HIGH WIND

Storm of Last Evening Caused Con-siderable Excitement—No Serious Results

The east end of King St. was a veritable topsy-turvy land this morning. The many friends of E. R. Snook, the popular grocer, were surprised when they came down this morning to find a furrier's sign stuck up outside his popular establishment, and they wondered what new venture he was making. Dr. A. A. Hicks' sign also was not to be found in its accustomed place. investigation, however, proved that Mr. Snook has not changed his stock from groceries to furs and Dr. Hicks is still to be found in his office extracting teeth without pain.

The high wind of last night and this morning was the cause of all this morning was the cause of all the damage.

For a time last night the wind travelled overhead at a rate of between 50 and 60 mass an hour. While nothing serious is reported as a result, several signs were blown over, fences blown down and limbs of trees, broken off. The wind carried with it sleet and rain, and many pedestrians were almost blown off their feet in their attempts to reach home.

In some places telephone and telegraph wires were broken, but no scrious losses resulted.

GOOD WALK

His Honor Judge Dowlin Footed in From Blenheim in a Stiff Gale

Few pedestrians have the indomitable pluck and stamina of his honor Judge Dowlin. His honor is a firm believer in outdoor exercises—and practices what he preaches. His long and hearty strolls have been the subject of many an admiring comment, but few have tested the Judge's prowess as did the walk he successfully tackled yesterday.

At the conclusion of the session of the Division Court at Blenheim the Judge learned that there was no returning frain till evening and accordingly set forth over heavy roads and a stiff gale for the twelve mile walk into Chatham. This he accomplished in less than three hours, arriving fresh and vigorous for his duties here. Judge Dowlin is one of the halest pedestrians in Kent County.

MOTHER DEAR

On January 13th inst., deepest sorrow and affliction came to the home of Angus Glassford, when Louise, beloved wife and sweetest mother passed to her home of rest above at the age of 67 years and two months after an illness lasting about one week. Mrs. Glassford suffered from an attack of paralysis something over two years ago, but regained her usual health till on Sunday, January 7th inst., she was overtaken by a second attack just as she had returned to her home from attending morning service at the Victoria avenue Methodist church, of which she was a constant and active member while she lived in Chatham, she having formerly come from Dover. Mrs. Glassford was esteemed and loved by all who knew her for her beautiful Christian spirit. She will be greatly missed in the church in which she has worshipped for so long, and from which she was never absent except when sickness prevented her. home of Angus Glassford, when Liberals and Laborites Continue Sweep of Britain.

Take 40 More Seats From the Unionists on Menday-Tory London Has Followed the Example of the Country-Lord Hugh Cecil Among the Fallen -Only One Unionist Gain-Big Vote Polled.

Folled.

London, Jan. 16.—(C. A. P.)—With but two days' polling over it now seems certain the Bannerman Government will be sustained by one of the largest majorities in history. Yesterday's returns duplicate, and even surpass, the tremendous Liberal and free trade sweep of Saturday, taking forty seats from the Unionist column and giving twenty-nine to the Liberals and elevant to Labor. Against this the Government iost but one seat. The net gains, therefore, to date, total sixty-one, equivalent on a division to a majority of 122. Thus the nominal majority of 122. Thus the nominal majority of seventy, with which the Unionists went to the country has been wiped out, and in addition the Government has fifty-two towards the eighty-two admittedly needed to be independent of the Irish party, while less than a quarter of the whole seats are yet filled.

Former Ministers Fall.

Among the fallen are two former Ministers, Walter Long, who was defeated by 2,692 at Bristol; while Gerald Balfour, like his brother, went down at Leeds by 1,669. Arnoid Foster, survives at Croyden, but with a greatly decreased majority.

On the other hand the new Ministers are being strikingly successful. Augustine Birrell carried the former Tory seat of North Bristol by 2,942, while Herbert Gladstone and Jas. Bryce increased their majorities by over 4,000.

Big Vote Polled.

An exceptionally large vote was polled, and the Liberal majorities are abnormally large, in especial contrast to the vote of 1900, when the Unionist majorities over the war issue were likewise exceptional. The alliance between Liberalism and Labor was again effective.

