CANADIAN RYE TO AID RUSSIA DODGE FAMINE

Dr. Nansen Famous as an Explorer, Heads All Relief Enterprises

NOW ON JOB AT RIGA Cereals From Here and the U. S. Needed but May be too Late

RIGA, Aug. 24.—Canadian grain will play a big part in the saving of Russia from death by famine. Dr. Nansen, famous explorer, is heading relief work as Herbert Hoover's agent here.

In his view the salient fact in the situation is that unless good corn can be brought immediately to the stricken districts, a recurrence of famine next year, on a larger scale than now, will be inevitable. He says 250,000 tons of rye for sowing should be delivered before the end of September, and in order that the people may sow this seed instead of eating it, food for immediate consumption should go with it, the total requirements being 1,000,000 tons.

It seems impossible to get rye from the United States and Canada in time for September sowing. Dr. Nansen overcomes that handicap by proposing to draw his rye supplies from Central Europe, where the harvest is good, and to draw from the same sources enough corn for Russian use, assuring the present possessors of these stocks that they will be recouped in full by replacements from American and Canadian stocks. He says that by this means work may proceed at once as there is more than sufficient available tonnage for the service.

On his arrival here, Dr. Nansen had a talk with Commissioner Litvinoff, who afterward left here for Reval and Moscow. M. Litvinoff said he had been specially authorized by the Moscow authorities to negotiate with the International Red Cross and allied bodies, but as he was not clear how far the European Governments would be ready to support the Nansen plans, details could not yet be arranged. He said Russia would be glad to get all supplies possible, and he could promise that upon notice of ten days the Russian transport would be able to handle all the supplies that could be brought to the frontier, Novorossiisk, or elsewhere.

SUCCEEDS FLAVELLE

Will Have Extra Duties in Directing Prosecutions

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Although some time ago Hon. W. E. Ransy expressed the opinion that it might not be necessary to fill the vacancy on the Ontario License Board, occasioned by the resignation of J. D. Flavelle, the chairman, experience apparently has taught him otherwise, for yesterday he announced the appointment of Mr. James Hales, of the legal firm of Irwin, Hales and Irwin, Toronto, to the vacant chairmanship. Mr. Hales will take over all the duties that Mr. Flavelle had, and he will have an additional responsibility as director of prosecutions.

CAR HITS RUT; ONE DEAD

Victim's Neck Broken; Another Man Injured Internally

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 24.—Theodore Marion, 22 years old, of Petite Cote, was instantly killed, and Eugene Boismier, 23, also of Petite Cote, so badly injured that he will die, in an automobile accident on Maiden Road, between Windsor and Amherstburg, at 10 o'clock last night. The men, with two women, were on their way back to Windsor when the front wheels of the machine struck a rut in the road. The steering gear was wrenched out of the hands of Boismier, who was driving, and the car plunged into a deep ditch that borders the road.

U. S. At Peace With Austria

Vienna, Aug. 24.—The Treaty of Peace with the United States was signed at one o'clock this afternoon.

JUDGE DENTON APPOINTED

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Judge Denton has been appointed senior magistrate of Toronto in succession to Col. T. Denison, who recently resigned.

LONDON'S BIG FIRE

One of the biggest fires London has seen for many years took place when 5,000 unemployed fired the lumber yard of Messrs. J. O'Hara & Son, Limited. The yard covers 21 acres and was the largest lumber yard in the United Kingdom.

NESSOP YARED IS FINED $500

Convicted in Deseronto Court of Having Liquor in Prohibited Place

INDIAN FINED $200.

Peter Baptiste Had Still at Place on Mohawk Reserve—Details

Nessop Yared, of Point Aurore, was fined five hundred dollars yesterday afternoon in the police court at Deseronto by Magistrate Bedford, for having liquor in a prohibited place.

Peter Baptiste of the Mohawk Reservation, for breach of the Inland Revenue Act by having illicitly distilled liquor in his possession, was fined two hundred.

A charge was read to Yared accusing him of having illicitly distilled liquor in his possession and was enlarged for a week.

Mr. W. Carnew appeared for the prosecution in two cases.

HUNT FOR BOYS' LEADER

Successor to Angus Buchanan Needed at Local "Y"

General Secretary H. Ballantyne, of the "Y", was requested last night by the local executive of the "Y" to look out for a boys' secretary for the association in succession to Mr. A. Buchanan.

The election of a president was postponed.

The local situation was discussed by the directors.

"CANADIAN" AND "NORTHERN" JOIN AS CAN. NATIONAL; MR. WALLACE IS PROMOTED

Who is to Head Combined Express Services is not Settled but Mr. Griffin is unofficially Understood to be the Man for the Job.

Important changes in the staffs and administration of the Canadian and Canadian Northern Express Companies here were officially announced today to The Ontario, by Mr. H. M. Wallace, manager of the Canadian Express Co.

The expected merger of the companies will take place so far as Belleville is concerned on Sept. 1st next.

The offices and express storage rooms of the Canadian Express Co. at the corner of Bridge and Pinnacle will be continued and the offices of the Canadian Northern Company on Front Street will be closed.

The new company will be known as the Canadian National Express Co.

Mr. Wallace, a native of Campbellton, N.B., has been promoted to be travelling auditor for Nova Scotia with headquarters at Halifax, and will leave to take up his new duties as soon after the first of the month as he finds it possible. He expects to meet Mr. Wallace at Campbellton where she is now visiting relatives. This promotion comes after some time spent in Montreal and about two years here of splendid service to the company, and is well merited. Mr. Wallace has a host of friends here, who will be sorry to see him go. He is a member of the Rotary Club in which he takes a great interest. "I am both sorry and glad to go," Mr. Wallace said to The Ontario today, "sorry because I like Belleville and the people of Belleville, and glad, naturally, because it is a promotion and I shall be in the part of the Dominion where I came from and know many people."

Who is to succeed here as manager of the combined companies was not officially announced in the communication received in Belleville today from headquarters in Montreal, but The Ontario was given unofficially to understand that Mr. Griffin would be selected for the post.

He is here already, knows the community and is well thought of in business circles.

ONE KILLED; 25 INJURED

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 24.—Engineer Douglas Armstrong of Grand Junction, was killed and 25 passengers were injured in the wreck of the Denver and Rio Grande west-bound passenger train, number 1, about 13 miles east of here early today.

SIR SAM HUGHES DIES; NOTED CANADIAN FIGURE PASSES AT LINDSAY HOME

Former War Minister and For Long Militia Officer, Was in 69th Year—Family at Bedside and End was Peaceful.

LINDSAY, Aug. 24.—General Sir Sam Hughes, Canada's war Minister during the earlier years of the Great War, died at his home here at one o'clock this morning after a long illness from pernicious anaemia. He was in his 69th year.

After many rallies Sir Sam on Monday last began to wobble again and he was unconscious all day yesterday. His doctor and friends realized that the end was near and a cable was sent to his son, Major General Garnet Hughes in England. Sir Sam did not regain consciousness during the night and he passed away peacefully. There were at his bedside when the end came, Lady Hughes, Mrs. Byron Green, of Chatham, a daughter; Miss Aileen Hughes, a daughter; Dr. McAlpine, of Lindsay, brother-in-law; Bernie McAlpine, a nephew; Miss Burke, of Bowmanville, sister-in-law and T. H. Slingsby, of Lindsay, an old friend of Sir Sam. In addition to the above Sir Sam is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Dr. James I. Hughes, Toronto; Major General John Hughes of Bowmanville, President-General of the Government Buildings, St. Pierre Hughes, Superintendent of Prisons, Ottawa; Mrs. Scott, wife of the late Professor Scott, of Toronto; Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. McAlpine, of Lindsay; Mrs. McDonald, now in the United States, formerly Mrs. Robert Thexton, of Lindsay.

His Career
The late Sir Sam Hughes was for nearly thirty years a member of the Dominion Parliament and took an active part in the political, educational, social and business life of the Dominion, yet he is associated most prominently in the public mind with the profession of arms, and his place in history will turn upon his career as War Minister for Canada. When a boy of seventeen he volunteered to aid in the suppression of the Fenian Raid. Soon after that he joined the Canadian Militia and was closely identified with its growth and development for the rest of his life. In 1897 he was Lieut.-Colonel of the 45th Battalion. At the outbreak of the South African war in 1899 he was a member of Parliament and Lieutenant Colonel to boot, but the combination did not bring for him the place he thought he should have in the Canadian contingent being organized for Imperial service in that far distant battle ground. He was permitted to go with the contingent as a "special" or "attached" officer. The scenes aboard the troopship on which he sailed with the Canadian troops at that time was re-echoed in the Canadian Parliament half a generation later. However the redoubtable Colonel Hughes reached South Africa, and served with the British troops there, receiving several decorations and being mentioned in despatches. He was for years President of the Dominion Rifle Association and President of the Standing Committee on Small Arms. In 1914 he became Major General and two years later, as the result of Great War Service which is of quite recent memory he was made a Lieutenant-General by the British Government. His Knighthood was gazetted in 1915.

In October, 1911, Sam Hughes, M. P., for Victoria and Halliburton, entered the Dominion Government as Minister of Militia and Defence, serving until his resignation in November, 1915. The first three years of his service were prior to the war and occupied mainly in expanding and properly equipping the permanent forces and militia of the Dominion. During this time, also, he witnessed some of the great military reviews of Europe, and visited Belgium and other portions of France where he was satisfied that a coming great war would be fought. It was not, however, till the outbreak of the Great War that his enthusiasm and talents had full play. All Canada stood more or less dumfounded when her Minister of Militia cabled the Mother Country promising a contingent of 35,000 soldiers within two months. This truly remarkable feat of mobilizing, training, equipping and despatching the "originals" 35,000 strong, was accomplished, however, largely through the unquenchable and dominating influence of the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia. This was done at the famous Valcartier encampment, and was a feat pronounced by the late Lord Roberts to be without parallel in the military history of the world.

Man of Great Energy
From August, 1914, to November, 1918, General Hughes worked with dynamic energy in carrying out Canada's share in the Great War. During that time of excitement and tumult, much controversy raged

WATER IN LAKE RECEDES QUICKLY THEN COMES BACK
TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., Aug. 24.—Five square miles of bay bottom were laid bare today when waters of East Bay receded half a mile.

This recession took place so quickly that 200 motor boats and other small craft were stranded and thousands of pounds of fish were left in the pools. Two hours later the water came back in a big wave, washing out much of the road along the beach.

Hundreds of frightened resorters and residents of Traverse City drove to the bay to watch the phenomenon.

BOLSHEVIST BEES
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(By Canadian Press)—The bees of the United States appear to have adopted a Bolshevik policy. Recent despatches received here show that they have committed the following atrocities:

- Killed a horse and forced twenty miles to retire from work in Yolo County, California.
- Held the pike against all traffic near Lexington, Kentucky.
- Guarding a honey tree which fell across the highway.
- Stung a motorist on the nose in Wisconsin, and thereby ditched an automobile party.

WARRIOR DIES

GENERAL SIR SAM HUGHES, K. C. B., who passed away early today at his Lindsay home, after a long illness.

Graham is Ignored; Mallory for Leeds

Liberals of Brockville Section Choose Man in Place of Sir Thomas White

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 24.—Liberals to the number of about three hundred, including many ladies, attended the convention here today for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding of Brockville and Leeds for the vacant seat in the Commons caused by the retirement of Sir Thomas White. Five names were put forward: Hon. G. P. Graham, A. C. Hardy, J. E. McLeod, Brockville; M. B. Holmes, of Athens, ex-warden of Leeds and Grenville, and A. W. Mallory, of Mallorytown, cattle buyer, cheese and butter manufacturer. All retired with the exception of Mr. Holmes and Mr. Mallory, the latter winning by a large majority on the first ballot.

The principal speaker was F. F. Pardee, M. P. for West Lambton. In a long address he criticized the Federal administration for being unable to make up its mind to go to the country.

SPANISH WIN LATEST FIGHT

Stopped Moors in an Attack and Then Put on Counter Show

MADRID, Aug. 24.—Savage attacks upon the Spanish lines south of Melilla, Morocco, have been made by rebellious tribesmen, but they have been repulsed with heavy losses, said an official statement issued last night.

The Spanish forces, after stopping the onslaught of the Moors, launched a counter-attack and compelled the enemy to abandon the position he had taken there, the statement added.

CHILD OF SIX KILLED

Car Backing Out of Garage Strikes Little One

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 24.—An accident which resulted in the death of six-year-old Mary Nokes occurred at noon yesterday on Dundas street. The little girl, in company with her twin sister, was just in front of Baird's Garage, when Cliff Aspden, a mechanic, backed a car out onto the sidewalk.

SWITCH OFFICES IN CITY HALL TO INCREASE EFFICIENCY THERE

Council has under consideration arrangements of the offices in the city building in order to increase the efficiency of the staff. It is thought that by so doing the work of handling the city's affairs would be coordinated. Last night the matter was discussed and there is a possibility that the construction of the building is such that the changes would run into a heavy expenditure. Ald. French, the city property chairman, was given authority to investigate and have plans and specifications drawn if it is possible to agree upon the modifications. He will consult with Ald. Bennett in the matter as the latter is a contractor and will be able to give valuable advice.

EMPIRE CLINGING DESPERATELY TO HOPES OF PEACE

Answer of Dail Eireann to Leave Room to Negotiate, Forecasts Say

STILL IN CLOSE SESSION Reply to Lloyd George's Proposals Likely to Ready Thursday

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—Eamonn de Valera and his cabinet began today what promised to be the final consideration of the Sinn Fein reply to Great Britain's terms for settlement of the Irish question. The executive committee of Sinn Fein was also in session but the Irish Republican Parliament did not meet, adjournment over today being taken so that the cabinet might be free to devote its entire attention to the note to be sent to London. It was expected that the work would be expedited and that a completed draft of the reply would be ready for submission to the Dail Eireann at tomorrow morning's session.

It is understood that a draft of the proposed reply to the British Government was submitted, but members are silent as to the attitude indicated by the text. However, this meeting is all merely superficial. It is the general belief that something big is going on beneath the surface. Newspapers are being kept in the dark regarding the deliberations, but it appears that hope for peace is greater than ever.

Public Optimism
Public opinion is still optimistic and the provincial feeling is said to be on the side of acceptance rather than total rejection.

According to a forecast of the trend of the reply, the Dail will reaffirm its adherence to the Republican principle, but will not insist on it in view of the enormous cost in lives and money entailed. It will suggest that Lloyd George, by issuing General Smuts' letter, has tacitly adopted the South African Premier's interpretation of the offer, and will point out that the offer, in the Dail's opinion, does not confer Dominion status. It will enumerate and elaborate objections, and will invite the Premier to answer so that no ambiguities will remain to cloud the issue.

"Then," suggested the informant, "there will be created a jumping-off ground for the negotiations which, I think, will be the stumbling block. The Sinn Fein will probably suggest that if this difficulty cannot be confounded, Ulster should be excluded from any benefits and privileges (apart from those she already holds) granted to the South. Whether or not this contention will be won is in the lap of the gods, but I do not conceive it will be insuperable."

Send Reply to Downing Street
DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—Reply to Great Britain's terms for settlement of the Irish question will be delivered at Prime Minister Lloyd George's official residence in Downing street Thursday night or Friday morning it is expected here. Delivery it is thought will precede the proposed public meeting of Dail Eireann.

PLAINFIELD IS A BUSY SPOT

Farmers Mostly Through Harvesting—Grist Mills are Humming

CORN IS GOOD CROP Personal News and Views of Live Community—A Civic Holiday

PLAINFIELD, Aug. 22.—This is a busy burg nowadays as the farmers of the surrounding country are coming from all directions for their grinding at the splendid mills here. Few complaints are heard, although the crop is slightly lower and lighter than last year.

Mrs. Henderson, mother of Mr. G. Henderson, cheesemaker of Foxboro, is under the doctor's care at present. Her granddaughter is looking after her.

Mr. T. A. Mills has carpenters making interior improvements upon his residence on Front St., preparatory to moving into it, later when he will retire from business as general merchant.

The local U.F.O. are unloading a car of wheat this week. Prices are reported very moderate. Corn seems to be a banner crop this year in different parts of the county. In this vicinity corn fields are almost like bamboo forests. Possibly long corn will compensate for short hay.

The "movies" at the hall drew a very small attendance Thursday evening owing to a misprint in the advertising showing an unpopular piece.

Miss E. Tammon, the local teacher returned after spending several days visiting friends in Bancroft. Mrs. (Rev.) McLeod, of Essex, is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.G.K. Moore for a time. Mrs. Moore is in very poor health.

Mrs. Haggard continues to improve so that complete recovery is hoped for in this another case of heart trouble.

The auction sale of mill and real estate belonging to the late D. Poncher was held on Tuesday last at the saw mill but little actual business was accomplished. However, a number of deals have followed and others pending which will be fully announced in the near future.

Mr. H. K. Denyes, M.P.P., member for this riding, was called to Toronto on important Provincial business last week.

Rev. L. M. and Mrs. Sharpe and family motored to the Sandbanks on Wednesday to attend a family picnic of some relatives and friends.

Mr. M. Tammon is improving his residence on Academy St. by the construction of a fine cement veranda. Other signs of progress are brewing and results will follow in our little town.

Local bank authorities in charge of the new Plainfield branch predict that this will be the banner branch in a few months judging by business to date.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Parks and daughter attended the funeral of their relative, Mr. Ernest Geen, at Thomasburgh on Saturday. Rev. Mr. Merrick and Rev. A. L. Geen were in charge of the service.

Several citizens are planning to take in the celebration of Deseronto's Civic Holiday, Wed. 24th inst. It is not the fish dinner that is attracting Plainfield folk. "We have lots of fish in our charming fishing grounds at hand, but we want to be friendly," they say.

Civic Holiday is decided, Wed. Aug. 31st and the Harvest Home Dinner and S.S. picnic for Plainfield circuit is to be held at the same time. A real Hastings County dinner, spicy speeches, gleeful games and sports and stirring music will speed the hours all too rapidly. But time is seldom said to drag nowadays. He rolls or whirrs or zooms any way.

MILITARY COLLEGE OPENS.

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 23.—The Royal Military College opened for the recruit class Monday morning, when sixty-four young men, who passed the required examinations, reported. The full number of N. C. O.'s, thirty-two, are also reporting to instruct the new cadets. The College opens for the seniors on Monday next.

Man Stabbed at Kingston Will Not Divulge Names

KINGSTON, Aug. 23.—Phillip Kane, aged 48, of Montreal, who was found on Sunday night by the police in a field of Hickson Avenue suffering from three stab wounds, was reported to be resting easily at the Hotel Dieu and doctors say he has a good chance of recovery. He still refuses to tell the police the name of the party or parties who attacked him and the police are at a great disadvantage in working on the case.

SECRET LETTERS DISCOVERED SHOW HUNS WANTED WAR

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—A double system of diplomatic correspondence—one set of communications having been intended for the public records, while another contradictory set was sent for private perusal and disclosed the real mind of the writers—has been unearthed by the Bavarian Independent Socialists.

The discovery is hailed by them as throwing new light on the beginning of the war. Something of the kind was partially exposed when Kurt Eisner was Premier of Bavaria in 1919, and was virtually in supreme control. His murder hushed whatever might then have been published on the subject.

Now the Munich Morgenpost says proof of the double system has become available through the correspondence of former Premier Von Hertling of the old regime. It is charged that in addition to the regular, formal correspondence, which was open to all the embassies and foreign representatives, private letters were sent from Berlin to Von Hertling, which were only for the private perusal of those addressed, as the real voice of German authority.

The private letters, according to the Morgenpost, tell truly the actual motives of Germany in the beginning of the war. While the open correspondence shows Germany as wishing to localize the Serbian-Austrian troubles, Von Hertling was privately promising German support to Austria in the matter.

DARING ATTEMPT BY NEGRO TO SAW WAY OUT OF JAIL; PLOT IS DISCOVERED IN TIME

Man Held Here as "Undesirable" Awaiting Deportation in Court today and Re-Committed to Cells on Serious Charge—Details of What Happened.

William Bradley, the negro, who was committed to the jail some time ago to await deportation to the United States as an undesirable, was committed for trial in the police court today on the charge of attempting to escape from custody.

Turnkey R. Collins was the main witness at the preliminary investigation before Magistrate Mason.

Bradley, it is alleged, tried to cut his way out of the county jail by sawing the bars of the cellroom in which he and several others had been placed. Three bars had been sawed through and a space made sufficiently large to permit a man to squeeze through. The bars of the door were completely cut. However, he made his way out, he would have only landed in the corridor, and to get out of the institution a man would have had to cut his way further.

The saw with which the sawing was done is supposed to have been brought into the jail by outsiders. Bradley made no statement in the court today.

Crown Attorney William Carney conducted the examination of the witness. Bradley was not represented by counsel.

He was at the close of the investigation taken back to the jail heavily manacled, so that there would be no possibility of his attempting to make his escape.

Bradley was originally sent by the charge of vagrancy.

Bradley is thirty-three years of age and single. The alleged attempt took place in the south wing.

QUITS BUSINESS OFFICE FOR BUSINESS COLLEGE

Mr. F. H. Henry Club-bagged as he Resigns Official Post at Marsh Engineering

A very pleasant affair took place yesterday afternoon at the office of the Marsh Engineering Works, Ltd., on the occasion of Mr. F. H. Henry severing his relations as accountant and secretary treasurer for the past nine years. In the absence of Col. Marsh, president of the company at his summer home, an appreciative address was read by J. Arthur Marsh, Esq., vice-president and the presentation of a fine solid black-leather club bag was made by Mr. D. J. Batchelor, draftsman, on behalf of the office staff.

The recipient was much taken by surprise and thanked the donors for their kind expressions of regret at his departure from active association with them and for their token of regard and hearty well wishes for his health and success in his new position. Next month Mr. Henry reverts to commercial teaching of day classes again, on this occasion in charge of the bookkeeping department of Albert College here. It is understood that he is retaining connection with business as auditor and that Mr. G. R. Brower, who is at present assistant manager of the company, succeeds him now as secretary treasurer, while the duties of account of this important industry will be performed by Mrs. E. M. Mather.

