NEW MODERN AMBULANCE IS WANTED FOR THE CITY

Board of Health Is To-day Undertaking Campaign To Raise $3,000 For Up-to-date Motor Equipment—Cause Is Humanitarian One. With the hope of raising enough money to purchase a modern and up to date ambulance for the city, the Board of Health is starting a campaign today for subscriptions. Below is a copy of a letter which is going out to various firms, lodges, stores and persons. It is hoped that the sum of $3,000 will be obtained so that a fine car suitable for the uses of a city of this size can be bought.

TO BE FOR QUICK SERVICE

The Journal believes the cause is a most worthy one and should be supported. Some years ago Mr. P. I. Price and other generous citizens gave to the city the ambulance which has been used up to date. Their gift has been much appreciated but now the time has come when the Board of Health wants to have a motor ambulance kept at the fire hall or at some other such place where it will be available for use night or day on short calls. The Board made a grant of $500 toward the purchase but believed that the interest of citizens in the movement would provide the remainder of the money if an appeal were only made. With the hope of getting the balance of the money Dr. Currey, the new Medical Officer of Health, stated to the Board that he would undertake to assist in every way to lay the matter before the public and he feels confident that the worthiness of the cause will appeal to the people. It is not desired that only the well to do should contribute but that every person, poor or prominent or humble, should take an interest in this movement and give something to help the Board get what it needs. Already some subscriptions have been promised, then though the letters are only being sent out today. This paper will be glad to acknowledge all subscriptions sent in and it would ask the workers of St. Catharines in the factory, shop, store, etc., to give what they can. The cause is a humanitarian one, to convey those who are sick and injured to and from hospitals. LETTER TO THE PUBLIC. Dear Sir: For some years the only ambulance available for use in this city has been a horse drawn one which was bought by a few loyal citizens. This vehicle having served its purpose is now unfit for further use, and the Board of Health are of the opinion that a modern motor ambulance should be purchased this month and kept at one of the city fire halls where it will be ready for an emergency call day or night. Every year there are serious accidents in our factories and speed in getting these cases to a hospital is often the means of saving a life. We want the co-operation of every citizen in this very worthy cause. Will you help us with a subscription? Just sign the enclosed form and send to J. Albert Pay, Secretary St. Catharines Board of Health. All donations will be acknowledged in the evening papers. I remain, Respectfully yours, Secretary Local Board of Health.

WELCOME TO BE GIVEN MEMBERS OF C.M.R. UNIT

Public Meeting to be Held Tomorrow Night in Council Chamber to Make Arrangements for Reception.

VETERANS SEND DELEGATION

At a meeting of the War Veterans last night it was decided to send the following ex-members of the C.M.R.'s to Toronto as a delegation to meet the men who are returning from overseas and who are expected to reach this city early tomorrow. Lieut. Alfred Bean, M. C. Sergt. H. Plummer. C. Q. M. S., F. W. McCusker. Corporals James Abbs, W. Miles, A. R. McDonald.

Lieut. Bean was also requested to get in touch with the local committee at Toronto and find out if it is possible for the men who are coming over to St. Catharines and who will be travelling in a group in uniform, to get a cheap rate for the trip.

Met With Heavy Losses

In connection with the home coming of members of the C. M. R.'s it is an unfortunate fact that the original unit was so decimated from time to time in engagements that it is now made up of reinforcements from five battalions. In the honor roll there are three members who have received Victoria crosses and a large number who have won other decorations. There are fifteen St. Catharines men returning so far as can be learned, but this is all. Some of course, of the original unit are now back here and the surrounding country.

St. Kitts to Extend Welcome

It is planned that St. Catharines shall also extend a civic welcome to the returning heroes, the first group of any one unit to return at one time. Just what form it will take is yet unknown but the Mayor is calling a public meeting for tomorrow night at the City Council Chamber of all citizens who desire to attend and the details will then be worked out. From what can be learned it is likely the returning men will reach here on the 4 o'clock train Thursday afternoon, although more definite information will be received from the delegates who go to Toronto and who will find out just the hour when the group is leaving for St. Catharines.

It may be the Mayor, stated this morning, that if they come in on the 4 o'clock train he will declare the time a holiday from that hour forward for the afternoon so that every one can go over to the train to give a welcome. It is intended to have the school children or as many as possible on hand also.

SHOULD KNOW PROSPECTS

A citizen well versed in Canadian politics stated yesterday that in his opinion nothing will so quickly settle the apparent unrest amongst labor and employers generally as an immediate statement of the intentions of the Government on the tariff question. So far, he said, no sensible business men will enter into any important engagements until they feel certain of the stability of tariff conditions.

SOD TURNED TODAY FOR THE ROSE GARDEN

Team Began This Morning to Plow up Place in the Park for Beauty Spot.

The Park and Cemetery Committee have men at work this morning breaking up the ground in the city park, preparatory to converting it into a fine rose garden. It appears they have changed their opinion as to the site which seems to be good for thought, as instead of the plot being at an angle near the corner of Queen and Midland Streets, as first suggested, it will be on the west side of the slope between Queen Street and the pavilion. There is considerable gravel in the soil at the spot chosen, which will have to receive a plentiful supply of well-rotted manure worked into it to adapt it for the purpose required, as roses flourish best in a fat, well pulverized soil, with plenty of humus. The earth in the park is deficient in this necessity and the lack of it is shown in hot weather when the grass soon turns to a rusty brown.

MANY PERSONS KILLED IN THE RIOTS AT HALLE

In Attempt to Clean up Suburbs of Berlin and Sweep Out Spartacans, Government Force Encounters Stormy Scenes.

Berlin, March 18.—Fifty-five persons have been killed and 170 wounded in the riots at Halle. Two hundred and eighty persons have been arrested for pillaging. The value of the stolen property is estimated at 18,000,000 marks. Government troops which are cleaning up the suburbs of Rahnisdorf and Friedrichshaven of Spartacans report two Independent Socialist in Rahnisdorf, who prove to have distributed arms to other independents and to Communists and to have incited to violence. Chairman is arrested. The chairman of the soldiers council in Wilhelmshaven, who is also an Independent Socialist, has been arrested, with a soldier, because they distributed weapons to soldiers in the hospital there. Two aidmen of Friedrichshaven, two laborers and one member of the soviet, all of them independents, have been taken into custody for causing loyal soldiers stationed in Friedrichshaven to be disarmed at the beginning of the general strike, according to the report.

