintendent Williams of the C. P. R. is making a tour of the western division.

—Mr. James Court has resigned as night watchman at the Tecumseh House, after twenty years of service.

—Frank Snyder, the baseball player, has secured a position as bartender in a local hotel, and will spend the winter here.

—Mr. Joseph Smith, president of the Latter Day Saints, is to arrive in this city tonight, and will hold a meeting in the church of that body.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Smallman, son and daughter, of Waverley Place, South London, arrived home yesterday from their trip to Great Britain.

—Mr. D. Crawford, of the firm of D. Crawford & Co., St. Louis, Mo., has been visiting Mr. Thomas Beattie, M.P., with whom he was associated in business 25 years ago.

—The city court of revision will be held at the city hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19, for the purpose of hearing and determining appeals against the assessment of 1898.

—The McClary Manufacturing Company are very busy at present, and the foundry men are working overtime at nights. The London furniture factory is also being run at full blast.

—Miss Winnie MacDonald, daughter of the late Senator MacDonald, of Toronto, is in the city. She is president of the Christian Police Association of Canada, and this afternoon will address the policemen at the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

—John Glasford, who assaulted Miss Maude Blaine, on the Hagarty road, near Wardsville, on Monday morning, and who is at present in jail here, was arrested in this city as a vagrant on Dec. 11, 1894, and sentenced to one month in jail. The police say he is not a fit character to be at large.

—Clinton News-Record: "A child named James Curriel, of London, who is visiting in town, broke into the G. T. R. office at the station by breaking a window and inserting his hand and lifting the catch. He was seen by Mr. Parker in the office, and was brought before the police magistrate on the charge. After consulting with the president of the Children's Aid Society and the boy's uncle, a remand was made till Thursday, when he was released on suspended sentence."

—John Campbell, of Caradoc, was summoned to appear before Squire J. B. Smyth, on a charge preferred by his father, John Campbell, of Caradoc, of damage to property. The father and son had a dispute over the use of a horse, and the father locked the door to keep the horse away from his son. The damage consisted in the son drawing the staple from the door for the purpose of removing the lock, and getting the horse. The charge was withdrawn by the father paying $63 costs.

—The Wellington Street Methodist Sunday school has elected the following officers: Superintendent, Wm. Jeffery; assistant superintendent, Jas. W. T. Park; secretary, Wm. Southcott; assistant secretaries, J. Chapman, W. Dobbin; treasurer, Frederick C. Toon; librarian, Wm. Mortimore; assistant librarians, W. Adams, Henry Wells and Herbert Foot. Mr. Henry Foot was chosen to prepare the black-board illustrations of the lesson for each Sunday during the year. The present staff of teachers was re-elected.

—A Scotch concert was held in the skating rink at Glencoe last night, which was attended by about 1,000 people. The G. W. Ross and Mr. Cartwright, M.P., were jointly chairmen and introduced a capital programme. Among those taking part were Mr. Wilfrid Blake, of this city, who was splendidly received; Mrs. Fenwick (Maggie Barr), of Hamilton, who gave several Scotch selections; Mr. Hollinghead, of Dutton, a comic singer; Misses Mann and Sexton, of Glencoe; Miss Katie Fletcher, Miss and Master Willie, John Dagan and Mr. Duncan McMillan. The Twenty-sixth Battalion band and the Glencoe orchestra rendered several numbers also. The concert was arranged by a committee of citizens, comprising Messrs. H. D. Mitchell, J. M. Tait, R. R. NOT GUILTY AND DISCHARGED.
The charge of obtaining goods to the value of about $175 for fraudulent purposes preferred by John F. Topping, a clerk in the drygoods establishment of T. F. Kingsmill, against Edward Horsman, formerly of the Robinson-Lambert Company's branch, J. Anell consignee. It consists of 150,000 feet of lumber, 4,000 ties, 3,000 posts, 75,000 shingles and a quantity of saw timber. The run was made in four days. Capt. Hawley used to call at Port Stanley at the residence of the defendant, and contrast between the appearance of the harbor and shipping then and now. Eighteen men and a steam hoist will be about in a day and a half unloading the schooner.

SEEKING HIS RELATIONS.
Mr. D. J. Bunce, of 482 Grant street, Buffalo, is exceedingly anxious to learn something of his mother and brother—Riggs by name—who, he understands, have friends in London, with whom they correspond. His brother would now be between 30 and 35 years of age. Mr. Bunce was the youngest child of Mrs. Riggs by her first husband, who died before Mr. Bunce was born, in 1867. The mother was a capable musician and had a family named Bunce. His mother was then staying with a family named George, of London, in London. Mr. Bunce has not heard from them since, and has an earnest desire to trace his lineage. Anyone who can aid him will confer a deep favor by communicating with him at 482 Grant street, Buffalo.