CORN FEATURE OF THIS SEASON

Wonderful Crop of This Fodder Will Make up for Lack of Hay

COWS NOT IN DEMAND

Huron County Claims Record Field of Wheat, 52 1/2 Bns. to Acre

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture—

The splendid condition of corn, both for the ear and for silage, is the crop feature of the season. Two representatives in Eastern Ontario report that sowing has been started—an unusually early season. The work will be common next week.

Haldimand reports the presence of the porcupine, but says that the damage to the crop this season will be small.

Perth states that some farmers in that county are refusing wheat on a count of smut.

Baled hay in Haldimand is quoted at $10 a ton.

The second cut of alfalfa is proving to be one of the best for years. One farmer in Waterloo reports two tons to the acre.

Huron claims that a field of wheat in that county averaging 52 1/2 bushels to the acre.

Lincoln says that early St. John peaches, Bartlett pears, and plums are now on the market at prices which are keeping fairly firm as yields are rather light.

A good deal of well prepared summer fallowing is being done. Fall plowing generally is much ahead of former years.

From present appearances a considerably enlarged acreage of fall wheat is likely. Huron is of the opinion that most of the crop will be sown between Sept. 1st and the 10th, but Peel says that some patches will be sown early to feed the Hessian fly.

Manitowlin reports that while a number of beef cattle have been shipped from the Island recently, many farmers are anxious to get rid of more, as feed is likely to be scarce. Huron also reports considerable marketing of cattle, and Middlesex speaks of some consignments to England.

Ontario milking cows are not to be sold at from $75 to $125, but dairy cattle are being disposed of more cheaply in the eastern part of the province.

Leeds says: "Animals that will not be of economic value during the coming winter are being disposed of rapidly now at a very low price, dairy bulls selling at 3 cents a pound."

Frontenac quotes milk prices as ranging from $1.40 to $1.50 a cwt.

Hogs are relatively scarce, and are selling at from $12.25 to $13.75 a cwt. One representative remarks that some farmers now regret that they disposed of their brood sows.

Prescott and Russell, speaking of apical conditions, says: "Bees are doing very little on dark honey. In most cases they are just about living. The golden rod and buckwheat do not seem to contain much nectar, due probably to a heavy drought in the early part of their blossoming."

Many at Funeral of Late Mr. Drewery

All that was mortal of the late William Drewery was laid to rest on Monday afternoon in Belleville cemetery, the Rev. A. H. Foster of Holloway Methodist Church conducting the last sad rites in the presence of a large number of friends of the unfortunate man and his family.

The bearers were C. H. Ridley, Chas. Priory, A. Vanallen, H. Brown, G. Walden and S. E. Lane.

Tribute to the life and character of the deceased was paid by Rev. Mr. Foster and references made to the suddenness of the call.

Many beautiful floral offerings in memory of the departed were presented, among them the following:—

TORONTO TO WINDSOR

Special Equipment Being Developed by Hydro Engineers

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—The use of wireless telephones in train despatching, which forms such an important part of Henry Ford's vision of the future of railroading, may be an accomplished fact in Ontario long before the motor car king of Detroit gets his "revolutionary" ideas applied to his railroad. Within the next week or two the Hydro Electric Commission will commence experiments in wireless telephony between Toronto and Dundas, and, according to present plans, will, as soon as possible, extend the experiment to London and on to Windsor, with a view to ultimately applying it to the whole Hydro Electric power system in Ontario.

But Sir Adam Beck is going further, for when the experimental stage has been passed, the engineers will adapt the system to the despatching of cars on the radial lines operated by the commission. For some time past the engineering staff of the commission has been hard at work on the proposition, and practically all the instruments to be used have been developed in the Hydro's own laboratories.

"There is no doubt about it being a success," said Sir Adam last night, "and if it is successful on the Hydro system we are going to adapt it to the radials."

Bank Manager's Car Wrecked and Family Hurt With Odd Sequel to Upset.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 23.—H. W. Baldwin, manager of the Imperial Branch Bank at Sparta, Ont., while motoring with his family near Dutton last night, was run into by a big car which struck it with such force that it rolled down a big embankment and landed with the four wheels in the air.

Mrs. Baldwin, her two children, and her parents, were all pinned beneath the car. Mr. Baldwin was thrown clear of the wreck, and when he tried to seek aid from passing cars, they all put on extra speed and ranched away, fearing he was a hold-up man.

BOAT BURNS; 5 ESCAPE

DETROIT, Aug. 23.—William L. Urschel, of Toledo, and five others aboard the yacht Lucille were rescued by a lighthouse-keeper late today when the boat took fire and the passengers were forced to jump into Lake Erie, near the mouth of the Detroit River. The party included: Mrs. Urschel, a young guest; the engineer and his wife, and the captain of the yacht. They were picked up later by the excursion steamer Greyhound and brought to Detroit.

Session of Dail Eireann Shares Attention With Republican Executive

PRISONER BREAKS PAROLE

Incident at the The Curragh Spoils Things for Friends of Fugitives

DUBLIN, Aug. 23.—Irish Republican leaders gathered here to frame a reply to the British Government's offer of dominion status for Ireland, divided their activities today between secret sessions of the Dail Eireann and a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Sinn Fein. Meetings of the two bodies were held in the Mansion House and it was believed that both would concern themselves with the attitude taken by the Irish Republicans toward the terms laid down by Prime Minister Lloyd George as a basis of settlement of the Irish controversy.

Members of the Dail guard what occurs behind the closed doors of the debating chamber most effectively, and leading questions only evoke the vaguest and most non-committal replies.

Desmond Fitzgerald, Publicity Minister, displays courteous evasiveness that defeats all attempts to extract definite information. It is learned, however, that the speeches are commendably brief and to the point, and that the discussion has not progressed beyond the examination of the Government terms in detail.

An unfortunate situation has been created by the escape of an internee from Curragh Camp. Until he returns no other prisoner or internee is to be allowed out on parole. At general headquarters this evening it was stated that an order had been published some days previously, making clear the consequences of escape from internment camps, and that any man under detention who escaped must have known that parole would be suspended automatically for his fellows.

Point Anne Dispenser of Soft Drinks Caught by Four Officers

INDIAN HAD THE STILL Arrests Follow and Case Will Come Before Deseronto Magistrate

Nesson Yard, a dispenser of soft drinks at Point Anne, was arrested last night in Thurlow by inspectors Naphin and Conner, assisted by Chief Kidd and Sgt. Boyd. He had a gallon of fluid in his automobile which the officers allege was home-made liquor.

It being thought he had been bringing liquor from some place, the officers continued their investigation, the result being that they paid a visit to the home of Peter Baptiste, an Indian living on the Tyendinaga Reservation, and there found a still. An Inland Revenue officer at Belleville was notified and the apparatus seized and the Indian was arrested, charged with unlawful possession of a still.

Yard is charged with having liquor in a place other than his usual place of dwelling. The men were brought to Belleville but will appear before Magistrate Bedford of Deseronto.

TRENTON

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hill was held on Sunday last at her residence, Front street. The sermon was preached by Pastor Rev. Major Frost. The funeral was well attended. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss one little boy, Freddie, and two little girls, Eva and Lela, besides her husband.

Master Howard Dafeo spent Sunday under the parental roof. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Winsor, accompanied by Mrs. B. Winsor, motored to Trenton on Saturday evening to visit Mr. Harvey Dafeo's.

Mrs. G. Bell, of Scott's, and Mrs. Joshua Dafeo, East Trenton, visited Mr. Harvey Dafeo's recently. Miss Myrtle Bell, of Scott's, is spending a few days in town, visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Sager, jr., Mrs. D. Sager, sr., Mr. Stout and daughter, motored to Oak Lake recently and called on Mr. and Mrs. B. Searis. Miss Lena Sweet has returned to Toronto after spending a week among friends and relatives here.

Mrs. Clifford Dafeo and baby Doris, and Miss Ethel Sweet, of Toronto, spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Earl Christenson, Blind street.

Mrs. R. Thompson entertained company on Wednesday for tea. The funeral of the late Mr. Hodge was held on Wednesday.

Mrs. Hull and daughters Vera and Elsie, of Toronto, have returned home after visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. B. Harris, for over a week. They are accompanied by Mrs. B. Harris.

Mr. B. Harris who is working at Peterboro spent Sunday in Trenton.

Mr. Lawrence Craik spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. B. Harris.

Mrs. Pernel has returned home after spending a few days out of town visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. W. Smith and Mr. J. Reid motored to Peterboro on Sunday last, and were accompanied home by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Reid who had spent a week among relatives there.

Rev. Bamforth and Rev. Clarke exchanged pulpits on Sunday last. Miss Hickerson, of Shannonville, has returned home after visiting for a couple of weeks among relatives here.

AERIAL VISITORS

Brockville—Visitors to Brockville included Mr. and Mrs. H. Powell and Mr. Peter Hayden, summer residents of Alexandria Bay and the Thousand Islands, who came here from the island resort in 14 minutes aboard the Finger Lakes Air Line seaplane H. S. 2L, piloted by C. Ray Benedict, with Mechanic Edwin C. White. The machine which is of Curtis manufacture, has a spread of 76 feet, is equipped with a Liberty motor of 450 h. p. and attains a speed of 95 miles per hour. It is registered at Auburn, N. Y., and is of the same type as the machines used in the U. S. naval coast patrol. The tonnage is given as three and a half. The machine is equipped to carry six passengers, but has room to comfortably seat eight. While here Mr. and Mrs. Powell and Mr. Hayden visited the former's aunts, Mr. Watrous and Mrs. Griffin, James Street east.

GEO. HAM SEES FUNNY THINGS "REMINISCENCES," A NEW BOOK

The announcement of George Ham's book of "Reminiscences," to be published by the Musson Book Company in August, has caused much interest in newspaper circles. A number of attempts have been launched to secure an according-to-Hoyle interview from the famous humorist and raconteur, but to date the witty colonel has either escaped or turned everything into one of his pieces of inimitable rallery.

When a newspaper man met George H. Ham, of the C.P.R., on the street the other day, he innocently asked what were the principal momentous questions that were dominating this particular part of the universe, and he was cheerfully told that the weather naturally occupied the first place in the mind of the intellectual and otherwise public.

"Any conversation that doesn't include a brilliant if not particularly original reference to Old Probs," said the genial George, "is absolutely and ridiculously incomplete. It is everlastingly the mainstay at every gathering or at casual meetings of two or more friends or strangers, but it leads up to minor topics like prohibition, horse racing and the current rate of exchange or anything else that, when there is really nothing to say, helps out. Of course the late lovely war is almost entirely forgotten—most people don't like to dwell on unpleasant subjects—but up to July 4th, even the weather had a close run with another belligerent horror—the Dempsey-Carpentier fistie discussion. Perhaps that overshadowing event put even the weather in the shade, which shows that when the whole world is distractingly disturbed over two men pounding the tar out of each other, our boasted civilization is bringing us to a higher and higher plane every minute. The League of Nations? Well, what about it? The baseball leagues seem to be of more importance."

Then the reporter asked if Mr. Ham thought the world had increased or decreased in sense of humor since the days he pictured in his recently published reminiscences. "Go to, go to," was the Shakespearean reply. "The entire universe was never so bubbling over with read-adulterated catchin' humor as it is today. You can see it everywhere. Why, right in Ontario a man is fined $100 for having a bottle of cider in his hip pocket, and another person is fined $5.00 for wallowing his wife. Wouldn't that make a horse laugh? Many's the time when I was a kid we youngsters used to syndicate up to ten cents a pair of cider at Sammy Cochrane's cider mill and suck the sparkling beverage through straw and nothing or nobody got drunk except the cider. Now we'd go to jail for it, because goodness knows we never had $100 in those happy days."

"Did you ever see a stout, red-trekked faced woman on a sizzling hot day with a red fox skin around her fleshy neck, and the perspiration streaming down her fat, horrid cheeks, and she looking triumphantly happy because other equally uncomfortable but highly respectable female could only decorate themselves with cheaper skunk skins or dyed rabbits or dyed muskrats? It's a sight for the gods. But humor fails lamentably when these same inconsistent but distressed looking ladies neglect to wear linen dusters in January. That would be the limit of laughter provoking."

"Did you ever know of the queer ways that some charitable gifts are utilized? Never hear of the convalescent patient who was entirely without funds, and a kind friend sent her $25 to get herself fruit and milk and chicken and other patient's diet. And what do you think she did with the money? Bought herself a wrist watch. Say, wouldn't that frazzle you?"

"And did you ever meet such a fellow as the Montreal man who lost the address of a Toronto friend, when half-way on his journey to that city, and turned round and bought a ticket back to Montreal to get the address. And at the railway depot were telegraph and telephone stations. There's something hilariously funny about that, isn't there?"

"Isn't there something ridiculously humorous about thousands going out on strike when the ranks of the unemployed were never so large? And Johnny Bull voting fifty millions of dollars to pay them for what they didn't do."

"Don't you see a glimpse of humor in the fact that in Quebec a bottle of Scotch holds about fourteen ordinary drinks, and in the arid districts only eight? Same kind of bottle too. And did you ever read the eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States; and travel through that country? That's the gaslightest joke of them all. Stillis and distilleries in the great majority of private residences with hopeless battiness replacing simple drunkenness."

"Isn't there anything funny about a Quebec judge declaring that three card monte is not a game of chance? Or course it isn't! The poor sucker has no chance whatever, as hundreds heard out when, after the judge's decision, it was an open shop and the card sharks robbed them of all their spare cash."

"And just think how school teachers and ministers of the gospel must hold their sides when they read that the scavengers are paid as much if not more for their services than they are. The rafters in many a little red school house or sparsely furnished manse must ring with loud daughter and gladsome glee when this dawns upon them."

"Can't you smile over the re-enactment of the Blue Laws of Connecticut when a fellow couldn't even kiss his own wife, let alone his neighbors, on a Sabbath day, or the fact that a woman in Zion City was fined for wearing short sleeves which shamelessly exposed the lower part of her arms—Oh, ye gods!"

"Do you remember in the old days when the programme at a theatre consisted of a tragedy and a farce? Will that come back again in real life? There was a grim tragedy in Flanders and Belgium. There is now a ludicrous farce in the Berlin trials as a roaring afterpiece. And, you must remember, millions were slain and billions of property were destroyed to give us Democracy. We got it, we did, and as we feel its dreadful ignominy we uproariously linnabulate at what the gods have given us. Tell me son, was there anything more grotesque than the thing we won?"

"Is there no real rib tickler in—But isn't that, enough for one day? If laughter leads to longevity this generation should live so long that they'll have to shoot a whole lot of people on Resurrection Day."

Trouble in Panama—Costa Rica Afraid Not Over and Uncle Sam Intervenes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—American tolerance of Panama's defiance of the White award in the territorial dispute with Costa Rica has ended, and the Panama Government has been notified by the State Department that Costa Rica will proceed at once to take over disputed territory. To guarantee Costa Rica protection in the execution of the terms of the territorial award, the United States Government has ordered a battalion of Marines to Panama.

NEVER FOUGHT WAR, LIFER NOW ADMITS

Chas. W. Barnes Who Confessed to Conviction, Spent Days "Swinging Lead"

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Robert Morrison, alias Charles W. Barnes, self-confessed jail-breaker, who was arrested here a week last Saturday on a charge of uttering counterfeit money in the east end of the city, made yet another confession on Saturday afternoon, denying that he was ever in France with either the 9th American Legion of the 75th Battalion. Instead, he served in England with the Central Ontario Regiment, and was stationed at Wiley Camp for the major part of his service.

Morrison, who, it will be recalled, confessed to having broken out of a Texas prison while undergoing a forty-five year sentence for robbery and shooting and wounding two police officers who tried to apprehend him, made the confession to Sergeant of Detectives Austin Mitchell. It is understood that a communication containing Morrison's criminal and war records is to be sent to Mayor Church, so that there shall be no misapprehension as to Morrison's antecedents.

BURNABY TO STICK; GIVE KING A BATTLE

North York Federal Campaign Shows Signs of Being, As Usual, a Lively One

SCHOMBERG, Aug. 23.—R. W. E. Burnaby has no intention of dropping out in North York and leaving the field clear for Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. In a speech at a farmers' picnic here Mr. Burnaby declined the invitation issued by the Liberal Leader in his Aurora speech. "If Mr. King will do what he wants me to do I will guarantee that we will defeat the Government in this riding," he said referring to the Liberal Leader's statement. "It is our first duty to defeat the Government."

It was the first public appearance of Mr. Burnaby in North York since the Aurora speech, and the farmers were keen to know just how the President of the U.F.O. would answer the Liberal Chieftain. They were not disappointed. Mr. Burnaby took up the cudgels and in a fighting speech announced his decision to stick and win out in a three-cornered contest.

TRUE SEA TALE BEATS J. LONDON

Japanese Cook Slashed Throat of Skipper and Was Himself Slain

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—With two members of her crew dead and half her cargo overboard, the four-masted schooner Sophie Christensen, port into port with her hold nearly filled with water. Her captain, Michael McCarron, was murdered by H. Hiyama, the Japanese cook, and Hiyama was slain by Charles Ferris, first mate. The ill-starred ship arrived here in command of Ferris, who told a tale of horror concerning the happenings aboard since the Sophie Christensen left Gray's Harbor, Washington, May 5, bound for Peru, with a cargo of Oregon pine.

"We were about 30 days out," said Ferris, "June 4th, to be exact, when Hiyama sneaked into the skipper's cabin in the middle of the night and out the captain's throat with a razor. I had to hit the cook over the head with a club to subdue him. He died three or four hours later, and we threw his body overboard."

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR EXPOSING NECK

Guardians of Zion's Fasting Accuse Comely Matron of Volva Community

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The second arrest for the violation of the Zion City "low neck waist" law occurred when Mrs. Elizabeth Naden, a comely matron of the Volva community was served with a warrant which charged that she wore a waist cut so low as to partially show or expose the neck and shoulders of the wearer lower than the juncture of the pit of the neck with the collar-bone. Mrs. Naden will be brought to trial and the town selectmen will use a tape line to see just how much she infringed on the rule. She is liable to a fine of from $5 to $200 if she is proved guilty of a violation of the ordinance for protecting the purity of Zion.

Mrs. Sara Johnson, the first violator, was fined $5 for wearing a too flimsy waist. She appealed the case.

MANY HIDE BUMPERS

Residents living along the railways have noted that this year the number of men to be seen "riding the bumpers" is largely on the increase. Every day numbers are to be seen taking advantage of any suitable place where they can secure a hold. The large amount of unemployment is believed to be the cause of the increase in travel. The railways do all they can to stop these fellows stealing a free ride, but it is impossible to get them all.

An Oil that is Prized Everywhere

Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over fifty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

Donald Munroe, Collingwood, a street sweeper, was struck by a truck and so seriously injured that he died in the hospital six hours afterward.

TWO FARMERS GO TO JAIL

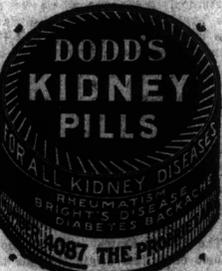

Pleading Guilty to Theft of Two Cases of Whiskey

Pleading guilty to having robbed the C.N.R. station at Queensboro, Ont., of two cases of whiskey, on the night of August 9, John Moore and John Graves, both farmers of Queensboro, were each sentenced to three months in jail by Magistrate Caseman at Madoc, Ont. On a second charge of having liquor in their possession, thus violating the O.T.A., a fine of $200 was further imposed on each. Moore and Graves were arrested by C.N.R. Detective M. Goodson, who stated that he discovered a part of the liquor concealed in a swamp. Both men are well known farmers in the Queensboro district.

TWO BIG PLANTS RESUME

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 23.—The industrial activity of the city was considerably enlivened today by the starting up of two of the factories which have been closed down for some time. Hey and Company resumed operations with a large number of hands, while the chair factory of the Canada Furnature Manufacturers, Limited, was also reopened.

Mrs. W. E. Bragg, fourth line, Blanchard, died from a fractured skull received when she fell down the cellar steps.

DO NOT BELIEVE SHE TOLD TRUTH

Mrs. Hamilton's Claim to Swimming Channel Viewed With Scepticism

WITNESSED BY NONE Refuses to Produce Chart and Log Book of the Voyage

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Arthur Hamilton's claim that she swam across the Straits of Dover to within three miles of the English coast, having been in the water twenty and a half hours, is now viewed with scepticism.

The excuse for refusing to produce testimony to authenticate her claim has created a bad impression. She has also declined the challenge of Mrs. Hilda Willing, who held the women's record for long distance swim in the Straits, to race any distance from forty yards to forty miles.

WHISKEY STARTS THROUGH STATES

Shipment Valued at $10,000 Leaves Walkerville; Other Lots to Follow

WALKERVILLE, Aug. 24.—Whiskey valued at $10,000 bound for foreign ports through the United States, left the yards of Hiram Walker & Sons, Limited, within a few hours after the decision by Judge Tuttle of the Federal Court, that United States officials cannot interfere with such shipments.

The permanent "hands off" order followed shortly after a temporary restraining order granted by the same judge, and directed against Victor I. Lawson, Collector of Customs, and John A. Grogan, Collector of Internal Revenue.

BANKERS TO AID BEEF PRODUCERS

No Undue Pressure for the Liquidation of Advances Till Market Better

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—A statement handed out by the Department of Agriculture reads:

"A conference was held in Ottawa between Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance; Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture; C. A. Bogert, President, Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, Sir John Aird, C. E. Neil, E. C. Pratt and J. P. Bell, officials of the Canadian Bankers' Association respecting the present unsatisfactory condition of the Canadian beef cattle industry.

"It was recognized that some special measures should be taken immediately for the protection of ranchers, cattle dealers, cattle feeders and farmers. Owing to restricted markets and a pronounced reduction in prices Canadian cattle cannot at present be sold to advantage.

"As a result of the discussion that took place assurance was given by the bankers that all reasonable consideration will be extended to deserving borrowers against live stock, especially with regard to periods of loans and renewals, and that no undue pressure will be brought to bear for liquidation of advances until there is a marked improvement in market conditions. This arrangement is applicable to all districts in Canada."