This is the first instance of definite mention being made of the unrest of Independent Socialists, and it is believed to be probable that the report was given out owing to a desire by the government to expose the connection of the independents with the Spartacans and the uprisings, which the Independent leaders have stoutly denied. It is reported also that the troops found large quantities of arms and ammunition in Lichtenberg, which suburb has now been thoroughly cleared of the Spartacans, even the roof snipers being no longer in evidence.

THE POWER OF THE HAMILTON PRESS

This boasted power of the press received an awful jolt in Hamilton in the triumph of Sir Adam Beck and the Hydro-Electric by-law over the combined machine gun fusillade of the "Spec" the "Times" and "Herald." The quantity of ink slung against the project would paint a good sized fence and yet the effects of the spasms were no avail.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The flag of an Irish Republic was carried in a procession in Montreal on St. Patrick's Day. Orange and green flags were also carried, but carrying a flag does not create a Republic.

The unprogressive old fogies of the township of Saltfleet who put 69 crosses against the Radial R.R. by-law must now feel sorely pickled.

The Spectator says that barely over 50 per cent of the voters in Hamilton marked their ballots pro or con in the Hydro contest on Saturday. Such being the case, it is fair to assume the other fifty were in favor of the bylaw or at least not opposed to it.

VETERAN NEWSPAPER MAN HONORED BY STAFF

A pleasant event took place in the editorial rooms of the Journal yesterday afternoon when Mr. M. J. Crowley, on behalf of the members of the staff, presented Mr. Charles Burrows with a pipe on the occasion of his eightieth birthday. Mr. Burrows made a suitable reply, thanking the members of the staff for the little gift from which he said he would take much pleasure. Mr. Burrows is a veteran newspaper man of this city whose occasional reminiscences appearing in The Journal are decidedly interesting.

The many friends will be pleased to hear she is now able to be out-of-doors, and will enjoy her visit to the fullest extent.

Unexaggerated Fishing

YOU should read this story. Usually a fishing tale is deep waters for most people to wade through; but this one deals with dry land, mountains and ripples. So you see it is different from the ordinary tale where the young hero goes forth with a ten-foot outfit and catches the giant trout of the deep still pool for whom anglers from all parts of the world had cast in profane vain. It is all right to tell about lying on one's stomach with the face against the water, watching the flies, to learn what kind the trout were eating. It is all right to tell about the fishing outfit, sit down and bring forth an inexhaustible supply of flies from which one selects the very duplicate of the insect the trout like at that particular instant. And it is fine to tell how the angler cast his delicate lure on the end of his silken thread, dropping it lightly as a skimming in-sec on the very surface of the water, the big trout lay hungrily waiting. Then the whirl of the reel and the three-hour fight, ending in the thrill of victory which comes when a well-managed landing net smashes the exhausted fish.

It makes good stuff; but many fishermen know more of broken leads, snagged hooks and snappy little eight-ouncers, if an unskipping fly tell about a real fishing trip.

They told me I would get good fishing at Banff, so I took the Canadian Pacific westbound out of Calgary and went. On board I noticed an elderly person whose physical idiosyncrasies included the lean, leathery, brown characteristics of westernism. He eyed me and my outfit; he edged closer and he spoke of tobacco and rain. He accepted my pouch, filled his pipe-bowl, stamped it with a horny thumb, cast a weather-eye on the approaching mountain peaks, and predicted sunshine. Then he mentioned fishing.

It was not what it used to be he declared between tobacco clouds. "He remembers when seven or ten or fifty cast men went seven or ten or fifty rises of the biggest, blindingly most vigorous fish that ever lived; the cutthroats, none less than a pound and a half, many exceeding five pounds each. "Them days was real fishin'." An' them fish were game fighters. He mended one ole fellow who everyone had tried to get. This fish was stranded of all of them, and he lived in a deep hole beside a perpendicular rock. He tuk ever 'bit uh bait that anybody cast, but when he found himself hooked he jest naturally run to this here wall of that rock an' rubbed his nose agin th' stone, wearing out th' gut an' freelin' him-

MERRITTON

At the moving picture show to-night the wonderful picture "Smashing Through" will be exhibited, as well as other reels that will be very interesting to the many who have been attending these shows since they began. The proceeds, which go towards a memorial monument are rapidly increasing, and so don't after the Easter Monday ball and the field day held on May 24th, by the Merriton Hose Company, a large amount of money will be in the hands of the committees in charge.

A very painful accident occurred at the Lybster Paper Mill on Monday afternoon when Leo Hedden, who resides with Mr. Case on Turner Street, had the misfortune to have his arm caught in the machinery which he was operating, badly spraining same. As a result of the accident Mr. Hedden will be confined to his home for a few days.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church very pleasantly entertained the Thorold League to a St. Patrick's Party last night. Despite the bad weather a large number was present and a most enjoyable time was spent. A choice programme of readings, vocal and instrumental music was rendered by the following talent: Nellie Gillis, Miss Kerr, Mr. Armstrong and Frank Wilson. After the programme was over a very interesting spelling match was held.

The Ladies Aid of St. James church will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Clark, Merriton Street.

self." But my informant, being more canny and wise than other fishermen of his day, befouled the giant trout by not using gut. "He tuk uh hunt uh line steel wire, jointed it with swivels and hooked the monster. Then Zani! The fish was so astonished that he did not wiggle an inch of his twelve-point body until he fell straight on the grate above the gravel bar. But those days were over and one did not catch any more big fish. Eventually I reached Banff, and was told to fish either up the Spray or up the Bow. These added that the waters were rising and fish would not be hungry, but again I might succeed. With weapons rigged I went up the Bow to a promising place. I was told about it had deep water with big eddies and a nice back-drift, a few big rocks, and a submerged ledge just below the feeding rapids above the pool. Fine. Favorably and eagerly I cast. Then steadily and doggedly. Then slowly and sullenly. Then, glory! The line went out. I had a nice inch fish. Much cheered I went on casting. The sun went down, the sky began to darken, the mountains stood black against the dimming azure. I fagged in my efforts. I sat on a log and let the line drag. Dazzled went the reel. A fish flashed in the rapids.