WHIPSTON-BELTON.
At the residence of the bride's parents, 303 King street, yesterday, Miss Louise Belton, second daughter of Mr. James H. Belton, was united in marriage to Mr. J. W. Wheaton, B.A., editor and business manager of Farming, Toronto, and formerly secretary of the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association. The bride was charmingly attired in white Indian muslin, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. Miss Helen Fitzgerald, maid of honor, was attired in white silk organdie. The groomsmen were Mr. Duncan C. Ross, B.C.A., and J. W. Welch, students at Woodstock College; Miss Bertha, at home; Mrs. Lily Major and Mrs. Kate Pearson, of London; B. C. C. Mrs. Webb, of Bromley, Kent, England; Mrs. Woodbridge, of Starbridge, England; and Mrs. Fred, at home. Mrs. Welch was a native of England, having come to Canada with her husband about fourteen years ago.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT.
Mr. A. E. Welch, of this city, today received the sad news of the death of his mother, Mrs. G. F. Welch, at New Westminster, B. C., on Sept. 30. The deceased was a former resident of this city. Mr. Welch having been with John Ferguson & Co. when here. They left for British Columbia about seven years ago. Mrs. Welch, while in London, was a devout member of St. Matthew's Church, East London, and was held in high esteem by the congregation and many for her Christian character and kindly disposition. Here is the first of the large family, which comprises twelve children, namely: H. H. Welch, of Nanaimo, B. C.; A. E. Welch, of this city; Rev. G. F. Welch, Nelson, B. C.; Mrs. Welch, of this city, who is now residing in Belleville. His father was registrar of the county of Hastings, and his people are well connected and highly respected residents of Belleville. Mr. Ponton was considered one of the most respected young men in the city, and his many friends here feel confident that he will be able to clear himself.

It was the impression of the detectives from the first that the robbery was done by some one who knew the combinations, and from the clean way in which the money was taken, it was clear that it was at the job. A common screw-driver was picked up in the yard of the bank a few days after the act was committed, and was about the only thing that could be used as a clue.

Ponton is an unmarried man of about 25 years of age, of a rather quiet and retiring disposition, and a general favorite with his associates. He took his arrest very quietly. He will remain in custody, no bail being accepted. The bank officials and detectives have been working on the case for the past month, and it is confidently expected that startling developments and additional arrests will speedily follow the arrest and removal of young Ponton. There is in this community a general belief in his innocence. Mr. E. G. Porter, of Belleville, has been engaged to defend the accused.

ANIMALS IN PARADISE.
According to the Mohammedan creed, ten animals beside man are admitted into Paradise. These are: 1. The dog; 2. Balaam's ass; 3. Solomon's ant; 4. Jonah's whale; 5. the ram of Ishmael; 6. the ass of Shoaib; 7. the camel of Saleh; 8. the cucumber of Belkiss; 9. the ox of Moses; 10. the antelope called Al Borak, which conveyed Mohammed to heaven.

Singing in Churches.

Why Not Have Hymn-Books With Tunes in Every Few?

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I would like to draw the indulgence of a few lines of your valuable space with reference to your article in yesterday's paper on the methods by which congregational singing may be improved. The remarks attributed to me do not express all that was on my mind when I gave my views to your representative. If members of congregations were each provided with hymn books with tunes, the singing would most certainly be improved. I have in my mind Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, a church noted throughout the country for its singing. The trustees of this church spent over $1,000 in the purchase of handsomely bound hymn books with tunes, which are distributed throughout the church for the use of the congregation. In fact, no other kind are to be found, so that every stranger who enters the church is handed a hymn book with tunes, which implies an invitation to join in the singing. I am aware that a large portion of ordinary congregations are not musically educated, but the introduction of these tune books would at least be an incentive and stimulus to those whose capabilities of reading music are limited, but who would in the course of time improve their knowledge. It must, however, be recognized that no small proportion of a congregation can read music, and would join more heartily in the singing if they had the music before them. In order to have hearty congregational singing, much depends on the organist. If he or she has a temperament that will permit of the proper interpretation of the music, and has sufficient executive ability to be able to play in a correct and rhythmic manner, the congregation cannot help singing well, even without a musical director or a quartet, though the advantage of having a good quartet and choir is not to be despised.

I have no sympathy with the organists who play chromatic scales and other musical gymnastics during the singing of hymns. To my mind it is not only inartistic and irrelevant, but distracts the congregation, drawing the attention to the organist himself, which in most cases is what he desires. I take issue with the gentleman who says that the best results are not obtained unless there is a musical director besides the organist. It all depends on the ability of the musical director and the organist. If the musical director has ability and the organist has not, the arrangement will not be a success. I have on the other hand often seen cases where the musical director or choir-master got the credit of good work that was really the result of having a capable musician at the keyboard. In this country, with the modern arrangement of choir galleries, the element of invention, which make it possible to put the keyboard in front of the choir (or at least in such a place where the organist may be seen by all), choir-masters are unnecessary, providing there is a good musician at the keyboard. Congregational practices on week-nights are undoubtedly beneficial if they are properly managed and made interesting.