Going Ahead With Work on Streets

City Council Authorizes Sewers and Sidewalks on Several Thoroughfares

The construction of sewers by the public works department was authorized by the city council last night on Great St. James Street from Ashley Street to Burrell Street, on West Moira Street from Yeomans Street to city limits and on Elm Street from East Moira to Baldwin Street.

Concrete walks were authorized for the following streets, Elm Street, Wilkin Street, Lime Street, Brassery Street, College Street, Ashley Street and Brown Street.

The city was authorized to execute a quit claim deed of lot No. 4 on the south side of Moira Street to Wilmot Harper, Kingston.

The tender of Messrs. Howe & Hagerman for public lavatory in the city building was accepted, subject to the approval and inspection of the waterworks manager and the chairman of market and city property.

Ald. Bennett moved, seconded by Ald. French that Thomas Manley be refunded the sum of twenty-one dollars, which is the amount paid in error as business tax. The resolution was adopted.

THEFT CHARGE DROPPED

Parties in Alleged Criminal Case Settle Differences

The charge of alleged theft against Thos. Bowler was withdrawn in police court today, the parties in the case settling the affair out of court.

A tramp who was caught stealing a ride on a train drew one day's rest up the hill.

BODY FROM MAIN DUCKS

Messrs. Hicks & Irvine, Pictou, were called to the Main Docks to prepare for burial the body of Mrs. Brant of Deseronto, who died suddenly on the island. The undertaker motored to Long Point and from there to the Ducks by motor boat. The body was brought to Pictou and shipped to Deseronto.

BIG CROP OF CORN READY FOR CUTTING

Peterborough, Aug. 24.—Farmers have begun the cutting of one of the biggest crops of corn in the history of this county, according to reports reaching the city. August weather was ideal for the ripening of this crop, which is said to be uniformly abundant in all the adjoining townships.

Some farmers began the harvesting of corn a few days ago, and operations will be general this week. A plentiful supply of corn means bulging silos and adequate fodder for wintering the stock. Late roots are also doing well.

FACTORY IN CORNWALL TO INCREASE ITS OUTPUT

CORNWALL, Aug. 24.—Business is beginning to look up in the furniture line, at least so far as Cornwall is concerned. The Beach Furniture, Limited, after working 40 hours a week all summer, went on a new schedule of 55 hours—a 10-hour day for five and a half days—which is full time, as Saturday afternoon is given to the help. The management state that prospects look bright in the trade, the firm having recently opened warehouses in Western Canada as well as in the United States.

AIR AND SEA BATTLE

Canadian Planes and Ships Doing Secret Manoeuvres

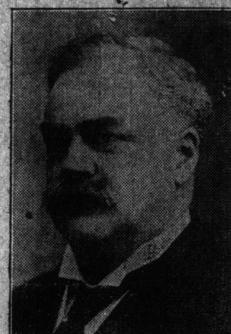

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 24.—Flying craft from the Government air station at Eastern Passage, took a prominent part in the combined naval, air and military manoeuvres which opened here yesterday. The manoeuvres, which will occupy all of this week, are of a secret nature and little information concerning yesterday's proceedings was given out. It was learned, however, that in the afternoon, air craft assisting the cruiser Aurora, of the Canadian squadron, did submarine spotting work outside the harbor, using submarines D.H.-14 and 15. The army submarines and waited during the day's "battle."

ULSTER WILL ERECT NEW PARLIAMENT HOUSE

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—The Ulster Government has bought Stormont Castle, just outside Belfast, for the permanent seat of the Ulster Parliament. The castle will be pulled down and a new Parliament House erected.

A fresh outbreak of rioting occurred in Belfast last night, due to attacks on Catholics by Unionists who are getting very uneasy about reports that the Irish Republican army is drilling in Ulster counties.

Guard Baby's Health in the Summer

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

First Civic Picnic Took Place Today

Mayor Hanna Acted as Transport Officer and O. C. in Trip to Rednersville

The city fathers and their families are at Rednersville this afternoon. With them are the officials and their households.

This afternoon Belleville's first municipal picnic was held, thanks to the energy and zeal of Mayor Hanna, who arranged the big motor party which left the city at one o'clock this afternoon.

The mayor and aldermen and officials being a wealthy class, had their motors to convey the party to the Rednersville grove.

Sports of all kinds, including a baseball match between the council and officialdom were scheduled.

70-MILE DRIVE BY CLUB

This afternoon a party of about seventy of the Star Club members and friends enjoyed a seventy mile motor trip from the city to Campbellford and return. The automobiles travelled at a low speed so that they remained within halting distance of one another. The picnicers spent an hour in the town of Campbellford.

Rev. Father J. E. Piche, Flinton, Ont., is proud to announce that his mare, Little Minnie, has foaled a colt, by George Rayner, a standard blood horse and natural pacer. Little Minnie was formerly owned by a member of the Kingston Driving and Matinee Club. Father Piche has named the future race horse Passeraro.

JULY RAILWAY MISHAPS NUMBER 154; 42 DEATHS

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—During the month of July there were 154 railway accidents reported to the Railway Commissioners, accounting for 42 deaths and injuries of 133 persons. Eleven employees were killed and 38 injured. Nineteen passengers were injured, but none killed. There were 19 highway crossing accidents during July, resulting in the death of 16 and injury to 14. In 16 out of the 19 accidents, the crossings were unprotected.

ULSTER WILL ERECT NEW PARLIAMENT HOUSE

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—The Ulster Government has bought Stormont Castle, just outside Belfast, for the permanent seat of the Ulster Parliament. The castle will be pulled down and a new Parliament House erected.

A fresh outbreak of rioting occurred in Belfast last night, due to attacks on Catholics by Unionists who are getting very uneasy about reports that the Irish Republican army is drilling in Ulster counties.

REVOKE RAILWAY MEN'S CHARTER?

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was asked to revoke the charter of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees and expel that organization from membership in the Congress. A long-standing dispute, which has been before the conventions of recent years, and lately before the courts of Ontario, came to a head when the Committee on Officers' Reports recommended this decisive action.

After a debate which occupied the balance of the session the matter was laid over to this morning.

A. R. Mosher, Grand President of the brotherhood, made a vigorous defense of the right of his organization, with its 7,900 members and 100 local unions, to continue in affiliation with the Trades and Labor Congress. He denied the right of the Congress or its Executive to sever the relationship, and intimated, not obscurely, that further action in the courts would follow a majority vote of the convention for the committee's recommendation.

He was followed by P. M. Draper, Secretary-Treasurer of the Congress, who claimed that the organization had complete jurisdiction over its component parts; that, since it had the right to grant a charter, it had authority to revoke a charter; and he suggested that the only legal action which might be taken would involve the dissolution of the Congress.

SAYS PRAIRIE CROPS SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

But Thinks Estimate of 150,000,000 Bushels in Saskatchewan, too Optimistic

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—A further report on crop condition in the Prairie Provinces, received at the Department of Immigration and Colonization from Robert J. C. Stead, who is making a tour of the wheat fields, states that yields show improvement from Brandon westward to central Saskatchewan, comprising the district from Woleley to Moose Jaw.

"Conditions in June," says Mr. Stead, "indicated an average wheat yield of 35 to 40 bushels per acre, but reversals since have reduced prospects to 18 or 20 bushels, although occasional fields will go more."

"A prominent official estimates the Saskatchewan wheat crop at 150,000,000 bushels, but this is perhaps too optimistic. Oats in districts visited are good, and uniformly promise 50 bushels to the acre."

MOTHER SAVES CHILD ROLLING HER ON GRASS

WINDSOR, Aug. 24.—A six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Stanley Wollatt, 88 Ottawa Street, Walkerville, ignited her clothes while playing with matches last night, and was seriously burned. Prompt action by her mother in extinguishing the flames by rolling the little tot on the grass is thought to have saved her life.

LABOR SITUATION IMPROVES

Kingston, Aug. 24.—There is a falling off reported in the number of applications being made for work at the local Employment Office, and things are quite quiet in general these days. Seventeen men were placed at work this morning. 12 of these being work at the General Hospital with the Dickie Construction Company. Jobs are being found now much more easily than in the past few months, and the labor situation is appearing much better.

PETERBORO ASSESSOR DOUBTS CENSUS FIGURES

Peterboro, Aug. 24.—W. J. Henry, City Assessor, today expressed his doubt of the accuracy of the census figures for Peterboro, which give the city's population as 20,839. Last year's count by the Assessment Department credited this city with a population of 21,790, and Mr. Henry declares that the population has not decreased by a thousand since the assessment returns last December. He believes that the number of people who were out of the city at the time the census was taken, and the fact that there are many flats in the down town district reached by entrances of which the ordinary citizen is ignorant, partly account for this discrepancy.

The city directory for 1921, which includes some of the suburbs in its count, gives the population as 29,939.

CARD OF THANKS

The G.W.V.A. wish to thank all citizens who so kindly contributed flowers, cars, etc., also the local ministers for their attendance at the Decoration Day service on Sunday, August 21st.

TIED HOUND TO TREE

Nimble South Carolina Negro Turned Novel Trick SPARTANBURG, S. C., Aug. 24.—Jim Nesbit, nimble negro, turned a novel trick on the ferocious bloodhounds sent out to trail him, but was captured, nevertheless.

Serving life sentence for murder on the chain gang, Nesbit escaped yesterday. A bloodhound was set on his trail. The negro waited until the bloodhound caught up, tied the animal to a tree and contained his flight. He was captured later, however.

Bloodhounds in real life are not as ferocious as in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Dog experts know that they seldom bite and are of value only for their powers of scent.

TO DUPLICATE TRIP OF R-34

Perils of Sea and Air Now, However, Less Than in "Early Days"

COMPARISON OF TYPES U. S. Purchase in England is Bigger Than Ship First Over Pond.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Perils of the sea and of the air will be faced by the officers and crew of the ZR-2, which is about to cross the Atlantic from England to America, just as they were faced by the dauntless men of the R-34, but by reason of the increased size of the more modern airship, its greater speed and more comfortable arrangements, many of the hardships of the pioneer flyers, it is hoped, will be avoided.

The British R-34, the first dirigible to cross the Atlantic, started from East Fortune, Scotland, on July 1, 1919, and landed at Roosevelt Field, Mineola, L. I., on the morning of July 5, covering the 3,200 miles in 108 hours and 12 minutes. She left New York on the return trip to Scotland on July 9 and reached her home port a few days later. On January 23, 1921, the historic craft which had cost more than $1,000,000 to build, was cut almost in two by a violent wind and left a wreck outside her aerodrome near Edinburgh.

While every precaution is being taken to safeguard the ZR-2, it is recalled that despite elaborate arrangements two years ago, the men of the R-34 passed through harrowing hours when the leviathan of the clouds ran into a shallow atmospheric depression off the coast of Newfoundland. They were within a few hundred miles of their goal.

"The weather was terrible," said Major G. H. Cooke, the navigating officer of the R-34. "It seemed as though the atmosphere was haunted by 5,000 devils. We were shaken to the core. That night we hit every-thing—heavy rain, thick fog and low visibility. The ship seemed as though she was going to break into bits, rising and falling like a cork on a heavy sea. At times she seemed to stand up 30 degrees into the air."

"All had been fine sailing up to that time. The most unusual thing about the entire trip was the extreme violence of the 'bumps' in regions where they were totally unexpected. I considered it almost a miracle that we completed the trip successfully after what we went through. The weather situation on the Atlantic must be investigated thoroughly before air travel between England and America can be made safe and practicable. With the limited information we have now, transatlantic travel is highly dangerous."

The ZR-2, however, will be protected all the way across by six weather vessels each carrying a special staff of forecasters who will radio to the dirigible all the atmospheric and barometric data necessary to assure her of the easiest possible sailing route. Certain defects of the R-34 also have been avoided in the new craft, which is 41 feet longer than the earlier ship and seven feet greater in diameter. It also has a gas capacity of 2,700,000 cubic feet as against the R-34's 2,000,000, a total horse-power of 2,100 as compared with the R-34's 1,250 and a cruising "endurance" of 6,000 miles at 60 miles an hour. The R-34 at full speed had a cruising radius of a little more than 4,900 miles.

A complete comparison of the two airships follows:

Table comparing R-34 and ZR-2 specifications: Capacity, Length, Diameter, Total Lift, Engines, etc.

Aboard the R-34's gondolas, the five cars suspended from the airship's framework, the living conditions were not so comfortable as provided on the ZR-2. The R-34, however, had sleeping accommodations for the officers and crew and an electrical apparatus whereby meals could be cooked. Hot water was obtained from the radiators on the motors. All the gondolas were enclosed and the men were able to keep warmer than if they had been flying in an airplane. A wireless set in the forward car with a range of about 1,500 miles enabled the R-34 to keep in touch with the shore almost the entire way across. A still stronger apparatus has been installed in the ZR-2.

Seen in flight the ZR-2 closely resembled the R-34.

over questions of policy, but the great services rendered by the dead soldier are abundantly attested by his having raised and equipped, during that time, an army of more than 400,000 men out of Canada's total population of between seven and eight million. It was in recognition of his services as Canadian Minister of War that he was in June, 1915, created by His Majesty a Knight Commander of the Bath.

Sir Sam Hughes was born in Darlington, Durham County, Ontario, on January 8, 1853. He went through the public and high schools and the Toronto University, being a brilliant student, and also famous as a lacrosse player. He chose the profession of teaching and became a lecturer at the Toronto Collegiate Institute. All agreed that he had a marked talent for teaching, but he was ambitious to enter public life and in 1885 moved to Lindsay, Ontario, where he became the owner and editor of the Lindsay "Warder."

Was an Imperialist In 1890 he was the Conservative candidate at the general elections for North Victoria, but was defeated. A year later he was returned at a bye-election and continued to represent Victoria (later Victoria-Haliburton) in the Dominion House for the balance of his life. In the House he became prominent as a consistent, thorough-going Imperialist, an outspoken leader of the Orange Order and an ardent exponent on military preparedness. Although a strong Conservative, he differed with his party on the Ross rifle, which he had recommended as President of the Standing Small Arms Committee. He stood by his views on this subject after becoming Minister of Militia and contended to the last that the rifle was an effective and serviceable weapon. The issue raised by the use of the Ross rifle was one of the many controversies which raged about Sir Sam during his service as Minister of Militia and in most of which he actively participated. No one denies that he brought to voluntary recruiting a spirit and enthusiasm which never flagged throughout the country until the summer of 1916. Sir Sam himself always insisted that conscription would have been unnecessary had he been given a free hand in raising the men by voluntary methods. However, he earnestly supported the Military Service Act of 1917, and was returned at his last Parliamentary election as a supporter of Union government. As to the facts leading up to his resignation as Minister of Militia, there is still much controversy. He took the opportunity on more than one occasion to state his own position in the House of Commons and after retiring from office some times criticized the government's administration of military affairs. During one of his trips to Europe as Minister of Militia, he was more or less attacked in connection with the contracts for the manufacture of fuses. He at once returned to Ottawa and demanded an investigation and was completely exonerated by a royal commission, consisting of Sir William Meredith and Mr. Justice Duff of the Supreme Court of Canada.

What Shall I Do?

ANSWERED LETTERS. "Bloomers"—Since you have corresponded with your boy friend so long, I see no reason why you should stop now unless you are tired of the correspondence. Your community is not only old-fashioned but unwise if it insists upon "one girl for one boy." "H. S. Hopeless"—It depends entirely upon what came between you, what you can afford to do now to win your friend back. Probably if he wanted to come back, he would make overtures to you for your friendship again. Write me more fully if you think I can help you. "Betty A. S."—Vamping will not win the friendship or admiration of any nice boy—it will only disgust him. Be a jolly, good girl and you will attract friends. You are too young to have "steadies." "Boy Admirer"—I'm glad you like our column. I can't read handwriting, sorry. A boy can hardly steal a kiss from a girl unless she wants him to. No nice girl would dance with a man she didn't know. You are right—boys do try to run away from girls who are too silly about them; don't forget that. "Three Happy Girls"—It makes me very happy to know I helped you before. It's perfectly proper for girls of 13 to let their boy friends walk home from school with them if they are quiet on the street. It may not be so very improper, but I think it's very boyish and unladylike for girls 14 to ride with boys on their bicycles at any time. Miss Fourteen's allowance would depend entirely upon how much her people could afford to give her, what she had been trained to want and need, and how far she could be trusted with money—I can't tell you in figures because "it all depends." "Bliss Eyes"—I cannot answer you satisfactorily in the column. Of course an engaged couple are entitled to some privileges, but devotion pays in all things. Don't forget that "more than enough is too much." "Anxious Louise"—It is always permissible to send a friend one's good wishes on a birthday greeting card. Go ahead. "Bettie Brown Eyes"—By all means let your brother's Army pal come to call if you like, and your mother does not object. You are more or less under obligation to be courteous to him for your brother's sake. For the rest, you can decide when you have met him whether you like him enough, and your mother approves him enough, for you to be nice to him for his own sake. Go slowly, my dear—partly because he will enjoy earning your friendship; partly because it will be easier to "back out" if you haven't gone too far too fast. "Peggy"—You are right about the canoeing, but I wish you had let me write you personally. You must always be just doubly careful when temptation is doubly strong, dear. "Puzzled"—The only "stamp filtration code" I know about, says that a stamp placed upside down in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope means "I wish you joy." All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions.—The Editor. "Disming" will install an automatic chlorinating plant in connection with its waterworks system. Hydro-Electric lines are being strung to supply the farmers living west of Walkerton. There are ten stringers of pearls in London.

of occupation account, which has the first claim on the war indemnity.

Italy and Belgium have been paid by deliveries in kind, leaving Great Britain alone to be settled with. She is awarded 600,000,000 gold marks and the balance goes to Belgium on account of her claim on the first 2,500,000 marks paid. France resents the ruling, contending it is absurd that the value of coal not yet mined should be taken into consideration when the value of German ships turned over was not deducted from Great Britain's share of the occupation account. There is a further cause of resentment in the disclosure that Britain's army of occupation bill is only 100,000,000 marks less than that of France, although the French army is ten times as large.

GOLF AS A DISEASE

Golf has all along been regarded merely as a sport, and its pathological aspects have not as yet received attention. Has the time now arrived in the popular development of the game when it should invite the scrutiny of the alienist? Is a condition of dementia indicated when bankers and lawyers lay out putting greens in the drawing-rooms? Are there symptoms of obsession in the rush from office to the links, the subordination of all week end and most mid-week interests to the practice and glorification of the game? And as respects the conversational phase of addiction, the abnormal loquacity of the addict, are there no evidences in this of the dangerous "fixed idea"? If golf has degenerated from a sport to a disease something should be done without delay to diagnose and treat the malady, to restore its victims to a state of sanity and prevent the spread of the mental contagion.—New York World.

A COUNTRY OF OPPORTUNITY

TO those pessimists who are worried about the future of Canada the reports that none of the members of the Farmers' Government on the prairie was born in Alberta offers food for reflection. Many people have forgotten that the development of the Canadian west has been one of the great romances of history. Only a short time ago there was no province of Alberta; only a territory, with a few scattered cattle ranches—and cattle kings who looked upon the coming of the grain grower and farmer with sharp disapproval—to say the least. Today Alberta is an important and prosperous province, and it now boasts what appears to be the first farmers' government in the world—for Abraham was more of a cattle man than a farmer, and the Drury Government of Ontario depends for its existence upon the Labor party. And at the head of the farmer's government is one Herbert Greenfield—an appropriate name for a farmer's premier—a man who came to Canada from the old country and at the age of 22 became a hired man on a farm in Manitoba. Evidently Canada is still the land of opportunity. Mr. Greenfield had the wit, and perhaps the luck to marry his boss' daughter—as many a good man before him has done. However, he did not sponage on his father-in-law, for presently he went to northern Alberta took up a homestead and became a successful farmer—as farming goes in the west. Also he became prominent in municipal politics and in the United Farmers' Association of Alberta, of which he is vice-president.

ACCEPTING CONTRACTS

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

(From the Peterboro' Examiner.) Many months ago the Examiner ventured to criticize some features of the vocational training scheme inaugurated for the benefit of Canadian returned soldiers, particularly that men were being given a course in trades for which they were not fitted and that some of those who applied for and were granted vocational training were concerned only with the pay and allowances, and had no serious intention of following the course once it was completed. Officials in connection with vocational training objected to these complaints, but according to the testimony of Secretary F. J. Marsh of the G.A.U.V., the Examiner's contentions have been substantiated. He declared that a large number of the veterans registering as unemployed are men who had been given a course in vocational training but have never worked at the trade in which they were educated. Some of them, he says, have forgotten the little training they received, which means that the expense of providing vocational training courses for such men was simply throwing away the money of the people. It will be interesting information to know just what percentage of men who received a training course are at the present time engaged in the work for which they were trained.

THE LOON.

The low winds murmur about the eaves, And rustle the standing corn; There's a glint of dew on the clover leaves, For day is but newly born.—List! List! From the silver mist Enshrouding the blue lagoon, There's an echo that floats in weird, wild notes—The shrill, strange laugh of the loon.

A magic spell falls over my heart; On wings of the morn I rise, As lightly as swallows that flash and dart Through rose and daffodil skies, Away! Away! Where pine trees sway, And whisper their sagas old, I abide and rest by an island nest 'Mid lily cups white and gold.

The watted incense of fragrant pine, Of lily and widing rose, I breathe, and their secret of joy is mine, Their magic my spirit knows—Peace, peace, and a glad release From burdens that harry and press. There is time to play and keep holly- day, And lean to the wind's caress. The young loons rock on the rippling tide, Oh! I'll be a young loon too, And we'll go vagabonding side by side On the breast of the waters blue, We'll sail and sail in the scented gale That blows from the hills afar—For the wise wind knows where sweet ferns grow, And the ripest strawberries are.

The sun laughs down from the limpid sky, The buttercups laugh in the grass The wavelets laugh and the loons, and I, And the breezes laugh as they pass Oh! oh! Hear the echoes go A-ringing down the glen, When they faint and die on the rim of the sky, We'll laugh and awake them again.