Having a new landing net I was very anxious to try it. It was the kind that fastens to a hook on a belt and comes off with the flick of a hand whenever necessary. I had no hook and had buttoned it on my suspender button. Having passed through much brush on my way to the pool I knew the net was going to require care in getting ready for use. "Having hooked a fish I very calmly brought my self free of how to land him, so I plucked the net and the button came to the consternation of my suspenders.

Now my fish gave the one pound pull and the two pound bite all right. He also was there with the scheduled weight of rush. Things looked good for him to keep up the first scale, too, but when it came to the five pound bend—the gut broke and I went home to the hotel. "Next morning with the bright sunlight lighting the eastern slopes of Mount Rundle and lesser peaks, I went alone up river. Here and there and everywhere I dropped the seductive bait in the rising glacial pool with no results. "Darn," I remarked. My line fell slack and uncared for into swift water and I looked up the river for some better seeming point. "Bang!" Something bit my rod like an express train, and like an express train the silk ran out and out. Against I stood and merely checked. Something was on. Out went the line, straight across the swift water; then I saw a large black streak break far out in the edge of white water. Once, twice, three times the fish took the air, and the reel kept singing all the time. He sounded, he rushed, he drove upstream and then zig-zagged down. Again and again he broke two feet clear of the current. Forty yards of line was out and I had but five left, so I hopelessly checked light, deciding that if he was going to break my lead it was no use worrying. But lead, rod, line and hook held, and the fish swung down on the surface, mouth open and gasping. There was brush all around, and no space to either work up or down. The full sweep of the river raced by with the resolute eddies. More hopelessly I reeled in, his troutship putting up frequent but lessening furries. Finally he was close and I tried the new rod and hook and gut the net was set. As the line slackened the hook dropped out, but there was the fish; three pounds of sparkling, spotted cutthroat trout, twenty-three inches long.

There was no more fishing. I went home satisfied. The gentle reed will note that even this story ends in the usual way with the big fish safely landed.

THE WEEK IN THE LEGISLATURE

(Special to The Journal)

Toronto, March 18.—The chief item of interest during the week was the continuance of the Debate on the Budget, by Mr. C. M. Bowman of West Bruce. Mr. Bowman ironically congratulated the Government upon the recent appointment of the Minister of Agriculture, who, according to the Provincial Treasurer, was particularly well qualified for the post. He had a happy disposition, was a graduate of Toronto University and Guelph Agricultural College and also a practical farmer. Mr. Bowman could only think that the province must have suffered a severe loss in not having this gentleman at the head of the Department of Agriculture for the past couple of years, when his outstanding qualifications must have been apparent to the first Minister all along.

By the time Mr. Bowman had finished with the Treasurer's financial statement he had revealed a deficit of approximately $1,544,000 in lieu of the Treasurer's announced surplus of something over $1,800,000.

Subjects of Criticism
 Among the matters criticised by the Liberal member were the following: (1) The concealment of specific and important items of current receipts under casual revenue. The Government had placed receipts in respect of work done by tractors and the sale of tractors and seed wheat in an account marked "casual revenue" when it should have appeared in the statement of receipts for the Department of Agriculture. (2) The treatment of receipts from disposal of capital assets as current receipts. The Government had received over $679,000 in respect of timber houses and $790,000 in respect of timber dues which they had treated as current receipts. He explained that this money came into the hands of the Treasurer through the disposal of capital assets, and that the capital assets of the province were reduced in value accordingly. (3) The exorbitant cost of civil government. In 1906 it cost the province only $428,000, roughly for civil government. According to the Public Accounts for last year it had reached the tremendous figure of $1,720,54. Mr. Bowman attributed this excessive cost to the patronage system which overloaded the civil service with men who were simply being rewarded for Party services and gave no return in value to the Province.

Improvident Expenditure
 The speaker described the Government's activities in Northern Ontario as "wasteful and improvident." Out of a total of $5,000,000 expended up to the present time, over $4,000,000 had been expended on roads. He had seen examples of the wasteful policy of the Government when in the north country. Miles of roads had been built where there were no settlers and where none would be for many years to come. He strongly advocated a policy for the development of communities of contented, prosperous settlers by surveying townships of first class agricultural land, providing suitable drainage, schools and churches, instead of concentrating expenditure upon roads alone which would go to pieces before they could be utilized.

Lincoln Member Speaks
 Two other Liberal members contributed usefully to the Debate. Mr. Thos. Marshall (Lincoln) strongly depreciated the Government's procedure in connection with text books. He showed the large increase in the cost of books required for a public school education and pointed out that the Text Book Commission appointed by the Government had cost the province since 1906 the huge amount of $177,920.95. Mr. Marshall also read figures to the House dealing with the expenses of Government House, Toronto. He pointed out how in 1912 the estimate for building and site was $400,000. In 1913 it went up to $622,000. In 1914 the estimate was $875,000. Over $1,000,000 had been expended in all. This expenditure in spite of the fact that under an Act passed in 1897 it was expressly stated that the proceeds from the sale of old Government House should be set aside for the purpose of the new Government House. The Act provided that no other sums should be appropriated by the Legislature for the maintenance or support of Government House. As a matter of fact the Government expended over $24,000 in maintenance last year. The Liberal member referred to some of the items of expense, such as $800 for kitchen utensils; rugs at a cost of $1,400, $1,300 and $1,100 respectively; locks and hinges, $860; $367 for stall fittings for four horses. The member suggested that the horses must have been fitted out with spring beds and pyjamas. Another item which the member facetiously touched upon was that of expenditure for "dog crates." There was one in the dining room; another in the living room; and another in the writing room. He thought perhaps the idea was that the dog might, if it tired of the dining room grate, go into the living room; but could not quite decide what the dog would want to do in a writing room.