Of the eleven Labor members returned, none were opposed by Liberals, but ed, none were opposed by Liberals, but a number who opposed Liberals were defeated.

London, historically almost as Tory as Toronto, returning only eight Liberals out of sixty-one members in 1900, yesterday returned but six Conservatives in twenty-two seats. A significant feature of the contest yesterday was the fate of the Unionist free traders. Lord Hugh Cecil, son of the late Lord Salisbury, and regarded as the most brilliant member of the Cecil family, was overwhelmed at Greenwich. He was openly attacked by Mr. Chamberlain, and was opposed by a tariff reformer. He secured 2,356 while the Chamberlain candidate secured 3,565. The split gays the Liberal an easy win.

Sowies Defeated.

Thomas Gibson Bowles, whose personal attack on Chamberlain was the feature of the campaign, was second in King's Lynn, but secured 1,154 votes, as compared with 772 for the tariff reformer.

as compared with 772 for the tariff re-former, A. K. Rollitt, who ran on the same ticket, got 1,991. At Islington the tariff reformer, Hunt, got 870, and Bowles' son was elected as a free trade Conservative also, Lord Hugh Cecil's brother, Robert, not being opposed by the tariff reformers. Goschen and Seeley, free trade Unionists, were defeated at Bolton and Lincoln.

One Unionist Triumph.
One Unionist Triumph.
The announcement yesterday afternoon of the re-election or Sir George Doughty, Unionist, for Great Grimsby, with a majority of 2,300, an increase of 550 over the result of the last contest, in 1898, proved a welcome "pick-menp" to the Unionists, who were somewhat panicky after Saturday's land-silde.
Standing of the Parties

Standing of the Parties. The parties now stand: Unionist U. Free Traders Laborites Nationalists Death to Protection.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman at Glasgow interpreted the returns as death to protection all the time. He promised that the Government would seek to relieve the unsatisfactory con-dition of the people in other ways, by reforming the social, not the fiscal sys-

Balfour Worries.

The tide is running so swiftly against the Unionists that an unexpected difficulty is being experienced in finding a safe seat for ex-Premier Balfour. Some of those whom it was expected—would resign their seats to Mr. Balfour refuse point blank to do so, while in other cases it is seen that the issue is so doubtful there will be the risk of subjecting the former Premier to a second defeat. Nothing, therefore, has as yet been decided.

Mr. Balfour himself seems to be giving way to irritation. In a speech at Nottingham last night, in which he criticized the new Government in a biting manner, he said: "The language used by one member of the Cabinet would do credit to a bargee. It rather belonged to a 'slanging' match between rowdles, quarrelling over their cups, than to a Minister with great responsibility, and in the case of one of whom I am thinking, of great abilities."

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

This week has been distinguished annual universal week of prayer. The Evangelical Alliance, whose main office is on the Strand, London, England, has for the 59th accessive year sent forth its circular calling on the Christians of the world to join in a world-wide circle of "supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks for all men," he Alliance is a union of the evangelical churches of Christendom for the development of the prayer spirit, and has on its council representatives in practically every civil zed country over the earth. It very appropriately has for its motto, in Latin: "We are one body in Christ." In the circular above mentioned it is stated: "The church itself needs prayer, amid ever fresh dangers from without and within; prayer for progress and awakening to the full call of God; prayer for its homes, and its rising generation its ministers and workers and communicants, its attendants and enquirers." And so in the presence of felt need the churches of Chatham, with one or two exceptions, gathered in the various places of worship from night to night during the present week. The attendance was large from the first, and the meetings, being favored with exceptionally fine weather, grew in num bers and interest. The meetings this year have been highly successful. The delightful weather made it possible for many to attend who would have been compelled to remain away had conditions been otherwise. Two presentday tendencies and occurrences lent interest to the gatherings-the spirit of union and the fact of revival. Three of the leading churches, namely, the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational bodies of Canada, are negotiating for union. Such a fact doubtless gave added impetus to the week of prayer here as elsewhere in the Dominion. To some, union seems a beautiful theory, but a scarcely workable hypothesis. These gatherings go far to prove the possibility and practicability of the contemplated union, and must encourage those favorable to the movement. One striking feature of the meetings this year was the evangelical note which appeared to be struck each night. This was doubtless due to the spirit of revival now in the air. The meetings in Toronto under the direction of Messrs. Torrey and Alexander were frequently mentioned in prayer, and without doubt aided in giving a revival tinge to this year's week of