The loon is gone to his cool, green lair; The dew is gone from the flowers; And mirth dies down to a quiet smile That lingers to glid the hours. Come back, come back on your airy track If ever my heart is sad! When you call me away to keep holiday, I shall learn again to be glad. —Lillian Loyerdige

CANADIAN LITERATURE

(Toronto Mail and Empire.) A Canadian writer, Robert Stead, the author of "The Cowpuncher," and "Dennison Grant," laments the lack of a strong Canadian spirit in our literature. He says, from experience, that the Canadian author has little chance of having a book accepted by an American publisher unless it is favorable to Americans in all incidents reflecting on them. "Dennison Grant," was turned down everywhere in the United States because in one chapter it portrayed an Englishman thrashing an American in a fight. Yet though the United States insists in having all its literature pander to its pride, or at least portraying Americans as the winning, successful, dominant people, Canadians read American magazines by the carload, and buy almost as many American books.

A GRAFT TARIFF

Rather than be bled for the hundred million dollars of hide tariff graft the American people could far better afford to submit to an outright head tax of $5,000,000 to go directly into the United States treasury and of $50,000,000 to go directly into the pockets of the farmers. Then the treasury would be twice as well off as it could possibly be from the tariff on hides. The participating farmers would be three times as well off as they could possibly be from the tariff on hides if they all got the full share they never would get. And the American public would be $45,000,000 a year to the good—as compared to the cost to it of the monstrous tariff on hides. But, in any event, the thing to do with this unshirred fraud of a duty on hides (for the benefit of the farmer) is to nail it in its track as a butcher in the slaughter pen would tell a steer with a poleaxe.—New York Herald.

The governments cannot, without public opinion to hold them to their pledges, be relied on in this matter. They are, after all, composed of politicians who have grown up and grown old in the very diplomatic traditions the league was created to supersede. LONDON, Aug. 23.—King George has bestowed a unique honor on his cousin, the Marquis of Milford Haven, formerly Prince Louis of Battenberg, by promoting him to be the Admiral of the Fleet on the retired list. There is no previous case of such an advancement to an office of the highest rank in the navy after the officer's retirement. The Marquis, who was First Sea Lord of the Admiralty in 1914, when the world was begun, resigned after the fleet had been mobilized and distributed for its war service under his direction. The Marquis of Milford Haven was born at Graz, Austria, in 1854, the son of Prince Alexander of Hesse and the late Princess Alice, Maid Mary of Great Britain and Ireland, daughter of the late Queen Victoria. He was naturalized a British subject, and entered the Royal Navy as a cadet in 1868. In 1917 he relinquished his titles of "Serene Highness" and "Prince," and was created a Peer by King George.

TRIP IS DESCRIBED

Vast Distances and Great Possibilities of North Country are Emphasized

Mr. W. S. Dyer, who was accompanied to Fort Norman on an eight thousand mile trip of exploration by W. G. Ogilvie and R. E. Henderson, is the head of the W. S. Dyer Syndicate. This journey to the far-western district of Canada's great North-Western Territory was made to stake out the syndicate's claim of 35 square miles of oil-producing holdings on the Mackenzie River.

Flushed With Success. This intrepid little party of three have returned from their three months' trip of rail and river and lake travel, with no inconsiderable roughing it, flushed with the exhilaration of success. For they bring with them samples of the oil as it is found in fields. It is a high-grade crude oil containing by measurement 35 per cent. of gasoline. A 20 per cent. content is usually considered very good. The oil found also contains 40 per cent illuminating oil, and the remainder is suitable for lubricating purposes.

The Journey. Leaving Toronto on May 10th this year, Dyer, Henderson and Ogilvie travelled by C.P.R. to Edmonton, hence by way of Peace and Slave Rivers, Great Slave Lake and the Mackenzie River to Fort Norman in a comfortable little 17-foot single cylinder disappearing propeller motor boat, peculiarly adaptable to such waters, and built by the Disappearing Propeller Motor Boat Co. of Toronto. The whole trip was void of any disturbing incident, excepting, perhaps, once when Mister Bruin, a big black bear, poned his inquisitive nose into the Toronto trio's affairs, while on the Mackenzie River, and met sudden death for his curiosity.

Speaking of the geological formation of the district, Mr. Dyer said: "Highly bituminous shales and limestones measuring close to 1,000 miles in thickness underlie the district for hundreds of square miles. These rocks are capable of generating immense quantities of petroleum. The structure also is favorable since the rocks have been thrown by mountain building forces into a series of folds or anticlines. "The most important of these anticlines parallel the Mackenzie for 100 miles below Fort Norman. The average distance of the crest from the river is six miles in a north-west direction. The whole area between the river and the range may be considered as the flank of an anticline and a well put down near the river anywhere in this district "should strike oil. The majority of the larger oil companies have started on this side of the river, including the Imperial Oil, Fort Norman Oil Co. and the North-Western Oil Co.

Treacherous Waters. Mr. Dyer describes Great Slave Lake as a huge body of water yielding with Lake Huron. In size. It is a treacherous inland sea, in that sudden storms sweep down with scant, if any, warning, and whip its quiet, inviting surface into a tumultuous cauldron of angry, white-bearded billows. Being warned of this, the party made all haste across the 100 miles breadth of Great Slave Lake, which distance they accomplished in 28 hours, arriving at the head of the Mackenzie River, just in time to escape a veritable snorter of a wicked storm.

Another 600 Miles. From this point to Fort Norman is just 600 miles, which was covered in seven days. Mr. Dyer describes the Mackenzie as a noble, fairly sinuous river, running between picturesque banks clothed in beautiful spruce and stately poplar, with here and there bright sun-lit glades revealing a luxuriant carpeting of grasses of varied coloring and other rich growth. And the whole backed in the perspective, at times, with mountain peaks and high wooded elevations. Hence, the scene presented the travellers was here entrancingly beautiful, and there massive and sublimely majestic. The weather was normal - warm days and cool nights.

Peaky Mosquitoes. The joy of this river trip was to some extent marred by two portages over a distance of twenty miles. "But our greatest hardship was fighting away the pesky mosquitoes," laughed Mr. Dyer. "They held us up for 15 days. They're small, but, oh my! We had to wear masks and use oil of citronella. Besides, the willow bush is very thick in that part of the country, and we had to struggle through it a foot at a time. Then the high winds blew down many trees and we had a hard time getting over these. Our speed was about half a mile an hour."

The Mackenzie River is flanked on each side by the Mackenzie and Franklin Mountains, the latter offering a high altitude of 5,000 feet, just below Fort Norman. Fur Trading Posts. The few settlements passed by the subjects of this story in this sparsely-settled district of the North West—a country by the bye, of rich promise—are all named "Forts," in each of which are located a few whites, and many times their number of Indians. The buildings are mostly, if not exclusively, of log. The largest of these settlements is Fort Resolution, on Great Slave

MARQUIS OF MILFORD HAVEN.

The King bestowed a unique favor on him by promoting him to admiral of the fleet on the "retired" list. There is no previous record of such an advancement of an officer to the highest rank in the navy after the officer's retirement. Lake, a community of 40 whites and 600 Indians. At Fort Norman, the objective of Messrs. Dyer, Henderson and Ogilvie are situated the stores of the Hudson Bay Co., Lauson-Hubbard Co. and the Northern Trading Co. The population consists of 20 whites and 200 Indians.

Mr. Dyer says his party was very hospitably entertained, and rendered every accommodation and aid needed, by the representatives of these three fur-trading companies. At their destination the prospectors sold their gas boat, and the gasoline remaining brought them $1.65 a gallon.

Petroleum Rocks. The Duke of Devonshire sold Devonshire House in 1919, while Stonehouse was sold recently. The Earl of Denbigh sold a part of his Downing estate in North Wales during 1920. The Earl of Harrington sold some of his estates in Cheshire in the same year. During 1920, 249,695 acres of country properties were sold by one firm of auctioneers alone for £ 4,322,514.

The great war, said the Duke of Portland, addressing his tenants at Wellbeck, had altered the outlook of him and most other landowners. For centuries past the landed estates had been handed down from generation to generation in one family and landowners and tenants had lived on terms of mutual trust and affection. He feared, however, he said, that that state of things was passing away, for with the present enormous weight of taxation and the extremely enormous incidence of death duties, the future had become very uncertain for all landed proprietors.

"With regard to my own case," he said, "it may be or may not be possible for me and my family to continue to reside at Wellbeck, but I fear there can be little doubt that those who come after me will not be able to do so."

It was no use blinking the fact, however disagreeable it might be, he declared, that if the present scale of duties was maintained there must be and there inevitably would be, a wholesale closing down of the larger country houses, if not now, at all events when the present generation passed away. It must be exceedingly painful, he asserted, for representative old families to be obliged to part with the major part of their estates, which had been in the possession of their ancestors for many generations.

"Many land proprietors cannot maintain their old family residences in habitable state," he said, "nor can they adequately discharge the duties which they had been so glad to fulfill as owners of land. I scarcely dare contemplate what would be my wife's feelings if it should become necessary to sever the ties that bind us to Wellbeck."

It was not for him to say whether breaking up of the estates would or would not be for the advantage of the country. He did not desire for one moment to complain, nor did he imagine that other landowners would complain of the incidence of heavy taxation, if it were necessary for the welfare of the country. "It pains me deeply," he concluded, "to think that in the years to come it will most probably be necessary for my family to find a new and smaller home elsewhere."

Another royal estate adjoining Osborne House, in the Isle of Wight, will soon be auctioned. "The King is simply in the position of many other large landowners," an authority explained to the correspondent. "Like many others, he finds economic conditions altered and his advisers have probably suggested realization on detached properties."

WELLBECK ABBEY SOLD

Historic and Stately Homes of England Closed—Lands to Smaller Holders

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The wholesale closing down of historic and stately homes of England and the housing of their lordly owners in humble style was prophesied today by the Duke of Portland, owner of nearly 200,000 acres and a half a dozen noble residences. He was addressing his tenants at Wellbeck. This is not the first intimation given, by the Duke that he has found himself among many big landowners whose position has been changed by the war. In April, 1919, he gave notice that a large portion of his Ashby estate was to be sold, and in November of that year he announced with pain and regret that there must be a reduction in the labor employed by the Wellbeck estate.

Since the war there have been many evidences of how England is changing hands owing to the large landowners disposing of their family estates, a number of which have been broken up into small holdings. One nobleman after another has placed big estates in the market and several historic castles have gone under the hammer, and many peers have been forced to economize on their estates.

Among the big landowners who have sold valuable properties are the Duke of Sutherland, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Westminster, the Duke of Marlborough, the Marquis of Castlegar, Earl Beauchamp, Earl Bradford, Earl Aberdeen, Lord Lovat, Lord Harrington, Lord Harlech, the Countess of Warwick, and Sir Richard Bulkeley. In all, hundreds of thousands of acres worth millions of pounds have changed hands.

The Duke of Devonshire sold Devonshire House in 1919, while Stonehouse was sold recently. The Earl of Denbigh sold a part of his Downing estate in North Wales during 1920. The Earl of Harrington sold some of his estates in Cheshire in the same year. During 1920, 249,695 acres of country properties were sold by one firm of auctioneers alone for £ 4,322,514.

The great war, said the Duke of Portland, addressing his tenants at Wellbeck, had altered the outlook of him and most other landowners. For centuries past the landed estates had been handed down from generation to generation in one family and landowners and tenants had lived on terms of mutual trust and affection. He feared, however, he said, that that state of things was passing away, for with the present enormous weight of taxation and the extremely enormous incidence of death duties, the future had become very uncertain for all landed proprietors.

"With regard to my own case," he said, "it may be or may not be possible for me and my family to continue to reside at Wellbeck, but I fear there can be little doubt that those who come after me will not be able to do so."

It was no use blinking the fact, however disagreeable it might be, he declared, that if the present scale of duties was maintained there must be and there inevitably would be, a wholesale closing down of the larger country houses, if not now, at all events when the present generation passed away. It must be exceedingly painful, he asserted, for representative old families to be obliged to part with the major part of their estates, which had been in the possession of their ancestors for many generations.

"Many land proprietors cannot maintain their old family residences in habitable state," he said, "nor can they adequately discharge the duties which they had been so glad to fulfill as owners of land. I scarcely dare contemplate what would be my wife's feelings if it should become necessary to sever the ties that bind us to Wellbeck."

It was not for him to say whether breaking up of the estates would or would not be for the advantage of the country. He did not desire for one moment to complain, nor did he imagine that other landowners would complain of the incidence of heavy taxation, if it were necessary for the welfare of the country. "It pains me deeply," he concluded, "to think that in the years to come it will most probably be necessary for my family to find a new and smaller home elsewhere."

Their Excellencies will also visit several local educational and charitable institutions, and Lord Byng will be presented with the honorary degree of Doctor at Law at Laval University. Previous to their coming to Quebec there are no arrangements made, but it is understood that they may spend some time in Montreal or Toronto.

INDIAN MUTINY VETERAN PASSES

Thomas Rush Died in Hotel Dieu in Kingston Aged 86

WAS OLDEST VETERAN

Served 23 Years in British Army—Resident of Kingston Since 1879.

KINGSTON, Aug. 20.—There passed away at the Hotel Dieu Hospital yesterday Thomas Rush, one of the oldest veterans of the Indian Mutiny. Deceased was 86 years old this month, and despite his years he had been quite active until very recently. He was born in Ireland and came from there to Kingston in 1879, and since that time he had worked around the city, going some years ago to the Home for the Aged, where he was one of its most useful members. He was a Roman Catholic in religion and, when able, attended St. Mary's Cathedral.

The late Mr. Rush entered the Imperial service in 1855-56, during the days of the Crimean War. He was one of the number that was reserved for the mutiny in India when trouble had been foreseen, and he went there with the Imperial forces and saw service. After the Indian Mutiny he remained in the army until he had served twenty-three years with credit, being discharged in England early in 1879, after having served with the 36th Regiment in the 43rd Brigade.

Mr. Rush is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, Indian Mutiny veteran in Canada, and about the last in Kingston. During his time in the city Mr. Rush made many friends. A short time ago he was taken from the Home for the Aged to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he passed away.

The funeral arrangements are being made under the direction of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association. Mr. Rush will be given a military funeral from St. S. Corbett's undertaking parlors to St. Mary's Cathedral, and thence to St. Mary's cemetery.

WEDDINGS

MITCHELL — CHISHOLM. St. James Cathedral was the scene of a very quiet wedding on Saturday evening, August 20th, when Winnifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Chisholm, of Foxboro, Ontario, was united in marriage to Aubrey Colclough Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Mitchell, 17 Munro Park Avenue, the Rev. F. J. Moore officiating. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Guy Y. Mitchell, while Mrs. G. Y. Mitchell acted as matron of honor. The bride wore a French model frock of blue tulle and tulle, a black satin hat and sable fur. Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom left on a motor trip through the Catskill Mountains. Among the wedding gifts was a cabinet of sterling silver from the staff of the Toronto Harbor Commission.

FIVE ELECTIONS, STRAWS, TO TEACH LLOYD GEORGE. By-Elections in Old Country Will Be Fought On Anti-Waste Campaign.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Five by-elections to fill vacancies in the House of Commons are pending, and arrangements for some of these are still incomplete. In the Westminster Abbey constituency, left vacant by the death of W. L. Burdett-Coutts, the polls will be opened on Thursday. The candidates are: Col. Appin, Anti-waste; Brig.-Gen. Nicholson, Independent-Conservative-Anti-waste; Arnold Lupton, Independent-Liberal-Anti-waste.

In West Lewisham, left vacant by the death of Sir Edward Coates, Sir Philip Dawson has entered as the Independent-Conservative and Anti-waste candidate; F. W. Rafferty, as the Independent-Liberal, and Commander Windham, on the straight Anti-waste ticket. A Laborite is also expected to be nominated.

Polling takes place on Wednesday in Caerphilly constituency, where the death of A. Onions left a vacancy. The candidates are W. Rees, Coalition-Liberal; Morgan Jones, Labor, and Robert Stewart, Communist.

Two candidates have already been nominated for the seat in West Houghton, left vacant by the death of W. Tyson Wilson, Labor member. They are Thomas Greenall, Wm. Labor, and James Tonge, Coalition-Liberal.

Alan Hutchings, Conservative, has been nominated for the Louth seat, left vacant by the death of T. Wintingham.

FISHERMEN EAT AND THEN LISTEN TO FINE SPEECHES

Col. Malley, H. K. Denyes, M.P., P., Hon. Nelson Parliament, Hon. Mr. Carmichael

INDIANS ARE PRAISED Their Loyalty to Empire in War Time Warrants Better Treatment Now

Col. W. J. Malley, mayor of Deseronto, welcomed the crowd on behalf of the fishermen and the citizens of Deseronto to the historic grounds of the Mohawk Reserve.

The chairman paid tribute to the valor of the Indians of the Tyendinaga reserve. This band contributed eighty-three men, all volunteers, to the C.E.F., and strange as it may seem, fifty-five per cent were casualties.

Referring to the fishermen as a class, the colonel declared that in the calendar of the saints a good many fishermen were found. This was only their initial picnic but it was intended to make it an annual affair.

It fell to Mr. W. C. Mikel, of Belleville, to start the ball rolling. He made a capital speech, designed to entertain the gathering. Many in the crowd, he ventured, had never caught a fish, but all were out after the fishes. The calling of the fisher class had not been emphasized as it should have been.

Referring to the O. T. A., which made picnics what they were not in bygone days, Mr. Mikel said that a look at the crystalline waters of the bay lying there below them should make all forget the absence of the usual concomitant of outings.

The thought of the bay put an idea into the speaker's head—why should not steps be taken in this Bay of Quinte district to link hands with the development on the St. Lawrence, have the bay deepened and made one of the greatest natural harbors on the continent? This might mean the development of ship-building here.

He appealed to the representatives of the government to preserve the natural resources of the country for the people.

"You have gone to a great deal of trouble, and you have made a great success of this first picnic," declared Mr. H. K. Denyes, M.P., for East Hastings. There are people here from every quarter, having come twenty-five or thirty miles. You represent one of the greatest industries of the province. Ontario's fisheries mean $3,500,000 yearly, and I am sure the Bay of Quinte gives its full share."

Mr. Denyes quoted figures to show the importance of the industry in Canada. The Indians were highly praised for their loyalty to the British Crown, the speaker reviewing the history of the aborigines of America to show their early recognition of the benefits of British rule.

Four thousand Indians fought in the Great War. Mr. Denyes touched on local history when he recalled the great career of Dr. Oronhyateka, a Mohawk of this section, who was honored by royalty for his natural gifts and by his white friends in the world of finance in his connection with the I.O.F.

The Canadianization of the new arrivals was touched on as the duty of all. How the plough had sent 75,000 men to the Canadian army and one half of the C.E.F. was made up from the ranks of labor was mentioned by the member for East Hastings to show how all classes felt the duty of service incumbent upon them.

"When one has gone through the Mohawk Church and seen the Creed and the Lord's Prayer there in the Moawk tongue, and when one thinks of the fidelity of our Indian friends, it brings one to this firm resolve—to acquaint one's self with the institutions of his his country," said Hon. Nelson Parliament, of Prince Edward. "We do not take enough interest in politics, not party politics but national issues. We in Canada have played party politics too long. He believed that from the group system government now in operation in Ontario there would be evolved legislation that would fit into the needs of all classes of today. He thought the arrival of the women at the polls would steady politics.

"There is no class I respect more than the fishermen. There is no class in my country that has caused me more trouble than the fishermen, (laughter), but let me finish my sentence, they had grievance and it was my duty to help them to the best of my ability. I think something should be done to make the price of fish better. I am not in favor of the government dealing in fish now that the war is over. I think it is time the government should go out of competition with fishermen."

"A soldier who had left the farm to serve his country," was the description given the Hon. Lieut.-Col. Carmichael, D.S.O., M.C., Hydro Electric Power Commission, the next speaker. Col. Carmichael, as a young man who has stepped into public life since his return from the front. "Soldiering and politics have been the work of my spare time as it were. I cannot say that I have been greatly enamoured with public life, for it takes one away from the home."

He paid tribute to the life and work of the late Sir Sam Hughes. Whatever his faults, and he was human, he was a man of great energy, who accomplished what no one else had done.

Col. Carmichael drew a point of difference between the amateur and the professional fisherman. The amateur, the angler, did not always tell the truth about his catch. It was in connection with a fishery treaty that Canada first stepped into the status of nationhood, he stated.

The ground on which this picnic was held was that reserved to the Indians for their loyalty. "We all know the great part they have played and I am not sure that we have always treated them fairly."

Hon. Mr. Carmichael quoted figures to show how expensive it was to recover public rights once surrendered to private enterprise and mentioned the Trent Valley System as a case in point.

That public men were in the main faithful to the trust imposed in them was his contention. In these days it was quite a thankless task endeavoring to serve the people and he accordingly asked for the support of all to men in public life.

"I have known children," said he, speaking of educational conditions, "brought up within a stone's throw of a schoolhouse, who would not know their own name if they saw it on a board fence if the letters were a yard high in whitewash. That is a shame! The fault is due to the parents who do not send their children to school. Surely neglect of the future citizens should be punished as a crime."

CUNSIPT PASS

There was a moment's silence. All of those present were Mexicans except Dave. The girl flashed a warning look at her countrymen. That look, Sanders guessed at once, would seal the lips of all of them. At once he changed his tactics. What information he got would have to come directly through the girl. He signalled her to join him outside.

Presently she did so. The girl was a dusky young beauty, plump as a partridge, with the soft-eyed charm of her age and race.

"The senior wants to see me?" she asked. Her glance held a flash of mockery. She had seen many dirty, poverty-stricken mavericks of humanity, but never a more battered specimen than this gaunt, hollow-eyed tramp, black as a coal-heaver, whose flesh showed grimy with livid wounds through shreds of his clothing. But beneath his steady look the derision died.