Deals With Taxation
 Mr. Sam Carter of Guelph chiefly dealt with the taxation of nickel companies and the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act. He maintained that the nickel companies should be taxed very much more severely in Ontario, pointing out how the United States received far more in taxation from Ontario nickel than the Province did. He declared that the Government was "lumpy" on the prohibition question, and did not think there was any occasion for their being so. He read a report by a liquor inspector showing that the law enforcement had been very lax, and begged for the co-ordination of all criminal law officers so that they might be able to enforce every kind of criminal law.

No legislation has yet been proposed to the House in regard to the liquor question.

Notes of Legislature
 Three Bills are ready for final reading, namely, The Housing Act, an Act appointing a Director of Municipal Affairs, and an Act to amend the Fire Marshall's Act. It is expected that the Housing legislation will become law within a few days at the outside.

According to the Government, a General Purchasing Agent for the Province will be appointed shortly.

Mr. Sam Carter of Guelph seeks to exempt improvements to a certain extent from taxation. Mr. McDonald of N. Bruce proposes to encourage building in small towns and villages by permitting municipalities to exempt workmen's houses to some degree from taxation.

The Vacant Lot Cultivation Act will be continued this year. The Factory Act is to be amended to protect women and girls employed in camps.

BILIOUSNESS HOW TO PREVENT AND CURE

Among the earliest symptoms are furred tongue and dull headache. Then come dizzy spells, bad taste, quick pulse, fever and cold sweats. Finally, sleeplessness and vomiting make the condition of the sufferer almost intolerable.

The root of biliousness is with the liver which is clogged and can't keep bile from getting into the blood.

Nothing works with the certainty of Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they act directly on the liver, restore the bile to its proper course and prevent it from miasmatising the vital fluid.

Of course, the bowels are ordered and relaxed by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the kidneys receive new tonic, the blood is renovated, and the result is a renewal of good health.

No need for delay, the sooner you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the sooner you'll feel the brisk, keen satisfaction of a healthy, well-regulated system. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c.

APPLE SCAB KILLS LARGE PART OF CROP

Expert Advice From Department of Agriculture on Methods to be Used in Preventing Scalding Spotting

Apple Scab It is estimated that in Ontario the average yearly loss amounts to about 25 per cent. of the crop. No definite figures are available as to the losses due to the rot of apples in storage, but it is at least 10 per cent. and perhaps reaches 20 per cent. on the average. The losses from rot are of greater importance economically than those from scab, since they involve the loss of a considerable amount of direct human labor—that is, the apple is lost after it has been picked, handled several times, and stored away.

Apple rots are of course due to the attacks of certain fungi, of which two are most common in Ontario, namely the Black Rot fungus and the Blue Mold fungus. Of these the last is the cause of the greater part of the rot in storage. These fungi are living plants which grow in the tissue of the apple and destroy it, after which they produce immense numbers of very minute dust-like "spores," which we call spores. These spores will grow just like seeds and as they are so small they are readily blown about by the lightest air currents, and thus the fungus is spread from one apple to another. The following hints will be of use in helping to keep down the amount of rot in stored apples.

Prevention. In the first place the storage room should be clean. The Blue Mold fungus will grow on various kinds of litter and produce its spores very plentifully on rotten straw. If the cellar is kept free from dirt and refuse, and no rotten fruits are allowed to remain there, the chances for rot infection are greatly lessened.

The cellar should also be kept reasonably dry. The spores of these rot fungi, like seeds, will not start to grow unless they have sufficient water. A reasonably dry cellar will therefore keep the spores from germinating, even if there are some of them present.

The temperature of the cellar should be kept as low as possible. The rot fungi like other plants grow best in warm conditions, and will be able to make very little progress if the temperature is kept within a few degrees of freezing. Rot fungi get into the apple usually at some wound or bruise. The less injury that apples receive in handling the less rot they will develop afterwards.

When the storage cellar is emptied in the spring, it should be thoroughly cleaned, and if possible whitewashed or treated with disinfectant to destroy all spores of the rot fungi. The musty smell which is present in many cellars is produced by the Blue Mold fungus, consequently if the characteristic moldy odour remains in the cellar this fungus is certainly somewhere about, and every effort should be made to get rid of it before the next season's crop is stored there.

Spotting and Scalding. In addition to the above notes on fungus rots attention should also be called to the spotting and scalding of apples in storage, which is not due to fungi, but which is the direct result of improper storage conditions. Spotting and scalding of apples is very frequent towards spring. The spots on the skin are sunken and brown and greatly disfigure the fruit for sale, while scalding is even more damaging to the appearance. In this latter trouble the flesh just under the skin turns brown in irregular areas.

While, as noted, these troubles are not directly due to rot fungi, they are likely to give easy entrance to rot producing fungi afterwards. Both spot and scald arise from improper storage conditions, and will be worse on fruit that has not matured properly before being picked. The three storage conditions that favor spot and scald development are: (1) high temperature, (2) humidity and (3) stagnant air. It should be understood that the fruit is not completely dormant during the storage period, but that there is a constant, if small, continuation of growth processes throughout the whole period. These processes result in maturing or mellowing the apple, and the classical processes which occur during them involve the absorption of oxygen from the air and the giving out of carbon dioxide. It is, in fact, a slow breathing process. When apples are stored in a place where they have no free access to air they are "smothered" and the scald which develops on them is due to abnormal chemical changes brought about because of an inadequate air supply. If the room is too warm the growth processes are quickened and scald or spotting is increased. Very moist or humid air also aggravates these troubles.

It is obvious that in an ordinary cellar spotting and scalding can be largely avoided by a little attention to the needs of the fruit for cool, dry conditions, and a continuous supply of fresh air during the storage period.