The speakers were not announced beforehand. This custom was a good one, in that it put to the fore the message rather than the man. It was noticeable that each speaker appeared anxious to subordinate himself to his subject and to adapt his address not only to the theme of the evening. but to the one who spoke on the same occasion. The subjects for discussion were attractive and appropriate. The practice of moving alternately from one section of the city to the other gave many the desired opportunity of worshipping in other than their accustomed place and to listen to ministers other than their own. The laity were recognized from time to time by being called upon to engage in the devotional exercises. Such a series of meetings as those recently held are certain to leave the best of impressions and the spirit of them will confirm that the spirit of them their than their own that the spirit of them that the spirit of the spiri listen to ministers other than their the spirit of them will go far to weld one the seemingly separated parts of the one body, the church uni-

"Queen of the Convicts" is a title hat implies much. Theodore Kremer, the author, noted on both continents for his prolific pen and never failing ability to thrill, promises to create the sensation of his career in his latest play by the above named title. As is his custom, he has once again chosen actual events in preference to fiction for his theme. The Servian Revolution, starting with the attempt to seize the throne of Servia, success of which was only attained after many exciting events, furnished him food for this, his latest work. Being an histosical fact, this production will appeal to many, as an educational lesson told in a delightfully interesting manner.

WATCH RECOVERES

A-couple of days ago the fact that a watch was stolen from Mrs. Victoria Campbell at Northwood, was advertised in The Planet. As a result of that item appearing in this journal the watch has been recoversed. Some time ago Harry Ball got a watch for $1 in a certain deal. He thought it was cheap and no good and was about to sell it again when his wife saw the before mentioned item in The Planet. Upon comparing the watch with the description she found that her husband was in possession of the missing watch. As a result the stolen property is now in the hands of Chief Holmes, who is waiting for the owner to come and claim the property. Mr. Ball is out $1 in the deal, however, the sum of the comparing the watch however.

spire confidence in those who are in search of honest treatment.

My acceptance of a case for treatment is equivilent to a cure, because I never accept incurable cases. I am satisfied to receive the money for the value I have given the patient, but I expect to prove my worth and show positive and satisfactory results before I ask for the fee. So, should I fail to cure the case, the patient poses nothing, while when I cure him I have given what is worth much more than morey—I have given him his health again. I am the very first specialist in the Unites States who has hed sufficient confidence in his ability to say to the afflicted,

NOT ONE DOLLAR NEED BE PAID UNTIL CURED

There is no guess work, no experiment bout my method, I am a known expert in my choesn specialties, and offer you the best and only the best treatment. When your life or your health is at stake, inferior treatment (which leaves after-effects worse than the disease itself), is dear at any price.

Have 14 Diplomas and certificates from the various colleges an 1 state boards of my standing and abilities. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be to your advantage to get my opinion of your case free of charge.

PHYSICAL DEBILITY

The Latest Method Treatment is a heaves-sent boon to nervous sufferers. There are searcs and hundreds of persons suffering from severe nervous disorders resulting from poverwork, hurry, werry, business and domestic cares, bereavements, dissipation, etc. To then life is one continual round of misery, while peace, comfort and happiness are i possible. They suffer from headache, loss of memory, mental depression, strange sensations, bullness, dizziners, restlessness, irritability, constant indescribable fear, forebodings, sleeplessness, weakness, trembling, heart palpitation, cold limbs, utter fatigue and exhaustion. In this class of cases almost immediate relief is afforded by my treatment. The use of marcotics and poisonous stupefying drugs is done away with, and permanent cures accomplished.

"Until we do so, I hope, Mr. Wrexford," said the skipper, "that you will take up your quarters in this cabin, and consider yourself a saloon passenger. I'm sure the owners would wish it, and for my part I shall be proud to have you among us."

"And I say 'Hear, hear!' to that," added Mr. Manstone.