Tattered his coat and trousers might be. At least he was a prince in adversity. The head on the splendid shoulders was still finely poised. He gave an impression of indomitable strength.

"I want Juan Otero," he said. "To ride for Senor Crawford?" Her white teeth flashed and she lifted her pretty shoulders in a shrug of mock regret. "Too bad he is not here. Some other day."

"I will not do. I want him now." "But I have not got him hid."

"Where is he? I don't want to harm him, but I must know. He took Joyce Crawford into the hills last night to Dug Doble—pretended her father had been hurt and he had been sent to lead her to him. I must save her—from Doble, not from Otero. Help me. I will give you money—a hundred dollars, two hundred."

She stared at him. "Did Juan do that?" she murmured. "Yes. You know Doble. He's a devil. I must find him—soon."

"Juan has not been here for two days. I do not know where he is." The dust of a moving horse was travelling toward them from the hills. A Mexican pulled up and swung from the saddle. The girl called a greeting to him quickly before he could speak. "Buenos dias, Manuel. My father is within, Manuel."

The man looked at her a moment, murmured "Buenos, Bonita," and took a step as though to enter the house. Dave, barred the way. The flash of apprehension in Bonita's face, her unnecessary repetition of the name, the man's questioning look at her, told Sanders that this was the person he wanted.

"Just a minute, Otero. Where did you leave Miss Crawford?" The Mexican's eyes contracted. To give himself time he fell again into the device of pretending that he did not understand English. Dave spoke in Spanish. The loafers in the bar-room came out to listen.

"Do not know what you mean." "Don't lie to me. Where is she?" The keeper of the tenebre took XZ as the keeper of the tenebre asked a Spanish question. He, too, talked in Spanish. "Who are you, senior? A deputy sheriff, perhaps?"

"No. My name is Dave Sanders. I'm Emerson Crawford's friend. If Juan will help me save the girl he'll get off light and perhaps make some money. I'll stand by him. But if he won't, I'll drag him back to Malapi and give him to a mob."

The sound of his name was a potent weapon. His fame had spread like wildfire through the hills, since his return from Colorado. He had scored victory after victory against bad men without firing a gun. He had made the redoubtable Dug Doble an object of jeers and had driven him to the hills as an outlaw. Dave was unarmed. They could see that. But his quiet confidence was impressive. If he said he would take Juan to Malapi with him, none of them doubted he would do it. Had he not dragged Miller back to justice—Miller who was a killer of unsavory reputation?

Otero wished he had not come just now to see Bonita, but he stuck doggedly to his statement. He knew nothing about it, nothing at all. "Crawford is sending out a dozen posers. They will close the passes. Doble will be caught. They will kill him like a wolf. Then they will kill you. If they don't find him, they will kill you anyway."

Dave spoke evenly, without raising his voice. Somehow he made what he said seem as inevitable as fate.

Bonita caught her lover by the arm and shoulder. She was afraid, and her conscience troubled her vicariously for his wrongdoing.

"Why did you do it, Juan?" she begged of him. "He said she wanted to come, that she would marry him if she had a chance. He said her father kept her from him," the man pleaded. "I didn't know he was going to harm her."

"Where is he? Take me to him, quick," said Sanders, relapsing into English. "Si, senior. At once," agreed Otero, thoroughly frightened.

"I want a six-shooter. Some one lend me one." None of them carried one, but Bonita ran into the house and brought back a small buldog. Dave looked it over without enthusiasm. It was a pretty poor concern to take against a man who carried two forty-fives and knew how to use them. But he thrust it into his pocket and swung to the saddle. It was quite possible he might be killed by Doble, but he had a conviction that the outlaw had come to the end of the passage. He was going to do justice on the man once for all. He regarded this as a certainty.

CHAPTER XLIV. The Bulldog Barks.

Joyce fainted for the first time in her life. When she recovered consciousness Doble was splashing water in her face. She was lying on the bunk from which she had fled a few minutes earlier. The girl made a motion to rise and he put a heavy hand on her shoulder.

"Keep your hand off me!" she cried. "Don't be a fool," he told her irritably. "I ain't gonna hurt you none—if you behave reasonable."

"Let me go," she demanded, and struggled to a sitting position on the couch. "You let me go or my father—"

"What'll he do?" demanded the main brutally. "I've stood a heap from that father of yore's. I reckon this would even the score even if I hadn't." He pulled up, just in time to keep from telling her that he had fired the chaparral. He was quite sober enough to distrust his tongue. It was likely, he knew, to let out some things that had better not be told.

She tried to slip by him and he thrust her back. "Let me go!" she demanded. "At once!" "You're not gonna go," he told her flatly. "You'll stay here—wield me! For keeps. Understand?"

"Have you gone crazy?" she asked wildly, her heart fluttering like a frightened bird in a cage. "Don't you know my father will search the whole country for me?"

"Too late. We travel south soon as it's dark." He leaned forward and put a hand on her knee, regardless of the fact that she shrank back quivering from his touch. "Listen, girl. You been a high-stepper. Yore heels shined when they hit the sidewalk. Good enough. Go as far as you like. I never did fancy a man's hand. But you made one mistake. I'm no doorman, an' nobody alive can wipe their feet on me. You turned me down cold. You had the old man kick me outa my job as foreman of the ranch. I told him an' you both I'd get even. But I don't aim to rub it in. I'm gonna give you a chance to be Mrs. Doble. An' when you marry me you got a man for a husband."

"I'll never marry you! Never! I'd rather be dead in my grave!" she went to the table, poured himself a drink, and gulped it down. His laugh was insister and mirthless.

"Please yoreself, sweetheart," he jeered. "Only you won't be dead in yore grave. You'll be keepin' house for Dug Doble. I'm not insistin' on weddin' bells none. But women have their fancies an' I aim to be kind. Take 'em or leave 'em."

She broke down and wept, her face in her hands. In her sheltered life she had known only decent, clean-minded people. She did not know how to cope with a man like this. The fear of him rose in her throat and choked her. This dreadful thing he threatened her with could not be, she told herself. God would not permit it. He would send her father or Dave Sanders or Bob Hart to rescue her. And yet—when she looked at the man, big, gross, dominant, flushed with drink and his triumph—the faith in her became a weak and fluid stay for her soul. She collapsed like a child and sobbed.

Her wild alarm annoyed him. He was angered at her uncontrollable shudders when he drew near. There was a savage desire in him to break through the defense of her helplessness once for all. But his caution urged delay. He must give her time to get accustomed to the idea of him. She had sense enough to see that she must make the best of the business. When the terror lifted from her mind she would be reasonable.

He repeated again that he was not going to hurt her if she met him halfway, and to show good faith went out and left her alone.

The man sat down on a chopping-block outside and cursed his hatred of Sanders and Crawford. He spurred himself with drink, under its influence recalling the injuries they had done him. His rage and passion simmered, occasionally exploded into raucous curses. Once he strode into the house, full of furious intent, but the eyes of the girl daunted him. They looked at him as they might have looked at a tiger padding toward her.

He flung out of the house again, snarling at his own weakness. There was something in him stronger than passion, stronger than his reckless will, that would not let him lay a hand on her in the light of day. His blood-shot eyes looked for the sun. In a few hours now it would be dark.

While he lounged sullenly on the chopping-block, shoulders and head slumped, a sound brought him to alert attention. A horseman was galloping down the slope on the other side of the valley.

Doble eased his guns to make sure of them. Intently he watched the approaching figure. He recognized the horse, Chiquito, and then, with an oath, the rider. His eyes gleamed with evil joy. At last! At last he and Dave Sanders would settle accounts. One of them would be carried out of the valley feet first.

Sanders leaped to the ground at the same instant that he pulled Chiquito up. The horse was between him and his enemy.

"The eyes of the men crossed in a long, level look." "Where's Joyce Crawford?" asked Dave. "That yore business?" Doble added to his retort the insult unmentioned.

"I'm makin' it mine. What have you done with her?" The speech of the younger man took on again the intonation of earlier days. "I'm here to find out."

A swish of skirts, a soft patter of feet, and Joyce was beside her friend, clinging to him, weeping in his arms. Doble moved round in a wide circumference. When shooting began he did not want his foe to have the protection of the horse's body. Not even for the best of a lid did the eyes of either man lift from the other.

"Go back to the house, Joyce," said Dave evenly. "I want to talk with this man alone."

The girl clung the tighter to him. "No, Dave, no! It's been awful!" The outlaw drew his long-barreled six-shooter, still circling the group. He could not fire without running a risk of hitting Joyce.

"Hidin' behind a woman, are you?" he taunted, and again flung the epithet that men will not tolerate.

At any moment he might fire. Dave caught the wrists of the girl, dragged them down from his neck, and flung her roughly to the ground. He pulled out his little buldog. Doble fired and Dave fell. The outlaw moved cautiously closer, cut-ant at his marksmanship. His enemy lay still, the pistol in his hand. Apparently Sanders had been killed at the first shot.

"Come to get me with that popgun, did you? Hmp! Fat chance." The bad man fired again, still approaching very carefully.

Round the corner of the house a man had come. He spoke quickly. "Turn yore gun this way, Dug."

It was Shorty. His revolver flashed at the same instant. Doble staggered, steeled himself, and fired. The forty-fives roared. Yellow flames and smoke spouted. The buldog barked. Dave's parlor toy had come into action.

Out of the battle Shorty and Sanders came erect and uninjured. Doble was lying on the ground, his revolver smoking a foot or two from the twitching, outstretched hand.

The outlaw was dead before Shorty turned him over. A bullet had passed through the heart. Another had struck him on the temple, a third in the chest.

"We got him good," said Shorty. "It was comin' to him. I reckon you don't know that he fired the chaparral on purpose. Wanted to wipe out the Jackpot, I s'pose. Yes, Dug sure had it comin' to him."

Dave said nothing. He looked down at the man, eyes hard as jade, jaw clamped tight. He knew that but for Shorty's arrival he would probably be lying there himself.

"I was aimin' to shoot it out with him before I heard of this last sculduggery. Soon as the kid woke me I hustled up my intentions." The bad man looked at Dave's weapon with the flicker of a smile on his face. "He called it a popgun. I took notice it was a right busy 'n' plaything. But you got yore nerve all right. I'd say you hadn't a chance in a thousand. You played yore hand fine, keelin' yore so's he'd come close enough for you to get a crack at him. At that, he'd maybe 'a' got you if I hadn't drapped in."

"Yes," said Sanders. He walked across to the corral fence, where Joyce sat huddled against the lower bars.

She lifted her head and looked at him from man eyes out of which the life had been stricken. They stared at him in dumb, amazed questioning.

Dave lifted her from the ground. "...I thought you... were dead," she whispered. "Not even powder-burnt. His six-shooter outraged mine. I was trying to get him closer."

"Is he...?" "Yes. He'll never trouble any of us again."

She shuddered in his arms. Dave chuckled for her in every tortured nerve. He did not know, and it was not his place to ask, what price she had had to pay.

Presently she told him, not in words, without knowing what he was suffering for. A ghost of a smile touched her eye.

"I knew you would come. It's all right now." His heart leaped. "Yes, it's all right, Joyce."

She returned to her fears for him. "You're not... hiding any wounds from me? I saw you fall and lie there while he shot at you."

"He never touched me." She disengaged herself from his arms and looked at him, wan, haggard, unshaven, eyes sunken, a tattered wretch scarred with burns.

"What have you done to yourself?" she asked, astonished at his appearance. "Souveniers of the fire," he told her. "They'll wash and wear off. Don't suppose I look exactly pretty." He had never looked so handsome in her eyes.

CHAPTER XLV. Joyce Makes Piv. Joyce carried the news back to Malapi. He had been waiting on the crest of the hill to see the issue of the adventure and had come forward when Dave gave him a signal.

Shorty brought Keith in from where he had left the boy in the brush. The youngster flew into his sister's arms. They wept over each other and she petted him with carresses and little kisses.

Afterward she made supper from the supplies Doble had laid in for his journey south. The men went down to the creek, where they bathed and washed their wounds. Darkness had not yet fallen when they went to sleep, all of them exhausted by the strain through which they had passed.

Not until the cold crystal dawn did they awaken. Joyce was the first up. She had breakfast well under way before she had Keith call the still sleeping men. With the power of quick recuperation which an outdoor life had given them, both Shorty and Dave were fit for any exertion again.

Painful Neuralgia Torturing Sciatica

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood.

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves.

Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food.

You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic.

If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THEIR HAIR WAS SO SHORT! "Did your grandmother ever tell you how she curled her hair by braiding it and then having somebody put an iron on the braids on the ironing board?"

So asked the girl just back from the summer resort. "I never heard of this imitation of a permanent wave until this week when two bobbed-haired girls came out to our quiet boarding house in the country just for overnight. Not knowing of a dance that evening they went in the lake without caps. When they came to their hair was as straight as a board and they were around moaning for curling tongs. None of us had them, and one elderly woman made them so mad when she said:

"Pity your hair isn't long enough to braid, for then you could take an iron to it."

GETS DRUNK ON BOTTLES OF VANILLA

Railroader, Well Known in City But Living in Brockville, in Local Court

WAS A STRDY DRINK Used 50% Beyond Government Standard—Couldn't Remember Where he Got It

Getting drunk on vanilla is not so delightful a sensation "after all," a railroader, well known locally but a resident of Brockville, found, to his sorrow this morning when he woke up in the police station. He was found by officers back of a barn with the swaying weeds brushing his face. It was said that had he been left there all night he might not have come through the night, so bad was his condition. His pockets were filled with small bottles of the well known flavoring extract, which happened to be the strongest he could get, namely the fifty per cent beyond the government standard and of the sale of which the vendor, whether druggist or grocer, has to keep a record.

The man in the case did not know, he claimed, the name of the vendor, from whom he purchased the extract and at eleven o'clock Magistrate Mason enlarged the case until two o'clock to give the accused a chance, if he wanted to take it, of finding the name of the seller of the vanilla. The prisoner said he would go with an officer of the Liquor License Department and try to find the place, where he got the stuff that made him "light." He was given his liberty to return at the above hour for judgment.

A fine of ten dollars and costs was levied on the accused as his story satisfied the court.

HOSTELRY SOLD.

Mrs. Blackwood of N.Y., Buys Comstock Inn at Morristown.

Brockville—An important real estate transaction was consummated in Ogdenburg when Julius and Leo Frank and Mrs. Julia Smith, owners of the Comstock Inn at Morristown, sold the property to Mrs. William Blackwood, of New York. The hotel, the past season has been exceedingly popular with the tourists under the efficient management of Capt. Chambers. The new proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood have had large New York experience in the management of hotels and come with the highest recommendations as up-to-date and modern hotel people. Mrs. Blackwood stated yesterday that she proposed to make the Comstock Inn one of the leading river hotels and more popular than ever with the summer tourists.

FRACTURED BONE.

Harvey Edwards Had Wrist Caught in Belt at Factory.

Kingston—While putting on a belt on one of the machines at Crothers confectionery factory, Harvey Edwards, Chatham street, got his wrist caught in the belt and suffered the fracture of one of the bones in his right forearm. His presence of mind saved him from much more serious injury, for before he was drawn around by the belt he had pulled his arm out of the way. He was removed to the General hospital and at noon was resting easily.

Kingston—The body of William Irish, aged 16, missing for more than a week from Croil Island, N.Y., where he had been employed, was found floating in the river on Saturday by Frank Barnhart, who lives on Barnhart's Island, near Cornwall. The young man had endeavored to swim from Croil Island to the mainland but was drowned in the attempt.

CHIEF'S EYE ON GAMES OF CHANCE

Police Have Been Ordered to Seize All Wheels of Fortune at Fairs

MAKE ARRESTS ON SPOT Our Old Friend Crown and Anchor Is not Allowed Any More

Provincial officers in Hastings and in other counties have received instructions to enforce the law regarding games of chance at agricultural exhibitions and fall fairs and at all other gatherings, wheel of fortune, card gambling, roulette, dice throwing, roll-down, spindles, crown and anchor, house-houses and other games of chance are absolutely prohibited anywhere, and officers are authorized to make arrests on the spot. Gambling devices may be seized and must not be returned to the offender.

The statutes relating to these devices will be strictly enforced by the officers stationed in this county. A wheel was seized this week at a gathering and the game of chance which was in operation was forthwith stopped. The law does not prohibit raffling in connection with religious bazaars.

City $400 Richer; B.O.T.A. Fines Paid

END OF DAYLIGHT SAVING. Generally Speaking Kingston Citizens Liked the Fast Time.

Kingston—Daylight saving in Kingston will come to an end after Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5th. Citizens will be asked to put their clocks back one hour on the night of the holiday, so that on September 6th the city will be working on the old time again. While daylight saving met with opposition in some quarters, generally speaking it met with the approval of the citizens, especially with all the lovers of outside sport.

MUST CONFORM TO REGULATIONS. All Vessels Not Carrying Lights are to be Detained.

Kingston—The collector of customs at Gananoque has been instructed to seize and detain any vessels which are operating contrary to the regulations. Complaint was made that some of the motorboat owners on the St. Lawrence do not always have the proper lights on their boats at night, and on account of the number that, especially at this season of the year, are on the river, there is quite a danger of serious accident through such neglect.

A half-mile landslide occurred at ernal of Alberta, will consult druggists and doctors about liquor prescriptions.

NO SCHOOL IN THURLOW THIS YEAR

Ratepayers Meeting Would Not Consent to Outlay Totaling $58,000

STILL USE COLLEGE GYM Feeling Running High Among Township Residents on Edge of Belleville

No school building will be erected in Thurlow in S. S. No. 5. It was decided at a meeting of the ratepayers held last evening to consider the proposition of the school board. Mr. Ambrose Dufosse occupied the chair. The meeting was well attended with all the trustees, Messrs G. A. Bennett, Ray and Adams present, besides a very large representation of the ratepayers, who packed the meeting. The board had favored the construction of the school building this year and so reported to the ratepayers. The discussion was very plain, the main body of opinion of the ratepayers being strongly opposed to the undertaking during the present year, the high cost of construction proving to be the obstacle which the ratepayers feared.

Unlike the regulations governing the city Board of Education, rural boards have first to get the consent of the ratepayers to an expenditure and only when armed with this, may they go before the township council and ask for the issue of debentures for the purpose of erecting schools. This was the reason the school board met the ratepayers last evening. This requirement is natural in that the municipal council governs the whole township, while the board's authority is limited to the school section.

Accommodation is claimed to be inadequate in No. 5 section, the gymnasium of Albert College being used for the purpose of a school. The same building will be used for the ensuing year as a result of the action of the property owners last evening.

The tenders for a four-roomed school ranged from $40,000 to $51,000. Other expenses including equipment made the total approximately $58,000. The board can now do nothing having failed to get the ratepayers' consent.

A committee of ratepayers was appointed to ascertain whether it will be possible to secure the use of the University Sunday School building during five days of the week to accommodate the children of the eastern part of the section. If this is possible the trustees may make arrangements for the holding of a class in the building.

The assessment of the section is $238,000 of which it is said $90,000 might possibly be lost. The burden was felt to be too great.

The vote stood only four in favor of the work of building a school being proceeded with.

TO ENLARGE FACTORY. Rice Lake Canoe Factory to Manufacture Motor Boats.

Cobourg—The Rice Lake Canoe Co., which took over the Herald Canoe Works at Gore's Landing, and started the manufacture of canoes last spring in Cobourg, intend enlarging their plant in Cobourg. The demand for the Rice Lake canoe has been greater this year than was expected, and the company were unable to keep up with orders. It is understood this year a new building of two stories, each storey the same size as the present building of one storey, 150 by 55 feet, will be built. The company also intend going into the motor boat business. The first boat to be built, a 25-foot motor boat, is now about completed, and will be shown at the Toronto Exhibition. This winter the company intend going into the manufacture of 25-foot boats and up, also outboard motor boats, and with this end in view have approached the council for a lease of the town property between the west and centre piers. The company desire a lease for twenty-five years, with an option of purchasing. They require property near the water so as to test the boats after completion. The council has passed a resolution to lease the property, and the town solicitor was instructed to prepare a lease.

NEW SCHOOL AGT IN FORCE SOON

Within Less Than Two Weeks Adolescent Section Will Be Operative

JOB FOR SCHOOL BOARDS No Drastic Move Expected and Those Now at Work Not to be Bothered

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—On September 1, within less than two weeks, section three of the Adolescent School Attendance Act will come into force, compelling school attendance until the age of 16. School Boards throughout the Province have had almost a year's notice of the proposed change in conditions and Provincial Department of Education officials anticipate that there will be little or no difficulty in effecting general conformation to the new clause in the act.

The general and principal purpose of the act, according to interpretation placed upon it yesterday, is to see that the boys and girls of the impressionable age are either at school or at work. The years intervening between leaving school and engaging in industry (usually those between 14 and 16) the law-makers regard as those in which a waywardly-inclined youngster makes bad associations and his or her idle hands and brain get into bad habits.

No Drastic Move Expected. Official anti-enforcement comment is to the effect that the Adolescent School Attendance Act will be put into force in September with "moderation and commonsense."

Those young people below the age of 16 already at work will not be bothered at all. Those whose home conditions require their presence in remunerative employment will readily be granted permission from the authorities to engage in work, instead of continuing at school as at present.

Upon the School Boards, and through them the school attendance officers, will fall the task of checking up the 14 to 16 year olds who are neither at school nor at work. Department officials do not anticipate that any increase in staff will be necessary to furnish the additional supervision, and in any event they are neither at school nor at work. Department officials do not anticipate that any increase in staff will be necessary to furnish the additional supervision, and in any event they are neither at school nor at work.

Section seven of the same act, which makes compulsory part-time attendance of adolescents between the ages of 16 and 18 years, comes into effect on September 1, two years hence.

FRENCH FINDING WORK Unemployment Crisis Over So Far as they are Concerned.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Unemployment in France continues to decrease and, as far as the provinces are concerned, the recent crisis appears to have been completely overcome.

The latest figures show that the total number of unemployed in France is 47,566 and out of that number 31,429 belong to Paris and the Department on the Seine, leaving only 16,137 unemployed for the rest of France.