I rejoice that the day has passed when congregational worship musically was entirely negative and so much interest is being taken to make the musical services of the church enjoyable to all. Thanking you for your favor, I am, yours truly,
W. H. HEWLETT,
Organist Dundas Center Methodist Church.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS

In Connection With the Napanee Bank Robbery Expected—Teaser Foes Remained.

Napanee, Ont., Oct. 7.—W. H. Ponton, teller in the Dominion bank, is expected to be in the city today. He was arrested in Napanee, Ont., on Friday night, Oct. 6, on a charge of being connected with the robbery in that bank about a month ago.

On Friday night W. D. Durand, of the Dominion bank, was hurriedly transferred to Toronto, and on Saturday W. H. Greene, messenger in the same bank, was hurriedly sent to the field of labor. This alone was proof that something new would come to light before many days.

The arrest was made about 7 o'clock, and Ponton was taken before Police Magistrate Daly, who remanded him until Friday next.

W. H. Ponton has been teller in the Dominion Bank here for more than a year. His mother and other relatives reside in Belleville. His father was registrar of the county of Hastings, and his people are well connected and highly respected residents of Belleville. Mr. Ponton was considered one of the most respected young men in the city, and his many friends here feel confident that he will be able to clear himself.

Many Women of Note

Coming to Toronto to the W. C. T. U.

Eminent Woman Workers for Temperance.

The programme of the great gathering of the World's W. C. T. U. convention in Toronto, is rapidly assuming shape. Among the prominent women who will address the convention president of the World's Union; Miss Agnes E. Black, the energetic secretary; Miss Anna Gordon, assistant secretary; Mrs. Helen M. Baker, treasurer. In addition to the general officers are expected: Mrs. Hannah J. Bailey, world's superintendent of the department of peace and arbitration, a Quaker lady from the State of Maine, said to be the wealthiest woman in the state; Dr. Mary Wood-Allen, the celebrated purity worker; Mrs. Frances Plummer, the great "Y" leader; Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, the pioneer of scientific temperance instruction; Miss Elizabeth Greenwood, the evangelistic leader; Mrs. Caroline M. Woodward, the bright transportation agent; Mrs. Louis Rounds, Illinois; Mrs. A. S. Benjamin, Michigan; Mrs. Oberholzer, of Philadelphia, economist and author. From the negro workers will come the famous Mrs. Booker T. Washington, of Alabama, and Mrs. Lucy Thurman, of Michigan. Australia's delegation will consist of the largest and most influential from distant parts, among whom will be Miss Vincent and Miss Cummins of Sydney, organizers and lecturers; Miss Windeyer, national superintendent of franchise and enthusiastic philanthropist; Mrs. Kirk, secretary, and one of Australia's most progressive women; Miss Warr, of Victoria, and Mrs. Ardill, of New South Wales.

From foreign nations many prominent women are already on the way to Toronto. Miss Johnsdottir, national president of the Iceland W. C. T. U., has already arrived in America, and is visiting with a friend in Pennsylvania. From Japan two delegates are already in America, and one from Hawaii, and Miss H. A. Veazey. Miss Erickson will represent Finland; Miss Alice Gordon (Mrs. Smith) from Layah, Bakarat, Syria; Miss Clark, Madagascar; Miss Marion Mills, Chili, South America; Miss Anna, from Hawaii. While Egypt will send Mrs. Frances Griffin and Miss McDowell.

It is expected that this will be the largest and most representative gathering of women ever held in America. Toronto is sparing no pains to fittingly welcome the distinguished guests from all parts of the globe who will honor and bless the city in their deliberations and counsels.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

Some 85 More Witnesses To Be Called—Talk Is Not Always Cheap.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—In the course of the Luetgert trial yesterday State Attorney Deneen announced that he would have 85 rebuttal witnesses, and that ten of fifteen of these would come from Kenosha, Wis. It is expected that the prosecution will spring a surprise upon the defense by producing the woman who was seen in Kenosha and identified by means of a photograph as Mrs. Luetgert. This woman is said to be in Chicago now. Luetgert refused to talk into a phonographic receiver until a contract was made, which would assure him 50 per cent of the receipts. It had been agreed by Arnold Luetgert, son of the prisoner, that the Columbia Phonograph Company should have an option upon the "talk" for two weeks at $3,000 and if the company declined to buy at that time, the 50 per cent contract should remain in force. But Luetgert upset all negotiations by refusing to talk. "Talk is cheap as a general thing," said he, "but my talk costs money today."