I am quite comfortable there; and as I made my choice on principle at the beginning, I think, with your permission, I would rather not change it

"You are too modest by half, Mr. Wrexford," said Miss Maybourne's uncle. "Far too modest."
For some time the two gentlemen did their best to persuade me to forego my decision, but, hard as they tried, they did not succeed. There were so many reasons why I should not take up my residence among the first saloon passengers aft, and as I reviewed them in my mind, I became more than ever convinced that it would be madness for me to forego my resolution.

When they discovered that I was not to be moved they shook hands again, and then left me. Five minutes later the doctor came in to help me dress. He carried a bundle of clothes in his arms, and when he had shut the door behind him he threw them on the locker under the porthole

"Your own clothes, I'm sorry to say, Wrexford," he began, "are completely spoiled; so if you'll allow me, I'm going to lend you these till you can see about some more. We are men of pretty much the same build, so what fits me should fit you, and vice yersa. Now, if you're ready, let me give you a hand to dress, for I want to get you on deck into the fresh air as soon as possible."

Half an hour later I was ready to leave my cabin. Fortunately, there were very few people about, but, to my horror, those who were there would insist upon shaking hands with me, and telling me what they thought of my action before they would let me escape. To add to my discomfort, when I left the saloon and passed along the spar deck towards my own quarters I had to run the gauntlet of the rest of the passengers, who clustered round me, and overwhelmed me with a chorus of congratulations on my recovery. I doubt very much if ever there was more fluss made over an act of common humanity than that made by the passengers of the Fill Princess over mine. If I had saved the lives of the whole ship's company, captain and stokers included, there could not have been more said about it.

Reaching my own quarters forrard I went down to my berth, in search of a pipe and a pouch of tobacco, and when I had found them, sat myself down on the fore-hatch and began to smoke it was a lovely morning, a merry breeze hummed in the shrouds, and the great steamer was ploughing her way along with an exhilarating motion that brought my strength backfully my strength backfully my the same many doctor's physic. THAT OVER WORKED. PLAYED OUT FEEL-ING AMONG WOMEN

There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with diseases peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young. Often they have pale or sallow complexion, hollow, sunken eyes, with a lifeless look; the face has a pinched and haggard appearance; they are weak, weary and trembling, often extremely nervous, starting at every little noise. Many are low-spirited, and some are fretful. Some are apparently bloodless, with cold hands and fect, while others are flushed by an unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness, and sometimes dimness of vision, loss of memory, and often loss of appetite and sleep, and are wearied with terrible dreams. Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, shortness of breath and the sensation of pins and needles are all indications of a weakened condition of the heart or nervous system, and should any of them be present we would strongly advise the use of discovered was Venus, which they called the hairs on account of the brightness of its rays. They said that, being the most brilliant of the stars, the sun would not permit it to be separated from him and obliged it to attend his rising as well as his going down, just as at the courts of kings only the most distinguished lords and the handsomest ladies were admitted to the ceremonious royal risings and retirings. It appears nearly certain that the Incas spoke of Venus under two differen names, according as it preceded or followed the sun. To this day the native Peruvians name it in fanciful language the eight hour torch and the twilight lamp. As this star served to show the Indians when it was time to prepare the maize for cooking, they also gave it a name indicative of that act. A chapel in the Temple of the Sun was conse look old.

Untaught Deaf Mutes Resent Its Apparent Attitude Toward Them. The moon appears to be the center of every untaught deaf mute's cosmogo ny. With only one exception that I have been able to find, untaught deaf mutes all resent the moon's apparent supervisory attitude toward them. "When I went to my bedroom the moon shined in and laughed at me. I didn't like it. I shook my fist at the "When I went to walk the moon chased me. I hated the moon, I made faces at the moon." As a stimulant to undesirable emo tions, the moon must exert considerable influence upon the moral life of the uneducated deaf. One little boy obeyed the impulse it is human to feel when persistently nagged. He tried to kill the nagger. The moon went wherever I did. I hated the moon, and I was afraid of it. My mother and I went to call on Mrs. Smith across the Potomac river. I was afraid of the moonbeams on the water. I said in signs that I was afraid to the bridge. My mother covered eyes with her handkerchief so I not see the moonbeams on the water. She held my hand tight, I ask-ed Emma Smith to let me take John's gun. She put cap and powder on the gun. I shooted at the moon. The gun made fire and smoke. The moon went behind clouds. I thought I had killed the wicked moon. I was very glad that the moon was dead."-Sarah Harvey Porter in Reader.