Compared with the census figures, the number of unemployed in France amounts to only 0.1 per cent of the population.

TAX RATE FIXED. 30 Mills for Public School Supporters and 36 for Separate.

Kingston—A special meeting of the Portsmouth council was held for the purpose of striking the tax rate. The rate was fixed as follows: County rate, 8 mills; public school, 17 mills; village rate, 14 mills; separate school, 14 mills. This makes a rate of 39 mills for public school supporters and a rate of 36 mills for separate school supporters or 14 mills more than last year. The increase is due to the increase in the school rate.

GOYER EQALS RECORD OF 6 STRIKE-OUTS IN ROW

Freddy Goyer's strike-out record set up in yesterday's C.O.B.L. game, against Lindsay with 27 for the 18 innings, 19 for 9 innings, and six consecutive fannings, is a new mark for this league and for Amateur baseball in Ontario. According to official accounts of Big League Ball he equalled the record for consecutive strike-outs. Hod Eller of the Cincinnati Reds fanned six White Sox in a row in the 1919 World Series. Buck O'Brien, of the Red Sox struck out six Washington Senators on April 25, 1908.

"A WORLD'S RECORD."

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star reporting yesterday's game says:—Lindsay is strong on 13-innings games and 13 seems to be their unlucky number. At Belleville yesterday the home team defeated Lindsay 2 to 1 in Lindsay's third 13-innings game this year. Goyer had a world's record in strike-outs, fanning 27 men, of which 10 came in the last four innings. Ouletts, of Lindsay, had 11 strike-outs. Lindsay got 3 hits off Goyer, and Belleville had 8 hits off Ouletts.

ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIPS TO BE HELD HERE SEPT. 21 MAY HAVE HALF HOLIDAY

Wednesday, Sept. 21st, the date suggested by the Ontario Branch of the A.A.U. of C. for the provincial championship games, was approved by the Belleville Amateur Athletic Association directors, who met at four o'clock on Thursday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. Mr. C. A. Keebler, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., was given authority to make arrangements for the meet.

The games will be held at the Belleville Fair Grounds and will consist of 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, half mile, one mile, five mile, running high jump, standing broad jump, running broad jump, 120 yards hurdle, javelin throw, discus throw, 16-pound hammer, 56-pound weight, shotput, pole vault, and one mile relay. It is thought that as this will be the first occasion on which the provincial games will be held in Belleville, the merchants of the city may close for the half day, so as to allow their staffs to witness the championships. The B.A.A.A. have been fortunate in securing the games for Belleville and this alone proves the value of such an organization to handle the athletics of the city. Mr. Walter Trivett, of Toronto, is president of the provincial branch of the A.A.U. of C.

Gill, Federal Director of Education, says that the duties of the position, a considerable difference of opinion between the Government and the public with respect to the position followed in promotion in Canada, for resigning given Gill, formerly of the University, who is now Director of the Department of Labor, directing head of the Electrical and Mechanical in the University.

Dr. Gill points out to remuneration, the Federal Director a than that paid to Directors, the difference amounting to $1,600 the position," says fixed at a lower level Provincial officials, Director, if he is to must confer and if he is to promote, he must be suggestions and a falls referred to.

"If the Federal not give due recognition officials, it can see that Provincial look upon the Federal capable of giving own officials. In the Provinces the work thus forced to work cap, quite apart from personal remuneration."

JAMES ERNEST DIES AFTER ILLNESS

Popular Young Man Gets Sudden End. James Ernest G. M. John Geen, of this city, died on Thursday afternoon in ailing health and yesterday afternoon with a fatal illness was born in Huron twenty-four years ago. He was all his life there, being surviving four sisters, the Archibald Reid, of Wilbur Sherry, of Edna and Miss Mary Edna was a member of the old church, Loy No. 435 Ivanhoe, Knights No. 770.

PROF. GILL TELLS REASON HE QUIT

Federal Director of Technical Education Says Provinces Pay More

HANDICAP TOO BIG
Denounces Civil Service System and Sees Commission's Downfall

KINGSTON, Aug. 19.—That the remuneration was not commensurate with the duties and responsibilities of the position, and that "considerable differences of opinion had arisen between the Government and myself with respect to the policies to be followed in promoting technical education in Canada," are the reasons for resigning given by Prof. L. W. Gill, formerly of the staff of Queen's University, who is giving up his post as Director of Technical Education for the Dominion, attached to the Department of Labor, to accept that of directing head of the Departments of Electrical and Mechanical Engineering in the University of British Columbia.

Dr. Gill points out that, in regard to remuneration, the salary paid the Federal Director at present is lower than that paid to several Provincial Directors, the difference in one case amounting to $1,600. "The status of the position," says Dr. Gill, "is thus fixed at a lower level than that of the Provincial officials, yet the Federal Director, if he is to function as such, must confer and co-operate with, and if he is to promote technical education, he must be qualified to give suggestions and advice to the officials referred to.

"If the Federal Government does not give due recognition to its own officials, it can scarcely be expected that Provincial Governments will look upon the Federal officials as being capable of giving advice to their own officials. In his dealings with the Provinces the Federal Director is thus forced to work under a handicap, quite apart from the question of personal remuneration."

JAMES ERNEST GEEN, 24 DIES AFTER HEMORRHAGE

Popular Young Huntingdon Farmer Gets Sudden Summons on Thursday

James Ernest Geen, only son of Mr. John Geen, of Huntingdon, died on Thursday afternoon. He had been in ailing health for some time and yesterday afternoon was stricken with a fatal hemorrhage. He was born in Huntingdon township twenty-four years ago and had lived all his life there, following farming. Surviving are his parents and four sisters, the latter being Mrs. Archibald Reid, of Edmonton; Mrs. Wilbur Sherry, of Thomasburg; Miss Edna and Miss Mabel at home. Deceased was a member of the Methodist church, Loyal Orange Lodge No. 435 Ivanhoe, and Royal Black Knights No. 770, Ivanhoe.

The late J. E. Geen was a very popular young man whose loss will be keenly felt by the community.

CHEAP CLOTHES OFFER MADE BY BRITISH FIRM STIRS VIENNA TO DEPTHS

VIENNA, Aug. 20.—The offer of a British concern to sell in Vienna 400,000 ready-made suits of men's clothes at £1 to 10 shillings each, has been occupying more space in the newspapers than the disturbed political situation.

Master tailors and ready-made clothing merchants are fighting it and thus far successfully as the Ministry of Trade has refused the import license.

The entire Vienna press, backed by the countless civil servants and workmen's co-operative societies, is demanding the deal be permitted, pointing out that native tailors charge at least 10,000 crowns for a suit of equal quality, while the British offer equals about 4,600 crowns.

CHILD IS KILLED

CHATHAM, Aug. 17.—A fatal automobile accident occurred in this city about seven o'clock last night, when a car driven by W. M. Lawson, a member of the firm of Carey & Lawson, shoe dealers, ran over the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz, who reside on William street. The accident occurred on William street. The street was crowded with cars parked on either side of the roadway, when Mr. Lawson drove along at a rate not exceeding eight miles an hour, according to the eyewitnesses of the accident. The little girl darted out from behind one of the parked cars. Mr. Lawson was unable to see the child until he struck her, and both wheels of the automobile ran over her body. The car was stopped by the driver almost within its own length after the child was hit.

PROF. I. W. GILL

Director of Technical Education for Canada who has resigned because of the differences of opinion between the government and himself with respect to the policies to be followed in promoting technical education in Canada. He also says the salary is inadequate. Prof. Gill joins the staff of British Columbia University.

JEX AND CARGO IS BEYOND HELP

Kingston Shipper Fears Nothing Can Be Done to Salvage Anything

LEHIGH NEAR WRECKED
Rescuing Steamer Went on the Ground at Foot of Wolfe Island

KINGSTON, Aug. 19.—Capt. Shaw of the steamer Jex, stated that it will be quite impossible to get the boat or coal again. The boat is in about two or three hundred feet of water, some distance from shore and the captain is of the opinion that nothing can be done.

The steamer Lehigh, of the Geo. Hall Coal Company, which was on her way to Ogdensburg yesterday and which rescued the crew of the Jex, when the latter went down, went ashore at the foot of Wolfe Island yesterday morning. She was not fast on and was released by a passing tug in a few minutes. The Donnelly Wrecking Company of this city did not go to the assistance of the Lehigh.

The steamer Cornwall and the lighter Harriet D. arrived here early this morning from Prescott after releasing the steamer Beaverton which went ashore at Sister Island Light, seven miles below Alexandria Bay a few days ago, while on her way from the head of the lakes to Montreal with grain.

Thirty-five thousand bushels of dry grain were transferred from the Beaverton to the lighter-barges Marnie and Hilda and were taken to Montreal. Five thousand bushels of wet grain were brought to Kingston in the lighter Harriet D. for Jas. Richardson & Sons. The balance of the cargo, which is in the Beaverton will be taken to Montreal and the Beaverton will then go into dry-dock at Levis, P. Q., for repairs.

LOCAL CENSUS RETURNS SHOW A CITY OF 12,163; THREE MORE ALDERMEN

Belleville's Increase Per Cent is 23.16, Beating Both Lindsay and Peterboro—Trenton Shows More Growth—Details of Figures and Facts.

Official returns of the Dominion Census, just made public give Belleville a population of 12,163, the figures at previous enumeration being: 1911, 9,876; 1901, 9,117. Increase over 1911, 2,287, or 23.16 per cent; 1911 over 1901, 759, or 8.32 per cent.

This will mean for Belleville for now on after the present year a council of thirteen. However there will be no thirteenth man elected as the mayor is elected on a separate ballot, and only twelve aldermen will receive election. The bylaw on which the aldermen are elected calls for one alderman for every thousand inhabitant, according to the last Dominion census.

With the addition of three men to the council, that body will again begin to be quite an unwieldy company. However no matter how much the city grows in the next ten years, the constitution of the council will remain the same, until after the 1931 census.

RECOGNIZE WOMEN'S PART.

Grand Lodge of Sourdoughs Greet Ladies of Golden North.

DAWSON CITY, Y. T., Aug. 19.—Women's part in the development of the Yukon will be recognized when the Grand Lodge of the Sourdoughs convenes to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the discovery of gold in the Klondyke. The Grand Lodge of the Ladies of the Golden North, will be formally recognized as an auxiliary of the Yukon Order of Pioneers. Not the least interesting of the elaborate functions planned to signalize the development of the last quarter of a century in the land of gold and treasure, will be the formal granting of a charter by the men who have played big parts in the north to the women who have worked beside them. The pioneer ladies of Dawson, who started their club in Seattle, will establish their lodge in Dawson under the name of the Ladies of the Golden North. Madame Emilie Trembley, 25 years in Dawson, will be chief officer of the local lodge, and "lady of the golden north." The titles of the order lodge officers carry out the picturesque imagery of the north. There will be ladies of the midnight sun, of the divide, of the northern lights, of the Sourdoughs, ladies pathfinder and collector of customs.

Miss Lister of this city is spending some time at Mrs. Clarke's, Collins' Bay.

Mrs. James Hamilton, Kingston, is in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. K. Graham.

GIBSON CROSSING

William Drewery, 74, of This City and Formerly Sidney Farmer, Victim

C. P. R. TRAIN WAS LATE
Horse Killed, Wagon is Smashed at Level Crossing East of City

Once again the level crossing has claimed a life in one of the most shocking tragedies which has occurred here in recent years.

On Saturday afternoon about one-thirty o'clock, as Mr. William Drewery, of Dunbar street, was driving eastward over the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks in Thurlow, just east of the city limits on the Provincial Highway. He was hurled from the crossing and so injured that he died on the way to the Belleville General Hospital, whither he was being taken in a motor.

The C. P. R. passenger train which ran into Mr. Drewery and the team of horses, belonging to Mr. John Lafferty, which he was driving, was eastbound and was late.

As Mr. Drewery was driving east with a wagon to get a load of crushed stone at the crusher in Thurlow, about two miles east of the city, the train came up behind him and as he was very deaf, he apparently did not hear the approaching engine. The horse on the right side was struck and instantly killed. Mr. Drewery receiving a blow on the head. The horses and wagon with the driver were hurled into the ditch. The crew witnessed the occurrence and the train was stopped within several lengths. Mr. Drewery was extricated from the mass of the broken cart and was placed in a motor and rushed to the hospital, but he had succumbed to the injuries before reaching the institution.

The second horse was not even scratched, although the harness had been torn from the animal's neck.

The wagon was a complete wreck, it and the horses were the property of Mr. John Lafferty, Pinnacle St. Coroner Dr. W. W. Boyce had the body removed to Tickell's undertaking establishment, where before a jury, of which Ald. S. J. Fisher is foreman, the inquest was opened and then adjourned to Thursday evening next. Mr. L. Soule is the coroner's constable. The body was prepared at the Belleville Undertaking Company's rooms for burial.

Mr. Drewery was a former farmer of the township of Sidney. He was born 72 years ago in Sidney, and had been in the employ of Mr. Lafferty for six years or more. His present occupation was hauling crushed rock for the city public works operations. He was a member of the Methodist church. Mrs. Drewery survives. Messrs. John, James and George Drewery, of Sidney are brother of the dead man.

This crossing, known as Gibson's crossing, is that where Mrs. (Dr.) Robertson was killed a year ago last March. The highway and the track cross at a very sharp angle.

The funeral was held this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock to Belleville cemetery, Rev. A. H. Foster, of Holloway Street Methodist Church officiating at the last sad rites.

BOAT RECEIVED DAMAGE.

"Alice" was Rammed by the "Ontario"—Receiving Repairs.

Kingston—The 60-foot schooner Alice, owned by Stuart Lansing, commodore of the Crescent Yacht Club, Watertown, N.Y., and which competed at the L. Y. R. A. regatta here two weeks ago, is undergoing repairs in Watertown, resulting from an accident with the yawl Ontario.

The Alice was damaged a few nights ago when rammed by the yawl Ontario, sailed by Harold Branche. The Ontario was going into anchorage back of the new pier at Watertown, when a gust of wind swept it against the Alice, and the bowsprit of the Ontario crushed through the mahogany cabin of the schooner. Repairs are being rushed, and the schooner will soon be none the worse for its accident.

Both the Ontario and Alice are well-known here. The Alice sailed in the "M" Class in the regatta here, while the Ontario was in the Cruiser Class, with the Sylvia and Helen.

A LAUGH.

A laugh is just like sunshine. It freshens all the day; It tips the peaks of life with light, And drives the clouds away. The soul grows glad that hears it And feels its courage strong— A laugh is just like sunshine For cheering folks along.

Lamb should be basted constantly while roasting if you would obtain the best flavor from it.

RETIRE AFTER NOTABLE CAREER

Mr. Robert Mathison, Now 80, Will Not Seek More High Offices

ONCE NOTED FIGURE HERE
Conducted O. S. D. so that it Was Famed on Both Sides of Atlantic

Mr. Robert Mathison, Supreme Secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, and an officer of the order for 38 years, has announced that he will not offer himself for re-election at the coming convention. Mr. Mathison is in his 80th year, and feels that he has "done his bit." He will now retire and rest at his home, 31 Albany Ave., Toronto.

During Mr. Mathison's 38 years' connection with the Independent Order of Foresters he has held office in subordinate, high court and supreme court. In the latter, he has been in turn supreme journal secretary, supreme secretary, supreme secretary-treasurer, and, latterly, supreme secretary. He has devoted the past fifteen years solely to his work in connection with the order.

Few men have given as long a period to the public service as has Mr. Mathison, and rarely has a public servant been so generally credited with efficiency.

Civil Servant Many Years Before going to Toronto in 1906 to undertake his executive work in connection with the Independent Order of Foresters, Mr. Mathison had been in the service of the Ontario Government for 34 years. He first entered the service in 1872 as barrister for the London Asylum for Insane, a position which he occupied until 1878.

During 1878 and 1879 he was manager of Industries and bursar at the Central Prison, Toronto, and from 1879 to 1906 he was superintendent and principal of the Ontario Institute for the Deaf and Dumb at Belleville, Ontario. In the latter position he made a conspicuous success and, in fact, it is a matter of record that as long as he occupied his position in the service Mr. Mathison's advice was frequently sought by the Government of the day on knotty problems that arose from time to time in connection with different public institutions.

Mr. Mathison had the fullest confidence of the old Liberal Government and also held the confidence of Sir James Whitney and his colleagues. Family reasons largely induced him to remove to Toronto fifteen years ago.

Won High Praise His work at Belleville achieved for him an international reputation. He threw his whole soul into it and made the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb a leader in its line, and its methods were studied by other institutions of a similar class. For instance, the custodians of the Carnegie Fund commissioned a distinguished Scottish artist to examine into the workings of schools for the deaf and dumb throughout the world, and he reported that "the school at Belleville under Mr. Mathison's control was one of the best managed on either side of the Atlantic." Mr. Mathison was not content with a superficial solution of the problems confronting the deaf and dumb, but studied the subject deeply and was awarded the degree of M.A. by the National College of Education for the Deaf, Washington, D.C., of which at the time the late Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, was president.

He was a former publisher of the Brantford Expositor.

MAY ENLARGE BOAT.

Story Rumored to Enlarge Str. Toronto to Equal Sister Ship.

Brockville — There was a story current that the palatial passenger steamer Toronto of the Canada Steamship Lines, is to be lengthened 50 feet. This improvement when completed will give her 30 additional state rooms and enlarge her to the size of the steamer Kingston, her sister ship. It is understood that the work of enlarging her will be commenced as soon as the present steamboat season is over and will be ready in time to play her part next season on the Toronto-Prescott route.

MARY PLANS RUSSIAN OPERA.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. — Grand opera in Russian, with a Russia cast will be introduced to Chicago next winter, George M. Spangler, Mary Garden's business manager, announced.

The first production will be Prokofoff's "The Love of Three Oranges," with George Baklanoff, baritone, heading the cast.

Mr. Spangler also announced the revival of German operas next fall.

Six Insane Patients
Die of Typhoid Fever;
Epidemic Under Control

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 22. — Six deaths have occurred in the last few days at the Ontario Hospital for the Insane as the result of a typhoid fever epidemic. The latest was reported on Sunday. At the present time there are 79 patients suffering from fever. Dr. W. J. Robinson, the Superintendent, stated that although the epidemic had been serious, a majority of the patients are now on the verge of convalescence, and that no danger of a further outbreak is feared.

Contamination of the water supply as a result of the recent flood is held responsible.

MIXED DOUBLES IN BOWLING CONTEST SET FOR WEDNESDAY

A novelty bowling tournament, mixed doubles, is planned for Belleville Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Robt. Wray is in charge and he hopes to have all the greens busy with 18 rinks in action.

A man and woman, each with two bowls will play another man and woman similarly equipped—that is all there is to it. But there's sure to be some fun.

The entries will not close until tonight and a good deal of interest has been evidenced in this somewhat unusual type of play.

Later there will be tea; and the men have ordered a lot of pie. If they are still fit there'll be a round in the evening.

TELL THEM ABOUT HYDRO
Manager O. H. Scott of Local Office Speaks in Sidney

Hydro rural power lines will be explained to the farmers of Sidney township at a meeting tonight at Sidney Town Hall by a representative of the Hydro who will attend. Sidney has not yet become by any means a network of hydro lines. The people of the township are very keen to take advantage of the electric opportunities along the Trent.

PICKING THE TEAMS TO PLAY OSHAWA OR BELLEVILLE NINES IN POST-SEASON ENCOUNTER

OSHAWA, Aug. 22.—Baseball enthusiasts here have apparently settled their own minds that either Oshawa or Belleville will win the championship of the Central Ontario League, with the Oshawa team having the brightest prospects. However, other teams such as Lindsay, Peterboro and Port Hope are not so very far behind and by pulling off a winning streak could easily draw up on a level with either Oshawa or Belleville.

Might Need All-Stars. Following the announcement just recently issued by President Kimmel that the new champions would meet an all-star team picked from the remaining clubs in the city the championship was claimed, many ardent fans are already lining up the stars from the standpoint of Oshawa winning the league honors and again if Belleville gains the title, the Eastern fans claim the strongest team that could be selected would be, Dainty, pitcher, Oshawa; Tyson, catcher, Cobourg; Coombs, Lindsay or Harrison, Peterboro; first base, Skitch, second base, Cobourg; Walter fair, short stop, Oshawa; Jacobi, third base, Oshawa, while some of the outfielders suggested were: Chalk, Port Hope and McMahon, Lindsay.

If Oshawa wins, one of the line-ups suggested for the event is: Infield, Goyer, pitcher, Belleville; W. Mills, catcher, Belleville; Coombs, Lindsay or Harrison, Peterboro, first base, Skitch, Cobourg, at second, Weir, Belleville, at short and Murray, Peterboro, at third. Other suggestions will likely follow.

MADOC WINS CHAMPIONSHIP OF TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE BEATS TWEED IN FINAL 6-3

Before the biggest crowd that ever attended a game in Madoc, the locals beat Tweed in a sudden death game for the championship.

Tweed scored one in the first and Madoc followed with three in their half. Madoc scored again in the third, seventh and eighth. With the score 6 to 1 in Tweed's half of the ninth, Stringer eased up and Tweed scored twice, making the final 6 to 3.

Stringer's pitching featured as not a man on the Tweed team reached second after the first inning and until he eased up in the ninth. Burnside also started in the field and in fact the entire Madoc team played fine ball.

With the fans and players all worked up over this sudden death affair it was remarkable the clean way it was carried off and too much praise cannot be given Messrs. Kay and Elliott, the umpires, for the way they handled the game.

Details of the game are as follows:

First Innings.
Tweed—Morton out, Stringer to Regan, Elliott fanned, Brown safe on first on hit to Feeney. Brown stole second and scored on Wager's double to left, Wager took third on wild pitch, Giraldi fanned.
1 run, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Madoc—Moon fanned, McKnight singled to left, Fritz singled to deep left, Regan doubled to centre, McKnight scoring and Fritz going to third, Leal lined to short, Fritz scoring, Leal stole second, Feeney out Elliott to Brown and Regan scored, Cross fanned.
3 runs, 3 hits, 1 error.