Some Hints It is recommended, (1) that apples should be stored in small lots rather than in large close piles or bins. They should preferably be kept in open slatted boxes or other similar containers which will allow all the fruit to have free access to air. (2) That the temperature be kept as low as is consistent with protection from frost and (3) that plenty of ventilation be provided. If the air is changed frequently the incoming supply will not only renew the oxygen but will drive out the old, stagnant air which is laden with moisture and over-charged with carbon dioxide. The method of ventilation can best be determined by conditions; in some instances air shafts can be used, while in others the opening of doors and windows on mild days will be possible. In almost all cases some simple means of securing frequent changes of air can be readily adopted and the fruit thus kept free from scald and spot troubles.

Commission Brings in Important Report Dealing With Eastern Boundry—Plebiscite Proposed.

Paris, March 17.—The report of the Polish commission on the eastern boundary, which is in today's business before the council, proposes to give Germany direct land communication across the corridor to the Baltic, planned to be accorded to Poland, and which cuts off part of East Prussia from the rest of Germany. The report suggests that for Poland's security the corridor territory to the east of the German territory to the east of the Baltic should be demilitarized.

It is also proposed by the commission that the 600,000 Protestant Poles in the Masurian lake region be allowed to determine by plebiscite whether they shall remain Catholic Poland or remain German.

At a meeting in the commissariat of emigration, attended by the representative of the minister of war, provisions were adopted for the repatriation of dismissed soldiers who are going to foreign countries to rejoin their families. The persons departing will be assembled in the ports of embarkation and provided with food and lodgings. At the time of taking ship they will receive a suit of clothes, underwear, indemnity, a helmet, and a testimonial of character.

WHERE WILL THE REVENUE COME FROM?

To meet the regular expenses of administration, to pay war service gratuities to demobilized soldiers, to provide pensions for disabled soldiers and for the dependents of those who have lost their lives, as well as to carry out the program of public works which is being undertaken to relieve unemployment, it is estimated that the Dominion Government will require to raise this year a revenue of about

400 MILLION DOLLARS

Last year the Dominion Government revenue was 260 million dollars and was derived from the following sources:

Canadian Customs Tariff	116 millions
Special War Tariff	45 millions
Excise Tax	26 millions
Business Profits Tax	21 millions
Income Tax and other Sources	52 millions
Total	260 millions

How is the shortage of 140 millions to be made up?

At the very moment when Canada is struggling with this problem the Western Grain Growers come forward with insistent demands for:

- (1) "An immediate and substantial all-round reduction of the customs tariff."
- (2) Free trade with Great Britain inside of five years.
- (3) Reciprocity now, and free trade later, with the United States.

These demands are apparently made in the hope and belief that, if they are granted, those making them will be relieved of a large part of what they call the "Burden of Taxation" which the tariff imposes upon them. That expectation can only be realized if the revenue raised by means of the tariff is substantially reduced. They may argue that under a lower tariff the volume of goods imported will increase, and consequently there will be no decrease in the revenue. But mark this—they want the duty removed entirely from implements, lumber, cement, oil and other articles of which they are large consumers. If the revenue is to be maintained under such a rearrangement of the tariff schedules, other classes of the people must pay what the Grain Growers will escape.

Passing to the next point, how would the Grain Growers provide for the probable shortage of 140 million dollars this year? They ask the Dominion Government to impose the following taxes:—A direct tax on unimproved lands, increased taxation on personal incomes, increased inheritance taxes and increased taxation on corporations.

Vacant land now pays taxes to the Municipalities and, in some Provinces, additional taxes to the Provincial Government. Income taxes are now paid by individuals to the Municipalities and also to the Dominion Government. Inheritance taxes are now imposed by all the Provinces, ranging in Ontario, for example, from one to twenty per cent. Corporations are now taxed as persons by Municipal Governments, Provincial Governments and the Dominion Government, and also pay special taxes to every Province for the privilege of being corporations.

Last year the tariff collected sixty-one per cent. of the total Dominion Government Revenue. Does anyone believe that the forms of taxation advocated by the Grain Growers can be increased sufficiently this year to obtain the revenue which would be lost by tariff reduction, and also the additional 140 million dollars required, without crippling industry, stifling business and throwing thousands of workers out of employment?

The United States has all the forms of taxation advocated by the Grain Growers, but still finds it necessary to maintain its customs tariff.

If the Grain Growers are to escape almost all taxation, including the great increase caused by the war, what will happen to the people who will be driven out of business through having to pay not only their own taxes but also those of the Grain Growers? Will they try to grow grain? It is more likely that they will go to the United States to get work, as other Canadians went fifty years ago, and leave a population, chiefly farmers, ever growing smaller, to bear all the taxes, ever growing greater.

Again we ask where is the extra revenue coming from?

So when we learn that over 70% of the tea used in Great Britain is Indian tea we can be sure that Indian tea is of the very best quality.

In Canada the preference for Indian tea has become just as strong, as evidenced by the success of Red Rose Tea which consists chiefly of ASSAMS—the richest and strongest of Indian teas.

Letters to the Editor

"THE PEOPLE'S VICTORY."

Editor Journal: Sir: The above was the modest term which Sir Adam Beck, used in addressing the electors of Hamilton on Saturday evening when the result of the grand victory for the Hydro Electric Radial was announced. When it is known that that energetic gentleman was subject to most uncalculated personal abuse in the campaign, people may wonder at his forbearance, but having the laugh on his side he could afford to treat his opponents with the scorn they deserved. Apart from his abilities Sir Adam is known throughout Ontario as one of the very few really clever men who are fortunate to possess, and he sides in his manner to all whom he has dealings with, a perfect gentleman. With a personality needing no recommendations as the Hamilton correspondent of the Globe aptly puts it in the following lines: "The success of the Hydro electric scheme in Hamilton and elsewhere along the system under the direction of Sir Adam was also a big factor in favor of the by-law. Nor must Sir Adam himself be overlooked. From the time he first came to this city to advocate the policy of public ownership in connection with the Hydro scheme he impressed his wonderful personality upon the people of this city. During the week and a half in which he addressed meetings nightly he more firmly impressed himself upon the people, and that he was winning their entire confidence was manifested to all who heard him, even were the figures of Saturday's voting not available as proof of this confidence and faith in what he had to say regarding the project he advocated with such force. Yours, HYDRO SUPPORTER"

WHAT THE LATE EXCHANGES SAY

It's High Time. Guelph Daily Herald: As soon as the Peace Conference has established the safety of Europe, perhaps some steps will be taken to secure the safety of pedestrians from the death dealing autos.