Two Freaks of Nature.

Two contrasting freaks of nature are the Island of Fire and the Lake of Snow. The Island of Fire is called the Home of Hot Devils. It is situated in the midst of a large lake of boiling mud in the island of Java. The steam and gases which arise from the sticky mud form themselves into bubbles at taining the diameter of five or six feet and sailing high up in the air like balloons, carried hither and thither by the wind and finally exploding with a loud

The biggest snow lake is seen from the summit of Hispar pass, in the Karakoran range. It is more than 300 square miles in area. In Switzerland the sea of ice might better be called the sea of snow, as the surface is broken up by solar heat, which makes minute fissuring in the ice, giving it the appearance of snow.

How You May See Behind You With-out Turning Your Head. Here is a simple little arrangement with which you can mystify your friends and have no end of fun.

All it requires is a piece of cardboard 3 by 5 inches (to be cut as described) and a piece of looking glass 1 by 21/4 inches carefully put together according to directions. The cardboard should be black on one side, which when folded will be on the inside of the box.

Mark off carefully the spaces as described in the diagram on the outside of the cardboard, then make a slight cut (where marked by dotted line) so as not to separate, fold over and fasten together with strips of cloth binding or paper on all edges. Now cut a hole in the center of one side as large around as a lead pencil, and the box is finished.

The looking glass should be inserted as shown in the picture and fastened on the outside edge with a little gummed paper so as to keep it from slip-

With this little box now complete you can see what's going on all around you without moving your head a par-

BIG TREES OF THE SEA.

The Wonderful Plants That Grow Up Under the Water.

If you ask most persons what the world's biggest plants are, they will probably mention such growths as the giant trees of California, the wonderful eucalyptus of Australia and the huge banyan tree of Asia. But they would be wrong. All these mammoths of the vegetable world are mere pygmies compared with the true monsters which have been seen by a very few. In the deep sea, hidden away from man except when fierce storms tear a few of them from their secret beds or when the deep sea dredges of some explorer wrest them from the abyss, grow plants that are 1,500 feet long. They are brown seaweeds, with their roots in the sunless ocean bottom, where never a spark of light filters down, and their stems reaching up through a full quarter of a mile of

The greatest of these plants has a stem only about a quarter of an inch thick and at the end of it has a leaf or thick and at the end of it has a leaf or a leaflike growth that is fifty feet long, surely the longest leaf in the world. This leafly end is beset with great blad-ders, each as big as an egg. The blad-ders are full of air, and this buoys the vast plant up so that it stands upright in the water. On our own northwest Pacific coast is another weed that grows to be more than 300 feet long. At its upper end it has an ais bladder shaped something like a cask, and from this again there grows a tuft of fifty or more leaf sprays which are thirty feet long.

The "Twenty-one" Problem. Here is a table of figures. The prob-lem is to add any six of these figures together and make twenty-one:

As a matter of fact, the solution is impossible. Any two odd numbers added together make an even number and six odd numbers are merely three sets of twos. In other words, one odd number added to a second odd number makes an even, a third odd added makes an odd, a fourth added makes an even, a fifth odd added makes an odd, and a sixth odd added makes an even. Therefore neither twenty-one nor any other odd number can be obtained by adding together six odd num-

Water Flewing Uphill.
One of the few instances of a stream running uphill can be found in White county, Ga. Near the top of a mountain is a spring, evidently a siphon and the water rushes from it with sufficient force to carry it up the side of a very steep hill for nearly half a mile. Reaching the crest, the water flows on to the east and eventually finds its way to the Atlantic ocean. Of course it is of the same nature as a geyser, but the spectacle of a stream of water flowing up a steep incline can probably be found nowhere else in the country and appears even more remarkable than the geysers of the Yellowstone.