Second Innings.
Tweed—Lesage out McKnight to Regan, Houston safe on hit to Stringer, Murray fanned, Leal, Watson out Feeney to Regan.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Madoc—Burnside fanned to Brown Stringer fanned, Moon out Wager to Brown.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Third Innings.
Tweed—Morton fanned, Elliott out McKnight to Regan, Brown out to Regan unassisted.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Brown, Cross flied to Watson.
1 run, 3 hits, 0 errors.

Fourth Inning
Tweed—Wager flied to Burnside, Giraldi fanned, Lesage walked, Houston fanned.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Madoc—Burnside out Wager to Brown, Stringer fanned, Moon doubled to left, and went to third on wild pitch, McKnight flied to left.
0 runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

Fifth Innings
Tweed—Murray safe on hit in front of plate, out stealing, Watson fanned, Morton walked, Elliott flied to Burnside.
0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Madoc—Fritz out Wager to Brown, Regan out Watson to Brown who was now pitching for Tweed, Leal out Elliott to Brown.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Sixth Innings.
Tweed—Brown out Stringer to Regan, Wager safe on Cross error, Giraldi struck out and Wager was doubled at second, Fritz to McKnight.
0 runs, 0 hits, 1 error.

Madoc—Feeney out to Giraldi, Cross struck out, Burnside walked, out stealing.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Seventh Innings.
Tweed—Lesage fanned, Houston flied to Moon, Murray fanned.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Madoc—Stringer singled past third, and went to second on pass ball, Moon out Watson to Brown, Stringer going to third, McKnight doubled to center, scoring Stringer, Fritz fanned, McKnight took third on pass ball, Regan out Elliott to Brown.
1 run, 2 hits, 2 errors.

Eighth Innings.
Tweed—Watson out Stringer to Regan, Morton hit by pitched ball, Elliott fouled to Cross, Brown out Regan unassisted.
0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Madoc—Leal singled to center and took second on wild pitch, Feeney out Watson to Brown, Leal scoring, Burnside out Watson to Brown.
1 hit, 1 run, 1 error.

Sports on the Pacific Coast

Surely there is no centre in the world where one can get such a variety of summer sports as in Vancouver, B.C. There are several excellent beaches for bathing, there are half a dozen different lots of public tennis-courts within the city limits; there are several golf-courses, baseball and lacrosse, a polo-ground out at Brighthouse Park where recently the Vancouver team played teams from Kamloops and Calgary.

Saturday afternoon nearly always finds a couple of cricket matches being played at the beautiful grounds down at Brockton Point. But the most popular of all amusements in Vancouver are motor-launching and yachting. The harbor down by the Yacht-club is dotted with pleasure boats of every size and build; motor-power boats from the little row-boat with an outboard motor fixed inside it right up the scale to the beautiful new launch from Seattle, 110 ft. built originally for a submarine chaser, are seen.

All the sailing boats turn out for the regattas held at various points along the coast. There are 16 "ketches," 18 fast boats of the "Cat boat" class, the "Sigs" and the "Spits" of the "E" class, the "Minerva," a

C.O.L. RACE CLOSE
Belleville Goes to Lindsay on Wednesday and Must Win to Stay

The race in the Central Ontario Baseball League was considerably tightened up on Saturday when the Oshawa team after what by all accounts was a fine game, defeated the Petes on their own lot by the score of 5 to 2.

That places them on the top of the heap with the local crew and the race for the title from now on will be watched with increasing interest. Belleville has only one more home game and two away. These are with the Greybirds and with the clever Oshawa outfit, who seem to be going a wonderful clip.

The Grand Trunks go to Lindsay on Wednesday. A despatch from Peterboro says: Oshawa, 5; Peterboro, 3. PETERBORO, Aug. 22.—Oshawa defeated Peterboro 5 to 3 in a Central Ontario League game here Saturday afternoon, which hung in the balance until the last inning. With the score 2 to 1 in the visitors' favor at the opening of the ninth, both teams showed batting strength. Oshawa added three tallies in its half and Peterboro made a rally which netted two counters.

FAILS TO SWIM ACROSS CHANNEL

Gallant Attempt by English Woman Ends Within Few Miles of Land

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Arthur Hamilton again has failed in an attempt to swim the English Channel. She reports having left Cape Gris Nez, on the French side of the Channel, near Calais, at eleven o'clock Saturday morning, and to have got within three miles of Deal, on the English side, Sunday morning, where she was compelled to abandon the swim. She says she was in the water twenty hours.

Mrs. Hamilton today expressed satisfaction at having accomplished what she claims to be a world's record for women swimmers, both as regards distance covered and time in the water.

Mrs. Hamilton, who is a daughter of Sir Charles Fairlie-Cunninghame, started last September from St. Margaret Bay, on the English shore, in an endeavor to swim to Cape Gris Nez. She was in the water at that time for twelve hours and reported that she got to within 12 miles of her objective. Sixteen years ago Annette Kellerman twice started on what was declared to have been attempts to swim the twenty-one miles across the Channel. In the first attempt she was said to have swam for five hours and in the second to have covered six miles. In each instance she was forced to quit through seasickness.

Captain Matthew Webb and T. W. Burgess are the only persons on record as having accomplished the task of swimming the Channel. Webb swam across in 1875.

LAKE BOAT CROWDED.
August Brings Highest Mark in Tourist Traffic to Kawartha Lakes

Peterboro—The tourist invasion of the Kawartha Lakes is now at its height, according to Mr. Frank Young. On Monday the Empress brought 125 passengers from the lake resorts and on the up trip 110 newcomers who were just beginning their vacation. This is an indication of the daily traffic recently, and it is likely to continue right up to September. Many of these tourists are strangers to the boat crews, an evidence of the increasing popularity of the Kawartha district. All the resorts with the exception of one are reported to be packed to the rafters, and from all accounts will report a successful season. Mr. Young remarked that August has been producing the heaviest business during the last few years. People have found that the cool evenings and the warm days make an attractive and helpful combination. The visitors have been moving up and down through Peterboro and Lakefield in streams, going up more pale and colorless and returning with deep coats of tan and touches of sunburn.

TRUCK BURST INTO FLAMES
Ignition Cause of Fire, Firemen Extinguish the Blaze

Brookville—The engine of one of Ed. Cooney's trucks burst into flame while the truck was being driven south on Aymer Street, near Hunter. A short circuit in the ignition set fire to the grease around the engine and to gasoline that had been leaking from the carburetor. Flames ran over the whole front of the car. The driver ran into a nearby store and phoned in the alarm and the firemen arrived before the fire had spread from the engine. They smothered the fire out with chemicals and the driver believed the engine would be little the worse for his hot experience. In future he said he would watch carefully leaks from the carburetor and the ignition of the engine.

SEWER CAVED IN
Gas Main was Broken by Pressure But Promptly Fixed

Oshawa—The very heavy rain caused a portion of the main storm sewer excavation on Court Street to cave in, with the result that a gas main was broken and some gas allowed to escape. The Hydro Electric authorities were promptly on the job and made the necessary repairs to the main without interrupting the service, and before any great quantity of gas escaped. The cave in will cost the town a few hundred dollars.

Albert Maracle, of Halleybury, was paralyzed from his neck down when he fell from a wagon he was driving and the wheel passed over his neck.

John Peake, a G.T.R. employee at Stratford, died as the result of fall from an engine.

Five thousand Royal Black Knights from the surrounding district celebrated Derry Day in Oshawa.

French Courts Give Maximum Penalty to Man Who Failed to Appear

PARIS, Aug. 18.—A Rouen court has condemned football player to four months in prison and to a fine of 6,000 francs for injuring another player during a match. This is the first time such a sentence has been delivered in France and if the judgment is held on appeal, it is believed in sporting circles that it will have a lasting effect on sports, as players will hesitate to risk going to prison for a game.

The Olympic Club of Paris was playing the Rouen Club (Association) and during the first half Aymard (Rouen) had to leave the ground on account of an injury to his eye after a collision with the international player, Langenove (Olympic). The day was very foggy and only two or three players could see what really happened.

The Rouen Club lodged a complaint with the French Football Federation which found it impossible to obtain proof of misconduct against Langenove. Aymard then sued Langenove before the Rouen courts and the foregoing judgment was given by default. French courts always give the maximum penalty when they condemn any one who does not appear for trial, but the sentence may be changed if the condemned man takes the case to appeal.

Langenove says he never received a summons to appear before the court. He was a student at St. Cyr Military College when the match was played, and was in garrison at Mayence when the case was heard. When he charged Aymard, the latter said: "It wasn't decent to charge me like that." Langenove said, "there is no truth in the accusation that I struck him with my fist."

LOSES LIFE IN LAKE
While in Bathing Young Man Steps into a Deep Hole

Kingston—At the Rock on the Lake side, north Marysburgh, a sad drowning accident occurred. Angus T. Minaker was bathing near shore when he stepped into deep water and was drowned before those near by could rescue him. A boat was procured and the body recovered within a few minutes but life was extinct. The deceased was twenty-three years of age and married. Besides his wife, who was Miss Leveck, he leaves a young child.

TRAPPED 200 DUCKS
Bands Were Placed on Them and Reports Come from Several Places

Oshawa—H. S. Oeler, of Lake Scusgo, trapped two hundred ducks last season and banded them. Most of them were black ducks and mallards, but in the bunch were a few blue-winged teal. Many of the birds were killed near home, but bands and reports have been received from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, while one of the blue-winged teal was killed near Port of Spain in the Island of Trinidad, more than 2,500 miles from the place where they were banded.

CAR TURNS TURTLE; OCCUPANTS UNHURT
Lindsay, Ont., Aug. 18.—Three young Peterboro men, Doughty, White and Steinkraus, driving a new motor, plunged into an open bridge at the Lindsay cemetery country road last night. JEX GOES DOWN OFF LONG POINT

Sowards Co. Boat, Coal-Laden, Down in 180 Feet of Water

CREW ARE ALL SAFE
Picked up by "Lehigh"—Capt. Shaw's First Mishap in 44 Years

KINGSTON, Aug. 18.—Springing a leak ten miles southeast of Point Peter on Long Point, the steambarge H. N. Jex, of the Sowards Coal Company, sank Tuesday evening about eight o'clock, the crew of eight being saved and picked up by the steamer Lehigh.

Captain M. Shaw, of the Jex, stated that the Jex left Sodus at 11.15 Tuesday morning. During the day the sea was quite heavy, and in the afternoon the wind freshened.

So that towards evening it was very strong. The boat was loaded with 500 tons of coal for the Public Utilities Commission, and was making good time, when it was noticed that she was leaking badly. Captain Shaw saw that saving the boat was impossible, and the crew of eight put out in the yawl, carried with the boat. They were only in the yawl ten or fifteen minutes when the steamer Lehigh, of the Hall Coal Company, came along and picked them up, while at about the same time the Jex, which had been gradually sinking, went down in 180 feet.

The leak was noticed about five o'clock, and though the pumps were put into operation, the Jex continued to fill with water.

Captain Shaw stated that while the boat was leaking and the crew were aboard it, another boat was noticed coming down some distance out. The distress signal was given, but the other boat apparently paid no attention to it. As it was the crew got out in the yawl, and were rescued by the Lehigh.

"I will be seventy-five years of age in a few days," said Captain Shaw, "and have been sailing the lakes for sixty-four years, and this is the first accident I have ever been in."

The crew of the boat were all from Kingston, with the exception of a deck hand, Charles Lamoureux, who belongs to Toronto. The members of the crew are: Captain M. Shaw; Anthony Rochester, mate; Wm. McCabe, engineer; Con. Sutherland, deck hand; Henry Collins, fireman; Wm. Sullivan, fireman; Mrs. Foster, cook.

The Jex was a sturdy craft and had been engaged in the coal business for the Sowards Coal Co. for several years, operating between Sodus, Oswego and Kingston.

NARROW ESCAPE
Ford Auto Overturned on Four at Deseronto but No One Injured

Deseronto—Ivan Smith, Percy Wells, Miss Perry and Miss Walters, of Marlbank had a narrow escape from serious injury the other night. They were in a Ford car, Mr. Smith driving, when on crossing the railroad tracks at the east end of the town the wheels of the car locked and overturned the car on the embankment just off the tracks. The car remained on its back, and as luck would have it the top did not smash clear down, but left space sufficient to let the occupants crawl out. It was found that none were hurt seriously, but all were given a good shaking up and some minor scratches. The car was travelling at about 15 miles per hour and is badly damaged, so much so that it is hardly worth the repairs necessary to fix it up.

BELLEVILLE GOYER

In many respects for many a moon, the Lindsay, Wednesday 2 to 1.

Fred Goyer, the credit—a record number far as anyone locally.

Oulette, his opponent in any game his team—Freddy did the load himself.

His astonishing Hope is due to the strained tendons and treated and had run upon to do what he is sensational in the as well as his own performance.

Not an error was trial, while Lindsay-Donald, at short—which, however, had.

There were obviously in one or two Lindsay's lone t run clouts seen on the left field and bounded runner, Coombs, the birds, was around pasture. There was.

The game was, Coombs collecting the fanned at two when Goyer fielded his dent, or design, or b a hot liner which St.

The Greybirds go locals did a little better to get it.

Goyer had six strikes Coombs got his. They were thrown. It was sensational way it had a Lindsay runner go fanned three of 'em.

He had done it fifteen Johnny Walker, was.

He had fanned no oords for this league too, for he turned in a better as the game twelfth frames.

It was Lindsay's they lost in the last yesterday. The final there were only two had offered at a coup Peeny lined a high outer garden had play ball hit fair between other was going to through with the sin.

Weir scored and was not needed to score.

The crowd was a good drawing cards, worth and a little thrable performance was sensational record of bition game.

There was constager Gerow, who was lock. He brought in 4 hitters in the tenth, and Co. It was the ally did put the wood on ice.

Oulette was pitched in over the rub and good-humored at the game was one of one could wish to see.

The game might Peeny hit a long fly was caught trying to of smart fielding and tion whether he should next man up, Harry it would have scored.

However, the game wriggle out of the ball after that.

Strike-Out Records Made in Game Here

BELLEVILLE VICTORS IN 13TH INNINGS GOYER FANS 27 MEN FROM LINDSAY

In many respects the greatest ball game played in Belleville for many a moon, the Grand Trunks defeated the Greybirds of Lindsay, Wednesday afternoon in a thirteen-innings contest by 2 to 1.

Fred Goyer, the Belleville hurler, had 27 strike-outs to his credit—a record number in big league or bush league ball so far as anyone locally is aware.

Oulette, his opponent, had thirteen strike-outs, a goodly number in any game, but he obviously had more support from his team—Freddy did not need so much help, carrying most of the load himself.

His astonishing reversal of form from the game at Port Hope is due to the fact that at Port Hope he was suffering from strained tendons and since that time his mighty left had been treated and had rounded into an agency that could be depended upon to do what he willed to do with it. Such a performance is sensational in the extreme and the fans and opposing players, as well as his own team give all the credit for a brilliant performance.

Not an error was made behind him in all the long, long trial, while Lindsay—and mostly one unfortunate fellow, McDonald, at short—was responsible for five bloomers, none of which, however, had very much to do with the score.

There were obviously no "bad" innings, and although Fredy was in one or two tight holes he was always able to get clear. Lindsay's lone tally was due to one of the longest home-run clouts seen on the local diamond. It was a whiz-bang to left field and bounded and rolled clear on to the track. The runner, Coombs, the hefty and brainy first baseman of the Greybirds, was around past third before Soup Goyer had touched the sphere. There was nothing half-hearted about that hit.

The game was, after that, a succession of strike-outs, Coombs collecting three of them himself. And Mr. Coombs had fanned at two when he made his famous circuit clout, at that! Goyer fielded his position very well and whether by accident, or design, or because he couldn't help doing it he caught a hot liner which Stark sent right into his mit.

The Greybirds got only three safeties off Fredy while the locals did a little better, hitting eight where there was no enemy to get it.

Goyer had six strikeouts in a row to start off with. Then Coombs got his. The next time Coombs came up just three balls were thrown. They were all good. But the game was a succession of that. It would have been monotonous except for the sensational way it happened each time. About the only time a Lindsay runner got on third, Goyer turned right around and fanned three of 'em. That was in the seventh and at that time he had done it fifteen of them and like our old college chum, Johnny Walker, was still going strong.

He had fanned nineteen in the nine innings, beating all records for this league by a couple anyway, and he—and Oulette too, for he turned in a splendid performance—seemed to be getting better as the game stretched into the tenth, eleventh and twelfth frames.

It was Lindsay's third 13-innings contest and in all three they lost in the last few minutes. But they didn't go to pieces yesterday. The final tally was made after Weir had walked—there were only two free passes in the game—and "Peeny" Mills had offered at a couple while Weir was stealing second. Then Peeny lined a high out to centre field and as the chaps in the outer garden had played back too far they were outgassed. The ball hit fair between two of them, who each probably thought the other was going to take it, if he could, then Harry Mills came through with the single that tied up the old ball game.

Weir scored and Peeny also came home, although his trip was not needed to settle the affair. The crowd was a good one for such a day and with two other good drawing cards, but the crowd certainly got its money's worth and a little thrown in for good measure. No such remarkable performance was ever seen here and Fredy beat his own sensational record of 22 strike-outs made at Perth in an exhibition game.

There was considerable shifting about of players by Manager Gerow, who was getting pretty anxious to break the deadlock. He brought in "Cap" Smith and Sammy Symons as pinch hitters in the tenth, but they were both handled easily by Oulette and Co. It was the regular heavy hitters of the line-up that finally did put the wood to Mr. Oulette's bendlers and put the game on ice.

Oulette was pitching awfully fast ball, and some of them bent in over the rubber pan in fantailing style. He was cool and good-humored all through the great struggle, and, in fact, the game was one of the sweetest exhibitions all through that one could wish to see.

The game might have ended in the ninth if—Peeny hit a long one into the automobiles at right centre and was caught trying to stretch it into a homer. This was because of smart fielding and a perfect throw to the plate. It is a question whether he should have been sent on from third, as the next man up, Harry Mills, his brother, hit a safety to right and it would have scored him.

However, the game was not over, and Oulette managed to wriggle out of the hole; and certainly the fans saw some excellent ball after that.

PLANS FOR CLOSING CENTRAL LEAGUE

Reformer: The Central Ontario League will this year be brought to a close in a more fitting manner, the plans of which are now being arranged by Secretary J. G. Nott and President Kimmel. At the conclusion of the playing season, it has been decided to stage a game between the new champions and an all-star team picked from the remainder of the C.O.B.L. teams to take place in the city where the championship is claimed.

The game will be followed by a banquet at which the Johnson Cup will be presented. While it has been suggested in previous years that a programme similar to this be held, it has never been carried out, but this year something worth while is being promised by these officials.

KINGSTON PAIR WIN IN DOUBLES

Newman and Campbell are "Champion" Bowlers of the Local Tournament

A GREAT RECORD MADE

Dr. Allan, of Peterboro Defeated Judge Deroche in Singles Match

With the finals in the Scotch doubles and in the singles played last evening in the rain, the third annual tourney of the Belleville Bowling Club, the most successful on record, was brought to a close. Messrs. Newman and Campbell, of Kingston, defeated Symons and Turner, of Belleville, in the doubles, and Dr. Allan, of Peterborough, won from Judge Deroche in the singles.

In spite of a drizzle and a soggy green the doubles and singles "carried over" during the afternoon. Several defaults were made early in the evening in order to close up the competition, but the finals were staged and were completed.

Messrs. Newman and Campbell, of Kingston, were the skip and second bowl of the rink that won the Riggs Trophy.

Mr. Campbell also got into the prizes in the singles, but defaulted in the semi-finals owing to being engaged in the doubles. He got three times into the "prize money."

The officers of the Belleville club were congratulated by the visitors yesterday before leaving, on the successful outcome of the tourney. The results of yesterday's games:

PICNIC ENJOYED IN SPITE OF RAIN

Seventeenth Annual Gathering of St. Michael's Church Passes into History

RETURNERS ARE GRATIFYING

Dancing Pavilion Was a Popular Place—Prizes Meant Keen Contests

In spite of showery weather, the seventeenth annual picnic of St. Michael's Church held yesterday at St. Michael's grove, West Belleville, was attended by a fairly large crowd. While the inclement weather conditions kept down the attendance, the success of the outing was beyond expectations and the financial returns will be considerable. All day long the different booths did a thriving business and the dancing pavilion was a popular spot for the younger folks, an orchestra being present. The building was the Mecca for a big crowd during showers although the wooded condition of the park made the rainfall less disagreeable than usual. In the afternoon a large programme of events was put on, each race being contested very keenly.

A noteworthy feature of the picnic was a prize which was donated the lady workers. This consisted of a pair of Natural Tread Shoes, donated by Mr. V. E. Taplin. This prize was drawn for and won by Miss Julia Mullen. During the afternoon Mr. Chancey Ashley provided a treat for the children in the form of a peanut shower.

The events in detail follow: Married Men's Race—C. Frechette, A. Lloyd, Dr. O'Callaghan. Married Ladies' Race—Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Callbury. Smoking Race—C. Frechette, M. Kelley, T. Demo. Bean-and-Spoon Race—Mrs. Lloyd, Evelyn McKerron, Mrs. Callbury. Sack Race—Herb Ransom, Jack Boyle, Floyd Clair.

Girls (12 yrs.) Race—Selina Lynch, Mary Webster, Grace Donnelly. Time Race—Mrs. Callbury, Mrs. J. McGuire, Mrs. Lloyd. Boys' (12 yrs.) Race—Floyd Clair, Harold Green, Jack A. Murphy, Wilfred Flour. Single Ladies' Race—Bernice Gault, Eileen Fagan, Lillian Russell, Evelyn McKerron.

Girls' (15 yrs.) Race—Eileen Finnegan, Evelyn McKerron, Lillian Russell. 100 Yds. Open Race—C. Frechette, E. Murphy, Dr. O'Callaghan. Boys' (15 yrs.) Race—Jack Boyle, Floyd Clair, R. Ross.