Sir Sam Exhumed It. Ottawa Citizen: Just when the Ross rifle thought it was decently buried and forgotten.

Made in Canada. Kingston Standard: The Toronto Globe points out that "A sure method of securing more employment for labor is to enlarge the field of industry so that goods formerly imported can be made in Canadian plants by Canadian workmen." In spite of this "economic" views expressed by some of the skilled economists of the N. F. O., this is beyond doubt, and it will have been noticed that it is just exactly the course which is being pursued in Great Britain, and by leading manufacturers in Canada and the United States. It is passing strange how any one can be found to argue against such an obvious truth, but those who do must be put down in the class of that man who seriously suggested at a farmers' meeting that Canada should repudiate her national debt in order to promote prosperity in the Dominion.

A Burning Question. Edmonton Journal: One of the greatest industrial problems for Alberta to deal with this coming year will be how to increase its market for coal. We have the resources and the equipment for several times the present output, but with things as they are practically none of the producing mines are paying concerns.

DISPUTES BETWEEN ITALY AND GREECE AMICABLY SETTLED

(By Italian-American News Bureau) Rome, March 18.—In well informed circles assurance is given that our foreign minister Baron Sonnino and the President of the Greek Cabinet, Eleutherios Venizelos, have succeeded in composing the differences between Italy and Greece in a friendly manner.

The questions pending, or which were pending between Italy and Greece concerned Albania and the Turkish Sporades Islands of Asia Minor. While Greece held that it should have Northern Albania, Italy maintained that it should not be taken from the little state erected under the protection of Italy.

FEW CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Make it thick, wavy and beautiful—try this!

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink; loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Time and one half is recommended for overtime and overtime includes legal holidays. Female employees are included in the schedule on the same basis as the men.

Twenty-four Ontario stops are listed. Special attention to the quarries near St. Catharines is mentioned.

DECLARATION OF RAILWAY POLICY COMING SOON

(Special to The Journal)

Ottawa, March 18.—An early declaration of the policy by the Government in regard to the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific railways was promised at the first meeting of the Railway Committee of Common today by Hon. Dr. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways. The matter came up when the consideration of the Bill for further issue of Grand Trunk debenture stock was called for by Mr. Morphy, Member for North Perth. Dr. Reid said he had no objection to the committee passing the bill but it would not reach the Commons till after the Government had stated its general policy. After hours of discussion it was decided that the Grand Trunk might shortly be taken over by the Government and it was useless to pass the bill to permit the company to do its own financing.

JUGO SLAVS WANT COLONIES

(By Italian-American News Bureau) Trieste, March 18.—The Slovene newspaper of Laybach, in an article entitled, "Jugo Slavia and the Colonies," urges the representatives of Jugo Slavia at the peace conference to interest themselves in the question of colonies and make representations that it is of great interest to the Jugo Slavs. The newspaper recalls that before the war, Austria had begun to take a live interest in colonial problems, and set its eyes on Cilicia in Asia Minor. "At present Jugo Slavia," the newspaper goes on, "likewise a Mediterranean power should assert a claim to that territory."

CANADIAN WAR SAVINGS

ARMY NOT DEMOBILIZED

The Canadian Army that went overseas to fight Germany and her Allies is being rapidly demobilized, but the Canadian War Savings Army is not. On the contrary it is being recruited up to the maximum strength. A force of 2,000,000 systematic savers is aimed at. Nothing less will satisfy. This army must be raised. In providing the money for the work of Reconstruction and Reconstruction the people of Canada must do quite as well as did the Canadians overseas, who never failed to reach an objective, or to hold ground once won. Much more money will be required than it is possible to raise readily by taxation. This must be borrowed, not from abroad, but from Canadians.

The Canadian War Savings plan, with its War Savings and Thrift Stamps is a convenient means for the placing of this money in the hands of the Government, for which it pays 4 1/2 per cent., compounded half-yearly. Those who thus lend help themselves will help Canada.

HOW HE MAKES USE OF TWO PIANOS

"There is only one thing we in business have any right to charge for—and that is service," said a merchant not long since. Apiano teacher who is making a success of his work by adopting this same principle of service has added a second piano in his studio. The second piano was installed purely as a matter of better service to his pupils. When the teacher plays for his pupil the inconvenience and lost time in changing places are avoided. Then again when illustrating the position and movements of the arm, hands, wrist, and fingers the teacher can do that on one piano while the pupil imitates him on the other instrument.

Still a further advantage is the opportunity, that should be appreciated by many, of two-piano playing it is a great incentive to maintain interest in piano study. The playing of the violin, cello, cornet, flute or almost any of the orchestra instruments calls for the companion spirit which adds very materially to the pleasure of piano study. These players require an accompaniment or they join with others in ensemble work. In contrast to this the piano student is inclined to be doomed more to isolation which tends to narrowness and discouragement. Duet playing or two-piano playing are good antidotes for that sort of thing. Two-piano playing opens up a new world of music. It jacks up the student. It keeps him or her interested almost without effort. There is a sort of adventure about embarking on a two-piano composition. It would be a surprise to many to find how many very fine works are available for two-piano playing.

The motorists mopped up another mile of dusty road, turned a corner, and came upon a delightful little inn. He promptly dismounted and called for a drink.

"Wait a minute, and I'll get you another mug. That's Geraldine's" the boy told him.

"I don't mind!" declared the customer enthusiastically, and drained it off. "I'm proud to drink from Geraldine's mug. She's your sister, isn't she?"

"No, replied the boy solemnly. She is your boy!"