On Saturday night Wall and a friend, W. Reeves of 295 Sherbourne street, changed overocats for no especial reason. Wall's coat contained a bottle of whickers in the scaletted by whiskey. In the pocket of his friend's coat Wall also found a bottle with some sort of poison, made up of ban-ana oil and acid. Forgetting that he did and off and acid. GIN PILLS WILL CURE IT

A strain or severe cold, or a dozen other causes may have started it - but the Kidneys are at the bottom of it. Backache (especially in the "small" of the back) means Kidney Disease. Lots of people, with swollen hands and feet, are treating themselves for rheumatism, when, in fact, their sick kidneys are causing the pain and swelling. GIN PILLS cure that pain in the Back every time, because they cure the Kidneys.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest serntiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, perfolicin pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refine glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's pecular diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative into the "Favorite Prescription" scomposed—recommending them for the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription" scomposed—recommending them for the other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. RETARY, NATIVE OF CANADA.

Comes to the Office by Right of Birth -On Both Sides He Springs From Statesmen Who Have Rendered the Empire Distinguished Services In the Colonies-Colonial Crisis on at His Birth.

Of Lord Elgin, the new Secretary of State for the Colonies, it might be said that he comes to the office by right of that he comes to the office by right of birth. On both sides he springs from statesmen who have rendered to the Empire very distinguished service In the colonies, and he himself was born in the chief colony. His father was that Lord Eigin who was Governor-General from 1847 to 1854, and his mother was Lady Mary Louisa Lambton, daughter of that Earl of Durham, who held the office of Governor-General and High Commissioner of British North America in 1838. It is impossible to exaggerate the value of the work thus done for Canada and the Empire by the present Earl of Eigin's father and by his maternal grandfather. The latter's penetrating mind went to the real cause of the rebellion, and in his famous report, which the Imperial Government in part acted upon, he laid the foundations of responsible government here. If to Lord Durham is to be given the credit of prescribing the principles of responsible government and having them established by the Act of Union of 1841, to his son-in-law is to be given the credit of putting these principles into working order, a task of uncommon difficulty. Lord Durham found a remedy for the ills that had produced the rebellion. It was for Lord Eigin to apply so much of that remedy as the British Parliament had adopted. birth. On both sides he springs from

Born During Colonial Crisis.

Born During Colonial Crisis.

Lord Elgin's efforts to administer the country in the spirit of the new Constitution brought a storm about his ears, and the late Loyalists were incensed to something of the violence the rebels had shown. Elgin held unwaveringly to the principle that the majority must rule, no matter how little he might sympathize with its policy or its acts. When he gave his assent to the Rebellion Loses Bill the indignation of all who had opposed the idea of indemnifying men who had taken up arms against the Sovereign broke out. On his way from Parliament House in Montreal to his home the Governor-General was pelted with rotten eggs, mud and stones. On the same night the Parliament Bulding was attacked and burned. All this, of course, was the work of a mob, whose excesses the leader of the Opposition strongly condemned. The outbreak was on April 25, 1849. On April 30, on his way to and from the hall in which the Legislature was assembled, Lord Elgin was again assalled, and "Monklands." his lature was assembled, Lord Elgin was again assailed, and "Monklands," his suburban residence, was threatened. For weeks he did not leave his house. It was in this trying time, on the 16th of May, 1849, that his eldest son, the present Lord Eigin and the new Section of the Colonies was born. retary for the Colonies, was born. An excellent picture of the lad, standing beside his father, is reproduced in Prof. George M. Wrong's "The Earl of Elgin," from a photograph taken in 1859.

Almost a Toronto Man.

The Secretary for the Colonies nar-rowly escaped being a Toronto man. After the destruction of the Parliament Buildings and the further demonstra-tions of the populace, it was decided that Montreal should no longer be the seat of Government. The remaining sessions of the existing Legislature were held in Toronto, Lord Elgia we learn from Mr. John Ross Robertson's "Landmarks of Toronto," arrived in that city by boat on the 3th of October, 1849, and was rather ill received. Here he made his home at "Elmsley Villa," which stood on the site now occupied by the Central Presbyterian Church, In his "Toronto of Old" Dr. Scadding mentions that Lord Elgin was a regu-Buildings and the further demonstramentions that Lord Elgin was a regular worshipper in Holy Trinity Church during the time of the rebuilding of St. James' Cathedral after the fire of St. James' Cathedral after the fire of 1849. During the earl's residence in Toronto the present Normal School was built. He laid the corner-stone on July 2, 1851. Montreal being the city of his birth, and Toronto the city of his early infancy, the Secretary for the Colonies should have a warm place in Colonies should have a warm place in his heart for them, in spite of the fact that in the middle of last century they did not see eye to eye with his father.