Girls' (7 yrs.) Race—Aileen Belair, Evelyn Ethier, Margaret Finkle, Josephine Ross. Boys' (7 yrs.) Race—Thos. Connolly, Almer Scott, Ted Smith.

Girls' (9 yrs.) Race—Norah Kelly, Madeline Kelliher, Hilda Savage. Boys' (9 yrs.) Race—Ronald Roddell, Kenneth Brockman, Jack Murphy. Prize Waltz—Ladies (first), Miss Priscilla Doran; gentlemen (first), Mr. E. Doyle; ladies (second), Miss Eva Davis; gentlemen (second), Mr. Jenner.

FRACTURES LEG AGAIN

Reginald McAllister Meets Misfortune as He Was Recovering.

Kingston—For the second time in the past six weeks, Reginald McAllister has suffered a fracture of his leg. About the first of July the young man had his leg broken when a runaway automobile on Clarence street struck the rig he was driving and threw him out. He was taken to the General hospital and was progressing well and the bone was straightening every day. He secured a pair of crutches, and for a short time hobbled around the halls. All went well until when he was out for exercise again. Being unaccustomed to the crutches he allowed one of them to slip and he fell to the floor, with his leg broken in exactly the same place. Now he will have to undergo treatment for another six weeks.

BARNS ARE DESTROYED

Spontaneous Combustion is Believed to Have Been Cause

Kingston—The barns and other outbuildings of Percy Chester, located about three miles from Merrickville, were destroyed by fire together with their contents and a number of live stock. A barn and contents belonging to Mrs. Bennett, near Swan Station, were burned on the same day. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been responsible in each case.

Two thieves entered the home of Mrs. Sears, Nipissing Junction, in broad daylight and while she ran for assistance stole $300.

Justin Burwash, a Toronto accountant, was drowned at Goble's Grove, Lake Huron.

WEEK OF REST FOR GOYER'S ARM

Fredy Hasn't a Contest Till Next Wednesday when All go to Lindsay

WILL KEEP IN SHAPE

Oshawa Plays Peterboro Tomorrow—Port Hope Goes to Cobourg

Fredy Goyer's arm will be given a whole week's rest, as the Grand Trunks are not scheduled for a game for a week, or rather till next Wednesday. The next fixture means a road trip to Lindsay, against the team that gave them such a fine tussle last Wednesday. Then a week from tomorrow they entertain Cobourg here.

In the meantime practice will be kept going and Goyer's powerful left will be kept in shape.

Fredy, of course, always is easy on himself, and it was noticeable on Wednesday that he did not go all out like his worthy opponent, Mons. Oulette, who throws a wicked ball and puts all the steam he has behind the heave.

Papers around the circuit give rather grudging praise to Goyer. They might as well admit that he has the fatters in the league "out-guessed" when he is right.

And it is a matter of record and not necessarily a reflection on the Belleville team that the batsmen on the Peterboro and Oshawa, and even Port Hope teams, are hard people to pitch to.

Jack Roseyear is handling the Oshawa-at-Peterboro game tomorrow. If the Motor City people win they'll be tied with Belleville for the top of the heap and it will be the old, old story all over again.

Stick in a word for Jackie's bunch if you get a chance.

Port Hope plays in Tyson's town.

WINS THREE PRIZES

Mr. Vermilyea's entry, Model Warwick, has won three times at Cobourg. The latest is: District lady's or gentleman's single outfit in harness, roaster or runabout, silver cups and ribbon open to Prince Edward, Victoria, Peterboro, Northumberland and Durham, Hastings and Ontario Counties—1, Woolwich, T. N. D. Kelly, Bridgenorth; 2, Model Warwick, C. W. Vermilyea, Belleville; 3, Lady Lightfoot, C. E. Speer, Jr., Cobourg; 4, Warwick Dundura, H. B. Miller, Keene.

BABE RUSH AT MARMORA

The Hastings Star must believe the story also. It says: Marmora baseball fans are all "het up" over the prospect of seeing some of the big baseball stars performing on Marmora diamond. It seems that Pepnough, of the New York Giants has a camp near Marmora and has invited Babe Ruth, the home-run king, Tris Speaker and other shining lights of big league baseball, to join him in an outing there after the 1921 world's series games. They have expressed a willingness to play ball at Marmora, and an effort will be made to have the Belleville G. T. R. team meet the big leaguers in and exhibition game at Marmora this fall.

EASTERN STAR LIKED IT

Drove Down to Massasaga, Ate, Danced, Drove Back

Members of the Belleville Chapter of the Eastern Star to the number of sixty enjoyed an outing on Wednesday afternoon to Massasaga Park by motor. The weather while not ideal, did not interfere with the pleasures of the afternoon and evening. Arriving at the park, the hildayers entered into a program of sports for which were presented ample prizes. Banqueting in the pavilion was a feature of the outing, a plentiful supply of eats being partaken of. Dancing wound up the evening's pleasures, the party arriving home about nine o'clock. The picnic was one of the most successful function of the kind held this season.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

S. Dorothy Roberts, of Tread, won the Williamson No. 1 English and History ($65) scholarship awarded by Queen's University, Kingston, in Honor of Matriculation. Miss Esther Wagner, of Belleville, won the Calvin Day ($25) scholarship awarded by Queen's in Honor of Matriculation, which means that Miss Wagner will receive four year's tuition free at Queen's University and also $25 each year.

Dan Stewart, employed at the Hydro quarry near Walkerton, was injured while trying to put a belt on a revolving pulley with a stick. The stick caught in the belt and, whirled around, struck him on the forehead.

LABOR CONGRESS IS OPTIMISTIC; WILL CARRY ON

Meetings of Much Interest Begun at Winnipeg—37th Annual Convention

TOM MOORE'S REPORT
Sees Attempts to Defeat Ends Sought on Behalf of Laboring Man—Details

WINNIPEG, August 22.—(By Canadian Press Limited.)—"We do not feel that we are unduly optimistic in expressing our utmost confidence in the ability of the Congress successfully to meet the present crucial condition, and to continue to function successfully in guarding the interests of its affiliated membership."

In this way does the report of the Executive Committee of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada express its opinion of the situation confronting that body, which opened its thirty-seventh annual convention here today with delegates in attendance from all parts of the Dominion.

The report of the executive committee was signed by Tom Moore, President; Arthur Martel, H. J. Halford and Alex. McAndrew, vice-presidents, and P. M. Draper, secretary-treasurer.

"In Canada, as in practically all other countries, the trades union movement has suffered from those who—'boring from within'—aim to bring about the disruption and destruction of the trades union movement, and throughout the Dominion these tactics are being carried on insistently and persistently," read the executive report. "There has been no let up in the campaign (dictated by Third Internationalists of Moscow) of belittling, 'slandering' and in every way possible undermining confidence and respect for all who hold office in our movement whether local, national or international. This has brought about in many places a temporary weakening of the morale and the self-discipline of our members, with the result that the efforts of greedy employers and entrenched interests to bring about reduction in the standards of the wage earners and to destroy the growing power and influence of the trades union movement, have been far more successful than otherwise would have been the case."

A Discouraging Situation
"In spite of this discouraging condition, it is more than pleasing to report that though some affiliated organizations have suffered slight losses in their Canadian membership yet this has been more than offset by the new affiliations secured during the year, which leaves our aggregate membership no less in number, and the Congress in as strong a position as a year ago."

The Executive Committee expressed the sincere hope that the results of the convention would be to clear away any doubts or misunderstandings that exist; re-establish full confidence one in another, and enunciate policies of benefit to all. This, said the committee, must result in the combined growth in membership and power of the congress.

After describing at considerable length the work of the Congress in connection with the Parliamentary legislation at Ottawa, the committee said: "It will be noted that the session resulted in very little legislation designed to improve the social and industrial conditions of the workers, who had knowledge of its principles and platform, was particularly noticeable, its detence being left, with few exceptions, to the good will and such information as they possessed of corporation lawyers, employers and representatives of financial institutions."

"A Serious Menace"
Dealing with Immigration the Executive Committee report said: "The past policies of the Congress relative to oriental immigration and the Institution of the British Central Immigration Board have been drawn to the attention of the Government and public authorities whenever opportunity presented. The number of Orientals at present in Canada and still coming to this country remains a serious menace, especially in British Columbia, but so far efforts to have this matter officially dealt with by the government have been unsuccessful."

"The question of immigration is of the utmost importance at this time because of the serious condition existing in this country whilst the workers of Canada have no desire to debar any worker from another country and especially from the British Isles, from securing the opportunity to improve his position, yet we realize that at the present time these opportunities do not exist in the Dominion of Canada."

The committee announced the preparation of a special memorandum

SOME ODD TALES OFF THE WIRES

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A campaign to lower the high cost of birth has been launched by Commissioner Coler of the Department of Public Welfare.

He declared that big fees by obstetricians keep down the birth rate in families with an income of $2,500 to $5,000. Asserting that this group was too proud to accept charity in city hospitals and too poor to pay the rates prevailing in private hospitals, the commissioner announced he was admitting to municipal institutions patients able to pay moderate fees.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—New Yorkers have developed such a passion for reading the dictionary that a time limit of three minutes has been placed on perusers at the New York Public Library, it was learned today. A librarian is posted at the dictionary shelf to keep the line moving.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—A statewide investigation of arm chair lunch rooms with special reference to prices charged and quantity and quality of food served, is planned by the commission on necessities of life. The commission said complaints had been received from a number of cities. In some instances it was alleged that price cuts were followed by reduction in the size of the order or lowering of the quality of food.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Lillian LeBello, recently granted a divorce from Anthony LeBello, employee of a gasoline filling station, will receive $75 a month alimony because, she said, her husband makes $300 extra a month by cheating motorists.

"How can you expect your husband to pay $75 a month alimony when his salary is only $165 a month?" Judge Samuel Stough asked Mrs. LeBello.

"Oh, he makes $200 a month extra," the witness answered. "Motorists pay for the amount of gasoline they order, not for the amount the filler puts in their tanks. In this difference is where my husband makes his extra money."

"Every reasonable effort is being made to bring about a proper understanding in this matter. The position is very difficult, however, as the principles and policies of the National Catholic Union are so opposite to those of the international trades union movement, and their efforts up to the present time seem to have entirely been confined to breaking down the working conditions established by members of the international trade unions and opposing progressive measures instituted by our organizations."

The Rotary Club today heard safety first speeches from Mr. J. D. McMillan, Supt. of this division of the Grand Trunk Railway and from Mr. O. H. Scott, local manager of the H. E. Power Company.

Both told of what their concerns were doing in the way of prevention of accidents, how unsafe conditions were reported on and corrected and how lives and suffering were saved or prevented.

The railways have large committees of men in different parts of the system reporting constantly and nothing is left undone to prevent accidents, while the Hydro is attempting to educate the people from school age up to be careful in handling wires and connections.

"Ninety-five per cent. of accidents," said Mr. McMillan, "are found to be due to carelessness."

Mr. "Bob" Wray reported that visiting bowlers had been loud in their praise of the way they had been treated here.

Mr. Jennings brought up the subject of bath houses, suggesting a site between No. 1 fire hall and the C.P.R. bridge. Mr. Ackerman suggested the centre of Victoria Park.

A committee was appointed to see what the Rotary Club could do to straighten out the matter of the $5,000 bequest of the late Senator Corby with respect to bathing facilities.

BANCROFT.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Foster, of Toronto, are guests of friends and relatives in Bancroft and vicinity.

Mr. Geo. Thompson, returned home from Toronto last week, bringing with him a well matched general purpose team.

Miss Stella Lumb, teller in the local bank here, is spending her vacation with friends in the southern part of the county.

Miss Bertha Tummson, of Plainfield, who has been the guest of Miss Stella Lumb, returned home on Monday.

Mrs. W. J. Hawker, accompanied by her sister, Annie Graham, returned to her home near Picton, after a two weeks' vacation spent in Bancroft.

Mrs. George Negus and husband and family, spent five days with her sister, Mrs. George Eaton. They returned to Sudas, New York State, U.S.A. on Monday.

A stone crusher is at work on the Provincial Highway between here and Bird's Creek. This is the first stone crusher to have reached the North. From now on big things are being looked forward to in road building in North Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Watson, of Tweed, were visitors in town last week. Ken twirled a game of ball for the local nine on Friday last against Maynooth. A good exhibition game was played, both teams being heartily applauded. The score at the end of the ninth was 8-1 in favor of Bancroft. Postmaster George handled the indicator and his Ump gave fair decisions.

MR. W. H. HASLETT RECOUNTS RACE OF "ATLANTA" IN 1881; GLAD TO SEE BOATING REVIVED

Agincourt, Ont., Aug. 18, '21. Editor Ontario:—

I read with a great deal of pleasure the communication to the Belleville press a short time ago by W. C. Mikel on Yachting on the Bay of Quinte, as I resided in Belleville years ago, and took great interest in that sport. In fact I was one of the crew that sailed from Belleville to New York, a distance of about 600 miles, on the "Atlanta" to compete in the World's Championship race of New York for the America Cup, for which Sir Thomas Lipton has competed four times.

The splendid spirit that commenced and carried out this magnificent world feat placed Belleville on the map for a time, was a tribute to the so much favorable comment on Belleville people of that day, which former energy and progressiveness built Belleville. For, most of the business section, two-thirds of the residences, most of the industrial plants, the City Hall, the Fire Stations, the Water Works, the Gas Works, the Hospital, the Bay Bridge, and the railway communication to the north, were constructed 30 years or more ago. Most of those beautiful shade trees that attract so much attention and excite so much favorable comment of Belleville, were planted 30 years or more ago. The builders of Belleville were great. With the additional railway communication and electric power the people of today in Belleville could raise a superstructure of greatness if they would display the same energy and progressiveness as the men of the past. If people in Belleville would combine to carry out some big feature that would make the readers of every newspaper in the United States and some of them in Europe read about Belleville, at intervals, Belleville would be permanently on the map and some of the industries that have been coming to Canada from foreign countries would hear of Belleville and come there.

With a view of helping to revive aquatic sports in Belleville I will give a short account of the above mentioned race. City Clubs and Country Clubs are all very well and the sporting Clubs are what usually determine a town's business progressiveness. J. J. B. Flint and the late C. P. Holton supplied the principal part of the funds and Capt. Outhbert was the builder of the "Atlanta," and though not fully completed she sailed away from Belleville in June, 1881. The crew consisted of Capt. Outhbert, Hugh Thompson, myself, Tim Sullivan and some others whose names have left my memory. The passage via Oswego and Erie Canal was slow. The race was held in October of above year, the competing yacht being the "Mischief" of New York Yacht Club, sailed by Hank Hall. The "Atlanta" was over-spurred and improperly ballasted with iron ore instead of lead so that we were unable to carry as much canvas as the "Mischief." The fact that the "Atlanta" was a faster boat was proven the next season, when the "Atlanta" beat the "Cora" at Chicago, six miles, the "Cora" having held the "Mischief" nearly even in a prior race. King Rogers who still lives in Belleville was a member of the crew of the "Atlanta" in the Chicago race. We tailed at New York, but Belleville's feat was the talk of the yachting world for years. The New York Yacht Club evidently felt after the "Atlanta's" win in Chicago against the "Cora" that the "Atlanta" would capture the America Cup so they made a regulation prohibiting any yacht racing for the Cup that was not built on salt water and owned on salt water and did not sail from its port to New York. This practically keeps the Cup in New York because a yacht that is strong enough to sail across the ocean is too heavy for a racer.

Yours truly,
W. W. HASLETT.

WHY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE ALWAYS POPULAR.

Mr. Mike Stwone, of Queen St. West, Toronto, is One of the Many Who Tell Why He Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 22.—(Special) "Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best medicine I ever took."

This is the statement of Mr. Mike Stwone, of 1316 Queen St. West, this city. And Mr. Stwone gives a reason: "I had been trying all kinds of medicines," he says, "but I never found satisfaction till I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Stwone has given the reason why Dodd's Kidney Pills are popular all over Canada. They give satisfaction. Dodd's Kidney Pills are not a remedy for everything under the sun. They are for the treatment of kidney diseases and those diseases that spring from diseased kidneys.

It is in treating such diseases they have made their reputation. They have made it by giving satisfaction. They have been used for rheumatism, lumbago, dropsy, diabetes, urinary troubles and heart disease, and the satisfied people who used them are singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all corners of Canada.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best medicine for sick kidneys.

GEORGE HOGAN JOINS BLUE PIERROT COMPANY

Kingston—George Hogan, a former employee of the Grand Opera House, has been engaged by the Blue Pierrot Company for their Canadian transcontinental tour as chief electrician. Mr. Hogan joined the company in Cobourg on Friday, and the first performance will be in Toronto on Monday. The show is booked for presentation in Kingston.

PLAN TO MERGE TWO CLUBS, YACHTING AND GOLF, FAVORED; WORK ON GROUNDS THIS FALL

The proposed country club for this district is within realization. The $20,000 stock originally planned to be offered has been subscribed and the work of laying out the course will begin within two weeks. An expert in the laying of courses will be brought here. A large and suitable tract of land has been secured about midway between this city and the town of Trenton for the club.

The club, it is now proposed, will be called the "Quinte Yacht and Country Club."

The clubhouse and grounds will be ready for use and occupancy next summer.

When the club is in operation meals will be served at the clubhouse to those at the course at the meal hour, so that the members will not be forced to come to the city for their luncheon.

If the proposal of the yachting enthusiasts materializes, boating will be one of the features of the club's activities.

FIVE MOTOR BANDITS ROB VILLAGE JEWELS, DODGE POLICE BULLETS

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Five armed automobile bandits robbed the jewelry store of Elias Barbeau, Main St., Buckingham, Que., early this morning of various articles of jewelry, valued at $2,000, and emerging victorious from a brief gun fight with a squad of Ottawa constables sent to intercept them at Gateau Point, a village on the outskirts of this city. They were able to make good their escape. When last seen the car was proceeding at high speed in the general direction of Carleton Place, Ont.

BOY IS THROWN HURT IN CHEST

John Gulliver, 80 Cannifton Road, Victim of Odd Spill on Front Sid

John Gulliver, living at 80 Cannifton Road, was injured when his bicycle collided with a motor on Front Street last Friday. The boy was riding north and ran into the car which was being driven and turned around by Mr. W. S. Fox, of Rednersville, near Campbell Street corner. Young Gulliver fell under the car on the handlebars of the bicycle. The motorist offered to take him to a doctor or home, and the police advising the former as the lad complained of pains in the chest. The car into which the bicycle ran had been at rest at the curb facing north, and was being turned around by the driver who was going to drive south on the street.

Judge Deroche Dismissed Appeal from Sentence of Police Magistrate

On Friday afternoon County Judge Deroche dismissed the appeal of Loomis Reeves, of Madoc, against the police court decision of Magistrate Masson under which Reeves was fined five hundred dollars and costs for having liquor illegally. The judgment of the magistrate accordingly stands against Reeves. W. Carneau for the Department and Mr. F. E. O'Flynn for the appellant.

TO HAVE LONG HOLIDAY

Smiths Falls—The Frost & Wood establishment, Smith's Falls, which is accustomed to take an annual holiday, began this year's on Monday. This year's is likely to be longer than usual—to be two or three months instead of two or three weeks. Some of the reasons which have led the Massey-Harris works in Toronto to close would apply to it.

Permanent Roadway First at Brockville End of Road Annoys Belleville Motorists

Already there is in sight for the Belleville-Brockville division of the Provincial Highway a section of permanent roadway. Unfortunately it is not to be near enough for Belleville motorists to derive much benefit from it.

The section to be paved is for four miles on the west side of the town of Brockville. The contract originally called for waterbound macadam, similar to that in service on most of the country roads. This has now been changed to include a surface of bituminous binder, applied by the hot penetration method, which will give a permanent surface.

There has been considerable agitation among residents of the highway, such as western Ontario cities are favored with. This contention is based on the grounds that there is no road bearing heavier traffic than the highway along the north shore of the Bay of Quinte.

OBITUARY

FUNERAL OF MR. J. E. GEEN. The funeral of the late James Ernest Geen of Thomasburg took place on Saturday afternoon at Thomasburg Church where the Rev. Mr. Merritt conducted an impressive service, assisted by the Rev. W. Barter and Rev. A. L. Gen. The burial was made in Thomasburg cemetery, the bearers being M. Morland, A. Post, B. Dean, W. McInroy, D. Wallace and W. McCaffrey. The obsequies were under the direction of the Ivanhoe L.O.L. No. 435, the services being conducted by D. Hollinger and H. Burke.

MISS LUCY M. BLAKELY. Miss Lucy M. Blakely passed away last night at the home of her brother, Mr. Richard Blakely, Hallockville, Prince Edward County. She had been in ill health for some time. She was 78 years of age and was a daughter of the late William Blakely. She was a member of the Methodist Church. Her only surviving relative is her brother, who is the last of the family of eleven children. The late A. F. Blakely was a nephew of deceased.

MEMORIAL 1916—August 21st—1921. Come to me out of the realm of silence

My beloved companion of long ago: Here, in the shade of deepening twilight

Come to me, radiant with Heaven's halo. Here, in the city of silent sleepers. Our spirits communing 'neath starry sky;

Thankful for love bonds which know no parting Begun here below, made perfect on high.

Together beneath wide spreading branches On grass-grown pathway padded and soft;

My soul knit with thine in love undying To the world, for awhile, I will be lost.

Lost to the world, and its sordid sorrows; Lost to its strife, and its fretting cares;

Lost to its pastime, and selfish pleasure, Forgetting its pain, its grief and its tears.

Soon I shall meet thee beyond the gloaming, No twilight shadow shall cross our way;

And in the presence of Christ the Saviour, We'll love Him, and serve Him in perfect day! A. M. H.

BIRTH. DONE — In Belleville on Saturday, Aug. 20th, to Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson Bone, a daughter.

The soil of Zion City, Ill., may be unfavorable to the development of low neck waist and high-water skirts, but it certainly does raise vegetables.

Brother Crabtree was accused of being a profiteer, when he sold one bean for 20 cents, but investigation showed he had grown a string bean 2 feet 6 inches long. When sliced up it made three quarts.