Mild Winter For Russia

The presence in Northern Russia of a member of the last party Sir Ernest Shackleton led in the South Polar regions speaks eloquently of the nature of the difficulties which the Allied Expedition to that country is expected to encounter. Correspondence from Russia sent by members of the force indicates that expectations were fully realized for through it all runs the theme of difficult transport, in spite of the fact that the weather is described as mild. "That is, for Russia."

The nearest supply base for the front line was 35 miles away, according to a recent report, and all transport was by small ponies and small sleds. Owing to the difficulties during the time between the closing of river navigation and the opening of the winter roads, a period of four weeks, no supplies could be sent forward.

Of the forward work, Capt. Holliday writes: "In co-operation with two American Y. M. C. A. Secretaries, we have now opened seven centres in the forward line, that being the smallest number that we could operate in view of the impossibility of the soldiers going any distance from the blockhouses and battery positions."

In a later report he adds: "I am feeling fit and have only one regret, that I cannot be in a dozen different places at once. However, I am resigned to this, when I reflect that we all suffer this handicap."

The winter which brings these difficulties, however, is not entirely without its advantages of a military character. For instance, the frigid zone itself, life giving as it is, is sometimes used in lieu of the deadly gas of modern fighting, as the following passage from Captain Holliday's letter indicates: "Everything at the front was quiet, a little artillery work by both sides, shelling a village lying between the two fronts. The chief object in shelling is to break the windows in the houses, thus rendering them untenable."

Capt. Holliday made a trip to the river front at the request of the Colonel of his unit, and of the Supervisor of Y. M. C. A. work, for the whole expedition. They went forward in a convoy made up of 27 sleds with eight men as armed guards, and were two days and nights on the road.

"The trip was a special one, concerning all the troops," writes Capt. Holliday. "The difficulty of maintaining a satisfactory, all round, canteen service among our other forms of service to the troops, can best be realized

The effect of the rigorous winter and difficulty of transport upon the entire force, including that of the Y. M. C. A., of course was greatly reduced efficiency, for, as Capt. Holliday remarks: "Much that we should like to do is limited by reason of the long haul. Our centres are now well established and manned, however, and the work in filling a vital need in the life of the troops."

Although the Public School City is about one-half mill year than it was in 1918, it is stated that the local rate is lower than in most of the cities in Ontario. The differences this year is due to salary increases which have been given the teachers in other parts of the province and to the school rate is bound to be raised.

TO REVISE TARIFF VIEW IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, March 18.—That the Government will meet the demands of the West for tariff reductions by a promise of a complete revision of the tariff within the next year, is a suggestion heard here this morning. A promise along these lines, it is thought by some, will be made at the caucus to be held on Thursday at which tariff matters will be exclusively discussed. A promise of tariff revision would be in addition to any immediate reduction the Government may be willing to make, and which might possibly include the removal of the seven and a half per cent. general increase, imposed as war revenue measure.

HOHENZOLLERN'S GHOST

White Lady of Bayreuth Still Causes Dread in Ex-Ruler's Life

Superstitious people who know the family history are attributing the sad death of Captain Angus Mackintosh from pneumonia, in Washington, to the family curse. The young captain, who was a son in law of the Duke of Devonshire, belonged to the house of Moy, which was cursed many years ago by a girl, who prayed that: Never a son of a chief of Moy, Might live to protect his father's age; Or close in peace his dying eye, Or gather his gloomy heritage. Today the Kaiser lives in dread of the curse of the White Lady of Bayreuth, whose story is being recalled by one or two German papers, in view of the fall of the Hohenzollern dynasty. According to historians the White Lady of Bayreuth is the ghost of a certain German countess who murdered her two children and committed suicide because of her hopeless passion for a royal lover who refused to legitimize their union. She cursed the Hohenzollerns and threatened to revisit them, bringing ruin and tragedy. Lately, it is said, the dreaded apparition, which has appeared at various intervals, notably before the death of the ex-Kaiser's father and grandfather, has reappeared a precursor of death or disaster to the German royal family.

HIGHEST EGG RETURNS

Secure These by Hatching Your Chicks Early.

Not Every Farmer Should Plant an Apple Orchard—Only Those Who Understand the Business and Wish to Specialize—The Small Orchard is Usually Not Profitable.

THE early hatched pullets are usually the best winter layers. Pullets hatched during the first three weeks of April not only lay from two to three dozen more eggs during the year but lay many more eggs during the winter. The average pullet begins laying at an age of six and one-half to seven months; the later hatched ones are slower to mature than those hatched early. To be sure your chickens will be hatched early an incubator is almost a necessity. The later the hens begin to lay, generally the later they become broody.

An incubator is a machine and responds to treatment the same as any other machine. It is not difficult to handle but it can not supply its own oil for heat or keep itself clean, nor yet can it supply the little chicks unless the eggs with good pure air unless the room in which the incubator is placed has good air.

The room in which the machine is run should be clean and well ventilated. If you can sleep in the room comfortably it is good enough. Usually a cellar is the best place because the temperature is more even and the machine is therefore easier to regulate as to heat. The incubator should be clean, especially the interior of the machine. It is advisable to brush out the machine as clean as you can, then wash it out with water and soap and lastly to disinfect it. Perhaps one of the easiest materials to use is the common tarry compounds that are used about the stables. Just spray or wash the machine thoroughly after each hatch. It does not take long to do and saves a lot of trouble with the chicks. With some types of machines having cloth tops in the hatching chamber it is wise to remove the old cloth each season and replace it with a new piece.

Be sure and test the thermometer. Take it into a drug store and the dealer will test it for you against a side one of known accuracy. Many hatches are lost through bad thermometers.

Get on clean eggs and of good size or set the kind of eggs you want the pullets to lay. Be sure your hands are clean when you turn the eggs. Oily or dirty hands lower the hatch.

Do not keep the eggs in the same room as the incubator.

When chicks hatch do not feed them before they are at least forty-eight hours old. Should they pant into the machine open the door a little. Give them plenty of air. Prof. W. R. Graham, O. A. College, Guelph.

Who Should Plant an Apple Orchard.