Colonial Policy.

The new Secretary inherits no tendency to make Downing Street rule stronger. Both his grandfather, the Earl of Durham, and his father, the Earl of Elgin, were leaders in the de-centralizing movement, which has gone on until the great colonies are now practically as free agents as if they were independent States. Their greatness is largely the result of the concession to them of self-government. From the new Secretary we shall expect an administration of the colonies pect an administration of the colonies along the lines followed by Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Lyttelton. These two statesmen showed a recognition of the importance of the colonies such as few of their predecessors showed. Lord Elgin can be trusted to be duly considerate of the dignity of the self-governing colonies. Commercial Views

Commercial Views.

To-day Mr. Chamberlain himself does not take more advanced ground on the trade question than did Lord Elgin's father. Writing to the Home Government, the latter acknowledged that there was "something captivating in the project of forming this vast British Empire into one huge zollverein, with free interchange of commodities and uniform duties against the world without; though pythaps without some Federal legislation it might have been impossible to ca'ry it out." But actual and pressing conditions had then to be provided for, and the colonies had not yet reache's the status necessary for the arranging of such a commercial partnership. The relief that seemed likely to be the most instant was reciprocity with the United States, which Lord Elgin succeeded in bringing about. The Elgin treaty of reciprocity held from 1854 to 1866.

OHILDREN OOUNTED

"It is a mistake to think we over looked the enumeration of the school children in our assessment," said W H. Gonne this morning. "The figures for 1995 were put in the mar-gia and thus, perhaps, evertooked. They were as follows: From 5 to 16 years, 1,909; from 5 to 21 years, 2,532."

BAD WALKS

"This wet weather is certainly showing up the bad spots in Chatham sidewalks and crossings," remarked a citizen with muddy shoes morning. "It would be a good idea the Board of Works would take a walk down Wellington street near walk down wellington street hear Milner's carriage works and see how badly the people of that vicinity are in need of a sidewalk.

A TALK ON COLDS

Did you ever stop to think that it would be a good idea to have a cough cure in the house so you could "nip in the bud" that cold that you feel coming on? How often we hear it said: "I have taken cold; I feel it in my bones." Yes, they will feel it all over by to-morrow. How much easier it would be to ge. a bottle of Shiloh and have it so you can stop it. Yes, and you don't have to take a whole bottle to get results, either.

Chatham has Still Another Midnight Robbery-Police are Investigating

Still another case of petty thiev-ing is reported. This time Mr. Bodg-er, the market square butcher, is the victim to the extent of 22 cents. cr, the market square butter, is the victim to the extent of 22 cents.

Some time last night some person or persons gained an entrance to Mr. Bodger's store through the back door. There were just 22 coppers in the till and that is all Mr. Bodger as seed from his store this morning. The back door was not securely locked, there being only a wooden button fastening it.

Merchants should be careful to see that their back doors are safely fastened, especially at this time when there is so much petty thieving going on. No clue has been found as to who committed the deed.

Chief Holmes is of the opinion that these robberies are done by small boys, and not necessarily the same boys each time. Small youngsters go

System Has Been Thoroughly Over-Hauled and Chatham Will Now Have Good Service

The much talked of and generally

The much talked of and generally complained of electric light system has been thoroughly overhauled and while there are still a number of minor changes to make, the Property committee will soon be in a position to guarantee excellent light for Chatham pedestrians.

A number of the new lights have been put in—at the corner of Baldoon and Head streets, on the corner of Harvey and Queen, at the Merrill House, on Park avenue, Queen street and at the bend in King street.

The system was tested Saturday night and everything was found to be in good shape. The dynamos worked well and the future looks promising and 'bright."

Two Lives Lost in Storm.

New York, Jan. 15.—A tragedy of Saturday's storm, in which two lives were lost just outside New York harbor, was reported yesterday by the tugboat Eugene or Moran. The Moran was towing two 1000 out to sea, when outside Sandy Hook bar the hawser parted and the scows went adrift. One of the scows immediately capsized, and one of her crew was drowned. When the Moran attempted to pass a line to the other barge, a heavy sea swept a man from the deck of the scow. He also was drowned.

Hundred Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence—Names and Penalties.

Toronto, Jan. 16.—After an important address on the issues of the now celebrated plumbers' conspiracy case, Chancellor Boyd brought the whole matter to a conclusion yesterday morning with the exception of a few scattered threads, when he inflicted fines varying from $100 to $500 on forty members of the Master Plumbers' Association individually charged with conspiracy. In all $10,600 will be paid in to Sheriff Mowat by those thus punished for their connection with the combine. Of the remainder of those charged about 100 were released on suspended sentence.

Method of Assessing Fines.

In his remarks on the method adopted by himself in assessing the fines the Chancellor explained the reason for this discrimination. From his examination of the documents he discovered those who had received sums of money from the association. As far as was possible, therefore, he had levied such fines that these amounts would be handed over to the Crown as a penalty for the breach of the law. The Chancellor was also influenced by the fact that many of the lesser tradesmen had reaped no great advantage from their connection with the monopoly, but had been forced into it by their more powerful competitors.

Erred On Side of Clemency.

However, he expressed the opinion that while he would follow the scale of fines set by Mr. Justice Clute in the first case, yet he felt that the latter had erred on the side of clemency.

In regard to those who had plended guilty of receiving bonuses on the contracts for work done for Warwick Bros. and Rutter, the Toronto Bedding Co., the Homewood Sanatarium, Guelph, the Toronto Isolation Hospital and others, the judge decided to allow the culprits to depart on suspended sentence. He did this on the understanding that restitution had been made and that there would be so further recourse to such methods.

Fines Imposed.

His Lordship then imposed the following fines:

son. His Lordship's Hopes.

In regard to those charged with fraud under section 394 in all of which cases restitution has been made, the judge decided not to inflict any further punishment. The only possible penalty was imprisonment, there being no alternative of a fine. He, therefore, suspended sentence on the emphatic condition that there be no further transgression of the criminal law. The sentence would never be further transgression of the criminal law. The sentence would never be pronounced unless they brought it upon themselves by further transgressions. He did not doubt but that all would outline the blemish on their record and all behave in the future so as to warrant the extension to them of the confidence and respect of their fellow etitzens.

The Tack Combine.

Toronto, Jan. 16.—Crown Attorney Curry has practically finished one of the 28 combine cases he has on hand. Yesterday he finished the case for the prosecution. Magistrate Denison stated that he would send the case on for trial.

The evidence yesterday was confined to the admission of a number of agreements dated April, 1901, signed by the Ontario Tack Co., Pillow Hersey Co. and the Montreal Rolling Mills. The trio agreed not to increase their present facilities for making tacks and gray the number of machines and gave the number of machines both working dismantled in their fac-

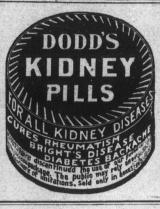

Magistrate Denison adjourned the case until to-day, stating that, as in the other cases, he would commit only one man for trial.

Narrow Escapes in Explosion at the Blacksmith Shop of the Gray Factory

Yesterday morning about half past ten an explosion occurred in the blacksmith shop of Wm. Gray & Sons Co. A blast pipe serving one of the furnaces with air, presumably filled with gas while the machinery was temporarily stopped and when the draught started up again the compressed air and gas in the pipe exploded.

About twenty-four feet of piping

About twenty-four feet of piping was ripped and pieces were hurled about the shop.

The blacksmith at the furnace had a close call, as a large piece of heavy piping about ten feet long was hurled post his head and settled in a corner about eight feet away, smashing a window.

One of the drill hands had just left his post on account of the machinery being stopped, and when the accident took place a heavy jagged piece of metal was found where he had been sitting but a moment behad been sitting but a moment be-fore. The affair caused considerable fore. The affair caused considerable excitement, as the building was filled with smoke, but happily no panic of fire scare was the result. The blast pipe was repaired yesterday afternoon and the blacksmiths will be able to start to work again to-day.