The apple growing industry of the future in Ontario will be developed by men who like the work, and who have the perseverance and intelligence to meet the problems encountered. The necessary capital and experience can be acquired as one goes along, and the difficulties of financing the business can be overcome by starting in a small way, or by putting one's time on other crops while the orchard is growing. The men who should not undertake apple growing are those who do not like the work and those who have no experience and knowledge expect to find in it phenomenal profits. The apple industry offers perhaps as good opportunities for profit as are to be found in any other line of agriculture or horticulture, but is at the same time no more profitable, on an average, than any other well-managed business; neither should encouragement be offered to land speculators, many of whom in the past put out misleading information as to profits to be made. The success of the industry will depend on 1st, the man; 2nd, his local and farm conditions. A man who understands orchard work and has a liking for it can make a success of apple orcharding as a side-line in general farming, in stock farming, or in dairying, although it may be pointed out that many dairy farmers find it does not pay to neglect their herds in order to care for an orchard. Orchards below five acres in size are likely to receive very little attention on most farms, and farmers who wish to develop apple orchards as a profitable side-line should plant not less than ten acres if possible. Orchards ranging in size from ten to twenty-five acres can be conducted as profitable side-lines on many farms.

The commercial apple growing industry is developing along two lines. There are now to be found quite a number of orchards ranging in size from forty acres up to one hundred and twenty-five, or larger. These constitute highly specialized businesses and are sound economic propositions provided one is so situated as to have the extra labor required at picking time. The chief difficulty with an orchard of this class is that a great deal of help is required at certain periods of the year, while at other periods there is little or no work to be done. The problem, therefore, becomes one of adjusting apple orcharding to other lines of production, so as to equalize the distribution of labor throughout the year. It would appear that an excellent system of diversification could be worked out by using strawberries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries along with apples or other tree fruits, excepting cherries. Cherries conflict in picking season with the small fruits, but can be handled along with apples unless strawberries and raspberries are preferred.—Prof. J. W. Crow, O. A. College, Guelph.

Miss Elizabeth Drysdale, Queenston Street, who has been overseas nursing for nearly three years, returned home this morning.

THOROLD

The concert given by the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Holy Rosary was in every regard a huge success in Grenville Hall last night. Ex-Mayor Battle acted as chairman for the evening and announced a splendid programme of vocal and instrumental music by the following talent: A chorus "Believe me in all those endearing young charms" was sung by J. McManamy, Alexander Gerrard, W. Urlocker, Tommy McManamy, Ellsworth McQueen, Wilfrid Gavard and was much enjoyed.

Mr. Ted Bramah played on his violin in his usual winning fashion. Mr. Vincent O'Donohue sang a vocal number and was given a hearty applause. Thorold's favorites, Miss Margaret McManamy and Mrs. Joseph Martin sang, and as usual was given a hearty applause.

The lecture on "St. Patrick's Mission today" given by Rev. Arthur I. Keegan C. M., Professor of the Niagara university was exceedingly instructive and listened to with great interest. Miss Eunice Welsh and Mrs. T. Deuno, each sang vocal numbers which were much appreciated.

Miss Irene Buck of Merriton was present and gave her readings which took the house by storm. Mrs. Weeks-Church in her violin number "Der Sohn der Pustak" caught the ear of the music lovers who made her appear again.

The accompanists for the evening were: Miss Urlocker, Mrs. Truesch, J. McManamy, Clarice Colton.

"BRANDING BROADWAY" MAKES A BIG HIT

In his latest Arctcraft picture "Branding Broadway," which was presented with brilliant success at the Griffin Opera House yesterday. Mr. W. S. Hart travels to New York and we actually see him in a dress suit. This is the result of the trip made by Bob Sands, a cowboy, with some of his boon companions, to Whetstone, Arizona. They all want a good time and when they find the only saloon in the town practically closed, the town having gone dry, the punchers wax wrath and proceed to tear things wide apart.

But the members of the Law and Order League get busy, put the cowboys to flight and capture Sands, whom they place on a train going Eastward as the best means of getting rid of him. He sees an advertisement in a newspaper invented by Harrington, a railroad magnate, offering a job to a strong minded man to keep his son out of mischief. Sands goes to New York, applies to Harrington for the job and gets it. So begins the story of a fine picture.

Mr. Nelson S. Gotshall will give an address on the subject of Good Roads in the Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow evening to which the business men of the city and all others interested are invited.

THE BOYS WHO SAIL WITH BEATTY

They sweep the mighty waters o'er, They plough the deep from shore to shore, They're known from Shager Rack to Nore, The boys who sail with Beatty.

The sea-bird, swooping for his prey Above the waters of a bay, Far north, has seen them on their way, The boys who sail with Beatty.

And where the laughing wavelets dance Above the shores of Northern France Full oft the merry sunbeams glance, On ships that sail with Beatty.

There's not a vessel outward bound, From Orkney's Isle, from Plymouth Sound, But hails the flag, for aye renowned, Of those who sail with Beatty.

There's not a tramp but feels at ease, When, lurching home through heavy seas, She spies the pennon on the breeze, Of those who sail with Beatty.

And many a mother fond doth pray For lean grey vessels drenched in spray, That guard her soldier's homeward way And keep the seas with Beatty.

And though the dreadful conflict's o'er, Far round the world on every shore, We'll sing the praises evermore, Of those who sailed with Beatty.

Four splendid new dances have just been issued on Victor Records. On record 35682 is "Head Over Heels" (fox trot) and "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows" (fox trot). CONDITION OF WALL SUBJECT OF CONCERN

There are many misgivings amongst the people, as to whether the front wall of Halls Garage, James Street, lately injured by the fire, is safe in its present condition. There is certainly an unsafe looking bulge in the brick work over the sidewalk, which should be carefully examined. It is understood that the City Building Inspector has pronounced it all right, but other masons an bricklayers have a different opinion, and state that the constant passing of railway cars will, from their vibrations soon bring out the weak spots. As there are large numbers of people passing daily over the sidewalk, no precaution should be neglected to make the doubtful spot safe.
